

THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER.

VOL XIX. NO. 25

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1893.

WHOLE NO. 965

FRANTIC LEGISLATION.

THE COMMON COUNCIL AGAIN DISTINGUISHES ITSELF.

The Saloon Ordinance Passes—The Mayor Quoted—Ald. Wagner Visited the Saloons—Six to Six—Those Purify People—Sunday Law Violated—Pyrotechnics by Ald. Manly—Ald. Freeman's Gauntlet is Thrown Down—Seven to Five—We Know Those Professors—The City's Water Supply to be Analyzed.

The aldermen were all in their seats in time to get very much on record last Monday evening. Proceedings began with a veto message from the Mayor about the resolution authorizing the building committee to accept designs and make a contract with Mr. Greene. He said the council had no authority to delegate so much power to a committee.

A resolution of sympathy from the Ypsilanti common council on the death of A. H. Fillmore was received, and also a communication from the Saginaw authorities stating that if anyone wished to assist the sufferers by the late fire, contributions would be thankfully received. J. F. Hoelsie asked for permission to build a catch-basin for the water from his water motor to run into.

Ald. Taylor, for the finance committee, reported that the following sums of money should be raised for the ordinary expenses of the ensuing year:

Contingent Fund	5000
Street	7500
Fireman's	5000
Police	2500
Poor	1200
Cemetery	50
Water	5000
Bridge, Culvert and Crosswalk Fund	2000
Delinquent Tax	1300
University Hospital Aid Bond	3600
	32300

Ald. Manly asked to have the trespass ordinance reconsidered long enough to get the dates in it fixed right, which was done. Then the fire limits ordinance was adopted.

Ald. Manly then caused the ordinance relative to closing saloons to be read for the third time. This ordinance fixed 10 o'clock p. m. standard time as the hour for closing except during July, August and September, when they may be kept open till 10:30 p. m. The hour of opening in the morning is fixed at 6 o'clock.

Up to this point everything had been serene; but clouds rapidly gathered and in a few moments the fiercest storm of the season was in progress.

The city attorney began to speak on the ordinance without any invitation, and a small tilt ensued between him and President Watts who invited him with all politeness to wait until called on. The city's legal illuminator kept right on, however, and when requested by Ald. Manly to account for certain mutilations in the ordinance, he stated that the most important point in the ordinance had been struck out and must be reinstated. This was the clause "given away or delivered" which would shut up upstairs rooms over saloons. This valuable clause was found to be intact, however.

Ald. Prettyman moved to strike out from the ordinance all giving permission to keep open till 10:30 p. m.

Ald. Martin claimed this motion out of order, and became very sarcastic about the president's information on the subject of parliamentary law, when said officer decided against him.

Ald. Manly defended the ordinance with some startling allegations. The city attorney and the Mayor were present and aided the committee in their deliberations. The Mayor's ideas were embodied in the ordinance. He had expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with it, and had said that he would sign it in that form. This ordinance would be of especial benefit to country people trading in Ann Arbor. Their trading will keep them till late and then they want a glass of beer before going home. The University is closed, so students need not be considered.

Ald. Kitson said they should look out for the town boys, it made a half-hour more of hanging about the saloon and getting into trouble for them.

Ald. Prettyman said he believed the men in the saloon business were as anxious for reasonably early closing hours as other business men. The danger was to our town boys. Not over 500 students patronize saloons, while there are probably 1500 town boys and men. The difficult class to manage are the late stayers who get full. A respectable saloon man in lower town closes at seven to avoid that element. Although many people would censure him for not insisting on the hours of the state law, he would vote for the ordinance if the amendment passed.

Ald. Wagner remarked that now the business houses were closing so early, from 6 to 8 o'clock, farmers cannot trade in the city at all late except on Saturday evening. Mr. Wagner then delivered another crushing argument by quoting what several of the leading and representative saloon keepers had said to him on the subject. John Goetz, jr., desired no longer hours unless perhaps on Saturday evening. Wm. McIntyre said 10 o'clock is late enough for me, 9 would suit me except for Saturday night. Chas. Binder was satisfied with 10 o'clock, but had no objections to keeping open later. John Goetz, sr., thought the hours too long now. Wm. F. Stiegelmaier was satisfied with the present time, would like to close earlier if all would. Fred Brown just as soon keep open later in summer; would rather close later in winter when students were here. Ald. Wagner continued that these were representative men. The saloon employees ought to be considered also. He could agree to the hours 6 and 10.

Ald. Herz here had an ebullient and with what was probably intended to be profound sarcasm suggested that the council close at 9 o'clock. Unfortunately, this was treated as a jest by the remainder, and thus another opportunity for a great reform was allowed to escape.

The amendment was lost by the following vote, President Watts coming last and deciding the matter: Yes—Schaier, Wagner, Ferguson, Taylor, Prettyman and Kitson; Nays—Herz, Martin, Snow, O'Mara, Manly, Watts.

Debate now began on the ordinance. Ald. Schaier spoke of the general early closing movement in the city and thought the saloons should keep in line with it. As for the Mayor's views he had a very different idea of them from what he had heard the Mayor say about this ordinance.

Ald. Prettyman suggested that as six aldermen were in favor of the amendment just lost, it would be only right for the other six to give a few reasons for passing the ordinance as it stands. He also had a different idea of the Mayor's attitude from things stated to him.

Ald. Manly now uncorked a new bottle of eloquence. He had seen a succession of saloon men that made Ald. Wagner's dwindle to insignificance (he didn't call names) and nine out of ten wanted this 10:30 hour. Mayor Thompson was satisfied with this ordinance, was present when it was drawn up and had said positively it suited him. The country customers of the saloon were dissatisfied with the closing at 10 o'clock.

Ald. Schaier asked Ald. Manly as a farmer how he would like to employ men on his farm who sat in the saloon until 11 o'clock.

Ald. Manly continued that the saloon men paid heavily for the right to do business and their rights must be protected. They would be satisfied with this law and many had stated to him that if permitted to run until 10:30 they would agree to close Sunday; that is actually close, front door, back door, and side door, put their screens out of the way so a man could see clear through their places of business.

Ald. Schaier thought it no concession on the part of the saloon men for them to agree to obey the laws part of the time if their hours of doing a legal business were extended. Ald. Manly waxed more eloquent. Some of the saloons will run Sunday. "I couldn't prevent it when I was mayor, nor could Doty, nor will Thompson succeed."

Ald. Prettyman said that the proposition of the saloon keepers amounted to saying, "if you will legalize our crimes we will not be criminals." If these men had been acknowledging to the alderman of the fifth ward that they had violated the law, that alderman's duty was plain. It looked as though these law-breakers had been trying to buy the alderman's vote by agreeing to close Sunday. (Called to order by Ald. Manly.) The Mayor's views had not been correctly stated, he was not in favor of this ordinance.

Here the city attorney made a plunge into the discussion and got his foot in it. He would not speak for the Mayor's present views, he had a right to change them if he saw fit; but the Mayor's former views about this ordinance were correctly stated. When he, the city attorney, came to Ann Arbor, the saloons ran till 2 o'clock. He was the only man that ever prosecuted a saloon keeper under the law, and had tried with some success to make them obey the law. When Dr. Smith, W. D. Harriman, and these purity people (fine scorn) run the city, the saloons run all right. These saloon men pay a license and must have some consideration for their money. No reason for closing before 11 in summer. He didn't retire until 11, and it was a fine thing to be able to get a nice cool glass of beer before retiring.

Ald. Manly now reared himself aloft and prepared to give utterance to a ponderous and stertorian oration. It came. The general drift of it was that Ald. Prettyman was in the habit of throwing out insinuations against the other aldermen; that in this matter his (Prettyman's) gauntlet was thrown down, and that from this time on he (Manly) proposed to do something about it. Just what, was left in doubt, but from the fierce look and portentous snort which terminated this outburst, the conclusion was that it would be somewhere between terrible and pretty bad in character.

Ald. Prettyman sharply informed Ald. Manly that the aforesaid gauntlet had been thrown down one year ago, and would remain right there till there were a different set of men on that council. He then proceeded to call attention to the fact that many reasons for early closing had been given; the aldermen from the second ward, (here the two representatives of that region popped simultaneously like a pair of champagne corks out of their chairs insulted clear through, and were appeased with great difficulty,) from the first ward, he corrected himself, had collected the opinions of the most representative saloon men and found them in favor of the ten o'clock closing. Nothing scarcely had been urged in favor of the later hour. If this matter was not settled right now, it would be later at the polls. The ordinance should not pass.

However, it did: Yes—Herz, Martin, Snow, O'Mara, Manly and Watts; Nays—Schaier, Wagner, Taylor, Prettyman, and Kitson.

A special election in the third ward to fill the vacancy caused by Ald. Fillmore's death was ordered for July 3.

Ald. Wagner then offered a resolution that the board of health have the city water analyzed four times a year by a competent chemist and report to council. Ald. Martin asked who would bear the expense; the water company should do it.

