"Why?" "Because if you insist upon my being frank, it might be dangerous to you."

"Dangerous to me! Bah! If it were any one else who said that—but, why be angry with you? You are too old a friend."

"I am rather inclined," said her ladyship, slowly, "to see this young man, if only to give him a lesson for his presumption, and to prove to him the folly of what you have been pleased to tell him."

"What time do you leave for Madrid, my dear Chevalier?" she asked sweetly. "When you abandon this m' idea, or when you dismiss me."

"Why?" exclaimed the other, surprised. "It was to talk of all Rome. Haven't you heard?"

"No, no! You forget that I only arrived this morning. Quick! Quick! What is it? You put me upon thorns."

"No, since I told you I saw him yesterday. Five minutes after, Karl Roswell was admitted to Delilah's presence."

CHAPTER VIII. Two months have passed away; two months which were one long dream of happiness for the lovers, Mario and Delilah. It is now the 17th of June, and all Rome is in commotion; the news has come that a great victory has been won by the royalists at Marano, and the bugler Napoleon beaten back.

CURE FOR WILD OATS.

In One Case It Was a Success, and Possibly Might Be So in Others. From the Washington Star: The Star man was talking to an acquaintance...

"Well, I needn't tell you just that, but I'll tell you what it is. I happen to know a rich man with a relative who is just such another chap as the one we are talking about, only more so."

"I will not betray you," he said. "The stranger poured forth warm words of thanks, but in the very midst of his speech he staggered and fell heavily against one of the supports of the scaffolding."

"What is it?" cried Mario, hastening to his side. "You are ill, fainting, or dead?" "Viva Ferdinand! In this church for twelve hours, and I am starving."

"I know the Chevalier slightly. I remember he spoke to me of the man who had been taken to your hospital, Signor. I have recovered, it is right that you should know my story."

BRIEF ITEMS ABOUT MICHIGAN PEOPLE AND THINGS. Fine Masonic Temple Dedicated at Grand Rapids—L. O. O. F. Grand Lodge and Daughters of Rebekah Convent at Saginaw—Brief Mention.

Grand Rapids Masons Dedicate a Temple With a fine autumn day, a large number of visitors and the city most gorgeously decorated the Masons of Grand Rapids were very happy on the occasion of the dedication of their new seven-story temple.

Grand officers elected by the Michigan Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. at Lansing were: Grand master, Henry N. Wilder; Grand Warden, Deputy Master William P. Wiseloge; Grand Secretary, Edwin H. Whitely; Grand Treasurer, Benjamin D. Pritchard; Grand Chaplain, Rev. T. C. Moore.

Much excitement has been occasioned at Ishpeming due to the finding of the remains of Little Eva Lafreniere, who mysteriously disappeared June 24. The clue to the discovery was a pair of shoes found by the mother of the child among a bundle of carpets, rags passed by Mrs. C. L. Wendel, a neighbor, to Mrs. Lafreniere.

The fishing tug Petrel, of Oscoda, which was reported lost with all hands, while fishing in Saginaw bay, reached Keweenaw, Ont. after five days, with the crew all safe. The tug was engaged in lifting the fish nets when the boiler gave out, and the tug was unable to return to port.

Four Drowned in St. Clair River. Frank Deruig, his sister-in-law Mrs. Michael Deruig, and Misses Selma Chonski, Minnie Schoenbart and Edith Comier were picnicking on Stag Island, near Marysville, in St. Clair river. They saw a storm coming up and started to row home, but when within 300 feet of the shore a squall capsized the boat.

The large untenanted house of Mrs. Chilton, Delavan, of Chicago, was burned at Jonesville. The fire was of incendiary origin. The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weller died at Grand Rapids of acute diphtheria, and it is feared that a general outbreak may occur.

Oxen form the circulating medium among the Zulus and Kafirs. "So you want a situation?" said the business man. "Yes, sir," replied the applicant. "Hum—do you ever go fishing?"

It is costing Spain $3,000,000 a month to fight Cuba. Last year it cost Great Britain $24,000 to combat the locust plague of Cyprus. In Trig county, Ky., J. J. Thomas grew an apple that weighed a pound and ten ounces.

NEWS OF THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN. A Strong Effort Being Made to Secure Pardons for the Mollitor Murderers—Ugly Insultations Against ex-Attorney General Ellis.

