MEETING OF REGENTS.

A VERY LIVELY SESSION.

Prof. Hutchins Resigns-The President's Salary Increased—The Medical Faculties' Troubles-Etc.

The March meeting of the board of regents of the University met in session Tuesday evening, President Angell in the chair. The following regents were present: Regents Grosvenor, Clark, Whitman, Field and Blair.

Prof. Hutchins, of the law faculty, presented his resignation, to take effect at the close of the next semester, having accepted the position of senior law professor in the new law school to beestablished by Cornell university.

Prof. C. H. McGee, Prof. Langley's assistant, was granted a leave of absence, on account of ill health. T. F. Sharp was account of in headth. T. Sharp was appointed to fill the temporary vacancy. It was voted to allow Prof. Davis a sum not to exceed $150 with which to purchase necessary equipments for his class in surveying, which he will take out during

A letter was read from Mrs. Murphy, wife of the late consul general at Frankfort on-the-Main, formally presenting her husband's library to the University.

A petition signed by a number of the professors asking to have their salary paid monthly instead of quarterly, was presented. The board, after considerable distance of the professors asking to have their salary paid monthly instead of quarterly, was presented. cussion, decided that they could not do it, though every regent present earnestly hoped that arrangements would be made

o as to make the desired change.

The finance committee reported the receipt of a check for $500 for land recently sold in Ohio, which was presented to the University some years ago.

The resignation of Dr. Patterson, as wardmaster in the hospital, was formally presented and accepted.

A letter was read from Dr. Rominger, relative to his collection of fossils. It was reported to the museum committee, who reported adversely.

The board's attention was called to the fact that the University had, for the past two or three years, been paying taxes on lots in Detroit, deeded them years ago. The question was raised whether the property was taxable. The matter was referred to the law committee.

On motion, Regent Draper was placed on the committees caused by the resignation of Regent Joy.

The sum of $500 was appropriated as a guarantee fund for the semi-centennial concert and $75 for decorating purposes.

Mr. Galy, assistant professor of Latin, who is now in Europe, was granted a year's leave of absence.

Regent Grosvenor arose and said he had a resolution to offer which referred to President Angell. The president immediately called Regent Blair to the chair and retired. Mr. Grosvenor than offered the following resolution, which was supported by Regent Field, in his most flowery manner.

Resolved, that from and after October, 1 1887, the salary of President James B. Angell shall be $5,000 per annum, payable quarterly; that all emoluments now allowed to him shall be continued.

It was unanimously adopted.

Thos. C. Trueblood was appointed instructor in elecution in the law department, for the second semester of the next college year, at a salary of $500.

The request of Dr. Herdman for a sum not to exceed $150, with which to purchase instruments for his department was granted.

A resolution of thanks was voted the Lansing Iron and Engine works, for their gift of castings of an engine to the mechanical laboratory. The law committee reported the followng resolution relative to the resignation of Prof. H. B. Hutchins:

Resolved, that the resignation of Prof. H. B. Hutchins, Jay professor of law, in the law department of the University, is hereby accepted to take effect on the first day of October, 1887, in accordance with his request, and the board of regents hereby tender the thanks of the University of Michigan to Prof. Hutchins for his faithful and satisfactory services here. The following resolution was presented by the literary committee, which was adopted:

Resolved, that the privileges of the University, be extended to John Randolph Rogers, son of the eminent sculptor, Randolph Rogers, as a testimonial of the estimation in which the generous donor of the valued Rogers' collection is held by the board of regents. A letter was read from the alumni society relative to a resolution adopted by the society in relation to the establishment of a Williams professorship of the University.

The resolution is as follows: Resolved, that the professorship be established; that the occupant receive his salary from the income of the interest on the fund raised for the support of the late Prof. Williams, after becoming too feeble to carry on his work; that the board of directors of the alumni have the nominating of some professor to fill this chair, the same to be selected from among the active professors of the University, who, through old age or other cause, become unable to carry on their full work; that the professorship shall be established not later than March, 1887, this professorship being an emeritus professorship and in conformity to the plan indicated

In accordance with the above resolution, the board passed aresolution establishing

The faculty of the hom@pathic college presented a memorial stating that the faculty of the allopathic college were guilty of neglect and were violating the rules of the department, that the professors who lecture and give instructions to stu-dents of both colleges, were not treating the homocopathic students as the rules require; that they refuse to recognize the homeopathic students, and will not give them certificates stating that said students had been in regular attendance and had passed in their studies. The allopathic doctors claimed if they signed said certificates they would be violating medical ethics and would be expelled from the American medical association. Strong arguments were used by the professors of both faculties. The board finally amended section seven, of the rules relating to the same, so as to read: "Every professor of both the regular and homospathic de-partments, when a student has finished his work and passed his examination, shall file with the president official notice of such examination and he shall notify the dean of the department of which the student shall be a member."

The delighted audience at the Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening, were carried back to the days of "auld lang syne," and introduced to the customs and costumes of our grandfathers' days, in a very pleasant and musical manner. All singers filled their parts well, and showed the superior training of their leader, Prof. Wilsey. The quartette club, consisting of the two Hodge brothers and Messrs. Mallory and Wilsey, added new laurels to their already large supply.

High School Notes.

The Chi Tau literary society will meet at Miss Susie Harwood's, on Division-st, this evening instead of meeting on Friday evening in the chapel.

The participants of the junior exhibition have been doing some remarkable rehearsing, the past few weeks, and something very interesting is expected tomorrow evening. The entertainment will open at a little before eight o'clock. Tickets are on sale at the different session rooms at fifteen cents each, or can be purchased at the door for twenty-five cents each.

Cocker League.

The entertainment given by the Cocker league, last Monday evening, was a great success. The large audience listened attentively and highly appreciated the excellent programme. Where all did so well it is difficult to specialize in reporting the entertainment, "Yraumerer" and "The march from Yarenhauser" (violin, cornet and piano) by Mrs. Hall and Messrs. Clement and Drake were well rendered and highly appreciated by all.
The "Dental Octet" made its first appearance before the league and their excellent selections were so well sung that they will ever be popular with the league and the large audience who listened to their sing-

SEEKING FURTHER INFORMATION.

The courteous answers given to the questions asked a fortnight ago, lead the propounder of those questions, who still feels the need of light, to seek further information in the same way.

1. If the amendment is adopted and the legislature fails to enact a statute, can men be arrested and convicted and property in liquor be confiscated, simply on the strength of the amended constitution?

2. In the state of Iowa, the effort to amend the constitution failed, and the Clark Prohibitory Law was passed by the legislature upon the basis of the old constitution. This law provides for the seizure and destruction of all liquor, the confiscation and sale of furniture, and the closing of the building where liquor has been sold. Will the legal gentlemen point out the difference between the constitution of Iowa and that of Michigan, by which this is possible under one and not under the other?

3. Was not liquor confiscated and destroyed in Maine under statute, for thirty years before the constitutional amendment was adopted in that state? Did the constitution of Maine support a law which would be unconstitutional in Michigan?

4. The section of the constitution which it was intimated last week, might interfere with the execution of a "search and seizure" clause in a prohibitory statute, reads thus, "No person shall be compelled in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law." Constitution of Mich., article VI, section 32. Will the gentlemen tell us whether there are not many dicisions showing that the state has abundant power to confiscate any property, or for-bid its manufacture, if it is deemed harm-full or dangerous to the people?

5. Will not a statute based upon this amendment, which affirms that "spirituous, malt or vincus liquor" is sometimes property and sometimes is not, according to its future use, be far more difficult of execution than a law, based on our present constitution, which recognizes it as property and confiscates it, because it is dangerous to the public welfare?

6. If there are provisions in our constitution not found in that of Iowa, which forbid so strict a statute as the legislature of that state has passed, would it not be wiser to seek to remove these, rather than to put further limits upon our power to control and eradicate this great evil?

7. Suppose that of the 400,000 voters of this state, 100,000 should vote for the amendment and 90,000 against it, and suppose this small majority is given in a few legislative districts, so that a majority of the members of the legislature are from districts voting against the amendment, have we reason to hope that a legislature, now unwilling to give us a prohibitory statute, will give us one then?

8. Do the mandatory terms of the amend-ment involve any real authority over the members of the legislature, so that they can be punished for perjury or any other crime, if, after taking their oath of office, they fail to enact a prohibitory statute?

