The announcement of the Choral Union Series shows a superior list of entertainments. They are:-

Nov. 10, '96—The Chicago Orchestra, Theodore Thomas, Conductor.
Dec. 16, 99—"The Messiah." Choral Union.
Jan. 8, 97—Cari Hair Violinist.
March 5, 97—Alberto Jonas, Plano Recital.
May—Fourth Annual May Festival.

This presents a fine list of attractions, and ensures a further musical success for the coming year. The Chicago Orchestra, Choral Union, and Prof. Jonas are old friends, and need only the mention of their names to an Ann Arbor audience. Carl Halir is a worthy successor of Joach m, and probably the greatest violinist in Germany. Plunket Greene, a celeb ated English bass, has made a notable success in this country, and will prove a strong number on the course. The final arrangements for the May Festival cannot be announced, but the Festival will be the finest ever given. A CONTRACTOR DECAMPED.

Unpaid Laborers Threaten Trouble, But Finally Resume Work.

At the last meeting of the council an estimate of $1,051 was allowed the contractors, and the laborers were instructed to present their checks at the Ann Arbor Savings bank. Andrew Sharp, one of the contractors, got the warrant from City Clerk Mills, went to the Farmers and Mechanics bank and drew $650 on it, and left the city. It has been ascertained that he walked west to Fosters, then took the railroad track from there, probably taking the first train which over ook him. Messrs. Schultz and Beck will take the contract and complete it, and the laborers will be protected. City Clerk Mills says there is money enough left to complete the work, Sharp had borrowed considerable money from Mr. Beck, which will be lost,

Some of the out of town laborers who were disappointed at the delay in their pay, threatened not to allow the work proceed until they were paid. Marshal Peterson went onto the ground with his force, and informed them that they must go to work or get out of the way. After a little consultation they was passed. The list of persons having moving quietly now and the work will be pushed to completion.

"MICHIGANENSIUM."

The Proposed Name of the New Senior

The board of editors of the new senior annual, to be published in harmony by the former adherents of both the Palladium and Castalian, are searching for an appropria e name. "Michiganensium" has been proposed, and will probably be a opted. This name is comprehensive and would take in all departments, and an effort is now beto merge "Res Ge tae" into the new publication, and make a thoroughly representa ive annual. It is to be hoped this may be a success and if '97 can bring this about she will have accomplished a good work for the University.

Cheer for Bryan. Detroit, Oct. 16.—A serious panic was narrowly averted in the Detroit Opera House last evening during the opening performance of Hoyt's "A Midnight Bell." Digby Bell, the comedian, was entertaining the largest audience of this season when during the second act an individual in the gallery began cheering for Bryan. The audience, misunderstanding the cause of the shouts, began a stampede, but it was prevented by the presence of mind and promptness of Manager Whitney and Manager D. B. Harrison, of the company, both of whom rushed down the aisles as-suring the audience that there was no danger. Confidence was thus finally restored and the Bryan shouter was handed over to the police.

Found a Suicide's Remains.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 21.—The remains of an unknown man were found in the woods about four miles north of the city by a hunting party. Upon investigation it was discovered that it was a case of suicide and that the man had hanged himself from the limb of a tree by means of twisting a grape vine into a rope. The body had evi-dently been there five of six years. There was nothing to be found by which the remains could be identified.

STREET RAILWAY CONVENTION. Great Display of tars and Appliances at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.-The Auditorium, in which have convened two national political conventions, as well as many other national assemblies, held Tuesday the largest street railway convention that was ever called to order. It was the fifteenth annual convention of the American Street Railway association. Every bit of available space in the immense building, outside of that occupied by the delegates and visitors, was filled with a display of street railway cars and appliances. Everything pertaining to the business is on exhibition, the latest and most novel developments in that line being shown.

While electricity dominates everything within the building, the cablemen have an exhibition without which attracts much attention. A mammoth cable is the chief attraction.

At a meeting of the executive committee, previous to the convention, Randall C. Cunningham of Montreal, Can., resigned as first vice president, and Captain Robert McCulloch of St. Louis was appointed to fill the vacancy. He will serve in that capacity for a few days preceding the annual election of officers, when, it is expected, that he will be elected president. So far there are but three places mentioned as conventions for 1897. They are New York, Philadelphia, and Niagara Falls. The sentiment seems to be in favor of the selection of Niagara Falls. Russell E. Harrison, son of ex-President Benjamin Harrison, came in Tuesday to attend the convention. He led the forces of the supply men in their attempts at Montreal to break into the membership of the association, but it is hardly probable that the fight will be made this year. It is almost certain to come before the body in some manner, as it has every year for some years past, but will not be pushed very strongly. About 500 members, mostly from the east, were present when the convetion was called to order at 10 o'clock for several days' session.

