THE FERN INDUSTRY.

Extensive and Profitable Sale of the Numerous Varieties. We learn from a Massachusetts paper that eight years ago a gentleman in that state thought it would be profitable to have picked and placed on the market some of the ferns which grow in abundance in his neighborhood, and from this modest beginning the business has grown to such proportions that last year he disposed of 7,000,000 ferns, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Previous to 1886 the gathering of ferns in their natural state was almost an unheard of industry. The few ferns put on the market were raised in hot-houses though a few florists sent their men after wild ferns. But now the Massachusetts ferns are shipped to every state and almost every large city in the country, and, strange as it may seem, there has been no falling off in the trade during the business depression, the demand constantly exceeding the supply. There are two varieties of marketable ferns which always had a ready sale-the delicate leafed "fancy" and the coarser "dagger" fern. The season for gathering and shipping the ferns is from Oct. 1 to May 1. Although now some 200 persons are engaged in fern picking, only about sixty do it constantly. Good pickers can earn from $4 to $6 a day, while the pay of others not so skillful in finding the

The greatest care and daily watchfulness are needed to keep the ferns from becoming heated, and thus bleached or covered with white spots. The ferns are invaluable to the florists, as they form a really essential groundwork for designs, and they are

It relates to showing pictures under artificial light without changing the color. Capt. Abney has so arranged it that the most important actinic rays of light are excluded. It is on the principle that while the rays which cause the paintings to fade are excluded the effect of white light is obtained. The method adopted is the closing of a skylight with alternate layers of green, blue and yellow glass. Visiting artists declare that the pictures exhibited under this light are seen in their true colors. The public has not the least idea that there is any difference between the lighting of this and that of any other gallery. The experiment is being tried in what is known as the Raphael cartoon gallery.

CHARLES WOODRUFF.

Hon. Charles Woodruff, editor of the Ypsilanti Sentinel, died Wednesday. Mr. Woodruff had edited the Sentinel for fifty-two years. Coming to Ypsilanti in 1836, he supported himself by through Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa., graduating in 1841. He purchased the Sentinel in 1844, then established but a year, and has since continuously guided its fortunes. The Sentinel is the oldest paper in Michigan under one management. Mr. Woodruff was a public spirited man, and did much for Ypsilanti, Washtenaw county and Michigan. He was a writer of ability and his place in Michigan journalism will be hard to fill. THE DEMO-CRAT extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

The result of Tuesday's elections throughout Michigan is decidedly encouraging to the Democrats. Democratic mayors were elected in the former Republican strongholds of Charlotte, Niles Battle Creek and Coldwater. A large vote was polled in most parts of the state. Ex Senator Raum, Democrat, was elected mayor of Saginaw by 1,600 majority. In Ann Arbor, however, the Republicans carried most of the wards but the fifth. ## OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN. What I 5c

He Sees About Everything and Talks About Everything He Sees.

Our Man has heard a number of complaints about the crowd of loafers which gathers every night around the Salvation ball on Fourth ave. and annoys those passing by the hall and those worshiping inside, with profanity and insulting language. These people are breaking the city ordinance which forbids street-loafing, and should be taken in hand.

Our Man passed the First ward chool house the other afternoon and noticed that the flag there flying was in a very dilapitated condition. It is torn into more threads than any battle flag Our Man has ever seen. If this flag were a relic of the war it might teach the children patriotism, but as it bears no such distinction, the children are more liable to learn shiftlessness from it than any desirable lesson. The flags of the other schools may be as ragged as this one. New ones should be provided wherever they are

Our Man sees that the University Musical society will take especial care this spring to so regulate the sale of seats for the May Festival, as to avoid the overcrowding which has so annoyed the audiences of previous years. The following notice was printed on the programs of the Theodore Thomas concert Tuesday evening:-The number of season tickets sold will correspond to the actual number of seats in the hall. The boards will be kept open until 6 p. m., Friday, May 15, in order that holders of season tickets may reserve seats. After this date the right to sell such seats as may be left is reserved by the University Musical Society. Beginning with the first day of the Festival a limited number of general admission tickets for each concert physicians at the Russell house this will be sold not entitling the holder to

