MIDSUMMER NUPTIALS.

A NUMBER OF QUIET AND INFORMAL WEDDINGS.

In Which Several Ann Arbor Young People Take a Prominent Part.—Cooley-Jones—Boutwell-Smith—McAllister-Falconer.

Amid all the mid-summer dullness, the list of the happily married is constantly increasing. Three of Ann Arbor's most estimable young ladies have, this week, linked their fortunes with those of three young men, equally estimable, and there is a prospect that their example will soon be followed by others. The worst of it is that all these young couples will locate elsewhere than in Ann Arbor, and were it not that new-comers are constantly swelling the ranks of our young people, the loss would be extremely hard to bear. Ann Arbor people, however, are very unselfish and will be ready to overlook their own interests in the hearty congratulations which they will extend to those who are about to leave us.

M'ALLISTER-FALCONER.
A quiet wedding took place at the residence of H. M. Taber, on Monday afternoon, when Eugene L. McAllister and Miss Katherine N. Falconer were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Gelston. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were invited. Those from abroad were Mrs. McLane and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McAllister, who were recently married at Jackson. The happy couple have started for a trip on the lakes and will go as far as the Saull, whence they will return to their future home in Detroit. The bridegroom is a son of J. L. P. McAllister, of this city. He graduated from the University in the spring of 1889 and holds a good position with the Detroit Dry Dock Co. The bride is well known in Ann Arbor. In 1886, she graduated from the Ann Arbor high school and since then has devoted her attention almost entirely to music. From her childhood she has made her home with Mr. Taber, who is her uncle. A multitude of friends will wish the newly married couple long life and happiness.

BOUTWELL-SMITH.
Shortly after one o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, Miss Emily Louise Smith was married to Benjamin J. Boutwell. Rev. J. M. Gelston performed the ceremony. The bride wore a white silk dress with diamond ornaments. There were no bridesmaids. The house was tastefully decorated, and everything connected with the wedding was simple and unostentatious. Mr. Gelston called the bride and groom to one side and quietly spoke the important words, scarcely attracting the attention of the company who were present. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom, in this city, were invited to the wedding. Those present from abroad were the groom's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Boutwell, with their three daughters, of Hillsdale; J. Nixon, of Charlotte; Miss Madge Woodworth, of Hillsdale; Miss Anderson, of Detroit; Miss Allie Ekliff, of Detroit; Miss Florence Grant, of Detroit; Mr. Pierce, of Milford; Mrs. J. B. Baldwin, of Fishkill, on the Hudson, and J. B. Clark, of Sioux Falls, Dak.

After the ceremony was performed, the bride and groom, without waiting for the usual congratulations, headed the company into the dining room, where elaborate refreshments were served. The newly married couple received many rich presents, including, among others, several valuable pieces of silverware and china. After a few hasty adieus, Mr. and Mrs. Boutwell took the fast train for Hillsdale, whence they will go directly to Seattle.

The bride is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith and has always lived in this city. She has been prominent in church and society circles and has won many warm friends. The groom is a graduate of Hillsdale college and of the law department in the University. He expects to practice law in Seattle, Wash., and will undoubtedly win that success which is due to his talents. Both bride and groom have many intimate acquaintances in this city, who will regret very much their departure from Ann Arbor.

COOLEY-JONES.
This evening, at eight o'clock, Charles Horton Cooley and Miss Elsie Jones will be united in the holy bond of matrimony. Rev. J. W. Bradshaw, of the Congregational church, will perform the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents. Only a few intimate friends of the bride and groom, in this city, will be present. Those from out of town, who are expected to be here, are Mr. Cooley's brothers, Eugene, of Lansing, and Edgar, of Bay City; Walter Parker, of Philadelphia; the Messrs. Pond, of Chicago, and Walbridge, of Toledo. The wedding will be quiet and informal. The newly married couple will take the night train for Washington, where they will make their home.

The groom is the third son of Judge Thomas M. Cooley. The greater part of his life has been spent in this city. In 1880, he graduated from the Ann Arbor high school and, after a two years' trip abroad, entered the university. He took his degree of A. B. in 1887. At present, he has a position in the census bureau at Washington. He is a young man of ability, and is very popular with all his associates.

The bride is very well known in this city. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jones. In 1888, she graduated from the classical course in the university. During her college course, Miss Jones won great admiration for her brilliant classroom work and also for her poetical achievements. Scarcely a college annual has appeared, in the course of the past six years, which has not contained some bright little gem from her pen. Since graduation, Miss Jones has devoted her attention to teaching, and during the past year, has successfully filled the position of Latin and Greek instructor in the Hyde Park (Ill.) high school.

SHORT AND HARMONIOUS.

The City Council Meeting on Monday Evening Last.—A Few Unimportant Matters Acted Upon.

The meeting of our city fathers, on Monday evening last, was brief and uninteresting. Very few matters came up for consideration, and these were acted upon without debate. All but three members, Ald. Kearns, O'Mara and Spafford, were present. President Howlett presided with as much dignity as if he had not just come from a place where fish and mosquitoes entered more often into his thoughts than finance bills or ordinances.

The council first considered the report of the board of public works, which recommended the following appropriations: $50 or more, to complete the work now being done on First-st; $125, to change the grade and drainage on N. University-ave; $250, to cut down the street and change the water course at the corner of Seventh and Madison-sts; $250, to be appropriated to the estate of J. M. Schuh, in consideration of which the city is to have all the gravel on the corner of Ashley and Williams-sts, until they are brought up to grade; $100 more, to finish the painting on the engine house; $250 for grading the north end of Fifth-ave. The board also recommended that a sidewalk be ordered built on the southeast side of Beakes-st, from Main to Detroit sts. All these recommendations were referred to the street committee, which took a recess of ten minutes to consider them. They were finally adopted by the council without change.

A petition was read, signed by a number of the residents of the sixth ward, who asked that the mains be extended to Fourteenth-st from the most convenient point. The matter was referred to the water committee.

The amended ordinance, relating to dogs passed through two readings. The most salient points contained in it are the following. No person is to be allowed to keep ferocious dogs. During June, July, August and September, all canines, whether as fierce as a "roaring lion" or as mild as a "sucking dove" are to be securely muzzled. All dogs not complying with this provision are to be impounded, and are not to be released until their owners pay a fine, which is to be $1.00 for a male and $2.00 for a female dog. All such dogs as are not claimed within forty eight hours, are to be killed, unless they can show a pedigree, in which case they are to be sold, the proceeds of the sale going to the city. Marshal Walsh is made pound-master. Several other unimportant provisions are added. While the ordinance was being read, considerable levity was apparent in the council chamber, and some of the more waggy aldermen suggested that the turn of cows and cats should come next.

