DEATH BY FIRE.

MRS. CHAS. W. VOGEL AND MARY BAUER FATALLY BURNED.

A Gasoline Stove the Cause—How It Happened—Time of the Women's Death—The Funeral Services Largely Attended.

Two human souls, on Friday evening last, were hurried out of this world by the most terrible death imaginable. The whole city of Ann Arbor was filled with horror and sympathy as it had never been before. A fire alarm was sounded shortly after seven o'clock, and the hose wagon, through a mistake, dashed down south Main-st. The fire was soon located in the residence of C. W. Vogel, over his meat market on Ann-st. Immediately it was reported that two women had been horribly burned by an explosion of a gasoline stove. The report was confirmed, and those who were early on the scene saw the victims carried away, in a horrible plight, to a neighboring house.

Mary Bauer, a young girl working for Mrs. C. W. Vogel, had signified her desire of returning Saturday morning to her home in Northfield. The girl was at work ironing. Only one jet in the gasoline stove was in use. Mrs. Vogel, in order to hasten matters, offered to assist, if the girl would light the other jet. The latter turned on the oil into the cup beneath the burner and accidentally allowed it to overflow. The oil ran over on the floor and rapidly volatilized. Not noticing this, Miss Bauer attempted to light it. Flames immediately shot up and spread on the floor. Mrs. Vogel exclaimed, "Why, Mary, what are you doing? The girl attempted to turn off the oil. As she did so the flames caught on her light calico skirt and rapidly enveloped her, as well as Mrs. Vogel, who rushed to her assistance. Had they run out of the room and not attempted to turn off the stove, both would have been saved. The women screamed and hurried out on the back balcony. At this juncture Mr. Vogel, who had just returned from Ypsilanti, came running up the stairs and attempted to quench the flames. He succeeded only in frightfully burning his own hands. Others' help was equally unavailing. Not a scrap of clothing was left on either of the women except a corset, and great blotches of the outer skin came off with the burning garments.

Little Tillie Vogel, who was sick with the measles, was in the room at the time. She was taken out hurriedly and, save two slight burns on her hands, suffered no injuries. Her father's burns, although severe, will not cripple him. Both of the victims were carried down the alley to the residence of Joseph Clinton on Catherine-st. There a large and sympathetic crowd gathered. Four physicians and half a dozen nurses were summoned, and late in the evening Rev. John Neumann was on hand with spiritual comfort. It was soon seen that neither of the victims could survive the night. Miss Bauer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bauer, arrived during the evening and she was able, with some difficulty, to converse with them. Mrs. Vogel passed away at eleven o'clock, and the girl lingered till two. Both bore their torture with heroic fortitude.

On the following morning the remains of Miss Bauer were taken to her home in Northfield, where at ten o'clock Sunday her funeral was held. She was only sixteen years old and a young lady of very lovable disposition.

The funeral of Mrs. Vogel took place Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Preliminary services were held at the residence and then followed services at the Bethlehem church. Rev. John Neumann preached a long and impressive sermon. The building was packed full and the procession was one of the longest ever seen in Ann Arbor, numbering very nearly seventy carriages. Among the relatives present were Mrs. Vogel's mother, Mrs. Phoebe Nuffer, of Waterloo; her sister, Mrs. Stockle, of Jackson; her brother, Geo. Duffer, of Waterloo; Mr. Vogel's father, mother and brother, of Freedom; Mrs. Gottlob Beurely, of Lansing; Mrs. Hawkins, of Lansing; Miss Carrie Katz, of Detroit, and many others from Chelsea, Manchester and Freedom.

The deceased lady was universally respected and admired. She was thirty-three years of age and left three little girls, the oldest of whom is only eight years old.

Saloonists in the Soup.

Since Wednesday last week the following liquor cases (selling whiskey on beer license) have come before Justice Pond: Conrad Neumann and Wurster & Kreitner, of Manchester, examination postponed till August 7; Jacob Dupper, Ann Arbor, August 6; Eugene Oesterlin, Ann Arbor, August 10; John Frank, Saline, August 6; Charles Bender, Saline, and Joseph Meyer and William Keller, Ypsilanti, each paid $200 additional tax and costs of action.

Charged with Embezzlement.

John H. Maynard, a former resident of Ann Arbor, has been placed in the San Francisco jail under charge of embezzlement. He was recently in this city and left for California about two weeks ago. It was known to a few at the time that the charge lay against him and that he had gone west under the surveillance of officers, but, out of consideration for the family, the newspapers made no mention of the case, being under the impression that it would be settled without recourse to law.

The history of the matter is detailed in a recent number of the San Francisco Examiner. It is said that in 1886 Mr. Maynard's step daughter, Mrs. Helen Reid, entrusted him with $24,000 in bonds of $1,000 each. Two months ago the dividends became payable and the owner requested her step father to forward her the money. This, it is charged, he failed to do, excusing himself on the ground that he wished first to effect a transfer of the bonds.

It was not long after this that he was summoned to the bedside of his father, in this city. Suspicion was aroused and a warrant was issued for him in California. An officer named T. J. Ryan was deputized to make the arrest. Requisition papers were secured and, after much negotiation, Mr. Maynard was taken into custody.

The accused claims that he will be able to produce the bonds at the proper time. Neither in Ann Arbor nor in California did he express much fear of a conviction. It is possible, and certainly desirable, that the matter may finally be settled in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

Walked Two Hundred Miles.

A pitiful case of destitution came to the notice of the authorities on Saturday last. It was that of a family, consisting of father, mother and two children, who were passing through the city on their way to Cleveland. They had left a farm in North Dakota and were absolutely without money. Two hundred miles they had made on foot, and in Iowa they had laid two of their children beneath the sod. The father was an old veteran—an Andersonville prisoner, and the mother a sweet-faced woman of about thirty. They called on Mayor Doty and asked permission to solicit charity on the streets—an act which showed clearly enough that they were not professional beggars. They were turned over to the superintendent of the poor and provided with funds sufficient to speed them on their journey. It was the familiar story of disappointed hopes in the west and a sad return to the old home in the east.

The Technic.

THE REGISTER has received from the board of editors a copy of the Technic, the annual publication of the University Engineering Society. It contains the following articles: Biography of Prof. Davis, by Prof. Harrington; Calorimetry, R. C. Carpenter, '75; Armature Reactions, F. C. Wagner, '85; Architectural Engineering, J. K. Freitag, '90; Measuring Insulation Resistance, Prof. G. W. Patterson; Metallic Parabolic Arch, Hinged at Crown Only, Prof. C. E. Greene; American Harbor Engineering, G. Y. Wisner, '65; Elements of Least Squares, W. W. Campbell, '86; Miscellaneous Notes, by Job Tutuill, '83, James Crosby, '91; F. S. Richmond, '91, D. B. Cheever, '91 and C. E. De Puy, '91; Engineering Society Banquet, and Editorials. On the frontispiece is a good likeness of Prof. Davis, and a plate in the middle of the book contains the pictures of Professors Winchell, Harrington, Prescott, Langley and Vaughn.

What is a Thesis?

This is a very uncommon word in Michigan outside of Ann Arbor. It contains six letters and means a variety of things. For one thing a thesis is an essay with its best clothes on; an essay dignified, in fact. In a thesis we literary individuals lay down a proposition, and then go on to prove it. We are not required by law or custom to prove it beyond a reasonable doubt, but simply to our own satisfaction.—Livingston Democrat. Your frankness is appreciated, neighbor. Now we know the raison d'être of free trade editorials. They are simply designed to satisfy the writers thereof.

Over the Huron.

H. E. Riggs, chief engineer of the Toledo road, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of consulting the board of public works with regard to the new railroad bridge over the Huron. This structure will be of steel, with iron piers. A large truss will span the Michigan Central right of way. The piers will so be arranged as not to obstruct Main-st. The present bridge is 980 feet long, but it is possible that the new structure will be somewhat shorter, as the north end will be filled in for a distance. The bridge will cost between $20,000 and $30,000. Work will commence in about six weeks.

SEWERAGE DISCUSSED.

NOT FOR THE CITY, HOWEVER, BUT FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The City Council Dodges the Question Again—Considerable Routine Business Transacted, But Not Much of Importance.

The adjourned meeting of the council Monday night did not prove so exciting as might have been expected. The point in the order of business at which the sewerage resolution, adopted last week by the business men's association, might have been introduced had already been passed and no one moved a suspension of the rules for the purpose of reverting to it. The council and Attorney Norris did talk a little sewerage, however. The school board asked permission to lay a pipe from the high school building on Thayer-st north to Washington and thence to the University sewer. It was proposed, said Ald. Wines, to allow residents near by to use this new sewer, if they desired. Ald. Mann wondered whether this arrangement would prevent the city from taxing these people hereafter for sewerage. The general opinion was that it would not, as the school board would undoubtedly be willing at any time to turn the sewer over to the city. Alderman Martin was anxious to know whether the city would become liable for any damages resulting from the pollution of the sewer. City Attorney Norris thought not, as the school board was a corporation and therefore subject to suit. He added further that the high school was the greatest of its kind in the world and that any case of diphtheria directly traced to the bad sanitation of the building would do the institution incalculable injury. Alderman Herz thought this might be true enough, "but why does the board neglect the second ward school?" This difficulty was cleared up by Ald. Wines, and then the council voted to accede to the request of the school board.

Ald. Allmendinger submitted a report from the water committee ordering the location of a fire hydrant on the corner of Chubb and Spring-sts, and the council concurred.

The committee to which was referred the matter of refunding $30 license paid by Mr. Rosenthaler last year for billiard tables, reported adversely. He was the only man in the city who paid, all others having neglected to do so. The report of the committee was adopted.

Upon motion of Ald. Taylor, the city clerk was authorized to ask bids for publishing 100 or 50 copies of the proceedings of each council meeting in such form that they may be bound together at the end of the year.

Ald. Mann offered a resolution providing that the city clerk advertise for bids for the sale of the pound on south Fourth-ave, that institution having, in his opinion, outlived its usefulness. The resolution, after some discussion, prevailed.

The pay of the firemen, pursuant to the report of the committee, was fixed as follows: First year men, $40 a month; second year, $45; third year, $50; chief, $70.

The marshal was authorized to order the street railway company not to keep its cars standing on the side track at the barn, much annoyance having resulted, and also to stop its cars when a funeral procession passes on the same street.

Upon motion of Ald. Taylor, the council ordered that the treasurer's report be printed in the official proceedings.

