THE STATE.

Arbor Day. Arbor Day proclamation:

Arbor Day proclamation:

A quarter of a century has passed since, in a quiet, green valley of Pennsylvania, the name of Gettvsburg was made forever memorable, and its blood-stained victory turned the balance, in which hung the nation's life. The monuments now being erected there, to mark the position of our regiments in that awful contest, signify but little of Michigan's enduring gratitude to the union soldiers on every field. Memory and reverence for their battle honors, with increasing volume, shall come as they go. Knowing the lovalty of our people, their willingness to add blessings for their children and to associate with them lofty and patriotic sentiments, I do hereby appoint Friday, April 20, as Michigan's Arbor day. And may the trees planted upon that day be in memory of and as monuments to the brave defenders of our nation. Let the resting place of the sleeping ones whether known or unknown, be unforgotten, and those who yet remain in the broken ranks and live with lessening life be remembered. This done, and when a century or more shall have passed, historic monuments shall beautify our state and breathe to the generations that rest in their shadows, of sacridee, patriotism and the price of liberty.

THE friends of a high tariff pretend to favor that system in the interests of labor. Of course they do not call our attention to the fact that although we have had a high tariff of their own making for twenty-five years, this country is full of tramps, and that thousands of men are out of employment in our large cities or working at starvation prices. The truth is a high tariff diminishes the demand for labor. For instance: we can make, and do make splendid carpets in this country. But our carpet manufacturers can make but Palmer. a limited amount of goods; their market is confined to this country, for the reason that carpet wool, owing to the high tariff, costs the American carpet manufacturer about three times as much as it costs the English manufacturer who gets his carpet wool duty free. The market of the English carpet manufacturer is the whole world. The market of the American manufacturer is confined to this country. As a result the English carpet industry gives employment to twenty times as many laborers as ours. This is the way our high tariff on earpet wool helps the laborer!
