

THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER.

VOL. XV. NO. 46.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1889.

WHOLE NO. 777.

ON THE CAMPUS.

As usual the Palladium is promised about Feb. 15, which means about Apr. 1. The Gamma Phi Beta fraternity will hold its annual convention in this city in 1891.

The Glee Club is in need of another first tenor, Darrow having been obliged to resign.

Dr. Frieze has so far recovered his health as to be able to meet his classes again.

E. C. Rockwood, '89, was in the city last week and took in the sophomore-freshman rush.

The University hospital has been presented with an invalid chair by Prof. Hennequin.

Prof. Stanley will play the organ at the rendering of the "Messiah" at Oberlin, December 20.

Another relic of the last century has gone, the old fence having been removed from around the campus.

The Choral Union has received an invitation to take part in the Flower Riow to be given at Detroit next spring.

A paper on "Review of recent geological literature" will be read at the meeting of the Geological Society this evening.

Adelphi was favored by ex-lisite music last Saturday evening by Misses Davis and Cramer. Many citizens attended.

Dr. Martha J. Robinson, dent '88, of Cleveland has been unanimously chosen vice-president of the Ohio State Dental Association.

The editors of the Chronicle have had a ruction among themselves which led to the resignation of five of the six independent editors.

S. M. Sayford, sent out under the Amherst Visitation Movement, will begin a series of meetings at the University chapel next Sunday morning.

Hugh Johnson, D. D. of Toronto, Can., will deliver the annual address before the Students' Christian Association on Sunday, December 8th.

Prof. Hinsdale delivered his lecture on "Garfield" at Siline Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Young Peoples' Society of the Saline M. E. church.

Why doesn't Smeone get up an excursion to Chicago to see the Thanksgiving Day rugby game? A large crowd will go if cheap rates can be secured.

Engineering Society programme Saturday evening: "Railroad work at Leland," B. S. C. May; "Railroad construction," G. C. Tuthill; "Talk on Draw-bridges," J. K. Freitag.

The freshmen homaops have elected the following class officers: V. V. French, president; F. V. Martin, vice-president; Miss B. D. Seales, secretary; V. J. Peck, treasurer.

A re-organization of college athletics under one general association is what the Argonaut proposes. A good idea, and one that would prevent clashing that now often occurs.

Why is it that the baseball club never does any work in the fall and the rugby team is idle in the spring? Both teams should keep at practice all the time and better work would result.

Already 750 season tickets have been sold for the Students' Lecture Association course. This assures the financial success of the course and will probably leave a surplus for the "gym." fund.

The second entertainment of the S. C. A. course will be delivered to-morrow evening by Prof. L. M. Cumcock of the Northwestern University, who will give humorous, dramatic and heroic readings.

The senior lists have not called a meeting for the election of officers, but the wires are being laid just the same. Among those spoken of for candidates for president are W. J. Baldwin and J. R. Angell.

The first lecture in the S. L. A. course, given by Russel H. Conwell last Friday night, was attended by about a thousand people, all of them being well repaid for listening to his lecture, "Acres of Diamonds."

The teachers in the Albion schools made a visit to the University last Friday afternoon and thoroughly inspected the workings of the institutions. They had no suggestion to make which would improve the present state of affairs.

A large number are taking advantage of the Choral Union offer of associate membership and definite arrangements have been made to give four concerts. The first concert will be given by the Philharmonic club of Detroit.

Prof. Stanley has promised to give an organ recital sometime before the holiday vacation for the benefit of the building fund for Newberry Hall. The proceeds will be used to furnish a room in honor of the late Prof. Morris.—Chronicle.

The National Association of the college alumnae, which met at Buffalo last week, honored the U. of M. in the choice of the choice of its president, Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, and also one of its vice-presidents, Miss Lucy M. Salmon.—Argonaut.

J. S. Garil, who is now in China as the missionary of the S. C. A., is dependent upon the association for his support. The association will place a box in Secretary Wade's office, where those interested in this work are invited to leave contributions.

Editor Coe of the Ypsilanti Commercial furnishes the following: "The Ypsilantian has an account of the freshmen spread at the University signed "One of the Co-Kids." To prevent all misunderstanding we hasten to explain that this does not mean "One of the Coe-Bitors."

A room is to be fitted up at the Normal School for a gymnasium. If such a matter was proposed in any of the University buildings, a howl of indignation would go up all over the state and some nighty legislator would suggest furnishing "buck-Raws and saw horses for the students to exercise their muscle with."

Programme for Alpha Nu, Saturday evening: Sbyl, "Politics in College," J. C. Liwenhaupt; recitation, "E Jintre after Flodden," C. E. Williams; story, C. P. Hill; music, Miss Worrall; debate, resolved, that the federal government should have a monopoly of the liquor industry," aff., J. L. Bdsen; neg., L. R. Lyons; piano solo, Miss Worrall.

Rev. R. H. Conwell, president of Temple College, who lectured last evening, in speaking with a Chronicle editor about on-university said: "Undoubtedly the University of Michigan is the greatest university in America. I myself am a Yale man but Yale can not be compared with the U. of M." Right you are, we heartily agree with you.—Chronicle.

The members of the medical faculty who "le-signed" during the summer, have lost all interest in the department and not a word is heard from them about its failure. Perhaps its great success this year, even without their names among the members of the faculty, has at last convinced them that the success of the University does not depend on any one man.

The attendance at the University is steadily increasing, a comparative statement of the registration on Nov. 13, 1878 and 1889, being given below:

Literary	758	923
Medical	262	606
Pharmacy	3	82
Dental	106	104
Homeopathic	74	67
Totals	1103	1782

The sophomore-freshman football rush last Saturday morning was a hard contest, the fight continuing over two hours before the ball was finally forced over the line by the freshmen. The only serious accident happened to Arthur VanInwagen, '93, who was badly squeezed in the crowd. It was thought at first that his ribs were broken, but fortunately it was not so and he is now fast recovering.

The Literary Adelphi programme for next Saturday evening will be as follows: Music, guitar, "Arion March," Irmale Wilson; essay, "John P. Gough," Miss Anna Dosking; reading, Miss Morey; music, "Ed Bolero," A minor solo, Irmale C. Wilson; debate, resolved, "that capital punishment should be abolished," aff., Will St. John, (med. dept.) neg., C. T. King, (law dept.); general debate; music, "Buttle of Sebastopol," Irma C. Wilson. Citizens and students welcome.

The idea of military training at the University meets with great favor among the students. Already, 250 have signed the petition to the regents to take the matter in charge. When the regents meet again, a committee will present these petitions and ask them to apply to the Secretary of War for arms and equipments, and to have an officer detailed here. Four good companies could be formed and much benefit would result from the drill. Let us have military training here by all means. In a measure this would fill the place of the much needed gymnasium.

Although the weather was rainy and the grounds wet and bad for a football game, the University and Albion rugby teams met on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon and played a game in the presence of a fair sized audience. The players were as follows: Albion—Schultz, center; O'Connell, left end; 8. C. Ujiffio, left tackle; O. Warren, right tackle; Keellogg, right guard; E. B. Griffin, left guard; Wright, right center; Burnham, quarter back; Laudod and Newell, half backs; Sneli, full back; Universities—Boutwell, center rush; Scrait, left end; Sutton, left tackle; Glidden, right tackle; Malton, right guard; Trainor, left guard; F. Smith, right center; H. Smith, quarter back; McPherran and Abbot, half backs; Bill, full back. The ground and ball were slippery, preventing accurate passing of the ball, although Malley, Abbot, MacPherran and Strait each made some good plays, and Bill kicked three goals. Only two innings were played, the game standing 23 to 0 at the end of the first inning, and 33 to 4 at the end of the second, in favor of the University.

THE INTER-FRATERNITY BANQUET.

