THE XLVI COMMENCEMENT.

THE LABGEST GRADUATING CLASS IN THE HISTORY OF THE U. OF M. CITES I

President Angell's Address,-The Law Class Day. - Literary Class Day. -Alumni Events. - The Commence ment Exercises.

The usual hot weather for commencement arrived in time this year so as not to change the annual state of affairs, and to inspire the crowds attending with a due respect of the fearful power of the sun. The number attending the forty-sixth annual commencement of the University has been larger than usual, many of the old alumni being present.

Three important addresses have been delivered, the baccalaureate by President Angell on Sunday evening, the address before the law alumni by Justice Harlan yesterday afternoon, and the commencement address this morning by Hon. Andrew D. White, who was closely connected with the early history of the University of Michigan. Large audiences have listened to these interesting speakers, and it is safe to say that no better addresses have been delivered at any of the preceding commencements.

The exercises of the various class days were, as usual, good. The addresses, orations, poems, histories and other class papers were up to the standard.

Alumni day, yesterday, was well ob-served, and the large number of alumni present and the interest taken, testified to the esteem in which the graduates hold their Alma Mater.

THE BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS.

University Hall contained 2,500 people Sunday evening, who were present to listen to Dr. Angell's annual words of wisdom to the graduating classes. The hall was tastily decorated with the college colors. On the stage were seated Dr. Angell, Prof. D'Ooge, Prot. Stanley and about seventy members of the Choral Union.

For the opening, the Choral Union sang Gounol's "Sanctus," Mirs. Horace V. Winchell singing the solo parts. Two other pieces were sung during the evening, Gounod's "Agnus Dei" and Stanley's "Alma Mine." Prof. D'Ooge read the scriptures and offered prayer, after which Dr. Angell delivered the address in his customary ready and pleasant way.

"THE HEROIC SPIRIT IN LIFE."

"In reading the life of Jesus Christ in the Gospels, one is struck by the fact that while inviting men to be his disciples, he plainly instructed them that if they were to do conspicuous service in his name, they must cherish a brave and heroic spirit. In most impressive language he declared to them that they must practice self-denial, that they must make pleasure subservient to duty, that they might be called to sever the dearest ties of friendship and love. To some of them he foretold a violent death.

Does it seem to you that language like nis was the great Teacher? But he practiced no devices to secure disciples. His aim was to make known the truth. He wanted no followers save those who were willing to accept the truth and shape their lives by it. Yet he did not lack for disciples. A little company gathered about him who were willing to share his privations. And this fact is in accord with what we see everywhere. The call for men of heroic spirit brings heroes to the front. Who ever knew to go unanswered the call of the military commander for men to lead "the forlorn hope" and to make the most desperate charge? Danger itself has a chaim for the brave. The sailor is fasci-nated by the very perils of the sea. The soldier who cannot be hired to serve in time of peace and safety, gladly volunteers for the service of death. There is a heroic spirit in men of brave and noble soul that makes them welcome brave and honorable service. Obedience to duty is the regnant spirit of true hearts. Pile up obstacles in the path of duty, and you stimulate rather than quench their zeal. If our Lord had promised easy and luxurious service he might have been followed by an army of weaklings and sybarites. Times have changed since our Lord was on earth. In this land at least men are not often persecuted for righteousness sake. Many of the trials of his apostles are not our trials. Nevertheless every life now has its obstacles and trials. Now as then no man who has not something of the heroic spirit can expect very signal success in life. But surely you who have been by a kind Providence set aside for years from the ordinary cares of life to complete a special training here, are elect men and women in such a sense that you are under the exceptional responsibility which flows from the enjoyment of excep-tional opportunities. You are called to a high and special service. I venture to believe that not one of you purposes to be a mere dilettante, to float lazily down the stream of life, without an active effort to reach some worthy goal. Every one of you realizes that his real work in life is now truly to begin, and every one is burning to make a beginning. At the first blast of the trumpet of war in '61, how quickly the halls of the University and of every college in the land were emptied of students, who heard the call for heroic sacrifice. Let us see what some of the demands are which life is to make on you for lofty purpose, manly courage and strenuous toil, if you are to render worthy service. 1. Those homely virtues, patience and industry, are required in an abundant measure, especially in the years just be-fore you. There come fewer experiences in life harder to bear than the enforced waiting for opportunities to exercise one's gifts, which so often marks the beginning

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The 31st Class to Graduate, Being the First from the New Hall.-The Ora-tions and Essays.-Alumni Banquet and Beception.

When the large addition was built adjoining the High School building, the school board congratulated themselves that at 'last they had a place where the annual graduating exercises could be held and the large crowd accommodated, without going to University Hall or to one of the churches. But they were mistaken. The first commencement held in the new building tested its capacity, and every seat in the large hall and gallery was taken, with a number standing up, at the exercises of the 31st annual commencement of the Ann Arbor High School, which were held at ten o'clock last Friday morning.

The hall is well suited to the purpose for which it was intended. The acoustics properties are fine and the quivering voice of the most timid senior, who addressed a crowd for the first time, could be easily heard in the most remote corner of the hall. The ventilation of the hall was perfect, and notwithstanding the large crowd and the warm day, none suffered from the hest.

The juniors deserve considerable credit for the tasty manner in which they had decorated the hall for their senior brethren. From the chandelier in the center were heavy drapings of bunting in the senior class colo:s, blue and tan, running gracefully to each corner of the room. Above and back of the stage the drapings were of the same color, in the rear hang-ing a large photograph of the class and the new building, and a monogram "A. A. H. S., '90." Above the stage was the class motto: "Sapiens qui assiduus." Along the front of the stage a row of potted plants in blossom relieved the effect. The gallery and rear of the hall were decorated in the junior class colors, yellow and marcon, and upon the front of the gallery was displayed the realistic class motto: "Nil sine Labore." The Chequamegons occupied the southeast corner of the hall and discoursed sweet music throughout the exercises.

music throughout the exercises. Shortly after ten o'clock the stage was filled by Supt. Perry, Mayor Manly, Revs. Studley, Tatlock, Gelsten, Carman, Sun-derland and Neumann, L. Gruner, C. Mack, W. W. Whedon, J. T. Jacobs, W. B. Smith, J. E. Beal, E. H. Scott, J. V. Chacker, B. Beach and Profe Patteneril Sheehan, P. Bach and Profs. Pattengill and Wines. The senior students who were to take part in the exercises also occupied seats on the stage. The members of the graduating class marched in and took seats which had been reserved for them in the northeast corner of the hall, as bright appearing a body of young men and ladies as had ever come forward to receive their diplomas.

For the opening of the program the

JUNE POMOLOGICAL MEETING. Methods of Transportation.-Fruit Exhibit.-Crop Prospects. At the meeting of the Pomological Society, last Saturday, the topis of establishing a branch of the experiment station, at Ann Arbor and vicinity was thoroughly discussed.

