ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1887.

WHOLE NO. 650.

UNIVERSITY MATTERS.

The pharmacy department will close June 17.

Five games of base ball were played Saturday.

The annual "swing over" occurred Tuesday morning.

The pharmanics will have their final examination this week.

Prof. Walter inspected the high school, at St. Clair, last Wednesday.

The faculty have decided not to dismiss any of the classes until the 23d.

Nearly 4,500 invitations have been issued for the coming celebration.

The Delta Sigs have leased the Franklin house, on Thayer-st, for next year.

Prof. G. S. Morse attended the reunion of alumni at Battle Creek, last Friday.

The City mills were tested, Saturday night, by the senior mechanical engineers.

Bob Burnett, '85, lately with the Cleveland Plaindealer, is now on the staff of the New York Sun.

Prof. Beman inspected the Caro schools, last Friday, with a view to admittance to the University grade.

M. E. McEaney, '87, has been invited to deliver the Fourth of July oration at his home in Manchester, Iowa.

E. L. Von Suessmich, law, '88, is the lucky possessor of a lottery ticket which recently drew $200, so he tells his friends.

The Phi Delta Phi's and the first year men crossed bats on the fair grounds Saturday. The former won, the score standing 31 to 11.

The Glee club are rehearsing two evenings of each week. They will probably give an open air concert during commencement week.

Willis R. Roberts, lit '77, and president of his class, expects to attend the reunion of his class in this city during commencement week.

The Engineering Society will hold a meeting Friday evening, June 10. Papers will be read by F. B. Pelham, J. A. Sinclair and B. B. Brown.

Gibson photographed the senior laws, Monday, on the steps of the law building, a small girl in the center of the group posed as their mascot.

John Brown, Gladding, Whitney and Babcock, laws, '87, went to Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday, for examination for admittance to the Ohio bar.

H. L. Barie, '87, and Chas. Mann, of this city, have bought the drug stock of Mr. Hoggues, 20 Monroe-ave, Detroit, and took charge of the same June 1st.

DeHaven and Malley, the contestants in the heavy weight wrestling, finished Saturday afternoon, on the fair grounds. DeHaven easily won the match.

At a game of base ball on the fair grounds Saturday forenoon between the Nu Sigma Nu's and the Zeta Psi's the former won, the score standing 32 to 20.

The committee in charge of sending out invitations for the semi-centennial celebration would be pleased to have the post-office address of all former students handed to them.

Chas. W. Noble, class of '46, of Detroit, president of alumni association of the University, was in the city, Monday, making arrangements for the alumni meeting during the semi-centennial celebration.

Mrs. Mary Outwater White, wife of ex-president Andrew White, of Cornell university, fell dead after leaving the breakfast room Wednesday, of paralysis of the heart. She was 48 years old.

The Dramatic club are rehearsing the "Ladies Battle" with a view to presenting it Monday evening of commencement week. In addition to this they are practicing a farce entitled "Which shall she wed?"

The Argonaut association will hold a meeting at ten o'clock, room A, next Saturday. Important business will be transacted and every person who is interested in the Argonaut or in college journalism should be present.

The Alpha Nu society elected the following officers Saturday night: President, E. Hubbard; vice-president, H. W. Fairbanks; secretary, M. W. Crispin; senior sibil editor, J. H. Powell; critic, J. M. McBride; librarian, P. L. Bolton.

The moot congress met last Friday, for the last time this year. A speaker and a clerk were elected for the first term of next year. The surplus in the treasury, about $7.00, were spent at Hangsterfer's in the evening on "internal" improvements.

The Central Alumni Association of Michigan University held its second annual banquet at Battle Creek, Friday night. The attendance was large, including several members of the faculty. Previous to the banquet a reception was given by ex-Regent, George Willard.

Chas. C. Stevenson, law, '85, of Boise City, Idaho, is secretary of the territorial democratic central committee, his father being Governor of Idaho. He is also historian of the society of Idaho pioneers and is at present engaged in preparing for that society a history of Idaho Territory.

The portrait of Prof. George P. Williams, now to be found in the President's office, was painted by Mr. Revenagh, of Jackson, and lately presented by that gentleman to the University. A frame valued at fifty dollars is on the way from Chicago, and as soon as it arrives the picture will be mounted and hung in the art gallery.

The Argonaut proposes to publish, in one of the last numbers of this year, a complete collection of University of Michigan songs. Any one who is acquainted with any old college song, which the University can claim as its own, will do a favor by sending it to them, as it is desired to make the collection as complete as possible.

A game of base ball will be played on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon, at three p. m., standard time, between the Agricultural College nine and the University nine. As these clubs are evenly matched a closely contested game is expected.

The Alpha Nu presents the following interesting programme for Saturday evening, June 11: Declamation, J. W. Mathews; select reading, E. A. Thomas; story, Clyde Sloan; debate, "Resolved, that foreign students should not be compelled to pay a higher matriculation fee than at present"; F. L. Davis has the affirmative and W. Crispin the negative.

A very interesting game of base ball was played on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon, between the Universities and the Hiawathas of Detroit. Though the home team was defeated they demonstrated the fact that they can play base ball, by the large number of good plays made by different members of the club. The score stood 11 to 10 in favor of the Hiawathas.

The result of the election of Adelphi Literary society officers, on Saturday evening was as follows: President, Miss Willoughby; vice-president, W. A. Boyle; secretary, H. Remington; treasurer, T. C. Severance. The election of a lady to the presidency of the Adelphi is a very noticeable innovation, a thing never heard of before in the history of the literary societies in the University—and quite in keeping with the spirit of co-education. The society seems to be organized on a working basis, for at the last meeting five members were expelled for lack of interest and non-attendance.

The recent lecture delivered by Dr. Maclean to his class in surgery has been the subject of much discussion by the University authorities and the medical faculties. His suggestions were to provide for a four years' course in the medical department, two years to be spent here in theoretical work and the other two years at Detroit in clinical work, making the school there a part of the University. This plan was supported by him as it would give the students far better clinical advantages. His plan was supported by some of the faculty, and condemned by others. To ascertain what the feeling is on the subject, interviews have been had with the authorities which found them as follows: President Angell, Secretary Wade, Drs. Palmer, Vaughan, Stowell, Dunster, Martin, Obetz, McLachlan and Wood oppose the plan. Dr. Frothingham alone supports it.

On Tuesday last F. W. Gordon was united in holy matrimony to a most beautiful "silk hat." The match having been made by some of the boarders at Mrs. Sears, the bride being presented by them in appreciation of his friendship. Carter Jones, lit, officiated, issuing the marriage license, presented the bride after a few well chosen and appropriate remarks and finished by congratulating the much astonished groom. Mr. Beardsley, medic, '88, acted as usher, bringing Mr. Gordon into the midst of a circle of friends immediately after supper who had gathered to witness the ceremony. Mr. Gordon, though overcome with surprise and emotion, responded in a few brief, yet appreciative remarks, expressing his pleasure for this occasion and high regard for those who so kindly appreciated his friendship.

The Students' Christian Association have issued a hand-book of the University, which is intended as a guide book to students entering the University. It is one of the best books of the kind ever issued by any students' organization. The enterprise of the association in compiling such a book, so full of valuable information to the new beginner, is certainly to be commended. It presents, in a concise form, all the general information and practical knowledge that a student will pick up in a four year's course. It contains a map of Ann Arbor, showing the location of public buildings, and the different buildings of the University, and a chapter entitled "directions for new students," giving practical hints and suggestions, and answering, before hand, all the questions that naturally arise to a student entering the University. Also a chapter on the Christian Association, religious statistics of the University, the nature of the work of the association, and a list of its meetings. There is also a chapter upon the University itself, containing a brief historical sketch of the institution and of the buildings, and catalogue of the various literary and scientific societies, their time of meeting and the nature of the work. The whole is prefaced by a list of officers of S. C. A., the Bulletin editors, and trustees of the association, and a preface setting forth the purpose of the book. It was printed at THE REGISTER office.

High School Notes.

The senior tax is due, and the treasurer wish all to attend to it.

All pupils are requested not to drop any study on the review if it is possible to retain it.

Those taking part in graduating exercises are requested to meet Mrs. Garrigue this week.

Those expecting to go to the lake, class-day, are requested to give their names at once to Mr. Cole.

Boys are requested not to run in and out of the halls for water during classes. Those caught in the act are liable to suspension.

The second year class expect to go on a picnic to Whitmore lake on the 18th of this month. A large number will probably go and a very pleasant time is anticipated.

The Detroit high school base ball nine came to this place on Saturday last, and were beaten by the Ann Arbor high school team by a score of 6 to 8. The game was well played by both sides, and the home team showed remarkable skill in the art. The boys are now trying to get another game with them, to be played in Detroit sometime in the near future.

WASHTENAW POMOLGY.

The monthly meeting last Saturday was presided over by Mr. Baldwin. Committee on transportation reported that Professor Nichols had left that day for Detroit, to see the railroad authorities. The committee on fruit preserving factory are still in arrears. They expect to complete their work this week and report next Saturday afternoon, at an adjourned meeting of the society.

The price for berry picking was fixed at 1 1/2 cents per quart, and Mr. Ganzhorn was instructed to so inform the fruit growers who were not present.

Mr. Baldwin stated that some plum trees, like the Blackman, are non-productive unless grafted with other varieties. The resolutions passed at the fruit growers convention, at Dover, Delaware, eastern Maryland and New Jersey, aiming at a "Fruit Exchange," for the better distribution and marketing of the fruit crop, were read by E. Baur. Among other important resolutions which this society gave expression to was their unwillingness to donate their peach baskets to the commission merchants. Five cents for each basket not returned is asked; all growers are advised not to ship to any commission merchant or dealer who will not pay for cost of baskets. A motion by J. C. Hubner, to establish a black list of dealers, who wrong the producer, was unanimously adopted. J. T. Bell & Co., of East Saginaw, lead the van. If any commission merchant or dealer acts dishonorably, his name is to be sent to the secretary, the complainant stating the case over his signature.

The insect question was thoroughly discussed by all present, each giving his experience. Those fruit growers who absent themselves from the meetings, allowing a few to carry the burden of the difficult and practical questions, like transportation and fruit preserving factory, should be on hand, anyway when this noxious insect question is discussed. If one man neglects his duty in this respect he does it at the expense of his neighbor who does his full duty.

President T. T. Lyon, "likens those who are ever ready to draw general benefits from organized work, but fail to contribute, to the horse that hangs back, shirking work, but never fails at the feed trough."

Mrs. Prof. J. B. Davis exhibited very large and fine specimens of lemons from a six-year old tree from the bud. E. Baur exhibited raspberry syrup and shrub, adapted to the sick and convalescent, a cooling, refreshing and healthy beverage without any alcohol, used with two-thirds water, also fine for culinary purposes.

Palmer & Son, exhibited one-fourth bushel baskets for shipping peaches, pears and grapes.

The society adjourned to meet next Saturday to complete some important business.

An exhibit of strawberries will also be a principal feature of the meeting.

Fruit growers especially, and the public in general, are cordially invited.

E. BAUR, Cor. Sec.

Some of Those who will attend the Semi-Centennial Celebration.

Replies to the invitations sent out to the different colleges and universities to send delegates to the semi-Centennial celebration are coming in fast. President Angell is compiling a list of these as fast as they are received. The following is the list to date of those in this country.

