SOME of the inconsistencies of Republican politics are illustrated in the convention resolutions which endorse Pingree and McKinley in the same paragraph. There are probably not two public men in the country who are more directly opposed to each other than the two named above-not even Billy Judson and Andrew Jackson Sawyer.

This would seem to be the sensible view. Hitching posts may to some extent disfigure the street. It may not present an air quite so metropolitan if a long string of farmers wagons are hitched on Main street. But we must do a little business or we can't keep up any kind of appearance long. Ann Ar bor depends to some extent upon farm trade. We do not get near as much of that trade as we should. If we compell farmers to hitch their teams far from the locality where they wish to do their business we will not get as much as we do now. Rather let us encourage that trade. Put in hitching posts and every thing else which will tend to build up and extend the business of the

The council has the matter under consideration. Every one who is interested in building up the city should insist that no order prohibiting hitching posts on Main street be passed by that body.

THE LIFE OF DEMOCRACY.

The Detroit Journal, it is quite evident, does not share in the general expre-sed belief of the metropelitan press that the Democracy is dead. In a long editorial, last Saturday, the Journal paid its compliments to Democracy by acknowledging for that organization an appalling vitality. "It flourishes like a green bay and displays a vitality that is a marvel in political experiience," says the Journal. "Any other party would have been dead 40 years ago.'

We are rejoiced at the admission that the Democracy still lives. And it is with even a greater degree of pleasure that we note the discovery of its "appalling" vitality by a newspaper so notoriously hide bound as the Journal. Should our contemporary carry its investigations a little further it will discover that the cause for this "appalling" vitality of the Democracy lies at the very foundation of Republican inginal expression of those feelings of cal force which has secured every inch of advancement from the SINCE Editor Lisemer's return absolutism of the past to the comfrom his vacation the Times has put parative freedom of the present and aside its Sunday Sun air and again which we trust will secure a still resumes the outward semblance of more bountiful measure of individthe Christian Herald. ### IT'S MAJOR EDMUNDS.

Old Ypsilanti Boy Has Been Promoted to That Rank at New Orleans.

This article is copied from the Daily Picayune, New Orleans, Friday, July 22nd, and will without doubt be read with interest by many of our older res-

Captain Edwards completed work mustering in the Donaldsville artillery yesterday and leaves the barracks a full-fledged major.

Captain Frank Hearte Edmunds, now Major Edmunds, finished the muster rolls of McCulloch's battery, and all the artillery is now perfectly enrolled in the United States service. Major Edmunds has been here now since the first state troops arrived at the fair grounds, and has mustered in and made up the rolls of every company of state troops and United States volunteers that has been received into the service of the govern-

He said that the work has been arduous and he was growing a little weary of it, and therefore he must have been glad when the press dispatch stating that he had been promoted to a position in the ordnance department, with the rank of major, was confirmed by a friend to whom he telegraphed yester-

Major Edmunds is one of the most painstaking and obliging officers who have been here during the war, and everyone who has come in contact with him has become attached to him.

The new position is one in the volunteer service, and will leave his rank in the regular army unaffected. The work to which he will be detailed will be in connection with the issuance of ordnance of all sorts, and probably he will be assigned to assist in the equipment of volunteer organiations. He has always been in the infantry, but every graduate at West Point must learn about ordnance, and Major Edmunds has been very successful in his tletached duties, which are similar in some respects to the work he will have to do If you ask a "regular" whether he would like to be detached for such duty or join his regiment in the field he may say something about the difference in pay, but he will wind up by saying that he would of course rather te with his regiment if he had his choice.

There is more interest in the appointment of Captain Edmunds to the posi-tion of major than anything that has happened for some time in army circles

Major Edmunds was born at Ypsilan-ti, Mich., in 1849, and entered West Point July 1, 1866, having been appoint-ed from Dakota, of which territory his father, Newton Edmunds, was governer. He was commissioned second lieutenant in the famous old First infantry July 12 1871; first lieutenant May 6, 1879, and was promoted to the captaincy January

He came to this city (New Orleans) under orders at the outbreak of the war, and his regiment having gone to Tam-pa he was left here to muster in the Louisiana volunteers, which he has been engaged in since. Yesterday he re-ceived this telegram in response to his enquiry about his promotion: Major Frank H. Edmunds, Jackson

We congratulate her on the recognition, and all the more so since she is the first Michigan lady to be so honored.