Ald. Wagner said that if done while College was in session Dr. Vaughan said it would be analyzed for nothing. Otherwise it would cost $25 each time.

Alk. Martin, "We know these professors, we have had experience of them."

Ald. Prettyman, "What does that mean?"

Ald. Martin, less pugnaciously, "If they do anything they always get their day's wages out of it."

Ald. Prettyman then explained that the analysis of the water would be a good laboratory job for the students, Dr. Vaughan would supervise it; and if he said it would cost nothing, that was what it would cost.

Ald. Martin didn't object to water being analysed but water company should do it and report. Resolution passed.

Property holders on Monroe-st sent in a petition to have grading suspended pending a further investigation by the council. They claimed that the damage to their property would be considerable and no public interest subserved. Prof. Carhart addressed the council on the matter. Suspension ordered.

Ald. Ferguson tendered plans for the new city building, and after some discussion, the second floor proposition was accepted.

This puts all the offices up stairs. The alternative proposition gave a ground floor space with rooms above. More space was given by the plan adopted. The committee was authorized to proceed to obtain plans and draw up a contract for future submission.

The Other Fellows.

While the "professional" S. L. has been hustling around getting incorporated, and issuing announcements of future triumphs the "lit" faction has been doing a great big job of quiet hustling. They are not saying a word, but the saws keep humming right along in their wood pile. When it comes to number of adherents they are not very far behind the "professionals," a large part of whose strength lies among the senior laws.

The "professionals" have the legal status and the "lits" have the money. The old board is with them and has by custom absolute power of appropriation over the funds in its possession. In the past the old S. L. A. has made presents ad libitum to other organizations. This year it is probable that it will endow its favorite successor with a comfortable sum.

It has been said that one only organization can have University hall. This is not so certain. Why should one be granted such a right any more than the other? If both are denied they will be on equal footing. Both new boards mean business. One is incorporated and owns the name S. L. A., and the other has the money. So far as securing attraction for next year is concerned they are both well along.

The Horticultural Society.

The Washtenaw County Horticultural Society will hold a meeting next Saturday at their usual place in the basement of the court-house June 24. There will be exhibits of strawberries and cherries. Topics for discussion will be on the fruits how ripening. Transportation matters will also be perfected.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN.

NEWS AND GOSSIP GLEANED FROM THE CAMPUS.

Items of Interest Regarding Our Big University.—A Column Especially Devoted to University News.—Personal, Gossip, Etc.

Mr. Geo. Rebec instructor in English will spend next year abroad as a student among the German universities.

It is said that the U. of Illinois or the U. of Chicago will probably succeed the U. of Minnesota in the western inter-collegiate league next year.

The library has received five volumes of fugitive articles by the late Prof. Alexander Winchell, collected by his brother and presented to the University by him.

The new Palladium board of editors has organized itself with Thomas W. Bradshaw, managing editor; Chas. W. Sencenbaugh, business manager, Victor C. Vaughan, secretary.

Mr. R. L. Weeks instructor in French has become the fortunate possessor of a fellowship which is worth $800 a year for two years, and he will consequently devote that time to study in Europe.

The University Nine has played 18 games this season losing four, two to Cornell, one to D. A. C., and one to Minnesota. They have made about 70 more hits than their opponents, half as many errors, and twice as many runs.

The Inlander board of editors for next year is constituted as follows: G. W. Harris, editor; S. H. Perry, L. G. Seeley, D. F. Lyons, associates, F. W. Pine, business manager; Prof. John Dewey, Prof. F. N. Scott, advisory board.

Paddock and Snyder won first place in the doubles, and Paddock first in the singles, at the inter-collegiate tennis tournament. Thus Michigan is first, Wisconsin second and Minnesota third in the singles, and Minnesota was second and Wisconsin third in the doubles.

A number of professors in the professional schools have been giving farewell addresses to their classes, consisting usually of brief and pointed practical suggestions drawn from experience. The medics were very particularly impressed by Dr. Carrow's parting shots. Dean Knowlton's closing address involved a joke of no small proportions.

Having frequently drawn relief from a glass of water near at hand he remarked apologetically when it was emptied that he did not think he had ever drunk a full glass of water before—the laws howled with glee—during a lecture.

The Athletic Association have been straightening out their inter-collegiate field day records made at Chicago recently. The manager is said to have run several improper personages into the track team who won medals and aided materially in securing Michigan's leadership. All such medals have been returned, the championship given up, and the manager summarily fired by the board. This is a highly creditable action.

The Ypsilanti Sentinel thinks the Normal girls more winning than those of the University, as "the former got their appropriation for their 'gym while the latter got the cold shoulder.' Not to be wondered at. The University girls went up to Lansing, scented with scholasticism, rhabarbar, jalap, and laboratory compounds, while their Normal sisters, with liquid eyes and lilac blooms, wilted on the necks of the legislature and murmured, "Oh, do please, you dear old Sawbucks!" and they did.

The June number of the University Record has been issued and is a very interesting number. It gives an account of the movement to secure more uniform requirements for admission to college course; discusses the graduate school work at the U. of M.; describes the University exhibit at Chicago; gives a classified list of books for historical study; prints several abstracts from this year's gist of theses for advanced degrees; and contains some other matter of interest and value.

Every senior medic passed the examinations and all but one will receive his diploma next week. The case of the student whose diploma is withheld is a very novel one. His name is Patterson, and during the three years of his residence he has developed some remarkable eccentricities. For one thing, when a matter does not suit him in class he will burst into tears and weep copiously. He will rush about the hospital in a violent haste if anything gets mislaid, regardless of persons or conditions. His record in his recitations on book work is very fine. His sanity will be determined before the diploma will be granted.

The Present Condition in the State is 79 Per Cent. of Previous Years. The Michigan crop report for June, issued by the secretary of state, says: The average condition of wheat in the state is 79 per cent., comparison being with vitality and growth of average years.

Condition of State Banks.

Commissioner Sherwood issued a consolidated statement showing the condition of the 149 state banks and three trust companies of Michigan at the close of business May 4. The resources and liabilities were $24,379,584.40, or $1,637,050.80 greater than December 31, when the last report was made.

Better Buy at Home.

Agents are traveling through the country selling cloth and groceries by sample. They claim to represent some large Chicago or New York house. They also claim to be selling the goods at wholesale prices and they have as smooth a tongue as Will Carleton's "Lightning rod vender."

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended June 10 reports sent in by sixty-three observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that whooping cough increased, and intermittent fever, pneumonia and erysipelas decreased in area of prevalence. Typhoid fever was reported at sixteen places, diphtheria at forty-one, measles at thirty-five and scarlet fever at thirty-seven places.

Michigan Pioneers.

At the nineteenth annual session in Lansing of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical society the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, ex-Gov. Alpheus Felch, Ann Arbor; secretary, George H. Greene, Lansing; treasurer, M. L. Coleman, Lansing; executive committee, Albert Miller, Bay City; O. M. Barnes, Lansing; Daniel Striker, Eastings; committee of historians, Michael Shoemaker, Jackson; John H. Forster, Williamston; Henry H. Holt, Muskegon; L. D. Watkins, Manchester; J. Wilkie Moore, Detroit.

Michigan Lawyers.

The third annual meeting of the Michigan State Bar association was held at Lansing and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, George Durand, Flint; Secretary, Ralph Stone, Grand Rapids; Treasurer, Edmund D. Barry, Grand Rapids; directors, Levi T. Griffin, Detroit; Fred A. Maynard, Grand Rapids; Thomas E. Barkworth, Jackson.

Short But Newsworthy Items.

Lady physicians are becoming quite numerous in Michigan. There are thirteen soldiers buried in the Vicksburg cemetery, one of the war of 1812. Fire gutted the photograph gallery of Edward Tray at Jackson. Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, of Coldwater, has settled her $3,000 damage case against the city in consideration of receiving $100. Bay county wheat and corn is in bad shape. Water is standing on many fields to the depth of several inches and the grain is rotting on the ground. William Myre, 12 years old, was drowned in a mill pond near Menominee. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schermerhorn celebrated their golden wedding at Diamond Lake. Charles Thorsen died from sunstroke at Ishpeming. Reading has organized a cornet band with thirteen members. Evidently there is little superstition about that band. Miss Kate M. Alling resigned as principal of Michigan female seminary at Kalamazoo because of her approaching marriage. Miss Louisa P. Sampson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will succeed her. Alexander Maltonea was injured by a falling rock at the Buffalo mine in Negreanne and died from his injuries. He was 23 years old and single. Peter Blume, 18 years of age, who came from Holland three months ago, was killed by lightning while working in a field near Kalamazoo. Four negroes and a white man quarreled at Augusta and Albert Mahoney (colored) fatally stabbed Philip Peake, also colored. The state bank at Crystal Falls suspended payment. The bank was organized about a year ago with a capital of $25,000 and had deposits of $90,000. Secretary H. B. Baker, of the state board of health, who went to Ironwood to investigate the serious typhoid fever outbreak there, said impure water was the cause. A Grand Rapids banana retailer named Tomaso Ezzo feloniously assaulted a 19-year-old girl. He was convicted and Judge Burlingame sentenced him to the state prison for twelve years. A White Cloud merchant offered a fishing rod for the largest brook trout caught in Newaygo county in May. The rod netted him one pound and nine ounces of fish. The state board of health will hold a sanitary convention at Hillsdale July 6 and 7 and tell the people how to restrict the cholera and typhoid fever. A furious storm of wind and rain struck Hillsdale, doing considerable damage to fences and trees.

