VISIT THE WATER WORKS.

THE CONSUMER SHOULD SEE FOR HIMSELF.

something frequently the Matter. -Repairs in Progress,—The Catch Ba-sins Need Cleaning.—The Big Well not Flowing.—The River Must be Drawn on.—Reform Necessary.

Anyone who will take the time and trouble to visit the resevoir and catch hasins of the Ann Arbor Water Co. will be well repaid for his trouble, in experience at least. Tuesday night there was no pressure for a long time and nearly all day Wednesday not a drop of water was obtainable. As usual the company was out of fuel, or something was wrong with a boiler, or the pump needed fixing. Accordingly THE REGISTER sent a representative to look over the ground a little. At the engine house workmen were busy getting one of the pumps into condition for use and were also repairing one of the boilers. The other pump was running if so rapid a term is permissable, but no water seemed to reach the city. The catch basins had not yet been subjected to the cleaning process promised to the city and dirty enough they seemed to be. The upper one was much cleaner than the lower except for an oily scum upon a part of the surface. In the lower basin the water was very roily. The wells from which the water flows give out a small stream of beautiful clear cold water. There is a very small amount of it to supply a city of this size. It would take four times the amount to give the city what it needs. One of the largest wells is not flowing at all apparently, and one or two smaller ones are just as quiet as little kittens. The quality of the water from these wells seems excellent, but the quantity is obviously very inadequate. Unless there is a new well of magnificent proportions successfully sunk, people may make up their minds to go back to cisterns and filters for a part of their supply. Of course the river may be drawn on.

The Location of the School of Music.

It is due to the stockholders of the School of Music Building Association, and to all citizens interested in the project, that a statement be made giving the reasons why other locations were rejected, and the lot, No. 7 Maynard st., owned by the Latson heirs, was purchased. This is especially true since there has been some adverse criticism from persons whom the directors think have not given the matter as careful consideration as themselves.

For obvious reasons the board deemed it extremely desirable that the School of Music should be located near the University and also near the street car line. The following properties were taken into consideration and the advantages and disadvantages discussed from every standpoint.

Dr. W. H. Jackson's property, corner of Liberty and Division sts., price $10,-000, on account of location, was not considered satisfactory for the purpose.

Mr. C. H. Worden's residence and adjoining lot, corner of William and Thompson sts., price $9,000. The board wished only the vacant lot at $3,000, but could not purchase this without buying the entire property. This would burden the association, or the directors as individuals, with a residence worth $6,000 to be disposed of.

Mrs. Margaret R. Clancy's residence and adjoining house, corner William and Maynard sts., price $8,000. The lot on which the smaller house is located would have been entirely satisfactory, but could not be purchased alone. As in the case above, the directors would be obliged to sell the residence valued at $5,500.

The property of Miss Rachel S. Smith, 16 S. State st., price $7,000, was examined; also lot of Mr. J. E. Beal, next to Newberry hall, price $6,000; the residence of Mrs. W. D. Smith, west corner North University ave. and S. Thayer st., price $5,500; also lot of Dr. Winchell estate, on opposite corner, which could not be purchased seperate from the entire property; residence of Mrs. Mary Whiting, south east corner of William and Maynard sts., price $5,000; also residence of Mr. Sam Andrews, southwest corner of William and Maynard sts., price $4,100. The house belonging to Mr. O. L. Matthews, on the west side of Maynard st., between Liberty and William sts., price $2,950; also the property, No. 7 Maynard st., belonging to the Latson heirs, situated on the east side of Maynard st., price $2,000, were both taken into consideration.

The directors had about $12,000 in subscriptions with which to purchase a lot, erect a building of ample dimenof teaching rooms with deadened walls, sufficient not only for present use, but for the future growth of the school, to Lords." The present was declined.

maintain a guarantee fund, and also to purchase an organ, pianos, and whatever furnishings might be necessary. Had the board-whatever the sum subscribed-purchased property at $4,000 to $6,000, which would only be available as a site, it surely would have been subjected-and rightly too-to the censure of persons of good business judgement. The association was not organized for the purpose of buying and selling real estate, and the directors, therefore, would not be authorized to engage in such an enterprise. Certainly the directors, as individuals, could not be expected to assume such obligations for the association. This, consequently, would exclude the properties of Dr. Jackson, Mr. Worden and Mrs. Clancy. The prices asked for the properties of Miss Smith, Mr. Beal, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Whiting and Mr. Andrews, were deemed altogether too high for the purpose, as the lots only were available, the houses themselves being of no consequence to the association.