The board of public works were, by resolution of Ald. Mann, asked to report the number of stone walks in the city, now four feet wide, which might, without great expense, be made five feet wide. Sidewalks were ordered built and repaired on several streets.

Washtenaw Veterans at Detroit.

Col. H. S. Dean, commander of the Washtenaw county battalion of the Grand Army, has issued an order to the various post commanders. At the parade of the national encampment in Detroit on August 4th, the Department of Michigan will have the left of the line, and will be massed on each side of Washington-ave, between Grand Circus Park and Michigan-ave. The posts constituting the Washtenaw County Battalion will form on the west side of Washington-ave, right resting on State-st, and in the following order: First, R. C. Carpenter Post No. 41, Chelsea—John L. Waltros, Commander. Second, Welch Post No. 137, Ann Arbor—Harrison Soule, Commander. Third, Carpenter Post No. 180, Ypsilanti—H. B. Adams, Commander. Fourth, Lucius Taylor Post No. 274, Milan—Andrew D. Jackson, Commander. Fifth, Wiltsie Post No. 314, Saline—Lorenzo Haigh, Commander. Sixth, Col. H. H. Jeffords Post No. 339, Dexter—James Hanna, Commander. Seventh, Comstock Post No. 352, Manchester—James Kelley, Commander. Each post will carry its own colors.

A True Romance.

Not long ago a farmer, somewhat advanced in years, stepped into the county clerk's office and in a mysterious manner asked Mr. Brown to grant him a few moments' private conversation. This privilege was readily accorded. "Said the visitor, "Is this where you get marriage licenses?"

"Yes, this is the place."
"Is it necessary to publish them in the newspapers?"

"Well, sometimes we withhold them when they ask it."

"Do people that get licenses have to get married?"

"I have known of a case or two where they have not."

"Well, then, I guess you may sell me one."

The county clerk made out the necessary papers and waited several days for the return, but none came. Finally the prospective bridegroom again put in an appearance.

"Well, did you get married?" asked the clerk.

"No, the lady wouldn't consent."

"What, didn't you ask her before you got the license?"

"No, I thought that if I got a license and she saw how the names looked together she would cave in, but she didn't see it that way at all," and the farmer walked out of the office, convinced that the new method of popping the question was not a complete success.

A New Hall.

St. Thomas' parish is soon to have a new hall. It will be built on the vacant lot just north of the school, facing Elizabeth-st. Its dimensions will be about 100x50 feet. It will be a frame structure, one story high, and will have seating capacity of 800. Sunday services will be held in this building as soon as it is completed, the present church being much too small for the large congregations. The cost of the hall will be about $2,500. As soon as the projected new church is built on the corner, St. Thomas hall will be used for entertainments and social gatherings, thus serving much the same purpose that the Harris and McMillan halls now serve.

The Inlander in England.

EDITOR REGISTER:—A copy of the last issue of the Inlander was sent to an English literateur—Mr. A. S. Salt, formerly assistant master of Eton College, —who is favorably known to American readers as the author of the best life of Henry D. Thoreau, and it elicited the following acknowledgment:

LONDON, July 10, 1891.

"Just a few lines to thank you sincerely for what the post has today brought me, a copy of the Inlander. That 'Afternoon' in the University Library is one of the most charming things I have read for some time. I can tell you its tender phantasy gave me a delightful afternoon, not in a University library but in a Sussex hamlet. Looked at from another side, also, the poetry of bibliography was never more happily manifested. I must try to get it reprinted in some English journal."

Surely a Yankee college journal finding praise from an ex-assistant master of the famous Eton is a feather in the cap of the class of '91.

Ann Arbor's Hopes.

David Henning, a wealthy commission merchant of Chicago, who so manages his worldly affairs as to have a home in Ann Arbor as well as in the Windy City, is at the Wayne Hotel. He it is who usually buys all the apple crop of Washtenaw county, and ships it to Chicago. Among other possessions he has a fine tract of land at Ann Arbor between the Michigan Central depot and the river, which the good citizens of that place think he will sometime give them for a public park.—Free Press.

Mr. Holladay in Court.

Louis W. Holladay, of Detroit, against whom his wife, formerly Miss Susie Clark, of this city, recently filed a bill of divorce, was examined in Justice Pond's court yesterday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was found guilty, fined $61.61, including costs, and compelled to give a bond of $1,000 to keep the peace. He has appealed the case to the circuit court.

The Good Templars.

The following officers have been elected in the I. O. G. T. for the ensuing quarter: C. T. Frank Legg; P. C. T. J. R. Bowdish; V. T. Miss C. Strickler; sec. Miss Emma Stebbins; treas., John Wilson; financial sec., G. G. Crozier; marshal, Frank H. Hess; deputy marshal, Miss Louise Corson; chaplain, Miss M. Corson; guard, Jennie Crozier; sentinel, E. Morris; organist, Nanna Crozier. The Washtenaw district lodge will meet with the Ann Arbor lodge on Friday, August 14, 1891.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Farmers report that help is scarce. Jacob Hummel, of Chelsea, is building a new house.

Dexter has a black walnut tree with a spread of nearly fifty feet. Howells schools employ fifteen teachers and cost over $12,000 a year.

The annual farmers' picnic will be held at Whitmore Lake, August 29. Two hundred and fifty-six pupils were enrolled in the Dexter school last week.

Mrs. J. D. Cilly, one of Salem's pioneers, died last week at the age of seventy. A Manchester dealer has sold 200 ton of coal this summer.

Over 60,000 pounds of wool have been purchased by Manchester dealers this season. A centrifugal butter and cheese factory and cold storage are among Dexter's possibilities.

James Blackwood, says the South Picket, clipped 3,470 pounds of wool from 510 sheep this season. Township Clerk Lehman, of Lyndon, has issued orders for over 1,100 sparrow heads since the 13th of April.

Alex Fee, of Indianapolis, will be superintendent of the Ypsilanti pickle factory. Rev. Mr. Bartlett preached last Sunday to a Saline people on Lyng. The Observer says that the subject had local application.

Berthold Stoll, the obnoxious saloon-keeper of Stockbridge, has been arrested for selling liquor without having filed the necessary bond. Principal Sill, of the Normal, has been elected by the International association, member of the board of directors from Michigan.

"Ye editor" of the Saline Observer expects soon to ride a Columbia safety. He will probably have occasion to write an item headed "Terrible Accident."

The Detroit district of the Free Methodist church will hold its first camp meeting 2 1/2 miles east of Willis station, beginning Wednesday, Aug. 5th. A visit to Whitmore Lake last Saturday revealed the noted state senator, Wisner, with large gold-headed cane, slouch hat, lots of jewelry, and last but not least a pretty lady-like wife.—Dexter Leader.

A stray baby ball passing through the partially open back door of the express office robbed Jay Keith of a front tooth last week.—Dexter Leader. In these days of "live" wires and base ball, life is a mighty uncertain thing.

There is yet hopes that the state militia may be useful in protecting the lives and property of our citizens rather than destroying them. A reform in their conduct is apparent.—Oakland Excelsior. Did you lose any chickens, Mr. Editor?

Dr. Kapp drove to Ann Arbor, from there to Dixboro and back, then to South Lyons and back home on Monday, covering a distance of about ninety miles. He transacted considerable business and made four professional calls.—Manchester Enterprise.

The constant smoking of a short clay pipe given as the reason why William Syrias, a Clear Lake farmer, has lost one-half of his lower jawbone. A cancer formed and necessitated the removal of the bone to save his life. Don't smoke a clay pipe.—Chelsea Herald.

Henry Reno and Henry Steinway traded horses last week, but one of them was dissatisfied when he came to try it and took the liberty of trading back without consulting the other. The other replenished his horse and a suit is now on tap before Esquire Perkins.—Enterprise.

Fred Vogel, of Freedom, sent to Washington last spring for a few silk worm eggs which he has hatched out and is now devoting a portion of his time to feeding them mulberry leaves and watching their development. They will soon begin to spin silk. The process is quiet laboring and when conducted on a more extensive scale, is profitable.—Manchester Enterprise.

C. E. Letts threshed his wheat Wednesday and from seventeen acres the yield was 540 bushels, or a little over thirty-one bushels to the acre. The berry is very plump and in fine condition, and weighs from sixty-one to sixty-two pounds to the bushel. Homestead fertilizer was used on the land on which his wheat was raised, and this, in a great measure, accounts for the large yield.—Chelsea Standard.

Tradition has it that the large, soft wood tree in front of the old Dexter mansion, now owned and occupied by M. L. VanBuren, was used by Mrs. Judge Dexter in her younger days as a riding whip on a horseback journey from Howell to Dexter. But Mrs. Dexter says that it was about to be put to a riding whip, when one of the family remonstrated with, "Oh let it grow for it is just the age of our Kate."—Dexter Leader.

Mrs. Jackson, who keeps the boarding house on Pearl-st, opposite the box factory, has a cat which has developed maternal fondness for a young domestic pigeon, and the bird fully reciprocates Puss's affection and exhibits a trust of which the cat should be proud. The two creatures spend the time largely in each other's society, and manifest great contentment when together, whenever separated they are mutually distressed until they find each other again. The pigeon was quite small when the strange attachment was formed, but is now nearly or quite full grown.—Ypsilantian.

Last week Wednesday, while trying to drive a refractory bull, Cyrus Uplyke, who lives about six miles southwest of this place, was knocked down and would, in all probability, have been killed had it not been for his dog, which attacked the infuriated animal and diverted his attention from Mr. Uplyke, who immediately arose and started to climb over the fence, when the animal again started for him and gored him in the leg, severing an artery. Again the dog came to the rescue and Mr. Uplyke made his way to the house, very weak from the loss of blood.—Chelsea Standard.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

NOVEL BRIDAL TRIP.

A Newly-Married Chicago Couple's Honey-moon Journey on Bicycles. There arrived at a hotel in Detroit the other night a couple from Chicago who registered as N. J. Anderson and bride, and whose impediments included an ordinary and a ladies' bicycle. The pair went down to breakfast the next morning arrayed in the natty bicycle attire, and Anderson confided to the clerk that they had just been married in Chicago and were going to wheel from there to New York city for a honeymoon trip. They left for the east, and started on a rattling gait for their 700-mile trip. Anderson is a smooth-faced young fellow and his bride a pretty blonde.

Missionaries to Japan and China.

