COCKRAN VS. BRYAN.

The Famous Bourke Cockran Answers Candidate Bryan.

An Immense Honest Money Gathering in New York City Tuesday Evening—Eighteen Thousand People Were Present—The Eloquent New Yorker's Speech "In Opposition to Repudiation."

The second notable demonstration of the political campaign in New York City was held Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Democratic Honest Money League of America in Madison Square Garden.

At 6 o'clock the doors were opened, two hours and a half before the meeting was to begin. The people found the hall elaborately decorated with banners and bunting of the national tri-color festooned from the ceiling and draped about the four-tiered oval of the galleries.

When Mr. Cockran advanced to the front of the platform he was greeted with a mighty cheer, men climbing upon their chairs and waving little American flags.

Mr. Cockran spoke as follows:

BOURKE COCKRAN, OF NEW YORK.

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, fellow Democrats all. (Applause.) With the inspiring strains of that national song still ringing in our ears, who can doubt the issue of this campaign.

It is a question as to whether the verbal disguise, it is an issue of common honesty, an issue between the honest discharge and the dishonest repudiation of public and private obligations.

It is a question as to whether the powers of this government shall be used to protect honest industry or to tempt the citizen to dishonesty. On this question honest men cannot differ.

It involves the existence of social order. It is the contest for civilization itself. A Democratic convention may renounce the Democratic faith but the Democracy remains faithful to Democratic principles.

We would look in vain through the speech delivered here one week ago to find a true statement of the issue involved in this canvass. Indeed, I believe it is doubtful if the candidate himself understands the nature of the faith which he professes.

Whatever change may have come over his manner as a candidate, however much the vehemence of his eloquence may have been reduced, two things for which he stands remain unaltered. On this platform he defended the most revolutionary plank of the Chicago convention in speeches vehement but not less earnest than that in the government cannot affect if it tried to. I can take a ten dollar gold piece and I can defy all the power of all the governments of this earth to take five cents of value from it.

It is perfectly clear that the purpose of the Populist is to put up the prices of certain commodities. Mr. Bryan's language is that he is going to improve the conditions of the people of this country. I do not suppose he claims to multiply the number of dollars upon this platform or upon this floor.

It requires the labor of man, and the labor of man is the basis of all wealth. Mr. Bryan is going to enrich somebody the thing which he means to bestow on him he must take from somebody else.

We are coming now pretty close to the wood-pile behind which the African is concealed. Now if everything in this world or in this country, including labor, be increased in value to-morrow...

Men of New York, toilers of America, guardians of your own homes, will you allow your property to be affected (cries of "no") by any man who never has paid wages at all if he could get out of it?

Mr. Bryan would have you believe that the standard of value is the rate of wages, but the fall in the rate of wages always comes from a narrow production and narrow production means there is little demand for labor in the market.

Mr. Bryan would have you believe that the standard of value is the rate of wages, but the fall in the rate of wages always comes from a narrow production and narrow production means there is little demand for labor in the market.

Dean Talbot of the Chicago university as to the advice that she would give to a young woman just graduated says: "The world would be greatly to her benefit."

The German kaiser certainly has the faculty of making himself popular with his youthful subjects. Here is a story from Dresden illustrative of this.

The pretense that the farmer of Nebraska is suffering under the weight of a mortgage contracted under a metal which has steadily increased in value is but a Populist metaphor.

A Cycling Authority Discusses Its Alleged Advantages and Disadvantages.

Leather tires, it is thought, can be made at less than one-quarter the cost of rubber tires. A single tube leather tire, we think, has never been contemplated.

There was a Populist delegation from states that were Democratic but it is a significant fact that every northern state in which there was a chance of electing a Democratic government...

Lawyer Lisner was attending court in a country town and stopped at the best hotel. At dinner he ordered, among other things, a cut of roast beef. When the waiter brought his dinner he forgot the beef.

Coal tar, formerly considered a waste and a regular nuisance to gas workers, is now carefully saved and utilized as one of the most valuable color producers.

RAM'S HORNS.

The greatest business for anybody is God's business.

We cannot have God's favor and the pleasures of sin both. The rejection of Christ is a refusal to hear God's best witness.

The man who hates his enemy, finds no joy in thinking that God loves him.

