SOMETHING DROPPED.

DEMOCRACY EVERYWHERE TRIUMPHANT AND JUBILANT.

Nearly every State in the Union turns its back upon the Republican Party—Returns from Washtenaw County.

Public opinion is like a pendulum, never at rest, and frequently shifting from one extreme to the other. In 1888 the Republican party won an overwhelming victory, and in 1890 the democratic party has won a victory still more overwhelming.

In Michigan Winans is elected governor and the legislature is strongly democratic. The democrats have at least seven out of eleven congressmen. Allen being defeated by over 1,800 plurality. Washtenaw county gives Winans a plurality of at least 1,800 and Gorman receives over 1,400. The "ring" triumphs by the aid of republican votes. Brown has over 800 majority, while Lehman has probably 950. Charles Dwyer, one of the most efficient sheriffs this county ever had, receives a majority of at least 1,400. Mr. Brehm's majority for treasurer is slightly smaller. The remainder of the county ticket was about 1,200 for the democrats. The result in this county furnishes several surprises. The sixth ward gives a plurality of 9 for Winans and 17 for Gorman. Ypsilanti city gives 155 plurality for Brown. Jacobs makes a good run, but loses by less than 50 votes. The patrons of industry and prohibition votes are very small—though in some small degree helping the democrats. The figures for the city of Ann Arbor are official. Gorman has a plurality of 326, out of a total vote of 1959. In 1888 Stearns' plurality was only 28. Allen receives 773 votes, Gorman 1099, and Moore 87. Winans carries the city by 430, receiving 1142 votes to 712 for Turner. Partridge receives 103, while Belden gets a few scattering votes. In 1888 Burt had a plurality of 96. The returns from some of the townships are as yet meager. The figures, so far as learned, are given below:

TUBULAR WELLS do away with impure water. There is not the least doubt that many of the most serious diseases are conveyed into healthy systems by infected water. The whole class of typhoid and malarial fevers are doubtless thus spread. It is unfortunate that this fact is not better known, or at least better considered, for it is better known that it is well made use of. Now, there must be some remedy for this as for all other evils, and that remedy I propose to furnish. In all parts of the known world, below the surface of the ground, at varying depths, are found living water, pure and cold, the thought of which makes a person feel thirsty. The only way to get this pure water is by using the Tubular or Drive Well, made by S. F. FAIRBANKS, 90 N. State-st., Ann Arbor, who has had years of experience in sinking wells and repairing pumps.

SCHOOL OF DRESS CUTTING.—Girls wanted at Mrs. C. H. Jones', No 4 North Fourth-ave, to learn Mrs. Kellogg's French Tailoring system. Dress, Dart and French Sewing taught. Classes daily.

Ten reasons why the Kellogg French Tailor System is superior to all others:

1.—The drafts are from actual measurement, and must result in perfectly fitting garments, which can never be accomplished by any chart or mode.

2.—No trying on or fitting is necessary where this system is used.

3.—The system invented by Madame Kellogg is based upon mathematical principles, consisting of a few squares and graded scales.

4.—It is the least complicated of any known system, and more easily understood.

5.—A good cutter, by the Kellogg French Tailor System, can cut more garments in one day, and receive better wages, than by any so-called models, charts, or modes.

6.—It saves time and the danger of spoiling goods, and gives better fits than can be obtained by any other system.

7.—By this system, ladies with irregular forms can be fitted with the same accuracy and certainty as those with perfect forms.

8.—The Kellogg French Tailor System is indorsed by every skillful dress maker throughout the country as being the ME PLUS ULTRA of all known systems.

9.—The price places it within the reach of all who wish a system meeting the requirements of all the changes that Madame Fashion may ordain, and a system that may be used in cutting all manner of ladies' garments with a guarantee of a perfect fit.

10.—I challenge the world to produce a system so easily understood, containing a square and the true graded scales, and producing the same accuracy in fitting a garment.

Friends of the Register, having business in the Probate Office, will please request their printing sent to this office.

Manchester complains of wood famine. Jacob Koller, a brave husband of Manchester township, has been arrested for beating his wife.

Charles Cushman, a gravel train hand, who was working near Ypsilanti, was run over by a train last week and instantly killed. He lived in Albion.

Prof. S. T. Morris, of Dexter, was ordained as Congregational minister last week. The sermon was delivered by Rev. D. M. Fiske, of Jackson. Many visiting divines were present.

Chelsea Standard: Charles Renchler one day last week husked 113 bushels of corn on a farm in Lodi, and tied and set up the stalks. The next day Chas. Herbert husked 103 bushels.

The Saline Observer has just entered upon its eleventh year. It is a good, clean, newsy paper and deserves to be well patronized by the citizens of the thriving village where it is published.

The basar, given by the ladies of St. Mary's church, Chelsea, was a great success. Bishop Foley and Senator Gorman made felicitous speeches. The bishop was greeted by a band of young ladies dressed in white.

Bound to die anyway, was the New York boy, who, when his father refused to furnish him money to buy cigarettes, committed suicide. Better far for his parents, that he should be dead than the living mental wreck he would have become from smoking cigarettes.—Ypsilanti Commercial.

A North Lake correspondent says: "Your scribe has a cow that believes in free trade on the high seas. Last Sunday she launched her craft on North Lake, and after an hour's sailing made a tack, landing about where she started. A black and white calf on the opposite side of the lake was the attraction."

The latest Milan sensation runs as follows: Henry Hobbs was petting Ed. Doersam's mastiff a few nights ago, when someone came along and pushed him over the dog; the dog, perhaps, thinking himself attacked, assailed Henry and tore a gash several inches long on his scalp, which had to be sewed up by the doctor. Henry is coming on all right. No arrests.

James Hoagbe, who has dealt out ruin and death to his fellow citizens for several years as bartender in John Tern's saloon, is having an experimental acquaintance with the same subject. He has a very bad attack of delirium tremens, and although the delirium has finally been quieted, his physical condition from excessive alcoholism is such as to give no strong expectation of his recovery.—The foregoing object lesson is taken from the columns of the Ypsilanti.

Potatoes, wheat, turnips, pumpkins, fishes and snakes—what a crop of extravagant stories! The Saline Observer adds another to the long list. It is a celery story and is interesting. Read and reflect: "Ezra Sanford duly and solemnly avers that he dug from his grounds a single stalk that weighed six and one-fourth pounds. He also further states that he can show more celery to the acre than any other grower in Michigan. If any celery growers wish to dispute his claim to the championship, let them trot out their goods."

Is Jack the Clipper in Ypsilanti? The following sensational communication was slipped through our office door last Monday night, in an envelope addressed, "To the Editor, Jack hair cutter is in town twenty more locks of hair, Jack." We wouldn't advise the girls to leave town on this account, for that is probably a stupid hoax. It would be just as well, however, for people to be on their guard, and if any Jack of that sort really is in town, somebody may have the good luck to kill the idiot.—Ypsilanti.

Don Murray was out hunting birds last Friday, and he brought down bigger game than he intended. He was hunting in the vicinity of Thomas Jackson's home, and he had just made a fine shot at a bird, when he heard a scream in the direction his bullet went, and he started at once to find out what unintended mischief the little leaden messenger had wrought. Miss Maggie, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Thomas Jackson, was going into the house, and when a few feet from the door she heard the report of a gun and stopped, and a few seconds later screamed that she was shot. Dr. Chapin was called and on examination found that the ball had entered the arm at the elbow and lodged a little below, breaking no bones but making an ugly and painful wound. No words, of course, can express Mr. Murray's regret of the occurrence of the accident.—Milan Leader.

CENSUS FIGURES. OUR POPULATION. WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Bulletin No. 13 on the population of the United States was issued by the Census Office Friday. It says:

"The population of the United States June 1, 1890, as shown by the first count of persons and families, exclusive of white persons in Indian Territory, Indians on reservations and Alaska, was 62,490,540. These figures may be slightly changed by later and more exact compilations, but such changes will not be material.

