SOCIAL DOINGS.

RECORD OF A WEEK'S PARTIES, ENTERTAINMENTS AND VISITS.

A Lively Week, Made Especially Gay by the Ringing of Marriage Bells.—Everybody Leaving Ann Arbor Who can Get Away.

Marriage bells have been ringing so loudly and gayly during the past few days that people have almost forgotten the ordinary humdrum pursuits of mankind. No less than six weddings were solemnized on Tuesday alone, and there are more to follow. It is a fortunate fact that the atmosphere of Ann Arbor is not favorable to bachelors.

FREER LEAS.

The wedding of Prof. Paul C. Freer and Miss Agnes Leas took place Tuesday morning, in the Unitarian church. The church was beautifully decorated with yellow and white daisies and lilies, tastily arranged by the ladies of the Sorosis, of which society the bride is a member. The wedding basket—the same used by Prof. and Mrs. P. R. de Pont twenty-two years ago—was filled with dainty margarites.

The marriage ceremony was performed at half past nine by Rev. J. T. Sunderland. There were no groomsmen or bridesmaids. The bride wore a plain traveling dress.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple took the train for Boston, where they will spend the summer.

The friends and relatives from abroad, who attended the wedding, were the bridegroom's mother, brother and sister, from Chicago; Mrs. Judge Best, Minneapolis; Mr. Swift, of Chicago; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Fay, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Judge McClellan and Miss Anice Leas, of Auburn, Ind.; Mrs. J. A. Garver, of Des Moines, and members of the Sorosis from Jackson, Battle Creek, and other places. The ushers were C. A. Newcombe, of Detroit; J. H. T. McPherson, of this city, and Dr. Otto Freer, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Freer will be at home to their friends after November 15. They will reside at 90 south State-st.

The bridegroom is professor of general chemistry in the University, and a man of conceded ability. He was educated at Munich, Germany, and, when called to Michigan University, held a good position in Tufts college. The bride is a graduate of the high school and has finished her junior year in the University. Both bride and groom are favorites in society circles.

CLARK-KNIGHT.

Another pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knight, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss Adelaide, and Fred C. Clark. The parlors were nicely decorated with flowers and ferns. In the bay window stood a beautiful pyramid of palms.

At seven o'clock the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw, of the Congregational church. It was witnessed by about twenty-five immediate relatives and friends. The bride was dressed in white silk.

After the ceremony the wedding lunch was served. The newly married couple left on the 9:45 train for the east, their exact destination being not as yet known. They will be at home to their friends, after October 1, at the residence of the bride's parents on William-st.

A large number of beautiful presents were received. That from the groom to the bride was an elegant pendant of pearls and diamonds.

Among the guests present were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark, of Earlville, Ill.; Prof. Geo. Knight and wife, of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knight, of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Barnes, of Lansing; Alva Collins, of Detroit, and a few intimate friends of this city.

Both bride and groom are well known to Ann Arbor people. Mr. Clark is instructor of history and political economy in the high school and a graduate of the University. Last Thursday he received the degree of Ph. D. from that institution. The bride is prominent in church and society circles. Both will receive the hearty congratulations of all who know them.

CONRAD-SPOONER.

The REGISTER last week inadvertently failed to notice the wedding of Ernest B. Conrad and Miss Annie Spooner, which took place in Detroit, Thursday, June 18, at the residence of the bride's parents, 595 Champlain-st. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad departed immediately for Brooklyn, N. Y., where the groom holds a responsible position as fore-man of the drafting department in the Davison Steam Pump Works.

Mr. Conrad graduated from the University last year. He has lived in Ann Arbor all his life and has scores of friends. Mrs. Conrad has been a teacher in the Duffield school, Detroit, for several years. The best wishes of all attend the newly married couple.

NOVY-GARWOOD.

In all probability, the Moravian marriage ceremony was never performed in Ann Arbor until Tuesday evening, when it was used by Rev. Dr. Rust to unite Prof. F. G. Novy and Miss Grace Garwood in the bonds of matrimony. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dr. V. D. Garwood, on south Twelfth-st. The newly married couple took their departure, shortly after seven o'clock, for Detroit, whence they start for a tour around the lakes. Their future home will be at 25 1/2 Lawrence-st.

