MEN OF WAR.

MICHIGAN'S CITIZEN-SOLDIER ENCAPSED AT WHITMORE.

Location of the Grounds—Daily Routine—Forced Marches—Dress Parade—How Ann Arbor's Company Behaved—Notes and Jottings.

The pomp and blazonry of war have, during the past week, been seen in all their seductiveness at Whitmore Lake. Nearly 2,000 of Michigan's citizen-soldiers, in four regiments, were there encamped. Hundreds of white tents dotted the level field which the harvesters had but recently left. They stood half a mile west of the lake, beyond both the railroad and the tiny creek. Besides the militia there were four companies of Uncle Sam's regulars, who were designed to serve as models for the raw recruits. They were encamped to the extreme east of the grounds. To the south of them stood the tents of the governor and his aides, and those of the brigadier-general and minor officers. Farther west were spread the canvas houses of the four regiments, those of the first and fourth being toward the north, and those of the second and third farther south. The first, of which Company A is an honored part, was commanded by Col. Bowen, of Ypsilanti. Near his quarters were those of Major Millard, of this city. The Ann Arbor boys occupied thirteen tents, besides the mess tent, over which Quartermaster E. V. Hangsterfer wielded absolute sway. Many visitors, during the encampment, accepted the hospitality of this company.

Wednesday was largely spent in preliminary work. On that day the daily routine commenced. Neither then nor on Thursday did anything eventful happen. The reveille, guard mount, battalion drill, eating, marching, tattoo, absorbed all attention.

Friday will not soon be forgotten by the Second and Fourth Regiments, which on that hot day made a forced march of about ten miles. The latter was preceded by the Scott Guards. When the two regiments met, about two and a half miles north of the camp, lively firing ensued. The Fourth out-manuevered the Second and forced them to retreat. Together they marched back to the camp with the intention of capturing it, but they were met by regular soldiers and foiled. The First and Third Regiments, in the mean time, had been employed in battalion drill.

With much trepidation the First and Third Regiments started on a forced march, Saturday morning. The First was commanded by Colonel Bowen. Company A (twenty-three strong) obeyed the orders of Lieutenant Watts. This regiment started on the highway directly toward Mr. Rorabacher's farm house, three miles away, while the Fourth started farther to the south. Colonel Bowen took possession of the barn and used it as a fort, awaiting the arrival of the other regiment. A very successful strategy was carried out by Lieut. Col. Lyon, of the Third, who smuggled twenty-five men in a haystack through the lines of the First. He was finally declared the victor and the two regiments started off to camp together. An attempt was made to capture the citadel and after a hot contest, in which no blood was shed, the battle drew to a close. The fighting was done scientifically and called forth many compliments from the regular officers. The Ann Arbor boys say they would not have missed the fun for a good deal.

Special trains run Sunday from Detroit, Jackson, Ann Arbor and other places, and it is estimated that there were fully 10,000 persons on the grounds. Dress guard mount and company inspection were the features of the morning. Governor Winans inspected the Nineteenth Infantry at two o'clock and at three the officers inspected the hospital. The great event of the day, however, was the dress parade of the brigade. Many difficult maneuvers were successfully made. Fourteen militiamen were overcome by the heat and obliged to seek the quietude of the hospital tent.

Monday was the last day of the encampment. The most important event was the official entry of Governor Winans. In the early afternoon the Nineteenth Infantry escorted him to camp, and a salute of eleven guns was fired in his honor. He then drove to the drill ground, where the four regiments of amateur soldiers were drawn up in a line eighty rods long. When the review was finished the usual nightly routine was carried out and the encampment was practically at an end.

NOTES AND JOTTINGS.

Company A had no cellars in its tents. Frank Connors, an Owosso boy aged eight years, was bitten by a snake Saturday. The departure of the regulars Monday afternoon partook somewhat of the nature of a cyclone. The men were just twenty-two seconds in striking their tents.

Up to Saturday night Company A supplied from its ranks four out of five orderlies.

A special detail escorted Privates Seyler and Ross to the camp Saturday afternoon.

Hamburg and Ann Arbor saloons have done an increased amount of business during the encampment.

Fourteen men were overcome by the heat during dress parade Sunday. Among the number was J. R. Bach, of Company A.

A brigade service was held Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. tent. Rev. J. Munday, of the Fourth Regiment, preached the sermon.

Deputy-Sheriff Peterson arrested two fakirs Sunday and ran them into the guard house. The soldiers' bayonets had no terrors for them.

The Governor has issued a general order in which he congratulates the militiamen upon their proficiency and the success of the encampment.

Pickpockets were numerous Sunday. Among the Ann Arbor victims were Representative J. V. N. Gregory, Mrs. F. Stofflet, and Mrs. J. J. Fischer.

Up to Saturday evening the Hammond Beef Company, of Chicago, had supplied the troops with 2,500 pounds of beef, 1,500 pounds of other meats and 1,100 pounds of fish.

Company A has at times electrified the camp by uttering the U. of M. yell. They had besides their own slogan which, in cold print, is as follows: "A-A-L-I. Hiscock! Siss Boom Ah!"

Alvin C. Stacey, of the Flint company, Third Regiment, drank too much beer, Thursday, and became insubordinate, even going to the extent of striking his captain. He pined away for several days in the guard house.

Ann Arbor is represented by Company A, First Regiment. Company A is the last company that was mustered into the state service and has won many compliments on its fine appearance and remarkably good drill, considering the fact that it is the infant company.—Detroit Tribune.

Company A has borne the appropriate name, "Hiscock's Sunday school class." This is how Corporal Kline explains it. "The other night the boys stood for their picture and Captain Hiscock looked so pious that immediately the thought struck me and I dubbed the company 'Hiscock's Sunday school class.'"

The Emmet Rifles, of Jackson, were quartered directly opposite the Ann Arbor boys. The latter say that the roll call of this company was very amusing, with its succession of Mahoney's, McCann's, Molony's, Murphy's and the like. One of these Hibernians, with auburn hair, bore the sobriquet of "Rusty Reddy," and the "rusty reds" was the name applied to some six of his cronies. "Murphy's Pigs" was the somewhat uncomplimentary nickname of a pair of twins who possessed marked ability in song and dance. The Emmet Rifles were a jolly set of fellows, and made many friends among the members of Company A.

U. of M. Law Makers.

The board of regents met Saturday morning and transacted considerable business. Leave of absence was granted Prof. M. W. Harrington and his work was temporarily placed in charge of W. J. Hussey. Professor J. W. Langley, of Pittsburg, was appointed lecturer on metallurgy for the ensuing year. J. A. C. Hildner, '90, of Detroit, was made instructor of German. Dr. W. F. Breakley was reappointed lecturer on dermatology. Provision for an assistant to Prof. Gibbs was made. B. A. Finney was appointed assistant in the library, to have charge of the circulation. The degree of bachelor of laws was conferred upon R. L. Hubbard. Authority was given for the appointment of an apothecary for the University hospital. The vacancies in the law department were filled by the appointment of Nathan D. Abbott, of the Boston law school; Judge Champlin, of Grand Rapids, and Edwin F. Conely, of Detroit. The contracts for the new law and engineering buildings were let to Lane & Morris, of Detroit, but these gentlemen afterwards withdrew their bids.

Peacefully Passed Away.

Miss Virginia Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Watts, quietly passed away at an early hour this morning. She had been ill for over a year with consumption and her death was not unexpected. Funeral services will be held by Rev. J. M. Gelston at the house, at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Miss Watts had lived in Ann Arbor the greater part of her life. She was a graduate of the high school and also of the medical department. Her studies were subsequently pursued at Boston, Danville, N. Y., and Cleveland. She practiced several years in East Saginaw before failing health forced her to give up work. She was a consistent Christian and possessed a character such as won her many friends.