The existence of the devil is never doubted by those who are on the Lord's side.

There is no greater career possible than to do well whatever God gives us to do.

Without the shedding of blood, the name of love could never have been written.

The man who would be a leader must be ready to start before the procession is formed.

So far as this world is concerned, a little child is the biggest thing God ever put in it.

Commanding an army is sometimes small business compared with holding the hand of a child.

Drive the devil out of the church at one door, and he will cover up his cloven hoof and walk in at another.

If we have on the whole armor of God, we can count upon the Lord for victory every time we go into battle.

If preaching were only done when the preacher felt like shouting, church doors would stay shut most of the time.

When the mountains are carried into the midst of the sea, the safe thing to do is to trust in God for the ground to step on.

If only those obeyed God who were caught up into the third heaven, righteous men would still be as scarce as they were in Sodom.—Ram's Horn.

A case of complete and immediate relief from the effects of ivy poisoning is reported in the Medical World by Dr. W. L. Shanks. His patient was driven from head to foot, and in an hour after bathing in a solution of sodium hyposulphite was attending to business as if nothing had happened.

Mr. Wimper Stone refuses to accept the idea of Gatte that feathers can actually change their color without moulting, unless they are blanched or worn off. He also concludes that the annual moulting at the end of the breeding season is a physiological necessity and is common to all birds; whereas the spring moult and striking changes of plumage effected by aberration are not physiological necessities, but depend in extent upon the height of development or coloration in the adult plumage, and do not necessarily bear any relation to the systematic position of the species.

The Fox. Foxes may or may not enjoy a run before hounds, but there is one thing they enjoy that may not be generally known, and that is a sun bath. While it is true that they rarely overtake a fox asleep by the wayside, nevertheless it is a matter of fact that foxes are very fond of taking naps in the open in the daytime. Reynard is no house bird. He loves the open air and the freedom of the fields. Whenever he is caught taking a fiftal day nap, he is usually found reclining at full length in an old pasture, remote from human habitations, or curled on the ground in a round, clear opening among clumps of bushes. But he is an extremely light sleeper, and at the rustle of a twig or the almost noiseless footfall of an intruder, or the faraway note of an oncoming pack, he is awake instantly and up and away with the soundless celerity of a retreating specter.—Ex.

The Traveler's Right to Fresh Air. A wise justice in Lyons, Wayne county, has decided that a railway in this state is bound to carry fresh air free, as well as bicycles. A woman traveling on a train complained that the air was bad. The conductor tried to open the window in the usual way, but was unable to do so, and refused to get a crowbar to pry it open, whereupon the suffering woman smashed the glass with her parasol. The conductor then had her taken into custody on a charge of insanity. A doctor examined her and pronounced her rational. Her defense was that she had paid for her transportation and was entitled to fresh air with it. The justice thought so too, and discharged her. It is possible that this precedent may cause all the railway companies considerable trouble. If it be good law that when car windows are not in working order the passenger may smash the glass, better care will be taken to see that all the windows in the car can be readily moved up and down.—Auburn Advertiser.

First Lady—Do you see that man over there? Well, I want to tell you about him. He's a most insulting creature. I got into the electric car the other day, and he gave me his seat. After I had been seated, perhaps for a mile or so, he comes up to me and says he, "If you are rested, marm, I think I'll take my seat again." Second Lady—Mercy! What did you say?

A very pretty button similar to the popular campaign buttons was presented to each of the boys of Co. A., M. N. G., last week. They have in place of the picture of the presidential candidate an excellent likeness of Captain Ross Granger. Fred Hutton is responsible for the buttons and he says they are to be "the official souvenir of Tent No. 6."

Robert M. Buechler, 39 South 3rd street, died Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Consumption is attributed as the cause of death. His funeral was held from Zion's church Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Childs, and from Salem as Geo. S. Wheeler, entertained the audience with short and spicy talks.

Harry Coleman, editor of the Oakland County Post, was in Ann Arbor Friday, calling on old friends. Mr. Coleman, who personally favors the gold or sound money theory, publishes a red hot free silver paper at Pontiac. In the last issue of the Post Mr. Coleman challenges any person in Oakland county for a debate on the money question. He agrees to give one column a week, for any number of weeks, to the discussion, and promises not to use more space than his opponent. Mr. Coleman, who was for three years a member of the class of '96 in the University of Michigan, will undoubtedly put up some strong arguments, if his challenge is accepted.