Rev. Albertus Pieters, of Holland, and Miss Emma Kollen, of Overisel, were married the other evening. They will soon leave for Nagasaki, Japan, where they will enter the mission field and take charge of the Steele academy. Miss Lizzie Cappon, daughter of ex-Mayor Isaac Cappon, of the same city, and Miss Nellie Ziemer, of Orange City, Ia., will accompany them as missionaries to Amoy, China. They are all graduates from Hope college.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health by sixty-one observers in different parts of the state for the week ended July 18, indicated that typho-malarial fever, inflammation of the bowels, diarrhoea and cholera morbus increased, and inflammation of the brain, pneumonia and measles decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty-eight places, scarlet fever at thirty-six, typhoid fever at sixteen and measles at twenty-one places.

Two Million People.

The census office has issued a bulletin giving the population of Michigan by minor civil divisions. The complete population of the state is 2,993,880, an increase over 1880 of 459,923. Five new counties were formed during the decade. Fifteen counties in the state show decreases, most of which are small; while fourteen show increases of more than 100 per cent., and thirty-eight more than 50 per cent.

Suffocated in the Pit.

Peter Pascoe, Jr., son of Superintendent Peter Pascoe of the Republic iron mine, and James Dower, Jr., were suffocated by smoke by a fire in the mine. Young Pascoe had descended into the mine to ascertain the extent of the fire raging and was overcome by smoke. James Dower descended into the smoking shaft to rescue Pascoe and lost his life in trying to save him. The damage to the mine was over $100,000.

Killed in a Prize Fight.

James McCormick died at Crystal Falls from injuries received in a prize fight with William Daniels, of Rhineland. The fight was ten rounds with light gloves. In the seventh round McCormick appeared dazed and fell unconscious under a terrific blow from Daniels, dying a few hours later. Daniels and his two seconds, Frank Brouletti and John Daley, were arrested on a charge of murder.

Criminals Join the Church.

Thirty-two convicts at the state prison in Jackson were confirmed as members of the Catholic church, Bishop Foley officiating. He was assisted by the local priests. Among those confirmed were two murderers, six men imprisoned for criminal assault, four for manslaughter, two for murderous assault, eight for larceny, eight burglars and one horse thief.

Short but Newsy Items.

The June earnings of the West Michigan railroad were $44,000 more in 1891 than in 1890. Abraham Smolke, of Mackinac Island, who was born in 1791 and was a prominent Detroit early in the present century, died at the island recently.

Bray & Chester, of Oshkosh, Wis., have bought a tract of land in the upper peninsula for $400,000. The national convention of union ex-prisoners of war will be held in Detroit on Wednesday, August 5.

Cutworms were reported to be chewing every stalk of corn in sight in many counties of the state. A Detroit manufacturing firm will make steel wagon wheels with hollow felloes and spokes.

The badly decomposed body of W. H. Fairchild, who escaped from a working gang and attendant, was found in the harbor at Gladstone.

The Kalamazoo asylum board has decided to build a cottage for male patients at the Fair Oaks farm.

The United States Baking Company, a syndicate owning a large number of similar concerns, has purchased the Muskegon cracker factory and business.

The barn of Isaac Rupright near Coldwater was burned by sparks from a steam thrasher.

The Michigan state assembly, Knights of Labor, will meet in convention at Lansing August 4.

The Michigan Bankers' association in session at Marquette elected George H. Russel, of the State savings bank at Detroit, as president.

Some people in Ironton have a peculiar method of stopping cows from running at large. These people fill potatoes with arsenic and leave them where the bovines may easily find them.

The box factory business in Bay county is picking up, orders flowing in from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri.

Robert P. Durling, of Marine City, dropped dead of heart disease. He settled in Marine City in 1861 and was 77 years old.

S. & V. Jones' grain barn at Ham-burg was struck by lightning and destroyed. The barn was insured, but it required the liveliest kind of work to save $350 in greenbacks which had been hid for safe keeping in an oat bin in the barn. By persistently pouring on water the money was saved, although the paper wrapper was badly charred.

CHINESE VILLAINS.

They Loot the Schools and Residences of Missionaries. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 28.—Advices just received from China give particulars of fresh depredations by the Chinese against the missionaries. The latest attack was made at Yankao on June 29, when the Catholic mission was methodically looted, the crowd passing things from hand to hand in a chain. The buildings were afterwards set on fire. A few days previous four chapels were destroyed in Kiangsi, near the city of Fuchow. The chapel, school, and residence of the priest were looted and burned on June 26. On the same day some predatory bands completely destroyed a French orphanage at a place called Haimen. In addition to the destruction of the orphanage, eight or nine of the wretched little children cared for in the building were carried off. Contrary to the usual custom the building was not fired, but was pulled down.

GOOD FOR THE JEWS.

The Rumors of a Relaxation of Their Persecution in Russia Confirmed. WASHINGTON, July 28.—Confirmation has been received of the news that the czar has relaxed the Jewish expulsion measures through the intercession of President Harrison. The modification applies not simply to the Jews intending to emigrate to this country but to the whole race in the Russian empire. The assurances given to this government were that in view of the approaching winter the czar would suspend the expulsions and in the meantime consult with his advisers as to the future policy. In the message announcing the intention of the czar reference is made to the friendly feeling now existing between the two countries and to the traditional uninterrupted friendship of Russia and the United States extending through more than half a century. There is also an expression of personal regard from the emperor to President Harrison.

A FATAL RIDE.

Terrible Fate of a 9-Year-Old Boy in Chicago. CHICAGO, July 28.—Little Arthur, the 9-year-old son of Manager Arthur Thomas, of "The County Fair," now playing at Hooley's, and nephew of Theodore Thomas, the famous musical director, was killed while exercising one of the theatrical company's horses. Mounted on the horse known as "Dude," the unfortunate youth in company with his father and another gentleman was riding along the Lake Shore drive when the animal ran away.

The boy clung bravely to the reins for some distance, but finally slipped from the saddle. His foot caught in the stirrup and he was dragged for 2 blocks his head striking the pavement with every bound of the frightened horse. At last he fell by the roadside, and when the agonized father reached him he was dead, his body being frightfully mangled.

Exhibits Will Be Admitted Free. WASHINGTON, July 27.—In a letter to David Dudley Field Acting Secretary Spaulding says regarding articles brought into the United States for exhibition at the world's fair that no duty, fees, or charges for customs service will be exacted on any such importations except where merchandise is sold for consumption in the United States and entered as provided by customs regulations.

Four Lives Lost. DENVER CO., July 25.—The narrow-gauge east bound express from Salida Col., on the Denver & Rio Grande, collided with the broad gauge Salt Lake express going west a few miles from Carlie. The trains were running at full speed and were heavily loaded. The engine and front coaches of both trains were completely wrecked and four persons killed.

Death of Mrs. Searies. METHUEN, Mass., July 27.—Mrs. Mark Hopkins Searies, wife of Edward E. Searies, the New York architect, and widow of the millionaire, Mark Hopkins, of the Pacific slope, died at her mansion here as a result of an attack of the grip. Her husband left an estate valued at $60,000,000, and Mrs. Searies' wealth was estimated at $10,000,000.

Lobster Factories Destroyed. HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.—A telegram from Bay of Islands, N. F., says the commander of H. M. S. Pelican has well riddled the lobster factories there and compelled them to cease operations. The unfortunate people are now left in a state of poverty, being in debt and without means.

Will Try It Again. PAUL'S VALLEY, I. T., July 25.—Hon. Sam Paul was married Wednesday night to Mrs. Jennie Paul, from whom he was lately divorced. It will be remembered that old man Paul, his son and grandson were each divorced recently by the same court and on the same day.

Death of a Well-Known Landlord. CLINTON, Ia., July 28.—Maj. Moulton, who has been proprietor of the Revere house here for fifteen years, died Monday after a brief illness. He was known to all traveling men throughout the northwest.

Death of Ex-Gov. Dillingham. WATERBURY, Vt., July 28.—Ex-Gov. Paul Dillingham is dead. He would have been 92 years old in August. He was a member of congress in 1844 and governor of Vermont in 1845 and 1847.

An Epidemic of Insanity. KINGSTON, Ont., July 28.—There is an epidemic of insanity in this vicinity at present, and no less than fifteen persons have been arrested for this cause within twenty-four hours.

Flames at Forrest, Ill. BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 28.—Six store buildings, with their contents, at Forrest, Livingston county, were burned Monday. This is over half the stores in the town.

A Tramp Burned to Death. CINCINNATI, July 28.—George O'Meyer, an aged tramp, was burned to death in a fire that consumed the Kanawha coal works Sunday night.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Terrible Fate of a Clergyman and His Family. While Driving Near Elmira, N. Y., Rev. Wellington White, His Daughter and Two Other Little Girls Are Killed—Others Hurt.

STRUCK BY AN ENGINE. ELMIRA, N. Y., July 28.—A peculiarly distressing accident occurred Sunday evening about 6 o'clock at a crossing of the Erie road near Eldridge park in which four persons were killed and two so seriously injured that death is expected at any moment. Rev. Wellington White, whose residence is on Grove street, started out to drive, having with him Mrs. White, their three children, Hattie Hastings, a daughter of a neighbor, and Susie McCarthy, a nurse girl. Approaching the crossing of the railroad a freight train which had been cut in two to allow entrance to the park occupied the nearer track. Seeing and hearing nothing indicative of danger, Mr. White drove upon the track just in time to be struck by the Erie passenger train, No. 24, from the west. Mr. White, his daughter Lillian, aged 9; Hattie Hastings, aged 9, and Susie McCarthy, aged 12, were instantly killed. Mrs. White and a child 2 years old received fractures of the skull and terrible bruises. They cannot recover. Rev. Wellington White was a clergyman who graduated at Amherst college and the New York Theological seminary, and had spent ten years in missionary work in China. He was at home on leave of absence.

HEROIC DEED OF A MOTHER. While Nearly Dead She Saves the Lives of Her Two Children. BAKERSFIELD, Cal., July 25.—Mrs. Jonathan Currow, living on a ranch near here, Thursday attempted to start a fire with kerosene when an explosion occurred and she was wrapped in flames from head to foot. She rushed toward a pool of water, but before she reached it her clothes were burned off and her flesh was terribly charred. She then found the house on fire, in which her two children were sleeping. With bleeding hands and entirely naked she pumped water and extinguished the flames and saved her children. Then she fainted. The doctors give small hopes of her recovery.

Evansville, Ind., July 27.—At 8:30 last evening this city experienced a severe earthquake shock. The entire town was thrown into a panic, congregations in all the churches rose to their feet in the midst of the service and ran pell mell into the street, women and children screaming and fainting. The duration of the shock was scarcely more than three seconds, but it was long enough to unseat nearly every man, woman and child in Evansville. No serious damage was done.