Very few people have any idea of the expense in experimentations with different fruits and and plants by individual efforts of pomologists and horticulturalists. For this reason have the officers from time to time advocated the necessity of a branch of the experiment stations successfully pursued at the public expense. E. Baur, V. M. Spaulding and J. Ganz-horn were appointed to look into this matter and report at the next meeting. President J. D. Baldwin addressed a letter to the undersigned asking for a good first rate committee on transportation. The chair appointed Messrs, E. H. Scott, L. Gruner and W. F. Bird for this com mittee, which is requested to report, if possible, next week, to the corresponding secretary who is to publish their report in the county press. Mr. Ganzhorn on fruit prospects: Black raspherries a failure, red promising, seed-ling peaches badly curled, budded tree, not much curl, full of peaches. Mr. Parshall: 95 per cent of a crop of peaches. Barnards badly curled, Baldwin apples average crop, pears very scarce, other ap-ples very scarce. Wm. McCreery: Peaches loaded, needs a spy glass to find one apple, expects five bushels off all his spole trees. W. W. Nichols: Average crop of Baldwins, peaches very promising, no pears. E. Baur: Jonathans not one apple, Baldwins 1 crop, early Astrachan apples good prospects, Bartlett pears improving, Fiemish Beauty failure, Giffards average crcp, Clapp's Favorite nearly all killed by blight, Duchesse not a pear. John Allmand: strawberries 1 of a crop, black raspb rries failure, red promising, peaches Old Mixon and all white varieties and late Crawfords plenty. B. J. Conrad: peaches very promising on old trees, young trees scarcely any. S. Mills and E. A. Nordman: apples a failure.

John Allmand's exhibit of strawberries was a surprise. Bubachs as big as apples, Belmonts best flavor, Sharpless, Jesse and Mount Vernon very fine, Wilson's and Woodruff failing, two new promising seed-lings. Luther Palmer, of Dexter, snowed the largest Jesses; his Jewells and Belmont's were also fine. Mr. Ganzhorn ex-hibited cherries: May Deke for canning Napoleon Bigarreau sweet, delicious; Governor Wood sweet, largest and best bearer; Coe's Transparent sweet, sprightly. EMIL BAUR, Cor. Secy.

The Crop Report for June.

The crop report issued June 10 by the Secretary of State gives returns from 842 correspondents, representing 662 townships. Five hundred and forty-eight of these reports are from 393 townships in the southern' four tiers of counties, and 159 reports are from 141 townships in the central counties. Compared with vitality and growth of average years, the condition of wheat June 1 in the southern and central counties was 76, and in the state 79, this being a gain during May of only three per cent. The relative condition in the southern counties has not material'y changed during the month. The lowest average in any county is in Eaton, 47; and the highest is in Cass and St. Joseph, 99. In the extreme southern counties wheat on the first of June was beginning to head. In Cass county first heads were found on May 29, or ten days later than in 1889. In 1888 the same correspondent found first heads June 5. At this date wheat is rapidly coming into head throughout the southern section of the state. The grain aphis that did so much damsge last year has appeared in several localities. These lice were in large numbers on rye heads received at the office, but no estimate can yet be made of the damage they may do. The number of bushels of wheat re-ported marketed is 1,438,652, of which 336,538 bushels were marketed in the first or southern tier of counties; 394,810 bushels in the second tier; 251,146 bushels in the third tier; 324,234 bushels in the fourth tier; 123,505 bushels in the fifth and sixth tiers; and 8,419 bushels in the northern counties. In Washtenaw county 103,351 bushels were marketed during the 103,551 busiets were marketed during the month, making 437,552 bushels reported since Aug. 1, 1889. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in the state in the ten months, August—May, is 13,085,891, or about 57 per cent of the crop of 1889, this being a falling off of over 1,000,000 bushels from the reports of the same months last year. of the same months last year. One interesting portion of the report is that relating to the average wages paid farm hands, and the gradual decrease from '83 to '90. In the southern counties the wages paid during that time were as fol-lows, the first amount given including board and that following being without board: 1883—$18.98 and $26.64; 1884 —$18.24 and $25.88; 1885—$16.49 and $23.80; 1886—$16.54 and $23.74; 1887 —$16.39 and $23.53; 1888—$16.72 and $23.70; 1880 -$10.59 and $23.50; 1855-$10.72 and $23.70; 1889-$16.86 and $23.70; 1890-$16.45 and $23.52. In Washtenaw county the wages paid are given as the highest in any of the southern counties, being $17.67 with board and $26.38 without board without board. In this county the condition and average acreage of crops is reported as follows : Wheat, condition 75; oats, acreage 97 condition 103; barley, acreage 105, condi tion 98; corn, acreage 98; meadows, condition 95; clover seed, condition 108; apples, prospects 92; peaches, condition 95. The prospect for peaches in the state is placed at 81 per cent. Estimating for the townships from which reports have not yet been received, and combining results, the approximate wool clip of the state in 1889 is found to have been 11.924,137 pounds, and the approximate el p of the present year to be 11,681,926 pounds.

Chequamegons played an overture, "Comique," which was followed by a short prayer by Rev. J. M. Gelston. "Morning Song" was then rendered by the orchestra, after which Prof. Perry made a few remarks, explaining that the orations to follow were not accorded any special honor because of their respective places on the program. After this explanation, Prof. Perry in turn introduced the partici-pants, and the graduating exercises proper commanded commenced.

" COUNTERFEITING."

The first oration, upon "Counterfeiting," "Americans appear to think that they were the originators of counterfeiting, but a perusal of history shows that in the early ages counterfeiting was punished in England. Uncle Sam furnishes severe memory of counterfeiters of coin but punishment of counterfeiters of coin, but as yet nothing h s ever been done to purish the counterfeiter of goods, the many dishonest merchants who force their spurious articles upon the poor workingman. In literary work counterfeiters are also found who copy the writings of great suthors and claim them as their own. England has been imposed upon by this clases of counterfeiters, Chatterton, Ireland and Byron (not Lord Byron) being three notable examples. In the moral world we find counterfeiting of character, which really is the worst kind of counterfeiting. We cannot enact laws against it, and the only way to coun-teract its effects is by raising the moral standard and patting the counterfeiter to shame. The only thing in favor of moral counterfeiting is that it brings out in bold relief the pure and good."

"SOMETHING FOR NOTHING,"

was the title of the oration by R. Clair Campbell, of Ypsilanti. "Since the crea-tion, to get something for nothing has been one of the great aims of all man-Speculation has and does now prekind. dominate in political, public and private affairs. In our exchanges, the markets are governed by fictitious and unnatural bids. In real estate it is the booms that fix the price. There are many that amass fortunes by speculation, and it is no won-der that the working man cannot bear to work, while others are gaining riches in an hour. Politicians say that the Americans are the happiest and most contented people on earth, but why, if so, is it that they are such speculators and that so many schemes are fostered that bring 'something for nothing.'"