9. If we adopt the amendment and thus annul our tax law and surrender our power to levy taxes upon this business, are we not yellding a constitutional right which is of value and may be made of greater value in reducing and ultimately removing the evils of drunkenness? In 1874 there were in Michigan, two distilleries, employing twenty hands and manufacturing 280,000 gallons of liquor annually. In 1884 no distilleries of liquor are reported, and Professor Dickie says there are none. In 1874 there were 148 breweries employing 6!2 hands, manufacturing 217.950 barrels of beer; in 1884 there were 82 breweries, employing 627 hands, the amount manufactured is not reported. There were also in 1874, five places where wine was manufactured, employing 17 persons and manufacturing $39,000 worth of wine, None are reported for 1884. In 1874 there were 8 breweries in Washtenaw county, employing 28 persons; in 1884 there were breweries, employing 9 persons. When the tax law went into operation there were, it is said, from 60 to 80 drinking places in Ann Arbor; now there are 38. Is not the decrease of an evil a gain for righteousness, the reduction of the number of persons employed in this bad business and of the places of temptation, an advantage to the state and the commu-nity? In the long, hard conflict before us, can we afford to surrender any weapon

we now possess? As there will be but one more issue of THE REGISTER before the election,—which it is hoped will contain a searching answer to these queries, -and as this must, therefore, be the last communication from the writer upon the subject, he ventures to state what, with present light, seems to him, and to some other temperance men, as the wise course:

1. To vote down the amendment as putting limits upon our power to deal with the evils of intemperance, which may prove a serious embarrassment to us.

2. If there are at present any constitutional limitations which prevent our enforcing as good a statute as that of Iowa, to secure their removal as soon as possible.

3. To follow the example of temperance people in Iowa, who, when their effort to change the constitution, failed, elected a legislature committed to prohibition, and thus secured a constitutional and workable

MICHIGAN LAW MAKERS.

Graveyard Insurance Companies mast go.-Bill Belative to Gambling .-Reform School Appropriations.-etc

The house has resumed its morning sessions, which were discontinued a short time since to permit of more time for committee work, and it is likely the grist will be poured into the legislative hopper steadily and incessantly for some time to come. It is possible, moreover, that the Saturday adjournments will soon be dispensed with, as the railroads have notified the Perianders that their passes will be recalled early in April, and they will probably find work preferable to lounging about or to paying their fares to and from their homes. The abolition of the pass system, while it may be inconvenient to members who like to spend Sunday at home and those who are on visiting committees to public institutions, will most assuredly save money to the people of Michigan.

The bill relating to graveyard and speculative insurance, to which I referred last week, has been engaging a good part of the attention of the house for almost a fortnight, the result being the appointment of an investigating committee consisting of Senators Westgate and Gorman and Representatives Cross, Goodrich and Douglass. About all the representatives who had any eloquence with them took part in the debate on the concurrent resolution, and some of the best speeches of the session were made. The resolution was first voted down, but Mr. Cross, the concector of the bill simed against these institutions, moved a reconsideration. Then occurred the crowning sensation of the debate. Speaker Markey called Mr. Bates to the chair, came off the perch, and stepping to the floor delivered an address in favor of the passage of the resolution that proved him to be the leader of that body in every sense of the word. His arguments were not without effect, for the resolution, after being amended to include any life insurance company, passed by a vote of 62 to 3. A strong loby endeav-ored to impede the passage of the resolu-

The bill providing for the location, establishment and organization of a state prison of infamy has been made a special order for consideration in the senate April 13. It was reported back to the senate by the committee on appropriations and finance without amendment or recommendation, further than that it be made a special order for the above mentioned date. The bill amending the general law relating to gambling has passed the house and will probably soon be favorably reported by the judiciary committee of the senate. It provides that all laws on gaming shall apply to bucket shops and all business and transactions of the kind now carried on by bucket shops, under what-ever name the same shall be transacted. and to all business agreements and transactions in the nature of bets-or wagers upon the future variation in the price of grain, stocks or any other property, article

The board of control of the reform school, in a bill introduced for that purpose, asks for the following amounts: Current expenses 1887-8, $104,000; for sidewalks, $500 per year; laundry, $500; kitchen furniture, $200; tunnel for steam pipe, $1,000; ice-cream and meat room, $500; green house and fixtures, $3,000; sewerage, $2,500; electric light $5,000; a total of $13,700 for special ex-They ask for $7,500 instead of $2,500 in case they can arrange to connect the school sewers with the city sewer. The bill has been favorably considered by the committee on the school and will soon be reported.

An important bill has passed the house to prevent certain preferences by insolvent corporations. It provides, inter alia, that any mortgage, pledge, security or prefer-ence of any kind given by a corporation which is insolvent, or in contemplation of asolvency, for the purpose of securing, directly or indirectly, its directors, officers or stockholders, or any of them, for any liability from the corporation to them, or for any liability which they may have incurred for the benefit of the corporation, shall be void as against creditors of the corporation who were such at the time such preference was given.

The bill providing that women may vote at town, village, city or other municipal elections was reported without recommendation by the committee and placed on the general order. A good deal of opposition is shown to the measure, the claim being made that it would tend to break down the respect in which women are now held and would give a power for evil to the victous and deprayed of the sex, while the better class of women would not accept the privilege if offered

It is my private opinion, publicly expressed, that those who are looking for-ward to the abolishment of the state board of corrections and charities are doomed to disappointment. There are no indications that the legislature has the slightest intention of dispensing with that institution. In addition to the test measure, to which I made references a fortnight since, the senate has passed a bill providing that no county jail shall be erected until it is first approved by the It further provides, by the way, that such jails shall contain separate-wards for men, boys, women and girls, which wards shall be so arranged as to be so entirely separate from each other as to prevent seeing or hearing the occupants of other wards.

The feeling seems to be pretty general among the members that the prohibitory amendment will not be successful, and they are therefore thinking more or less of what means may be provided for the better regulation of the traffic. In all there are forty-five bills introduced in both ouses relating to the sale of liquor. Many of them are duplicates, however and will not be reported. Among them is the old "Mosher bill" of 1879, reintroduced in its entirety, but it is not likely to kick up the same amount of dust it did when first introduced.

And yet the troubles of Alma are not terminated. Another bill to divide the village has been favorably reported, and when it comes up people will naturally ex-pect the wine cask to be tapped and the 'bar'l" unheaded as on the previous memorable occasion. This bill is about the ame in purport as that fired into the legislative rag bag a few days ago, and unless something unforseen happens will probably meet a like fate

There was an exciting cock fight in a barn on Grand street, and he positively avers there were in attendance at the brutal sport fourteen representatives and three sena-Were I addited to betting I'd wager a trifle that every blessed one of them would howl like a dervish were his name publicly mentioned in connection with the affair.

A bill introduced by Senator Seymour, which will be favorably reported, provides that on and after Nov. 1, 1887, every railroad operating in the state shall either heat their cars by heat generated outside of the coaches or else shall enclose the heater in an absolutely fire-proof iron closet. No stove or heater with an open door, or other opening, through which fire could escape in case of accident, can then be used, except in such iron compartment.

WASHTENAW POMOLOGY.

Letters from Chief of Pomology and from the Department of state at Washington-Necessity of Organized Societies-Report of committee on Fruit Preserving Factory-Berry Harvester-Exhibit-Cheaper Rates of Transportation.

An adjourned meeting of the pomological society was held the 19th inst., with President Scott in the chair. The secretary read a letter from H. D. Vandeman, chief of division of pomology, U. S. department of agriculture, asking for a list of the members of this society who are interested in fruit raising. In order to make the work of this division of real value to the fruit producers of this country the compilation of a list of the pomologists of this country is to be made. The fruit growers of Washtenaw county are therefore requested to attend the next meeting of the society on the 2nd of April, in order to facilitate this list. Also a letter from the department of state was read by Mr. Ganzhorn, in which a list of the members of this association is requested in order to place the valuable reports on the agriculture and horticulture of foreign countries before the farmers and fruit growers of the United States. From this it appears that these reports will in the future not be distributed by congressmen among Dick and Harry, but the department will send them directly where they belong. Hence the importance of the compilation of the lists of members of on fruit preserving factory, reported $600 subscribed. He had solicited the assistance of Mr. Martin Clark in completing the subscriptions for the fund and in collecting the same, all of which was heartily approved by the society, and Mr. Clark and other members of the committee were respectfully recommended to the liberality of the truit growers and farmers who have apples to sell and merchants and property owners who are interested in the building up of an enterprise in our city which promises to be of general advantage.

