

THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER.

VOL. XIV. NO. 15.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1888.

WHOLE NO. 694.

ON THE CAMPUS.

The Glee club, April 20, at University hall. Charles DickeQS will not come to Ann Arbor to read.

The school of music give a recital tomorrow afternoon in Room 24.

Work has resumed the past week on the new hygienic laboratory.

Ground was broken this week for the new Christian Association building.

Dr. Prescott speak before the University chemical society tomorrow evening.

Secretary Wade and wife are expected to return from their visit to Hew Orleans April 20.

The class of '88 has ordered class caps of J. T. Jacobs & Co. The cap will be the same as that worn by '86.

Prof. Rhodes, of the high school, is assisting Prof. Burnett with some of his classes. The latter is in ill health.

A meeting of the University branch of the Michigan Republican club has been called for the 14th, at 10 a. m., in room A.

The ladies of the graduating classes this year will dress in white for the commencement exercises. "So the story goes."

Mrs. Prof. Stowell returned last Friday from Washington where she has been in attendance at the Womens' International Congress held at that city.

The freshmen have their new mortarboards,—navy blue with gold and white tassel,—the most tasty hat that has appeared on our campus for years.

W. S. Hough, of the class of '84, has been appointed as instructor in philosophy in place of Prof. Dewey, resigned. Mr. Hough comes well recommended.

The Glee club returned, it is said, a little "in the hole," but none of their hearers have yet been heard to complain that they didn't get the worth of their money.

Prof. Geo. H. Harrower, formerly of the Agricultural college, will take Prof. Jones' Latin classes for the remainder of the year. Mr. Harrower graduated from the University in '78.

E. C. Hegeler, of LaSalle, Ill., who has already shown his generosity to the University in many ways, has by a generous gift now made it possible for the University library to come in possession of Liebig's Annalen der Chemie und Pharmacie. The set contains 248 volumes.

'90's Oracle is fully up to the promises made for it by the class. One of the best publications issued by the students for some years. The etching of Prof. Payne is excellent, the other engravings are very good; the literary matter interesting and highly creditable to the class.

There are at present 281 ladies attending the University against 265 last year. They are divided among the different departments as follows: Literary, 194; medical, 50; law, 2; pharmacy, 2; homeopathic, 27; dental, 6. And a nice-looking company of ladies were never assembled in one place in Michigan.

The University Dramatic club will commence the rehearsal this week of the play, "Times three all," and the comedy, "Lend me Five Shillings," which possibly they will present during commencement week. In the former, C. M. Browne, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Keough, T. Jayne, E. H. Smith, Miss Gertrude Wade, and Miss Ida Z. Hibbard will appear; and in the latter, Robert Babcock, Leon Cooper, T. Jayne, C. T. Alexander, Louis Boyle, Miss Eda Clark, and Miss Ardie Clark.

Drs. Vaughan and Lyster attended the State board of health meeting Tuesday. Dr. John Avery reported on the alleged slaughter house nuisance near the reformatory at Ionia. It was not a nuisance.

Dr. Kellogg reported on the typhoid fever epidemic in the Reform School at Adrian. It could be traced to the typhoid germs in the sewer air. Dr. Vaughan, who had examined the sewer air of the Jackson State Prison during the late epidemic of the same disease in that institution, found typhoid germs to exist in great abundance.

The board in the afternoon examined the plans for a proposed new cottage at the Northern Asylum for the insane at Traverse City. In the future the board will look into the dietary systems prevailing in the various State institutions.

DH. FORD'S ADDRESS.

A large audience assembled at the hall last Saturday afternoon to listen to the memorial services of the late Dr. Palmer. Dr. Ford, who has been a collaborator with the deceased for 35 years, delivered the address. It brought to mind forcibly, as he reviewed the work of the late dean, together with the services of other pioneers of the institution, that those who have laid the foundations of Michigan's pride are fast passing away, leaving their work and charge to younger heads and hands.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, in an address at Boston delivered a few years since, made the remark that it was worth taking a trip across the Atlantic to hear Dr. Ford lecture on anatomy. In this he did not make an overstatement. But in the memorial address of Dr. Palmer, Dr. Ford, in reviewing the life of the late dean, demonstrating its life lessons that should be learned especially by every student of medicine, gave those students old and young who were assembled before him a lesson worth more than a journey to know. It would be impossible to reproduce it here because the worth lay in the examples and subtle suggestions.

Dr. Palmer's vast benefit to the institution was shown, together with his excellent individual traits of character which after all were the secret of his success and indirectly the secret of the success of the department of which he was at the head. After reviewing the life of the doctor, which has already been given in this paper, Dr. Ford spoke of those other pioneers who had been foremost in raising the standard of the medical school to its present prominent position. Among these especially touching and worthy were his remarks on the services of Dr. Douglas, still living, and those of Drs. Sage, Cheever, and Gunn now passed away.

THIS IS A GO, SURE!

The Allmendinger Piano and Organ Company Organized.—Will Build at Once.

D. F. Allmendinger's organ works have been turning out from 80 to 100 organs per year; but the proprietor's reputation has been increasing so fast that orders have been pouring in upon him which he could not fill. This has led to the organization of the above-named company with a capital stock of $25,000. Tuesday evening, officers of the company, as follows, were elected: President, Frederick Schmid; vice president, Herman Huteel; treasurer and secretary, Fred. H. Behr; superintendent of the works, D. F. Allmendinger. Directors had previously been elected as follows, including the officers: G. Frank Allmendinger, D. F. Allmendinger, Joseph Greve, and Gottlob Luick. The stockholders, besides the gentlemen already mentioned, are Gustave Brehm, Titus Huteel, Dr. Kapp, Justice Frueauff, and Henry Mann.

The company intends to more than double the present output at the organ works. Mr. Allmendinger's present organ plant will be utilized, and in 60 days they hope to erect a brick building in addition, 32x40, and four stories high. They will have a 30-horse power engine.

G. F. Allmendinger went to Dundee yesterday to see about buying brick for the new building.

THE COUNTY HOUSE.

Mr. McDowell Charged with Stealing.—State Oil Inspector Platt Talks About It.

"It's all a scheme of some Democrats to get a little political capital, and it is a dirty, mean piece of business," said H. Platt, the state oil inspector, when approached concerning the charges made against Mr. McDowell who has just left the county house as keeper.

Last Saturday Mr. McDowell came to Ann Arbor to meet the board of superintendents, and the conference was held in Prosecuting Attorney Norris's office. It was given out that the prosecuting attorney sent for him to answer charges; but it was the board who asked him to come, and he came without clearly understanding what was wanted. THE REGISTER asked Mr. Norris for the notes which he says he took of Mr. McDowell's confessions, but he declined to show them; but he kept on making verbal assertions against Mr. McDowell which are damaging, and in a way that evinces a desire to make political capital out of the affair.