The last two properties, viz., that of Mr. Matthews and the Latson heirs were the only ones which the directors could afford to purchase with the fund subscribed. The one selected is, how. ever, only about 250 feet north from the corner of William and Maynard sts. | the north in safety. where the board was extremely anxious to locate the building. It is only this same distance from the street car line, and convenient to both University and High School. Probably the attendance at the school would not be affected one per cent simply from the building being located on any one of the sites named. After a thorough and careful canvass by the board, consisting of Messrs. H. S. Dean, Ottmar Eberbach, E. F. Mills, Moses Seabolt, L. D. Wines, G. F. Allmendinger and A. L. Noble, also by the director, Prof. A. A. Stanley, all were well pleased with the location selected, and the decision was unanimous.

Communicated.

A part of the Board of Health and some other interested parties visited the reservoir of the water works last Friday to ascertain the condition of the works. The water was nearly drawn out and the cobble stones which pave the sides of the basin and which are now coated with a composition of sand tinctured with iron, were being swept down by workmen with stiff splinted brooms. After this a thorough washing down of the cobble stones with a hose will be made, then the remaining water of the basin will be drawn off through a pipe going outside of the reservoir with no connection with pipe leading to the city. After this the bottom of the basin will be thoroughly cleansed from all dirt sediment and all impurities if any. When this is all done the patrons will find the water clean and free from all sediment and when the new well 30 feet in diameter is completed and the water is pumped direct from the well to the reservoir instead of first going into a receiving basin, we shall all be proud of our water works, M. C.

A Slick Machine.

It is a fact probably unknown to a great many people that it is only within a very few weeks that monuments and tombstones have been manufactured from the rough block in this county. Orders have been filled by sending to the east for the cut and polished slab, only the inscriptions and some finishing touches being added here. Now, however, John Baumgardner has made an addition to his plant of machinery which will enable him to take the rough stone from field or quarry and make it into the finest kind of a polished monument.

This machine in appearance is an immense arm with shoulder and elbow that work sideways, and a wrist that sticks down below and revolves rapidly, In the hand is a disk that rests on the stone to be evened and polished and that cisk grinds and smooths it off with lightning like rapidity. In fact, it is lightning that does it, the power coming from a 5 horse power motor that quietly buzzes away in an adjoining shed. It is an interesting spectacle to see an iron arm with its flying hand busy at its task.

The Heinzman monument, and also one about to be put in place for Calvin Bliss, both in Forest Hill Cemetary, are made with the aid of this machine entirely from the rough blocks in Mr. Baumgardner's shops.

Refused the Present.

The central independent labor association of Bradford, Eng., sent the newly married heir of the Prince of Wales a wedding present of four books bearsions, to include hall, office, a number | ing the following titles: "Facts for Socialists," "Our Old Nobility," "The New Book of Kings," and "The New Book of

Andrew Smith.

Andrew Smith the colored employee of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Hall "for nearly a quarter of a century died very suddenly Sunday morning after an illness of but a few hours. His funeral took place Monday afternoon at the colored Baptist church of which he was a member, and was quite largely attended The colored clergyman was away but an affecting and beautiful address was made by the Rev. Mr. Cobern of the Methodist church who conducted the

Andrew had been a familiar figure upon Washtenaw avenue and was greatly respected and esteemed not only by Mrs. Hall's family but by all the neighbors. His age was not exactly known but it must have exceeded seventy years. He was a slave in Tennessee before the war when in his younger days he was the body servant of a very kind and indulgent masteranother St. Clair of Uncle Toms Cabin -upon his death Andrew was about to be sold to be taken to the cotton fields of Alabama-a terrible fate in the imagination of the negro of those days -and so he ran away and after many perils and adventures he finally reached

Within the last few years the children in Mrs. Hall's family had taught Andrew his letters and to read and it was a touching, pathetic and beautiful spectacle to see the old man spelling out and endeavoring to comprehend the words of the Bible which he reverenced by the assistance of those loving children friends. He was as docile and confiding as a child. Notwithstanding all his disadvantages of birth, race and condition in life, his purity and integrity of character, his respectful and gentlemanly manners, his sweet and musical voice made him an interesting and attractive personage and his familiar form will long be remembered not only by Mrs. Hall and her immediate family but by all of her neighbors on Washtenaw avenue as well.

Frances L. Otis.