The groom is assistant professor of hygiene and bacteriology in the University and a teacher of great promise.

LANTZ-KENNEDY.

Morris F. Lantz and Miss Julia Kennedy were united in marriage, Tuesday evening, at St. Thomas rectory, by Rev. Fr. Kelly. Theodore Wetzel was groomsmen and Miss May Wing bridesmaid. The bride wore pearl-colored silk.

After the ceremony a reception for the intimate friends and relatives was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kennedy. At 9:20 P. M. Mr. and Mrs. Lantz took the train for Chicago and other western points.

They will return in two weeks and will be at home to their friends, after July 20, at their new home, 26 north Thayer-st.

HOWARD-HAYDEN.

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning at St. Thomas' church, Wm. Howard and Miss Eliza Hayden being the contracting parties. Miss Rosa Hayden was bridesmaid and Harry O'Toole best man. The bride wore a handsome dark blue henrietta, with white roses.

In the evening a large reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hayden, of Geddes-ave. The newly married couple received many beautiful presents. They will forego the usual wedding trip and settle down at once in their new home on Geddes-ave.

NELLIS-STUCKEY.

The wedding of Miss Jessie Stuckey and Dr. A. B. Nellis was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, last week, by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's father, C. H. Stuckey. Only the friends and relatives, including some from Battle Creek and Ingersoll, Ont., were present. In the evening the newly married couple took their departure for a tour around the lakes. Dr. Nellis is an assistant in the homeopathic hospital.

HUBBARD-MONROE.

L. D. Hubbard and Miss Jennie Monroe will be married this evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Monroe. The bridal couple will go to Duluth. Mr. Hubbard has been in the office of J. F. Lawrence during the past year. Both bride and groom have the best wishes of many friends.

Prof. C. M. Gayley, of the University of California, will spend some time in Ann Arbor.

A MERITED APPOINTMENT.

PROF. HARRINGTON MADE CHIEF OF THE WEATHER BUREAU.

How it Came About—Sketch of the Professor's Life and Services—A Compliment to the University of Michigan.

Some time ago the authorities in Washington decided to transfer the weather bureau from the war to the agricultural department, and to separate it entirely from the signal service. It therefore became necessary to select a new chief. Secretary Rusk's attention was early drawn to Mark W. Harrington, of the Michigan University. Inquiries were soon directed to various scientific men, all of which were favorable to the professor. A number of Michigan men interested themselves in his behalf, and as a result the appointment of Prof. Harrington was soon decided upon. The position pays $4,500 a year. The chief lines of research relate to the influence of the atmosphere upon soils and crops, thus affording enviable opportunities for a scientist. Those who know Prof. Harrington have no doubt that he will fully utilize them.

Mark Walrod Harrington was born in 1848 on a farm near Sycamore, Illinois. Through his father he is a descendant from the earliest settlers in New England. The celebrated judge, Theophilus Harrington, was a member of the family. Through his mother he is a descendant from the Dutch of New York state, her family name being Walradt.

Mr. Harrington received his early education at Evanston, and in 1868 he graduated from the University of Michigan, at the age of nineteen. For two years he was instructor of biological sciences. In 1870 he went to Alaska as astronomical aid in the United States Coast Survey, which was conducted by W. H. Dell. He returned to the University in 1872, and four years later went to Leipzig for an extended course of study. So great was his proficiency that, at the end of a few months, he was appointed professor of mathematics and astronomy in the school of the Chinese Foreign Office at Peking. He was compelled, however, after one year's work, to return to America on account of his health.

In 1879 Mr. Harrington was called to the chair of astronomy, made vacant by the death of the famous Professor Watson. This position he has held continuously until the present time.

Prof. Harrington's achievements as a scientist are well known. He it was who in 1884 founded the American Meteorological Journal, now printed at the REGISTER office. It is needless to say that this monthly has conferred great honor upon the editor and has done much to further the study of astronomy. The professor is a life member of the Linnean Society, of London, England, and a fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society. He has traveled extensively and is well versed, not only in astronomy and meteorology, but in other sciences and the languages. He has always been a prolific writer.