BERRY HARVESTER.

A circular of the berry harvester by Jewett Benedict, Dundee, Yates county, N. Y., was read. Four of these harvesters promise to do the work of forty pickers. The harvester will be on exhibition at the meeting of the society on the 2nd of

Mr. Ganzhorn reported on the exhibit. E. Baur showed D'Aremberg pears, the keeping qualities of which seem to surpass that of most apples; also evaporated pears. Mrs. L. Gruner exhibited fine peaches evaporated on her Canadian ryer. J. W. Williams, of Webster, exbited three varieties of cider. This new departure in exhibit was hugely enjoyed. Mr. W. thinks he has a real prohibition drink to present to the public and intends to apply at once for a patent on the filter he invented in which he uses paper pulp instead of sand, and some secret ingredient which clears the cider at once, as it comes from the press, and arrests fermentation, at least until the trees blossom again. He wishes to join the Ann Arbor Fruit Preserving company.

FRUIT TRANSPORTATION.

The transportation of fruit was disensed in a very lively manner. Mr. Clough: "The fruit growers about here paid in one week, last year, more money to the express company than the cost of a car offered by the Michigan Central for the whole season." Mr. Baldwin: "Last year much of the fruit shipped from here and along the Michigan Central in this county, hardly paid expenses, yet the express company raised the freight to Detroit five cents per hundred pounds.' Mr. Ganzhorn: "Some of my crates were delivered by the express company at Detroit up side down and the berries spilled. The frequent handling by the express company here could be avoided by hiring car to which the grower could bring his permes and fruit, handling it himself." Mr. Ganzhorn was added to the commit-better care in transportation is desirable. As this topic will be more fully discussed and a report of the committee be submitted, every fruit grower will find it to his interest to attend the meeting on the 2nd of April. Mr. Marsh stated that the fruit growers of the Western Shore, by proper organization, had received cheaper rates in tranportation. Organized work is what the fruit growers of Washtenaw need in order to protect their interests.

The questions proposed by Mr. Ryder in THE REGISTER of the 10th itst., suggest the principal objections that occur to the minds of candid temperance men in voting upon the proposed "amendment." That they have excited interest appears in the number of answers in your last issue. These answers are, with one or two exceptions, entirely fair and courteous. They all really resolve themselves into the one great question, "would the amendment and total prohibition if passed, be fairly well enforced in this state?" The young, and those who have not had actual observation and experience in the enforcement of such laws, filled with a proper abhorence of the evils of intoxicating drink, would say, yes. Older persons, who have had personal observation and experience under prohibition, would have less hope, and more doubt. It is a trite maxim, that we should judge of the future by the past. I will give but one illustration. Massachusetts is my native state, and where I spent the 54 years of my earlier life. Soon atter Maine enacted prohibition, the subject was discussed in Massachusetts. It was advocated with great eloquence from platform and pulpit, and was soon adopted by the state. The temperance people rejoiced. Their battle was won, victory they thought was complete, they stacked their guns. No more of the old fashioned temperance work, such as looking after the young and signing the pledge, no more moral sussion, but legal sussion, was the favorite phrase.

And what was the ou come of all this? While the temperance people seemed to go asleep, with the comforting idea that masmuch as they had got prohibition enacted into law they had nothing further to do, the liquor dealers did not slumber. They patiently waited till the excitement subsided, and then quietly and gradually resumed their business. To make a long story short, prohibition there was a miserable failure, and after a trial of nearly twenty years "free rum" became so com mon, that its enactments were repealed and a stringent license law took its place. This was gradually tightened, till now they have local prohibition with good success. In some respects the laws of Massachusetts were better adapted to enforce prohibition than those of Michigan to-day. First, those complained of for selling liquor were not entitled to a jury, before justice or police court. If the magistrate believed there was evidence enough to convict, he could do so and sentence, though there might be an appeal to the higher court if the defendant was able to give bonds for his appearance there, where he would be entitled to trial by jury. Second, there were special constables ap pointed in every county, whose particular iuty it was to enforce the prohibitory law.

Now as I wish to be entirely fair in this matter, having no partisan point to carry, or pride of opinion to justify, I cheerfully admit that if the amendment is adopted and proper laws made to carry out its intentions, Michigan will legally, in some respects at least, be in a better position to enforce prohibition than Massachusetts formerly was. I refer especially to the clause which declares there shall be no property rights in liquors unlawfully manufactured or kept for sale. It would seem that this would outlaw the business and give entire effect to the search and se

After all, the great and all important question that we started with recurs-"would prohibition, if we obtain it, be reasonably well enforced?" If we obtain it, and the temperance people of this state cease their labors, and ground their arms, as did those of Massachusetts a generation ago, we should, like them, be worse off with prohibition than without it. Law. though useful to protect rights and prevent the wheels of progress from running back ward, has little educating or propel-ling power. It is, in itself, like ling power. It is, in machinery, dead and lifeless witho t human will and heart behind to enforce it. It is pleasant to attend temperance meetings and cheer the eloquent orator, but the great labor and true test comes in the enforcement of the law. There is no doubt that some who will honestly vote against the "amendment," if it passes and becomes the law of the state, will do more to enforce it than some who vote for it. Great reforms are effected gradually by the education of the young, by good social, moral and religious influences. Have we through these influences reached that point where we may usefully call in the aid of the law for entire prohibition? I somewhat doubt, but perhaps I have been mistaken. If youth is more hopeful than facts warrant, age may be too skeptical. If my experience of a generation ago is unfavorable to prohibition it may be said the world moves and progress is made. And then it must be admitted that there is great encouragement in favor of the amendment, in the fact that so many of late who have had good means of judging are in favor of it, many of whom are very conservative.

I have thus stated some of my objections and fears. Yet seeing so much earnestness in the public mind in favor of the amendment, which gives some evi-dence that it may be enforced it adopted, I hardly feel it my duty to oppose and vote against it as I have expected to do. And I will further say, that if I can be convinced between this and election day, that there will be one-half as much enthusiasm and earnestness in enforcing prohibition, if we get it, as there now is in favor of the amendment, I will vote for it.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. acts on an entirely different principle from usual precriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts effected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance will save doctor's bill long spell of serious illness. trial will convince you of these facts. Improved Gas Burners.

In the American Gas Light Journal for March 2nd, 1886, there appears a paper which was read before the American Gas Light Association at its recent meeting, on the use of the Siemens-Lungren Gas Burner, and its economy in the consumption of gas. This is the burner recently introduced by the Ann Arbor Gas Light Co. in several of our business houses and in the new M. C. R. R. depot, and which is now attracting much atten-

The article gives the result of the use of the burner in several stores where it was used. The burners used consume but 12 feet of gas per hour, and this is guaranteed by the manufactureres. Two burners dis-placed eleven large oil lamps, at an ex-pense of $2.48 each per month for May, June, July and August and since their adoption last April up to February 1st, 1887, with gas at $2.25 per 1000 feet they have cost $31.76. No single month shows an excess of $4.50, with an average cost of $3.17 per month for the tenmonths.

The article says: "I find upon careful calculation and almost eleven month's experience that two 12 feet Lungren burners light the same internal area equally as well as would be done by a full arc electric light with the positive advantage of two points of distribution, a light that is white, perfectly steady and under ones own control. They cannot pass or consume more gas than claimed, so the expense may be calculated to a nicety. A comparison with a charge of say 40 cents per night for an arc light and gas at or about $2.00 per 1000 feet shows that two Lungren's will burn one year for one half the expense of the arc and light the Attention, Good Templars!

Good Templars of Washtenaw county, the time for work is very short. Let each one put his whole weight into the work from now until the polls close on the 4th of April. Our motto is, "abstinence and prohibition." See to it that no stone is left unturned. Now we have a chance to help accomplish what our noble order was organized for-to overthrow the terrible drink curse. Remember your obligation. Let us use our influence, energy, talent, time and money to secure success. Remember that the enemy with which we have to contend is crafty and powerful. Our work has been greatly held back by the liquor laws. We have an opportuni-ty to remedy this. Let us do it. Hold open lodges and public meetings, not one but many. Let those who live where there is no lodge, or where the old one is not working, petition for a new charter or build up the old lodge. The amendment must be carried. All desiring information will be cheerfully answered by addressing. Yours in F. H. & C. H. R. CROZIER

A Platoon of Policemen on Guard Over Church Property Attacked by a Mob-A Fight. Ensues in Which Several Are Hurt on Both Sides.

