

BUSINESS CARDS.

ALIX W. HAMILTON Attorney at Law. Will practice in both State and United States Courts.

DR. H. B. ARNDT. (Officer First National Bank.) HOURS: 10:30 to 12 u. and 2:30 to 3:30 P. M.

KBLLET PEERLESS TRUSS. It given on trial and warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON. OFFICE IN MASONIC BLOCK, ROOM 4.

NICHOLS BROS., DENTAL OFFICE. Second Floor Masonic Block, over 8 & 1/2 Bank, Ann Arbor, Mich.

KUPTUKKI! EGAN'S IMPERIAL TRUSS. Spiral Spring with graded pressure 1 to 6 pounds.

WM. BIGGS. Contractor! Builder. And all kinds of work in connection with the above promptly executed.

WILLIAM ARNOLD, SELLS 1847 ROGERS BROS' SPOONS, FORKS, AN 13 KNIVK8.

SHINGLES! The best Roofing in the world is Walter's Patent Shingles.

Durable and Ornamental Than Slate. Warranted to Give Satisfaction.

CEORGE SCOTT, Architect. Sole Agent for Washenow County.

STEKETE NEURALGIA DROPS. SURE CURE FOR NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, HEADACHE, BACKACHE, HEART CORRECTOR, OR PAINS.

Valuable Testimonials. A DONT USE THE KNIFE.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

MISS G. ROEST. Corner of Clancy and Cedar Streets. Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6, 1887.

Ask your druggist for Stekete's Neuralgia Drops. If they have not it for sale, then take nothing else.

DEEP IN THE DRIFTS.

Terrific Snow-Storm in New York and Other Places.

A General Blockade of Railway, Telegraph and Miscellaneous Business.

KEW YORK, March 13.—The heaviest snow-storm of the year prevailed in this city yesterday.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Eastern blockade from the storm was somewhat relieved yesterday.

Matters in this city yesterday afternoon assumed a slightly better aspect.

No milk has been received in this or the neighboring cities of Brooklyn and Jersey City for thirty-six hours.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

At midnight the snow was again falling heavily, with every prospect of continuing.

Monday night was the worst ever experienced along the banks of the Hudson and along the Westchester shore of the Sound.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Death of Berlin of the Famous Baler of Germany.

BERLIN, March 10.—Emperor William died at 8:30 yesterday morning.

The death of Friedrich Ludwig Wilhelm, first Emperor of Germany and seventh King of Prussia, removes from the world the most stately and conspicuous representative of royalty in contemporary European history.

From that day in 1861 when he placed the crown of Prussia upon his head alone, he has been every inch a sovereign, though standing in the shadow of two such men as Bismarck and Von Moltke.

The death of Emperor William has called out expressions of sorrow and sympathy from all portions of the globe.

GLADSTONE SURELY COMING. The Grand Old Man to Visit the United States.

LONDON, March 12.—It can be stated upon absolute authority that Gladstone will visit the United States next fall.

Major K-witt Can't Them The Greatest Tyrants that Ever Lived.

NEW YORK, March 9.—At the dinner of the alumni of William College last night Mayor Hewitt denounced Powerly and Arthur as the great tyrants that ever lived.

POW-RLY AND ARTHUR. Major K-witt Can't Them The Greatest Tyrants that Ever Lived.

LONDON, March 12.—The fight between Sullivan and Mitchell took place Saturday at Credit France, on the estate of Baron Rothschild.

Germany's New Kipperer. BERLIN, March 13.—Frederick III was formally proclaimed Emperor yesterday.

A University Burned. MITCHELL, D. T., March 10.—Early yesterday morning fire destroyed the Methodist University in this city.

Pip-Line to Chicago. Lou, O., March 9.—The Standard Oil Company has commenced the preliminary work for the building of an immense pipeline from this city to Chicago.

Ten Thousand Dollars Reward. CHICAGO, March 12.—Mm. Henrietta cinell widow of Amos J. Huell, the murdered millionaire, had offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of William B. Tascott.

Lynchings by Women. TRENTON, Ga., March 12.—Tom Roof (colored), who assaulted Mrs. Morrison here Saturday, was taken from jail and lynched by a mob of women.

Threatened with Lynching. RICHMOND, Va., March 13.—Mormon elders who have been making converts in small districts of Botetourt County have been notified to leave or be lynched.

THE MARKETS. NEW YORK, March 14. LIVE STOCK—Cattle, 3 01 to 6 00.

CHICAGO, March 14. BEEVES—Shipping Steers, H 60 to 5 70.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—The wind continued to blow all yesterday, and the thousands of laborers who have been digging at the mountains of snow and ice on the various lines leading into this city have had a very disagreeable task.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The fierce windstorm which struck Washington last Saturday night and which has continued uninterrupted since that time shows no signs of abatement.

At the signal office it is said that the present storm is unprecedented since the origin of the signal service.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 14.—This city is cut off from railroad, telegraph and telephone communication with all points by the blizzard, and but for the ferryboats, which still make irregular trips, it would be completely isolated.

Wilmington, Del., March 14.—The Delaware Railroad Company has succeeded in re-establishing telegraphic communications along its line, and sends the following dispatch: "I send the following report from Lewes this morning: One tug-boat sunk out of sight; wrecking company steamer sank near railroad pier; vesseling ashore; twenty-three sailing vessels of various kinds ashore; heaviest loss ever occurred in that harbor; it is estimated that about twenty-five lives were lost; but two bodies recovered as yet."

"Hasn't Tolceco, rntarri and False Teeth."

A prominent English woman says the American women all have high, shrill, nasal voices unless false-teeth.

American don't like the constant twitting they get about their nasal twang, and yet it is a fact caused by our dry stimulating atmosphere, and the universal presence of catarrhal difficulties.

Both why should so many of our women have false teeth? That is more of a puzzle to the English. It is quite impossible to account for it except on the theory of deranged stomach action caused by imprudence in eating and by want of regular exercise.

Both conditions are unnatural. Catarrhal troubles everywhere prevail and end in cough and consumption, which are promoted by malnutrition induced by deranged stomach action.

Comrade Eli Fisher, of Salem, Henry Co., Iowa, served four years in the late war and contracted a disease called consumption by the doctors.

The ochoro bile is sometimes found in the throat.—R 'Son Belle' in.

I Am Proud to say from personal experience that Sulphur Bitters, which advertisement will be seen in another column, is the best spring and Hood medicine to be found.

Never worry over trouble. The trouble itself is misery enough.

In chronic cases of neuralgia, rheumatism, or gout, where the disturbing cause is a certain acid which poisons the blood, Sulphur Bitters will in time dissolve the poison circulating in the blood, and reheat when all others fail.

Some men are so addicted to poker that every thing they have goes to pot.—Bulletin.

GOOD MORNING, MOTHER: how do you feel this morning? O, I am ever so much better. That cough of idleness of my lungs has entirely left me.

The astrologer should be consulted when the postoffice authorities change the star routes.—Picaury.

Many of the good things of this life are sorrowfully left alone on account of Dyspepsia. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation.

Private business—Uariying a musket—Washington Critic. General business—Carrying a sword.—Stittidg.

HIBBARD'S Rheumatic Plasters are of great merit for weak lungs and stomach, and should be applied over the parts affected.

"If I take hold of this thing, you know," remarked the tar to the rooster, "I'll stick to it; I never let goof anything I go into." And the tar kettle fell he o'uld indorse the last statement.—Birdette.

BUY IT AND TRY IT. Try it for earache. Try it for headache. Try it for toothache. Try it for backache.

For an ache or a pain Thomas' Electric Oil is excellent.—Chas. F. Medler, box 274, Schenectady, N. Y.

Thomas' Electric Oil is the best thing going, passays. Cured him of rheumatism and me of earache—two drops.—Master Horace Brenizer, Clinton, Iowa.

Try it for a limp. Try it for a lameness. Try it for a pain. Try it for a strain.

From shoulder to ankle joint, and for three months, I had rheumatism which yielded to nothing but Thomas' Electric Oil. Thomas' Electric Oil did what no physician seemed able to accomplish.

Try it for a scald. Try it for a burn. Try it for a bump.

Price 50 ct So and Jti.oo. FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's.

Low Bates to Pacific Coast; j Low Bates to Pacific Coast; j Low Bates to Pacific Coast;

The new agreement between the transcontinental lines authorizes a lower rate to Pacific coast points via the Manitoba-Pacific route than is made via any other line.

W. W. Warren, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

A [Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave.

A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years.

Two Virginia editors punctuated their editorials with bullets. One of them came to a full stop, and the other was so badly wounded that it is thought the period of his existence is near at hand.

Many men of many minds; Many pills of various kinds. But for a UJIO, etter-ouve, vegetable purative, you had better get Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Don't sneer at the pretty girl because she spends time looking into the mirror. Every minute that she devotes to improving her personal appearance makes the landscape so much more attractive to you.

irhit* Swelling. Mr. H. S. Hittlin, one of the best known insurance men in North Carolina, writes from Winston, as follows: "Ever since I was seven years of age I have had what the doctors call hip disease, and which I call white swelling.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

"I saw you out with half a dozen different girls during the past week, Fred," said a friend. "The first thing you know one of them will be suing you for a breach of promise and getting $45,000 out of you."

Treatise on Blood and Skin Disease* mailed frw. Tna SWIFT Swiric Co., Dallas 3, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

Mr. O. N. Frizell, of Farmersville, Texas, writes: "About August 1st, 1880, an eruption appeared on my arms and legs, which pained me much and seemed to affect my physical condition generally.

EBEBACH & SOU,

DRUGGISTS

And Pharmacists,

No. 71 South Main Street,

Keep on hand a large and well selected stock of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye-Stuffs, Artists' and Wax Flower Materials, Toilet Articles, Trusses, and

PURE WINES & LIQUORS

Special attention paid to the furnishing of Physicians, Chemists, Schools etc., with Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, Bohemian Chemical Glass-ware, Percolators, Pure Reagents, etc.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared at all hours.

LUMBER

LUMBER!

If you oontemplate building oAU »t

FKRDON LUMBER YARD!

Corner Fourth and Depot Sta., and get our figures for all kinds of

LUMBEE

We manufacture our own Lumber and guarantee

VERY LOW PRICES!

49-Give as a call and we will make it to our interest, for we will not let you go without the best of lumber.

JAMES TOLBETT, Prop.

T. J. KECCH, S. P. L.

RINSEY & SEABOLT

31XOS. 6 AND 8

Washington Street, Ann Arbor Michigan.

Have tlwaj* on hand a complete Stock of every thing in the line.

GROCERY LIFE!

Teas, Coffees and Sugars

All prime Articles bought for Cash and on sell at low figures. Our frequent large Invoice* of Teas lea rare sign that we give bargain!

QUALITY AND PKIOF.

We roast our own coffees every week, always fresh and good. Our bakery turns out the very best of Bread, Cakes and crackers. C* and scens.

PATENTS

FRANKLIN H. HOUGH, Solicitor of American & Foreign Patents.

990 F St., near 17. S. Patent Office. WASHINGTON, D. C.

All Inventions before the United States Patent Office attended to for moderate fees. Patents procured in the United States and all Foreign Countries. T. J. DeMunn and L. H. O'Connell, Inventors.

Send Sketch or Model for free opinion as to patentability. Copies of Patents furnished for 25 cents each. 49- Correspondence invited.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THE DAISSY HOSE SUPPORTER

NEVER TEARS THE STOCKING WARRANTED TO HOLD SECURELY.

PAINT

Tip top for Chairs, Lawn S*ak Sash, Flower Pots, Baby Carriages, Curtains, Poles, Furniture, etc. Yellow, Olive, Lake, Blue, and all other colors. No Yarn* or other*! The best of paint.

YOUR BUGGY

FOR YOUR HONEST

Are you going to Paint this year? If so, don't miss a paint containing water or benzine when you paint in the West, and up with the name COIT'S HONEST PAINT.

COIT'S FLOOR PAINT

Paint that never dries, never cracks, never peels, never wears, never fades, never discolors, never loses its gloss, never becomes sticky, never dries too fast, never dries too slow, never dries at all.

THE REGISTER.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY KITTRIDGE & HOLMES,
ANN ARBOR, MICH.

TEBMS:

One Dollar per year In Advance: $1.30
If not paid until after six months.
ag-Fifteen Cents per year additional, to Subscribers outside of Washtenaw County.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1888.

IN ADRIAN, last Saturday, a jury in the circuit court rendered a verdict granting $4,000 in favor of Maria Larheler in her suit against Frank Kirchgessner, a saloon-keeper. They are Clinton or Tecumseh parties. Kirchgessner had sold liquor to the plaintiff's husband; the husband became intoxicated, fell from his wagon in driving home, which resulted in breaking his neck. No one will charge THE REGISTER with favoring the saloons; but we never could see the justice in asking the saloon-keeper to be responsible for what damage might arise from such incidents. We know that the statutes provide for it; but is it right? As long as society recognizes the saloon-business as legal, and derives a large revenue from it, ought not society to pay for all deaths that may result from the business? The saloon-keeper, by no amount of care, can tell exactly how much every customer can drink without becoming intoxicated.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Next Saturday is St. Patrick's day, and it will be celebrated in every part of the world where the son of Erin has a G.D.P. A good and pious man who for a few years had been a slave and captive in Ireland, conceived the idea of spreading the catholic religion in that island. This was in the fourth century after Christ. Armed with authority from the pope, and accompanied by 20 preachers, St. Patrick went to Ireland and accomplished a great work in changing the people's religious practices. There is a vast amount of legend that has grown up about his name; but that much at least is probably historical. We need not believe that he performed wonderful miracles, even to causing the earth to open and swallow his enemies, the Druidical priests, whose material interests were at stake in preventing any change. We need not believe that he actually set snowballs and chunks of ice on fire by blowing upon them. It is not necessary to believe these that are related of him, as well as that time-honored story of his driving the snakes from Ireland, to acknowledge Ireland's and the world's indebtedness to him. He did a great work; the Druids, who were the Tories of those times, opposed him, and as it was a simple and credulous and ignorant age, marvelous stories grew up about him. It is for true Irishmen and true men to see that all effort for change be not stopped by the Druids of the present time. An illustrated paper has a good picture of St. Patrick expelling the snakes; but the snakes are labelled Dublin castle and other hated representatives of the established order of things in Ireland. These snakes must be expelled from Ireland before the Emerald Isle can be truly prosperous and Christian. The celebration of St. Patrick's day now should mean something more than mere homage to the patron saint of Ireland. It should mean the carrying forward of his good work in making Ireland truly free, a work which interests every free man, no matter of what nationality.

WHAT »W AKBOB NEEDS.

The few warm, bright days of last week brought to the minds of our citizens the coming delights of May and June, when Ann Arbor and the surrounding country will be a paradise. With a healthy growth, and offering, as it does, unrivalled advantages as a place of residence, Ann Arbor is a city of which it citizens can be proud. These "advantages" arise not only from the beauty of the city and its situation, but because of the presence here of the University, the greatest center of thought and culture in the west.