Another News Letter from Special Correspondent "Jack" Hillman.

Chickamauga Park, Camp Thomas, July 28.—(Special.)—Unless orders are countermanded the Thirty-first regiment will be on tis way to Porto Rico within a week. Company and battalion drills have been stopped and in their place we have brigade drill in the morning and regimental drill in the afternoon. At these drills extended order and battle formation is practiced. Col. Gardner commands the regiment in person. Last night the regiment went out on dress parade under light marching order. On acocunt of the severe rains the regiment will not drill this morning and probably not this afternoon.

Seldom a day passes that the Times man does not get from one to five letters from mothers, fathers and sweethearts asking about the boys in the different companies. Are they well': How many are in the hospital? Are the hospitals well equipped and healthy? These inquiries are always answered in full. At this time a word about our division hospital will be of interest to those who have friends at Camp Thomas. The hospital is made up of seven large tents and has three wards besides numerous isolated tents. In these wards are ar- In the High School-That is What the ranged rows of cots. Dr. Belser has a kind heart and cannot rest while one of his comrades in blue is suffering. Stories o his kindness to men all over the regiment come to our attention every day The doctor has been known to go the entire length of the regiment, use his time and medicine to relieve suffering without a thought or desire for compensation. It is this unselfish devotion to the men that has endeared him to the regiment.

There is no man more respected in the Thirty-first than Chaplain White. He is a kind, genial man, always ready to lend a helping hand, give a whole-some word of advice, or in fact do anything in his power to cheer his men and make their lot in the army more agreeable. HLLMAN.

Chickamauga Park, Camp Thomas, Aug. 1 .- (Special.) -- At last the Thirtyfirst will move, but not to Porto Rico, Through the energies of Col. Gardener the Thirty-first will move to a more favorable and healthy camp about a mile from their present location. When situated in our new quarters a hoard floor will be placed in each tent, raised several inches from the ground, and everything will be done to preserve the health of the regiment during its forced stay at Camp Thomas.

Yesterday the regiment, under heavy marching order, marched to the drill late comrade and another to the press. field for muster and review. Heavy marching order consists of canteen, haversack, rifle and knapsack. In the knapsack are a clean change of underwear, socks, woolen blanket, blue shirt, soap, towel, brush and comb. On the top of the knapsack is strapped the rubber blanket and one-half of a shelter tent. These articles are so arranged that the load for each soldier is very compact. During the review Dr. Owen, chief surgeon of the regimental hospital, was present, and had an ambulance in attendance to convey any who might be taken sick to the hospital.

News has reached here that a member of Co. G wrote home complaining of the treatment he received while sick. It is sufficient to say that Capt. Me-Keand and Lieut. Green paid their personal attention to him as they do to anyone who is not well and that they gave special orders that he should have anything he wanted. Beside this the entire hospital corps visited him and did all possible for his recovery. He was waited upon by different members of the company as though he were their Wild reports about the amount of sickness in the Thirty-first are still current in Michigan, but the reports are generally what the soldler calls "pipe" stories. For the last two months the Michigan regiment has held the record of the brigade for having the least number of patients at division hospital. Those in a position to know state positively that the percent of sickness in the Thirty-first is very low.

Sergeant Webb has been granted a ten days' furlough and has gone to the mountains, near Chattanooga to regain his health. He is doing well.

The new corporals appointed recently by Capt. McKeand have been placed on duty as corporals of the guard. They acquitted themselves with credit to their company and showed that our aptain made no mistake in his selec-good things from home a few days ago. The boys all crowded around him for a portion, which you know they got.

The rations issued the men are first-class. Last evening Co. G had for supper salmon, boiled beef, fried potatoes, tea and bread. Orders have been issued from headquarters prohibiting the sell-ing of watermelons or muskmelons, known in the South as cantalopes, in the park or at stands where the sol-diers trade. This is done to help main-tain the soldiers' health.

Harry Summer has been granted a 20 days' furlough on account of sickness. His father is here and will take him home tonight.