"The Free Press has a scandalously false article from Ann Arbor about this," said Mr. Platt yesterday. "It says that Mr. McDowell admitted taking the dishes and offered to return them and other articles. I have talked with Mr. McDowell about this whole affair and all the charges that are in circulation of which we have heard, and can explain them to the satisfaction of every reasonable person. Mr. McDowell didn't offer to return the goods which he took away from the county house.

"It can be proved that when Mr. and Mrs. McDowell went to the house, there was nothing in the keeper's apartments excepting two carpets and a bed frame. Mr. McDowell's friends drew five loads of his household goods there, and the county team drew some. They were all his. Mrs. McCormick went to the county house some time ago, and Mrs. McDowell took her over the lower part of the house indicating what belonged to the county."

"How about that cow, of which so much is said?"

"Well, Lorenzo Davis gave Mr. McDowell's granddaughter a calf, and it became a heifer on the county farm and its milk was used for the county. The board thought they were keeping too much stock, and this heifer, being the only one fat that could be sold, was sold for $39, which, as the books show, were handed over to the county. To replace that heifer, Mr. McDowell took a heifer away which will not sell for $25.

"And as for the dishes, when the family went there, they found that there were not enough dishes to set the table, and so they put their own in. In the course of time, there were a number of breakages, of course, and when they left they merely took what would reimburse them. In the matter of canned fruit, they took away only half of the amount they took there. Of dried fruit they carried a large amount to the county house, and received nothing for it. Great many of these things were understood by Messrs. Aprill and Greene last fall when Mr. McDowell told them that he would leave this spring.

"There are a number of other similar cases," said Mr. Platt. "There is something said about hams. Mr. McDowell bought a hog for himself and paid for it. The hams and shoulders he kept, but the parts which could not be preserved very well were used for the county, and to reimburse himself, he took a couple of hams which had been paid for by the county, and which were worth less than the meat he had given.

"Mr. McDowell courts an investigation, and either there must be an investigation, or some of those fellows must stop their slanders. I'm getting mad in this business, and will spend time and money myself to see it straightened."

Mr. Joe Martin, formerly with J. Muehlig, can now be found at the furniture establishment of Martin Haller, where he will be pleased to see all his many friends.

Jumped from a Moving Train.

Last evening, at 10:30 o'clock, John J. Burns went to the T. & A. A. depot. He jumped on a train to ride as far as Miller's avenue. In jumping off, he struck against a switch, and was terribly bruised. Dr. W. B. Smith worked over him all night. This morning, he was still unconscious, and he died at 9:20 o'clock. Mr. Burns was a second sergeant of Co. A., and was very much liked.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

County Convention Elects Delegates to the State Convention and Raises Money.

The third party Prohibitionists of Washtenaw county held a convention last Friday in the rink in Ann Arbor. Rev. E. B. Sutton, of Adrian, and W. A. Taylor, of Lansing, were present. F. B. Cressy, of The Center, was on hand and secured $35 for 100 copies of his paper till after the campaign, which will be sent to Democrats and Republicans in the county whom they hope to convert.

With students and women the convention numbered about 300. It was the smallest county convention the party has held in years. A. A. Hopkins and the Silver Lake quartette, of New York, who held forth more particularly in the evening, were on hand, the quartette arriving at 3 p. m. and arousing some enthusiasm with its music.

Cooley C. Reeves, of Dexter, was made chairman of the convention, and Charles A. Salyer, of Ann Arbor, secretary. Delegates to the state convention in Grand Rapids, May 16, were chosen as follows: B. J. Conrad, delegate at large; John Schumacher and O. R. L. Crozier, Ann Arbor; G. W. Merrill, Webster; Lester C. Palmer, Dexter; J. R. Doane, Salem; S. W. Bird, Whitmore Lake; Robert Chase, Sylvan; W. D. Smith, Dexter; Rev. J. D. Shults, Augusta; A. B. Smith, York; W. H. Dell, Saline; W. L. Watkins, Manchester; C. M. Fellows, Sharon; A. Glover, Lodi; R. Parsons, Ypsilanti town, and E. S. Shaw, Ypsilanti.

The following are alternate delegates: Mrs. Stannard, Webster; Alvin Wilsey, Ann Arbor; W. B. Thompson, Salem; J. B. Laraway, Northfield; Mrs. Lester Palmer, Dexter; N. W. Cheever, Ann Arbor; J. W. Wing, Scio; J. C. Herbert, Ann Arbor; R. P. Oopeland, Dexter; J. B. Lord, Augusta; W. H. Hathaway, York; Rev. Mr. Yocum, Saline; George Raymond, Sharon; Alfred Miller, Lodi; David Wiley, Pittsfield; Frank Stratton, Ypsilanti town; G. L. Foote, Ypsilanti; M. S. Every, Bridgewater.

It was decided that the next Prohibition county convention be held in Ypsilanti, and that it answer for putting a county ticket in the field and for sending delegates to the second state convention.

B. J. Conrad was re-elected chairman of the county committee, and E. S. Shaw, of Ypsilanti, was made secretary. Alvin Wilsey, of Ann Arbor, was made treasurer.

B. J. Conrad wanted to know who foots the bills, and it transpired that he had been in the habit of performing that useful and important function. The Prohibition party, he said, always pays its bills. He had started in a year before with $4.26; had received about $36 during the year, and now the party owed him $12.81 which, he intimated, they might pay or not; he was not particular.

The convention raised by subscription nearly $350, and adopted the state scheme whereby 10 per cent, of it goes to the national committee, 30 per cent, to the state committee, and 60 per cent, remains for the county campaign. Of this sum, E. S. Shaw personally pledged $156, Ypsilanti having cast 156 Prohibition votes. B. J. Conrad became responsible for $100 of the whole subscription, providing he can't raise it among Ann Arbor Prohibitionists.

This financial scheme and the raising of money was forced upon the convention by Rev. E. B. Sutton, of Adrian. He came expecting to get at least $800 pledged, but got barely $350. There is considerable feeling against the reverend gentleman among Washtenaw Prohibitionists, and one of them intimates that the small attendance on the convention was because Mr. Sutton sent word throughout the county that he would be here. A prominent Prohibitionist declares that Mr. Sutton was not invited to the convention and isn't wanted in the county any more.

In the evening the rink was packed with people. The Silver Lake quartette gave a concert, and Messrs. Hopkins and Mead,—Mr. Mead is the basso of the quartette,—spoke at some length.