Olivet, by the Rev. J. Estabrook; university of Pennsylvania, by Provost Wm. Peppin, M. D., Harvard, by Prof. George Lincoln Goodale; Adrian, by Prof. G. B. McElroy, D. D.; Normal school, by Prof. D. Putnam; Hillsdale, by President G. F. Mosher; Kalamazoo, by the Rev. Kendall Brooks, D. D.; Union, by Prof. C. C. Brown; university of Rochester, by President Anderson; Princeton, by the Rev. J. O. Murray, D. D.; Cornell, by President A. D. White and President C. K. Adams; university of Nebraska, by Prof. Lucius A. Sherman, alternate, Prof. August H. Edgren, as also Chancellor Manatt; university of Iowa, by President C. E. Schaeffer; university of Wisconsin, by Prof. J. C. Freeman; university of Illinois, by Regent H. S. Peabody; Ohio state university, by President Scott; Northwestern university, by Prof. A. V. E. Young; Oberlin, by Prof. James Monroe; Johns Hopkins university, by President Gillman; university of Texas, by Prof. Alex. McFarlane; university of Minnesota, by President C. Northrop; university of Indiana, by Prof. R. G. Boone; Williams college, by Prof. John H. Hewitt; Amherst, by the Rev. E. P. Goodwin, D. D.

Replies have also been received from the following European universities: Edinburgh, Oxford, Heidelberg, Munich, Göttingen, Leyden, Bologna, Rome, Turin, Madrid, Saragossa and Copenhagen.

Cocker League.

Next Monday evening, June 13, will be the last Cocker League entertainment for the year. Prof. Renwick and his students will give the cantata "Summer" which will take a half hour, and the rest of the evening will be devoted to eating ice-cream and cake, and a general social. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged and the ice cream and cake will be served free to all. A general good time is expected. Excellent music, delicious ice-cream and cake and the most social social, all for ten cents. All cordially invited.

A. L. Noble and clerks are very busy these days furnishing class ties and class cakes to the different classes.

LAWS NOT TO BE ENFORCED.

The Fuel Gas Company get their Charter—Amendment to City Charter.

The council met in extra session Wednesday evening and indulged in a regular pow-wow until after midnight. The first thing brought up was the matter of enforcing the Sunday law. The mayor stated very frankly his position in regard to the arrest of Obriis. Millman, for violating the liquor law, noted in another column by a correspondent. He stated that Millman had come to him as soon as he got the crowd out of his saloon and represented to him that the crowd were drunk and that he could not get them out any sooner but that he had sold them no liquor after the hour for closing, and that under those representations he thought it best to withhold the warrant until he was violating the law again. A motion to sustain the mayor in his action was put and carried. The council then began wrangling, and the scene which followed is beyond description.

The result of it was that the arrests of Fred Brown and Welch & Gibney, which were made yesterday, for violation of the liquor law are not to be presented, if they will make a promise to conduct their business in accordance with the laws in the future. The suit against Shippacasse, Burleson and Rosey, are to be discontinued and now all a person has to do when arrested for violating the Sunday law or liquor law is to ask forgiveness and all will be forgotten.

The Washtenaw Fuel Gas company was granted the right to bore for gas and lay pipes in the city for a period of thirty years. The franchise does not bar any other company from getting the same privilege and in all other respects it is similar to any franchise granted a like company.

The matter of raising the salary of city officers came up and received considerable discussion. The following amendment to the city charter, was agreed upon and the city attorney instructed to draw up the paper, which will be sent to the legislature for its approval: The terms of the mayor and recorder is fixed for a period of two years each, to be elected alternately each spring. The mayor is to receive a salary of $300 per year, and the recorder, who is made clerk of all committees, $500 year. The mayor is not to have a vote except in cases of a tie and is given the veto power, and the recorder is not to have a vote on any question. The salary of city attorney is fixed at $300 per year and the alderman each $50.

Parade of the Wild West Show.

On the morning of Friday, June 10th about 11 o'clock, the combined Wild West and Great Forepaugh shows will make a public parade. This Wild West detachment will move in the following order:

Cowboy Band, Mounted.
Pawnee Indians on Horseback.
Troupe of Mexicans with Mules.
Squaws, Papooses, etc.
Emigrant train drawn by Oxen.
Comanche Indians.
Troupe of Cowboys.

The old Deadwood Coach drawn by Six Horses.

Sharpshooters and Prairie Girls.
Indian Chiefs.
Captain Bogardus and Scouts.
Wild Buffalo and Elk.

Then follow all the great features of the circus, such as the performing horses, ponies and a long line of elegant cages, tableaux cars and twenty-five ponderous elephants, half a hundred ladies and gentlemen costumed and mounted upon handsome horses, all the racing chariots, wild animals, loose, opened dens of savage beasts, allegorical chariots, and other special attractions. The parade will be enlivened with three full bands of music.

We notice in places East, where the show has appeared, all the school children have been allowed an extra hour's recess to see this pageant.

Wm. W. Douglas & Co., are selling quantities of those twenty-five cent ties. They are beautiful.

THE CITY'S GUARDIANS.

Three Hours Devoted to General Routine Business—No Action taken in Regard to Sunday Closing.

The council met Monday evening and for three mortal hours the aldermen labored hard and accomplished nothing outside of the general routine business.

The matter of Sunday closing, which every body hoped would be settled at this meeting, was passed over until another meeting to be held Wednesday evening. Another matter of great importance to the people of Ann Arbor, the boring for natural gas, which is expected to boom the city, received a set back. The incorporators of the company presented a request to have the council pass an ordinance giving them the right to lay pipes if they should strike gas, oil or mineral water. It was promptly deferred.

Just why these two important matters should be deferred is not potent to any one but the aldermen themselves.

A communication signed by Wm. Fletcher and C. A. Edwards was read stating that they and six others had organized a hose company known as the "Defiance Hose Co.," and asked the council to furnish and equip them with a hose cart. The matter was referred to the fire department committee.

The members of the Bethlehem church presented a communication complaining that engines on the T. & A. were continually kept whistling on Sunday when they were holding divine services, and asked that steps be taken to avert the nuisance. It was referred to the city marshal.

The resignation of Paul Schall as constable of the second ward was presented and accepted.

The finance committee reported the following amounts allowed from the several funds during the month of May:

First ward	$163.71
Second "	121.32
Third "	50.32
Fourth "	263.32
Fifth "	103.31
Sixth "	94.02
General street fund	597.97
City cemetery fund	95.13
Contingent fund	78.73
Total	$2071.23

The report was accepted and orders drawn for the several amounts.

Christian Roth was allowed $369, for building a stone arch gutter across west Third st, near William-st.

On motion of Ald. Allmendinger the salary of the health officer was fixed at $50 per year.

Chief of fire department Sorg recommended that J. Hauser and Fred Stein be transferred from the Steamer Company to the Hook and Ladder company and that the names of Larry Dunn, John Burns, Frank Champion, John Kinney, Wm. Kennedy and Samuel McLaren be added to the company known as the—Hook and Ladder company. Referred to committee on fire department.

The committee on electric lights made a lengthy report, suggesting the changing of locations of some of the lights, discontinuing of some and establishing new ones.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of establishing a drinking fountain on the court house square made the following report: "We propose a stone trough to be furnished by Anton Eisele and placed upon a stone foundation at a cost not to exceed $25, to be placed outside the sidewalk for watering horses. Within the walk a fountain for people, costing about $55, to be furnished by Hutzel & Co. The material to be of bronzed galvanized iron." The report was accepted and adopted.

The committee on receiving bids for lighting the court house tower was granted further time.

The street committee reported in favor of building a bridge over the race on Felch-st at a cost of $200. Referred back to the street committee for further consideration.

Ald. Kearns reported that an agreement had been made with Dr. Herdman, that the city build a wall under his barn recently moved back off the extension of west Washington-st, at a cost of $100, one half to be paid out of the general street fund and one half by the second ward. Accepted and adopted.

The sidewalk committee reported in favor of building several new sidewalks which were ordered built.

Dean & Co. were granted permission to build three oil tanks near the T. & A. depot.

Moved by Ald. Allmendinger, that the marshal notify all saloonkeepers who had not paid their license to pay up at once, and in default thereof he shall commence suit against them.

The city treasurer presented his monthly report showing the amount in his hands on the 31st day of May, as follows:

On hand at last report	$14,259.44
Received	30.00
Disbursements	1,330.33
On hand	12,959.11
First ward	6.32
Second "	5.40
Third "	43.97
Fourth "	107.71
Fifth "	83.01
Sixth "	324.67
Water Works	137.50
City Cemetery	208.32
Dog Tax	100.00
Total	$130.81

The Recorder's report showed the following amounts in the city treasury for the month ending May 31:

Contingent fund	$1099.79
General street	641.32
First ward	1069.93
Second "	1068.23
Third "	1097.71
Fourth "	833.01
Fifth "	324.67
Sixth "	137.50
Water Works	208.32
City Cemetery	100.00
Dog Tax	100.00
Total	$844.58

The general fund is over-drawn $844.58 and the delinquent tax fund $900.30.

The City Marshal's report showed that there were six arrests made during the month of May resulting in five convictions, one still pending.

On motion of Ald. Wines E. B. Gidley was elected a member of the board of health, vice Dr. Sullivan, who failed to qualify within the time prescribed, on account of absence from the city.

Resolved, by Ald. Allmendinger, that the Marshal was instructed to inspect the walks in the city and report the defective ones. Carried.

Resolved, by Ald. Allmendinger that our representative in the legislature be requested to have inserted in the city charter a provision for holding special elections. Carried.

Ald. Swift spoke at considerable length on the meagre salary the members of the council received, bringing some good arguments to bear in favor of paying the members a reasonable compensation for their time spent in looking after the city's interest. The matter is favorably thought of by a good many members of the board and it will probably be brought up again.

John R. Lawrence addressed the council on behalf of the Washenaw Fuel Gas Co., asking that the council pass an ordinance giving them the right to lay pipes in the city, providing they struck oil, gas or mineral water.

On motion of Ald. Allmendinger a committee of three, was appointed to consider the matter and report at a special meeting to be held Wednesday evening. Ald. Wines and Allmendinger and the city attorney were appointed.

John R. Lawrence, attorney for Shippacasee, addressed the council in regard to the enforcement of the Sunday law. Ald. Swift, as usual, was promptly on his feet and again placed himself on record as the advocate of anti-Sunday laws. Ald. Allmendinger earnestly defended the cause of morality, maintaining that some respect should be paid to the day of divine worship. The matter was finally disposed of by a motion being made to adjourn, which carried, to the utter disgust of Ald. Swift who was eloquently proclaiming for more liberties on Sunday.

Fourth Michigan Reunion.

The members of the old Fourth Michigan Infantry have been invited to hold their next reunion at this place, June 22. The regiment was remarkable for the amount of service performed. It was in every important movement of the army of the Potomac, from the first battle of Bull Run in 1861, to Petersburg in 1864, having participated in over fifty battles and skirmishes. It was twice selected from the army to perform an important service. Once as McClellan's army reached the Chickahominy river in front of Richmond, it was the regiment, under the command of Col. D. A. Woodbury, chosen to make the first crossing, by wading the river and attacking the enemy in the face of a deadly fire, at New Bridge, May 24, 1862.

Again, after the battle of Antietam the regiment, under the command of Col. Jonathan W. Childs, was chosen to lead the van of the army across the Potomac river after the rebel army. The task was a perilous one, but they drove the enemy from the heights of Shepherdstown and captured several pieces of artillery.

In both of these instances the regiment and its commander were especially complimented by the commanding general.

The regiment had three colonels killed in battle, and the percentage of killed and wounded men was one of the largest in the service.