Many people, some of them eminently respectable, radical reformers and advanced publicists even, have fallen into the most offensive habit of using the public streets as a receptacle for all sorts and kinds of refuse. One of the most common and at the same time unsanitary habits is the dumping of grass cut from lawns in the street to be ground into the dirt and add to the decaying filth which under the best conditions is always accumulating. This practice is not only a menace to public health but it also increases the difficulty of maintaining the streets in a passable condition. The board of public works, the bored of public health and all of the other boreds of the city should unite to teach the public that the strects are intended for purposes of communication and not for the reception of garb-

> It is the opinion of careful observers of old world events that the coming world power is Russia. She has reached the Pacific. She has reached the border of India. By proxy she has crossed the Danube and reached the Mediterranean. She reached the Bosphorus once and it took a congress of the powers to force her back of the Balkans. It is the interest of England and the ambition of Germany to balk the growth of this giant nation eastward. England must do it if possible to keep her pre-eminence in trade. Germany must do it to keep her people quiet. The burden of the enormous armament of Germany is too great to be borne if the people are not kept thinking of something else. > The published ultimatum of the administration to Spain leaves the future of the Philippines open. While there is a wide difference of opinion as to the final disposition of the Philippines, it will certainly be an act unworthy of the American people to return the plundered and pillaged natives of these unhappy isles to Spanish sovereignty Spain has demonstrated beyond contradiction her absolute incapacity to govern her colonies. Her home government is inefficient and rotten to the core. Her treatment of her colonies has been distinguished by a rapacity almost beyond belief. It would be a blot upon nineteenth century civilization to allow Spanish excesses to continue in any part of the world. It does not matter if we have been the victims of a gold brick swindle in "Cuba libre. The people of the Spanish colonies are intermixed with Spanish blood. In them are undoubtedly reproduced all of the vicious traits of the parent race. Nor has their Spanish tutelage tended to elevate them. They are worthy descendants of a degenerate stock. But it does not follow that for this reason Spanish bondage should be continued and some of the most fertile and inviting spots on God's footstool remain closed to the enterprise and energy of people who would gather in the full measure of the natura 1 advantages which now lie dormant for want of security to person and property. In making this announcement the paper promises in the new edition "to explain our ideas of brothership and harmony, answering to the ideas expressed to the press by our new military authority, such as that the American army has not come as our enemies, but with the purpose to harmonize with the citizens of Porto Rico."

What does it do? It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It makes a better circulation in the scalp and stops the hair from coming out.

It Prevents and it Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

TAG NUMBER 131.

It Made Trouble for Wm. Corbeil and His Dog.

William Corbeil has got a valuable dog, and if it was so before it is even worth more now. It cost him $2.25 for a license Saturday, pound fees were $1.25 and he paid $4.45 fine and costs to Justice Childs for violating the dog ordinance.

According to the city clerk's books Heense tag No. 131 was originally around a dog which is now dead. The difference in the license between a male and female dog is $1, so that by hanging a male dog's license tag on the collar of a female dog you save $1.

Last night Marshal Hixon picked up Corbeil's dog and empounded it. He paid $1.25 to get it out of pound this morning and the license cost him $2.25 more. But this was not all. After he had done this, then he was complained of for violating the city dog ordinance, of course his action just previous proved his guilt and Justice Childs discharged him after paying $4.45 more.

Carpenter Said "No."

A few days ago a man came into the city clerk's office and asked in an imparative tone that he be allowed to look at the water books. He was asked what he wanted to find but would not say. What he wanted was to have the clerk go outside of the rail and allow him to look up somethnig in some book. Now Will Carpenter used to play "hide the thimble" when he was real small and go out in the ohtre room and hide while the others hid the thimble. was too much like the old game and he refused the man, telling him he could see anything he asked for, but would not be allowed to go through the books, nor anyone else.

Letter From Santiago.

Dear Sisters:-After a rough voyage of six days the Fourth Army Signal Corps has arrived in Cuba. There are thirty big vessels in this harbor and the Oregon and a few minor vessels are on the outside. Santiago has surrendered, but there is now and then a shot from among the mountains, and a "pill" is liable to drop in on us at any moment. There are a German and a French man-ofwar in the harbor. We will probably be put on shore in a few days for exercise and eat a meal that will be cooked.

The Veruvius tore a piece of earth from under Morro Castle, the hole of which would hide a ship. I saw Spanish vessels sunk; saw the Merrimac, soms 25 miles from shore.

I don't know anything about what fighting is going on, but the woods are full of the devils. I would like to hear something more than a pea drop me; I'd like to see a good mix-up. DON DAVIS.

