REGENTS MEET.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT PRESENTED.

Prof. Knowlton Elected Dean—Three Years' Course Discussed—Treasurer's Report—Minor Campus Notes.

Five members of the board of regents attended the monthly meeting held yesterday. In the morning the president's annual report was presented. It proved to be a document of unusual interest. After recounting the appointments on the faculty made during the past year, Dr. Angell paid a tribute to the memory of the late Prof. Frieze. Of Henry Wade Rogers, who has been made president of Northwestern University, he spoke as follows: "We appreciate the honor which is conferred upon this University by this honor bestowed upon one of her sons, who has rendered so valuable service in the discharge of his official duties as teacher and as executive officer of our great school of law. To his enterprise and ability the rapid growth of that school in recent years is in no small measure due. Our best wishes for his success follow him to his new and important field of labor."

The president at this point reported the attendance and the number of graduates during the year 1889-90. Commenting upon the figures given, he says, "The number of graduates, on examination, was larger by 103 than in the year preceding, much larger than in any year previous to that and much larger than the number of graduates from any other American university at any time. This fact is the more striking and gratifying, when we remember that we have, during the past few years, largely increased the requirements for graduation in most of the departments." The number of women in the University rose from 301 in 1888-89 to 369 in 1889-90. In all departments but the literary, there was a decrease, but in the latter the number of ladies increased 77. Last year the proportion of women to the total enrollment was 28.1 in the literary department and 17.1 in the whole University. The president referred to the cosmopolitan character of the institution and saw in that the far-reaching influence which the University of Michigan is destined to exert. During the past year the number of graduate students was eighty-four. It should be the policy of the University, thought the president, to encourage post-graduate work as much as possible.

At this point he took up the question of reducing the college course to three years, which he discussed at some length. While there was considerable weight in the arguments favoring the change, because if that were adopted students might enter upon professional work at an earlier age, he thought that the same result might be gained by better arrangement. "Several courses present themselves. First, only three years of college work may be asked for the bachelor's degree. In that case a student must be required to do more work in each year than he has done heretofore in colleges, or the standard of attainment for graduation must be reduced. Second, substantially the plan which we have followed for several years may be adopted. The condition of attaining the bachelor degree is not meeting a requirement of time, but of work. One must complete so many courses of study, a part of which are fixed, a part elective, while in order to avoid cramming, there is a limit to the number of courses which a student may undertake at once." The president reminded the board that many succeed in finishing the course in three years and half and a few even in three years. This plan has worked very satisfactorily. The number of men who leave their course in order to go into professional work is not so large as formerly. In 1871-72, thirty-one per cent of the A. B. graduates took a professional course, while only fourteen per cent of those who did not remain in college did so. The number of both classes of students is much smaller now, and the president holds that it is not now necessary to give so much relative weight to the needs of students who enter the professions. The engineering course, which is taken by one-sixth of the literary students, cannot be abridged; if anything, it should be extended. In concluding his argument, Dr. Angell held that the curtailment of the college course should certainly not take place until the requirements for admission have been considerably raised.

The average age of the students who enter the literary department is less than it was fifteen years ago by one full year. During 1889-90, the average was eighteen and one-eighth, that of the men being seventeen years and seven and one-half months, and that of the women, nineteen years and five months. The decrease in the average age, Dr. Angell held, was due, first, to the improvement of the preparatory schools and, secondly, to the better financial condition of the parents, which enabled students to come to college immediately after graduating.

The president referred to the extension of the medical course to four years and the erection of the hospitals. The result of the former change has been to attract a better class of students. He thought that the hospitals should receive more patients from the charitable institutions of the state than they do at present. Speaking of the law department, he advocated the enlargement of the requirements for admission and urged the necessity of larger quarters for the students.

He referred to the great demand for additional laboratory advantages, inasmuch as all true scientific study is now carried on by the method of research. He advised the immediate erection of a $50,000 addition on the eastern side of the museum building.

The librarian's report gives the number of bound volumes as 74,599; unbound pamphlets, 14,907; maps, 571. The increase over last year is 4,896 volumes. During 1889-90, 131,874 books were taken out of the general library, 46,000 more than in the previous year.

The president briefly referred to the additions to the museum during the past year; commended the work of the various religious guilds; spoke of the catalogue of alumni now being prepared, which contains over 10,000 names; advocated the purchase of ten or fifteen acres of land for athletic grounds, and finally touched upon the great size of the university and the difficulties under which the whole faculty labors on that account.

The usual number of appointments were made by the regents, the most important being that of Henry Wade Rogers as lecturer in the law department for one-half the year and Prof. Melville Bigelow, of Boston, for the remaining half. Several degrees were conferred upon past students. The matter of appointing woman instructors was deferred. The committee on grounds and buildings were authorized to construct new water closets at an expense of $2,000. Prof. J. C. Knoulton was appointed acting dean, in place of Henry Wade Rogers, resigned. The treasurer reported receipts during the past year of $344,690.23 and expenditures $278,173.32.

CAMPUS NOTES.

J. R. Angell, '90, is studying for a master's degree.

There are ten Japanese students in the law department.

W. B. Ramsay '91, has been elected manager of Glee Club.

The new McMillan hall is to be completed by April 1, 1891.

E. B. Conrad, '90, of this city, is with a printing press firm in Brooklyn.

The U. of M. eleven defeated the Albions last Saturday by a score of 56 to 10.

Freshmen asked each other the stereotyped questions at the S. C. A. social, last Friday evening.

The dramatic club expects to present in January the "Bourgeois Gentleman," of Moliere.

Two junior laws prefix their respective names with "Miss," to wit: Miss Emma R. Lee and Miss Julia R. Jenney.

D. B. Cheever '91, a resident of this city, will discuss the new electric railway before the engineering society tomorrow evening.

J. Buran, a freshman "lit," is now minus a finger. His hand was caught in the planer at the mechanical laboratory on Monday last.

The first annual inter-collegiate oratorical contest will be held in Ann Arbor next May. Evanston, Oberlin, Wisconsin and Michigan will take part.

The rugby team will play with the D. A. C. at Detroit on October 15; Notre Dame, at South Bend, October 25; Notre Dame, at Ann Arbor, November 1; Cornell, November 15, place not yet selected.

Messrs. C. E. Filkins and C. C. Spencer, at the next meeting of the Alpha Nu, will debate the following question: "Resolved, that the attitude of the Roman Catholic and Lutheran sects toward the Bennett law is justifiable."

At the meeting of the Choral Union last week 150 persons reported and room 24 was packed. The union will present "Cristophorus" in May, as previously stated, and expect to present Gounod's "Redemption" some time in May.

The following are editors of this year's Oracle: H. A. Friedman, managing editor; W. J. Currier, business manager; Miss Lulu Southmayd, secretary; H. H. Denham, F. H. Smith, S. S. Harris, W. P. Parker, W. S. Whiting, F. E. Jannette and Miss Margaret Cahill, associate editors.