Some of the distinguished members of the regiment who are expected to be present might be mentioned as Generals C. C. Doolittle, of Toledo; Geo. Spaulding, of Monroe; J. M. Oliver; Colonels Wm. DuBeld, of Detroit; J. W. Childs, of Washington; C. Luce, of Monroe; M. W. Chapin, O. A. Jones, postdepartment commander from Hillsdale; Geo. L. Maltz, state treasurer; L. H. Salsbury, of Adrian; M. A. Merrifield and others. And some who had brothers in the regiment or were otherwise closely allied with the organization have been invited as has also Ex-Gov. Blair, Congressman T. Tarsney, E. P. Allen and others. Company D was raised in Ann Arbor, called the Barry Guards, and many will remember the enthusiasm shown our citizens when they sent forth this, their first three-years men to the war.

Citizens of Ann Arbor, this is the first and it may be the last opportunity that you will have to meet and congratulate, as an organization, those men upon whom you relied and cheered on in those dark days, to take their chances upon the nation's altar.

There is but a fragment of the regiment left. Can you not afford to give them a reception and banquet?

Welsh post and the common council, have each endorsed the invitation, and local committees have been appointed to make suitable arrangements for the occasion.

From Our Youngest Poet.

For THE REGISTER.

MR. EDITOR: Inclosed you will find a rhyme. If you think it is worth anything you will greatly oblige by publishing. I am twelve years of age, but for the last two or three years I have made up rhymes for games at school and have always liked to write. I had a dear little sister named Carrie, who died when only a little more than one year of age. One night after I had gone to my room I sat down by the window and watched the snowflakes; then I thought of my little sister, and it seemed as if the words of the following rhyme came floating into my thoughts. The next day I wrote them down.

Yours truly,
CLARA E. McMONAGLE.

Baby Carrie.

She came to us
One morning in June;
Our sweet little Carrie,
Like a wild rose in bloom.

We tended and loved her
When good and when cross;
While she played with dolls
Rose, Susie, and Floss.

We loved her as well
As we could love;
But God loved her better
And called her above.

Dear Jesus, he sent
A bright angel to bear
My dear little sister
Away from all care.

One day in August,
We laid her to rest;
Our sweet little Carrie,
Our loved and our best.

A BAD MISTAKE.

Governor Luce Refuses to Sign the Appropriation Bill.

As was predicted by many, Gov. Luce has vetoed the University appropriation bill. June 2d, he returned the bill to the legislature, asking them to reconsider it and take out the $75,000 appropriated for new laboratories. The House very promptly and wisely re-vetoed to reconsider it. Monday evening the Governor sent the following veto to the senate:

Many provisions of the bill which it would have offered me pleasure to approve, yet after a faithful consideration of them I have concluded to withhold my assent. I desire to disclaim any purpose of embarrassing the University. This institution has performed such an important part in our educational history that every citizen of Michigan must feel an honorable pride in its success. In returning the same I am not to be understood as suggesting the following reasons for its rejection:

1. It is unjust to burden the taxpayers of our State to educate foreign students and with inadequate returns in tuition from them. It is unfair that Michigan with its 791 students shall pay approximately $400,000.00 during the next two years and that 781 foreign students shall receive equal advantages there and pay only about $70,000. The lands from which the University interest fund is derived, belonged to us as our portion upon a division of the same among the states, and no citizen of another state has any more rights to its benefits without recompense than to any other tax raised for other purposes. All the first-class colleges of Eastern States, ranking with the University, do, and were the same provisions incorporated into the University bill that the Legislature wisely, in my opinion, attached to the Agricultural College bill, viz., requiring foreign students to pay such tuition as would compensate the state for extra expense incurred in their accommodation, and the amount of the tuition provided by this bill might have been materially lessened.

2. I am unchanged in my opinion that a greater part of the $75,000 loan asked for the purpose of an experimental and chemical laboratory should be eliminated from the bill. That additions and changes should be made in the laboratory privileges is unquestioned, but I am thoroughly convinced that such additions as are seriously needed can be nearly or quite met by funds received by the increase in tuition of foreign students already suggested and from the increasing one-twentieth mill tax, which will add $13,000 to former receipts from this source during the two years.

3. The University has arisen to its present high position with much less appropriations than is provided in this bill and with no material change in the number of students. I find during the last two biennial periods there was raised by general taxation for the support of the University the following amounts, viz.: 1883-4, $155,994; 1884-5, $200,000; while if this bill becomes law it will be necessary to raise by taxation for such purposes the sum of $289,220 for the next two years. Believing that the permanent prosperity of the University will be enhanced by a material reduction in the appropriation provided in this bill, in the number of students, in its wise, prudent and economical management, I do hereby respectfully return the same for your consideration.

Free Delivery, July 1st.

Postmaster Duffy is in receipt of the official communications, published below, fixing July 1st, 1887, the date for establishing the free delivery system in Ann Arbor. Much remains to be done yet before he is ready. The postoffice building will have to undergo several changes, and the furniture will have to be arranged to conform with the workings of the free delivery system. The postmaster general only provides four carriers, which Mr. Duffy considers not enough to efficiently perform the work, and he is now in correspondence with the authorities at Washington, with a view to increasing the number to at least five. Following is his official notice:

OFFICE OF P. M. GENERAL,
WASHINGTON, June 4, 1887.

(Ordered.) Establish the free delivery system in Ann Arbor, Mich., with four carriers at $600 per annum. Furnish the necessary satchels, boxes, book and blanks. This order to take effect July 1st, 1887.

(Signed) WM. F. VILAS,
P. M. General.

OFFICE FIRST ASST. P. M. GENERAL,
WASHINGTON, June 4, 1887.

Sir:—Enclosed find copy of an order of the postmaster general establishing the free delivery system in your city. You will please select four intelligent, healthy and active men for the service, of good reputation for industry, honesty and sobriety, and well fitted in every respect, and nominate them to this office, (on blanks furnished) for appointment in ample time for them to procure uniforms and begin the 1st day of July, next. You will also nominate on a separate blank for appointment, one or more suitable persons to act as substitute carriers to serve the routes of absent carriers. Substitutes serving for carriers' vacation will receive pay at the rate of $600 per annum. In all other cases they will receive the pay of the carriers whose routes they serve. The necessary boxes, satchels, books, blanks, etc., with instructions how to pay for them will be sent you. In establishing the service you will be careful not to undertake more frequent deliveries, or extend the service over more territory than the carriers can efficiently serve. You will be in readiness to begin the service on the date named in the order, and aim to make it prompt, reliable and satisfactory to the citizens.

Very respectfully,
A. E. STEPHENSON,
First Asst. P. M. Gen'l.

Is Our City Government a Failure?

EDITOR REGISTER:—A remarkable and disgraceful wrong seems to exist among our city officials. About a week ago a complaint was made against Chris. Milman for keeping his saloon open after lawful hours. A warrant was issued and the Mayor soon after told the Marshal to tear up the warrant and not serve it. It has not been torn up nor has it been served. Soon after complaints were made and warrants issued against two other saloon keepers and the Marshal was instructed by the police committee of the common council not to serve the warrants unless the warrant against Milman was served. Neither of them has been served.

This is an outrageous usurpation of power by the Mayor and police committee and the Mayor set the example. It seems all the more unlawful and inexcusable when it is known that the complaints were made under a statute of this state and not under an ordinance of the city. These local officials should know that they have no more authority to instruct the marshal not to serve a warrant issued on proper complaint, for violation of either a state law or city ordinance than the king of the Cannibal Islands. If the Mayor had such power he should have more sense than to exercise it, for the result of such interference is already shown in the fact that two other warrants are now tied up by the police committee and there may be a general suspension of the statutes and ordinances to favor the saloons. But this is a glorious country, as will be proven next 4th of July.

Parade of the Wild West Show.

On the morning of Friday, June 10th about 11 o'clock, the combined Wild West and Great Forepaugh shows will make a public parade. This Wild West detachment will move in the following order:

Cowboy Band, Mounted.
Pawnee Indians on Horseback.
Troupe of Mexicans with Mules.
Squaws, Papposes, etc.
Emigrant train drawn by Oxen.
Comanche Indians.
Troupe of Cowboys.
The old Deadwood Coach drawn by Six Horses.
Sharpshooters and Prairie Girls.
Indian Chiefs.
Captain Bogardus and Scouts.
Wild Buffalo and Elk.

Then follow all the great features of the circus, such as the performing horses, ponies and a long line of elegant cages, tableaux cars and twenty-five ponderous elephants, half a hundred ladies and gentlemen costumed and mounted upon handsome horses, all the racing chariots, wild animals, loose, opened dens of savage beasts, allegorical chariots, and other special attractions. The parade will be enlivened with three full bands of music.

We notice in places East, where the show has appeared, all the school children have been allowed an extra hour's recess to see this pageant.

A Memory of Early Days.

Bane of childhood's tender years,
Swallowed off with groans and tears,
How it made the flesh recoil,
Loathsome, greasy, castor oil,
Search your early memory close,
Till you find another dose:
All the shudder 'n' frame revolts
At the thought of Bowdoin's!
Underneath the pill-box lid
Was a greater horror hid,
Climax of all inward ills,
Huge and gripping old blue pills!

What a contrast to the mild and gentle action of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, sugar-coated, easy to take, cleansing, recuperating, renovating the system without wrenching it with agony. Sold by druggists.

Miss Lillian Taylor, the daughter of the late Bayard Taylor, who is to marry a young German professor, is an artist and also possesses marked literary tastes.

A Friend in Need.
Karpenters, builders, laborers and in fact all kinds of working men who are particularly liable to Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, etc., should always have close at hand a Pomeroy's Petroleum Plaster. In nearly every case the result is instantaneous. There is no remedy equal to them. For over five years they have been in general use and stood the test of public criticism, and are to-day more firmly established than ever in public estimation, and steadily increased in favor. There are few families who do not use them as a household necessity. Beware of counterfeits. Insist on having the genuine article. For Sale by J. H. Brown, Dist. Agt. for Ann Arbor.

"Yes, Nellie, dear, I am going to the Montreal carnival. I don't care a bit for snowshoes, toboggans, and all that sort of thing, don't you know; but that horrid old company is going to look over Charlie's books, and the dear boy says we must go. Companies are so mean."

The Remarkable Cures
Which have been effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla are sufficient proof that this medicine does possess peculiar curative power. In the severest cases of scrofula or salt rheum, when other preparations had been powerless, the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla has brought about the happiest results. The case of Miss Sarah O. Whittier, of Lowell, Mass., who suffered terribly from scrofulous sores; that of Charles A. Robert, of East Wilson, N. Y., who had thirteen abscesses on his face and neck; that of Willie Duff, of Walpole, Mass., who had hip disease and scrofula so bad that physicians said he could not recover, are a few of the many instances in which wonderful cures were effected by this medicine.

Lucky Robb.
The Champion reporter hearing of the recent good fortune of our excellent colored townsman, A. L. Robb, proceeded yesterday to hunt him up and interview him. Mr. Robb being a mail carrier, and on duty every day from morning until night, it was somewhat difficult to catch him at a time with sufficient leisure to give an account of his lottery windfall in detail.