Died, July 28, 1893, at Chicago, Ill., at the residence of her eldest son, Frances L. Otis, widow of the late Seth T. Otis of this city, in the 76th year of her age. Mrs. Otis was born at Kelloggsville, N. Y., March 6, 1818, being the youngest daughter of Hon. Chas. Kellogg of that place. In 1838 she was married to Seth T. Otis of Chicago, but the later years of her married life were spent in Ann Arbor where the family moved in 1870 and where she remained until two years after her husband's death. Bendes a large circle of relatives and friends to all of whom her lovely and unselfish life endeared her. She leaves three sons, Chas. D. and Wm. A. Otis and Bert Otis of Peoria, Ill.

Services conducted by the Rev Mr. Sunderland, were held at Forest Hill Cemetery upon the arrival of the reafternoon train from Chicago.

Kyphosis Bieyelistarium.

"Why is it," asks the Chicago Evening Journal, "that as soon as a young man learns the useful and graceful art of bicycle riding he must forthwith at tempt to undo the work by which he was made in the image of his maker and seek to transform himself into a hideous mesozoic dinosaur or some other uncanny creeping thing? The head goes down, the back is humped the arms assume the position of forelegs, and all that is wanting is a croak to pass for a broken-backed frog. There is no excuse for this abomination. An erect attitude gives the rider a much better command of the wheel. It is merely a habit due to too much pernicious and unhealthy "scorching." Women who ride wheels do not stoop. Out upon this frog squat, this hump-backed disease, 'kyphosis bicyclistarium!' "

Mrs. Mary A. Storms.

Mary A. Boynton was born in Sylvan, March 19, 1838, and died in Chelsea, July 22, 1893.

She was converted while a student at Leoni Seminary, under the preaching and presidency of Rev. John McIldowney. Since then she has been a member of the M. E. church and a firm believer in Christianity. Her mission as she saw it, was to send others into the world prepared to do work for God and men, which she could not do person-

A Change for the Better.

The new law announcement of the University contains a statement concerning new work to be offered of a most practical kind.

"The regents of the University have recently determined to establish within the department a practice court. During the year '93-'94 two courses of instruction will be offered in practice court work.

"(a) Practice under the common law. "(b) Practice under the code.

"Every member of the senior class will be required to elect one of these courses. Practical experience will be given the student in the drawing of papers in a cause, the empanelling of juries, and the examination of witnesses. In fact, every step will be taken from the commencement of a suit to final judgment. Issues of facts will be tried as in actual practice, and the student will be required to do for himself, under the direction of his instructor, the work of the law office and court-room. It is believed that the practice court will afford the students an opportunity of combining theory and practice under such conditions that he will gain a clearer insight into matters of practice than students who study in offices. This work will be under the direction of a member of the faculty."

David Thomas.

The Chelsea Herald gives an account of the recent death of David Thomas of that place. The deceased was a Scotchman by birth, coming to America permanently in 1842 settling near Chelsea. Mrs. Thomas died thirteen years ago. He was a man of firm purpose and ripe judgment. He was once president of the village.

They Must Now Look Out.

Mayor Thompson has issued instructions to Marshall Murray for the latter gentleman to notify each and saloon keeper in Ann Arbor, that the law which prohibits them from permitting minors and students to play billiards or cards or any games of chance in the same room where there is a bar over which intoxicating liquors are sold will be rigidly enforced on and after Aug. 8, next.

A Curious Suit at Law.

Benjamin McGraw, of Ypsilanti, has brought suit for $10,000 damages against Mary C. Whiting of this city, for alienating from him the affections of his wife, Abi McGraw. He claims that Mrs. Whiting "unlawfully, wrongfully and unjustly enticed, persuaded and procured the said Abi McGraw to depart from the home of said plaintiff" on the 14th of Feb. 1890, and that he has been deprived of his wife's comfort, fellowship, society and assistance ever

Sentenced for Larceny.

The circuit court was in session Monday long enough to sentence a few people and then adjournment was taken to Sep't 11. Jacob Schnetter was sentenced to two years in Jackson for larceny. Henry Miller went up for the same length of time to Ionia, and Charles Davis was given the alternative of paying $100 fine within 24 hours or latives and remains on the Saturday go to Ionia for one year. He paid the charge of assault with intent to commit rape. He pleaded not guilty and was held on a recognizance of $1500.

It Causes a Wisconsin Man to Kill Hie

Wife and Fatally Injure Himself. RHINELANDER, Wis., Aug. 1.-Jealousy snuffed out two lives Sunday People passing the residence of Mrs. G. W. Smith during the evening heard several shots fired. They investigated and found Smith and his wife lying in pools of blood, the latter dead and the man still alive but horribly wounded. He cannot recover. To a number of persons he said that he intended to kill his wife and himself. He said that he had proof that she was untrue to him, and his only regret other than that he had not died instantly was that he could not have killed the man who caused the trouble before he shot his wife.