"In 1880 the population was 50,158,783. The absolute increase of the population in the ten years intervening was 12,331,757 and the percentage of increase was 24.57. In 1870 the population was stated as 38,558,371. According to these figures the absolute increase in the decade between 1870 and 1880 was 11,597,412 and the percentage of increase was 30.08.

"Upon their face these figures show that the population has increased between 1870 and 1890 only 7.7,345 more than between 1870 and 1880, and the rate of increase has apparently diminished from 30.08 to 24.57 per cent. If these figures were derived from correct data they would be indeed disappointing. Such a reduction in the rate of increase in the face of the enormous immigration during the last ten years would argue a great diminution in the fecundity of the population or a corresponding increase in its death rate. These figures are, however, easily explained when the character of the data used is understood. It is well-known, the fact having been demonstrated by extensive and thorough investigation, that the census of 1870 was grossly deficient in the Southern States, so much so as not only to give an exaggerated rate of increase of the population between 1870 and 1880 in these States but to affect very materially the rate of increase in the country at large. These omissions were not the fault nor were they within the control of the Census Office. The census of 1870 was taken under a law which the superintendent, General Francis A. Walker, characterized as 'clumsy, antiquated and barbarous.' The Census Office had no power over its enumerators save a barren protest, and its right was even questioned in some quarters.

omitting from consideration those States in which the census of 1870 is known or is presumed to have been faulty, the rate of increase between 1870 and 1880 in the remaining States has been very nearly maintained in the decade between 1880 and 1890.

"The following table shows the population of the several States as found by the census enumeration of the years 1870 and 1880:

Table showing population of various states from 1870 to 1890. Columns include State, 1870, and 1890. Total US population is listed as 62,490,540 in 1890 and 50,158,783 in 1870.

In the relative rank of the States in population, New York comes first, Pennsylvania second, while Illinois has outstripped Ohio, and is now third. Of the other States the most marked are those of Texas, which rises from No. 11 to No. 7; Kentucky, which drops from No. 25 to 20; Nebraska, which rises from 35 to 26; Maryland, which drops from 23 to 27; Colorado, which rises from 32 to 31; Vermont, which drops from 33 to 28; Washington, which rises from 43 to 34; Delaware, which drops from 38 to 42; Nevada, which drops from 44 to 43, and Arizona, which drops from 44 to 48.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

CORRECTIONS AND CHARITIES. Recommendations of the State Board Made to the Governor. The State Board of Corrections and Charities has reported to Governor Luce its opinions and conclusion as to the necessity of further legislation to improve the condition and extend the usefulness of the State and county institutions:

First—That the laws relating to the State prisons be revised and consolidated, and that the Governor be an ex-officio member of the several boards, and that the power of appointment and removal of the wardens rest with the boards, bringing the penal institutions into harmony with the others of the State. Second—That the law should be amended prohibiting the use of county jails for city lock-ups, and suggests that a permanent jailer be appointed by the board of supervisors in each county where the population exceeds 30,000, who may be removed for any good cause by the circuit judge. Third—Better provision for the idiotic and feeble-minded is asked for, as this number is constantly increasing. It is recommended that the circuit judge inspect the county jails in his circuit at least once in each year; that the institution appropriation bills be passed earlier in the legislative sessions, and that act No. 77 of the session laws of 1887 be so amended as to prohibit the sending of the class of prisoners therein defined to any other than a State institution.

Health in Michigan. Reports to the State Board of Health by seventy-one observers in different parts of the State for the week ended October 25 indicated that measles, purpural fever, pleuritis and membranous croup increased, and inflammation of the brain, cerebro-spinal meningitis, typhoid fever, whooping cough, inflammation of the bowels and pneumonia decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at thirty-two places, scarlet fever at thirty-two, typhoid fever at forty-one and measles at four places.

Peters Still a Millionaire. The report sent to a commercial agency distinctly states the direct liabilities of R. G. Peters, of Manistee, as being between $750,000 and $800,000 and the indirect about the same amount, bringing the indebtedness to $1,600,000. The assets are over $5,000,000 and will leave Mr. Peters a millionaire after the business is settled. It also states that Mr. Peters made the assignment at the advice of friends in order to clear himself from several disastrous concerns which were a burden to him, among which was a Chicago concern which had sunk $400,000 for him within two years.

Death of the Oldest Settler. John W. Campfield, aged 80 years, the oldest settler in Port Huron, died the other morning after an illness of several months. Mr. Campfield was a native of New Jersey and came to Michigan in 1832, residing at Detroit, and went to Port Huron in 1833. The first carpet ever used there was made for Mr. Campfield out of rushes woven together by his Indian friends. He was a charter member of the first Masonic lodge ever established in Port Huron.

Earnings of Michigan Roads. The earnings of Michigan roads for August were $8,354,012.51; for the corresponding month in 1889, $8,243,748.83; increase, $110,263.68. Total earnings from January 1 to September 1, 1890, $50,422,310.18; for the corresponding period in 1889, $53,241,820.06, an increase of $3,180,528.13, or 11.60 per cent.

Torn Limb from Limb. Eddie Bennalock, 19 years old, son of John Bennalock, while assisting in putting on a belt at the Hecla wash-house at Lake Linden, was caught and whirled about with the fly-wheel. Both arms and legs were torn off and other injuries received so serious that he was dead when released.

A Cheeky Youth. A bright young man of Menominee surrendered $3,500 of embezzled money and the matter was dropped on account of his relatives. He left town and wrote to his former employers, asking them to send him a letter of recommendation to assist him in getting a position elsewhere.

The Stories Not True. A locomotive engineer in Detroit has a scrap-book, in which he has pasted 147 stories of engineers' wild rides, thrilling escapes, etc. He says that not one of these stories is true in any particular, but that they were all concocted by men who know nothing about the life of an engineer.

Short but Noway Items. Tom McKinney, cook of a hunting party, became lost in the woods near Metropolitan, and was found in an exhausted condition. He would probably die. Fred Holland, of Muskegon, was killed by falling from a second-story window. Governor Luce has appointed D. P. Markey prosecuting attorney of Ogemaw County to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Devere Hall.

There are 210 Presbyterian churches in Michigan and 21,098 members of that church. William Pelette, who murderously assaulted Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara near Port Huron, has been arrested. Mrs. Richard Linke, of Noble, was found hanging dead in the cellar. She used a big halter rope and suspended herself from a rafter.

Tom Thrush, of Atlanta, tried to crawl into a window of a widow's house and had his hand shot off by the widow. Frank Melrose, ten years old, of Bay City, fell from a pair of stilts and broke his left leg in two places. The West Michigan Congregational Association has made a request that all portions of the world's fair be closed Sunday.

The small steam barge Mackinaw was entirely destroyed by fire at Black River. It was owned by its captain, W. E. Rice, and J. Van Buskirk, of Port Huron, was valued at $12,500, and insured for $10,000. Mrs. William Bellamy, of Kalamazoo, who married George Wilcox to stop scandalous reports concerning her relations with him, and before she had secured a divorce from Bellamy, has been sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for ten months for bigamy.

A FATAL VOYAGE.

Collision Between a Steamship and a Schooner. Both Vessels Sink in a Very Short Space of Time—Belief That Over Sixty Persons Have Been Drowned. THREE SCORE DROWNED.

