PRES. ANGELL ON CUBA.

President James B. Angell, of the University, in his lecture Thursday, March 5, before his class n The History of Treaties, made these remarks concerning the situation in Cuba:-"The great disadvantages of recognition of belligerency are that we incur the hostility of the mother country; that our vessels can be searched at sea by either warring party for contraband, and that the mother government would no longer be responsible for damage done to property and lives of our citizens.-Personally, however, it seems to me that the present situation was very aptly described in the opinion given by President Grant in his message to congress touching on the recognition of belligerency during the Cuban rebellion of 1868-6, P esident needs of the work. Grant decided that Spain would have just cause for complaint against us if we then recognized the Cubans as belligerents, because, as he said, there did not seem to be a fair probability of with it. their success. They had no seaport in their possession, nor even any other definitely occupied place. Furthermore, they gave no evidence of possessing any form of political organization that would warrant the expectation of their becoming a state. I cannot see that this is not also a pretty good description of the state of affairs in Cuba today, and if so, the senate and house of representatives are going directly contrary to the principles of international law. So far as I can learn of his position, I am inclined to think that President Cleveland will not accord the Cubans belligerent rights. Of course. we must not overlook the fact that there is much brutality and abuse beneath the present condition in Cuba. but that cannot alter our duty to abide by the plain law of nations. Moreover, such abuses can be remedied in other ways than by bluster.'

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

White Ribbon Echoes. Edited by W. C. T. U. Press Supt.

A regular meeting of the local union will be held this afternoon, at three o'clock, in the P. O. block. Mrs. Ella Butts will conduct exercises in Scientific Temperance Instruction in connection with the course of study to be taken up by the union for the coming year. Two weeks from today, March 26.

C. T. U. A written invitation will be Democrat. sent by the Secretary to every member of the union, giving each one the of the union, giving each one the privilege of bringing one friend with them to the meeting. The program will consist of brief addresses and annual reports of officers and superintendents, in addition to the regular exercises, to be followed by a social hour. Light refreshments will be served. Loyal Temperance Legion meetings > are held every Saturday, at two o'clock, in the hall over Calkins' drug store on State street. The meetings are well attended and are increasing in interest. Next Saturday the senior department of the Legion will be organized. The Seniors will include those members between the ages af thirteen and sixteen, and possibly a few younger who are well advanced in their studies. They will take up a special course of study prepared by Mrs. Helen G. Rice. national superintendent of L. T. L. work, and when this is completed and the required examinations passed, will graduate and receive diplomas. Miss Anna Richards will teach the Senior L. T. L. grade, and it is hoped a large number who have not as yet joined the Legion will do so, and avail themselves of the privileges of this class, under so able an instructor.

The reports of the treasurer and secretary for the year were as follows:-

SECRETARY'S REPORT. In reviewing the work of the year just closed, we find that less than usual has been accomplished, but as far as known, the needs of all worthy poor have been supplied, and we trust that the court may direct. diminished activity indicates diminished want. Only 77 visits have been made by the ward committees, 97 received and about 30 families assisted. Second hand clothing, bedding and furniture have been distributed, the whole valued at $58.00. A large number of new garments placed at our disposal by the needle work guild, have also been given away, besides clothing valued at $50, which has been made and distributed in the sewing school. At this school it is considered best for the children to pay a merely nominal sum for the garments-when they can afford it, but in the majority of cases, they are too poor to do this, and in such cases the clothing is given them. At Thanksgiving 45 poor families wer provided with dinners. The importance of the work done by the Chari table Union cannot be estimated simp ly by the number of cases which comto it, nor can the amount of povert and need in Ann Arbor, though this we believe is small in comparison with what prevails in many places. Most of the churches in our city care, at least in part, for their own poor, and there have been several instances during the past year when our ward committees have learned of someone needing assistance, and have reported the case to the proper church, which has immediately done what was necessary. The Relie

Corps attends to all soldiers' families The needle work guild furnishes most of the clothing needed in charity The Union can therefore in great measure confine its work to those persons, who without its assistance would probably be entirely uncared for, hence just that which it does do, is very important an those who know its work best, fee that it must be carried on. They are grateful that thus far they have had the means to do this. Sometimes special effort must be made to raise money, but any solicitation meets ready response, and almost every year there is some unexpected gift, as that of $38.25 received last spring. This money was collected for a patient at the hospital, but finally not needed, and at the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Bradshaw with the consent of the donors was given to the Union. Without it we could hardly have met the demands