The Detroit Tribune says that Keene Fitzpatrick, the trainer of the Michigan university football team, has had a flattering offer from the Yale football management to take charge of the team at New Haven this fall, but that the Michigan management has equalled the offer, and it is probable the sons of Eli will have to seek elsewhere for a trainer.

Rev. Fr. Kennedy, who was transferred from Ypsilanti to Niles recently, by Bishop Foley, and who appealed his case to Cardinal Satolli, has received his decision. The work of macadamizing Detroit st. began bright and early Monday morning and has continued without interruption ever since. The Board of Public Works has wisely engaged a road building expert from Detroit by the name of Christ Pancke who has on the supervision, thus insuring the best macadam possible. There was a fair sized audience at the opera house Saturday night to aid in ratifying the recent national and state Republican tickets. Col. Henry S. Dean presided and the speakers were Col. John Atkinson, of Detroit, Congressman George Spalding, of Monroe, and Fred Merchant, of Ypsilanti. Col. Atkinson spoke at length upon the chief issues of the campaign treating chiefly of the tariff question. Gen. Spalding confined his remarks to the financial question. Mr. Merchant took up only a few minutes in an enthusiastic eulogy of the ticket and party. Before dispersing the crowd gave three hearty cheers for the Republican standard bearers. It was an eminently respectable opening of the campaign in Washtenaw county.

Quizmaster T. W. Hughes, of the law department, is at present enjoying a little painful notoriety. A few days ago a young first year medical student named J. E. Worden went into Hughes' real estate office and began to abuse him, accusing him of crooked work in a little deal the two had figured in. Hughes promptly took Worden by the collar and proceeded to turn him out. At this point the accounts differ and the only thing admitted is that after a more or less sanguinary conflict young Worden was duly ejected. Worden at once made complaint against Hughes for assault and battery. Not content with the justice's court he carried it to the circuit court and demanded $4,000 damages. A capias was served on Mr. Hughes Tuesday and the court will form one in the coming term of the circuit court.

Ann Arbor's crack military company left Tuesday morning for the annual camp of the Michigan National Guard at Island Lake. Out of a total of 55 enlisted men Capt. Granger took with him 52, a remarkably large percentage. The three absentees are Charles King, of Florida, George Cole, of Toledo, and Ernest Phelps, of Cleveland. The "In-fants" were given a rousing send-off. Col. H. S. Dean and Capt. C. E. Hiscock, president and member of the board of directors respectively, addressed the men before they left the armory and assured them of our citizens' lively interest in them. The company reached Island Lake about noon Tuesday and since that time have been doing their full duty in the most admirable manner, according to all reports. Our citizens certainly have every reason to be proud of Co. A., M. N. G., as at present officered and constituted.

The Ann Arbor Music Company have been busy this week removing their stock of goods to the Sudworth block on East Washington street. The enterprising young men who compose the company have arranged their new store very conveniently, and it is probably as complete in every way as any music store in Michigan. They have three rooms elegantly finished each 75 feet by 19 feet, and a roomy basement for storage of boxes, etc. The ground floor is given up to the miscellaneous music trade, sheet music, organs and smaller instruments. The room above is of the same size and will be entirely given up to pianos. A door from this leads into the recital room, a new but very desirable feature found only in metropolitan establishments. This hall will be fitted with over 150 folding opera chairs and a small stage. In addition to these three rooms there are a number of small teacher's rooms conveniently situated and a freight elevator.

She leaves a husband, two daughters and three sons. The funeral services will be from the residence today at 2 p. m. and from Zion church at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Nicholas will officiate.

Dr. C. M. Coburn and family leave Wednesday for their new field of work at Denver, Col. Sunday will therefore be a very impressive day at the First M. E. church. At 10:30 a. m. Dr. Coburn will preach his final sermon. In the evening union services will be held in the church, all the pastors and congregations of the city joining in a special farewell service. There is not a religious organization in the city that does not sincerely regret the departure of Dr. Coburn.

