THE LADIES' LIBRARY.

THE ASSOCIATION HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

A Good Financial Condition—The President's Address—It Seems Good to be Out of Debt—Now Other Things Can be Undertaken—Mr. Hening's Generosity—Various Plans of Increasing the Usefulness of the Library.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies Library Association held on Monday afternoon, the officers elected were Miss K. M. Hale, pres.; Mrs. L. M. Palmer, vice-pres.; Miss L. Parker, sec.; Mrs. Celia Jaycox, treas. Six members of the board of directors were also elected by the association as follows: Mrs. Eliza Jones, Miss Anna Gelston, Mrs. S. W. Clarkson, Mrs. Lombard, Mrs. W. W. Beman, Miss Alice Douglas. A pleasant innovation was the serving of Russian tea and wafers at the close of the business meeting. The secretary reported a prosperous year and the treasurer's report showed a satisfactory balance in the treasury.

The following is the presidents address:

LADIES OF THE L. A.: At our last annual meeting the welcome report was made that you were for the first time the actual possessors of a library building free from all in cumbrance.

While the indebtedness was still to be paid, our energies were bent so entirely towards this one achievement, that it is perhaps not to be wondered at that we have failed to accomplish some other equally desirable objects toward which (having had sufficient time to recover our exhausted energies) we should now turn our attention.

For, interesting though the story might be made of the various methods by which an amount of $2600 was paid. I have no wish to detain you for this to-day, and besides, this seems to me a time in which it is desirable to "look forward, not backward;" to see what our present outlook, and our future as well as our present requirements.

I trust you will bear with me if I say, that first of all we need that each one of you shall feel and manifest the interest and pride becoming in an actual owner of so fine a library; shall think of it, plan for it, vote for its officers; advise, direct, sustain these officers in so far as they shall endeavor to carry out the wishes of your association—even call them to account wherein they fail to do this: lest others and even they themselves shall grow to think this property their own and not yours, as employees sometimes do in regard to the possessions of their employers. And yet you must not forget that your board of directors are the "burden bearers," and that the burdens may be much more easily, efficiently and cheerfully borne under the assurance of your unflinching interest and confidence.

Then, we need more members as one means of making ourselves self-supporting. Two or three hundred permanent members, I am confident, might be secured with very little effort, by the cooperation of the association with the board. Some misunderstanding has arisen in regard to the willingness of the association to admit new members, and there seems to be no way of counteracting this prevailing opinion except by personal invitation. Certainly the day seems distant in which it will be necessary to limit the number of our members. Doubts and discouragements do not tend to the advancement of any cause, except as the friends of the cause are enabled by the exercise of unflinching faith and redoubled efforts to rise above them. There has been no lack of doubts expressed in regard to the possibility of making this cause a success, and even of questioning as to the need of its existence; but neither has it lacked friends, faithful and true, whose efforts have not been grudgingly made, nor in fear, but in undoubting confidence, and in full accord with the spirit and wisdom of those who founded it, not so much for the entertainment of the more privileged portion of the community (though this thought was also theirs) as with the hope that these should unite in assisting in the diffusion of such means of "moral, intellectual and social improvement" as should legitimately grow out of the efforts of such an association.

To repeat; its founders, with liberal spirit and loving thoughtfulness, desired to place within reach of every woman in our city the means of a liberal education and of increasing culture. There were in those days, as there are now, many whose means would not allow of large private libraries or even of small ones. Here, for a merely nominal sum, is placed at their disposal a well selected library of over 3000 books.

That the original aim of the association and the efforts put forth for its achievement have thus far proved only partially successful, has arisen from various causes and is no reason for discouragement, still less for giving up all hope of its ultimate and possibly proximate success.

Some one has said that "no cause ever failed for lack of funds if it had enough vital sympathy behind it."

Our mortgage is paid, we are free from debt, with a respectable balance in the treasury from the receipts of the past year in which our only public appearance was at the time of our Christmas sale. We have for the purchase of books the interest on $1000 each year and we have good reason for expecting other gifts (unless they shall be diverted from us by the influence of our own faint heartedness.)

The proof that "history repeats itself" may frequently be found in the records of our association. Among others, in 1888 a plan was suggested to the board of directors of making the library the center of a literary club with the daily opening of its doors to the club, members of the board acting as librarians, and making the rooms a pleasant resting place for the ladies. Also a plan for opening the library every evening for the benefit of clerks and others employed during the daytime. It was not thought best to adopt either plan and no action was taken by the board. It seems a significant fact that immediately succeeding the meeting at which the last plan was suggested the board held no meetings for four months, "no quorum" being written after each date, and that at the very first meeting held afterward there was reported the gift from Mr. David Hening of $1000, the interest of which is still our only assured income for the purchase of books.

A short time since a very similar plan was again suggested by a member of the present board. A committee was this time appointed to consider the subject but the chairman never called a meeting of her committee and most of the ladies felt that the time had not arrived when so radical a change could be afforded. I think "no quorum" has only been written once this time but if there follow another welcome gift after the example so generously set by Mr. Hening, it would seem wise to agitate this subject frequently, would it not? And out of the agitation may be evolved some plan looking to the wise advancement of our course both from a literary and a financial point of view.

We shall look forward to the time when you can direct the opening of the library often for distribution of books, when more new books and duplicates of those most called for can be added, when you will be able in various ways to add to the attractions of the room, and when you may have some safe repository for your valuables, perhaps some book case with drawers which may be locked and which may at this moment be resting in the attic of someone who hears me.

The Wagner Concert.

It was a rare treat that the University musical society provided for the people of Ann Arbor when they secured Anton Seidl's Metropolitan Orchestra for an evening with Wagner. Over 1600 people assembled in University Hall last Thursday evening, and a thoroughly enthusiastic audience it was too. Seidl is a superb conductor, one of the easiest and quietest that ever waved a baton in Ann Arbor. But such music as they gave us, soothing, weird, voluptuous, inspiring, exciting, mournful, tragic, dreadful, awful, ecstatic, restful, everythingful. It passed from the delicious murmuring of the spring woods filled with the twittering of birds and the odor of flowers to the awful clamor of pandemonium broke loose. Miss Emma Juch was deservedly called out several times after her first appearance. All the other soloists were excellent artists and handled this most difficult music adequately. It was an occasion long to be remembered.

Election Echoes.

The completed returns from the county show that Washenaw gave Kinne 4,553 votes, and Gilday 3,077. This makes Kinne's majority 1476. The vote on the state ticket was as follows: Justice of the supreme court—Durand D., 3,980; Hooker R., 3,345; Grece Peo., 90; Walker Pro., 264. Regents of the University—Harmon D., 3,968; Bunker D., 3,968; Kiefer R., 3,318; Fletcher R., 3,323; Graves Peo., 89; Ashley Peo., 90; Safford Pro., 269; McCullough Pro., 269. The constitutional amendments were all lost in this county.

Ann Arbor Gas Co.

The annual meeting of the Ann Arbor Gas Co. was held Monday and the following board of directors was chosen: Moses Seabolt, William Wagner, Edward D. Kinne, S. T. Douglas and H. W. Douglas.

The board was organized by electing Edward D. Kinne pres., Henry W. Douglas treas., and S. T. Douglas sec.

A contract for a new gas holder of a capacity of 25,000 cubic feet has been let.

The Junior Hop.

The swell students of the sweller secret societies have had their swellest event of the season. It is a state event, not merely a local affair, in fact Ann Arbor is not too promiscuously involved in it, only a very limited and select number of this city's fair ones being eligible to invitation. Eight fraternities unite in this event, and not only is it a means of glorification for these eight over the others, but each society spreads itself and makes the parental coffers groan in its efforts to outvie its associates in the number of social celebrities that it imports for the occasion, and in the excellence of its special arrangements for these guests.

The new gymnasium building was most admirably decorated by a Detroit firm. The Ann Arbor decorators were not capable of handling the job of course as they lack that very essential element of superiority, residence out of town. The Ann Arbor firms are permitted to advertise in the college publications and this concession ought to satisfy them without their expecting to be called in to try their home talent abilities, where such swell results are demanded. The American flag was a conspicuous emblem, and great quantities of bunting depended from the trusses supporting the lofty roof, and covered the side wall. Arc and Edison electric lamps shed a brilliant light over the whole scene, the rose colored globes being admirably adapted to create havoc with the effect of a great many costumes. Monograms and society emblems upon the walls designated rallying places for the different societies, while a handsome booth at one end of maize and blue and elegantly furnished, was set apart for the chaprons of the evening. These were Mesdames J. B. Angell, G. J. Bunday, G. B. Carpenter, J. H. Conrad, Geo. Dock, W. W. Douglas, J. H. Walker, J. C. Knowlton, T. A. McGraw, John Patton, Jr., O. W. Ruggles, A. A. Stanley, and F. D. Suydam. The running gallery was fixed for spectators.

At 8 o'clock the concert of the Glee and Banjo Clubs began, which was made twice as long as was intended by the numerous encores. It was 10:30 before the grand march began led by Mr. W. B. Ward and Miss R. Field of Detroit. Two hundred fifty couple participated. Twenty-four numbers and ten extras constituted the program, with an intermission for refreshments. The 19th Infantry orchestra from Fort Wayne played for the dancing, Minnis' orchestra of this city playing between the numbers for the promenade. Guests were present from Detroit, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Saginaw, Bay City, Boston, Mass., Terre Haute, Ind., Evanston, Ill., Lansing, Toledo, Port Huron, Marshall, Monroe, Houghton, Mt. Vernon, O., Ypsilanti, Laurel, Miss., and a few from Ann Arbor. The rarity of the Ann Arbor girl was a noticeable feature, she was conspicuous for her absence. One long time resident carefully counted all the city girls present and found about fifteen; counting the lady students in also, the University and city were represented by about twenty-five young ladies among the dancers. This many were counted, and a most liberal estimate made before the count put the number at less than forty. But after all is said and done, it was a brilliant and successful affair, and a fine opening for the Waterman gymnasium.

