OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

The Kalamazoo Daily Telegraph of Oct. 5, contains a sketch of the life of Hon. Don C. Henderson, of the Allegan Journal, the Nestor of Michigan journalism. Mr. Henderson is an ardent republican, and has figured prominently in politics and journalism. Although now over 70 years of age he is as interested in the topics of the day and gives as full attention to the editing and management of his paper, the Allegan Journal, as in his younger

Mrs. Sarah E. V. Emery, of Lansing, died Thursday of last week. Mrs. Emery was a woman of remarkable talents. She was interested in currency reform and equal suffrage movements. She was the author of a little book entitled "Seven Financial Conspiracies," of which over 300,000 copies were sold. Mrs. Emery took a great interest in politics and during the last campaign delivered many speeches in western states. Mrs. Emery was a member of the Michigan Wom an's Press Asso

CUBAN ANNEXATION.

Henry B. Cleaves, Governor of Maine states his opinion on Cuban annexation as follows:-"I believe our government should be no more conservative in the matter of recognizing the belligerent rights of the Cuban insurgents than Spain was in recognizing the southern Confederacy. I believe the sympathies ef the American people generally are with the insurgents. Cuba has always been misgoverned and always will be so long as Spain has control. When the insurgents have established a government de facto, there should be no hesitancy on our part in recognizing it. The insurgents are contending against great odds; but, judging from previous revolutions and what we can learn of this, they are as thoroughly imbused with patriotism as any people who ever struggled to be free." Governor Holcomb, of Nebraska, has also able to annexation. He says, "The geographical position of the island of Cuba renders the affairs of its people of more than ordinary interest to American citizens by its location and commercial interests. Cuba belongs to the western hemisphere. For these cans are naturally with the Cuban people in their struggle for independence. "The position of the Cubans is somewhat analogous to the struggle of the American patriots of 1776. American the assistance possible to the insurgents not inconsistent with the neutrality laws or other treaties existing between this country and Spain."

The Young Men's Christian Asssociation.

The Young Men's Christian Association are carrying on a work in Ann Arbor that has never been touched before. The attention of this community has been called entirely to the welfare of the students. Enterprises in their behalf have received all the spare cash and time Ann Arbon people have had, while the young men of the city have been left alone. Now the societies and buildings for the students are firmly established, they are here to stay and are built so solidly that only the disintegra tion of the University itself can in the least affect them, and it is a grand monument to Ann Arbor that such is

In view of this fact a number of the business men and Christian men, aided by a few of our Christian women have formed an association that has for its object the welfare of the young men of the town-those who are not able to attend our schools or universities; those who have to toil by day to obtain a livelihood for themselves, their families or relatives - and there are a great many such in Ann Arbor. Heretofore nothing has ever been done for them. Ann Arbor people have found their hands so full attending to the strangers that came within their gates that they have been unable to put forth any effort for the boys of Ann Arbor.

This society commenced in a modest way some three years ago and has grown continually from its inception. Its members have found that the field is greater than they thought. They have been somewhat hampered by lack of funds and proper workinen, but gradually they have been building up their work, until to day there are upwards of 150 young men of Ann Arbor enrolled in their ranks, all using their influence for the good of their young brothers. A grand work has been established here, and every effort is being made to carry it successfully forward. The Lyceum Course of entertainments was gotten up to help this Y. M. C. A. The committee having it in charge hoped by securing a first class lot of entertainments and placing the tickets on sale at a moderate figure, that they might sell enough to put a handsome amount into their given his views to the press as favor- treasury. Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors held a citizens are justified in rendering all session last Monday afternoon. A special committee on contagious diseases was appointed, on motion of Supervisor Case. The last meeting's rules were adopted. The basis for the equalization of taxes was placed at $25, 50, 500. Thursday was the day chosen to visit the county house and the board went there in a body. Reports were received and filed. Evart H. Scott moved that Messrs. Hunter, Oesterlin and Forsyth be appointed a committee to consider building fire proof vaults in the Court House. Supervisor Kitson moved that the ouilding committee be instructed to obtain more hat racks and desks for the supervisors' room. Carried.

Judge Babbitt's report showed that 25 persons were committed to the Pontiac asylum from this county during the past year, of which eight went from Ann Arbor city and town, six from leading benevolent and Christian from Ypsilanti, two non-residents, two from Salem, and one each from Bridgewater, Lima, Salme, Pittsfield, Scio. In the National Archives in Paris, are two pardons, one signed by Charles VII, the other by Louis XI, which remitted the pain of death and restored to liberty one Francois de Montcorbier, otherwise known as Francois Villon, the vagabond poet of France in the fifteenth century, who has been called the Chaucer of French iterature. He Sees About Everything and Talks About Everything He Sees.

Our Man wishes to commend the deided stand taken by one of the boys' ebating societies in the High schools The debates have been interrupted for several meetings by a dozen youngsters who evidently attended for the sole purpose of annoying the members. The society has decided to forcibly eject all such rowdies from its meetngs and, if neccessary, the doors to the room will be locked, so that the members and orderly visitors may not be disturbed in their efforts to become good debaters and declamers.

The ordinance against playing ball n the streets is being violated again. For several evenings the boys living in he neighborhood of S. Main st. have layed foot-ball on that thoroughfare and disturbed the whole neighborhood by their noise. S. Main st. is one of the roads which are constantly used by farmers and the teams leaving and ntering the city are very numerous. This foot ball playing is very annoying to everyone driving past the place and it should be stopped at once, not only for this reason, but also to prevent any of the boys being run over, or run-away accidents from the norses taking fright.

It is not too late to begin now, here. to save some of the dying trees, and those careless folks whose trees are already dead can now plan to set out new ones and water them next summer. Our Man hopes that they will do so. and save to Ann Arbor one of her reatest attractions.

Our Man is informed that several young men disturbed the play at the opera house last Saturday evening by singing and whistling during the performance. These fellows took seats in he dress circle and proceeded to mock he singing and talking of the gentlenen and ladies on the stage. This is a omparatively rare occurrence at the opera house and usually when it has happened there before the boys in the gallery have been responsible. They are far less to blame, however, than grown young men, who claim to be gentlemen and to respect the laws of propriety and politeness. That they should so far demean themselves as to isturb the audience and the actors by whistles and calls, puts them on a ower level in Our Man's estimation than the rowdies in the gallery. The ooks of disapproval which were thrown at these rude young men Saturday night should show them how their conduct was viewed by the people present, and if they are not affected by this, the opera house authorities will stop their rowdiness by force. One of the Season's Successes.

Theatre lovers may congratulate nemselves that one of the events of his season will be the appearance here of Minnie Maddern Fiske. "The Queen of Liars", v Alphonse Daudet and Leon Hennique cleverely Englished by Harrison Grey Fiske, a new lrama is a remarkable stage story. Bradstreet's says: Colder weather has stimulated a seasonable demand for staple dry goods, millihery and clothing, and obbers in these lines in all parts of the country feet the improvement. Relatively most gain has been made at the south, where an improvement is reported in almost all lines. Interior merchants are piacing more liberal orders than for several years and and larger disturbing centers report sales of goods to the cotton beit and collections therefrom exceptionally free. The more unfavorable features are found in disappointment at the moderation with which wheat is exported from week to week, the reported weakness in pig iron and steel billets and the competition suffered by domestic woolen manufacturers from abroad. But an examination of these conditions indicates that if reports of the size of the wheat crop and of wheat stocks carried out be accepted, average weekly exports from this country, if kept up to the end of the crop year, will exhaust the amount of wheat available for shipment abroad. Bradstreet's says: Colder weather has stim-