What came near being a serious accident occurred on the Ann Arbor railroad Wednesday morning, just north of Uxaria. Engine No. 39 pulled out an extra train of flat cars, and when backing into Uxaria station the rails spread, throwing the engine and cars off the track. The engine rolled down an embankment of some 30 feet, with the tender in it and the flat cars strung alongside. Six cars in all were piled upon each other. Fireman G. W. Harris said, he was obliged to jump through the engine window. He escaped with a broken ankle and some internal injuries. Brakeman Cain was slightly bruised and also escaped by jumping through the window of the engine, as did Engineer Hunt. The wreck is the first one that has occurred on the Ann Arbor in some time.

Can't Leave Her Papa.

News comes from Rapid City, South Dakota, that Charles P. Stevens and his wife, formerly Millie Waite, of this city, have been separated by the girl's father, who does not like his son-in-law. It will be remembered that Miss Waite, who was a ward of L. Gruner, clandestinely married Charles P. Stevens, a rather shiftless bicycle repairer living in Ann Arbor. The girl was under 18 years old but Stevens swore that she was 18, secured the license and married the girl. A few days later the couple started across the country on a tandem bicycle for South Dakota to visit the girl's father. It seems that shortly after their arrival at their destination Mrs. Stevens fled to her father's arms and refused to return. She claimed that she had been duped into marrying Stevens, that he abused her after their marriage and that she was afraid of him. Her father at once took up her case, refused to allow Stevens to see his wife and began to look about for means of breaking the marriage contract. Ann Arbor parties are much interested in the matter, since at the time of the marriage young Stevens' action was much discussed.

Farmers' Picnic.

Following is the program of the 18th annual basket picnic of the Farmers' Picnic Association of Washtenaw, Wayne, Oakland and Livingston counties, to be held at Whitmore Lake, Saturday, Aug. 29, 1909:

Music. Prayer—Rev. H. W. Hicks. Music. Address of welcome—Pres. Wm. Hall of Hamburg, Music. Address—Hon. E. P. Allen, Ypsilanti, Music. Address—Rev. E. D. Kelley, of Ann Arbor. Subject, "The Greatest American." Music. Address—Cyrus M. Starks, Webster. Music. Impromptu speeches. Music.

The three speakers named in the above program are representatives of different vocations. The statesman, the divine and the agriculturist will give their best thoughts. James Harkins will entertain with his inimitable and mirth provoking music.

It is also expected that the impromptu addresses will be an interesting feature of the exercises. Farmers are fast becoming the thinkers of this neck of the woods and the number capable of entertainingly expressing thought is fast increasing. The audience may reasonably expect to listen to some short tart remarks by calling on some of this class.

It was Unreservedly for Free Silver. M. J. Cavanaugh Elected Chairman of the County Committee. Peace and Harmony Prevailed.

Washtenaw County Democrats met at the court house Friday, accepted the issues and candidates put up by the recent Chicago convention, chose nineteen delegates each to the state, congressional and senatorial conventions, chose a new county chairman and a new county committee for the present campaign.

Neighboring News.

A Lenawee county postmaster has a cancelling stamp that prints over the postage stamp on the letter, a black shield, in which are the words "16 to 1."

A Houghton clergyman of Populist proclivities has made a startling theological discovery. After mature study of Coin's Financial School and the Bible, the preacher publicly announces that "God in his infinite wisdom has placed the two metals in the ground at the ratio of 16 to 1."

A Hudson dispatch says that Jennie Slocom, an elderly lady living in Hudson, some time since married Byron Palmer, an ex-convict, who managed to get control of his wife's personal property and money, and left for parts unknown, with $300 of her cash.

Last Thursday morning a terrible disaster, caused by a washout, occurred 48 miles west of Elkhart on the Lake Shore road, whereby the fast mail train was wrecked.