WHEAT ON THE BCOM.

Sensational Rise of the Cereal in Twenty. Four Hours.

Chicago, Oct. 19 .- From 70 to 75 cents 2 bushel in twenty-four hours is the latest caper in the sensational boom in wheat, which has been climbing for a month or six weeks. And the rise is not due to speculative manipulation, either. It went beyond that stage long Meeker, Colo., Oct. 16 .- A daring but since. Bullish influences have been accumulating for three weeks, and Chicago is not the vortex of the movement. As a matter of fact, Chicago is simply a tailer. It has been carried along by New York, Liverpool, St. Louis, San Francisco, and other markets. A comparison of figures will show this.

In New York December wheat closed Friday at 79 cents, and thirty minutes after the opening Saturday it was 811/2 cents. At St. Louis it jumped 3 cents over night; at Minneapolis 3% cents, while the over-night rise in Chicago was % of a cent less than 2 cents. At 11 o'clock Saturday the Chicago market reached 75 cents, with strong indi-cations of going higher. Millions of bushels were licked up by foreign buyers. This is unusual, as it is seldom that forcign orders reach the speculative market.

The immense quantities of wheat which the northwestern farmers who are pressed for ready money are rushing into the primary markets has no effect on the boom. The delivery of 1,-250,000 bushels a day is a mere drop in the bucket. What would under ordinary circumstances check the upward tendency seems only to add fuel to the flame.

Big speculators, who at first attributed the bulge to manipulation, and looked for a break, have since swung into line on the buying side, and are now accumulating extensive lines. W. R. Linn, John Cuhady, W. T. Baker, Charles Counselman, Sidney Kent, Frank Dunn, W. C. Mitchell, and C. H. Gifford were big buyers Saturday

Chicago, Oct. 20.-December wheat held the poll on 'change Monday, and, in the word of a rural visitor," ran like quarter horse." Before the pit opened for business the voice of the United Kingdom, coming over miles of cable and wire, was crying, "Give us wheat." The United States is answering the demand with every available ship. The curb gave an early indication of the cereal fever that was soon to break out in a malignant stage, by setting such marks at 78% cents for the opening price. This, in the face of Saturday's closing at 75% cents. With quick jerks that startled even the 'spellbinders" of the curb, December went to 79% cents, reacted to 78% cents and stood at 79% cents when the market opened.

A shot from a man-of-war would not have been more telling in the pit than was the first bolt of the day's business Wheat opened anywhere from 78% cents to 79% cents in the midst of a scene of great excitement. Minneapolis was equally boisterous, opening at 781/4 cents after closing at 73% cents Saturday. This was accepted as palpable evidence of the strength of the northwestern market. St. Louis, which closed at 78% cents Saturday, bounded to 82 cents at Monday's opening. The local market reacted to 78% cents, and flashed all around this point with a bewildering assortment of changes. Gun-Maker's Company Loans Venezuela $10,000,000

ARRANGEMENTS ARE SATISFACTORY

Venezuelans Back at Home from Germany After Being Decorated by Emperor William-A New Deal Which Is Expected to Substitute the Kaiser for Eng and as Venezuela's Backer-Extensive German Colonization Will Be the Result. Washington, Oct. 21.-Advices received by Minister Andrade of Venezuela are to the effect that the commission sent by Venezuela to Germany has returned after accomplishing the most satisfactory arrangements which bring about a close identity of interests between the two countries. The main features of the arrangement are a loan of 50,000,000 bolivars, or $10,000,000, of German capital to the Venezuelan government, and the establishment of a German bank with large capital at Caracas. The large loan comes from private German sources, but it is felt to be not the less important in showing the sentiment of the German government toward Venezuela. The commission was headed by the minister of public works in President Crespo's cabinet. On reaching Berlin the members were received with marked honors by Emperor William, who conferred decorations on them. Later the negotiations for the loan and bank were carried through.

ing the loan is Herr Krupp of the famous gun works of Essen. It was the same company, under his direction, that built the roalroad from Caracas to Valencia, 179 miles long, developing the interior of Venezuela. The loan is the result of the German investments which have been made in Venezuela in recent years. Under a law enacted some years ago, the government guaranteed 7 per cent. return on railroad investments, the purpose being to develop the country. This guarantee led to a debt of about 25,000,000 bolivars, most of it being due to the German company headed by the Krupps. In order to pay off the debt it was determined to send a commission to Germany to negotiate a loan. It is this commission which has just returned with such successful reports. The loan will clear the debt and leave a large sum for further development.