Whatever may be said in way of criticizing Ann Arbor's sanitary condition can be said of nearly every city in Michigan; so that what we say of our city's defects in that line must not be considered as disparaging. If Ann Arbor were perfect in that respect, it would be the most desirable place of residence in the west, without an exception.

But typhoid fever and diphtheria have been on the increase in this city, as they have in other cities. We cannot prove this by giving statistics. Reliable statistics on the subject probably cannot be obtained. We are, however, informed by a leading physician of this city that such is the fact, and it accords with what a priori we should expect. No city can go on, year after year, depositing its filth in the soil on which it stands without having an increase in the death-rate due to those two diseases, or at least from typhoid fever. The abandonment of wells undoubtedly does much good, and now the city should abandon the vault and cess-pool nuisance. Almost every case of typhoid fever might be prevented; and diphtheria, as has been amply demonstrated, can be greatly restrained. Typhoid fever will not be stopped so long as the privy-vault and cess-pool are retained. The people must have a clean soil upon which they live, or some of them will suffer sickness and some of them will form a part of the soil before their proper time.

Now, if the city does not feel ready to construct sewers, the vaults, or a part of them, can be condemned and the dry-earth system adopted for a time. This dry-earth system, although not perfect, and requiring great care and some expense, is yet better and safer than the privy-vault nuisance. If carried on by the city, it could be systematized and worked to the best advantage; and it would do very well for a few years till sewers were constructed. The common council would do a good thing by having some competent man report on the subject of a dry-earth system of disposing of excreta.

KMPKROR HILIAAL.

The emperor of Germany died last Friday. In some respects he was a very remarkable man. He lived to the great age of 91, although ten years ago his face and arms were filled with buckshot from the gun of a socialist, and other attempts were made to assassinate him. He was a man kingly in appearance, of a perfect constitution, and of a simplicity and cheerfulness which relieved him from the severe effect of mental and physical strain.

Coming to the throne of Prussia distressed and opposed by a large element in his kingdom, he became the idol of his people, and did a great work in uniting the German people. He had a military education which began in the last campaign against the great Napoleon, and he rose rapidly in his profession. His brother being king of Prussia without children, William entered political life as crown prince. At that time the democratic spirit was spreading rapidly in that little kingdom. William then, as ever during his life, believed in the old dogma of the divine right of kings. He made himself extremely unpopular by opposing the liberal party and by upholding despotic power. The king was offered the crown of all Germany, but declined because of his fear of Austria. William approved the declination because the crown was offered by a popular assembly. He believed that kings secured crowns rightfully by conquest or by divine right. His unpopularity was so great that he retired to England for a time.

Twenty-eight years ago, the king of Prussia died, and William took the crown. He was 63 years old, an age at which most men cease active work; but he was just entering upon his great career. It was his theory that the parliament had no right to debate any question relative to the supplies for the army. The army belongs to the king. But his parliament thought differently. Popular liberty was in the air and the people were longing to breathe it in. There was a great struggle which added to the king's unpopularity, when, in 1862, he dismissed his ministry, and made Count Bismarck prime minister. These two men began that policy which humbled Austria and France, and united the many German states into the great power known today as Germany. By a masterly policy in foreign affairs, they drew the attention of the people away from home affairs. The pride of the people was so touched that liberal grants of money were made for the army. All reading people know how William and Bismarck built up the greatest military system that the world has ever seen. Back in 1857, when he was regent, William had brought three remarkable generals about him, the best known of whom is Von Moltke. They were very geniuses of military organization and discipline.

Under the diplomatic victories of Bismarck and the blaze of glory about the magnificent army, the German people forgot their dreams of liberty and almost worshipped the grand old autocrat who was the cause of their national greatness. In 1871 when he was occupying the French royal palace, he was crowned emperor of united Germany, the strongest military power of the world.

It is idle to speculate whether the emperor's success has or has not been best for the German people. The uniting of the German states into one great power, seems to have conferred some advantages. But the question is now, Shall the aspirations of a large portion of the German people for a more liberal form of government be longer stifled? The German parliament now contains a small but strong element which looks to a constitutional monarchy if not something more liberal. So long as Bismarck remains at the head, the old policy will not be reversed. But the new emperor, Frederick III, should he live, may pursue a different course, as it is popularly supposed that he is in sympathy with the liberal side and is willing to grant a constitution in which the rights of the people shall be protected.

A DETROIT daily, in a long editorial on a subject relating to Mr. Blaine, spoke of the warm friendship between him and Congressman Reed of Maine. A prominent Ann Arbor citizen says that he happens to have positive knowledge of the fact that Blaine and Reed will hardly speak to each other.

IMPORTAHTANJOITSreEMEJIT.

THE REGISTER will next week begin the publication of a series of short stories which will be of great interest to our readers. One of them is from the pen of that great novelist, Robert Louis Stevenson, and another was written by R. Rider Haggard, the author of "She." The first story to appear will probably be "Mr. Bird's Umbrella," and was written by F. W. Robinson. Robert Louis Stevenson's story is "Will o' the Mill." This is the most important announcement of the kind ever made by a Washtenaw county paper, and we feel sure that our readers will welcome the stories with pleasure.

MAYOR HEWITT, of New York city, now receives almost as much newspaper attention as President Cleveland, and even the Republican papers praise him. His latest performance is declining to review the procession in New York city on St. Patrick's day. As the old general said of the charge at Balaklava, 'It's splendid, but it isn't war.' The Irish vote in New York city is large, and it requires courage to do what the mayor did. We can see no very good reason for his declining, but the courage displayed cannot be doubted. The mayor, too, has recently been recommending some startling innovations in the way of taxation and of managing rapid transit. He wants the taxation of personal property stopped. He also wants the city to manage its own means of rapid transit. He presents his views with wonderful clearness and in an unanswerable way. He is called socialist by those who want things to remain just as they are, but he goes along serenely not minding them very much.

THE New York senate has had a committee investigating trusts, and the committee has made a report. The difficulty the committee had in getting witnesses and books was something remarkable. The leading man desired as witness would be in Florida for his health, and books and papers would be found to have disappeared in a most unaccountable way. However, in spite of these difficulties, the trusts controlling sugar, milk, rubber, cotton-seed oil, envelopes, elevators, oil cloth, standard oil, glass and furniture, were overhauled somewhat. The "Milk Exchange, Limited," can hardly be called a trust, but it is a monopoly of the worst kind. The business it represents is simply enormous. But the exchange compels the farmers to sell the milk at two to three cents per quart, and then it sells it to the people of New York city for seven, eight, and sometimes ten cents per quart. The report recommends that the Exchange's charter be taken away.

JAY GOULD and Russell Sage were recently charged before a New York grand jury with larceny. The bondholders of the Kansas Pacific road charged them with the dishonest conversion to their own use of the bonds of the road. There was a strong case against them. The usual procedure for a grand jury is to find an indictment if the evidence is such as, if uncontradicted or unexplained, would warrant a conviction. The defense is made at the trial. But this grand jury went out of its way to shield the millionaires, and, while not denying that the evidence was sufficient, refused to bring in an indictment because the offense was committed so long ago that the prosecution was barred out by statute. That was something the jury had nothing to do with properly. Some of the best lawyers express astonishment at this action. If instead of two millionaires, there had been two poor men charged with larceny, they would have gone to trial.

Savings Association.

At the meeting of the Ann Arbor Co-operative Savings association, last Saturday, three new articles to the constitution were proposed, and they will probably be adopted next Saturday. These provide for the admission of new members, after April 14 next, who will be required to pay dues only from that time. Persons joining now pay dues from April, 1887. Those who are now members are in series A. Series B will be started April 14, the beginning of the second year's work of the association. Whenever there has been loaned to the members of any series as many hundred dollars as there are shares in that series, then all payments of dues, interest, and fines by members of the series shall cease, and all mortgages for loans shall be cancelled. The members of any series who have not taken any loan on the whole or a portion of their shares, when the series to which they belong closes shall be paid by the association interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the date when the series closes until the time when such member takes a loan, payment of such interest to be made when the loan is taken.

A. Lawrence Rotch, of the Blue Hill meteorological observatory, Readville, Mass., was in Ann Arbor last Thursday and Friday. He is the associate of Prof. Harrington in editing the American Meteorological Journal. He had a liberal education in the Boston Polytechnic Institute. Having acquired a taste for the study of meteorology, and having ample means, he established the meteorological observatory above-mentioned and conducts it at his own expense. He has made two trips to Europe in the study of his favorite science.

THROW AWAY THE OLD HAT.

Noble has the Spring Derbys. IS IT BATHER PREMATURE to mention that we have opened Spring Overcoats? IT IS THE FACT JUST THE SAME. Also have the Spring Shades in Kids and Novelties in Neckwear. We are still closing the older blocks in Derbys at $1.43. Woolen Hosiery worth 25c, for 18c; 3 pairs for 50c, and OH Saturday next, Will sell Underwear for 15c each. Whatever the weather, we will endeavor to supply your wants. A. L. NOBLE, Leading Clothier and Hatter.

Although not yet 30 years old, he has written well upon the subject of meteorology.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a manner peculiar to itself, the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. You will find this wonderful remedy effective where other medicines have failed. Try it now. It will purify your blood, regulate the digestion, and give new life and vigor to the entire body. "Hood's Sarsaparilla did me no good. I was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y. "I suffered three years from blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and I think I am cured." Mas. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

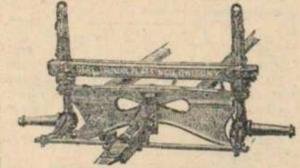

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence. "Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. F. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass. "Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." L. BABBINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by a I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

CHAMPION WAGON!

SAVE YOUR HORSES. SO WHIPPING OF THE POLE No matter how Rough or Tjeven the Roads may be. The only Farm Wagon supplied with Springs. The CHAMPION is stronger than any other. It is the easiest wagon for a team to handle. Every CHAMPION guaranteed. Any responsible party can have a 4 pampion on 30 days trial. The wagon must be seen at work to be appreciated. Send for circulars to E. S. HSLIN, i. S. General Aft., DELHI MILLS, MICH. One of these Wagons may be seen by calling at Wood's Lumber Yard, Ann Arbor.

WE ARE HERE

At the Same Old Stand,
NO. 5 ANN STREET,

First Grocery East of Post-Office,
WHERE YOU ARE INVITED TO CALL!

For Pepp&rs that are Strictly Pure.
For Coffees that are Perfect in Flavor,
For Teas that never turn Red.
For Spices that are not Adulterated,
For Flour that Beats them All,
For Kerosene that stives the Best Light,
For Goods of the Highest Quality.
For the Lowest Living Prices.
Also a full line of Crockery, Glassware and Lamps.

Remember the place, Ko. S Ann-st., Ann Arbor.

J. D. STIMSON & SON.

BEWARE

Of Adulterations put in Candy For Pure Non-Poisonous

CANDY!

—CALL AT—SAXTGSTZRF & E'S

"Where all kinds of Caramels, Chips, Opera Creams, Buttercups, Etc., are made Fresh every day. Headquarters for Wallace & Co.'s, New York Creams."
28 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

D. W. AMSDBN

Of the late Finn of COLLINS & AMSDBN is doing business alone at the Old Stand.

NO. 33 EAST HURON STREET,

Where he will be pleased to receive calls from all old customers and as many new ones as want
FEED, BALED HAT AND STRAW, COAL AND WOOD.

MACK & SCHMIDT'S Annual January Clearing Sale

Our annual stock-taking time is near at hand. Fully determined not to carry over an unnecessary dollar's worth. Goods in every department are given a thorough overhauling and marked at prices which readily show an anxiety on our part to clear out many times at almost any sacrifice. Further reductions in Ladies' and Children's Cloaks, Dress Goods, Silks, Velvets and Plushes.

1888. LOOK; OTTT 1888.

—FOR—
NEW GOODS!
—AT—
WINES & WORDEN'S,
20 S. Main-st., Ann Arbor.

Dress Goods, Trimmings, Gloves, Hosiery, Carpets, Mats, Matting, and many new Novelties too numerous to mention. Our Stock is inside the Store, free from dust and dirt.
CALL AND SEE. 20 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

DISCOUNT SALE!

BOOTS & SHOES

Our entire Stock of Boots and Shoes at a discount for 30 days from 10 to 50 per cent, off. Don't miss this. Come as early as possible to get your Sizes, as you can save from 50 cents to $1.00 on one pair of Shoes. Heel plates put on Rubbers and Overshoes, and keep from slipping.

From 10 to 50 Per Cent. Off.
28 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Samuel KRAUSE.

COUNTY NEWS.

Mrs. Richard Comstock, of Sharon will entertain the Manchester and Sharon auxiliaries of the F. W. M. Society, Saturday.

Last week the large team of Elmer Harris, of Augusta, ran away. Henry Sanderson overtook them on horseback, jumped into the wagon, and succeeded in stopping them.

The Saline sheep breeders and wool growers' association last week re-elected J. S. Wood, president; E. P. Harper was made vice-president; G. C. Townsend re-elected secretary and treasurer.

The Pittsfield Union Home Mission society met at the house of Roswell Parsons, March 6. It was the 55th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Philo Parsons, the 50th of that of Deacon Canfield and wife, and the 43d of Deacon and Mrs. Sweet.

Andrew McKinney's famous turkey was killed last week, by some rascally inclined person, and he has brought the carcass of the bird to J. H. Borth who will mount it. The turkey weighed 41½ pounds and was probably the largest in the county, if not the state. Mr. McKinney had a 36 pound turkey stolen last fall, and say he would like to find out who had a hand in disposing of the two big birds.—Saline Observer.

The Ypsilanti praises Pittsfield township as follows: "Few, if any townships in Washtenaw county are equal to Pittsfield in point of material property, as any observing person will readily see by a drive over her well graveled roads, and look at her well cultivated farms, and substantial and often expensive farm buildings. Her sturdy and intelligent farmers are not slow to appreciate a good thing. Last year she was the only township to take advantage of the order of the board of supervisors to raise a fund to defray the expenses of re-locating her lost and doubtful landmarks, section and quarter section corners. So, too, her drainage system, though not perfect, has, nevertheless, been the means of reclaiming and putting under cultivation hundreds of acres of otherwise undesirable land, as well as adding to the general health of the community."

The Detroit Free Press of the 13th morning contains the following concerning the saloon-keeper of Clinton, Lenawee county, against whom a verdict of $4,000 has been rendered. "After the verdict of $4,000 was rendered against Frank Kirchgessner, the Clinton saloon-keeper, last Saturday, he went home, soon after left, and his whereabouts were unknown. Search was instituted and his son-in-law came to Adrian Monday, and got a trace of him, and found he had gone West, and left the train at Clayton. Then he was heard of at Hillsdale, but the son-in-law did not find him. Wednesday his wife received a letter from her husband, dated at Chicago, and inclosing what money he had with him, and he advises her not to seek for him, as he is going further West and never will return again. The man is evidently crazy over the unexpected verdict, and every effort will be made by his friends to get him home again."