The lordly seniors of the legal persuasion recently proclaimed their determination that no junior should wear a tie. One of them insisted on doing so, however, and was badly rushed by the upper classmen on Friday. Freshman-like he drew a revolver and kept his persecutors at bay with a heavy cane. Since then he has learned wisdom and discarded the tie.

The laws, assisted by many other students, hired a brass band last night, procured torches and fireworks and marched in a body to the house of Prof. Knowlton, the newly elected dean. Mr. Henry delivered an address on behalf of the students and the professor responded with a few modest and appropriate words. The students afterwards gave Prof. Thompson an ovation.

The ladies of the university, irrespective of class, society or department lines, met together on Saturday evening last and organized an association. About one hundred "co-eds" have already sent in their names, a constitution has been adopted and an executive committee of fifteen members has been selected to perfect the organization. The object of the association is the promotion of social intercourse among the ladies of the university.

On Monday evening all the students already in the city were registered on the faculty books and for the first time this year the University authorities gave out the figures. The attendance is as follows: literary, 1,045; law, 523; medical, 383; pharmacy, 91; dental, 130; homoeopathic, 73; total, 2,246. The enrollment at the same time last year was 1,943, distributed as follows: literary, 866; law, 468; medical, 366; pharmacy, 76; dental, 100; homoeopathic, 67.

POLITICAL TALK.

ONE WHO DECLARES HE WILL NOT VOTE FOR ALLEN.

A Prominent Republican Gives Eight Reasons why he will Oppose the Present Congressman's Re-election.

EDITOR REGISTER:—I am asked why, being a republican, I decline to vote for E. P. Allen for congress.

The following are a few of the reasons which influence me, and which, it seems to me, are sufficient to cause any republican who desires the best interest of his party, to decline to vote for him.

1. Mr. Allen is asking for a third term, and I do not believe in third terms.

Unless a man has proved himself of commanding importance, it is better that he should retire, or be retired, at the end of the second term and make room for younger, and possibly better, men.

During the four years he has held a seat in congress, what has he said or done, that anyone of the thousands of republicans, who voted for him, could not have done equally well, and many of them better, except possibly to tell the wheelbarrow story and shout order! Gentlemen, Order! Is it not better if such men are to be kept in congress for life that the democrats send them there? The republican party should send men to congress whose political training was not had in that school of politics that masters the art of manipulating primaries and forcing nominations against the will of the people, but in that broader, nobler school that teaches the fitness for and competency to discharge the duties of the office.

2. In the administration of the affairs of the district he has weakened the party by an attempt to belittle and drive into obscurity its prominent men, while he grows red in the face in the hopeless struggle to make great men out of nature's remnants. He has promoted dissension and feeling among the active working members of the party, and embittered them against each other, by engendering and prolonging useless struggles for appointments, holding out false hopes and making false promises, thereby dividing the party into factions and cabals.

3. He retains democrats in office in order to secure to himself democratic votes at the expense of the balance of the ticket, while the republicans who bore the burden of the campaign are insulted by the remark, "there wasn't office enough to go around."

4. He has ignored the claims of the party and appointed men to important offices, whose politics is a subject of guess with their intimate acquaintances, and openly boast that they are under no obligation to the republican party for their appointment.

5. He has abused the trust imposed in him by appointing to office men whose competency for the place is found alone in the fact that they wear Allen's collar.

6. He has insulted the men who save us a country by answering their petitions with the fling "the old soldiers can't have everything."

7. In the canvass he has allowed proved false to his party and disloyal to the rest of the ticket. And when the votes are counted this fall, this election will not be found an exception.

8. He has attempted to perpetuate himself in office, by packing caucuses and conventions, and forcing his nomination upon the party, and bases his hopes of election upon the ability of his appointees to whip into line the honest intelligent voters of the party.

[The use of THE REGISTER columns next week has been granted to Mr. Allen or any of his friends to make full reply to each and all of the above items. We expect an interesting answer will be offered and should, in the interest of fair play and for the good of the party, be glad to have every one who reads this read the reply to it. Ed.]

HOW THEY DID IT.

A Democrat Vividly Describes the Methods Used in the Third Ward Caucus to Secure Delegates for Brown.

EDITOR REGISTER:—The Third ward democratic caucus the other night was so unique that many readers of your paper would doubtless like to hear about it. It was rumored on the streets that efforts to pack the caucus would be made by the rival candidates for county clerk, Messrs. Beakes and Brown. Your scribe went early in order to take the show all in. He found but few present, and when 7:30 was reached, the hour fixed by the call for the meeting, there were present the chairman of the ward committee, Mr. McIntyre, ex-register of deeds Kearns, ex-mayor Robinson, the editor and author Liesemer of the Post, M. J. Martin, a political hustler of some note, Paddy Ryan, an old resident of the city, and four or five others, including Jake Stark, the court house janitor. Chairman McIntyre called the meeting to order. At this juncture in came Chris. Millman, the proprietor of a "gin mill" on Main-st., and twenty-seven wrecks of fallen manhood. They were capered by Charley Kline, a dapper little fellow, neatly dressed, with his hair sleek and a button-hole bouquet in the left lapel of his coat. This Kline is a new convert to democracy. It was very amusing to see with what zeal he marshaled his forces, going from one end of the line to the other, whispering soothing words to those disposed to be noisy, and making himself generally useful. In his antics he reminded one of a blue-bellied fly crawling over a platter of cold vegetables; but then all new converts are zealous.

The first ballot for first delegate resulted in twenty-nine for Christ Millman and eleven scattering. The subsequent delegates were elected by same votes, to wit, twenty-nine. The scattering refrained from voting. Kline announced the completion of their work, when

"At once there rose so wild a yell
As 'twere from the battlements of hell,"
The "gang" had done their work up Brown, and were satisfied. Beakes' friends did not materialize. The Millman gang were supplied with written tickets for delegates favorable to Brown, and all in one handwriting, and by good judges pronounced to bear a close resemblance to the deputy clerk's chirography.

A well-known democrat was heard to exclaim, "Brown & Co. can pack September caucuses, but they can't stuff November ballot boxes." Vale! Vale!

AROUND THE COUNTY.

Violets are blooming near Pittsfield. The Chelsea fair was a great success. The enrollment of the Dexter schools is 224.

A monster blue crane is eliciting admiration near North Lake. The gross receipts of the Brighton fair amounted to $1,322.

Rev. R. H. Cole will act as general secretary for the Ypsilanti Y. M. C. A. The Manchester Enterprise has been enlarged. It now consists of six pages.

The Ypsilanti electric light system cost $122,060 during the month of September.

Nearly all the orchards around North Lake have been bought by H. Fuller, of Chelsea.

The Patrons of Industry will meet in Dexter next Saturday, and nominate a county ticket.