RELIGIOUS RIOTS AT DETROIT. DETROIT, Mich., March 2L.-More than a year ago the members of St. Albertus' Polish Catholic Church were rioting be-cause their priest — Father Kolasinski been deposed by Bishop Borgess. After a futile attempt to keep the church open with another priest in charge the building was closed and has so remained since. At intervals there have been rumors of its reopening, each such report causing great excitement among the congregation, which numbers 7,000. Within a few days a report became current that the church would be reopened by Father Dombrowski on March 27. The report aroused the Kolasinski faction, and trouble was anticipated.

On Snnday a squad of policemen were guarding the church and neighboring convent when they were assailed by a crowd of the Kolasinski supporters. Officer Frank Schraffron was struck in the face with a brick and his assailant was arrested. The storm then broke. Ten or more pistol shots were fired at the police, who were also assailed with a shower of bricks, clubs and other handy missiles. In reply the police fired over the heads of the mob and kept them at bay while their prisoner was carried away and additional police protection secured. Nearly 3,000 Poles raged and stormed about the officers, but no further violence was at-

Half a dozen policemen were badly bat-tered and bruised, but none was fatally in-jured. A few Poles were also hurt, but their companions immediately carried them away, so that the extent of their injuries can not be learned. The police are now guarding the disturbed district, but no further trouble is anticipated. The convent windows were badly shattered by the flying bricks.

Accused of Conspiracy.

DUBLIN, March 19. - Father Keller, of Youghall, County Clare, was arrested on Friday and brought to this city for refus-ing to receive summonses ordering him to appear in court and answer questions regarding his action as trustee under the plan of campaign.

DUBLIN, March 21.—Father Keller on Saturday refused in court to give testi-mony as to his custady of Irish tenants' money as trustee under the plan of cam-paign, and was committed to Kilmainham prison for contempt of court. He was driven to court in the Lord Mayor's car-riage and loudly cheered.

Eight New Cardinals.

Rome, March 18.—A public consistory was held yesterday in the Sala Regia. When the Pope ascended the throne the eight new Cardinals, Archbishop Gonzales, of Toledo; Mgr. Aloisa Masela, ex-Nuncio at Lisbon; Archbishop Taschereau, of Quebec; Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore; Archbishop Bernadou, of Sens; Arch bishop Place, of Rennes; Archbishop Langenieux, of Rheims; and Archbishop Glordani, of Ferrara, were presented, and after going through the ceremony of kissing the Pope' foot and hand the red hats of Cardinals were placed on their heads by the Pope.

Badly Swindled.

NEW YORK, March 18.-The business house of Walter E Lawton, dealer in fertilizers at New York, was seized Thursday by the sheriff on attachments for nearly $700,000. Lawton has fled, taking with him all the money he could raise on his real estate, notes of the Delta Azoten Company and other securities, and also withdrew from different banks large sums, besides taking money belonging to his book-keeper and other employes. Lawton's liabilities are said to exceed $1,000,000, and rumors are current that certain banks will lose heavily.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Senator Cullom has said that at the next session of Congress he will introduce a bill similar to the Inter-State Commerce bill, regulating the telegraph system. It was his intention to have presented the bill at the last session, but he was fearful that it might imperil the Inter-State Commerce bill. The Senator is not inclined to the opinion that the telegraph service should be controlled by the Government, but that the tariffs should be regulated. He believes a bill looking to this end can be passed.

Theodore Tilton to Return from Europe. New York, March 22.—It is reported in Brooklyn since the death of Henry Ward Beecher that Theodore Tilton will shortly teturn to New York, to resume the career interrupted ten years ago by his prosecution of the great preacher. He has been living the life of a recluse in Europe, educating one of his children. Mrs. Tilton has been residing with her mother and one of the children in Williamsburg. She sees only relatives and a few friends who stuck to her during the famous trial.

FLOODS IN DAKOTA.

Ice-Gorges Break, Letting Loose an Immense Volume of Water.

A Warehouse Swept Away-The Water Reaches the Second Stories of Build-ings Along the River-Mandan Submerged-More to Come.

WESTERN RIVERS RAGING. BISMARCK, D. T., March 19.—The Wash burn gorge broke Thursday night and the flood of water and ice reached here Friflood of water and ice reached here Fri-day morning, carrying every thing before it. The immense warehouse of the North-ern Pacific, nearly 700 feet long, was moved bodily over thirty feet and sent crashing against the bluffs, the work-men barely escaping with their lives, In less than two hours the water rose to the second stories of the river board-The river, which is usually three-quarters of a mile wide, is now over six miles in width, and the 6,000 acres of meadow land below this city is one vast sea through which the water has cut a new channel in which the ice is running at the rate of ten miles an hour. The Northern Pacific trains will be unable to cross the river for several days and Bismarck will be the western terminus for a week.

Mandan is submerged, the water standing four feet on the railroad track. People living in the lower part of the town were compelled to move into the upper stories, and the small buildings on the river bank were swept away. The high trestle of the Northern Pacific was damaged.

The flood commenced to recede at one o'clock, but the danger is not yet over, as the ice went out at Fort Buford Friday morning with a rise of thirty feet. Great destruction is feared. The loss on the river landing and meadow land will reach $30,000. The loss on the Northern Pacific warehouse is $15,000.

The most serious damage was that to the high trestle of the Northern Pacific at the western end of the bridge. The ice knocked out several banches of underpinning, and it will be several days before I can be repaired Even then it will be imossible to resume travel without a transfer, as at least a mile of track between the bridge and Mandan is swept away. the telegraph wires between the bridge and Mandan are also down and the pole swept away. There is no means of communication whatever between Bismarck and Mandan. BISMARCK, D. T., March 21 .- An icegorge in the river near here is causing great damage by floods. In some of the villages the water is running through the second-story windows of houses at the rate of ten miles an hour, and the country for miles is deluged. The loss will be great, and the worst, it is feared, is yet to come. The gorge is six miles long, and the ice is piled to the height of thirty feet.

PIERRE, D. T., March 22.-The people of this town have been driven to the bluffs by the rising water, and it is feared that great damage to the town will result. The Missouri is rising two feet an hour. At Mandan the water has filled the basements of all business houses, and many families in the lower part of the city have narrowly escaped drowning. The water is still ris-ing. For over two miles, between Mandan and the river, no railroad track or tele-graph poles can be seen, they having been swept away by the water. The citizens of the town are huddled together on the high

The Northwestern Boundary.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The State De partment has received information that the Dominion Government is about to take steps to co-operate with this Government to locate more definitely the boundary line between their possessions and the Territory of Alaska. A FIERY SEPULCHER.

The Richmond Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., Burned.

A Large Number of Guests Cut Off by the Flames from Escape—Three Persons Dead, Five Missing, and Many Badly Hurt-Thrilling Rescues.

CAUGHT IN A FIRE-TRAP.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—The new Richmond Hotel which stood at the corner of Main and Eagle streets, St. James Hall and other adjacent property were burned down early yesterday morning. There were 125 persons sleeping in the hotel at the time the fire broke out, of whom seventy were transient guests, eight were boarders, and the others were the proprietors of the hotel, their families, etc. Of these nine are missing or are known to be dead and twenty-six are burned or otherwise injured, many of them badly and some fatally. The total number of those who have perished is not known and may never be. By some it is estimated as low as nine, the number of the known dead and missing, and others believe that without doubt at least thirty are dead. The fire spread with frightful rapidity, cutting off escape by natural ways of the guests who were aroused by the loud ringing of electric bells. Some of the terrified prisoners ran to the roof whence they leaped to adjoining buildings and so escaped. Some leaped from the roof to the ground, and others threw themselves in their fright and agony from the high windows to the pavement below, where they were picked up mangled and bleeding. Others made ropes of their bedding and by them lowered themselves in safety to the earth. The shricks of the wretches who found escape from the flames shut off were

Five girls who roomed on the fifth floor made a rope out of the bed-clothes and hung it out of the window, thus making their escape. The flames spread to the southeast side of the hotel first. It soon reached and gutted St. James Hall, occupied as Bun-nell's Museum and Tivoli Hall, adjoining and fronting on Washington street. Perhaps the most thrilling escape of any was that of President Whittaker, step-son of Proprietor Stafford. He roomed in the fifth story, and when aroused stepped to the window and looked down for a few seconds. Then he deliberately dressed himself, and, emerging from the window, stood on the stone cap-ping above the window beneath. From this capping he stepped to the next one along the front of the building, and proceeded in this manner to the Hayes truckladder at the other extremity of the front. The nerve and coolness displayed were remarkable.