Whitmore Lake.
The skating is fine. The iceboat furnishes the principle sport.—Miss Jennie Sheffer spent Sunday with relatives in Jackson.—Miss Lillie Deyhle has recovered from an attack of scarlet rash.—Neal O'Heron, of Howell, visited the lake last week.—Charles Field and Miss Dell Phillips were married last week.—Wm. Dunlap is making arrangements for building a new house.—C. L. Rane has rented his store to a Fowlerville man, who will open a restaurant.—Will Spiegelberg and wife occupy Mrs. Silsbey's house this summer.—A social in Mrs. A. Stevens' tomorrow evening.—C. Helmut, the South Lyon meat dealer, will open a market here.—Sam Osborne will have charge of it.—Clas. Todd and family will move to Kalamazoo, where he will work in a capsule factory.—Soldiers encampment. Where should it be? Whitmore Lake or Mackinac?—Thos. Lenon and wife will remove to Owosso.—W. N. Stevens will repair his house now occupied by J. Hifgens, and make a summer cottage of it.—Rev. S. Bird, of Salem, visited his son, Rev. S. W. Bird, Tuesday.—The exhibition given at the Clifton house, by the pupils of the village school, last Friday evening, was well worth seeing. Humor and sentiment were united in a pleasing way by that talent of which Whitmore boasts. The hall was crowded. Fred S. Homer, of Cherry Hill, is deserving of great credit for the excellent manner in which he conducted the winter term of school, he having gained the deepest respect of both scholars and parents. Secretary Warner on his visit to the school gave it flattering praise.

Bridgewater.
Thos. Van Gieson is on the sick list this week.—Mrs. Wm. Hauke has been very sick the past week.—The reading club served oysters at Wm. Gadd's, Monday evening, to a large company of friends, and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

Salem.
John Burnett, a high school student of Ann Arbor, became violently insane and was taken to the Pontiac asylum Monday.—Mrs. Walter Holmes died very suddenly at her residence last Thursday morning. She leaves a husband and four children.—The Good Endeavors of the Congregational church, of Salem, will give an entertainment in which the famous Mrs. Jarley's wax-work will appear, at McLanghin and Hayward's hall, Saturday, March 17.—Otis Pfeifle, who has been spending the winter in the northern part of the state where the snow is three feet deep and wolves are plenty, is now with his Bister, Mrs. E. H. Naylor.

Oeath of Arthur Case.
Arthur Case, who died at his home in Manchester, March 12, was born in New York, Nov. 13, 1817. He spent his youth in Monroe county, where he received his early education. He went to Manchester township in 1834, and located on section 11, where he has been a successful farmer. In 1840 he was married to Elizabeth G. Stringham. This union was blessed with two children—Antoinette, who is married, and Arthur G. Case. Mrs. Case died in 1850, and he subsequently married Adelia Richmond. Mr. Case was a prominent Freemason and a Democrat. For several years he was a hardware merchant in Manchester village, and he has held all the prominent village and township offices. The funeral was held under the auspices of the Adrian Community, Knights Templar.

Chelsea.
Dr. H. W. Champlin, who left Chelsea a few months ago, has opened his office at Towanda, Pa., where his thorough acquaintance with his profession both in reading and practice, his excellent qualities of head and heart both as a citizen and a Christian, his unflinching conscientiousness, and his untiring, unsparring devotion to his patients, must soon win for him the confidence and patronage of the people.—In the charter election, last Monday, political issues were ignored and none but local interests considered. Of candidates on the "People's Ticket," W. J. Knapp, president; Theodore Wood, treasurer; J. L. Gilbert, assessor; and Hiram Light-hall, trustee, were elected; of those on the "Anti-Tax" ticket, Alfred R. Congdor, clerk; and Wm. Bacon and Chas. A. Guerin, trustees, were chosen. The several offices are filled with good and true men, and both parties have gained the end they sought. Satisfactory results, in the government of the village, are anticipated.—Many anticipate a great treat at the celebration in honor of St. Patrick, at the Town Hall, on Thursday evening. Besides local speakers, Thos. D. Kearney, of Ann Arbor, and Charles O'Connor, of Sioux City, Iowa, are expected to toast.

Ypsilanti.
The funeral of J. S. Harris, who died Sunday at Hot Springs, Ark., where he was sojourning for his health, was held today at his home in this city. The remains will be taken east for interment.—Dr. Spinney, who has been connected with the Sanitarium since Dr. Hale's removal last spring, has left the bath house and set up an office of his own in the city. His place is filled at the Sanitarium by Dr. Cameron, of Hillsdale.—Mrs. E. Murby died Wednesday after a long illness.—Mrs. Dr. Bell is seriously ill.—Bert Rogers is home from Washington on a brief vacation.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hodge, of Le Seur, Wis., are home from the schools in that city on account of scarlet fever.—Mrs. Prof. Lode-man and daughter, Hilda, are en route for Germany, where they will spend a year or more.—The Laible block on Huron-st., containing the postoffice and several prominent business houses, is receiving a fine spring dress of paint and other various improvements.—The heirs of the late Mrs. Maria Scott have received $2,000, the amount of the beneficiary certificate held by her as a member of the Royal Templars of Temperance.—The Davis Children's Band, of this city, is the popular attraction to present at all entertainments now.—Oliver Loomis, of this city, and Miss Maggie Wernken, of Grand Rapids, were united in marriage March 7.

Birkett and Dexter.
A recent examination of peach buds shows that not one in five is alive. This means a slim crop.—Byron McCauley has moved from Hudson back to his farm.—Jos. Henry recently sold his twenty acres of land to Billy Clark for $350.00.—Nick Reid sold his fine team this week, to a Mr. Hutzel, from near Ann Arbor, for $400.—The firm of Warner and Whittaker, lumber and farm tools, Dexter, has dissolved. Mr. Warner will continue the business.—Thos. Presley, an old resident of Dexter, died at his home in that place last Monday.—Thos. Stanton concluded that he didn't want to be a bloated capitalist, and so paid the man to whom he had rented his farm, $100.00 to cancel the bargain, which was done.—J. E. Cheney, boots and shoes, has made arrangements to leave Dexter inside of fifteen days. Good fellow, and they hate to have him go.—The building committee of the new Dexter union school say they must have $1000 more to pay for some extras they ordered in the construction of the building. The taxpayers will vote on the question Thursday night. There is considerable agitation on the subject as a great many think the structure has cost too much now.—It is pretty well settled that Will Clark of the M. C. R. R. at Dexter will succeed S. R. Wheeler as station agent at that place. An excellent choice.

In the Circuit Court.

The following business has been transacted since last Wednesday:
Charles H. Price vs. Alvin Mitchell; trespass on the case upon promises; continued upon application of plaintiff without costs.
Wealthv L. Johnson vs. Albert L. Litchfeld; trespass on the case; continued on motion of delendant without costs to either party.
Merchant H. Goodrich vs. Morrell Goodrich; injunction; continued on motion of the plaintiff with terms.
Frank C. Donohon vs. Florus S. Finley and Stephen Hutchison; trespass on the case; continued by consent of parties without costs.
Walter E. Campbell and Allen Nowlin vs. Charles Smith; appeal; continued by consent of parties without costs.
A. J. Welch vs. A. C. Van Sickie; trespass on the case. Continued upon motion of the plaintiff without costs to either party.
Catherine Reyer vs. Wm. Hauke, et al.; a decree of foreclosure to be entered in this cause, the sale to take place any time after Sept 16, 1888.
John C. Wilson vs. Lester Nicholson; replevin; continued by consent of parties without costs.
Helen A. Swift vs. Spencer Rogers; assumption; continued by consent without costs.
The roll call of the jury was made Monday morning, but the jury was excused till Tuesday. Lemuel Bissell, of Ypsilanti, Geo. Rheinfrank, of Bridgewater, and A. A. Wood, of Lodi, were excused for the term from acting as jurors.
Mary E. Foster vs. Clarissa Pruden, et al.; trespass on the case; discontinued without costs to either party.
William Rheinfrank vs. Gottlieb Haug; slander; continued without costs.
Albert Case vs. Andrew M. Leonard; appeal; continued without costs on application of plaintiff.
The People vs. Charles Naylor; bastardy; discontinued by the plaintiff.
Edward L. Negas vs. Geo. W. Palmer; trespass on the case upon promises; continued on application of plaintiff with terms.
Wm. Kulenkamp vs. Francis J. Lerg and John Graff; appeal; came to trial by jury; verdict $131.87 for plaintiff; jury did not leave their seats.
Elizabeth Eaglesles vs. James M.

Ashley, jr.; trespass on the case; verdict of jury by direction of court for plaintiff. $210.92. The defendant was given 30 days in which to move for a new trial, and 30 days after said motion is disposed in which to prepare and serve a bill of exceptions.

Thomas Fleming vs. Francis Beeman; slander; continued to next term on application of defendant.

Charles Conley vs. Daniel Donovan; default set aside by consent without costs to either party.

On Tuesday, a jury was called for the case of The People vs. Geo. F. Gale, bastardy; it was continued to this afternoon.
John A. Schmid vs. Elias Smith; trespass on the case; discontinued by consent of parties without costs.

PANCAKES IN VARIETY.

On cold winter mornings pan cakes of all kinds hold an important place at the breakfast table. The cherished buckwheat cake, most prominent of all, from Thanksgiving Day until early spring is seldom absent from the morning meal in the genuine American household. When properly made, this is the most delicious of all the griddle cakes, but it has been against it when made from yeast or risen over night that it was difficult to make light and sweet, and that disagreeable effects frequently followed its eating. It is found that by the use of the Royal Baking Powder to raise the batter these objections have been entirely overcome, and that buckwheat cakes are made a most delicious food, light, sweet, tender and perfectly wholesome, that can be eaten by anyone without the slightest digestive inconvenience. Once tested from the following receipt no other will be used: Two cups of buckwheat one cup of wheat flour, two tablespoons of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

The purest and richest syrup is made by dissolving sugar in the proportion of three pounds of sugar to one pint of water. Many persons prefer the flavor of syrup made of Orleans sugar to that made of the white.
Biscuits are made very delicious. The rice is cooked until perfectly soft, drained dry, mashed with a spoon until the grains are well broken up. For each cupful of rice take two eggs, one pint of milk, one heaping teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a thin batter.
For hominy cakes take two cupfuls cooked hominy, and crush it with a potato-masher until it is a smooth mass. Add one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, and one cupful of flour. Stir together, then add by degrees one quart of milk, and lastly three well beaten eggs. Bake in thin cakes.

Very delicate and delicious cakes are made by allowing two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt to one quart of milk, and sufficient corn meal, mixing all into a smooth tin batter; no eggs or butter are used for these. The cakes bake quickly to a rich deep brown, are extremely tender and light.
A very delicious, sweet pancake is made by taking one pint of sweet milk, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one unspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, and flour enough to make a moderately thin batter. Beat the egg whites and yolks separately, until well frothed, stir the butter, sugar, and one cupful of flour, into which the baking-powder has been mixed, into the yolks, then add the egg whites and more flour. Bake in small cakes, butter each one as it comes from the fire, place four in a pile, with very thin layers of any kind of sweet jelly, between, and powdered sugar over the top. They should be baked very hot and four served to each person.

antlit and Cased.

Charles H. Price and James R. Oakley alighted from the east-bound mail train, at Chelsea, last Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Finding charges at the hotel too high for the state of their finances, they took lodgings at the restaurant of C. Hesel-schwerdt. The survey of the town was easily accomplished in the remainder of the afternoon and evening; and on Saturday morning they were ready for business. Long womanly locks of hair flowed over their shoulders from beneath broad-brimmed sombreros, as they strolled from house to house offering for sale some famous Indian remedy for "the ills that flesh is heir to." Chelsea people are not noted for being sick; and slow sales, added to a drizzling rain, were rather discouraging, so they concluded to spend the p. M. in their room. About half an hour before train time, mail train east, having each donned, over the suits they were wearing, an extra suit belonging to Mr. Hesel-schwerdt's sons, taking advantage of a moment when no one was in the office below, they stealthily left the house. A few minutes later, Miss Katie Heselfchwerdt, going to her own room in the chamber, missed a ladies' satchel. Suspicion arose in her mind on the instant; and a look into wardrobes as quickly confirmed it. Katie is quick. She took in the whole plan in a moment, and, notifying her father, bade him hasten to the depot. The train was in sight when he arrived. So were the young men, standing on the street across the track from the depot, to take the train unobserved. Mr. H. made for them, and they men for the open fields. Three younger men, swift-footed and brave, soon joined the chase. The thieves were soon brought to bay, and, being unable to terrify their pursuers by a show of pistols and knives, surrendered and were taken before Justice W. J. Knapp, who sent them to Ann Arbor, where they will soon, in all probability, receive their deserts. One of them has a wife in Jackson, and is said to have been connected with the Wild West show that passed through this section last summer.

Bay View.

All winter they have been building cottages at Bay View, and 75 to 100 new ones will be up by July. A fine building for the summer school for teachers is to be built, the great auditorium and all the hotels enlarged, and many ornamental improvements made on the grounds. This year, the assembly, with its nine departments, will last three weeks; and already some of the finest educational, musical, pulpit, lecture, and entertaining talent in this country has been secured. Among the attractions will be Dean Alfred A. Wright, D. D., the famous Boston Stars, Rev. Dr. Geo. P. Hayes, J. DeWitt Miller, Frank Lincoln, ex Gov. Cumbuck of Illinois, Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson, Layyah Barakat, of Syria, Miss Matilda H. Roos, probably the famous Goshen Band, several gifted soloists, eminent musicians, general Ann Arbor people are now going to Bay View, and this year the number will greatly increase. Prof. C. B. Cady is to have charge of the School of Music, Prof. Alexander Wmchell and Superintendent Perry will be among the instructors and lecturers in the summer school, and several of the University and our musical people will attend and participate. The assembly always opens on the last Wednesday of July, and half fare is then given on the railroads to those going to Bay View. John M. Hall, of Flint, is superintendent of the assembly.

MORE NEW Furniture and Carpets!

AT THE KECK STORES, 56 and 58 South Main Street.

We have just received, and now ready for sale, a splendid line of Articles, beautiful in design and finish, consisting of Bedroom Suites, Parlor and Reception Chairs, House and Office Desks, Secretaries, Book-Cases, Centre, Library and Extension Tables, Pedestals, Music Cabinets, Painter's and Picture Easels, Hall Racks, Side Boards, Stands, Divans, Misses' and Children's Rockers, Gold Medal Carpet Sweepers, Blacking Boxes, Beautiful Plushes, Curtains, China Silks and Carpets, Matings, Rugs and Mattresses, all of which we will sell at bottom prices for cash.
Don't forget that NOW, in stores 56 and 58 South Main-st, is the largest and most complete stock of Parlor and Bedroom Suites, and all articles in the Furniture line to select from in this city, and at lowest prices.
Upholstering, Repairing and Finishing neatly and promptly done for sale.
RICHMOND & TBEDWELL, Ann Arbor, Mich.