H. W. Bassett, of Saline, is the republican candidate for representative in the second district.

Editor Emmert, of the Chelsea Standard, desires, it is said, a position in the railway mail service.

Rev. Mr. Forbes, of Stockbridge, will preach to the wicked of North Lake during the coming year.

Congressman Allen has secured for John W. Wise, an Ypsilanti veteran, a pension of $72 per month.

The Lutheran society in Saline has just raised $2,400 with which to pay the mortgage on their property.

The Congregational ladies of Dexter will hold a harvest home festival on October 31 and November 1.

W. H. Glenn, of North Lake, boasts of some bean stalks bearing from seventy-five to 129 pods apiece.

About $50,000 has been expended in new buildings in Vance this season, and there is not a dud house in the village.

The Willis adventists have bought a lot eighty rods east of the village and already have their building material on the ground.

Are the Manchester Enterprise, Saline Observer, and Milan Leader willing that our county schools be dragged into the mire of party politics?

The officers of the senior class of the Chelsea high school are the following: Herbert Dancer, president; May Judson, vice president; Ransom Armstrong, secretary; Walter Woods, treasurer.

W. W. Clark, a former resident of Dexter, now proprietor of the Harper City, Kansas, flouring mills, committed suicide recently. Business troubles and family afflictions probably prompted the deed.

The Ypsilanti Commercial is "real mean." It says: "The Ypsilanti and Sentinel continue to call one another fakir, loafer, etc. Their offices are down town close together, and they probably know each other well."

There is some talk of bringing the water from Horseshoe lake and emptying it into Whitmore. It can be done for about $250, and certainly would greatly improve Whitmore.—Ann Arbor Democrat.

Why not make a "bee" and carry it over in pails, thus saving $250?—Adrian Press. Don't you know, brother Press? The beastly protective tariff would prevent—according to your logic.

A Toledo fellow has been "writing up Saline and booming its many flourishing industries. Otto Jarrant's extract of malt and barley stored the following neat little notice: "Otto Jarrant is the energetic proprietor of a first-class bakery and lunch rooms here. He has a superior stock of choice bakery stuff and a neat and tasty lunch parlor. This is an excellent place to purchase this class of goods."

Milan Leader: "The Ann Arbor Argus will not support Arthur Brown for county clerk, nor M. J. Lehman for prosecuting attorney, and the Register indicates these two democratic candidates as 'the schoolhouse ring.' The Argus editor failed to get nominated as clerk, and the Register is republican. Such is politics!"

The editor of the Leader (who professes much indignation at the iniquitous liquor traffic) should read the communication which appears in this issue of THE REGISTER.

The first settlement of white men in Washtenaw county was within our city limits. In 1809, Gabriel Godfrey, Francis Pepin and Louis LeChambre, three Frenchmen, established a trading post here, erecting a building for that purpose about where the Occidental Hotel now stands. At that time the whole country west of Detroit was in sole possession of the Indians, and with them these men for a time had a lucrative traffic. A few years later, the Indians were by treaty given lands further west and removed, and the post ceased to be valuable.—D. B. Greene, in Ypsilanti.

Joseph Corbett, of Ypsilanti, has one of Jefferson Davis' razors in his possession. The strap and the case, which is made of and held two razors, was captured from Mr. Davis' colored valet by Lyman J. Russell of Co. A, 4th Reg't. Mr. Russell gave one razor to a comrade, Reason Wright by name, of Milford. The other razor and the case Mr. Corbett purchased of the capturer, while the boys were yet at the front together, and he has owned it every since. Mr. Corbett also vouches for the quality of his razor, but he admits that the rust it accumulated while being carried in the saddle bags didn't help it any.

The Milan Leader has the following on the village of Whittaker: "Geographically, Whittaker is snugly situated in the heart of the township of Augusta, Washtenaw county, and is surrounded by some of the best farming lands and people in the county. Whittaker is a modern town, which dates its birth back only to the advent of the Wabash railroad, some ten or twelve years ago. At that time there was only the Augusta townhouse and several farm houses in the vicinity to start a town with; but, with a railroad in the scheme, this was considered sufficient provocation for starting the town of Whittaker. Thus far during its career, it has witnessed the rise of three important local enterprises, the sawmill, the broom-handle factory and the coal kilns—the former being now extinct. As a shipping point for farm produce, poultry, dressed pork, etc., Whittaker ranks ahead of most of the towns of its size.

THE POTATO CROP.
 It is Unprecedentedly Large, and High Prices Mark It Profitable.

The potato crop in Northern Michigan is all that could be desired. In the Traverse Bay region enough potatoes have been grown to supply several States, while through the central part of the northern district such a crop as the one this year has rarely been gathered.

Last year all the potatoes wanted could have been had for from 10 to 15 cents a bushel, the crop in other parts of the country being large; but this year the crop being a partial failure elsewhere will run prices up. The farmers are receiving from 65 cents to 75 cents a bushel delivered on board the cars. Large shipments of potatoes are being made by rail and water from Traverse City.

Health in Michigan.
 Reports to the State Board of Health by fifty-seven observers in different parts of the State for the week ended October 4 indicated that typho-malarial fever, inflammation of the brain, erysip-las, measles and diphtheria increased, and cerebro-spinal meningitis, whooping cough, pleuritis and dysentery decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty-two places, scarlet fever at thirty-one, typhoid fever at forty-one and measles at four places.

Work of Michigan Congressmen.
 The Michigan Congressmen engineered 94 special pension bills through the House, of which Belnap introduced 33, O'Donnell 18, Bliss 13, Burrows 4, Allen 6, Brewer 5, Cutchoun 5, Whiting 4, Chipman 3 and Wheeler 2.
 Mr. Stephenson was not called on to introduce a single pension bill, and Captain Allen made 70 changes in the Second district post-offices and 32 old soldiers were appointed postmasters.

Shot by an Enraged Husband.
 Dr. Robert K. Muir, a veterinary surgeon of Jackson, went to the house of his father-in-law, George Denogel, in Union City, in a rage of jealousy, and fired several shots at his wife and James Byard. Byard was slightly wounded, but his wife was unhurt. Muir was arrested and will be examined November 7. He believed that Byard and his wife had sustained improper relations.

Census Statistics.
 The population of several towns is given as follows by the Census Bureau:
 Grand Rapids, 64,147; increase, 32,131.
 Kalamazoo, 17,187; increase, 5,920.
 Muskegon, 22,668; increase, 11,406.
 Ishpeming, 11,184; increase, 5,145.
 Menominee, 10,636; increase, 7,818.
 Marquette, 9,096; increase, 4,406.
 Negaunee, 6,061; increase, 2,130.

Fell Under the Wheels.
 John Morrison, a brakeman on the Michigan Central, attempted to board a train at Bay City, but fell under the wheels and had both legs run over and was fatally injured. He was aged 35 years, and had been employed on the road three weeks. His parents live at London, Ont.