The long expected and much talked of banquet to the members of the Inter-Fraternity Base Ball League was held at Nickel's hall last Friday evening, and was a success beyond anticipation, 89 members being seated at the well-filled tables when the word was given to "play ball." Guy L. Kiefer acted as toastmaster and proposed the following toasts, the responses being given in the order that the clubs stood at the close of the league session: Delta Kappa Epsilon, "Thus far our fortune keeps an upward course, and we are graced with wreaths of victory," E. EL Smith; Beta Theta Pi, "I see, but cannot reach the high that lies forever in the light," R. Sumner Parmy; Phi Kappa Psi, "Who falls from all he knows of bliss, carea little into what abyss," J. B. Smalley; Zeta Psi, "I have fought the good fight," F. L. Saaith; Alpha Delta Phi, "I am not now what I have been," P. B. Bourland; Psi Upsilon, "What! What! What! Ill luck! Ill luck!" J. E. Ball; Delta Tau Delta, "He that is valiant and dares fight, though drubb'd can lose no honors by it," A. C. Lewerenz; Cm'isi, "Tae better part of valor is discretion; in which better part I have saved my life," J. W. Anderson; Sigma Phi, "The first and worst of all frauds, is to cheat one's self," L. E. Torrey. It was a late hour when the banquet closed, but all the participants voted that the time had been well spent.

This Should be Stopped.

EDITOR OP REGISTER:—I hope that you will allow me a little space in your paper, to call attention to a species of misdemeanor in many young men which is to be noticed very frequently upon our streets. I refer to the frequency with which young girls and respectable ladies are accosted and insulted in the evening by persons who are strangers to them. In my residence of scarcely more than a year in this city,

I have been surprised and shocked by the number of times that I have myself seen young men step up to ladies in the evening and press their company upon them, until it became necessary for the lady to use the most severe language to force the ruffian to depart. At one time a lady was forced to request me as I was passing, to protect her from the advances of a man who persisted in following her and speaking to her, whenever there appeared to be no other pedestrians near. Another lady told me that her little girl, fifteen years of age, had several times been frightened by young men who accosted her.

Among the number of young men who come to Ann Arbor yearly, there must be of course many in whom brutal instincts are predominant; but it is the duty of the authorities to see that these fellows are checked in their rude behavior or that some of their number are made examples of. If the authorities cannot or will not do their duty, it is the place of the citizens to see that their wives and daughters are protected from insult. Many of these ruffians dress well and affect the air of gentlemen, and it would be a wholesome lesson to some of them if they were taken in hand and fined judiciously by our police justices. Yours respectfully,

OBSERVER.

Is This County's Tarn.

The county is now on the anxious seat in regard to the property where the jail is located, and it is not improbable that within a few days it will be necessary to commence a suit to determine the rights of the parties, unless a compromise is effected.

When the present jail site was purchased, the committee having the matter in charge decided to purchase the lot on the corner of Second and Ann-sts, provided a right of way could be secured on both the south and east sides of the lot. This was amicably settled, as the committee supposed, and the ground purchased, the deed specifying that the county should be entitled to a right of way, 16 feet wide, from Second-st to the alley in the rear of the opera house, off of the lot south of the one purchased. When the barn was built it was placed on the south-east corner, the entrance being on the south side by means of the right of way.

Everything went along smoothly, the sheriff having undisputed use of this strip of land which is now in dispute, until Tuesday when he noticed a workman digging a trench, almost in front of the barn door. Upon inquiry he found that A. J. Sawyer, who is agent for the property, had ordered a cesspool dug in front of the barn door, and in such a way that it would prevent ingress or egress from the barn. He told the workman that he better not dig any more unless he wanted to get himself in trouble, and labor ceased until Wednesday, when it was commenced again and a large hole is the result.

Sheriff Dwyer informed Supervisor Case, one of the committee on public building, what was going on, and he hastened to the scene of action yesterday. It was decided to call the committee together and unless some settlement was reached to take the necessary legal steps to secure the right of way.

Mr. Stuyver states that the deed gives the county a right of way on the south line of the lot (half a dozen rods from where it would be of any use to the county,) while the supervisors are certain that the right of way is on the north line, where it would be of some use.

Visit of the Albion Teachers.

Last Friday morning as THE REGISTER representative boarded the Atlantic Express at Chelsea, he was surprised to find instead of the few sleepy passengers to be found on the train at that early hour, as lively and as jolly a crowd of young ladies as one ever meets anywhere. Upon inquiry it was learned that they were the teachers of the Albion public schools and were enroute for Ann Arbor to visit the schools here. They were nominally in charge of Mr. Darymple, the genial secretary of the Albion School Board, and his wife, and Supt. W. O. Hull. In fact, however, the ladies seemed not only perfectly able to take care of themselves but to have charge of the older members of the party. Keiching the city they put up at the Cook House. At nine o'clock the party visited the High School building and some of the wards, each one attending the departments in which he or she, principally the latter, was most interested. In the afternoon, the party, under the direction of Maj. Soule, who by the way is an old Albion man, visited the University. Notwithstanding the rain and mud, the visit was an entirely enjoyable one. The party left on the 5:20 train fully convinced that our schools are the best in the state and that the University is even better than Albion College. The following is a list of the teachers and other who made up the party: Mr. C. W. Dalrymple, Sec. of the Board, and wife, W. U. Hull, Supt. of Schools Misses Emmn J. Lewis, Lizzie Welch, Lizzie Uro-bv, Mary Welch, Martha All-in, Cora Rodg'rs, E'se O'Hara, D'ra Strickland, Mary Gtrfield, M'me Alcott, Hose Fuzger Id, Grace Braden, M'ny B. Hunt, Lena Ford, Cora Robertson, Marth* Garnard, Florine Southwjrth and Mrs. J. L. Greeley.

Primary School Unit.

According to the semi-annual apportionment of the primary school interest fund made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the several cities and townships in Washtenaw county are entitled to the following amounts, being at the rate of 74 cents per capita* on the number of school children reported:

AROUND THE COUNTY.

Jay Woods now nts up nights watching for burglars at Chelsea.

An amateur dramatic club is the latest organization proposed at Saline.

A. G. McIntyre has made a number of improvements at his mill in Mooreville.

The Wabash has added about 1,000 feet of track to their siding at Bellville.

Wm. Wood of North Lake has evaporated about 9,000 pounds of apples this fall.

The rain this past week was beneficial to the farmers, although it came a little late.

The South Michigan Poultry Association will hold a poultry show at Adrian Jan. 10-12.

Hon. E. P. Allan made the speech of the day at the flag dedication at Chelsea recently.

Saline is in an unusually healthy state at present; only 13 cases of scarlet fever there now.

Mrs. Mary E. Clark, an old pioneer of this vicinity, died at Brighton Friday, aged 84 years.

The school in the Crafts district, Sharon, opened Monday with Fred Irwin as teacher.

The masonic fraternity of Manchester will indulge in a big social time to-morrow evening.

Detroit brewers paid Eli Smith of Grass Lake $1,100 for his crop of hops, 11,000 pounds.

A little shaver, a ten pound boy, has been added to the family of Milo Shaver of Chelsea.

A $5,000 stock concern has been organized at Howell to manufacture fit patent buggy boat.

The Congregational Sunday school at Pinckney cleared $7.00 from a cake and coffee social last week.

"The Silver Slipper" is promised to the Ypsilanti opera house soon by 120 juvenile gingers of that city.

Little Mamie Raths of Bellville fell into a well last week and was nearly drowned before help arrived.

Last week Wednesday, Joel Mansfield of Ypsilanti died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. O. Barnes, at the age of 84 years.

The Ypsilanti council has authorized the purchase of a store in the Norris block for a hose room for the fire department.

The Yonne Men's Social Club will give a grand New Years ball at Saline, and already arrangements are being made for the event.

Miss Sarah Guest of Belleville missed her guess while coming out of church one evening last week and fell and dislocated her shoulder.

The electric light plant at Ypsilanti is to be connected with the power at the water works, and several thousand dollars saved annually.

The Chelsea fire department will celebrate Thanksgiving by giving a (rood old fashioned) dance at the town hall on the evening of the 27th.

The Methodist ladies of South Lyon must make excellent chicken pie. At a chicken pie social given recently $50 was the amount realized after paying all expenses.

A little son of John McMahon of Manchester was bitten by his dog last week. It was feared the dog was mad so he was put where he could never bite another boy.