The Common Council.

Last Thursday evening the council met and canvassed the vote for city officers. They then unanimously adopted the following resolutions drawn by City Attorney Norris and offered by Ald. Martin.

Resolved, That the sum of two dollars in gold coin be appropriated from the contingent fund to pay the salary of the mayor, Hon. William G. Doty. That the city clerk do cause such coin to be suitably incased and appropriately inscribed and presented to his honor, the mayor, in the name of the people of the city.

Resolved, further, That the thanks of this council are heartily tendered to Hon. William G. Doty for the constant care with which the business of the office of mayor has been performed during his very brilliant administration.

Resolved, That the thanks of the council are tendered to Prof. M. E. Cooley for the constant courtesy and uniform impartiality with which he has presided over the deliberations of this council, and we part with his wisdom and prudent method with great regret.

Expression of Gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodmansee wish to express their gratitude to their friends and neighbors, also to the J. T. Jacobs Camp S. of V., and the H. S. Club for their kindness and esteem shown their son, Earnest Woodmansee, during his recent illness and death.

Mr. Jay Taylor.

Mr. Jay Taylor finally concluded not to accept the offer made him by the Nelson Opera Co. and will remain in Ann Arbor, opening his studio for the voice immediately.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Henry J. Rod, of Dundee, has been appointed jail turnkey at Monroe.

Large shipments of ice are already being made from Whitmore Lake to Toledo.

Milan schools and churches are closed an account of a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

During the past year and a half death has claimed 45 members of the Monroe German Lutheran church.

Forty-two cases are on the docket at Monroe for the April term of the circuit court, and of these only four are divorce cases.

Several hundred dollars have been subscribed toward a Methodist church at Deer Creek. The ground has been donated and it looks as though the church would be built.

The Dundee cheese factory will resume business for the season next Monday. It is expected that the usual large business will be done by the factory during the coming season.

The Republicans of Unadilla elected everything but clerk and treasurer. F. E. Ives was elected supervisor over Edwin Farmer. Both are good fellows, but of course only one could get there.

Hamburg will soon possess a real live bee hive of the female persuasion, to be entitled "Lady Macabees." When they will have their first swarm we have been unable to learn. Success to them in our earnest desire.—Howell Democrat.

Three Oaks wants a grist mill and wants it badly. The citizens claim that a bonanza awaits the individual who will supply the long felt want, and one anxious resident offers to pay $100 for the first barrel of flour made.

Episcopal church people get dizzy on the way out of the churches, passing through the lines of tobacco smokers, who worship their idols out of doors and save the nickel that should be cashed into the contribution box.

A certain schoolmarm has found a new and satisfactory way (to the scholars at least) of punishment. "When one of the girls misses a word, the boy spelling it correctly is permitted to kiss the girl. The boys are improving, but it is feared the girls will forget how to spell."—Chelsea Standard.

The tramp is becoming fastidious; one was discovered, the other day, taking a bath in a private residence in Chicago, and one who honored Adrian by his presence, evidently with similar intent, stole a piece of soap from a lady's kitchen. They realize that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness."

A petition has been circulated and numerously signed at Brighton, asking for the appointment of N. Kennedy as postmaster. Mr. Stewart, the present efficient postmaster has but one leg, but of course he can walk out of the postoffice with that when a hungry Democrat wants the place.—Livingston Republican.

The new schedule of military work has gone into effect at the Orchard Lake academy. Guard mount, getting gun, mounted and company drill will occupy the morning, while target practice, artillery drill, cavalry signaling, dress parade, night signaling and band practice will form the afternoon programme.

Charles Lawrence, a young man employed at the "Red mill" had a narrow escape from death last Saturday. While filling a bag with feed, the string became caught in the shafting. Lawrence reached up to remove the string when his hand became entangled in its meshes. In an instant his arm was wrapped around the shaft, and his body carried partly around before the machinery could be stopped. He escaped with a badly bruised arm.—Adrian Times.

Chance for Herolism. Adorer (anxiously)—What did your father say?

Sweet Girl—Oh, he got so angry I was afraid to stay and listen. He's in a perfectly terrible rage. Go in an' appease him.—N. Y. Weekly.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

All's Well That Ends Well. Almost twenty years ago Steven Rice, a well-known printer at Grand Rapids, and his wife separated. Mrs. Rice married again and the second union proved a happy one. Her husband acquired piles of this world's goods, and when he died there was more money left than was necessary to support his widow. After marrying for a second time the former Mrs. Rice removed to Canada. When husband No. 2 died Rice heard of it. He went to Canada, and the woman who was once his wife agreeing, they were married the other day.

Lived on a Diet of Nails and Stones. The following conglomeration was taken from the stomach of a patient who has just died at the Michigan asylum for the insane at Kalamazoo: Seventy-five stones, thirty-eight nails from one and one-half to five and one-half inches long, fifteen staples, two screws, two buttons, one piece of glass, several pieces of barbed wire, besides dirt and gravel, the whole weighing twenty-one ounces. The patient lived a long time after commencing this diet, but a long nail finally perforated his stomach and killed him.

A Narrow Escape. Postmaster Elwood T. Hance, of Detroit, and two members of his family had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation. They were stopping at a neighbor's while their own house was being repaired. After they retired the furnace got out of order and filled the apartments occupied by them with gas. Two physicians were summoned and by hard work succeeded in saving the lives of the three who had been overcome.

The Old, Old Story. Not long since a Wilber farmer, who is well known in the vicinity of Oscoda and Au Sable, took $400 of his hard-earned wealth and went to New York to meet a gentleman who had written to him about a new scheme to make money. It was new to the old farmer, for his $400 is now buying good dinners and cigars for the "nice young man" in New York, while all that he himself has to show for it is a box of sawdust.

Struck a snag. The spirit medium who has been having things all her own way in Grand Rapids strikes a snag now and then. She struck one at a recent meeting, when she attempted her little trick of describing how the departed looked, and was called down in great shape by a gentleman whose ancestor she was supposed to be in communication with. Reason why, said ancestor was still alive.

Reports to the Health Board. Fifty-seven observers in various localities in the state say that during the week ended April 1 intermittent fever increased and erysipelas decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty-one places, scarlet fever at forty-five, typhoid fever at ten and measles at thirty places.

Blows Up by Gas. A terrific explosion resulted in the almost total destruction of the new six-story Cleland building in Detroit. The cause of the disaster was a leakage of natural gas, but whether due to the carelessness of the occupants or not is likely to remain a mooted point. The loss was $15,000.

Short But Newsy Items. Bay City's new bicycle factory will soon be in full running order. The Plymouth Fair association will hold its ninth annual meeting September 19, 20, 21 and 22.

Some-one in Kalamazoo has a special grudge against dogs, and is poisoning the most valuable ones in the city. A sleeping car on the Soo line caught fire at Pembina and was destroyed. None of the passengers was injured.

Prof. W. A. Johnson, proprietor of the Interlake business college at Lansing, assigned to George F. Gillam. The W. C. T. U. convention for the Second congressional district will be held at Dundee April 24 and 25.

The directors of the Dundee Agricultural association have fixed the date of the next fair as September 19-22.

Burglars entered the hardware store of J. B. Wilson at Flint and helped themselves to $300 worth of razors and pocketknives. Mrs. Mary Cummings attempted to end her life at Jackson by hanging herself with a towel in the county jail while drunk.

Ludwig Klein, formerly of Detroit, committed suicide at Everett, Wash., by drowning himself in the Green river. The mumps and the children of one of the wards in Bay City are having a tussle, with honors about even at present.

The officers of the Bay County Agricultural society have decided that Sunday ball games cannot be permitted on the fair grounds.

Reports from the numerous fishing lakes in the vicinity of Kalamazoo state that large quantities of dead fish were being washed ashore daily. Many of the fish are large ones, and the cause is due to the long, severe winter and the unusual thickness of the ice.

The barn of Lewis Hillmer, near Plymouth, was burned to the ground with its contents of hay, grain, a span of horses, a fine cow, one sheep and hay and straw stacks adjacent.

Alex. Grodi, of Monroe, stood on the outer end of an apple limb and sawed himself off from the body. He has two broken ribs.

John Patterson, aged 60, a well-to-do farmer living in the town of Irving, while doing business at Hastings dropped dead, probably from heart disease.

For the first time since the adoption of the local option law, not a single "tonic joint" is doing business in Detroit.

The copper product for March from the Atlantic mine is 228 tons, 1,310 pounds; Franklin mine, 153 tons, 1,300 pounds; Huron mine, 53 tons.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

It Is Reported Satisfactory in the Leading Cities.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The weekly review of trade says: "Speculation has been renewed in wheat, with an advance here of about two cents on sales of $2,000,000 bushels. Western receipts have been 2,300,000 bushels in four days this week and Atlantic exports only 700,000 bushels, and the stocks in sight continue unimpaired. Corn dropped one-half cent and oats one and three-quarters on small transactions, while pork fell 51 per barrel, lard 60 cents, and hogs $1 per 100 pounds, but the tone of speculative markets generally is not enthusiastic.

"Boston reports satisfactory trade. Money is easier, but banks prefer to loan on call. At Pittsburgh iron is unchanged, coal improved and glass prosperous. At Cincinnati the hat trade increases. At Cleveland trade is better than a year ago with rolled products in large demand, but collections slow. Business active at Indianapolis and at Detroit good. Money at Chicago is firm, with large requirements and general trade satisfactory. Receipts of wheat, sheep, butter and oats exceeded last year for the week, but in other products a decrease appears, especially in cured meats, corn, rye, hogs and wool. Trade improves at Milwaukee. At St. Paul a slight increase appears and at Omaha trade is good. Improvement is seen at St. Louis. Collections are far better than a year ago. At Kansas City receipts of live stock large, and at St. Joseph both trade and collections are good. Louisville trade is fair but money close. At Nashville quiet, at Knoxville not brisk, at Atlanta fair and at Augusta generally dull with poor collections. At Mobile trade slightly exceeds last year's and at New Orleans business is quiet.

