

The United States has donated more cash to Pope Leo than any other country in the world.

The clouds are thickening in Europe, and rumors of war are heard from various parts of the continent.

The prospect is now that there will be no settlement of the fishery trouble at present, and the only hope now, as a result of the convention is, that there will be a broader basis of understanding between Canada and the United States.

The Detroit Free Press says of the postmaster general: "Mr. Dickinson is rapidly acquiring as fast friends in Washington as he has in Michigan."

The Detroit Journal says of one of Michigan's congressmen: "Capt. Allen pays more attention to his toilet now than when in Ypsilanti, and he looks well."

OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN.

He Sees About Everything and Prints About Everything He Sees.

A farmer brought a load of pork to the city last Saturday and was trying to sell it upon the street.

I was told that one of our leading German citizens who attended the Dante lectures last week, at the close of the one on Saturday night, turned to a lady friend and remarked: "I do not see any but women in paradise."

Why is it that so many men and women when walking with children never slacken their pace. I saw a man one day this week holding a little child by the hand, and fairly pulling her along to make her keep up with him.

I am told that a horse started to death last week in a barn at the corner of — and — streets. A man heard the horse kicking and attempted to enter the barn, but found that the door was locked.

A sleigh well filled with country folks was being rapidly driven through our streets one day last week when one of the seats tilted backwards, and those who were occupying it went over with it.

The other day I saw a hack driver whipping his team most unmercifully on his way to the depot. The horses were galloping at their utmost rate of speed, and were kept at that pace the whole length of Detroit street.

Next week there is to be a meeting of the superintendents of the poor, and it remains to be seen whether they will employ a man to look after the interests of the county at a salary of $700, when another man stands ready to perform the duties of the office at $500.

I cannot understand why it is that at so many of our entertainments there is such a scarcity of women. I heard of a number who wanted to hear the minstrels Wednesday evening, but were afraid they would be the only women present and so remained at home, and missed spending a very pleasant evening.

When I heard the troupe play at Whitney's in Detroit, there were hundreds of ladies present. I was told one young woman said "I heard Evangelism in New York city but I would not go here. Why not? Why should one be afraid to go to such entertainments at her own home, if she is not when away from it. Modesty is always to be admired in women, but when it reaches the state of prudery it is altogether another thing."

The series of lectures which were delivered in Eohart hall last week by the Rev. John Eccleston, of Staten Island, on "The Divina Comedia" were well attended and perhaps were the most enjoyable ever listened to in our city on account of the fine stereoscopic views which delighted the eye throughout the evening.

Below will be found an extract of an address by Mr. Daniel Dougherty, before the state bar association of New York: "Organized crime has never failed to find its most ready instruments at the bar and on the bench. The worst chapters in our recent history show how our ablest lawyers have for enormous fees aided in perpetrating and perfecting the vilest schemes for public plunder. There is no crime so dark that leading members of the bar will not accept a fee to defend those who conspire against the welfare of the people. These are not mere phrases of denunciation. In the early days of Jay Gould lawyers and judges were anxious to be debauched, and stood ready to find a law or make it for any contemplated crime. In the days of Tweed the lawyers were his satellites, and it was only when the press had awakened the public conscience that it was possible for Mr. Tilden to bring him to justice. Jacob Sharp has used the lawyers first to defame his public enemy. In Chicago, in Philadelphia, in Boston, in every great city, at every state capital, we find lawyers retained by all the plundering rings and rascally syndicates. They only protection to the people is the press. The overthrow of every ring, the exposure of every crime, has been the work of the press."

The idea that the democratic party as at present constituted can manage the affairs of the country is preposterous. They found the machinery in good running order, but it is rapidly getting out of line. This will become apparent to all before the close of the present year.

The democratic party did indeed find the machinery in good running order, yes, for the republicans. The last three years have been years of worry and annoyance for the democrats in wiping off the superfluous oils, as the republicans had to oil their machinery with so many different kinds of oil, so that it would run without hindrance to this or that official, and now that the machinery is running easily, it is guided by a master hand, and above all is perfectly safe in the hands of the democrats with no danger of a blow up, they propose to run it for another four years.