Extensive German Colonization. The plan of the bank is to have a reserve of 8,000,000 bolivars, in which Venezuelans can participate, thus securing co-operation between the capitalists of the two countries. Aside from the actual results accomplished it is felt that the large investments which Germany has made at this time promise extensive German colonization and development in Venezuela. Heretofore English capital has built the docks at Laguayra and carried forward other enterprises. It is pointed out also that security and responsility of Venezuela is strongly attested, when German capitalists, who are careful and conservative, make such heavy investments

Mexican Army Reorganization. Mexico City, Oct. 21.—Great concern is noticed in military and private circles over the proposed reorganization of the Mexican army. One of the reforms under contemplation is the compulsory service, such as is in vogue in many European countries. The subject of amalgamating the army into twenty battalions and ten regiments, each to be provided with 1,000 men, is also being carefully considered.

Hoke Smith in Washington. Washington, Oct. 21.-Ex-Secretary Hoke Smith came to Washington Tues day from Atlanta and will remain several days in connection with business before the supreme court. He says he is here on strictly professional business and does not care to talk on politics. He called at the interior department and saw Secretary Francis and the law officers of the department and later called on the president.

RAID ON WAGES.

GOLD DOLLAR BUYS TOO MUCH, SAY PROMINENT SILVERITES.

Senators Jones and Teller Would Reduce the Purchasing Power of Wages to Help Manufacturers-Boies to Help Big Farmers-Other Silverite Authorities Agree That Our Present Dollar Is Too Good For the Wage Earner.

If any wage earner thinks that free coinage at 16 to 1 would not reduce his actual wages and that it is not intended to do so by leading silverites, he should read the following quotations from speeches and letters of some of silver's warmest friends. Bryan is more guarded in his language than some of his friends, but he virtually tells the workingmen of the country that their wages are too high when he tells the western farmers that cheap money, and consequently higher prices, will help them to pay their debts:

The sole object of remonetizing silver, as I understand it, is to secure a cheaper dollar with which to measure and regulate prices. Our present gold dol-lar is too valuable; its purchasing power is too great; it will buy too much,-Senator J. K. Jones, Chairman Democratic National Com-

I am confident that we shall very soon hear from the great industrial interests of Christendom, now threatened, as never before, by the competition of the silver using countries, especially the Asiatic countries, or what has been properly called "the Asiatic peril." This competition cannot be met by tariffs and can only be overturned by a charge in the monetary system that now is giving to Asiatic manufacturers a bonus of such magnitude as to render competition with them on our part impossible.-Senator H. M. Teller in New York World, Feb. 15, 1896.

I have myself in this state two farms, paid for largely with money I have earned as a lawyer. One is a farm of 2,500 acres of land, and the other contains 1,000 acres. With the present price of labor and the present price paid for farm products no man in the world could take either of these farms, even if I should present them with the ground, and make a dollar out of it A farmer who works himself and is assisted by the labor of sons and daughters could make a small farm pay, but no farm is profitable when conducted on the basis of a manufacturing business. Cheap and abundant money is the only remedy for this intolerable state of things .- Ex-Governor Horace Boie

Wages in gold using countries have, through the appreciation of gold, become a hundred per cent dearer than they were relatively to silver wages, and the manufacturer in the silver standard countries can "obtain his labor at half the cost relatively to gold wages which he formerly paid."—Mr. George Jamieson, British Consul at Shanghai,

One of the greatest evils (referring to Mexico) at the present time is the existence of a scale of wages which defies all power of reduction, which robs the laborer of all sense of dignity or feeling of association with the rest of their fellow citizens, and, having reduced them to a condition of abject abasement, deteriorates to a like extent their productive power and the measure of their ability.—Bureau of American Republics (Publication No. 9, 1891).