The total money loss by the fire will be $400,000. Of this amount the Buffalo library loses $130,000 on the hotel and museum buildings, which were insured for $90,000. Fuller & Townsend, clothiers, were insured for $45,000. Their stock was a total loss and was valued at $60,000. Peter Paul & Bro. and Albrich & Kingsley, stationers, each lose $40,000, with $30,000 insurance. Several minor losses were sus-

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—Six dead bodies were taken from the hotel ruins on Saturday. Five persons are dead or missing and twenty-one injured. Henry B. Rumsy, whose family live at Fort Wayne, Ind., was among the killed, and he came to his death by boldly attempting to rescue a little child from the flames. The overhead wires in the streets prevented the fire department from working effectively and led to the loss of life, and at a meeting of citizens it was determined that all wires would have to be put under ground.

The Southern Boom.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 21.—The movement of Northern capital, which has been so largely directed toward the South, seems now to have been turned toward Georgia, where the activity in business and real estate has assumed large proportions. As an indication of it may be mentioned Northwest Georgia of which Rome is the center. In all that section there has been a great revival of business, and the rise in real estate has been remarkable, and in fact all trade centers of the State are experiencing general buoyancy.

Icebergs in the Yachts' Course.

NEW YORK, March 22.-Incoming steamers report passing large numbers of icebergs and immense fields of ice. state that the ice extends much further south than usual. It is thought the racing yachts may be delayed on this account. The winds have so far been very favorable, and, if the ice does not prevent, it is thought that the racers may reach Queenstown about the latter part of this week.

Disbarred.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 18.—Ex-Judge David W. Small, of the Circuit Court, who was tried at the instance of the Bar Asso ciation nearly a year ago for unprofessional conduct, has been disbarred from practicing law in any court of record in Wisconsin for six months. Judge Bennett found the principal accusation, that Small received fees from parties on both sides of divorce cases, to be fully sustained.

Father and Daughter Drowned. PECATONICA, Ill., March 18 .- A farmer named John Lundon, who was riding into town with his daughter and son, drove off the pike road, which is covered with water, and the vehicle was overturned. The three the father and daughter were drowned. The son escaped by clinging to the harness of one of the horses. Replenishing the Treasury.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 18.—The Governor and staff officers met Thursday and authorized a loan of $340,000 to pay the interest on the State's foreign debt. The loan is made through Coffin & Stanton, of New York, and bears 33-10 per cent. Interest. This is the smallest price ever secured by the State on a loan.

Death of Mrs. E. B. Washburne. CHICAGO, March 19.—Mrs. Washburne, the wife of Elihu B. Washburne, ex-United States Minister to France, and mother of City Attorney Hempstead Washburne, died at 7:10 o'clock yesterday morning, at her rooms at the Tremont House. She was sixty-one years of age.

Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The business failures during the week number for the United States 187 and for Quada 33, or a total of 220, against 282 last week and 225 in the corresponding week of last year.

Business Unfavorably Affected NEW YORK, March 19.-R. G. Dun & Co. in their weekly trade review, say: "It is becoming more generally realized that the Inter-State Commerce bill is for the time affecting business unfavorably."

A Noted Washington Physician Says the President Will Not Live to Complete His Term of Office Unless He Makes a Change in His Habits.

WASHINGTON, March 23.-Dr. Z. T. Sowers, one of the most prominent physicians of Washington, in an interview with a reporter, declared that there is danger that President Cleveland will not live through his term unless there is a change in his mode of living. Dr. Sowers, six months before Mr. Manning's illness, made the same prediction with regard to the Secre-tary, and advised a friend to warn him of danger. Dr. Sowers says:

"President Cleveland is a large, fieshy man, and since he came to the White House has gained enormously in fiesh. Now, when he lived in Buffalo it was his habit to take long walks. Since he came here, however, he has abandoned every form of exercise save carriage-riding. That is exercise save carriage-riding. That is of little or no use, with the springs now in use and the smooth streets for which Washington is famous. The President is a man who works with his head a great deal; is, in fact, an intense brain-worker. He is, in other words. plodder, and his brain is consequently filled with an excess of blood. What is the result? He works with his head, cats canormously, and fails to exercise his muscles; his blood-vessels are weakeacd, and it is only a question of time when, in a mement of excitement, he bursts a blood-vessel. I tell you, at the rate President Cleveland is now living there is great danger that he will not live throughout his term. Something should be done to bring him to realize his danger and take the proper steps to prevent the re-sult which will surely ensue if he fails to take proper exercise."

MAKERS OF BEER.

Prominent Brewers Meet at Chicago and Organize a-National Association.

CHICAGO, March 22.-The first business meeting of the convention of the Brew masters' Assembly of the United States was held vesterday at Uhlich's Hall. There were delegations from the various States. The proceedings are conducted in German At the afternoon session, after consider able discussion, a constitution was adopted. The purpose of the Brewmaster's Association of the United States as set forth in the document are: Mutual acquaintanceship; furtherance of the interests of the brewing trade; discussion of scientific questions concerning the craft; to pay particular at tention to a National system of apprentice-ship; to protect the progress and the development of the brewing trade and those hav ing interest in it, and to admit only brew-masters, superintendents and technical managers of breweries.

The permanent organization was effected as follows: Louis Frisch, Chicago, President; William Guenther, New York, and Charles Gerst, Cincinnati, Vice-Presidents Conrad Kobitz, Detroit, Treasurer; Will iam Seib, Chicago, Secretary, and a board of sixteen trustees

PANIC IN A CHURCH.

An Attempt to Fire It During a Prohibi-tion Meeting-Women and Children Frightened.

HOLLY, Mich., March 22.-The Methodist Episcopal Church was crowded to its utmost Sunday night to hear W. A. Taylor, of Lansing, speak on the Prohibition amendment question. A few minutes aft-er the s eeck began Arthur Hillman, who was passing, saw a light under the church, and found it to be a ball of rags saturated with kerosene. An alarm was given and the audience was immediately wild with excitement, and despite all efforts to quiet the ladies and children many jumped over the seats and rushed for the doors; several ladies fainted. The ball was lighted and thrown into small hole under the church and boards placed against the wall to hide the blaze. The church is the largest in t wn and is a wood structure. The audienceroom is in the second story. The guilty person is supposed to be an anti-Prohibi tionist. The village will offer a reward for the perpetrator, and the act will be the ns of carrying the whole town for Pro hibition.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

A Texas Farmer Shoots at a Mouse, Misses It and the Bullyt Explodes a Can of Powder, Demolishing the House and Killing Two Children.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., March 22.-News has reached here of an accident which occurred near White Bread tnill, I. T., last week, resulting in the very serious injury of a man named Foster and his wife, the killing of two of their children, and the destruction of their house. It seems that Foster and family were all in their home, a small log cabin on a ranch. In the corner of the room sat a can of powder. Foster observed a mouse come up through the floor and run around the can. He cured a small pistol and fired several times at the mouse. Finally one shot struck the at the mouse. can and exploded the powder with the above results.

The Patent Office.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The Commissioner of Patents, Mr. Montgomery, will retire from his office about the middle of April and resume the practice of law at Detroit. Ex-Representative Hall, of Iowa, will succeed Mr. Montgomery, and will assume the duties of the office about May 1. Mr. Hall is a native of Ohio, but has resided in Iowa since 1839. He served several terms in the Iowa Legislature and was a member of the last Congress.

The Blockade Raised.

St. Paul, Minn., March 22.—Officials of the Manitoba & Pacific road received advices yesterday morning that the blockade Canadian Pacific line was raised, and that the line was opened through to the Pacific coast Sunday night, and that no trouble this season was anticipated.