"LOVE OF THE ASTHETIC,"

by Miss Carrie B. Hemingway, of Algonac, followed. "Who has seen a wretch so depraved that he has not somewhere about him some love of beauty? He may not know what it is, but there is a of one's professional career. The painful stillness of the freshly painted office, unbroken by the welcome intrusion of any client or patient, wears on the restless spirit 1 ke solitary imprisonment. The loneliness of the wilderness is more cheer The ful than this solitude amorg men. The young graduate, with his teacher's diploma in hand, sits scanning the horizon round in quest of that ideal school board which is willing to take a teacher "without experience," and he sadly wonders how one is ever to gain an experier ce, except that of hope deferred. I counsel you in such positions to take any position, however bumble, if you are competent to fill it, rather than to sit in idleness bemoaning your bad fortune.

If satience is required at the beginning, a heroic spirit of trial is needed to carry one on the heights of eminent success. In the sharp and pitiless competitions of American life, even the most gifted men can hold positions at the front in such callings as most of you are likely to follow only by strenuous, systematic, incessant toil. Perhaps no error is more common to persons at your stage in life than to suppose that brillair cy of intellect will suffice for them without hard work.

The somewhat conspicuous positions in society, for which your training should have fitted you, demand that you should cherish high moral ideals. We maintain that the advantages of the University are by no means confined to those who have studied here, but that through them the University indirectly carries its blessings to every corner of the state. The power which your special training may give you brings its perils as well as its rewards. a man of selfish, greedy, unworthy spirit it offers grave temptations; to the very best man it offers at times some temptations to swerve from the highest moral ideals. It demands the high purpose, the fixed resolve, the heroic determination to meet every exigency of life with the most unfaltering devotion to the right. Only men of the best moral strain do under all vicissitudes and temptations hold them selves up to this elevated moral plane.

What has been said is true in general at all times. But it is also to be remembered that each age brings its own peculiar duties and trials to its leaders.

It is clear that a good man is to be called to take his stand for purity in political management. Public indignation at political impurity has been to a promising degree awakened through the coun ry. The hope of purifying and elevating American political methods lies in the young men rather than in the older men.

Again you are appearing on the stage of action, when grave social problems are agitating the world as perhaps they have not agitated it since the breaking up of the feudal system. The sharpest conflicts just before you are those involvir g the relations of capital and labor. It may require courage for men holding the positions which you will be called to fill, not to become subservient either to these conservative men of wealth, who resist all changes, or to those plausible theorists, who perceiving clearly the disabilities and grievances of some of the laboring classes under our present industrial system, and depicting them with burning words which stir our sympathies, yet commend to us only desperate remedies which threaten the very frame-work of scciety.

Closely allied to the above is the transition through which our government as well as other governments is passing, from narrower to wider functions. What may be called the socialistic tendency-using feeling that he cannot explain. Nature is tru'y beautiful and forms the beginning and very foundation of art. The true artist performs his best work when inby nature. Love of beauty is not spired a result of civilization, but may be called rather a help and aid to civilization, and one of its strongest promoters."

The orchestra rendered a beautiful barcarble, "G ndolier and Nightingale," in which were cornet and piccolo solos, the ushers in the interval carrying loads of flowers and small gifts to the speakers.

"Of the questions arising from the great struggle, part have been removed, while yet some re-The most perplexing question has mam. arisen from our not being able to apprecia'e the circumstances of the southerners. Before the war but few newspapers were printed in the south, and not many northern papers found their way there. The south was in the power of a few scheming southern politicians, and what these men said, the people believed, and believed sincerely. When they were told that the northerners were coming there to kill and burn, they thought they must protect themselves, and they were as conscientious in doing this as were the men on the other side. The Confederacy was a different thing. This was merely a scheming organization for power. This was an example of the love of power, while the confederate army was an example of the power of love. One of the errors, which must be acknowledged now, was granting the franchise to the freed slaves. Had the government waited until these slaves were educated, the perplexing southern question would have been greatly relieved."

by Thomas E. Goodrich, of Brutus, was hardly up to the remainder of the pro gram. "In this age, when men are so engaged in commerce and business, it is good to search the history of the Puritans for inspiration. Spurned by sovereigns and people whom they loved, they set torth for another shore and set up a government of 1 berty. Equality, liberty and holiness were their chief features, and this government has ripened into the best on earth.'

made as follows: "The Past Year," re-ponse by Prof. W. S. Perry, who welcomed the alumni and then proceeded to give a brief sketch of the school not only during the past year, but during the past quarter of a century. He said that among other additions contemplated was a special course in "circus training," but that this would probably be abandoned, owing to the recent disaster which had followed the first attempt of the University students to make practical use of it. For co education, Prof. Perry had many words of praise, even showing that the practical benefits of this system were being received by more than one of the trachers in the school.

"What the Public Schools should do for the State," response by Regent C. R. Whitman. Figures were given by the speaker showing that the state expends over $6,000,000 for the public schools. For this the young student must owe the state a great debt. The duty these young people should perform in return is to see that the state is made better and the government stronger through the higher education of its people, and the young men who have thus received their education, should take an active interest in caring for the political affairs of the country.

'The School Board" was responded to by J. E. Beal, '78; "The Class of 90," "A l fe of patient life has passed, yea, a short life," response by H. H. Sharpless of the graduating class.

The closing sentiment was "To thine own self be true: Thou cannot then be false to anyone," to which Fred C. Clarke, '84, responded in both a witty and serious mood.

The June Eclectic offers much excellent reading matter to its patrons. An interesting description of the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, by a soldier in the ranks, opens the number. A clever paper on "Poets and Puritans" is followed by a study of the Berlin Labor Conference, by Émile Olliver. Africa, which now absorbs so much public attention, is made the occasion of three striking articles-"Africa South of the Equator. by Anglo-African; "German Aims in by Anglo-African; "German Aims in Eastern Africa," and a personal study of Henry M. Stanley. All of these are sufficiently good to attract attention. Herbert Spencer discusses "Justice" with his usual philosophical ability, and Prof. Huxley has some important words to say on "Government" and its modern tendencies. Under the head of "A Girl's Religion," James Sully con-tributes a curious and suggestive paper. tributes a curious and suggestive paper. There are also excellent minor articles. Published by E. R. the word socialistic in a philosophic sense -has been and still is rapidly gaining ground in legislation and civil administration. Opportunities will be afforded to many of you to show whether you are demagogues, watching only for winds of popular favor which shall waft you into office, or men, brave as well as thoughtful, daring to stand by the decisions which your judgment approves concerning the true functions of municipal, state and national governments.

Equally pertinent illustrations might be drawn from the domains of ethical, philosophical and religious thought, concerning which there are in this age so many conflicting views, to show how you are to need both clear vision and the courage of your convictions, if you are to wield a positive and beneficial influence.

But some of you, perhaps most of you, will say with becoming humility, that you are not looking to the posts of conspicious leadership, but rather to the discharge of such modest duties as fall to the great mass, even of the college-bred men and women. Still, even if you are not called to positions of preeminent responsibility, you may well cherish the brave and heroid spirit which has been already commended. No harder test of exalted courage awaits the general at the head of his troops than is laid upon the lonely private on picket duty at night in the face of foe. I love to think how populous the world is with un-recognized herces. All about us, nay, on these very benches are men as capable as Ridley or Latimer of going to the stake for truth.'