The committee on finances recommended that $200 be added to the amount already appropriated to build a culvert on Seventh-st. The suggestion was adopted.

In accordance with the recommendation of the light committee, the council ordered that the light now located on the corner of Lawrence-st be placed in the center of the street; also that the light now at the intersection of Well and Fuller-sts be located at the foot of Thirteenth st on Fuller-st, and that the light on the corner of Detroit and Beakes-sts be placed on the north west corner of the bridge.

The poor committee made the following recommendations, which were adopted, viz: that, "when applications for aid in burying poor persons are made, the superintendent shall furnish such aid, either by burying the person at the city's expense and under the direction of the superintendent of the poor, or by furnishing a coffin at an expense not to exceed $10.

Ald. Martin offered a resolution that sidewalks be ordered built on the south side of Jones-st and the west side of Mill-st, in front of property owned by Stephen Moore, Himes Estate, Luther Boylan, Caroline Wilkinson and Herman Hind. The resolution was adopted.

One or two minor matters occupied the attention of the "fathers" until nine o'clock, when the council adjourned.

The Maccabee Excursionists.

About two hundred Knights of Maccabee, with their families and friends, took the special train for Toledo, on Tuesday morning last. They arrived at their destination at about ten o'clock and at once took the steamer, Evening Star, for a trip up the Maumee river to Perrysburg. After a hasty look at the historic Fort Meigs, they returned down the river to Presque Isle, where a picnic dinner was served. In the afternoon, they attended a pleasant entertainment given at the island opera house by the Boston Opera troupe. They left for Toledo at about 3.30 o'clock, and spent the remainder of the day viewing the sights of that busy city. The home-bound train was taken at eight o'clock. A somewhat smaller number of people attended the excursion than was expected, but the managers hope to be able to clear expenses at least. Those who went are enthusiastic over the good time which they enjoyed.

The Teachers' Institute

For Washtenaw County will be held at Ann Arbor, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., Monday, August 11, and closing at 4 P. M., Friday, August 15. The institute will be held in the high school building. It will be in charge of B. A. Hinsdale, Professor of Theory and Art of Teaching in the University of Michigan, conductor, assisted by Prof. Goodison, of the State Normal, and the County Board of School Examiners.

The Institute this year will be unusually interesting to the teacher, and no one should fail to attend. The County Board of Examiners will endeavor to make the institute of practical importance to teachers, and one per cent, for each day's attendance will be allowed to applicants for certificates. M. J. CAVANAUGH, Secy County Board of School Examiners.

German in the University.

CHICAGO, ILLS., July 22, 1890.

MR. EDITOR:—The practicability of a university education has, almost from the beginning of its existence in this country, been called into question. This ceaseless inquiry, so characteristic of the American people, has brought forth its good results, and the university has been changed more and more to suit the requirements of practical life. But this demand does not seem to be entirely satisfied, for the grumbling still continues, and the curriculum is still being remodeled. The University of Michigan, a university of the people, for the people and by the people, insists upon turning a deaf ear to the earnest and prolonged entreaties of those who attend and those who support it; the students have long desired German to be taught by the conversational method, that they may make use of it in business, but the faculty ignore their request. Why? Because, as they reason, it is next to impossible to teach our overcrowded classes, with so few teachers, by the conversational method. Well, we can meet the first argument by saying, if we pay the tuition demanded, and you have not enough professors to instruct us properly, you must increase the number. We need not answer the second argument; happily it has already been shown to be fallacious by something more weighty than words. Last winter, Prof. Carl Lertwein started a school of German conversation in the Ann Arbor high school, and his great success, as well as the ability his pupils attained, show that the method is practicable. Most of the professor's pupils were from the university, myself among the number, and in a remarkably short time, they were able to converse well. Some of his pupils arrived at such proficiency, that they were able to contribute articles to the German papers. How many graduates of the university, with their four years instruction, can write an article in German that an editor can make out, not alone print?

If all the students could afford to take such a course as the professor offers, and the hard work of the university allowed them leisure, there would be no need of further argument, but we know facts contradict this. So, Mr. Editor, I hope, when we return, to see a course of German conversation installed in the U. of M.

AROUND THE COUNTY.

