Marriage Licenses.
Marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Howlett since the last number of THE DEMOCRAT, as follows.

Our thanks are due A. B. Champion of Cincinnati, Ohio, for a press season ticket to the centennial exposition of the Ohio Valley and central states. The press club has established beautiful rooms in the centennial buildings where members of the press from all over the U. S. will be gladly welcomed and handsomely entertained.
A move in the right direction. The interior committee of the June meeting of the American institute of homeopathy recommended and it was adopted, that after the sessions of '90 and '91 diplomas would not be recognized from any college which graduates students in less than three full terms of lectures of six months each.
John Zahn, the gentlemanly and efficient drug clerk in Gendrum's drug store has gone by his home in Ann Arbor for a short visit. Mr. Zahn has been in Iowa now nearly a year, and during his stay here has made many friends.—Ionia Evening Mail. Ionia must agree with Mr. Zahn, as his old friends find him looking so well.
Lester Sutton discovered a fire in an ash barrel in the rear of the Franklin house early last Saturday morning, when he was going home from his work at the electric light works, and which, but for him might have proved very disastrous. Patrolman Murray and the night watchman, J. B. White, put out the fire without giving an alarm.
Mrs. E. B. Hall had everything in readiness Monday afternoon to entertain a party of friends at tea, and a short time before the hour of arrival, the pet of the family, the white-faced monkey, just made the sand fly over the nicely arranged house. For about half an hour the family and servants were kept busy cleaning up after the mischievous creature, who was banished to the door yard.
Frank, a young son of Tony Schiappa, while sliding down the baluster in the opera house building Sunday fell a distance of ten feet or more. He was picked up by Charles Edwards who thought he was dead. They carried him home, and Dr. Morton was sent for, and it was an hour before he regained consciousness. Frank was on the street the next day, but it is a wonder he was not killed in the fall.
Eberbach & Son have an exhibition at the Cincinnati exposition, a chemical apparatus for the estimation of organic substances, and also one for the estimation of inorganic substances. They have also a fine display of chemicals and chemical glassware. Our city should felicitate herself that she has such an enterprising firm in her midst. The five-year-old son of John Schumacher, "Tooty" was given Monday night through mistake, a dose of arsenic. One of the family, a physician, then administered arsenic, and "Tooty" was taken sick in the night, and Mrs. Schumacher gave, as she supposed, the right medicine, but immediately discovered her mistake, and a physician was hastily summoned. Antidotes were at once administered, and the child was soon out of danger. This same boy took a dose of "Rough on Rats" a year ago, and it seems he is not to die by a dose of poison.
Judge Allen Thurman never kept a carriage, though he could afford to keep one if he wanted to. If the distance he had to go is too long for a horse walk, he takes a street car. So fond is he of street car riding that he will go from one end of the line to the other on a fine day, and like Walt Whitman, he enjoys chatting with the drivers. Judge Thurman goes to bed very late, and is not an early riser. Ten o'clock sees him at the breakfast table, at 2 he dines and at 7 he sups. After supper he plays a game of whist with his grandchild, then retires to his "den" and reads till past midnight. History and biography are his favorite reading.—Chicago Herald.