After waiting patiently until towards evening, he was finally found at the post-office, and in reply to inquiries, gave the following account:

My name is A. L. Robb. I have been in the employ of the government as a mail carrier for several years past. About a year ago my attention was called to the Louisiana State Lottery by reading an advertisement of it in the Atchison Daily Champion. I at once made up my mind that as soon as I could spare the money I would buy a ticket. About eight months ago I invested one dollar a month as regularly as the month came, and up to the April drawing, I drew a blank each and every time. Just prior to the April drawing I concluded to go one dollar more, and if I lost that time I was going to quit. I sent my dollar as before to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and received ticket number 23,899, and to my inexpressible surprise and delight when the list of prizes came, I found that my ticket, 23,899, had drawn a prize of $5,000. I gave the ticket to C. N. Seip, Agent of the Pacific express company, for collection. He sent it to New Orleans and in a few days afterwards I received the whole $5,000 in gold, I took the money, and after deducting a small amount to pay some bills due, I deposited it in the Exchange National Bank of this city, where it stands to my credit today. Thus by an investment of $1, or if you like, $8, I made $5,000, and am in consequence today, in comfortable circumstances. It is needless to say that I believe in The Louisiana State Lottery as the poor man's friend.—Atchison (Kas.) Champion, May 3.

Probate Notice.
STATE OF MICHIGAN,
COUNTY OF WASHENAW, ss.
Notice is hereby given that by an order of the Probate Court for the County of Washenaw, made on the 24th day of May, A. ## SANK QUIETLY TO REST.

Death of Ex-Vice-President
Wheeler at Malone, N. Y.

He Expires While in an Unconscious Condition—A Brief Sketch of His Life and Services to the Public—A Notable Career.

WILLIAM A. WHEELER DEAD.
MALONE, N. Y., June 6.—Ex-Vice-President Wheeler died here Saturday morning a few minutes after ten o'clock. His death was painless. Although his vitality had been decreasing slowly for the past six years, the deceased was in comparatively good health up to within the past six months. He suffered much from insomnia, neuralgia and catarrh of the bladder. He also was afflicted with softening of the brain, to which his death is mainly attributable. On Monday last he became unconscious and never fully rallied up to the hour of his death.

[William Almon Wheeler was born in Malone, Franklin County, N. Y., May 31, 1811. He entered public life in 1850, when he was a member of the lower house of the New York Legislature. He afterward served repeatedly in both houses of that body. In 1868 he was elected a member of Congress from the Seventeenth New York District, and he was re-elected in 1870, 1872 and 1874. He was brought into conspicuous notice in 1875 as the author of what was known as the "Wheeler adjustment," by which the disturbed condition of affairs in Louisiana was settled, and the Republican State administration of Governor Kellogg was sustained. The credit which he gained in this transaction was such as to recommend him to the Republican National convention of 1876, by which he was nominated for Vice President on the ticket withutherford B. Hayes for President. He was elected and served four years in the Vice Presidency. Since March 4, 1881, he has lived in retirement.]

THE WEATHER BULLETIN.

The Signal-Service Reports the Prospects
Favorable for the Crops.
WASHINGTON, June 7.—The signal service weather-bulletin summarizes the weather for last week as follows:
"The weather during the week has apparently proved favorable to the growing crops.
The needed rains have occurred throughout the wheat and corn regions, excepting in portions of Illinois, Missouri and Iowa, where light showers have occurred, and telegraphic reports received this morning, Sunday, June 6, show that showers have occurred during the last eight hours, and are likely to continue during the next forty-eight hours in the States above named. The general rains and cool weather in the hay and tobacco region of the Atlantic coast and Ohio valley are reported as favorable for those crops. The weather was apparently favorable for all growing crops throughout the South, although reports from Tennessee and Mississippi show that crops were injured by hail in some sections of those States."

Educational Convention.
CHICAGO, June 6.—The preparations for the mammoth convention of the National Educational Association and the National Educational Exposition to be held in Chicago during next month are progressing favorably. All parts of the country are being heard from in reference to delegates and at least 15-000 school teachers are expected to be present.

The Drive-Well Cases.
DES MOINES, Ia., June 3.—The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the driven-well cases does not cover the points in the Iowa cases before the same court, which will come up at the October term, and does not reverse the decisions of Judges Shiras and Love. In the Iowa cases priority of use is held to be firmly established in the lower court.

Illinois Music Teachers.
CHICAGO, June 5.—The Illinois Music Teachers' Association will hold its annual convention in this city June 29 and 30 and July 1. An interesting literary and musical programme will be rendered by men and women of acknowledged ability.
All railroads in Illinois grant one and one-third fare to all members attending.

Many Buildings Burned.
VINCENNES, Ind., June 3.—An incendiary
fire at Shoals yesterday burned Mohr's block, in which were the Tribune office and Lehrburger's clothing-store, Miller's store,
Matt Singer's drug-store, John Arnold's house, the Democrat office, Arnold's house and several smaller buildings. Loss, about $12,000; partly insured.

The Coke-Strike Condemned.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 4.—The Knights of Labor Executive Board will come out squarely against the striking coke-workers, and it is now thought the great conflict will soon be brought to a close. The report declares that the strike was ill-advised, and insists that the men ought to be ordered back to work at once.

Heavy Failure Down South.
ATLANTA, Ga., June 7.—It was announced
Saturday afternoon that S. H. Phelan's
"bucket-shop" had failed. The liabilities are about $300,000 and the assets practically nothing. His failure carried down the Atlanta Produce and Cotton Exchange of which he was the head, and the branch exchanges in Charlotte, Birmingham, Selma and Savannah.

Arrested for Safe-Robbing.
TOPEKA, Kan., June 7.—Hawkins Corley, deputy treasurer of Logan County, Kan., was arrested Saturday for cracking the treasurer's safe and robbing it of $11,000 in February. His associates were arrested some time ago and are on bail, but he was taken to Fort Smith and locked up.

Want the Quarantine Limited.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 3.—A letter signed by Governor Oglesby and sent to the Governors of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska and Colorado, asks them to limit their quarantine of cattle to Cook County, and not to the whole State of Illinois.

Their First Anniversary.
SARASOTA, Fla., June 3.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland yesterday celebrated the first anniversary of their wedding by going fishing on Sarasota lake.

FRIENDS OF CHILDREN.

The International Sunday-School
Convention in Chicago.

One of the Most Interesting Meetings
Ever Held—Encouraging Statistics—
The Plan of Study for Seven Years
—Eloquent Speakers Present.

A GLORIOUS WORK.
CHICAGO, June 3.—At Wednesday afternoon's session of the International Sunday-school convention a statement showing the numerical strength of the Sunday-school system throughout the world was offered by E. Payson Porter, statistical secretary. It is as follows:
United States—Schools, 99,793; scholars,
8,064,478; teachers, 1,107,170. Canada—
Schools, 6,022; scholars, 414,198; teachers,
60,259. Central America, Mexico and West Indies—Schools, 350; scholars, 35,000; teachers, 3,250. In the world there are 16,447,990 scholars and 1,952,167 teachers.
The report shows a gain during the year in the United States of 1,459 schools, 355, 645 scholars and 63,432 teachers.
The report of the Executive Committee was presented by B. F. Jacobs. The question of an International Sunday-school convention, to include all lands,
to be held in Europe, was submitted.
The general report of the treasurer showed $3,163 received and $7,230 expended, leaving a balance of $943.
The committee then proposed the following plan of study for the seven years
for which it was appointed to make the selections:
In 1837 six months in the Old Testament and six months in Matthew; 1838 the reverse of 1837; 1839 six months in Mark and six months in the Old Testament; 1840, twelve months in Luke; 1841, nine months in the Old Testament and three in John; 1842, six months in John and six in the Old Testament; 1843, three months in the Old Testament and nine in the Acts and Epistles.
Rev. Edward Towers, secretary of the London Sunday-School Union, spoke of the work in Great Britain and on the Continent. One in five of the people attended
Sunday-school.

Hon. T. E. Clark, of Iowa, president of the Iowa Sunday-School Association, of that State, said that they had during the last year legislated $350 saloons out of existence and put Sunday-schools in their places.
Rev. Dr. Grammer, of Baltimore, said that the work in Great Britain and on the Continent. One in five of the people attended
Sunday-school.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The second day's session of the International Sunday-school convention was opened with a song service at nine o'clock yesterday morning, after which Rev. W. H. Bailey, of Kentucky, Rev. J. E. Gilbert, of Indiana, Rev.
W. E. Hall, of Connecticut, and Rev. E.
Wheeler, of Oregon, addressed the convention on the need of better organization and more teachers.

Rev. Dr. Grammer, of Baltimore, said that more than one-third of the inhabitants of Maryland were in the Sabbath-schools. D.
B. Ward, of Dakota, said that the number of schools in the Territory had doubled during the past two years. A favorable report was also made on the Sunday-school work in Minnesota.
At the afternoon session "Missionary Sunday-School Work" was the subject of an address by Rev. J. A. Worden, D. D., of New Jersey, and W. A. Duncan, of New York, spoke on "Country Sunday-school Evangelization and Home Classes." A memorial was received from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, asking the convention to express its sentiments on the propriety of teaching scientific temperance in the public schools; on prohibiting the sale of tobacco to children, and on devising some means to protect and keep pure children. A discourse on "Sunday-school Temperance" was then delivered by Rev. D. C. Milner, of Kansas. General Clinton B. Fiske, of New Jersey, also spoke several minutes, urging the ministers of the Gospel to preach against the rum traffic under any and all circumstances.

At the evening session an eloquent address on "Teaching and Upbuilding" was delivered by Rev. Moses S. Hoge, of Virginia.
It was then proposed, and carried by acclamation, to forward a telegram of congratulation to Queen Victoria on the occasion of her jubilee.

Rev. M. B. Wharton, of Alabama, then delivered what is acknowledged to be the most eloquent oration of the convention.
His theme was "The Importance of the International Sunday-school Work to the South." He demonstrated the changed condition of the South and its outgrowth from sectionalism. "The South once thought that it could swallow the whole country," he said, "but it got gloriously swallowed for its pains. We of the South are a new people. We are ready and eager to receive new ideas. We want no
Anarchism, no Socialism, no Nihilism, no
Mormonism, but for ideas that will raise and dignify us as a people we open our arms and exalt our voices in grateful praise."

CHICAGO, June 4.—After the usual song service at the opening of the International Sunday-school convention yesterday morning a resolution was adopted which declares in favor of scientific instruction in schools relative to the evil effects of alcoholic drink, and also for temperance, piety and personal purity; also, that every Sunday-school should be a temperance training-school.

The Committee on Resolutions then reported, deciding to make no change in the lessons. Resolutions of condolence and regret were also adopted for members of the convention who had died during the past year, five in number. Yesterday morning also reported in favor of an international convention to be held in Europe;
also, in favor of raising $10,000 to be expended as the Executive Committee might see fit. Nearly $12,000 was pledged in a few moments.

In the afternoon session Rev. Dr. A. E.
Dunning, of Massachusetts, addressed the convention on "Normal Classes;" Rev.
Dr. J. L. Hulbert, of New Jersey, spoke on "Class Training;" Rev. A. F. Schaef-ler, of New York, spoke on "Class Teaching;" and Rev. G. W. Moore, a colored delegate from the District of Columbia, argued the need of Sunday-school work in the South.

It was decided that the selection of time and place for the next convention should be left with the Executive Committee.

At the evening session short speeches on interesting general subjects were made by Rev. Dr. George C. Lorimer, of Chicago; J. C. Peake, of Toronto; Mr. J. F.
Drake, of Kansas, and Rev. Dr. Tracy, of Chicago.

The thanks of the convention were ventered to B. F. Jacobs for his labors, and the body adjourned sine die.

