HOMPSON AND BENNETT.

HE CITIZENS FOUGHT FOR EN-FORCEMENT OF THE LAW AND WON.

Hot Election-Largest Vote Polled at a Spring Election in Years—Scenes and Incidents—Exciting Close of the Court—Thompson 43 Ahead, Bennett 122—Watts and Miller Defeat Wines and Mills-The Returns Tabulated.

It was the hottest spring election in ears say those that know whereof they peak. The day opened with as fine Republican weather as ever shone upon Ann Arbor, turned Democratic towards oon and closed glorious once more. A heavy vote was polled. 1945 ballots were cast for the two candidates for mayor and enough more abortive votes were found in the boxes to indicate that over 2000 citizens paricipated in the election. Excitement was intense at times and considerable personal feeling was manifested by a ew warm partisans of the losing side. Carriages were flying about to bring in the infirm and preoccupied. The Demerats were confident with respect to the city ticket claiming the election by 200 to 250, while it was equally certain o them that Kinne would have a fine

At noon it was reported that so far only a light vote had been cast, but rom that time on they in thick and fast, and when the polls closed at 5 standard it was evident that a very large number of people had expressed themselves, and also that the election was a close one. In all the wards but the Sixth the city vote was counted first. The first real scare for the Dem. ocrats, was the report that the Second ward had given Mann only 165 majority and Watts 156, and shortly after it was learned that the Fourth had gone for Thompson by 21 majority. The scare became a panic. Everything finally turned on the Sixth. Mann went into the Sixth ward it was said 153 ahead and Watts 178 ahead. Here was the final struggle. Here before a split ticket was counted was a clean majority of 122 for Thompson and Wines. The splits were going regularly 4 to 1 for Thompson, with 102 to count. There were eager eyes following the pens on the tally sheets, eager ears noting the regular businesslike and unemotional call of Alderman Kitson. It was finished. Pencils flew, and the very stillness seemed charged with electricity. Theyarious candidates came in. They were all there but Mann when suddenly Thompson's majority was announced 182. 39 majority shouted some one, and everyone gathered around the genial mayor elect and congratulated him heartily. Then it was discoverd that Wines was still short, that he needed fifteen more votes; and Watts who had just come in exchanged congratulations with him. Bennett and Miller also came in for their share of the felicitations and Mills and Butts for the condolences.

'Who threw that brick." Watts was congratulated that he saw it com ing and got behind a tree. Mills was congratulated that he made such a magnificent run against such a popular candidate as Miller. The Kinne returns were in now also. 622 majority in the city, and 111 in the town of Ann Arbor was an elegant starter, and before the crowd dispersed it was sure that he had won a magnificent victory. The returns are published here complete so far as obtainable.

Kinne's Campaign.

Judge Edward D. Kinne has been reelected by an overwhelming majority. The county has certainly given him 1200 and perhaps more. There have been many surprises; some of the Democratic strongholds going for Kinne. Ann Arbor gave him a majority of 622 out of a total vote of not less than 1850, and Ann Arbor town added III to it. The following townships gave majorities for Kinne as follows: Freedom, 139; Lima, 97; Manchester, 1; Pittsfield, 75; Salem, 100; Saline, 1; Scio, 63; Sharon 75; Sylvan, 82, and Webster, 56. Gilday carried several towns as fellows: Dexter, 34; Lodi, 15; Lyndon, 24; Northfield, 30; York, 18. There are four more towns to hear from. Ypsilanti city gave Kinne 48. Gilday's majority in Monroe county is not over 300 and probably will not reach over 250.

Election Notes.

Ann Arbor gave Hooker 892, Durand 868, Walker 62, and Grece 21 votes for supreme court judge. For regent, Fletcher and Kiefer polled 877 each, while Bunker and Harman stood 868 and 867 respectively.

Sylvan elected township officers as follows: supervisor, J. R. Gilbert; clerk, F. Roedel; treas., G. W. Beckwith; J. of P., Mr. Turn Bull; highway comis., J. Runciman; drain comis., Mr. Schweinfurth; board of review, J. Cook; school insp., Ira Glover; constables, J. Stafford; Rush Green, Chauncy Hummel.

Lima elected the following officers by narrow majorities. Mesers. Whipple and Lewick are the only Republicans: supervisor, Walter H. Dancer; board of of review, John J. Gross; clerk, William Covert; treas., David E. Beach; highway comis., Mason Whipple; J. of P., Jerome L. Parker; school insp., Otto Lewick; drain comis., Frederick Klein; constables, David E. #### The American Physicians.

Next September a Pan-American medical congress will be held in Washington, D. C. Most extensive preparations are being made for a grand occasion. Every country on the two American continents is expected to send a good delegation. The move-American Medical Association held at Washington last May, where a resolution inviting the medical profession of the Western Hemisphere to this assembly was adopted, and measures taken to secure the success of the undertaking. Congress passed a joint resolution authorizing the president of the U.S. to invite the several governments of the new world to send delegates.

A very perfect organization has been effected. William Pepper, M. D., LL. D., of Philadelphia is president of the congress, and Dr. Chas. A. L. Reed, of Cincinnati, secretary-general. Dr. H. O. Walker, of Detroit, is vice-president for Michigan, every state and country being thus honored.

The congress will have twenty-two different sections, the most important of which is stated to be the one on general medicine. The president of this section is Dr. V. C. Vaughan of this city, There is every prospect of a most successful meeting. Over forty | the advent of spring and which has papers by eminent physicians and surgeons have been promised. Everything will be published. In October the International Medical Association meets in Rome, Italy, and a special steamer will leave New York to carry the Pan-Americans to that city shortly after the conclusion of the Washington exercises.

A Family Reunion.

An exceedingly enjoyable family reunion occurred at the residence of Mrs. E. D. Edmunds last week Saturday. Her sister Mrs. Dr. Th. F. Taylor of Denver Colo. was with her and the relatives were invited in to assist in celebrating the fortieth anniversary of their birth. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hull of Hamburg were present, it being also the anniversary of their wedding day. The father of the ladies Mr. G. L. Hull, formerly of Ann Arbor, now of Hamburg, their sister, Miss. Belle Hull of Detroit were also present, the latter receiving many congratulations on her witty speech at the banquet given Prof. LucyM.Salmon inDetroit recently.Two The scenes down town were even as brothers Prof. L. The debaters from Wisconsin were also delegates to attend to the formation of permanent league. It was found impossible to reach a conclusion in the negotations here, because Wisconsin wished the judges to decide strickly on the basis of the argument and Michigan stood out to have oratorical finish also considered.