Short but Newsy Item.
 A Potoski man ran his horse upon the streets of that village until the animal dropped dead.

The University of Michigan opened with the largest number of freshmen in the history of the institution.

The entire fire department of Detroit was called out by a fire in Posseluis Bros' furniture factory. The damage was $10,000.

Bees stung four horses to death at Mayfield.

Henry Bouregard when passing through the woods near Ishpeming was mistaken for a bear and shot.

William Olson, of Iron Mountain, was fatally hurt while coupling cars.

The forthcoming volume of Michigan farm statistics shows that of the 138, 470 farmers in the State 43 per cent. own an average of thirty-two sheep each.

The Lansing young men have organized a syndicate and will give entertainments to raise money to go to the world's fair with.

John Steves, a saw-dler in the Hawley saw-mill at Marquette, was run over by a log carriage and almost instantly killed. He leaves a family at Muskegon.

The following figures will give something of an idea of the amount of business transacted at the Secretary of State's office: Letters received during September, 2,740; mailed, 1,142; books, 10; shipped, 5,010; papers received, 1,994;
 postal cards, 49; mailed, 281; election blanks sent out, 33,168.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

He and His Party Receive a Cordial Welcome from the People.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 10.—President Harrison was yesterday the guest of this city, visiting the coal palace and reviewing a big parade. Governor Boies in a brief speech of welcome introduced the President from the reviewing stand, and President Harrison in reply congratulated the people of Iowa on the phenomenal progress which they had made as a State within the last decades, and was gratified by the evidences of prosperity which he observed on every hand. The party left for Topeka, Kan., in the evening.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 11.—On his way to this city, President Harrison met with cordial receptions at St. Joseph, Mo., and at Atchison. The party arrived here at 10:40 yesterday morning and witnessed a parade of 30,000 veterans and 6,000 school children. At 4 p. m.
 the President left for Kansas City, and after a short stop left for St. Louis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—President Harrison and party were entertained at St. Louis on Saturday, and yesterday the President passed the day at his home in this city in a quiet manner. He attended church in the morning.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 14.—Propos-of the President's trip, Congressman Tom Bayne has some interesting figures. He says General Harrison has been gone but eight days and in that time has traveled a distance of a little over 3,000 miles. During these eight days he has made forty speeches, just one-half as many as he made during his entire Presidential campaign. Nine speeches out of ten touched upon the war and but one encroached on politics.

The President left Indianapolis at 6
 a. m. yesterday, and stops were made at Pendleton, Anderson, Muncie, Winchester and Union City, in Indiana, and at De Graff, Bellefontaine, La Rue, Augusta, Marion, Crestline, Massillon, Canton, Alliance and Salem, in Ohio.
 At each place large crowds greeted the President heartily, and he made brief speeches. The train arrived in Pittsburgh on time, and after a short stop left at 7:30 for Washington.

DEATH IN THE FLAMES.
 Three Men and a Woman Lose Their Lives in a Hotel Fire at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—A lamp exploded in the fourth floor hallway of the Putnam European Hotel at 163 and 165 Adams street Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. The ignited oil was thrown in every direction, and immediately the frail pine partitions separating the apartments were in a blaze.
 The fire spread rapidly, and within a few moments the building was filled with dense smoke, blinding and suffocating. Ten persons were sleeping on the fourth floor. Some escaped down the stairway, others groped their way to the fire-escape at the front of the building. Edward Peyton, aged 60 years, was burned to death in his bed. Kirk H.
 Salms, of Calumet, Mich., a Pinkerton detective, and Thomas B. Dowler, of this city, fell in the hallway and were burned almost beyond recognition.
 Mrs. Charles Robinson leaped from the fourth-story window and was horribly mangled on the pavement below. She has since died.

FAILURE AT INDIANAPOLIS.
 The Car Manufacturing Company Goes Down with Liabilities Over $600,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 11.—The Indianapolis Car Manufacturing Company, one of the largest concerns of the kind in the United States, went to the wall Friday afternoon with liabilities reaching over $600,000. A petition for a receiver was filed by the purchasing agent of the company, and by agreement Judge Taylor, of the superior court, appointed Matthew Henning receiver. Mr. Henning's bond is for $500,000. The company's assets are believed to be but slightly in excess of the liabilities. The company has been doing an extensive business, and the failure has caused much surprise among business men. There is due for labor alone $14,000.

Damages for a Broken Neck.
 BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 11.—In the circuit court a jury gave Leonard Matthews a verdict of $10,000 against the Chicago & Alton railway. He was the brakeman who was knocked off a train by a bridge over the track at Joliet and has claimed that his neck was broken.
 The amount of the judgment is the largest returned in this court for many months.

ALL persons who still believe in the discredited doctrine of free trade should hear Congressman Burrows, who speaks in this city on the evening of Oct. 21.

DEMOCRATIC papers are very much horrified at the charge that J. M. Turner's name has appeared on liquor bonds. Do they wish the people to infer that the whiskey-soaked democracy is in favor of prohibition?

DURING the past nineteen months of President Harrison's administration, $205,714,410 of the national debt has been paid. If the present rate is maintained, $519,699,552 will have been paid by the fourth of March, 1893. During the four years of Cleveland's misrule only $341,386,980 was deducted from the national debt.

The recent address of George William Curtis before the civil service reform association is full of encouragement for the future. The dominant party is pledged to that reform and doing all it can to further it. The time will come when the absurd doctrine that "the victor belongs the spoils" will be as unpopular as the old doctrine that the "king can do no wrong." The people of the nineteenth century are rapidly casting off all the diseases which have debauched true democracy, and the spoils system is one of them.

The supreme court, after long deliberation, has finally decided that the local option law is constitutional. All prohibitionists, and all other temperance people who approve of prohibition in theory but doubt its efficacy in practice, will rejoice that an opportunity is thus afforded for the "dry" counties to rid themselves of the liquor traffic. In the "wet" counties it is to be hoped there will be no change. It is to be hoped, however, that the next legislature will raise the liquor license to $1,000. Nothing less than that can properly be called "high" license at all.

The largely increased attendance of the university this year brings to notice a very serious problem. The present buildings are wholly inadequate to the demands for room made upon them. Not only University Hall, but the law and dental buildings as well should be enlarged at once. The state can scarcely be expected to provide money for all these objects, but why cannot some of the rich alumni and public-spirited citizens of the state render themselves illustrious by donating some fine structures. Who would not take pride in a Palmer Hall or an Alger Conservatory of Music, standing on the campus?

The republicans of New York City have combined with the wing of the democracy known as the "Counties" in the selection of a People's ticket, the object of the alliance being the annihilation of Tammany rule in the metropolis. In so doing they have acted wisely and patriotically, for they have shown themselves willing in city elections to ignore party politics and have proved their devotion to the doctrine that the selection of local officers should be viewed merely as a matter of business. The duties of mayor are very closely analogous to those of a corporation president. There is no more reason why the chief executive officer of New York should be elected because he is a democrat or a republican than that the president of the Michigan Central railroad should be elected because he is a democrat or a republican.