Half rates will be given on all Michigan railroads to persons going to Bay View summer resort, from July 16th to 29th, inclusive, for the season of August 17th. Round trip tickets from Ann Arbor will cost only $8.45. The Bay View Assembly opens July 25, closing August 15. All band and orchestra members are invited to bring their instruments, and join in pleasant daily rehearsals, conducted by Mr. G. Bryant, the accomplished leader of the Flint City Band. A large number of people from this city will visit Bay View this season. Prof. C. B. Cady has charge of the school of music there and the Amphion club will give a series of concerts in that pretty resort this summer.
The American Meteorological Journal offers the following prizes: For the best original essay on tornadoes or description of a tornado, $200. For the second best, $50. And among those worthy of special mention $10. All the essays must be sent to either of the editors, Prof. Harrington, Astronomical observatory, Ann Arbor, Mich., or A. Lawrence Ketch, Blue Hill Meteorological observatory, Blue Hill, Me. The essays must be signed by a non de plume, and be accompanied by a sealed envelope addressed with same non de plume and enclosing the real name and address of the author. Three independent and capable judges will be selected to award the prizes; and the papers receiving them will be the property of the Journal offering the prizes. A circular giving fuller details can be obtained by application to Prof. Harrington.
Dr. Wm. F. Hutchinson in the American Magazine for July says: "The prime requisite for a large force is harmonious setting. Where the malign influence of Sirius reigns, mental and physical strength decline with increasing heat for the vast majority who must face the music home there is no better protection than the cultivation of content. As the month passes, if its lapse be accompanied with the heat of former years, there comes an amount of nervous prostration that endures, nervous irritability and family jars; and all good home influences must be invoked to keep the peace. Strive to keep your temper. Every failure to do this only makes weaker bodily resistance to disease, whose infinitesimal germs float upon July heat as cork upon water, ready to enter every door that the temperance man has left ajar. Avoid drink. I do not mean alcoholic stimulants alone, which should never be taken except as medicine, but promiscuous swallowing of all sorts of fluids, whose only virtue is that they are cold. It is true that when the skin is fully open and blood serum freely passes through its open pores, more water is needed to cool the system; but water is all that is demanded.

A PARTING.

"Do you regret, O Love?" he said. In solemn thought she bowed her head...

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

CHAPTER IX (CONTINUED). Old Talbert's half-sister, who was some years younger than himself, married...

Somehow, after her marriage his half-sister slipped away from Mr. Talbert's life. As whole sisters and brothers...

He got into scrapes, difficulties and debt. So far, indeed into the last that his mother for the first and only time...

Out of her anxiety she had saved enough each year to pay a premium of insurance. And Frank, then just twenty...

Whatever his fault, it might have been her mother's fondness of his mother. Her death seemed to change a changed man...

"Is he a clergyman?" asked Beatrice. "He must be, I suppose." "No," said Herbert. "He never took orders. The fellowship he holds did not make that necessary."

"They ought all to be like that," said Beatrice. "Men oughtn't to be forced or bribed to enter the church. Besides," continued she, "they ought not to make a man give up his mellow when he marries. Just as he wants more money they take it from him."

"You may be sure," said Herbert, "whatever is—is best." "Exactly so," said Horace. "I am sure it is best," she said dolefully.

Miss Clouston must have been in advance of her day, the authorities now having in a great measure adopted her views and changed the system.

"Strangely to say Horace also fell into the spread. For some ten minutes the two brothers sat facing one another, stroking their beards. If that vulgar wretch from whose rank mind had felt like a first spring...

IN-DOORS AND OUT.

Two true hearts have set out together, for love to live together until death shall part them. A HANDY THING. A Farm-House Dumb-Water-A Simple Device, Easily and Cheaply Made.

The device shown in our illustration is one which will be readily appreciated by every housewife who has a cellar. A never-ending and wearisome part of household work consists of frequent visits to the cellar...

"We will say," began Horace, "he was married four years ago." "Yet was dishonorable enough to conceal it; so that he might hold his fellowship."

"The latter I should think. Frank makes a large income now, and could afford to give up two hundred a year." "He was the wife of a ter the birth of the child."

"That's the worst of going wrong. No amount of straight running will make people cease to look at times at the work of reform."

"They are supposed to be very strong." "The polite letter was sent, and a week after the ending of the Trinity term the young Oxford tutor packed up his things and started for Oakbury."

"As there is no occasion to make any further inquiries, it may as well be said that Frank Carruthers knew no more of the existence of the child whom his amiable uncle had argued themselves into believing to be in some way his property."

"It was lucky, for after having repaid Mr. Talbert the amount of seven hundred pounds, he left to carry him to his Oxford course."

"You may be sure," said Herbert, "whatever is—is best." "Exactly so," said Horace. "I am sure it is best," she said dolefully.

Miss Clouston must have been in advance of her day, the authorities now having in a great measure adopted her views and changed the system.

"Strangely to say Horace also fell into the spread. For some ten minutes the two brothers sat facing one another, stroking their beards. If that vulgar wretch from whose rank mind had felt like a first spring...

"Herbert," said Horace, at last, "you are thinking of what Beatrice said?" "Yes, I am." "So am I. It seemed a revelation, and we oughtn't to jump at conclusions."

CONVINCING GUARANTEES.