The silver standard is a great stimulus in developing home manufactures, because foreign commodities have to be paid in gold, and, owing to the high rate of exchange, their price becomes so bigh that it pays well to manufacture some of them at home. Our low wages also help to bring about these results. - Senor Romero of Mexico in a Recent Article in North American Review.

It is true that under an era of higher prices fixed salaries will not go so far as now, but now they go too far, and their purchasing power ought to be reduced. These salaries were mostly established before the hard times set in, and now represent vastly more than was intended when the salaries were created. - Detroit Tribune, a free silver

It is true, as you state, that the laborer (in Mexico) gets only half as much from a gold standpoint as formerly, but what has gold to do with the case? Silver is his measure of values. He is paid for his labor in silver and pays it out for the necessaries of life, and he knows no difference, whether his silver dollar is worth from a gold standpoint 100 cents or only 50.-H. S. Beattie (ardent silverite), President Board of Trade, El. Paso, Tex.

I am for free silver because I am in debt, and if we get free coinage I can pay my debts with one-half of what it now costs under our present money standard. And another reason, I employ laborers on my farm. They are the creditors. I am the debtor. Under free coinage I can pay them with one-half it costs me now, for it will raise the price of products, and I can then hire my farm help for 60 cents a day and pay them in bacon at 15 cents a pound,-James Kitchen, an extensive farmer and stockman, of Grayson, Ky.

Goldbugs In the Wheat.

Goldbugs must have got into the wheatfields, judging from the way in which wheat persists in going up while the price of silver is falling. The Bryanites must find some other standard of comparison than their favorite bushel of wheat, and they have not much time left in this campaign. - Boston Tran-against which we contend. It is the 50 silverite assertion that free coinage cent dollar, with a tendency toward 49 would raise prices twice as high as they nents of actual value.

Cheating the Creditor.

If these glorifiers of the old order of things could restore the conditions that prevailed previous to 1873 and make the market value of silver what it was then, they would not want free coinage. There would be nothing in it for them. What they readly want is cheap money, a kind of money with which creditors can be cheated. They are not trying to put silver back to its old place and re-establish the monetary system that existed before the "great crime" was committed. Their scheme does not imply the coinage of better dollars than those we now have, but infinitely poorer ones, which can be used in the payment of debts at the rate of 53 cents on the dollar.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mints and Mills.

The mints cannot make a bushel of wheat worth a dollar. Mills which build up new towns and people them with prosperous communities that increase the consumption of breadstuffs will raise the price of wheat quicker than all the free coinage laws that can be enacted. The mints cannot create value. Only the brawny arms of honest toil, directed by genius and intelligence, can create value. The mints cannot create prosperity or happiness .-Chicago Times-Herald.

Silver Production and Prices.

In 1878 the total world's production of silver was 61,100,000 ounces, and the silver in a dollar was worth $1.04

Last year the world's product of silver was 165,000,000 ounces, and the silver in a dollar was worth only 50 7-10

Will the silver miners restore the production of 1873 as the first step toward "restoring the conditions?"

Hard on the Laborer,

There is nothing more certain than the fact that a dollar worth only half as much as the present one would only buy half as much of the necessaries of life, but it would probably continue to pay for the same amount of work that a dollar now procures. And would not that be practically a reduction of wages?-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

What Makes Interest Low.

What keeps interest high is uncertainty. That means lack of confidence. That means low credit and high inter-

In Idaho, Montana and other far west states the average interest on farm loans is over 10 per cent. Idaho has had the severest laws enacted against usury, but these have not made interest low. Montana has failed to pay her own drafts. Those who have money to loan are afraid to lend in states where the state itself fails to pay its debts. In the older states where debts never have been repudiated the interest on farm loans averages from 51/2 to 61/2 per cent. This is because men who have money to loan believe that they will get their money back. They do not have to charge high insurance in the interest for fear they may lose the principal.

The reason western farmers have had to pay high interest is that those who had money to lend were uncertain what they would get back. They had been uncertain because they feared repudiation or debased money. Repudiation by southern states for years kept money out of the south and kept interest high. The free coinage movement at the west has had the same effect.

When sound money comes to stay, those with money to lend will be more ready to lend it and ready to lend it cheaper. This is truly "cheap money."

When the last bonds were sold, the secretary of the treasury stated to congress that he could save $16,000,000 interest if congress would say that the bonds would be payable not only "in coin," but "in gold." People expected they would be paid in gold, but they wanted to be sure. The difference between being half sure and being sure was $16,-000,000 in interest.