Tongg Lawyer's Successful Suit.

Miss Mary H. Scott, one of the most highly respected and admired of the young women of Ann Arbor, was married last evening, at the residence of her father, J. Austin Scott, to Charles L. Carter, of Toledo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Ryder, Miss Emily R. Stebbins acting as bridesmaid. It was a very unostentatious but an unusually happy event. Besides the bride's relatives in Ann Arbor, her brother from Rutger's college, Brunswick, N. J., Dr. Austin Scott, was present. Mr. Carter is the son of the Hawaiian minister at Washington, H. A. P. Carter, who was present with his wife and three daughters. An aunt of the happy young man, Mrs. Laura F. Dickson, of Honolulu, was also present. The bridegroom graduated in the law department last year and his shingle is now hung out in Toledo, where the young couple will take up their residence.

High School Notes.

Subjects for this terms' essays will probably be posted this week.—All tuition is due ten days after the opening of school, and those who pay tuition are asked to see to the matter this week.—The walls in the halls were painted during vacation, but some of the wee small boys are rapidly putting them in the same condition they were before they received the coat of paint.—There was a meeting of the boys held yesterday, for the purpose of selecting a base ball nine, composed of members of the school. The boys will try this year to recover the honor which they lost with the Detroit high school nine last spring.—The subject for Christian association tomorrow afternoon, is "The Heavenly Home."—Mr. Menoda, who was sick during the latter part of last term, is in school again.

THE OLD COUNCIL.

Mayor Smith gets his Salary—The City hasn't Mined Money—$800 for a Lot—Dr. Breakey's Wise Suggestions.

The old common council held its last meeting last Thursday evening, at which there was a full attendance, and the incoming city officers and aldermen were on hand to get their "hand in."

The most important thing of the evening was Health Officer Breakey's annual report, which was as follows:

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR.

"The health officer respectfully reports that the general health of the city for the past year has been good. In the early part of the year there was a great prevalence of measles, and through the fall and winter diphtheria has prevailed to a very serious and fatal extent.

"Accompanying this is the mortality report for the year ending March 31, 1888. The causes of death cannot be given with technical accuracy, as reports of deaths are not made to the health officer either by physicians or householders except in special cases. Neither can I give classification by sexes, as the report of one of the undertakers does not give full Christian names. In my opinion the list contains the names of some who were not residents of the city.

"With the growth of the city the need of sanitary supervision increases. We cannot depend too far on our natural advantages of gravelly sub strata, good air and general salubrity, to maintain the high character of our city as a healthful place in which to live.

"The duties of a health officer are varied, difficult, often perplexing, and, at least under the present order of things, unsatisfactorily fulfilled. The law gives boards of health great power nominally, and the public seem to expect that the power can be executed without other support, forgetting that these, like all laws, can only be enforced where there is a public sentiment demanding it, and where the city, in its corporate capacity, sets the example to the citizen.

"There is sufficient work in any city of 10,000 inhabitants to occupy a good health officer a large portion of his time in looking after sanitary conditions, and in my opinion, no money would be more wisely expended than in paying a good salary to a competent man who would undertake the work and devote his whole time to it.

"Hundreds of complaints of various kinds have been made to the health officer and board, most of them of nuisances or offenses needing attention, the greater number, by far, of privy vaults and cesspools. These also constitute the greatest danger to public health, and occasion the greatest need for sewers.

"I would recommend to the successors of this board that a house-to-house inspection of the whole city be made as was done about four years ago, and report on accompanying blanks. Many nuisances and offenses, and causes of sickness not otherwise known (and often not complained of by neighbors unwilling to risk offense) are thus discovered and removed.

"The question of sewers is too large to discuss in detail in a report of this kind, and I will only say here that I know no more important or worthy work to engage the attention of those who legislate for us, nor none which may benefit the city more than a good system of sewers.

"But in my opinion, we can better wait till we can secure a good system than to have a poor system at once. And I would suggest that the board recommend to the council the employment of a competent engineer to examine and report upon plans, cost, etc., and that information be procured as to sewer systems in different cities of similar size and situation.

"The question of draining into the river (in the opinion of a well qualified legal adviser) is not likely to meet objections as it might have done before so many paper and pulp mills and the University sewer drained into the river. The current of water would soon oxidize a large amount of sewerage.

"Respectfully submitted, W. F. BREAKET, Health Officer." Mortality Report for the city of Ann Arbor from April, 1887, to April, 1888, made from reports furnished by undertakers.

Table with 2 columns: Cause of Death, Number of Deaths. Includes Accident, Apoplexy, Cancer, Child Birth, Cholera Infantum, Consumption, Convulsions, Croup, Diphtheria, Disease of Kidneys, Drowned (accidental), Dropsy, Heart Disease, Infant of Bowels, Inflammation of Brain, Malarial Fever, Old Age, Paralysis, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, Still Born, Tonsillitis, Typhoid Fever, Unknown, Whooping Cough.

Sixty of these deaths were of persons under 15 years of age, and the average age of the 156 was 29.

GO TO THE COURTS, MR. NEIDHAMMER!

The general fund committee reported as follows relative to the claim of Moses Neidhammer for $500:

1. No proof has been presented that the accident occurred by reason of a defect in sidewalk.

2. The injuries received were slight.

3. We believe that such cases can be better adjusted in the courts where witness can be properly examined and damages awarded by a jury. If the council once begins the custom of paying claims of this character, we may be confident that the number presented will be constantly increased.

For these reasons we recommend that the claim be not allowed.

It was signed by G. F. Allmendinger, Kelson Sutherland, and Amariah Hammond.

THE LABORER IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE.

Alderman Keams introduced a resolution, which passed, authorizing the recorder to procure a gold dollar, have it suitably inscribed, and pay it over to Mayor W. B. Smith as his salary for the past year. Resolutions thanking the mayor and recorder were adopted.

WILL PAT $800 FOR IT.

City attorney Joslyn reported relative to the church-st opening that lot 8 of block 1 of R. I. Smith's second addition could be bought for $800 of Mr. Sheeley, and the purchase was authorized.

The city treasurer also presented his March report, and a letter from Chas. B. Hiscock, cashier of the Ann Arbor Savings bank, stating that Mr. Moore had $7,376.00 of city money on deposit.

THE NEW COMMON COUNCIL.

What Is It? Republican or Democratic?—Mr. Blypley, Marshal—Aid. Ware and Hen on the Police Committee.

At the meeting of the new common council, Monday evening, there was a full attendance, with the new mayor and recorder in their places.