FIRST IN THE FIELD WITH NEW GOODS
HATS! HATS! HATS!
"YOU MANS" and "SILVER MANS" Spring Shapes conceded by all nobby dressers to be the Correct Styles for young men, are now being shown by NOBBY SPRING OVERCOATS!
O* * * re selection, by far superior to any we ever carried, COAGGS all the novelties brought out this season by the noted leaders of fashion and styles. We invite all who take pleasure in Fine Goods to call and see them at NECKWEAR! NECKWEAR!
In every popular Shape and Color. Do not fail to call on us this season as you will find we are carrying the Finest Line of Goods ever carried by any Clothier here or elsewhere.
BLITZ & LANGSDORF, The Two Sams.
The Only Strictly One-Price Clothiers in Ann Arbor.

AUCTION! AUCTION!

Don't forget that NOW, in stores 56 and 58 South Main-st, is the largest and most complete stock of Parlor and Bedroom Suites, and all articles in the Furniture line to select from in this city, and at lowest prices.
Upholstering, Repairing and Finishing neatly and promptly done for sale.
RICHMOND & TBEDWELL, Ann Arbor, Mich.

CLOTHING

—AND—
JEWELERS and OPTICIANS, and have your Eyes tested.

FURNISH THE GOODS!

Every Day!

UNTIL AIL IS CLOSED!

WM. W. DOUGLASS.

7. J. B. FORBES, Auctioneer.

C. BLISS & SON,
JEWELERS and OPTICIANS, and have your Eyes tested.
NEW GOODS, NEW PATTERNS, LOW PRICES, FOR SPRING TRADE
—IN THE—
Furniture Establishment
—OF—
KOCH & HALLER,
52 S. Main and 4 W. Liberty Sts.
Our assortment for the coming Spring Trade will surpass all previous efforts. We have taken great pains to procure the best and most effective designs in Bedroom, Parlor, Dining, Library, and Office Furniture, and feel confident that we can please every body, not only with the goods but also with the prices.
We have already received two shipments of Children's Carriages and expect a third one this week, so that we can show in this line the very best assortment. We sell a splendid Rattan Carriage, Upholstered and with good Springs, and adjustable Parasol, at the small amount of $9.50. Please call and see us.
Very Respectfully,
KOCH & HALLER.

THE POLITICAL GRIST.

What the Mills of the Wire-pullers Are Turning Out.

The Democratic National Convention—1111—Republican League—Union League Party—Call for State Conventions—Other News of Interest.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 12.—The Democratic will meet in State convention in this city on the 23d of May to elect delegates to the National convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 12.—The Democratic convention will be held in this city May 22 for the nomination of a State ticket and delegates to St. Louis.

TRENTON, N. J., March 12.—After a hot struggle the New Jersey Legislature has decided to make local option and high license the law of the State. Tuesday the bill passed the upper House over the Governor's veto by a higher vote than at first.

BOSTON, March 12.—The Senate yesterday passed the resolution requiring biennial elections of State officers and members of the Executive Council. The vote on every section stood nearly 2 to 1.

JACKSON, Miss., March 12.—The Legislature adjourned sine die yesterday.

BOSTON, March 12.—The Republicans will meet in State convention on April 25 in this city to elect delegates to the National convention.

TBXTON, N. J., March 9.—The Legislature, despite the Governor's veto, decided yesterday to make local option and high license a State law.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 9.—The Democrats will meet in this city May 16 to elect delegates to the National convention at 67th St.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 10.—The Democratic 81 to Central Committee Thursday elected E. P. Richardson, of Petersburg, as President. The State convention will be held in this city April 29.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 10.—The Illinois League of Republican Clubs was organized yesterday. William W. Tracey, of this city, being chosen President; J. W. Patterson, of Joliet, Secretary, and Charles Deere, of Moline, Treasurer, with an Executive Committee and a Vice-President for each Congressional district.

ST. LOUIS, March 10.—It has been decided to hold the Democratic National convention in the north nave of the Exposition building, which will be arranged to seat 11,000 people.

BAIT LAGE, N. Y., March 12.—The Legislature adjourned sine die yesterday.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 13.—For the first time in its history the Legislature was adjourned sine die because there was not a quorum present on account of the great snow-storm.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 13.—R. F. Jones, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in reply to many inquiries, has sent a letter stating that the manner of nominating members of Congress in any district is the manner in which delegates from any district to the National convention shall be chosen.

OKLAHOMA, March 14.—The House yesterday passed a bill increasing the liquor tax to $260, one-fifth of which is to go into the State Treasury. It is believed the Senate will also pass the measure.

HOLTON, Kan., March 14.—The Prohibitionists of this, the First district, have nominated Rev. H. Shumaker for Congress.

HASHVIB, Tenn., March 14.—The Democratic will meet in this city on the 9th of May to elect delegates to the National convention.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 14.—The Democratic will hold their State convention in this city on the 23d of May to choose delegates to the National convention and nominate State officers and an electoral ticket.

ARKANSAS CONVICTS ABATED. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 13.—Investigation into the abuses of convict miners at Coal Hill, Ark., show that convicts have been beaten and hogged to death. The Warden Grafford has made a practice of making the men tight, and that in one case the warden caused a desperado to kick a fellow-convict to death. The people are greatly excited and threaten to lynch Grafford.

ME. A. T. Stewart's Will. NEW YORK, March 14.—The contest over the will of the widow of A. T. Stewart, instituted by Sossie Butler, a relative, on the ground that she had a child, a child beneficiary under the will, except her husband's restraint over the testator, was begun before the surrogate yesterday.

A Telephone Peril. DAITON, O., March 14.—Gilbert Burrows, treasurer of the Grand Opera House, last evening while talking through a telephone was perhaps fatally shocked. The telephone became a blaze of fire. Burrows was knocked senseless. It is supposed the telephone wire was touched by the wire of an incandescent light.

Result of a Football quarrel. ATLANTA, Ga., March 11.—A political quarrel in Clark County, Ga., between Sheriff George W. Allen and ex-Sheriff Davis Garter resulted in a murder and suicide. Allen shot Garter dead and then killed himself.

Eleven Unlucky at Sea. XORSOR, March 10.—The British bark Ijanova, from Lanneston, Australia, for London, with a cargo of wool, has been wrecked near Weymouth. The captain and eleven of the crew were drowned.

High Strike Declared. BAZUTON, Pa., March 13.—Hugh McQuixey, master workman, and John S. Jughan, secretary of district assembly 87, Knights of Labor, have declared the miners' strike in the Lehigh region off, and in a few days every colliery will be at work.

Blew Out the Gas. HURON, Mich., March 10.—While in an intoxicated condition Henry C. Parker, a New York provision broker, and an unknown man, retired in the room of the former Thursday night, blew out the gas, and both were found dead yesterday morning.

Three Men Killed. BDRUNTON, Ind., March 14.—Ed Everman and Frank and Moses Whitesell were killed Tuesday by the explosion of a large steam boiler in Durrer's saw mill. The mill was destroyed.

MINOR NEWS ITEMS.

For Week Ended March 14. Governor Ogleby has designated April 13 as "Arbor Day" in Illinois.

A Brooklyn family was poisoned by eating canned corn. One of the children died. The late Emperor William, of Germany, left a fortune of 300,000,000 marks in cash.

There were fifty-eight business failures in Canada during the seven days ended on Friday.

Deacon White, third baseman of the Detroit club, has announced his determination to retire.

All railroad letter clerks leaving Kansas City have been supplied with arine and ammunition.

The Prince and Princess of Wales celebrated their silver wedding in London on Saturday.

Seven persons lost their lives in the fire Wednesday in the Union office at Springfield, Mass.

The wife and child of Rudolph Heller were suffocated by natural gas on Monday at Finlily, O.

Mrs. Ellen Tupper, an entomologist of continental reputation, died at El Paso, Tex., Monday.

Reiley's leather factory and twelve houses at Newark, N. J., were burned on Friday. Loss, $100,000.

Thomas J. Potter, general manager of the Union Pacific road, died on Friday in Washington, aged 48 years.

Full particulars on Saturday of the earthquake in China in December last say that 15,000 lives were lost.

The village of Towseml, a suburb of Baltimore, Md., was partly destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Twenty families were burned out Tuesday morning in New York by fire in a tenement house. The loss was $25,000.

A terrific snow-storm raged on Tuesday in Canada, and in Montreal and Quebec business was practically suspended.

It is reported that a farmer in Scott County, Kan., has struck a vein of ore containing gold in paying quantities.

A destructive hail-storm on Saturday along the Mississippi coast caused ruin to the vegetables, growing fruit, etc.

Investigation into the books of Montgomery County (Ill.) officials showed that they owed the county over $47,000.

The large factory of the Buckeye Buggy Company at Columbus, O., was burned on Tuesday, causing a loss of $150,000.

Cartwright on Saturday won the seventy-two hour walking match in Boston, with 396 miles, beating the American record.

Rev. J. N. Bunch, of Nevada, Ma., was fatally shot by robbers on Tuesday and robbed of $1,140 and a valuable watch.

While at work in a saw-mill near Collinsville, Ala., Joseph Keehn fell against the saw while it was in motion and was cut in two.

Trains collided on Monday near Huntington, Pa., killing three employees and causing a $600,000 tie Pennsylvania road of $75,000.

James Harden, of Rural Retreat, Douglas County, Ill., took strychnine by mistake for quinine Sunday afternoon, and died soon after.

A gang of five Italian counterfeiters were captured on Friday at Norfolk, Va. They had flooded the city with silver counterfeit dollars.

Fire at Braz I, Ind., Tuesday destroyed Zelgel's clothing store, two Odd-Fellows' halls and the telegraph office. The loss was $20,000.

The river Aar, in Switzerland, overflowed its banks on Saturday, and the lower quarters of Berne were submerged, doing great damage.

Advices say that the recent yellow river inundation in China drowned over 100,000 people and the number left destitute was 1,800,000.

A terrific blizzard raged on Monday on the north shore of Lake Superior and trains on the Canadian Pacific were completely blocked.

Mormon elders who had been making converts in small districts of Botecourt County, Va., have been notified to leave or be lynched.

A Knights of Labor assembly at Shamokin, Pa., surrendered its charter Saturday and declared the strike off. They were all railroaders.

William Thomas (colored) was lynched on Friday near Tunnell Hill, Ga., for a criminal assault upon Mrs. Eliza Anderson, a white woman.

At Philadelphia the ex-day (four hours) record bicycle race ended on Saturday, the record being broken by Crocker, who covered 4053.4 miles.

William A. Parker, who seven years ago murdered General Bryan Grimes, was captured on Tuesday at Washington, N. C., and hanged by a mob.

A case of leprosy has been discovered in St. Louis, the patient being Choo Fay, a Chinese laundryman. Fay has been in this country several years.

At Marietta, O., Tuesday morning fire, supposed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed several store buildings, involving a total loss of $60,000.

The large dairy barn belonging to B. B. Ingraham, near Flora, Ill., was consumed by fire on Tuesday, and thirty-five fine milk cows perished in the flames.

At a meeting of the Irish National League in Dublin on Tuesday it was announced that $25,000 had been received from America to aid evicted persons.

George W. Peck, the Milwaukee humorist, has presented a public drinking fountain to the town of La Crosse, Wis., which was his home for many years.

Peter Myers, the largest real-estate owner in Janesville, Wis., and reported to be the wealthiest man in Southern Wisconsin, dropped dead of heart disease Tuesday.

Two shafts of the Northern Mining and Railroad Company, at Hampton, Ill., were burned Monday night, the work of an incendiary. Loss, $8,000, insurance, $4,000.

Seven-day Adventists at Battle Creek, Mich., are agitating the establishment of denominational schools for their children to attend in preference to the public schools.

At Lima, O., Monday evening Jackson Bastley, while sitting in a grocery store, was killed by an unknown man who stepped up behind and struck him, and escaped in the excitement ensuing.

M. Y. Miller, a farmer living near Huron, D. T., borrowed $2,700 from banks of that town on bogus security and fled. He made a trip around the world, but was arrested on his arrival in Detroit Tuesday.

Louis N. Henry and L. O. Farrell, post office clerks, under arrest at Paso del Norte, Mex. for robbing mails to the amount of $100,000, and confined in a private house under guard of soldiers, succeeded in eluding them and escaping.

THE SMALL BOY.

A Tounstrer Who Mixed Cp Cards with His Prayers.

A 4-year-old boy in this city was amusing himself one recent evening by imitating his father and mother, who were playing euchre. The child held a pack of cards and would lay a card on the floor every time his mother laid one on the table, and would say, "I pass," etc., when she did. Bed time came, and with it the usual child's prayer with the common ending, but this time the youngster wound up thus: "God bless papa, mamma and baby—I pass—clubs trumps. Amen!"—New York World.

A Far Sighted Boy. A 4-year-old boy was taken to the window a few mornings since and shown the bright planet of the morning sky, which was shining with remarkable brightness through an exceptionally clear atmosphere. He was told that it was Venus, and admired it greatly. At the breakfast table he related the experience with great animation.

"I saw a big star," he said; "its name was Peanuta, and it was pointed at both ends."

As the form of the planet is that of a sharp pointed crescent, it is evident that that boy's eyes are much better to be trusted than his ears.—Boston Transcript.

The Soul of Care or. A Sunday school teacher began his questioning at the end of the old year with the query: "Are you better than you were last year? A good many of the little fellows had replied 'Yes, sir,' but a croupy boy on the back seat had the courage of his convictions.

"I ain't no better nor I ever wuz," he said, "but," he added, by way of softening the harsh statement, "I got 'sorest foot of anybody in this class—I—I—I—moft got dipferia."—Youth's Companion.

A Reflection Upon the Teacher. A little boy and his sister came home from the closing exercises of one of the public schools the other day. The certificates for regular attendance and good conduct had been distributed, and the girl was the proud recipient of one of them, but her brother had failed to qualify.

"Didn't you get a certificate, Tommy?" their mother asked. "No," was the reply, "but I would have got one if there had been enough to go round."—Toronto Globe.

Thn "CaUo" We All Sigh For. "Mamma," said little Willie, after returning from a dinner to which he had been invited, "I alls kinder thought that cako was just cakt; but I see there's a difference in it. Aunt Susan's cake is caka 'an' pie 'an' puddin' 'an' peaches 'an' ice cream 'an' everything good together, but yours is nothin' but caka!"—Elmira Tidings.

Harry's Definition. I have a little boy, Harry, aged 4. Election day he asked me what papa was going to vote for. I told him for the mayor. His sister asked me what the mayor was.

"Well," he said, "girls don't know noffin; it is a girl hoss, of course."—Boston Globe.

A Talk with a Bostonian. The curious effect it has.—Life.

A Dear little Fellow. Mrs. Hendricks (to husband)—Bobby asked me last night if God sent the rain, and on my telling him yes, said he supposed he must pour it down through the stars. Dear little fellow.

Mrs. Hendricks—Yes; Bobby is a nice little fellow—Now, who the mischief filled my shoe full of banana skins?