Another Story of the Indiana Lynching.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 4.—It is rumored
here that Andrew Enlow, the half-brother of the Davis boys, who were lynched recently for brutally assaulting Annie Flannigan, was not hanged as reported, but was buried alive. It is known that the mob seized Enlow and carried him away from the scene of the lynching. He has not been seen since, and none of his cap-tors will say a word in regard to his fate.
Annie Flannigan, the victim, is recovering.

FOUND WATERY GRAVES.

Many Persons Drowned in Various Portions of the Country.

DAVENPORT, Ia., June 7.—Three boys named Beck and two named Hingle, all of Maquoketa, and none over sixteen years, were drowned while bathing in the Ma-quoketa river, near the city of that name, yesterday.

CHICAGO, June 7.—On Saturday a number of boys went bathing in a pond in Singer & Talcott's stone quarry, Lemont. Andrew Esapany, aged thirteen, got beyond his depth and cried for help. His brother Foster, aged eleven, could not swim, but he jumped in with his clothes on to save Andrew, and both were drowned.

SHAWNEE, Ill., June 4.—At noon
Thursday James Smith, a young man nineteen years of age; a daughter of Henry Muer, aged six years, and a child of John Muer, aged one year, were drowned here by the capsizing of a boat.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

Its Efficiency Being Increased by the Extension of the Free-Delivery System.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Post-Office Department has ordered the extension of the free-delivery system, from July 1, to a list of seventy-two towns which have attained a population of 10,000, or their postoffices have returned a revenue of $10,000 or over. Among the list are the following:
Illinois—Belleville, Cairo, Danville, Engle-
wood, Freeport, Jacksonville, Moline, Ottawa, Indiana—Elkhart, Logansport, New Albany,
Vincennes,
Iowa—Clinton, Marshalltown, Muscatine,
Waterloo,
Kansas—Emporia, Fort Scott, Winfield,
Wichita,
Michigan—Adrian, Ann Arbor, Muskegon,
Saginaw,
Ohio—Hamilton, Lima, Newark, Portsmouth, Steubenville, Wooster, Xenia.

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED LOST.

Evidence Confirming the Wreck of a Steamer in the Indian Ceylon.

CALCUTTA, June 7.—It has been proved beyond a doubt by the picking up of the captain's chest, that the steamer Sir John Lawrence was lost in the recent cyclone off this coast. The steamer carried 730 passengers, and it is believed they were all lost. Most of the passengers were native ladies on their way to Juggurnaut to celebrate the juggernaut festival.
The catastrophe has cast a feeling of gloom over the Hindoo community here, and all the best families are in mourning for relatives or friends who were among the passengers.

Indiana School Apportionment.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 4.—State Superintendent La Follette has prepared the apportionment of the common school revenue to the various counties. The total revenue is $1,045,813.50, and the amount apportioned is $1,034,430.40, leaving a balance in the treasury of $11,383.10. The number of school children in the State between the ages of six and twenty-one is 760,173.

A Favorable Outlook.

New York, June 4.—The weekly trade review of R. G. Dun & Co. reports the crop outlook favorable and the business situation highly favorable. The salient fact of the week is the large absorption of money by the treasury. Wheat speculation continues active. The failures for the week in the United States and Canada numbered 150, against 157 during the corresponding week for last year.

Sunday Newspaper Trains Disallowed.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 5.—The Railroad Commissioners have issued their edict forbidding the Sunday morning newspaper train in this State. This will also cut off the delivery of New York papers in Masachusetts. The law was passed at the last session of the Legislature, and allows only the running of mail trains and trains for public necessity.

How the Chinese Get In.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The jury in the case of Lure Cheong, a Chinaman charged with attempting to enter the United States on a certificate issued by Ny Ah Qua, disgraced Thursday. It was brought out at the trial that Quam, Teum & Co., a Hong Kong firm, does a regular business in emigration certificates, which they sell at $10 each.

Urged to Resist.

DUBLIN, June 7.—Michael Davitt addressed a Nationalist meeting in the Boddyke district Sunday. He again urged the people to offer the utmost resistance to eviction and to retake possession of their houses when they have been evicted. He declared that it was the duty of the manhood of the district to assemble and rebuild houses that had been razed.

Destruction of a Valuable Library.

DAVENPORT, Ia., June 5.—C. E. Putnam's mansion at Woodlawn, in the suburbs of this city, was destroyed by fire Friday, together with Mr. Putnam's well-known and valuable historical and scientific library, and much of the property of the late scientist, J. Duncan Putnam. The loss is $30,000; insurance, $7,500.

Plymouth's Pulpit Still Vacant.

BROOKLYN, June 6.—The pulpit of Plymouth Church is still vacant, and seems likely to continue so for an indefinite period.

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1887.

THE Detroit Tribune, Free Press and Journal recognizing the value of the University to the state have been very outspoken in their sentiments in favor of the legislative appropriation.

SAY, young man, did you ever stop to think that every drink of whiskey you take is the interest on a dollar for one year? There is many a young man loafing around the streets, out of work, and bewailing his hard luck, who, if he had saved the money he wasted in liquor and tobacco could command capital enough to carry on a large business, and be of some benefit to the world.

A LIVELY discussion is going on in the papers as to the question whether President Cleveland will consent to be the democratic candidate for the presidency in 1888. Some say that he will, and others say that he will not. If he acts in accordance with his letter of acceptance when first nominated, he will decline a second nomination. We strongly suspect, however, that he will accept another nomination if he can get it.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT WM. A. WHEELER died at his home at Malone, near Watertown, N. Y., at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, aged 68 years. He was born in the same town and was educated in the common school and an academy and studied two years in the University of Vermont. He represented his district in the legislature several times, and was in the 37th, the 41st, 42d, 43d and 54th Congresses. He was serving in Congress when he was nominated for vice president by the republican national convention in 1876 on the same ticket with Rutherford B. Hayes. He was a quiet but useful man and served his constituents and his country well. He had been in very poor health for some years.

IMMIGRATION statistics for the first quarter of the year indicate a far larger movement to our shores than in either of the past two years. Two thousand a day is the present rate of arrival, and the prediction is made that the total for the year will equal that of 1882, or 730,349, the largest in our history. The number of arrivals at the six principal ports in March was 39,680, as against 22,919 in the same month last year, and during the three months ending with March the number was 64,290, against 40,931 during the first quarter of 1886. Every part of Europe contributes its quota, and the returns from nearly every country show a very large percentage of increase over the immigration of either of the two preceding years.

SENATOR GORMAN's bill to regulate Catholic church property by taking it from the bishop and placing it in the hands of trustees, still lingers in the legislative halls. Although this measure has been much discussed, criticised and abused, its real terms have not been known. Early in the session the senator introduced a skeleton title "to regulate Catholic church property." Senator Gorman was asked if he intended to push the bill to a final hearing. "That remains for the friends of the measure to decide," said he. "I have framed it carefully, and now if they want me to go on I am ready to undertake the work." It is altogether likely, however, that the bill will be allowed to slumber and expire with the close of the session. If it were pushed there would be no chance whatever of passing it in the face of the enormous protest made against it.

GOVERNOR LUCE's message vetoing the University appropriation bill, is the one great act of his administration that will render him famous, but it is the kind of fame of which his posterity will not have reason to feel proud. In his great desire for retrenchment and economy in the use of the public funds, he seems to have lost sight of the fact that often the cheapest priced articles are the dearest. There is no institution in the state of Michigan that has honored it more, and been of more real benefit, and none towards which the tax-payers can afford to be more generous. The reduction proposed by Governor Luce at this time could not be made without great injury to the institution; the legislators were convinced of this, and the board of regents who know much more of the necessities of the University than does Gov. Luce, and who are doubtless as careful as he of the interests of the people who intrusted him with this charge. It would seem that under the circumstances the governor could have conscientiously deferred to the judgment of the legislature, the regents, the leading papers of the state and a great majority of its educated and most influential citizens. It is to be hoped that the bill will be carried over the veto by an almost unanimous vote, and thus may be averted the deadliest blow the University has ever received.

ALL good citizens will pray for its passage by our legislature, of Representative Grenell's proposed purity of elections bill, or one equally as good. If there is anything that should be well guarded in this government of the people, it is the voter's right; and any plan that will purify the present system, do away with all opportunity of bribing, buying, intimidating and in any other disgraceful way of hindering a free and intelligent expression of every man's wishes at the polls, should be looked upon favorably. The stability of our republican form of government, demands a revolution in its present methods of voting, and it will be an honor for Michigan if she takes the lead among the states in this noble duty.

OUR LANSING LETTER.

The senate is jogging along at a senatorial pace on the Bates' liquor bill. It has gone through the bill and marked the places where amendments seemed desirable and proposes to go back and take up the troublesome sections. Among the contested points are, first and foremost, the amount of the tax—whether $500 or $300; the proportion of taxes to go to the county and to the cities or townships; and whether the upper peninsula saloons shall be allowed to keep open till 10 o'clock at night. The ease with which Senator Hubbell got in his amendments permitting cities and incorporated villages to allow their saloons to be kept open between the hours of 6 a. m. and 11 p. m., was a genuine surprise. It was made evident by his remarks that the senator had been over the whole subject with Supt. Pittman, of the Detroit police force, and that the latter had given some suggestions as to the practical workings of a liquor law.

Rumors of big boodle being offered for the defeat of the Hosford land forfeiture bill has caused that measure to receive unusual attention in the house. The bill was reached on third reading, and, owing to the fact some members who expected to speak for the bill were not present, Mr. Ogg had it put over. It is said here that $2,000 are ready to defeat the bill, and this having got to the ears of prominent members, they have determined to put it through the house.

The Rumsey bill, for the taxation of street railroads, has at last been drawn. It provides for a state tax of one-half of one per cent. on all matters that are not repairs. The bill further provides that on or before January 1, of each year the president or the trustees of every street railroad company shall file with the secretary of state a statement of the cost of the equipment and appendages, specifying the items and the cost and the situation, the payment of the state taxes to be made within 90 days after return. If the secretary of state is dissatisfied with any statement, he shall bring suit in the circuit court, and may recover for the return. The governor shall appoint some citizen of Michigan as commissioner of street railroad taxation, to hold office for three years. The latter shall examine the valuation, and report to the secretary of the state. The salary of the commissioner is to be $1,000.

It is to be hoped, for the good of the youth of the land, that the bill of Senator Wisner, which has just passed the senate, will also go through the house and become a law. One of the great causes of crime is the manner in which the youth of both sexes are permitted to run wild, be out late at night, frequent questionable places and associate with questionable characters, thus acquiring habits which ultimately lead to their ruin. The present law lacks the provisions needed to enable the authorities to deal effectively with this class of youth, for the reason that, not being guilty of any absolute misdemeanor, nothing could be done to turn them from their perilous way. This bill "fills a long felt want" in this regard, as it will enable parents, guardians and officers of the law to legally restrain juvenile offenders who persist in their wayward career.

One outcome of the fall of Probate Judge Follett, of Kent county, is a movement looking to the introduction of a bill for the better protection of moneys derived from the estates of deceased persons. One proposition is that the judge of probate shall give a bond for the proper disposition of all moneys coming into his hands belonging to or derived from such estates or belonging to the heirs thereof. I have already told you how easily the solons get over the difficulty of introducing new legislation, so it would not be absolutely impossible to enact such a law this session if it was really determined upon. I do not think it will be done, however. In a few days this Follett matter will have passed out of mind, and will perhaps not be thought of again until the public are startled by a similar occurrence.