"The monetary situation is not essentially changed. The great excess of imports over exports continues, the decrease in exports from New York being $1,378,000 for the first week of April. Securities have been stronger, decisions of courts in labor controversies have given much encouragement to western buyers, but there is little evidence of foreign disposition to purchase, and unfavorable reports tend to discourage purchasers of stocks.

"The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 22, a decrease compared with 194 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 308."

GUILT CONFESSED.

Seven Murderers in Kentucky Acknowledge Their Fearful Crime. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10.—Morganfield is all excitement over the sworn confession of one of the men implicated in the murder of Abbie Oliver, who claims all men under arrest save one, and several others hitherto unsuspected, are guilty. The one who made the confession is Lemis Land, who was considered one of the best friends of the Oliver family and who even acted as pall bearer at Abbie Oliver's funeral. In this confession, sworn to before the police judge, Land states that the party consisted of Frank Holt, Will Omer, J. T. Tate, W. R. Holt, Alexander Johnson, himself and an unknown man. These had formed to go to the rescue of Delaney before the marriage, but they were too late and met the party returning. Delaney left the vehicle and joined his friends, and then the firing began, every one being armed. All of the parties named have confessed their guilt. The examining trial has been set for next Saturday. The people are excited, but seem disposed to let the law take its course.

Henry Delaney, the unwilling bridegroom of the murdered girl, is charged with having fired the shot that killed her. When interviewed he entered a general denial to all charges, including that of criminal relations with the murdered girl.

CHICAGO WINS.

The Celebrated Lake Front Case Decided in the City's Favor. WASHINGTON, April 11.—The supreme court of the United States has confirmed its former decision in the Chicago lake-front case, refusing a rehearing and ordered the mandate of the judgment to issue. This forever disposes of this celebrated case and confirms the city of Chicago in the right the court decided some weeks ago it possesses.

By the terms of that decision the court decided that the title to the submerged lands in Lake Michigan between the Illinois Central tracks and the government pier and Randolph and Twelfth streets, is in the city of Chicago and the state of Illinois, and denied the claim to them set up by the Illinois Central railroad by virtue of a pretended grant of the legislature in 1869.

HER NECK BROKEN.

Shocking Accident to a Michigan Bride of a Few Months. MENOMINEE, Mich., April 11.—A frightful runaway accident occurred at 10 a. m. Monday by which Mrs. Steven Van Patten was instantly killed. The lady, who was a bride of a few months, had just taken a seat in Spencer & Riley's Cedar river stage for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gartland, when the team became frightened at a passenger car, ran into the fountain on the public square and Mrs. Van Patten's neck was broken by her being thrown headlong to the pavement. The accident was witnessed by a hundred or more people.

Grain Exports Last Year.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Statistics just issued of grain exports from this city for the year 1892 show that 73,306,829 bushels were shipped during the year. The wheat amounted to 48,057,323 bushels; corn, 13,719,119; oats, 3,391,475; rye, 3,063,719; peas, 823,878; flax seed, 855,913; barley, 674,811, and buckwheat, 634,468.

Must Not Kill Seals.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The president has issued under the United States laws and articles of treaty of arbitration with Great Britain the usual proclamation prohibiting the taking of seals and other fur-bearing animals in Behring sea in the season of 1893.

Whisky Destroyed by Fire.

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 8.—Fire Friday afternoon destroyed the four large warehouses of the Glenmore Distilling company here. The buildings contained 18,987 barrels of whisky on only 400 of which the tax had been paid. Loss about $350,000.

The Penalty of Folly.

CHICAGO, April 10.—W. A. Gilbert, a young member of an aristocratic southern family, and highly educated, spent $140,000 in two years and paid the penalty of his folly by throwing himself into Lake Michigan.

Proceedings in the Extra Session of the Senate.

A Summary of Events Transpiring Daily in the Upper House—Other Interesting News from the Seat of Government.

CALLED A HALT.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The president has directed Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell to make no more removals of fourth-class postmasters until they have served four years. Mr. Maxwell makes this announcement. He says that, while there is no law fixing the term of these offices at four years, the president thinks that a man fit to serve at all should hold the position that length of time. He therefore will make no more removals except for cause until men have served four years. The announcement by Maxwell is looked upon as the most significant development of this administration so far as relates to offices. There are about 64,000 fourth-class post offices.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The senate has confirmed the following nominations:

- James B. Eustis, of Louisiana, to be ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to France. Bartlett Tripp, of South Dakota, to be minister to Austria-Hungary. Thomas Crittenden, of Missouri, to be consul general at the City of Mexico. Asa D. Dickinson, of New York, to be consul at Nottingham. Charles S. Hamill, of Massachusetts, to be assistant secretary of the treasury. William Edmund Curtis, of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury. John B. Brawley, of Pennsylvania, to be auditor of the treasury for the post office department. John J. Carter, of Louisiana, to be collector of internal revenue of the district of Louisiana. Dudley O. Watson, of Michigan, to be collector of customs for the district of Michigan. John M. Reynolds, of Bedford, Pa., to be assistant secretary of the interior. Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., of Ohio, to be solicitor general. John I. Hall, of Georgia, to be assistant attorney general. James J. McAlester, of the Indian Territory, to be marshal of the Indian Territory. John Tracy, of New York, to be superintendent of charities for the District of Columbia.

FOURTH-CLASS POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The total number of fourth-class postmasters appointed from March 4, 1893, to April 3, 1893, inclusive, is 878, of which 593 were to fill vacancies caused by resignations and deaths and 270 were removals.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President Cleveland said Saturday before leaving the city that he had decided to convene congress in extra session in September, although he might postpone the date until September 15 or October 1. He did not think he should reconsider his determination. His object is to get a tariff bill under way. Democratic senators are, therefore, making their personal arrangements for a fall session. That is one of the reasons why the senatorial contests are not to be decided at this session.

LAW AND LABOR.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The recent decisions of Judges Taft and Ricks in Ohio and Speer in Georgia in relation to the rights and duties of railroad employees were discussed in the senate yesterday. A resolution was adopted authorizing the interstate commerce committee to inquire whether railway conditions require a repeal or modification of the anti-pooling section; and also whether any modifications should be made concerning the relations between common carriers and their employees.

CHOLERA IN EUROPE.

The Scourge Exists in More Towns Than When Prevalent Last Year. LONDON, April 10.—If last year's devastation of the great plague was not fresh in the public mind Europe would be already in a cholera panic. The disease probably exists to-day in a larger number of towns than when the epidemic was at its height in Hamburg last September. A criminal policy of concealment is being pursued in many places. The most outrageous instances are in towns of the northern coast of France, where it is known that nearly a hundred deaths have occurred within a fortnight. Russia acknowledges several hundred deaths over her vast extent of territory, and we can only guess how far this is short of the truth.

Saloons to Be Run by the State.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 11.—Gov. B. R. Tiltman and State Commissioner D. H. Traxler, of South Carolina, were in Pittsburgh Monday examining into the cost of the manufacture and sale of liquor in bottles in connection with the law in regard to liquid refreshments which goes into effect in South Carolina July 1. According to this law state dispensaries will take the place of saloons after that date and the profits will be turned into the state treasury.

Chief "No-Water" Is Dead.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., April 11.—"No-Water," the famous Sioux chief, who was the center of the ghost dancing of two years ago which preceded the Pine Ridge war and about whose camp trouble centered, died here Monday morning of pneumonia. He was implicated in the recent killing of four cowboys, and was ill when arrested.

Safe in Port.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The steamer Hekla, after being twenty-four days at sea, was towed into port yesterday by the steamer America, and her 700 passengers were safely landed. The Hekla was disabled in a storm and was towed a distance of 700 miles.

Famous Indian Dead.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., April 11.—No-Water, the famous Sioux chief, who was the center of the ghost dancing of two years ago which preceded the Pine Ridge war, died of pneumonia in this city yesterday.

To Be Shot.

PROVO, U. T., April 11.—Enoch Davis, who murdered his wife at Ashley in July, 1892, will be shot by order of Judge Blackburn in the courthouse yard here on the 9th day of June next.

Electricity vs. Steam.

The recent performance of the Empire State Express of the New York Central, which ran at the rate of ninety-five miles an hour for ten consecutive miles, has greatly interested mechanical engineers and scientific men generally. This remarkable record is expected to have a very important bearing upon railroad schedules of the near future, and is especially interesting at this time, when extraordinary efforts are being made to reduce the time between distant points by means of electricity. Until lately eighty miles, or perhaps eighty three, had been the fastest time made by any railroad, and this speed of ninety-five miles an hour by a complete train, weighing in the neighborhood of 200 tons, and running over different grades, throws new light upon the question of attainable speeds, and gives some data from which to work and figure for the future.

Prairies and Timber Lands in the West Ablaze.

Many Counties in Nebraska Devastated—Troops Fighting the Fires—A Vast Area in South Dakota Is Burned Over.

HEAVY LOSS OF TIMBER.
HOT SPRINGS, S. D., April 8.—Sparks from a locomotive on the B. & O. Friday morning set fire to grass near Minnekahta station, 13 miles west of here, and the wind, which had been blowing a hurricane all day, swiftly carried the fire to the timber. The fire has burned over an expanse of country 13 miles in width and is now burning off the timber immediately south of here. The damage will prove the greatest ever done by a fire in this part of the Black Hills, as many settlers have evidently been burned out, besides destroying timber covering an area now 12 miles long and fully as wide.