Mrs. Hendricks—Oh, I suppose it was Bobby.—New York Sun.

Another Fraud Exposed. "Waiter Girl—You better get your board in advance from that man what says he's a United States detective.

Landlady—He looks honest. "He's no detective; he'd never suspect anybody of anything. He ate his mince pie without once looking under the crust."—Omaha World.

Circumstances Against Her. I "Wife (at breakfast)—Oh, dear, I have BO much to do, and the children and servants trymesol.

Husband—And you don't look well, either, my dear.

Wife—No; but when there is nothing but turmoil and confusion, and one is expected to look after everything, what possible pleasure is there in being sick!—New York Sun.

A Slight Mistake. First Scientist—Eh? What did you say? Second Scientist—I said nothing. A couple of horses attached to a big wagon loaded with stone just ran away and dashed into that stone quarry up there.

"Oh, that was it. I thought you spoke to me in volapuk."—Omaha World.

What He Had Found. I heard a good story the other day on a froshman in one of our New England colleges. On being asked by his professor by whom and on what occasion the term "Eureka" was first used, he replied: "By Demosthenes, when he sat down on the pin for which he was hunting."—Boston Record.

Nut the Solitary Oyster. At the church social: Vivacious young lady—Guess what we are going to have to-night, Mrs. Bascom—charades!

Mrs. Bascom—I knowed it! I smell 't a dear out to the gate.—Burlington Free Press.

A Farting Injunction. I Traveling Salesman (to employer)—Well, ita off, Mr. Smith, Good-by!

Employer—Good-by and a successful trip. And remember, Mr. Bloward, that order is heaven's first law.—New York Sun.

An Explanation. "See here, waiter, how is it that I find a trousers button in this salad?"

"Dat am a part of de dressin' sah."—Life.

The Old Closet.

It was an old house, a very ancient mansion, with its several gables facing the street, showing its Dutch origin. Permitted to go through a tour of inspection, a closet omitted a peculiar odor and attracted attention.

It was that pungent scent which reminds one of the pine woods and aromatic shrubs of the mountains, and which, once smelled, brings to mind the greatest remedy of the age.

It was evidently the family closet, where remedies for minor aches and pains had found place for handy use, and in modern years the greatest of all these, known by its peculiar odor, had worked its wonders for the happiness of mankind, as the following examples attest: General G. C. Kniffen, War Department, Washington, D. C., February 20, 1887, states: "For many years my wife suffered excruciating pains, frequent and violent. In 1884 she tried Dr. Jacobs Oil. It cured her, and prevented any recurrence. She has not had any return of pain. I trust it may reach the uttermost parts of the earth to prove as much a blessing in other houses, as mine." Mr. Levi Hotel, Corydon, Indiana, under the date of June 1887, writes: In April, 1884, he had his collar-bone broken, and it was very painful. He used two bottles of Dr. Jacobs Oil. It got entirely well, and the remedy worked like a charm. No return of pain and used only the remedy. Mr. Arthur G. Lewis, editor Southern Society, Noriork, Va., June 27, 1887, writes: "Nothing I can say with regard to Dr. Jacobs Oil will do it justice; I have used it for a number of years for all aches and pains, with effects almost marvelous, and for such, in my opinion, it is unsurpassed." Me. Chateau Bizon, 200 Spruce street, Philadelphia, Pa., under date of February 4, 1887, says: "I have used St. Jacobs Oil in my family for ten years; two years ago broke my leg; pains very severe. It cured the pains and gave strength to my leg. If you desire to publish this, I will be pleased." If the old house should tumble down, like the scent of flowers clinging to a broken vase, the closet would give forth the token of the good this thing has done for mankind.

D.m't de-p-se a mail bec-u-e he is poor. You can hire him a good deal cheaper than you could if he were well-to-do.—S-jernvale Journal.

I NEVER saw anything like it. Every-where I go I hear nothing but praise for Hiobard's Throat and Lung Balm.

William Blick's "ovrl, "In Silk Attire," has been dramatized. We always thought this an appropriate title for a modern drama.—New Haven News.

Dr. East's Family Ointment. Never fails to soothe and heal CERS, BURNS, BRUISES, FLKSSII WOUNDS, INFLAMMATION, SPRAINS, PIMPLES, CHILBLAINS, SALT RHEUM, CHAPPED LIPS, or HAND, FROST BITES, COLLID SORES, SORK NIPPLES, and all diseases and eruptions of the SKIN.

"Going over for the London season; 'Arolrii' "No, dear boy, I'm going West to hunt buffalo. That's the 'cree capah now."—N. Y. Journal.

Can't Sleep. is the faint of thousands Buffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c, 60c and $1.00 per bottle.

If you suppose that the world is constantly keeping its eyes peeled to note your troubles you will find yourself mightily mistaken.—Call.

GOOD EVENING, MISS JENNIB; I am very much pleased at seeing you here. You sang beautifully. I understood that you could take DO part in the exercises on account of a severe cold. Well, I did not expect to, but mamma got me a bottle of Hibbard's Throat and Lung Balm, and it helped me to ODCP. That is so; I bear it spoken of in your praise.

"What is your business?" "I feed the lions in a menagerie." "Must be dreary work." "On the contrary, it is very funny. They keep the table in a roar."—Town Topics.

DON'T SCOLD a man for grinning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But,—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have Buffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

The skill of five physicians could do more in the way of Rheumatism and Neuralgia than the first day of Ath-lo-pho-ros. It is a relief, and a relief that enabled me to sleep at night and to be able to walk. I contacted me. Am I now well? JS-Sesd 6 cents for the beautiful colored picture, "Moorish Maiden."

THE ATHLOPHOROS CO. 112 Wall St. H. T.

PISOS CURE FOR Consumption and Cough Medicine.

If you have a Cough without disease of the Lungs, a few doses are all you need. But if you neglect this easy means of relief, the slight Cough may become a serious matter, and several bottles will be required.

MINNESOTA Leads the World With her stock, dairy and grain products. 200,000 acres of fine timber, farming and grazing lands adjacent to railroad, for sale cheap on easy terms. Kit maps, prices, r-t-b, etc. J. S. Footwaller, Land Commissioner, or O. H. Warren, General Agent, St. Paul, Minn. Ask for Book H.

A True Friend

to the sick and mifering, is Dr. Kuf-manna's Great Medical Work, finely illustrated. Send three 2 Cent stamps, to pay postage, to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

Europe does not want to go to war. A war fever there would interrupt the travel of Americans.—Piscayune.

The latest news from Ziluland C'mes by cable. The warriors have all married; they desire in the fu ure neava and happiness and enogh Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup for the next Reson.

The jimirikisu, drawn by tneo, is the national vehicle of Japan, and notwithstanding the name they never strike.

"HOW'S YOUR LIVER?" Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver.

When He Ivvr is Torpid the Bowels are Kivghvami Constipated, and the Food IKS In the Klocmact decnrapowlur—poisoning the Ulorit.

Frequent heartache ensues, and a feeling of lassitude and deapendancy indicate how the whole system is deranged. No agency on earth has rotated as many people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy liver as

Dr. J. C. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, and all other ailments connected with the Liver, it seems to be a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and Bowels."—W. J. MCLEROY, Macon, Va.

Warner Bros' Corsets of Europe and America. Over 2,000,000 sold last year in this country alone.

The reasons are: they are the best fitting, most comfortable, moatdurable and cheapest corset ever made.

Avoid worthless imitations. Coralino is used in no Corsets except those made by us. None are genuine unless Dr. WARNER'S CORALINE is printed on inside of steel cover. For sale by all leading merchants.

WARNER BROS., 257 & 259 State St., CHICAGO.

Forest City Bird Store, established 1871. Singing Birds, Talking Parrots, Bird Cages, Pure Food, Song Restorer, Insect Curer, Fish Tackle, Bird Books, Poultry Supplies, Gold Fish, Dogs and other wine, Ferret, Bird's Eyes, S. H. WILSON, 341 Empirior St., Cleveland, Ohio.

AGENTS WANTED TO SELL THE ABSOLUTELY BEST AND PRACTICAL WHICH HAS EVER BEEN PUBLISHED IN THE GLOBE. A marvel of every-day value and actual money-earning utility. Navy to every pocket. Hundreds upon hundreds of beautiful and helpful engravings, and ordinary low price beyond competition. Nothing in the whole history of the book trade like it. Select something of real value to the people, and sales are sure. Agents looking for a new and first-class catalog, write for full description and terms.

30 days' time given Agents without capital. SCAMMELL & CO., Box 8971, ST. LOUIS, MO.

Health is Wealth!

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT, a guaranteed specific for Hysteria, Dizziness, Convulsions, Fits, Nervous Neuralgia, Headache, Nervous Prostration caused by use of alcohol or tobacco, Wakefulness, Mental Depression, Softening of the Brain resulting in insanity and leading to misery, and the genuine manufacture of each box by JOHN C. WEST & CO., 862 W. Madison-st., Chicago, Ill.

WE OFFER KASTRUP SIX BOXES To cure any case. With each order received by us six boxes, accompanied with $5.00, we will send the purchaser our written guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure. Guarantees issued only by EBERHARD & SON, Druggists, 202 Ave. Ann Arbor, Mich.

$500 Reward! We will pay the above reward for any case of liver complaint, dyspepsia, sick headache, indigestion, constipation or constiveness we cannot cure with West's Vegetable Bile Pills, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely vegetable and never fail to give satisfaction. Large boxes containing 30 sugar coated pills, 25c. For sale by all druggists. Beware of counterfeit imitations. The genuine manufacture only by JOHN C. WEST & CO., 862 W. Madison-st., Chicago, Ill.

It is Generally conceded by physicians that the spring truss is the best known instrument for retaining hernia, giving a uniform pressure and conforming to the various positions of the body. They are clean, comfortable and durable.

Our stock is large, embracing all the latest makes. We guarantee satisfaction. Brown's & Bnare Hair Clipper No. 1 93.00; Postage free. Brown's & Bnare Horse Clipper No. 3 93.00; Postage free.

MANN BROS., Druggists, Ann Arbor.

HIS Hartna... BOLD MEDAL, PAMS, 1878.

BAKER'S 5 Breakfast Cocoa. Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has the strength of Cocoa mixed with starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent per cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids and all persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere. W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Chicago, Lv., Kalamazoo, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Table with columns: STATIONS, Mail, Day Express, N.Y. & Albany, N.Y. & Buffalo, Atlantic City, Daily, Night, Express, and a column with numbers 1-6. Includes stations like Buffalo, Niagara Falls, etc.

Notice to Creditors.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, Co. of Washtenaw, ss. Not. e. is hereby given, that by an order of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw...

WILLIAM L. HARRIMAN, Judge of Probate. Dated, Ann Arbor, March 5th, A. D. 1888.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor...

WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN, Judge of Probate. Wm. G. Doty, Probate Register.

Probate Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor...

WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN, Judge of Probate. Wm. G. Doty, Probate Register.

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of a certain mortgage made by Ugnitt Riggs and Mary A. his wife, to Henry Pratt...

WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN, Judge of Probate. Wm. G. Doty, Probate Register.

Pennyroyal Wafers.

Are successfully used monthly by over 1000 Ladies. Are in vogue with all the Parisians. Sold by H. J. Brown & Co., Detroit, Mich.

Ladies, Gentlemen and Students!

Will restore that lost vitality and a Rugged, Healthy Condition follow its use. Buy at your druggist's, one package, $1.50; six for $8.00. EKERKA & THELICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Where Are You Going?

When do you start? Where from? How many in your party? What amount of freight or baggage have you? What route do you prefer?

Manitoba

Agents will save trouble, time and money. Agents will take person who desires, and to move ready to answer above questions should cut out and preserve this notice for future reference.

Insurance

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN AGENCY OF A. W. HAMILTON. Offices, No. 1 and 2, First Floor, Hamilton Block.

Parties desiring to buy or sell Real Estate will find it to their advantage to call on me. I represent the following first-class Fire Insurance Companies, having an aggregate capital of over $2,000,000.

The Grand Rapids Fire Ins. Co.

The Citizens Fire Ins. Co., The Merchants Fire Ins. Co., The Milwaukee Mechanic Mutual Fire Ins. Co., The Hamilton Fire Ins. Co., The Amazon Fire Ins. Co.

Hates Low Losses

liberally adjusted and promptly paid. I also issue Life and Investment Policies in the Com. Mutual Life Insurance Company.

ALEX. W. HAMILTON,

Hamilton Block

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption.

Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter.

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschoe's Gelfman Syrup.

If you don't know it's already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and know how it is, themselves.

Woman—the crown of creation.—Herder.

Produce of a government by the man it judges. Judge of a man by his deeds, a tree by its fruits, R medicus by its results.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chillsbains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cure Piles, or no pay required.

Narrow waists and narrow minds go together.—Comfort.

Shakspeare has no heroes; he has only heroines.—Ruskin.

THK peculiar combination of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup enables it to do what no other remedy has ever accomplished, and it is daily curing those who years ago had given up all hope of being cured.

In wishing to extend her empire, woman destroy it.—Cabanis.

HALES HONEY is the best Cough Cure, 5c 30c. GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP heals and beautifies. CORM CORN REMOVER kills Corns & Bunions 25c.

Price of sugar may reasonably be expected to advance. The first Florida strawberries are in the market.—Journal.

The great sources of the extensive curative range of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic are its great blood purifying qualities and its gentle aperitive action.

When he had finally lighted his pipe and emitted several curling rings of smoke, this odd figure vouchsafed the information that he had come across country in the hope of assisting us in shearing.

I watched his movements with absorbing interest. He reminded me so forcibly of pictures of the lamented John Brown, that I was more than ever inclined to accept the singular conflicting conditions of that martyr's soul and body.

When he had finally lighted his pipe and emitted several curling rings of smoke, this odd figure vouchsafed the information that he had come across country in the hope of assisting us in shearing.

"You have been reading Macaulay?" he said. I consented in a meek manner.

"Ah!" said my strange guest; "wonderful man! a wonderful man, that same Macaulay! What a genius, what a learning, what a noble style he had, to be sure!"

Then throwing his head back and narrowing his wild eyes, he suddenly broke out: "An acre in Middlesex is worth a principalty in Utopia; the smallest actual good is better than the most magnificent promise of impossibilities; the wise man of the Stoics would, no doubt, be a grander object than a steam engine."

I sat up in some amazement at this effort at memory. For the past three months, having associated with individuals whose vocabularies hardly ventured beyond the possibilities of "right smart" and "away over yonder," I was somewhat startled, I admit.

"Are you a native of this state, sir?" I asked, with great respect.

"No," replied he, turning full upon me for an instant those singular eyes of his. "I am, like yourself, a northerner."

"Let me offer you a better pipe," I said, pointing out to him the case containing my best meerschaum; "you will find some excellent 'avendish in that jar."

He gave me a quick glance, as if appreciating of my hospitality, but declined, saying that long habit had given him a preference for the natural leaf.