The Grenell bill, providing for minority representation on boards of election inspectors, has passed the house. It provides the common council shall assign the alderman of each ward to the election districts therein and one person to each of the other districts, who shall be chairman of their respective boards of inspectors and registration. Besides the chairman each board of election shall be composed of five qualified electors of the district, who shall be elected at the November election of each year, any vacancy in the board at the opening of the polls being filled by a viva voce vote of the electors present. It also provides for a counting of the votes at 2 o'clock on election day; to secure dispatch of returns to the city clerk as soon as the entire vote shall have been counted; for a duplicate set of returns to county clerk, and for the surrender of the ballot boxes. The first election of the board is to take place in November next, and they are to hold office one year. No election shall be held in a saloon or in a room adjacent thereto.

The senate has inaugurated a new scheme to expedite the passage of bills. Instead of reading the bill at length the secretary says: "Section one is not amended; section two has one word changed; and section three is split in two, and section four has an amendment a foot and a half long tacked to it." The passage of amendments by the foot or the 'split in two' rule is a new idea and created some amusement, but it seems to work pretty well. Mac.
LANSING, June 7, 1887.

Class Re-unions.

Representative Manly as a Puglist.

Representative Manly has been an enthusiastic advocate of the University bill ever since he has been in the legislature. Everybody has conceded this but none thought that he would resort to a pugilistic argument to get the appropriation passed. But it seems that he has by the following from the Detroit Tribune, of Wednesday morning:

"This evening as Representatives Manly, Harrington, Lincoln and Crocker and some outsiders were looking over the bill in the House Private Secretary Campbell came near, when he was twitted in a joking way with being the author of the veto message and with being hostile to the University.

Some discussion followed when Capt. Manly turned to Campbell, and shaking a paper very near his person, charged him with being on the floor of the house every day of the session lobbying against the bill. Campbell denied it, and Manly repeated the accusation. Campbell then said: "You are a liar," and Manly struck him in the face. Manly, then made a motion as if to repeat the blow, when Campbell grabbed him and bystanders separated them. Campbell denies that he has been active in opposition to the bill and says he has even refused to give his opinion when asked."

The Ann Arbor Savings Bank.

Among the Savings Banks in our state there is none outside of Detroit that has taken a more solid and prominent position than the Ann Arbor Savings Bank. Its growth has been steady and of the kind that makes it one of the best banks in the state. The list of depositors embraces our citizens occupying all different positions, but mainly among the farmers, mechanics and laborers, and these are the classes whom they especially seek. Deposits are received from one dollar up and interest paid.

For Sale.

The property known as the "DELHI MILLS," located 4 1/2 miles west of Ann Arbor, on the Huron River, Washtenaw County, Michigan. There are three mills, and all in complete order, with a valuable and unfailing water power. "The Ithaca Mill" has 7 sets of rolls, capable of manufacturing 150 bbls. per day, with ample storage for wheat. The Delhi Mill has 3 run of stone for custom as well as for flouring, and a saw mill. Every facility is afforded by the Michigan Central Railroad for the transportation of flour and wheat to and from the mills and to market. The local advantage for supply of wheat is excellent, being in the center of one of the best and largest grain producing counties in the State. The property will be sold, the whole or a part, with the cooper shops, sheds, etc., at a great bargain, and on terms very favorable to the purchaser. If not sold before the 10th of August next, it will on that day, at 11 o'clock a. m., be sold by auction at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, to the highest bidder. Terms made known on the day of sale. For further information address

MR. EDITOR:

The fact is, our advertisement ought to be changed, but our business has been so good this spring that we had almost forgotten one of the ways in which we built up our large trade, namely, advertising. The other means to which we credit an immense patronage at the present time is carrying the largest stock and selling at the lowest prices, and treating all alike.

At present we are showing immense lines of summer clothing, too numerous to mention prices. Our Straw and Light Colored Derby Hat lines take the cake.

Every mother should see our beautiful stock of Boys' Flannel and Cotton Waists and Kilt Suits. No better assortment in any store in the state.

Our 50c and 75c pants are acknowledged to be the best ever seen.

On Overalls we have no equal. We think we sell ten pairs to one of any other house. The reason is, we carry the best makes and sell at the lowest prices.

We never had as nice a line of Neckwear as we are carrying at present.

citizens, has secured a large contract of fence building between Detroit and Jackson on the M. C. R. R. He has commenced work with a large force of men.

"Facts and Figures About Michigan"

Has been thoroughly and carefully revised to the latest date and its issue delayed to include the official canvass of the recent important spring election. It has also been enlarged by the addition of more than thirty pages of new and valuable matter and illustrated by portraits of the state officers. The information about state institutions, associations and other organized bodies has been very much extended. A novel feature of the greatest value is the insertion of a complete gazetteer of the state, showing the location of every place and its postal and railroad facilities. The book is presented in a handsome new lithographed cover, and,
altogether, is, we believe, an invaluable compendium of Michigan worth many times its price. It will be sent to any address, free of postage, on receipt of twenty-five cents, by O. W. Rugles, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Superstition of Sea Folks.

The portents and superstitions of sea folk are numberless. Passing clouds presage
"light winds and variables," light clouds in the northwest mean, look out for squalls; a scorching sun brings an easterly wind; when the loons give a short stifled cry, then look out for a nor'east wind; a great storm will surely come up after the sun rises clear but goes into a heavy cloud; if the daylight breaks high in the air, storms will follow; a clear sunset promises certain fair weather;
when the porpoises or blackfish head in any given direction, favorable winds will come from that direction; low flying seagulls foretell the coming breeze, and if you have one already, then look out for "a howler;" winds come from the fair of the sun dogs, whether to the north or south; in a storm, fire balls dancing on the rigging below the masthead are sure proof that the storm will continue,
and if as high as the tiptopmast, then the storm has spent its fury; a dead flying fish on deck carries alarm; clergymen are "Jonahs,"
and bring bad luck; if a sailor's razor shaves overwell, it is a bad sign; falling out of one's bunk without striking on one's feet means a quarrel is brewing; if the fo'castle plates are once washed between Sundays, luck will turn; cats bring good luck; rats in the hold mean a death among the crew; pocket mirrors must carry a film or the vessel will be lost; accidental tolling of the ship's bell "between bells" is certain ill luck; and to kill one of Mother Carey's chickens means endless woe.

All these things, and vastly more, are caught by one from the sailor in a half deprecation of their belief by himself; but you will find, in many ways, that they are really a part of his life, sentiment and belief, and they are as fondly hugged to his inner heart
as we on land cling to our fabled legends and tales of old.—Cuban Letter.

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors
most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling,"
is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

Strengthen the System

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown.
Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

THE CHICAGO LOCK-OUT.

No Signs of a Compromise in the Great Struggle.

The Latest Proposition of the Builders to the Workmen—Their Appeal Launched at a National Convention to Be Held June 20.

ARBITRATION LAUGHED AT.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The master masons have issued an address to the workmen, calling them to end the labor troubles for the sake of the city. They express a desire for arbitration, but insist that the "walking delegate" shall go. The working rules recently adopted by them will be subject to discussion and arbitration as soon as a joint committee of arbitration shall be chosen. They agree to make nine hours a day's work, and have voluntarily adopted the Saturday half-holiday. Their agreement to pay forty-five cents an hour proves, they claim, that they do not desire to lower rates of wages. A regular fortnightly pay-day has also been agreed upon. These are their conditions, and they invite fair discussion of them.

The appeal of the master masons is laughed at by the leaders of the strikers. "Not one union man will leave our ranks on account of that letter," said President Vorkeller. "We will not yield a point, unless the master masons surrender."

The Master Carpenters' Association at its meeting last night adopted the nine-hour system.

The Amalgamated Building Trades Council held a meeting Thursday night to discuss the advisability of issuing a call for a National convention of Building Trades Unions at which a National organization might be effected. A committee was appointed to draft an address to all Building Trades Unions in the United States requesting them to send delegates to the convention. This city was chosen as the place for the convention, and June 20 fixed as the date.

The master masons show no signs of wavering and claim to be in a position to hold out for an indefinite period. Comparatively few bricklayers have as yet answered the advertising sent out by the master masons. Many of the masons place little reliance upon outside help and claim that they depend almost entirely upon drawing men from the union.

CHICAGO, June 5.—A number of contractors and building material dealers, met with the Executive Committee of the bricklayers Friday. The contractors made the following propositions:

"All bricklayers shall go to work under the old conditions, and the pay-day question shall be subject to arbitration; or, in case the proposition does not suit the bricklayers, work shall be resumed under the old conditions that existed before the commencement of the strike, pay day on Saturday, and the question of establishing a nine-hour work-day subject to arbitration."

The bricklayers were given to choose between both propositions, but at a meeting Friday night both propositions were rejected, and it was decided not to go to work before all their demands are granted by the master masons.

CHICAGO, June 7.—P. G. McGuire, the general secretary of the Carpenters' Brotherhood of the United States and Canada, was the principal speaker at a large meeting of carpenters in Twelfth Street Turner hall last night. The hall was crowded. He advised the carpenters not to accept the propositions of the Master Carpenters' Association for nine hours' work. If they would stand for eight hours, Chicago would be the battle-ground, and they would be backed up by the carpenters all over the United States. At present the membership of the brotherhood in the United States is 41,000, and it has 295 local unions. In 193 cities the hours of labor were reduced during the last year, and this secured work for over 7,000 carpenters and brought about a raise in wages, placing the sum of over $12,500 more a week in the hands of working-men. Seventeen thousand dollars was paid out to families of dead members and $3,000 in sick benefits.

Resolutions were adopted pledging the union carpenters to stand by the eight-hour system.

Michigan Swamp Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Commissioner Sparks has recommended suit to set aside patents issued to the State of Michigan for about 5,000 acres of land on Bois Blanc Island, patented to the State as swamp land. The Commissioner holds that, as the land in question was in a reservation at the date of the passage of the Swamp-Land act, it could not have been included with that grant to the State by the act.

The Grant & Ward Suits.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The suit brought by Julien T. Davies, receiver of Grant & Ward, against John H. Morris, assignee of James D. Fish, was begun Friday before Commissioner Hamilton Cole. The action is to recover over $500,000, alleged to have been fraudulently paid by Ferdinand Ward from the funds of Grant & Ward to James D. Fish as alleged profits, but which were wholly fictitious profits.

Rocked by an Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—A severe earthquake rocked portions of Northern California and Western Nevada early yesterday morning. Fissures formed in the earth, and in some instances plaster fell from the walls. The disturbance was heavy at Sacramento and Carson City, and reports are current that the hot springs were dried up.

An Appeal for Aid.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 4.—The Iowa State Temperance Alliance has issued a circular to the clergymen of the State, regardless of denominational lines, announcing that at the solicitation of many earnest friends of prohibition the alliance has consented to be the medium for the collection for the needed aid in the prosecution in the Haddock cases.

Death of Rev. Granville Moody.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 6.—Rev. Granville Moody, formerly of Ohio and later of Iowa, died Saturday afternoon at his home in Jefferson. He was known during the war as the "fighting Chaplain," and was a great favorite with the soldiers of the Western armies.

O'Brien Would Not Attend.

NEW YORK, June 6.—William O'Brien refused to attend the big labor demonstration gotten up in his honor in this city Saturday. He was dissatisfied with the resolutions the meeting proposed to adopt, and he flatly declined to appear on the same platform with Dr. McGlynn and John McMillin.

Railway Construction.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Statistics from the Railway Age show that during the first five months of the present year the number of miles of railroad constructed in the United States aggregated 2,351 on eighty-eight lines in thirty-three States and Territories.