The 'Varsity nine will set out on their southern trip shortly. Their first game will be at Lexington, Ky. April 15, with the Kentucky State College. Toey will then visit Center College at Danville Ky, Kentucky University at Frankfort, St. Louis Mo., where they will meet the Browns, the U. of Ill. at Champaign, Wabash College, Ind., and probably Chicago University. The trip will take less than ten days.

The annual frolic with which the freshmen and the sophomores welcome frequently been so runious to the fences and the nocturnal repose of our citizens, has taken a mos harmless form so far this year. A sone weighing somewhat less than haf a ton was preempted by the freshmen who painted their number on it. Then the sophs carved their number on it, then it was painted a giddy red bythe freshmen. And thus the game went on till the laws intervened as arbtrators. It took all night till broad day light to settle the matter, the stone being finally interred in the triangular space before the law building. An effort at resurrection has been mavailingly made.

Luther Palmer of Dexter described a form of spraying pump which he had devised which would be operated like a wheelbarrow and which could be sold much cheaper than most of the pumps now in use. Little new was learned in regard to fighting insects. Several of the members had recently received a circular in regard to a new appliance for keeping insects from trees. It consisted of a shield of tin in the shape of an inverted umbrella which was to be fastened around the body of the tree. Mr. Ganzhorn stated that it was a good thing, particularly to exclude the climbing cut worm, but he had used nearly the same thing many years ago. In reply to a question to a remedy for the black squash bug Mr. Crozier stated he knew of nothing better than chips or lumps of earth placed in the hill. The insects hide under these at night and may be gathered in the cool of the morning.

John M. Wheeler.

The funeral services of Mr. John M. Wheeler, who died on Wednesday morning last of pneumonia at St.Augustine, Fla., were held last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Andrew's Church.

The honorary pall bearers were Edward Treadwell, Emil Baur, Philip Bach, James Clements, Prof. B. M Thompson, Dr. Charles B. Nancrede, Dr. William J. Herdman, E. B. Pond, and H. J. Brown, and the active pall bearers were Dr. J. C. Wood, S. W. Clarkson, Hon. E. D. Kinne, Geo. H Pond, Chas. S. Denison and Chas. S.

The following account of his life is he same as that printed in the Times. Mr. Wheeler was born in Providence, Saratoga county, N. Y., in the year 1821. In his youth he attended the Amsterdam Academy. In the year 1841 he graduated from Union college at Schenectedy, N. Y. He then devoted himself to the study of the law and was admitted to the bar in Wabash, Ind., in the year 1843. There for 15 years he enjoyed a lucrative practice. His health failing he came to Ann Arbor, where he resided until his death. He was interested in many of the city's business enterprises, being the president of the Forest Hill Cemetery Association, vice-president of the First National Bank, and a director in the Ann Arbor Agricultural Co. Mr. Wheeler was married twice, his second wife, nee Miss Mary McCauley, and his daughter, Mrs. Clara Luther, of Medina, N. Y. and grand-daughter, Miss Christine Lilly, survive him. Mr. Wheeler was a great student and possessed a large iibrary of valuable books. For several years he was the nominal treasurer of the University, the First National Bank caring for the work. Mr. Wheeler was the senior warden of St. Andrew's Episcopal church and was devoted to its interests and welfare. He will not only be missed in the church, but also by a large circle of friends who sincerely respected and valued his many good qualities of mind and heart.

in the public prints. The burden of them has been that wherever a visitor to the fair would turn he would be obliged to pay a fee. It has even been stated that nothing could be enjoyed erwise, both in this country and abroad, and in reply to many letters of inquiry or complaint touching the same matters, it seems advisable that some official statement regarding them should be made to the public. Therefore I re-spectfully ask that the widest publicity be given to the following facts:

IN A BURNING HOTEL.

The Terrible Fate of Five Persons at Bradford, Pa.

BRADFORD, Pa., April 3.-Fire Saturday destroyed the Higgms hotel, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh depot, the Higgins cigar factory and the grocery store and building of J. Leroy. At least six persons were burned to death and the list of the injured numbers between twenty and thirty. The bodies of five persons have already been taken from the ruins and are burned beyond recognition. Friday night 125 persons went to sleep in the building, and while it is known that many had jumped from the second and third story windows it was feared that many others had perished in the flames. with Deadly Effect. St. Joseph, Mo., April 4.-Many burglaries have been committed in Mound City during the past six months. Sunday night Edward Shellenberger, a merchant, while watching in his store was confronted by four masked men. He captured three of them and shot the other dead. The thieves proved to be the sons of four of the most respected residents of the town. They confessed to having committed all the robberies. Owing to their social position and the fact that the leader of the band was killed the merchants who were robbed refused to prosecute them. Their relatives made good all the losses.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, April 4.-It appears from a resolution introduced in the senate Monday as if the debate on the subject of the election of senators by a direct vote of the people was to be renewed at this extra session of the senate. Senator Hoar (Mass.) introduced a resolution of which the following is lution sent to the senate by the house during the last congress should be adopted, for such a method of election would essentially change the character of the senate as con-ceived by the convention that framed the constitution and the people who adopted it. It requires the substitution of pluralities for majorities; transfers the political power in great states, now distributed evenly over their territory, to the great cities and masses of population; creates new temptation to fraud, and will give rise to numerous election contests. In conclusion the resolution says that such a method implies what the whole current of our history shows to be untrue— that the senate has during the last century failed to meet the just expectations of the people and that the state legislatures have proved themselves unfit to be the depositories of the power of electing senators.

They Are Made by Judges Taft and Ricks in the Ann Arbor Cases-Injunction on Chief Arthur-Boycotters Are Conspirators.

KNOCKED OUT.

TOLEDO, O., April 4 .- The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is declared to be a conspiracy against the laws of the country by Judge Tafts, and the temporary injunction prayed for against Chief Arthur in the Ann Arbor boycott case is allowed. The decision was read in the United States circuit court by Judge Ricks at the same time that he rendered his decision in the case of the Lake Shore engineers who, obeying the laws of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, refused to handle Ann Arbor freight, as there was a strike on that road. In the latter case the court held Engineer James Lennon for contempt because he had been twice ordered to move the cars by the officials of the company and did not do so until ordered to do so by the brotherhood officers after the boycott was raised. The seven other men were discharged.