"What is your college?" he suddenly asked, as I was filling a pipe preparatory to joining him.

"Yale," I answered, with the pardonable pride of all sons of that alma mater; "and you?"

"I seldom mistake a collegian," remarked my incongruous visitor; "In-fardum, Regina, jubes renovare dolorem." I hail from Dartmouth.

I had made the inquiry more from politeness than any other motive, and yet at the moment of my speaking, it dashed across me that he must be college bred. Now that I was assured of it, I felt a sincere regret in seeing one who had enjoyed such advantages at such wretched odds with fortune. He must have divined what

AT LAST.

Ah, not the first loss, dearest—but the last. (So? Who can tell!) The tides of Youth run fast—run fast! The buds upon the young trees all and swell, Reckless of frosts. Well, well! Let us not dwell, dear heart, on follies past.

For now, you know, the green and callow shoots Of early Spring Are dry and withered to the very roots. They wore Lore's flint, faint, performed offering Taking swift wing, Leaving a fragrant memory, but no fruits.

We will not speak of them with smiling scorn, They have made way For the rich bloom and fruitage later born— And born of spirit—not alone of clay. Making our day Glad with the freshness of perpetual morn.

Eternal Dear—let us believe it so, And in our bliss Let dull analysis and doubting go, Content so long as in a rapturous kiss Like this—my sweet—and this— The fullness of celestial joy we know.

—Thomas H. Muzzy in Frank Leslie's.

A FRONTIER BOHEMIAN.

The suu was setting on the Maverick valley. As I walked to the door of the ranch a few partizan arrows from his declining bow splintered themselves among the disinfecting tips of the live oaks.

There was a faint pink glow all around the horizon that on its western threshold lingered in feathery flecks of crimson and gold. The brief twilight of Texan latitudes was already hastening through the thin files Of inequity that stood like straggling pickets before the windows of the little cabin.

A silence was falling over the hushed landscape—"vast, measureless, complete."

Certainly I had some excuse for the sudden loneliness that fell upon me. It was the first time in my border life that I had been left upon the trackless prairie, solitary and alone.

The annual shearing was just over. But an hour before our entire "oufit" had departed for a general merrymaking at a distant frontier town. As I had volunteered in accepting the position of cook during the past three weeks and exclusive tendencies, a shepherd dog, which was immaturely effusive and loquaciously demonstrative upon being addressed as "Miss Flo," and an ebony cat that wore a many and somewhat dissipated exterior under the sobriquet of "Miss Emma."

A dearth of the consolations of female society apparently inspires the native Texan to a courteous acknowledgment of the sex of domestic pets.

When, therefore, I had driven the horned contingent of my associates into their rude brush pen, and had fastened the hurdle gate, I stood leaning against it and seriously regarding them. It did not ftd to the cheerfulness of my surroundings to notice that they bore an unmistakable resemblance to a company of hook nosed Jews; that their knees were sprung with the rheumatism of age; that their eyes were rheumy and inflamed, and that they appeared to be unusually afflicted that evening with sniffles and chronic catarrh.

Bodes, they were so fresh from the shears that the air of venerable wisdom which their faces arrogated seemed to be caricatured by the rest of their bodies. They were so repulsive in appearance that I at once dubbed the most disreputable specimen "Pagin"—a baptismal inspiration that eventually achieved popularity. Then, with that hypocrisy which characterizes man when lonely, I began to patronize my much abused dog, and even the feline antique; for both had accompanied me in my paternal duties, and had finally produced a catarrh to the ranch.

Here I encountered another dubious object, that in my then dejected condition struck me as almost ominous. This was a pet lizard which, for the past month, had inhabited the neighboring kitchen—a long, low structure with a canvas roof—and which was now perched upon the doorstep. But "Tommy" was on the present occasion very much out of Luck. He was not, under the most favorable circumstances, a prepossessing object. He was black, red, covered with polka dots of black, and a diamond like web about the eye. "Tommy" however, had now unaccountably lost his tail, and was obviously so humiliated and dispirited that he unconsciously infected and aggravated my own melancholy.

I opened the door of the kitchen, into which he immediately dived and hid his diminished lizardship from view. Entering the little cabin, and acting from a feeling of generous hospitality that must have struck both as phenomenal, I invited the companionship of "Miss Flo" and "Miss Emma."

When I lighted the lamp, and drew the solitary chair of the apartment to a convenient distance, I picked up a volume of "Macaulay's Essays" (for we were fortunately blessed with an abundance of literature), and disvised myself to read. I remember thinking, as I settled myself into a comfortable position, that I would make amends for my enforced isolation by profound literary culture, and rather plumbing myself upon how much benefit I should derive from this prairie solitude. But I made singularly little progress that evening. I found myself entirely unable to concentrate my attention. I was oppressed by an insupportable feeling of dread that at last culminated in a nervous sensation of being observed. I threw aside my book in disgust, and endeavored to account for it.

It was now pitch dark outside. I was sitting at a little desk that, from the poverty of our household furniture, was obliged to perform manifold duties. Tonight it was somewhat overburdened with a rentier bric-a-brac, conspicuous among which was a large Colt's revolver and cartridge belt. I perceived that, as I sat, I was directly in line with the two windows of the ranch—one on the south, the other on the north side of the house. Partly from a feeling of caution which one acquires on the frontier, and partly from this nervousness I could not explain, I shifted my chair around against the wall until I faced the southern window. In effecting this change of position I succeeded: in reading on Miss Emma and discommoding Miss Flo, who, lifter looking at me in a grieved fashion, accommodated herself to another quarter with the usual caution—philosophy and circumlocution.

As I tilted my chair against the door and assumed an aggressive attitude toward the opposite window, I noticed a few drops of water upon the panes, and was for the first time aware that it was raining. A moment after a vivid flash of lightning illuminated the darkness without, opening up phosphorescent vistas in the mesquites with startling suddenness. Brief as was the interval for observation, it was sufficient to confirm my suspicions. Amid the loud reverberations of the thunder clap that followed, I was confident that I had seen a man lurking in the scanty shrubbery outside.

I cannot describe how much I was disconcerted by this discovery. I was alone in a wild and lawless country, where a man might be attacked and murdered without a chance of succor. I was in a lighted room, whose unshuttered windows stared into the black night so glaringly, that practically I was as defenseless to an enemy hid in the darkness without, as if shut in a glass case. As this thought leaped into my brain, I suddenly extinguished the light and groped for the revolver and cartridge belt, resolving to make as determined a stand as possible. Securing both, I buckled on the belt and backed against the door, in order to resist any forcible entrance. In this defiant attitude I waited, the storm continuing to rage without.

A Texan thunder storm is at all times awe inspiring. I do not think I ever lived a more thrilling existence than during the brief interval I crouched in the darkness of that little cabin, which was incessantly lighted by the blue flashes that seemed to leap from window to window, and which shook tremulously under the crash of the shattering reports that followed one another in quick succession. My excitement reached its height when, during one of these sudden illuminations, I perceived pressed against the pane and peering into the room a wild, red face with long gray beard and disheveled hair streaming in the wind. The apparition, seen by the lurid light, was so malevolent that I think I was only prevented from firing at it by the brief interval of the flash. When the lightning gleamed again the face was gone, and I was certain now I could hear some one grouping his way along the side of the house, evidently supporting himself in that way against the charging gusts of wind and sharp fusillade of the driving rain. At the same time Miss Flo became uneasy and barked loudly.

"Hulloa, here!" shouted a gruff voice. I hastily reighted the lamp and opened the door in some trepidation.

There entered a tall figure, so gratuitously limp and bedraggled with rain as to be almost grotesque; so worn with travel and with such an utter weariness of life in the eyes as to be really pathetic. The clothes that he wore were torn and abraded, exposing a sub-stratum of red flannel at the knee, which gave him a ludicrous suggestion of having worn himself down to the quick from the excess of his devotions. His shrunken pantaloons encroached upon the calves of his legs, and as he was without stockings, this lack of intimacy with his hobnailed shoes exposed a pair of very gaunt and reluctant ankles. His beard and hair were long, straggling and unkempt, and were surmounted by an extravagant slouch hat of the frontier pattern. Running over the scant details of my former apparition, I mentally classified him at once as a "border tramp."

But I was lonely that evening and disposed to be polite. I therefore offered him the only chair in the room, stretched myself upon the low bed and calmly awaited developments.

"Good evening," he said, in a rather husky but pleasant voice, as he lapsed into the chair. Then he took off his broad hat with a swirl of spattering rain drops, wiped his forehead with a red bandana handkerchief, ruminated a few minutes, replaced his hat, and finally produced a pipe and a plug of tobacco, began slowly cutting up and crumbling the latter—the usual frontier preliminaries to a smoke.

I watched his movements with absorbing interest. He reminded me so forcibly of pictures of the lamented John Brown, that I was more than ever inclined to accept the singular conflicting conditions of that martyr's soul and body, as exemplified in the popular song.

When he had finally lighted his pipe and emitted several curling rings of smoke, this odd figure vouchsafed the information that he had come across country in the hope of assisting us in shearing. I informed him that we had just finished that day for the season. He seemed to experience some regret at this, and for a time smoked on in silence. At length, his eyes happening to fall upon my relinquished volume, he took it up, glanced over it hastily, and laid it down again.

"You have been reading Macaulay?" he said. I consented in a meek manner.

"Ah!" said my strange guest; "wonderful man! a wonderful man, that same Macaulay! What a genius, what a learning, what a noble style he had, to be sure!"

Then throwing his head back and narrowing his wild eyes, he suddenly broke out: "An acre in Middlesex is worth a principalty in Utopia; the smallest actual good is better than the most magnificent promise of impossibilities; the wise man of the Stoics would, no doubt, be a grander object than a steam engine."

I sat up in some amazement at this effort at memory. For the past three months, having associated with individuals whose vocabularies hardly ventured beyond the possibilities of "right smart" and "away over yonder," I was somewhat startled, I admit.

"Are you a native of this state, sir?" I asked, with great respect.

"No," replied he, turning full upon me for an instant those singular eyes of his. "I am, like yourself, a northerner."

"Let me offer you a better pipe," I said, pointing out to him the case containing my best meerschaum; "you will find some excellent 'avendish in that jar."

He gave me a quick glance, as if appreciating of my hospitality, but declined, saying that long habit had given him a preference for the natural leaf.

"What is your college?" he suddenly asked, as I was filling a pipe preparatory to joining him.

"Yale," I answered, with the pardonable pride of all sons of that alma mater; "and you?"

"I seldom mistake a collegian," remarked my incongruous visitor; "In-fardum, Regina, jubes renovare dolorem." I hail from Dartmouth.

I had made the inquiry more from politeness than any other motive, and yet at the moment of my speaking, it dashed across me that he must be college bred. Now that I was assured of it, I felt a sincere regret in seeing one who had enjoyed such advantages at such wretched odds with fortune. He must have divined what passed through my mind, for he glanced hurriedly—and half sadly, as it seemed to me—over his forlorn garments, and then raising his eyes to mine, and with a gleam of humor lurking beneath his shaggy brows, said:

"And pray, sir, how came a gentleman of your education and intelligence down in the God forsaken country?"

I smiled and attributed my advent to the adventurous spirit of the Nineteenth century, for want of a better reason. He took my answer in the spirit in which it was given, and appeared in a sense to be relieved by it, as if it established a bond of union between us, it struck me. But he resisted all inquiries of mine into his antecedents or past history, meeting my hints and questions with adroit evasion and skillful changes of the subject.

And so, in the quiet night—for the rain had now ceased, and the moon, riding high, silvered the wan landscape, and fringed the dripping foliage with flashing gems—we drifted back to the topic with which we began and talked of literary themes. It has been my privilege to converse with not a few cultured and learned men, and to enjoy the society of some of the most brilliant of modern conversationalists; but, as I sat and listened that evening to the words that fell from the lips of this frontier bohemian, it seemed to me that my acquaintance with the nature of true eloquence had just begun. It was "like reading Homer by flashes of lightning." What a wealth of bold imagery, of keen appreciation, of suggestive analogy, of marvelous insight was there! And what a treasure-house of memory! And when he finally lapsed into monologue, and indulging in a rhapsody upon the wonders of "Milton," quoted from "Paradise Lost" by paragraph and page, I thought of Macaulay's boast that if the great poet's immortal epic should by any chance be lost to men, he might hope to reproduce it; and my admiration for the attainments of the man swept over me in one vast wave of wonder. And then, as I lay there, listening to his deep voice, which had grown singularly rich and sonorous, as if in sympathy with the dignity of those grand periods, pondering with strange chance or force of circumstance had produced this incongruous being in such surroundings, his form suddenly dilated, his lips parted as if in terror, his eyes became fixed on vacancy and staring, and with a sudden spring to his feet, he stood erect and menacing.

"Avaunt!" he cried, gazing with a wild and frenzied stare into the empty air. "Avaunt! and quit my sight! Begone, I say! Think'st thou to dog my footsteps always? To hound me to the day of my death? Back! Back! G-r-r-r! Take your grip from off my neck! Avaunt!"

He dashed his hands to his throat, clutching it wildly, and striding to the door, flung it wide open, glaring long and fiercely out into the night, with a frenzied and hunted expression. Then he came slowly back to the table, tottering feebly and muttering incoherently, threw himself into his chair, and, covering his haggard face with both his trembling hands, shuddered and gasped alternately. Great beads of agony stood upon his brow.

I was so startled by this sudden outburst that I could only stare and sit speechless. When he first rose I was under the impression that it was to give greater force to some terrific denunciation. Not until he tore open the door did I realize that it was the hallucination of illness, and even then my consternation was so great as to deprive me of all power to act or speak.

The paroxysm soon passed. Meanwhile, I had poured some brandy into the cup of my pocket flask and offered it to him. He drank it with a feverish eagerness. By degrees the stimulant seemed to overcome his nervous apprehension. He sat for a long time with listless, leaden eyes. Then he rose wearily and asked, in a humble, deprecating fashion, if there were any place where he might sleep that night.

There was something so piteous, so unutterably wretched in this appeal, coming from one whose wonderful discourse had so delighted me, that I was indescribably touched. "Surely," said I to myself, "such abilities as I have recognized this night shall not be without shelter." I instantly placed my bed at his disposal, instilling some remonstrance and reluctance. I, at last, got him to bed, and he laid himself down with a long, low, agonizing sigh—the sigh of one to whom life is weariness and existence a burden.

As I stepped to the table near which he had been sitting, I observed a small tin box, something like a tobacco box, lying in his empty chair. I picked it up mechanically. Such a singular odor rose from this box that I was tempted to open it almost unconsciously. I was half full of a grayish brown drug. I examined it curiously. Opium!

I glanced toward the bed. He was lying apparently in a heavy sleep. I closed the lid of the box and placed it quietly beside him. Full of conjecture for the past of the unfortunate being who occupied my bed, I wrapped myself in my blanket and lay down beneath the window. There was no sound in the quiet night save the occasional low howl of the coyote from the hill. For a long time I lay awake, pondering over the singular conversation of the evening and its startling denouement. I wondered if his hallucination could be directly traced to opium, and what strange misfortune could have placed him under the thrall of the deadly drug. And then my thoughts returned to his quotation from Macaulay. "But we know that there are remedies that will assuage pain. What was the pain or what the sorrow?"