Eastened upon any subject that interested Nearly every man has it in his power to like to a green old age like the great statesman of England. It is simply a matter of a little daily thought and regard for health. If, when a man feels that he is a little out of sorts, he will resort to the right remedy, the will never have to submit to the more serious ills of life. Most men, when they have a headache, feel drowsy during the day and are restless during the night, and find their appetite falling off, pay little or mo heed to these warnings. The inevitable result is some dangerous and possibly fatal smalady. The doctor may call it consumption, malaria or biliousness, or perhaps some blood or skin disease. It makes but little difference. These troubles all have their inception in the same cause—improper and insufficient nourishment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery corrects that cause. It makes the appetit keen early every man has it in his power to that cause. It makes the appetite keen and hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active and the blood pure and rich. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It facilitates the assimilation of the life-serving elements of the food, filling the blood with the nutriment that makes new

HITCHING POSTS.

Matter of Uniformity on Main St. Laid on the Table.

City Attorney Butterfield Told the Aldermen They Could Not Authorize Sprinkling the Streets Without an Amendment to the Charter.

At the common council meeting Monday all werep resent except Alds. Sweet and Brown. Only desultory firing was indulged in and even a resolution to compel tar walk makers to grade the walks from the inside toward the curb at the rate of 1 inch to four feet instead of having convex walks did not bring out any big battle, but the terms of peace was quietly acquiesced

Residents of the Second ward pett tioned the council to order a cement crosswalk on the west side of Second st. across William. It was referred to the sidewalk committee.

Residents of the Seventh ward petitioned the city to grade and gravel E. University ave. from Hill to Packard st. Referred to the street committee.

Twenty-seven property owners along the paving district petitioned for uniform hitching posts in front of the stores on Main st., and 17 citizens protested against hitching posts of any description. Ald. Cady moved that the city adopt some uniform size and distance apart, and that the matter be referred to the board of public works and city engineer with power to act. There was a good deal of discussion on this point until finally City Attorney But-terfield dealt himself a hand in the game. He said that the resolution would have no effect as it could not be enforced. That a property owner could go ahead and put in just such hitching posts as he deemed best and the city could whistle the same as they do about the "uniform telegraph and tele-phone poles." These remarks switched the Cady resolution into the far beyond and Ald. Coon moved that it be laid upon the table. It was carried 7 to 6, Alds. This gives the common council power to assess taxes to pay the expense of making, grading, paving, opening, widening and repairing streets constructing drains, sewers, and other local improvements upon the premises benefited by such local improvement. In my opinion this section would not authorize the levy of a local assessment to pay for sprinkling streets. #### LETTER FROM CUBA.

Siboney, Cuba, July 20, 1898.-Dear Mother and All: I have not received any letters from you since your lovely long letter of the 26th of June, in answer to and narrow point, and here many of the one I wrote on board the boat. Well, Don Stark has gone on the hospital boat. I saw him just before he left here and he was looking good and said he was feeling the same.

Friday, July 8th, our company was detailed for hospital duty to help take care of the sick and wounded, so we left the breastworks and came down here and have been kept busy almost ever since. I can tell you about that kind of work when I get back home, but I will say here I do not care much for that kind of work. Notwithstanding that, however, I have tried my best to make myself useful, and I know we have been of much help to the sick and wounded.

There were some awful sights. There was one colored man who was shot July 1st straight through the heart. Now maybe you don't believe that, but it is true for I took care of him, with many others, and I stood there when the doctor measured the wound and said that that man would dive, for it had been he was doing well. ## A BREEZE FROM WEQUETONSING.

Those persons who come north on their first visit will never forget the beautiful panorama that bursts upon their sight as they draw near the city of Petoskey. After having crossed the burnt district, where innumerable dead tree trunks stand as silent witnesses of the dread ordeal (through which many people passed a few years ago), and dense forests where the trees and vegejunkets. Just beyond Harbor Springs the land runs out to a long the ultra-fashionable have beautiful lead a very gay life. At Wequetonsing the people are more quiet, fond of rowing, and after 6 p. m. each pleasant day one will see so many small boats and canoes on the water. There is one youth designated as "Sam" who is an adept on these waters, and no one has cause to fear when he manages either a sail or rowboat. Then many, too, indulge in the luxurious waters for bathing purposes, and from 3 to 5 p. m. the "nymphs" are numerous. ### YPSILANTI CASE.

The Doctor A. J. Rice Matter Again in Court-Wants His Wife Adjudged Insane.