Judge Ricks' decision in the cases of the eight engineers and firemen arraigned for contempt of court was first delivered, amid breathless attention. It was not as radical as the men feared, and does not assume to compel men to work against their will. Notice of appeal was at once given by JUDGE RICK'S DECISION. Judge Ricks' decision in effect compels one railroad to receive freight and passengers from another in conformity with the interstate commerce law, and is as follows: "This suit was instituted by the Ann Arbor Railroad company to compel the Lake Shore and other railroads to handle its business known as interstate freight. The interstate commerce law made it mandatory upon con commerce law made it mandatory upon connecting railroads to receive and deliver passengers and freight, and to afford equal facilities for the interchange of traffic. Corporations can act only through their officers, agents and servants, so that the mandatory provisions of the law which apply to the corporation apply with equal force to its officers and employes.

The authority of the court to issue such an order has been questioned, but it rests on wellestablished principles. It is said the orders issued in this case are without precedent.
Every just order or rule known to equi-Every just order or rule known to equi-ty courts was born of some emergency to meet some new conditions and was therefore meet some new conditions and was therefore in its time without a precedent. equitable relief. "As hereinbefore intimated, the duties of an employe of a public corporation are such that employe of a public corporation are such that he cannot always choose his own time for quitting that service. The parties now charged with contempt must be tried on the facts as they have been made to appear; and having fully considered them, I conclude that Engineers Clark, Case, Rutger and Conley, and their firemen as named, quit the service of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad under circumstances when they had a right to do so and that they are not, therefore, in contempt of court because of such conduct, and they will be discharged. In reaching this conclusion I have treated these cases as criminal in character, and given the accused the benefit of the reasonable doubt, especially as to the extent to which they had conspired to act concertedly in quitting service in a way to injure their employer and aid in inforcing a boycott. An act when done by an individual in the exercise of a right may be lawful, but when done by a member conspiring to injure or improperly influence another may be unlawful. One or more employes may lawfull out their One or more employes may lawfully quit their employer's service at will; but a combination of a number of them to do so for the purpose of mjuring the public and oppressing employers by unjustly subjecting them thus to the power of the confederates for extortion or for mischief

CIRCUIT COURT'S DECISION.

CIRCUIT COURT'S DECISION. After Judge Ricks' decision was ren-dered in the case of the engineers and firemen, he proceeded to read the decision of the circuit court, composed of himself and Judge Taft, in the motion of the Ann Arbor company asking a temporary injunction against Chief Arthur restraining him from issuing any order which shall require or command any employe of any of the defendant railroad companies to receive, handle or deliver any cars o freight in course of transportation from one state to another from and to the Ann Arbor read and prohibiting him, from in any way directly or indirectly, endeavoring persuade or induce any employes o the railway companies whose lines connect with the Ann Arbor not to extend to the said company the same facilities for interchange of interstate traffic as are extended by said compan ies to other roads. The decision, which was written by Judge Taft, grants the injunction prayed for, and declares that if the members of the brotherhood, in obedi ence to rule 12, boycotted freight, the "become guilty of criminal conspirac against their country."

BUSINESS REVIEW.

The Volume of Trade Increased-Imports Greatly Exceed Exports. New York, April 1 .- The weekly review of trade says: The fact of largest influence in the record of the last week has been the increased distribu-tion of goods. The stringency often seen about April I does not appear here, nor are other money markets close. But while imports great-ly exceed exports it is not safe to calculate that outgoes of gold will not again disturb confioutgoes of gold will not again disturb confi-

Wheat in Chicago had a sudden fall of 7 cents in one day, but as prices there have been 15 to 20 cents higher than at other western cities and 8 cents higher than at New York, markets s cents higher than at New York, markets were little affected anywhere else and here are only an eighth lower. But the price in Great Britain is the lowest ever known. Corn fell 2½ cents, with small sales, and oats 1½ cents, and the break in hog products reached 75 cents per barrel in pork and a cent in lard.

Exports in four weeks at New York have been $5,355,600 less than last year, indicating a total for the month not far from $76,000,000, while the increase in imports at New York alone has been about $11,000,000, indicating a total for the month of more than $57,000,000.

total for the month of more than $97,000,000. This great excess in imports following the excess of $35,000,000 in January and February is the basis of doubts about the immediate mon ary future. Failures in the first quarter of the year—3,303 in number—were fewer than in either of the last three years and, though in amount of lis-bilities larger, the average of liabilities is still quite low, less than $14,800. The business fail-quite low, less than $14,800. The business failures occurring throughout the country in the last seven days number 194, as compared with totals of 243 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 218.

Cool and clear weather generally has improved the prospect for spring trade. In central western states a fair movement of merchandise is reported, and although prospects are improved in the northwest business continues retarded there. In the south it remains quiet, as heretofore. Reports of improving trade characterize advices from western districts, where there ize advices from western districts, where there are numerous arrivals of country buyers and orders for spring goods. In no previous spring have reports of the effect on general trade of bad roads south, west and northwest been so conspicuous as recently.

TEN MEN KILLED.

The Terrible Fate of Miners in Pennsylvania.

The Carelessness of a Miner in Filling His Lamp the Cause of the Disaster-Heartrending Scenes at the Mouth of the Pit.

AN AWFUL FATE

SHAMOKIN, Pa., April 8.-The careessness of a Hurgarian miner in filling his lamp in the slope of the Neilson shaft at 6:50 o'clock Saturday morning caused a fire by which ten men lost their lives. The names of the victims are: James Brennan, Mike Brennan, John Burtt, Joe Bortrex, Nick Dalton, John Garry, Fred Ginter, John Roble, John Ryan and Frank Shupes. Attempts were made to fight the fire, but those who started to do so were compelled to flee for their lives. They succeeded in reaching the bottom of the shaft and were hauled to the surface along with some belated miners, who owe their lives to the fact that they did not go to work at their usual

The ten men who lost their lives were at work in the Red Ash vein, located nearly 100 feet above where the fire broke out. Through an air way from the lower vein to the Red Ash vein the smoke poured, suffocating the unfortunates like rats in a trap.