WHEN a democrat tells you that the tariff is responsible for all trusts, just point him to the Standard Oil Company, which is entirely independent of the tariff, and at the same time gently remind him that one of the heads of that gigantic monopoly is now in the United States senate, elected by democratic votes. If that is not enough, tell him that the democrats, in the Mills bill, surrendered, soul and body, to the sugar trust. If he still prates of tariff-made monopoly, just remind him that free-trade England is plastered over with trusts. You will have given him enough evidence, by this time, to convince the ordinary man, but if "he, though vanquished, can argue still," ask him why his party voted against the Sherman anti-trust bill? The probability is that when you have gone thus far, your democratic friend will break out in wild invective—just as the democratic representatives do in congress. The party in the wrong always does the most talking, you know.

Messrs. BROWN and LEHMAN are both members of the county board of school examiners, and Messrs. Brown and Lehman are both candidates on the democratic ticket for the offices of county clerk and prosecuting attorney, respectively. Most of the delegates who voted for the nomination of Mr. Brown were undoubtedly elected by those who were either relatives or intimate friends of the school-teachers throughout the county. Here is "ring" rule of the worst kind. The fact that Messrs. Brown and Lehman sought positions on the board of school examiners and at the same time used all possible means to advance their candidacy for county offices, is suspicious on its very face, and no amount of praise for the personal fitness, moral character and affability of Mr. Brown or Mr. Lehman will cause people to overlook the methods they used in order to obtain their nominations. The people of this county will stand many kinds of political machines, but they will not stand a machine which is sure to bring about ultimately the utter demoralization of the county school system. There are grumblings and mutterings among many democrats, who have formerly been the staunchest of partisans, that bode no good to Messrs. Brown and Lehman.

The McKinley bill, just passed, carries out faithfully the pledges made by the republican party in the platform of 1888. An advocate of the measure truthfully states the case as follows: "The internal taxes on tobacco have been materially reduced, on the theory that all direct taxation should be brought down to the lowest possible figure. The free-list has been enormously increased by the addition of practically every article known to our commerce that is not, or cannot be, profitably produced in this country, on the theory that the proper subjects of importation into a well-ordered country are not those articles that its people can supply to themselves, but those that they cannot supply, and that goods of this character should be brought to the consumer at the cheapest possible price. The dutiable list has been thoroughly revised, so that the revenues necessary to carry on the government shall be collected as largely as possible from foreigners in return for the privilege of selling their goods in our markets. Foreign competition—which means a competition in cheap labor, a competition in flesh and blood—shall be checked wherever it threatens to lower the American standard of wages and to drive American producers out of business. Numerous branches of industry, never heretofore carried on in America, shall be encouraged and undertaken production, thus increasing the opportunities for the profitable investment of capital and the profitable occupation of labor. The cost of necessary supplies to the American consumer shall in no case be raised, but shall, in response to the law of free domestic competition, go on decreasing in the future, as it always has, under the protective policy, in the past."

CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Hon. J. K. Boies Discusses the Issues of the Day Before an Enthusiastic Audience—The Tariff Question Ably Treated.

The republican campaign was opened, on Saturday night last, by a vigorous speech from Hon. J. K. Boies. Although the night was rainy, there was a large turnout and enough enthusiasm was shown to warrant the belief that the republican majority in this state will be unusually large. Mr. Boies makes no pretence of being an orator, but treats the issues of the day from the standpoint of plain, hard common sense. His discussion of the tariff question was particularly fair and able. The tariff, said he, is no recent device, but it is as old as the government itself. He graphically traced its history, showing the effect, good or bad, of every measure passed during the present century. His treatment of the theoretical and practical side of the question was scarcely less convincing. He showed how the tariff first fosters the industry by shutting out foreign competition and how afterwards American industry comes into play and cheapens the American goods, while, at the same time, their quality constantly improves. He ridiculed the idea that protection had destroyed our foreign trade, for the latter was never so extensive as it is now. He also showed how foolish it would be for Americans to give up their home market in the hope of gaining access to the very shadowy and illusive world's market. The charge that protection fosters trusts, he successfully refuted by showing that the greatest monopolies are in no way dependent upon the tariff. The other issues of the day were ably discussed by Mr. Boies.

TRUTH ABOUT EXPORTS.

DISHONEST FREE TRADE ARGUMENTS REFUTED.

Senator Vest Completely Answered—The Discounts for Exports of Foreign Railroads.

The reform club's experts, in circulating slanders against American manufacturers, are merely doing the work of the foreign mill owners, who expect some return from their contributions. Free-trade newspapers, lacking honest argument, reproduce in all their bald untruthfulness the sensational statements about export discounts, and Democratic senators father the calumnies by having them inserted in the Congressional Record.

These statements are maliciously dishonest and misleading. When Senator Vest, assuming their truth, says: "Forty-five per cent. is put upon agricultural implements for the purpose of protecting the manufacturer, and I say that it has protected the manufacturer so effectively that he is now able to go into the unprotected markets of the world and sell for one-half to the foreign consumer or user of agricultural implements that he sells to the American farmer," he must know that he is slandering his fellow citizens.

He has undoubtedly read the statement of The Mail and Export Journal—the best authority on the subject. "The truth of the matter is just this: The quotations named, as taken from the foreign price current, are for the wholesale or jobbing trade, and not for the foreign consumer, the latter being required to pay as much for the goods which he buys from the dealer in his own country as the latter deems sufficient to reimburse him for the cost of importation, with his profit added."

He knows perfectly well that the price currents of all sorts of hardware and agricultural implements issued for the trade in the United States give prices which are subject to large trade discounts, running from 10 to 75 or even 90 per cent.

For the senator to go on from day to day repeating statements and drawing inferences respecting American manufacturers, and to their prejudice, which he knows to be false, is, we submit, unworthy of his position and cannot fail in the end to detract from his reputation for common honesty.

It is dishonest in Mr. Vest to attempt to distort into robbery the refusal of American manufacturers to sell agricultural implements to farmers at wholesale rates when he knows that the same rule obtains in every other industry, whether protected or unprotected. The manufacturer does not profit by listing goods at the retail price while selling them with a discount to the dealer. The well known effect is that he sells almost no goods at the retail price. The trade is thrown into the hands of the middleman, and the manufacturer refuses to undersell him. If there is any injustice in this it has existed in trade from time immemorial, and has nothing to do with tariffs. There is no "robbery" about it.

Senator Vest blunders in assuming that the export journals circulate among the farmers of South America and advertise to supply them with agricultural implements at a lower price than charged American farmers. The fact is that farmers rarely, if ever, see such papers. The Mail and Export Journal and the Australasian circulate almost exclusively among large purchasers, and The Engineering and Mining Journal contains little, as its name indicates, that would interest farmers.