He was married in 1874 and has one living child. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harrington have been highly esteemed in society circles. Mrs. Harrington has devoted much attention to astronomical studies and has given her husband much valuable assistance in many ways.

While Ann Arbor people will congratulate Prof. Harrington on having gained a very desirable position, purely on merit and aside from political considerations, they cannot but regret that the University is again called upon to lose one of its distinguished sons. It will not be an easy task to fill his position.

The Fourth at Whitmore Lake.

The sixtieth anniversary of the establishment of the parish will be celebrated by the people of St. Patrick's church, Northfield, by holding a picnic, July 4, at Smith's Grove, Whitmore Lake. Gov. E. B. Winans and Hon. Denis Shields, prosecuting attorney of Livingston county, will make short addresses. The Business Men's Quartette, of this city, will render some patriotic and national airs on the occasion. Jim Harkins will sing the latest craze in Chicago, a song entitled "The Irish Jubilee." The Whitmore Lake String Band will furnish good music. The dinner will be served for the small sum of twenty-five cents. The Toledo & Ann Arbor road sells tickets for one fare round trip. The piano to be used has been furnished gratis by Alvin Wilsey.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the special advertisements this week in THE REGISTER supplement. Messrs. Koch & Henne and the School of Shorthand have some interesting things to say. It will be worth your while if you want anything in these lines to read these advertisements carefully.

About Sewerage.

The following members of the sewerage committee were present at the meeting Tuesday night: Messrs. Keech, Schub, Cooley, Miner, Dean, Martin, McIntyre, Beal and Wines. A verbal report of the committee sent to Lansing was made by E. B. Norris. He said that, after thorough examination, he found no way of securing any legislation this year that would authorize the city to issue $20,000 in bonds. The time for introducing new bills expired long ago and there is no bill to which any amendment authorizing this could be attached.

Considerable discussion ensued, as to whether it was advisable to raise the amount by tax. Some favored a division of the sum into two parts and the levying of $10,000 one year and the same amount the next year. The following resolution was, however, finally adopted by a unanimous vote: "The joint committee on sewers beg leave to recommend to the council that an election be called at an early date to determine the question of raising the sum of $20,000 by taxation for the purpose of building a main sewer according to the plan of Prof. C. E. Green."

The entire taxation of last year for all purposes was $13.50 per $1,000. To raise an additional sum of $20,000 for sewers would make about $3.33 per $1,000, in all $16.83 per annum.

The sum of $20,000 will undoubtedly pay the entire cost of a main sewer, and the committee after thorough discussion are unanimously of the opinion that it is the only feasible plan to pursue. Should an attempt be made to raise only a portion of the sum required, we should take the chance of raising and spending that portion, and the following year the proposition might be defeated, which would leave the sum already expended absolutely lost.

The lateral sewers will cost about thirty-three cents per foot, that, for a sixty-six feet lot, would be about eleven dollars for each lot of that frontage, the tax being laid on lots on each side of the street."

Commencement Aftermath.

The exercises at University Hall last Thursday were as impressive as usual. On the platform sat President Angell, President Gilman, of Johns Hopkins, Thomas F. Bayard, Judge C. B. Grant, Judge Cooley, Rev. Father Hall, of Boston, and other distinguished guests.

The invocation was offered by Prof. M. L. D'Ooge, and after a selection of music President Gilman was introduced by Dr. Angell.

He began with a few remarks bearing on the relations between Johns Hopkins University and the University of Michigan, and then announced that he intended to talk about the growth of ideas. Progress, he said, is vastly and powerfully affected by great men and unforeseen events.

In this unfolding of ideas the university is an important factor. There are four essential elements in a great college—observatories, laboratories, libraries and professorships. These were developed in the order named.

Universities succeed only by devotion to lofty ideals. Character and will are what make men.

When the address was finished President Angell conferred the regular degrees. Honorary degrees were bestowed as follows: Master of Pharmacy, Giles Lewis, Chicago; Master of Arts, Judge H. H. Swan, Detroit; Doctor of Laws, Judge C. B. Grant, of the Michigan Supreme Court; Doctor of Laws, Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware. The audience was dismissed with a benediction by Rev. Henry Nancrede, of New York.

