THE EGG DANCE.

A Beautiful feat performed by Hindoo Juggling Girls. One of the most wonderful of the many feats performed by Hindoo jugglers is the egg dance. Usually it is executed by a girl, fantastically dressed. She makes use of the willow wheel, around which at equal distances, are threads, and at the end of each thread there is a noose, held open by a bead. This wheel the girl places on her head, while she carries a basket of eggs on her arm. When the music strikes up she begins to dance and the wheel begins to spin around. She then takes the egg from the basket, places it in one of the threads, and throws it from her with sufficient force to draw the knot tight. The spinning of the wheel keeps the thread stretched, with the egg at the end of it. She then takes another egg from the basket, places it in another noose, and repeats this until there is an egg in every noose. Her fantastic costume, her perfect motion, and all the eggs swinging on the stretched threads at once, present a very pretty sight indeed. It requires much art to execute the dance, for at one false step the eggs would be dashed together, the dance spoiled, and the dancer thereby disgraced. After dancing for a time with all the eggs swinging around her head, she takes them out of the noose one by one, all the time keeping the wheel balanced and in motion, and again places them in the basket on her arm. When the dance is finished the spectators are allowed to examine the eggs to see that they are real.

CHAPTER V.

ROM THAT night the destiny of Mario Cavaradossi was fixed. Sleeping or waking, working or playing, the flower-like face was ever before his vision, that voice of his with its tones so sweet and so melodious, that he felt as if he were in the arms of an angel.

A SALVATION ARMY COLONY.

Gen. Booth Anxious to Secure a Large Tract of Land. Quebec special: A number of Salvation Army delegates from the army farm in England have returned here from the northwest territories, where they have been spying out the land with the object of selecting a block of a hundred thousand acres or so where to establish a Salvation Army colony. They have seen many available districts, but prefer a location for which they are applying in Alberta. It is very unlikely that their request will be granted, and the promoters of the scheme will probably turn their attention now to the western states.

Questionable Social Doings.

As an instance of what she is already capable of from a social point of view, now that she has been given her head, may well be cited the feverish eagerness with which some of the most highly cultivated and most subtly evolved American women of our large cities vie with each other for intimacy with artistic foreign lions of their own sex known to be unchaste. They seem to regard it as a privilege to play hostess to, or at least, to be on familiar terms with, the most notorious and other public characters quietly but notoriously erotic, the plea in each case being that they are ready to forgive, to forget, and ignore for the sake of art and artist. Yes, ignore or forget, if you choose, so far as seeing the artist act or hearing her sing in public is concerned, where there are no social ceremonies or intercourse; but let us please remember at the same time, even those effete nations who believe that the world would be a dull place without courtesans, insist on excluding such persons from their drawing rooms.

An Astonishing Discovery.

An astonishing discovery in regard to the production of electricity is announced, which, if genuine, will do away with the necessity of burning coal. Dr. Borchers, of Driesburg, Germany, says that he has found that electricity is generated by the conversion of hydrocarbon and carbonic oxide into carbonic acid, and as this is the same thing that takes place in burning coal, it accomplishes the same end by chemical means by what he calls the wet process. While a steam engine utilizes about 12 per cent of the theoretical energy and a gas engine 20 per cent, Dr. Borchers claims that his new process gives no less than 35 per cent.

That Cruel Wretch.

A city girl while in the country asked of a farmer, "Why don't you milk that cow?" pointing to one in an adjoining lot. "Because it is dry, miss." "Dry?" "Yes, miss. She's been dry for two weeks." "You cruel wretch," she exclaimed, "why don't you give her some water?" and she turned his face toward the house and shook with emotions he could not suppress.

KEIR HARDIE AS A CRITIC.

Keir Hardy recently visited the Bowery and Brides Over the Brooklyn Bridge. Keir Hardy recently visited the Bowery and Brides Over the Brooklyn Bridge. He was disappointed at finding it a pretty safe thoroughfare and not at all the Bowery it was when William M. Thackeray, the novelist, described the "Bowery Boy." Mr. Hardy was seen by a Sun reporter at the Broadway Central hotel after he had returned from Brooklyn and had been put under fire by Lucien Sanial, Daniel de Leon, and several other socialists. He had discarded the mining cap for a straw hat. The only thing that pleased him was the Brooklyn bridge, which he thought a wonderful piece of engineering. He was very unfavorably impressed with the architecture of the business part of New York. "I went along Broadway," he said, "and was surprised at the utter lack of uniformity in the buildings. You would find a ten-story building cheek by jowl with a four-story structure, and as far as the architecture is concerned, I could see no pure specimen of any kind. On the contrary, Grecian, Roman, Gothic, and Renaissance and sometimes mixed up in the one building. The result is very incongruous. I think the New York merchant princes, with the money they spent on these buildings, might have had had results pleasanter to an artistic taste. In London the buildings, in the business part, are more uniform, and, in my opinion, infinitely better from an artistic point of view.

Canada Must Wait.