About midday a rescuing party of six brave men went down the shaft and entered the burning vein. The smoke was so dense that they were compelled to lie down on their stomachs and keep wet sponges to their nostrils to avoid suffocation. When they had proceeded a short distance they came across the bodies of two men locked in each other's arms. They were the Brennan brothers, James and Michael. Further on the bodies of eight more men were found, making ten dead in all. The bodies were removed to the surface with much difficulty. They were taken to the blacksmith shop, where the most pathetic scenes were witnessed. Three of the men were married and had large families. The others were young men, averaging less than 25 years of age. Thirty dead mules are in the mine.

OUR POLICY.

THE policy of THE REGISTER in the past campaign has been denounced by the Democratic ring and their sympathizers with an eloquence of profanity seldon equaled in this city. Honest men hove been misled by the energy of this wituperation to believe that THE REGIS had stooped to wilful personal vili-Seation in its campaign methods. The trouble arose simply from the fact that THE REGISTER lifted the veil and showed the inside workings of the Democratic esavention. It had the courage to openly tell the truth, to state the facts. amdenied and undeniable, which the ming found very much adverse to its interests to bave known. The state ments of this paper were distorted and misapplied, while a malicious libel was circulated about its proprietor. Certain people must look to it that they Bradle their speech or they will find that tongue wagging may become a mostly pastime.

THE REGISTER has a contemporary among the papers of this city whose agotism is as monsterous as its inmence is microscopic. Prominent men have from time to time, fearing discredit to the city, taken pains to go in and straighten out the policy at that paper and get it into line with the city's interests. This, while has caused curious loops and curves in that paper's line of policy, has resulted in its being most generally on the right side in the end when always gleefully claims credit for originating the whole movement and for carrying it through. This paper in the recent campaign began by midiculing the Municipal Club and ended by adopting its policy and now claims the credit for the victory remently won by that organization. But seemed out of its element when agating in the ranks of our best citizens for good government, and now it turns completely around and comes cut with an editorial endorsement of the mend slinging at the REGISTER of the past campaign. It has become the sorest headed of the sore-heads. This can only be explained on the basis that it suddenly realizes that it has been out of its element while associating with a party that has principles and works for reform.

Special days are to be a great feature at the World's Fair. Nearly, if not quite every state of the Union will have its day, upon which special exercises will be held, and its governor and staff, other state officers, militia and thousamis of its distinguished and other citizens will be in attendance. Many musical, civic and secret societies also have made application for a special day apon which to hold exercises peculiar to themselves. Among them are Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Foresters. The Welsh Pythias and Foresters. The Welsh a musical celebration. It is believed that these special features will draw many additional thousands of visitors to the Fair. Arrangements for these associal days are being made by Col. Culp, secretary of the Ceremonies Comsmittee, which had the Dedication Day exercises in charge.

THE TRUTH OF IT.

Is There Any Limit to Human Endurance?

A Revelation Which Will Astonish Most People.

And Yet It Is in Reality of Every Day Occurrence.

The following communication is from one of our correspondents, Mrs. Carrie E. Martin, a lady wellknown and highly respected and who occupies a position of the highest social distinction in West Leyden, Mass. Her experience is of such a nature and its importance to many is so great and far-reaching, that we give it to our readers in her own words.

"Last summer I was all run down, had chills, no appetite, very little sleep nights and none days, faint spells, trembling feelings and was so weak I could hardly walk around the room. I continued to run down in health and strength until I feared utter nervous prostration with its untold miseries.

"I sent for our town physician and he came a good many times. soon had to give up work entirely, still his medicines did me no good. I tried to ride out one morning, but went only a few rods and had to come home. My husband then went to church, leaving me with the hired help and my children. Such a terrible day as I spent tongue cannot describe. I could scarcely get from the couch to a chair.

"When my husband came in from church I told him I was worse and that I would die if I did not get help soon; that I would not take any more of the doctor's medicine but try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, if he thought best.

"He advised me to try it and went immediately and got a bottle, which I began to take; up to this time we knew nothing of its value except as we had seen it advertised.

MRS. CARRIE E. MARTIN. "In the course of two days our family physician came in and, saying that he found me about the same, finally told me that he had concluded to ask for counsel. He informed me that I might choose any doctor I preferred to meet him in consultation.

"I said to him, 'then you consider

"He answered, 'I certainly do, and shall not prescribe for you again until some other doctor sees you, as I do not know what to give you

"I then said to him, 'perhaps you will be offended, but I have not taken any of your medicine for two days but am taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. "He answered, 'I am not offended

f it will help you I shall be very glad. You may continue its use a week and if no better, then we will have counsel.' "But at the end of a week I was better. In two weeks I was a good deal better, no chills, no faint feelings, I could eat some and sleep quite well. In three weeks I was around and about the house. In four weeks my hired girl left me and I went to doing my housework alone, and have since continued to do so, with seven in the family.

"Since that time our family physician has advised its use from time to time, saying that it would keep up my strength better. He has advised others to take it, telling them of the good it did me, and today I have reason, yes great reason, to thank God for my recovery, and through the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I am only too glad to testify to its merits. Good bless Dr. Greene and his wonderful medicine." This remarkable remedy is purely vegetable and harmless, and can be procured at any drug store for $1 per bottle. Like the above able and excellent physician, all doctors of high standing recommend the sick to use it, for it cures. It is especially recommended to take as a spring medicine. Everybody needs a spring medicine and both physicians and the people unite in pronouncing this the best of spring remidies. Use it now, sure. Doctors prescribe and recommend it because it, is not a patent medicine but a physicians prescription, the discovery of the eminent specialist, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who is so wonderfully successful in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, and who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

University hall was fairly well filled last Friday evening, when the picked debaters of the two leading universities in the great Central region of our continent met in friendly contest. "Resolved that the U. S. should subsidize her merchant marine," was the question discussed, Michigan speaking in the affirmative. Her repre-entatives were C. T. Purdy, A. W. Jefferis and I. B. Lipson while Wisconsin's champions were J. F. Griffen, J. J. Blake, and J. T. Lindley. At a few minutes after 8 o'clock President Angell, ex-Congress man Allen who was to act as president of the evening, and the six debaters took their places on the platform. The judges who were Judge Henry M. Shephard of the Appelate Court of Chicago, Supt. H. W. Compton of the Toledo Schools and Hon. J. D. Conely of Detroit, took their positions far back in the rear of the hall. After the Freshman gleeclub had sung the Yellow and Blue in a superior style, President Angell briefly but most cordially welcomed the Wisconsin delegation, and finished by performing what he claimed to be a most perfunctory task, that of introducing Capt. E. P. Allen "Who is as well known here as the town pump.' Capt. Allen wittily remarked "Seeing I am so much better known than I thought I was, I'll not say anything," and called on Mr. Purdy to open the

Mr. Purdy discussed the decline of American shipping interests and the causes therefor and showed how prostrate our industries would be should a general European war deprive us of foreign vessels to transport our commodities. He argued that the subsidizing policy was the only effectual way of dealing with the situation. He made out a strong case.