In closing, Dr. Angell said : "Does the philosophy which underlies our exhortstions seem to be stern and exacting? Surely it is no more so than that which breathes through the teachings of our Lord and Master. If any one of you has no higher aim than to drift lazily down the stream of existence, perhaps you can so drift, but the question is whether such a voyage is worth making. I am sure that to-day loftier purposes inspire your hearts. Earnest and stremons views of the sinformer and stremons views of the significance and opportunities and responsibilities of life are not unwelcome to you. The challenge which life flings down to you to-day, you are ready to accept with a dauntless spirit. Your brave hearts glow with the gaudia certaminis. The contest attracts you rather than repels you. Possibly the peril of some of you springs from undue confidence and untried courage. Press bravely forward. Cherish your noblest and most heroic purposes. If God sends you to the thickest of the fight for righteousness and truth, remember that he does it because he would bring your character to its highest development, and because the victory of righteousness and truth is the supreme end he has in view. Rejoice that he has pronounced his bene-diction on your life."

Nature has a garret from which she furnishes us. Dame Fashion has her garret, in which are stored old bonnets, dresses and even furniture, and which she brings out for each generation. Still another is the mental garret, which is stored with the cast-off luggage of the mind, and too often is this mental garret so over-stocked that nothing can be found when wanted. Queer things are found here, old superstitions being the queerest. The household garrets are useful; Mother Nature's gar-ret is a necessity: Dame Fashon's garret could not be dispensed with; but it is not a good idea to have a mental garret, so stored with indiscriminate knowledge that none of it can be used. Our knowledge should be placed in the living rooms of the mind where it can be used, rather than stored in the garret."

" JONATHAN AND JOHN BROWN

by Charles W. Ricketts, of Ashmore, Ill., was the closing oration. "Slavery, which spread out over the south until it struck the fortieth parallel, was the real cause of the civil war, and secession and the lost cause' were to be only another method of making slavery stronger. But that war is now ended and peace should reign. Love and patriotism should bind us to our southern brother and in turn should bind him to us. While speaking of abolition and the freedom of the slaves, we naturally think of the hero of Har-per's Ferry, 'Old John Brown,' who devoted his whole life to attain this object. There are but three great men of our -Abraham Lincoln, U. S. Grant and Old John Brown-and the respect of all Americans for these men should be forever great."

The diplomas were then presented to the graduating class, numbering eightyeight in all, the degrees conferred in the different courses being: Classical course, 13; Latin course, 11; English course, 18; cientific course, 22; engineering course, 10; commercial course, 14. Emma J. McMorran, Frillie G. Beckwith, Gertrude F. Hamilton and John E. Hosmer each received degrees in two courses, making the number of graduates 84. The exercises were closed by the rendering of a waltz, 'Love's Treasure," by the orchestra, followed by the bened c ion.

The June Magazine of American His-tory is as usual rich with interest. In the opening article, "Some Old New Yorkers," the Hon. Charles K. Tuckerman presents a most entertaining variety of personal reminiscence. The sec-ond article is an illustrated sketch of the famous Simon Kenton of early Kentucky, by Miss Annie E. Wilson. Then follows a strong, carefully prepared historic essay on Canadian af-fairs, by Dr. Prosper Bender, styled "Our Northern Neighbors, Difficulties to Union, Race and Creed Troubles, Un-certain Future." Mrs. Lamb furnishes an agreeable picture of social and other antioue motters as seen through corresantique matters as seen through corres pondence a century old, called "American Belles and Brides in England." Franklin A. Becher contributes, "A Study of Political Parties," crowded with good points. Subscription price $5 a year. 743 Broadway, New York.

The Forum for June, edited by Lorettus S. Metcalf, contains: New England and the New Tariff Bill, Roger Q. Mills; Culture and Current Orthodoxy, Dr. A J. F. Behrends; Formative Influences, W. E. H. Leckey; The Limits of Realism in Fiction, Edmund Gosse; Genius and Woman's Intuition, Prof. Lester F.Ward; American Interests in Africa, Henry S. MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

ROBBING A GOLD MINE.

Systematic Ore Stealing Operations of the Michigan's Employes.

The advent of the new management at the Michigan gold mine near Marquette inaugurates a new policy. Superin-tendent Ford has not only decided to curtail expenses, but is also determined to know what has become of upwards of $80,000 worth of mineral that authentic report says has already been mined from the Michigan. Thousands of dollars' worth has been traced to the trunks of miners, some of whom fled the district before their thefts were discovered. Stumps, logs, ash-heaps and innumerable other equally innocent-looking localities have been found to be the convenient recep-tacles of golden chunks, where the treasure could await safe conveyance from the premises. There are circumstances that direct suspicion to employes higher in position than miners. As a precautionary measure, all employes are now required to change their clothing on the premises.

A Woman Holds Her Paramour While

by sixty-one observers in different parts of the State for the week ended on the 14th indicated that cholera morbus, typho-malarial fever, puerperal fever, cerebro-spinal meningitis, whooping cough, scarlet fever and cholera infantum increased, and diphtheria, membranous croup and pleuritis decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty places, scarlet fever at twenty-four, typhoid fever at eight and measles at forty-one places.

Very Near Death.

Walter Freeman, a Brush electric light lineman, ascended a pole at Detroit the other day to cut a loop, and while sitting upon the lower arm of the pole tightening a wire for a cross section he was shocked to insensibility, and only escaped falling through his feet and arms catching in the guy wires. He was taken down apparently dead but soon recovered.

Fire in the Detroit Steel Works.

A fire the other afternoon in the hammer-shop connected with the crucible department of the Detroit steel and spring works destroyed the building. The loss, which includes several furnaces and much valuable machinery, was estimated at $50,000 and was insured for something more than $25,000. Forty men were thrown out of employment

Drowned at Detroit.

The other afternoon a party of young men boarded the yacht Crescent in Detroit and started for a cruise up the river. When off Peach island Charles Hunt slipped and fell overboard and before he could be reached by his friends went down for the last time. He was 21 years of age and unmarried.

SWEPT BY STORMS.

Death and Destruction Caused by Cyclone and Flood.

Fourteen Persons Lose Their Lives in Illinois-Two Towns in Nebraska Obliterated-Great Loss of Property Reported.

IN ILLINOIS.

PAW PAW, Ill., June 23 .- The first accounts of the destruction caused by the cyclone which swept through the outskirts of this town were somewhat exaggerated owing to the great excitement and confusion which prevailed. So far as any one here is able to learn the deaths make a total of fourteen, seven of them inmates of the school-house caught in the whirlwind. Those in the school, none of whom escaped, were: Maggie McBride, the teacher; Edna Hunt, 8 years old; Jennie Radley, 7 years; Ada Rudolph. 8 years; Minnie Berry, 11 years; Lona Prentice, 12 years, and Carey White, Jr., 13 years.

The others found dead were: Peter Ream, an old farmer; Robert Odkirt, 11 years old; an unknown child, killed in Brooklyn township; Mrs. Bitner, of Sublette; Mrs. Bolache and two children of Compton.