Unconsciously in my long reverie I had turned toward him. He was sleeping peacefully in the wan light. The pale moon, looking over the crest of the western divide, stole through the files of sentinel mesquites in a long pencil, and rested like a ghostly arm upon his breast. I thought, "The sister of Apollo has him in her keeping, and I fell asleep. But in the morning, the hands folded upon the breast were pulseless and cold, the face was waxen and still, and, hushed in the fearful calm of life's great mystery, the old man eloquent was dead.—Howard Seely in The Argonaut.

The Italian Way. "As I sat by the window the other afternoon," said a sick man, "and looked at the people as they trudged along in the sleet and snow, it occurred to me that a sprained ankle, as well as the inimitable, had its uses. At all events, I experienced a feeling of satisfaction that I, at least, could sit comfortably at home and hug the fire. Suddenly I was startled by hearing shrill voices speaking in a foreign language, and glancing up saw two Italians of the male sex hastening toward each other. They met, embraced and kissed each other on the lips with a smack that sounded like a pistol shot. This is the Italian way of doing after a long absence between friends, I learned, and it may be all very nice—in Italy, but my feelings can be expressed just as well by a good, old fashioned Saxon hand shake."—Philadelphia Call.

The Old Stan Ahead.

"No, Mr. Sampson—George, dear," said the girl. "I can never, never be your wife, but I will always be a—"

"Ah, darling," interposed young Mr. Sampson, and his heart was throbbing the button off his new silk vest, "why do you address me in such an endearing term if it can never, never be?"

"Because, George, dear," and again Uncle came from her lips like music in that night, "I'm to be a mother to you in U.S. spring. Your father—"

But to son-in-law had fled.—New Y.K. Son.

flood News.

"Toaa, liavo you liwJ the news? "No, what is it?" "The schoolmaster is dead!" "Bully! Kaw I can wear thinner mnu Li?"

A Keeper of the Truth. A man, dressed in greasy overalls, went into a newspaper office and asked to see the editor. When asked if the city editor or some other man on the force would do as well, he replied that he had come on very important business, and must see the editor-in-chief. When at last his persistence had forced an entrance into the room where great policies were outlined the editor said:

"You were determined to see me; now, as quickly as possible, state your business."

"All right, sir. I like your paper, and I want you to have a chance of saying something that will startle the country. For some time I have been engineer at Grayson's mill—"

"Well, but what have I to do with that?" "Just about on a minute. This morning Ban boiler exploded!"

"Go to the city editor if you want to haod in a piece of news."

"I thought that I would give you a chance to write a startling editorial."

"Editorial the deuce! We have such accidents nearly every day."

"No, you dont. Just give me a chance to get done, and you will thank me. No ODA was killed when this boiler exploded."

"That's nothing strange."

"And," continued the visitor, "no one would have been hurt had the boiler exploded five minutes before it did."

A strange expression settled upon the editor's face. "Will you please repeat that?" he asked.

"I say that no one would have been hurt had the explosion occurred five minutes before it did. All other explosions that I ever heard of would have been five times as disastrous if they had occurred a short time before, for a party of young ladies or a committee of gentlemen, or some important paragon bad, of course, just left the mill when the explosion occurred."

The editor's eyes had grown wonderfully bright. "My dear friend," said he, "dear because you have chosen me to be the original recipient of this great piece of intelligence, lead on, and I will follow you. A man with such a glorious appreciation of the truth is a rare jewel. Come, sit down beside me, that I may feel your presence as I write. Stay by me, gentle keeper of the truth, for my mind is stirred up, and I fear would muse."—Arkansas Traveler.

Boom Talk. Winter Visitor in Lower California (holding on to a tree and dodging fragments of bananas and other personal property whizzing past)—You never have hurricanes or cyclones here, I understand. Is this the regular thing in the zephyr line!

Resident (clinging with desperate energy to a grapevine)—The mildness of our climate, combined with the unsurpassed fertility of soil and the amazing abundance of our luscious tropical fruit, our entire freedom from destructive storms and the unexampled cheapness of our lands—look out for that flying horse trough!—the success that any man with a few hundred dollars can attain in vineyard planting, hop raising or—hold on, can't you? Don't be in a hurry! With three acres of land here and a cow—(regretfully) there he goes, sixty miles an hour, toward Santa Barbara! If he had stuck for two minutes longer I could have convinced him, his prejudiced hide!—Chicago Tribune.

Fit for the God? Young Man (to waiter)—Waiter, I want some roast turkey. Give me the outside slice off the breast, a nice, large piece of the liver, and, as I am hungry, you might bring me both second joints.

Waiter—Yes, sir; aiyt'm'else.

Young Man (contemplatively)—Yes, there is something more I intended to order. Let Waiter—I guess it must be the earth. How'll you have it cooked?—New York Sun.

Solid Meals for an Ostrich. Al—Give me $5 worth of assorted hardware. Ed—What do you mean? Al—That's all right; my wife has a pet ostrich. The bird must eat—Tid Bits.

Culture at the Museum. Mrs. N.—My dear, I wish you to observe this beautiful statue of Apollo; and this (pointing to Psyche) is his wife, Apollinaria.—Life.

How It's Done. Patron—Waiter, bring me a cup of tea and a lar; of turkey. Waiter (to cook)—Soaked mullin and kyouck kicker.—Nebraska State Journal.

A Hearty Acquiescence. Mr. Featherly—What beautiful teeth Miss Smith has! Miss Kharptonque—Yes, I think this m' much prettier than her other.—Life.

BACH & ABEL.

Probably no event is so much looked forward to by the Ladies as our opening of Satins.

Many consider us the largest handlers of Satins in the State outside of Detroit, and as we have about fifty thousand yards of Satins alone, it would seem to place our display indisputably foremost, and at our prices other stores could not be expected to equal it.

Fashion seems to demand Satins, and quite fortunately, too, for, while the French Satin easily lead, yet just as effective designs come from domestic looms, at from one-third to one-half the cost; but of course not possessing the service of the imported.

THIS WEEK IS SATIN WEEK, and the grandest display Ann Arbor ever saw is on view at our special prices.

A few styles in window on the left. In new Spring Dress Goods, the Black and Colored Henriettas take the lead. We have on sale a full line of colors at 75 eta. At this price they are the best goods in the world.

Black Silks of excellent quality, guaranteed to give satisfaction at very interesting prices.

3 Pieces Black Silk, 81.25, worth $1.50.

2 Pieces Black Silk, 81.50, worth $1.65.

2 Pieces Black Silk, $1.75, worth $2.00.

We also have Black Silks, at 75c and $1.00 a yard, but cannot guarantee wear.

Our Colored Rhademes, at 81.00, deserve special attention.

Our new Embroideries and Flouncings are admitted to be the finest ever seen in Ann Arbor. Very little trouble to examine them. Fine assortment on table in centre of store.

A full line of Muslin Underwear, all new, now on exhibition.

Our 25 cent Apron is the largest and best in the city.

This week Ladies' Black Cotton Hose, at 10 cts. a pair. 50 doz. in window on the right, worth 15 cts.

Every bit of news that appears in this column should bring prompt responses. The store is alive with activity.

BACH & ABEL. THE CITY.

Prof. Henry Wacje Rogers is improving his residence on S. State-st.

Lewis is cosily situated in his new photographic gallery on Main-Bt.

George Laubengayer, March 9; paid $6.75 for being drunk; Justice Pond.

Jerome Freeman has rented the post-office barber shop, and will take possession soon.

Phebe C. Weed, of Dixboro, Mich. died of heart disease, March 7, at the age of 75 years.

Andrew J. McMahon, of the Fourth ward, died March 11, of diphtheria, aged 10 years.

Four young men while skating on the river last week, were treated to a cold bath under the ice.

On after March 15, the Detroit Free Press and the Tribune will reach Ann Arbor at 7:15 a. m.

Chas. B. Davison took the Sovereign Consistory degree in Detroit last week becoming a 32nd mason.

Isaac Greenman, of Ann Arbor, has received $1,200 back pension, through Pension Attorney Matthews.

Bach & Able have improved the ceiling of their store, and put down a maple floor Monday and Tuesday.

The triennial K. T. ColClave, at Washington, D. C. Oct. 1889, will have an Ann Arbor delegation in attendance.

George Spathelf has bought a lot on Brown-st near Broadway, and will build a residence on it next summer.

The commissioned officers of Co. A go to Adrian, March 29, to an election of M&I officers of the 1st regiment

Willie, son of Erwin Ball, of Hamburg, died of inflammation of the lungs, March 7, aged one year and nine months.

Geo. F. Allmendinger and Henry G. Allmendinger have purchased the "Candy Kitchen" of Mrs. S. C. Pratt, of Huron-st

Burchfield, the tailor, has a button machine by which he can make in five minutes enough buttons to fit out an overcoat.

L. F. Zells has put up a carpenter shop on his place on 8. Fourth-st, where he will be glad to see those who want his services.

The choir of German Bethlehem church, 14 in number, was photographed by Gibson, Saturday. It's a good-looking group.

Dr. Ramsay will conduct a series of services at the chapel in the Fifth Ward, each evening next week except Saturday evening.

The Ann Arbor lodge, No. 320, I. O. G. T. will meet in Cropsey's hall on Washington-st, on and after next Tuesday evening.

The annual meeting of the Womens' Christian Temperance union will be held in Hobart hall, Wednesday, March 21, at 3 P. M.

W. J. Clark and Major Soule are delegates from Welch post to the state department meeting, G. A. R., in Lansing this week.

F. C. Wagner is in Pueblo, near the city of Mexico, putting up electric lights. He writes to his people that he has witnessed a bull fight.

C. H. Richmond, as executor of the estate of John Quigley, will sell the farm of 140 acres in Northfield township, at auction, March 24.

The sons of veterans, about 25 in number, met in the G. A. R. room, Saturday evening, and made arrangements for a permanent organization.

Mrs. Ida Augusta Hoppe, of Madison-st, died last Saturday morning, aged 21 years, and was buried on Monday. She leaves a husband and two children.

The Legislative association will hold the second annual reunion June 13 and 14. Ex-Gov. Folch, of Ann Arbor, will respond to the address of welcome.

Emil Baur has had reports in regard to Washtenaw peach trees which leads him to think there will be at least one-half the usual crop next fruit season.

Oscar O. Sorg is frescoing the Battle Creek M. C. depot at a cost of about $500. He also has the contract to fresco the histological laboratory on the campus.

THE REGISTER'S Chelsea correspondent says that T. D. Kearney, of Ann Arbor, will respond to a toast at a banquet there this evening in honor of St. Patrick.

Chas. E. Hiscock is chairman of the Republican city committee, and the other members are H. S. Dean, John Heintzman, M. H. Goodrich, N. D. Gates, and Z. P. King.

J. C. & W. W. Watts, of Ann Arbor, have just completed two Past Grand High Priests' jewels for the grand chapter, R. A. M., valued at $150 and $120 respectively.

Judge Harriman has appointed Eugene Oesterlin guardian over Christian F. Hideloff, a spendthrift inmate of the county house who draws a pension from the government.

That delightful publication, The American Magazine, has in its March number an article on "An Hour with the Author of Thanaopsis," by George Newell Lovejoy, of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. T. J. Sunderland lectured in the Methodist church at Midland, on Saturday evening last, on "Reading for the Young," and preached in the Unitarian church there on Sunday.

Alma B., wife of Geo. W. Brown, of the post-office, died of diabetes, March 9, aged 55 years. The funeral occurred Monday at the residence, and the remains were taken to Ypsilanti.

An attractive feature of the annual thank offering of the Woman's Foreign missionary society at the M. E. Church, this evening, will be the address on Honduras, by Prof. Harrington.

Next Monday evening, at Unity club, Mrs. Sunderland will describe Titian's Assumption, and Leon J. Richardson will read an essay on Goethe, the novelist! The annual "sugaring off" will occur then.

Nelson B. Nye, of the Third ward, died March 9, at the age of 73, of paralysis. He was born in New Hampshire, but has been a resident of Ann Arbor 40 years. The funeral occurred at the house Sunday.

Miss Nellie A. Monroe, daughter of G. M. Monroe, is very sick. Mr. Monroe has just returned to Ann Arbor from a long business trip in the west. Miss Monroe was a member of the junior class in the high school.

C. W. Wagner will have a curiosity in Ann Arbor in one or two weeks. It is a bicycle for women, a new thing. The wheels are about 30 inches in diameter. It is light, rapid, and safe, so the old tricycle will have to go.

The township board of Ann Arbor township will submit to the electors of Ann Arbor township at the spring election, the question of building a new bridge across the Huron river at Geddesburg. The old bridge is thought to be unsafe.

An Adrian paper says that Fred. J. Barton, of Saline, Washtenaw county, "stole a watch and now he is doing time in Ionia for nine months." Be careful! Fred. J. Barton is the one whose watch was stolen, and it is the other person who is in Ionia for 90 days, not nine months.

Married, March 7, by Rev. Wm H. Ryder, D. D., at the residence of the bride's mother, Harry B. Wyeth, of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Daisy Richardson, of this city. After visiting some of the southern winter resorts, Mr. and Mrs. Wyeth will make their home at Winter Park, Fla.

John Pfisterer has purchased the old brick residence on the Hill property, and is tearing it down, removing the brick to his two lots on Huron-st near the foundry, where he will build two residences, unless he gets a good chance to sell the brick. The Hill lands will be laid out into city lots.

The Chautauqua circle will meet at the home of Miss Cowan, corner of Main and William sts., next Tuesday evening. Miss Hayley will read a paper on "Principal religious beliefs of the world." Miss Payne will read a selection from Holmes' poems; and Mrs. C. G. Darling will give a review, "Guardian Angel."

The Ida Van Cortland company, which plays at the opera house every evening next week, is very popular wherever it has gone in Michigan. The star has had a training on the New York stage. The company aims to give good performances which, at the low prices, are usually served of drawing full houses when more high-priced companies play to empty chairs.

Helpers' band of the Presbyterian Sunday school gave an entertainment last Friday evening, netting about $2fi. Miss Myra Pollard read selections from "Helen's Babies"; Miss Lois Baxter sang; C. W. Copley gave a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Faulkner; and then there was a fan drill by eight girls, and other tableaux.

A musicale was given, last Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. Spence, by Mrs. H. R. Arndt's class of beginners in music, assisted by Miss Sarah Adams. Those who took part were Misses Edith Noble, Margie Carhart, Mabel Toop, Mattie Slater, Flossie Spence, Bessie Tolcard, Ruth Ames, and Mrs. Arndt and Miss Adams.

Rev. M. M. G. Dana, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, of St Paul, Minn., will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit next Sunday. His discourses will be upon the Tappan course of lectures. His morning topic will be "The prominence and power of the Bible," and in the evening, "Wycliff, the morning star of the Reformation."