Two years ago last month there was a lot of excitement at Ypsilanti. Dr. A. J. Rice and wife had been residents of Ypsilanti for eight or nine years, but during his visits there from work on the road there were scenes enacted that greatly disturbed the peace and quiet of the neighborhood. The neighbors had grown indignant and gathered about the home and threatened to mob the doctor. Tar and feathers were hint ed at and the doors of the house soon became bolted. Officer Warner was sent for and he made an entrance through a window. Mrs. Rice seemed in mortal terror of her husband and told the officer that her husband had grabbed and chased her about the house. Harrison tice Childs and swore out a warrant for disturbing the peace. The warrant was brought back and in the meantime not to serve the paper. At this turn of affairs the neighbors left disgusted came of the family. In the meantime the men portion of the crowd had called the doctor everything but a gentleman, and challenges were issued to the doctor to come out and have his clock cleaned, but he evidently thought his clock was running all right for he did not venture out. The next night after, however, Mrs.

Rice ran out doors and again implored someone to go for an officer, as she claimed her husband was again assaulting her. Officer Warner went up and got his man. ### GANG OF GAMBLERS.

Nime of Them Paid $6.20 Costs Each This Morning.

They didn't strike a Klondike although they picked up quite a little lcose change. One well known man got twisted for $18 but he didn't make any more of a holler than if he was in a Quaker meeting. Two young colored men saw $28 fade from them like a dissolving view and occupy a place on the gambler's pile. Then they yelled like a factory whistle for their money back.

Marshal Sweet was quietly standing by seeing the gang work until he had accumulated enough evidence against

"I'll take that bet," said the gambler running the game as a sucker had dreams of easy money by putting a bill down on the "lay out."

"And I'll take you, I guess," said the officer and he dumped the regiment of fakers into a bus and they were off in a bunch to the county jail. They registered at Mr. Judson's hotel as Ed ward Stewart, Charles Lee. W. H. Kel ley, Tim Shores Wm. Purdy, Frank Fay, Paul Worth, John Wilson and Bill Coll. All were white except Tim Shores. This morning they returned the $28 to the two colored men and were brought up before Justice Duffy on charge of being gamblers. Everyone of them said he was and Justice Duffy fined them each $6.20 costs.

The gang did not get rich in Ann Arbor. They probably did not win over $75 altogether and after paying the costs and expenses their visit here was far from being renumerative.

....PRESCRIPTIONS.... ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT

Mrs. Sally Steffe Killed Last Friday in a Runaway on Beakes St.

Another fatality has been added to Ann Arbor's long chapter of accidents this summer. In this case the woman who, without hardly any warning that death was so near, was a lady of over 70 years of age-Mrs. Sally Steffe, wife of Abraham Steffe, of 1226 Pontiac st., Fifth ward.

About noon today a man named Zeeb was driving a lumber wagon down Beakes st. when either the bolt that holds the whiffletrees to the wagon broke or the neck-yoke came off the wagon tongue. At least the tongue fell to the ground and the horses became frightened and ran. Mr. Zeeb was jerked out of the wagon and dragged along until he saw there was no chance of stopping them, and that if he held to the reins longer he would endanger his life. The horses ran down Beakes st. but could not separate from each other, being held in their respective places by the neck-yoke and whiffletree. At the corner of Fifth ave. the horses overtook a buggy, the occupants of which were Abraham Steffe, his wife, Sallie Steffy, and a granddaughdirection as the horses and was occueach tried to go on his own side of the buggy. This was impossible and a general mix-up resulted, the horses landing fairly in the buggy and on top of the occupants. The buggy smashed. People in the neighborhood ran out to render what assistance they could, and with all possible alacrity they extracted the occupants of the buggy from their awful predicament. When the horse was pulled off from Mrs. Steffe it was found that she was not breathing but her heart was beating slightly. She had been killed practically instantly Mr. Steffe was injured about the hips and cut badly about the face. The little girl received some bad bruises about

It was a very sad affair and nobody feels it more deeply than Mr. Zeeb, aithough he was in no wise to blame.

Don't drink soda water or ice water; drink as much seltzer, carbonated water; moderately cold water or hot emonade as you feel incined, but take them between meals.

Don't drink anything with alcohol in it, even to a moderate degree, like beer although such drinks will give a momentary cooling effect, the alcohol is certain to start unnecessary combustion in the tissues, which will make you feel hotter than before.

Don't eat meat oftener than once a day, and if possible eat no meat whatever during summer; eat pleanty of bananas and other fruits and drink an abundance of fresh buttermilk or sweet milk.