Two Drowned.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 31.—Clark H. Buford and Miss Fannie Sudlow were drowned in Rock river near this city Saturday. Both were members of a camping-out party and in company with four others, who narrowly caped a similar fate, had gone into the river to bathe. Both were highly connected and among the best known society people of the city.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Review of the First Three Months of the Season.

The Paid Admissions Amount to 6,115, 419-The Number in Attendance Growing Larger Dally-How the Finances Stand.

A GOOD RECORD.

CHICAGO, July 29 .- One-half of the term of the World's Columbian exposition is past. The buildings in Jackson park were opened to the people of the world May 1. Wednesday was the eighty-third open day of the fair and the end of the first half of the exposition. The last day of the fair will be October 80. It will end, as it began, on Monday. The question of Sunday opening is not being mooted now as it was and there is no likelihood of another open Sunday during the continuance of the fair. Since May 1 there have been eight Sundays when Jackson park was accessible to visitors.

THE FIRST HALF.
The first half of the fair was great; the last half, declare the commissioners, will be greater. From May 1 to July 28, inclusive, 8,226,852 persons passed through the turnstiles at the entrances to the world's fair. Of this multitude 6,115,419 paid admission and 9,411,433 went into the grounds on passes.

July 4 was the greatest day in the history of the fair. From early morn-ing until late at night every mode of transit to the exposition grounds was taxed to its utmost capacity. At night, the lake front, where the best view of the fireworks could be obtained, was a solid mass of humanity. The count of the heads said 324,342 persons had passed through the turnstiles. Those who paid admission numbered 283,278 and those who came in on passes 41,069. TOTAL ADMISSIONS.

The total number of admissions in June was more than twice the number in May. The total for June was 3,577, 644, while the total for May was only 1,505,504.

FIRST COMPLETE BEFORT. Auditor William K. Ackerman, of the exposition, made his first complete report July 6. This report showed the gate receipts for the pre-exposition period and the first two months of the exposition to amount to $2,121,660.76, and the concessions receipts to $380,-006.36. The total receipts from the date of the organization of the exposition company to June 30 were given at $21,-251,316.53. According to this report, the expenditures to June 30 were $20, 620,160. The estimated receipts for the month of May were $719,402, and the expenses $609,883, leaving a balance of $109,519. For the month of June the estimated receipts were $1,660,830 and the estimated expenses only $642,921, leaving another balance of $1,017,899. At the present time the estimated daily expenditures amount to about $15,000, which is materially less than for the preceding months.

ANOTHER OPEN SUNDAY. CHICAGO, July 29.—The council of administration has ordered that the gates of the world's fair be opened on Sunday. The action was taken at Friday afternoon's meeting of the ex-ecutive body of the exposition. The question of the advisability of keeping the gates closed in spite of Judge Stein's order was thoroughly discussed, and it was finally decided that it would be better to open the gates until the case had been disposed in the courts. The case in Judge Stein's court, where the show cause why they should not be punished for contempt in disobeying the injunction restraining them rom closing the fair Sundays came up Friday. Counsel for Mr. Clingman not being ready a further hearing was set for Monday. Commissioner Massey said in regard to the latest Sunday

"The members of the council of administra-tion do not want to go to jail for contempt of court. Neither do they want to make a bit-ter fight more bitter. The postponement of the case left us with but two things to do. We could obey the directory's order and keep the fair closed or obey the court's order and open it. As the disobedience of the order of the court would be followed by a punishment the council thought discretion a punishment the council thought discretion the better part of valor and obeyed the order.

SMALLEST CROWD YET. CHICAGO, July 31. - In accordance with the order of the council of administration the gates to Jackson park were opened yesterday. The attendance proved to be the smallest of any day since the fair begun, but 18,637 persons paying for admission.

Walker's Lynchers Arrested.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 81. - Indietments were returned Saturday against several of the men who participated in the lynching of Lee Walker a week ago. Three of the men indicted are in jail. The others will probably be arrested to-day, when additional in-dictments will be returned. The men in jail are Harry M. Frayser, A. Switshman, Phil Bode, a railroad engineer, and Jake O'Netti, a cook.

Pleaded Not Gulity. WASHINGTON, July 29.-Col. Frederick Ainsworth, of the record and pension office; Contractor Dant, Superintendent William E. Covert and Engineer Sasse plead not guilty in the criminal court to the indictments charging them with manslaughter by reason of the collapse of the Ford Theater building. The cases will be called for trial in October.