On the first informal ballot for marshal, Mr. Siple received 9 votes and A. H. Fillmore 5, and on the formal ballot, Mr. Siple had 8 and Mr. Fillmore 6. Mr. Siple was thus continued as marshal.

On the informal ballot for city treasurer, John Moore received 7; Z. Roath, 4; Q. H. Pond, 3. The first formal ballot stood: John Moore, 6; G. H. Pond, 4; C. Roath, 4. The extra ballot given to Mr. Pond was next given to Mr. Moore. On the next ballot Mr. Moore received 8, sufficient to elect him; Mr. Pond, 4; Mr. Roath 2.

For city attorney, Zina P. King was elected on the first ballot. Judge Joslyn had 2 votes; J. F. Lawrence 2; J. V. Sheehan, 2.

lay local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way of curing Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any Case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Shall Women Be Allowed to Vote? The question of female suffrage has agitated the tongues and pens of reformers for many years, and good arguments have been adduced for and against it. Many of the softer sex could vote intelligently, and many would vote as their husbands did, and give no thought to the merits of a political issue. They would all vote for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for they know it is a boon to their sex. It is unequalled for the cure of leucorrhoea, abnormal discharges, morning sickness, and the countless ills to which women are subject. It is the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. IN HIS annual report, which is printed in full in another column, Dr. Breakey says that "through the fall and winter diphtheria has prevailed to a very serious extent." Of the 154 deaths during the year, reported by the undertakers, 16 were from diphtheria. That is too large a number for Ann Arbor to have. Under the present state of sanitary knowledge, Ann Arbor ought to have a health service which would make such a showing impossible. Of course, diphtheria is apt to be imported at anytime and some child die with it before any measures can be taken; but any such outbreak should be stamped out immediately and further spread from that source be made impossible.

THE COMPOSITE "CO-ED"

There appeared in Sunday's Chicago Tribune a picture taken from Randall's composite photograph of the girls in class '88, of U. of M., with an article, probably from Ann Arbor, which draws an exceedingly doleful account of the terrible effect of the course of study here upon the health of the young women who attend the University. The author professes to see his evidence in the picture itself.

The article was evidently written by one who is opposed to co-education, and in fact to all higher education of women. The animus of the article crops out plainly. The picture he paints with the composite for an outline is a most dismal one, but like the latter it wants the merit of being true to life. However, in these days of multitudinous and sensational scribbling fidelity to truth appears to be only a very small part of the duties of a correspondent.

As every one knows, successful composites are very difficult to make, and it is no discredit to a skillful photographer if he does not always succeed. This one can not be said to fairly represent the class, or any member of it, as may be seen by a glance at the plump, merry faces in the large group-pictures of the class, which is admirable for its fidelity; or, what is pleasanter, by an inspection of the girls themselves, who are neither bluestockings nor invalids, and who will compare favorably in point of good looks and good health with any 25 non-collegiate girls of the same age and station in life, even if they can not walk five miles as easily as their masculine classmates or as the callow youth who penned the jeremiad.

We believe it is usually conceded that American women take less physical exercise and are more inclined to an indoor life than their English or Continental sisters, but that university girls are particularly glaring instances of this is by no means established. The writer, however, does not even take the trouble to be consistent, for in one breath we are told that these girls enter fresh and healthy, and presto! behold the dreadful result: "the days come and go, one term fades into another, and the rosy cheeked maid of the freshman class becomes the classic, severe, oldened woman of the upper classes." In another we are told that these 25 are the cream of the lot; "everywhere you turn you see pallid faces, everywhere haggard looks, everywhere enervated constitutions." Greater bosh than this could scarcely be written, and it is worth noticing at all only because its publication in the Chicago Tribune lends to it a fictitious importance.

IT IS WELL to call attention to one feature of the liquor law which, if rigidly enforced, will worry the saloon business somewhat. The saloon-keeper must, on or before May 1 of each year, give a bond in the sum of not less than three thousand nor more than six thousand dollars. There must be two sureties to each bond, and each surety must be a resident of the township, village or city in which the saloon is. No liquor dealer can be a surety on a liquor bond. No man can be on more than one liquor bond. He cannot be an elected or appointed officer, and he must swear that he is worth in real estate, "situated within the county in which such business is proposed to be carried on, a sum equal to the amount of the bond over and above all indebtedness and exemptions from sale on executions." Now, supposing we are to have 35 saloons in Ann Arbor after May X, then there must be 70 citizens of Ann Arbor who are not liquor dealers nor public officers, but who each own from $3,000 to $6,000 worth of real estate in Washtenaw county, who are willing to go on saloon-keepers' bonds. Can 70 such men be found in Ann Arbor? Can 10 such men be found?

A BILL has been introduced into congress declaring "all foreign persons who have not been naturalized incapable of taking the title to lands anywhere within the United States, except a lease-hold for not exceeding five years." This is to prevent foreigners owning land in America. The report of the committee which introduced the bill declares that probably 21,000,000 acres of land in the United States are owned by European noblemen, principally Englishmen. Scully, the Irishman in London, owns 80,000 acres of the richest land in Illinois, and he rents it out for a great revenue. It may be all right to have such a law, but why prohibit Englishmen owning Michigan land, for instance, when we do not prohibit New York men? Economically what particular difference would it make to Washtenaw county whether the rent paid here for land goes to New York city landlords, or to English landlords? It would make New York city richer, or a few men in that city richer, but it would be just as hard for Washtenaw county in either case.

THE MORNING TRIBUNE, of Lansing, whose birth we mentioned last week, bids fair to stay in the field, and if it does, it will become the recognized mouth-piece of organized labor in Michigan. It is edited by printers, and is managed by a typographical union. It has a pleasing appearance, and is edited with ability. Its influence, then, may be wide and powerful. If anyone should ask, What does the workingman want? this paper should be ready to answer. People will largely judge the labor movement by the utterances of this paper; hence, it is important that it should be dignified and exact. It should, if possible, have clear and exact ideas on the great questions affecting labor. Does a high tariff benefit or injure a workingman? What shall be done with the telegraph, the railroads, trusts, etc.? What good would Henry George's scheme of taxing land values and exempting personal property from taxation, do? What about socialism? What do the workingmen want anyway? These questions the organ of workingmen must answer. And it must not only state the discontent of workingmen, but it must present some remedy somewhat in shape for the legislature to act upon. The people are becoming tired of vague complaint: it is clearly understood by this time that something is wrong. The question is, What will remedy the wrong? As soon as the workingmen of Michigan, or any respectable number of them, agree upon some measure as a remedy, there will be no difficulty in getting the legislature to try it.