Dexter numbers 937 souls. Chelsea will have free text-books. The Manchester Enterprise is to be enlarged. Green Johnson, of Saline, recently lost 43 sheep by dogs. Oscar Harlow, of Sharon, died recently of pneumonia. James Taylor and son, of Chelsea, left for Europe, this week. J. T. Hawks, one of the Dexter pioneers, is hopelessly ill. A $20,000 school-house will probably be built in Chelsea soon. Birkett & Jedele, of Dexter, bought 20,000 pounds of wool last week. The Dexter mills will be placed in charge of Lyman & Rogers, on Aug. 1. Nearly 12,500 pounds of binding twine have been sold at Dexter this season. Cook & Kirebater, of Bridgewater, have bought over 26,000 pounds of wool this year. H. J. Zimmerman, of Milan, has sold his stock of furniture to Derby Bros., of Richmond. Over $50 was realized at the recent social given by the ladies of St. Mary's church in Saline. Alfred Smith, of Whitaker, has rented his farm for five years to his son, and will remain in Ontario. A county convention of the Patrons of Industry of Washtenaw county, will be held at Dexter, Saturday, July 26. Frank Crittenden, of Pittsfield, took a wool clip to town, recently, which weighed 2,447 pounds and brought $600. E. W. Crafts, of Sharon, reports 55 loads of clover and timothy hay off an 18-acre field, without a drop of rain on it. E. B. May, of West Lyndon, has been fined $21.00 for neglecting a clock. Better purchase one next time, Mr. May; it's cheaper. At a recent school meeting in Cherry Hill, Alton E. Lewis was elected assessor in place of H. F. Horner. A ten months' school was decided upon. The little nine-year-old son of Will K. Craft, near Grass Lake, fell from a windmill derrick, 32 feet high, recently, and was severely injured. Manchester is religious. Says the Enterprise: "There was preaching in six churches in town, last Sunday, and a good attendance at each." Rev. Mr. Woodworth, who has occupied the Congregational pulpit at Salem Station for the past two years, died recently. He was 64 years of age. John Comstock, of Ypsilanti, recently whined himself into Detroit in 4 1/2 hours and came back the same way in 3 1/2 hours. Ann Arbor cyclists, take notice. August Meyer, of Lodi, met with a severe accident recently. His hand was caught in a binder, and it has been found necessary to amputate one of his fingers. Last Friday, Frank Drury cut on the Wade Richardson farm eight acres of grass, between 2 o'clock p. m. and sundown. He wants to know if any one can beat it.—Milan Leader. The United States district court, at Detroit, has rendered a decision, which restores unclouded the title to the Worden block, the Worden Bros.' shop, and the houses of Alva and John S. Worden. A full-equipped cowboy rode through the streets this morning and attracted considerable attention. He has a herd of Texas horses at High Mills farm in Bridgewater.—Manchester Enterprise. Look here, Chelsea Standard, an editor's gallantry can't stand this: "The reporters at Wolf Lake were greatly surprised to see the water rise two feet at one jump, recently. Upon investigation it was found that a Grass Lake lady had stepped into the lake." George H. Hammond has shipped 303 Shropshire sheep from England, which are expected at the farm here, July 19. Among them are the first prize ram and ewes from the Royal Exposition. This will give the Hammond farm the largest imported flock in the country.—Ypsilanti Sentinel. Ypsilanti takes second place. Birmingham goes up ahead now, with a well throwing 2,000 barrels in thirty minutes of the very best water in the state, according to the same chemist. In fact Prof. Kedzie pronounced it the best water he had ever analyzed, for domestic and drinking purposes. But phew! Birmingham's works only cost $15,000.—Ypsilanti Sentinel. The Chelsea Herald vouches for the following facts: (1) "Mr. D. Roberts, of Isoco, has a curiosity in a duck which has four well formed feet." (2) "Will Secor, of North Lake, recently plowed an acre of sod ground in two and one-half hours." (3) Aaron Burkhardt has corn which stands eight and one-half feet high." (4) "H. J. Drake, of Lyndon, has 29 sheep from which he sheared 324 pounds of wool, and received $77.20 for the same." We believe you, Mr. Herald; but don't try our credulity too much. The recent Milan races were very interesting. The matched race between Fanny K., owned by Aaron Kelsey, and Nellie D., owned by Volney Davenport, was won by the former in three straight heats. The three-minute race was won by Fannie H., owned by H. C. Kuney, of Deerfield. In the free-for-all race, Texas Jim, owned by Henry Harmon, took the honors. Standard, owned by C. Gauntlett, won the two-year-old race, and the running race was won by Maud T., owned by William Timmins, of Deerfield. The Manchester Enterprise occasionally says: "People say that Manchester is a hard town, but when we read in our exchanges of the devilish work done by young and old rowdies of neighboring towns, we feel like hurling back the stigma. There is but little drunkenness here; we don't say there is not considerable beer drunk here, but the German people were brought up to drink beer and they do not, as a rule, get drunk that they want to fight or make a disturbance. There is an abundant chance for reformation in all places, but it is well to refrain from throwing stones while you live in a glass house.

LITERARY NOTES.

Readers of the July number of Harper's Magazine will find in the second instalment of Daudet's "Port Tarascon" a complete realization of the anticipations aroused by the first chapters. Among the other illustrated papers in the same number of the magazine, are Howard Pyle's quaint account of "A Famous Chapbook Villain" who flourished in the early part of last century; "Texan Types and Contrasts," by Lee C. Harby, describing certain phases of life and manners near the Mexican border; a paper on "Social Life in Oxford," by Ethel M. Arnold, with portraits of some well-known celebrities at the University; and Dr. Henry Lansdale's narrative of a journey through "Baltic Russia." L. E. Chittenden, whose article in the May number of the magazine attracted so much attention, continues his reminiscences in an article entitled "Treasury Notes and Notes on the Treasury." Robert S. Peabody writes of "Architecture and Democracy." The recent revival of Paganism in Italian literature is described by Frank Sewall in "Giuseppe Carducci and the Hellenic Reaction in Italy." Besides Mr. Aldrich's poem, "Thalia," which occupies the place of honor in the magazine, there are poems by William Sharp, Matthew Richey Knight, and George Edgar Montgomery. In the editorial department, George William Curtis writes of the value of criticism, of some aspects of art in America, and of the change which has taken place in the observance of our great national holiday; William Dean Howells replies in a good-natured manner to certain friend critics; and Charles Dudley Warner makes some interesting suppositions regarding the place which women will choose to occupy in the coming "dual form of government." Harper & Brothers, New York. The July number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine devotes itself largely to fiction, travel and sports. A new southern writer, Robert Yules Tombs, of Georgia, comes to the front with one of the most spirited sketches of southern life yet published. Julian Hawthorne presents a curious study of the Boston girl, asking other in his title-page, "Was it Typical?" Eleanor Sherman Thackara, a daughter of Gen. W. T. Sherman, appears for the first time in the literary world in the discussion of "Three Great Philadelphia Training Schools," and Mrs. Roger A. Pryor considers the constitution of American society in an interesting way. "Trout Fishing in Lake Edward" and the actual experiences of "Trapping a Grizzly," will interest the hunter who proposes to roam the mountain-ridges during the summer. $2.40 per year. The Cosmopolitan, New York. The Forum for July contains: Formative Influences, Prof. John Tyndall; A Short Study of "Hamlet," James E. Murdock; Obstacles to Civil-Service Reform, Walter M. Ferriss; The Wages System, Rev. Dr. Leman Abbott; A Defense of the Veto Power, Edward C. Mason; The Art of Gerrymandering, Walter C. Hamann; Modern Eclipse Problems, Prof. David P. Todd; Perplexities That Canada Would Bring, A. B. Carman; The Newspaper of the Future, Noah Brooks; Ganpowder and Its Successors, Commander F. M. Barber; The Newer West, Richard S. Hinton. New York: The Forum Publishing Co., 253 Fifth Ave., $5.00 a year. The new serial, called "Felicia," by Miss Fanny Murfree, sister to Charles Egbert Craddock, opens the Atlantic for July. The very title, "The Town Poor," gives one a sufficiently clear idea of what Miss Jewett's clever pen makes of such a subject. This, with some chapters of Mrs. Deland's "Sidney," concludes the fiction of the number. James Russell Lowell's lines, "In a Volume of Sir Thomas Browne," and some verses on Wendell Phillips, represent the poetry, and there are also some charming verse at the end of Dr. Holmes's "Over the Teacups." Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston. Just Like Folks. A horse stood tied to a post in a barn on Farmer street, when a pedestrian halted for a moment and looked in. A man came across the street and joined him, and ten seconds later a third came around the corner and stopped. "Case of colic?" queried one. "Looks like bots to me," replied a second. "Say, that horse ought to be bled!" exclaimed a fourth man as he came up. "Bled! He's got the toothache," put in a fifth. "I should say," mildly observed the sixth man, "that he had caught a heavy cold and needed a warm bath." When the crowd had increased to twenty, and every one had expressed an opinion, a hostler appeared from the back end of the barn. "What are you doing for him?" asked one. "Giving him six quarts of oats and all the hay he can eat," was the reply. "But isn't he sick?" "Never sick a minute in all his life. Please move on before some one rings in an alarm of fire."—Detroit Free Press. Nothing to Do. When Cyrus W. Field owned The Mail and Express he occasionally poked around the various editorial rooms to get some idea of how his paper was being conducted. "Who is that man who sits in that room to the right up stairs?" he once asked of his managing editor. "That's Mr. —, our exchange editor," replied the managing editor. "Well," said Mr. Field, frowning, "it's my opinion that he isn't worth his salt. As often as I have been in his office I've never seen him doing anything except read newspapers, and he's always got a big pile of 'em in front of him."—The Epoch. Too Much En Rapport. "I am very sorry, but I cannot employ you," said the owner of a dairy to a sturdy six-footer with a voice like booming thunder, who had applied to him for a "job." "But," insisted the applicant, "I know all about the work—I'm an expert milker!" "Can't help it," interrupted the dairyman, "your voice would curdle the milk." That settled it.—Texas Siftings.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