New York, Nov. 1.—The steamship Vizcaya, of the Spanish-American line, collided with the four-masted schooner Cornelius Hargraves Thursday evening when six miles off Barnegat, and both vessels sank almost immediately. It is supposed that over sixty people have been lost. The steamer Humboldt, which arrived in Brooklyn Friday morning from Brazil, rescued eight of the crew, the first and second officers, the engineer and surgeon of the Vizcaya. So far as is known at present these are the only persons out of a total crew and passenger list of eighty-six of the Vizcaya and the crew of the schooner that have been saved. It is feared that all the others have been lost. The Vizcaya left here Thursday at 1 p. m. for Havana and other Cuban ports. She had a large cargo of freight, a crew of seventy-seven and nine regular passengers. There were others on board, however, who are not entered on the passenger list. At 8:30 Thursday evening a large four-masted schooner hove in sight. She was a much larger vessel than the Vizcaya and immediately bore down upon her. Her bowsprit struck the steamship on the starboard bunkers, carrying away the bridge and the cabin. The captain of the Vizcaya, who was standing on the bridge, was instantly killed. Seven minutes later both vessels had sunk, and the passengers and crews were struggling in the water. There were heartrending shrieks and cries, which were heard by the people on board the Humboldt. Boats were lowered and twelve persons were picked up. The cries were hushed, and not another soul could be seen. After waiting some time the Humboldt steamed away. A negro was picked up by a small boat afterward. He belonged to the Vizcaya. Following is a list of the passengers: Juan Pedro, M. A. Calvo, wife, son and maid, Mr. Pur and three children, Mr. A. Ruiz, Jose Acabba, Ramon Alvarez, Juan F. Hedman, Oscar Isaur, Ligu Pellion, Jose Ma Garcia. It is said that Senor Calvo, who perished with his wife and son, was a partner in the firm of Francho & Co., of Havana, the largest and richest sugar house in Cuba. The Vizcaya's cargo was valued at $150,000. The vessel was insured.

Crushed Into a Pup. CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Noah J. Swenson was literally ground to pieces shortly after noon Thursday under the flying crank of the big engine in the plant of the Western Paving Supply Company at 34 West Chicago avenue. His skull was crushed, his limbs were twisted and broken and his body was shattered and torn. He was accidentally thrown under the deadly crank by a fellow employe named Henry Lundstadt, with whom he was engaged in a friendly wrestling match over the greasy and slippery floor of the engine-room.

Railroad Wreck in Kentucky. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Another wreck occurred Thursday morning on the Cincinnati Southern railway at Tunnel No. 26, in Kentucky, in which Conductor Lew Lewman was killed. The first section of a train pulled out from Somerset, closely followed by the second going faster. When the tunnel was reached the first train stopped and the second dashed into it, crushing the caboose and several cars. Several men were seriously injured.

Disasters at Sea. GLOUCESTER, Mass., Nov. 4.—The annual report of the loss of vessels from this port for the year shows that eighteen vessels have been lost, on which there was an insurance of $7,523. The number of lives lost is eighty-six. During the previous year there were fourteen vessels lost with an insurance of $50,504. The number of lives was seventy. Eighty-five per cent of the men lost were foreigners.

A Grand Home. CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The corner-stone of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union building at La Salle and Monroe streets, was laid on Saturday in the presence of a large concourse of people. Two thousand children participated in the ceremonies and rendered the vocal music of the occasion. The building will be thirteen stories high and will cost over $1,000,000.

Sailed for Home. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Count of Paris and suite sailed for home on the Servis Saturday. His last social visit before leaving was to Mrs. Grant. To personal friends who went on board the steamer to bid him bon voyage he expressed his warmest thanks for the kind attention shown him in America.

The Choctaw Disfranchisement Act. GOVERNOR-ELECT WINANS is honest, intelligent, courageous and fully able to discharge the duties of the office to which he has been called. He has always been considered a friend of the university, and will no doubt do everything that is reasonable to advance the interests of that institution.

The election of the Tammany candidates in New York is one of the most unfortunate occurrences of the recent election. It was hoped by all that, when people were brought face to face with the issue, they would rally under the banner of good government and elect the fusion candidates by large majorities. But alas! little good can come from Gotham.

The defeat of Mr. Jacobs was a great surprise to his many friends in this county, all of whom confidently expected his election. The university would have found in him a strong friend at Lansing. We hope that Mr. Gregory will look as carefully after the interests of the university as we know Mr. Jacobs would have done. The latter takes his defeat philosophically and has no complaints to make.

The republicans in this congressional district have been defeated, mainly by republican votes. This is due to factions which it is high time were reconciled. This district is naturally republican, and if all elements in the party will unite and be willing to sacrifice personal desires to the best interests of the party there will be no danger as to its being redeemed from the democracy two years hence.

It is extremely unfortunate for the University that the hoodlum element among the students (small as it is) will insist on committing offenses against the peace and comfort of the citizens. The jeering in the opera house, rushing in the postoffice, tearing up sidewalks on Hallow'een night and other things may be small in themselves, but they give strangers a very unfavorable impression of the University. There are legitimate amusements enough for the students, to enable them to enjoy themselves without resorting to the tricks of hoodlums and "toughs."

The election returns show a landslide in the direction of the democracy. Scarcely a single state shows republican gains, and democrats are jubilant. The next house of representatives will be strongly democratic; but this cannot effect the McKinley bill which, before another election will have become a settled law and found to be a good thing, and the danger of a change then will cause quite as strong a reaction as there has been now. This will redeem the lower house in congress and at the same time insure the election of the next president on the republican ticket.

Praise for Ann Arbor Men.

A recent issue of The Washington Post says: Prof. James Bryce, member of the British Parliament and author of the book, "The American Commonwealth," which has been received with such unanimous favor in this country, was in the city with Mrs. Bryce yesterday, and left for New York to take the steamer for home. He returns sooner than he anticipated, because of the convening of Parliament, which is soon to take place. While here, Mr. Bryce called to pay his respects to Judge Cooley, with whom he had been in close correspondence during the preparation of his work. Anyone who has read the work will have noticed how frequent are his references to Judge Cooley and his views on governmental questions. And his call was for the purpose of expressing in person, as he had before done by correspondence, his great obligations for assistance rendered. Mr. Bryce had been across the continent and expresses himself as highly pleased with what he has seen of the country and especially pleased with the great favor his book has met with on all hands. He also expresses the gratification he felt in having the degree of doctor of laws conferred upon him by the Michigan University, of which his friend, Mr. Angell, former minister to China, is president.

An Ann Arbor Boy Promoted.

Leroy C. Noble, brother of Mrs. N. W. Cheever, is one of the many old Ann Arbor boys who has won signal success in the world. Not long ago he gave up his position as master mechanic of the Houston & Texas Central railroad and removed to Pittsburg, Pa., where he engaged in a different line of business. Says the Galveston News: "Mr. Noble has, for twenty years, been one of the esteemed citizens of Houston and one of the best business men in his line in the state, and his departure will be very generally lamented." The Houston Post of October 11 contains an account of the presentation to Mr. Noble of a beautiful silver service, consisting of ninety pieces. One of the workmen on behalf of his fellows made a graceful speech, in which he took occasion to praise Mr. Noble very highly.

Pomological Meeting.

At the November meeting of the Pomological Society, J. J. Parshall presided. The corresponding secretary reported to the committee on branch experiment station in Washtenaw county that, by the advice of Prof. Spaulding, he had addressed the Hon. Charles W. Garfield, member of the state board of agriculture in regard to the matter. The reply of Mr. Garfield to this letter was read. He will bring the matter before the board at the next session, November 17.

The corresponding secretary also read a paper from Prof. V. M. Spaulding in regard to the results of experiments carried on at the Indiana experiment station by Mr. H. L. Bolley on potato scab. "The disease in question is caused by bacteria and in the course of his experiments Mr. Bolley ascertained that a solution of corrosive sublimate was an efficient preventive. The tubers are washed clean before planting and immersed in a solution of corrosive sublimate—one part cor. subl. to one thousand parts water—for some hours. Tubers treated in this way have, if badly scabbed, produced a crop of smooth potatoes, etc. Mr. Ganzhorn stated that Prof. Galloway, of Washington, had published conclusive experiments with pear blight which Mr. Ganzhorn will explain at the December meeting. Mr. Baur had an exhibit of white Doyenne, Mount Vernon, Lawrence, Winter Nelis, Vicar, D'Areberg, Mr. Toms, the florist, had a charming exhibit of twenty-six varieties of chrysanthemums, of which he has eighty-five varieties at his greenhouses. Mrs. O. R. L. Crozier also had a branch of this late favorite flower on exhibit. EMIL BAUR, Cor. Sec'y.