A true index of the class to which the readers of any paper belong is its advertising list, and that of The Engineering and Mining Journal shows that its agricultural readers are few indeed. The issue of Aug. 30, for example, has nearly 400 advertisers of at least 100 different classes of goods or services, and not one of them offers agricultural implements. This paper knows that it is quite safe in asserting that "any foreign subscriber" can buy at the low rates advertised, for it knows how few of them are farmers.

In this connection the following, showing the export discounts on freights given by English roads, will be interesting:

Export discounts are given by the English roads in many instances, and where such reductions in freight charges are made on English roads they are met by German, Belgian and Holland roads, except as hereafter mentioned:

Coal—Average British reduction in freight when exported, 76 per cent., and there is a note that "There is no German or Dutch seaport so near the mines." The Belgians make a reduction.

In hardware, cutlery, saws and tools export rates only are given in all four countries.

Cotton Goods—Average British reduction on export, 29 per cent.; none in the other countries.

Woolen, Worsted and Stuff Goods—Average British reduction on export, 13 per cent.; none in the other three countries.

Earthenware and China—Average British reduction on export, 40 per cent. There is also a reduction in the other three countries.

General Machinery—Average British reduction on export, 67 per cent. There is also a reduction on Belgian exports; none in the other countries.

Agricultural Implements (Iron)—Average British reduction on export, 30 per cent. The Germans and Dutch also give a reduction on export; the Belgians do not.

All but about 14 per cent. in length of the German lines and 27 per cent. of the Belgian roads were, at the date of the report, worked by their respective governments. Both the state owned and the private roads in Holland are worked by private companies; those belonging to the state under an agreement. The reductions in freight charges on export goods in the case of English roads are made obligatory by their charters in many, if not in all, cases.

The Webster farmers' fair was held last Saturday at Johnson Backus'. A goodly number were present to greet the generous display of fruits, vegetables and flowers, together with works of art. Fancy work and Henry Scadin's photographic display also asserted their rights for exhibit. Seward Backus displayed his Shropshire lambs. The club discussed county organization and listened to a recitation by Arthur Lincoln. The next meeting of the club will take place at Abner Butler's.

What is the sensation of Ann Arbor Saturday Oct. 18th? "Running Wild." Manager Sawyer did it. He knew his patrons wished to see the comedy that set N. Y. City laughing and finally succeeded in securing it for this one night. "Running Wild" can also boast of pretty girls, the management making this a special feature, have not only procured pretty faces, but likewise talented artists. The N. Y. Herald recently said of the play: "The music was very pretty and very prettily sung, while the farce, itself, was broad and side-splitting. To a sufficient degree it will arouse the most melancholy to uproarious laughter."

"Misfortunes never come single," chuckled the old bachelor, when he hears a tale of married infelicity.

Choice fruit, says the American Gardener, is the product not only of science, but of practical skill and untiring attention. "Eternal vigilance" alone can reap the desired reward in this industry. In many places this does not "pay," except in the pleasure afforded to the interested grower. Many such admit that their choice fruit costs them very dear, unless large allowance is made for satisfactions that bring no pecuniary return. I would not deny the weary business man these satisfactions, where his tastes run that way; but there is hardly one in twenty who cares for the garden if he can get the fruit. To the others we must look for the patronage which will make fancy fruit-growing pay.

Death of Richard Snell.

Richard Snell died at his home at Whitmore Lake, October 10, of peritonitis, at the age of seventy-nine years and seven months. Mr. Snell was a well-known and highly respected pioneer of Washtenaw county. He was born in Montgomery county, N. Y., February 14, 1812, and at the age of twenty-one years, he came to Michigan and purchased a farm in Lima. The same year he was married to Fanny Bennett, who with one son, E. W. Snell, of Whitmore Lake, survives him.

Like all of our pioneers Mr. Snell met with many hardships, but was a hard working intelligent farmer as well as a good, large-hearted, public-spirited citizen, having been several times honored with public offices in Lima. During early life, and even until middle age he was possessed of unusual corporal strength and something more than average mental ability. He was an earnest worker in religious matters and has with others been instrumental in the establishment of the Methodist church at Lima Center. In 1872 deceased removed from his farm to Ann Arbor, where he remained until 1883, when he removed, this time to Whitmore Lake, his residence up to the time of his death.

For a number of years Mr. Snell had been afflicted with brain trouble, which gradually grew on him until he was finally mentally incapacitated and for many months he had been in an exceedingly pitiable condition. * * *

Amusements.

Ida Van Cortland and her excellent company appeared last evening at the town hall in the four-act comedy-drama, "A Shadowed Life," and gave the best of satisfaction. As Stella she renewed her hold upon Woodstock playgoers and at her first appearance received an ovation. The company with which the Messrs. Tavernier have surrounded Miss Van Cortland is superior this season to any heretofore supporting this favorite actress. W. J. Butler, as the light-hearted, right-minded and generous friend, Fred Toun, deserves special mention for an excellent piece of light-comedy acting, and Miss Kerr, as Ella, with her simplicity and quaint girlishness evoked much spontaneous mirth. Buddle is an odd creation of the author and was given a droll characterization by Mr. Barbaret, and was deserving of all the favor bestowed upon him, "as I am an honest man."—Woodstock Standard.

A Grand Excursion.

Ho, for a night's fun. A grand excursion into the realms of comedy, for one night only, Saturday October 18, given by the highly successful "Running Wild Co." The acme of refinement and all the latest songs of the day. That sweet singer, Miss Madeline Mills, also the famous quartette, producing one of the grandest melodies ever rendered. Henry L. Keene, the eccentric comedian, in his side splitting specialties, and a host of others calculated to drive dull cares away, and keep all in a good humor. Sale of seats at usual place.

The Beautiful Guild.

ANN ARBOR, June 7th, 1890.

MR. WILSEY,
DEAR SIR:—I enclose the testimonial for which you asked. It gives me pleasure to send it to you, as I like my piano so much. When you can make it convenient, come out and see how it has stood the wear and tear of nine years.
Yours Truly,
LILLIE BAESSLER.

 With regard to the Guild purchased of you nine years ago.  Its tone is as mellow and sweet as ever, and in standing in tune I have never seen its equal. Any one contemplating the purchase of a piano, will find it to their interest to examine the Guild.
Respectfully,
LILLIE BAESSLER.

The Guild has stood "wear and tear" better, and held its own better than any piano I have ever sold. Over 25,000 have been manufactured, and sold very largely in Boston and vicinity. The great music publishing house of Ditson & Co has sold over 800 of them in the City of Boston. The simple (patent) tuning device is the greatest improvement of the day, and will save expense to the owner besides the satisfaction of having a piano constantly in tune.