BUSINESS REVIEW.

Effects of the Prevailing Financial Stringency in the Country.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The weekly review of trade says: "Concerted action by the banks of New York has changed the situation materially. More failures and a tremendous drain of money to the west had such effect here that the banks were unanimous in deciding upon the issue of clearing house certificates. Much increased accommodations for the business community are expected to result and doubtless will, unless speculation is stimulated to absorb all the increase in available resources through undue preference for marketable securities over other assets. The weakness of banks at many western points continues. The widespread stringency is having a serious effect upon merchants and manufacturers who are in no way concerned with speculative operations."

"A very sharp fall in foreign exchange removes the chance of gold export at present, but it is due to foreign purchases of securities rather than to a change in trade balances. Exports in two weeks of June, it is true, are $7,700,000, or 15 per cent. less than in the two weeks of May, but the decrease in place of the enormous increase reported for months, but balances are still adverse and likely to be for some time."

"The decline in prices has led to some increase in the foreign demand for products, but has been followed during the last week by an advance of more than a cent in wheat, with a rise of 200,000 bushels; 84 cents in corn and 8-10 of a cent in cotton, with sales of 900,000 bushels. Pork has fallen 50 cents, oats 1/2 cent, coffee 1/2 cent and oil a cent, but any material increase in exports at this season must come from marketing the surplus of cotton and wheat carried over, and this in advance in prices tends to prevent."

"Reports from other cities nearly all show a decline in money and retail trade improved. Cleveland is fairly good and at Cincinnati credit at Detroit trade is quiet and credits closely scanned and at Indianapolis there is a better feeling. Chicago reports an easier financial situation, but western demands are urgent, collections very slow, speculation limited in volume, building 50 per cent smaller than last year, wholesale trade fairly satisfactory and retail trade improved. Milwaukee reports confidence slowly returning. At St. Paul excellent crop prospects make a more hopeful feeling and at Omaha trade is good, at Kansas City fair, at St. Joseph fair. At St. Louis trade is beyond anticipation. At all southern points trade is slow and quiet."

Failures during the last week have numbered 313 in the United States, against 153 last year.

During the week ended yesterday leading clearing houses in the United States reported exchanges amounting to $1,081,964,357, against $1,136,384,000 the corresponding week of 1892, the decrease was 9.6.

IT WAS MURDER.

Contractors Held Responsible for the Riot at Lemont, Ill. CHICAGO, June 17.—At Lemont the following verdict was returned by the coroner's jury, which has been investigating the shooting of George Kiskia at Smith's camp on June 9: "We find that George Kiskia came to his death from shock and hemorrhage caused by a gunshot wound in the neck of a unknown man, June 9, on the banks of the Illinois & Michigan canal, in Will county, very near the Cook county line. We recommend that the unknown man be apprehended and held until released by the course of law. We also further recommend that Contractors Locker, Jackson and Maher be censured for shooting defenseless men without cause or warrant of law."

The verdict caused a sensation, but not more than the verdict in the inquest held later upon John Kinga, the section hand shot at the same fight, and who died Thursday. The jury brought in a verdict holding Contractor C. H. Locker and the foreman, J. A. Bibb, responsible for the death of the man. The majority of the citizens are greatly pleased with both verdicts.

ALL BELLS TO RING.

Plan for a Universal Celebration in the United States July 4. CHICAGO, June 20.—A plan of celebration has been conceived by the committee in charge of the Columbian liberty bell whereby on July 4 all the bells in schoolhouses and churches of the land will ring simultaneously at noon with the new liberty bell. The bell will be cast this week at Troy, N. Y., and will be composed of thousands of revolution ary relics and other mementoes donated by the children of liberty. During the fair the bell will be located at Chicago, but after that it will be very patriotic and will visit all the counties in the forty-four states, attending celebrations of every kind.

Oregon Town Burned.

TILLAMOOK, Ore., June 20.—The business portion of this town was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. Several fires broke out simultaneously and it is supposed to be the work of incendiaries. There is great excitement and talk of lynching the guilty parties. Many persons are destitute. The total loss is $100,000; insurance about half.

Sugar Bounty Paid Last Year.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Commissioner Miller has prepared a statement which shows that the total sugar bounty for the fiscal year ending June 30 will be $9,403,989. The amount actually paid is as follows: On cane sugar, $8,697,994; on beet sugar, $831,863; on sorghum sugar, $19,817; on maple sugar, $60,110; total, $9,309,293.

A Strange Coincidence.

LIBERTY, Ind., June 18.—While attempting to board a train here yesterday Jack Kain and John Gear were thrown under the wheels and killed. Each leaves a widow and two little girls; each was 35 years of age; each was a Catholic, and each had just $18 when killed.

In Business Nearly Forty Years.

COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—J. C. Butler, wholesale grocer, has assigned to Charles Butler. Liabilities, $50,000; assets, $80,000 to $100,000. Cause, financial stringency of the times. The house has been in business since 1854.

EDGEMONT, Ind., June 18.—In a general fight here yesterday Lewis Boyer and Hugh Coyle, proprietors of the only saloons in the place, were killed.

MAY OPEN SUNDAYS.

The Injunction Closing the World's Fair Gates Set Aside.

In a Unanimous Opinion Justices Fuller and Bunn Say That the Position of the United States Government is Wrong. FAVORS SUNDAY OPENING. CHICAGO, June 19.—The world's fair is to be kept open on Sunday in the future. Such was the unanimous decision of the United States circuit court of appeals, Chief Justice Fuller presiding, given at 11 a. m. Saturday.

The appeal from the order of Circuit Judges Woods and Jenkins closing the fair on Sundays had been argued for two days and the court of appeals reversed it and held that the local directory could do as it pleased in the matter.

COURT HAS JURISDICTION.

Justice Fuller first took up the question of the court of appeals, which had been challenged by the counsel for the government, who held that the appeal ought to have gone direct to the supreme court, on the ground that the constitutionality of a United States law was in question.

This claim he held to be bad, as the decision in the circuit court, based on other questions than the constitutionality of the law, neither had the jurisdiction of that court been questioned, the only contention of the counsel for the exposition company on that point being that it was a case which ought to have been brought on the law and not on the equity side.

IT WAS A CONTRACT.

As to the $2,500,000 appropriation of congress to the fair, to which the Sunday closing condition was attached, Justice Fuller held that that was nothing more nor less than a contract. It was not a donation, as the council for the government claimed, for conditions attached to it on both sides. Under it the local directory was bound to raise more money in addition to the many millions it already had raised, complete the buildings in a certain time, and do other things, all of which it had done. Consequently if the government thought that the local directory had broken part of this contract by opening the fair on Sundays its remedy lay in bringing an action at law for damages, but it could not go into a court of equity with what amounted to a bill for specific performance.

WILL RENEW THE FIGHT.

Secretary McLean, of the Sabbatarian association, said that they had not given up the fight yet. They would now press the injunction suit of Wannamaker & Brown, who sue as stockholders, and he thought that that case would stand in equity.

SUNDAY AT THE PARK.

The paid admissions to Jackson park on Sunday numbered 57,676. The officials are somewhat disappointed in the Sunday attendance, and it is rumored that an effort will be made to reduce the admission fee on that day to twenty-five cents. The crowd was an orderly one. Many thousands spent the day and evening inside the walls of the German village, Old Vienna and the street in Cairo.

On the main grounds thousands could be seen strolling about in every direction. The rotunda of the Administration building and the plazas seemed to be central meeting points for everybody. Columbian avenue, in the Manufactures building, and all the sections that were open to visitors were filled all the time. The same was true in many of the other buildings. It was noticed that a great many more of the exhibits, especially in Manufactures building, were closed and covered than has been the case heretofore when the fair was open Sunday. The entrances to the Italian, Swiss, Norway, United States and Japanese sections were barricaded and most of the exhibits in them were hidden from view. All the booths in the British section were also closed and the glass sides of many of them were covered with white tarpaulins. Germany, however, was wide open. One could go through the French, Austrian, Belgian and Russian sections and see a great deal, but a portion of their exhibitors had drawn the curtains Saturday night and left them to remain so until this morning. A few exhibits were covered in all the buildings, but not so many as in the main edifice.