Called Home.

After a lingering illness, borne with the sweetest patience, Lillie M., oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Corydon L. Ford, passed into eternal rest, November 3d, 1890, in the twenty-first year of her age.

"She has passed away,
Like a gentle breath,
And her eyes are closed with the sleep of death;
The leaves on the trees will flutter and fall,
And the drifting snows will cover all,
But she will peacefully, calmly rest,
Forever happy,
By angels blest.

Just in the spring
Of womanhood,
Tender and loving, and wise and good
Ah! too good for the sinful earth!
Only the angels knew her worth,
So they have called her unto them,
Decking her brow
With a diadem.

Better to smile
When such a life
Gives up the battle of earthly strife,
Better to know that her tasks are done,
Trials ended and glory won;
Tears are vain, when a soul so bright
Wings its way
To the gates of light.

She has passed away,
But her sweet good will,
Like a fragrant odor lingers still;
The tender lesson that memory brings
The mantle of patience o'er us flings,
We learn to follow the path she trod,
To be more like her,
Who has gone to God."

A Successful Farmer.

Andrew J. Gale owns a farm which is located almost in the exact center of Superior township. Here he has lived and labored for sixty-one years. His father came to this county in 1829, not long after the birth of Andrew J., and took up 160 acres of land at the very excessive price of $1.25 an acre. As early as in his eighth year, the young boy began to help his father in the hard work of clearing off the brush. His schooling was not neglected, however, and in the winter months he attended regularly the village school, which was conducted in a quaint little log structure. He used to dress in a jacket and pair of trousers made, not of seersucker or gingham, but of a more durable material, to wit, buckskin. It is safe to say that his mother was not kept so busy sewing on patches, as are the mothers of 1890. The young boy used to cut corn with a hoe and worked the ground with an old wooden plow drawn by six oxen. They raised flax, and both spun and wove their own cloth. They also devoted some attention to sheep, but were much annoyed by the depredations of the howling wolves which then overran the country. Considerable opportunity was thus afforded for hunting. Many a night the young boy would perch himself in a tree and, from that elevation, amuse himself by shooting at the deer which at that time abounded. The pioneers lavished no money on fences. When they wished to prevent their cattle taking to the woods, they tied long poles on their horns, which would strike against the trees. The farmers in those days did not have self-binders. They used sickles. Men worked harder than they do now, but they were more sociable and unselfish. They were always ready to help each other. When Mr. Gale's barn burned down many years ago, they all turned in and helped him raise a new one.

The young pioneer, of whom we have been speaking, worked hard for his father until he was twenty-one. Then he took entire management of the homestead and for one year worked it upon shares. At the expiration of that time, he went to Genesee county and bought forty acres of land, paying therefor $180. He cleared the land and improved it so much that when the railroad was built, he was able to sell the property for $1,000. Thereupon he came back to Superior and purchased part of the old homestead. He was very poor at first and used to work very hard. Many a night he would labor until twelve o'clock, piling up stones for fences, while his industrious wife would sit in the house knitting. Mr. Gale has added land to his farm from time to time, so that he now owns 125 acres. For the most part he devotes his attention to general farming. He has a fine orchard, however, and takes special pride in some apple trees, now bearing fruit, which were raised from seed brought from New York in an early day.

Mr. Gale owes much of his success to the endeavors of his wife, to whom he was married in 1850. Three children of theirs are now living, while two sleep in the village cemetery. Two of the sons are still on the old farm. The family are attached to the Methodist church. In politics they adhere to the democratic party. For several years Mr. Gale has faithfully performed the duties of school director. He is a kind-hearted man and very popular among all his neighbors and associates.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Come TO THE Clothing Cyclone.

Last week we called the attention of the readers of THE REGISTER in a liberal manner to the wonderful display of

OVERCOATS, GLOVES AND MITTENS,

At THE STAR CLOTHING HOUSE. Even before this announcement was made, the people seemingly felt the force of the brewing storm, and poured into our store as a haven of refuge, but when the announcement was finally placed before them, the storm broke, until our spacious room was deluged with friends from every section of the county, looking after the rare bargains, and examining the many novelties. On SATURDAY, the full force of this storm broke upon us in all its fury, and in consequence, it swept, as by a whirlwind, carrying away from our store more OVERCOATS, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES and MITTENS than at any time during our previous history. We repeat,

Come to the Clothing Cyclone.

"The Winter of Our Content"

is drawing nigh, but whether it will be the Winter of your discontent or content depends largely upon the preparation you make for it. The weather prophets tell us (and weather prophets never fail) that the winter is to be an unusually severe one. That is the reason why we call it the "Winter of our content," for such a winter means large Dry Goods purchases. Hundreds of customers crowd our store every day, "reducing our surplus" stock rapidly by their appreciative purchases.

"THE PRICES TELL, and every one tells the prices." That alone accounts for our rapidly increasing trade.

MEHLIN PARLOR GRAND PIANO.

[From Spillane's History of the American Pianoforte.]

PAUL G. MEHLIN.

MEHLIN & Sons are entitled to serious notice. Mr. Paul G. Mehlín, head of Mehlín & Sons, may be ranked among the revolutionistic and progressive Piano Makers of our times. He is not one of those pessimists who believe that the "excelsior" notch has already been reached and passed in the making of pianos. On the contrary, he thinks, and thinks wisely too, that there is plenty of room for the improver, not the mere experimentalist, but for those duly qualified by scientific, acoustic and practical knowledge as piano makers, backed by cultivated musical sensibilities, so as to enable them to judge tone results from the standpoint of acoustics, and that of the cultivated artist. Mr. Paul G. Mehlín, like so many of our great piano makers, is a native of Germany. Born in Stuttgart, in 1837, his first mechanical experience was acquired in a first-class cabinet-making establishment, where the making of fine art furniture was made a specialty. Having keen musical sensibilities, he learned to play the piano, and later entered the piano shop of Frederick Doerner, in Stuttgart, where he went through the regulation education of old time piano making, from case-making to the finest expert regulating and toning. Here he studied the first principles of acoustics as exemplified in scaling and general tone improvement. Mr. Mehlín arrived in New York in 1854, and at once entered the then great firm of Raven & Bacon, where he whetted and improved his former experience. Later he was with Light & Bradbury, an equally prominent concern. In 1865 he took a position with the Gablers and remained sixteen years, during which period he contributed many of his characteristic innovations to these instruments. Not having scope enough for his individuality as an improver in this house, he in 1881 became full partner in a reputable firm (Messrs. Behr Bros.) that had just started to manufacture pianos and wanted some one who could combine originality and individuality in their instrument. Two years ago Mr. Mehlín decided upon starting in business for himself, and with his sons formed the firm of PAUL G. MEHLIN & Sons. Mr. Mehlín is an indefatigable worker and inventor. His principal patents are No. 129,727, a metallic agraffe cast in the plate, July 23d, 1872. (Here follows specifications of fifteen valuable and useful patents.) . . . . . Mr. H. Paul Mehlín, Mehlín's eldest son and partner, is also a practical piano maker, and a most successful business man, and is very popular in private and business circles. Mr. Charles H. Mehlín, the second son, is also trained from two standpoints, having worked with his father for some time as well as taken a thorough course in piano making in Stuttgart, Germany, and is therefore thoroughly equipped for his entrance into a piano making career.

[From the Musical Courier, Feb. 26, 1890.]

THE MEHLIN PIANO.

Another Achievement of a Scientific Piano Constructor.

ANOTHER new piano is on the market. And a mighty good one it is, too. How could it be otherwise when we consider that its creator is none less than PAUL G. MEHLIN, that veteran of piano makers, who has done so much to make of piano construction a profession and an art rather than a mere trade. It seems that all which is good in him he has represented in this new piano. It is honest in purpose, broad in ideas, strong and vigorous, and at the same time sweet and sympathetic. Its action is flexible, even pliable, responsive and accurate. The amount of tone which can be produced from this small instrument is truly remarkable, even in this age of "loud sounding" pianos; but in this case, the volume of tone is in no manner made secondary to its musical qualities; it is, on the contrary, seconded by them. A clear, liquid treble is met by a peculiarly musical middle register, and is backed by a sonorous bass.