NEBRASKA SUFFERERS.
OMAHA, Neb., April 8.—Reports from many portions of the state indicate prairie fires of considerable magnitude in many counties. A violent gale prevailed on Friday, spreading the flames over a vast area.

Banner, Keith, Dawson, Blaine and adjoining counties are completely devastated by the flames. In Banner county the village of Ashmore is supposed to have been completely destroyed. Word was brought to Harrisburg Friday night by the driver of the stage that that town was first in the path of the fire at 4 o'clock, and that the entire population of the village was engaged in a battle to save their homes. The stage driver reported having seen several dwelling houses in flames and the settlers fleeing for their lives. Meager details received from Ogallala, Harrisburg, Dunning, Inverton, Kearney, Grand Island, Lexington and Hastings give accounts of great losses to property.

A Burlington bridge at Dunning and another at Hastings on the Elkhorn were destroyed, delaying trains somewhat. At Kearney the fire burned near enough to town to destroy a brewery located just at the edge. At Dunning an old lady named Bartlett was burned so badly she may die. The gale subsided by nightfall, but the fires have raged with scarcely less fury. The region burned over is the chief grazing section of the state.

LIVES LOST IN KANSAS.
TOPEKA, Kan., April 8.—Much property has been destroyed by prairie fires in Graham and Phillips counties. Only meager particulars can be learned. It is known, however, that a great deal of hay, several head of horses and about fifty head of sheep perished, and that Mrs. Bowen and three children were caught in the flames and so badly burned that they have since died. A strong south wind has been blowing over western Kansas for several days and the dry grass is very heavy and thick. Everything before one of these great fires succumbs to its terrible ravages. Passengers who come in on the Rock Island say that the entire heavens are lighted at night by these fires.

WESTERN PRAIRIES BALZING.
CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., April 10.—During the last week severe prairie fires have done a great deal of damage west of the Missouri river in this state. Hundreds of cattle and horses have been destroyed. The blaze was accidentally set by a settler throwing a lighted match into the grass, which kindled into a roaring flame almost instantly. So great is the public indignation at the man's carelessness that a mob has formed and threatens to lynch him. The sheriff has gone with a posse to protect him.

OMAHA, Neb., April 10.—Reports indicate that almost the entire western half of the state has been visited by sweeping prairie fires within the past three days. The area laid waste is 30 miles wide and 80 miles long. The heaviest losses are hay and cereals. Should cold April rains set in the loss of young stock will be fearful. The fires are still burning, and, fanned by terrific gales, are sweeping everything before them. Grant, Perkins, Thomas, Keith, Brown, Rock, Deuel, Scott's Bluffs, Kimball, Banner and Cheyenne counties have suffered untold loss.

TIMBER LANDS BURNED.
CHILLICOTHE, O., April 10.—The terribly high winds that prevailed Thursday, Friday and Saturday fanned the flames of very destructive fires throughout the timber lands of Ross, Pike and Athens counties. No rains of any consequence have fallen for the last month, and the decayed leaves and vegetation were like a prepared tinder box, needing only a start. Fences, timber, everything that would burn, were licked up by the flames in their mad course and all efforts at control or resistance were hopeless. Dense, suffocating smoke enveloped the whole country. Fortunately no lives are reported lost and the great destruction was confined to the timbered lands, hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of the young and growing timber being utterly ruined.

KENTUCKY SUFFERERS.
McKINNEY, Ky., April 10.—A terrific wind has been blowing here since early Friday morning. Several buildings have been unroofed and others demolished. Forest fires are now raging furiously in the vicinity and bits of lighted wood were dropped in the town Friday afternoon, having been carried by the gale more than three-quarters of a mile. The houses of Bob Moore, John Vinson, Alph Roland, Samuel Moore and Will Roland, all farmers were burned, with nearly everything they contained. Men, women and children are fighting the flames. Two women named Roland are reported missing and fears are entertained that they have been burned to death.

Harry Haring fatally shot Annie Hartz at Allen, Pa., because she refused to marry him and then shot himself.

STRIKE SOON ENDED.

Five Thousand World's Fair Builders Quit Work for Twelve Hours.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Twelve hours saw the beginning and the peaceful ending of a strike at the world's fair Monday that involved all union workmen within the gates, to the number of 5,000 or more, and imperiled the successful opening of the exposition. The settlement satisfied the laborers and the exposition authorities and was effected in a conference that lasted nearly all day, with short intervals for consultation on both sides.

By its terms the union men gain a minimum rate of wages, are allowed passes for their delegates, with the privilege of entering the grounds and talking with their tradesmen at any time. The exposition gains its contention that no discrimination should be made between union and non-union labor. The strike mainly was to force the exposition to recognize the unions and unionize all its work. Two years ago the exposition authorities declared that their undertaking being of a national character they could not discriminate between workmen and employ union men only, and they have never changed their attitude in this respect. Union and non-union men have worked side by side upon world's fair work; none but citizens of the United States have been employed; the eight-hour work day has been observed.

TOOK TWO LIVES.
The Terrible Crime of a Dissolute Husband in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 11.—William Williams, a painter, murdered his wife Monday night by cutting her throat and then committed suicide in the same manner. Williams had been drinking heavily for the past few weeks and his wife left him. Monday night upon her refusal to return to him Williams killed her and then himself.

After leaving her husband Mrs. Williams took up her abode with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boehnet, friends of her youth. She was 28 years old. She had a tall, graceful figure and was handsome. She had formerly been connected with a dramatic troupe and was taking lessons in her art with a down-town instructor preparatory to going on the stage again. Neighbors give the dead woman an excellent reputation. She was known to have been in great fear of harm at the hands of her husband and had several times expressed a feeling that terrible trouble was coming. The dead couple leave a 4-year-old son, whom Mrs. Williams had placed in the home for the friendless, paying for his board at that institution out of her scanty earnings as a seamstress.

SEEKING HARRIS' PARDON.
His Petition with 35,000 Signatures Sent to Gov. Flower.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 11.—For some reason not explained council for Carlyle Harris failed to keep his appointment for a hearing before Gov. Flower. A bundle of papers were sent, however, among them being a roll of 35,000 signatures asking clemency for Harris. Harris' counsel arrived here late Monday night and will to-day demand from the governor an absolute pardon for Harris. The assembly has passed, by a vote of 78 to 29, a bill abolishing capital punishment to take effect, should it become a law, on September 1—too late to save Carlyle Harris.

AFTER MANY DAYS.
Broad Cast Upon the Waters Causes Happiness to a Milwaukee Man.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 10.—Attorney A. J. Elmermann, of this city, has been notified by the law firm of Kuhn & Patz, of Houston, Tex., that he is the heir to about $17,000, a portion of the estate of S. A. Wazler, a real estate speculator of that city. Before Mr. Elmermann became a lawyer he was a barber and lived in Chicago some time before the fire befriended Mr. Wazler, who lived in the same house with him, and who was then not only poor but sick.

He Has Retired.
New York, April 11.—All efforts to bring about a match at billiards between Champion Ives and George Slosson have failed. Slosson announces that he is no longer a candidate for championship honors. He has retired from the field and will hereafter devote his time to business.

A FATAL STORM.

Nine Workmen Lose Their Lives at Romeo, Ill.

Buildings Collapse in Chicago—Rockford Damaged by the Wind—In Wisconsin and Michigan Furious Tornadoes Cause Much Damage.

NINE MEN KILLED.
JOLIET, Ill., April 8.—At 6 o'clock Friday afternoon the worst storm known for years in this region, the powerful gale being almost cyclonic in its violence, swept up the line of the great drainage channel of the Chicago sanitary district. At Romeo, a little village about 10 miles north of this city and 4 miles north of Lockport, the wind caused a strange and horrible accident. A cantilever crane on wheels, used to carry the dirt from the drainage canal in the section managed by Mason, Hodge & King and sublet to Dandridge & Hanger, started down the track and when at the end of the track the bottom of it was compelled to stop by the manner in which the track is built. The top part, however, had gained such momentum that it could not stop and the enormous machine, weighing 380 tons, fell directly on the engine house. In this small house were fifteen men, nine of whom were killed and six injured. The unfortunate had gathered in the house to get out of the way of the coming storm, which was accompanied by pelting hailstones. The cantilever is 90 feet high with arms 350 feet long and weighing 280 tons.

BUILDINGS TUMBLE.
CHICAGO, April 8.—Within twenty-four hours three of the fragile buildings adjacent to the world's fair collapsed under the high winds that have prevailed during several days and now lie on the ground mere piles of splinters and broken lumber. That these accidents were unaccompanied by great loss of life is due to mere good fortune.

DAMAGE AT ROCKFORD.
ROCKFORD, Ill., April 8.—A severe windstorm passed over the city Thursday night, leveling trees and fences, and doing considerable damage of a minor nature at the neighboring village of Cherry Valley. The storm attained the proportions of a hurricane. The fronts of three store buildings were blown in and the buildings badly torn, and two freight cars standing on the Chicago & Northwestern railway track were blown over and badly smashed. No one has been injured in this section as far as heard.

IN WISCONSIN.
RACINE, Wis., April 8.—At an early hour Friday morning a severe electric storm visited this section of the country and did considerable damage. A barn at Yorkville, owned by Ralph Chambers, was struck by lightning and consumed, together with fifteen head of cattle, ten horses, farm machinery, hay and grain. The loss will amount to between $5,000 and $6,000. Other buildings were damaged by the lightning.

IN MICHIGAN.
DETROIT, Mich., April 10.—The recent storm that raged in Michigan was one of the most severe and general of the season. The financial loss runs far into the thousands, in a great measure the result of electric bolts. The losses reported from that source alone exceed $60,000. In the barns destroyed fourteen horses are known to have perished. The rain came down in torrents varying the monotony at intervals with terrific showers of hailstones. At Grand Rapids telephone and electric lights and motors were burned out, and the electric cars were seriously interfered with. Trees and out-houses were blown down and the floods following the heavy downpour overflowed sewers and flooded cellars. Railroad traffic was somewhat interfered with by the numerous washouts.