From the flagstaff on the dome of the Stockbridge school house floats the flag of our nation. The flag was raised Nov. 5th, and a great time was had at the dedication.

Two little boys, some old papers and a match caused a fire in W. H. Lehr's house in Manchester. The fire was discovered and extinguished before much damage was done.

The Chelsea Herald says that the boys behaved remarkably well on Hallowe'en. That's funny. We supposed that the rising generation in that village always behaved.

Mr. and Mrs. Consider Cushman of Sylvan have managed to make each other happy for fifty long years, and they celebrated the event at their gold wedding on the 2d.

Miss Lucy English, who recently left her home near Manchester to go to India as a missionary, changed her mind after getting as far as England, and is now safe at home again.

Some of the smart young fellows at Unadilla make a practice of disturbing the prayer meetings, and the brethren are now watching and praying that justice may overtake the disturbers.

Ypsilanti will not have to pay any royalty for using the electric light towers; at least that's what the city attorney reports to the council, but the courts may not think as he does.

It is said that a worthless apple tree may be made to bear good fruit by driving several large nails into the trunk of the tree. The iron in the wood is said to cause the tree to be fruitful.—Ex.

The state tax to be raised in Washtenaw county this year will be over $10,000 more than last year. It will be a little hard on the farmers to pay this, but death and taxes must be met.

The Picket tells of a farmer who is so mean that he wouldn't attend the funeral of his own mother, who died recently, nor allow his wife to take a horse to go with. Such a man is too mean to live.

Clarence Jones, a 15 year old boy living at Dundee, knows how it feels to have a bullet shot into his hand. He was fooling with a revolver recently which was discharged with the above result.

The boys who celebrated Hallowe'en at this place are the same boys who turned their pockets inside out to pay Charley Burch for washing the egg shells from his front door.—South Lyon Excelsior.

We are to have a street railway in 1890, the council having passed an ordinance Monday evening granting Haines Bros. of Kinderhook, N. Y., a thirty-year franchise. The system is to be laid, subject to the council's approval, at once, and it must be in operation within a year to hold the right to build it.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

The Pinckney councilmen have earned the everlasting gratitude of the rest of the village by having two dozen lamps placed along the main street, so that a stranger will now be able to find the town after dark.

Saline is away behind the other places in the county. The others all have flags flying over the school houses, while Saline has not yet been able to raise the necessary cash to buy the flag. Not much patriotism there.

Wm. Stimpson of Saline has just returned from a hunting trip in the northern part of the state. He didn't get much game, but he managed to lose a dog that he wouldn't have traded for half the game in Michigan.

E. T. Arms has purchased a half interest in a Merino ram of Wm. Ball of Hamburg, and now has him at his place. Mr. Arms wanted to buy him out and out, but Mr. Ball said he was too good to let go.—South Lyon Picket.

Frank Shaver ran a barber shop at Chelsea and had an interest in a dry goods store at Pinckney. The men at Chelsea don't get shaved enough to make a barber rich, so he has closed his shop there and will devote his entire time to his Pinckney enterprise.

There will be a meeting of the Vermont Cemetery Association at the cemetery, Nov. 9, 1889.—Chelsea Herald. The final meeting of the members of the association will probably be held in the same place, but the date will be in the distant future.

The South Lyon Picket says: "Mr. and Mrs. Washburn of Green Oak have just added a new addition to their residence in the shape of a wood house, ice house and bath room." Guess the reporter must have overlooked the other "additions," the barn, the hen house and corn crib.

James Keilly of North Lake does not think this has been a very bad year for the farmer. Off of his farm he has threshed 1,010 bushels of grain and sold 167 barrels of packed apples, 300 bushels of cider apples and 75 bushels of paining apples.

A new drop curtain is being painted for Alfred's hall at South Lyon. Philip Phillips, who does the fine work on the curtain, is not only an artist, but an actor, and threatens to produce "Nevada, or the Lost Mine," as soon as the paint on the curtain gets dry.

Rev. Comstock who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Rev. Barry, last night had a narrow escape from serious results by an accidental mistake in taking medicine. He arose in the night to take a dose of cough medicine and by mistake got a bottle of ammonia, of which he swallowed a spoonful before discovering the error. A physician was summoned, and by the prompt administration of antidotes relieved the patient, and we learn he is comfortable to-day.—Saline Observer.

Mrs. Geo. Nisle was about to open a beer bottle which she supposed was filled with vinegar, when it burst into thousands of pieces; one piece cut a two inch gash in her chin, others cut her wrists, and buttons on her dress were cut off and one piece of glass made a black and blue spot on her side. It was fortunate that none of the pieces struck her eyes or any vital part.—Manchester Enterprise. That's usually the case. A beer bottle is a bad thing to fool with, even if it is loaded with vinegar.

An Ypsilanti hotel that does not pretend to charge more than $2 a day, advertises that it is "heated by steam," has a "free hack to any part of the city, including the paper mills," "goodsample room up town," "gives pleasure rides to guests," and "furnishes free baths to commercial men." The being who would ask more eats with his fore feet in the trough.—Detroit Journal. Yes, but they seem to forget that even commercial travelers must eat, as the advertisement does not mention it.

On Monday night of last week some sneak thief tried to steal one of H. D. Mowers' horses from the barn but was scared away before he accomplished his deed, by Mr. Mowers, who heard the noise. This is not the first time that prowlers have been seen around this place, and Mr. Mowers informs us that a double barreled shot gun heavily loaded, hangs upon the wall in waiting to get a chance at these midnight marauders.—Pinckney Dispatch. This Mower apparently has guns instead of knives, and thieves will do well to keep out of his "swath."

LITERARY NOTES.

The "Century Magazine" in 1800—Joseph Jefferson's autobiography—Novels by Frank R. Stockton, Amelia E. Barr, and others.—A capital programme.

During 1890 the Century Magazine will publish the long looked for Autobiography of Joseph Jefferson, whose "Rip Van Winkle" has made his name a household word. No more interesting record of a life upon the stage could be laid before the public. This, enriched with illustrations and portraits of cotemporary actors and actresses, and with anecdotes, will form one of the most delightful serials The Century has ever printed.

Amelia E. Barr, Frank R. Stockton, Mark Twain, H. H. Boyesen and many other well known writers will furnish the fiction for the new volume, including several novels, illustrated novellettes and short stories.

"The Women of the French Salons" are to be described in a brilliant series of illustrated papers. The important discoveries made with the great Licit telescope at San Francisco, and the latest explorations relating to prehistoric America are to be chronicled.

Prof. George P. Fisher is to write a series on "The Nature and Method of Revelation," which will attract every bible student. Bishop Potter will contribute a series of "Present-day Papers" on living topics, and there will be art papers, timely articles, etc. etc., and the choicest pictures that the greatest artists and engravers can produce.

Remittance may be made directly to the publishers, The Century Co. of New York.

Contents of the November Form: American Rights in Behring Sea, by President J. B. Angell of the University of Michigan, an historical explanation of the jurisdiction over these waters and a correction of the erroneous popular supposition concerning it.

Public Opinion and the Civil Service, by E. L. Godkin.

Modern Claims upon the Pulpit, by the Rev. F. W. Farrar, Archdeacon of Westminster.

The Owners of the United States, by Thomas G. Shearman.

Industrial Co-operation in England, by Prof. F. G. Peabody.

Municipal Control of Gas Works, by Bronson C. Keeler.

The Cost of Universities, by President David J. Hill.

Wendell Phillips as an Orator, by Rev. Carlos Martyn.

Requirements of National Defense, by Adj-Gen. J. C. Kelton.

The Domain of Romance, by Maurice Thompson.

Types of American Women. Prof. H. H. Boyesen.

The Forum, 253 Fifth-ave, New York.

North American Review for November opens with a discussion of the divorce question. Cardinal Gibbons presents the Roman Catholic view; Bishop Potter tells how divorce is regarded in the Protestant Episcopal church, and Col. Ingersoll writes on the general subject of marriage and divorce. A general introduction is furnished by the Rev. S. W. Dike, LL. D.