Spain's Tobacco Monopoly.

MADRID, June 7.—The Parliamentary Commission has accepted the tender of the Bank of Spain to pay $18,000,000 yearly and half the profits after the first three years for the lease of the tobacco monopoly.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

An Awful Record of Bloody Work from Many Places.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Martin Culver, an inmate of the Jefferson Insane Asylum, was struck on the head Saturday night by L. V. Tewison, another patient, with a water-pail. His skull was fractured, and at four o'clock yesterday morning he died. Culver did not regain consciousness before he died, and Tewison gave no coherent explanation. The coroner will investigate.

CINCINNATI, June 7.—In this city yesterday Fred Bauer fatally shot his mistress, wounded another woman and then killed himself.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 7.—Frederick Herman, a laborer of this city, killed his baby-daughter yesterday, beat his wife until he thought her dead, and then cut his own throat. The tragedy was the result of religious mania.

MILLWOOD, Ky., June 7.—John H. Fields, a farmer living near this place, killed his wife Saturday evening, whom he suspected of infidelity, and his two sons, who attempted to defend the woman, after which he committed suicide.

HOXON, D. T., June 7.—Near this place yesterday Simon Nelson shot and killed Mrs. Shaw, her fifteen-year-old son, and her sister, aged twenty-two, then fatally wounded a man named Kilsey, and blew out his own brains. The tragedy was the result of a contest over a tree claim which had been decided in favor of Mrs. Shaw.

DUNQUE, Ia., June 4.—Christian Ostaf, aged sixty-three, and wife, aged twenty-eight, both having children by former marriages, quarreled on their farm in Concord township, Thursday morning, because Ostaf refused to buy his wife a pair of shoes. Ostaf crushed his wife's head to a jelly with a hatchet, and then shot himself, both being found dead when their children returned from the field.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—In this city yesterday morning Robert G. Hall, poet and actor, murdered his paramour, Mrs. Lillian Rivers, and then cut his own throat, but not, it is thought, in a fatal manner. The woman was the wife of an actor known to the profession as James Reynolds, who attempted to kill her April 19, and then shot himself, but recently recovered.

BRUCEVILLE, Ill., June 4.—Yesterday morning John Connolly, a miser, shot and killed Mrs. John Stoddard, and then shot himself. After being placed in a cell in the jail he cut his throat. No cause for the tragedy is assigned.

TWO DEADLY BLASTS.

Eight Men Killed in Pennsylvania and Three in New York.

TROEN, Pa., June 7.—At two o'clock Saturday afternoon George Weiser was "tamping" a blast containing three kegs of powder at the Cambria Iron Company's quarries, near Birmingham, Huntington County, when a premature explosion took place. Weiser was blown to pieces, and the fall of rock instantly killed seven others and injured several. Two of the injured are not expected to live.

KINGSTON, N. Y., June 7.—In the lower tunnel at Morton's quarries in Binnewater, four miles south of this city, Elmer Canfield, James Cullen, Norman Bell and Hugh Farrell, experienced drillers, were tending steam drills Saturday morning when a tremendous explosion occurred. Canfield's head was blown from his body. Cullen and Bell were thrown some distance, and they died shortly after being taken out of the tunnel.

The Pacific Inquiry.

BOSTON, June 6.—The final session in Boston of the Pacific Railroad Commission was held Saturday. President Adams was the principal witness. He entered into a lengthy defense of the policy of the company, and alleged that the United States Government had been paid five fold for the money it had put in the road. If the company at the time of the maturity of its indebtedness could not meet its obligations, it would be the fault of the Government, because the latter's attitude toward the road and various legislative acts passed had so hampered the officials that they did not know where they stood. If the Government would give the road its freedom and the road could not pay up, then the Government could step in and foreclose.

The Coming National Political Conventions.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Some talk is already heard about the places in which the next National conventions will be held. It grows out of Cincinnati's action in making an early bid for them both. Washington is also ready to put in its claims. The guesses are mainly about what the Democratic committee will do. It is said many of Mr. Cleveland's friends strongly favor Cincinnati. There has been nothing like a canvass of the Republican National Committee, but it is well understood that a majority of the members do not favor the Queen City.

An Attempt to Bribe Barrett.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Judge Barrett examined several of the jurors in the Jake Sharp case yesterday as to the alleged attempts to corrupt them in the interest of the defendant. As a result of the proceedings the court ordered warrants to issue for the arrest of three persons on the charge of "embracery," or "attempted embracery."

The Union Completed.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 7.—In Fayette County, this State, five sons of Widow Hamber married the five daughters of Widow Starnes. To complete the family union, the boys' mother-in-law was joined in wedlock to their wives' father-in-law.

Great Damage from a Cloud-Burst.

GRAFTON, O., June 7.—A cloud-burst in this city and neighborhood yesterday, caused great damage. Railroad tracks, bridges, culverts and roads were washed away and trains were derailed.

Stricken with Paralysis.

FIGHTING FOR THE FLAG.

It was last Decoration day, after they had returned from beautifying with flowers the graves of the Union soldiers, who seemed to sleep so peacefully in the soft sunshine, that four former companions in arms were seated under the tender green of the trees in Central park. They were full of the sad yet precious memories of the war, and naturally rehearsed many of its incidents in which they had taken part. Their patriotism had been freshly stirred by the ceremonies at which they had assisted, and, as they recounted scenes where gallant fellows had given their lives for their country, their eyes, that had often looked death in the face with a strong glance, moistened visibly, and were cast down to hide their emotion. While they were talking they caught sight of the stars and stripes on the old Arsenal building. A puff of wind gracefully blew out the banner of the free; they instinctively stood up together, removed their hats, and as one they said: "Bless the old flag! I would be happy to die for it to-morrow!" they fervently clasped each other's hands in recognition of a common sentiment.

The speaker was ex-Mayor Goodwin, a native of Connecticut, aged about 50, who had been living in St. Louis at the breaking out of the war, and had joined a Missouri regiment as soon as the government had called for troops. The other three were ex-Col.

Mason, ex-Capt. Bennett and ex-Brigadier Gen. Wirtley. The first had made his home in Cincinnati, Bennett and Wirtley had settled in Chicago, and as martial representatives of Ohio and Illinois, had entered the field immediately after the fire on Sumter. They were all bachelors then, nearly the same age, and having gone through their commands to Missouri, were soon drawn into acquaintance and friendship by similarity of opinions and tastes. They had seen a good deal of service in different parts of the south; had all been wounded—Goodwin and Wirtley several times each—and had kept up the friendship joined in the early days. After the close of the struggle they found themselves in New York, where they are still engaged in business. The endless distractions of the city prevent their meeting as often as they would choose; but on Decoration day they are always in company, and are likely to be bound together by associations of the past while life continues. They are creditable examples of the citizen soldiers on whom the republic can always depend in time of need. They, in common with millions of their countrymen north and south, so rever the national emblem that they would sacrifice everything in its defense.

"Goodwin," said Wirtley the four had dropped their military titles, like sensible men, with the termination of the war, "we all feel as you do about the old flag, as you well know. I have been told that you showed your devotion to it by recapturing the colors of your regiment at Wilson's Creek. Can't you give us the story?"

"It's not worth telling," replied Goodwin. "It was only one of the many incidents that occurred on many battle fields; and, besides, it is bad taste, you will agree, for a man to recite his own experiences. He is very apt to imagine himself a hero when he is a very commonplace mortal."

"Let us have the story, Goodwin," exclaimed the three. "We are friends," added Mason, "and we know you too well to think you capable of boasting. On this day any one who has been a soldier is excusable for indulging in personal reminiscences. We have all been doing it, you know. Fire away, old fellow."

"If you are bored, then it will be your own fault," remarked Goodwin. "The story is not long, anyhow; no, you won't suffer much more than you anticipate. I had formed a high idea of Capt. Nathaniel Lyon when he broke up the secession camp formed by Governor Jackson in St. Louis, and I was very glad to be in his command. He had been appointed brigadier, and I was with him at Booneville, where he routed a Confederate force that the governor had got together, and at Dry Spring, where he defeated McCulloch. When McCulloch and Price united, and threatened to gain possession of southwest Missouri, I approved of Lyon's determination to give them battle at Wilson's Creek, in spite of their superior numbers. I had enlisted as a private in St. Louis and was already a captain, so that my opinion had some weight. We were all so inexperienced then that a man who had participated in such skirmishes (we called them battles) as Booneville and Dry Spring was regarded as a tried soldier."

"How vividly I remember the 10th of August, the day on which the engagement at Wilson's Creek occurred. The ground was rolling, like most of the land in Greene county, Mo., with clumps of trees here and there and a forest in the distance. The weather was intensely hot, and the dust from the movements of the adverse armies almost suffocating. Gen. Lyon, as we were drawn up for battle, rode along the line encouraging the men. He told them how much depended on the result of the fight, to stand firm, to remember the flag of the country, to think that on each soldier's conduct the result might hang. I could see that he was anxious, but he looked hopeful, cheerful and undaunted. A braver, more patriotic man never fought in the Union cause. I felt that he would, if he should live, lead us to victory; that he could not fail. So he seemed to affect everybody that came into his presence."

"My regiment was one of the first ordered forward on the enemy's right. We were ordered to withhold our fire until within fifty yards; but the men were so excited and undisciplined that they began firing long before they could do much harm. The fire was returned when we were near enough to see the faces of the Confederates, and appeared to be very destructive. My men seemed to be falling all around me. But I soon saw that it was partially confusion in the ranks, caused by unfamiliarity with danger. The men were speedily rallied, and I observed that only a few had been struck. I ordered my company not to mind the wounded and we rapidly advanced. I had had at the outset a keen sense of fear; I believed I should be hit every moment. But the fear quickly passed. I became intensely excited, and yet I was outwardly calm. The dust and the smoke of the guns covered everything, for the air was close and stifling. I heard the roar of the engagement, mingled with the groans of the wounded and their pitiful cries for water. I had a choking thirst myself. The field seemed like a burning desert. What wouldn't I have given for a drink of water, and there was water nowhere, the canteens being exhausted."

"Notwithstanding my excitement, I grew steadily calmer. I ceased to think of myself. I had no idea of personal peril, though I saw men dropping constantly. When it was one of our men, I was amazed. When it was one of the enemy, I was rejoiced, and I found myself shouting like the rest with delicious joy at every casualty on the other side. I hungered for blood. I was like a wild beast. If I could have slain a thousand Confederates with a blow of my blade, I should have been happy. One of our officers rode before us. He waved his sword, and cried out something that I could not understand. The words had scarcely left his lips when a cannon ball came whizzing over his head, and his bleeding trunk fell to the ground. The incident did not horrify or startle me; it only quickened my tigerish passion for revenge, and I yelled with glee, a minute after, as I saw a Confederate officer reel in his saddle and tumble."

"The oddly uniformed line opposite, in which butternut was a conspicuous color, showed signs of giving way. Just then our standard bearer, who was in advance, was struck and fell. A fresh Confederate force had been ordered up to relieve the troops we had been fighting, and bore down upon us in such numbers that we were ordered to withdraw slowly, our faces to the foe. A dozen members of our regiment had hurried forward to rescue the flag, which had already been torn from the staff by one of the enemy, a fine looking fellow, an officer plainly, and which he thrust into the breast of his coat. I marked his countenance and figure. I was sure that I should remember him. What pleasure I should have taken in killing him, in order to recover the colors of the regiment, which I felt it such a disgrace to lose in one of the first real battles of the war."