Nearly all the people whose houses were wrecked received bruises, in some cases of a severe nature.

SUBLETTE, 111., June 23 .- Friday's storm started about four miles west and north of Sublette, first destroying the houses of William R. Long and Charles Hatch, then sweeping down upon the north part of the little village of Sublette, dealing death and de-struction. Mrs. Frederick Bitner, of Sublette, was killed. Among those injured are the wife and mother of Henry Wolff, Mrs. Joseph Clink, Mrs. Bee, Peter Laugan, George Kaylor, wife and four children; George Bachelor's son, Mrs. Casper Eysenbocher and two children, Mrs. Reynolds and daughters, Carrie, Edith, Lucy and Mary; Mrs. George Kaylor, William McAlbs, wife and two children; Grace Barton, all of Sublette.

IN NEBRASKA.

KEARNEY, Neb., June 23.-A cyclone struck the village of Pleasanton, twenty miles north of here, Sunday alternoon, at 2 o'clock, and wiped out the entire town. Only meager reports can be ob-tained of the damage to property outside of the town. Pleasanton is situated at the terminus of the Nantasket division of the Union Pacific and was only recently incorporated. The place contained about 150 people, all of whom are homeless. The hotel, which was the largest structure, was blown to pieces and scattered in the path of the cyclone. The proprietor was seriously hurt. E. Howendobber, a druggist of Bertrand, was struck on the head by a piece of flying timber and received a bad wound. He was brought here and is in a semi-con-clous condition.

RAVENNA, Neb., June 23 .- A tornado struck Sweetwater, a little hamlet six miles west of here, Sunday afternoon destroying $50,000 worth of property at the least consideration, with no insur-ance. Every building in the town, with its contents, is a complete loss to the owners. The fine 100-barrel roller mill, crected two years ago at a cost of $25. 00, is a complete wreck; also a residence just completed by Mrs. Jane L. Goff. No lives were lost. A man and his son, named Thomas, sustained serious injuries.

OMAHA, Neb., June 24.-Between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday night a severe electric storm accompanied by wind and rain swept over this city. Cellars were flooded in various parts of town and much property destroyed by water. On Thirteenth street lightning killed a team of horses attached to a street car. At 2,013 Manderson street, in the northern portion of the city, the house of R. A. Jacobson was struck. Jacobson was killed and his wife and children badly hurt. At South Omaha the roof was blown off the Grand Cen-tral Hotel and the interior flooded. A two-story house occupied by R. E. Kuhn was struck and burned. Mrs. Kuhn and two children were ren-dered unconscious by the shock and were rescued from the burning building by firemen who discovered them by the merest chance. Damage here and in suburbs will reach $30,000. IN INDIANA.

Five of the largest railroad bridges in the city, six large wagon bridges, eighteen dwelling houses, besides innumerable other things, were carried down White Clay creek and hurled against the Sixth street viaduct. Mayor Wagoner has 200 men at work removing the debris. The damage to the city is a great deal heavier than was first thought, as every business firm suffered more or less. The water mains burst during the storm and the city is now without water and protection from fire. All the railroad tracks in the vicinity are badly washed and trains are abandoned. Crops are badly washed throughout the country districts. The damage in the city and country is estimated at $150,000. As yet no lives have been reported as lost. The storm was confined to a small streak along the Missouri river. IN WISCONSIN.

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis., June 21 .-The heaviest rain-storm of the season visited this section Friday morning. The damage to crops, bridges, milldams and saw-mills throughout country is very great. CONGRESSMAN ALLEN.

The Washington correspondent of the Detroit Tribune in an interesting sketch of the Michigan members of the House of Representatives, said the following pleasant things about our able and popular representative:

Capt. Allen has interested himself in the detail work of the committee on agriculture, where his special knowledge has been of decided service in the work has been of decided service in the work of building a department out of a bu-reau. The agricultural bill carries an appropriation of $1,500,000, and it is the intention to build up the department of agricultural until it shall equal in its field the postoffice, the war and the navy departments in their special fields. He has also been doing good work on the pure lard and pure food bills. He in-troduced a bill to prevent the adultera-tion of foods and drugs, but has worked for the passage of the best bill rather than for his own measure. That is to say, he has shown himself a wise legis-lator in advocating the measures which, all things considered, seem most likely all things considered, seem most likely to succeed and reach the ends sought. to succeed and reach the ends sought. Capt. Allen has further sought to have enacted a law which shall give postoffi-ces to all cities when the postal reve-nues shall reach a certain amount. does not approve of the present hap-hazard method of erecting public build-ing without rule or reason. In addition to these duties Capt. Allen has been called to preside over the com-mittee of the whole house more fre-quently than any other member save Mr. Burrows. When by an oversight on the part of the speaker Mr. Allen did not get assignments to as many commit-tees as many other members of his standing in the house, the Tribune sug-gested that Speaker Reed would take advantage of the captain's knowledge of parliamentary detail, his unfailing good nature and his quickness by calling him frequently to the chair. This has proved to be the case and the results have been most happy. Capt. Allen has spoken frequently and his remarks on farm mortgages have especially wor-ried the democrats. Capt. Allen has introduced a bill to make the fact of enlistment and active service for sixty daysimmediately there-after conclusive as to physical sound-service for sixty days immediately there-after conclusive as to physical sound-ness at the time of the enlistment; also one to pension all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served in the soldiers and sailors who served in the rebellion for ninety days or more, the monthly rate to be one cent for each day's service, but no pension to be less than $8 per month. The captain has also introduced a bill to prevent food and drug adulterations and misbrandings, and got through the resolution for the tunnel survey at Detroit. He has introduced eight pension bills, one bill for honorable discharge and one claim bill.

Tuesday was warmer than the previ-ous day if possible, but this did not de-ter a large audience from assembling in

The exercises opened with "Fra Dia-vola" by the orchestra, prayer and an-other selection, "Morning Song," by the Chequamegons.

Two more selections by the orchestra closed the morning program. In the afternoon the exercises were continued under the "Tappan Oak," a pleasant change from the hot room where the morning exercises were held. After a selection, "Jupiter," had been rendered by the orchestra, J. A. C. Hild-ner read the history of the class. He recited in detail their struggles and vic-tories of the four years, giving nearly every member a personal hit. From the history the following facts were gleaned: The majority of the class are of English descent, although one young man claimed to the historian that he was a direct descendent of his satanic

ALUMNI DAY.

The Literary Alumui.

The "hottest" meeting of the year was that of the Literary Alumni Society, held in the chapel, yesterday afternoon. held in the chapel, yesterday afternoon. About a hundred were present, a ma-jority of them being graduates of the older classes. The routine business was transacted, after which the shortage of Zina P. King, the former treasurer, be-came the interesting topic of discussion. The figures given by Mr. King of the cash on hand and as found by the becad of trustees showed a deficit of cash on hand and as found by the board of trustees showed a deficit of nearly $18,000. Of this amount the society will save about $7,500 from the property turned over by Mr. King, leaving a loss of $10,500. The question of commerce are criminal

The question of commer c ng criminal proceedings against Mr. King was brought up by Justice C. B. Grant, of the supreme court, who denounced the offender in the strongest terms and of-fered a resolution instructing the board to commence criminal proceedings against him. After an animated dis-cussion on both sides, the resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 21 to 3, a large number net voting. a large number not voting. The board, who felt that a moral obligation was over them, were authorized to return to Mrs. King any property that she owned and had deeded to the

After electing W. H. Wells, of Detroit, president, and a full corps of officers, the society adjourned.