Don't wear tight collars, tight cor sets, or even a tight hat; have all your clothing as loose as possible.

Don't wear clothing of a dark color in summer, and particularly black; the sun's heat is greatly absorbed by black, while white tends to dissipate its intensity. The ideal summer dress for a man should be: Well-ventilated, loose straw hat, roll collar, light gray coat, a shirt that requires no vest, wide trousers of some thin, whitish material, low tan shoes and tan stockings.

Don't forget that the great secret of keeping cool is to have your nervous system perfectly calm and your digestion in perfect working order.

Don't worry over anything, particularly during the heat of the day; you cannot accomplish much by worrying, at that time, and you are only getting your nervous system exited.

Don't get into an argument about how long the war is going to last; don't lose your temper with your employes or your superiors; don't complain of how much warmer it is than it ough! to be, and altogether avoid everything that is liable to get you exited. Don't walk on the sunny side of a block because it is a few yards nearer to your destination.

Don't hesitate to drink even ice cold water if your perspiration has stopped and you still find it oppressively hot; very likely the stoppage of the perspiration is the first stage of sunstroke. Produce a sweat by ice water at once and you are all right.

ON THE YOSEMITE.

John Clarken Writes of the Excitement the Naval Reserves Had.

The following is the last portion of a letter written by John Clarken, who is aboard the Yosemite, to his mother and gives an account of the action in which At eight bells the look-out sighted a sall, we set chase, she turned to make get under the guns of the fort, but we headed her off with a shot from our 5-inch gun but we had to fire a second one before she hove to. She came up and was a Spanish schooner with five men on board and had her flag flying all the time. Our captain complimented them on their bravery for keeping their flag flying and told them to go and give his compliments to the commander on shore. A torpedo boat came out, but went back as soon as our prize came in. Tuesday morning at about 4:30 the starboard watch had just nicely stretched out (for their watch was the short one that night-from 12 to 4) when a three-masted steamer was sighted coming towards San Juan in a heavy rain storm. We were called to quarters and started after her full speed. Everything was made ready for action-ammunition by the wholesale was sent up, all the guns were loaded and several shots fired over her bow, but she kept right on as fast as she could. We pushed our ship for all she was worth, but our enemy headed in for shore without paying any attention to us. We first used common shell, then shrapnel, but she kept right in for shore and lowered her boats. Suddenly the guns of Morro castle opened on us and struck the water about one hundred yards short of us. Then three Spanish gunboate and torpedo boat came out under cover of the fort and fired at us. We returned the fire, hit the transport several times and also hit the nearest gunboat. Three shells came very near us but not quite far enough, while most of our shots were effective. The torpedo boat came out but we sent her back flying. One of the small boats was smashed and everyone thrown in the water by a shell from us. Just then a cloud of steam issued from the gunboat hit by one of our shells. Officers with glasses could see them carrying wounded away, for she looked as if she was sinking. Starboard watch was then piped to breakfast but to be ready for a call. The gunboats came out together headed right for us and fired several rounds. A heavy rain storm hid them from our view, but we continued firing on the transport. We stopped then for breakfast. Soon the Spaniards came out again with their big guns and we returned fire with effect. We completely ruined the transport and had her aground on a reef. We fired about three hundred shots, I guess, and all the damage done to us was from concussion, and two of our guns were disabled, but nobody was hurt at all. One of the officers' rooms was wrecked by the recoil of the 5-inch gun. The men were as cool as could be and stood around until noon in their places stripped to the waist, all eager for more of it, but the boats put back under the forts. We were allowed to lie fort went over us and one struck close to our stern; in fact they had good gunners in that fort, and it is only a miracle we were not hit. If two or three of those big shells had hit us we would all have been lost. Our captain maneuvred our boat as good as any man in the world could have done, and praised us for our work. That is all I can remember about the battle. We have kept every boat that came along from going in. Just think of it, all alone here for twenty days here holding a blockade. One steamer, a French mail, got in on us, but we stopped her the next day when she came out. The crew told our whaleboat crew that we completely riddled that transport; put four shots in one of the gunboats and hit every

Spanish boat. It has been very monotonous here. Of course we chase after some sall every day, but seeing the same shore every day without being able to get on land is hard on us landlubbers. Our rations are short and coal is getting low, so we would have had to leave here soon any way if we had not been

A fire broke out on our coal bunks one day, and all hands had to turn in and help put it out. A man could stay down in there only about 15 minutes. and several were overcome at that. It took till dark to put it out. We have had all the different things happen that can befall a ship at sea.