It is "cheap interest" the western farmer needs, not "cheap money." He can get "cheap interest" with sound money, and in no other way.

That is true of all borrowers who need money to carry on their business. -New York World.

There is the same difference between gold arguments and silver sophistries that there is between sunshine and moonshine.

THE CZAR, CZARINA AND GRAND DUCHESS OLGA The above picture is from the latest photograph of the czar, Nicholas II, his young wife and their infant daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga.

If the parity of the two metals cannot be maintained, a silver basis would be inevitable. Legislation cannot make a fixed standard of value between two metals where their production is not also fixed by legislation. Gold coin is the measure of value adopted by the leading nations of the world in which all obligations are finally redeemable.

In order to maintain the ratio of 16 to 1, 16 ounces of silver must be equal to 1 ounce of gold in value.

Whenever a silver dollar cannot be made exchangable with a gold dollar, depreciation and repudiation will begin. More silver has been forced into the currency by fiftyfold since 1873 than there was for 80 years prior to that date. The commercial ratio of actual value at which gold and silver can be exchanged is at present 31 onnces of silver to 1 of gold. Sound money and sound morals are synonymous terms. To pay a dollar's debt with a dollar worth 99 cents is repudiation to the extent of 1 cent.

Mexican dollars have a larger amount of silver than dollars of the United States, yet an American silver dollar, backed by a gold standard, can buy two Mexican dollars.

If it were possible for the United States to maintain the parity of silver with gold for teu years, the increased profits of the silver mine owners would amount to more than the entire national Contracts are often made payable in gold. Why are none made payable in silver? Simply because neither party prefers silver. There is no law against such contracts, but silver is generally considered an unstable measure of values and therefore unfitted for this purpose.

Cheap Money Means Dear Goods.

Cheap money means dear goods. Try as they may, the silverites cannot dodge this simple fact. The free coinage agitation would quickly die out if the advocates of the silver standard were honest enough to admit that their scheme would double the cost of everything the 65,000,000 American consumers buy. It is no longer the 53 cent dollar Yet this is merely another form of the

The Workingman's Alternative.

If our workingmen think their wages cent? are too high by 50 per cent and would rather have them paid in dollars that will buy only half as much in the markets and at the stores, they will vote for par, then, being 21/3 times as great a Mr. Bryan and free coinage of silver. If they think, as we do, that this would be "free and unlimited" folly on their part, they will stand by Thomas Jefferson's common sense doctrine that dollars should be coined as near the market ratio as possible, so that they will per cent-especially when the only powbuy 100 cents' worth of goods wherever they are tendered. -Baltimore Sun.

Why Not Call France Dollars?

As well might the farmer and laborer think to make a profit by selling his farm or labor for francs instead of dollars because it takes 5 francs to make a dollar, and he would consequently get five times as many of them, as to think that by selling his farm or his labor for silver dollars, two of which make a gold dollar, that he would make a profit by so doing.

Free silver in Mexico is a great institution. Wages averaging 35 cents among all kinds of workingmen are a great institution, too-for Mexico. They are not desirable enough, however, in American eyes, to be made part and parcel of our civilization.

Wheat has advanced 18 cents a bushel in New York since Mr. Bryan was nominated, and silver has declined in the same time about 4 cents an ounce. These facts do not agree with Populistic theories-but so much the worse for the And the St. Louis Globe-Democrat re- strength. theories.

PRICE OF SILVER.

REASONS WHY IT WOULD NOT RISE TO $1.29 AN OUNCE IN GOLD.

1tryan's Opinion Versus All Historical Facts-He Admits That a Panic Would Usher In His Millennium-As Price of Silver Would Not Go Up, the Panic Would Be Unparalleled.

Mr. Bryan says he does not believe the silver dellar would depreciate to 51 cents or at all, but would continue to be worth 100 cents in gold, as now. Is this view sound?

If the silver dollar under free coinage is to remain worth 100 cents in gold, it is apparent that silver bullion must become worth $1.29 an ounce, for if worth less bullion holders would coin it for the profit, and this process would continue until no profit remained—that is, until the value of the silver dollar was just the same as the value of the bullion in it.