The commencement dinner, held in the law lecture room, was an unusually fine affair. President Angell was the first speaker. He expatiated upon the growth and future prospects of the University. He was followed by ex-Secretary Bayard, who responded to the toast, "The United States." He expressed a high opinion of the University of Michigan. Colonel Elliott, '61, of Illinois; E. M. Avery, '71, of Detroit; Allen H. Frazer, '81, of Detroit, and Judge C. B. Grant also responded to toasts.

A large reception, given in the evening at the president's house by Dr. and Mrs. Angell, in honor of Mr. Bayard, concluded the festivities of the week.

A Hyde Park Sensation.

Quite a sensation has been stirred up in Hyde Park, Illinois, over the dismissal of W. A. McAndrew, principal of the high school. He is well known to the citizens of Ann Arbor, having graduated from the University in 1887. The cause of the trouble was this: Mr. McAndrew refused to grant a diploma to a student who had not completed a required study. The superintendent insisted that he should do so, and finally prevailed upon the school board to dismiss the principal. The citizens of Hyde Park are very indignant over the matter and over 300 pupils of the school have united in a protest.

SHORTHAND

It will pay every young man and woman in Washtenaw county to read below what has been done by a few of the students who have taken Shorthand and Typewriting at the Summer School of Shorthand during the past few years. You should go and do likewise.

If your desire to take a course in Shorthand and Typewriting this summer, it will be necessary for you to begin at once as no members will be admitted to the class entering after the date will be obliged to take individual instruction at special rates.

MISS EMMA SAXTON
 We teaching school near Ann Arbor at $200.00 per month. She came here to take a course in Shorthand and is now in a real estate office in Chicago, where she receives $75.00 per month.

THEODORE ROEHM

of Ann Arbor, took our course in Shorthand and changed from a position paying him $15.00 per month to a position with the Manager of the C. E. & Q. R. R. at $65.00 per month and traveling expenses which makes his salary equal to $75.00 or more per month.

FRANK HOLLISTER
 Took our course in Shorthand in eleven weeks and the next day after completing the course took a position as Stenographer for Col. Rosen of the United States Military Academy at Orchard Lake, where he is receiving a salary of $60.00 per month and living expenses.

FRANK HEBBY
 of Ann Arbor, took our course in Shorthand and Typewriting in a little over three months and is now stenographer for the later State Commerce Commission, at Washington, D. C., at a salary of over $100.00 per month.

L. H. CARPENTER and F. C. COBB of the Law Dept., took our course while in College. The former is now court reporter in California at a salary of $2200.00 per year. The latter took a position as circuit court reporter in Kentucky at a salary of $2000.00 per year.

MISS DORA BOWEN
 of Ann Arbor, took our course in Shorthand and Typewriting summer before last and is now stenographer for one of the largest lumber companies in the United States, at Klamath Falls, N. Y., where she receives a salary of $60.00 per month.

MISS ANNA FISHER of Ann Arbor took our course in Shorthand and Typewriting and is now employed as one of the assistant teachers of Shorthand in our school, at a salary of $40.00 per month.

MISS ROSE REEDLING

of Ann Arbor took a course in Shorthand and Typewriting during a former summer term and has once been with a wholesale house in Toledo, Ohio, as stenographer at a salary of $45.00 per month.

We could cite a large number of other cases where our people have, through our help secured splendid situations. We are always pleased to assist competent students to good places, and seldom fail in our efforts to do so.

 of Jackson county took our course in Shorthand while he was attending high school and almost immediately took a position as stenographer in one of the great factories in Jackson at a salary of about $50.00 per month.

The Summer School of Shorthand and Typewriting. Take a course. 20 S. State-st, Sager Block, Third Floor. We have the nicest and coolest rooms in the city.

The Summer School of Shorthand and Typewriting opened this week and continues during the entire summer vacation.

CHATS ABOUT MEN.

MacMahon and Bismarck are the only prominent actors in the Franco-Prussian war remaining alive.

A monument will be erected shortly in Tutlingen, in the Black Forest, to Max Schneckenberger, author of "The Watch on the Rhine."