Mollitor Murderers May be Pardoned. An attempt is being made to secure the pardon of the alleged Mollitor murderers who were sentenced from Alpena county last year to Jackson prison for life. Three prisoners were August Gromann, August Fuhrmann, Henry Jacobs, Carl Vogeler and Wm. Repice. It will be remembered that these men were convicted of killing Albert Mollitor at Rogers City on the night of August 25, 1875, and it was principally on the confession of Wm. Repice—who, after nearly 20 years, says that his conscience troubled him—that the convictions were secured.

Notes of the Day. A garter show that has been well patronized in Paris is to be transported to London. There were 3,108 students in attendance at the seven Swiss universities last summer. York county, Maine, farmers are telling of a snow white deer that has been seen in that region several times of late.

CLIMPSSES. Jabez Capps, who taught school in Sangamon county, Ill., in 1819, is still alive. Now people say that a picture of Della Fox can be distinctly traced in the moon. Doctors now say that the dangers from appendicitis have been greatly exaggerated.

FASHION NOTES. The large hats mean big bows of ribbon or velvet. Velvet flourishes on cloaks, waists, dresses and hats. Bows of velvet brocaded ribbon are seen on dressy hats. Five-inch satin back velvet ribbon in high colors for crush collars. Flaid silk petticoats are certainly bright enough to attract attention.

NEWSY TRIFLES. It is costing Spain $3,000,000 a month to fight Cuba. Last year it cost Great Britain $24,000 to combat the locust plague of Cyprus. In Trig county, Ky., J. J. Thomas grew an apple that weighed a pound and ten ounces.

Came to Himself. A negro brother while expostulating on that change of the prodigal son where it says, "And when he came to himself he said," etc., explained it in this way: "Brothers, after being long in want and hunger de son at last takes off his coat and sells it. When this he finds has disappeared he takes off his vest and sells that. When this is gone he next sells his shirt, and then, brothers, he came to himself."—Ruth C. Kloster, Rib Lake, Wis.

OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN. He Sees About Everything and Talks About Everything He Sees. Our Man has been told that last week while a lady of this city was riding in her carriage, a county official driving his team, and considerably under the influence of liquor, collided with her carriage and the result was it took off a wheel. It is bad enough to see men under the influence of drink any time but we do expect something more than such dissoluteness in our officials.

Work on the sewer is progressing rapidly, and it is safe to say that the work will all be done in the more thickly settled portions of the city, before snow falls. Mr. Charles A. Ward, who has charge of the connections, deserves great credit, as do the contractors who have undertaken the job, for the rapid and satisfactory work in which the work has been done. Our Man feels that whether all of his readers are in favor of sewers or opposed to them, all will thank these gentlemen for their desire to please.

The workmen who have come here to work on the new long distance telephone line have made themselves very obnoxious to many of our citizens by their willful lack of concern about anybody or anything here. These workmen were engaged near the Toledo depot a day or so ago, when several ladies passed by on the sidewalk. The ladies were just passing one of the poles when the workmen at the top of the pole called to those below, making all manner of profane and obscene remarks and whistling and yelling at the ladies. This vile conduct was repeated a number of times during the day and the ladies of that neighborhood were forced to give that street a wide berth when on their way to and from home.

The last Michigan legislature passed an act which provides that all persons convicted of being drunk more than twice in a year, be sentenced to two years imprisonment. The law was originated by Police Justice Whelan, of Detroit and had been successfully tried in Detroit. The state board of corrections and charities noticed the successful working of the law in Detroit, and favored its adoption by the state. The object of the law is to prevent and punish habitual drunkenness, and in the places where it has been tried has accomplished this end. Many a man thus sentenced has lost his appetite for intoxicating liquors and has left prison a new man.

Charles H. Hackley's munificent gift of $30,000 to the board of education of Muskegon, for building a normal training school, should evoke the thanks of the whole people of Michigan. The services which Mr. Hackley has given to his state are calculated to do an immense amount of good because of the generosity and good judgment which marks them. Five thousand dollars has been added to the $30,000 above mentioned to provide for the instructor's salaries, and the institution will be endowed with $100,000 on or before Mr. Hackley's death. This gift makes a total of $305,000 which Mr. Hackley has given for educational and other purposes in Muskegon. The amounts are: Hackley Public Library Building and furnishings, $135,000; block of land in the center of the city for a soldiers and sailors' monument, $45,000; monument, $25,000; Hackley Park Assembly, $10,000; Hackley Public School, $75,000. He has given a good deal privately, besides. The Democrat would like to see some such generous individual endow our university sufficiently to provide for some of its pressing needs.