Fireman Roadhouse Makes a Sensational Confession.

He Killed Engineer Vandevender, but Claims to Have Acted in Self-Defense—His Account of the Battle for Life on a Fast-Running Locomotive.

ROADHOUSE CONFESSES.

VAN WERT, O., July 22.—The mystery surrounding the horrible murder of Engineer Madison Vandevender has at last been cleared away by a confession from Fireman Samuel Roadhouse. The coroner commenced the inquest Monday morning. All of the testimony introduced verified what has been stated in former dispatches concerning the ill-feeling between the men.

Roadhouse, when he heard how strong the evidence was against him, was still confined to his bed and, after a few moments' deliberation, said: "Sheriff, I want to tell you something. I killed Vandevender." While he was speaking his throat clogged and he uttered the last three words in a husky voice. He continued, after a few moments:

"I did it in self-defense. He accused me of inflicting the superintendent that he was drunk at Devil's Lake last week, and although I offered to prove to him that I had not reported him, he refused to believe me, and had been abusing me more or less since then. Last Friday a quarrel we were at Franklin getting ready to get out on our run, we had a quarrel and came near exchanging blows. We were seen by several railroad men, and it is partially on this account that I decided to give up. When we reached Enterprise he commenced on me again and said: 'Van, I'll fix you.' Van was powerful and desperate, and to tell the facts of the case, I was afraid of him. After leaving Enterprise he teated the threat, and I walked back to the tool-box when he wasn't looking and fixed the hammer they found with the handle sticking out so I could grasp it. I then started back to my seat in the cab. As I had by then reached it Van reached out his left arm and dealt me a terrible blow on the left side of the head. I was staggered for a moment, and just as I was about recovered he raised his right hand from the throttle and gave me another terrible blow on the right side of the head. As I heard the hammer around to reach for the hammer, this blow, although a fearful one, did not injure me, although my head was cut.

"I jumped back, grabbed the hammer, and catching it with both hands raised it, and, throwing all my weight on it, brought it down on Van's head, with all the force I could muster. In the meantime he had been watching each other like hawks and I had to watch for a good chance. The first I did not appear to stun him and I showered several more blows—I don't remember how many—and did not quit until he lay still. I then picked him up and set him on the seat on his side of the engine, where he was found. I shut down the engine and kept a good lookout ahead for danger. I hardly realized what I had done until it was over with. At first I did not know what to do, so I lay down on the floor of the engine and in the few minutes which elapsed it came to me to fix the story I told Dr. Woods. In coming in Van's room I learned the passageway leading into the cab of the engine and saw that the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago track was clear and left the engine go, deciding to wait until she would run down, and then let some one find us. Just as we had passed the depot Van raised his head, and I again picked up the hammer and dealt him another blow which opened his head. I felt the blood and brains spatter on my face. That was all. You know the rest."

The funeral services of Vandevender were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Masons and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A pair of shoes is one of most typical products of modern industry. To make them the Animal Kingdom contributes the Vegetable, from the groves of oak and hemlock or from the great forests still left to us; great factories supply cloth and thread; mines, furnaces and forges combine to furnish nails or wire. Through scores of processes, the forty-two pieces of a pair of shoes require to bring them together, the co-operation of fifty men and women, whose division of labor is so thoroughly systematized that everything goes with the same regularity attributed to the works of a clock, until as a result, you well shod reader, who wear the W. L. Douglas's Shoe, can buy a pair from three to five dollars that would have cost your forefathers from six to twelve.—Ex 10

What a contrast there sometimes is between the adjective and the verb.
 Reflect, for example, on the wide differ-constantly in love.

A Chance to Make Money.

MR. EDITOR:—I bought one of Griffith's machines for plating with gold, silver or nickel and it works to perfection. No sooner did the people hear of it than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.30, the first month $167.85, and I think by July 1st I will have $1,000 cash and give my farm-considerable attention, too. My daughter made $27.40 in four days. Any person can get one of these machines by sending $3 to W. H. Griffith & Co., Zanesville, O., or can obtain circulars by addressing them.
 You can learn to use the machine in one hour. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been.