> Our Man is glad to see that two very desirable improvements have been made in our city this week. The gutters have received a thorough cleaning from a gang of laborers under Commissioner Ward's direction, and Marshal Peterson has investigated the awning nuisance. The passers by our stores have been constantly annoyed by the awnings, which have been hung considerably lower than the ordinance allows. Marshal Peterson has made given notice to those store-keepers who were carelessly violating the ordinance. It certainly does a business low as to annoy pedestrians, and he should consider that these people get near enough to his show windows to examine the bargains the displayed, without bumping their heads or stoop-

Our Man attended the Easter vesper Rev. C. M. Cobern officiated at the service in University hall, Saturday afternoon. There was a large and ence of students and citizens present to hear the service of sacred songs which Prof. Lamson kindly gave, assisted by Prof. Stanley. After the first number James, will be seen at the Opera on the program, which was superbly House April 15. Contempt Upon the Mixture. Once as a lieutenant colonel, indignant at the wholesale waste of excellent soup bones, I ordered the master cook to insure, under pain of my displeasure, that large cauldrons filled with the otherwise unutilized materials should be kept simmering for my inspection three times a week. To this he was to add peameal, seasoning, etc., at the cost of a few pence, not charged to the men; and as a guaranty of obedience he was to habitually send in to my orderly room, just before the men's dinners, a specimen of his brew. Respectful remonstrances from cooks and sergeants, t which I blandly replied: "Yes, I und tand your objections; but-the soup

A neighbor had set several wolf traps made of steel jaws, with a heavy spring closing them when sprung, about his farm. He placed them far away from the road, where there was no apparent danger of anything but a wolf getting caught. But the woman took a short cut home one evening, saw the trap, stopped to find out just what it was, and was firmly caught by one hand. She was unable to open the jaws with the other hand, and remained fast in the trap all night and until the next evening, when a searching party found her. She was unconscious and near death from pain and exposure.

Endeavorer flags, with their triangular colors and yellow "C E." monogram, were flung from almost every window of the business houses and residences, and the endeavorer colors of red and white were in evidence everywhere. The first service was a general prayer meeting which filled the Central M. E. church to overflowing. The convention was formally opened in the evening with two meetngs. The principal one was held at the M. E. church. The address of welcome was delivered by President Charles D. Ransom, of the local union. Vice President G. P. Cooler, of the state union, responded. Rev. J. M. Tolmie, of Windsor, Ont., spoke upon "Inspira-tion Service." Rev. W. Hall Williamson, of Grand Rapids followed with an address upon "The Supreme Need." At the overflow meeting held in the resbyterian church the crowds were fully as large. The address of wel-come was delivered by Rev. W. H. Thomas, of Ionia. Rev. Wiley K. Wright, of Traverse City, responded and addresses were delivered by Rev. Wm. W. Taylor, of Hastings, and Rev. F. C. Wood, of Mancelona. Both meetings were very enthusiastic. State Secretary Luella E. Holland, of Saginaw, reported that during the past year the state membership had ncreased one-third. At the Bay City convention, there were reported 1,010 societies, with a membership of 49,180. loday in Michigan there are 1,395 societies, with a membership of nearly 36,000, a total gain of 385 societies and 16,820 members. Miss Mary G. Has-kins, state superintendent of the junior eague, reported that last year there were reported 231 junior societies in the state, with a membership of 9,240. Now there are 337 societies in the state, with a membership of 13,480, an increase in the past year of 106 societies and 4,240 members, showing that nearly one-half of the increase of the membership of the whole organization lies in the work of the juniors. Treasurer H. O. Fanning, of Grand Rapids, reported that during the year $263.35 was received by the treasurer, making a total fund of $468.45. There was expended $302.79, leaving a balance of $165.66 on hand.