"But there was no chance of recapturing it. We steadily fell back, and were soon relieved by fresh troops. Our regiment had lost heavily. Out of 600 or so, one quarter were killed, wounded and missing, and the remainder were in no condition for further fighting at once. I still mourned over the captured flag. During the first year of the strife we soldiers, you remember, thought the loss of a standard of colors as bad as a general defeat, and we never altered our opinion greatly afterward either. It may be superstition, but it is a patriotic superstition that every true soldier is inclined to cherish. The flag of a country represents our highest interest."

"I could not bear to be off duty on that day. As soon as I had quenched my excessive thirst in a pool of dirty water, where a score of men were half frantic and fighting for drink, I went to Gen. Lyon and offered my service to act as one of his aides. He accepted it, and giving me a horse sent me with an order to a distant part of the field. I delivered the order, but in doing so bullet after bullet whistled near me, one of the bullets passing through the skirt of my coat. I already began to imagine that I might be destined not to be struck—constant danger makes us fatalists—and I galloped along to the music of the guns, fancying myself in a feverish dream. To be beyond the sound of cries and groans, the sight of blood and wounds was a great relief."

"It seemed to be only in danger myself, and of that danger I was almost unconscious. I was in a part of the field away from the battle, riding fast to where I supposed Gen. Lyon to be, when my horse reared as if in pain. I believed that he must be mortally wounded by a stray shot. I disengaged myself from the stirrups, and just in time, for I felt that he was falling. I tumbled headlong—I could not save myself—and then I was unconscious. How long I remained so I cannot tell. I awoke with senses dazed, but the din of battle, the sight of dust, powder and smoke restored me. My horse lay dead a few feet distant, the blood still flowing from his side, caused apparently by a grape shot. No one seemed near me, and I was walking away somewhat lame, when a voice, saying 'Surrender, you d-d Yankee, or I'll blow your brains out!' drew my attention. Out of a cluster of trees had stepped a Confederate officer, whom a glance disclosed as the captor of our colors. To ally any doubt, if there could be doubt, the silken end of the stripes was still visible in the breast of his coat. He was coming toward me with a revolver leveled at my head, perhaps fifty feet off. He doubtless believed me unarmed; but I reached instinctively toward my belt and drew my pistol, which had happily been uninjured by my fall."

"Never," I shouted. "You have taken the colors of my regiment. I'll get them back or die."

"Die then!" he responded, and a bullet whizzed past me.

"I fired at nearly the same moment, probably to no purpose, as he still advanced. I advanced also. The recovery of the flag was far dearer to me than life. We exchanged shots again. It was a regular duel. Once more we fired. I felt that I must be hit. But I was strong enough to discharge another barrel, and had the supreme satisfaction of seeing my antagonist fall. I was immediately at his side, intent only on the stars and stripes, which I drew out and was trying to hide in my clothing when my head swam, darkness passed before my eyes and then oblivion."

"I was found unconscious, as I learned afterward, on the breast of the dead Confederate, a captain from Kentucky. His ball had passed through my lungs; mine into his breast. The flag was closely grasped in my hand and stained with my blood. It is at my home and counted among its most precious treasures. Every I say, 'Bless the old flag! To-day every true son of the great republic, even those who fought so blindly against it twenty odd years ago, is willing to give his last drop of blood to guard it from dishonor.'"

JUNIOR HENRI BROWNE.

SUBSIDENCES IN CHESHIRE.

How Buildings Are Sinking in Certain Portions of England.

Our engraving illustrates a very curious and very unpleasant phenomenon in Winsford, Cheshire, England—the sinking of a large building into the earth. This and many other sinkings in that county are due to the removal of salt from the mines. Over 1,200,000 tons of pure salt from brine and 500,000 tons of rock salt are shipped annually from Cheshire; the latter is regularly quarried out and the former made from brine pumped up from the deep pits. In addition,

THE RED LION.

tion, it is supposed that the rain percolating through the earth is washing a much larger quantity into the ocean by underground channels. In the towns of Northwich and Winsford the houses are settling down in all sorts of ways, as chance may determine, windows and doors often standing at acute angles to the foot walks, and these rising occasionally in waves. Several months ago the earth near the Wheatsheaf inn sank very suddenly, and afterward the bottom of the cellar "dropped out" while several men were at work in it. Both cellar bottom and the earth of the earlier depression fell into an old salt mine full of water; and the men were saved with much difficulty. The cut shows the Red Lion inn at Winsford, which has sunk thirty-seven feet and a half since 1840, and is still sinking. It was formerly so high that the first floor was reached by a high flight of steps. Near by stands the solitary chimney of some old salt works, all the rest of the building having fallen into the cavern. The sides of the cavity above it are somewhat rounded off by rain, and then a deep mere or lake with no outlet is formed.

TORPEDO BOAT FEARLESS.

The Latest Addition Made to the "Queen's Navy."

The English are constantly adding to their navy vessels of such types as seem likely to survive. The latest addition is a twin screw torpedo boat of the Scout class, named Fearless, of which a cut is here presented. She is built of steel throughout, is 220 feet long, 34 feet extreme breadth and 19 feet 9 inches depth in hold. Her displacement is 1,430 tons, her mean draught 13 feet 6 inches. Each of her twin screws is driven by an independent pair of engines of the collective force of 1,600 horse power, the average indicated horse power for both pairs of engines being 3,900. By the utilization of cast steel in the manufacture of framings a very considerable reduction in weight has been attained. The Fearless carries four five inch pivoted guns, eight Nordenfildt and two Gardner machine guns.

THE FEARLESS.

There are eleven torpedo tubes, or air guns, one fitted in the bow, under water, and the others ranged along the upper deck. When the gunners are at work they are protected by shields, revolving with the carriages. Those working the torpedo tubes are protected by steel plating in each torpedo port. Four air compressing engines supply motive power for the torpedoes. There are two electric search lights of 20,000 candle power, for use in night service. The Fearless is unarmored, and her chief strength lies in her great speed and in the fact that her engines and boilers, steering arrangements, magazines and other vital parts are placed below the load water line in watertight compartments, with a protected steel deck.

"Well, they don't have to sit in draughty churches three times a week with their hats off."—Omaha World.

What Mrs. Brown Thought.

"Where have you been?" asks Mrs. Brown at the theatre of Mr. B., just out between the acts.

"Oh, just out to see a man," replied Brown.

"When did he die?"

"The man you went out to see."

"What are you talking about?"

"Well, judging from your breath, it must have been a spirit you saw."—New York Sun.

Burglars effected an entrance, through a window, into the residence of Rev. H. F. Belser, Monday evening. They secured a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes and about $5 in money. The clothes were afterwards found near by, but no trace of either money, shoes or thief has yet been discovered.

At a meeting of the Hobart Guild, last Thursday evening, it was decided to set apart the use of the gymnasium on Wednesdays and Fridays for the use of the girls. $500 has recently been given the Guild for the purchase of books. The parlors hereafter will be open on Sunday afternoons for the members.

The following board of directors was elected by the Savings bank, Monday: Christian Mack, W. W. Wines, W. B. Smith, David Rinsey, W. D. Harriman, W. Deubel and Daniel Hiscock. The board then elected the following officers: Christian Mack, president; W. W. Wines, vice president; C. E. Hiscock, cashier.

The following persons have aided the sewing school the past month: Mrs. Willard Foster, Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Schairer. Donations of money, material for garments, needles and pins, always acceptable. The number of strangers who will attend the exercises of commencement week is likely to be greater than ever before, and largely to exceed the capacity of the hotels. Those who can offer rooms, or board or both, for that week at reasonable price, are requested to inform Steward J. H. Wade, or Prof. E. S. Walter, of that fact, that strangers may be helped in finding quarters.

At a special meeting of Ann Arbor Typographical Union, No. 154, held Monday evening, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing six months: President, Robert Shannon; vice president, H. A. Sweet; recording secretary, Edgar L. Munyon; financial secretary, Guy W. Stevenson; sergeant-at-arms, Wm. Acton; board of directors—Adam Goetz, Fred. W. Schulz, Clyde C. Kerr.

The second annual exhibit of drawings done in the public schools, will be made at the Tappan school building, on Friday and Saturday, the 17th and 18th inst. The exhibit will consist of drawings, original designs, and blackboard sketches. There will also be a small collection of objects modeled in clay, and other kindergarten work, from the primary grades. The public are cordially invited to inspect the exhibit.

The annual report of the health officer for the year ending April 1, 1887, was made Monday night to the council. The mortality was as follows: Old age, 15; pneumonia, 13; consumption, 13; cancers, 11; dropsy, 7; diphtheria, 7; infancy and stillborn, 6; cholera infantum, 7; brain disease, 6; heart disease, 6; peritonitis, 3; Bright's disease, 2; rheumatism, 2; tonsillitis, 2; measles 2. Fifteen other diseases claimed that number of victims.

John C. Bird, a highly respected citizen of Ann Arbor town, died at his residence on Miller avenue, about one mile west of the city limits, Sunday evening, of heart disease, aged 64 years 10 months and 22 days. Mr. Bird had been in ill health for some time, and though his death was quite sudden, it was not unexpected. He was born in the state of New Jersey and at the age of eleven years he moved to Washtenaw county where he resided until his death. He was a member of the Baptist church, and was also an active member of the pomological society. The funeral was held at the residence, Friday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. Dr. Haskell conducting the services.

Miss D. B. Cook and Dr. H. March, late resident physician of the Ann Arbor private hospital, were married, Monday evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Biggs, by Rev. W. H. Ryder. Miss Loomis and M. T. Lantz acted as bridesmaid and groom. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents. After the refreshments had been served the happy couple, amidst volumes of good wishes, took the evening train for Nova Scotia, where they will reside in the future. For some time past the young wife has been a very active member of the Congregational church here, where her zealous christian efforts will long be remembered. We join a host of friends in wishing them bon voyage on their journey through life.

Thursday evening June 2nd, Miss Mary D. Ferdon, daughter of John Ferdon, and Chas. D. Bentley, of St Paul, Minn., were married, at the residence of the bride's parents on State-st. Only the family and a few intimate friends were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Benj. Day, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. W. W. Ramsay D. D., according to the impressive ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church. Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. Clarence Richebaugh, of Tiffin, Ohio; Miss Berkeley, of Grand Rapids; John W. Ferdon, of St Paul; and Will Graham, of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Bentley left the same evening for Sault Ste. Marie, where they will spend the summer.

Ann Arbor is experiencing a greater building boom this spring than it has had for many years. On going over the city we find there is not a street but that the same activity in building is going on. Real estate dealers say that property has taken an upward tendency, and the boom which other cities are having, seems to have struck Ann Arbor. Besides this every citizen seems to have recently been endowed with the idea of fixing up his lawn, making improvements on his house, and in fact doing everything which can be done to add to the beauty of our city. No better evidence of this can be obtained than to attend the council meetings and see the interested people there, petitioning for new streets, sidewalks, appropriation for park improvements, etc.

In speaking of some of the noted ones in attendance at the state pioneer meeting, at Lansing, last week, the Republican has the following concerning two of our well known citizens: "The president, M. H. Goodrich, of Ann Arbor, has a strong face, which tells a stranger of his will and intellectual prowess. He came to Michigan from Massachusetts when he was a year old, and ever since, so it seems at least from what he has done, he has been one of the most efficient workers in the society. His services in the matter of publications have been invaluable to the society." "Mrs. Mary E. Foster is one of Ann Arbor's legal lights. She is well known throughout the state as a woman of unusual strength of mind, and her success in the profession she has chosen is remarkable for one of the gentler sex."