Thomas Edison describes "The Dangers of Electric Lighting." The prospects and hopes of the Democrats and Republicans, respectively are set forth by Senator Vest of Missouri, and Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, Murat Halstead furnishes an article on "Our National Concients." The question, "Are Telegraph Rates too High?" is asked by Dr. Norvin Green, and answered with a comprehensive negative. In "The New Instrument of Execution," Harold P. Brown describes his method for applying electricity in executing murderers. Lord Wolsey furnishes the sixth paper on "An English View of the Civil War," to be concluded in December. Edgar Saltus writes on the "Future of Fiction," and Charles Wyndham describes some of "The Tendencies of the Modern Comedy." [New York: Single numbers, 50c]

N. W. Ayer & Son's American Newspaper Annual for 1889, just received, contains a carefully prepared list of all newspapers and periodicals in the United States and Canada, by states and towns in alphabetical order. It enumerates the various Press and Editorial Associations in the United States and Canada, together with lists of their officers. One of its chief features is a carefully prepared description of every county in the United States, setting forth its location, area, adjoining navigable streams, the character of its surface, the nature of its soil, its leading crops and manufactures, its county seat and population. A similar but more elaborate descriptive heading is appended to each State, Territory and Canadian Province. It gives the population of every State, Territory, County and County-seat, of all the large cities and towns, and almost every place in which a newspaper is published. It also gives the number of votes cast in each State, Territory and County, by the Republican, Democratic, Greenback and Prohibition parties at the Presidential election of 1888.

Among its exhaustive and interesting tables are those showing the cities, towns and villages of the United States having a population of 5,000 and upwards arranged in alphabetical order; how many counties there are in each State; in how many of these newspapers are published; in how many towns of each State papers exist, and how many of these towns are County-seats, and how many newspapers there are altogether in the county at large, or in any of its great sections, or in any State, Territory or Canadian Province; how many there are of each issue, with a comparative statement of the increase in 1889 over 1888. Price, $5, carriage paid. Philadelphia, Pa.

The November Bjok Buyer is excellent. It contains a sketch of Paul B. DuChailu, a letter from Arlo Bates on Literary Topics in Boston, and one from J. Ashby Steery entitled English Notes. (Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.)

The paper by Mr. Woodrow Wilson, on "The Character of Democracy in the United States," opens the ATLANTIC MONTHLY for November. Another political paper called, "The French-in-Cauda," is contributed by Mr. Eben Greenough Scott. Artists and amateurs will be interested in "Allston and his Unfinished Pictures," "Materials for Landscape Art in America," by Charles H. Moore. Mr. James's "Tragic Muse," Mr. Bynner's serial, and the short story called "The First Mayor," by Octave Thanet, form the fiction of the number. "Some Romances of the Revolution," a paper on "The Nieces of Mazarin," and a sketch on "Marie Bashkirtseff." The remainder of the number is made up of reviews and the departments. (Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.)

Two little booklets by the American Tract Society, New York, are suitable for Christmas gifts. The first, "The Sea is His," 25 cents. The second, "Rays of Light," containing a selection of scripture and poetry for each day of the month—illustrated—price 60 cents.

The same company have issued Studies in Mark's Gospel, by C. S. Robinson. Price in paper 50 cents.

McGuffey's High School Reader, Revised Edition, contains specimens of the best literary style of the several generations of British and American authors. It is a valuable book for scholars. VanAntwerp, Bragg & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, publishers.

The November Magazine of American History is rich with timely and readable papers. Four are illustrated. A brief sketch of the home of the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence is given by the editor, A Chapter from the History of Utah, by Hubert H. Bancroft, The Rise of the Great Masonic Library in Iowa, and The Stone Images of San Augustin, by Lieut. Nathan M. Hawkes. Other excellent articles complete the number. Price $5 a year. Published at 743 Broadway New York.

A Critical Greek-English Concordance of the New Testament, prepared by Charles S. Hudson, under the direction of H. L. Hastings, and revised and completed by Ezra Abbot, D. D., LL. D., is an indispensable aid to Bible students. It contains:

1. References to all places where every Greek word in the New Testament may be found.

Mrs. Dart's Triplets.

President Cleveland's Prize for the three best babies at the Aurora County Fair, in 1887, was given to these triplets, Mollie, Ida, and Ray, children of Mrs. A. K. Dart, Hamburg, N. Y. She writes: "Last August the little ones became very sick, and as I could get no other food that would agree with them, I commenced the use of Lactated Food. It helped them immediately, and they were soon as well as ever, and I consider it very largely due to the Food that they are now so well." Lactated Food is the best Food for bottle-fed babies. It keeps them well, and is better than medicine when they are sick. Three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00. At druggists. Cabinet photo of these triplets sent free to the mother of any baby born this year. THK Law Building is more than crowded this year. With such rapid growth the only alternative will be a larger building is the near future. As the fees in that department more than pay its running expenses, a demand for a larger and better building could not very well be refused.

The old campus fence is gone, that is what hadn't already been quietly retired away to furnish light for numerous Hallowe'en pranks. Many a freshman will be glad and sophomore rejoice that he will never be shot into raid air to suddenly land on the other side of that historic landmark. It is gone, but never to be forgotten by many of past generations.

We print in another column a communication from one of our citizens upon an evil that is becoming altogether too common in this city. As suggested by our correspondent it is time that some of the scamps who are continually insulting ladies on the streets after dark should be taken in charge by the city authorities and dealt with as they richly deserve.

IT now seems that the old cemetery matter is about to be settled. Mr. Whitman having conferred with the board of public works and the city authorities, satisfactory terms have been arrived at. As a result, a proposition will be made to the city council next Monday night which will, without doubt, be accepted. This will be fortunate for the city and will relieve Mr. Whitman from much bitter opposition which would certainly have followed any attempt on his part to take possession of the old cemetery. Mr. Whitman's readiness to drop the claim of Mr. Joslyn against the city, and to offer to compromise with the city on the cemetery question, shows him to be more willing to do the fair thing than some people had given him credit for.

Mn. EMIL BACK has translated, for the benefit of the committee on German in our public schools, an address delivered before the German-American teachers in Chicago last July by Prof. Peaslee, ex-superintendent of schools in Cincinnati, Ohio. We should be glad to reproduce the article in our columns, but an limited space will not permit. Mr. Peaslee became very firmly convinced, from his experience in Cincinnati where German is made an optional study, that the effects were excellent, and strongly urges that other schools introduce the study into the ward schools. Mr. Baur's translation of Prof. Peaslee's address is a very readable one and will no doubt have a good influence with the committee who have the matter under consideration.

Two Kentucky gentlemen differed in their views about the management of the political party to which they belonged. As is usual with the honorable gentlemen of that state when differences arise between them, no appeal is made to reason. The two, therefore, with the slightest pretext for a quarrel, proceeded to adjust their differences in the usual way, namely, with knives and pistols. This was last Thursday. Since then they have both been buried. Such people are more to be pitied than blamed, for they have never been taught to consider the feelings of an antagonist or to control their tempers while dealing with one. As a result they are more abject slaves to their passions than the negroes ever were to their masters.

Cruelty to Animals.

MK. EDITOR: In his report of the Wash-leauw Pomological Society meeting Mr. Baur very kindly mentioned the efforts that have been made to introduce humane education into the public school of our city. He gave, however, more credit than is deserved to the undersigned, since nothing could have been done without the aid and co-operation of the teachers in whose rooms the Bands of Mercy have been organized, and who give their time and thought to superintending the meetings, directing the work of the children and keeping up their interest in the society. To Miss Hattie Boyd, (now Mrs. H. B. Skinner of ML Pleasant) Miss Mary Trueblood and Miss Sarah Come the honor of establishing these Bands of Mercy in our city properly belongs.

It requires no small amount of self sacrifice on the part of these teachers to give up even one hour of rest, or to add one more care to the arduous duties of a teachers daily life; but, feeling how much more education of the heart is needed everywhere, and that in the schools it should go hand in hand with education of the intellect they have done what they could in this direction, and they unite in saying that they have already been repaid a thousand fold for the sacrifice they have made. I have done what little I could do to help them, believing as I do that the endeavor to spread the gospel of "kindness to all living creatures" is the best work being done to day. The humane societies are the embodiment of the desire in all kind hearts to see the reign of justice, mercy, gentleness and peace on earth.