When to Hunt in Michigan. LANSING, Mich., March 23.—The House passed yesterday the bill forbidding the hounding of deer and shortening the deerhunting season to one month—from November 1 to December 1. The same bill forbids the shooting of duck or waterfowl in the spring of the year.

General Post Ahead. PEORIA, Ill., March 22.—In the contested-election case of General P. S. Post (Rep.), and N. E. Worthington (Dem.), in the Tenth Illinois district for member of Congress, the recount of votes is about completed, and General Post's election is assured by not less than sixty-two. Approved by the Pope. BALTIMORE, Md., March 22 .- A cablegram from Rome says that the Pope has approved the plan of the new Catholic University to be located at Washington, and placed the institution directly and forever under the sole jurisdiction of the Ameri can hierarchy. Silver Certificates.

Washington, March 22.—Instructions have been issued to the assistant treasurers at New York, Philadelphia and Boston to receive deposits for one and two dollars silver certificates, and to resume the issue

BEECHER'S MEMORY.

Brooklynites Propose to Keep it Green by Establishing a Library and Building a BROOKLYN, March 19 .- A meeting of representative citizens of Brooklyn was held in the Art Association rooms evening to discuss plans for raising funds for a monument in memory of Henry Ward Beecher. A num-ber of well-known gentlemen, including Mayor Whitney, were present, and Dr. Hall was chosen to preside. Dr. Hall, in his address, alluded to the fact that in of his last sermons Mr. Beecher had advocated the establishment of a free library in Brooklyn. Dr. Hall thought it would be very appropriate to found a memorial library, to be known as the "Beecher free library for the common people." This would not take the place of the proposed statue, but would be additional to it. The suggestion met with favor, and, after speeches by other gentlemen present, a committee was appointed to conduct the work of raising the fund. Subscriptions being called for, $2,065 was contributed for the statue and $1,125 for the library. The largest single contributor was Moses S. Beach, who gave $1,000 for the library and $100 for statue. The meeting adjourned until the 28th inst. An Address to Liquor, Men .

CHICAGO, March 19. - The National Woman's Christian Temperance has issued an address to brewers, distillers, rectifiers, wholesale dealers and saloon-keepers, reciting the progress prohibition has made through out the country, though admitting that "prohibition does not prohibit." The principle of license is antagonized because the liquor men favor it, and the address says that undue denunciation has fallen on the saloonkeeper, who has been "merely the catspaw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the rich men back of him."
Liquor makers and sellers are notified that the doom of the liquor traffic is sealed.

The Stove Must Go. New York, March 19 .- The superintendent of motive power of the New York Central railroad reports that the experiments which have been carried on for heating cars by steam have been successful during the weather of the last week, though no opportunity has yet been offered for testing the system in extreme cold weather. The train experimented with consisted of five passenger cars. The connection be-tween cars was made by brass telescopes and ball and socket joint. Steam is used direct from the locomotive boiler through a pressure-reducing valve, the strain on the pipes being five pounds to the square

Cholera Ravages.

NEW YORK, March 19 .- Advices from Panama say that the first case of cholera appeared in Chili December 26, and by the middle of January was raging along the whole course of the Aconcaque river. In Lo Ocampo, a small town, from sixteen to twenty deaths were occurring daily, and the people finally abandoned the place. vessels from Chili, Uruguay, Peru or the Argentine Republic are allowed to enter Nicaragua, Costa Rica or Honduras ports. Valuable Discovery. PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—Dr. T. N. Mc-Laughlin, physician-in-chief of the Philadelphia Hospital, reports marvelous success in treating consumptive patients ac-cording to the formula of a French physi-cian. Patients in the last stages of the disease have been given rectal injections of carbonic acid gas, specially prepared, and are daily gaining flesh, strength and courage. Their night-sweats and pains have vanished, and their appetites have returned. Dr. McLaughlin believes that at last a cure for consumption has been found. Must Pay if They Ride.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 19.—About for-ty members of the House and Senate, residents of Southern Illinois, have received letters from the management of the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad Company requesting the return of annual passes heretofore issued. The members were moreover notified that passes would not be honored by conductors after April 1. law undoubtedly precipitated this move Election Law for Wisconsin Madison, Wis., March 18.—The Assembly yesterday passed the bill to regulate elections in cities of 50,000 or more inhabitants. The bill prohibits soliciting votes, keeps crowds 100 feet from polls, limits 400 voters to a precinct, and allows only one voter at a time in the room where the ballots are deposited.

Domestic Tragedy in Chicago CHICAGO, March 19 .- In a laundry at No. 117 Franklin street a Hungarian named Hofnosky shot his wife and himself through the head. Hofnosky is dead and she is likely to die. No cause is known for the commission of the deed.

Fatal Fire in Michigan. FLINT, Mich., March 19.—A fire in the Lovely Block Thursday night gutted two stores. Peter Burrell, an aged colored man, was suffected, and his daughter was probably fatally injured by leaping to the sidewalk.

For Circuit Judge-22d Circuit. EDWARD D. KINNE.

DETROIT TRIBUNE: There are now nearly twenty little Grover Clevelands in this county. Some parents never did like children.

Our honored fellow-citizen, Judge Cooley, has received another testimonial of his worth and character, and the high esteem and confidence in which he is universally held, by his appointment on the interstate commerce commission, with the probability that he will be made president of the commission.

FROM all quarters we hear only complimentary things said of our candidate for circuit judge. Recently one of the prominent politicians of the county said of him: "If I had the appointing power I do not know of a man I could select who possesses so many good qualifications for the office as Mr. Kinne." The report that Mr. Kinne has not consented to allow his name to be used is untrue. He is in the field, and desires his friends to vote for him at the polls.

Those who favor the prohibitory amendment are making a gallant fight in this city. The opera house was packed to its utmost capacity the last two Saturday evenings, to listen to the convincing arguments of Finch and Bain, and on Sunday, Hon. E. B. Fairfield, of Manistee, made the strongest plea in behalf of the amendment, yet heard in this city, at two crowded houses, in the Congregational church in the afternoon and the Presbyterian church in the evening. He is one of the most able and candid speakers on the stage and no one will deny that he has the good of his fellow men at heart.

Only twelve days more remain before the important election of this spring will take place. Two justices of the supreme court, two regents of the University, circuit court judges, and township and city officers are to be elected. Besides the election of these officers the voters will be called upon to express their opinion upon three amendments to the state constitution, relative to salaries, circuit courts and prohibition, the latter of which is especially important. Upon this question every voter in the state should cast his ballot so that the sentiment of the state may be well known, and there can be no mistake as to the will of the people in regard to it.

The republican party of Michigan, for its invaluable services to the state and nation for the past quarter of a century, and for its strict adherence and practice of the grand principles that are the basis of this government, deserves a continuance in power, and will certainly have it if every voter of the party does his duty. It would be a serious calamity to the best interests of the state to surrender its management at this time into the hands of those who have always stood in opposition to the statesman-like policy of the party that has brought it to its present enviable position. We predict a great republican victory this spring, that shall give encouragement for the combat of 1888 and be the first great step towards the certain victory in our next national election. The ticket presented by the republicans is an exceptionally good one. Its nominees are men of ability and strict integrity of character, and no better choice of men for the positions could be made. Republicans, do your duty, as the hour demands, and a proud victory for the right will be the result.

"THE farmer, unfortunately for himself, is not always as shrewd as he is industri-ous, and most of the time when he makes a slash at the city's face he incontinently cuts off his own nose. That is what he is certainly doing when he attempts to abolish brewing and distilling."—Evening News, March 23, 1887.

If there is any more forcible argument to induce the farmer to drink liquor than this from the News, we hope it will never be discovered; and if the News believes that the statement of its utterance is the | will not appear Saturday.

truth, we must believe it has become intoxicated by the breath of the liquor sellers and bummers who gather about it to applaud, and praise its grand efforts for the establishment of the grog-shop. The News may not have received any benefit from the large fund that is said to have been reised by the liquor dealers with which to fight for their cause, but it talks just as we should expect a paper would that wanted some of it very bad.

AS OTRERS SEE HIM.