Michigan's Apple King. The Chicago Herald has the following complimentary notice of one of Ann Arbor's old residents and a man well known in this city: "David Henning, the Michigan Apple King" has a face as fine as a woman's although a man who began as a journeyman cooper. He keeps moving so constantly between here and Ann Arbor, Mich., that it is hard now to tell which is his home, but he got his sobriquet in the university town. In figure he is very like the late Vice-president Hendricks, and he has the same sort of clean-cut, classic features that the dead Indian had. The "Michigan Apple King" is the most distinguished man in his line in the world, fully as pre-eminent as those other kings in their domains—Phil Armour in pork, or old man Arnold in coffee, or old man Spreckles in sugar. Nobody but David Henning ever handled in a single year 100,000 barrels of apples. He has bought and distributed as high as 125,000 barrels. It is all done too, within the three fall months. In the winter he is down here selling the barrels he makes at his big Michigan cooperage factories. In the fall he scatters his trained buyers all over Michigan and down through New York state as far east as the fruit grows in good supply. Just as soon as 150 barrels are gotten together at a station they are shipped to Chicago, the whole business being done on a carefully devised system. Agents are given printed slips of instruction governing buying, sorting, shipping, drawing for funds. Just as soon as the apples are received at Chicago they are sold. The "Apple King" does not attempt to "job" off the fruit. He simply strips the orchards of the great apple states and ships to Chicago. The old time "apple kings" went broke trying to handle the fruit all the way from the orchards to the consumer. Henning took warning. He has not a care on his shoulders in these winter months. The hundred thousand barrels of apples he gathers are being carried up by a score or more of the big jobbers, some of whom have 5,000 and even 10,000 barrels in their warehouses. Up to ten years ago New York and Boston were the big apple markets. Now neither of them approach any where near Chicago, while Brown, the big buyer of Boston, and Kimball, the big man in New York, who used to struggle for the supremacy, are neither of them to be compared in rank with David Henning. The old gentleman talks learnedly and interestingly of the apples. He tells how he learned the tastes of the whole continent in the matter of apples, even discovering that the negroes of the south were intensely fond of the Pennock, great big showy apples, that the New York growers for an all around apple, beats anything that grows on a tree.

Marriage Licenses. Marriage licenses have been issued by county clerk Howlett since the last number of THE DEMOCRAT, to the following couples: NAME. RESIDENCE. AGE. Josiah W. Davis, York, 21. Jennie M. Johnston, Augusta, 19. Wm. Horton, Superior, 21. Inez Dolber, Milan, 21. Wm. Reynolds, Ypsilanti, 23. Mary Beaver, Ypsilanti, 20. Edson J. May, Ypsilanti, 21. Lorenz J. Biggs, Okemos, 20. Susan W. Hurd, Ann Arbor, 18. Joseph P. Parrish, Canton, 25. Mary L. Benham, Ann Arbor, 27.

Of Interest to Women.

Mrs. Maria Barton will not write any more books except for pleasure. Her claim on Mexican property worth $5,000,000 has just been decided in her favor after 18 years of hard fighting.

Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw of Boston, daughter of Prof. Agassiz, was for eight years supported free kindergartens in the poorest quarters of Boston and Cambridge at a personal expense of as much as $50,000 a year.

The Woman's National press association in Washington boasts of being the mother of all the flourishing women's press associations that have sprung up in different parts of the country since it was organized in 1882.

The reporter's gallery in the Iowa legislature is frequented by three ladies: Mrs. Durlay, of Des Moines News; Miss Burnside, of the Des Moines Leader; and Miss Rose Ankeny, representing the Sioux City Tribune.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher has no indication of widowhood or bereavement in her dress, for she shares her dead husband's disbeliefs in the propriety of mourning garments. She looks exceedingly venerable, however, and a little less austere than of yore.

Since the mayor of Argonia, Kan., Mrs. Salter, has been so successful in keeping whiskey and gambling out of that city, it may be expected that her new horse railway president, Mrs. Dow, will be equally happy in keeping water out of the stock—Philadelphia Ledger.

If women are fit to rule in monarchies, it is difficult to say why they are not qualified to vote in a republic; nor can there be greater indecency in a woman's going up to the ballot-box than there is in a woman's opening a legislature or issuing orders to an army.—Hon. H. B. Anthony.

Do the liquor-dealers want women to vote? No; they everywhere oppose giving women the ballot, as they did in our legislative last winter. It is a prohibition; and the liquor-dealers and brewers throughout the country have passed strong resolutions against giving woman the ballot, saying they fear nothing so much as this—Our Message.

Proceeding of the Councils. There was a special session of the council Monday night, with nearly a full house in attendance. The time for the paying of taxes was extended to March 1st.

The council organized as a board of registration with L. D. Wines as chairman and Wm. Herz as secretary.