Which are justified by a World-Wide Experience. THE PUBLIC. Having branch houses and laboratories in seven different quarters, and therefore in the most convenient position, we, H. B. Warner & Co., justify our claims in making the following statements:

"First—For the past decade we have had 60,000 patients of various origin in the kidney, which introduce urine into the system, a poison that is injurious to every organ, attacking and destroying the kidneys, which are the weakest of the human system, it is impossible to keep the entire system in good working order unless these organs are doing their duty."

"Second—We have been successful in curing hundreds of thousands of cases in every section of the globe. Fourth—Warner's Safe Remedies have been recognized by the doctors and the people all over the globe as standards of the highest excellence."

"We make the following unqualified guarantee:—That Warner's Safe Remedies are pure and harmless. GUARANTEE 2.—That the testimonials and evidence of the meagerness of the crop there, the Boston Journal says that this year the city has expended only $5,000 for removing snow from her streets against $25,000 for the same period last year."

FACT AND FANCY.

A New York woman is making shirts for 7 cents a dozen. A clergyman has been caught making clipplings from books at the British museum.

Clancy Parier, a colored woman, who died the other day in Jefferson county, Georgia, claims to be 107 years old.

A consumptive minister in Ohio has gone into the letter-carrier business, and it is said that his delivery is improving.

Does it pay to be good, when a minister gets $3 for marrying a couple and a lawyer gets $20 for unmarried them?

An unfortunate Maine baby that happened to be born on the day of her grandparents' golden wedding was named Anna Versary.

The Austrian crown princess, Stephanie, while curling her hair recently, ran the hot curling tongs against her eyelid and was laid up for a week.

The Emir of Afghanistan has fallen in love with bag-pipes, and has ordered 300 of them for Kabul. The Shah of Persia has also ordered a brass band.

The truth of the report that Lapouchere was £25,000 at Monte Carlo was that of a system is vouched for by the croppers of a famous gaming resort.

A lady who was riding away his time was asked by a minister where he expected to be married. "I shall not be," was the reply; "I expect to be carried."

If the doctor creaks and you can't get off and get a soft lead pencil, run the point into all the crevices of the hinges and the creaking ceases. Even if you can get off, the black lead is nearer.

The rapidly with which Anglo-Saxon literature is pouring into Japan is illustrated by the fact that $5,000 English and 110,000 American books were imported last year, an increase of nearly 100 per cent.

"I wonder what's wrong at Fahlert's mansion? The bells are all muffled, the best in the city is never rung, and the doctor has just driven away." "Why, haven't you heard? Their pug has pneumonia."

GIRLS AND MOTHERS!

Read This! I wish to tell you of the case of a girl 16 years old, who had been sick with suppuration two years. Her father had paid over $300 for doctors' bills, still she was failing.

She had the worst countenance that I have ever seen, a kind of greenish yellow; she was emaciated, had constant fever, trouble, and had to take morphine every night in order to sleep at all.

All who saw her thought she would die. Her parents said they had done all they could. I repeatedly urged them to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but they were strongly prejudiced against "nonsense."

"We must do something, and this is likely to help her in any way," said the mother. "I will try it." As a result, in four months her functions were established and regular, and in six months she was the picture of health.

"I can describe 20 other cases, not as wonderful as this, but still very remarkable cures." Mrs. MARY C. CHANDLER. Battle Creek, Mich.

Mr. Chuska's pale-face wife will probably Announce her husband by spelling his name Chas. K.

Seventy-Five Drinks of Moxie, 75 Cents. The Moxie Co. has prepared a 75c. bottle of rich syrup, that with ice water will make a refreshing drink, or that with cold water will make a tonic.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis and consumption.

It is a St. Louis gambler who was trampled and killed by a runaway horse a few days ago. His last words were: "That's a horse on me!"

There is a place in Pennsylvania which is called Economy, but it is not a summer resort.

Consumption Surely Cured. To the Editor:—I wish to inform you that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use ten thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send you two bottles of my free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and P. O. address.

There were five fraternal, and each had an aim—Flora would fain be a fashionable dame; her sister Susan's selection was bookish; Coquette's Cora cared more for good looks; Anna, ambitious, aspired after wealth; and the youngest, Sarah, was content with a plain life.