Monroe Commercial: Hon. Edward D. Kinne, of Ann Arbor, who was nominated last week by the republicans of this judicial circuit, as their candidate for circuit judge, is one of the best selections that could have been made. Mr. Kinne has had some twenty years of active law practice, has been acareful student, and is, a fair minded, honest, able, thoroughly competent and clean cut man, of a judicial turn of mind, and possesses just the qualities that go to make up the able, just and righteous judge. That he is popular at home, and possesses the good opinion and confidence of his fellow citizens without regard to party, is shown by the fact of his having been elected mayor of his own city, which usually gives a large democratic majority, and also serving one term in the Michigan legislature.

Mr. Kinne is in every way entitled to and should receive the full republican vote of Monroe county.

Dundee Reporter: We learn that Hon. E. D. Kinne has finally been persuaded to accept the republican nomination for circuit judge for this judicial circuit, deeming such acceptance to be in accordance with the wishes and demands of his party friends in both counties comprising the circuit. This action of his will be hailed with satisfaction throughout the circuit, as it insures the election of an able and first class judge, whichever of the candidates may receive the majority of votes.
Mr. Kinne is an attorney with eminent abilities, and is generally regarded as the leading member of the Washtenaw county bar, with experience of an extensive practice in all courts of the state, and his services are frequently sought for in various portions of the state. Is in the prime of life, a graduate of the University and enjoys a great amount of popularity among his fellow citizens of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw county. For two years was mayor of Ann Arbor, has also been recorder, city attorney, and held other official positions. Was a representative in state legislature session of 1881-2, and acquired reputation of being a leading member of that body. As a candidate for circuit judge he will make a strong run, and should he be elected will make an official who will rank among the best judges of the state.

An lowa Baptist Minister Talks About Olney Hall.

I have just read in your paper the article headed "Olney Hall at Ann Arbor." I am not in favor of discouraging the movement for an Olney professorship at Kalamazoo college. As a Baptist and a native of Michigan, I say "Amen" to that project. But not only as a Baptist, and a Michigan man, but also as an alumnus of U. of M., who feels the great need of a christian development of character among students at a state institution, and of a religious week-day home for our Baptist students at Ann Arbor, I desire also to sound a hearty "Amen" to the idea of an Olney Hall. For the bible teacher, I should desire to see a man in the position, who is as intensely spiritual as a Moody, and who shall teach, rather than cold theology, the living practical truths of the bible and the best methods of using them in christian work.

There are among the alumni of Michigan University a great many successful Baptists scattered all over America, and I am confident a call for such a hall would meet a hearty response from them. The Baptists of the United States would join in this movement, because of their interest in the University, and because of the large place the memory of our beloved professor holds in their hearts.

Let us have the chair at Kalamazoo and that first. It was the great desire of Prof. Olney to endow such a chair. But why not have the other as well? It may be too early to move in the matter but it is not too early to think and talk about it. Sincerely Yours,

FRED. E. BRITTEN. Pella, Iowa, Feb. 21, 1887.

Gilmore's Band.

To the Editor: New York, March 18, 1887. I noticed by this morning's paper that Pat Gilmore's band is due in Ann Arbor, April 5th, ISS7. If your readers want to erjoy a treat, by all means attend. Some years ago Gilmore took, his entire band to years ago Gilmore took his entire band to Europe, i. e., through England, France and Germany, and took those councries by storm. Should Paddy consent, get him to play his own compositions, "Columbia," "The Turkish Patrol," and "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan, and the selection of popular melodies. You will have a rish musical treat. The Twenty-second N. Y. S. N. G. served in the last war, and is one of our bon-ton organizations, and Padone of our bon-ton organizations, and Paddy leads the band. Their new armory will surpass that of any regiment. By all means hear Gilmore, even if you have to put up" your watch to do so. NEMO.

LITERARY NOTES.

The March Pansy opens with a capital story for boys, written by Pansy herself, followed by another for girls, "Fretting Lettie," by Mary E. Matheney, of Tarsus, Asia Minor. The leading stories, by Mrs. G. R. Alden (Pansy) and Margaret Sidney, possess unusual interest, while the sketch of remarkable women (Queen Viotoria) with portrait and picture of the toria) with portrait and picture of the queen's home in the Scottish Highlands, the poem for recitation combining counsel with history, the shorter stories, sketches and verse, make up a number not to be excelled in reading for boys and girls, as well as the entire family. During this time I was continued and the properties and the properties and continued the statement of the properties and the properties are properties and the properties and the properties are properties are properties and the properties are properties are properties and the properties are properties and the properties are properties are properties are properties and the properties are properties are properties are properties and the properties are properties are properties are properties and the properties are properties are properties are properties and the properties are pr remedies all to no purpose, and continued to grow worse. My attention being called to Athlophoros I procured a bottle. I took five doses then slept easily till eight o'clock A. M. I got up and dressed myself and walked out without a cane. I was astonished the result, could hardly realize that it had produced such an effect. I am getting to be an old man (72). I don't suppose it will make me a young man, but will help the lamp of life to burn down calmly. SAMUEL BARSTOW.

I have derived more benefit from Athlophoros than any other medicine I have ever taken. I have been troubled with inflammatory rheumatism for about ten years, at times I was helpless, have tried all the medicine I could hear of but found no cure, until I got a bottle of Athlophoros. An Open Letter to Rev. W. H. Ryder.

REV. AND DEAR BROTHER: An article over your name containing five questions and a request that "some advocate of the proposed amendment to the constitution answer them," has been placed on my table and I have been asked to answer your questions.

As you ask for a "candid" answer it is but fair to suppose that "the temperance men," who are in the dark, are seeking light through these openings, and not controversy, and are candid in asking

I can only account for the fact that I am asked to give a few answers, on the ground that I am so familiar with the Iowa campaign. These and kindred questions appeared throughout the Iowa campaigns, and while perhaps they perplexed in a greater or less degree some "candid temperance men," they were chiefly used by high license men and liquor dealers as objections to constitutional prohibition.

If these interrogatories had not been promulgated from a source so high, and presumably in the fullest sympathy with any measure which in the light of reason, experience and testimony, is best calculated to "utterly annihilate the liquor business," (Public Leader), the public might think that they are still used in the interest of high license; "But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation (not regulation), though we thus speak."

Question I. "Will not our present constitution support as strict a prohibi-tory statute as could be based upon the amended constitution?"

Ans. No doubt it would sustain as stringent prohibitory statutes as any legislative body elected on such an issue could enact. The United States supreme court has repeatedly and recently (see Iowa) decided that police and nuisance laws and whatever they necessarily involve, are not antagonistic to the spirit of constitutional law, state or national.

Question 2. "If the present legislature will not pass a prohibitory statute now, what reason is there to suppose they will after April 4th, if the amend-ment carries?"

Ans. A preceding legislature enacted a tax law, which in effect conferred cer-tain informal chartered rights, con-ditionally upon all saloon keepers. Whether that body fairly represented the sentiments and wishes of the majority of voters (saying nothing of the non-voting classes) of this common-wealth, in that act, or whether that act now represents such majority is a matter of considerable doubt and controversy, indeed the rapidly changing sentiments everywhere manifest, and the increasing favor which constitutional prohibition is receiving in the nation, and the 25,000 prohibition votes cast for a new and prohibitory political party last fall, seem to challenge the policy of our present high license enactments.

The present legislature, which was not elected on an amendment issue would hardly presume to make so radical a change as this "proposed amendment" would do, by passing prohibitory statutes of an equivalent nature, without the backing of a majority of the citizens.

How can they know what the "dear people" want until a direct vote is taken on the matter in issue.

Having of their own accord asked the people for a speedy decision, as to what changes they want in matters pertaining to liquor legislation, it is reasonable and lair to presume that they are and will be honorable and will enact suitable laws, well-calculated to enforce the decisions and declaration of the people.

Again, the proposed amendment declares that laws, necessary to enforce it, shall be enacted upon its passage. I anderstand that several such bills are now pending the decisive vote of April 4.h. It is hardly to be supposed that this legislature will violate the constitutional requirements in this respect.