TALKED AND TALKED.

THAT IS WHAT THE CITY COUNCIL DID MONDAY.

The Summit-st Matter—The Mayor's Veto—Financial Estimate—So Much Business That the Council Adjourned till Monday Next.

With the exception of Ald. Hall, now in Alaska, every member of the council attended the semi-monthly meeting Monday night. The supervisors' room was used again, improvements in the council chamber being still unfinished. The first business to come before the council was a communication from the mayor, vetoing the resolution passed at the last meeting, which authorized the printing of Prof. Greene's report in the official papers and asked bids for publishing 3,000 copies in pamphlet form. The reasons given were mainly technical, the mayor objecting to ordering anything printed which did not appear in the written record. The council failed to pass the resolution over the veto, only two yeas being given.

The matter of opening Summit-st between Beakes and Detroit-sts then came before the council. Thos. D. Kearney spoke in behalf of Mrs. Foley, and advised the appointment of a special committee to agree upon terms. H. A. Douglas represented the gas company. A resolution was offered by Ald. Martin, providing for a four-rod street, and assessing the benefits thereof upon property owners in the vicinity. Ald. Fillmore moved an amendment striking out the special assessment clause of the resolution. A lively discussion ensued and the amendment finally passed by a vote of 8 to 4. On motion of Ald. O'Hearn, a committee consisting of Alderman Fillmore, Taylor and Mann, was appointed, with instructions to confer with the property-owners.

The board of public works recommended that sidewalks be ordered built on Washington-st, Main-st, Huron-st, Mill-st, Broadway, State-st, Spring-st, and repaired on William-st, Fourth-ave and Liberty-st.

The board of fire commissioners recommended that the salaries of firemen be fixed at $40 a month for the first year of service, $45 for the second year and $50 for the third year, and that the salary of the chief be fixed at $70 a month.

The report of the board of health, previously mentioned, was read and referred to the water committee.

The city clerk then read several letters regarding sewerage. That received from Kalamazoo stated that the city had experienced no difficulty from the discharge into the river and that no suit had ever been brought against the city. The same testimony was given by Grand Rapids and Flint. In Jackson one claim for damage had been presented but it has not been pushed. The people living along the Jackson river had occasionally complained.

B. B. Morgan, of Ypsilanti, and Theo. Schwab at this point took the floor and explained models for the proposed city map which they had prepared, showing water mains, sewers, fire limits, lots and electric lights.

A motion, offered by Ald. Wines, appropriating $100 for printing 5,000 copies of Prof. Greene's report was lost by a vote of 8 to 4.

The finance committee recommended that the claim of Mrs. Foley for damage to her property on Detroit-st be disallowed, and the council concurred.

The report of the finance committee on the probable expenses for the remainder of the year contained the following figures: Balance on hand at date, $1952.92; cost of salaries, light, and printing for seven remaining months, $9,100; water tax, $2,595; street fund, $5,282; poor fund, $692; hook and ladder truck, $1,000; total, $18,669; estimated receipts, $400; on hand February 1, 1892, $2,352.00, leaving estimated deficit of $16,317. If several proposed improvements are carried out the deficit will be slightly in excess of what it was February 1, 1891.

Ald. Martin read the sidewalk ordinance for the third time and Ald. Wines offered an amendment providing that the stone walk on Detroit-st should stop at North-st and that the northeast side of Washtenaw-ave, between north University-ave and Hill-st, be added to the list. The first part of the amendment passed but the second was, on motion of Ald. O'Hearn, laid on the table. The amended ordinance passed unanimously. Alderman Martin then read the title of an ordinance regarding the use of street cars by the people.

J. Q. A. Sessions rose to protest against the interference of the street commissioner with the building of sidewalks.

At this point, on account of the large amount of business still untransacted, the council decided to adjourn till Monday night next.

Rev. J. C. Carman, of Zanesville, O. will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning.

A Revival.

The enthusiasm shown at the meeting of the Business Men's association, held on Tuesday evening, is very encouraging. There is an evident determination on the part of the members to wake up and take some decisive steps in the interest of the city.

President Keech occupied the chair and A. L. Noble was made secretary pro tem. The annual election of officers first took place, with the following result: President, A. L. Noble; vice-president, J. F. Schuh; secretary, G. Frank Allmendinger; corresponding secretary, S. A. Moran; treasurer, Fred. Schmid; member of board of trustees, G. F. Allmendinger.

A lively discussion with regard to the future of the association took place. Mr. Allmendinger contended that, despite the cavils of outsiders, it had already done much for the city. It had brought the capsule factory, the boiler works, the refrigerator works, and had taken the first steps toward securing electric lights. It had also published a pamphlet, which, in the speaker's opinion, had attracted many people to Ann Arbor. As to the future, he thought that one of the most feasible projects was the establishment of a school of music. Such an institution would, in a few years, bring not less than 1,000 students to this city. Furthermore, said he, we have right here the proper man to start such an enterprise. The question naturally arises, How are we to get the money? Mr. Allmendinger believed that $25,000 could be raised by careful personal solicitation. Or, if the project were thought to be of sufficient public interest, the legislature might be called upon.

S. A. Moran had talked with Prof. Stanley about the matter, and was convinced that the plan was a feasible one.

Col. H. S. Dean was sure of it. He believed that a conservatory of music equal to that in Boston could be established in Ann Arbor. The great trouble with the business men of this city, said he, is that they care more for a peck of peanuts near their eyes than they do for $100,000 further off.

J. F. Schuh thought that if the association were to accomplish anything, it would be obliged to raise some kind of a fund. This it could do by assessing every member fifty cents a month.

G. F. Allmendinger believed that the time had arrived when it would be advisable to publish another pamphlet, and upon his motion the following committee was appointed to investigate the matter: G. F. Allmendinger, H. S. Dean and C. W. Wagner. S. A. Moran stated that he had in view the publication of something of this kind as a private enterprise. All he wanted was the endorsement of the association.

The school of music project was inaugurated by the appointment of the following committee: T. J. Keech, Moses Seabolt, Ottmar Eberbach, J. E. Beal, Christian Mack, H. J. Brown and Dr. W. J. Herdman.

The sewerage question came up for discussion and the following memorial to the council, offered by Col. Dean, was adopted: "The plans of sewerage by Prof. C. E. Greene, have been endorsed by the board of public works, the board of health, a former common council, and unanimously endorsed by the recent joint committee on sewerage; also by nearly every physician in the city. This association therefore respectfully asks the council to permit the citizens themselves to decide by ballot if the plan proposed shall be carried out."

"Follow Me."

This was the text of a sermon preached last Sunday by Rev. Henry Tatlock, of St. Andrews' church. Two truths, said he, have come to be recognized by modern Christians. One is that the greatest results can be obtained by allowing each individual the greatest possible liberty of thought and action, and the other is that by united effort only can the world be conquered. The truly catholic or universal church recognizes these facts. A sect is different. This is a body of men all of whom are supposed to think exactly alike. But men grow and opinions change. As a consequence, the religious world is in constant turmoil. The difficulty is that this system does not allow growth—does not recognize the fact that truth may grow in the sense of being more fully understood. The true catholic principle allows different views by different men in the church. If we glance at the gospels we find that even the sacred writers looked at the truth differently. The principle upon which they rested was the divine command, "Follow me." In the early history of the church the same principle prevails. The first Christians united upon a very simple statement of facts regarding the life, character and worth of Christ. It was under such circumstances that Christianity conquered the world. In these latter days the tendency is becoming stronger and stronger, to revert to these old standards. The catholic church will soon include all who follow the same Master.