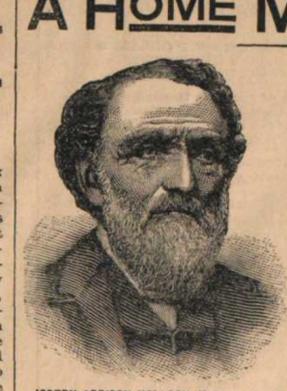

The farmhouse of Isaac F. Cressman, located 3 miles southwest of St. Johns, was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed, together with its contents. Three of Mr. Cressman's children are seriously burned.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 11.—A cyclone passed over the southern part of this city yesterday and damaged property to the extent of thousands of dollars. Many persons were injured, but no one was killed.

A HOME MISSIONARY.

JOSEPH ADDISON HALLOCK (Octogenarian.)

HIS EXPERIENCE WITH THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT.
AN OLD MAN
WITH PROGRESSIVE IDEAS AND HIS DESIRE TO ENLIGHTEN THE PUBLIC.
The winter of 1884-85 was my first experience with rheumatism. I was travelling as a home missionary, and with great difficulty and suffering I reached my appointments. It was located in my hip and back. From that time to this year of grace, 1891, I have suffered more or less under the grip of that disease. About three years later, liver complaint, and the calomel taken to cure it, fastened upon the walls and organs of my chest, a rheumatic affection from which I was never wholly free, and at times even a breath was as cruelly. Yet, in a general way, my health has been as good, perhaps better than the average of men.

During the last days of the late year, I bought of Dr. Owen two of the Owen Electric Belts. One I have worn, the other a daughter has worn. In either case the remedial has been satisfactory. The rheumatism of my chest and hips I can no longer find. A limited case of varicose, of more than thirty years standing, after two weeks' use of the Belt, has diminished to a mere lump, and a few days later could not be found. A nasal catarrh of years had so affected the substance of the nose that a friend in jest twitted me of brandy. My nose is itself again, and other symptoms of nasal and throat catarrh are fast disappearing, carrying my deafness of seven years with them.

I have studied electricity in its bearings upon mental and physico mental phenomena for fifty years, and have seen its wonders in these directions, and, thus prepared, my attention was easily turned to its efficiency in controlling the nerves, muscles and motions of the living, as galvanism does those of the recent dead.

I have no wish to undervalue any appliance which carries a real electric current from a genuine battery to human nerves with a gentle, a genial force, but I do wish to do my utmost to disarm public fears as to the well-ordered Electric Belts.

How about Mrs. Columbus?
Now Christopher went on discoveries bent,
And captured more honors than ever meant
For mortal to wear.
But Mrs. Columbus, I think—yes, I know it,
Is pining for notice from thymster or poet,
Let her have her share.
While Christopher studied a dingy old chart,
She doubtless did washing—a heroine's part,
And dreamed of the "Fair."
While Christopher's life was so brightened by hope,
Her task would have lightened if Santa Claus Soap
Had only been there.
She might have had time to be famous herself,
If she'd but had aid from this jolly old elf.
Yes Santa Claus Soap, the good housekeepers say
Is the choicest of soaps manufactured to-day.

Santa Claus Soap.
Dr. SYDNEY RINGER, Professor of Medicine at University College, London,
Author of the Standard "Handbook of Therapeutics," actually writes as follows:
"From the careful analyses of Prof. ATTEFIELD and others, I am satisfied that is in no way injurious to health, and that it is decidedly more nutritious than other Cocoas—it is certainly "Pure" and highly digestible. The quotations in certain advertisements (from Trade Review) from my book on Therapeutics are quite misleading, and cannot possibly apply to VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA."
VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA
The false reflection on VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA is thus effectually repelled, and the very authority cited to injure it, is thereby compelled to give it a very handsome testimonial.

It is Mayor Thompson now.

Let the Republicans who call the Prohibitionists obstructionists please remember their valuable assistance in the past local campaign and make acknowledgements accordingly.

The recent decision of Judges Taft and Ricks in the cases against the striking engineers on the Lake Shore road, who dropped work rather than handle Toledo road freight during the recent trouble on the latter road, have attracted much attention. The comment is mainly unfavorable. While everyone feels the pressing need of some means of adjusting differences between employers and employed so that business relations shall not be injuriously interrupted, yet nearly everyone feels that in this case the personal independence of the working man has been attacked.

The railroads are the arteries of our industrial system. A stoppage there affects the whole system. Manufacturers and their thousands of employees may be compelled to stop work because a railroad can not bring them their material or carry away their product. The Homestead strike stopped the work on the Ann Arbor gymnasium, and gave many a local workingman idle profitless days. The Toledo road strike stopped the movement of freight so as to injure business interests all along the line and away beyond each terminus; it injured men who may never have heard of the Toledo road before. But nevertheless shall restraint be placed on the laborer who feels himself aggrieved and not on the employer who causes the grievance? If the employer may call his workman into court to make him continue in the service, shall not the workman call the employer into court and constrain him to show why the demands of his workman should not be granted. The whole thing points to government control or regulation of certain important industries, or at least to government interference to regulate the employment of labor.

THE SEAL.

The Bering Sea difficulty is passing through a variety of interesting phases. The English are trying to rule out every particle of evidence produced by the Americans to substantiate their claims on the ground that the commission that collected the evidence obtained mistranslations and unofficial documents which are worthless on account of their origin and inaccuracy. The seal according to American contention is practically a land animal with marine peculiarities, that he always rounds up in a definite locality and knows his own vine and fig tree. Hence he is an animal that can be owned and herded, and his slaughter on the high seas is malicious interference with wandering private chattels. The English contend that the above description of the seal's eccentricities is worthy of Baron Munchausen in his palmiest days. "The seal" says John Bull, "is a fish with an absurd habit of crawling ashore sometimes." "He never," continues this profound zoologist, "lands twice in the same place except by accident. So consequently he cannot be herded and owned any more than a school of porpoises or whales." It looks as though two new commissions were needed, one to get the evidence from past treaties and conventions correctly collected and another to study the actions of the seal. President Angell will help people toward an understanding of the problem and its method of solution next Monday night when he discusses these questions before the Inland League.

The lecture on the S. L. A. course by the Hon. W. L. Wilson has been postponed until sometime in May.

Last Saturday evening the retiring officers of the S. C. A. gave a reception and banquet to the incoming officers and board of directors.

The Varsity nine won their first game of the season from Albion, Saturday, the score being 10 to 4. The nine seems to be in good form.

The Grand Rapids Democrat in a recent issue prints a glowing account of the University Democratic Club, with a libelous cut of president Bordeaux.

The rumor floateth around that the freshman class president spent twelve weary hours in confinement in a campus coal house one night last week, while a mob of sophomores howled outside.

The Michigan Schoolmaster's Club was in session last Saturday in Room 24. The papers were of great interest and the meeting was a very satisfactory one.

The Republican club met Tuesday evening to make preliminary arrangements for a second annual banquet. The meeting was enthusiastic and the prospects are said to be good for a notable affair some time in May.

The Prohibition Club elected officers Monday evening, J. W. Parker being made president. The club will hold an oratorical contest Apr. 28, the winner to appear in a state contest at Albion soon after. The winner there will appear at a national contest in Chicago, June 28.

E. F. Johnstone, a graduate law student has recently issued a volume of poems, and they are poems of high merit. There are both pathetic and humorous productions in the book; some of the former have the true living quality, and the latter are of a high order. It is a Yale custom for the seniors to turn out in the spring and play marbles, roll hoops, spin tops, and in various ways disport themselves in childlike fashion. It is a prerogative of that altitudinous position of being a senior, to engage in these sports, the other classes can only look on in envy.

This evening the Democracy of Michigan, assisted by distinguished outsiders of the same complexion, will assemble in the rink in this city and do what they can to brace themselves up. The occasion will necessarily be a sad one, since their recent serious defeat in Michigan, but they will be as festive as they can.

The U. of M. Daily has changed hands. The new board was elected last Saturday, and the same evening it met and organized as follows: Managing editor, C. A. Denison; 1st assistant, E. K. Towl; 2d assistant, N. A. Flowers; 3d assistant, H. A. Spaulding. The business manager was not elected but A. Bailey was made 1st assistant, H. B. Gammon 2d assistant.

Otto J. Klotz, C. E. '72, left Ottawa, Canada, last Saturday for Alaska where he has charge of the field operations of the Canadian parties in connection with the international boundary survey. The topographical work of the Canadian parties will be done by means of photography, that is, by means of photographs the mountainous character of the country will be accurately delineated.

Prof. A. A. Stagg wrote manager Cleveland of the Varsity nine the following self explanatory letter recently about the college baseball tournament at the World's Fair:

Dear Sir—The committee in charge of the Baseball Tournament is now making out the list of universities and colleges which are to take part. They have authorized me to invite you to compete on the following conditions: That your nine be made up of bona fide students of the University under no remuneration; that transportation will be given according to the surplus after paying necessary expenses; that $2.50 per day be allowed each of the 12 men so long as your team is in the tournament, two defeats (probably) disqualifying a nine. I think there is no question about the success of the tournament, and also no question that the surplus will be enough to pay for transportation of the various teams to and from their various universities. It is bound to be a great series of contests, and I hope you will see your way clear to entering your nine. Let me hear from you soon. The tournament will take place during the first two or three weeks of July and possibly the last week in June. Sincerely, A. A. STAGG.

A NEWSPAPER MAN,

Connected With the Great Paper, the Albany Express,

MAKES STATEMENTS WHICH THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW AND UNDERSTAND.

They will interest Not Only the Newspaper fraternity but Everybody.

The popular and well-known Thomas A. Lindsay, who is connected with Albany's (N. Y.) leading morning paper, the Albany Express, makes an interesting revelation.