THE NEW liquor law evidently will greatly decrease the number of saloons. We believe in taking that much till something better is possible; for it is partial prohibition. If the law should be literally complied with, it would crush out two-thirds of the saloons. A deputy collector of internal revenue in Detroit says that 15 per cent. of the saloon-keepers in his jurisdiction have declared their intention to go out of business before May 1. One saloon-keeper said to this collector: "I am trying to sell out my place. This taking two months in a year out of a man's business is ruinous. Counting 52 Sundays and the holidays, in which the most bar business used to be done, the law cuts down a man's business to 10 months in the year, and puts an enormous tax on top of that." Of course even if two-thirds of the saloons should be forced to stop, it would be all the better for the remaining one-third; yet all but the most radical third party prohibitionists will admit the usefulness of crushing out even a few of the saloons effectually so long as nothing better is immediately attainable. This policy of taxing and restricting the saloon can be carried to practical prohibition. If it once becomes settled that a severe tax law can be enforced rigidly, then a severer tax law will be possible, and absolute prohibition will have fewer opponents.

IN THE health officer's annual report to the board of health and common council, Dr. Breakey says: "No money would be more wisely expended than in paying a good salary to a competent man [health officer] who would undertake the work and devote his whole time to it." Unless this be done Ann Arbor will never have a health service such as a civilized community ought to have. Men cannot safely live in cities without having the best organized effort for guarding their lives from contagious diseases. Somebody asks, What is there for a health officer to do that should take all his time? Well, he must think as well as act for the community. Civilized man will not think very much in regard to health matters. He will go on polluting the soil on which he lives until the deadly typhoid fever rages in violence; and he will let diphtheria and scarlet fever gain a firm foot-hold in the community, all of which is unnecessary. The health officer must think for him and make him do better; and a man who does that can not hope to keep a practice in medicine, nor would he have time to practice. The health officer should keep up in sanitary knowledge, and that takes time. He should attend the great sanitary conferences, in order to learn all he can.

Saline Sheep-Shearing Festival.
The sheep-shearing festival in Saline on Tuesday had a remarkable exhibit. It is declared by many that it had the finest lot of sheep ever brought together in Michigan, as it included only those that had taken first premiums at many exhibitions. It is impossible to pick out those deserving the most praise, so THE REGISTER will next week print a complete record of the shearing. There were 33 sheep and 13 owners. The result is an interesting one worth study by the farmers.

Pittsfield.
John Cook and Daniel Sutherland have recently completed convenient homes to be occupied by tenants who will work on their respective farms. The sick at John Sperry's are recovering, and Henry De Pue is again able to be about.—Prof. Steere has built a fine tenant house which will be occupied by his brother in superintending the culture of 200 acres of onions the ensuing season.—Daniel Brownell has commenced the erection of a fine two-story addition to his residence. Mrs. Brownell returned last week from Iowa where she has been spending the winter with her daughter.

John Claffin and Master Luther James recently bought new bicycles. Master "Tommy" James, also, bought one about a month ago. Rev. Claffin is a very fine rider, but he sometimes takes a header especially if there are unseen holes in the street.—Leander Allen is building an addition to his home.—Chas. Stannard has rented the house recently occupied by Mr. Cheney.—H. A. Williams has taken the agency for the "Equitable Life Insurance Co." of Cincinnati, O.

Ammonia in Baking: Powders.
From the Scientific American.
Among the recent discoveries in science and chemistry, none is more important than the uses to which common ammonia can be properly put as a leavening agent, and which indicate that this familiar salt is hereafter to perform an active part in the preparation of our daily food.

The carbonate of ammonia is an exceedingly volatile substance. Place a small portion of it upon a knife and hold over a flame, and it will almost immediately be entirely developed into gas and pass off into the air. The gas thus formed is a simple composition of nitrogen and hydrogen. No residue is left from the ammonia. This gives it its superiority as a leavening power over soda and cream of tartar used alone, and has induced its use as a supplement to these articles. A small quantity of ammonia in the dough is effective in producing bread that will be lighter, sweeter and more wholesome than that risen by any other leavening agent. When it is acted upon by the heat of baking, the leavening gas that raises the dough is liberated. In this act it uses itself up, as it were, the ammonia is entirely diffused, leaving no trace or residuum whatever. The light, fluffy, flaky appearance, so desirable in biscuits, etc., and so sought after by professional cooks, is said to be imparted to them only by the use of this agent.

The bakers and baking powder manufacturers producing the finest goods have been quick to avail themselves of this useful discovery, and the handsomest and best bread and cake are now largely risen by the aid of ammonia combined, of course, with other leavening material.

Ammonia is one of the best known products of the laboratory. If, as seems to be justly claimed for it, the application of its properties to the purposes of cooking, results in giving us lighter and more wholesome bread, biscuit and cake, it will prove a boon to dyspeptic humanity, and will speedily force itself into general use in the new field to which science has assigned it.

Agricultural vs. Horticultural.

After 15 years of united effort, the State agricultural and the State horticultural societies are no longer in the utmost harmony. The horticultural society refuses to exhibit any more with its sister society. The break occurred two or three months ago. It has led to a short and sharp controversy in The Grange Visitor between a member of the Agricultural society and Evert H. Scott, of Ann Arbor, who is an officer in the Horticultural society. Mr. Scott's letter occurs in the Visitor of April 1. The Horticultural society has received annually $1,200 for premiums heretofore, but at the last meeting the Agricultural society voted to reduce it to $800. The Horticultural society received $1,400 for expenses from the Agricultural society which Mr. Scott's opponent intimates was used for purposes foreign to the exhibit, such as secretary's salary, etc. Mr. Scott replies that their secretary's salary was in large part paid from another fund, but the amount voted for expenses had been used not only in work at the exhibit on the State fair grounds, but in instructions mainly by such men as our president and secretary throughout the state in educating the fruit-growers up to the correct standard of fruits and how to produce them. The result has been highly satisfactory, and the State horticultural society exhibits of fruits have been remarkably free from blemishes, and experts from other states concede the superiority of our exhibits."

Birkett.
Farmers ploughing.—Wheat proves to be badly killed in exposed spots.—The heirs of Geo. Howard went to Ann Arbor, Monday, and appearing before Judge Harriman, some objection was made to the appointment of Geo. Page, of Dexter, as administrator, and Geo. Howard, jr., of Livingston county was appointed in his stead.—Thos. Birkett recently purchased of Wm. Cobb, five acres of land at the outlet of Portage lake, which gives him ownership of both banks.—There is talk of closing up the road to the "Peninsula bridge" in this township, and the building of a new bridge across the Huron where "Cobb's bridge" now stands. This will probably be done. John Dunlavy has rented his farm to James Leadrige.