Victoria, B. C., July 27.—Sealing certainly has been stopped in Behring sea and all the Victoria fleet is now sailing homeward. Entrance to the Behring sea is effectually blocked and is now patrolled by five American and two British war vessels. The latter are the Nymph and the Pheasant. The United States vessels are the revenue cutters Bear, Rush and Corwin and the gunboats Thetis and Mohican.

Sedalia, Mo., July 25.—Startling evidence has recently come to light in the case of Tom Williamson, condemned to be hanged August 21. The evidence indicates that he was not guilty of the crime. A petition has recently been circulated in his behalf praying for the commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment, and to it have been attached the names of 100 prominent men of this locality.

Death of an Inventor. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 27.—A dispatch received in this city from Rangely Lakes, Me., reports the death there Saturday morning of William N. Weeden, who went there nearly two weeks ago for the benefit of his health. He was 50 years old, a native of this city, and was the inventor of the Waterbury watch and the Weeden upright steam engine.

Married Seventy-Two Years. JEFFERSON, N. C., July 27.—Stephen Osborne and wife, of this (Ashe) county, celebrated the seventy-second anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Osborne is 104 years old and his wife 92. They have twelve children, sixty-nine grandchildren, more than 200 great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren.

Killed by Mexican Bandits. CITY OF MEXICO, July 27.—Information from Arizpe, Sonora, says that the Americans recently killed near that place were not the victims of Apaches, but a band of bandits. The military force stationed at that town went in pursuit and in a sharp skirmish killed three out of eight men composing the gang.

Discovered an Ancient Vessel. NEWPORT, R. I., July 27.—Divers from the torpedo station have discovered in the outer harbor the remains of an ancient sunken vessel, supposed to be at least 100 years old, from which they have taken a couple of iron guns. They have buoyed the vessel for further search.

Population of France. PARIS, July 25.—The official census of France shows a total population of 38,095,150. This is an increase since the last census of 308,584. The increase is entirely in the urban population, the rural population having decreased.

Business Failures of the Week. NEW YORK, July 25.—The business failures throughout the country during the last seven days number 254, as compared with a total of 274 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 199.

We should like to give a new chimney for every one that breaks in use.

We sell to the wholesale dealer; he to the retail dealer; and he to you. It is a little awkward to guarantee our chimneys at three removes from you. We'll give you this hint. Not one in a hundred breaks from heat; there is almost no risk in guaranteeing them. Talk with your dealer about it. It would be a good advertisement for him.

Frightful Railway Accident Near the Town of St. Mande.

Excursion Trains Collide and Forty-Three Persons Are Killed and Over One Hundred Injured--Terrible Scenes Witnessed.

AN AWFUL CALAMITY.

PARIS, July 28.—A collision between excursion trains occurred at St. Mande Sunday night in which forty-three persons were killed and 104 injured. Both trains were returning from a musical festival at Ponteny. The majority of the victims were women and children. The wrecked carriages consisted of one first-class, two second-class and a guard's van. The first was completely shattered.

A man searching for missing relatives came upon the bodies of his wife and daughter. His cries attracted his brother-in-law, who in turn recognized a grand-child lying dead and learned that his wife and his mother were in a hospital dying. A man who for a long time had been rushing about half demented, seeking his family, stopped a litter entering the schoolroom and found that it bore the charred bodies of his wife and baby, the latter being only a few months old. Five of this man's children were on the train, and only one was rescued alive. The bodies of the others were picked from the debris.

Many of the unfortunate people imprisoned beneath the wreck of the railroad cars were drowned by the firemen who were summoned to the scene. Forty minutes elapsed before the firemen were able to obtain water, but when they did so they poured torrents upon the wreck and seemed to be utterly unaware of the fact that they were drowning the people they were attempting to rescue.

Most of the bodies in the town hall were scorched beyond recognition. They owe their identification to some special mark. The fire that broke out after the accident was fiercest in the first-class carriages, from which twelve bodies have been recovered so badly charred that identification is impossible. Among the injured sent to the hospital a number died immediately after admission and many are expected to succumb. An official statement makes the number of dead forty-three and the number of injured 104. Among the victims are the Marquis and Marquise Montferrier.

Blew His Own Head Off.

PRINCETON, Ind., July 28.—John Landreth, a well-to-do farmer living 3 miles north of this city, committed suicide Sunday evening by shooting his head off with a shotgun. He had been out walking with his wife, and when they arrived at their gate he told her to wait until he went into the house. In a moment he came out with his gun and deliberately blew his head off before his wife and his mother, who is 94 years old. Temporary insanity is supposed to be the cause of his act.

Bad Hailstorm in Nebraska.

ELM CREEK, Neb., July 28.—This vicinity was visited Monday afternoon by one of the most destructive rain and hailstorms of the season. Hailstones one inch and a half in diameter fell, leveling small grain to the ground. Garden vegetables are completely ruined, while the corn crop is riddled and cannot recover. Scarcely one-half of the small grain has been harvested.

Many Buildings Burned.

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., July 27.—Fire Sunday afternoon destroyed twenty-two buildings in this city. The fire was finally checked by tearing down small stores. The loss was about $40,000, and the insurance $10,000. The public library, Grand Army of the Republic armory, Masonic hall and other buildings were also burned.

Had Two Families.

FINDLAY, O., July 28.—It has been discovered that Peter S. Williams, a wealthy lumber dealer, has two homes, one in Fostoria, presided over by Mrs. Williams No. 1, with two children, the other in this city, in which is domiciled Mrs. Williams No. 2. Neither of the women knew of Williams' perfidy. He has fled.

Slew His Wife's Lover.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 28.—Andy Farrell, a saloonkeeper, shot Chris Harris, a railroad conductor, at noon Monday with a charge of buckshot from a shotgun, blowing the entire side of his head off and killing him instantly. Harris, it is alleged, has been intimate with Farrell's wife for several months.

Fatal Wreck in Pennsylvania.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 28.—An excursion train to Cumberland on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad broke in two near Rockwoods Sunday night. Policeman Kelly of this place and Lucas T. Myers, of Latrobe, were thrown under the wheels and killed, while Milton Pyle, of Somerset, was fatally injured.

A Loss of $600,000.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The immense cotton and woolen mill of Campbell & Elliott, at Washington avenue and Twelfth street, was completely destroyed by fire Friday night. The loss is estimated at between $600,000 and $750,000 and is believed to be covered by insurance.

Big Failure in Australia.

LONDON, July 25.—The Times announces that the Imperial bank of Melbourne has suspended payment, with liabilities of £150,000. The depositors, it is said, will suffer no loss by the failure.

Five Stores Burned.

MIDLAND, Tex., June 28.—The greater portion of the business part of the town was burned Monday. Five stores and their contents and a newspaper office were destroyed. Loss $62,000, partly insured.

A Detroit Belle Killed.

DETROIT, Mich., July 27.—Ida Frezza, a popular young lady, was killed by a street car Saturday night. She was a pianist of great ability and a graduate of the Chicago college of music.

VOLCANOES IN CALIFORNIA.

Fire and Smoke Issuing from 3,000 Spouters of Various Sizes.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 27.—The San Diegoan publishes a descriptive account by Col. I. K. Allen, a well-known engineer, of phenomena in what is known as the volcanic region of Coconah mountains, situated 65 miles southwest of Yuma in lower California. Col. Allen says that there are over 3,000 active volcanoes there, one-half of which are small cones, measuring 10 or 12 feet at the base. The remaining half are from 5 to 40 feet at the base and 15 to 25 feet in height. The whole volcanic region is encrusted with sulphur. One peculiar feature of the region is the lake, which is a quarter of a mile in length and one-eighth of a mile in width. It is seemingly bottomless and the water is hot and salty and of a jet-black color.

THE GODDESS MUST GO.

Mint Director Leech Favors a Change in the Medalion on Small Coins.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Mr. Leech, director of the mint, is about to make a decided change in the dimes, quarters and half-dollars of the United States. With this in view he has instructed the engravers at the Philadelphia mint to prepare new designs for the approval of the secretary of the treasury which will insure uniformity in the subsidiary silver coin. Instead of the sitting figure of the goddess of liberty which now is on the obverse side of these pieces Director Leech wants a medalion similar to that which now adorns the silver dollar.

Illinois as a Whisky Center.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The report of the internal revenue office for the last fiscal year, which made its appearance Friday, shows that Illinois contributes twice as much in internal revenue taxes as any other state in the union. The aggregate collections of all Illinois districts last year were $38,364,312. New York state came next with an aggregate of $16,565,338, Kentucky next with $15,888,707, and Ohio fourth with $14,355,266.

Honors to Mr. Cleveland.

SANDWICH, Mass., July 27.—A reception and dinner was given here Saturday to ex-President Cleveland. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock in the casino, about 1,000 persons being present. At the conclusion speeches followed by Mr. Cleveland, his subject being "Ex-Presidents of the United States." Gov. Russell and a number of others.

Explorer Stanley Hurt.

GENEVA, July 27.—Henry M. Stanley, the explorer, has met with a serious accident. According to information received here from Muerren, where Mr. Stanley is staying with his wife, the explorer has fractured his left lower thighbone by accidentally slipping while mountain climbing.

Excursionists Killed.

DAYTON, O., July 27.—An excursion train returning to this city Saturday night from Cincinnati was run into at Woodsdale Park by a freight train and Maria Frier, William Matthews and Frank Simonton, all of Dayton, were killed, and some thirty others injured.

Two Sisters Drowned While Bathing.

CEDAR FALLS, Ia., July 27.—Mary and Bertha, daughters of G. Thompson, a hardware dealer, were drowned while bathing Saturday. They were aged 17 and 19.

Church and State.

At Battle Creek, Sunday, a novelty was introduced in one of the churches. An old man made a forcible appeal for placing the national flag in churches as well as on the school houses. A collection was taken up and over $30 was raised.

His Right to Kick.

"I do hate to hear a man grumble all the time, as that fellow is doing over there," said a disgruntled passenger to the conductor of a train. "My dearsir," exclaimed the conductor in surprise, "you evidently do not understand the case. That man is traveling on a pass."

A NEGRO FLEED.

He Kills Three Members of a Kentucky Family.

Another Mortally Wounded—He Horribly Hacks His Victims with a Scythe-Blade—The Murderer Shot Dead by a Neighbor.