Whereas, the underlying principles of binetallism have always been a part of the Democratic faith, and since the demonization of the silver dollar by the Republican party its restoration to its constitutional and time-honored place in the monetary system of our country has been the constant aim and endeavor of the Democratic party in Congress, and

Whereas, the national Democracy in convention at Chicago has deemed it wise to make the remonetization of silver at the old ratio of 16 to 1 to gold the principal issue in the presidential campaign now upon us, and

Whereas, this and all other declarations of the platform are in line with Democratic precedent and true Democratic sentiment and worthy of the loyal support of every Democrat, therefore,

Resolved, that we the Democrats of Washtenaw county in convention assembled do affirm our allegiance to the principles of the party as expressed by the Chicago platform and pledge our unequalled support to the nominees of that convention—to Bryan and Sewall and silver, and

Resolved, that we extend an invitation to all the electors who feel with us the injustice of the single gold standard to co-operate in effecting its overthrow in the interests of the prosperity of the common people of the country.

The unanimity and enthusiasm with which the convention accepted these resolutions was proof positive that gold Democrats were not present.

Following the adoption of these resolutions came the selection by acclamation of these delegates at-large: To the state convention, M. T. Woodruff, Ypsilanti; to the congressional convention, Arthur Brown, Ann Arbor; to the senatorial convention, John Gillen, Saline.

The delegates then separated into two districts and chose the following delegates to the three conventions named:

First district: State—Horace Light-hall, Sylvan, Jacob Barris, Lima, Wm. Curlett, Solo, John O'Hara, Ann Arbor town, H. W. Robison, Salem, Chas. H. Manly, John Koch, Clinton Snyder, W. M. Forsythe, Ann Arbor.

Congressional—G. W. Beckwith, Sylvan, Thomas Young, Jr., Lyndon, James Welch, Webster, Samuel Feldkamp, Freedom, Philip Murray, Salem, M. Peterson, J. R. Bach, C. H. Kline and J. L. Duffy, Ann Arbor.

Second district: State—Christian Salley, Bridgewater, James E. McGreer, Ypsilanti, Walter Voorheis, Superior, James M. Forsythe, Ypsilanti, A. D. McIntyre, York, Dr. H. I. Post, Augusta, John Lutz, Saline, W. B. Osborne, Sharon, J. W. Babbitt, Ypsilanti.

Congressional—Alfred Davenport, York, C. L. Vest, Ypsilanti, Nathaniel Schmidt, Manchester, T. V. Quackenbush, Superior, F. Hammond, Augusta, Frank Johnson, Bridgewater, F. E. Mills, Pittsfield, Philip Blum, Jr., Lodi, Tracy L. Towner, Ypsilanti.

Senatorial—George Palmer, Ypsilanti, Herman Gieske, Manchester, Robt. Martin, Superior, Jos. Gump, York, HermanAYER, Pittsfield, John Terns, Ypsilanti, A. W. Russell, Augusta, Anton Gabel, Augusta, Ennis Twist, Superior.

When the time for choosing a chairman of the county committee arrived but one name was mentioned, that of Martin J. Cavanaugh, and he was made the unanimous choice. Mr. Cavanaugh, Arthur Brown and D. Cramer addressed the convention. The county committee was then named as follows: Ann Arbor city—1st ward, J. F. Schlub, 2nd ward, Sid W. Millard, 3rd ward, Walter Dancer, 4th ward, John Baumgardner, 5th ward, Chas. H. Manly, Jr., 6th ward, E. B. Norris 7th ward, Chas. A. Ward; Ann Arbor town, Chas. Braun; Augusta, Wm. A. Russell; Bridgewater, Jas. Hogan; Dexter, Thos. McQuillan; Freedom, Henry Hahl; Lima, Wm. Cover; Lodi, John Clark; Manchester, W. L. Watkins; Northfield, Frank Duncan; Pittsfield, F. E. Mills; Salem, P. H. Murray; Saline, Wm. Lutz; Solo, B. C. Whateck; Sharon, Albert C. Smith; Spertneck, Walter Voorheis; Sylvan, H. Light-hall; Webster, John H. Condon; York, A. D. McIntyre; Ypsilanti town, H. Stumphusen; Ypsilanti city—1st ward, J. W. Babbitt, 2d ward, F. P. Bogardus, 3rd ward, T. L. Towner, 4th ward, Lee N. Brown; 5th ward, W. F. Smith.

Some of the delegates wished to have the delegates to the congressional convention instructed to vote for T. E. Barkworth but the opposition to any such trying of the delegates' hands was so great that the proposal fell through. The usual resolutions of thanks to the retiring chairman and secretary were then passed, after which the convention adjourned.