Bridgewater.
Mrs. Milo Woodruff died, April 7, at her daughter's, Mrs. Charles Dickerson, who made a home for her parents since they became too feeble to care for themselves. Deceased was 87 years of age. Her husband died about one year ago. They were among the pioneers of Bridgewater, and members of the Conmiums, but it took the management out of their hands. It would amount simply to the Horticultural society doing the work and the Agricultural society getting the credit.

Our Dumb Animals.

To the Editor of THE REGISTER:
SIB:—Not long since there appeared in your columns several articles pleading the cause of our dumb animals, and of later date another on the same subject by Prof. Nichols. Why should a matter so deserving of notice be dropped? Is it not worthy the attention of our people? A visitor in our city recently remarked to me that many of the poor horses driven on our streets, and abused by their drivers, were a shameful disgrace to the entire place, and said that in a smaller place where he resided, if such animals were seen as he had noticed wh'ere here, their masters would be arrested at once. It was a surprising fact to him that a place which has a reputation for culture and refinement as has Ann Arbor should allow such a blot to exist in its midst. Let our citizens take some active part towards suppressing the wrong.

FUR OF THE ELEMENTS.

DELPHI, Ind., April 6.—A terrific wind and rain-storm passed over this place late Thursday afternoon. At Sleeth, five miles north, it partook of the nature of a cyclone. Several houses were blown down and a freight train on the Monon line was lifted from the track. No one was injured as far as reported.

SIoux CITY, Ia., April 6.—A tornado demolished several buildings in this city yesterday, and another cloud an hour later tore up the Illinois Central track at Marcus, fifty miles distant.

FARIBAULT, Minn., April 6.—Damage estimated at $100,000 was done here by Wednesday's furious gale which lasted fifteen minutes. It was not a cyclone, but just a highly-developed breeze. Loss from a similar cause was suffered at various other points in Minnesota.

WAVERLY, Ia., April 7.—A flood in the Cedar river yesterday submerged one-half of this city, causing great damage.

ROCK FALLS, Ia., April 7.—The banks of the river at this place overflowed on the 6th, and carried away a mill-dam, a barn and three houses.

Many persons have been compelled to flee from their homes for safety.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 9.—A tornado in Union and Livingston counties Saturday wrecked many buildings, swept away large forests and killed one man.

RUSHFORD, Minn., April 10.—The flood in the Root river is the highest for twelve years. The bridge at Peterson is gone, and the one over the canal at Sprague's mill. The canal bank is damaged in six places and the railroad damaged all along the river. The water is now falling very slowly.

NASHVILLE, Ill., April 11.—A cyclone passed over the southwestern part of this county Monday night, demolishing houses, barns and fences. No loss of life is reported. Particulars are very meager, as there is no telegraphic communication with that section.

ROCHESTER, Minn., April 11.—The streams hereabouts have carried away a number of small bridges, cutting off access to town in one or two directions. In the city the river is cutting a new channel.

OSHIOSH, Wis., April 11.—There is great danger from the floods. Both dams and the bridges at Waukau have been carried away, and large tracts, both above and below that place, are flooded. The Fox river has been steady since Saturday.

SOME DOCTORS

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, true cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 3, 1887. In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort. The sufferer was afflicted from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the best results claimed for it by the London Dispensary.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 3, 1888. Athlophoros has completely cured me of nervous headache, and I feel thankful for it. Mrs. LOUISE THEBERT.

THE CITY.

City Attorney King, if you please! Fred. Sipley will wear the star another year. Common council proceedings on second page. City Recorder Bach has his office over Caspar Rinsley's store. Christian Schneider; drunk; 19 days in county jail; Justice Pond; April 5. Died, April 6, 1888, Harriet M. Nye, aged 70 years, 2 months, 16 days. Andrew Y. DeBolt, of the Third ward, died April 9, aged 70 years, of pleuropneumonia. Ann Arbor township voted, April 2, 140 to 17, to build a bridge over the Huron at Geddes. The Ann Arbor agricultural works have been employing over 50 men all winter, and are doing a good business. Rev. Richard Steele is now filling the pulpit as a supply at the Jefferson-ave. Presbyterian church in Detroit. Rev. Samuel Barp preached in St. John's church in Detroit Sunday, and Dean Grey, of Cambridge, occupied his pulpit here. Samuel Morris, a former barber of Ann Arbor, died in Detroit Sunday, and was brought to Ann Arbor for burial Monday. Luick Bros. are building a store-house, 18x32 feet and two stories high, for their planing-mill goods, principally doors and sashes. Mrs. Annie Feldkamp, of Freedom, died Monday morning, aged 92 years. She was the mother of Ex-supervisor Feldkamp.