Mr. Gr ffen of Wis, took up the neg-ative. He claimed jus as active an interest in the American shipping as the affirmative. Subsidizing was wrong from an economic standpoint. Its whole history in the U.S. was against it. It had been tried in several cases. It encouraged recklessness and waste in the company's management, and led to fraud. The first subsidies were used to induce Congress to grant more and larger ones. In days of wooden shipping Americans led the world. The cause of the decline was the enormous expenses of the American shipper as compared with foreigners, under the american navigation laws. By a carefully prepared chart he showed that an American ship pays on an average $990 in fees where an English ship pays but $4 each trip. Or stated in another way the American shipper pays 3 per cent. on his invested capital each year in fees of various kinds, where the vessels of foreign register pay nothing. This is the reason why Americans cannot compete, their domestic taxing system prevents it. After a delightful musical interlude by the Freshman Mandolin Club, Mr. Jefferis continued the case of Michigan. He made two main points, that we must have a merchant marine and that to subsidized is the only way to secure it. He very ably and conclusively showed the prime importance of an American shipping to our further economic development; it is the next link in our transportation system and opens for us the foreign markets. He showed how our Pacific merchant marine had been practically swept from that sea in late years by the subsidizing policy of England, which paid the English Pacific steamship lines 10 per cent, on cost of building to enablethem to ruin their competitors and secure the monopoly of the business.

If we had free ships and untaxed shipping, we must yet subsidize in order to place the American merchant on equal terms with the foreigner.

Mr. Blake, Wis. urged that Americans can produce ships as cheaply and can man them as cheaply as foreigners, that we have the capital at a low enough rate of interest so that if all commercial restrictions were removed we could compete with foreigners on equal terms therefore subsidizing was unnecessary.

Mr. I. P. Lipson who was the most agile debater on the floor, now took up the case of Michigan. He declared that we had to do with a business situation. Subsidies were allowable here if ever-We had always subsidized in similar emergencies. To grant money to a steamship line was no more than a grant of land to a railroad company or a canal. This policy had built up our magnificent internal commerce and must now be used to build up our foreign commerce. We had never tried it as a definite policy for the merchant marine. A few times long ago an attempt had been made to bolster up some failing companies unsuccessfully as might have been expected. Other nations in emergencies like this had adopted the subsidy system successfully. England subsidized to-day. Cities grow by giving inducements to capital, it is a familiar business principal that there is an inertia in capital to be overcome and that subsidizing an industry at the outset is a legitimate way of doing it.

Mr. Lindley who closed for Wis. also showed himself to be a very strong debater. He claimed that England did not subsidize in the accepted meaning of the term. Only 2 per cent of her shipping receive any pay from the government, and that very small frac tion render services that are worth every penny they receive. How about the 98 per cent, receiving nothing from the government, were they protected by the small sums paid the two per cent? He concluded by stating that subsidies were wrong in principle, ineffectual, unnecessary, and practically abandoned by the leading nations. Mr. Lipson was given three minutes to close for the affirmative and he got in some telling blows for Michigan. He quoted Fawcett that England did subsidize new lines to get them established. They say it's unscientific, we say its business, they offer no remedy for the evil, we say subsidize.

After consultation the judges reported that the winners were ahead but by the narrowest kind of a margin; that victory had alternately perched first on one side and then on the other; upon Michigan however, it finally rested.

Thus closed a truly well fought contest. The Wisconsin men had certainly planned their campaign the more systematically; and they presented their case in a way that left nothing to be quick at repartee, not so ready to shift their ground and not so skillful at replying to the arguments of their adversaries as the Michigan men. It was to this superior readiness that Mich gan probably owes her narrowly and hard won victory.

All who attended the Royce and Lansing entertainment last evening are loud in their praise, for it is seldom that Charleston is visited by a better desired. However, they were not so | musical comedy company then was seen last evening. Everybody agrees that Ray L. Royce is the equal of Sol. Smith Russell. Every actor and actress is pos-sessed of wonderful musical talent, and it would be unjust to mention one more than the other. From the rise to the fall of the curtain the audience was kept in good humor, and everything was heartily applauded. To those who wish to attend an entertainment of refined nusic and comedy, the Royce and Laning Company can be conscientiously recommended. #### The Sunday Schools.

The sixth annual convention of the Sunday schools of Washtenaw Co. held in the first Congregational church of Ann Arbor last week was a great success, both in attendance and enthusiasm, despite the most unfavorable weather. The program as announced was carried out.

From the secretary's report we gather the following facts and statistics, which ought to be of interest to every Christian and especially every Sunday school worker in the county:

"There are 678,000 children of school age in Michigan of whom considerably less than one-half are in Protestant Sunday schools. On the basis of 2,000,000 in the state, and 42,000 in Washtenaw, the school population of this county would be 14,000. Of these about onethird are reported in Sunday schools.

"Whole number of denominations represented 9, of which the Methodist Episcopal have 12, Congregationalists, 9, Baptists 7, Presbyterians 3, Evangeli al Lutherans 2, Friends 1, Universalists 1, Undenominational 6. Total 41.

meetings and four engage in house-to house visitation. "Number of officers and teachers 645,

"Six of these schools have teachers' number of pupils 4,486; Total, 5,117 average attendance, 3,254; number added to the church from the Sunday school the past year, 141.

"The financial showing of the 41 schools is as follows. Amount contributed for missions $535.44, for county and state work, $74.47; for home expenses,

"A comparison with the last two convention might not be without interest: 1891-Ypsilanti: Schools reporting, 13; number of officers and teachers, 208 total enrollment, 1909.