AWFUL BUTCHERY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27.—Five miles from Paris, Ky., lived Nathan Conway, 61 years old, his wife, about the same age, their sons, Charley and William, 33 and 28 respectively, William's wife and three children and two nieces, Miss Florence and Lucy Leager. As they were all sitting on the veranda Sunday morning a negro named Craig, who had no fixed home, came up and asked for a drink of water. It was given him. He thereupon lifted a rusty scythe blade and asked if it was not a good knife. Charley Conway nodded assent and the negro throwing down the cup of water struck him with the knife, splitting his skull. The rest of the family ran into the house. Craig continued to hack the young man till he thought him dead. He then attacked the father, who had returned, and killed him. Then the mother coming up had her head split open and instantly died. After the negro had insanely hacked her body in a dozen places he attacked William Conway, cutting him in the head and on the body as he ran. He had just struck Conway to the ground when G. W. Bailey, a neighbor, attracted by the screams, came up and shot Craig twice with buckshot. This seemed to have no effect, but other neighbors had come up and a young man shot Craig with a pistol. Craig ran, and falling beside a haystack, died in a few minutes from the effects of the buckshot wounds. The pistol ball had glanced around his head.

The Conways were from Maysville originally, but came to Bourbon eighteen months ago from T. G. Meggin's farm, near Cythiana. They were orderly citizens and were held in the highest esteem. Craig said he had killed seven persons and intended to kill that whole family. He is known to have killed his mother-in-law. He has always been known as a desperate fellow, and was a brother of Charlie Craig, now under sentence of death in Cincinnati.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Two Boys Set Fire to a Barn and Perish in the Flames.

DAYTON, O., July 28.—A terrible calamity befell Frank Wetzell, aged 4 years, and August Young, aged 5, here Monday. The boys were playing in a stable on Fillmore street and they took some matches and went through the stable to the wagon shed in the rear. Here they made a bonfire, which quickly caught the hay and straw and cut off their exit. The fire department was called but could not save the buildings, and did not know the boys were there until taken out dead, burned to a crisp.

A Village in Ashes.

MILWAUKEE, July 28.—The village of Blair, of about 400 inhabitants, in Trempealeau county, and one of the most flourishing on the Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul railroad, was almost entirely destroyed by fire yesterday. It started about 11 a. m. in a closet of a dwelling over Kirtleson's general store and burned every business place in the town within four hours, entailing a total loss of at least $150,000.

Caught Over a Hundred Whales.

GLASGOW, July 28.—A school of over 100 whales was recently driven by the tides into Wideford bay, near Kirkwall, on the Orkney coast, and hundreds of the inhabitants of that district, armed with weapons of every description, rallied to the spot and began slaughtering the huge creatures and dragging the carcasses ashore. Not a single one escaped.

The Fools are not all Dead.

A lazy man, whose horses and cart were stuck in the mud, prayed to Jupiter for help. Jupiter answered: "Fool! get up and put your shoulder to the wheel, and do not call on me when you give help yourself." Foolish people by medicine hap-hazard, blindly trusting to promises made without a guarantee. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is guaranteed to cure colds, coughs, all lung affections, and even Consumption, in its early stages. It puts to route all stomach troubles, purifies the blood, gives healthful action to the sluggish liver and drives blemishes from the skin. It is an honest medicine, and an invaluable health insurance policy which should never be allowed to lapse. All druggists keep it.

Keeps a Bar.

One of the most respectable ladies in Atchison, Kas., keeps a bar—hold on, now; don't jump in and express an opinion about prohibition that doesn't prohibit. As we were saying, one of the most respectable ladies in Atchison keeps a bar of soap on a board near a creek that runs through the town, and a sign above it that invites the weary wayfarer to wash and be clean. The benevolence of this sort of thing becomes apparent when you consider how many tramps must pass around that town.

Be Careful!

No matter what disease you may have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—Daily Argus.

Girls who use SAPOLIO are QUICKLY MARRIED

SAPOLIO is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. If your store-keeper does not keep it you should insist upon his doing so, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY SELBY A. MORAN, ANN ARBOR, MICH.

TERMS: One Dollar per Year in Advance. $1.50 if not paid until after one year.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1891.

THE REGISTER requests all of its friends, who have business at the Probate Court, to send their printing to this office. Reasonable rates only are charged.

On the sixth page will be found long extracts from the interest and tax laws passed by the recent legislature. The section relative to the taxation of mortgages will doubtless prove interesting to all.

The alliance Judge McKay, of Kansas, has got into considerable trouble because he refused to obey the decrees of the supreme court. Had he come to Ann Arbor, as he at one time expected to do, he would have learned enough in three months to prevent any such ridiculous actions on his part.

Tin plate can be made in the United States, the assertions of free traders to the contrary notwithstanding. The REGISTER has received a sample of roofing tin, the Taylor "old style," which is made in Philadelphia by the N. & G. Taylor Company. It is just as pretty and durable as the British article, for which Democrats and Mugwumps have an unwarranted preference.

On the 30th of June the amount of paper money circulating in the United States, exclusive of greenbacks, was $468,667,712, secured by $537,516,094.64 gold and silver reserves in the treasury. The greenbacks amounted to $345,079,272. Against these there was a gold reserve of $100,000,000. These figures do not tend to corroborate the charge, made by unpatrician politicians, that the nation is bankrupt.

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY, brother-in-law of Standard Oil Payne and ex-secretary of the navy, has attained high position in the councils of Tammany Hall, which organization, rumor whispers, is to be turned over to Grover Cleveland. The ignorance and viciousness of Tammany Hall, combined with the boundless wealth of the Standard Oil company, will prove no mean allies of the fat sotsவர். And this is why Cleveland's friends are so confident.

At the next meeting of the Roman Catholic prelates of this country, a memorial will be sent to the pope, thanking him for his refusal to grant the petition of Herr Cahensly, who wishes to divide the church into Irish, French and German bishoprics, thus preserving and fostering foreign ideas and ties among the vast numbers of immigrant laymen. This action of the bishops is significant. It shows that the Catholics are not so anti-American as they are sometimes represented. Patriotism is by no means wholly confined to the Protestants.

MINNESOTA has a governor of the true mettle. Last week he declared emphatically that the proposed fight between Pugilists Hall and Fitzsimmons should not take place—and it did not. The civil authorities in this land are pretty well at one in their determination not to allow entertainments in which two brutes pummel each other for the delectation of several thousand other brutes. It would be the rankest hypocrisy for the United States to censure Mexico for its bull-fights and at the same time censure still more disgusting men fights.

A WRITER in the FORUM maintains very cogently, that the evils of immigration are not the only ones that menace the nation. Foreigners have done much to enrich the United States, both materially and intellectually. German profundity and Irish versatility are both important factors in our civilization. Undoubtedly immigration does beget evils, but these are not to be compared with the growing centralization of wealth and the growing slavery of the wage-earner—evils for which Yankee thrift and selfishness are largely responsible.

The members of the various farmers' associations throughout the country are going to make a corner on wheat which will rebound to their own advantage and not to that of the speculator—that is to say, they are going to try to do so. This action they justify on the specious plea that the devil must be fought with his own weapons. Do they reflect, however, that in such a warfare the devil is at home and has an insuperable advantage? The speculator can wait till doomsday, if need be, before he buys, but the farmer cannot; he must have immediately the wherewithal to purchase food, raiment and shelter. For this reason the proposed "corner" is not likely to be more successful than the average strike.

REFERRING to the National Press Association, which recently met at St. Paul, the Pioneer Press of that city says: "The great majority of delegates are the editors of weekly papers published in the smaller cities and villages of the country, or, what, for short, are called country editors. Many of them are strong and able men, leaders of thought and molders of opinion, not only within the local spheres of their circulation, but throughout the states where they reside. It must not be supposed that rural newspapers are mere conduits through which the news and opinions of the metropolitan press are distributed in the rural districts. On the contrary, they are the critics and censors of the great city dailies. They have more time to think than the writers for the latter, whose often hasty and superficial editorials are frequently of less real value than the productions of the man who has a week to mature his reflections upon the topics of his choice. The country newspapers are in many cases the sources of much original thought which finds its way into the city dailies; the nursery of ideas which are transplanted and developed in the city hot house." These remarks, applying, as they do, to the vast number of weekly papers published in towns the size of Ann Arbor and under, contain much truth. It is doubtful if the press of Detroit employs more able talent or exerts more influence than such papers as the Coldwater Republican, Allegan Gazette, Allegan Journal, Adrian Press, Adrian Times, Lansing Republican, Lansing Journal, and many others equally worthy, several of which are found in Washtenaw county. The country newspaper, if it be true to itself, must, in a certain sense, be the schoolmaster of the reading community.

A Preacher on the Encampment. Rev. J. M. Barkley, a Detroit clergyman, on Sunday last paid his respects to the state authorities who sanctioned the sale of liquor at Whitmore Lake. Said he: "It is an insult to the thousands of Michigan's most intelligent citizens, who scorn such subservency to the liquor power. And as one of those citizens I utter my indignant protest against the outrage of tricking out the fair genius of our state in the habit of a barmaid and making her the purveyor of drinks to the youths gathered in her camps. Look at the awful argument this way of diminishing drunkenness carries with it. It reasons thus: In order to decrease individual drunkenness we will make the whole state of Michigan an active party to drunkard making. Look at the awful example and inducement to the youth of the state to imitate the bibulousness patronized by the state. * * * Some, if not all, of the beer saloons kept in Camp Custer were open and doing business last Lord's Day, and not only soldiers, but citizens and visitors bought drinks therefrom. And they were kept open until protests, some of them from men in uniform, were carried to the officials. Then they were closed till toward evening, when they were again opened. I protest against this whole series of wrongs, as tending to subvert the very aim of the National Guard and of these encampments. This violation of law by the officials is subversive of the very aim of the National Guard. These play day commanders ought to learn a lesson from a real commander. They ought to take and digest those noble words of General Grant. Others may break the law if they please, but the Presidents of the United States must not do it. It ought to be impossible for the governor of a great state like Michigan and the commander of her soldiers to break the law. Against such a debasing of official station, against such examples to our soldiers, against the unpardonable and needless wrong done to both law and morals, I utter a protest as respectful as the strong provocation to the contrary will permit, as indignant as the depth of the wrong and as lasting as its length."