A son, 17 years old, of George Efner, of N. 5th-st., died of diphtheria, last evening, and was promptly buried in a quiet way. Geo. H. Pond says that he was not a candidate for the office of city treasurer, and told his friends so; yet four persisted in voting for him. THE RKOISTER next week will print the first part of a story by that great author, Robert Louis Stevenson. It is entitled "Will o' the Mill." E. J. Johnson, of the First ward, died April 6, aged 61, of paralysis. The funeral occurred on Sunday under the auspices of the Knights Templars. Joseph Armbruster, a resident of Scio, near Ann Arbor, was in Ann Arbor last Saturday for the first time in 10 years. He has reached the age of 80. Arbor day is April 20, Governor Luce says, and he wants the trees planted on that day to be in "memory of and as monuments to the brave defenders of our nation." The remains of Dr. Terhune, buried in Harbor Springs, were removed to Ann Arbor and interred in Forest Hill cemetery April 7. He was formerly a resident of this city. The high school junior class held a meeting last Friday, at which they passed resolutions concerning the death of Nellie A. Monroe, who was a very popular member of the class. Geo. W. Healy was arrested last week on the charge of violating the city ordinance concerning dumping the contents of privy-vaults within the city limits, and his trial will occur tomorrow. On Monday Jacob Weidlich's examination was postponed another two weeks, as the man he stabbed is not yet able to appear as a witness. Meanwhile young Weidlich languishes in the county jail. S. L. Liepmannsohn, father of S. Liepmannsohn, foreman of THE REGISTER bindery, died at his home in Liepstadt, Germany, March 25, at the age of 90. He was at the battle of Waterloo when a boy, and was the author of many books of history and biography. Washtenaw people own 443 mortgages on Wayne county land; 265 on Ogemaw county land; and 3 in St. Joseph. Wayne county people own 178 mortgages on Washtenaw land; Lenawee, 114; Jackson, 65; Monroe, 40; Livingston, 41; Shiawassee, 30; Oakland, 20. In March, THE REGISTER chronicled the death of Merritt Perry, who lived in Lodi township 54 years? Last Thursday, Grant Perry, aged 83, died at his home in Lodi. He was another of the early pioneers. On the day after his death, a daughter died in Perry, Shiawassee county. Miss Effie Southworth, of the class of '85, holds an excellent position in the Agricultural department at Washington. The position was obtained by competitive examination in which she passed high. She is the first lady commissioned by the government to do independent work. Andrew J. Warren, Chas. Burkhardt, and Conrad Jedele, of the Saline manufacturing company, have filed a petition in the circuit court that its business may be investigated and stopped. The liabilities are $2,327, and good book accounts, $760.25; notes, $394.20, not very good. John Heinzmann and Jacob Laubengayer have purchased land on W. Washington-st, west of the organ works, and will soon erect an elevator on it having a capacity of 10 to 15 thousand bushels. They expect that the plans will be done by Saturday, when the work will be pushed. Monday a suit was brought in the circuit court which reads: Thos. J. Keogh in trust for Gottlob Luick, Emanuel Luick, James Toibert, Wm. Herz, Christian Helber, Ruben Stollsteimer, Chas. Grossman, Christian Schlenker and Louis Rohde, complainant, vs. Jacob Eberwein, Anna Maria Buechler and Harriet G. Barnett, defendants. Harmony reigns between the Democratic and Republican parties in the Ann Arbor common council. The sight of a Democratic mayor appointing a police committee entirely of Republicans, is sufficient to bring tears to the eyes of an enthusiastic lover of Peace. And a Republican council re-electing a Democrat for city marshal is a still more affecting spectacle. A "drummer," stopping in Ann Arbor over Sunday, wrote to THE REGISTER very vigorously expressing his indignation at a fact which came to his attention. On Sunday, at 10 a. m., he saw a sick horse lying in the ditch on N. University-ave., which, he was informed, had been there since 6 p. m. of the previous day without care of any kind. The animal was suffering all the time. Will S. Loomis, of San Jacinto, Cal., writes that the communication printed in THE REGISTER not long ago over his name was written by Wm. M. Parker as a joke. Parker is a former resident of Ann Arbor also. THE REGISTER would have him arrested but for the fact that the letter, full of nonsense as it was, was breezy and good-natured, and was much enjoyed by many Ann Arbor people. On Monday there was another change in furniture circles in Ann Arbor. W. G. Henne became a partner of John Koch at the old Keck stand, and that fine store will be managed by Koch & Henne. Mr. Henne carried on an undertaking business there when Richmond & Treadwell owned the store. The new firm will keep that business in connection with their furniture business, Mr. Henne paying special attention to it. Clara Louisa Kellogg has been known to alight her work when she stood before a small audience, but on Monday evening in Ann Arbor she was evidently bent on pleasing and was very gracious. The rain could be heard distinctly seemingly pleading her to forgive Ann Arbor people for not sending a larger audience. It was a program of great excellence, made usually long by the frequent recalls. Miss Kellogg responded to the first encore by singing "Comin' thro' the Rye." William H. Lee, the basso, was the favorite after the prima donna; but the tenor, Carlo Spigaroli, and Miss Carrie Morse, could not complain at their reception.

F. B. Braun, in speaking to THE REGISTER of the $5,000 which the county agricultural society may receive in the proposed trade with Isarael Hall, said that there should be $2,000 more raised by subscription or otherwise to make the society whole. "It will," he said, "cost the society at least $2,000 to move the buildings, fences, and to build a track. If we have a good year, fair weather and hard work done for nothing, we can clear $1,000 where we are." The sixth Chamber concert last Friday evening, given up to American authors, was one of great merit. The Philharmonic club, of Detroit, of course pleased. Miss Andufi, the soprano from Detroit who assisted the club, was well received. Two of her selections were by R. G. Cole, the leader of the University glee club. The next concert will be held May 3 in University hall, when the club will be assisted by Miss Mary Shatter, of San Francisco, and Miss Ida Belle Winchell and Miss Julia L. Caruthers, of Ann Arbor. The county treasurer may soon have to pay over $4,500 which were deposited in his office in 1879. It belonged to Thomas Harvey, an Englishman who died in Manchester township in 1873. There were no known heirs at the time, but some persons claiming to be heirs of Harvey, and who live in the island of Thanet at the mouth of the Thames, will lay claim to the money and endeavor to prove their right to it. This is reversing the usual order. Americans usually claiming English estates. Just before the common council adjourned, Monday evening, Mayor Beakes talked about five minutes. He spoke particularly of the need of economy. The balance on hand in the treasury is much smaller than in many years at this time. The amount to be realized from the liquor tax will be smaller than formerly. According to the charter, the amount of money that can be raised by the regular taxation is limited, and as the expenses for the year ending February, 1888, were $38,000, it can readily be seen that the council must go slowly in expeditures. Another meeting of the common council will be held probably before May 1, to approve the liquor bonds. As the city is hard up for money, the tendency will be to let the saloon-keepers through on the minimum amount of $3,000; but it will be harder for them to get bondsmen this time if the council holds strictly to the law. There must be two men to each bond who live in Ann Arbor, who own $3,000 worth of real estate in the county, who are not themselves saloon-keepers, who are not on other saloon-keepers' bonds, and who are not public officers. Barbara Fassett, widow of the late Rev. A. Fassett, of Jackson, died April 5 at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John Freeman, after suffering 11 years from paralysis. She was 81 years old. She was buried from the A. M. E. church Sunday, April 8, Rev. Pope, officiating. She had been a member of that church 60 years. Floral tributes were received from Mrs. Prof. Morris, J. Toms, Misses Logan and Noll, Mrs. S. Davis and Mrs. Jewett. Six children survive, among whom are Mrs. H. Grayson, of Detroit, and Mrs. John Freeman, of Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman wish to express the thanks to their friends for their kindness showed them during their bereavement. The annual meeting of the Ladies' Library association was held in the Library last Monday. The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. M. Wheeler; vice president, Mrs. A. B. Palmer; treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Jaycox; secretary, Mrs. W. W. Beman; members of the board, Mesdames Geo. Morris, Elisha Jones, Philip Bach, A. B. Prescott, J. M. Wheeler, Miss Addie Kninght. The treasurer's report shows: Total receipts during the year, $897.91; total expenses, $865.13; cash in treasury, $32.78. The librarian's report: Number of books in library, 3056; number of books circulated during the year, 2262; persons drawing books, 127; new members, 35; unbound books, 48; periodical bound, 16; books purchased, 48; books presented, 13. Thanks are due to the following persons for books presented: Mesdames McEntyre, Prescott, Sewall, Harris, Rev. Mr. Sunderland, and Mr. Kittredge. The well-known actors, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Knight, will appear at the opera house tonight in "Over the Garden Wall." Mr. Knight and his wife are well known. The musical comedy which they will present here is said to be much funnier than "A Bunch of Keys" or "Skipped by the Light of the Moon." The music is very fine, and the whole comedy has been changed and much improved. Mr. Knight is Julius Snitz, the politician and husband, and Mrs. Knight is Nellie Wrangle. For the benefit of those who have not seen the play, it may be well to say here briefly that the trouble of the play is all caused by Snitz, jr., and Rosa, who are secretly married, trying to keep "that baby" out of the way of the uncle of the former, the result being that Mrs. Betsy Snitz, wife of J. Julius Snitz, discovers the child and suspects her husband. Hence the most ludicrous complications ever seen or imagined by mortal, though of course all is explained in the last act.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Thomas Madill, of Detroit, visited Oscar Sorg, Tuesday. Martin Clark is at work on the new county directory. Mr. Keyes, of Lansing, spent Sunday with friends in the city. Mrs. John O. Callahan, of Detroit, is visiting Mrs. Lizzie Bowditch. John Koch went to Grand Rapids yesterday to purchase furniture. O. E. Jones, of Milan, was in the city last week, visiting his family. Miss Anna Hadley has returned from her two weeks' visit in Toledo. Phil. Stimson and wife, of East Saginaw, are visiting J. D. Stimson in this city. Rev. John Dieterle, of Wooster, O., is visiting his parents and brothers in Ann Arbor. Daniel Arnold, of Moscow, Mich., spent the early part of this week with G. W. Cropsy. W. H. Martin, of Cheboygan, visited his uncle, O. M. Martin, in Ann Arbor, over Sunday.