1892-Chelsea: Schools reporting, 32; number of officers and teachers, 533; total enrollment, 4,083.

1892-Ann Arbor: Schools reporting, 41; number of officers and teachers, 645; total enrollment, 5,117.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Pres., O. C. Bailey, Chelsea; vice-pres., Prof. W. S. Perry, Ann Arbor; sec., S. T. Morris, Dexter; treas., Mrs. W. W. Beman, Ann Arbor. Executive committee:-E. F. Mills, Ann Arbor; W. J. Canfield, Ypsilanti; F. E. Pierce, Dexter; S. R. Crittenden, Saline; Mrs. T. L. Iddings, Manchester. Township presidents:-Lyndon, Chas. Almost Miraculous Absolutely Helpless and

Hopeless

Mrs. Mary Andress Of Crawfordsville, Ind.

"It is with much scattende that I tell of the wonderful help received from Hood's Sarsaparilla. For several years I have been a very great sufferer with rheumatism. In the winter of '90 and '91, when I had been obliged to use crutches for a long while, in my unfortunate condition I had a severe attack of the grip, which put me down bedfast, for nearly a year. As I had a severe cough, the doctor thought my lungs affected, and that there was little or

No Hope of My Recovery In the fall I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and, to my utmost delight found that I had at last obtained a medicine which was doing me good. When I began to take it I was unable to rise from my bed without help. There was severe paim and sweifing in my hands, feet, knee-joints, and left ankle. I had become so hopeless of ever being any better that

From an utterly helpless condition I have now reached a good state of health. I do all my work and walk around without crutches. The pain and swelling, caused by the raeumatism, are gone. I have no pain in my hands and wrists, and they are not swollen or drawn any more. The cough and lung trouble and soreness in the chest, which followed the grip, have all gone, and I can sleep comfortably. I am greatly improved in flesh, strength and color. My bowels, hitherto inactive without physic, are, since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla quite regular, and other bodily functions health ful. My relatives and friends are delighted at my remarkable improvement, and join in giving the highest praise to Hood's Sarsaparilla," Mrs. Mary Andress, Crawfordsville, Ind.

Preventing Future Misery. If there is, in this vale of tears a more prolific source o. mivery than the rheu natic twinge, we have yet to hear of it. People are born with a tendency to rheumatism, just as they are with one to consumption or to scrofula. Slight causes may develop this. As soon as the agonizing complaint manifests it-self, recourse should be had to Hostetter's Stomach B tters, which checks its further inroads and banishes the rheu-matic poison from the system. This statement tallies exactly with the testimony of physicians who have employed this fine blood depurent in their private practice. There is also the amplest professional and general testimony as to the efficacy of the Bitters for malaria, liver complaint, constipation, indiges tion, kidney trouble, nervousness and loss of appetite and flesh. After a wetting, whether followed by a cold or not the Bitters is useful as a preventative ( the initial attack of rheumatism.

Deafness Cannot be Cared by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eus tachian Tube. When this tube gets in flamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflam ed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Mrs. Hattie H. McGowan.

DR. A. OWEN:

Dear Sir—I take pleasure in stating that the Owen Electric Belt purchased from you last May has been worth more than all the medicines in the world to me. On the 27th of January, 1890, I was taken with La Grippe and from that to nervous prostration of the stomach and epine, liver complaint, exitation of the lungs and constipation. About this time I went to consult the best doctor in the county for treatment. I stopped at my mother's home on my return, as my prostration was so great that I could not reach my own home which I dearly loved. I was a young married wife of six months and had kept house only four months. My hopes seemed all blasted as I gradually falled under the care and treatment and nursing by my kind and willing husband and mother, one of the best of mothers. I could not get up or be moved, so my husband sold his farm and turned all of his attention to me. Time passed, and I suffered more than tongue can tell, I could eat nothing to speak of, and what I did eat hurt my stomach. At times I seemed better and then I would get worse. I remained in this condition about sixteen months, or up to the time I purchased your Belt. Then I commenced to improve at once, and life has been brighter ever since. My husband has purchased another farm and we commenced to keep house on Thanksgiving Day, and I have done our work with my husband's help ever since. Before I purchased one of your Belts I could hardly stand on my feet. May God bless you, as the Owen Electric Belt was the means of saving my life and giving me health and strength to live and enjoy life with my husband once more. I cannot say enough for your Belt I I should write half a day. My sudden improvement caused a good deal of excitement, as the doctors and every one around said I would die of consumption. I can eat my three meals every day. If you wish to publish this letter we will answer all correspondents who wish to inquire fully about my case, by sending directed and stamped envelope.

Des. A. Owen:

Dear Sir—Six months has passed since I wrote my first testimonial letter in praise of your Electric Belt. I cannot say enough for your Belts. I have been improving rapidly since I wrote you the first letter six months ago. Now I am able to do my work, and this week I rode 22 miles to Thunder Knob on the banks of Lake Michigan, camped out over right, and came back the next day over hills and rough roads, 44 miles in all, through the hot sun. I could not have done the same one year ago for the wealth of Michigan. My health has improved so rapidly that others are waking up to the idea that the Owen Electric Belts are the only means by which they can be cu I remain as ever your friend, HATTIE H. McGOWAN.

Presently he took from his coat pocket a wallet, placed the paper carefully in it, and deposited both in a writing desk, which he locked. He now grew more composed in his demeanor, but his original air of enthusiasm had quite disappeared, yet he seemed not so much sulky as abstracted. As the evening wore away he became more and more absorbed in reverie, from which no sallies of mine could arouse him. It had been my intention to pass the night at the hut, as I had frequently done before, but seeing my host in this mood I deemed it proper to take leave. He did not press me to remain, but as I departed he shook my hand with even more than his usual cor-

It was about a month after this-and during the interval I had seen nothing of Legrand-when I received a visit at Charleston from his man Jupiter. I had never seen the good old negro look so dispirited, and I feared that some serious disaster had befallen my friend.

"Well, Jup," said I, "what is the mat-ter now?"

"Why, to speak the troof, massa, him not so berry well as mought be." "Not well! I am truly sorry to hear it.

What does he complain of?"
"Dar! Dat's it! Him nebber plain of nuffin, but him berry sick for all dat."