Everybody connected with the newspaper has known of the facts for some time, and can vouch for their truth in every particular.

"For many years," said Mr. Lindsay, "I have been subject to severe spells of headache and nervousness, at times almost enough to drive a man to insanity from pain, loss of sleep, etc.

"Medicines, narcotics, patent and prescribed, did not give relief, and the ailment increased continually. Having read in the Albany Morning Express, at different times, the advertisement of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I concluded to try this remedy, and after the use of six or seven bottles, found not only relief, but also a radical cure.

"The headaches are a thing of the past while the terrible nervous spells have gradually become less and less until now I have little or none of them left and my sleep is natural and refreshing.

"I do not hesitate in saying that this remarkable change is entirely due to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I heartily recommend it for ailments like my own, no matter the cause of them."

It is a fact that our great business and professional men are fast finding out the wonderful invigorating and strength-giving powers of this most valuable discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is the medicine for the weak and nervous. It restores health to the sick.

Its remarkable cure of Mr. Lindsay, after everything else had failed, makes another conspicuous person, restored to health by its use, to add to the long and constantly increasing list of prominent and well-known people who are almost daily publishing in the papers statements of their cures by this grand medicine.

It is beyond all question the greatest curer of disease known at the present day, and is the very best spring medicine for blood and nerves. Everybody needs a spring medicine, and this is just the remedy to take. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and is sold by druggists for $1.

This great remedy is the discovery and prescription of the famous physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th Street, New York, who is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases in this country. We would add that the doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Heffelfinger, Yale's famous foot ball player has made a hero of himself in handling an armed mob in Skyomish, Wash., a town among the Cascade Mountains, with a population of the most dangerous character. Heffelfinger is an assistant paymaster on the Great Northern, and when the pay car came to town it made many people flush, then hilarious, then desperate. A big brute, known as "Big Kid," and a terror, was reported as engaged in further villainies, and a large crowd started to do him up. Big Kid was secured and hustled to a telegraph pole, where his shirt would have been short had not Heffelfinger thrust himself vigorously through the crowd and seized Big Kid by the collar. "You can't have this man," he said. The crowd roared angrily and drew their weapons. Heffelfinger gazed calmly around and in the most unmoved and good natured way insisted on holding his ground, and ordered the weapons put up. The crowd obeyed whereupon he informed the astonished brute in his grasp, that he had till 9 next morning to get out of town. Big Kid left in haste and the great Yale athlete was the hero of the hour.

The Agricultural College Exhibit.

The exhibit to be made by the Agricultural College at the World's Fair has been shipped to Jackson Park and is now being placed in position there. The farm department furnished 500 samples of shelled grain, thoroughly cleaned and put up in boxes with glass fronts surrounded by a frame of antique oak; 300 samples of grains, grass seeds, curiosities and samples of the seeds of all common farm crops, several large show jars to exhibit large quantities of the grains of Michigan cereals, and 500 tastefully arranged bundles of varieties of wheat and oats.

The botanical department furnished fifteen large bundles of grasses bound with bands to imitate the manner of binding grains before the advent of self-binders; 200 samples of grass seeds well seeds, etc., put up in small boxes and a carefully prepared specimen showing the roots of corn.

AN APRIL COLD! Needs a Spring Remedy to Cleanse the Whole System. A cold is the starting point of more than half of the fatal illnesses from November to May. A cold is the first chapter in the history of every case of consumption. A cold is the first stage of chronic catarrh, the most loathsome and stubborn of diseases. A cold is the legitimate parent of a large family of diseases, such as bronchitis, pleurisy, pneumonia and quinsy. To neglect a cold is almost suicide. To fail to provide against this well-nigh inevitable evil is a dangerous negligence. Pe-ru-na is a safeguard as a preventive, a specific as a cure for all cases of catarrh, acute and chronic, colds, coughs, consumption, etc.

Closing Out Sale Anticipating a change in my business in the near future, I shall for the next 20 days offer my entire stock of choice table ware, bric-a-brac and novelties, together with pictures, picture mouldings, frames, etc., at a small advance from wholesale prices. It will pay you to buy your Christmas presents for 1893 at this time. You will find bargains in all departments. Stock must be closed as nearly as possible by May 1st. H. Miss Longfellow, daughter of the poet, celebrates her birthday each year by giving a feast to a number of shop-girls and then taking them for a long drive.

The Burglar. The central character presented in "The Burglar" is such a novel one and possessed of so much two-sidedness, at the same time so seemingly natural, that the audience marvels at the author's conception. A burglar on a midnight exploit is rather pleasantly surprised at the appearance of a little tot, who amuses him in a very astonishing way all the while he is preparing his plunder. Before his departure from the house he discovers in Editha his own child, whose mother he has cruelly wronged and deserted. The scene of recognition is one calculated to evoke no end of interest and to keep the audience absorbed until the climax of the play. During the unfolding of the plot a comedy vein of genteel quality prevails. It may thus be said with impunity that "The Burglar" lacks no elements necessary to acceptance by all classes of theatre-goers. It appears at the Grand Opera House on Friday eve, April 14.

WEYLIE-READE.

The beautiful home of Walter C. Reade was the scene of a little pleasurable excitement on last Thursday. His worthy and pretty niece, Miss Julia A. Reade was one of the chief factors in the affair and Mr. Wm. Weylie of Marion was the other. A little before noon the Rev. W. G. Stephens of Pinckney marshalled them into the parlor with Mr. W. Reade and wife in attendance, and in a few minutes the knot was securely tied. After congratulations, an excellent dinner was served. We wish this deserving couple all happiness and prosperity in their life journey together.
CHAMPION-WALTERS.

Nearly one hundred invited guests assembled in the spacious rooms of Mr. James Walter's house in Augusta, Wednesday evening of last week, to witness the marriage of his only daughter, Ina, to Henry Champion, son of John Champion. At 7 o'clock, the young couple accompanied by Miss Silvia Merriett and Arthur Cole marched in to the strains of the wedding march, taking their places before the Rev. C. J. Case, who read the service. After the ordeal, the congratulations came thick and fast, as both families are very much esteemed in the neighborhood. A tastefully arranged and sumptuous wedding supper was served in the dining room, after which all engaged in social chat or viewed the table of wedding presents, all of which were beautiful, and many of which were costly. Space forbids mention of the names of all those who were present. Your correspondent's attention was called to several outsiders, amongst whom were Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Moore, Ann Arbor, Messrs. Frank and Henry Walters, newspaper men from Canada, and cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Edward Sanderson of Ypsilanti.

A LONG PROCESSION of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It presents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious. In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, and all Scrofulous, Skin, and Scalp Diseases, it is the only remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded.

About Catarrh. No matter what you've tried and found wanting, you can be cured with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The proprietors of this medicine agree to cure you, or they'll pay you $500 in cash.

Fine Business Opening.

A man who is looking for a home that will bring him in an income, or a man who desires a location in which to conduct a first class boarding house, can do no better than to purchase the property No. 46 E. University ave., Ann Arbor. The following is a brief description: Faces east and south, perfect lighting. Built by day's work; 2x6 studs, sheathed outside and inside throughout. Hardwood floors, double and deadened. Seven suites and three single bedrooms. Marble washstands, hot and cold water, bath, etc., very best of plumbing. Eastest of stairs. Two "Cheerful Home" furnaces, requiring together only 16 tons of coal to heat perfectly this severe winter. Every room in the house ventilated to attic and chimney. Large hook and shelf lock closets to every bedroom. Constructed for a private home, this house is equally calculated for business purposes or a society. Fine basement with diningroom kitchen and laundry. Diningroom easily arranged to seat 50 or more. No quarter in the city in more need of high class board. Has adjoining a large outbuilding with chimney, easily arranged as cottage for small family. The interior of the main building must be seen to be appreciated. One of the best built, most commodious and most favorably located of the new houses in Ann Arbor. Price reduced to sell, as the owner is going abroad; and easy terms with low interest on deferred payments or so as to make it a safe and very profitable investment for trust funds. See or address

Great Prejudice Overcome

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I have been led to address you from a deep sense of gratitude for the great benefit I have received from Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For twenty years I have been a constant sufferer from dyspepsia. Have spent many hundreds of dollars for medicine, with at best only temporary relief. I have always been an inveterate enemy to patent medicines. But now in my home Hood's Sarsaparilla has

A Hearty Welcome.

"Those who have not been afflicted with dyspepsia, have no conception of the misery I endured, and those that have need no description of the horrors of the unfortunate dyspeptic.

"This is why I changed my mind in regard to patent medicines: An old friend had been afflicted for many years with dyspepsia, and for a few months I noticed that he had been wonderfully improving. I ascertained that the great change had been wholly wrought by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He advised me to 'try it by all means,' but the idea of me taking 'patent medicine' was a very bitter pill to swallow. But urged by my great sufferings to do something, I finally yielded and began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I am now using my fourth bottle, and feel better than I have in twenty years, and consider myself cured. Use this statement as you please. I have been in constant business here over 40 years." FRANK C. STUART, Marshall, Mich.

WHY IS IT?

THAT DIETERLE

Sells Furniture so Cheap?

BECAUSE

HE FIGURES THIS:

"If I offer Parlor Suites, for example, at 33 1/2 per cent. below the usual profit I sell twice as many of them—hence make MORE PEOPLE HAPPY and, at the same time, make more money for DIETERLE."

SEE?

That is why I am selling such a large number of Parlor Suites, Bedroom Suite, Chairs, Sofas, Lounges, Sideboards, Wardrobes,—in fact everything that goes toward making up a complete outfit for the finest residence or the humblest cottage.

THE GOLDBUG

By EDGAR ALLAN POE.

"Then up with you as soon as possible for it will soon be too dark to see what we are about."

"How far mus' go up, massa?" inquired Jupiter.