The swinging music desk running the entire length of the piano is perfection. They please, they sell. Why? See them, and you will learn. Manufactured in Boston for nearly thirty years.

ALVIN WILSEY, State Agent.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.

Predicted His Own Death.

He realized that he was dying, and Tuesday sent parties to this city to have an undertaker get a coffin for him, saying he would die at 6 o'clock Friday morning. A casket had to be made especially for him. A singular fact was his prediction of the hour of his death, as he died within twenty minutes of 6 o'clock.

A Chance to Make Money.

Mr. Editor:—I bought one of Griffith's machines for plating with gold, silver or nickel and it works to perfection. No sooner did the people hear of it than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.30, the first month $167.85, and I think by July 1st I will have $1,000 cash and give my farm considerable attention, too. My daughter made $27.40 in four days. Any person can get one of these machines by sending $3 to W. H. Griffith & Co., Zanesville, O., or can obtain circulars by addressing them. You can learn to use the machine in one hour. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been.

Yours truly, M. O. MOREHEAD.

UNCLE SAM'S LANDS.

How They Have Been Disposed of During the Year.

Nearly 19,000,000 Acres of the Public Domain Have Been Taken Up by Enterprising Settlers—Other Statistics.

WORK OF THE LAND OFFICE.
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Judge Lewis A. Groff, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, has submitted to the Secretary of the Interior the annual report of the operations of his bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1890. The report says that an agricultural domain of nearly 19,000,000 acres has during the year been transferred to settlers by patents issued to them. The area of coal and mineral lands patented has been greatly increased over that of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1889. The area patented to the States under the grants for educational and internal improvement purposes has increased 300 per cent. The class of patents known as "agricultural" includes all patents issued on final and commuted homestead entries, on pre-emption, timber culture, desert, private cash, town-site and other entries embracing land of an agricultural non-mineral character. The number of such agricultural patents issued during the period covered by the report was 117,247, embracing 18,758,520 acres, as against 70,141 issued in 1889, with an aggregate area of 11,220,060. The increase for the year is, therefore, 47,106 patents, and 7,538,460 acres of land. Of mineral and mill-site patents 1,407 were issued, showing an increase in the year of 494. Of coal patents 234 were issued. This is an increase of 69 patents, representing 15,376 acres. The acreage of swamp lands patented to the several States during the year was 109,513. There were patented or certified under the law for the benefit of railroad companies during the year 363,862 acres. This is a decrease for the year of 61,183 acres.

A statement of the acreage of public lands disposed of during the fiscal year shows that by private entries 38,617 acres were disposed of, by preemption entries 2,204,905; timber and stone entries, 569,396; desert land, 478,849. The total cash sales were $3,302,846. The acreage disposed of by original homestead entries was 5,531,678; timber culture, 1,787,403; State selections, school and swamp, 258,141; railroad selections, 1,752,758; and others of a miscellaneous character making an aggregate of 9,362,655. The Indian lands disposed of aggregate 133,805 acres, making a grand total of 12,798,337 acres. The total cash receipts of the office from various sources during the fiscal year was $7,783,517.

Upon the subject of the forests of the public domain the Commissioner says that he finds that the most valuable timber on the public lands is being rapidly exhausted, and that the several laws relating to the subject are utterly inadequate properly to protect either the public forests from unlawful appropriation or the interests of the settlers.

Peace in Salvador.

Oklahoma City's Hopes Blasted.
 GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 14.—The famous council bill which provides for the moving of the temporary seat of government from Guthrie to Oklahoma City was vetoed Monday by Governor Steele. His grounds for vetoing the bill were that the adjoining Indian lands now being negotiated for when annexed should have a voice in the matter.

Michigan Crop Report.
 LANSING, Mich., Oct. 13.—The Michigan crop report for October gives the total wheat yield as 23,670,409 bushels, an average of 16.58 bushels per acre; oats yield an average of 25 bushels per acre; barley, 18.76 bushels, and corn 53 bushels. Potatoes will yield only 53 per cent of an average crop, and winter apples only 27 per cent.

The Laundrymen's National Association began its convention Monday at Pittsburgh. President Doremus, of Chicago, in his annual address advised strenuous opposition to Chinese establishments.

IRISH INDUSTRIES AND WAGES.

How Ireland Has Been Ruined by English Legislation.

There was a recent strike on the Waterford and Limerick railway, at Limerick, where the engineers and fitters were receiving thirty-three shillings, or $8.05, per week, and machinists were getting sixteen shillings, or $3.90, per week. They wanted thirty-six shillings and twenty-four shillings respectively, or $8.78 and $5.86, the same that men are getting in other parts of Ireland. The directors decided that they could not afford to pay the advance, and probably they cannot. How any railroad can live in a country as sparsely populated as Ireland is, when engineers work for $8.05 per week and machinists for $3.90, probably no American can find out without going there to see, for we are not going to have free-trade in this country.

Before the union Ireland had a parliament of its own which arranged a tariff to suit Ireland; it did not suit England, and we all know that like everything interfering with England it was a very bad parliament, but under its laws they sailed ships to this country in competition with the English, and having much more capital than our traders were very troublesome to them under the federation of the states before the adoption of the constitution. Now, though that country builds ships and its sailors contribute to the crews of nearly all vessels, it is not noted for its large ownership of vessels. Then Ireland possessed about one-third of the population of the United Kingdom; now it has one-seventh only of the population and one-twentieth of the wealth, though at both periods the population has been and is about 5,000,000, and fifty years ago it was over 8,000,000.

After the union the English parliament adjusted the Irish tariff to suit English interests. There was no sudden shock about this adjustment. Like the Democratic statesmen, who have learned from them, they did not propose to scatter want and famine on the land at once; that would have attracted attention; there was a moderate reduction of the so called prohibitory laws. It lasted during twenty-one years, but it was certain; it was intended to destroy confidence, and it did it. No mill was rebuilt; no machinery was replaced; the industries of Ireland were moribund before five years had passed.

LITERARY NOTES.

The contributors to the October Magazine of American History present a rare combination of eminence in the scholarly world. The number opens with an incomparable paper on the Sources and Guarantees of National Progress, by the great divine and eloquent historian, Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, of Brooklyn. This is prefaced by an admirable portrait of the distinguished author, and occupying twenty-eight of the beautiful pages of this periodical, is from first to last a procession of brilliant passages, clear, forcible, suggestive, showing with marvelous grace and power what principles developed little settlements into a great nation, whose future history is as secure as the past, if only that moral life remains which characterized the founders of empires on this continent. Price $5. Pub. at 743 Broadway, New York.