It is Sunday now and half of the crew are ashore. I was ashore yesterday. The place is about ten thousand I heard. It is built on sides of three hills and is kept very clean. Of course the first thing I done was to get a nice cool drink and then started out to see the sights and found lots of interesting things. I visited them all. There are lots of negroes here and about half of them are beggars and proved to be a great nuisance to us. Every place we went they would crowd around us and beg for money. The whites are intelligant and I saw some very handsome women amongst them in fact, all the white women are good locking. It is a Danish island, but everybody speaks English so we had no trouble in getting along. I met two or three who were Spanish sympathizers and of course we came near clashing, but they were afraid of us. Everybody stopped my party and shook hands all from Michigan he was delighted for his birth place is Michigan. As we walked along the streets the natives would say "There goes those Americans that make the Spaniards jump." While on shore we learned that we sank the biggest gunboat. That is the one we saw the puff of steam coming from and that we completely destroyed the transport which was a government vessel and that our firing was so true that they had to pay laborers one hundred dollars a day to unload the transport. They worked nights on her but could not get the amunition off of her . We would have gone in and finished her only we would have been in range of the fort. We could not learn how many were killed, but they were afraid to come out again. They said that we were a "Devil ship," we expected them to ccme out every night and wondered why they did not for we had no search light, but, that news explains it. That is more than any one ship in the navy has done all by itsself.

Those of us that remained aboard today have been busy loading stores, by the way they hired negroes to coal ship for us this time. They gave each of us twenty dollars before we went ashore the first money we have had since we left home.

We expect to leave here tomorrow and so we are very busy and I will not have time to write to anybody else, so you tell them the news. I don't knew where we are going to first, but I think it will be Guantanamo, Cuba. The most of us think we are too late to go across the ocean. We are all anxious to go.

I am in perfect health; never felt better in my life, so don't worry about me. You will probably hear the news long before you get this letter, for the American consul will cable the news to the United States.

With love to all and hoping you are all well, I am, your affectionate son, JOHN.

A Boomerang.

Unless the present peace negotiations fail and the war goes on to the capture of Havana, the Thirty-first and Thirty second Michigan regiments may as well make up their minds to complete their term of service in camp life, and express their patriotism in drills and drudgery. The fact that an Indiana pull was sufficient to recall an Illinois regiment, after it had been put aboard the cars with its baggage to start for Porto Rico, dashes any lingering hopes that the Michigan troops may have had of seing real fighting. Six companies of Detroit men and the bulk of the state militia are included in the two regiments which have been steam ing at Tampa and rusting at Chickamauga. They were the first Michigan troops enlisted and contained a larger proportion of trained men than any of the subsequent regiments; but, because they were so unfortunate as not to be attached to the brigade of Secretary Alger's friend, Gen. Duffield. their chances of an opportunity to give an account of themselves in actual war are rather less than nothing. Daily dispatches tell how well they "like" the situation, and after they have been mustered out and returned to their homes they will be heard from in a way to make the facts long remembered. Something stronger than rumo connects the secretary of war with cer tain political ambitions in his own state, and when it comes to the erection of his fences he will find two very large and enthusiastic committees busily en gaged in pulling up the posts and lugging off the wire as though they had learned the trick in storming Spanish fortifications at San Juan or El Caney -Evening News Editorial.

May Settle Pana Strike.

Pana, Ill., Aug. 2.-Developments pointing to a settlement of the miners' lockout, existing here since April 1, were made known today. After a conference with the owners of the Pana coal mine, Supt. Julius Broehl returned to Pana, summoned George G. Gravens, president of the Miners' union, and submitted to him a proposition to open the Pana mine with union men, granting the scale price for day labor and paying the miners 30 cents for digging, the company furnishing all supplies, except powder. This is 3 cents under the scale price as placed by the state board of arbitration, and the company claims it is all it can pay and operate the mine without loss

The fire department was called out about 2 o'clock last Thursday by a burning field of stubble belonging to John F. Lawrence on his farm on the River road. There was no damage done. In fact it was an "on purpose" fire. A lot of rubbish was stacked up and a furrow ploughed around it and then set on fire in order to get rid of it.