To do this it is necessary to raise the value of the world's stock of silver, which exceeds $4,000,000,000, from 65 cents, its present price, to $1.29 an

Mr. Bryan admits this. In his speech of acceptance he said, "We contend that free and unlimited coinage by the United States alone will raise the bullion value of silver to its coinage value, and thus make silver bullion worth $1.29 per ounce in gold throughout the

The question, therefore, is, would the demand in the United States for silver dollars over and above the present stock of 437,000,000 of them be sufficient to double the value of the world's stock of

Mr. Bryan says it will, but admits he can't prove it, adding, "Neither can you prove that it won't." In Brooklyn, on Sept. 24, he said: "You cannot prove by mathematics that we can maintain a parity. Neither can you prove that we

The United States has had some experience in trying to raise the price of the world's stock of coin above its mar-

In 1860 the bullion in a silver dollar was worth $1.03 in gold, and the gold dollar, measured by silver, was depreciated 3 per cent. Our mints were open to the free coinage of gold as well as of silver. Did that raise the price of gold to par with silver? Not at all. Although the world's stock of gold is much smaller than its stock of silver, and although it was only necessary to raise it 3 per cent, we could not accomplish it.

This lasted from 1834 to 1860 and down to 1873. The price of gold bullion was not raised, and, being the cheaper currency, it drove the silver out of circulation. As no silver had been in circulation for over 35 years, in 1873, after full debate, this coin was omitted from our coinage list.

In 1792, under the ratio of 15 to 1 in force at that time, the bullion in a gold dollar was worth B cents more than the silver dollar, and the silver dollar, measured by gold, was depreciated 3 per cent. Silver, being the cheaper metal, drove gold entirely out of circulation for more than 40 years—i. e., until 1834—when the government changed the ratio from 15 to 1 to 16 to 1, with the effect seen above.

In 1860 we were a nation of over 30,-000,000 of people and had no silver on hand. Now we are a nation of about 70,000,000 of people, but have 437,000,-000 of silver dollars on hand.

If, with all our power, in 1860 we were unable to raise the bullion value of gold but 3 per cent, how can we expect to raise the bullion value of a larger quantity of silver not merely 3 per cent, but fully 32 times 8-i. e., 96 per

If, in 1860, with over 30,000,000 of people, we had been able to raise the bullion value of gold just 3 per cent to people now as we were then, we might expect to raise the bullion price of silver 21/2 times as high—that is, 7 per cent but how could we expect to raise its price, not 7 per cent alone, but more than thirteen times 7 per cent-i. e., 96 er we have to raise it with is our demand for silver dollars, and that demand is already supplied to the extent of $437,000,000?

Yet, unless we succeed in thus nearly doubling the price of the entire world's stock of silver, the price of bullion must inevitably pull the value of the silver dollar down, as bullion would be coined as long as there was a profit-i. e., till the values met.

Mr. Bryan has presented his beliefs on this subject. Opposed to them stand facts and history, and not merely history of this country alone, but of all

But it is to be noted that even if the silver dollar did not depreciate we would not escape a panic, as foreign and domestic creditors believe it would depreciate, and would consequently call in debts and force sales just the same.

Mr. Bryan fully admits that a panic must result even if the silver dollar does not depreciate. In the Chicago contention he said, "When you come before us and tell us that we shall disturb your business interests, we reply that you have disturbed our business interests." ported his saying: "I think it (meaning the victory of the free coinage movement) will cause a panic. But the country is in a deplorable condition, and it will take extreme measures to restore it to a condition of prosperity."

Therefore a panic is confessedly certain to follow Bryan's election, whether silver depreciates or not.

If, as our own experience and all history show, the silver dollar must drop to about 50 cents, the disastrons consequences which will follow will probably be unparalleled in our history.

We'll wager that the Kentucky fowl which lays eggs stamped "16 to 1" is not a hen, but a goose.

A PLUCKY COWGIRL.

Myrtle Morrison Throws and Brands Cat-

Fifteen years ago, in the palmy days of the great cattle ranges of the far west, Elick Stutzke as the day on which he len Murphy, daughter of a well known and his followers are to be translated cowman, rode into Cheyenne with a herd alive into heaven. The Stutzkeites, it of wild steers, and the rough men who will be remembered, were prepared for thronged the streets of that lively town saw the first "cowboy" with a frock they had ever seen. By the sudden death of her father and mother Miss Murphy was thrown on her own resources, and she decided to meet the situation by stepping into her father's shoes. To do that it was necessary that she should appear on the range in person and in the cattle market. She did both and for many years managed her ranch, conducted the round ups, branding and driving to Cheyenne. She is married now and relieved of her duties, but the cowgirl has become an established factor in the social problem of the west, and a romantic, interesting figure she often is.