Having often been asked the object of the Bands of Mercy, I can best reply in the language of G. T. Angell, the president of the Massachusetts Humane Society, with whom the idea originated: "Their object is to encourage in every way brave, generous, noble, and merciful deeds. To teach and lead every child and elder person to say a kind word or do a kind act that will make some other human being or some dumb creature happier". Belonging to a society with such aims, for even a few months, cannot fail to make an impression upon a youthful heart that can never be entirely obliterated. They will learn that suffering needlessly inflicted is cruelty, whether it be by one human being upon another, or by human beings upon the dumb animals who cannot speak to tell of their wrongs. They will learn that it is wrong to own an animal and ill use it by overloading it, starving it, and neglecting its comfort; that is a sin to torture an animal by the use of a tight over-check in order to "make it hold up its head and look stylish," or to mutilate the creature's work, by depriving the patient faithful horse of the only protection against annoying insects, in order to follow another detestable fashion.

Resolutions of the Trustees.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the School of Music, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the Board on the occasion of Director Stanley's retirement from office, and the committee have accordingly forwarded to Professor Stanley the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Director Stanley of the School of Music has communicated to this Board his resignation of Director of the School, it is, therefore,

Resolved, That the Board have accepted with regret the resignation thus tendered, feeling that the event affects vitally the prosperity of the School over which Professor Stanley has presided during the past year.

Resolved further, That the Board tender to Professor Stanley their appreciation of the energy and ability with which he has, under difficult circumstances, endeavored to strengthen the School in the esteem of musical educators, in the patronage of the public, aid in the sympathy and support of the citizens amongst whom the enterprise has been founded.

And Resolved further, That We entertain the hope that Professor Stanley will remain among us, and continue to give his influence and support to the other musical enterprises undertaken by our citizens and by the University, so far as he may deem them worthy; and we earnestly hope that in the future pursuit of a profession which he so conspicuously adorns, he may secure the compensations—material and spiritual—which constitute the rewards of zealous activity in a noble calling.

Progress of Inventions Since 1843.

In the year 1845 the present owners of the Scientific American newspaper commenced its publication, and soon after established a bureau for the procuring of patents for inventions. During the year 1845 there were only 502 patents issued from the U. S. Patent office, and the total issue from the establishment of the patent office to the end of that year numbered only 4,347.

Up to the 1st of July this year there have been granted 406,413. Showing that since the publication of the Scientific American there have been issued from the U. S. Patent office 402,166 patents, and about one-third more applications have been made than have been granted, showing the ingenuity of our people to be phenomenal, and much greater than even the enormous number of patents issued indicates. Probably if good many of our readers have had business transacted through the offices of the Scientific American in New York or Washington and are familiar with Munn & Co.'s mode of doing business, but those who have not will be interested in knowing something about this, the oldest patent soliciting firm in the country, probably in the world.

Persons visiting the offices of the Scientific American, 301 Broadway, N. Y., for the first time, will be surprised, on entering the main office, to find such an extensive and elegantly equipped establishment, with its walnut counters, desks, and chairs to correspond, and its enormous safes, and such a large number of draughtsmen, specification writers and clerks, all busy as bees, reminding one of a large banking or insurance office, with its hundred employees.

In conversation with one of the firm who had commenced the business of soliciting patents, in connection with the publication of the Scientific American, more than 40 years ago, I learned that his firm had made application for patents for upwards of one hundred thousand inventors in the United States and several thousands in different foreign countries, and had filed as many cases in the patent office in a single month as there were patents issued during the entire first year of the business career. This gentleman had seen the patent office grow from a sapling to a sturdy oak, and he modestly hinted that many thought the Scientific American by its large circulation had perforce no mean share in stimulating inventions and advancing the interest of the patent office. But it is not alone the patent soliciting that occupies the attention of the one hundred persons employed by Munn & Co., but a large number are engaged on the four publications issued weekly and monthly from their office, 301 Broadway, N. Y., viz: The Scientific American, Scientific American Supplement, The Export Edition of the Scientific American, and The

THE CROMM TRIAL.

Testimony Given by Witnesses in the Murder Case.

Facts Being Brought Out Daily by the Prosecution Which Place the Five Defendants in a Very Dangerous Position.

LUK ORBAT CONSPIRACY.

CHICAGO, NOV. 7.—The Cronin trial was resumed at 10 a. m. yesterday. E. T. Stunton testified to the printing and delivery of some lousiness cards to Patrick O'Sullivan, and identified the card given Dr. Cronin on the night of May 4 by the driver of the white horse as one of those cards. The cards were delivered to O'Sullivan May 8.

Captain Villiers, at the time of the murder a captain of the Lake View police force, told of the trunk being brought to the Lake View police station, and that he had, on looking inside, seen cotton saturated with blood, and blood still in the liquid form. Officer Phillips, who, with Captain Wing, brought the trunk, had given the witness a lock of hair about four inches long and of the thickness of a lead-pencil found in the trunk.

Herman Theel, a young German, told of finding the trunk on the morning of May 5 in the ditch at the side of Evanston avenue, just south of the Chicago & Evanston railway track. The trunk, which had been brought into the courtroom and identified by Captain Villiers, was identified by the witness as the one found by him. Herman Pause and Karl Knop, who accompanied Theel, corroborated the latter's testimony.

Officer Phillips, of the Lake View police force, testified to the blood-stained cotton and tufts of hair found in the trunk, and identified the trunk and cotton in court. He arrested O'Sullivan at the latter's house May 23 or 24.

Captain Wing, also of the Lake View police force, went over the story of the findings of the trunk, the bloody cotton and the body of Dr. Cronin. When the remains were removed from the catch-basin there was a towel about the neck. He also described the furniture and blood-stains, the painted floors and foot-prints, etc., found in the Carlson cottage when it was entered by the police.

CHICAGO, NOV. 8.—Coroner Hertz was the first witness examined at yesterday's session of the Cronin trial, and he identified the trunk in court as the same which was turned over by him to the chief of police.

William Mertze, a milkman, said that at 8:30 on the night of May 4 he was walking past the Carlson cottage, he saw a buggy stop, a large man in a dark-brown overcoat got out, run up the steps and let himself into the house. The man who remained in the buggy turned the horse around and drove rapidly away. Later, when the witness returned home past the cottage, he heard the sound of nailing. The witness identified Kunze as the man who drove away and Coughlin as the man who entered the cottage.

Officer Lorch testified to having gone to the Carlson cottage on May 13 and to finding the blood-spotted trunk key under the wash-stand in the front room. Ex-Police Captain Schaack testified to an interview with O'Sullivan in which he drew admissions from him that he had telephoned Coughlin in April to come to his house for the purpose of discussing something about Kunze and a horse. Being pressed O'Sullivan said he had desired to see Coughlin about delivering ice at the latter's house, but Kunze's association with the transaction and the mystery surrounding the horse were left unexplained.

Chief of Police Hubbard was the next witness. He was first asked about the trunk since it was given to the coroner. He said it had been in his sole care until delivered to the State's Attorney. This was also true regarding the lock and key. The chief identified the trunk as the one he had first seen in 1875 in Winnebago jail, and the direct examination ended.

Police Captain Schuttler next told of his visit to the Carlson cottage the day after the body was discovered. May 14. Among the things he found there was a piece of blood-stained soap on which was some hair and the foot-prints on the blood-stained floor, and upon being shown pieces of the flooring that had been taken up identified them. The witness controverted the theory of the defense that the trunk in court was not the one found in Evanston avenue by indicating to the jury an identification mark made on it by him last May.