Our Man would like to have our city fathers take some action to remedy the smoke nuisance. Mayor Walker called attention to this matter in his message to the council, but it has lain dormant ever since. Why cannot an ordinance be passed to force all owners of factories, mills heating plants etc., to provide suitable smoke consumers and stop the exceedingly disagreeable smoke and soot which so annoys the residents of our city. The great chimney of the campus heating plant belches forth great volumes of thick, sooty smoke every day through the winter, and the same is true of the chimneys of our flour mills, planing mills and factories. The high school will soon have a tall chimney of its own, and if no smoke consumer is placed there, the air for blocks around the high school building will be as bad as that near the campus boiler house. One of the best recommendations of the mayor was the one relating to this ordinance and it should be acted on at once.

Our Man was pleased to note that there was a good audience to witness Ois Skinner's superb presentation of "Villon the Vagabond" last Friday night at the Grand Opera House. The reason he mentions this fact is, that such meagre audiences have visited the opera house to greet some of the greatest stars on the stage, that there could be no complaint if the management were not to engage such attractions again. The attendance has averaged better this season than last, and it is to be hoped that Ann Arbor's amusement public will show their appreciation of Manager Sawyer's efforts to bring first class companies here, by patronizing these plays liberally. It is doubtless true that our opera house is not such a modern, well furnished affair as we would all like to have, and all of the plays which show there may not be to the liking of every one here. But it is always a difficult thing to please everybody, and surely we cannot blame Mr. White for not building a new opera house, or rebuilding the present one, when his investment has realized such a small return as has been received of late.

Our Man has often noticed the outrageous conduct of some of our students when they walk our city streets. It is a very common occurrence in Ann Arbor, for six or eight students to march along the sidewalk and never turn aside to allow anyone to pass. This boorish conduct is especially noticeable about seven o'clock in the evening, when the students are enroute for the post office. Our Man has seen students crowd ladies off the walk, by simply taking up all the room, and apparently paying no attention to anyone's rights but their own. It is very seldom that any of these young men will turn aside for a man and they carry their rudeness almost as far when they meet a woman. A man can stick out his elbows and knock a student out of the way, if he so desires, but a lady has to step out against a fence or tree. Our Man would think that students in a great educational institution would not be guilty of rudeness which the most ignorant laborer on our streets would despise. It has been the custom for so many years to let the misconduct of students go unpunished simply because they are students and to punish other folks according to law, that our Man does not hope to see any stop put to this rudeness. He does hope, however, that every Ann Arborite who meets a lot of these rude sidewalk monopolizers will hold to his own share of the walk, even at the expense of knocking down a student or two, and then the students themselves may be brought to a sense of their rudeness. This matter is an important one in the winter when our sidewalks are bordered by great banks of snow, and it is not a very pleasant thing for ladies to have to step into the drift to make way for from four to six students, walking abreast.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course. The Lyceum Course of the Y. M. C. A. opened very auspiciously last Thursday evening, at the Presbyterian church, there being some 500 or 600 people present. The Laura Dainty Co. of entertainers proved themselves good entertainers and first class artists. Laura Dainty, as everyone knows, is a reader of far more than ordinary ability and she was at her best that evening. "How Salvator Won," was indeed thrilling, while "Fore Christmas," was very comical, and "Voices of the Night," well, the way she imitated the howling and whistling of the wind, made shivers creep and goosepimples form all over one's anatomy. Her rendering of "Aunt Melissa" convulsed the audience, and "Come Here," was effectively brought out. But few before realized how those two words could be made to convey so many different expressions and moods. The Misses Robinson, in their musical parts—Miss Louise with violin and Miss Gertrude with harp—proved themselves very clever artists. They also established the fact that some of the old melodies could be rendered in an artistic manner and still retain the melody and the player lose none of her reputation as an artist—in fact, if anything, add to it in the minds of the listeners. Mr. Richards had a well trained voice and was very satisfactory to the audience. He proved himself thoroughly capable of mastering either classical or the popular songs of the people. His aviril song, "The Armourer," struck a very popular chord. About the best test of appreciation of the concert was the fact that nearly every number on the program was encored. What greater compliment could be paid than that? The Y. M. C. A. are to be congratulated upon their success in launching their entertainment course. It was no small undertaking, and that it has started out so successfully, when there are so many courses of entertainments here in Ann Arbor, makes it evident that there are some huslers among the boys. It is about the first time that anything of the sort of and for the towns people, has ever met with anything like success. The next entertainment in the course will be given Nov. 27, by Mrs. Levitt, of Brooklyn, N. Y. the greatest living banjoist, and the Ann Arbor Concert Co. Course tickets are now being sold at 80 cents.