The Forum for October, 1890, contains: Social Problems and the Church, by Bishop F. D. Huntington; The Decadence of New England, by George S. Boutwell; Formative Influences, by Frederic Harrison; The Working of the New Silver Act, by Prof. F. W. Taussig; First Steps toward Nationalism, by Edward Bellamy; The Future of Our Daughters, by Helen Ekin Starrett; China's Menace to the World, by Thomas Magee; The Idea of Life After Death, by Prof. J. Peter Lesley; Two Forces in Fiction, by Mary D. Cutting; The Zodiacal Light, by Prof. Arthur Williams Wright; Climate and the Gulf Stream, Jacques W. Redway. $5.00 a year. The Forum Publishing Co., 253 Fifth-ave., New York.

"The Jack Trust" is the title of a parlor farce which Grace L. Furniss, the well-known author of A Box of Monkeys and A Veneered Savage, will contribute to the forth-coming number of Harper's Bazar. It is reported that the young Grand Duke Nicholas Alexandrovitch, the Czarowitch of Russia, will probably visit this country some time within the coming year. This event will be of special interest, from the fact that no other heir to the Russian throne has ever traveled beyond the limits of the European continent. Harper's Young People for October 7 contains a portrait of the Czarowitch, together with an interesting sketch of some Russian Grand Dukes, written by Barnet Phillips. Harper & Brothers, New York.

Among the most notable of recent contributions to the North American Review is the article in the October number in which the Rt. Hon. John Morley replies to Mr. Balfour's late Review article on the Irish Land Bill. This article, representing the opinion of the bill held by English Liberals, will complete a discussion of this important subject such as has taken place in no other periodical in the world; the Irish view having been expounded by C. S. Parnell in the June number, and the Conservative view by Mr. Balfour in the July number. E. L. Godkin, editor of the New York Evening Post, has a trenchant and suggestive article on Municipal Reform in this number. 3 E. Fourteenth-st., New York.

The Bookbuyer for October contains an engraved portrait and sketch of Andrew Lang; a good article on Rudyard Kipling, the Anglo-Indian whose stories are attracting so much attention in England. These with the usual departments make up a very bright and interesting number. $1.00 a year. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

Mr. George duMaurier continues his series of articles on The Illustrating of Books in the October Magazine of Art, while Claude Phillips writes of The Modern Schools of Painting and Sculpture in France. Many other excellent papers complete this excellent number. Magazine of Art, Cassell & Co., publishers, New York.

LINCOLN'S MELANCHOLY.
 His Sympathetic Nature and His Early Misfortunes.

Those who saw much of Abraham Lincoln during the latter part of his life, were greatly impressed with the expression of profound melancholy his face always wore in repose.

Mr. Lincoln was of a peculiarly sympathetic and kindly nature. These strong characteristics influenced, very happily, as it proved, his entire political career. They would not seem, at first glance, to be efficient aids to political success; but in the peculiar emergency which Lincoln, in the providence of God, was called to meet, no vessel of common clay could possibly have become the "chosen of the Lord."

Those acquainted with him from boyhood knew that early griefs tinged his whole life with sadness. His partner in the grocery business at Salem, was "Uncle" Billy Green, of Tallula, Ill., who used at night, when the customers were few, to hold the grammar while Lincoln recited his lessons.

It was to his sympathetic ear Lincoln told the story of his love for sweet Ann Rutledge; and he, in return, offered what comfort he could when poor Ann died, and Lincoln's great heart nearly broke.

"After Ann died," says "Uncle" Billy, "on stormy nights, when the wind blew the rain against the roof, Ab would set thar in the grocery, his elbows on his knees, his face in his hands, and the tears runnin' through his fingers. I hated to see him feel bad, an' I'd say, 'Abe don't cry; an' he'd look up an' say, 'I can't help it, Bill, the rain's a fallin' on her.'"

There are many who can sympathize with this overpowering grief, as they think of a lost loved one, when "the rain's a fallin' on her." What adds poignancy to the grief some times is the thought that the lost one might have been saved.

Fortunate indeed, is William Johnson, of Corons, J. L. a builder, who writes June 28, 1890: "Last February, on returning from church one night, my daughter complained of having a pain in the ankle. The pain gradually extended until her entire limb was swollen and very painful to the touch. We called a physician, who after careful examination, pronounced it disease of the kidneys of long standing. All we could do, did not seem to benefit her until we tried Warner's Safe Cure; from the first she commenced to improve. When she commenced taking it she could not turn over in bed, and could just move her hand a little, but to-day she is as well as she ever was. I believe I owe the recovery of my daughter to its use."

 The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay. No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900 where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine. The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889 where, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.

Dr. MacLachlan spent Saturday and Sunday in Chicago. While there he visited the various medical schools of that city. The funeral services were observed at the house on Tuesday afternoon.

General Samuel F. Carey spoke to a small but appreciative crowd of democrats at the opera house last night. The chief feature of the evening was the sudden entrance of 200 or 300 law students, who had marched down town in procession, after rendering Prof. Thompson and Knowlton an ovation. For a few minutes pandemonium reigned and the speaker could not be heard until C. R. Whitman arose and brought the students to their senses. Thereupon Mr. Carey resumed speaking and discussed, in democratic fashion, the tariff, the silver question and the force bill.

The receipts of the fair association this year amounted to about $2,000, leaving a small deficit of $125. Inasmuch as the managers were subjected to an expense of about $600 in fixing up their new grounds, they are pretty well satisfied with the result. The sum of $952 was awarded in premiums, the heaviest winners being Richard Nowland, $52.50; E. P. Galpin, $32.00; Mills Bros., $36.00; Harry S. Day, $28.00; S. O. Tubbs, $36.50; Willard Clement, $24.00; C. Helber, $27.00; W. F. Bird, $27.00; Bert Tracy, $23.00; G. W. Inman, $22.50; Norman A. Wood, $23.00; E. E. Leland, $27.00.

The first accident by the Ann Arbor street cars happened almost as soon as the cars were started. The president of the road was caught by the foot while attempting to stop a car and badly hurt. Immediately afterward, while the supreme ruler was hobbling toward a drug store, after arnica, the foreman's foot was caught and jammed in like manner and form. Not being used to electric street cars, the president and foreman supposed the way to stop a car was to block it with the foot. The trouble is, an Ann Arbor man's foot is good for only a five-ton car, and the new cars weigh seven. Better use the brakes.—Adrian Press. The public would feel grateful if the brakes were applied to the wagging tongues of Adrian democratic papers.

The Argus in speaking of Jas. Gorman says: "He is the kind of a man to be proud of, and it is a long, long time since Washenaw democrats have had the pleasure of voting for a Washenaw democrat for congress." Knowing Mr. Beakes, the editor, to be a gentleman, we can only attribute such ridiculous words as "proud" and "pleasure" to his ignorance of Gorman's character. Many of the best and respectable democrats in this section who are well acquainted with him will not vote for him, we are pleased to learn. If Mr. Beakes really means what he says, he ought to have no trouble in "swallowing" the whole democratic "ring" as he calls it, as the moral character of either one of them is pure when compared with Gorman's. Editor Beakes, your reputation is too good to waste on such trash.—Chelsea Standard.