During the summer, Mrs. Jaycox, our wise and efficient president learned to depend much upon her counsels and, bereft of them, we felt sented to fill the positian for the remainder of the year. In April, Jane Root, who for years had been a beneficiary of the Union fell and broke her hip. We assisted in the care of her for about a month when she consented to go to the poor house, where she could really be much more comfortable. Before her death, which occurred soon, she was com forted by our promise that she should not have a pauper's, burial and w helped defray funeral expenses. Another of our old beneficiaries, Mrs Crumphin, has also within a fev months voluntarily gone to the County House. We are glad to be relieved from the care of these who must always be objects of charity, because it leaves us free to supply the temporary needs of others, who in time hope to care for themselves.

We regret that the average attendance at our monthly meetings during the year past has been but six. We desire to thank the city papers for their continued courtesy in publishing all of our notices free of expense. We are also grateful for gifts of money from Mrs. J. B. Angell and Mrs. R. A. Beal. We trust that during the year past we have neglected none who really de served assistance from the Union, and we are confident that in the coming year, our friends will again enable us able Union, Mrs. W. W. Wetmore was He Sees About Everything and Talks About Everything He Sees.

> Our Man advises his readers to look at their plum and cherry trees this week and see whether they are affected with the "black knot." Jacob Ganzhorn, a commissioner for the city of Ann Arbor on tree diseases is inspecting plum and cherry trees this week for the purpose of detecting the "black knot" in any of them and having the liseased parts of the trees cut away and burned. The law provides that any person who does not remove and lestroy the knots within five days from the time that the commissioner serves notice on him to do so, shall either pay $100 fine, or spend three months in the county jail, or undergo penalties, as

Our Man was told of this incident by the lady therein mentioned:-One day his week a tramp knocked at the door of a lady in this city and asked for assistance. The lady did not give him any money or clothing, but offered to feed him. A nice lunch of bread and utter was neatly prepared and given to the man. He took it without a word of thanks, and threw it into the snow n the yard, where the lady found it ater. This is but one of numerous instances where charitably disposed citizens have given food to tramps who are utterly ungrateful for it. The most of these vagrants are looking for noney or clothes which can be sold to get a glass of beer, and charity to such ascals is always misplaced, although well-meant. The best rule to invarably follow, is to send all tramps and eggars to the office of the Anti-Tramp ociety in the Engine House on E. Huron st., where Supt. Sipley will furnish them meals, and work to pay for them. Any honest man is willing to work for his living if he is but given the hance, and when tramps refuse to go o the Anti-Tramp society, they show hemselves to be wholly unworthy of

How Great a Commotion a Fire Maketh

My most amusing experience-fron a retrospective point of view-occurred upon my first visit to Lorain, Ohio some ten years ago, says the Clevelanc Plain Dealer. I arrived at night, and the proprietor of the only hotel in the place put me to bed with a man who inhaled with a basso-profundo snore tained. The chamber of deputies was and exhaled, as near as I could judge | crowded and the galleries were packed | through a tin whistle. I did not sleep with excited spectators. A young lady from Berea clothed in a Gainsborough hat and an air of deep concern, was galloping madly up and down the street with a pillow under her arm. An investigation disclosed that a large amount of excitement was being wasted over a small amount of fire. The trouble was caused by cigar sparks, which flew into a hair mattress-a defective "flew," so to speak. The fire was extinguished by throwing the mattress out of the window. The abuse of the pardoning power is one of the striking facts in the history of human methods of dealing with crime. As commonly exercised, it has been a serious evil, not only in its direct effect in arbitrarily remitting punishment which, both for the good of the evil doer and of society, should be allowed to work its natural effect, but in the expectation which is encouraged in the minds of those who plan the perpetration of crime; that even if convicted and sentenced they will be pardoned.-Rev. City of Mexico: The general impression here in well informed circles is that the revolution in Nicaragua is part of a general clerical plot for over-throwing the liberal administrations throughout Central America. They desire to prevent the United States gaining a stronghold in Nicaraguan affairs, and control the Nicaragua canal, and to crush out the tendency observable to request American protectorate, especially in Guatemala. Excited priests are stimulating revolution and have secured funds