John Sherman on Free Coinage. I can appreciate the earnest demand of the producers of silver bullion that the United States should pay $1.20 an ounce for silver bullion, which in the markets of the world has been for a series of years worth only about $1 an ounce, sometimes a little more, sometimes a little less. But I cannot appreciate why any farmer or other producer should desire that the government should pay for any article more than its market value. The government should purchase the articles it needs, like all other purchasers, at the market price. The distinction sought to be made in favor of silver is without foundation. The government now buys in the open market more than the entire domestic production of silver bullion because it needs it for coinage, and as the basis of Treasury notes. I gladly contributed my full share to this measure and would do anything in my power to advance the market value of silver to its legal ratio to gold. But this can only be done in concert with other commercial nations. The attempt to do it by the United States alone would only demonstrate our weakness. To the extent that the enormous demand made by the existing law advances the price of silver, the producers derive the benefit, and to-day the production of silver is probably the most profitable in the United States. To ask more seems to be unreasonable, and if yielded to will bring all of our money to the single silver standard alone, demonetize gold and detach the United States from the standing of the great commercial nations of the world. The unreasonable demand for the free coinage of silver has nothing to do with the reasonable demand for the increase of the volume of money required by the increase of business and population of the United States. We have provided by existing law for the increase of money to an amount greater than the increase of business and population, but even if more money is required, there are many ways of providing it without cheapening the purchasing power of our money or making a wide difference between the kinds of money in circulation based on silver and gold. More than 92 per cent of all payments are now made in checks, drafts and other commercial devices. All kinds of circulating notes are now equal to each other and are kept at the gold standard by redemption and exchange. Our money and our credit are now equal to or better than those of the most civilized nations of the world. Our productions of every kind are increasing, and it seems to me almost a wild lunacy for us to disturb this happy condition by changing the standard of all contracts, including special contracts, payable in gold and again paying gold to the capitalists, and silver, at an exaggerated price, to the farmer, laborer and pensioner.

The Reason for Sunday Laws. The Chicago Advance defends the code of Sunday laws as follows: "The basis of these laws is the public welfare. The people desire a day for rest; therefore they, through their representatives, prohibit all work, except of necessity or mercy. They desire a day for quiet, therefore they prohibit games and certain amusements. They desire the day for worship, therefore they prohibit all molestation in going to or returning from the church, and all disturbance while assembled. These laws are designed to grant to the individual the fullest liberty to spend the Sabbath as he desires, provided he does not abridge the equal liberty of any other individual. They are intended to promote the greatest good of the greatest number. They do not command attendance at religious services. They do not enforce acts of piety. They do not suggest any mode of Sunday observance. They are enacted on the supposition that a large body of the people desire to enjoy the quiet and rest of home; these laws are intended to grant this enjoyment without disturbance from games or carriages. As has been said by an eminent legal authority: 'Their purpose is to guarantee impartially that the masses shall enjoy a stated day during which there shall not be needless demands of ordinary business, or attractions and temptations of exciting amusements, or interruptions of noise and tumult, preventing or hindering those from worshipping who wish to worship, those from meditating or studying who wish to do so, those from resting who need repose.'"

A Future Attraction. Robert Downing, the eminent tragedian, will appear at the Grand Opera House in this city Oct. 3rd, supported by the beautiful and talented actress, Eugenie Blair, and the greatest company of legitimate players ever organized in America. Mr. Downing's repertoire for the ensuing season will include the following strong plays: "Virginius," "The Gladiators," "Damon and Pythias," "Brutus," "Julius Caesar," "Katherine and Petruchio," "French Marriage," all of which will be elegantly mounted in the way of scenery and costumes. Mr. Downing always gives the public the best and never fails to keep his word.

PERHAPS, while calling on your friends, you have noticed, incidentally, some of the pretty furnishings of their houses.

The spirit of envy that came, you bravely fought and subdued. You realized that to be honest and honorable you must "live within your means."

You are at Dieterle's a few days later with a friend assisting her in the selection of some pieces of Parlor and Chamber Furniture. You have no thought of yourself, yet the low prices given your friend compel your attention. The expression of surprise and pleasure that comes over your face is good to see.

You have discovered that you can have this and that and that without going beyond your means or losing your self respect. Hereafter take nothing for granted. Dieterle's facts cost nothing. His Furniture little more.

The marriage of Miss Nellie, daughter of George Nollar, to Frank Rider, took place at her father's residence last Thursday. Rev. Mr. Leeland officiated. The happy couple left for the east on their wedding trip, followed by the best wishes of their friends and acquaintances.
The community was startled last Sunday by the almost sudden death of Miss Mary Peckham. She attended divine services in the morning and appeared in usual health. Shortly after dinner she complained of severe pain and before a physician could arrive she had been called home. The probable cause of death was heart disease. She was in her seventy-fourth year, a true Christian and member of the Congregational church, and had the esteem of all who knew her. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Shannon in the Congregational church on Tuesday morning.

OUR YPSILANTI RAMBLER

Tells What He Has Seen and Heard in that Burg During the Past Seven Days and Nights.
The Manie Goodell Grand, Concrete Company is out on the road to fame and fortune. W. J. Hubbell is business manager, while his wife and John Dodge do the vocal gymnastics, and Frank Smith wields the fiddle bow. Ypsi is to have sewers right straight away, as the work will soon be begun and the state board of education will have an opportunity of spending the $8,000 appropriation granted by the legislature for sewerage. Colored burglars have been trying to gather in the shekels and suits of clothes from unsuspecting citizens but have been frightened out before great damage has been done. Two big burly house breakers were unexpectedly met by the lady of the house the other night just as they had gained entrance. The lady threw open her bedroom door and indignantly asked, "What were you doing," at the same time commanding them to "get out," which order was obeyed with such promptness that the "jimmy" was even left behind. The Huron-st pedestrians are rejoicing over the new pavement which is being laid. A great many enemies are again on speaking terms, men haven't been so ugly at home, women smile more, and the Ypsi world was better, all on account of this new walk to the postoffice.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

A Sure Chance to Make Money.
MR. EDITOR:
I am delighted with my success selling soap. I cleared $6 the first day. Every person is anxious to buy, when they see how good and cheap it is. I have sold 300 pounds a day, easily; this makes me a profit of $6 a day, which is big wages for a girl. My brother-in-law is selling soap, and doing splendidly. This is a grand chance to make money, as anyone can get 300 pounds of elegant soap, by sending $5 to the Ohio Soap Co., New Concord, Ohio. Write them, and they will no doubt assist you, as much as they have me, as they are very accommodating. This letter may seem foolish to you, Mr. Editor, but times are hard, and there may be hundreds of your readers glad as I was, of a chance to make money; and every person can sell, what every person wants to buy.
LAURA LEWIS

We clip the following from Presto, one of the leading musical journals of this country: "From many sources Presto learns of the increasing popularity of the Guild piano, manufactured by the Guild Piano Mfg Co., 101 Bristol street, Boston. Among the representatives of the Guild is Mr. A. Wilsey, Ann Arbor, Mich., who recently gave an order for fifty of the instruments. In his advertisement he says: 'The improvements in the Guild are vital. They are in the very heart of the piano. No slipping, or springing tuning pins. None are more honestly made. There is nothing shoddy about them. People like them, and buy them. We have never been able to get enough of them. More of them sold in Ann Arbor last year than all others combined.' Mr. Guild has moved into his new factory premises, which have been enlarged and fitted with additional machinery and other facilities." 55t

LITERARY NOTES.

How the moon looks when viewed through the great telescope of the Lick Observatory (the largest in the world) is shown by reproductions of photographs in the July Century.

The fiction in Harper's Magazine for July will include the opening chapters of a new novel, entitled "An Imperative Duty," by W. D. Howells; the continuation of George du Maurier's remarkable romance "Peter Ibbetson," illustrated by the author; "The Episode of the Marques de Valdeflores," a characteristic story of foreign life in New York city, by Thomas A. Janvier, illustrated by Smedley; and a curiously original sketch entitled "Dad's Grave," by J. Elwin Smith, a new Canadian writer.—Harper & Brothers, New York.

Life in the open air and adventures afloat and ashore make up a large part of the Cosmopolitan Magazine's contents for July. Trout Fishing in the Laurentides, the Diamond Fields of South Africa, Ostrich Farming in California, and Country Life in Honduras, are descriptive titles of some of these profusely illustrated open air papers. In addition, Elizabeth Bisland describes London Charities in a paper illustrated from picturesque photographs and character studies; C. C. Waddle tells the history of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; James Grant Wilson writes of the daring achievements of Lieut. Cushing and General Custer, the boy heroes of the war and navy of the Union; and Lieut. W. S. Hughes describes the world's progress in the building of submarine war vessels.—The Cosmopolitan, New York.

The twenty-sixth volume of the Magazine of American History opens with an exceedingly bright and beautiful July number. The frontispiece of the current issue is an admirable portrait of Sir William Dawson, the Canadian geologist and educator of world-wide fame. The editor contributes the leading article giving a graphic account of the history and work of The Royal Society of Canada, of which Sir William was the first president, with portraits, among its pertinent illustrations, of the Marquis of Lorne, who founded it, and of Lord Stanley, its present honored president and patron; the text also includes some delightful descriptions of the early historical features of the city of Montreal. The second paper, The Fairy Isle of Mackinac, by the graceful writer, Professor William C. Richards, is handsomely illustrated with picturesque summer scenes. Published at 743 Broadway, New York.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Ex-Senator Ingalls is reported to be going with an autumn party for a tour through Europe as far as Greece, and in the Holy Land and Egypt.

For all forms of nasal catarrh, where there is dryness of the air passages with what is commonly called "stuffed up," especially when going to bed, Ely's Cream Balm gives immediate relief. Its benefit to me has been priceless.—A. G. Case, M. D., Millwood, Kas.

Mrs. Cleveland preserves a voluminous scrapbook filled to the covers with notices of her husband clipped from the columns of the daily newspapers.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from her nose. Two physicians prescribed but without benefit. We tried Ely's Cream Balm, and, much to our surprise, there was a marked improvement. We continued using the Balm and in a short time the discharge was cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

James W. Bradbury, of Maine, and Alpheus Felch, of Michigan, who entered the Senate in December, 1847, are the oldest ex-Senators of the United States now living.

A Solid Knock-down Blow. The whale blows water while at play; Trees blow in every clime; The sweetest flowers blow in May, But wind blows all the time.

There's lots of blowing in this world. Sufferers from catarrh blow their noses, and quacks blow about their "cures." Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is the only infallible one. Its proprietors back up this claim by offering $500 for every case they fail to cure permanently. This is an unanswerable blow at humbuggery, coming from men of sterling reputation and ample capital. Nasal Catarrh cannot resist the potency of this Remedy. It stops discharges, leaving the senses acute, the head clear and the breath normal. Of all druggists, 50 cents.