Robert S. Green, ex-governor and now vice-chancellor of New Jersey, is rather short and stout and has a large, round head and gray eyes, and is about sixty.

William T. Crossdale, one of the most prominent advocates of Henry George's theories, is in the forties, thickset, an able editorial writer and a forceful orator.

Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien while away the tedium of their prison life with literary work. Mr. O'Brien has nearly finished a novel, the scene of which is laid in the sixteenth century.

The grave of Brigham Young is covered by a plain and inconspicuous slab of granite. It lies in an inclosed city lot in Salt Lake City, surrounded by a low iron fence. A few of the prophet's wives lie buried near by.

Adolph Sutro, the rich Californian who made his money by the great mining tunnel that bears his name, is to turn his fine collection of nearly 40,000 volumes into a free public library for the benefit of San Francisco people.

Vice President Morton's country place on the Hudson, Ellerslie, is three miles below Rhinebeck. It comprises over 600 acres. The house is placed in a commanding natural terrace, with a fair foreground of park surface below it, studded with beautiful elms and oaks.

Charley Delmonico, whose name was Crist, but who took the name of his deceased uncle, is about thirty-five, has brown hair and a smooth face, and now manages all the Delmonico restaurants. He is a good fellow and very popular with the wealthy young men of Gotham.

William Allen Butler, whose satirical poem "Nothing to Wear" made him famous nearly thirty years ago, has been elected vice president of the council of the University of the City of New York in place of the late Dr. Howard Crosby. Mr. Butler is a leading "business lawyer."

WHISPERS ABOUT WOMEN.

Miss Marion Foster, the crippled artist, is now a clerk at the treasury department at Washington.

Maud Evans, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who is only sixteen years of age, has a third set of natural teeth.

Eliza Archard Conner has gray hair, a slight figure, bright, sparkling eyes, a girlish, merry manner, and a rippling, happy, hearty laugh.

Mrs. Mary T. Burton, formerly editor of The Kansan, and at present postmistress, has been elected police judge at Jamestown, Cloud county, Kan.

Mrs. Jennie June Croly is a little woman of slender figure. Her hair is brown, with a few strands of white in it. Mrs. Croly is a pleasant talker and an amiable and interesting woman.

Garfield's daughter, Mrs. Brown, lives in Washington in a small, plain house on Massachusetts avenue. She is still quite young, not more than twenty-five, and she leads a retired life with her husband and little son.

Miss Annie De Barr, the young Chicago woman who earns a living by running a stationary engine, is a slight creature of delicate physique. She is about thirty years old, of medium height, and has very engaging manners.

Bernhardt on the stage is only excelled by Bernhardt at dinner. She eats, drinks, sings, pats her dog and drinks again. If anything happens to displease her she throws something at the dog, calls him to her again, kisses him on the head and asks his pardon. Then she drinks to the health of everybody, including the dog, and falls to eating. And so she continues to tear a passion to tatters until the last raisin has disappeared.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

Buffalo Bill and his "Wild West" did good business on their German tour.

Richard Mansfield emphatically denies that he is to marry Beatrice Cameron.

Denver is a puzzle to theatrical managers. Farce comedy falls flat there.

Ninety-two farce comedies will be on the road next season, and the list is still growing.

Nat Goodwin, the famous comedian, sailed for Europe the other day before the papers in his wife's suit for alimony could be served on him.

Robert Mantell's new play, "The Veiled Picture," is said to be a success. He plays in it the part of a man who kills another while temporarily insane.

Edwin Thorne, who has just returned from Australia, says that experienced actors on that big island often work for £3 a week, and that £15 is considered a colossal salary.

Minnie Palmer, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, has not "kissed and made up" with her husband, John R. Rogers. She has joined the London gaiety burlesque company.

LATEST COUNTY NEWS.

OUR YPSILANTI RAMBLER

Tells What He Has Seen and Heard in that Burg During the Past Seven Days and Nights.