Other Alumni Meetings.

The most important address of the day was that delivered by Mr. Justice Harlan, of the U.S. supreme court, be-fore the alumni and students of the law department. The subject of Justice Harlan's address was "National Power," and his argument was on national rights and state rights, his theory being that neither should be restricted by the other; that each had their functions and together they must stand or fall.

two-fold: 1. The efforts of the workingmen themselves, by means of co operation. 2. State action.
As the first method of self-improvement, I would suggest the thorough organization of the producing and laboring classes. Much of the real dvancement in the last century is due to combinations among the wage-earners. By this, equality of condition is approximately secured in the negotiation between the two parties. The employee feels a sense of independence and the employer realizes that he must not be too haughty in his demands.
Another method that has generally proved successful and has bettered the condition of the workingmen is co-operation.
Tet when the wage-workers have done all that lies within their power they are far from having won their rightful position in society. Further advancement might be accomplished through the agency of the state. What direction the increase of state action should take I must rather hint than discuss. There are a number of industries the conform to the law of increasing returns. The evit shar treas there all competition or continued competition; railroads, telegraphs, gasworks, street car lines are examples of industries the deal operated by the state.
Boh al I time, I would urge that the state pass further factory act, restrict immigration, make the legal day's work less than ten hours, suppress the liquor traffic and other measures that believe would tend to solve the labor question."
Following the "Poem of Love" and "Court Dance" by the orchestra, Miss Grace H. Harrah read the class poem, entilled "Fettered, but Free." The The pharmacy alumni gathered in large numbers and held a pieasant banquet at noon, at Hangsterfer's. An ad-dress was delivered by Francis T. Bower, of Ohio.

The other departments and a number of the classes held lively reunions. The production of "The Light of Asia" by the Choral Union, at the com-mencement concert was a decided success. A crowd numbering 1,600 was present and enjoyed the rendering of the piece greatly.

The Regents' Meeting.

The June meeting of the board of re-gents commenced Tuesday morning and lasted until last evening. This is the important meeting of the year, as at this time the degrees are conferred. Prof. Winchell made a plea for an ad-dition to the museum in order to supply dition to the museum in order to supply a place for carrying on the work in ge-clogy, zoology, botany and mineralogy. The proposed addition and remodeling the museum will cost $50,000.

Prof. Thomas laid before the regents a plan to establish a quarterly publica-tion, to include matters that cannot now be inserted in the calendar. The main part of the work done was in executive session. The plans for the new hospital was the leading topic dis-cussed. The plans now call for a larger appropriation than the board has, and an attempt was made to bring the cost down within the $75,000 allowed. The regents finally decided to return the plans to the architect to have them amended ε_0 that the building can be

SENIOR CLASS RECEPTION.

The swell reception of the year was given Tuesday evening by the seniors of given Tuesday evening by the seniors of the literary department, and was not in-ferior to any of its predecessors. Fully a thousand attended, one-third of whom were dancers. The large pavilion and the corridors were tastily decorated, and were lighted with arc lights. An arc light upon the dome lighted the front of the University, the effect being soft-ened by hundreds of fancy lanterns hung in arches across the walk leading to the main entrance. The whole scene to the main entrance. The whole scene, both within and without, was as bril-

John F. Lawrence offered the board a tract of land on State-st for the pro-posed gymnasium, and a committee upon the matter was appointed.

Dr. J. N. Martin was reappointed act-ing professor of obstetrics, etc. There was a strong effort made to ring in an-other Detroit man, Dr. E. C. Jenks, for this position, and it looked for a time as though the effort would work, as the board were tied on the appointment. The greatest surprise was the resignation of Dr. H. F. Lyster from the chair of theory and practice of medicine, which was promptly accepted. It is understood that Dr. Lyster was given the choice of fulfilling the promise made when he was appointed, of removing to Ann Arbor, or resigning. The executive committee was empowered to choose his successor.

The board adjourned until July 28.

SCROFULA

MR.WILSEY,

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors;" which, fasten-ing upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. The Beautiful Guild.

ANN ARBOR, June 7th, 1890.

DEAR SIE :- I enclose the testimonial for which you asked. It gives me pleasure to send it to you, as I like my piano so much. When you can make it convenient, come out and see how it has stood the wear and tear of nine years. Yours Truly,

LILLIE BAESSLER.

* * * With regard to the Guild purchased of you nine years ago. * * * Its tone is as mellow and sweet as ever, and in standing in tune I have never seen its equal. Any one contemplating the purchase of a piano, will find it to their interest to examine the Guild. Respectfully,

LILLIE BAESSLER.

The Guild has stood "wear and tear" better, and held its own better than any piano I have ever sold. Over 25,000 have been manufactured, and sold very largely in Boston and vicinity. The great music publishing house of Ditson & Co. has sold over 800 of them in the City of Boston. The simple (patent) tuning device is the greatest improvement of the day, and will save expense to the owner, besides the satisfaction of having a piano constantly in tune.

The swinging music desk running the entire length of the piano is perfection. They please, they sell. Why? See them, and you will learn. Manufactured in Boston for nearly thirty years.

To Investors and Home Seekers!

Hamilton, Rose & Sheehan's ADDITION to the City of ANN ARBOR

We believe Ann Arbor is the Best City in Michigan INEWHICH TO LIVE.

The Educational Advantages here are unsurpassed ! The Streets are broad and well kept ! Ann Arbor has a low rate of taxation! It has the best system of Water Works in the West.

Our Addition is just five Blocks from the University of Michigan ; it has a front of One Hundred Rods on State Street, the best residence street in the city. Its location is unsurpassed for health and convenience. The levels taken by our Engineer, Geo. W. Sanborn, show the lowest point to be higher than Main Street in front of the Savings Bank. The slope of the ground is such that the drainage is perfect, having a fall of from six to ten feet. We have laid drain pipe through our land.

We have filed our Plat and have given

81-2 Acres for a Park.

We have paid Fifty Dollars for a handsome and attractive plan for a Park.

Work has commenced on the streets and Park. Seven new houses are already contracted for to be built upon our Addition this year. New sidewalks have been laid, 1,100 shade trees have been planted upon the streets and Park. Two professors in the University have already purchased Lots in this addition, and will soon build good houses on thei lots. Hutzel & Co. have donated a handsome Fountain for the Park.

All the Lots have an Alley 16 feet Wide, working model, two and one-half inches in diameter, which runs, under full pressure, to more than 7,000 revolutions per minute. The motor is set in an or-dinary T waterpipe and is fed by a halfinch jet.