Fire Raging on Farms.

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 1.—The country farms are suffering from fires caused by sparks from the engines on the railroads. Farmers fought fires all day Sunday. Barns, haystacks, oats in stack, orchards and pastures were swept for miles, and word comes that the farmers are neglecting their work to protect their homes.

Death of Donald McNaughton.

CHICAGO, July 81. - Ex-Senator Donald McNaughton, executive officer of the New York state board, died at the New York state building at 8:15 Saturday night. He had been ill for four weeks. He was 63 years of age.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, enters which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, vind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these or ment of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treatthey treat the part affected. Franklin Miles, M. D., LL B., the highly celebrated apecialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $\frac{31}{2}$ per bottle, six bottles for $\frac{55}{2}$, express prepaid.

BEST LINE TO THE WEST

The importance of this Line can be better un derstood if a short lesson in geography be now recited.

What is the great Eastern termini of the Rock Island Route?—Chicago. What other sub-Easten termini has it?—Peoria. To what important points does it run trains to the Northwest?—St. Paul, and Minneapolis, Minnesota; and Water town and Sloux Falls, Dakota. To what important town and Sloux Falls, Dakota. To what important Iowa and Nebraska points?—Des Moines. Davenport, Iowa; Om-ha and Lincoln. Nebraska. Does it touch other Missouri River points?—Yes St. Joseph. Atchinson. Leavenworth and Kansse City. Does it run trains to the Foothills of the Rocky Mountains?—Yes; to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, solid vestibuled from Chicago. Can important cities of Kansas be reached by the Rock Island Route?—Yes; its capital city. Topeka, and a full hundred others in all directions in the State, and it is the only road running to and into the new lands opened for settlement in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Reservation.

It will thus be seen that a line tapping, as the Rock Island does, such a varied territory, has much in that regard to commend it to travelers, as all connections are sure on the Rock Island and passengers can rely on a speedy journey, as over a bulk of the system through trains are rin, and it has become, and rightly too, the popular Line.

Superb Dining Car Service

As long a time as David reigne; so long has the Chicago. Rock Island & Pacific Ratiway run trains westward from Chicago.

The Rock Island is foremost in adopting any advantage calculated to improve speed and give that luxury, safety and comfort that popular paronage demands. Its equipment is thoroughly complete with vestibuled trains, magnificent dining cars, sleepers and chair coaches, all the most elegant, and of recently improved patterns. Faithful and capable management and polite, housest service from employes are importent items. They are a double duty—to the Company and to travelers—and it is sometimes a task difficult of accomplishment. Passengers on this line will find little cause for compliant on that ground.

AN AWFUL DEED.

A Wisconsin Man Kills His Wife and Three Children.

Partially Insane Through Fear of Starvation William Nonemacher, Living Near Antigo, Puts His Entire Family to Death.

AFRAID OF POVERTY.

ANTIGO, Wis., Aug. 1.-William Nonemacher, a farmer living 9 miles southeast of Antigo, killed his wife and three children about 10 o'clock Saturday night and then made an unsuccessful attempt to take his own life. The deed was not discovered until Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the news reached here Monday morning.

THE CRIME DISCOVERED. Sunday afternoon two sons of Fred Nonemacher, a brother of William, went over to their uncle's. They could not find anyone about the house, but on going inside found the two boys of William Nonemacher dying, inside found the two covered with blood, on the bed. Frightened at the sight, they ran home as fast as they could and told their father of their discovery. He summoned some of the neighbors and went over to his brother's.

When they opened the door of the farmhouse a horrible stillness hovered over all. In the bedroom Mrs. Nonemacher was found lying on her left side with a gaping wound in her temple. Beside the bed in its cradle lay the baby, its little skull crushed in. In the next room lay the two boys. Joseph, 6 years of age, and William, 4 years. Both of the children had terrible wounds in their heads, which had evidently been inflicted with an ax.

William Nonemacher, the father, was nowhere to be found at first. Finally, after a long search, the party in pass ing the pig sty heard a noise and look-ing in saw Nonemacher lying on the board floor unable to move. As his back appeared to be broken he was lifted up and brought to the house where he was placed on the kitchen TO KEEP FROM STARVING.