Belleville is proud of the fact that she will soon have six bicycles.

Station Agent Bennett, of Saline, now trundles a seven-pound girl.

John Stowell, of Lodi, lost a valuable horse last week. Struck by lightning.

Great preparations are being made for the celebration of German day in Manchester.

Robinson & Koelbe of Manchester, have sold sixteen binders and seven mowers this season.

A Stockbridge drug store has been selling beer as a beverage. A prosecution has been commenced.

E. A. Batwell, son of Dr. Batwell, of Ypsilanti, will furnish plans for a government building in Alaska.

Prof. M. A. Whitney, formerly of Skowhegan, Maine, has been elected superintendent of the Ypsilanti schools.

Dr. A. V. Avery, a graduate from the homeopathic department of the University, has opened an office in South Lyon.

A South Lyon barber "slugged" a white prowler under the ear, the other night. The fellow was peeping into his window.

Adam Schabale cut sixty-two acres of wheat in three days for L. S. Hulbert with a seven-foot Plano binder.—Manchester Enterprise.

James Bros. barn near Hamburg was struck by lightning and entirely consumed. Bills amounting to $550, which were secreted in the grain bin, were saved.

The wool business of our town has been fairly lively thus far. About $10,000 have already been paid out, and not far from 50,000 pounds marketed.—Dexter Leader.

Sparks from the motor train on the Ypsilanti road fired a hay stack for Fred Hutzal, last Saturday, but as good luck would have it, it was discovered in time to save the property.—Saline Observer.

Yesterday morning Dr. Lynch was attending to his cow, when he became entangled in the rope in some way and was tripped up. In falling his collar bone was broken, and Dr. Kapp was called to set it.—Manchester Enterprise.

It was anything but an act of cunningness on the part of the young gentlemen who scattered parlor matches on the sidewalk last Sunday night, expecting the young ladies to step on and explode them.—Saline Observer.

That's true. Boys that would do that would steal watermelons if they had a chance.

Joe Feather today marketed sixty nice fat hogs, averaging over two hundred pounds each. A drove of this kind in July, we venture, is seldom equaled; however, we have observed that Joe always has a good drove of something to turn off when the price suits him.—Saline Observer.

N. W. Holt of the Manchester roller mills is testing a new invention of his own which he invited us to inspect a few days ago. It is a roller suction, for taking the hot air from the rollers to prevent them from sweating, and returning it cooled to the rollers without wasting.—Manchester Enterprise.

Ransom Ramsdell, who resides two miles north of town, again showed marked signs of insanity, cutting off his calves' ears, and the ears of his cows, chasing his children with a pitchfork and doing other acts of a clearly insane nature. He was taken to Kalamazoo to the asylum Friday. He was there about sixteen years ago.—Stockbridge Sun.

Mr. John Lancaster, a book-binder formerly employed in the Commercial bindery, recently became unable to work and was finally taken to the county house, where he died, and as we are informed, his body was sent to Ann Arbor, as no one was heard of who took an interest in him. The old man's fate was unknown to many in the place, who would have hoped to give him a decent burial, until too late.—Sentinel.

Wiltse & Son, the harness makers, have in their shop one of the oldest clocks in the country. It was brought from Mexico by a soldier who was stationed at Mackinac, and it is supposed to be 171 years old. It has a copper plate on the dial dated 1720. It keeps good time, strikes the hours and quarter hours, having two bells. It is really a curiosity and may be seen in the front room at any time.—Manchester Enterprise.

Rev. LeRoy Hooker, who has several pastorates in some of the largest churches in this continent and who has traveled extensively in this country and Europe, took an outing Monday at Portage lake, and notwithstanding his catch of fish by trolling around the lake was not big, his words of praise for the beauties and richness of the intervening country seemed almost extravagant. He thinks that our little village of Dexter is one of the delightful places of the earth.—Leader.

As one of our old citizens was dealing out his jokes to a promiscuous and informal gathering, a Mr. M., another old timer, stepped in to listen to the good things, when the former, not noted for his piety nor white skin, declared that he and Mr. W. were exceedingly good when boys, and used to attend Sunday-school together, and after school was dismissed would go in swimming regularly; but that Jim would always get in first and rile the water; and that, said he, is what makes me so confounded black.—Dexter Leader.

One day last week while our harness maker, I. Wiltse, was in Dexter, he went out to examine a telephone ground wire and while pulling the grass away from the side of the building heard a rattling noise, something he had never heard before, and glancing in that direction saw the head of a rattlesnake within six inches of his hand. The old fellow was stretched out at full length, which was probably fortunate for Mr. W., for had he been coiled he might have bitten him. Mr. Wiltse was long in grabbing a hoe with which he severed his head from his body with one stroke.—Manchester Enterprise. (Snake department.)

MICHIGAN CROPS.

A Large Increase Over the Wheat Acreage of Last Year.

The number of acres of wheat in the state in May of this year, as shown by returns compiled, was 1,581,774, and multiplying by the estimated yield per acre gives 24,671,558 bushels as the probable total yield of the state. This is an average per acre of 16.37 bushels in the southern counties, 12.49 in the central counties, and 11.27 in the northern counties. The area in wheat this year is more than 140,000 acres greater than harvested in 1890. The number of acres of wheat harvested in 1890 was approximately 1,438,300; yield 22,960,000 bushels; an average of 15.96 bushels per acre.

Work of Forest Fire.

The Metropolitan Lumber Company at Metropoli lost 7,000,000 feet of lumber and all the logs on the river bank were burned down to the water's edge by forest fire.

Their large and well-equipped sawmill was also destroyed. The amount of insurance was not known. Two bridges on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad were also destroyed.

Forest fires destroyed the little hamlet of Whitney, on the Chicago & Northwestern road. Seventeen families were homeless and only one store and charcoal kilns were left standing.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health by sixty-three observers in different parts of the state for the week ended July 11, indicated that typhoid fever, inflammation of the brain, diphtheria, pneumonia and inflammation of the bowels increased, and typho-malarial fever, pleuritis and cholera morbus decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at thirty-one places, scarlet fever at thirty-five, typhoid fever at fifteen and measles at twenty-seven places.

Michigan Agricultural College.

The state board of agriculture met at the agricultural college in Lansing and made the following appointments for the institution:

Professor of mathematics and engineering, Prof. Charles E. Wing, of Cornell university; assistant professor of mathematics, Warren Babcock, Jr., of Milan, Mich.; librarian, Mrs. Landon, of Niles, Mich.; instructor in botany, Gilbert H. Hicks, of Corunna, Mich.; instructor in zoology, Charles F. Barker, of St. Croix Falls, Wis.

Losses by Forest Fires.

Forest fires were doing great damage in Bay de Noc township, Delta county, a number of settlers having lost all they had except their homes. The crops in that township and all the cedar pine and standing hardwood had been destroyed. At Detroit six farmhouses and as many barns with contents were consumed.

Blaze in a Lumber Yard.

A fire that started in Mitchell Bros' lumber yard at Jennings destroyed 10,000,000 feet of lumber, a planing-mill, engine house and four dwellings.

The loss was estimated at about $250,000; insurance, $150,000. The fire was supposed to have caught from the refuse burner.

W. J. Hutton, of Detroit, lost his right eye by a sky-rocket.

The Davlin cadets of Jackson secured the $50 prize for maiden infantry in the competitive drill at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Henry Liebberg, of Detroit, a bride of three days, was deserted in Chicago. Her husband took with him $185, her savings of three years.

The weekly report of the weather bureau shows a good condition of the crops for the first of July.

The Tempest Hose Company of Reed City won the 150-yard hose company race at Big Rapids in 37.15 seconds.