Yours truly,
 M. O. MOREHEAD.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—In the Senate
 yesterday a bill was passed granting to the State of Washington a section of public land for a soldiers' home. The discussion of a proposed amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill increasing the appropriation for irrigation surveys from $200,000 to $600,000 occupied the remainder of the session.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Bills were passed in the Senate yesterday extending the time of payment to purchasers
 of land of the Omaha tribe of Indians in Nebraska and to establish a National military park at Chickamauga battlefield. Bills were introduced to give a pension of $2,000 a year to Mrs. Jessie Fremont and to establish a limited postal and telegraph service. A resolution was introduced for information as to the arrest in Havana of Rev. A. J.
 Diaz, an American citizen. The Indian appropriation bill ($7,153,811) was reported.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Senate
 spent the time yesterday discussing the sundry civil appropriation bill, the pending question being on the amendment to add to the appropriation of $300,000 for topographic surveys a provision that one-half of that sum should be expended west of the 101st meridian,
 and that the act of October, 1888, reserving irrigable lands, be repealed. No action was taken.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—In the Senate
 yesterday an amendment to the tariff bill was introduced giving the President power, after one year, to reimpose the duty on sugar if advisable. The sundry civil appropriation bill was further discussed, and the amendment repealing the irrigation provision was agreed to.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The sundry civil appropriation bill was passed in the Senate on Saturday with amendments appropriating $2,686,000 for National soldiers' homes, $115,000 for geological surveys and $15,000 to purchase ground at Indianapolis for internment of soldiers.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—In the Senate
 yesterday a bill authorizing the construction of a pontoon bridge across the Mississippi river at Quincy, Ill., was passed. The tariff bill was the subject of remarks made by Senator Voorhees.
 He denounced the measure as an instance of protection run mad. The death of Representative Walker, of Missouri, was announced, and as a mark of respect the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A bill was introduced in the House yesterday by Mr.
 Vandever (Cal.) granting a pension of $3,000 a year to the widow of General
 John C. Fremont. The House went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the bill appropriating $836,189 for an additional clerical force to carry into effect the provisions of the dependent-pension act. During the debate Mr. Cooper (Ind.) charged Commissioner of Pensions Raum with corrupt actions, and said he believed that the office was reeking with corruption in every department. Mr. Cannon (Ill.)
 said that a charge on the part of a member of Congress, who frequently did not weigh his words, of maladministration
 against an executive officer, was not sufficient to authorize the House to order an investigation. It must be a specific charge, for which the Representative made himself responsible.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—In the House
 yesterday no business was transacted owing to the lack of a quorum. The land grant forfeiture bill was discussed,
 but not disposed of.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Hour after hour the House discussed the land grant forfeiture bill yesterday, and finally passed it just before adjournment. It is a Senate bill, with a House substitute, forfeiting lands granted to aid the construction of railroads opposite to and coterminous with the portion of any such road not now completed, and if it becomes a law will forfeit almost 5,000,000 acres of land claimed by various aided railroads.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The House
 took up the original package bill yesterday with the understanding that the previous question be ordered on Monday next. Mr. E. B. Taylor (O.), advocating the measure, said that no such bill had been given to State sovereignty and to State rights as by ascertainment
 that under the constitution the citizen of a foreign State might take into another State any property that was a subject of commerce and sell it without liability of taxation. Mr. Culbertson (Tex.) said the effect of the Senate bill would be to transfer a power vested exclusively in Congress to the States,
 and the States themselves would execute a power which they had parted
 with when the constitution was adopted.
 Mr. Adams (Ill.) said that the unlicensed original package shop was the cause of all the present agitation.
 Everybody was agreed that the unlicensed shop should be abolished. Mr.
 Reed (Ia.) whose decision as a judge was overruled by the decision of the Supreme Court, spoke in favor of the proposed legislation and said that if any relief was to be given the people from the wrong and evil to society
 growing out of the decision of the Supreme Court it lay in the direction
 pointed out by the pending bills.
 Mr. Henderson (Ia.) said that no decision rendered by the Supreme Court
 since that court had decided that a human soul was a proper article of merchandise had so excited the feelings of the country as the original package decision. No good citizen would fail to submit to the decision of the court.
 But we should not forget that the Supreme Court in throwing this legal thunderbolt into the Republic did not fail to send it with a cure. It cried out to Congress: "While we believe this to be our duty, we believe it is your duty to remedy the evil." The people of the country, without regard to party or politics—the people who bended the knee and uncovered their heads in the presence of God and their fellow-men, appealed to Congress for its action, and for one he would not hesitate to act.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—In the House
 on Saturday the deficiency appropriation bill ($5,140,440) was reported. The original package bill was further discussed.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A bill was introduced in the House yesterday authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to establish uniform grades of all kinds of grains transported from one State to another, or to any foreign country.
 Resolutions were adopted expressive of the sorrow with which the House had heard of the death of Mr. Walker, of Missouri, and an adjournment was taken.

A Daily Record of Events of General Interest to All.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The United States Indian Agent at the Sisseton Agency in South Dakota reports to the Secretary of the Interior that the Indians on that reservation are entirely destitute of food.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The House committee on contested elections has decided two more contested cases in favor of the Republican contestants.
 They were the Florida case of Goodrich vs. Bullock, decided in favor of Goodrich, and the West Virginia case of McGinnis vs. Alderson, decided in favor of McGinnis.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Senate
 in executive session Friday confirmed
 among others the following nominations: James Russell Soley, of Massachusetts, as Assistant Secretary of the Navy; A. B. Nettleton, of Minnesota, and Oliver L. Spaulding, of Michigan,
 Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Louis Waldecker, for twelve years chief clerk of the bureau of navigation, died yesterday.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The death of Mr. Walker, of Missouri, the ninth member of Congress who has died this session, makes the greatest record of mortality in Congress ever known. The first member to die was James M.
 Burnes, also from Missouri, who was a member-elect of the present Congress,
 though he died during the last session of the Fiftieth Congress, of which he was also a member. The other seven members who have died during the present session are: Richard W.
 Townshend, of Illinois; James Laird,
 of Nebraska; Edward J. Gay, of Louisi-
 ville; Samuel S. Cox and David Wilber, of New York, and William G. Kelley
 and Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania. Of the nine who have died six were Democrats. In the case of three the members' deaths were promptly followed by the death of a colleague from the same State. Thus, Mr. Randall died shortly after Mr. Kelley, Mr.
 Wilber after Mr. Cox, and Mr. Burnes has now been followed by Mr. Walker.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1890.

A POLITICAL DAILY must indeed be in a bad way, when such a man as David B. Hill is one of its prominent candidates for the presidency.

To Ohio Democrats: Read ex-Gov. Foraker's recent arraignment of your party's course in Ohio, and then vote the straight ticket without a blush, if you can.

AND now unprejudiced citizens of Chicago do not hesitate to say that Mayor Cregier's administration is even worse than that of the malodorous Carter Harrison. Roche may not have entirely satisfied the reformers, but Roche was an angel with a halo, compared with the present incumbent, Saloon-keepers, gamblers and thugs seem to have their own way now, as they never did before, and this is "Democracy!" There must, indeed, be a talismanic attraction in that word. Otherwise, how could Chicago continue to trust her affairs to a party which has so foully disgraced itself in all previous municipal history?

Those Democrats who are continually asserting that the present administration is a partisan one appear not to have inspected the congressional records very carefully. In previous years, nearly all election contests, when the Democrats have been in the majority, have been decided by a strictly partisan vote. This session, out of sixteen contested elections, the Republicans have settled six in favor of the Democratic claimants, and the ten incumbents, who were ousted, so evidently owed their places to fraud that the majority party could not but unseat them. In view of these facts, the talk about the "high-handed majority" seems like the rant of a demagogue.