In the Electricity building the humming of dynamos and motors was notable for its absence, and nearly every exhibit was closed. Machinery hall presented a vast display of motionless machinery. In the Agricultural building the exhibits were open, but few attendants were present.

In the Transportation building covered exhibits were conspicuously numerous. The Mines and Mining building was practically deserted. The reason was apparent, for sheeted and closed exhibits were on every hand.

Will Be Open Every Night.

CHICAGO, June 20.—It has been decided by the council of administration to keep the world's fair open until 11 o'clock every night. Heretofore it has been open only on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, which have been known as "special" nights at the fair.

Decided on a Nine-Hour Day.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The International Typographical union has decided to make a nine-hour work day for book and job printers. The question will be submitted to a vote of the 30,000 members for ratification. Louisville was chosen as the place of the next meeting.

Homes For World's Fair Visitors.

In view of the crowded condition of Chicago and its hotels during the World's Fair period, Poole Bros. have done a public service in issuing a very carefully prepared list of the Homes in Chicago that are thrown open to the public upon this occasion. The list is complete and gives the name, location, number of rooms, etc., so that correspondence may be had and arrangements made before the visitor comes to Chicago. This list is accompanied by splendid sectional maps of the city on a large scale, by which the location of every house can be accurately found. Copies can be obtained at the MICHIGAN CENTRAL Ticket Office at the Publishers price, 50 cents—less really than the value of the maps themselves. 70

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, fullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. WITHOUT THE
Non-pull-out
BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game:
The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant stem and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsome finish, better protection to the wood, and the first coat will be less.

If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or

"Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, without as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

THE BLAME FIXED.
Four Men Held Responsible for the Ford Theater Disaster.

They Are Col. Ainsworth, Contractor; Dant, Engineer; and Superintendent Covert, Government Inspector.

RETURNED A VERDICT.
WASHINGTON, June 20.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the Ford theater disaster reached a conclusion Monday afternoon. It holds responsible Col. Frederick Ainsworth, Contractor Dant, Engineer Sasse and Superintendent Covert for criminal negligence and manslaughter. The announcement was received with cheers by those who were in attendance at Willard's hall.

THE JURY'S DECISION.
After being out two hours the jury returned a verdict, setting forth that Frederick B. Loftus came to his death by the disaster at Ford's theater building on June 9, 1893. They recite the fact that George W. Dant was the contractor under the government for the work in progress which caused the disaster and all the circumstances connected with the accident and find that Frederick C. Ainsworth, in charge of the building, William G. Covert, the superintendent, Francis Sasse, the engineer, and George W. Dant, the contractor, are responsible for the killing of Loftus.

The finding further refers to the absence of shoring or other means to protect the building during the process of excavation, by reason of which one of the piers fell, causing the fall of the floors and the consequent crushing and killing.

CONDEMNS THE GOVERNMENT.
The jurors further find that the failure of the government of the United States to provide for skilled superintendence of the work of repair and alteration of its buildings in charge of the war department is most unbusiness-like and reprehensible, and are of the opinion that if such superintendence had been provided in the case of the work on the Ford's theater building the awful tragedy might have been averted.

GIVEN A CHANCE.
Coroner Patterson decided not to issue warrants for the commitment of Col. Ainsworth, Dant, Covert and Sasse until this morning in order to give them an opportunity of obtaining bail. Col. Ainsworth has already secured a bondsman. Contractor Dant is very ill at his residence.

BANKS FAIL.
Several Financial Institutions in Various Places Forced to Suspend.

ALBANY, Ore., June 20.—The Linn county bank of this city has closed its doors owing to the stringency in the money market. J. L. Cowan, president of the bank, says the deposits amount to about $50,000, and that the assets will exceed the liabilities by about $50,000. The Linn county bank at Lebanon also closed its doors at noon. The Bank of Oregon, this city, also closed its doors.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 20.—The Bank of New Hanover has been forced to make an assignment to Junius Davis in the interest of all concerned. The assets are estimated at $1,250,000; the liabilities, $800,000.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 20.—The City savings bank at a late hour last night made an assignment. It is claimed the depositors will be paid in full.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 20.—The state bank commissioner has ordered the State bank of Plainville closed.

CLEVELAND, O., June 20.—The Lake county bank at Painesville, O., which was forced to suspend last week because of a run, was solvent. A statement shows that the assets were $450,000 and the liabilities $350,000.

KILLED IN A ROW.
A Bag of Beer Causes a Quarrel That Ends the Life of a Man.
DANVILLE, Ill., June 20.—Thomas Duncan, an ex-policeman of this city, killed Wise Lafferty by stabbing him Sunday evening. The men, in company with several others, had a keg of beer in the woods. Lafferty became intoxicated and forced a quarrel with Duncan. The coroner's jury exonerated Duncan from all blame, claiming that he acted in self-defense. After he was stabbed Lafferty walked home, nearly a mile away, and dropped dead as he was climbing over his garden fence.

One Boy Kills Another.
ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 20.—The murder of Bertie Wagner, the little son of Louis Wagner, a farmer near Howell, N. J., by George Wood, a boy employed by Mr. Wagner, has caused intense excitement in that portion of Monmouth county. Young Wood ran away and has not been arrested.

Fell 100 Feet.
CHICAGO, June 20.—John Thornly fell 100 feet from a scaffolding in the Manufacturers' building on Monday and was instantly killed. Thornly was one of a gang of painters engaged on the interior of the building and while busy with his work lost his balance and fell from the scaffold with fatal result.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 20.—The Capital national bank, which suspended payment May 11, resumed business Monday morning. The new president, N. S. Byrum, expressed the opinion that 10 o'clock that the amount of money drawn out was almost balanced by the amount deposited.

Killed His Father.
NAPOLEON, O., June 20.—Miller P. Long, a farmer, died from the effects of a stab wound inflicted by his 16-year-old son Napoleon, who was arrested. The father had reprimanded the son for not going to work.

WORK OF FLAMES.
Forest Fires Do Enormous Damage in Wisconsin.

Property Valued at Over $1,000,000 Destroyed and Nearly 4,000 Persons Made Homeless—The Conflagration Still Rages.

A SEA OF FIRE.
DULUTH, Minn., June 20.—Accurate information regarding the Mesaba range fire is now available. At Virginia there are thirty-two buildings still standing and 940 were burned. At Mountain Iron there were six buildings burned. At Biwabic the damage was slight. Merritt has sixteen houses left. THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS.

There are on the range about 3,600 people homeless, many of them without food or clothing. The fire is still burning furiously in the forests and all about the towns that are left, but unless the wind changes they are not in danger. Duluth will care for all the sufferers. It has been decided not to appeal for outside aid.

MINING CAMPS SUFFER.
Small fires are burning all along the range still and a change of wind will cause more damage, but the danger is not imminent. The mining companies suffered heavily. The camps at the plants of the following mines were either entirely or partially destroyed; Shaw, Commodore, Franklin, Jones, Mesaba, Mountain, Ohio, Rouchleau, Burke and New England. The Minnewas mine escaped and the Wyoming has not been heard from.

THE LOSSES.
The total loss as nearly as it can be estimated is in the neighborhood of $1,100,000. The insurance will not exceed $400,000 and may fall short of that sum. The losses are so scattered and everything is in such confusion that no details of loss or insurance can be obtained.

FIRES IN MICHIGAN.
Similar forest fires are burning over the whole upper Michigan peninsula. So far no towns have been burned, but three days more of the intensely hot and dry weather that has prevailed for the last fortnight will do incalculable damage.

RAGING EVERYWHERE.
ASHLAND, Wis., June 20.—Forest fires are raging everywhere in northern Wisconsin and have done great damage to standing timber. No rain has fallen for over a month and the fires run through the woods with almost irresistible rapidity. Iron River, a lumbering town 28 miles west of here, was saved Sunday night by strenuous efforts. Only one schoolhouse and six dwellings were destroyed. At last accounts the fire was approaching from the west and the town is again threatened. The village of Sanborn, 10 miles south of this city, was wiped out Sunday, every building being destroyed.

BURNED TO DEATH.
At Moquah John Meagher, a prominent citizen, was burned to death while fighting the fire which destroyed his homestead. Many other fatalities are rumored, but particulars are meager. As everything is dry and hot the worst is feared. Two children, names not known, were burned to death at Sanborn. The Northern Pacific bridge at Minersville is gone and a bridge 800 feet long on the south shore at Sanborn was destroyed. Many freight cars are destroyed. The total property loss is in the millions.

NO LONGER OUR GUEST.
Princess Eulalia Reaches New York and Uncle Sam's Duties as Host Are Ended.
NEW YORK, June 19.—Infanta Eulalia and party, somewhat tired with all the sightseeing and entertainment provided by the west, arrived in the city at 5:15 Friday evening. When the train reached the depot Mr. J. B. Ceballos, who has placed his house at the disposal of the infanta, was on hand to receive her and his carriage was at the door. Commander Davis said this evening that his duties ended the moment the princess' foot touched the platform. The nation is no longer the host and the princess is absolutely free from official obligations of any kind.