J. W. Cochran, a prominent Traverse City resident, died at the age of 89 years.

The small steamer I. A. Chaffee while lying at Spry's lumber dock at Sault Ste. Marie caught fire aft of the boiler room and was destroyed. Loss, $20,000.

T. C. Brooks, of Jackson, has been awarded the contract for putting in the water piping for the world's fair in Chicago. The contract is worth about $250,000.

Detective C. J. Johnson, of the police force in Grand Rapids, has been discharged because of conduct unbecoming an officer.

The Western plaster works at Albaster, Iosco county, were partially burned. The loss was $33,000; insured for $36,000.

At a special election held in Muskegon county the proposition to bond the county for a $100,000 courthouse was carried by an almost unanimous vote.

Two steam shovels are working night and day widening the approach to the Port Huron tunnel. It will probably be two months before a track is laid to the mouth of the tunnel again. No less than eleven tracks will be laid to the opening when it is finished.

DESTITUTION IN TEXAS.

Hundreds of People Suffering—Many Driven to Crime.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex., July 21.—The destitution on both sides of the Rio Grande for hundreds of miles is appalling. For three years a continuous drought has caused many deaths from actual starvation, and as starvation begets desperation the ranks of the professional murderers and bandits will be swelled by those driven there by hunger. In Brownsville and Matamoros beggary was never greater nor means to relieve less. It is too late for a fall crop and the prospect is dismaying. In Hidalgo county cattle are daily dying for want of grass and water. In Cameron and Starr they are fast reaching that condition. Last year a petition went up to Gov. Ross from a border county showing the terrible want of its people. In this county in a few weeks past over 100 horses have been stolen from the Aqua Nueva tract and many others in different parts of this county. The robbery of J. L. Hynes' store within a week past, a short distance above Brownsville, is looked on by old timers as the prelude to many of a like nature.

MINERS ARE DEFIANT.

They Capture the Militia and Convent Workers in Tennessee.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 21.—The miners at Coal Creek, over 2,000 strong, captured the state troops located there for the last five days, together with the convict miners, and brought them to this city yesterday. The city is now intensely excited. Leading men of all political parties say the law must be upheld. Sympathy, which had been entirely on the side of the miners, is now against them for their lawless act at a time when everything was being done to relieve the situation.

The sentiment here is that Gov. Buchanan must send all the state troops to the front at once and put experienced men and officers in charge. If he has not force enough he must call for volunteers. It is reported that the governor is considering the advisability of appealing to President Harrison to send a regiment of United States regulars to the scene of the trouble.

BLOWN INTO BITS.

Awful End of a Driver of a Wagon Load of Nitro-Glycerine.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 18.—Two hundred pounds of nitro-glycerine which S. G. Bigley, a torpedo man, was taking to the Mount Morris oil field in a two-horse wagon, exploded near Washington, Pa., about 9 o'clock a. m., Friday, blowing Bigley to atoms, killing the horses and wrecking the dwellings of Joe Minton and Mark Hughes. The concussion shook every house in Washington and caused great excitement. A singular feature of the explosion is that although there were a number of people in the vicinity at the time, all escaped with slight injuries. Bigley was 40 years of age and married.

Followed in Woman's Footsteps.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 18.—Samuel J. Dixon, of Toronto, Ont., walked across the Niagara gorge over the whirlpool rapids Friday afternoon on a three-fourths inch wire cable. The trip was first made from the Canadian to the American shore, and after a short rest he walked out a distance and performed some difficult gymnastic feats. He afterwards performed the same feats near the Canadian shore. Over 5,000 persons witnessed the feat.

The Fate of Five Fishermen.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 20.—While sailing on the Tennessee river near Murray Saturday Ed Brown, Walter Strader, John L. Meador, Dick Eaves and John T. Brame were drowned. None of them was well acquainted with the river at that point, and they swam into a swift cold current. Suddenly one was seized with cramps. A panic followed and the men became entangled in the seine.

Population of the Twin Cities.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 18.—The Evening Journal says that the new directory of Minneapolis, which will be issued in a few days, will indicate a population well up to 200,000.

St. Paul, Minn., July 18.—The Dispatch, in speaking of the soon-to-be issued St. Paul directory, says there are in it 80,493 names, showing a population of nearly 200,000.

Business Blocks in Ashes.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—Nearly the entire business portion of Glasgow has been destroyed by fire. Woods' saddlery shop, the newspaper office, Morris & Co.'s dry goods store, Boles' hall, the post office, the Gaily house and other stores and several residences were burned. The loss will reach $150,000, and the insurance is about one-half of that amount.

In a Peck of Trouble.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 21.—A number of recently married people here are agitated over the discovery that Rev. Albert Cushman, who officiated at their weddings, was not an ordained minister. This invalidates the marriages according to the Ohio law.

Is Contrary to Law.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The immigration bureau says that the publication of advertisements in foreign papers for laborers in this country is a violation of the alien contract law and that all offenders will be punished.

Ten Buildings Burned.

CHRISTIAN, Ill., July 21.—The entire west side of the public square here was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon and ten business houses were consumed. The total loss is estimated at $80,000; partially insured.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., July 20.—The son of the proprietor of a sawmill was killed and two employees seriously injured by the explosion of a boiler Saturday.

An Unwelcome Bath.

NEW YORK, July 20.—A pier attached to a dancing pavilion at Coney Island collapsed yesterday, precipitating 100 persons into the surf. All were rescued.

Established Communication.

A Pittsburgh tot, who has often astonished the natives by her quaint remarks, disappeared suddenly a few days ago.

Search on the porch and around the house failed to find her, but at length her voice was heard in the parlor. Her father tiptoed to the door and peeped in. She had improvised a telephone with a paper cornucopia and a piece of string, and, putting the funnel to her ear, she called out: "Hello, central! Give me heaven. I want to say my prayers."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Divorce After the Fourth.

"It is a curious fact," said a well known divorce lawyer the other day, "that the Fourth of July seems to have the effect of bringing on many divorce suits. For seven or eight years past I have noticed that after a very quiet June there is a rush of applications for divorce as soon as the Fourth is over."—Philadelphia Record.

The Christian Endeavor societies at their recent conference decided that theatre-going and dancing are sinful. The world will decide that such narrow mindedness is still more sinful.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—The last

The legislative committee recommended that active steps be taken to secure such legislation as will

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 18.—The ceeded all other nations combined by

REBEL FIREBUGS.

They Cause a Holocaust in Santiago, Chili.

The Property Destroyed Was Valued at Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000—
Thirty or Forty Lives Probably Lost.

MANY PERISHED.
NEW YORK, July 20.—Special dispatches received say that Santiago, the capital of Chili, has been visited by a most destructive fire by which between $3,000,000 and $3,000,000 worth of property was destroyed. Early in the morning of June 5 the fire broke out in a house on Augustinos street, one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, and spread rapidly. Every available engine and fireman was on the scene, but it was not long before the water supply gave out and then hope was very nearly abandoned. The large Catholic university was one of the first buildings to be attacked. It blazed fiercely and so rapidly that many people were unable to leave the building in time. In full sight of the horror-stricken people they fell back into the flames and perished. The Banco de Santiago and the Banco Popular, the Hotel Hermano and the editorial rooms of El Independiente, in the direct path of the fire, were quickly reduced to ashes. It was at this time that the water gave out. The crowds were immense and soldiers were obliged to drive them back with bayonets. The houses on the opposite side of the street caught fire and all that could be done was to watch them burn. Some of the principal business buildings of Santiago were destroyed and there were many narrow escapes. The most exciting of these was that of Mr. Kenedy, the British minister. Almost before he knew it his residence caught fire and blazed so fiercely that it was with difficulty that he escaped.
He was partially overcome by the heat and smoke. The German and Nicaraguan legations are also said to have been destroyed. After a considerable period the water rose sufficiently in the mains to allow of its use by the engines. By this time, too, the flames had spent themselves and were at last subdued.
It is believed that between thirty and forty lives were lost. Government authorities believe the fire to be the work of insurgent firebugs.