"Very sick, Jupiter! Why didn't you say so at once? Is he confined to bed?" "No; dat he ain't! He ain't find no whar. Dat's just whar de shoe pinch. My mind is got to be berry hebby 'bout poor Massa Will." "Jupiter, I should like to understand what it is you are talking about. You say your master is sick. Hasn't he told you what ails him?"

"Why, massa, 'tain't worf while for to git mad about de matter. Massa Will say nuffin at all ain't de matter wid him. But den what make him go about looktt.g dis here way, wid he head down and his soldiers up and as white as a gose? And den he keep a syphon all de time"___ "Keeps a what, Jupiter?"

"Keeps a syphon wid de figgurs on de slate—de queerest figgurs I ebber did see. Fze gittin to be skeered, I tell you. Hab for to keep moughty tight eye 'pon him goovers. Todder day he gib me slip fore de sun up and was gone de whole ob de blessed day. I had a big stick ready cut for to gib him deuced good beating when he did come, but I'ze sich a fool dat I hadn't de heart arter all, he look so berry poorly."

"Eh-what?-ah, yes! Upon the whole I think you had better not be too severe with the poor fellow Don't flog him, Jupiter; he can't very well stand it. But can you form no idea of what has occasioned this illness, or rather this change of conduct? Has anything uppleasant happened since I saw you?"

"No, massa, dey ain't bin nuffin un-pleasant since den—'twas 'fore den I'm feered-'twas de berry day you was

"How? What do you mean?" "Why, massa, I mean de bug-dare

"The what?"

"De bug-I'm berry sartain dat Massa Will b'n bit somewhere 'bout de head by dat goolebug."

"And what cause have you, Jupiter, for such a supposition?"

"Claws enough, massa, and mouff too. I never did see sich a deuced bug—he kick and he bite eberyt'ing what cum near him. Massa Will cotch him fues, but had for to let him go gin mighty quick, I tell you—den was de time he must ha' got de bite. I didn't like de look ob de bug mouff myself nohow, so I wouldn't take hold ob him wid my finger, but I cotch him wid a piece ob paper dat I found. I rap him up in de paper and stuff piece ob it in he mouff—dat was de way."

"And you think, then, that your master was really bitten by the beetle, and that the bitter of the state of the stat that the bite made him sick?"

"I don't t'ink nuffin about it-I nose it. What make him dream 'bout de goole so much if 'tain't cause he bit by de goolebug? I'ze heerd 'bout them goolebugs

"But how do you know he dreams about gold?"

"How I know? Why, 'cause he talk 'bout it in he sleep-dat's how I nose." "Well, Jup, perhaps you are right, but to what fortunate circumstance am I to attribute the honor of a visit from you

"What de matter, massa?" "Did you bring any message from Mr.

"No, massa, I bring dis here pissel," and here Jupiter handed me a note which ran thus: My Dear —: Why have I not seen you for so long a time? I hope you have not been so foolish as to take offense at any little brusquerie of mine; but no, that is improbable.

Since I saw you I have had great cause for anxiety. I have something to tell you, yet scarcely know how to tell it, or whether I should well it at all.

scarcely know how to tell it, or whether I should tell it at all.

I have not been quite well for some days past, and poor old Jup annoys me almost beyond endurance by his well meant attentions. Would you believe it?—he had prepared a huge stick the other day with which to chastise me for giving him the slip, and spending the day, solus, among the hills on the mainland. I verily believe that my ill looks alone saved me a flogging.

I have made no addition to my cannet since

If you can in any way make it convenient, come over with Jupiter. Do come. I wish to see you tonight upon business of importance. I assure you that it is of the highest impor-tance. Ever yours, WILLIAM LEGRAND.

There was something in the tone of this note which gave me great uneasiness. Its whole style differed materially from that of Legrand. What could he be dreaming of? What new crotchet possessed his excitable brain? What 'business of the highest importance" could he possibly have to transact? Jupiter's account of him boded no good. dreaded lest the continued pressure of misfortune had, at length, fairly unsettled the reason of my friend. Without a moment's hesitation, therefore, I prepared to accompany the negro.

Upon reaching the wharf I noticed a scythe and three spades, all apparently new, all lying in the bottom of the boat in which we were to embark. "What is the meaning of all this,

Jup?" I inquired. "Him syfe, massa, and spade." "Very true; but what are they doing

"Him de syfe and de spade what Massa Will sis 'pon my buying for him in de town, and de debbil's own lot of money I had to gib for em."

"But what in the name of all that is mysterious is your Massa Will going to do with scythes and spades?" "Dat's more dan I know, and debbil take me if I don't believe 'tis more dan he know too. But it's all cum ob de bug." Finding that no satisfaction was to be obtained of Jupiter, whose whole intellect seemed to be absorbed by "de bug," I now stepped into the boat and made sail. With a fair and strong breeze we soon ran into the little cove to the northward of Fort Moultrie, and a walk of some two miles brought us to the hut. It was about 3 in the afternoon when we arrived. Legrand had been awaiting us in eager expectation. He grasped my hand with a nervous impressment which alarmed me and strengthened the suspicions already entertained. His countenance was pale even to ghastliness, and his deep set eyes glared with unnatural luster. After some inquiries respecting his health, I asked him, not knowing what better to say, if he had yet obtained the scarabæus from Lieutenant G-

"Oh, yes," he replied, coloring violent-ly, "I got it from him the next morning. Nothing should tempt me to part with that scarabæus. Do you know that Jupiter is quite right about it?"

"In what way?" I asked, with a sad foreboding at heart.

"In supposing it to be a bug of real gold!" He said this with an air of profound seriousness, and I felt inexpressibly shocked.

"This bug is to make my fortune," he continued, with a triumphant smile, "to reinstate me in my family possessions. Is it any wonder, then, that I prize it? Since fortune has thought fit to bestow it apon me, I have only to use it properly, and I shall arrive at the gold of which it is the index. Jupiter, bring me that scarabæus!"

"What! de bug, massa? I'd rudder not go fer trubble dat bug—you mus' git him for your own self." Hereupon Le-grand arose with a grave and stately air and brought me the beetle from a glass case, in which it was inclosed. It was a beautiful scarabæus, and at that time unknown to naturalists-of course a great prize in a scientific point of view. There were two round black spots near one extremity of the back and a long one near the other. The scales were exceedingly hard and glossy, with all the appearance of burnished gold. The weight of the insect was very remarkable, and taking all things into consideration I could hardly blame Jupiter for his opin ion respecting it. But what to make of Legrand's concordance with that opinion I could not for the life of me tell. "I sent for you," said he in a grandilo-quent tone when I had completed my examination of the beetle, "I sent for you that I might have your counsel and assistance in furthering the views of fate and of the bug"-

"My dear Legrand," I cried, interrupting him, "you are certainly unwell and had better use some little precautions. You shall go to bed, and I will remain with you a few days until you get over this. You are feverish and" "Feel my pulse," said he.