CHICAGO, NOV. 9.—In the Cronin trial yesterday Mrs. John Lindgren, a daughter of Jonas Carlson, told about seeing her father talk with O'Sullivan about May 19, a direct contradiction O'Sullivan statement by O'Sullivan, who, the State claims, said that he had not talked with Carlson. The most important witness was William Nelman. He keeps a saloon at the corner of Roscoe street and Lincoln avenue, and he told O'Sullivan, accompanied by Kunze and Coughlin, being in there at 10:30 on the night of May 4. He fixed the date positively by the circumstance of it being a day after his obtaining his license and the first day of O'Sullivan delivering ice to him. When asked to pick out the two men, the witness said that while he wouldn't swear that Coughlin and Kunze were the ones, on account of his never having seen them before that night, his opinion was that they were. About O'Sullivan, however, he had not the slightest doubt.

In view of O'Sullivan's statement about not having been out or the house on that night, except for a moment about 9:30 o'clock, when his men came in, and then he and only gone as far as the shed, Nelman's story is very valuable to the State. Alfred Kettner, a watchman, swore that he saw Dan Coughlin in the neighborhood of the Carlson cottage late on the afternoon of May 4.

CHICAGO, NOV. 11.—In the Cronin case on Saturday Gerhard Werdel, the occupant of the house directly opposite the Carlson cottage, testified that on the night of May 4 he left his house shortly before 7 o'clock. As he was returning about 10:30 o'clock he saw two men enter the Carlson cottage. Next morning he and his wife were going to work from early mass he saw blood on the sidewalk of the Carlson cottage, and called the attention of his wife to it. There was a trail of blood, apparently fresh, beginning on the steps and running out to the middle of the sidewalk. He could not tell who the men were.

Dr. Egbert was then recalled to testify to having at the autopsy clipped a lock of hair from the doctor's head, and was followed by Prof. W. S. Haynes, for the past thirteen years professor of chemistry at Rush Medical College, who said he had examined the bits of woolen cotton and paper given to him having reddish stains, and said the stains were caused by human blood. Prof. Tolman and Dr. Belfield corroborated the statement.

At present Dr. Cronin's presence in the Carlson cottage hinges on a hair. The one hair found on the cake of soap is the only evidence that he ever entered that slaughter-house. Of course the circumstantial evidence that he was decoyed there and there was murdered is as strong as it well could be, but of direct proof that one hair is the only connecting link. The State's Attorney having set out to the cancelling of Alexander Sullivan's bond, Judge Baker ordered his unconditional release. Mr. Sullivan was under $35,000 bonds to answer any charge which the grand jury might bring against him in the Cronin case, but no indictment was found.

CHICAGO, NOV. 12.—The first hour of the morning session of the Cronin trial yesterday was devoted to showing that Kunze from April 15 until arrested went under the name of John Kaiser.

The next witness was Ous Klahre. He said that Burke came to his shop on the morning of May 6 with a tin box on which Burke wanted him to solder the cover. The box had a cord around it, and as he was about to cut it Burke stopped him and told him "for God sake, not to do that," that he was going to have him read about the disappearance of Dr. Cronin he asked Burke what he thought of it. Burke, applying a foul epithet to the dead physician, replied that he was a British spy and ought to be killed.

Joseph O'Byrne and Maurice Morris testified that they were talking with Beggs two days after the disappearance of Dr. Cronin, and Beggs professed to know more about the doctor when he was talking with his companions and said: "You fellows don't know what you are talking about. You are not in the inner circle!" Morris swore that he had long heard of the existence of an inner circle in the (lan-na-Uad, which was nothing more nor less than a secret society within a secret society.

Dr. Williams testified that he had been O'Sullivan's medical adviser for a long time, and that his bills for medical services were less than $10 during three years. This evidence was introduced to leave the impression that the ice man had some ulterior motive in view when he made a contract with Dr. Cronin to pay him four or five times as much per year for his services as it had cost him for three years previous.

The rest of the session was devoted to the examination of the men who found the clothing and instruments in the sewer and the police officers who removed the articles from point to point. Captain Schuttler held up every object to the view of the jury, showing where the collar had been cut as if by a knife, showing the dirty rag which had once been the Prince Albert coat of a professional man, the rusty instruments, the box of splints, the torn shirt, broken sleeve-buttons, faded business cards, discolored manual of medicine—all foul and slimy with the putrid excrement of the sewer still clinging to their sides.

FOUND IN A SEWER.

Dr. Cronin's Cloth and Surgical Instruments Discovered.

CHICAGO, NOV. 11.—Dr. P. J. Cronin's clothes, box of metallic splints and case of surgical instruments were found about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the bottom of a manhole on Bvanston avenue, Lake View. A gang of workmen who had been sent to clean out the sewer made the find within less than a block of the point where the bloody trunk was picked up May 5. Mrs. T. T. Conklin, with whom Dr. Cronin boarded, identified the articles positively. No identification was needed of the case of instruments, as on its back was inscribed the dead physician's name.

After a partial examination of the clothing and instruments at Chief Hubbard's office the outfit was taken to State's Attorney Longenecker's office. Most of the garments, especially the trousers, are cut open, showing that they were hurriedly cut from the bleeding body of the slain doctor.

The finding of Dr. Cronin's clothes and surgical instruments was an accident, and not the result of a deliberate search. This was the case in the finding of the body. Later in the day Joseph Turner, another workman for the city, found Dr. Cronin's socks and a tin box of plasters further down the sewer near the lake. It is believed that the shoes had been flooded out into the lake.

CHICAGO, NOV. 11.—The police on Saturday fished out of a Lake View sewer a piece of carpet about eighteen inches square and believed to be a part of the ingrain article that covered the floor of the Carlson cottage the night Dr. Cronin was murdered. There was no sign of blood on it so far as could be determined. State's Attorney Longenecker and his assistants considered the discovery an important one. Dr. Cronin's shoes and watch are still missing.

THE SNOW BLOCKADE.

Great Suffering in New Mexico and Colorado During the Klislin-Money Lira Lost and Thousands of sheep and Cattle Perish.

TRINIDAD, Col., Nov. 13.—Various persons who spent ten days in the snow blockade between Emery Gap and Folsom, N. M. arrived in this city Monday. They report the suffering of men and animals fully as great as shown in former reports. Seventy-five men shoveling snow at Mount Dora were cut off from food two days and nights. They got some sheep out of the snow-drifts, roasted and ate them. A delayed passenger train was cut off from eating stations three days. They drew on the express-car for its food supplies. The laborers who shoveled snow, when hungry, tapped freight cars containing canned goods. Two lives goats were being shipped West, but the hungry men cut their throats and ate them raw. A sheep-grower near Ute creek is reported to have lost 5,000 sheep from a flock of 8,000. Engineer Lyon said that he saw more real destitution during ten days in this snow blockade than in all his life before.

CLAYTON, N. M., NOV. 13.—Tiding from small towns and ranches of the railroad confirm the reported loss of life and property during the late storm. The total loss of life so far reported numbers nine souls. Several more are missing. The loss of sheep in and around this place alone is 20,000 head. Several large herds on the creek are not yet heard from.

Kx-Congressional Comingo Dead.

KANSAS CITY, MO., NOV. 11.—Judge A. Comingo, one of the best-known lawyers and politicians in Missouri, died at his residence in this city at 10 o'clock Sunday evening from heart disease, aged 69 years. Judge Comingo served two terms in Congress—once as a representative from the Sixth and once from the Eighth Missouri Congressional district.

TEMPERANCE CHAMPIONS.

CHICAGO, NOV. 9.—The sixteenth annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union opened yesterday morning in this city. Miss Frances E. Willard presiding. There were about 500 delegates present. The morning session was taken up in Bible-reading and prayer.

At the afternoon session the officers made reports, and the venerable Neal Dow delivered a short address. Mrs. C. B. Buell, of Connecticut, said there were now 700 unions in the United States and 143,167 members. There are 143 of the Royal Legions, with 150,147 members. Altogether there are about half a million persons connected with the W. C. T. U. at present. The report of Miss Esther Pugh, the treasurer, showed the total receipts from all sources to be $23,889.97; total expenditures, $30,687.57. The dues for 1889 realized the sum of 514,380.50. The balance in Miss Pugh's hands is $3,232.40.