CLOSED THEIR DOORS.
Banks in Fort Worth, Tex., and Kansas City, Kan., Suspend.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 21.—The Merchants' national bank, by a vote of the directors, closed its doors Monday morning and was placed in the hands of Bank Examiner Spaulding.
Assets, $1,200,000; liabilities, $300,000. The trouble began six months ago, when rumors caused a heavy withdrawal of deposits. Within fifteen days $200,000 was withdrawn, of which $85,000 was taken out by foreign loan companies on account of the alien land law. Mr.
Spaulding says the bank is solvent.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—The Central bank of Kansas City, Kan., failed Monday morning. The failure was due to the closing of the First national bank, which was taken charge of by the bank examiner last Thursday. The liabilities are $35,000; assets, $65,000.

Hartley Clifford Pardoned.
MADISON, Wis., July 20.—Gov. Peck has pardoned Hartley Clifford, serving a life sentence in Waupun for the murder of Capt. Pugh, of Racine. The case has attracted widespread attention, application for a pardon having been made to Govs. Rusk, Hoard and Peck in succession. Clifford is about 38 years old and has served eight years of his sentence.

Seized Seven Boats.
EASTPORT, Me., July 18.—The domi-on cruiser Dream has seized seven boats belonging to Eastport fishermen in Passamaquoddy waters, landed the occupants on Dog Island and towed the boats to St. Andrews, N. B., where they will be confiscated. Considerable excitement exists over the affair.

A Canal Bursts Its Banks.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The Calloway canal burst its banks near Bakers-field, Kern county, Sunday. An immense volume of water swept over the ranches and fruit farms in the vicinity.
Several hundred acres are under water
4 feet deep. The damage so far is $30,- 000.

Wheat Exports.
WASHINGTON, July 18.—The total exports of wheat from coasts of the United States (including flour as wheat) during the seven days ended yesterday amounted to 2,230,000 bushels, against 2,000,000 bushels the previous seven days.

Nearly All Came to America.
BERLIN, July 21.—Official returns show that 65,890 emigrants left Hamburg during the first half of the present year, an increase of 18,000 over the same period last year. Four-fifths of the emigration was for America.

Six Persons Drowned While Yachting.
VICTORIA, B. C., July 21.—A sailing yacht containing seven citizens of this place capsized off Victoria Sunday.
One was rescued unconscious, but the others were all drowned. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

sentenced to be hanged July 24 for murder, the president has commuted the death penalty to imprisonment for life.

A FAMILY DESTROYED.
FLORA, Ill., July 21.—Early Monday morning a dairyman discovered the farmhouse of H. P. James, 2 miles east of this city, to be burning. Neighbors who responded to the alarm found the bodies of James and his family in the blazing ruins. There were five inmates of the house, Mr. James, his wife and son, and a married daughter, Mrs.
Chaney, and her babe. The bodies were recovered. The origin of the fire and the cause of the death of the inmates are yet a mystery. The coroner's jury is in session. It is generally believed that James in a fit of insanity murdered his family, fired the house and then committed suicide.

For some time past it has been whispered among the neighbors that Mr.
James was losing his mind, but nothing serious was thought of it. A post-mortem examination was held over one of the bodies, and it was found that a pistol ball had pierced the lungs. A large revolver and a knife were found near one of the bodies, and it is believed that some time during the night Mr.
James had got on one of his tantrums and murdered the entire family, set fire to the dwelling and then shot himself.

A MOTHER'S AWFUL ACT.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 21.—Sunday
Mrs. Lechridge, of Spring Hill, Maury county, after writing a long letter to her husband, who was attending church, secured a double-barreled shotgun, and placing the muzzle at the breast of each of her three children in turn, pulled the trigger, horribly mutilating them. Then turning the weapon upon herself she ended her awful work. The children were aged 4 years, 2 years and 4 months respectively. The mother had been a melancholic for several years and attempted to take her life before she was married.

INSURGENTS ROUTED.
Balmaceda's Forces Gain a Decisive Victory Over the Rebels at Huasco.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—A telegram received Monday by the Chilean minister affirms the news of the defeat of the insurgents at Huasco. The telegram says that the insurgent troops were completely defeated by the vanguard of the first division of the government army under command of Col. Almasea.
The insurgent cavalry, commanded by Col. Saavadia, fled, leaving 200 dead and a great number of prisoners with all their arms. It is said the defeated troops were considered to be the finest soldiers in the insurgents' army.

Forest Fires in Michigan.
OSHKOSH, Wis., July 21.—People returning from upper Michigan say that terrible forest fires, the worst ever known in that region, are now raging there. So hot are the flames that when the trains are passing through them it is impossible for a person to put his hand on the windows and if he does he will certainly be burned. Pilot engines are sent ahead of the regular trains to see that bridges are all right. Deer and rabbits follow the trains for miles in the hope of escaping the fiery furnace.

Ink Makers in Trouble.
NEW YORK, July 18.—Seven judgments aggregating $10,415 were entered against J. H. Bonnell, of Bonnell & Co., printers' ink manufacturers of 29 Rose street, in favor of the Western national bank of New York. Application has been made for a receiver. The bank's liabilities will probably exceed $400,000. Most of the creditors are the banks.

Killed in a Mill Explosion.
SAGINAW, Mich., July 21.—At Lakeview, on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern road, the boiler in the E. G. Perkins planing and shingle mill exploded
Monday evening, instantly killing Robert Gregory and Edward Gregory, his son, and injuring four men. The mill was totally wrecked. The explosion was caused by low water.

Texas Fever in Kentucky.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21.—Developments of the last few days show that Texas fever is raging with terrible violence at a score of points in this state, and farmers are rushing their cattle to market. In the back counties 1,000 head are dead. The loss is already $250,000.

Deadly Riot in Mississippi.
WEST POINT, Miss., July 20.—A riot occurred among the colored population on the Brell plantation Friday night, menced suit for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband in the Johnstown flood. The South Fork fishing

The Bullion Product.

letin shows that the production of bullion during the year 1899 was: Gold, $32,886,744; silver, $66,396,988. In gold this is nearly 28 per cent of the world's product and in silver 41 per cent.

OUR YPSILANTI RAMBLER

Tells What He Has Seen and Heard in that Burg During the Past Seven Days and Nights.

Everybody is on the wing and it is almost impossible to trap a stray bit of news. The few of us left in town are too indolent to do or know anything, so exciting events are possibilities of the future. Among the callers Monday were Mrs. Anna Calkins, of Chelsea, and niece, Miss Kingsley, also Mrs. E. C. Bowling, of Detroit, who has now accompanied Mrs. F. Andrews to Charlotte on a visit. Mrs. Clarence Coryell and mother, Mrs. Gaundry, started for a month's visit in Elgin, Ill., yesterday morning, and Miss Edith Fletcher departed for New York City, where she will remain a year or more. Mrs. J. F. Nestell and daughter, of Manchester, who have been guests of Miss Hattie Kief, returned home today. Our Company H returned from camp in a semi-pleased condition. Evidently Lake Whitmore has laid a depressing spirit on the youthful protectors of our land and camp life has well nigh lost its attractions. Our public schools will be under the superintendency of Prof. M. A. Whitney, who, like a great many other smart men, hails from Maine. Mrs. Rashley, of Carbondale, Pa., is the guest of Miss Ella Spencer. Daniel Quirk and his family of tourists are on their way home from Europe, where they have been some time. Scores of new houses are being hurried into completion and all are equally sought after by new residents. Houses in the vicinity of the Normal are especially desirable. The latest news from John Taylor, jr., who has been so dangerously ill in Canada, is that he is slowly recovering. His many friends will be glad to welcome him home as soon as possible.