When asked how his family were murdered, he promptly replied he did t to save them from starving. He said the crops were poor and he was afraid of starving. His wife's parents were in Quebec, where they had come all the way from Germany, and wanted money and he had none to send. He had intended to kill his family Friday night, but he changed his plans to Sat-urday night. After the family were asleep, about 10 o'clock, he went out and got an ax and returned to do the deed. He said he killed his wife first by three swinging blows on the left temple. He then went into the next room and killed Joseph and Willie. He struck both boys on the head twice. Returning to the room where his wife lay he picked up his year-old baby, held her in one arm and struck her on the top of the head. He then went to the barn, climbed on to the roof and jumped 20 feet to the floor of the pig stye, sustaining injuries to the spine and paralyzing his lower extremities.

Nonemacher told the story of the awful tragedy calmly and without the slightest sign of sorrow or regret. For all the feeling shown he might have been describing the killing of a pig-He has always been known as a kindly, quiet man, but was subject to fits of despondency. An inquest was held and Nonemacher was brought here and placed in jail. It is very doubtful if he recovers from his injuries.

In 1858 it was quoted as low, but at that time the trade in wheat was of little consequence in this city. Saturday September wheat sold down to 6014, a drop of nearly 8 cents from the closing price Friday. August wheat sold to 58 cents and December to 67%. Cash wheat sold around 56 cents, and was not wanted even at that figure. The demoralization seemed complete. also considerable speculative buying. Will See How Missionaries Are Treated. NEW YORK, Aug. 1.-The United States gun-boat Bennington, which was at Brooklyn navy yard, has sailed for the Mediteranean. Fourteen Men Arrested for the Murder of S. P. Bradshaw at Kingston, Ill. QUINCY, Ill., July 31 .- Fourteen men are in the county jail charged with being members of the mob which murdered Solomon P. Bradshaw at Kingston, in this county, on July 17. They were committed by the coroner's jury after two of their number had confessed and implicated the others. Those arrested are George Nations, John Tomlin, Alex M. Sims, John Moore, George Kistner, Henry Kistner, George Dougherty, Edward Lutener, George Callihan, William Campbell, John W. Bownman, Daniel Bells, O. P. Buffington and William Bells. Nations is a Kingston merchant and the others are country farmers or laborers Bradshaw was killed while with Mrs. Katie Breckenridge, a woman of doubtful reputation. She is the main prosecuting witness, and claims to have recognized some of the voices in the mob. The defense of those arrested will be that they do not know who fired the fatal shot; that Bradshaw's visits to the woman's house were obnoxious to the village and the crowd gathered to frighten the couple away. Nations, Dougherty, Buffington, Campbell and Bowman served on Justice Kendall's jury, which held a so-called inquest three hours after the killing, signing a verdict to the effect that Bradshaw was murdered by some person or persons to the jury

AN ARMY OF IDLERS.

Chicago Is Overrun With Thousands of Persons Out of Work.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.-Twelve hundred unemployed workingmen reached Chi-cago Monday from the west. Most of them came in on freight trains. There was not one of the dozen western roads but that carried its quota. These men who are coming to Chicago on these freight trains are silver miners from Colorado, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Idaho. All their mines are closed. Utah does not have such an exodus, because it is an agricultural country. Arizona is affected but little, because its mining is largely of copper. All along the line freight trains are black with men coming east They beat their way, take possession of trains, or in some way get along.

The close of work at the world's fair grounds left 40,000 idle men on the market, which was already carrying from 50,000 to 75,000. It is now estimated that no less than 150,000 artisans are walking the streets looking for employment. That many of these will suffer for the actual necessities of life this winter seems a certainty, and that their presence in the city is a constant menace to the stability of the labor market appears an equal certainty.

TWO TOWNS BURNED.

Forest Fires in Wisconsin Cause Great Loss of Property. PRENTICE, Wis., July 29.-The fearful forest fires which have been raging for several days in this vicinity have at last reached Prentice and it is wiped out. Among the 1,500 residents much suffering exists. Although the citizens fought the flames with intense determination the fire gained control.

MEDFORD, Wis., July 29.-Forest fires have laid this town in ashes. The inhabitants number 1,800 and there is hardly a house left standing. Hun-dreds are almost entirely without food or clothing.

Eastern Banks Swindled. Boston, July 31.—A huge swindle, whereby seventy-three New England banks and banking institutions were victimized, has come to light. Certain employes of the Northern Pacific Grain Elevator company of Minnesota, it is alleged, issued $1,500,000 of duplicate elevator certificates and deposited them in the bank as collateral. Eight hundred thousand dollars had been secured in New England and the balance was obtained from New York banks.

British Miners Strike.