Coburn conducted the funeral services at the house, Monday evening, and the remains were interred in the Manchester cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Catherine Hangsterfer died of inflammation of the bowels at her home, 31 E. University ave, at 6 o'clock last Sunday morning. She had been ill for eighteen months. Deceased was born in Hesse Darmstadt, Germany, in 1825 and was the wife of Jacob Hangsterfer, who managed a catering business at the corner of Main and Washington streets. Mrs. Hangsterfer continued the business on the death of her husband in 1873, and came to Ann Arbor in 1884 and was very successful at 4th and Washington sts. Mrs. Hangsterfer leaves seven children: J. William Hangsterfer, of Detroit, Miss Lizzie Hangsterfer, who lived with her mother, Frank (who died in 1888), Mrs. Clara Luyck, of Detroit, Mrs. Bessie Limpert and Mrs. Ross Granger, of this city, Mrs. J. C. Stevens, of Detroit, and Ed. V. Hangsterfer, of this city. The funeral was held from the house at 3 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon. Rev. R. M. Beach officiated with these pall bearers:—Honorary, Philip Bach, L. Gruner, Moses Seabolt, W. D. Harrison, Chas. H. Worden and J. T. Jacobs; active, J. Wm. and Edward V. Hangsterfer, Louis Limpert, Ross Granger, J. C. Stevens and Mr. Luyck, of Detroit. The remains were interred in Forest Hill cemetery.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A Square Piano (Decker) in good condition. Terms reasonable. Inquire at 14 N. Ingalls-st. Worthy Your Confidence. The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in conquering scrofula in whatever way it may manifest itself is vouched for by thousands who were severely afflicted by this prevalent disease, but who now rejoice over a permanent cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Scrofula may appear as a humor, or it may attack the glands of the neck, or break out in dreadful running sores on the body or limbs. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may develop into catarrh or lodging in the lungs lead to consumption. Come as it may, a faithful course of treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome it, for working upon the foundation of all diseases, impure blood, the system is clarified and vitalized, and vigor, strength and health restored to the body.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder World's Fair Highest Medal and Diploma. Mrs. Kezia Westbrook Manning, Mich. Common Sense Reasoning Hood's Sarsaparilla Had Cured Others, and It Cured Me. "It was sixteen years ago my right leg began to swell and pain. Four years ago it broke out in three dreadful sores. I tried all kinds of ointments and balms but the worse the sores became. I had to walk on crutches and a greater part of the time was confined to my bed. I could not sleep nights and my eyes became affected. I have worn glasses for over six years. Since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills two of the worst sores on my limb have healed and the third is almost closed. My sore eyes have been benefited as I can see to read and write and also thread my needle for sewing without the use of glasses. I came to use Hood's Sarsaparilla by noticing advertisements. I reasoned that what has cured others would cure me and it has proved so. It is a splendid medicine." Mrs. KEZIA WESTBROOK, Manning, Michigan. Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25c. per box.

The Democrat.
 FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1895

Friends of The Democrat, who have business at the Probate Court, will please request Judge Babbitt to send their Printing to this office.

JOTTINGS.

The Bethlehem church will hold a fair next week.

Wm. Theisen, the tailor, has rented Clay Green's store, on Fourth ave.

The U. of M. "Forty" club will give its next party, Friday evening, Nov. 15. The ladies of St. Andrew's church are preparing to hold a fair beginning Dec. 6.

Chas. Collier, of Chicago, succeeds P. McGregor as night clerk of the Cook House.

W. H. Thompson has been elected treasurer of the Students' Lecture Association.

The Misses Stevens of N. Ingalls st., entertained the Epworth League, Saturday night.

The members of Arbor Hive visited Queen City Hive, Ypsilanti, Wednesday evening of this week.

The Women's League will hold a reception at McMillan hall from 3 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Board of Regents has announced that no class political meetings can be held in the evening at the university.

