

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION

The Democrats of Washtenaw will meet in County Convention at the court house, in the city of Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, May 24, at 10 a. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to meet at Grand Rapids, on May 10th.

All voters who are in accord with the present Democratic administration are invited to participate in the selection of delegates to this convention.

The towns and wards will send delegates as follows: Ann Arbor City, Pittsfield, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

IMPROVEMENTS

There is to be a large amount of building in this city this season. Besides many private residences, at least five large public buildings are likely to be erected.

In driving about the city, I notice that many streets have been cut up the past winter by the water company to lay pipes with which to supply private parties with water. Holes have been left in the road, and hummocks here and there make it extremely dangerous for persons who are out with horses in the night.

I confess I was surprised that the democrats in the council didn't give that life-long democrat, the Hon. C. Joslyn, a complimentary vote for city attorney. Of course he didn't expect a retention to the office, as the republicans have a majority in the board, but then the six democrats might have cast their ballots for this old veteran.

I sometimes wonder if the time will ever come when the business streets will be paved. There is no disputing the fact that it should be done, but when? Hundreds of dollars are expended every year in drawing off and carting on gravel, all of which might be saved to the city. While it would cost considerable on the start to pave these streets, the city would in the end be ahead.

It would be a good idea if some of our health officers would go through the business portions of our city and investigate, they might discover some things. I caught a bird's eye view of some of the yards back of the stores one day last week, and from the looks I should say a good cleaning up of them would be well. Some of the ones I saw looked as if they ought to be replaced by new ones. I say go all over the city and make people clean up their yards.

Now is the time for some one to set the ball rolling in regard to summer band-concerts. We have a good band and I have no doubt but that the boys would play once or twice a week during the summer very reasonably. I know many of our stores close at 6 o'clock, but still there are many which do not close at that hour, and it would make business better for them, for instance the confectionery and ice-cream parlors. Our business men ought to have enterprise enough about them to do something like this for the city, and I am sure they would if some one would only take the initiative step.

A special council meeting was held Monday evening, with a full board in attendance. The following business was transacted: Heinzman & Laubengayer were granted permission to lay a side track on the north side of Washington street, the right to be on the north side of the street on the property of the company. The condition being, however, that the railroad company will properly plank the sidewalks on roadway and maintain the planks.

The question of putting the blocks between Liberty and William, and Maynard and Fifth streets in the fire limits, was referred to the committee, and to report at a special meeting Wednesday evening. The bonds of the recorder, and constables Godkin, Sobell and Ryan were accepted.

RESOLUTIONS

That the recorder be permitted to use any room or rooms in the city building not otherwise occupied. That an allowance of $6.00 per month be given Mrs. E. W. Moore for the care of the city building, to be composed of the mayor, three aldermen and the city attorney, and no more shall have any vote in all disputed matters of fact, and all disputed matters of mixed law and fact, and to take such action thereon as shall seem to said committee best to protect the city's interest in all such cases, subject, however, to the action of this council. Carried. And the mayor, city attorney, and Ald. Sutherland, Miller and Allen, members appointed members of the committee.

MISCELLANEOUS

The mayor announced the following changes in the committee: Ald. Allenminder was made chairman of the sidewalk committee, and Ald. Kearns was appointed on the finance committee in place of Mr. Allenminder. On motion of recorder Burt the saloon bonds were placed at $3,000. An adjournment was then taken until Wednesday evening.

WEDNESDAY EVENING MEETING

There was a full board present. The financial committee reported the estimated expenditures for the year at $25,172, receipts from all sources $21,000. The following boundaries were brought within the fire limits: State to Maynard street, and from William to Liberty street. The city treasurer was instructed not to pay any orders on funds which are now or may become exhausted. Treasurer Moore's bond in the sum of $80,000 was accepted with the following sureties: A. Dann, S. G. Miller, A. Feloh, George M. Henion, B. J. Conrad, Benj. Brown.

Petit Jurors

The following jurymen were drawn on Monday for the first term of court which will convene on the second of May: Ann Arbor city, D. C. Fall, Wm. Miller, Henry Bliton; Ann Arbor town, Wm. Burke; Augusta, Henry Snowball; Bridgewater, Frank Eidel; Dexter, Chas. Cooper; Freedom, Herman Berthe; Lima, John D. Luick; Lodi, Austin Sage; Lyndon, Geo. Shamban; Manchester, Harvey Hall; Northville, Fred Kapf; Pittsfield, Ralph Rice; Salem, Nelson Yanson; Saline, Jas. W. McKinnon; Daniel Kline; Sean, B. W. Waite, Jr.; Jacob Teichert; Sharon, Wm. Chastain; Jan. L. Wade; Superior, A. H. Collins; John McDonald; Sylvan, Milo Hunter; Frank McNamara; Webster, Geo. H. Loomis; York, John Lockwood; Ypsilanti town, Horatio Bertram; Ypsilanti city, Jacob E. Merck, Raphael Koup.