London, July 29. - In accordance with the decision of the Miners' federation the great strike of the English coal miners was inaugurated Friday at the majority of the pits. No disorder has been reported from any quarter. Some thing like 350,000 men are directly affeeted by the strike.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Trade at All Points Restricted, But the Prospects Hopeful

The Hardest Week Yet Experienced Gives Cause of Rejoleing Over the Soundness and Strength Disclosed -The Failure Record.

ITS STRENGTH SHOWN. NEW YORK, July 29.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade says:

"The hardest week yet has left the business world still able to rejoice in the soundness and strength disclosed. No banks here or at other eastern cities and no eastern firms of large importance have gone down, but several banks failed at the west. But through all the strain the banks of New York have passed without trouble, and imports of gold have commenced. "From $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 in money has been sent west every day and a large decrease been sent west every day and a large decrease in bank reserves is expected, as the treasury has not been disbursing heavily. Chicago has drawn heavily on New York, but in that and other cities bank statements indicate credita-

Grain rose briskly on Monday, but all speculative markets yielded a little when tight money came and the slaughter of stocks. Wheat closed about 1 cent lower, though west-ern receipts were moderate. Corn is a fraction lower, as are some hog products. Cotton has declined an eighth, though receipts are a little larger and exports smaller than last year, but larger and exports smaller than last year, but holders show great stubbornness in view of the large stocks in sight and the closing of many mills. In other products no special change is reported, though prices tend lower.

"Many wollen factories are closing for a month or more or indefinitely, because orders are slack, for while jobbers' orders are about as usual clothiers still hold off. Fall trade is said to be not more than a third of the ways as usual cothlers still hold off. Fall trade is said to be not more than a third of the usual, and many dealers expect to do no more than half the usual spring business. Orders for boots and shoes are restricted. Shipments from the east are 12 per cent. less than for the same week last year.

"In Chicago wheat is at the lowest price ever known, jobbing trade is fair and retail very satisfactory. At Milwaukee trade is contracting. Jobbers at St. Paul are conservative, but average crops are expected. Omaha reports quiet trade, and Sioux City good crop prospects. Jobbing trade is quiet at Kansas City.

THEY WON'T FIGHT.

Siam Weakens and Agrees to the Demands Made by France. London, July 31 -The Siamese legation in this city has received a dispatch from Bangkok stating in effect that the Siamese government, learning that France regarded its reply to the ultimatum as a refusal to grant the French demands, and being most desirous of maintaining peace, has telegraphed instructions to the Siamese minister at Paris to inform M. Develle, the French foreign minister, that Slam accepts the ultimatum in its entirety. The dispatch adds that the Stamese government hopes that the blockade will cease, that the diplomatic negotiations will be resumed, and that an early settlement of the troubles will be effected. The substance of the ultimatum was as follows:

1. A recognition of the rights of Anam and Cambodia on the left, or eastern, bank of the Mekong river as far north as the twenty-third parallel of latitude.

2. The evacuation within a month of the forts held by the Stamese on the east bank of the 3 Full satisfaction for various Siamese aggressions against French ships and French sallors on the Menam river.

4. Punishment of the oulprits and provision for the pecuniary indemnity of the victims.

5. An indemnity of 2,000,000 francs for various damages sustained by French subjects.

6. The immediate deposit of 3,000,000 francs to guaranty the payment of the fourth and fifth to guaranty the payment of the fourth and fifth claims or the assignment of the taxes in certain districts in lieu of the deposit of 3,000,000 franca. With the acceptance of the ultimatum by the Siamese government the war cloud in the east will of course pass over.

CHICAGO'S SALOONS.

Strong Probability That About 3,000 of Them Will Be Closed Up. CHICAGO, Aug. 1 .- One thousand of Chicago's 7,279 saloons will probably close between now and September 1. Unless conditions now existing shall change it is said that 2,000 more will go out of business before January 1. The wholesale reduction in the number of drink resorts will be brought about by the action of the brewers. The majority of them have determined not only to cease paying licenses for saloons, but also to refuse further credit. Thousands of notices to this effect have been sent to saloonkeepers during the last week.

THERE HAS been some dissatisfaction expressed at the location selected for The School of Music. Mr. A. L. Noble's explanation of the situation financial and otherwise seems conclusive. Any one who may feel dissatisfied should bear in mind that seven of the ablest Tousiness men in Ann Arbor wrestled with the problem for a long time. It is wery doubtful whether their solution puld be improved upon.

THE BUSINESS DEPRESSION. (The State Republican.)