VERY eloquent is the following utterance of the colored men's Southern Republican Association: "The best form of government is a republic, but the worst form of citizenship is disfranchised citizens in a republican form of government. That such a deplorable condition (disfranchised citizenship) is the fate of the colored citizens in the south, is now admitted by both political parties. We do not seek domination over the white people of the south; we seek participation as citizens in the government of the south, and the full enjoyment of every political right recorded by the constitution and laws of the United States." What have the Democrats to say to this?

Is his recent speech against the original package bill, Congressman Chipman made an eloquent plea in behalf of the liquor interest, or, as he stated it, in behalf of "personal liberty." And now thousands of citizens would like to know just what the brilliant judge means by "personal liberty." The majority of people, now-a-days, do not attach any meaning at all to the term. It is a word which has a different signification, according to the inclination of him who uses it. The interests of society as a whole, and not of the mere selfish individual, are, or ought to be, the controlling forces in matters of government, and the sooner our legislators learn this truth, the better it will be for the nation.

EVIDENTLY the negro in the South is still a slave in fact, if not in theory. A number of blacks, who were employed by a white planter in Louisiana, took a notion, recently, of going to Arkansas, without asking permission of their "master." They went, but were soon intercepted by a number of the planter's friends, who tried to restrain them. Naturally enough, the negroes resisted—and soon five black corpses lay on the ground. A few of the remainder escaped, but the majority were carried back to the plantation. The white men who perpetrated this atrocious deed were of good families and ostensibly civilized. In the west the red man occasionally massacres his white brethren, and we send United States troops to hunt him down and bring him to justice, but when white massacres black, evidently the only result is increased social distinction for the perpetrator of the crime.

The free-trade organs of the country learn nothing from experience. Even the election of 1888 did not convince them, as it should have done, that it is impossible to mislead the farmers. They are continually stating principles, appealing to prejudice and even preparing columns of figures, in an attempt to convince the agricultural class that things "are not what they seem." One of the statements most frequently made by Democratic newspapers is that the "bloated" manufacturers of this country are selling goods more cheaply to foreigners than to native citizens. A recent number of the New York World attempts to prove this in a long article, which refers to an industry carried on in this city. The writer claims that the Ann Arbor Agricultural Company quotes prices as follows:

	American prices to Americans.	Spanish-American prices to Americans.	American prices to Americans.
Advance plow.....	$ 9 00	$18 00
Advance plow.....	4 00	8 00
Hay-tedder.....	30 00	45 00

Lever cutter.....	4 25	8 00

A representative of THE REGISTER recently called on Mr. Moore, at the Agricultural Works, for the purpose of finding out just how much truth the foregoing table contained. He soon became convinced that the New York World had been guilty of intentional misrepresentation. The prices in the first column, as Mr. Moore explained, are wholesale prices and are always uniform, whether given to American or to foreign dealers. Those in the second column, (which, by the way, are several years old and therefore higher than they are at the present time) are retail prices to American consumers. The difference between these various amounts goes to the jobber and retailer, in the form of profits. The manufacturer's price being uniform, the cost to the consumer is determined by competition among the various dealers in these goods, and, therefore, is not at all dependent upon any combination of manufacturers. It is, furthermore, a fact well established, that the retail price of all agricultural implements sold in South America and in other countries is considerably higher than it is in the United States. Mr. Moore showed THE REGISTER two bills which illustrate this general statement. The company recently sold one No. 2 cutter to a Toledo firm for $15.75, while the same article was sold to a Canadian dealer for $16.00. The tariff imposed at the frontier was $3.20, so the cutter must have cost $19.20. Just what the farmer consumer finally paid for it cannot, of course, be ascertained here, but it must be evident to all that the American has a great advantage over the Canadian. Says the Farm Implement News: "We have received over thirty letters from prominent manufacturers, Republicans and Democrats, and they unanimously sustain our position that these goods cost the foreign farmer more than they do the American farmer." That this must necessarily be true is seen from the fact that no other country in the world can produce agricultural implements so cheaply as can the United States. An ordinary mower, the manufacture of which costs, in this country, from $40 to $50, costs, in England, no less than $80. American farmers pay from $15 to $25 for a hay-rake, France and England are compelled to pay from $40 to $50 for the same implement. A No. 40 Oliver plow, in the United States, sells for $14; in England a machine of the same quality costs from $16 to $18. All these facts go to show that, with regard to agricultural implements, at least, the tariff is not a tax. If it were, it is very evident that a plow which sells for $16 in England would sell for about $21 in the United States. At any rate it would command more than $16. The truth is that the manufacturers of agricultural implements in this country are in no wise affected by the tariff. They do not care particularly whether duties are levied on their products, at all, but they do protest against the unfounded assertion, now so frequently made, that the tariff has enabled them to fleece the farmer.

Lowest Rates to Boston.

On account of the G. A. R. Encampment, to be held at Boston in August, the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Mich. Ry. will sell round-trip tickets from Ann Arbor at $16.15 (two dollars less than any other line). The advantages offered by the route selected as the "official route" are doubly impressed upon all by the attractiveness of the return trip, which may be briefly set forth as follows: Leaving Boston via New York & New England Ry. to New London, Conn., thence, by the elegant sound steamers, to New York City and thence homeward via Erie Ry., with privilege of stop-over at Niagara Falls and Chautauqua Lake. Headquarter trains leave Toledo at 11 o'clock p. m., August 9, and will reach the chief connecting points in the department, as follows: Oreston, 2.30 a. m.; Akron, 3.10 a. m.; and Youngstown, 4.30 a. m. The Ohio Grand Army trains will be special ones, made up of elegant sleepers, day coaches, smoking and baggage cars. Tickets good ten days from August 8, to New York and therefrom, until August 20, over the lines of the Erie Ry. If a longer limit is desired, tickets must be deposited at the joint agency at Boston, and will be honored from New York over the Erie Ry. until September 30.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below: "In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

The Beautiful Guild.

ANN ARBOR, June 7th, 1890.

MR. WILSEY,

DEAR SIR:—I enclose the testimonial for which you asked. It gives me pleasure to send it to you, as I like my piano so much. When you can make it convenient, come out and see how it has stood the wear and tear of nine years.

Yours Truly,

LILLIE BAESSLER.