RAMBLER.

Dr. Fruth.

This eminent specialist has, within the last two years, succeeded in building up a large practice and an enviable reputation in this community. His great and well-earned reputation has constantly enlarged by reason of his successful treatment of many patients here, the majority of whom are loud in their praises for a complete restoration to health from the chronic diseases which in many cases were intensified by the malpractice of ignorant quacks. Dr. Fruth is an educated physician, devoted to his profession, and is fully conscious of the great responsibilities involved in the practice of medicine. The doctor's success is easily accounted for—1st, Natural fitness—the tact, the delicacy of feeling and the power of diagnosis, are natural gifts, essential to the highest success in the practice of medicine. 2nd, Experience, which alone is worth but little, but in connection with study and proper degree of knowledge, it is essential to success. Dr. Fruth's experience of years in the general practice and his special study and practice in the hospitals and dispensaries of New York city places him in a position to offer his services to the suffering and to promise them whatever relief is possible. The date of Dr. Fruth's next visit to Ann Arbor, Thursday, July 30th, at the Cook House from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own brand of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Forum for June will contain an article by the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, on "Church and Creed." To the same number Col. Theodore A. Dodge, perhaps our foremost military writer, will contribute an appreciative review of Von Moltke's career and its effect on the warfare of the future; Sir Charles W. Dilke writes on the New Commonwealth of Australia, and General Francis A. Walker discusses the accuracy of the census of 1890; a forecast of the new international copyright law is made by Mr. Henry Holt, and Mr. Ulysses D. Eddy, a New York exporter, points out our opportunity of speedily gaining the first position in the world's commerce. Forum Pub. Co., New York, N. Y.

The most complete history of the Chilian war yet published in this country appears in Harper's Weekly published July 8th. The illustrations include views of prominent localities connected with the war, pictures of the Chilian warships, and portraits of the leading men on both sides of the conflict.

A Roll of Honor will be published in next week's number of Harper's Weekly, embracing the names of the winners this year of the American Victoria Cross. Portraits and an account of the manner in which the distinction was won will accompany the list.

A new serial by Thomas Hardy, entitled Tess of the D'Urbervilles, has just been begun in Harper's Bazar, with illustrations by H. Herkimer. Harper & Bro., New York.

A full and authentic account of the reasons for the dismissal of Bismarck by the Emperor of Germany is given, for the first time, in an article by Prof. F. Heinrich Geffcken, Privy Councillor, which appears in the July Forum. Geffcken explains also the influence of Bismarck as a member of the Reichstag, and gives a review of the young Emperor's policy and an estimate of his character. Gen. Francis A. Walker reviews, by the returns of the census of 1890, the growth of the colored population, and finds that its increase has been relatively less than the white population. The negro is falling behind in numbers and is drifting more and more to the lowlands of the south. Prof. Herbert B. Adams, of the John Hopkins University, recites in detail what has been done for the university extension in the United States and points out the important part that this movement for popular education is likely to play. Forum Pub. Co., New York.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Count Tasse, the Austrian prime minister, is almost as taciturn a man as Grant was.

Young Prince George of Wales is said to be covered with tattooings of mermaids and dolphins.

Patti demands a higher price than ever for her next winter's campaign in the United States. She wants $5,000 a night.

Empress Eugenie has taken up the children of the late Prince Napoleon as a part solace for the great grief and loneliness which fill her life.

President Carnot expends from $7,000 to $8,000 each time he gives a grand fête, such as society expects him to furnish three or four times during the fashionable Paris season.

A little innocent misunderstanding is sometimes very useful in helping one over a hard place. "Mabel," said the teacher, "you may spell kitten." "K-double-i-t-e-n." "Kitten has two 'i's then, has it?" "Yes ma'am, our kitten has."

he Baron's Custom.

Inquiring Lady—"Do you always drink beer when you are thirsty?" Baron Suickens—"No ma'am, I always drink water when I am thirsty, and the same as you do." "Then when do you drink beer?" "The rest of the time."

Too Careless with the English Language.

A clothing dealer, in Boston, advertised all-wool pantaloons for $2, advising the public to make haste and secure the great bargain, saying: "They will not last long. Probably they would not. Neither will your health last long if you don't take care of it. Keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in your house. They are indispensable to every family as they positively cure biliousness, with its endless train of distressing ailments—sick headache, irritability, constipation, dizziness and indigestion; a marvelous specific for liver and kidney troubles, and a pure vegetable compound. They are sugar-coated, the smallest pills made, and the best, because they do all they promise. All druggists sell them, and the proprietors guarantee them, and refund the price if they fail."

Hadn't the Snap.

A legal firm in Albany Ga., was called upon by three different men to get divorces from their wives. None of them had any money, however, but one of them got the lawyers interested in his case after giving them a mortgage on his mule. The other two were turned away disconsolate.

The One-Hoss Shay.

The peculiar feature of the "one-hoss shay" was that it was built in such a wonderful way that it had no "weakest parts." The "weakest part" of a woman is invariably her back, and "female weaknesses" are only too common. With the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, this may be avoided, and women may be comparatively as strong as their brothers. Protrusions, inflammation, ulceration, periodical pains, leucorrhoea, dragging-down sensations, debility, nervousness, sleeplessness, despondency, are only a few of the symptoms of weakness of the female organs which the "Favorite Prescription" is warranted to remove.

Picnicking.

Picnicking round Ann Arbor.

Is very nice they say.

There are so many places.

To throw dull care away.

Picnicking near the river.

Where many seem to tread.

Beneath the shady nooks.

Around "Old Cedar Bend."

Picnicking on the island.

Plashes all who meet.

To hear the lapping waters.

That ripple on so sweet.

Picnicking down on Lawrence's.

Where birds they sing of home.

And pleasant that their will tattoo.

Beneath the forest dome.

Picnicking up on Lennon's.

O'er canopied by oaks.

Sweet the taste of laughter.

Commingled with the jokes.

Picnicking out on Gardner's.

Where weeping willows sigh.

And Aspen leaves they tremble.

As the Huron passes by.

Picnicking in the grove.

Down in the "School Girl's Glen."

Idyllic is the beauty.

In those surrounding them.

Picnicking in the city.

How happy those who stay.

Where squirrels, they are plenty.

The red ones and the grey.

The Harvest.

The July crop report estimates the number of acres of wheat under cultivation in Michigan at 1,581,774. The probable yield is 24,671,558 bushels. The number of bushels marketed during June, according to reports, was $89,861, of which $19,270 bushels belonged to the southern tier of counties. The area planted to corn in the southern counties is three per cent. less than in average years, while that devoted to potatoes is greater.

The facts relating to Washtenaw county are as follows: Acres of wheat planted, 63,609; estimated yield per acre, 17.60; condition of corn, 93 per cent.; oats, 82; potatoes, 95; clover meadows, 88; timothy, 88; clover sowed this year, 95; apples, 41; peaches, 84. The number of bushels of wheat marketed during June was 18,445; since August 1, 1890, 548,396. On the whole, Washtenaw county has no reason to complain of this year's prospects.

It is the Buzzard Party.

In the war time the Democratic party came to be known as the Copperhead party. Its leaders and its press hissed and struck venomously at the life of the nation. Today it deserves to be called the Buzzard party. Its leaders predict the death of every national enterprise, commercial, manufacturing or agricultural, and they predict the bankruptcy of the nation. Every sign of national life seems hateful to them, every possibility of national disaster is pleasant to them.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Iowa Methodist, says editorially, "We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that, by a thorough course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles, and catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Cream Balm too highly."