The addresses of the convention were very good, but the interest and enthusiasm centered on those of Franis E. Clark, D. D., of Boston, president of the national union of societies, who said that God's design for the C. E. movement was to raise the spiritual standard among young people; W. H. Strong, of Detroit, president of the state societies, and Rev. Donald Dr. MacLaurin, of Detroit.

The feature of the closing day was the election of officers and the feature of the election was the unanimous choosing of W. H. Strong, of Detroit, for a third term as president despite his repeated declinations. His election was a heartfelt expression of the love and esteem of the Michigan endeavorers toward him as a man, as worker in the cause and as their president. The other officers elected were: preident, Rev. J. M. Fulton, of Grand Rapids; secretary, Miss Flora B. Roberts, of Lapeer; treasurer, H. Persons who were abroad at an early hour in Toronto recently witnessed a beautiful lunar phenomenon. The moon herself was the center of a brilliant white cross, while on either side, at a distance of about sixteen degrees, were what might not inaccurately be called great prismatic parlunions, or moon entists-" dogs. Beyond the radius of these and at the opposite points of the lunar cross there were rainbow-colored crescents with their convex sides toward the moon, while all about the sky was

The annual report of Department Commander Daboll showed that six new posts were instituted during the year and four surrendered their charters. The loss in membership by death was 342, and from other causes 951. The cash on hand is $1,105.78. Alger fund amounts to $722.13. The commander advised that the expenses of some person be paid to visit weak posts and encourage them. Referring to Memorial day the commander said that there is a strong and growing tendency to degrade the day by making it a time of unseemly games and fantas tic parades, instead of a day to do nonor to dead heroes. The Women's Relief Corps was highly praised for the work being done in giving relief to needy and in teaching the lesson of patriotism and loyalty to the youth. He advised a closer understanding between the G. A. R. and the S. of V. The growth of mutual respect and friendship between the veterans of the north and the south were gladly noted. Regarding the pensions the commander said: "In my opinion the time has come when the efforts of the G. A. R. shall be directed to the passage of a law providing for a service pension.

* * * * The present laws are of great value and doing great good, but the time has arrived when the fact of service should be all the evidence required to entitle a comrade to a certificate. Gen. I. N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the national encampment, attended the encampment and addressed campfire at Arbeiter hall. Mayor Mershon delivered the address welcome, which was responded to by Department Commander Daboll, by Mrs. Knapp, president of the W. R. C., and by E. R. Henderson, division commander of the S. of V. C. L. Benjamin presided at another campfire at Teutonia theater, and delivered the address of welcome. Secretary of State Washington Gardner, Abbie R. Flagg, of the W. R. C., and Fred C. Stillson, of the S. of V., made responses. The election of department officers was a lively and interesting struggle. There were five candidates for department commander. The first ballot resulted: Gen. Wm. Shakespeare, of Kalamazoo, 227; Capt. A. L. Patrick, of Detroit, 207; Capt. James Van Kleeck, of Bay City, 72; Maj. Jacklin, of Detroit, 47; Capt. G. W. Crawford, 47. It only required a second ballot to elect Gen. Shakespeare by a majority of 43 over all, Capt. Patrick's supporters being the only other votes which adhered to their first choice. The other officers were: Lucius W. Twelve corps were organized during the past The per capita tax was raised from 8 to 9 cents, the extra cent to go to the home for aged members at Geneva, Ohio. It was also agreed to try and get the national crops to furnish supplies to poor and struggling crops, which it can do much cheaper than state organizations can do. During the year 12,111 graves were decorated and the ladies devoted a great deal of their time and money to relief work. During the year $4,333 was received and $3,970 expended. The corps was visited by Commander-in-Chief Walker, who praised the ladies for their work, which, he said, had a strong tendency towards keeping the G. posts in a flourishing condition. In the contest in the Woman's Re-lief Corps, all of the candidates for president withdrew except Mrs. Amanda J. Halstead, of Concord, and Mrs. Florence Babbitt, of Ypsilanti. Mrs. Halstead was elected by a good majority. Mrs. Nellie Prince Quimby, of Saginaw, was elected senior vicepresident and Mrs. Nellie Lewis, of Traverse City, junior vice-commander; treasurer, Mrs. Flora N. Stahley, of Concord; chaplain, Mrs. Florence S Babbit, of Ypsilanti; executive board, Mrs. Kate K. Collins, of Howell, Sarah J. Alden, of Saginaw, and Mrs. Ann Griffith, of Detroit.