It is truly a wonderful thing, this making of a piano, this conception of a certain quality to be aimed at and the subsequent attainment of it by purely mechanical means. But few people in all the world, but few people even among those identified with music, or with the commercial adjunct of music which comes under the hackneyed title of "the trade," and still fewer of the piano buying public, realize, understand, comprehend or appreciate the years of study, the weary hours of research, the long days of experiment, the almost intuitive knowledge, the experience and the confidence in oneself which are put into the ideal and, subsequently, practical construction of a piano.

To the layman, to the masses, a piano is a piano; they look upon it as a mechanical instrument which, properly manipulated, produces sounds and a concord of sounds which is pleasing to their sense of hearing. They know nothing of the means and, unfortunately, they care less what the means are for producing these sensations so long as the finished whole happens to tickle their fancy—which fancy depends upon their musical experience, and is even then largely influenced by their actual physical condition at the time they hear a piano "tried."

Exactly the opposite of these people is a class of musicians, piano tradesmen and cultured laymen who appreciate truly meritorious work in pianos as in anything else. To these the new Mehlín piano will at once appeal, at once win favor, and the high esteem in which its creator is held will be additionally strengthened.

Aside from these, the new piano is so very good, so plainly apparently good, that it will be in touch with the general public, who will be at once favorably impressed.

There are many good pianos on the market now, and it is hard to find in the limited vocabulary of a class paper's criticism new words in which to praise that which is good, and condemn that which is bad, so we may say all in a few words. We are delightfully pleased with this new piano; it is fully worthy of Mr. Paul G. Mehlín, whose impressive individuality is embodied in the piano, and we would suggest to every person visiting New York, or wherever there is a dealer who handles "the Mehlín," to see it and examine it for themselves.

PAUL G. MEHLIN

Read every word of this page, and find out who PAUL G. MEHLIN is.

[From the Music Trade Review of January 20, 1889.]

PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS.

THE latest firm in the piano manufacturing field is MESSRS. PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS, who have commenced business in their own factory, at 461 to 467 West 40th St. Mr. Mehlín, Sr., is well known throughout the trade as an inventive and practical piano maker, of the very highest order. His improvements and inventions have arrested universal attention, and his record cannot be but of the most valuable assistance to him in his new undertaking. To his great theoretical and practical knowledge he adds a patience, a perseverance, and a thoroughness that speaks volumes for him, not only as an inventor but as a man.

[From the same, April 20, 1889.]

PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS, the celebrated piano makers, are rapidly getting into shape in their new factory. The machines are of the very latest and most improved patterns and have been furnished by Mr. Prybil, the famous maker of machinery for wood work, who has expended his best efforts on them. No other piano maker will be able to boast of finer machinery than Messrs. Mehlín & Sons. The factory is six stories high and its rooms are lofty, airy and well lighted. The brick-built dry rooms are of three inch fire proof material. Everything is nearly in readiness for the practical application of the original ideas of Mr. Paul G. Mehlín.

[From the same, May 20, 1889.]

It is gratifying to record the successful result of patient endeavor and indomitable perseverance. We therefore announce with pleasure the rapid progress made by MESSRS. PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS at their new factory. Mr. Mehlín, Sr., is a born inventor, and to his originality and study the people of America are indebted for many valuable improvements in the piano forte. The pianos built by Messrs. Mehlín & Sons are built upon entirely new principles. Their scales are new and originated with them. With a factory equipped with every known appliance and convenience and with men of such practical knowledge and experience it is not surprising that the MEHLIN PIANOS are, as soon as completed, sold to admiring and enthusiastic purchasers.

[From the Music Trade Review, Aug. 20, 1889.]

PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS.

It is doubtful whether any living man has devoted more time and thought to the practical and theoretical study of the art of piano making than has PAUL G. MEHLIN, head of the firm of PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS, whose factory is at Nos. 461, 463, 465 and 467 West 40th St., New York. Mr. Paul G. Mehlín has long been known both in this country and in Europe as an authority and an inventor of high repute in the field of piano construction and improvement. He has spent his whole life in the study of his art, and as a result has invented improvements therein which have acquired for him a high renown wherever an interest is taken in the piano industry.

It was natural to expect, when Mr. Mehlín and his sons entered into business on their own account, that the instruments made by them would rapidly acquire an enviable name. Such expectation was universal, and has proved to have been well grounded indeed.

The firm, conscious of their superior knowledge and ability, aim to make only the very highest grade of pianos. They are far more concerned as to the quality of their productions than as to the number. It is for this reason that every instrument turned out by them finds a ready, intelligent, and appreciative purchaser, and one who acts as a potent advertiser of the merits of the "MEHLIN" pianos.

In the construction of these pianos are used the following patents of Mr. Paul G. Mehlín, which have made his name famous. The Patent Grand Plate and Grand Scale is an invention whereby Mehlín & Sons have succeeded in introducing into their large upright pianos the exact metal frame and the precise scale used in the grand piano. The Patent Grand Fall Board, the Patent Cylinder Top and Tone Reflector, the Patent Muffler, the Patent End-wood String Bridge, producing a perfectly clear, bell-like and singing quality of tone; the Patent Finger Guard, which protects that part of the piano directly back of the keys from being scratched by the finger nails; the Patent Bessimer Steel Action Frame, enabling the piano to successfully withstand the effects of extreme climates; the Patent Touch Regulator, whereby any tuner can alter the depth of touch in five minutes, and the Patent Harmonic Scale, which imparts an extraordinary singing quality.

The cases are of most elegant and chaste appearance, artistically decorated and carved, and of elegant and substantial build. The splendid quality and volume of their tone, their superb singing quality, and their remarkable power of standing in tune, testify in the fullest manner of the skill, patience and experience of their distinguished makers.

[From the American Art Journal, Oct. 20, 1889.]

PAUL G. MEHLIN'S FIRST DOLLAR.

THE first money this bright genius earned was for other parties. When thirteen years of age he was apprenticed by his mother, his father being dead, to a cabinet-maker, the sum of $50 a year being paid by his mother for two years' tuition. This was to the largest cabinet-maker in Stuttgart, Germany. Three years later he entered the piano factory of Frederick Doerner in the same town and earned his first money by saving his mother's $50 and putting in another year free of charge. The second year, by reason of certain ability displayed, he received $26, and the same munificent stipend the third year.

After three years in the piano factory, he was released from his apprenticeship and emigrated to America, where he was cordially welcomed by the Goddess of Liberty and the genius of invention. From that time to last January he has worked in a number of large and excellent factories, and has made many and valuable improvements in pianos, has formed a legion of friends, trained up his sons in the business of his choice, and now the happy family manufacture an excellent piano, and have a sunburst of prosperity in the horoscope.

PAUL G. MEHLIN & SONS.

WHEN some months ago it was announced that Mr. Paul G. Mehlín had determined to embark in business on his own account, it was generally conceded that his pianos, when on the market, would at once take a prominent position among the better class of instruments; this decision being but an ordinary matter of fact one, when we consider that Mr. Mehlín had long ago achieved fame as a thoroughly practical scientific man. Learning the rudiments and first practical knowledge of the art of piano-making at Stuttgart, Germany, he removed to America in 1853, and at once secured employment in a leading factory.