Among those who will attend the Christian Endeavor convention at Minneapolis, this month, will be Rev. H. M. Morey and Miss Eunice Lambie, of the Presbyterian society, and Miss Kittie Dennis, of the Congregational. Those interested in the Normal are very sorry to learn of Miss Lockwood's resignation. She has been the efficient and popular superintendent of the kindergarten department and has accomplished much in the work. Rumor has it that a popular young professor in some eastern college is responsible for her leaving us.

Miss Roccie Norris, who has been spending a year in New York studios, has returned home with a valuable collection of water colors. The Methodists are going to build a handsome new church and consequently are selling off all their old belongings. The Catholics will probably purchase the pipe organ, which, by the way, is a fine instrument.

Last Sunday was a good day for fine solos in some of the churches. Miss Emmy Gereissen, the rising young contralto, of New York, favored the Episcopalians, while Geo. Tyler, of Detroit, warbled at the Catholic church. Mrs. P. R. Cleary was reported as dangerously ill, the first part of the week, as was also Mrs. Alice Cook. Messrs. Howard Stevenson and Will Hubbell surprised their friends last week by both bringing home charming brides. That reminds me that Mr. Peter Cranson has become a Benedict, having induced Miss Nina Babcock to accompany him during the remainder of his life's journey.

AN ARTISTIC DISPLAY.

It is to be found in the Mantel Room of Schuh & Muehl's Modern Hardware Store.

Do you like to see an artistic display? If you do, you should follow the route taken by the Times man yesterday. He had heard that Schuh & Muehl had the finest display room for mantels in the state, and, not willing to depend entirely on hearsay, he hid himself to the establishment of that enterprising hardware firm and asked to be shown the room about which so much had been said. Mr. Schuh at once took possession of the Times man, and guiding him through the store and up a handsome oak staircase, led him into a room which is arranged as artistically as though it were a part of an art exhibition.

Hanging from the ceiling are numerous lamps and chandeliers, and all of the latest designs. They give a very gay appearance to the room, but its chief splendor is in the elegant display of mantels, of which there are 32 arranged around the walls of the room.

Although they range in price from the cheapest at $20 to the finest at $150, there are none of them but are handsome. The first ones on the south side are all wood, and further on are some imitation marble, which are such a fine imitation that they are more handsome than the original. Still further around are the more artistic wood mantels with elegant hand carvings and tiles that are of the latest design. These mantels are the most costly and are worth $150 each. The mantels are arranged on three sides of the room, and make a sight which it is well worth your while going to see, for it is the finest of its kind in the state.

On this floor besides the mantels are kept a large supply of gas fitting material, tiles, gratings, Domestic, White, New Home and Davis sewing machines, Garland stoves and ranges, and everything is placed in such shape that it shows to the best advantage without being in the way.

The Times man, seeing so much on one floor, wanted to know if there was anything more to see and in reply was led into the third story, where were gathered a splendid array of agricultural implements, gasoline stoves, scales, copper and tin ware, and many other articles too numerous to mention. The Bolton hot water heater, Carbon and Gilt Edge furnace are also to be seen here and we are informed that they are proving the most popular method of heating modern houses which is known. An elevator carries all these things up and down stairs, making it as easy to arrange things on one floor as another.

From the third floor the Times man went back through the mantel room, which he admired so much, down stairs again and down into the basement. Here are stored stoves, gas and steam fittings, and sewing machines. Mr. Schuh here informed us that in the last twelve years over 5,000 sewing machines had been stowed away in this cellar and that he had sold them all but about fifty. This is certainly a big record and would place a sewing machine in nearly every family in the county. A very notable feature of the basement is the immense stock stowed away in the basement, the Times man again retraced his steps and was led into the tinning and plumbing departments at the rear of the store. Here ten men are employed all the time, and Mr. Schuh thinks from the way business is increasing that the firm will soon have to increase their force, as they always want to do their work promptly. It is this as much as anything which has gained them their reputation as model hardware men, and the effect can be seen in every department of the store, which is 120 feet long and three stories and a basement. Every inch of available space is occupied and yet nothing seems crowded, and the general effect cannot but be pleasing.

On the main floor is kept everything which can be found in an ordinary hardware store, locks, hinges, screws, nails, refrigerators, stoves, cutlery, agricultural implements, etc., and everything that can be of use in building, and this, in connection with the other floors make this store a perfect model of what could be designed for a hardware store.