The people of Canada are finding to their cost what an anomalous position they occupy among the nations of the earth when it comes to looking to Great Britain to press their claims upon foreign powers with which she dare not or prefers not to quarrel, says a Quebec special. In the dominion parliament last week the circumstances under which Canadian ships were seized by Russian war vessels in 1892 were brought again up by one of the opposition leaders, Mr. Davies, to the attention of the government. The vessels were the Carmelite and Willie McGowan, which were seized on the high seas and confiscated, the crews being taken to the nearest Russian ports, treated with great inhumanity, and left to shift for themselves. The value of the two vessels and their cargoes was $50,000. He quoted from the report of the Russian commissioners appointed to investigate the seizures, which found that the seizure of the Carmelite was legal, though in his (Mr. Davies) opinion there was no evidence of illegal sealing—only surmises and suspicions. Canada's claim in regard to that vessel was, he contended, a perfectly good one. The finding of the commissioners in the case of the Willie McGowan was that the seizure was illegal. The seizure of the Aerial was also pronounced irregular, and the Russian government declared it not indisposed to make reparation for both vessels. The Canadian minister of justice, Sir Charles H. Tupper, in reply, admitted that the Canadian government's power was limited. It was keeping the case and all its material points fully before the British government, and he made the further humiliating admission that there the power of his government ended. The Rosebery government, before going out of office, had assured him that they were pushing Canada's claims as far as possible, but the minister of justice frankly assured the house that he was at his wits' end to appreciate any grounds of delay either in this case or in the settlement of Canada's claims against the United States by the American government. He did not know any further powers the Canadian government possessed for promoting greater expedition.

Berlin's Private Post.

It Rivals the Government Service in Cheapness. Berlin has had for some years past a private postal company for the delivery of letters and packages, and students of the postal question are somewhat astonished to learn that this concern rivals the government postoffice in cheapness and pays annual dividends of 25 per cent. The private post carries a letter ordinary weight within the bounds of the city at two pennings, or about 5 7-10 mills. Last year the private post carried 2,550,000 packages. The company employs 1,000 men and many horses. The private post charges less than the public post for packages, circulars, and the like, and does a great deal of the work for business houses that in New York is accomplished by special delivery wagons and messengers in the employment of the house. Some business houses save large sums annually by making use of the private post. The capital of the concern is not large, for its 25 per cent dividend was made last year from net profits of about $100,000. It has been suggested that the great European capitals should have like private posts and establish an international exchange for letters and packages in connection with the Postal Union. But the laws of most European countries, like those of the United States, secure to the government a monopoly of business strictly postal.

Climbing Mont Blanc.

It is an expensive as well as a very tiresome undertaking to ascend Mont Blanc. It costs at least $50 per person, for by the law of the commune of Chamougnon each stranger is obliged to have ten guides and a porter. So far as the danger is concerned it is now reduced to a minimum, but almost every year the mountain claims a victim. Bad weather is the chief thing feared by the guides, and so swiftly does it come that a cloudless sky may in fifteen minutes turn to a blinding snow storm which beats you to the ground. Thus it was that some years ago a party of eleven persons perished. Five were found frozen stiff in the snow; the other six still lie buried in the Glacier des Boissons. Forty years is the time allowed for the glacier to yield them up in the valley below.—Boston Transcript.

Just for Fun.

"And you say your father was wounded in the war?" "Bad, sir." "Was he shot in the ranks?" "No, sir—in the back." "Tom—I can't realize, old man, that you are a father." "George—Can't you? Just come round and spend the night with me." "Wife—There comes that tramp I gave some of my biscuits to the other day." "Husband—Impossible! This must be his ghost." "Jack—The average girl graduate can't cook!" "Tom—Don't be too sure of that. I have known one to roast a fellow horribly." "What that tragedy needs," said one critic, "is more realism." "Yes," replied the other, "they ought to kill the actors, save enough." "Mrs. de Pad' (in a bric-a-brac shop)—"You have a beautiful collection of antiques here." "New boy—Yes'm, we have all the latest novelties." "It's almost disgusting to see the mannish airs Miss Whirler takes on." "What is she doing now?" "Learning to sharpen a lead pencil." "The Wife—One half the world doesn't know how the other half lives." "The husband—Well, it isn't your fault, my dear, if they don't." "How do you know that he has ceased to love you?" "Because he never makes a fuss when I dance with other men." "Don't you think that Snobkin's manners are very affected?" "No. What makes them really objectionable is that they're natural." "Ethel—You remember that absurd-looking monkey we saw on the street?" "Yes." "Well, Tom bought and sent it to me." "Well, it's just like him."

RAM'S HORNS.

A chorus in which many love to join: "Didn't I tell you so?" Self-assertive men often do a large business on a small capital. We must give Christ our burden before he will give us his yoke. The man who would go to heaven alone if he could, isn't fit to go. So many people are not at home when a golden opportunity knocks. Our loyalty to Christ is best tested by the way we treat our enemy. Whoever is like Christ will be found trying to make earth like heaven. A civil tongue is a better protection than steel armor an inch thick. There is nothing the devil makes much more use of in this world than a tattling tongue. Pray for your enemy, no matter whether he is trying to kill you with his tongue or a gun. The devil is still making some people believe that Christ is best tested by the way we treat our enemy. The man who can pay his debts and won't do it, would steal if he could do it without being locked up. Some people show that they are not on the way to heaven by what they tell others they must do to get there. It is a common temptation with the Christian worker to think that God has called him to raise the dead to begin with. The devil will not be long in making some kind of a flank movement against the preacher who makes sinners feel their need of Christ.