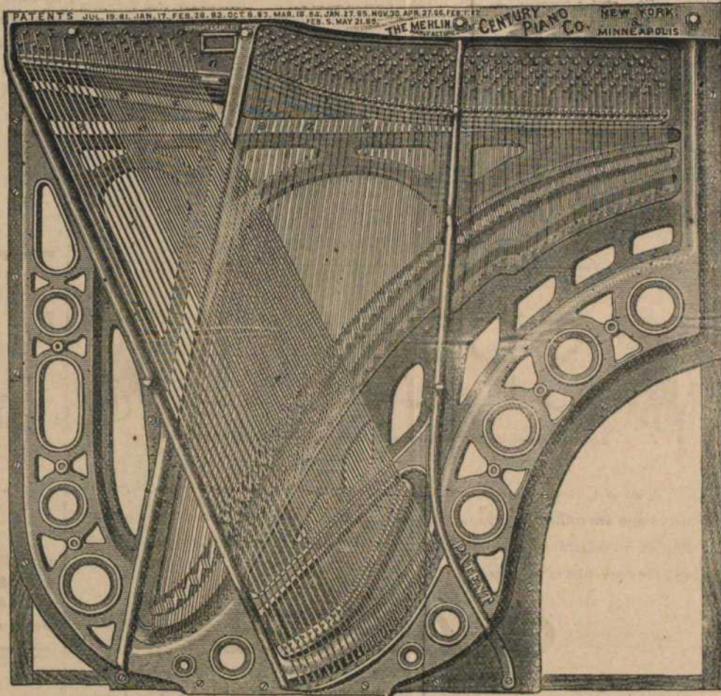

During the interval from that time until the present, there has been no more faithful worker, no harder thinker, or more successful inventor, than Paul G. Mehlín. All the work of his brain in the line of piano improvements has been patented, and are well known to the trade at large.

The factory of Paul G. Mehlín & Sons is located at 461, 463, 465 and 467 West Fortieth street, is 100 by 50 feet, and six stories in height, thoroughly refitted, and every department fitted with the latest machinery, and all arranged with special reference to the word to be done.

The first piano made by the firm was shown to the writer on the occasion of a recent visit to New York city, and we believe it is the intention of Mehlín & Sons to have subsequent productions fully up to sample. Their pianos must rank high. The "sample" was a magnificent instrument, containing, as all their pianos will, their patent device, regulating the dip of the keys, thereby giving a greatly improved effect to the touch; their patent piano muffler, a newly patented (February 5, 1889) cylinder top, also nickel finger-guard rails, and other special improvements. The first lot of pianos manufactured was taken at retail almost as soon as made, by friends of Mr. Mehlín, who knew his ability and the probable quality of the pianos he would "father." Associated with P. G. Mehlín are his sons Henry P. and Charles H., the latter a promising young piano-maker, educated in his trade at Stuttgart, and the former a young man of business tact and ability. The team is certainly a strong one, and will pull together.

The new Grand frame and scale (patented May 21, 1889) is a noteworthy invention in the construction of the MEHLIN pianos, and valuable as being an exact reproduction and invention of the Grand scale, placed in an Upright piano, partaking of its qualities in tone, volume and carrying power. It is an invention that is creating no little comment in New York and other points of the country.

Dealers who desire a first-class piano that will assuredly give satisfaction, and one that is sold on its merits—nothing extra for the name—will find it a profitable investment to investigate the claims of the MEHLIN piano.

Scale and Frame Used in the MEHLIN Upright Grand—Being a Perfect Grand Piano—Upright.

The peculiar form of construction of this Plate and Frame is such that the strain of each string is estimated and their combined strain equalized in such a manner as to render warping or breaking of frame impossible. The greatest invention since that of the full iron frame.

We have a Strung Plate and Frame at our sales rooms, exactly as shown above, and will take pleasure in showing the same at any time.

PLEASE REMEMBER

THAT MR. MEHLIN is not a new piano maker, nor an inexperienced experimenter, but is a thorough, practical, well-known, old time piano manufacturer.

THAT in making a piano under his own name he is using every effort in his power to make a piano so good that it will make his name still more famous.

THAT in buying the MEHLIN PIANO you have the benefit of his years of experience, and yet pay nothing extra for name.

THAT you have abundant chance to examine them, in every detail, right in Ann Arbor.

THAT a responsible Company, well known as such, sells them right at home.

THAT WE SHALL HAVE MORE TO SAY LATER about the CENTURY PIANO Co. (paid in capital of $500,000.00), who has erected an extra large factory for Mr. MEHLIN in Minneapolis, to build the "MEHLIN" PIANO, the same as in New York.

We want every person who reads this page to examine these Pianos, at our store. We claim Mr. MEHLIN knows how to make a First-class Piano; has built them for forty years, and is now building the Finest Piano made anywhere, by any one, and no extra charge for a name.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. See them; try them; judge for yourself.

LITERARY NOTES.

The November number of the Forum contains three articles that treat of three phases of agricultural depression. One is by Mr. C. Wood Davis, the Kansas student of our agricultural development, who, under the title of Probabilities of Agriculture, writes a reply to the recent article by Prince Kropotkin on The Possibilities of Agriculture. He predicts that food will become dearer and dearer, and that in a few years we shall import food into the United States. In another article Mr. Daniel R. Goodloe, of Washington, presents the startling statistics as nearly complete as they have been made, of the farm mortgages in all of the most important western states; and in the third article, the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden reviews the organizations of farmers, recites their motives and points out the valuable part of their work and influence.

The November number of Harper's Magazine contains the first of a short series of papers on Southern California—Our Italy—by Charles Dudley Warner, describing the climate, resources and scenery of that most interesting portion of our country. Numerous illustrations from photographs and drawings by distinguished American artists give additional value to this interesting paper. E. W. Mealey describes the quaint old town of Rothenburg and gives an account of Der Meistertrunk, the festival which occurs there annually. The series of articles on South America by Theodore Child is continued in Urban and Commercial Chili. Princeton University is the subject of a timely paper by Prof. W. M. Sioane. Daudet's inimitable story of Port Tarascon is brought to a conclusion.

One of the most notable literary events of the present year is the publication in his country of Henry James' translation of Daudet's new story, Port Tarascon; the Last Adventures of the Illustrious Tartarin. By special arrangement with the author, it is brought out by Harper & Brothers simultaneously with the publication of the original French version in Paris. The text is adorned with more than one hundred illustrations by drawings by notable French artists, in the style already made famous in Daudet's earlier work. The volume will be ready for publication about the last of October.

Scribner's Magazine for November contains three remarkable illustrated articles of travel and adventure of widely differing characteristics, embracing Elephant Hunting in Africa, a Perilous Voyage through the Canon of the Colorado (the first trip ever made from the source to the mouth of that river), and cruising with the White Squadron along the coast of France. Another unusual feature is an article (A Day with a Country Doctor) written, drawn and engraved by the same man—Frank French.

Herbert Spencer has the opening article in the Popular Science Monthly for November. He writes of the Origin of Music. A popular account of the Root-Tip of a plant, written by Frederick L. Sargent, is fully illustrated and will be sure to interest all. School Life in Relation to Growth or Health is the title of a paper by Prof. Axel Key, of Stockholm. D. Appleton & Co., New York City.

Captain Charles King, who recently visited St. Paul and Minneapolis for the Cosmopolitan Magazine, prepared for the October number of that monthly an illustrated article, entitled Twin Cities of the Northwest, which will prove interesting reading, not only to the citizens of these two cities, but also to a great number of readers scattered throughout the country who have watched with astonishment the marvelous growth of these towns. The Cosmopolitan, New York City, N. Y.

The leading article in the November Eclectic, by J. Stephen Jeans, discusses in a very interesting way the relations of American Railroads and British Farmers, which will come home to all Americans. Mr. Goodwin Smith attacks the new tariff from the Free Trade side, and presents the argument with remarkable force. Published by E. R. Peilton, 25 Bond St., New York. Terms, $5 per year.

The editor of the Magazine of American History, in the second article of the November number, covers a broad field of critical inquiry in her paper on American Outgrowths of Continental Europe. It is based upon the narrative and critical history of America and is handsomely illustrated. $5.00 a year, 743 Broadway, New York City.

Campanini, the famous tenor, has written a striking article on How to Train the Voice for The Ladies' Home Journal, and it will appear in the November number of that periodical. Ladies' Home Journal, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Chance to Make Money.