I used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh. It proved a cure.—E. F. M. Weeks, Denver.

ANN ARBOR SAVINGS BANK

Is Introducing in this City

THE NICKEL SAVINGS STAMP SYSTEM.

Designed Especially for

THE SAVING OF SMALL SUMS

And is Intended for Children and People of Moderate Means Laying Aside

Part of their Earnings as

The Foundation of a Fortune!

This System saves the Depositor the Expense of Time, Trouble and Money in reaching the Bank, and

HAS ACHIEVED A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

In Frankfort, Germany, where it was first introduced by the Frankforter Sparkasse in 1882.

The system was first inaugurated in America, by the Citizen's Savings Bank of Detroit, Mich., and the People's Home Savings Bank of San Francisco, Cal.

A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SYSTEM.

THE Banks issue to their Agents a large number of gummed stamps similar to postage stamps, each one of which, when pasted in one of the Bank's "NICKEL SAVINGS BOOKS," has the value of five cents.

Any person desiring to open a Savings Bank Account goes to the Bank's nearest agent, buys one or more stamps and receives free a NICKEL SAVINGS BOOK, each page of which is divided into twenty spaces of such size that one five cent stamp may be readily pasted within each square. When all the squares on the page are thus filled, the leaf represents $1.00. The depositor now fills out in ink the signature slip attached to the back inside cover of his book, and takes the book to an agent who tears out the leaf and the signature slip and sends both to the Bank, which files away the signature slip and issues a regular deposit account book, showing a credit to the depositor of $1.00. This book is delivered through the agent to the depositor. The depositor then begins to fill another page with stamps, and when it is full he writes his name on the back of the leaf and sends it to the Bank through the agent. All money deposited in the Bank before the fifth of the month, draws interest from the first of the same month. All sums deposited after the fifth of the month, draws interest from the first of the following month. Whenever the depositor is twelve years of age, or under, the bank issues a handsome and durable Silver and Gold Face Deposit Card instead of a Deposit Book, when the first dollar's worth of stamps is deposited; but just as soon as the holder of the card has $5.00 or more deposited in the bank, he receives a regular deposit book. Money deposited by the holder of the card draws interest and can be withdrawn just the same as though the regular deposit book had been issued.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

This is a true likeness of me wearing artificial nose and upper lip after Scrofula had consumed my nose and upper lip, cured by HIBBARD'S HERB EXTRACT. This is not a patent medicine, but a simple preparation of roots and herbs that cured me over 47 years ago, since when I have cured thousands with its use. It requires a powerful vegetable remedy to effect such a cure as my own, and my argument has always been that the remedy that cured me would cure all forms of Scrofula or other Blood and Skin Diseases. CHAPTER XV.

A SECRET OF THE PIGEON HOLE.

He began his task.

Meanwhile all went smoothly upon the surface. The dining room looked as placid as a tropical harbor, asleep and smiling in the sun, its limpid waters inviting to a bath, and yet paved with sharks. The household met as usual, exchanged morning greeting and gossip, and separated for the day's work or pastime. Mr. Ex took his roll and apple, Stevens his two rolls and apple and Lient. Quire his two rolls, apple and tid-bit, unless indeed it so happened that he was not required at the department that day, and so might place himself at the service of the ladies.

Windward was, theoretically, the one man of elegant leisure in the household, but his zeal in the claim made him the busiest and the hardest entrap into sight seeing tramps - winter picnics. Mrs. Bassett finally felt obliged to ex-plain.

"Why, Windward?" she exclaimed one balmy winter morning, "do let that stupid claim rest for today and take us all down to Mount Vernon."

"I cannot possibly do it today, mother," he replied, and then observing her dissatisfaction and anxiety he added, with an affectionate caress: "I can tell now in a few days what chance there is for action on the claim this winter. I want to settle that point first; then I shall know what to expect and what to do, and shall have some leisure."

"What do you think about the chances?" asked the mother.

"Well," sighed Windward, "it's a big job. I just begin to appreciate it. You see it is one thing to have individual congressmen admit your claim is good, and quite another to get the bill passed. Now see what has to be done. After you have written out your bill you get a member to present it; he must be present at just such an hour or he loses his chance. Then it goes to a committee with perhaps fifty others, and waits its turn there. Very likely that is the end of it, for most bills 'die a-borning.' But suppose I can stir the committee up and they agree to report the bill."

"One member is put in charge of it, and on a certain day in the month, if he happens to be on hand, he is recognized, and the bill is reported and this time put on the calendar. Here it ought to be reached in its turn, but probably there are enough bills ahead of it to keep congress busy for years, and you can't get it advanced except by common consent, and as this interrupts business and puts back other bills there is somebody sure to object. Meanwhile the house is occupied most of the time with the general appropriation bills and great political questions, and the calendar is put off till a leisure day which never comes. Now and then the motion is made to take up the calendar, and there is a set time—once or twice a month, perhaps—when that is the regular order of business; but members get to wrangling and adjourn in a row. So it goes, and before you know congress has expired and you must begin all over again. But suppose it does finally pass; then comes a similar job in the senate, and if there successful also maybe the president vetoes it, as two presidents have done already."

"I don't see how any bills get through," said Mrs. Bassett.

"Nor I," replied Windward, "and very few bills do pass. The appropriation bills must, of course, and there are a lot of trivial little bills that slip through by luck or good management, and half a dozen important measures of a political character; and that's about all."

"I wouldn't bother with it," said the mother. "You might let your friend Stevens keep track of it; he is here, and is a steady, faithful young man, I should judge. And there is that other gentleman, Col. McCardle; he is a lawyer and knows how to manage these things. But you ought to get settled, Windward."

"I don't know but I am settled, mother," said the young man, moving closer and speaking timidly. "Mother, what do you think of Miss Willis?"

"Why, you are not engaged, are you?" exclaimed the mother in open alarm.

"No, not yet," replied Windward reluctantly.

"I am very glad to hear it, my son," said the widow, gently but kindly, but with more authority in her tone than usual, "and I hope you won't take such a step without confiding in your mother. I ask this much for your sake, Windward, not mine."

"My dear mother," said the young man, laying his hands in hers.

"You see, Windward," said the mother, smiling happily as she stroked her darling's head, "it's so early yet; I have only met her once or twice, and you have known her only a few weeks. Of course she is pretty and bright and pleasant, but a wife is so much to a man; you want to know her disposition and health and family, and be sure she loves you—do you think she does, Windward?"

"How can I tell unless I ask her?" exclaimed the young man, hanging his head and twirling his watch chain.

The mother smiled at her son's confusion, and yet rather sadly. Her instinct told her that the wooing, as yet, was rather one-sided; and, motherlike, she did not propose to have her child sacrificed.

"Why, I think she likes me," said Windward sheepishly, "and, well, I suppose I love her. At least I delight to be with her, and we always have a nice time. She's just as bright and sparkling and beautiful and sweet as a mountain brook!"

Look out, lover Windward! Smiles are dangerous. Mountain brooks are also cold, shallow and crooked.

Possibly Mrs. Bassett's look of caution and reserve intimidated as much. At any rate Windward stopped, chilled and hurt by his mother's lack of sympathy at a time when he felt the need of it most. Poor lady, she yearned for her child, but she could not encourage this fancy, at least in complete ignorance of the real situation. But it would never do to assume an attitude that would drive the child from her; it was all important to retain his confidence and devotion. And so she said, bending tenderly over the young man:

"Windward, we have broached a very important matter. Do nothing hastily. Be free to tell me your plans and hopes and feelings, and be sure of my love and sympathy."