Rev. C. M. Coburn of the M. E. church, will speak next Sunday morning on "Are there few that be saved?"

Arbor Hive, No. 113, will celebrate its fourth anniversary, Nov. 12, by giving a card reception in Macabee hall.

Miss Finley's story club will meet at 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon at Mrs. W. G. Doty's residence, No. 38 S. Fifth ave.

Miss May O'Hearn is supplying Miss West's position in the Fifth ward school while Miss West is teaching in the First ward school.

Invitations are out for a Halloween birthday party to be held next Thursday, Oct. 31, at the home of Mrs. Philip Bach, 100 S. Main st.

Prof. B. M. Thompson states that the post-graduate law class is larger this year than ever before. Twentyseven students are enrolled.

Miss Flora C. Finley of this city will deliver a lecture, "A Group of Children's Authors" Dec. 3rd at the Young Women's Home in Detroit.

The grand stand at the U. of M. athletic field was destroyed by fire last Monday noon. The cause is said to be a bonfire started by small boys.

Miss Annie Louise Bacon was chosen to succeed Miss Gertrude Boynton on the executive board of the Woman's League, last Saturday.

The porch of the law building will be enclosed so as to furnish a consultation room for the use of law library students. Room 4 is now used for this purpose.

The ladies of the Unitarian society will give a social next Monday evening to which all persons interested in the organization are invited; admission, 10c.

Rev. John Neumann united in marriage Mr. Albert Prochnau and Miss Mary Rauschenberger, last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents in Northfield.

Herman Pinz who spent six months as instructor in dentistry at the Royal University at Halle, Saxony, has returned to graduate with this year's dental class.

The Ann Arbor Light Infantry elected these officers last Wednesday night: Captain, Ross Granger; first lieutenant, Wm. Armstrong; second lieutenant, Herman Walters; treasurer, Fred Hunton.

Walter H. Nichols is putting in a water pipe from the main at the corner of Geddes ave. and Oxford st., along the new street which he has decided to the city, to his residence, east of the cemetery grounds.

The University Y. M. C. A. is now located in McMillan hall. All U. of M. men are welcome. Every Saturday night from 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock a devotional meeting is held, with general meetings Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock.

The case of John H. Shadford vs. the Ann Arbor city railway was decided in the plaintiff's favor Wednesday night. Shadford's lower limbs were paralyzed from a fall from the trolley wagon in September, 1894. He was allowed $4,500 damages.

Mrs. Edna Chaffee Noble, of Detroit, who is well known to a number of Ann Arborites has been invited to speak at the Atlanta Exposition Educational Congress. Mrs. Noble is a cousin of Mrs. Pres. M. W. Harrington and Mrs. Devine of this city.

The Baptist church offers a lecture and concert course containing six entertainments for 50 cents. Dr. MacLaurin, of Detroit will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on "Jerusalem" and Mr. George Huntington of Detroit will speak on "Hawaii," with illustrations.

The U. of M. students are highly elated over their victory last Saturday when Adelbert was defeated by a score of 64 to 0. This success is all the greater, as Cornell only won over Adelbert by 12 to 4. The inference is that the U. of M. is going to beat Cornell again this year, if the boys continue to improve at the present rate.

A Bible reading club was organized last Sunday at the Methodist church. Three hundred cards were signed by 60 members who pledged themselves to begin at the first chapter of Genesis and read the Bible through, reading one chapter a day. A box has been placed in the vestibule of the church and anyone desiring to ask questions on any chapter can put them in the box. Everybody is welcome to join the club.

A resolution which the university faculty adopted last June was given to the public last Monday. The administrative board is then given the power of prohibiting all students from being members of musical, oratorical, dramatic, literary or similar organizations. Wherever such organizations cause students to be absent from Ann Arbor, they can be kept from going, if the board so desires. This law will give the college authorities optional prohibition of the college papers, literary societies etc. It is regarded as a good law by many, because of the danger that students will devote too much time to outside work to the detriment of their regular education.

One week from next Monday night, Elward W. Emerson, son of Ralph Waldo Emerson, will lecture in the Unitarian Club course, upon "Thoreau." Mr. Emerson, as a boy, knew Thoreau personally and will give many personal reminiscences of that eccentric writer and hermit. Tuesday evening of the same week, Mr. Emerson will give a lecture on Art, illustrated by chalk and crayon drawings.