Illinois Legislature Adjourns.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—After having been in session for 463 days the thirty-eighth general assembly last night adjourned sine die. During the session 781 bills were introduced in the house and 423 in the senate. The tax levy for the next two years is $5,000,000 for revenue purposes and $2,000,000 for schools. The total appropriations amount to $9,200,000.

Dry Goods Store Burned.
DAYTON, O., June 17.—Bauer, Foster & Co.'s dry goods and carpet establishment was damaged to the extent of $90,000 by fire Friday. A clothing store next door owned by Philip Klopfer & Sons was also damaged $10,000. The insurance in Bauer, Foster & Co.'s concern is $65,000.

Won't Sign the Scale.
YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 20.—The iron manufacturers of the Mahoning valley have determined not to sign the wage scale until after July 1. All the mills will cease operations June 30. As to when they will resume it is a matter of conjecture.

Sons of the Revolution.
CHICAGO, June 17.—The Sons of the American Revolution in session in this city yesterday elected Gen. Horace Porter, of New York, as president. Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, is one of the vice presidents.

Five Lives Sacrificed.
CAMERON, W. Va., June 18.—Freight trains collided on the Baltimore and Ohio road near here yesterday, and Engineers Dean and Kinney, Fireman Clem Fisher and two other trainmen were killed.

Life Sentence for Stealing Chickens.
COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—David Blackburn was sentenced to prison for life here, for stealing three chickens. It was his third penitentiary offense, and the law makes a third sentence a life one.

TOO MANY DEBTS.
A Receiver Named for the Pittsburgh Oil Well Supply Company.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 20.—The Oil Well Supply company, one of the most extensive corporations in Pennsylvania, has gone into the hands of a receiver. The corporation is capitalized at $1,500,000 and its assets aggregate $2,500,000. The total indebtedness is placed at $1,100,000. The debt is pressing and cannot be met and to save a sacrifice of the assets by forced sales and disintegration of the numerous factories and works and preserve the whole plant as a unit the appointment of a receiver was decided upon. The principal offices and iron and pipe mill of the company are located in Pittsburgh. They also have foundries and shops in Oil City, Bradford and other places, and own property in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia as well as in Pennsylvania. They employ over 1,500 clerks. President Eaton has issued an address to the public saying the company was prepared if given time to get on its feet again. There will probably be a meeting of the creditors.

TO BE BOYCOTTED.
Methodists Will Issue a Manifesto Against World's Fair Sunday Opening.

CHICAGO, June 19.—If Bishop Merrill's authority is good the Methodists of the world will fight the World's Columbian exposition because of the Sunday opening feature. He says the general commission of the denomination will issue a manifesto next Thursday withdrawing the Methodist exhibits from the fair within two weeks and asking the 5,000,000 members of the church to keep away from the White City week days as well as Sundays. The order to be issued he declares is nothing short of a complete boycott of the exposition. And the bishop predicts that other Christian denominations will follow the example set by the followers of Wesley and that the enterprise will suffer financially from the defections. Bishop Merrill is chairman of the committee under whose authority the Methodist church exhibits were placed within the fair.

FIRE IN CHICAGO.
Several Business Firms Burned Out. The Total Loss Being $300,000.

CHICAGO, June 19.—As the result of a fire Sunday morning in the six-story building at the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Congress street there remains but the shell walls of a $50,000 structure enclosing the debris, which represent, all told, a loss of between $250,000 and $300,000. The heaviest losses by the fire are the O. W. Richardson company, carpets, curtains, rugs and oil cloths; the Ginn Publishing company; Vose & Sons, pianos, and A. B. Chase & Co., piano manufacturers. Their combined losses are placed at about $300,000. The fire was started by an electric light wire in an ice-cream parlor on the Congress street side of the building.

BURIED IN A MINE.
Three Men Lose Their Lives in a Pennsylvania Colliery.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 20.—An explosion of fire damp occurred in the coal mines of Hartley & Marshall at Banks-ville, near here, at 3 o'clock Monday morning. Three miners who have not reported are believed to be entombed in the mine. Their names are John E. McLain, William Chappell and John Legenstl. Rescuing parties have been at work, but so far they have been unable to reach the imprisoned men on account of the death-dealing black damp.

Prof. D. C. Fall of Albion came down to the Cholera conference last week and smiled one of those serene self-satisfied superior sort of smiles and said that the pig pen question had been fully settled long ago in his city. This sort of thing makes us real mad. We've got things here that Albion hasn't. Our Common Council looks closer after the temper of the Marshall than their does so there! And we've got F. C. Brown too, and he gets - us street signs and things.

THE PUBLIC BE—

If it is a possible thing to do, it is time a halt was called on the common council of this city by the Mayor. Their reckless disregard of the rights and feelings of the great majority of our citizens, in order to foster and protect the less reputable saloon-keepers is most discouraging and abominable. Against the expressed will of the majority of the people, against the common sense and experience of the past, and against the expressed wish of many of the reputable citizens engaged in the saloon business, the majority of the common council last Monday night took its stand, and insisted on extending the hours in which the sale of liquors as a beverage can be legally carried on.

There is no indication of an intention on the part of this majority to deal squarely or openly. They sit still, say little with one exception, but vote for disorder every time. There is no business interest that receives any consideration, if said interest conflicts with those of the lower class of saloons. Justice, the public welfare, the moral health,—these seem to be unmeaning phrases in their ears, or they confuse them in some way with the idea of unlimited beer twenty-four hours a day. To them the garden of Eden would be a sad place unless Eve served beer.

A Letter from the S. L. A.

For the benefit of the inquiring patrons of the Students Lecture Association and of the public in general the Board of Directors of said Association desire to correct a false impression that has been held by some. The statement, for which perhaps the reporters of the press are responsible, has been made that the chartered Student's Lecture Association is composed entirely of members of the Law Department. The truth of the matter is that said Association comprises not only the whole of the Law Department, but also the whole of the Medical and Dental Departments together with a large part of the Literary Department. This fact thus exposes the truth that the opposition, the No-name Combine, is composed of only a part of the Literary Department, or in other words, of the so-called "Griffin Faction." As has been before stated by the press, the Student's Lecture Association has been incorporated under the laws of Michigan, a thing which should have been done long ago, for being thus incorporated, the Association is made a responsible body capable of carrying on business as any other incorporation and thereby being enabled to furnish to the public a course of entertainments of the highest rank.

The acting Board of Directors have labored diligently to get the business for the ensuing year upon a firm basis, and steps have been taken toward procuring for next year's course such men as Benjamin F. Harrison, David B. Hill and the famous Spanish orator, Amelio Castelar. In the line of music at least two of the best concert companies obtainable will be included.

The Board have also decided upon a new feature, which will probably be of interest to the public. Instead of limiting the course of lectures to Ann Arbor, as has been done in the past, there will also be given next year a course of lectures in Detroit, Grand Rapids and other large cities in Michigan, and there is strong probability that the Association will be incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and a course be also given in the large cities of that state. It is evident that under such a plan it will be possible to secure the greatest talent and give our patrons the benefit of a rare intellectual treat.

The Board of Directors acting in the capacity of the Student's Lecture Association are endeavoring to make it an Association of which the outside world as well as the students and citizens of Ann Arbor may be justly proud.

The Cholera Conference.

About fifty physicians and health officers assembled in the hygienic laboratory last week to lay plans for excluding the Asiatic cholera bacillus from this country this season, or should he break through the barriers, for running him down and pounding the life out of him before he could bite anybody.

Dr. Vaughan had the conference in charge and he caused the addresses and remarks to be taken in shorthand for future reference and publication. He opened proceedings by giving a general explanation of bacteria, their eccentricities and distinguishing characteristics. Then Prof. F. G. Novy gave a brief account of the cholera bacillus. He had many specimens present, and showed the villian up completely. Said villian is hooked at one end and pointed at the other, resembling a comma. When magnified 1500 times he looks like a crooked speck of dust. He writes along slowly, either end forward. His diabolical origin is indicated by the fact that a lower temperature than 60° is fatal to him. A jet of steam, a dose of vitriol, fumes of sulphur, and corrosive sublimate directly applied are all very bad for his health.

In the general discussion it was emphasized that if any suspected case of cholera should occur, the local health officer should catch a specimen of the bacillus in a sterilized bottle, and bring him to Ann Arbor at once for identification, telegraphing ahead to insure finding everything ready. The expense should be borne by the local board of health, but the office was not to stop to figure on that till afterward.

Dr. Baker, secretary of the State Board of Health, explained how to disinfect stools for cholera. He preferred sulphuric acid. In the evening the matter of what was being done to keep cholera out was discussed. It was noted that Canada was in the lead. Ohio's new law giving great authority to the Board of Health was commended. The U. S. was criticized for not making more effective and convenient arrangements at the principal ports. They agreed unanimously that the health officers should be paid a fair salary. Cities like Ann Arbor need a $2,000 man right on hand all the time.