Mr. Editor:—I bought one of Griffith's machines for plating with gold, silver or nickel and it works to perfection. No sooner did the people hear of it than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.30, the first month $167.85, and I think by July 1st I will have $1,000 cash and give my farm considerable attention, too. My daughter made $27.40 in four days. Any person can get one of these machines by sending $3 to W. H. Griffith & Co., Zanesville, O., or can obtain circulars by addressing them. You can learn to use the machine in one hour. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been. Yours truly, M. O. MORRHEAD.

The Beautiful Guild.

MR. WILSEY, ANN ARBOR, June 7th, 1890.

DEAR SIR:—I enclose the testimonial for which you asked. It gives me pleasure to send it to you, as I like my piano so much. When you can make it convenient, come out and see how it has stood the wear and tear of nine years.

Yours Truly, LILLIE BAESSLER. With regard to the Guild purchased of you nine years ago. Its tone is as mellow and sweet as ever, and in standing in tune I have never seen its equal. Any one contemplating the purchase of a piano, will find it to their interest to examine the Guild. Respectfully, LILLIE BAESSLER.

The Guild has stood "wear and tear" better, and held its own better than any piano I have ever sold. Over 25,000 have been manufactured, and sold very largely in Boston and vicinity. The great music publishing house of Ditson & Co has sold over 800 of them in the City of Boston. The simple (patent) tuning device is the greatest improvement of the day, and will save expense to the owner besides the satisfaction of having a piano constantly in tune. The swinging music desk running the entire length of the piano is perfection. They please, they sell. Why? See them, and you will learn. Manufactured in Boston for nearly thirty years.

ALVIN WILSEY, State Agent. 25 South Fourth St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

A letter from President Harrison, heartily indorsing the movement, was read.

Leading authorities say the only proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy, like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It has been calculated that there are about 200,000 families living in London on about £1 a week, and they are in a large measure the people of one room.

A Valuable Remedy.
A letter from S. P. Wardwell, Boston, says: "I used Clarke's Extract of Flax (Papillon) Catarrh Cure in June last for Hay Fever with great satisfaction, and find it the only thing I have seen which would allay, without irritation, the inflammation of the nostrils and throat. Its soothing and healing properties were marked and immediate." Large bottle $1.00. Clarke's Flax Soap is the latest and best. Try it, 25 cents. Ask for them at Eberbach & Son's drug store.

Mrs. Davis, the wife of Senator Davis, of Minnesota, has gone to black. All her undergarments are black and she has discarded white bed clothing for black.

The Purest and Best
Articles known to medical science are used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every ingredient is carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. The medicine is prepared under the supervision of thoroughly competent pharmacists, and every step in the process of manufacture is carefully watched with a view to securing in Hood's Sarsaparilla the best possible result.

Ladies Try
Great French Remedy. Dr. Le Duc's Periodical Pills from Paris, France, act only upon the generative organs in females, and positively cure suppression of the menses (from whatever cause) and all periodical troubles peculiar to women. The larger portion of the pills to which ladies are subject is the direct result of a disordered and irregular menstruation. The American Pill Co., proprietors. Price, $2. Sold by Eberbach & Son, druggists, Ann Arbor, Mich.

A single orange tree in Florida has been known to bear 8,000 oranges in a year. Such a yield is excessive, as a grove that will yield 1,500 to the tree is considered excellent.

Diseases Peculiar to Women.
This title includes a number of the most distressing affections to which humanity is liable. The sympathy set up by the various phases of female weakness are very numerous, and in no two cases exactly alike. The most prominent and universal symptoms are bearing down pains, dragging sensations in the abdomen, backache, leucorrhoea, nervousness, periodical headaches, sleeplessness, dizziness, loss of appetite, and painful or suppressed or profuse menstruation. For all of these symptoms, as well as for the condition that causes them, Ferruina is a reliable specific. It at once relieves every case. It will not fail in a short time to permanently benefit these derangements. It will, finally, entirely cure a great majority of them after all else has failed. Send for complete lecture on female complaints. Sent free by The Ferruina Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

It appears that the great majority of persons committing suicide in Japan are over fifty years of age. Next to the list comes persons between twenty and thirty years of age.

Truth Stranger than Fiction.
For twenty years I suffered untold agony from running fever sores on my limbs from knees to ankles. The discharge was constant, averaging a pint a week. I had tried any and every remedy I could hear of or read of and spent hundreds of dollars to find if not a cure, partial relief, but without avail. As a last resort and under a doctor's directions and who said it was my only hope, had consented to go to a hospital and undergo the painful operation of having the bone scraped. At this critical time, H. J. Nogar told me about Loose's Red Clover Extract and the cures it had effected of friends of his, but I had lost hope, having tried all other blood medicines without avail. He bought one bottle for me, and I insisted on my taking it, which I did. I thought I was benefited and bought three more. From the time the second bottle was taken I began to improve. My legs healed over the first time in twenty years. I continued taking your Red Clover until I had used ten bottles. My limbs are entirely well and have been for three years. I know from my own experience and that of friends to whom I've recommended it that Loose's Extract of Red Clover is the best blood medicine in existence.

CURE FOR COUGHS—Use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil according to directions. It is the best remedy for all sudden attacks of colds, pain and inflammation, and injuries.

George Blust swore so frightfully at Mrs. Charles Graham, near New Albany, Ind., that she went into convulsions and died.

"Oh speak, ye ghosts of the dead, and say what killed you?" The answer came, borne on the fierce east wind: "Cold! cold! cold!" Then let us be thankful that since then we have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The father of a family was seen lately bearing eight overshoes of assorted size "nested" like Chinese puzzle boxes.

They sat under the moonlight with clasped hands trying to guess "what star would be their home when love became immortal" but soon, alas how soon she caught a cold and they had temporarily to stop guessing. They cured her, however, with one bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A daughter of my customer suffered from suppressed menstruation, and her health was completely wrecked. At my suggestion she used one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator, which cured her. J. W. Little Things That Tell.
It is the little things that tell—little brothers for instance, who hide away in the parlor while sister entertains her beau, etc. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are little things that tell. They tell on the liver and tone up the system. So small and yet so effectual, they are rapidly supplanting the old style pill. An infallible remedy for Sick and Bilious Headaches, Bilio-ness and Constipation. Put up in vials, convenient to carry. Their use attended with no discomfort.

Bismarck's wife is very domestic. She is an expert with a needle and is famous as a cook. She regards these accomplishments and is proud of them, and so is the price.

The Handsomest of All Coins.
This proud distinction is generally conceded to the United States' twenty dollar gold piece, a marvel of beauty in design and finish. The loveliest of God's handiwork is a handsome woman, if in the bloom of health; if she is not, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore her. Ladies who use this peerless remedy are unanimous in its praise, for it cures those countless ills which are the bane of their sex—irregularities, dragging-down pains, inflammation, hysteria, sleeplessness, and the "all-gone" sensations which burden their daily lives. A tonic and nerve, without alcohol.

Seaside flirtations do not last because they are built on the sand.—Somerville Journal.

Wun Lung.
This is the queer name of a Chinese laundryman in Hartford, but he has probably two lungs like most of us. Some crying babies seem to have a dozen. Lungs should be sound, or the voice will have a weakly sound. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes strong lungs, drives the cough away, generates good blood, tones the nerves, builds up the human wreck and makes "another man" of him. Night-sweats, blood-spitting, short breath, bronchitis, asthma and all the alarming forerunners of Consumption are positively cured by this unapproachable remedy. If taken in time, Consumption itself can be baffled.

A New York money prince has recently ordered a set of brass floor registers plated with gold, in an exceedingly ornate design. The register will be placed in the owner's palace.

WHAT CURES?
Editorial Importance of Opinion on an Important Subject.
What is the force that ousts disease; and which is the most convenient apparatus for applying it? How far is the regular physician useful to us because we believe in him, and how far are his pills and powders and tonics only the material representatives of his personal influence on our health?