"Get up the main trunk first, and then I will tell you which way to go. And here; stop! Take this beetle with you."

"De bug, Massa Will! De goolebug!" cried the negro, drawing back in dismay. "What for mus' tote de bug way up de tree? D—n if I do!"

"If you are afraid, Jup, a great big negro like you, to take hold of a harmless little dead beetle, why you can carry it up by this string. But if you do not take it up with you in some way I shall be under the necessity of breaking your head with this shovel."

"What de matter now, massa?" said Jup, evidently ashamed into compliance. "Always want for to raise fuss wid old nigger. Was only funnin anyhow. Me feared de bug! What I keef for de bug? Here he took cautiously hold of the extreme end of the string, and maintaining the insect as far from his person as circumstances would permit prepared to ascend the tree.

With a heavy heart I accompanied my friend.

In youth the tulip tree, or Liriodendron tulipiferum, the most magnificent of American foresters, has a trunk peculiarly smooth and often rises to a great height without lateral branches, but in its riper age the bark becomes knarled and uneven, while many short limbs make their appearance on the stem. Thus the difficulty of ascension in the present case lay more in semblance than in reality.

Embracing the huge cylinder as closely as possible with his arms and knees, seizing with his hands some projections, and resting his naked toes up on others, Jupiter, after one or two narrow escapes from falling, at length wriggled himself into the first great fork and seemed to consider the whole business as virtually accomplished. The risk of the achievement was, in fact, now over, although the climber was some 60 or 70 feet from the ground.

"Which may mus' go now, Massa Will?" he asked.

"Keep up the largest branch, the one on this side," said Legrand. The negro obeyed him promptly, and apparently with but little trouble, ascending higher and higher, until no glimpse of his squat figure could be obtained through the dense foliage which enveloped it. Presently his voice was heard in a sort of halloo:

"How much fudder is got for go?"

"How high up are you?" asked Legrand.

"Eber so fur," replied the negro, "can see de skull fru de top ob de tree."

"Never mind the sky, but attend to what I say. Look down the trunk and count the limbs below you on this side. How many limbs have you passed?"

"One, two, tree, four, five—I done pass five big limb, massa, 'pon dis side."

"Then go one limb higher."

In a few minutes the voice was heard again, announcing that the seventh limb was attained.

"Now, Jup," cried Legrand, evidently much excited, "I want you to work you way out upon that limb as far as you can. If you see anything strange, let me know."

By this time what little doubt I might have entertained of my poor friend's insanity was put finally at rest. I had no alternative but to conclude him stricken with lunacy, and I became seriously anxious about getting him home. While I was pondering upon what was best to be done, Jupiter's voice was again heard.

"Mos' feared for to ventur 'pon dis limb berry far—tis dead limb putty much all de way."

"Did you say it was a dead limb, Jupiter?" cried Legrand in a quivering voice.

"Yes, massa, him dead as de door nail—done up for sartin—done departed dis here life."

"What in the name of heaven shall I do?" asked Legrand, seemingly in the greatest distress.

"Do!" said I, glad of an opportunity to interpose a word, "why come home and go to bed. Come, now, that's a fine fellow. It's getting late, and, besides, you remember your promise."

"Jupiter," cried he, without heeding me in the least, "do you hear me?"

"Yes, Massa Will, hear you eber so plain."

"Try the wood well, then, with your knife and see if you think it very rotten."

"Him rotten, massa, sure nuff," replied the negro in a few moments, "but not so berry rotten as mought be. Mought ventur out leetle way 'pon de limb by myself, dat's true."

"By yourself! What do you mean?"

"Why I mean de bug. 'Tis berry hebbly bug. S'pose I drop him down fuss, and den de limb won't break wid just de weight ob one nigger."

"You infernal scoundrel!" cried Legrand, apparently much relieved, "what do you mean by telling me such nonsense as that? As sure as you drop that beetle I'll break your neck. Look here, Jupiter, do you hear me?"

"Yes, massa, needn't holler at poor nigger dat style."

"Well, now listen. If you will venture out on the limb as far as you think safe and not let go the beetle, I'll make you a present of a silver dollar as soon as you get down."

"T'm gwine, Massa Will—dead I is," replied the negro very promptly; "mos' out to de end now."

"Out to the end!" here fairly screamed Legrand, "do you say you are out to the end of that limb?"

"Soon be to de end, massa—o-o-o-o-oh! Lor-gol-a-marcy! What is dis here 'pon de tree?"

"Well!" cried Legrand, highly delighted, "what is it?"

"Why, 'tain't nuffin but a skull—somebody bin lef him head up de tree, and de crows done gobble ebery bit ob de meat off."

"A skull, you say! Very well! How is it fastened to the limb—what holds it on?"

"Sure nuff, massa; mus' look. Why, dis berry curious circumstance, 'pon my word—dare's a great big nail in de skull what fastens ob it on 'de tree."

"Well, now, Jupiter, do exactly as I tell you—do you hear?"

"Yes, massa."

"Pay attention then! Find the left eye of the skull."

"Him! hoo! Dat's good! Why, dare ain't no eye lef at all."

"Curse your stupidity! Do you know your right hand from your left?"

"Yes, I nose dat—nose all about dat—'tis my lef hand what I chop de wood wid."

"To be sure! You are left handed, and your left eye is on the same side as your left hand. Now I suppose you can find the left eye of the skull, or the place where the left eye has been. Have you found it?"

Here was a long pause. At length the negro asked:

"Is de lef eye ob de skull 'pon de same side as de lef hand ob de skull too? 'cause de skull ain't got not a bit ob a hand at all—nebber mind. I got de lef eye now. Here de lef eye. What mus' do wid it?"

"Let the beetle drop through it as far as the string will reach, but be careful and not let go your hold of the string."

"All dat done, Massa Will. Moughty easy 'ting for to put de bug fru de hole. Look out for him dare below!"

During this colloquy no portion of Jupiter's person could be seen, but the beetle, which he had suffered to descend, was now visible at the end of the string and glistened like a globe of burnished gold in the last rays of the setting sun, some of which still faintly illumined the eminence upon which we stood. The scarabeus hung quite clear of any branches, and if allowed to fall would have fallen at our feet. Legrand immediately took the scythe and cleared with it a circular space three or four yards in diameter just beneath the insect, and having accomplished this ordered Jupiter to let go the string and come down from the tree.

Driving a peg with great nicety into the ground at the precise spot where the beetle fell, my friend now produced from his pocket a tape measure. Fastening one end of this at that point of the trunk of the tree which was nearest the peg, he unrolled it till it reached the peg, and thence farther unrolled it in the direction already established by the two points of the tree and the peg for the distance of 50 feet, Jupiter clearing away the brambles with the scythe. At the spot thus attained a second peg was driven, and about this a center peg was circled about 4 feet in diameter described.

Taking now a spade himself and giving one to Jupiter and one to me, Legrand begged us to set about digging as quickly as possible.

To speak the truth, I had no especial relish for such amusements at any time, and at that particular moment would most willingly have declined it, for the night was coming on and I felt much fatigued with the exercise already taken, but I saw no mode of escape and was fearful of disturbing my poor friend's equanimity by a refusal. Could I have depended, indeed, upon Jupiter's aid, I would have had no hesitation in attempting to get the lunatic home by force, but I was too well assured of the old negro's disposition to hope that he would assist me under any circumstances in a personal contest with his master.

I made no doubt that the latter had been infected with some of the innumerable southern superstitions about money buried, and that his fantasy had received confirmation by the finding of the scarabeus, or perhaps by Jupiter's obstinacy in maintaining it to be "a bug of real gold." A mind disposed to lunacy would readily be led away by such suggestions, especially if chiming in with favorite preconceived ideas, and then I called to mind the poor fellow's speech about the beetle's being "the index of his fortune." Upon the whole I was sadly vexed and puzzled, but at length I concluded to make a virtue of necessity—to dig with a good will, and thus the sooner to convince the visionary by ocular demonstration of the fallacy of the opinions he entertained.

The lanterns having been lit, we all fell to work with a zeal worthy a more rational cause, and as the glare fell upon our persons and implements I could not help thinking how picturesque a group we composed, and how strange and suspicious our labors must have appeared to any interloper who by chance might have stumbled upon our whereabouts.

We dug very steadily for two hours. Little was said, and our chief embarrassment lay in the yelpings of the dog, who took exceeding interest in our proceedings. He at length became so obstreperous that we grew fearful of his giving the alarm to some stragglers in the vicinity, or rather this was the apprehension of Legrand. For myself, I should have rejoiced at any interruption which might have enabled me to get the wanderer home. The noise was at length very effectually silenced by Jupiter, who, getting out of the hole with a dogged air of deliberation, tied the brute's mouth up with one of his suspenders and then returned with a grave chuckle to his task.

When the time mentioned had expired, we had reached a depth of 5 feet, and yet no signs of any treasure became manifest. A general pause ensued, and I began to hope that the farce was at an end. Legrand, however, although evidently much disconcerted, wiped his brow thoughtfully and recommenced. We had excavated the entire circle of 4 feet diameter, and now we slightly enlarged the limit, and went to the farther depth of 2 feet. Still nothing appeared. The gold seeker, whom I sincerely pitied, at length clambered from the pit, with the bitterest disappointment imprinted upon every feature, and proceeded slowly and reluctantly to put on his coat, which he had thrown off at the beginning of his labor. In the meantime I made no remark. Jupiter, at a signal from his master, began to gather up his tools. This done, and the dog having been unmuzzled, we turned in profound silence toward home.

We had taken perhaps a dozen steps in this direction when, with a loud oath, Legrand strode up to Jupiter and seized him by the collar. The astonished negro opened his eyes and mouth to the fullest extent, let fall the spades and fell upon his knees.

"You scoundrel!" said Legrand, hissing out the syllables from between his clinched teeth, "you infernal black villain—speak, I tell you—answer me this instant without prevarication—which is your left eye?"