ODD ENDS.

There is said to be a total of 482 systems of shorthand in practical use. Orange growers of Southern California have realized $1,850,000 for their crop. The income of the London Daily Telegraph is said to be about $650,000 per year. Thirty per cent of the iron made in Tennessee is sold outside the Southern States. There are now 249,273 Indians in this country, or were at the taking of the last census. Illinois stands third among the states in the number of its milk kine, with 1,087,886 animals. Pomona County, California, will produce 750 tons of apricots this year, against 2,800 tons last year. A snake alleged to be fourteen feet long, steel chickens, ducks and geese at Cold Spring Harbor, L. I. The largest water wheel in the world is fifteen feet wide and 126 feet in diameter. Bucharest has the reputation of being the place of residence of the greatest number of swindlers in the world. In 1889, 10,250,410 bushels of flax seed and 241,389 pounds of fiber were produced on 1,318,698 acres in this country. Beer frozen and called "hops frape" is very popular in the Sunday resorts of Philadelphia since the enforcement of the Sunday law.

Well, Master Serotius.

"Well, Master Serotius," said a fresh, young voice, "are you satisfied with your pupils?" The old man turned and seized Karl by both hands. "My boy," he said trembling with emotion, "this is the happiest night of my life. That terrible experience in Vienna is forgotten, and all my dead ambitions live again in you.

The McKinley law found the country prosperous and left it prostrate. The present law found the country prostrate and helped it to its feet.

The Republican press have at length after much delay, come to recognize the fact that the times are prosperous. But they all have an excuse for it.

The "jingo" statesmen who are now crying for a war with England over the Venezuelan boundary question, would do well to consider in what a ludicrous light they appear to common sense Americans.

The Cleveland convention, held for deepening our waterways, was a success in every sense of the word. The reports on the work accomplished were satisfactory, and wonderful results were predicted to follow the improvements.

John Bull has caused John Chinaman to fear and tremble and all the civilized nations of the world rejoice. If England's attitude had been that of the stronger nation bullying the weaker one, for no good reason, America would unite with her sister powers and bring the British to time.

The efforts of the lady students and alumni of the University, to raise funds for a ladies' annex to the Waterman gymnasium, should be appreciated and the new building should be built at once.

OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN.

He Sees About Everything and Talks About Everything He Sees.

Our Man has been informed that Chief Peterson has been very busy the last few weeks endeavoring to rid our city of disreputable women.

Bicycles are becoming more numerous on our streets with the return of the students and it will be well for them to at once learn that there is an ordinance prohibiting riders of the machine to use the sidewalks for that purpose.

A prominent temperance worker in this city said to Our Man the other day, "Well, we didn't manage to keep beer off the fair grounds. The management said that a meeting held some months ago would have been the proper time to present the petition against beer-selling on the grounds. We are now going to present another petition a year ahead and see if that will do any good."

Our Man has been greatly interested in the case of a bride and groom in Saline, who dissolved partnership by mutual consent before the preacher had sealed the contract. Everything had been arranged for the ceremony, when the couple quarreled about an unimportant detail in the wedding program.

The necessity of small houses for rent in Ann Arbor is a question that should be seriously considered. I am told that last week four families who had come to this city to reside left after a few days' sojourn because they could not find suitable houses.

Our Man advises every family in Ann Arbor to boil their drinking water (bring October. Dr. Henry Baker, secretary of the state board of health has published a statement to the effect that typhoid fever will be unusually prevalent during this month.

Unity Club Course for 1895-6. The course will consist in part of the following: Two or three lectures on three Shakespearean plays, by James Kay Applebee, of Boston.

A horse was tied to the railing at the T. & A. depot last Saturday when an engine went by and frightened him so, that he tore his head loose from the strap, thereby cutting the flesh about his mouth very severely.

Our Man has noticed with a sigh of relief that our beautiful shade trees are not disfigured this fall by the advertisements of "board" and "rooms" which have been such an eyesore in past years.

Our Man has often been annoyed during services at the different Ann Arbor churches, when small boys have caused no little disturbance by their laughing and whispering.

Our Man cannot see why this is not as great a disfigurement to our streets and a greater one, than the cards on the trees. Our streets have a well deserved reputation for beauty, but unless this practice is stopped, they will become as unsightly as a sign board.

This is giving us no alarm, however, as it is explainable on several grounds. In the first place there were a number of important additions made last year to the list of schools whose students are admitted on diplomas and consequently there is a smaller number coming early to take the examinations."

This street will be an extension to Catherine St. between Division and State Sts., and the two termini of that street, which have been separated by the Maynard property, will be united. There will be 18 desirable lots for building purposes made by the opening of the new street, which would doubtless be readily purchased and built upon.