Mr. Schuh has been in business in Ann Arbor since 1861 and is the oldest hardware man in the county. He takes a great interest in making the store attractive and is always glad to show people through the store if they come to buy or not. If you want to see something elegant you should go to this store and go through the mantel room which you will find to be all that could be imagined and more. It will be well worth your while to do this and it will cost you nothing but the effort, which you can well afford. The Times man came away well satisfied with his visit and convinced that he had been through the model hardware store.—Washtenaw Times.

Seventeen Unnatural Deaths.
The year ending June 30th has been remarkable for the large number of unnatural deaths which have occurred in Ann Arbor and vicinity. There have been eight drownings, one manslaughter, one suicide, one infanticide, two railroad accidents and four other fatal accidents. A complete list will prove interesting:

Warner Halleck, of this city, drowned in Bush Lake, July 6.
Walter and Samuel Johnson drowned, while swimming in the Huron river, Wednesday, July 9.

Mrs. A. C. Clark, of Saline, thrown from carriage on river road and fatally injured, July 28.
Irving J. Dennison, killed in the rumple between Company A and students, November 12.

H. A. Macy, medical student, injured while coasting; died Wednesday, December 24.
Frank E. Dickinson and Miss Gertrude M. Brundage, medical students, drowned, while skating, December 24.
D. W. Amsden, accidentally killed in a scuffle in Millman & McNally's saloon, January 13.

Child of Henrietta Ehnis died February 10 from exposure in a vault.
Thomas H. Moore, drowned at Geddesburg, February 12.

August Kayuska, took Paris Green and died February 23.
John Henry Leopold disappeared from home in fifth ward, Easter Monday, found dead in river two weeks after.

Simon Natonic, fell into fit and was suffocated in hay mow, April 13.
J. Bush, of this city, drowned in McNally's Lake, May 7.

Joseph Beck, tramp, killed by Michigan Central train, June 1.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

Sale of summer hats; all hats at half price this week, at Mrs. L. Johnson's, Duffy Block, north Main.

Dixboro.

Sid Shaughness was the first to commence harvest in these parts.

Miss Alice Stuart, of the Hillsdale high school, is home spending her vacation.

Prof. McGee and wife are the guests of Mrs. McGee's parents of this place, Mr. and Mrs. W. Barr.

While returning home from the ball game here last Saturday, Jim Finnell was thrown from his horse and received two large scalp wounds.

Wheat is nearly ready for harvest. Some will probably be cut this week.

Rev. Mr. Lincoln gave a lecture to the young people last Sunday evening.

Miss Nettie Latson is attending the summer school at the Michigan Agricultural College.

William Tabbs, while working at his new barn, had the misfortune to fall and crush his skull quite severely. He died last evening.

Wheat in this vicinity is looking fine and gives promise of a large crop.

The recent rains did considerable damage in this vicinity, washing out bridges, culverts, etc.

Park Wheeler, who has been visiting his old home and friends, returned to Washington state last Friday.

Miss Martha Minze, who had the misfortune to fracture several ribs, is we are pleased to learn, improving quite rapidly.

Mr. R. Hopson has sold out his store to his son Richard, who will run it as a branch of a Detroit house, paying Detroit prices for all produce, and making things hum in general.

The picnic at W. W. Dell's was well attended, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, and a fine time is reported by all. Miss McMullen has proved herself to be both competent and efficient as a teacher.

Nervous Prostration.

The symptoms begin in spring and early summer. They resemble the symptoms of malaria very closely. It is a prolific source of paralysis, sunstroke, apoplexy, insanity, hysteria and insomnia. The strong and weak of both sexes are alike its victims. Creeping rigors, slight, chilly feelings and cold sweat, especially at night, tired feelings, drowsiness, mental confusion, despondency, morbid fear, pale, abundant urine, weak back and palpitation. No one who has any or all of the above symptoms should neglect to get Pe-ru-na and use it faithfully until they entirely disappear. It is a perfect remedy for this condition. As the hot weather, with all of its depressing effects, approaches, Pe-ru-na invigorates and tones up the nervous system, averting nervous prostration in all of its various forms; and, taken in the most advanced stages of the disease, will permanently cure every uncomplicated case. It is foolish and dangerous to be without this never-failing remedy at a time when every one is exposed to such serious liabilities. A valuable book on nervous prostration and diseases of hot weather sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

LITERARY NOTES.