The Wednesday previous to the 27th of February, a legal holiday, the meeting of the board was called for Thursday the 23d, at the following places: 1st Ward—A. V. Robison & Son's livery office.

question most discussed upon the streets now.
Rev. J. F. Dickie, of Detroit, preached in the Presbyterian church in this city last Sunday.
Capt. E. P. Allen is said to be the heaviest and healthiest Michigan congressman in Washington.
Dr. Hamilton B. Smith, of Detroit, and Miss Frank Jewett, of this city, were married on Wednesday.
Miss Flora Finley, of this city, assisted at a concert given by the Detroit conservatory of music last week.
The twenty-first annual meeting of the Michigan state press association will be held in Detroit June 5-8.
Miss Josie Paul, of Montreal, Can., attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Frank Jewett, Wednesday.
Mr. Louis W. Holladay, of Chicago, and Miss Susie A. Clark, of this city, were married, Saturday, Jan. 21.
You can see the planet Venus now very distinctly as she is nearer the earth than she will again in 947 years.
Mrs. Jacob Wiedemann, of Owosso, has been visiting her brothers, Mr. Abraham and David Steffe of Ann Arbor town.
Hutzel & Co., and Reeves, of this city have been making repairs in the heating apparatus of the Ypsilanti seminary building.
A. A. Meuth has settled with John Allen whose horse was killed a few weeks ago in a runaway. He paid him $140, so we are informed.
Rev. John Ecobson, of Staten Island, preached in St. James' church, Dexter, Sunday morning, and in St. Andrew's church, this city, in the evening.
Rev. T. W. MacLean, of St. Luke's church, Ypsilanti, has accepted a call to Bay City and will leave for his new field of labor about the first of March.

The hackmen at the Michigan Central depot will hereafter not be quite so officious by order of the authorities.
Mr. Chapman Smith who owned a farm just south of the city, and sold two years ago, going from thence into one of our northern counties and locating a farm, died last week after one hour's illness.
His wife and son went out to attend the funeral.
Saturday night the store of J. M. Stafford, the merchant tailor, was broken into and robbed of about $700 worth of cloths.
The burglars entered by forcing a back window. There is no clue as yet to the thieves. They also made an attempt to enter Wagner & Son's but did not succeed.

We clip the following extract from an exchange. It expresses our sentiments exactly: "If you owe more than a year's subscription to this paper, we hope that when you see this item you will feel so guilty that life will seem a burden to you until you relieve your over-burdened conscience by paying up." Rev. Theodore Haven, pastor of the Congregational church of Battle Creek, is causing his friends considerable alarm by his continued absence. He left that city Jan. 23, and since Jan. 11th no one knows of his whereabouts. He is the son of the late Bishop Haven who for several years was president of the university.

The Sentinel aptly says: "Those persons who have received statements from the office, are requested to let us hear from them, with remittance, if possible, at once. If not with remittance, let us hear anyhow, that we may know that they live, and what to expect. We want to brace up for the coming campaign, for if life is spared we mean to be heard from."
By request Rev. J. T. Sunderland will speak next Sunday morning at the University church, on "The Resurrection of Jesus," in reply to Rev. Dr. Clark's lecture on the same subject given in Hobart hall, some weeks ago. In the evening Mrs. Sunderland will give the eighth lecture in her course on the bible. Subject, "Job, the great Hebrew epic; the Problem of Evil."

The remains of Wirt Williams, son of Deacon Jeremiah D. Williams, who went to California about seven years ago hoping its climate would counteract the consumptive tendency of his constitution, were shipped here at his request, to repose in the Webster cemetery beside his sister and brothers. The funeral services were held at his father's residence, Tuesday afternoon.

The experiment in joint authorship that Miss Sara F. Goodrich and Miss Edith M. Thomas made in the American magazine for November was so successful that they have written another article entitled "The Witchery of Ice and Heat." The article for the February number, also a suggestive article by Joanna Condit Carpenter describes the "Early Development of Great Composers," and raises the question whether the procedure of the boy-pianist Josef Hofmann may not be the prelude to similar results.

to secure him as their orator for February 22d.

School Meeting.
At a special meeting of the board of education Tuesday evening, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:
WHEREAS, the students' christian association has made application to purchase land off from the south side of premises owned by the school district, on the west side of State street, between William and Jefferson streets, and WHEREAS, the board of trustees has no power to sell and convey such land unless by authority of the legal voters of the district given at a meeting of such voters legally held. Therefore Resolved, That the secretary call a meeting of the qualified voters of the district, at Fireman's hall, on the 10th day of February, 1888, at 7 o'clock p. m., to act upon the question, whether they will authorize the trustees to deed one or two rods of land off from the south side of the premises owned by the district, on State street, between William and William streets, to the students' christian association of the university, upon such terms as the board of trustees deems just and proper.

In accordance with the above the secretary has called a special meeting of the qualified voters of this school district on the date mentioned.