Picket: William Prentice, of Northfield, was arrested on Sunday charged with taking the horse and buggy be-longing to Marshal Borden from the streets of South Lyon and driving him all over the country, finally leaving him unhitched in the highway of Northfield. The warrant was issued by K. Calkins. His examination is adjourned to next Thursday forenoon. In the mean time he sojourns in jail in default of bail.

Milan Leader: On Wednesday even-ing J. S. Bray lost a twenty-dollar bill on the street in the vicinity of Thomp-son's store. That pesky bill lay right still where it fell, without saying "noth-in' to nobody," all night and early yes-terder ways are stated as by Mesterday morning was picked up by Mrs. M. A. Burt, who was going to advertise the same in the newspaper, when along came the owner himself, inquiring for his lost property.

The Patrons of Industry have announced through their state organiza-tions that they do not intend to nomi-nate a state ticket this fall. It seems that their purpose is rather to attend the cancuses and see that men favorable to their cause are nominated. The farmers are honestly striving to better their condition, and their prosperity means the prosperity of the nation. In demanding honesty and economy in public affairs, they voice the sentiment of every good citizen .- Livingston Republican.

WHERE TO SPEND THE SUMMER.

If Undecided, Perhaps This Will Help You.

Where to go, what to do, how to do it, and the expense involved-questions agitating so many households, contemporary with the advent of summer, are all answered satisfactorily in the pages of the handsome volume entitled "Health and Pleasure," just issued by the Passenger Department of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad.

The book is profusely illustrated, contains several valuable maps, and the im-formation is presented in a concise, yet readable manner. It embraces an extensive list of summer hotels and boarding houses along the Hudson, among the Cats-kills, in the Adirondack Monotains, at Saratogs, Lake George, Niagara Falls, and other famous resorts.

Copies of the book may be obtained free upon application to W. B. Jerome, General Western Agent, No. 97 Clark St., Chicago, or will be mailed post-paid upon receipt of ten cents in stamps, by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Gran 1 Central Station, New York.

GATHERING OF NATIONS.

THE GRAND GLADIATORIAL EXHIBI-TIONS OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE.

Why the Colliseum Was Built-Probable Use of the Vast Enbankments of the Mound Builders-Immense Fairs of Ancients and Moderns, and the Attractions That Draw the Multitudes Together,

Before modern times the vastest and most practical civilization the world ever saw was that of the world embracing Roman empire. In some things that still pertain to civilization the colossal enterprises of the Romans surpassed modern effort. Perhaps the most wonderful of modern colossal enterprises are world's fairs, like the American Centennial in 1876, and the great French fair of 1889 in Paris, in which it seemed as if the arts, manufactures and inventions of the whole world were collected, and all the nations of the earth joined together to celebrate. But the ancient Roman empire held a world's fair in the month of May every year, in which immense crowds of people poured into Rome from all the then known nations of the world, bringing their rarest manufactures and products. And while in Rome these vast multitudes were amused and delighted by a splendid cories of imperial displays, military, naval, civic and religious; games, races, GLADIATORIAL CONTESTS, FIGHTS OF WILD BEASTS, and every form of spectacle, exercise and display that the world could then furnish. Nor can the moderns, with all their crystal palaces and other vast world's fair structures, at all compete with the vast permanent buildings that Rome provided for such occasions. Rome established amphitheatres for her fairs and great gatherings in all the countries she con-quered, and everywhere on a colossal scale. Their ruins are among the world's archæological wonders. There was one in England that could seat 15,000 people: one in Gaul (France) that could seat 15,000 people; one people and others of vast size in Austria, Egypt, and other countries. But the greatest of all was the immortal colliseum at Rome, which could seat 125,000 people, and contain almost a 100,000 more. It is plainly evident that the city of Rome alone, even when her population had reached 1,000,000 souls, could not need such a gigantic structure for spectacles and games. History mentions a number of instances where there was such a rush for seats that entrance tickets commanded two or three prices, and had to be pro-cured some time in advance. This was because such multitudes of strangers had flowed into Rome from all over the world, at the time of her great fairs, largely drawn by the magnificent games, spectacles and

COMBATS OF THE AMPITHEATRE, as well as by the other attractions of the imperial fairs and celebrations. There are many archaeologists who believe that the still vast mounds, circles, enclosed arenas, etc., of the prehistoric mound builders of America were used for some-what like nurnoss mational assemblance what like purposes-national assemblages for religious and commercial fairs, with attendant spectacles, games and ceremo-nies. In Ohio is one great circle or oval, acres in extent, to which, from the water of the river was a carefully graded broad road, guarded on each side by embankments. Why such a road, unless to bring up from the river goods, wares, animals, or other objects, especially heavy or difficult burdens? Surely a broad and easy graded way would not be made leading into a fort. Among the mound builders' enclosed circles, ovals and squares are many that would readily seat upon their embankments from 30,000 to 500,000 people so that every one could be an easy spectator of any games, religious ceremonies, or sacrifices, or athletic, or warlike con-

A Chance to Make Money.

MR. EDITOR :- I bought one of Griffith's machines for plating with gold, silver or nickel and it works to perfection. No sooner did the people hear of it than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.30, the first month $167.85, and I think by July 1st I will have $1,000 cash and give my farm considerable attention, too. My daughter made $27.40 in four days. Any person can get one of these machines by sending $3 to W. H. Griffith & Co., Zanesville, O., or can obtain circulars by addressing them. You can learn to use the machine in one hour. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been.

Yours truly, M. O. MOREHEAD.

Edward Silvey, Chicago, gives testimony: "My wife had Catarrh twenty-five years bofore she began to use your remedy. Unable to breathe except through the mouth; in a most critical condition. Tried everything without relief, when Dr. Streeter advised her to buy Clarke's Extract of Flax (Papillon) Catarrh Cure. Relief followed immediately. She con-tinued to use it until she is now entirely cured. Her health has not been so good in many years." Price $1.00. Wash the baby with Clarke's Flax Soap. 25 cents. The Great Benefit

Which people in a run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weak-ened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stag. No man or woman now living will ever date s locument without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ter years and then move up to second place in 1900 where it will rest for one bundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respec that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889 where, after a severecontest with the leading ma chines of the world, it was awarded the only chines of the world, it was awarded in our Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, al others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company. with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machino, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grand-est advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.

tests or combats upon the vast le within the enclosure. To be successful a great fair must be a great holiday festival. And the managers of such fairs closely studied the most taking popular attractions. Hence, in the ruder ages, Christains and others under the ban of the laws were thrown to wild beasts to be devoured, gladiators slew each other, wrestlers and boxers, racers and athletics of all sorts contended for championships; in the later ages of chiv-alry armored knights contended in bloody lists, and yeomen archers shot at butts, or held bouts of long and quarter staff, intermingled with bear, bull and badger baiting with savage dogs. It was at such fairs that Robin Hood won his early fame as the incomparable bowman, both before and after he became the bold outlaw of the Greenwood forest.

Great modern fairs and expositions ap-peal to the nobler tastes of our higher civilization. Still it is the same spirit-the same necessity. The world's fair at Paris last year put up the wonderful Eiffel tower, 1,000 feet high, for a grand spectacle, and also exhibited scores of taking shows and pageants and popular pleasures.