A Hudson dispatch says that Jennie Slocom, an elderly lady living in Hudson, some time since married Byron Palmer, an ex-convict, who managed to get control of his wife's personal property and money, and left for parts unknown, with $300 of her cash. He said he was going on a "business" trip. Recently she received a dispatch saying $100 would keep him from going to prison for a term, but the wife concluded he better serve the sentence.

Last Thursday morning a terrible disaster, caused by a washout, occurred 48 miles west of Elkhart on the Lake Shore road, whereby the fast mail train was wrecked. Engine, tender, express and mail cars were piled into the ditch, and two lives were lost. Mr. Griffin, the engineer was badly mutilated, both legs being cut off. The three mail clerks sustained some bruises in the shake up, but fortunately were not badly hurt. The engineer and fireman were both killed. About 70 feet of the track had been washed out by a cloud burst, only a few moments before the train arrived. The sleeper did not leave the track, and the passenger coach was only partially derailed. None of the passengers were seriously injured.

A gang of Kenocoe toughs gave Joseph Farrow, of Yale, a quiet and inoffensive person, pretty hard usage, one night last week. It seems Mr. Farrow was assisting one Mosher to move an engine from Port Huron. Farrow was driving a single rig at a lonely spot just south-east of Brockway when he met the gang who pulled him from the rig, kicked and otherwise ill-used him, finally blinding part of his nose off. When he reached Brockway he was covered with blood. He said he never had any trouble with anyone in Kenocoe, and that he gave them no provocation for the assault. From descriptions he is pretty certain of the crowd and thinks he can identify them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, of Owosso, were discovered lying in pools of their own blood at their home early last Friday morning. Many theories are afloat as to how the tragedy occurred. The most reasonable of these seems to be that the husband stabbed his wife with the butcher knife and then tried to commit suicide with a pocket knife which was found in the sink. Both refuse to talk much, the husband saying "a big black man did it," while Mrs. Russell says she does not know. The husband is steadily improving and will probably live, but the wife is very weak and may die.

The trouble was caused over property, as Mrs. Russell wanted her husband to put in some of his money to purchase a place. He refused and they quarrelled all day Thursday. Mrs. Russell stoutly affirms they made up their quarrel Thursday night and went to bed in peace.

A Lansing genius, R. E. Olds by name, has at last completed what he believes to be the finest, most practical and successful horseless carriage yet turned out. The propelling machinery is all under the vehicle and consists of a compact gasoline motor of five horse power capacity, with gasoline tank capacity for a 35 mile run. A double chain gear and sprocket, similar to that of a bicycle only of larger pattern, connects the motor with the rear axle, and a lever controls the motor from the driver's seat, the steering gear also being in the front of the vehicle, consisting of a light lever controlled by the left hand. The equipment, complete, weighs about 1,000 pounds and Mr. Olds is confident this weight can be reduced to about 300 pounds. The vehicle is on exhibition at Olds & Son's factory, who are to manufacture them for the market.

To Prevent Sunburn. Never wash your face in water more than twice a day, especially when it is impossible to procure at a moment's notice distilled or even rain water. You can soften water by means of a lump of borax or a teaspoonful of strong ammonia in the water jug. But the face must not be left dirty. Have a bottle of cream of cucumber and before going into the sun just dab the face over with it very lightly. Do the same on retiring, but this time wipe it off directly, and see the dirt you remove with the cream. If you follow this advice this summer you will know naught of sunburn, freckles or urine redness of the face.

A Test for Sensitiveness. Many people have a genuine curiosity to know if they would be seasick in case they should take an ocean voyage. An easy way to put the matter to a test is to stand before the ordinary bureau mirror that turns in this frame, and let someone move it slowly and slightly at first, and gradually growing faster, while you look fixedly at your own reflection. If you feel no effect whatever from it, the chances are that you can stand an ordinary sea voyage without any qualms.—San Francisco Post.

Outside the Church. The Christian outside the church is in an unnatural position. He is always liable to topple over. He is trying to get on without all the advantages that Christ and all the apostles enjoyed and he is deprived of much that God has planned for the help of the human soul.—Rev. Wallace Nutting.