Some minor business was transacted at the opening of the session. A bill was passed to authorize the lighthouse board to proceed with the construction of a lighthouse and fogsignal on North Manitou island. Lake Michigan.

SENATE.—Ninety-second day.—The postoffice SENATE. - Ninety-second day. - The postoffice appropriation bill served to bring out some sharp discussion on the propriety of abolishing country postoffices and absorbing them as branches of city offices. Mr. Gorman opposed the plan as undemocratic. He stated that the Baltimore postoffice territory included two congressional districts, and this postoffice of the postoffice territory included two congressional districts, and this postoffice power was exerted toward influencing the selection of men for congress. After a speech by Mr. Elkins advocating subsides and other means of extending American commerce on the seas, the postoffice bill went over. Mr. Pettigrew reported the Indian appropriation bill. It was not expected that there would be much debate, but Mr. Boutelle, by his vigorous opposition, prevented action. Mr. Hitt, chairman of the locelign affairs committee, in presenting the conference report, made a very temperate speech, in course of which he expressed the greatest confidence that the President, aithough the resolutions being concurrent, and had no binding on the executive, would not "be so recreant to his duty as to disregard the express wish of congress." Cold Storage on Fishing Boats. A curious experiment has been started by French fishermen, who in order to save expense have had a fishing boat built which has a cold-storage plant in the hold. The necessary apparatus, condensed into as little space as possible, is placed between the decks and has a capacity of freezing fifty barrels of fish a day. The fish are placed in the icehouse as soon as caught and when the cargo is complete the boat returns to port, preserving the fish in excellent condition until they can sell the catch to advantage at a time when the market is not glutted by the forced sale of other fishermen, who cannot wait an opportune moment for the disposal of their catch .-- Ex.

The New York World has a cipher ispatch from Carlos Garcia, son of Gen. Calixto Garcia, the leader of the Bermuda expedition to Cuba, which says the men and the heavy artillery were landed from the Bermuda in a bay about 50 miles west of Havana. There and swords. The force made a march of 40 miles inland, where they were met by Gen. Maceo. It was decided that an attack should be made upon Pinar del Rio, the largest inland town and a Spanish stronghold. Maceo and Garcia, with 9,000 men, swept down upon Pinar del Rio early in the morning and it was a complete surprise. The Spanish troops numbered 6,000 and they were thrown into a state of panic by the onslaught. The use of the artillery which Garcia had brought added to their terror. captured two pieces of heavy artillery. 1,700 Mausser rifles, 1,200,000 cartridges, 2,500 swords, an 1 stores; burned 600 houses, sparing the weak. Gen. Garcia has gone to the eastern end of the island, because that is his old home, to organize an army of picked men. He expects to have an organized army of voluntee s which will number 35,000 men, and regular force of 10,000 men.

The news of the U. S. congress in passing resolutions recommending the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents was received with great joy by the provisional Cuban legation at Washington and by the Cuban junta at New York. The Cubans say they have men, horses, small arms and ammunition enough to maintain their control of all of the island that can be held by cavalry and infantry. But now they need modern artillery to free the remainder of the island controlled by fortified towns and camps, and also to hold seaport towns after they acquire them. Such needed artillery and ammunition would cost hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of dollars and recognition of them as belligerents would enable them to sell $20,000,000 worth of Cuban bonds. While the passage of the resolution is but little more than a recommendation it ren-ders more probable action by the President and lends moral support to the Cuban cause and increases their credit.