At the evening session addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. M. IS. Carse, Mrs. L. S. Kounds and Rev. Herrick Johnson, of Chicago. Mrs. Carse said Chicago had more than 4,000 saloons open. Sundays and spent $70,000,000 a year on drink. Miss Willard in her annual address said America had become the dumping ground of European cities, and protested against the present wholesale exodus from the European slums. In referring to the Sunday-closing movement in Chicago she said the saloon-keeper and pot-house politician still held the business men and, to a great extent, the churches by the throat, while red flag riots, dynamite plots and Cronin murders were begotten by alcoholized brains and hatched in the high-license grog-shops of Chicago.

Miss Willard said that as a method of raising revenue from vice high license was a success, and it was equally so as a "life-insurance policy on the saloon. It arrayed the expert and the non-expert temperance forces against each other and made a man's own household his worst foe. It had set back the temperance cause ten years, if not a generation; it had blinded men's consciences to moral distinctions, deadened the churches, muzzled the clergy, chloroformed the religious editor and rejoiced the devil and his hosts. On the labor question she said it was being proved that intemperance was most prevalent where the hours of toil were long, because overwork drove men to drinking. The speaker touched on the multiplicity of subjects in which the W. C. T. U. is deeply interested, including the marriage relation, social evil, protection to minors of both sexes, especially girls, purity in literature and art, physical culture and dress reform.

In conclusion she recommended petitions against impure literature, asking an amendment to the Inter-State Commerce law prohibiting the bringing of liquor into Prohibition States, in favor of the Itlalr Educational bill and the Blair amendment, forbidding the manufacture of cigarettes and prohibiting smoking in a waiting-room and post-offices, and for various other purposes.

CHICAGO, NOV. 11.—A breeze was started in the W. C. T. U. convention Saturday by a telegram from H. 15. Moulton, of Washington, saying a bar had been licensed in Vice-President Morton's hotel building in Washington. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, of Iowa, expressed her regret at the announcement reflecting on Vice-President Morton, and protested against its injustice. She read a telegram from A. K. Nettleton, of Washington, saying that the accusation against the Vice-President was without the shadow of foundation, and that Mr. Morton personally denounced the canard through the newspapers last week.

Reports from the National organizers were heard. A congratulatory telegram from Wyoming stated that the proposed constitution, containing a woman-suffrage plank, had been ratified by a vote of eight to one. Rev. John Barrows, D. B., spoke on behalf of the Society of Christian Endeavor, which, he said, has 500,000 members. It aims to develop the activities of young people in connection with the different churches.

At the evening session a number of delegates delivered addresses on various topics. CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Miss Frances B. Willard was re-elected president of the W. C. T. U. at the annual session in this city yesterday, and the other officers elected were: Mrs. Caroline B. Buell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, recording secretary, and Miss Esther Pugh, Treasurer. Speeches were made by Senator Blair, of New Hampshire; Rev. Dr. Cummings, president of the Northwestern University at Evanston; Ev. Arthur Edwards, D. D., of Chicago, and Dr. W. O. Anderson, of Brooklyn. The question as to whether Vice-President Morton had or had not secured a saloon license for his hotel in Washington was dismissed from the consideration of the convention.

At the evening session an oratorical contest, took place between seven children and misses for a handsome diamond badge. Their names were: Daisy Stoddard, Nebraska; Eunice Melville, Minnesota; Ollie Hiatt, Kansas; Minnie Ethington, Illinois; Alice Iffeklinger, New York; Mabel Underhill, Michigan, and Master Ray Ludwick, Michigan. Miss Stoddard was awarded the badge.

Beware or Maltirin.

Thousands of people suffer from M-Jaria while attributing their trouble to goraquite different. Its frequent mild form is shown by a coated tongue, bad taste, diminished appetite, headache; pains in the back, joints or limbs; feeling of dullness; drowsiness by day and unrefreshing sleep at night. All this is permanently cured by HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC'S NOS. TEN and SIXTEEN. These invaluable SPECIFIC'S soon rid the system of every vestige of the disease. Indeed, by our exchanges, we observe that similar reports are appearing in every part of the country respecting others of HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC'S, and our testimony is, that for Coughs, Colds and Sore Throat* of all descriptions, HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC'S NO. ONE and SEVEN are of priceless value.

The Burlington, Ia. "SATURDAY EVENING POST," says that "in one year a Case of HUMPHREY'S SPECIFIC'S, value $10.00, saved them not less than One Hundred Dollars in the way of Doctor's b'U," and being actuated by the principle, if you know agood thing tell it, and let your friends have the benefit, we cheerfully recommend them to all.

Passions are like fire, useful and dangerous in excess.

My boy met with a serious accident by pulling a can of boiling water over on himself and scalding his face, hands, and arms dreadfully. Having a bottle of Salvation Oil in the house I applied it immediately to the parts scalded, (as per directions) and am glad to state that he is now well, and the wounds healed nicely without leaving a scar. We have something to say to you to-day about Combination Suit Patterns. We don't mean the suit already made, but the materials for a suit. Combination dresses, you know, are dresses made of the same material, but of two patterns, or of two shades that harmonize. Well, we have just now a very choice selection of these Combination Suit Patterns. There is only one pattern of a kind; no duplicates; no two alike; so one purchasing any of these can be reasonably sure that no one else in the city will have another like it. Of course we don't say that we have the only one pattern manufactured, for the same goods can be found in the leading houses of Detroit, Chicago and Eastern cities. Would you like to see some? With pleasure. Now, this is very handsome; it's a Camel's Hair Serge, with a Camel's Hair Serge Stripe to match. Then here's a style which we have in seven or eight colors; has a deep Broche Flower Flounce. Now here is a novelty, the Eiffel Plaid Combination, it is certainly very stylish. What are the prices? Oh, yes, we forgot. Well, they range from $7.50 to $18.00, THE PATTERN. Ah, here are some you did not see; they are combinations of plain goods and stripes, plain and plaids and plain and broken check plaids. Yes, Madam, we have new shades that have been produced for this fall. How will they look made up? Well, we can easily show you, for with every pattern we have a colored plate, gotten up in Paris, showing the garment made up. You can see how the dress will look before you purchase. We give a colored plate with each dress pattern. Ten patterns in window on the left as you enter the store

We want to sell more Table Linens. We keep the stock—a far better variety than you suppose. The prices are from 25c to $3.00 per yard. When their goodness and cheapness are known better, the sales will suit us better.

300 pairs of Children's Heavy Wool Hose at 25c; black, in sizes from 5 to 9. If you want any remember they'll be a quick crop.

A late fall idea in dress trimming is the Vandyke Point, Fauntleroy Point and the Musquitair Point. May be you don't think so. Very well, every other asked for style is here too. It looks like the dawn of a Fringe day. Here they are at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 a yard, all pure silk. It's easy to sneak a little cotton in a piece of fringe and keep it out of sight, but the wear will show it.

There will be a change in the time table of the T. & A. A. & N. M. E. R. on Nov. 17. It is rumored in a distant way that the passenger service will be improved by the addition of one extra passenger train each way daily.

"What's the matter with Russia?" will be answered by J. E. teal in an address to be given in the lecture room of the M. E. church, Friday evening, Nov. 22, at eight o'clock, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society. Admission only ten cent.

Forty members of Company A, the Chequamecon Orchestra and the University Glee Club went to Ypsilanti yesterday to attend the dedicatory exercises of deary's new business college building. They had a fine time and were well entertained.

A. L. Noble was surprised Saturday morning when he arrived at the store to find all of his clerks wearing their dress suits. The weather was rainy, and this start on the boys' part was merely the result of a wager, which none of them wished to pay.

The opening address before the Wesleyan Guild, which was to be delivered at the Methodist church next Sunday evening, has been postponed until Sunday evening, Nov. 24, Bishop R. S. Foster of Boston being unable to be here before that time.

Clarence S. Yates, a bright and promising member of the Detroit Evening News' staff, died at Detroit on Saturday, of typhoid fever. The deceased was a cousin of Chap. W. Rose of Pittsfield, and was a frequent visitor in this city where he had many friends.

The Ann Arbor Courier editor "kicks" because the clock in the court house is not always lighted at eight. What is it to him?—he's not a married man.—Adrian Press. Don't set this item aside expecting to make use of it again. It may not be true within a short time, if rumors are to be believed.