The Detroit International Exposition, THE GREAT AMERICAN CONTINENTAL FAIR AND EXPOSITION OF 1890, provides a ten days' festival of all that can delight the eye and ear, and appeal to the popular heart in the way of pleasure and amusement as well as instruction. The world renowned as instruction. The world renowned Cappa's Seventh Regiment band, of New York, with forty eminent soloists, will give daily and nightly free grand concerts -the finest music in America. The magnificent art hall will be filled with the choicest American and European paintings, statues and other art works, besides those two grandest great paintings of the present age—Makoffsky's magnificently beautiful "The Judgment of Paris," for the prize of beauty among the Greek goddesses, and Munkacsy's immortally grand religious painting of "Christ on Calvary." These paintings will be shown with all the weird and beautiful effects of the best modern electric lights. There will be horse races-trotting and running-by the best horses in America; foot races and all cance races and regattas; balloon ascan-sions with appalling drops from the clouds by both men and women; parades, pa-gents and displays; the most magnificent pyrotechnic, scenic and dramatic display of "The Last Days of Pompeii," with $2,-000 worth of fireworks every evening; and many other attractions, besides all the al-lurements of the greatest fair and exposition of the year, held at the pleasantest season, in the most charming city to visit, with theatres, opers, and all sorts of river, lake and railway excursions daily and nightly."

Obituary.

Ada L. Upson was born March 26th, 1864. Through all the days of her childhood and early womanhood she knew none but the training of a dcvoted christian mother whose influence upon her character was traceable in all she did. At the age of fifteen she be-came a member of the M. E. church, and was ever active and earnest in her religious duties, both in the home and in the church.

She had a beautiful Christian character that found expression in continual acts of kindness and care for others, and especially did she look forward to and especially did she bow for what to bringing hope and comfort into lives that have but few of the bright things of this world. Truly her works shall live after her in the lives of many who came in contact with her. She was a member of the class of '83

in the Ann Arbor High School, and to all the members of that class the news

Vanilla, chocolate, coffee, pistachio, strawberry, macaroon, tutifruitti, bisque, nonquat. All Sunday orders should be given the day previous. tf E. V. HANGSTERFER & Co.

It is a Good Thing.

Ann Arbor, June 12, 1890. ED. REGISTER : The University author-ities are entitled to great credit for putting down such a magnificent Portland cement walk in front of the campus. We hope this will be a pattern for others. It is much nicer than stone, wears longer and very much cheaper. Let the good work begun continue and it will add greatly to the beauty of our city. Lord," at the temperance meeting at Cropsey's hall, next Sunday afternoon.

Miss Eugenia Gregory, daughter of Hon. J. V. N. Gregory, and E. J. Coy, of Jackson, were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Lima, last evening.

Michal Laubengayer was convicted before Justice Pond, Monday, of drunkenness and sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $14.90 or go to jail for twenty days.

More law cases have been commenced in the circuit court since last October than ever before. The large number of foreclosures of mortgages accounts for this increased business.

The fire alarm Tuesday afternoon was caused by a gasoline stove explosion at the residence of Mrs. Clancy, on Williamst. The fire was put out before the fire company arrived.

This looks like business at last. A. L. Noble was in Detroit, Monday, where he met Messrs. Corliss and McLaughlin and completed arrangements to furnish power for the electric street railway.

The stockholders of the Advance Refrigerator Co. met for organization, Friday evening, and elected the following direct-ors: Charles Hurd, J. E. Beal, C. E. Hiscock, G. F. Allmendinger, J. H. Wade.

Mrs. Kittie C. Sperry, wife of John H. Sperry, died at her residence, corner of Division and Catherine-sts, Monday, aged 53 years, of dropsy. Mr. and Mrs. Sperry moved into this city from the county about a year ago.

The supply pipe leading from the gas main to Eberbach's drug store, sprung a leak, Tuesday, and in the evening a lighted match being dropped on the ground above it, the gas ignited and furnished quite a brilliant illumination.

Already the democratic candidates for county clerk are commencing to lay their wires for the nomination. The leading candidates are ex-Mayor Beakes and Deputy Clerk Brown of this city, and Dr. D. P. McLachlan of York.

The probabilities are that the census will give Ann Arbor a little short of 10,000. In all the wards except one, the work was thoroughly done, but it is understood that in one ward enough were skipped to swell the total above these figures.

At the meeting of the State Medical Society which was held at Grand Rap ds last week, Dr. W. F. Breakey was elected chairman of the judicial committee. Miss Dr. Florence Huson, formerly of this city, was elected third vice-president.

Charles S. Fall resigned his position at the Two Sams, Tuesday, for the purpose of taking active charge of building the street railway, which is to be pushed through now as rapidily as possible. The final survey was commenced this morning and it is expected that the track-layers will be at work next week. The rails were shipped from the factory, last Saturday.

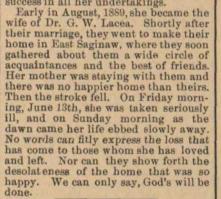

The executive committee of the Farm ers' Picnic Association of Washtenaw Wayne, Oakland and Livingston counties met here Saturday, and fixed upon August 23 as the date for the annual picnic. The question of location was left to a committee, with the understanding that committee, with the understanders place the picnic shall be held at the best place the highest bid. Why shouldn't Ann Arbor get the picnic this year ?

Mayor Manly having won in his battles against the bicyclists, is now waging war against the drivers of hacks and baggagewagons who abuse their horses. On Monday he caught the driver of a baggage wagon running his horses and whipping tham, and the lecture which his honor gave him was worse than six months in jail The mayor is bound to stop this practice and the next offender will not get off 10 easily.

Roberts Tracy Gillmore, grandson of the deceased Judge Roberts S. Wilson, of Chicago, formerly a resident of Ann Ar-bor, and Miss Emma Wheat Hastings, who receives her diploma from the medical department this week, both students of Michigan University, were married at the bride's home, in Quincy, at the resi-dence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wheat. Among the presents re-ceived was a deed, presented to the bride by her grandparents, of an elegant home completely furnished.

It is unnecessary to remark to any of our citizens that the senior laws defeated the senior lits by a score of 11 to 9 at base wall, Monday, thus winning the in-terclass championship banner. Anybody within fifty miles ought to have heard the celebration of the laws when they re-ceived the banner, Monday night. The winning team in hacks preceeded by the Organ Works band, and followed by a howling crowd of jubilant laws each armed with a fish horn and a bunch of fire crackers, paraded the stree's. At the law building the banner was presented and received. The houses of Profs. Rogers, Thompson and Knowlton were visited and speeches made, and the different fraternity houses treated to a serenade. The victory cry of the laws was "Now, Jimmy, tell'em how to do it," and this was heard long into the night.

of her death will come harshly, for she was a favorite with every one. After having taught for a time she entered the academic department of the Uni-versity of Michigan, and spent two years there as a member of the class of ^{190.} Bright, energetic and happy in mind and character she won complete success in all her undertakings.