The Friday morning session was devoted to typhoid fever and diphtheria. These should be guarded against as much as cholera. The University was then inspected by the visitors.

In the afternoon many items of importance were touched upon. Underground privy vaults were condemned; pig pens in the city also. How to bring the necessity of sanitary precautions home to the attention of householders was considered.

The State Board of Health was in session during the conference trying to formulate rules of procedure for health officers under the new state law.

After a Scap.

Dr. Frank Wells of the State Board of Health, stated to the REGISTER that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, was paying very small attention at present to the Michigan law concerning sanitary inspection of emigrants. They enter Michigan at the "Soo." They asked the State Board to send an inspector to Quebec, or some such convenient locality, to inspect and fumigate the emigrants as they landed, and thus avoid a delay at the "Soo." Such an arrangement has been made with the Grand Trunk, but this latter corporation pays the bills. The only authority that the State Board can exercise in the matter is to select an agent whose inspection they will accept, who can be depended upon to supplement the Canadian disinfection to make it meet the requirements of the Michigan law. They cannot bear his expenses. The Grand Trunk willingly assumed the expense to save delays at Detroit and Port Huron. The Canadian Pacific, learning that the Board could not pay the bills, failed to renew their petition for the inspector, and have become somewhat defiantly lax in the handling of emigrants at the Sault. The State Board as soon as its code of rules of procedure is formulated under the requirements of the new law, will proceed to make life as full of excitement for the offending railroad corporation as anyone can reasonably desire.

School of Music.

One of the most enjoyable Faculty concerts of the season was that of Thursday June 15. Each number on the program furnished another proof of the artistic abilities of the members of the faculty. Perhaps the most interesting numbers were the Grieg Sonata and the Foote Quartet. Mr. Silas Mills' singing was as usual exceedingly enjoyable.

There was one delightful surprise for the audience. In the Foote Quartet Mr. Schmaal conclusively proved that an excellent pianist may also be an able performer on the viola. The programme was as follows.

- I. Sonata. Piano and Violin. F. major Op. 8. Allegro con brio. Allegretto quasi Andantino. Allegro molto vivace.
- Messa. J. Erich Schmaal and Frederick Mills.
- II. "I at thy feet would fain be lying." Gradus-Hoffmann. Mr. Silas E. Mills.
- a Scherzino. (from Album op 10, c) Polonaise, B major op 9. Paderewski.
- Mr. J. Erich Schmaal.
- a Berceuse from "Mignon." Thomas. Mr. Harry A. Cole.
- IV. b "Thou'rt like a Flower." Liszt.
- V. Quartet. Piano and Strings. C major Allegro con brio. Adagio ma con moto. Poco meno Allegro. Adagio non troppo.
- Miss Grace A. Foy, Messrs. F. Mills, J. E. Schmaal and F. Abel.

The final Pupils Recital was given in Newberry Hall Saturday afternoon. It was one in which not only the pupils themselves but also the Faculty may take pride. The numbers were very creditably rendered. The programme is a good test of the year's work and the performances were satisfactory proofs of its success.

- I. Slavonic Dance. E minor Op. 43. Dvorak.
- Miss Louise Fairman and J. J. McClellan.
- II. "Dein." Bohm. Miss Francis S. Taylor.
- III. "At the Spring." Josef. Miss Josie G. Harvey.
- IV. "Thy Beaming Eyes." McWowell. Mr. W. G. Povey.
- V. Concerto, No. 1. DeBeriot. Mr. Ross G. Whitman.
- VI. Serenade. Raff. Miss Gertrude Wade.
- VII. a "Fuch." Hoffmann. Miss Marsha L. Clark.
- VIII. "The Mill." Randegger. Miss Frances A. Jones.
- IX. Cradle Song. Liebling. Mr. Harry A. Cole.
- X. "Come Love with Me." Arthur Foote. Miss Annie Richardson and Nora Babbit.
- XI. Concerto, D minor Op. 40. Mendelssohn. Mr. W. G. Povey.
- XII. I Aris from Drexius of Trine. Salaman. Miss Edith A. Kelly.
- XIII. Romanza for Violin. Strelzki. Miss Anna Phila Bates.
- XIV. "I will sing of Thy Great Mercies (from St. Paul)." Mendelssohn. Miss Lucy K. Cole.
- XV. "La Filles." Raff. Miss Emily G. Fischer.
- XVI. Angel Trio from Elijah. Mendelssohn. Messrs. Richardson, Jones and Taylor.

Catalogues for next year may be secured at the Music Stores, at Newberry Hall and the steward's office. The Director desires to secure lists of interested persons to whom catalogues may be sent. Prompt attention will be given to such lists.

Our fifty dollar friend has had another hard time with his subscription list. He tried recently to get outside assistance to straighten it out; with very slight results except to convince people of the hopelessness of the task. By some complicated mental or arithmetical evolution he concluded that he ought by rights to have 1700 subscribers. This made him feel so good that he promptly called us a liar, and said we would be as foolish as he was if we had a chance. His performances would be a spectacle for gods and men if he should ever happen to get a subscription list as large as ours, we fear Pontiac would become his abiding place.

LITERARY NOTE.

The June Eclectic presents a great variety of papers—opening with a discussion of "The Social Remedies of the Poor Party," by Professor Mallock.

Judging by the numbers so far issued, the 197th volume of Little's Living Age is equal, in the richness and variety of its contents, any of its predecessors.

The Review of Reviews for the month of June is a number which nobody who intends to go to the World's Fair any time can well afford to be without.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Mrs. M. Anderson, assistant sergeant-at-arms of the Arkansas house, acts as doorkeeper in the absence of the sergeant-at-arms, and can do more with her smile in seating an obstreperous member than her chief can do with his official mace.

The poet, in his dainty rhymes, of summer days and sunny climes, of beautiful maidens, passing fair, with watching eyes and waving hair, till, near the end, you're apt to see—"The end of the world is nigh."

Mrs. Sarah Kipple, of Scranton, Pa., still persists in smoking, after seventy-nine years' experience of the noxious and deadly weed.

Fannie Mohawk, a squaw who was set free from Lolo Mohawk, a Tartarine brave, at a recent sitting of the supreme court in Bangor, Me., is said to have been the finest-looking woman in the court-room.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable.

It is strange that people suffering from Piles will endure them for years or submit to dangerous, painful, cruel and expensive surgical operations, when all the time there is a painless, certain lasting cure, which gives instant relief and costs but a trifle.

So great is the popularity of Duke Carl Theodore of Bavaria, who practices as a physician, that last year he attended 5,000 patients and performed 200 operations for diseases of the eye.

It is computed that all the locomotives in the United States would, if coupled together, make a train 300 miles long. The passenger train would make another train of about the same length, and if all the cars of every variety in the country were coupled behind the engines the result would be a train just about 7,000 miles long.

The plan of using separate tires for car wheels is regarded by many railroad men as representing the correct principal of construction.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Last year our railroads carried 600,000,000 people.

A Clear Understanding.

Mrs. Chugwater had inherited a few hundred dollars from a deceased relative, and she put it into the hands of Mr. Chugwater to invest.

"I shall use my best judgment in placing it, Samantha," he said, rolling it up and stuffing the wad of bills in his pocket. "The money is yours, but I'm the active business man of the firm, remember. You're the silent partner."

"If you invest it in some fool speculation and lose it, Josiah," responded Mrs. Chugwater, in a high-keyed voice, "I'll not be a silent partner, now I tell you!"—Chicago Tribune.

Jinkson's Fate. Mr. Clumley—you seem to have the blues. What's the matter with you?

Mr. Clumley—Oldfather—Yes, I am feeling awful bad. A few days ago I saw my old friend Jinkson in splendid health and happy as a lark. This morning I picked up a newspaper and the first item I read was that he was—"Dead!"

"No, worse than that—married!"—Texas Siftings.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy in action and sure in effect. 25 cents a box.

How the Expression "Given Name" is Used.

In the United States the first name is so called in contradistinction to the surname, which is inherited. It is thought to be a relic of Puritan scrupulousness, the pilgrim fathers objecting to apply the term Christian to any person not "converted," which of course an unconscious infant could not be. Jews, in courts of justice, are often thoughtlessly asked, "What is your Christian name?" The proper question is, "What is your personal name?" The expression "first name" is almost universal throughout New England, eastern New York and Pennsylvania.

A Surgical Operation. For the cure of Piles is always painful, often dangerous and useless, and invariably expensive; on the other hand there is a new certain cure, perfectly painless, gives instant relief and permanent cure and costs but a trifle. It is the Pyramid Pile Cure. It is a more certain cure than a surgical operation, without any of the intense pain, expense and danger of an operation. Any druggist will get it for you.