"I know it, mother; you spoil us," exclaimed the youth; and with a kiss they parted, both lighter in heart and happier for the interview, though to both it had brought new cares and perplexities.

"Mother would forgive me and be reconciled if I married the fat woman of the circus," thought Windward, as he walked briskly toward congress, "but I could make her very unhappy by a foolish marriage. I wonder what that girl does think of me anyway!"

But here his reverie was suddenly interrupted, for just before him on the avenue, hurrying like himself to the Capitol, was his affable member. A few steps brought them alongside, and Windward then politely accosted him.

"Ah, good day, good day, Mr. Bartlett!" he replied, smiling, and quickening his pace.

"Anything new about the claims?" asked Windward, answering the member's "spurt" with one on his side quite as spirited.

"Yes, we're making headway, making headway," said the member, beaming upon "Mr. Bartlett" when he found he could not make headway himself, and thus escape. "I understand the committee are favorably disposed; that, you know, is a great deal, to have the committee favorably disposed. By the way, I believe you told me once you knew Blamms. Ah, yes, yes; a fine man; I like Blamms; but do you know, between us, you know, Blamms is—enthusiastic. His beautiful, hopeful disposition leads him too far. He will, yes, he—overdoes it, so to speak. I like Blamms very much; but he hurts his cause, I fear, writing so many—enthusiastic letters. I like them, but some of my colleagues don't understand him, you see, as well as you and I do. Yes, I'm afraid he hurts his cause, and it's your cause, too, you know—your cause, too—by writing so much. But I couldn't tell him so, you know. Lord, no! Ha! ha! He would misunderstand me. And I am always glad to get his letters. But you, as a judicious outside friend, might hint—not as coming from me, of course—that he should trust us, us, you know, on the ground, to take charge of these matters. Are you going up to the Capitol? Ah, yes; find day, isn't it? Charming climate Washington has. Ah, I must turn off here; my constituents keep me busy in the departments in the morning. Glad to serve them always, and always glad to meet you. Yes, I would hint to Blamms, as a friend, not to write so many, so many—impulsive letters: not coming from me, you understand, I like them; but you understand. Good-day, Mr. Bartlett; good-day," and he darted up a side street.

"Well, you are a fraud," thought Windward, and with a contemptuous smile he drew from a pocket a letter he, too, had received a day or two ago from the earnest Blamms and re-read it, against the background of the member's remarks, with no little amusement. It ran as follows:

"I think our member palavers too. He always did talk too easy for me, tho' I voted for him. But he don't act right in this claim business, and he writ to the senators about it and one or two other members of the delegation. French claims is a live issue down our way, as he will find out if he sagers. There's twenty of us who will knife him in the primary for renouncing the claim. I don't hurry up his cakes and show some gumshun. Can't you get these fool congressmen to stop talking about the new rules and do something under the old ones? And we ain't interested much our way about southern contested election cases, either. It strikes me the war oughter be pretty high over by this time, and anyhow we might pay up for the revolutionary war before doing up all the old claims of the rebellion. We like your letters. You are all right, a chip of the old block; but stir up those congressmen. Make it a matter of re-election and they'll stir round lively. I've got to have some money pretty quick, that's sure; just poke 'em up."

"Poor Blamms!" mused Windward, as he put the letter up, "I would like to help him; a mortgage falling due, his health failing—it is a shame. I wonder how many cases there are like his or worse. It would not be a bad idea to collect a few samples. Congress is human and has its soft side for tragic touches. I believe I'll get back to the agency pretty soon and look through the files."

With this scheme in his mind he hurried through an appointment he had at the Capitol, and then went to the agency and unfolded his new plan to the invalid, who nodded his approval.

"Do you know any cases of personal hardship?" he asked.

"Many," he exclaimed. "Poorhouse, misery, many!" Then he turned to the invalid, who nodded his approval.

"Don't remember. There somewhere. I can't look 'em up. You may. Dusty work. Spoil clothes."

This authorized, Windward began a systematic search among the records; and dirty work indeed it was, but attractive, not only from a legal and business standpoint, but from the many quaint strokes of human nature that appeared here and there in the correspondence. But it was an enormous undertaking; a work of months, not days, for there were at least 1,500 claims, each with its little package of papers.

To explore this whole mass was beyond him, yet he persevered a day or two, hoping to light upon a striking case, [TO BE CONTINUED.]

Also a Good Many Europeans.

Europe is said to be crowded with Americans. It is pleasant to reflect that there are a few Americans in the United States.—Chicago News.

A Ship Canal Through Scotland.

A new scheme has been brought forward for the construction of a ship canal across Scotland, to connect the German and Atlantic oceans by means of a waterway navigable by ocean-going steamers. The total cost of the work would be about $30,000,000.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe began the study of Greek when she was nearly 70 years old.

"What a pity it is that his face is all pimples! He'd be very nice looking if 'twasn't for that," said pretty Miss Vere, with a smile at the pimples.

Reflected from under the nobby spring hat. As she looked at herself in the glass, softly sighing. There she was, with a smile at the pimples. There was the least need of denying—for every one knew it. "His beauty is marred by the frightful red blotches all over his face. I wonder if he couldn't take something to cleanse his blood, and drive them away?"

He heard what she said about his looks. It hurt his feelings, but he couldn't deny she told the truth. He remembered a friend who had used face soap as bad as his. It had become smooth and clear. He went to him and asked how the change had been brought about. "Simply by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," was the reply. "Take that, and I'll warrant you to get rid of your pimples!"

He did so. His face became healthy and clear. And next week he'll be married to pretty Miss Vere.

Human Nature.

Our greediness shows itself soon in life, yes, soon after birth. As infants we cry for the moon. When older we sigh for the earth.

That Baby of Mine.

Auntie, three months ago, had the salt rheum so bad that his head was a mass of sores, and I had begun to lose all hopes of raising him, but my druggist recommended Sulphur Bitters, and today he is as fat and chipper as anybody you ever saw, and he has not a sore on his head, and just think that after paying out so much, that a few dollars worth of Sulphur Bitters should cure him.—Mrs. J. PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

In Its Worst Form.

Rev. J. C. Bergen voices for the following: James Dooney, who was suffering from Vitus Danes in its worst form for about one and a fourth years, was treated by several physicians without effect; two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic cured him.

TOTONIAH, Ohio, Oct. 25, 1890.

I used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a lady 25 years old; every two or three weeks she had a serious attack of falling sickness, accompanied with headachings and faintness; she was sent once to an insane asylum. The doctors could not relieve her; I began with one bottle, and she was cured; she is now in her quarters of it, and she wrote to me a few days ago: "The medicine helps me much; I think another bottle will cure me."

They Must Denounce Tammany.

The Richmond State and other Democratic papers ought to be wary of speaking disrespectfully of Tammany Hall. After ex-President Cleveland paid that organization such a glowing tribute, the other day, it smacks of disloyalty for any Democratic paper to allude to its unsavory character.—Boston Journal.

We clip the following from Presto, one of the leading musical journals of this country: "From many sources Presto learns of the increasing popularity of the Guild piano, manufactured by the Guild Piano Mfg Co., 101 Bristol street, Boston. Among the representatives of the Guild is Mr. A. Wiley, Ann Arbor, Mich., who recently gave an order for fifty of the instruments. In his advertisement he says: 'The improvements in the Guild are vital. They are in the very heart of the piano. No slipping, or springing tuning pins. None are more honestly made. There is nothing shoddy about them. People like them, and buy them. We have never been able to get enough of them. More of them sold in Ann Arbor last year than all others combined.' Mr. Guild has moved into his new factory premises, which have been enlarged and fitted with additional machinery and other facilities."