The sale of reserved seats for the Students' Lecture Association course opened Tuesday morning at Moore & Wetmore's bookstore down town, and Palmer's pharmacy on State st. The regular tickets are exchanged for 50 cents additional, for reserved seats. The sale has been very large and promises a very successful season. Senator David B. Hill of New York lectures tonight in University hall.

Last Tuesday a committee of citizens from Newark, N. J., inspected the system of the literary library of the university. Their object was to gain ideas for the building of the new public library at Newark. The visitors expressed themselves as better pleased with the arrangement of the U. of M. library than with that of any of the libraries of Chicago, Harvard, Yale, or any others which they had inspected. This is certainly a compliment to librarian R. C. Davis.

The following dispatch from Duluth, Minn., in Sunday's Free Press's self-explanatory:—S. H. Stuckey, of Ann Arbor, Mich., arrived here this afternoon to confer with officials of the state bank regarding the defalcation and flight of his son, Charles, who disappeared two days ago with the funds of the concern. To-night the bank officials, Mr. Stuckey, the bank examiner and the missing man's bondsmen held a secret conference. As the bank failed to clear large day checks, it is not believed that it will reopen Monday.

The house of Geo. S. Hull, of Hamburg which was blown up by dynamite on the night of Oct. 8th, was destroyed by Erasmus and Dudson Webster, with the help of John Lyle. Marshal Peterson gained the confession from the Websters last Friday. They were laying plans to finish their dastardly work last Saturday night, but were overheard by Marshal Peterson, and arrested. The men's purpose in destroying the Hull house was that of revenge on Mr. Hull. They claim that Hull sold them a bushel of peaches which had the yellow, and that their mother became sick from eating these. They had other complaints of Hull's treatment, and had made up their minds to take his life.

The audience greatly enjoyed the lecture of Rev. J. E. Whitford before the Unitary club at the Unitarian church last Monday night. Mr. Whitford possesses fine oratorical powers. He has a sweet baritone voice and an enunciation almost perfect. He is evidently a great student of Dante. His analysis of "The Divine Comedy" and his pictures of the thought of the time when it was written were very interesting. He especially made it clear that without a knowledge of the social conditions, the religious thought and the astronomical science of the time, Dante cannot be well understood or appreciated. Mr. Whitford is still a young man and is likely to make his mark in the world as a platform orator and lecturer.

These officers were elected by the '99 literary class of the university last Saturday afternoon:—President, Allen Campbell, Detroit; vice president, Miss Lillian Keating, Ann Arbor; secretary, Miss Nellie Rice, Grand Rapids; treasurer, Russell Simmons, Aurora, Ill.; orator, Clifford G. Roe, Chicago; baseball manager, Harry Potter, Sayre; football manager, Robt. Norrington, Bay City; toastmaster, M. Snow, Detroit. The election was held in university hall, this being the first class to occupy the hall for such a purpose. President Angell addressed the students and requested them to avoid "rushing." He said that college rushes were responsible for more accidents than football. E. C. Lindley, '96 law, was appointed by the president to preside over the meeting.

It is announced that ex-President Benjamin Harrison is engaged in writing a series of magazine articles for "The Ladies' Home Journal," in which the periodical they will begin in the December number. The series will be called "This Country of Ours," and will consist of ten articles and probably more. The papers are being written by General Harrison especially for women, to meet a growing, widespread desire on their part to intelligently understand the workings of our Government and the great National questions. They will explain the meaning of the United States Government; the origin and meaning of the constitution; how laws are enacted and enforced; what the powers of the president and other officials are; what the judiciary system means; how our foreign relations are brought about and their meaning; how congress and the senate legislate;—in fact, a complete explanation of the Government told in a popular way.

"My Wife's Friend."

The attraction at the Grand opera house Saturday, Oct. 26, will be Mr. Wm. C. Andrews who will present one of those unique comedies of the "Charlie's Aunt" school entitled "My Wife's Friend." The play is one of those uproariously funny pieces where the characters get tangled up to such an extent that a straightening out seems next to impossible, however, the author, Fred Marsden, is a very clever man and Mr. Andrews' comedians are clever people and so all comes out smooth in the end, and the audience even though worn out with laughing, admit that they haven't had so much fun since they had the grip. The ladies of the company are the Misses Mary Graux, Minnie Monk and Antoinette Walker. Among the gentlemen are Albert Livingston, H. Rees Davies, W. W. Plum and many others.