How to Make Oatmeal Griddle Cakes. One cup of oatmeal, 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoonful of sugar, 1 teaspoonful of baking powder, 1/2 teaspoonful of salt, sift the baking powder with the flour, add cold water to make a batter of the consistency of buckwheat cakes; beat very well together and bake immediately.

Completely Uprooted.

How many remedies there are which merely relieve without uprooting disease. The contrast with stomach medicine which such patients afford, not only enhances the dignity of the order but serves to emphasize the folly of employing half-way measures when thorough ones are available. A marked instance of this is the effect, on the one hand, of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases of chill and fever and bilious remittent, and on the other of ordinary remedies and malades of this type. By the Bitters, malarial complaints in every stage, and of the most malignant type, are completely conquered and loose their hold upon the system. They are rarely if ever dislodged by the ordinary resources of medicine, although their symptoms may unquestionably be mitigated through such means. The same holds good of indigestion, biliousness, kidney complaint, rheumatism, nervousness and debility. By the Bitters they are cured when many remedies fail.

How to Clean Jewelry.

Put a teaspoonful of household ammonia or a few drops of spirits of ammonia into a basin of warm water into which some toilet soap has been lathered. Put in all the jewelry and allow it to remain a few minutes, turning it over with the hands occasionally. Then clean each piece separately with an old soft toothbrush, throwing it back into the water after the brushing. Rinse all well, shake out and put into a soft cloth and dry gently. When quite dry, take a piece of flannel or old stockinet and rub or polish each piece with crab's eyes or prepared chalk. They will immediately show a lovely polish, and any remains of the chalk can be removed by using any soft haired brush which is perfectly dry.

8100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

How to Treat Earache.

At the first symptoms of earache let the patient lie on the bed with the painful ear uppermost. Fold a thick towel and tuck it around the neck; then with a teaspoon full of the ear with warm water. Continue doing this for fifteen or twenty minutes. The water will fill the ear orifice and flow over on the towel. Afterward turn over the head, let the water run out and plug the ear with warm glycerin and cotton. This may be done every hour until relief is obtained. The water should be quite warm, but not too hot.

How to Tell the Approach of a Rattlesnake.

The warning given by a rattlesnake is said to be similar in sound to the rattling of a number of peas in a paper bag, though of a more metallic character. The noise, however, is slight and somewhat of a tinkle, but withal so peculiar that one who hears it for the first time while rambling in fields or woods instinctively knows that this delicate but very distinct tinkle indicates that a rattlesnake is near.

Forepaugh's Great Shows.

Now, who is there who does not feel all the better and work all the better after having a day of recreation, a holiday? What day is there that is a more natural holiday than Forepaugh Day? Whenever these Great Shows come to a city everybody wants to see them. They are first-class and stand-ard always. If anybody reads that anything is so and so with these shows, when they say it themselves in the advertisements, it is so. To anybody who likes a holiday and amusements of any kind there is always a certain feeling of comfort in reading their advertisements such as no other show in cities. So if any of the readers of this paper are thinking of going on the excursions which will be run on all lines of travel to Detroit when the Adam Forepaugh Shows exhibit there on June 26 and they don't want to go if they are going to be disappointed in what they expect to see, they can set their minds at rest on that score at least. The long and honorable and unbroken record of keeping all their promises is the one particular thing that has made these shows so popular with the public. They are the only shows of any kind whether shown in a theatre or under canvas that have exhibited in every city in the United States and Canada that has a population of 50,000 or over, and in all those cities their records are the same.

There is an extraordinary interest to everybody, and especially those who have any patriotic feelings, to visit the Forepaugh Shows this year, because they will present not only all the standard features of the circus, menagerie, museum and hippodrome, but they will also give a superb representation of the "Scenes and Battles of 1776—The American Revolution."

This is beyond all question the most ambitious exhibition ever attempted. It is intended to exactly reproduce the most important events in the ever memorable struggle for American freedom. To make it as realistic as possible enormous stretches of scenery are used; the nearly 1,000 characters are all costumed accurately, and some of the costumes are really the originals worn by the characters represented. The battles of Bunker Hill, Concord, Monmouth, Yorktown, the Inauguration of Washington, Paul Revere's Ride, the Tearing Down of the Statue of George the III, are almost faithfully reproduced, giving to the spectator thrilling entertainment and at the same time accurate instruction in his country's history.

This great feature of the shows is the one great novelty, but such rare things as the boxing Kangaroo; Earl the trotting dog; Basil and Baby Ruth, the largest and smallest female elephants in the world; the world-famous Seven Jerome Brothers, the world's greatest acrobats, the sensation of all Europe and seen for the first time in America, should not be forgotten. Great, indeed, may the Adam Forepaugh Shows be deservedly called.

THE RAJAH'S RUBY

By J. G. BETHUNE.

The night could not have been more dismal. The sky had been overcast all day, and a fine drizzling rain soon began falling. The weather was cold and raw, and no one would be abroad at such a time unless there was urgent need for his exposure.

After reaching the hotel and smoking a cigar Manson inhaled himself in a machintosh, lit another cigar and sauntered out in the chilling drizzle and wet darkness, determined that he would not come back to the hotel until he struck upon something.

Inquiries made earlier in the evening were answered by the statement that Miss Gilder and her servant had left the homestead two days before. The place was locked up and would not be occupied until it passed into the hands of a new owner. Nevertheless a strange impulse caused Max Manson to turn his footsteps toward the lonely building standing among the grove of trees on the outskirts of the town.

The lamp in front of the gate cast a weak light for a short distance, being maintained by the town of Ellenville, which was obliged to keep it going every night unless the moon was kind enough to render it unnecessary.

The same impulse which caused Max Manson to saunter through the disagreeable night to this lonely spot led him silently to enter the gate and approach the building, which was invisible in the gloom. He walked lightly, as though he feared to be detected, but surely he had nothing to apprehend of that nature.

He made a circuit of the structure, glancing up at the windows and picking his way with care, for he was liable to collide with the limbs and trunks of trees at any moment.

"I suppose those old walls could tell many strange tales if they had tongues, but so could every dwelling of man. They are now deserted and may remain so for weeks or months."

He was standing on almost the precise spot where Folsom Simpson stood while watching the East Indian in the tree as he strove to catch a glimpse of the interior of the room near him.

This window, as will be remembered, had a curtain, but it was like all of the windows on the second floor in that it was unprovided with shutters. He was looking upward, with no expectation of discovering anything, when he became aware that the window was dimly visible through the darkness.

"By the horned spoon!" he muttered, "there's a light in that room."

It may be said that this was self-evident, inasmuch as the window must have been utterly invisible without the aid of some illumination behind it.

"Yes, there's a light there, and if a light there must be persons, which being the case I propose to find out something about the business."

The same means which Wichman used suggested itself to Manson, and within the five minutes succeeding his discovery of the light he was stealthily climbing the wet bark, continuing the effort until he reached the perch that had been used by his predecessor.

It happened in this case, as with the sepoy, that the curtain was raised to that extent that he could see the interior of the room. The lamp which gave the light was set so far back that the dim reflection against the curtain was explained.

Seated at a table in the rear of the apartment were two men in earnest converse. One was Dr. Maidhoff and the other a person whom Max Manson had never before seen.

But that which fairly took the breath of the detective was the sight of an object which the two men were handling, passing back and forth and discussing with intense earnestness.

"That is no counterfeit," he muttered, "that is the genuine rajah's ruby!"

to peer into the impenetrable drizzle on the outside.

Standing there, he held the lamp above his head, thus bringing it near the top of the window, and then, pausing for a minute, he extended his arm so as to shove the light to one side and out of sight of any one on the outside. It was kept thus for a brief space, when it was elevated once more over his head.

This maneuver was repeated three times, when he lowered the curtain, disappeared, and evidently withdrawing to his former seat left the same dull illumination in the apartment.

"He signaled to somebody," was the thought of the watcher below, "and who can it be?"

"He signaled to somebody."

Had the sun been shining a person standing in the position of the doctor could readily see his office, which was at no great distance. The conclusion therefore was that he was communicating with some one there.

But, turning his gaze thither, Manson discovered nothing in the nature of an answer. Here and there twinkled the lights in the houses of the town, but none went through the peculiar gradations he had just witnessed.

"It may have been done without my seeing it, or what is as likely, no reply was expected by the doctor."

No glimmer of light as yet concerning the missing friend, and just now he was of more concern to Max Manson than a thousand rajah's rubies.

Standing thus in the drizzle and gloom, depressed, perplexed and at his wits' end, Max Manson gradually became aware of some faint but increasing odor that was in the air and making itself manifest to his sensitive nostrils. Memory is impressed the most vividly through the sense of smell, and that which stole upon the detective was pleasant and familiar.

"At any other time," he reflected, "I would have sworn that that was caused by one of Fol's delicious Perfectos."

Peering about in the darkness, he saw a tiny point of fire on his right. Manifestly it was the glowing tip of a cigar. Somebody was near him and smoking.