With regard to the Guild purchased of you nine years ago. Its tone is as mellow and sweet as ever, and in standing in tune I have never seen its equal. Any one contemplating the purchase of a piano, will find it to their interest to examine the Guild. Respectfully,

LILLIE BAESSLER.

The Guild has stood "wear and tear" better, and held its own better than any piano I have ever sold. Over 25,000 have been manufactured, and sold very largely in Boston and vicinity. The great music publishing house of Ditson & Co. has sold over 800 of them in the City of Boston. The simple (patent) tuning device is the greatest improvement of the day, and will save expense to the owner besides the satisfaction of having a piano constantly in tune.

The swinging music desk running the entire length of the piano is perfection. They please, they sell. Why? See them, and you will learn. Manufactured in Boston for nearly thirty years.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

A Fearful Plunge.

While outdriving the other afternoon near Mackinac Island a carriage, containing Mrs. Edward Lowe and child, Mrs. C. L. Wood and maid, and J. W. Blodgett, of Grand Rapids, overturned on Town hill, a bluff 100 feet high, and rolled down an embankment, turning over twice. All escaped injury but Mrs. Wood, 80 years of age, who received a terrible shock and internal injuries. The accident was accounted for by the horses taking fright and shying over the embankment.

Diphtheria was reported at seventeen places, scarlet fever at seventeen, typhoid fever at eight and measles at thirty-four places.

Michigan's Wheat Crop.

It is estimated by the Bureau of Farm Statistics that Michigan's wheat crop will be 4,000,000 bushels less than last year. The southern tier of counties are estimated to yield 15,783,905, the central 2,551,751, and the northern counties 515,884 bushels. The total for the State is 18,851,540 bushels, or an average of 13.13 bushels per acre. Last year the yield was 22,945,198—an average of 16.11 bushels.

Two Fires at Evart.

While the firemen of Evart were resting the other evening from the exhausting work of a morning fire which burned the Novelty mill, causing a loss of $10,000, an alarm was turned in, which proved to be in a frame building on Main street. The firemen were in poor condition to fight the flames which ate their way through a block of stores. The total loss was about $10,000, partially insured.

Sued for Slander.

Rev. Louis Van Driss, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Lansing, recently commenced a $15,000 libel suit against John P. Miller, a wealthy farmer of Lansing township, and one of his parishioners. Rev. Van Driss was charged with misappropriation of church funds which had by an investigation been found groundless and his suit was authorized by the Bishop.

Took Her Own Life.

When Bert Gage returned to his home at Big Rapids the other night after a few hours' absence he found the doors fastened. Forcing an entrance he found his wife lying on the bed breathing her last, having deliberately shot herself through the head. She had been married four years and lived happily with her husband. She had no children, and no cause was assigned for the act.

Death of Mrs. A. M. Drury.

Mrs. A. M. Drury, one of the most widely-known of Michigan's pioneer educators, died recently at Lansing, aged 70. She came to Michigan in 1837, and a year later married Samuel F. Drury. These two people were largely instrumental in founding Olivett College, giving both time and money in large measure. Afterward they founded Drury College at Springfield, Mo.

Turned His Last Brake.

WRECK AND RUIN.

Sr. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—The mayor of Red Wing has prepared an official list of the victims of the Lake Pepin disaster, by which it is shown that ninety-seven persons lost their lives. Captain Wethern and six of the crew of the Sea Wing reached this city Thursday, and have been closeted with Government inspectors, who are holding an investigation behind closed doors. Captain Wethern and Clerk Niles have prepared a public statement in which they give an account of the disaster. Both agree in saying that the crew of the boat had not been drinking at the time of the accident, and that every thing possible was done to prevent the horrible catastrophe. When the boat left Lake City the storm seemed to have passed. As soon as the danger was seen the life-preservers were brought out and distributed among the passengers, of whom there were 175.

The Majority

Of so-called cough-cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver. No other medicine is so safe and efficacious in diseases of the throat and lungs.

"Four years ago I took a severe cold, which was followed by a terrible cough. I was very sick, and confined to my bed about four months. I employed a physician most of the time, who finally said I was in consumption, and that he could not help me. One of my neighbors advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and, before I had finished taking the first bottle was able to sit up all the time, and to go out. By the time I had finished the bottle I was well, and have remained so ever since."—L. D. Bixby, Bartonsville, Vt.

Hamilton, Rose & Sheehan's ADDITION to the City of ANN ARBOR

We believe Ann Arbor is the Best City in Michigan IN WHICH TO LIVE.

The Educational Advantages here are unsurpassed! The Streets are broad and well kept! Ann Arbor has a low rate of taxation! It has the best system of Water Works in the West.

Our Addition is just five Blocks from the University of Michigan; it has a front of One Hundred Rods on State Street, the best residence street in the city. Its location is unsurpassed for health and convenience. The levels taken by our Engineer, Geo. W. Sanborn, show the lowest point to be higher than Main Street in front of the Savings Bank. The slope of the ground is such that the drainage is perfect, having a fall of from six to ten feet. We have laid drain pipe through our land.

We have filled our Plat and have given

8 1-2 Acres for a Park.

We have paid Fifty Dollars for a handsome and attractive plan for a Park.

Work has commenced on the streets and Park. Seven new houses are already contracted for to be built upon our Addition this year. New sidewalks have been laid, 1,100 shade trees have been planted upon the streets and Park. Two professors in the University have already purchased Lots in this addition, and will soon build good houses on their lots. Hutzel & Co. have donated a handsome Fountain for the Park.

All the Lots have an Alley 16 feet Wide, in the rear. We have made the price of the lots very low. If you buy a Lot we believe you will double your money in three years time.

The Investment is Safe

as a Savings Bank, and the gain much more rapid. Ten new houses on South State Street will be built this year.

We will sell Lots for Cash.

We will sell lots on time Payments.

We will sell Lots to parties who wish to build houses at once, and will help them to furnish money to build.

Buy a Lot, Money Made!

Payments may be made by the week, by the month, or by the year as suits purchaser.

Call at Sheehan's Store, or at Hamilton Block to see the Plat. We have the Park Plans. We desire those intending to purchase lots to examine them. Call and see them.

The new buildings on State Street this year will amount to Sixty Thousand Dollars. Investigate what we have, then judge for yourselves. This is better than a Loan and Investment Association. Your money is kept at home. Persons intending to purchase Lots should look over our Addition and Investigate for themselves.

Mr. Nordman is president of the society and will give the old settlers and all members of the society a hearty welcome.