The Difference.

You Take No Risk

In buying Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is everywhere recognized as the standard building-up medicine and blood purifier. It has won its way to the front by its own intrinsic merit, and has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Be sure to get Hood's.

INTEREST AND MORTGAGES.

TWO IMPORTANT LAWS ENACTED THIS SPRING.

Interest Fixed at Six Per Cent.—Far-Reaching Changes in the Mortgage Law.

The recent much lamented legislature did find time, in the midst of all its partisan bills, to pass some measures of real interest to the people. Those which affect interest and mortgages are undoubtedly the most important. As considerable inquiry has arisen as to just what these laws contain, THE REGISTER takes pleasure in reprinting portions of them. That relating to interest reads as follows:

Section 1. The People of the State of Michigan enact, That the interest of money shall be at the rate of six dollars upon one hundred dollars for a year, and at the same rate for a greater or less sum, and for a longer or shorter time, except that in all cases it shall be lawful for the parties to stipulate in writing for the payment of any rate of interest not exceeding eight per cent. per annum: Provided, That this act shall not apply to existing contracts, whether the same be either due, not due, or part due.

Sec. 2. No bond, bill, note, contract or assurance, made or given for or upon a consideration or contract, whereby or whereon a greater rate of interest has been, directly or indirectly, reserved, taken or received, than is allowed by law, shall be thereby rendered void; but in any action brought by any person on such usurious contract or assurance, except as is provided in the following section, if it shall appear that a greater rate of interest has been, directly or indirectly, reserved, taken or received, than is allowed by law, the defendant shall not be compelled to pay any interest thereon.

Sec. 3. Whenever it shall satisfactorily appear by the admission of the defendant, or by proof, that any bond, bill, note, assurance, pledge, contract, or contract, security, or any evidence of debt, has been taken or received in violation of this act, the court shall declare the interest thereon to be void.

THE TAX LAW.

This provides for "the assessment of property and the levy of taxes thereon, and for the collection of taxes heretofore and hereafter levied, and to repeal act one hundred and ninety-five of the session laws of 1889, except as provided in this act, and all other acts or parts of acts in anywise contravening any of the provisions of this act." The principal change is that which authorizes the taxation of mortgages. Exemptions remain practically the same. There is but little change in the assessment roll. The penalty of making a false statement of taxable property is fixed at a fine of $100 or thirty days imprisonment or both. The following extracts comprehend the most important alterations:

For the purpose of taxation, real property shall include all the lands within [the] this State, and all buildings and fixtures thereon and appurtenances thereto, except in cases otherwise expressly provided by law, and any real estate mortgage, deed of trust, contract, or other obligation, by which a debt is secured, when land within this State is pledged for the payment and discharge thereof, shall, for the purpose of assessment and taxation, be deemed and treated as an interest in the land so pledged. Personal property shall include all goods and chattels within the State, all ships, boats and vessels belonging to inhabitants of this State, whether at home or abroad, and their appurtenances; all goods, chattels and effects belonging to inhabitants of this State, situate without this State, except that property actually and permanently invested [in] business in another State shall not be included; all indebtedness due to inhabitants of this State except mortgages and bills receivable, secured by mortgages, or other incumbrances on real estate situated in this State, above the amounts respectively owned by them, whether such indebtedness is due from individuals or from corporations, public or private, and whether such debtors reside within or without the State; unless the same shall be secured by mortgage on real estate situated in some State where mortgages are taxed as an interest in the land; all shares in corporations organized under the laws of this State, when the property of such corporation is not exempt or is not taxable to itself; all shares in banks organized in this State under any law of the United States, but in estimating the value of such shares, deduction shall be made of the value of all real estate taxed to the bank; all shares in foreign corporations organized under the laws of any State, or in any country, and by inhabitants of this State; all moneys, all annuities and royalties; all interests owned by individuals in lands, the fee of which is in this State or the United States, except as hereinafter provided. Property exempt from taxation by the laws of the United States shall not be included. Shares in corporations, the property of which is taxable to itself, shall not be assessed to the shareholder.

A mortgage, deed of trust, contract, or other obligation by which a debt is secured by a lien upon real property within this State, shall, for the purpose of assessment and taxation, be deemed and treated as an interest in real property, except as to [the] the property of [railroad] railroads and quasi public corporations. In such case the value of the property affected by such mortgage, deed of trust, contract or obligation, less the value of such security, shall be assessed and taxed to the owner of the property and the value of such security shall be assessed and taxed to the owner thereof, in the country and assessing district in which the property so affected is located. The taxes so levied shall be a lien upon the property and security and may be paid by either party to such security. If paid by the mortgagor or holder of the real property, such portion as was assessed to the mortgagor shall be considered and treated as payment on any interest that may be due, or if there is no interest due, then as a payment of so much principal. If paid by the mortgagee or holder of the security such portion as was assessed to the mortgagor or owner of the fee shall become a lien upon the land or real property, and be added to all other obligations, and become subject to the same terms, and conditions as such mortgage, or other security: Provided, that it shall [be unlawful] not be lawful for either party to pay the portion of the tax assessed to the other, until after the expiration of thirty days from the time the warrant for the collection of the taxes has been placed in the hands of the treasurer: Provided further, that if the said mortgagee shall neglect, or refuse, to pay the tax assessed to him as the holder of any such mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation, the treasurer shall proceed to collect the same from the mortgagor, or holder of the said real estate, in the same manner as is provided by law for collecting other taxes, and any delinquent tax accruing by reason of the failure to collect the tax assessed upon any such mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation, may be returned against the said land in the same manner as other delinquent taxes. If any such security or indebtedness shall be paid by any such debtor or debtors after the tax shall have become a lien upon the real property affected thereby, the amount of the tax levied shall become an offset against such indebtedness. It shall be the duty of the holder of any such mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation, to file with the supervisor, or other assessing officer of the township or assessing district in which the land or real property affected thereby is situated, before the tenth day of April of each year, a written statement under oath of all his estate situated in such township or assessing district, liable to assessment and taxation under the provisions of this act, otherwise a written statement of the mortgagee's interest in any such real estate may be filed with the supervisor by the mortgagor or owner of the fee. No mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation by which any incumbrance upon real estate situated in more than one assessing district shall be created, shall be accepted for record or recorded by any register of deeds within this State unless there shall be contained therein or appended thereto a statement apportioning for purposes of taxation the incumbrances so secured by such real estate upon the separate parcels of land included in such instrument for record so as to show the proportionate amounts to be assessed as an interest on each parcel in the different assessing districts. The obligor may include such apportionment in such instrument, but in case the obligor shall fail to do so, the obligee or some authorized person in his behalf may append the statement of apportionment to such instrument.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the ninth day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one. Present, J. WILLARD BARRITT, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of WILLIAM W. TUTTUS, deceased. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Lucy Ann Tuttus, praying that administration of said estate may be granted to Charles H. Worden, or some other suitable person. Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the third day of August next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And the Court further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR REGISTER, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

THE

Is Introducing in this City

THE NICKEL SAVINGS STAMP SYSTEM.

Designed Especially for

THE SAVING OF SMALL SUMS

And is Intended for Children and People of Moderate Means Laying Aside Part of their Earnings as

The Foundation of a Fortune!

This System saves the Depositor the Expense of Time, Trouble and Money in reaching the Bank, and

HAS ACHIEVED A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

In Frankfort, Germany, where it was first introduced by the Frankforter Sparkasse in 1882.

The system was first inaugurated in America, by the Citizen's Savings Bank of Detroit, Mich., and the People's Home Savings Bank of San Francisco, Cal.

A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SYSTEM.

THE Banks issue to their Agents a large number of gummed stamps similar to postage stamps, each one of which, when pasted in one of the Bank's "NICKEL SAVINGS BOOKS," has the value of five cents. Any person desiring to open a Savings Bank Account goes to the Bank's nearest agent, buys one or more stamps and receives free a NICKEL SAVINGS BOOK, each page of which is divided into twenty spaces of such size that one five cent stamp may be readily pasted within each square. When all the squares on the page are thus filled, the leaf represents $1.00. The depositor now fills out in ink the signature slip attached to the back inside cover of his book, and takes the book to an agent who tears out the leaf and the signature slip and sends both to the Bank, which files away the signature slip and issues a regular deposit account book showing a credit to the depositor of $1.00. This book is delivered through the agent to the depositor. The depositor then begins to fill another page with stamps, and when it is full he writes his name on the back of the leaf and sends it to the Bank through the agent. All money deposited in the Bank before the fifth of the month, draws interest from the first of the same month. All sums deposited after the fifth of the month, draws interest from the first of the following month. Whenever the depositor is twelve years of age, or under, the bank issues a handsome and durable Silver and Gold Face Deposit Card instead of a Deposit Book, when the first dollar's worth of stamps is deposited; but just as soon as the holder of the card has $5.00 or more deposited in the bank, he receives a regular deposit book. Money deposited by the holder of the card draws interest and can be withdrawn just the same as though the regular deposit book had been issued.

and what was his delight to find his search rewarded by the discovery of a thick bundle of letters in the familiar old style handwriting of Tom Bassett. He knew that his great-uncle had been intimate with Mr. Causten, and glancing over the letters rapidly he saw they covered a period of many years, and touched on a large number of topics of personal and family interest as well as business matters.

So, brushing off the dust, he began on his task with a born lawyer's love for his dusty family archives. The documents covered, it seemed, a period of more than twenty years, and recorded in a general way Tom Bassett's fortune, good and bad, in pushing the claim for that time. Incidentally, however, the writer had touched, with characteristic humor and kindness, on many topics, showing that his intimacy with Mr. Causten had not been confined to business. The letters contained many pungent observations on historic characters and references to legislation of by-gone days, all of which found an eager reader in his favorite nephew, and in the light of his present circumstances Windward was especially interested to find how affectionate had been Tom's relations to McArdle, then a struggling young attorney like himself.

Turning over page after page in this manner he came suddenly on a passage in one of the letters which made him drop the sheet with an exclamation of astonishment, and, like the lovers in "Ravenna," he "read no more that day."

CHAPTER XVII. A BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY.