I felt it and, to say the truth, found not the slightest indication of fever.

"But you may be ill and yet have no fever. Allow me this once to prescribe for you. In the first place, go to bed. In "You are mistaken," he interposed. "I am as well as I can expect to be under the excitement which I suffer. If you really wish me well, you will relieve this

"And how is this to be done?" "Very easily. Jupiter and myself are going upon an expedition into the hills upon the mainland, and in this expedition we shall need the aid of some person in whom we can confide. You are the only one we can trust. Whether we succeed or fail the excitement which you now perceive in me will be equally

"I am anxious to oblige you in any way," I replied, "but do you mean to say that this infernal beetle has any connection with your expedition into the hills?"

"Then, Legrand, I can become a party to no such absurd proceedings." "I am sorry—very sorry—for we shall have to try it by ourselves."

"Try it by yourselves! The man is surely mad! But stay! How long do you propose to be absent?"
"Probably all night. We shall start immediately, and be back at all events by sunrise.' "And will you promise me upon your honor that when this freak of yours is over, and the bug business (good God!) settled to your satisfaction, you will then return home and follow my advice implicitly as that of your physician?" "Yes, I promise. And now let us be off, for we have no time to lose." With a heavy heart I accompanied my friend. We started about 4 oclock—Le purposes. Try it.

grand, Jupiter, the dog and myself. Jupiter had with him the scythe and spades, the whole of which he insisted upon carrying, more through fear, it seemed to me, of trusting either of the implements within reach of his master than from any excess of industry or complaisance. His demeanor was dogged in the extreme, and "dat deuced bug" were the sole words which escaped his lips during the journey. For my own part, I had charge of a couple of dark land terns, while Legrand contented himself with the scarabæus, which he carried attached to the end of a bit of whipcord, twirling it to and fro with the air of a conjuror as he went.

When I observed this last plain evidence of my friend's aberration of mind, could scarcely refrain from tears. thought it best, however, to humor his fancy, at least for the present, or until I could adopt some more energetic measures with a chance of success. In the meantime I endeavored, but all in vain. to sound him in regard to the object of the expedition. Having succeeded in inducing me to accompany him, he seemed unwilling to hold conversation upon any topic of minor importance, and to all my questions vouchsafed no other reply than We shall see."

We crossed the creek at the head of the island by means of a skiff, and ascending the high grounds on the shore of the mainland proceeded in a northwesterly direction through a tract of country excessively wild and desolate, where no trace of human footstep was to be seen. Legrand led the way with decision, pausing only for an instant here and there to consult what appeared to be certain landmarks of his own contrivance upon a former occasion.

In this manner we journeyed for about wo hours, and the sun was just setting when we entered a region infinitely more dreary than any yet seen. It was a species of tableland near the summit of an almost inaccessible hill, densely wooded from base to pinnacle and interspersed with huge crags that appeared to lie loosely upon the soil and in many cases were prevented from precipitating themselves into the valleys below merely by the support of the trees against which they reclined. Deep ravines in various directions gave an air of still sterner solemnity to the scene.

The natural platform to which we had clambered was thickly overgrown with brambles, through which we soon discovered that it would have been impossible to force our way but for the scythe. and Jupiter, by direction of his master. proceeded to clear for as a path to the foot of an enormously tall tulip tree, which stood, with some eight or ten oaks, upon the level, and far surpassed them all, and all other trees which I had then ever seen in the beauty of its foliage and form, in the wide spread of its branches and in the general majesty of its appearance. When we reached this tree, Legrand turned to Jupiter and asked him if he thought he could climb it. The old man seemed a little staggered by the question, and for some moments made no reply. At length he approached the huge trunk, walked slowly around it and examined it with minute attention. When he had completed his scrutiny, he merely said:

"Yes, massa, Jup climb any tree he ebber see in he life."

THE GUILD PIANO AGAIN.

"Mr. Geo. M. Guild, Boston, has received a special silver medal from the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association for the Guild Piano. This is very strong endorsement for the instrument of Mr. Guild's manufacture. The Association is a prominent one and the findings of its judges are highly respected. Mr. Guild's manufactures have won many honors in past years and these distinctions have always been acquired upon the merits of his productions. Inasmuch as there was strong competition in the recent exposition, Mr. Guild must feel elated over walking off with such high honors."

The above is from "The Presto" of Jan. 19, 1893, a leading musical journa published in Chicago.

Reference is made to "strong competition." The GUILD PIANO won its lurels in competition with Chickering, Miller, Kranich & Bach, Haines, Mehlin & Son, Blassius, Stultz & Bauer, and Pease.

A German of this city, who lived in Saginaw during the period when Col. Thompson was mayor there, prepared a circular to his German friends here setting forth what he knew about the able manner in which the affairs in that city were managed by that gentleman, and seting forth many strong reasons why the Germans of this city should support him. This document was taken to the office of the Hausfreund for printing. The matter was accepted readily enough by the senior partner and left at that office. But a half hour later a messenger returned the manuscript with the statement that the Hausfreund could not undertake the job. It is the most detestable kind of politics that tries to prevent the truth from being known. The circular was a simple, honest statement of fact.

There have been "Ribbon Sales" in Ann Arbor before—we have had two or three ourselves—but in every case undesirable colors and "Off Styles" have formed a prominent part of eyery offering. In this sale every shade offered will be new and desirable, and many colorings especially suited for Millinery and Dress Trimming will be included.

The quality will be a high grade Pure Silk, the style a Plain Edge MOIRE—the most desirable on the market. The quantity will be large enough to supply everyone, and will include large quantities of Blacks, Gream and Staple Colors, and as many pieces of wide widths as of nar-

There has never been such an offering of Ribbons in Ann Arbor before, and it will be a long time before such an opportunity will occur again, therefore it is unnecessary for us to urge everybody to at least inspect this Special Ribbon Bargain.