The Ann Arbor Turnverein celebrated its twenty-first anniversary, on Sunday last, at Relief Park. Music was furnished by the Allmendinger band. President C. Gauss made a few appropriate remarks and was followed by Messrs. Liesemer and Sweeney, the orators of the day.

Ypsilanti: "The approximate population of the city of Ypsilanti is given out by the census authorities as 5,950, which is a gain of 19 38 per cent since 1880, while Ann Arbor's gain in the same period is 15.99 per cent." Quite true! But how about the increase during the last six years? Ann Arbor has increased in population 18 17 per cent, since the census of 1884, and Ypsilanti only 12 24 per cent.

Miss Catherine McNally, formerly of Northfield, died at Mrs. Cole's old residence on Catherine-st, Friday last, and her funeral was held at St. Thomas' church on Saturday. The cause of her death was blood-poisoning.

Contrary to previous announcement, there will be service at the Baptist church, next Sunday morning. Mr. F. S. Retan, of Colgate Theological Seminary, N. Y., will speak on "The Student Volunteer Movement in Foreign Missions," of which he is a representative.

The city attorney has filed with the county clerk a petition asking that the circuit court take action with regard to the widening of Division-st. It is proposed to condemn property belonging to Henry Corwell, William Deibel, Nathan E. Satton, Carrie A. DeForest and Allie S. Johnson.

About forty members of Co. A marched down to the Michigan Central depot, yesterday, to take the 11 o'clock train for the west. They expect to be gone at Gogurc Lake, about a week. A number of the brave soldier boys, who went, did not intend to do so, but Capt. Armstrong sent corporal guards around for the delinquents and they were compelled to go.

A disastrous collision occurred near Hamburg Junction, about 11 o'clock, on Saturday evening last. Two freight trains, 21 and 24, which were running at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour, came together from opposite directions with a crash. The engineers and firemen jumped out of their cabs and thus escaped injury, but both engines and about half a dozen cars are a total wreck. The trouble was caused by a mistake in signals.

Dr. H. R. Watson, one of the oldest residents in the county, died, on Sunday evening last, at his home near Saline. For several years he has been suffering from Bright's disease, which, together with heart trouble, caused his death. Dr. Watson was for many years a prominent physician at Saline, but a few years ago he retired to his farm, between Saline and this city, where he has since resided. He leaves a wife and four children, the youngest of whom is only two weeks old.

Geo. Green, a farmer living on the Glazier road, met with a serious accident last Saturday. He was riding on a load of hay along the Dixboro road, when in some manner the load lurched and he fell to the ground. The man who was with him at the time jumped and alighted safely, but Mr. Green landed on a pile of stones. As a result of his fall, his knee was shattered and his thigh was badly fractured. So seriously was the leg injured that amputation became necessary, and the operation was performed by three Ann Arbor physicians. This new affliction has all the greater weight in Mr. Green's case, for of late years he has suffered many bereavements and misfortunes.

An abortive burglary took place at Worden station, on Friday evening last. George Davis, who is evidently an amateur, broke into the depot and was coming out triumphantly with an armful of things which did not belong to him, when he suddenly took a notion to stop. Someone who had discovered the would-be burglar in the act had notified Frank Duncan, and it was a Winchester rifle in the hands of the latter, which caused Davis so quickly to change his mind. Duncan escorted the burglar to this city, in true policeman style, and on Saturday, Davis was brought before Justice Butts. In default of $500 bail he was sent to jail, to await his trial at the next term of the circuit court. Ambitious house-breakers will do well to look out for Winchester rifles in the future.

A certain grocer of this city has just discharged a very enterprising delivery clerk. Some time ago, the latter applied for a position and promised his employer to bring in enough extra trade to make up for the salary of $39.50 a month, which was to be paid him. The grocer jumped at the chance, and for several months his trade has been on the boom. The clerk, it appears, has used a very ingenious method, in compassing this object. He would take the grocery bills, made out by his employer, present them to the debtors, allow a liberal discount and then receipt the bills for the full amount. Naturally enough, customers flocked to a place where they could buy goods so cheaply. The grocer himself was highly elated over his growing trade and was preparing to take an extensive trip when, alas, he discovered the fraud. At last accounts, the clerk is looking up a new job, and the grocer is still spending his summer in Ann Arbor.

Harvesting is nearly over and trade will soon pick up.

Mrs. Luther Wood, who died at Chicago last Saturday, was buried on Monday in Forest Hill Cemetery.

The board of public works, last evening, let the contract for building the new culvert on Seventh-st to John Cook for $437.

The Ann Arbor Browns will play at Owosso, July 31, and at Coruna, August 1. Their new uniforms, which are now ready, are very neat and tasty.

Clarkson S. Pack, one of Ann Arbor's oldest residents, died at five o'clock this morning. He was 71 years of age and very highly esteemed. His funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, from his residence at No. 79 N. Ingalls-st.

The Huron river has claimed another victim. A little four-year-old son of Mr. Bucklin, who lives near Delhi Mills, was playing in a boat on the bank of the river, on Tuesday last, when in some way the boat glided into deep water. The boy tried to gain the shore by jumping but he did not succeed in doing this, and was drowned before assistance could be rendered.

There is no longer any doubt about it. The electric railway is a fact. Early yesterday morning a force of about a dozen men, under the supervision of Jacob Storkel, began laying the ties at the northern end of Detroit-st. The men found the street rather hard to dig, inasmuch as it has about six inches of cobble-stone on the surface. They tried to excavate with a plow, but finally gave up the attempt in despair, after having ruined one plow. The ties, which are of hemlock and very durable, are laid at intervals of three feet, and will push the road as fast as possible. He says it will surely be finished by September 1. And now, let the skeptics be convinced.

E. T. Walker, of Salem, has filed an answer to the recent petition of the Toledo & Ann Arbor railroad. He claims that the abandonment of the South Lyon branch would result in a pecuniary loss to himself. In 1880, it is stated, he donated $100 to the railroad company, on condition that the road would be built to Pontiac. Two years later the T. & A. A. put in what is known as Walker's siding, in consideration of which Mr. Walker did all the grading, furnished the ties and advanced the money for the frog and switch, at an expense of $200. He also built a shipping-house and set up scales, worth, it is claimed, $200. Mr. Walker, who is a large shipper, says that the railroad has never given shipping rates from either Walker's siding or Worden station, and that he has always, with great inconvenience, transacted business with the company. For these reasons, and others, he asks that the petition be refused, or that reasonable costs be granted to himself.

CITY NOTICES.

The Michigan Central will run a special train to Chicago on August 6, on account of Odd Fellows' meeting. Round trip $6.70. Tickets good until August 11.