Not long since a singular phenomena occurred on the electric wires on State-st, between Liberty and Washington-sts. Two small balls of electric fluid were seen about six rods apart, from which a bright light six inches in height emitted. Could the cause of it have been an overcharge of the fluid on the wires?

Mrs. Geo. R. Hviland was the victim of a peculiar and painful accident Friday evening. She was walking through the kitchen at her house, which was dark, and stumbled. Throwing out her hand to save herself, she laid her wrist upon a knife lying on a table, which was as sharp as a razor, cutting an artery about half off. After the flow of blood had been stopped, a physician tied the artery together and sewed up the wound.

The Misses Emma and Maggie Bjwer entertained a number of friends at a progressive euchre party Tuesday evening. Mayor Beakes and wife were fortunate and secured the first prizes, and Sam. Langsdorf did not come away empty-handed, as he captured the booby prize—a fine painted motkey on a stick.

Rev. Barry's many friends will be glad to learn that his eyes, which for some months have given him so much trouble, are now improving rapidly under the treatment of Prof. Carrow of the University, who is Dr. Frorhingham's successor, and Mr. Barry thinks him the right man in the right place.—Saline Observer.

The High SAool rugby team went to Detroit Saturday and played a game with the Detroit High School team, on the D. A. C. grounds. The game was close and exciting. Ann Arbor being credited with three touch downs and one goal to one touch-down and one goal for Detroit, when the game was called on account of darkness.

The Chelsea Standard mentions the fact of triplets having been born in this city, and adds, "And yet Ann Arbor 'kicks' because its valuation was raised $280,000." We only "kicked" because we didn't understand the market price of triplet?, bin if it is $280,000 Ann Arbor will pay it without grumbling, although this seems a little high even for triplets.

The Methodist church was crowded to its utmost capacity, and probably a couple of hundred were unable to gain admission, last Sunday evening to listen to the able address on "Mormonism," which was delivered by Miss. Angie Newman. Another feature of the evening which received complimentary mention was the solo, "Better Land," by Miss Kate E. Jacobs.

Last evening the employees of the All mending Piano and Organ Co. turned out and, headed by the Organ Works band, marched to the depot to meet the president of the company, F. Suhmid, and his family upon their return from Europe and escort them to their residence. Nearly a hundred employees of the company were in line and each carried a blinzing torch.

J. V. Sheehan is mad, and he is just mad enough to pay fifty dollars reward to the person who will prove who scratched the large plate glass in the front of his store this week. The glass is the largest single plate in the state, and one end of it is covered with deep scratches, which look as though they had been deliberately made with a diamond or other hard substance.

Congressman Allen was in the city Friday evening and called together those directly interested in the appointment of postmaster. The petitions were counted, not without some dissatisfaction and protests at some of the names thereon however, and from what can be learned, it appears now as if it did months ago, that the congressman will recommend E. E. Beal for the position.

Bishop Davies, who succeeds the late Samuel S. Harris as the bishop of the eastern diocese of Michigan, is expected to arrive in Detroit to-morrow to take charge of the affairs of the diocese. The family consists of the bishop, his wife, two daughters and a son. The latter has been attending the University of Pennsylvania, but will probably enter the University of Michigan soon after the family gets settled in Detroit.

The Board of Public Works and city officials have been in conference with C. R. Whitman this week, in relation to an adjustment between the city and Mr. Whitman regarding the old cemetery case. It is said that a fair compromise has been made, which the Board of Public Works will recommend that the council accept at the meeting next Monday night. By the settlement of this case the city will acquire a good title to the finest piece of property for a park, and it will probably be used for this purpose within a year or two.

Last Friday evening a number of the members of the Ann Arbor Commandery met and organized the Knights Templar Drill Corps, their main object being to perfect their members in drill and tactics. The military officers elected were C. S. Fall, captain; L. C. Goodrich, 1st lieutenant; W. W. Watts, 2nd lieutenant; J. R. Miner adjutant. The civil officers of the organization are Warren F. Mills, president; A. C. Nichols, vice-president; J. R. Miner, secretary and treasurer. Meetings for drill will be held every Friday night.

The Howell common council contemplates bringing action against the county for the payment of the bills incurred during the small-pox epidemic in that village, last winter, the Board of Supervisors having delayed action in allowing the same.—Brighton Citizen. The supervisors must be about the same the world over. Ann Arbor's experience with small-pox bills and the supervisors was about the same as Howell's, although we were fortunate enough to get about half the bills allowed without thinking of going to law.

Friday afternoon the children of the first ward school met at the High School hall and celebrated the raising of their new flag with appropriate exercises. The programme was interesting and consisted of songs, recitations and a drill by the children, and an address by J. E. Beal. The flag drill was a marked feature of the programme and showed that considerable hard work had been put in by the children. The children of the fourth ward school celebrated a similar event on Tuesday afternoon, C. H. Manly, J. E. Beal and Supt. Perry each making short addresses.

The "gasoline well" on Liberty-st still holds out and several barrels of gasoline have been secured. This week the order of the gasoline has been discovered about the Central Mill*, becoming so strong that Mr. Allmendinger has warned his employees to be careful about the use of lights around the building. The matter now becomes a serious one and a disastrous fire may be the result. If the soil in this vicinity has become so impregnated with the leakage from the oil tanks and pipes, (and the prevailing impression is that these are responsible for the wonderful discovery of a well that furnishes refined gasoline,) the matter appears to be a subject for immediate investigation and action by the authorities.

The Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan earned $89,108.78 during the month of October this year, against $02,044.26 last October, an increase of $27,064.52. The road is under the best of managements and its importance can best be judged from the comparison of its earnings to a large extent, and although two heavy locomotives and 150 box cars have been received this week, the lack of both coaches and freight cars is great. Five mo'e locomotives, 300 flat and 200 box cars are already ordered and six passenger coaches are building. The Ann Arbor's success is almost phenomenal.—Toledo Bee.

A. J. Sawyer dropped around Tuesday and told F. A. Howlett that himself and wife were coming around that evening to call at the county clerk's new house. Fred thought there was nothing strange in this, but when he found that besides Mrs. Sawyer and wife, he had for company twenty members of the Cavanaugh Lake Camping Association, he realized that he was sold again. The party came from Chelsea on the evening train, spent a pleasant evening with their surprised host and hostess, and returned to Chelsea at midnight. Mr. Howlett says that this is the second time that he has been surprised within two weeks, and he will be on the watch hereafter.

A House Warming.

A very pleasant house warming was held last Saturday at the residence of O. R. L. Crozier on Geddes ave. Among relatives present from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Alg'r of Grand Rapids, father and nrhver of Mrs. Crozier, H. A. Alexander Hewitt and wife of ILLISDALE, Mr. Wm. Caldwell and wife of Clinton, AL'H O. 'roz er and wife of Grand Rapids, and A. A. Crozier who has been spending the summer in Ann Arbor. A. O. Crozier brought as a present for his young girl sisters an elegant Chase Bros. pinno.

Monday night a large number of friends from this city drove out and surprised the family and visiting relatives and spent a most enjoyable evening.

University Musical Society.

The question of how to secure a fine series of concerts in Ann Arbor has been the problem, which we believe the Choral Union is to solve through its organization. The union has established an associate membership and invites the attention of all interested in music to the advantages of such membership. Any person who becomes an associate member becomes thereby entitled to admission to all concerts given by or under the auspices of the Choral Union (commencement concert excepted.) The price of an associate member's ticket is $2.00, and the entire sum received is to be applied directly to the concerts. Four concerts are already guaranteed and if the financial support will warrant it more will be given. The committee are already in active negotiation with prominent artists, and a large membership list will result in bringing here the Boston Symphony Orchestra with first class soloists. The first concert of the series will be given in University Hall by the Detroit Philharmonic Club and the Cecilia Ladies' Quartette of that city. No evening tickets will be sold, and the only way to hear the concerts is to become an active or associate member of the Choral Union. Tickets may be obtained of G. R. Haviland.