Along the Bad river in Dakota no less than six women conduct cattle ranches which they own. They have cowboys to assist them, but they are directly heads, and they escape no hardship of the rough life, most of which is spent in the saddle. Among the best known cowgirls in the northwest is Miss Myrtle Morrison. She is a tall, slender girl of 16 years of age, with a graceful, willowy form, wavy brown hair, regular features, large, dark eyes and a lovely complexion, which even the scorching winds and bright sun of the plains cannot mar. Some years ago William Goodell, a Dakota cowboy employed on one of the neighboring ranches, induced Myrtle to mount a vicious little white pony that he had just ridden for the first time. She consented, but had scarcely gained the saddle when the pony threw down its head, humped up time she staid and celebrated her victory by plying her quirt to the bucking pony with a vengeance. From that time she has been almost constantly in the saddle and can now ride as well as any cowboy on the range.

About a year ago an incident occurred which proved that her frontier education had not been in vain. She was one day driving a bunch of cattle past the ranch, riding her father's horse and using his saddle, when her little sister Jennie thoughtlessly ran out to meet her. A long horned, buckskin colored Texas steer, which was distinguishable from the remainder of the herd by the numerous western hieroglyphics which had been burned and otherwise placed on its sides, gave a loud bellow and rushed with lowered head toward the little child. Myrtle shouted to the little one to run and urged her horse to its topmost speed in the hope of intercepting the maddened brute. Lit-tle Jennie did run faster than she had ever run before, but the animal was gaining on her at every jump. Myrtle's pony was of going west. fully 30 feet in the rear, when suddenly the cowgirl's lariat whizzed through the air, the noose dropping neatly down over the steer's horns. Told Once More.

Lord Russell's visit to America reminds the London Chronicle of an ancient story. It says that during Lord Russell's previous tour in this country with Lord Coleridge he came in contact with many members of the bar, including Mr. Evarts. It was while walking with Mr. Evarts one day along the banks of a stream that his attention was called to a point at which Washington, according to a tradition, had thrown a dollar right across. The water was wide, and Lord Russell looked doubtful. "You know a dollar went further in those days than it goes now." The American lawyer blandly insinuated. "Ah," said Lord Russell, quite equal to the occasion, "and it may have been easy enough to Washington; it is well known that he threw a sovereign across the Atlantic."

THE NEWS IN BRILEF. THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON IV, FOURTH QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 25.

Text of the Lesson, Prov. i, 1-19-Memory

Verses, 7-10-Golden Text, Prov. i, 10. Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns,

1. "The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel." We saw in last week's study that he spake three thousand proverbs, and in this lesson we have a ample of them, or, rather, of the wisdom which he asked for and received from God, but in the wisdom of God as here revealed we must look beyond the son of David of our lesson to the Son of David of Math. i, 1, a greater than Solomon, who is also called "the wisdom of God" (I Cor. i, 24). The Hebrew word translated "proverb' signifies also a parable or similitude and seems to be from the word "to rule or reign or have dominion." If we are ruled by "the wisdom of God," we shall be wise indeed.

2. Some one has said that wisdom uses the best means toward the best ends, that instruction is discipline or training and that understanding is discerning good and evil. All this is summed up in Christ, who is made unto us wisdom (I Cor. i, 30).

3. Justice, judgment and equity are attributes of uprightness, and these also are summed up in Christ, who shall yet execute judgment and justice in the earth (Jer. xxiii, 5). By His spirit in us we may day by day walk uprightly, and like Levi walk with God in peace and equity and turn many away from iniquity (Mal.

The simple are easily led, and if led by God all is well, but if led by the devil all is ill. The things of God are hidden from those who are wise and prudent in their own estimation and revealed unto babes (Math. xi, 25). To be simple toward God is the highest wisdom.

5. The wise will hear and increase learning. In verse 33 observe that it is to God they will hearken, and thus dwell safely and be quiet from fear of evil. So shall they also know "the increase of God" (Col. ii, 19.) Such hearing gives life and soul satisfaction (Isa. lv. 2, 3).
6. There is one peculiar thing about the word of God that cannot be said of any other book—if you are a child of God by faith in Christ Jesus, you have the Holy faith in Christ Jesus, you have the Holy Spirit, the author of the book, within you and the promise of Jesus Christ that He, the Spirit, will guide you into all truth (John xiv, 17; xvi, 13.) Rely upon Him, and He will not fail you.

7. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge and wisdom (ix, 10.) The fear of the Lord is wisdom (Job xxviii, 28.) It is also a fountain of life and the good man's treasure (chapter xiv, 27; Isa. xxxiii, 6.) 8. Obedience to parents is the sum of the fifth commandment, and a fearful thing is written concerning such as mock or despise father or mother in Prov. xxx, 17. The phrases "like as a father pitieth" and "as one whom his mother comforteth." 9. No outward adorning is of any value in the sight of God, but the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God of great price (I Pet. iii, 4), and this comes by the word of God dwelling in us. "Sanctify them through thy truth. Thy word is truth" (John xvii, 17). 10. We must say a very decided "No" to any who would allure us away from God. Since through the transgression of Adam and Eve we have learned somewhat of the ways of the devil we are inexcusable if we walk therein. "Blessed is the man who walketh not in the counsel of the un-godly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful!"

11. There are always some saying, "Come with us," but it is more often the enemies than the friends of God. Not words so much as actions should be ever saying, "Come with us." Children of God should have a life that will be a constant invitation to the weary, unsatisfied children of this world. The grace of God will do it in all who are simple. o'clock at night W. L. Porter, a well-known cutizen of Lima, O., was killed by a blow on the head by highwaymen, but approaching redectring the said. to Eve, "Ye shall be as gods" (Gen. iii, 5.) And now he suggests an imitation of God's judgment on Korah (Num. xvi, 30.) the last days he will imitate Christ in the > person of the antichrist (Rev. xiii). 13. He offers what he calls precious substance, just as he offered to our Lord all the kingdoms of this world (Math. iv, 8, 9). He is constantly suggesting to people how to be rich by unrighteousness, and he catches many in his net, they not considering the future, like the rich man of Luke xvi. Listen to wisdom on this point and be wise (viii, 18, 21).

> 14. "Cast in thy lot among us. Let us all have one purse." And Judas would be treasurer and help himself freely. Another imitation of the people of God as seen in Acts iv, 32.

with them." This is the third time we

"My son, walk not thou in the way have met the words "my son" in this lesson. May it suggest a voice from our loving Father, His loving Son and the loving Spirit (John iii, 16; Gal. ii, 20; Rom. xv 80), constraining us by this threefold cord (Eccl. iv, 12) to abide in such love and not turn from it. 16. "For their feetran to evil and make haste to shed blood." The way of peace they know not. The imagination of the thoughts of their hearts is only evil continually (Gen. vi, 5). They would for gain shed the blood of others, but our Lord Jesus shed His blood for us and would have us lav down our lives for others (I John iii, 16), not loving our lives even unto death (Rev. xii, 11).

17. "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird." The margin says, "In the eyes of everything that hath a wing." Wings imply power to keep away wing." Wings imply power to keep away from all the nets of man. In Eph. vi we are told of armor and weapons by means of which we may resist and overcome the devil. If we are not ignorant of his devices, we can easily recognize him and have constant victory over him. Those who walk willingly into his open mouth deserve to be devoured by him (I. Pet. v, 18. Those who lay wait for the lives of others are really destroying their own lives, for into the pits which they dig they are sure to fall. Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. The devil seeks to destroy life, but our Lord by lay watchful to give life than the devil and sis followers are to take it.

19. "Greedy of gain." That is, this world's gain, which takes away life. Pharisees, who were covetous, derided Christ when He taught the disciples how to make sure of true riches (Luke xvi, 14, 15), and it is ever so since Cain killed Abel. But Christ is wisdom, and the truly simple hearted do as is written in Prov. ii, 3, 6. Their way shall never perish, but shall endure forever (Ps. i, 6).

Dr. Rexford's Lecture.

Dr. Rexford's lecture in the Unity course last Monday evening was not so Fred R. Irland, of Petroit, one of well attended as the billiancy of the the leading stenographers of the lecture deserved. The meeting in the country, visited his mother on Washte. Opera house and the Roosevelt meeting at Ypsilanti, combined with the bad weather, were rather too much for Taylor are billed for speeches in the it. Dr. Rexford is o e of the most interests of sound money from now till attractive speakers that come to Ann Arbor, and deserves a large audience. Prof. B. M.