The intercollegiate boat-race is appropriately noticed and illustrated in Harper's Weekly published June 17th.

"Church and State and Other Essays," by Count Leo Tolstoy, give the reader a good idea of what the great Russian thinks on a variety of social and political subjects.

Elizabeth Robins Pennell contributes to Harper's Bazar for this week an interesting article on "The English Middle Classes," based upon personal observations during her residence in Great Britain.

In "Notes and Comments," in the June number of the North American Review, the several articles of more than ordinary interest, among them "Secretary Rusk and the Farmers," by Geo. E. Waring, is worthy of careful consideration.

Adeline's Art Dictionary. Containing a Complete Index of all Terms used in Art, Architecture, Heraldry, and Archaeology. Translated from the French and enlarged, with nearly 2,000 illustrations.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Phillips Brooks is one of the founders of the new University club in Boston.

The bible says, "The sins of the parents shall be visited upon the children even unto the third and fourth generations."

Allow me to pay my tribute to Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy.

Little Johnnie, on seeing a skeleton, for the first time, exclaimed, "Why, but they skinned her mighty close, didn't they! She looks worse than Aunt Jane did, before ma gave her that bottle of 'Favorite Prescription!'"

"Aunt Jane" was so completely worn out with prostrations, periodical difficulties, nervous prostration, that she was a constant sufferer night and day.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

EDITED BY MRS. ALLIE LUSE DICK, FOR THE W. C. T. U.

And by the University Prohibition Club—Facts and Arguments Pertaining to the Cause of Temperance.

It is a source of encouragement to every person interested in temperance and good government to see with what harmony the various temperance organizations work for the establishment of a national prohibition park on Staten Island, New York.

The W. C. T. U. training school is a new and interesting department of temperance work and promises to be a great stimulus to the local unions throughout the country.

"I believe it would be impossible in the present state of sentiment to enforce prohibitory law if we had it." Such is the statement made by Miss Duty, national secretary of the non-partisan W. C. T. U., in a letter to Police-Director Gibbons, of Cleveland, published in the Cleveland Press, May 25.

"Thirty prominent students of Harvard, members of the Alpha Delta Phi club, have been fined sixty-five dollars each for keeping liquor in their rooms."

Among the pretty things evolved by the W. C. T. U., must be reckoned the petition sent out by Frances J. Barnes, and endorsed by 30,000 young women representing unions throughout the United States.

Ministers and laymen to banish alcoholic beverages from class suppers, alumni dinners, and all school and college festivals. We ask this for the great moral influence it would exert, and also because we believe example as well as precept is needed to promote scientific temperance instruction.

After commencement comes the beginning to get out of town, and in order to facilitate matters we invite all students to bring their baggage to the T., A. A. & N. M. Ry depot, where we will be pleased to store it for you until you get ready to leave.

The examination of Thomas Mathews and John Gow for criminal assault upon Katie Kinsley was begun Friday. The complaining witness, after cross-examination had begun, fainted and was obliged to leave. Deputy-Sheriffs Peterson and Mc Cabe and George Cole were also placed on the stand. Owing to Miss Kinsley's illness further examination was postponed till tomorrow.

The School of Shorthand began its special "summer school" last Tuesday. This is the sixth season that this school has held a summer session. There have been numerous other attempts to found summer schools of various sorts here, but without much success, except in the case of the School of Shorthand, which reports a constantly growing attendance. We believe that if others had stuck to the matter more determinedly, more of the attempts would have met with success.

During the temporary absence of the operator of the Postal Telegraph Company, Tuesday, a Japanese student stepped in and left a message to New York with a boy who had sat down behind the counter, saying that he expected an answer in thirty minutes. The answer did not arrive. Upon inquiry it was found that the boy had torn up the original dispatch and pocketed the money for it. The young man is evidently preparing for a course at the state's prison.