At a recent meeting of the common council an ordinance was passed making the stand for drays on the city market back of the opera house instead of around the court house. There have been alleged violations of this and Marshal Sweet has made complaints against Emmet McMahon and George Darrow. Both men plead not guilty and their trials have been set for Aug. 15 and Aug. 17 respectively.

Pearson's Weekly comes out very strong this week in favor of the renomination of Andrew Campbell for state senator. Says the Courier: "It will be the best kind of politics to have Senator Campbell on the ticket." Every Democrat in Washtenaw and Jackson counties heartily approves of the nomination of Mr. Campbell by the Republicans and will certainly lay not a single straw in his way. They will rejoice more than the Republicans if he is renominated.

It would hardly be possible to conceive of would hardly be possible to conceive of In accepting the resignation of Mr. a more perfect harmony than that Sunderland, which we now do, we bewhich has dwelt among us. kindness and loyalty. Especially snal extended leaves of absence,-one at the time as secretary of the Western Unitarian conference and western super intendent of the American Unitarian association, and the other at the end of my eighteenth year, to go abroad for a year of travel and study. My only regret is, that in return for all your kindness I have not been able to render more efficient service to you and the cause which we love.

there, and in our efforts to acquaint them with the principles of our beauti-ful gospel of Love, Reason and Hope. Our conviction has steadily deepened as the years have gone on, that there is no more important religious work to be done anywhere than this studer work. We are glad that we have been work. We are glad that we have been permitted to have a part with you in it. We are glad it is to be your privilege to carry it on still. Do not let your zeal in it slacken. There is no other religious faith that begirs to meet the wants of the educated, earnest, thinking young minds of this country as ours does. We minds of this country as ours does. We must give it to them. Everything indi-cates that a rational, ethical, spiritual religion, essentially identical with that for which this church stands, is to be the future religion of this country, and of the enlightened world. Call the ablest man you can find to your pulpit. Stand by him as you have stood by me Rally all the liberal forces of the city and the University—a great and strong company if you can secure them allto his support. Determine not only that this church shall be a growing mora power in this community, but that mor than ever it shall be a lighthouse, seen from afar, sending out its light of a nobler religion for men over all this land, and to many a land outside, wherever the students of our great university shall go.

I believe that Unitariasm in this country never had so assured a future as . Nothing is more clear than that best thinking and scholarship in our time set teremendously in its direction. Though banned in all the churches, it is creeping into all as it is appearing outside of all. The Spirit of God everywhere moving on the face of the waters of modern thought, modern inquiry modern unrest, modern aspiration, mod ern search for truth, search for God search for religious reality, search for spiritual foundations, is slowly but surely bringing a great and beautiful cosmos out of the chaos which has reigned. That beautiful and glorious cosmos is the rising Faith of Reason and of the Spirit, which finds one of its clearest and best forms of expression in Unitarianism Then let Unitarians everywhere take courage. Our day is coming, as God lives, and as truth is truth. The future arbor there is better promise that in Ann Arbor there is better promise than ever before. All these years of labor done here have not been for nothing. Put into this pulpit a new and commanding voice, place at the head of your work a leader whom you can trust, and whom a leader whom you can trust, and whom you will follow; dedicate yourselves anew, everyone of you, old and young, to God, and to the work which he has given you to do here; and then be sure that a new day, brighter than you have ever seen, will rise upon the Unitarian cause in Ann Arbor. And now, my dear friends, my dear people of these twenty happy years, what can I say farther as we separate? I can only say, God bless you! God be thanked for bringing us together and thanked for oringing us together and letting us labor together so long! I cannot tell you how near Ann Arbor will always be to the hearts of both myself and my family. No memories of our lives will be cherished longer or more sacredly than those which center mense commerce and wealth. She British empire has been built up by its business men and it is the business of the British government, mainly, to safe guard and protect them in every quarter of the world. Let our government adopt the same policy and at the end of another century the Anglo-Saxon race will dominate the globe. Who can doubt that such a domination will be in the interests of peace, freedom, civilization, and religion.

So, "when the cruel war is over" let us keep every foot of land where our flag has been planted. That flag stands for the highest freedom, the best civilization and the most decent religion the world has ever seen, and we shall recreant in our moral duty to the world, and to the race, if we allow it to be hauled down. Let us rather adopt as a motto the order of General Dix to our gallant soldiers in New Orleans, "Whoever hauls down the American flag, shoot him on the spot.'