In Memoriam

At a meeting of Ann Arbor union 85 of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners' Union of America held Monday evening, the following resolution was adopted: WHEREAS, It has seemed good to the beloved brother, John Burns, and from his family a true son, and a good citizen. Therefore be it resolved, That the members of this union desire to express their sense of bereavement and grief at the loss of one of their faithful members. Resolved, That we sincerely sympathize with the family of the deceased, and that we respectfully commend them for consolation on that Divine power, which, though sometimes seems hard, yet doeth all things well, feeling sure that there is comfort in the knowledge that the deceased was a consistent Christian. Resolved, That in token of our sorrow at the death of our brother, that our charter be in mourning for thirty days. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the city papers.

OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN.

He Sees About Everything and Prints About Everything He Sees.

To make the ornament complete, bill boards should be placed at the other three corners of the court yard square, or also the one opposite the postoffice should be removed.

It is perhaps a little early to talk about it, but why wouldn't it be a good idea to begin thinking of having a regular old-fashioned 4th of July celebration. It is sometime since we had one here.

I heard a lady remark Monday, that unless the school children kept away from the fire runs on State street, some one would be injured and perhaps killed, by falling walls. It would be a good idea to fence in the dangerous trap.

It is said that another livery is soon to be started in the barn lately vacated by Geo. Olp. As there are now nine liveries in the place, one would think they could do all the business. But there is an old saying, "nothing ventured, nothing gained."

At one time last fall it looked as if there would be but little building this season. That Ann Arbor is on the boom is evident from what is going on in all parts of the city, and 1888 will witness an expenditure of not less than $300,000 in improvements.

In driving about the city, I notice that many streets have been cut up the past winter by the water company to lay pipes with which to supply private parties with water. Holes have been left in the road, and hummocks here and there make it extremely dangerous for persons who are out with horses in the night.

Manchester is the only place in this district where the Greenback party keeps its flag flying.—Peterson's Magazine.

Peterson's Magazine for May is at hand, and its contents are varied enough to suit the most fastidious taste. It is always so fresh and bright, that one might think it still in its teens, instead of almost ready to celebrate its semi-centennial. Old subscribers always look on it as a friend that cannot be dispensed with, and new ones never fail to regret that they have not long before made its acquaintance. Capital stories and poetry are the rule, not the exception, and, together with the paper, plates and other illustrations, make the contents of each month a rich treat. In all matters of dress, toilet, and needlework, "Peterson" designs and suggestions are fresh and novel, and its practical hints to housewives are always trustworthy. Our lady readers should all take this magazine. Terms only Two Dollars a year. Address Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa.

Downing's "Spartacus." Robert Downing, an effective actor of ripe experience, made his first stellar appearance on local boards at the Academy of music in the title role of Dr. Bird's thrilling old tragedy "Spartacus, the Gladiator." Mr. Downing was last seen here with Joseph Jefferson some two or three seasons ago. In previous years he had been associated with prominent American actors, among others, with Miss Mary Anderson as witness leading support he won distinction. Last season he determined to test his powers at the head of a company, and his success since has been altogether encouraging and gratifying. In "Spartacus" Mr. Bird's stirring play. Mr. Downing showed at least artistic tact. It is the tragedy belongs to the formal, declamatory school of dramatic writing, but the strong central figure has always appealed with peculiar fascination to actors of heroic mould. Edwin Forrest made the play famous and John McDevine gave it its present popularity. It is not necessary to compare Mr. Downing with his predecessors, even were memory

Scrapings in the last Detroit Sunday News had the following to say of an old Ann Arbor boy. I visited the studio of Randolph Rogers, the American sculptor. Mr. Rogers as is well known, regards himself as a Michiganian. He was born in western New York, 63 years ago, and when eight years old removed with his parents to the new territory of Michigan. The family settled in Ann Arbor, and there young Rogers spent the next 10 years of his life. Then he went to New York and became a clerk in a mercantile establishment for three years. All this time he had an intense yearning to become an artist, and at length—in 1848—succeeded in securing sufficient means to take him to Florence. He remained there as a student at the academy of fine arts in that city, and in due time completed his course of study, passing his examination with the highest honors. Then he settled in Rome, where he has resided for the past 37 years. His first great achievement was a beautiful statue of Ruth. Later he produced Nydia, the blind girl of Fompeii, of which connoisseurs have never yet grown tired. A great number of replicas have been sold. His last important work, completed about five years ago, was one very similar in character to Nydia, and is entitled the Lost Poetess. It is a beautiful work, and is a masterpiece of art. It is a masterpiece of art. It is a masterpiece of art.