"You scoundrel!" said Legrand.

"Oh, my golly, Massa Will, ain't dis here my lef eye for sartin?" roared the terrified Jupiter, placing his hand upon his right organ of vision and holding it there with a desperate pertinacity, as if in immediate dread of his master's attempt at a gouge.

"I thought so—I knew it! Hurrah!" vociferated Legrand, letting the negro go and executing a series of curvets and caracoles, much to the astonishment of his valet, who, arising from his knees, looked mutely from his master to myself and then from myself to his master.

"Come, we must go back," said the latter; "the game's not up yet." And he again led the way to the tulip tree.

"Jupiter," said he when we reached the foot, "come here! With the scythe cut the limb with the face outward or with the face to the limb?"

"De face was out, massa, so dat de crows could get at de eyes good widout any trouble."

"Well, then, was it this eye or that through which you dropped the beetle?" Here Legrand touched each of Jupiter's eyes.

"'Twas dis eye, massa—de lef eye—jis' as you tell me," and here it was his right eye that the negro indicated.

"That will do—we must try it again." Here my friend, about whose madness I now saw, or fancied that I saw, certain indications of method, removed the peg which marked the spot where the beetle fell, to a spot about 3 inches to the westward of its former position. Taking now the tape measure from the nearest point of the trunk to the peg, as before, and continuing the extension in a straight line to the distance of 50 feet, a spot was indicated, removed by several yards from the point at which we had been digging.

THE GUILD PINAO AGAIN.

"Mr. Geo. M. Guild, Boston, has received a special silver medal from the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association for the Guild Piano. This is very strong endorsement for the instrument of Mr. Guild's manufacture. The Association is a prominent one and the findings of its judges are highly respected. Mr. Guild's manufactures have won many honors in past years and these distinctions have always been acquired upon the merits of his productions. Inasmuch as there was strong competition in the recent exposition, Mr. Guild must feel elated over walking off with such high honors."

The above is from "The Presto" of Jan. 19, 1893, a leading musical journal published in Chicago.

Reference is made to "strong competition." THE GUILD PIANO won its laurels in competition with Chickering, Miller, Krnich & Bach, Haines, Melin & Son, Blassius, Stultz & Bauer, and Pease.

THE GUILD PIANO received a silver medal and a Special Award of a Silver Medal Diploma. The improvements in the Guild were heartily endorsed and approved by the judges.

We present a list of purchasers of The Guild Upright Piano in Ann Arbor and vicinity, and could we have obtained all the pianos we wanted, the list could be extended.

We Have During the Past Year Been Obligated to Reject Cash Orders for the Guild Piano.

ALL of these pianos were sold by ONE salesman. We are now receiving the pianos more freely, as facilities for their manufacture have been greatly increased.

There will be gospel meetings under the auspices of the Christian Alliance conducted by Rev. J. E. Sterling at the S. C. A. Building, beginning Monday afternoon April 17 and continuing every afternoon and evening at 3 and 7:30 p. m. until Saturday, April 22, '93. All are invited.

A dancing party will be given by the L. O. T. M. in Macabee Hall Thursday evening of this week where they hope to see a large number of their friends and Sir Knights. Admission 25 cents. No extra charge for refreshments. Each lady Macabee is requested to bring or send a loaf of cake.

Rev. H. S. Willett who preached last Sunday morning and evening at the Church of Christ was listened to by a full house at both services. He will preach again next Sunday. His subject in the morning will be "Four Factors in Christian Life," in the evening, "Growth of the Child Jesus."

The Chapin property north-west corner of Williams-st and Fifth-ave was purchased recently by the people of the English Lutheran denomination, and they will shortly erect a church there. The parsonage will probably stand on the same lot, which is large enough. It is the intention to build a very cosy and picturesque edifice.

The refusal of the legislature to appropriate further funds for the Michigan exhibit at the World's Fair will prevent our live stock, wool, fisheries and common schools, from receiving a place there.

There is a vast deal of spring cleaning that needs to be done in various parts of our city in the alleys and on vacant lots. The proper authorities should begin an active campaign at once against these disease-breeding and unsightly accumulations.

Last Monday evening at A. O. H. hall the C. M. B. A. celebrated the tenth anniversary of their organization in this city. Rev. E. Kelley gave and address of welcome. J. V. Sheehan gave a history of the branch, and several addresses were given by visiting clergy. Refreshments and a dance followed.

The exhibit of Michigan animals at the World's Fair made from our museum will be a fine one. There will be 500 specimens of birds, many of them very rare, and nearly 80 mammals. The taxidermist was A. B. Covert of this city, who has certainly done some very superior work on this collection.

Several citizens from the S. State-st. Packard-st region complain vigorously that the style of fertilizer used near them on some vacant city lots is hateful to sight, vile to smell, and dangerous to health, and they further state that their appeals to the board of health are provocative of nothing but most masterly inactivity on the part of that body.

At the national conference of the state boards of health, a committee was appointed of which Dr. V. C. V. was made chairman, to devise a uniform system of inter-state inspection to be adopted in case an epidemic of cholera breaks out this summer. It was agreed in the convention that this was their most serious problem.

The board of education at their meeting Tuesday evening resolved to enlarge the first and second ward school buildings instead of building a new structure on a new site. Plans will be drawn for an addition to the first ward building very soon. Names are to be given these buildings instead of the present ward nomenclature.

Rev. Gelston gave a very learned discourse on Moses last Sunday morning. He spoke of the highly scientific attainments of the age of Moses and that he was versed in all the learning of the Egyptians as the Bible states. He was a University man and graduated at Heliopolis at the great temple of the sun 1500 years before Christ.

Chairman Taylor of the Ann Arbor strike committee stated recently that suit would be brought against the T. A. & N. M. Ry. company for $400,000 damages, by the strikers, that sum representing the difference between the scale of wages adopted by the arbitrators two years ago, and the amount actually paid by the company since.

In the state of South Carolina after July 1, no liquor of any kind will be retailed except by regularly appointed state officers from regularly authorized dispensaries. Private grogshops are strictly prohibited and the saloon keepers have been advised by the best legal talent in the state to shut up and quit. Preparations are being rapidly made for the opening of the official shops on time.

The T. A. & N. M. Ry. have made a deal with the Northwestern and St. Paul railroads that will make their freight business something prodigious very possibly during this coming summer. These western roads find it necessary to avoid Chicago with east bound freight during the World's Fair. It is expected that the tracks there will scarcely do the World's Fair business alone.

The law students celebrated Prof. Thompson's election in their own hilarious way last week. They assembled before his house with their favorite musical instruments, and cheered and tooted until the popular professor came out and addressed them. It is rumored that he promised to put them all on the police force. After more cheering the procession reformed and Dean Knowlton was next visited. He also made a brief address.

A large real estate deal was consummated last Saturday, which will considerably improve property out Washtenaw-ave and vicinity. The old Millen property was purchased by Prof. A. H. Pattengill for $20,500. He at once sold the corner lot with the house to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. This leaves two large lots on Washtenaw-ave, and three large lots on Hill-st. On these latter it is said that Prof. Pattengill, Prof. H. C. Hdams and Dean Knowlton will put up fine residences in a short time.

Ex-Representative Bignall, of Livingston County, is quoted in the Detroit Tribune as saying of Governor Winans "As showing how a man may drop in the estimation of his neighbors, it is generally believed that Governor Winans could not be elected roadmaster in his own district. The reason is that he approved of a bill which virtually turns over the inland lakes of Livingston County to a hunting and fishing club in Ann Arbor. The fish in our lakes are now entirely conserved for the benefit of the Ann Arbor fishermen. Four years ago the same bill was brought in to the house but the attempt to bamboozle the legislature by it failed. During the last session the Ann Arbor men were more successful; they hoodwinked the Livingston representative, and the governor, perhaps without realizing all the consequences, approved the bill. The good that he has done is overbalanced by this act and you would be surprised to hear the blame that is heaped upon him at home."

The School of Music.

The School of Music under the able management of Prof. Stanley is proving a success. The number of students this first year is largely in excess of what the most enthusiastic friends of the school anticipated. Our citizens who subscribed to the guarantee fund made a good investment. No town in the country possesses so many advantages for a School of Music as Ann Arbor. Musical entertainments of the highest order which cost in other places two dollars or more can be enjoyed in Ann Arbor for one half of that sum. To have an opportunity to mingle with three thousand bright young men and women, gathered from every section of the country, and breathe the atmosphere of a great university is itself an education. Pupils in the School of Music have this advantage, its value hardly to be measured in words, and also an opportunity to listen during the season to lectures by the most distinguished men of the country at a nominal cost.

The religious and moral advantages of Ann Arbor cannot be surpassed. Our city pulpits are not only filled by some of the ablest men of their respective denominations, but nearly all of our churches by guilds and clubs and special lectures upon moral, religious and literary subjects are faithfully working for the moral elevation and religious interests of the young men and women temporarily sojourning in the city.

Rapid as has been the increase in the number of students in the different departments of the University the increase in the near future is more likely to be larger in the School of Music than in any other department. There is no reason why with proper management there should not be one thousand students in the School of Music in the next two years. The city could not do a wiser thing than to invest itself in this school. Ann Arbor has contributed $25,000 for the Hospitals and in the past has made several donations to the Medical department, this has been a good investment. The School of Music must have a building, it has already outgrown the only accommodation which it is able to secure. One thousand musical students would spend not less, probably much more, than four hundred thousand dollars each year in the city. In view of this how could Ann Arbor make a better investment than to aid this school by assisting in the erection of a building or at least in securing a plot of ground to be occupied by the school. The local pride and public spirit of Ann Arbor as well as its material interests should prompt it to lend Prof. Stanley every possible aid in building up the School of Music and in making this city the musical center of the west. It can be done. H