The aroma became more distinct, for some air current persisted in bringing it straight to Manson.

"It must be he, for few smoke such fine cigars."

While he hesitated to speak and was puzzled beyond expression a suppressed voice called to him through the gloom:

"Hello, Max, is that you?"

The red point dropped downward, as though the smoker had removed it from his lips, and Folsom Simpson advanced, the darkness being too intense for him to be seen, but the soft rustle of his feet on the wet grass was heard.

"Well, this is a welcome surprise!" exclaimed the delighted Manson, finding the hand of his friend and heartily shaking it. "I didn't know what had become of you."

"I'm all right," was the cheery response. "Have a cigar?"

"Thanks, but what has happened to you, Fol?"

"Nothing special, though I have had a somewhat lively experience since I saw you; but confound this wet and cold. Let's go to the hotel where we can warm up and be comfortable."

"But what of those people up there? I suppose you know about them?"

"Yes, I had a peep into the room ahead of you and saw what they were at. They will keep; we needn't bother with them."

"Then you observed that signal a few minutes ago by the doctor?"

"Of course. I couldn't very well help seeing it."

"Have you any idea what it meant?"

"Not a very clear one, but I fancy it was intended to apprise some person that everything was right. In fact, I am quite sure of it."

"For whom was it intended?"

"Miss Evelyn Gilder, who is or was standing at one of the windows in the office of Dr. Maidhoff awaiting the notification."

"But what the mischief is the meaning of all this tomfoolery?" asked Manson.

"It is a curious affair all the way through, but this isn't the place to discuss it. Wait till we get back to the hotel."

"But hold on a minute or two," persisted Manson, who could not feel that this was precisely the right thing to do. "Since you have seen the two men up there you saw, too, what they were examining and talking about?"

"I did."

"What is it?"

"The real rajah's ruby and no mistake. This isn't glass, but the gem itself, worth five times what a diamond of the same size would be."

"Since the gem has been traced I don't see that anything more is left for us to do but to go home and report."

"I shall have instructions tonight. No doubt the chief will send something for you also. They may be at the hotel now. He told me he had sent you here, but would probably recall you after he had received the last word from me."

"Do you think it advisable to leave those fellows up there?"

"What's to be gained by dogging them? They have the rajah's ruby and will soon leave the dwelling—they are going now."

The light in the room was suddenly extinguished, or more probably the couple had taken it to guide their way down the hall, where it was doubtless blown out. Then the door opened and closed, and the footfalls of the two were heard as they walked across the porch, down upon the wet gravel and out into the street, where their figures loomed to view under the glow of the lamp.

The officers waited until they were at a safe distance, when they followed and shortly after were seated in Max Manson's room at the village inn, whither food and drink were sent so that they might converse without fear of interruption.

Folsom Simpson related his interesting experience.

"I never made a more stupid or unaccountable blunder," he added after relating what has already been told the reader, "than in forgetting that instead of one sepoy there were a couple of them. It must have been some instinct that warned me of my danger, but as it was it came within a hair of being too late. That second fellow was on me before I could prepare for him, and he made a vicious lunge with his wicked knife, his momentum throwing me to the ground."

"How did you save yourself?"

"You couldn't guess in a month."

"Then why delay telling me?"

"I had just bought a lot of new cigars. There was a bundle of them in my left inside pocket. The knife went through and ruined them. But instead of making a fight, when I had no earthly chance, I gave an awful groan and stretched out as though I had received my last sickness. The East Indian must have attacked me in a sudden frenzy, and the next instant he and his companion were terrified at the consequences of what they had done. They could not help knowing that, despite their matchless cunning, they were sure to be called to account if within reach when the discovery of my body took place. So the two hurried away and must have traveled all night to get as far as possible from the spot."

"I was hoping to accomplish something of that nature, for those confounded fellows were continually obtruding and overturning all the calculations I could make concerning the ruby. Now they are gone and are sure not to interfere again."

"Do you think nothing is to be feared from them?"

"Nothing at all. They have given up all hope of getting the rajah's ruby and are only aiming to save their own necks."

"But, Fol, how was it you did not let the chief hear from you before?"

"You gave him a great scare, and he sent me out here in a hurry."

The rotund detective laughed as he replied:

"That dispatch of mine was sent by an amateur, I judge, from the way it was mangled on its passage. I wrote out plainly that he would probably not hear from me for several days and told him to be ready to send you to my help whenever I asked him. I had no idea of anything of the kind that took place. I wired him directly after you started, and then had to spend a considerable time in explaining things to him."

CHAPTER XIV.

"YOU WILL HEAR FROM ME LATER ON."

Max Manson recounted his own experience, doing so with some chagrin, for he thereby confessed that he had been outwitted by the two men from India. Simpson, however, showed true delicacy for his friend by remarking that his mistake was one which the shrewdest person would have made under similar circumstances, and therefore there was no cause for reproaching himself.

"The landlord told me that you had not been here for several days," remarked Manson.

"Of course not. I didn't know but those fellows, or at least one of them, would venture to return to learn about me, so I quietly withdrew into the country to escape the possibility of being seen by either of them."

"You will not deny now, Fol, that the proof is clear against Dr. Maidhoff?"

"It looks clearer than ever, but I am not ready to give up another theory—the one which I formed at first."

Max Manson was silent a minute, expecting that his friend would explain himself, but as he did not he was too proud to ask him what his novel conception might be.

"It seems to me," continued Manson, "that there ought to be some way of punishing this physician."

"For what?"

"For stealing the rajah's ruby and causing the death of Miss Livermore."

"How do you know he did so?"

"I don't understand you, Fol. Haven't we just seen the gem in his possession?"

"Yes, in the possession of him and another person, but what proof have we that either of them stole it?"

"What stronger proof can be asked? Who is that young man with the doctor?" abruptly inquired Manson.

"I never saw him before tonight, but it is evident that the two are intimate friends."

"Yes, they are plotters together; they have stolen the ruby from the dead lady, or rather the one who became dead after it was stolen, and are now conspiring together as to its disposal."

"It looks, too, as if Miss Gilder is concerned in it," was the significant remark of Simpson.

Once a week drop the sponge into water in which a large lump of soda has been dissolved, afterward boiling it for 60 minutes, when it should be rinsed in cold water and given a sun bath until entirely dry. Always rinse all soapy suds from your sponge; then throw it into the sponge basket, which should be hung just outside the bathroom window. A sponge thus cared for will never be slimy, sour or musty.

HORNELL Cancer is Curable

Without the knife, still harsher caustics or poisons. Special attention is given to Cancer. The treatment is based upon the theory recently embodied in papers read by Prof. V. Moorhead before the Royal and Imperial Association of Physicians of Vienna, namely: That as the cell elements in cancer have much less vitality than those of sound flesh, it is possible to attack them without injuring surrounding healthy cells, or the general well-being of the patient.

The remedies employed at Hornellville, although as harmless as those of Vienna, are far more effective—wholly removing the odor of the growth within twenty-four hours, and causing the diseased tissue to shrink to a hard, dry eschar until it is crowded out by healthy healing granulations. There is no poulticing or sloughing, no running sores or foul odors. It is the only known method that reaches and cures every cancerous cell.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

If you wish the lightest, sweetest, finest cake, biscuit and bread, Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in their preparation.

THE ROYAL Baking Powder surpasses all others in leavening power, in purity and wholesomeness, and is used generally in families, exclusively in the most celebrated hotels and restaurants, by the United States Army and Navy, and wherever the best and finest food is required. All teachers of cooking schools and lecturers upon culinary matters use and recommend the Royal.

Chicago Health Authorities Certify.

"I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior to all the others in every respect. It is purest and strongest.

The hail storm with electrical complications of last Thursday is estimated to have damaged Ann Arbor to the amount of $1,500. Hail stones two inches in diameter were reported. It is reported that Alderman Martin delivered himself in strong terms recently to the effect that he considered it highly reprehensible in a minister of the gospel to attend council meetings and try to influence the vote by his presence. To Register the Palate. Mr. Weeks, instructor in French, has invented a piece of apparatus for registering the movements of the soft palate in speech. A sucker of plaster-of-paris cast on ferrotyp is affixed to the soft palate. Hitched to the sucker is a loop of aluminum wire bent so as to fit inside the teeth and allow the tongue free play through it. A point from the loop projects beyond the lips, which moves forward and back with great rapidity when words are pronounced. Other simple attachments to this point enables the investigator to get a tracing of its movements on smoked paper.

Challenged by the "Kids."

The Agricultural College youngsters are certainly enterprising. The last issue of the paper published by one of them contains the following "bluff" at their elders: "We, of the direct lineage of that honorable body known as "The Faculty," wishing to demonstrate the fact that the world moves, and to show the superiority of the rising generation, do challenge with all reverence and humility our ancestors and relatives to a game of ball, to be played at such time as shall be convenient to the challenged parties."—College Eagle.