George Spathelf, of the Fifth ward, went to visit Marshall, last Saturday, and returned Monday. W. S. Hill, a young and promising attorney of Marquette, is visiting his parents in the city. Miss Lotta Henion has returned from Toledo, where she has been visiting her cousin, Josie Henion. Fred. O. Nye, of Holland, a former Ann Arbor boy, was in town Monday to attend his mother's funeral. Emil Baur is exceedingly interested in forestry. He is trying to interest our congressmen in the subject. Mrs. Willis J. Abbott, of Kansas City, Mo., has been visiting her father, Christian Mack, and family, for a few days past. Mrs. French, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Woodward, of Bowery-st., has returned to her home in Reedsville, 111. E. A. Phillips, formerly agent of the T. & A. A. railroad here, was in the city last Friday looking well and happy. He says Toledo with its 17 railroads, 80,000 people, natural gas, and numerous other good things is the place for him. A party was given at Beethoven hall, last evening, by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alaby. Dancing and other games were indulged in till daylight, and a grand supper was served at midnight, which was furnished by the ladies. About 35 couples were present. Last Monday evening, a party consisting of Porter Lathrop and wife, of Detroit, Will Hatch and wife, Gilbert Bliss and wife, John Thompson and wife, C. E. Mutschel and wife, Mrs. M. C. Peterson and Mrs. Howe, went to Walter Lathrop's in Pittsfield to surprise him on his birthday, and it was a success in every particular. Coming Events. Y., Theological seminary, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening. The Amphion club will give a concert in Ann Arbor about the middle of May, and in July will go to Bay View to spend a part of the Assembly season. They have been invited to go and give a concert. Mrs. Carhart has consented to give her lecture upon "Queen Louise," at the Ladies Library, Thursday afternoon, April 19, at 4 o'clock. The subject is delightfully treated by Mrs. Carhart. A social cup of tea will be served. On account of the course of lectures this week, the Unity club program was postponed till next Monday evening. On Monday, April 23, Unity club will give Mark Twain's "Meisterschaft System," under the direction of Misses Ashley and Wilson. There will be an adjourned annual meeting held on Friday, April 20, at 2 p. m., in the basement of the court house, of the Washtenaw county Agricultural and Horticultural society for the purpose of voting on Israel Hall's proposition for a trade. The board of managers will meet at 10 a. m. An entertainment by "Ye little old folks," about thirty five in number, will be given under the direction of Prof. Renwick, in the lecture room of the M. E. church Friday evening, April 20. The little ones will be costumed in "ye olden style," and will sing a very interesting program composed of old national songs and hymns which the old and young alike cannot fail to enjoy and appreciate. This beautiful little entertainment is given for the benefit of the Women's Home missionary society. The University Glee club will give an entertainment, April 20, in University hall, which Ann Arbor people should attend. The club has never been more successful than during its last trip. It has advertised the University far and wide. Its appearance in Chicago for the first time was a grand success. The column article from the Chicago Tribune concerning it which THE REGISTER printed two weeks ago demonstrates that. The boys will give a great entertainment. Clark, the great whistler, and Sam Hawley, will be with them. At the Baptist church, tomorrow night, there will be a chorus recital. The chorus will consist of about 40 voices, assisted by an orchestra of 10 pieces. The soloists will be Dr. J. S. Blanchard, tenor, Mrs. W. W. Beman, soprano, Miss Hadley, alto, A. D. Colgrove, basso, Mr. Colgrove is the director. There will be a social after the entertainment. The following is the program: 1. Overture—Aurora, Schlegel. 2. Chorus—Sailor's Glee, Emerson. 3. Song—Weary, Gabriel. 4. Quartette—Star of Descending night, Emerson. 5. Violin Solo—Kleine Fantasia, Strauss. 6. Female Chorus—Ave Maria, Mendelssohn. 7. Song—The Day is done, Balfe. 8. Chorus—Peasant Wedding March, Loderman. 9. Trio—Oh I Restless Sea, C. A. White. 10. Cornet Solo with orchestral accompaniment—The Palms, Fauré. 11. Chorus—Thou who art Faithful, Emerson. Clara Louisa Kellogg's Preference. Among the many testimonials given to different piano manufacturers, the following to Messrs. Haines Bros., N. Y., in regard to Haines' Upright, is very much prized by them, coming as it does from an artist of such ability: GENTLEMEN: Permit me to congratulate you on your great success in the front rank of American manufacturers, who beyond question make the best pianofortes in the world. I am especially pleased with your Upright. It is superior in quality of tone and evenness of action to any instrument of that style I have ever seen, and fully deserves all the praises that can be sounded in its favor. Sincerely yours, CLARA LOUISA KELLOGG. Free Examination of Eyes. Professor Phillips, connects with the Edmondson Optical Association, will remain with Wm. Arnold, the jeweler, all next week from Tuesday, April 16 to April 22.