"Yes, to the 'Old Man,'" replied Stevens. The private secretary of a railroad king is a good man to know; so Stevens had thought for some time, and especially now that earlier ambitions had revived and he yearned to get out of the department rut and make a career. Mr. Atwood, the secretary, was, moreover, as it happened, a rather interesting and companionable man, when, upon familiar acquaintance, he laid aside the reserve he maintained toward strangers. His knowledge of railroad affairs was extensive, and he was evidently a person of intelligence and capacity; thoroughgoing, accurate and prompt in his methods, and orderly in his habits, both good and bad. His views of life and men were cynical but keen, and often very witty even where unjust. His position was one of trust and authority, bringing him into confidential relations with his chief, with whom his influence would be potential in determining the fortunes of others.

Stevens had often laid before himself the career of a successful railroad man as preferable to almost all others. There was something solid and yet romantic in it that gave it in his eyes a powerful attraction. It was based on iron. It bound the world together. The machinery was noble; and those smoking bolts of trade, discharged with precision, sped along their appointed tracks like the stars in their tangled orbits. The locomotive is the most human of machines; it breathes, eats, works and sleeps; it is emotional; has the silks, groans and pants under heavy tasks, yet rejoices in its strength; is patient and resolute, and finally rushes proudly home on time; it is a thing to love, and men have died for it.

Then, as a business, the carrying trade was most alluring to him through its enormous bulk, its usefulness, the honesty and nicety of attention it involved, the high and various intelligence demanded, the stalwart attributes of human nature, energy, fidelity, competence, virtue, courage and the like called into action, and the opportunity and scope it furnished for the most splendid ambition. And of late its political bearing had impressed him. There was a time when gentility chiefly consisted in killing people, and the warrior or professional homicide was the greatest man; but the new kings are the kings of trade, and our new nobility boards of directors. Hence he longed for the wealth, power and standing of the successful railroad man. And now love came to taunt him with his littleness and to show him the awards that wait on prosperous valor.

Mr. Atwood, however, gave him little encouragement. Salaries in railroad offices, he said, were small and promotion slow. The great fortunes were made by speculation aided by rascality—a lucky combination of good guessing and good lying.

"It's diamond out diamond," said the secretary. "And the old man is like all the rest of them. As for me, I got tired of working for other people some time ago. I work now for Mr. Atwood. Still, I can do a favor yet. I used to be poor myself; you have some money?"

fun. Well, rich young men must do something to kill time. "He is much in earnest," said Stevens, not quite relishing this levity, "and we hope to get the money."

The secretary shook his head. "Stocks are queer, but I guess I'll stick to them." "Possibly here was Stevens' chance. "And I would," he exclaimed, "if I knew the ropes."

"Oh, well," said Atwood, with an evil cynical smile, "it's not my business to give the OMA Man away, and if I let you have a pointer, do for — sake keep it quiet with your friend."

And then in a stolid, callous fashion, he proceeded "to give the Old Man away," as he phrased it, or, in plainer English, to betray the company's plans. It was very simple, and soon over; but that moment made Stevens an older man. The curtain was drawn aside, and he saw before him a road to wealth, but it lay through villainy. He could make a fortune by marketing stolen information.

"Mind, I don't advise," said Atwood. "As I just said, stocks are queer." "I understand," replied Stevens. "And I will try to repay you somehow and some time."

"Oh, give and take is my motto," said the secretary. "You can do me a good turn some time. Only don't spread this. I want to do all the spreading myself. Early information is good capital for a rising young secretary, you understand." And here, dismissing the whole subject with a laugh, he lit a fresh cigar and began to talk of something else.

This opportunity, or temptation, cost Stevens a restless night. It might be his chance, and yet he hesitated; possibly he was silly with love and didn't know a business opening when it came to him. He was confused; he wished he might forget he felt tarnished with guilty knowledge as one who unwittingly had eaten forbidden fruit. He hesitated to open the matter to his friend, and yet when the morning came he decided to do so.

Windward heard the story with surprise and attention, though he showed less excitement than Stevens himself felt and expected to arouse by his recital. For Bassett, while not rich, in today's use of the word, had money enough to bring him that knowledge of mankind that comes from possessing, even in a limited degree, what one's neighbors lack, but greatly craved. He had been shown schemes of easy millions before. However, the matter was worth consideration. Atwood was perfidious, to be sure, and his turpitude might not spring from pure benevolence. Very likely he had his motive, but that was his lookout. Facts were still facts, and Windward, while he confessed to compunctions, and despised the traitor, saw no great objection, morally, to using information acquired without any corrupt act on his part.

"But Col. McArdle is my counsel; I'll consult him," he said to his friend. "Would that be fair to Atwood?" ventured Stevens.

Windward's lips curled. "Fair enough," he replied.

To McArdle, therefore, he went and presented the essentials of the scheme, the colonel listening with his usual serenity.

"Well," he said after hearing the story through, "it's plausible. That's the way men make money—trading in stolen secrets. I've done it myself. But you want to be sure they are secrets, and, so to speak, honestly stolen. Look out for the three card monte game."

Windward nodded, thrust his hands into his trousers' pockets with the air of a man of affairs, and after brooding thus a moment over the colonel's advice, looked up in his face with a laugh, and said: "Much obliged. I won't touch it," and went home. Arriving there, he found Stevens pacing up and down the room, evidently much excited.

"Well, I've decided to let it alone," said Windward. "I'm glad of it; very glad," exclaimed Stevens. "That Atwood is a rascal!" "Evidently," said Windward coolly. "A great rascal," Stevens went on angrily, "and we know it. He is robbing his employer's safe and we see him at it. And I want to know what we ought to do as decent, honest people?"

"Pshaw, Stevens!" exclaimed Windward; "you may be right abstractly, but really I don't see as we are called upon to interfere or that it is any of our business. As Atwood said, it's diamond cut diamond. I presume the 'Old Man,' as Atwood affectionately calls him, is doing the same thing constantly on a larger scale."

Stevens strode up and down the room, not convinced, shaking his head, revolving angry thoughts. It was rare that this even tempered, sensible man was so agitated. Windward did not remember having seen him in a similar passion but once or twice before, and then something had happened shortly after! Across and across the floor he went, saying nothing, for he was one of the dangerous sort of men who show excitement by growing silent. But finally he burst out:

"I can't see it as you do, Windward. I see simple villainy, and that of a detestable sort. I am half inclined to go to headquarters."

"To the 'Old Man?' exclaimed Windward, astonished and half amused. "Yes, to the 'Old Man,'" replied Stevens sternly. "Well," cried Windward, at a loss what to say. He admired his friend's courage and honesty, and yet, somehow, it seemed ridiculous. At that moment a knock sounded on the door. Windward opened it, and found Mr. Atwood standing in the entry.

great Americans, easily accessible. The call boy who took up the card returned with a request that the visitor come up at once; and so, following the servant, Stevens proceeded directly to an upper room in the hotel, where the railroad man was found alone and busily writing at a disorderly desk.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Other Reason.

"I hear Gus is going to be married?" "Yes," "Is he in love?" "No; in debt." "Ho! my sisters, see the banner waving in the sky, Are you broken-down, discouraged? Courage! help is nigh. On that banner read this legend: 'Suffering women, hail! Pierce's Favorite Prescription Never was known to fail.' The success of this remedy is wonderful. Its record is unparalleled. It has cured thousands of cases of female weakness, irregularities, and all diseases peculiar to the sex. It can always be depended on to do exactly what is claimed for it. All the proprietors ask is a trial. That will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful virtues. Price ($1.00) refunded if it fails to give satisfaction. Guarantee printed on every bottle-wrapper.

From an Alliance Standpoint. To keep the people divided is the aim of the capitalists, monopolists and their tools, and for this purpose many of their hired henchmen are gaining admission into the Alliance. No greater enemy to the reform move have we than those double-dealing traitors, whose sole aim in life is to betray others' confidence for a few pieces of silver. These dogs in the manger are within the bounds of every county in the state, and in order to move along harmoniously we must keep our guns well trained against such vampires.—Alliance Bulletin, Harper, Kan.

Stop And Think.

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

A Farmer Writes.

"Hibbard's Herb Extract is a wonderful blood purifier; it cured my boy of several of the worst form." See Mrs. Hibbard's picture in another part of this paper. Read of her own case. Remember she gives advice free to all who write her.

A Model Railway.

The Burlington Route, C. B. & Q. R. R., operates 7,000 miles of road, with termini in Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City and Denver. For speed, safety, comfort, equipment, track and efficient service it has no equal. The Burlington gains new patrons, but loses none.

Great Luck.

First pickpocket—Bill was over to Philadelphia the other day. Second pickpocket—Did he do any business? "Got his hand into a banker's pocket." "What luck did he have?" "Frustrate; got his hand back."

Via the West Michigan to Petoskey.

Commencing with the new schedule of the Chicago & West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing & Northern, in effect June 21st, the line of steamers between Traverse City and Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace will commence operations. The steamers on this line this season will be the well and favorably known "City of Grand Rapids" and "Gazelle." They will leave Traverse City at 7:00 A. M. every day except Sunday, upon arrival of the C. & W. M. passenger train, which leaves Grand Rapids at 11:30 P. M., landing passengers immediately at the boat dock.

The ride down the beautiful Grand Traverse Bay is one of the pleasant features of this route to the northern country and one much in favor by tourists. Plenty of time is given at Traverse City for breakfast at the Park Place, favored by all to all who have visited the Traverse Bay region.

Northport is reached at 9:20 A. M., Charlevoix at 11:30, Petoskey 1:30 P. M., Harbor Springs 2:00 P. M., Mackinac Island 7:15 P. M. and St. Ignace 8:00 P. M. in time for connection with the D. S. S. & A. Ry. for Marquette and points beyond. Through sleeping cars will be run from Chicago and Grand Rapids to Traverse City, good connection being made at Grand Rapids by the train leaving Detroit at 6:00 P. M. via the Detroit, Lansing & Northern. Parlor car on this train from Detroit to Grand Rapids. For further information regarding rates, etc., apply to any ticket agent.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC In its Worst Form. I suffered from the following: James Keeney, who was suffering from Vitus Dance in its worst form for about one and a fourth years, was treated by several physicians without effect; two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic cured him.

For sale, Ohio, Oct. 25, 1891. I used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a lady 25 years old; every two or three weeks she had a serious attack of falling sickness, accompanied with headache and was driven to madness; she was sent once to an insane asylum. The doctors could not relieve her; I began with one bottle of your medicine; she had taken three-quarters of it, and she wrote to me a few days later: "The medicine helps me much; I think another bottle will cure me."

A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address, simply enclosing a few cents to obtain this medicine free of charge. This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1858 and is now prepared under his direction by the