The regular doctors cure; the homoeopathic doctors cure; the Hahnemannian cure; and so do the faith cures and the mind cures, and the so-called Christian scientists, and the four-dollar-and-a-half advertising itinerants, and the patent medicine man. They all hit and they all miss, and the great difference—one great difference—in the result is that when the regular doctors lose a patient no one grumbles, and when the irregular doctors lose one the community stands on end and howls.—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

Nature cures, but nature can be aided, hindered or defeated in the curative process. And the Commercial's contention is that it is the part of rational beings to seek and trust the advice of men of good character who have studied the human system and learned, as far as modern science lights the way, how far they can aid nature and how they can best avoid obstructing her.—Buffalo Commercial.

It is not our purpose to consider the evils that result from employing the unscrupulous, the ignorant, charlatans and quacks to prescribe for the maladies that afflict the human family. We simply declare that the physician who knows something is better than the physician who knows nothing, or very little indeed about the structure and the conditions of the human system. Of course "he does not know it all."—Rochester Morning Herald.

I have used Warner's Safe Cure and but for its timely use would have been, I verily believe, in my grave from what the doctors termed Bright's Disease.—D. F. Scriver, senior Editor Scioto Gazette, Chillicothe, Ohio, in a letter dated June 30, 1890.

THE FIGURE "9."

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long step. No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it will permanently remain. It is called the "No 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine. The "No 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889, where, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.

Eli Moore has just returned from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern points, in the interests of the agricultural company. He says that the eastern people looked upon the New York World "scare" article as a large joke perpetrated upon the unsuspecting westerners.

Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., editor of the Christian Advocate, will address the Wesleyan Guild next Sunday evening. When he spoke here last year, Dr. Studley expressed the opinion that he was the greatest extempore speaker in the Methodist church. Dr. Buckley will probably be entertained at the home of A. L. Noble.

Some time ago Joe T. Jacobs wrote his daughter, that if he was elected by a large majority he would cable her "laugh," and if he should be elected by a small majority he would cable her "smile," and if defeated and he accepted it in the right spirit he would cable her "peace." So yesterday he sent that word flying over land and under water forty-five hundred miles away. Jacobs says he gets a great deal of solid comfort out of his defeat. The many kindy expressions he has had since and the good will of his fellow citizens are more to him than all the offices in the land. Mr. Jacobs has received in answer a cablegram from his daughter in Germany which contained the word love in answer to the word peace he sent to her yesterday.

A copy of the Grand Island, Neb., Independent has been received at this office, which contains an account of the recent death of John Brenner, who is a brother of Michael and Christian Brenner, of this city. He was employed as a brakeman on the Union Pacific. In performing his duties one night, he was in some way thrown under the cars, which passed over both thighs.

The Saginaw News, of October 25, has the following flattering notice of an old Ann Arbor boy: "The number of outsiders who have chosen Saginaw as a place to locate in business, proves that her reputation as a progressive city is well established. The latest acquisition to local business interests is a pharmacy at 208 South Washington-ave, Hotel Vincent block, over the destinies of which H. J. Frost, an enterprising young man from Ann Arbor, will preside. The fixtures (very artistic they are too) are now in position and the new store will be opened this evening. The stock is large and exceedingly well selected, comprising everything in pure drugs, chemicals and fine toilet articles. Mr. Frost is a graduate of the Michigan University and has had much experience in the business and will undoubtedly receive his share of patronage."

On Saturday morning occurred the death of John Edwin Jones at the residence of his son, Dr. S. A. Jones. He had been falling for about three years and at the end passed away quietly. He was eighty-nine years old at the time of his death. His life was an eventful one. In 1841 he emigrated from Wales, his native country, and settled in New York state, where he practiced his profession as an architect. He was instrumental in establishing the first Welsh paper in America. It bore the unpronounceable name of "Y Drych" and is still published. Mr. Jones also bore the distinction of being one of the earliest abolitionists. In 1860 he moved to Englewood, N. J., where he remained till 1880. Since that time he has made his home in this city. Besides Dr. Jones he leaves two children, one of whom, a daughter, is the wife of a clergyman in Oklahoma and the other, a son, is a prominent citizen of Englewood, N. J.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Canfield, who has been assistant instructor in the commercial department, has been appointed as instructor in penmanship, in the city schools.

S. D. Demmon '92, of Mt. Carroll, Ill., was called home recently on account of his father's sickness. Mr. Demmon has already proved himself an active and efficient member of the S. C. A. and the Art and Decorating Lyceum, beside being a faithful student. It is doubtful whether he will return.

Rev. J. W. Bradshaw will lead the S. C. A. meeting on Friday afternoon. His subject is, "Religion, a Sentiment, a Theory, a Principle."

There is a strong demand on the part of the high school lyceum, that they be permitted to hold their meetings on Saturday night, instead of Friday night, the latter being nearly always given up to church and class socials, lectures and public entertainments, which causes slim attendance and poor work in the lyceums.

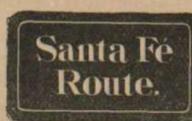

What a Somerset, (Pa.) County Man Thinks of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute. Located at Buffalo, N. Y.

W. H. Miller, of Stoyestwon, Pa., who has been suffering for nearly a quarter of a century from an affection of the kidneys, resulting in the necessity of a Surgical operation after consulting and being treated by a number of our own doctors, as well as receiving the treatment and advice of some of the most eminent professional men of the land, finally became acquainted with the above institute and their mode and means of treatment. After due correspondence with the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the proprietors of the Invalid's Hotel, he was induced to visit said institution. On arriving there and after being fully acquainted with the abundant means they possess, he lost no time in making the necessary arrangements for the required treatment. After remaining for nearly four weeks at the Invalid's Hotel, where you receive the kindest and best treatment, and where patients are loth to leave, after recovery, he returned to his family and friends a cured and happy man.

In giving this to the public, Mr. Miller wishes to say that he owes the said Institute nothing, but his best wishes. And the fact that his own success and great relief is due to similar testimonials from others who were successfully treated there for all manner of chronic diseases from every State and Territory of the Union, Canada, Mexico and South America. It is a marvel of success. He further says, should this fall to the notice of any sufferers from chronic diseases such as seem to baffle the skill of your own physician—but first and above all give your own physicians a fair and impartial trial, and all the available means offered, as Somerset county may justly feel proud of her medical men, who spare no means nor time in the treatment of all cases entrusted to their charge. And if these fail, in many cases, it will be an act of charity to point you to a place where a probable cure may be effected, which is the humble intent of the above communication. The above association is courteous, prompt and reliable.—Somerset (Pa.) Herald.

THE LUXURY OF TRAVEL. A Splendid Train and a Great Four Track Railroad.

To those who appreciate traveling in comfort, we commend the New York and Chicago Limited of the New York Central. In the construction of this splendid train, the high reputation of the Wagner Palace Car Company for beauty and perfection of appointment has been fully maintained. In fact, the train is a hotel on wheels, with many conveniences which no hotel can offer. During the ride—and the time of departure is specially arranged with reference to the attractive portions of the road—one may look out on as beautiful scenery as there is in the world. The entire train is heated by steam from the engine, and lighted with Pintech gas. The vestibules between the cars enable passengers to pass from one to the other without either danger or difficulty. The New York Central's four tracks and level road bed permit the highest speed with safety.

A pair of shoes is one of most typical products of modern industry. To make them the Animal Kingdom contributes from the herds of the Western Plains; the Vegetable, from groves of oak and hemlock or from the great forests still left to us; great factories supply cloth and thread; mines, furnaces and forges combine to furnish nails or wire. Through scores of processes, the forty-two pieces of a pair of shoes require to bring them together, the co-operation of fifty men and women, whose division of labor is so thoroughly systematized that everything goes with the same regularity attributed to the works of a clock, until as a result, you, well shod reader, who wear the W. L. Douglas' Shoe, can buy a pair from three to five dollars that would have cost your forefathers from six to twelve.—Ex 10