Ques. 3. "If we cannot elect a legislature committed to such a statute now, why can we hope to elect such a legisla-ture after adopting the amendment?" Ans. (A.) In this you assume that such a legislature could not now be elected. This you do not know and I scarcely need ask you to differentiate between assumption and knowledge. (B.) Under the usual methods of constructing a legislative body, it is very difficult to divest the ballot of partisan design so as to obtain a fair expression of the people touching the presence of the saloon, but thousands of people can, and will vote for the amendment it as it is offered now, who could not sufficiently free themselves from the influence of partisan politics and candidates to vote any other plan. This plan seems to carry wherever urrectly against the rum interests on tried. (C.) Should a majority of the citizens vote for the amendment, it is but fair to presume that they will vote so as to construct a legislature pledged to enact laws sufficient to enforce it whenever the issue arises.

Every state which has carried the amendment in these latter days has been able to do so, and the enforcement party grows stronger yearly.—See latest from Rhode Island, Iowa, Kansas, Georgia and others,

After more than twenty-five years of trial of statutory prohibition, Maine by 47,000 majority, has recently put prohibition into her constitution to stay.

The people who voted on the amendin Iowa were sufficient proud to elect subsequent legislatures pledged to enact laws sufficient to pronibit, and supreme courts to give unbiased indicial decisions.

Ques. 4. "If we adopt the amendment, and thus annul all our present restrictive laws, and the legislature fails to give us a workable prohibitory statute, will we not be worse off than we are now? Ans. Perhaps so if it were possible. We however, should not sell any more rum than we now do. I have never heard of the failure of any man who had "spot cash" to obtain all he wanted and I doubt if men will all at once swell out and greatly enlarge their capacities. I have never heard of an instance of any dealer being so restrained by our tax law, as not to sell all he could find purchasers for. And, indeed, the liquor dealers have told us over and over again (when we were asking asmall tax only) that "where rum is sold without restraint or taxation many of the incentives to drinking do not exist, and consequently there is less drinking, drunkenness, poverty and crime under free rum than under high license."

The New York liquor dealers in a recent convention, called to oppose Dr. Crosby's high license bill, said: "Whereas the passage of such a law, instead of diminishing the number of saloons, would increase the present number, since it would attract to illicit and secret selling, the worst class in every neighborhood, and the increased revenue derived from those who would be able to pay the general fee of $1,000 would not be sufficient to detect and prosecute the lawless seller.

Resolved, That in the interest of public morality and true temperance we protest against the high license bill." Again, so far as the present amount of liquor sold and drank, the number of children and drunkards admitted to the saloons generally, and the amount of idleness, poverty and crime produced by the business, are concerned, I do not see how we could "be any worse

Indeed the liquor dealers think we would be better off.

We should probably lose our present revenue through the saloon, but who wants to exchange his boy for tax money in the liquor marts. All saloon revenue is collected from the people by the saloon-keepers, it is not brought into the state by him, nor dug out of the earth by his hands.

Question 5. "Is it wise or right for the temperance men of the state so to the temperance men of the state so to bind themselves that they must submit to "free rum" until they can secure and enforce absolute prohibition?"

Ans. No man claims for a prohibi-tory amendment that it will of itself secure absolute prohibition of the use

We claim that it will prohibit public

We claim that it will prohibit public places of selling, debauchment and crime as effectively as a gatling gun will prohibit riotous processions and mobs. God hasnever yet secured the absolute prohibition of any evil on earth, but notwithstanding this, He still insists on prohibitory laws, with severe penalties attached, and while some are seeking their repeal, and others are declaring them unconstitutional, and declaring them unconstitutional, and still others are violating them, God moves on undisturbed, maintaining that it is both wise and right to bind himself and the earth to just such a system, submitting as He does, and we do, toomany infractions of the same. God declares, I believe, that He will yet on the part of countless numbers, secure the absolute prohibition of evil, and on the part of the disobedient He will secure the enaction of the penalties of the P. Laws which say "thou shalt not," and thus secure their enforcement.

I see no real or imaginary hindrance in these suppositions which should cause any man for a moment to hesitate or waver, if he has at heartthe determination to 'do with his might" whatever his hands find to do in the present crisis.

It is enough for me that the liquor dealers don't want the amendment and have raised the flag of distress.

Let us push on to victory with such means as are at hand.

The eyes of many rum-cursed states are hopefully looking to Michigan. I am an anti-saloon republican.

March 22nd, 1887. Taxpayers Attention!

ANN ARBOR, Mar. 9, '87.

ME. EDITOR: In high license Illinois the people pay $7.00 per capits per annum taxes; in prohibition Iowa, less than 30 cents; in prohibition Kansas, 20 cents; in prohibition Maine, 10 cents; in prohibition Vermont, 10 cents. These latter states know a good thing and keep it. Maine has had prohibition over 30 years, sentatives in congress, presidents of co! leges, and other prominent mer, that it is a success, and her people could not be inand it is the universal testimony of her governors, United States senators, repreduced to repeal it. The Kansas prohibition amendment went into effect in 1881, and Kansas today would vote down a proposition to repeal it by from 70,000 to 100,000 majority. As an illustration of the effect of the prohibition laws in Kansas, there was a monthly celebration July 4th, of last year, at Topeka, the capitol, with a population of 30,000. Thousands of strangers were there, and a big circus was running; and the next morning there were only two drunks before the courts. They said in the license days of Kansas that prohibition would injure the property of the state so that the Germans would not come to it. What are the facts? assessed value of the state was then $170, 000,000, now it is $500,000,000, and it has gained 500,000 in population. Ann Arbor, the greatest literary center of the west, should ponder these things. She has started out to grow, to advertise her educational advantages, and the biggest kind of an advertisement would be to publish to the world that she has no saloons to corrupt the youth. Parents hesitate to move here or send their children The writer hears this on every Taxpayers should arise and work heart ily to carry the amendment, and rid Ann Arbor of the greatest hindrance to her prosperity. TANPAYER.

It has been oft and pertinently remarked that the only reason a hotel clerk has for taking a summer vacation is for the sole purpose of getting his name in the paper, but we are led to believe, from personal observation, that Charles Woodard," the "genial" and ever courteous clerk at the Cook house, was inspired by a higher motive (than to get his name in the paper) in shaving his whiskers off, last Tuesday.

The superintendents of poor, of Lenawee county, have commenced a suit in a justice court, at Manchester, against the superintendents of poor of Washtenaw county, to recover money they have expended to sustain a woman alleged to belong to Washtenaw county. woman in question was sent from this city to Adrian about two years ago, at the request of her daughter, who lived there, saying that she would care for her. The case will be tried in the above court on April 28 h.

A nice question of law has been raised in the Wastenaw circuit court which will be watched with a good deal of interest. In October, 1879, William H. Calkins, of Chelsea, died, willing his property to his respective heirs, and named James Taylor as trustee. The will provided that a house and lot, which was named, be given to Mrs. Alice Billings, one of the heirs, and that the said trustee keep it in good repair and insured. On the 19th day of January, 1887, the insurance policy on said building expired and was not renewed. On the 24th day of the same month the house caught fire and burned to the ground, entailing a loss of about $1,200. Mrs. Billings now comes into court and prays that the trustee rebuild the house at the expense of the estate.

It seems that at least apart of our people do not comprehend the real value to the community generally, of having a fruit evaporating, canning and jelly estab-lishment stand in this city. In the first place the projectors of this enterprise agree to build the factory and stock it with all the machinery necessary to run it, before they ask for the bonus from the communiwill be opened which will be permanent. ready sale at market prices; or, if the producer prefers, he can have his fruit evaporated, put into jellies or canned for him at reasonable rates, or he can have it done on shares. In the third place the canning department will open up a large field of profit for the fruit and vegetable raisers. Small producers can derive quite a litt'e income from their labors, and all this will tend to give new life to the merchantile interests of our city, and our business men should contribute freely to establish this worthy industry. If Adrian and other places can make a success of the business, why not Ann Arbor? Mr. Corbin, of Adrian, built a factory some years since, and has now over $30,000 invested in the same. One firm in Rochester, N. Y., first commenced work in a kitchen. and now a large factory employs from 600 to 800 hands and is doing an immense business. Now, Ann Arbor can have a boom in this line if the fruit growers and business men will only contribute a small sum to establish a plant. If only about $350 more are subscribed, the necessary capital will be forthcoming to perfect the work. Let it be done at once, and we will have a factory with all its machinery in working order, ready for business.

It seems too bad to see fine goods sacrificed as they are doing at the great bankrupt sale of Hardware, on Main-st, but the strong hand of the law knows no sympathy, and the goods must go to make settlement.