The library committee of the Unitarian church has just printed a supplementary catalogue of books, about 300 in number, added to the library of the church within the past five years. The additions cover the whole range of liberal religious scholarship, comparative religion, ethics, philanthropy, etc., and are exceedingly valuable. The library now contains about 1700 volumes, and is practically free to the public.

At the Unity club, Monday evening, Mrs. Sunderland gave a talk on the life and wonder of Guido Reni, more especially upon his "Aurora." Wendall Moore read a paper on Schiller, showing the place he occupied in German literature and among German writers; and W. K. Childs read a paper on Alaska. Music on the guitar, violin and piano was rendered by members of the club.

A. L. Noble has begun extensive improvements in his store. Back of the store stands the old brick structure long ago used as Muehlig's cabinet and furniture room? A new roof has been put on this, and it will be connected by an archway to Mr. Noble's store, thus increasing the length about 30 feet. The new room will be devoted to the boys' and children's department.

Mrs. Emeline Pryer died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bartlett, in Superior township, March 8, 1888. She was born in Orange county, N. Y., Jan. 6, 1815, and came to Michigan with her parents in 1828. They settled in Salem township. She united with the M. E. church in 1830. In 1835 she was married to Benj. Pryer, who died Nov. 14, 1872. She came to Ann Arbor township in 1848.

The Manistee people are hoping that a branch of the T. A. A. & N. M. R. R. will be made to their place. James M. Ashley was there recently, and according to the Manistee Democrat, said substantially that he believed a road between Cadillac and Manistee would pay, and that he was going to New York at once, when, if the money could be raised, the road would be built during the coming season.

Henry DePue, of Pittsfield township, hauled to Almendinger & Schneider's mill, yesterday, a distance of about three and one-half miles, 107 bushels of wheat with one team. The roads are rough, and there are two hills to climb. This is thought to be the largest on record. Wheat, in bags, and all must have weighed between 7,000 and 8,000 pounds. He received 83 cents per bushel.

The land league met in their room over Bach & Abel's store, last Thursday evening. There was an interesting debate on the capital punishment question, with Messrs. T. D. Kearney, James Duffy and Greening in favor, and Messrs. McElroy, McEnery and Quinlan against. Mrs. M. Slater read an essay on Woman's Rights. There was music and an oration. These meetings are reported to be very pleasant and instructive.

A Unitarian convention is to be held in Toledo next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 20 and 21. It is expected that quite a delegation (from the Unitarian society here will go down. The convention will be under the auspices of the American Unitarian association. The speakers are to be Rev. Robert Collyer, of New York, Rev. Chas. G. Ames, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Grindall Reynolds, Minit J. Savage and George Batchelor, of Boston.

It is too early for much talk about nominations for city officers. There is a shy "I-don't-care-if-I-do" air about prospective candidates which makes it impossible to make many very definite announcements now. Mayor W. B. Smith is thought to be willing to run again; and Dr. Kapp and Henry Hutzel have been mentioned for the democratic nominations. Jas. R. Bach and W. W. Watts will probably have an interesting contest for the democratic nomination for city recorder.

The First Baptist church is undergoing extensive improvements. Upstairs the pastor's room has been freshly frescoed and the wood work oiled. A room has been fitted up for a music room, where the music will be stored and the choir will meet. As the church is to own music, it was found necessary to institute a music fund. In the basement the parlors have been frescoed, and the steam pipes rearranged. The room which has been used for coal and wood, may be fitted up for a Sunday school class. A. W. Britten has had charge of the frescoing.

The Eckert-Robinson dramatic company, which is occupying the stage at the opera-house all this week, is a success. Miss Eckert is a clever actress who is always sure to please, and Harry C. Robinson ably supports her. Some of these low-price entertainments often please more than the more pretentious ones. An interesting feature is the giving away of prizes. Tuesday evening Frank Clay held the lucky number, and he carried off a silver cuke basket. Last evening a gold watch was given away in the same manner. There is more silverware to be disposed of. Monday evening they played "The Stealer" to a Urge house. Tuesday evening, "Kethleen Mavourneen"; and last evening one of Bartley Campbell's plays, "A Kithleen Mavourneen and as Terrence O. Moore the two leading members of the company are extremely entertaining.

J. T. Jacobs & Co. had a large part of their stock of clothing damaged by water Monday night, caused by the bursting of the water pipes. On Tuesday all hands were busy sorting and drying the goods. They will, of course, sell it out at a sacrifice. Extensive changes have been made in the store. The shelves on the north side have been removed, the business office is now at the rear end, and a railing has been put around the children's department.

At the astronomical observatory they have often seen on the clouds the reflection of the electric lights of Detroit. The electric light is a great nuisance so far as astronomical work is concerned. There is no use trying to look for comets till after the electric lights are put out, and it interferes with other kinds of work at the observatory. If the lights should ever be kept going all night, it would make the observatory men desperate. Prof. Schaeberle would hasten his departure to the Lick observatory, and Prof. Harrington would think of another trip to Honduras.

Harvey A. Price died of consumption in Detroit, March 3, after an illness of two years and five months. His death occurred at the residence of his father-in-law, Robert Beattie, formerly of Ann Arbor. He was entombed in Locke, Mich., by the side of his father, S. L. Price, who died at Camp Denison, O., in 1865. The deceased was only 27 years old; was a graduate of the Michigan State Agricultural college, '81, and of the law department of the University. He practiced law in Muskegon till his illness. He leaves a wife to mourn his loss, and had many friends.

An enterprise is on foot in Ann Arbor, in the line of a fruit canning factory. The lateness of the season may prevent its consummation now. It is the formation of a stock company to can tomatoes and apples. Its capital stock is to be $25,000, $19,000 of which were subscribed in a few hours' time. The capacity of this factory will be upwards of 10,000 cans per day. The cans would also be made in Ann Arbor during the first season. A committee is investigating the subject, and probably will go to Kalamazoo and Adrian next week to get further information.

The funeral of Prof. E. W. Cheever, last Thursday, was largely attended. Rev. W. J. Ryder and Rev. Richard Steele officiated. President Angell spoke, in very appropriate words, of the characteristics of the deceased. The Japanese students, in whom Prof. and Mrs. Cheever had taken much interest, were in attendance to testify their sorrow. The general feeling among the many acquaintances present was that of extreme regret at the untimely death of so modest, strong, and useful a man. The near friends of the dead professor certainly receive widespread and genuine sympathy.

Dr. W. J. Herdman has received a letter from Dr. Arthur Mitchell, of New York city, the corresponding secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, asking him to recommend some young physician to go to Siam in Asia to take charge of a medical mission station. The king of Siam is anxious to have another hospital there in the charge of a capable American physician. A lady in New York will pay for the outfit, passage, and salary two years. Dr. Herdman has his eye on Dr. E. R. Wagner, formerly of Ann Arbor, and a medic '87, who is now getting valuable hospital practice in some New Jersey city.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Abb Mann spent Sunday in Detroit. Samuel Krause went to Chicago Sunday night.

T. J. Keech made Ypsilanti a visit last Saturday.

Miss Mary Cordes leaves for Farwell next Tuesday.

Miss Florence Wilcox, of Bancroft, is visiting Miss Nellie L. Childs.

Mrs. Dr. Carey, of Indianapolis, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sed James.

Mrs. Grace Clark, of Hastings, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Stimson.

Mrs. J. S. Ricketts and family left for Lindenville, O., yesterday morning.

Judge C. B. Grant and wife, of Marquette, are visiting at ex-Gov. Felch's.

Col. H. S. Dean attended the G. A. R. state encampment in Lansing this week.

Ed. M. Roberts, of Fort Madison, Iowa, is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

David Howell, superintendent of the Lansing public schools, is in Ann Arbor to-day.

W. G. Dieterle was in Grand Rapids, Friday and Saturday, buying furniture for his store.

W. L. Watkins, cashier of the People's bank in Manchester, was in Ann Arbor, Tuesday.

Miss Oceana Billnghurst, of Sarnia, Ont., is visiting Miss Mattie Walz, on E. Washington-st.

Mrs. Newby, of Chicago, has been the guest of her daughter, Miss Minnie Newby, of Packard-st.

C. V. Slocum, the Detroit tenor who sang at the last Chamber concert, has gone to Buffalo to live.

O. D. Royall will go to Florida early next week, where he already has a good situation engaged.

Geo. R. Haviland returned, Saturday from a three weeks' trip in the western and southern states.

Henry G. Horn, formerly of Ann Arbor, has been elected president of the J. L. Hudson bank in Detroit.

James Barker has returned from California, not enchanted with the prospects there. Ten men to one job there, he says.

A masquerade party will be given over C. M. Webb's furniture store, tomorrow evening. About 60 guests are expected.

Monroe Conover, of New York city, on his way to Dakota, stopped in Ann Arbor about a week to visit his mother on Fifth street.

Edward S. Millen, of Farwell, is in Ann Arbor visiting his parents. He is just convalescing from a severe illness. On Monday he was elected clerk of Farwell.

The employees in Gibson's photographic gallery invited their friends to the number of about 25, and they had a hop in the pleasant operating room last Thursday evening. Gibson was there and enjoyed it too.

The ladies of the Baptist church will provide a unique entertainment in the church parlors on Friday evening, in the shape of a "Crazy Tea." The waiters will be dressed in costumes never imagined by Worth; the tables will be arranged to suit Geo. Francis Train; in fact everything will be done to make the entertainment worthy of its name.

53 inch Columbia Light Roadster, half nickel finish, ball pedals, run less than $10 miles, good as new. Price $115. C. W. WAGNER, Bicycle Dealer. 21 S. Main-st.

The undersigned having purchased the business formerly conducted by Mrs. S. C. Pratt, at 7i East Huron-st, will hereafter be most happy to see all of Mrs. Pratt's old customers, as well as many new ones who may be in want of Fine Candies, Pastry, Cakes, Pies, etc. We shall serve lunches and meals at all hours. Oysters cooked in all styles. Everything served promptly and neatly. ALLMENDINGER BBOS.

My nock of samples in carpets represents one of the largest wholesale Houses in this country. New Spring styles—Beauties—low prices. Look before you buy. H. RANDALL.

Remnant sale of Mouldings for picture frames at Red Bl's

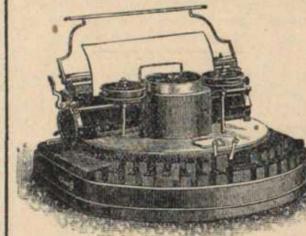

Wm. W. Douglas is bound to close out his stock and will from now on sell at auction each day. The stock is complete in every line.

Auction sale of Clothing and Furnishing Goods every day at Win. W. Douglas'

Doc. Slimm's Pleasant Barber Shop, directly opposite the south door of the court house, is the best place in the city for anything in his line. Trv it. 645 tf.

Jill FRESKO PAINTING SPECIALTY AT OSCAR O. SOIM'S. DEALER IN All Painter's Supplies 70 S. Main St. Plans for Frescoing furnished on application.

Highest Awards, London, New York, Boston, New Orleans, "THE HAMMOND"

TYPE -WRITER ! UNEXCELLED POP. SPEED, PERFECT Alignment and Durability ! The Folsom MirmoKraph for duplicating copies, superior to all other methods. Type-Writer supplies etc. for Catalogue and Price List, Address W. A. CAMPBELL, ACT., Ann Arbor, Mich.

NEW BOOKS!

ME. POTTER OF TEXAS. HOW TO STRENGTHEN THE MEMORY. BCTON'S INN, BY TOURGEE. LIFE AND TIME OF JESUS, BY J. F. Clark. PAUL POTOFF, BY F. Marion Crawford. BENTLEY BREADWINNERS, BY Catherine Owens. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, BY McM'ster. A COLLEGE OF LETTERS OF THACKERAY. A PHYLLIS OF THE SIERRAS, BY Hart. PUBLIC DEBTS, BY H. C. Adams. PATRICK HENRY, BY Moses Colt Tyler.

Constantly on hand the latest publications, latest in Stationery and Visiting Cards. Special attention paid to the importations of Foreign Books and Periodicals.

GEL HUM. YOU CAN GET IT

Calkins' Drug Store 34 South State-st.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE!

COMMENCING Mar. 19 MONDAY EVE.,

Ida Tan Cortland

muim mm omuis co. IN A SELECT REPERTOIRE OF NEW AND POPULAR PLAYS ! Rich and Elegant Wardrobe! A Leading Feature! Great Company! Great Play!

CHEAP PRICES! "There is no other company in this country, which would have before them such a certainty of crowded houses in Jackson."—Jackson Citizen, Feb. 21, '88.

Grand opening Monday night, on which occasion Mr. Van Cortland will appear in her great impersonation of CORA in "The Reptile, or Art's 47" Playing to refined and fashionable audiences everywhere 1011 LAB PKII'S'S. 15, 88 and 35 eta. Reserved SeaU at Wahr's.

Dress Goods ANNOUNCEMENT

—AT— —ID. F.— mmm

Spring Dress Goods Sale of Great Magnitude!

At Popular Prices.

OVER 200 PIECES

—NEW— Spring Fabrics!

Now Open!

All Wool Newton Suitings, at 30c per yard, worth 40c.

40-inch French Suitings in Checks and Brown and Grey Mixtures, imported to retail for 50c, we bought 35 Pieces and will run them at 25c a yd. Biggest bargains in Dress Goods ever shown.

15 Pieces Ladies' Cloths, yard and a half wide, in the "Latest Colorings," Gobelin, Mahogany, Olive, Navy, Golden Brown, Myrtle, Bronze and Sapphire, worth 75c; our price will be 50c a yd.

20 Pieces Rutland, 52-inch Billiard Cloths with Broadcloth finish, at 75c per yard, worth $1.00.

10 Pieces 52-inch English Broadcloths in Fashionable Shades of Pearl, Fawn, Leather, Copper, Steel, Gobelin, Olive and Navy, at $1.00 per yard; worth $1.50.

25 Pieces 38-inch Wool Tricots, Spring Shades, at 40c per yd.; sold in other stores, at 50c.

20 Pieces Red Fern Suitings, all Wool, 40-inches wide, choice Shades, at 40c a yard; would be cheap at 50c.

We have placed on Sale an immense assortment of Wash Dress Goods, at 8c, 10c and 12c a yd.

White Dress Goods in Nainsook Checks and Plaids, at 10c, 12c and 15c, per yard.

Lace Stripes and Plaids, at 10 and 18c

Victoria Lawns, India Linens, Corded, Piquas, at 10c, 12c, 15c and 20c a yd.

Sateens, 100 Pieces extra value in all the Newest Shades for Spring, and copied from Koehlin's French Goods, at 12c a yard; worth 20c. You can't tell them from 40c Sateens when made up.

100 Gross New Dress Buttons. 50 Pieces New Braids to match new Shades in Dress Goods.

It is an established fact, for many years, that we stand at the head for Stylish Dress Goods, at Low Prices.

Ladies, it will pay you to look through our Drees Goods Department.

D. F. SCHAIRER.