That the present disturbance in the and industrial Mairs of our entire nation is the result - of the return of the democracy to power is a fact so plain that no man of ardinary intelligence and discernment man deny it, or account for it in any other way without being at heart ashamed of his special pleading and wain effort to deceive himself or others. Indeed, the democrat papers are wisely almost silent on the subject, and rest contented by simply imitating the hisboxic witness who swore before the court: "I deny the fact!"

Never before the election last November, had the country known two years of such progress and prosperity as in The time following the adoption of the McKinley tariff. This was not a new tariff, but simply a revision of the tariff adopted soon after the republican party came into power in 1861. That was a wartariff for both protection and revenme, and the democratic party cursed it worse than it now does the McKinley tariff. That tariff answered well its design. The country soon started on a new career of prosperity, and the duty on tea, coffee, spices, tropical fruits etc., was in a few years, abolished. But it was not adapted to secure the highest prosperity, under the different circumstances of 1890. In that year the republican party had the power, as it and not had for several years, to make a general revision of the tariff laws, and the McKinley tariff was the result. The business of the country at once assumed new proportions. New enterprises were entered upon, those already in peration were enlarged, work and wages were ready for all who wanted work, and until November, 1892, the business ship was making twenty miles an hour over a calm sea.

No sooner was the result of the election assured than a secret panic took possession of the hearts of all thinking business men. They knew what the Lemocrats threatened to do, and were confident that if they carried out their Threats it would be highly disastrous to all kinds of business. Enterprises that were contemplated were abandoned, some which had been commenced were stopped, manufacturers diminished Their output to such an extent that now many thousand men are "out of work" and cursing the day when they were persuaded to vote a democrat ticket. The sales of wool in the principal markets this season have been 42,000,-900 pounds against 62,000,000 pounds during the same time last year. The Temand for iron has fallen off to an extent that the price will not pay for mining, and in many mines the work is meing suspended entirely. Is it any wender that the alarm is now univer-

But this foreboding is not confined to cour own country. The nations of Europe Caresaw the storm and began to look mut for their interest in it. Many millions of American railroad and sher stocks, and a heavy balance of trade against us are held in England. They were in no hurry for their pay, but In anticipation of our disasters resultfrom democratic ascendency, they mave been calling for their "pay," and have within the past three or four amouths taken from us nearly $100,000,-Olin gold.

Why Women Must Read to Vote. Representative Newkirk has recently made the following explanation of the origin of the educational clause in the Woman's Suffrage law.

When the bill came up the first time this feature was not in it, and the bill was defeated by thirteen votes. On making a re-canvass of the House to ascertain the real reason for its defeat, I was told by many that if I would insert the educational qualification in the bill they would vote for it, if it came up again, otherwise they would not; that our ignorant voters were increasing so rapidly that something must be done to head them off. I did not like to insert the qualification as it looked like discrimination against the women of the state, and so I wrote to many of our representative women stating the case and asking their opinions. In every instance the reply was in substance, "half a loaf is better than none. We will submit to almost anything to make There were several ladies there from Detroit and they said that if the bill could be passed by putting the qualification in, to do so, and it was added to the bill and the bill passed.

It was this or nothing. The women of the state feel that this is the stepping stone to complete suffrage in the near future, as I believe it myself to be. "Rome was not built in a day."

C. Weber threshed Thursday and had Of Interest to those Contemplating Visiting the Great Columbian Exposition at Chicago. III.

> Those of our readers who contemplate visiting the World's Fair should arrange for their hotel accommodations in advance of their going, thereby saving a great expense and annoyance in looking up a suitable and reasonable hotel after their arrival. We decided to, and have made inquiry con cerning the various hotels at Chicago as to their price, rooms and location, and after careful investigation, have decided to recommend the hotel, "The Syracuse", situated at Windsor Park, at the foot of 75th st., it being near the fair grounds, partially surrounded by a beautiful grove, fronting on the shore of Lake Michigan, which contributes its cool evening breezes to refresh the tired frame after a day's jaunt, and to make sleeping easy and delightful. "The New York State Educational Journal" endorses the hotel, "The Syracuse , as follows:

> Some time ago we promised our readers to visit Chicago and examine the hotel accommations offered with reference to recommending advance arrangements for the summer. Immediately on our return from Egypt we went to Chicago and looked over the ground carefully. We have de-cided to recommend "The Syracuse," a building erected by men we know and in whom we have confidence and which eems to combine more advantages than any other.

These requisites seem to us indispen-

(1) The hotel should be on the Lake. Chicago is a hot place in summer, and only the Lake breezes will make sleeping at all comfortable.

(2) It should be reached from the Exposition grounds by boat. How annoying it is to crowd into horse-cars and trains on a hot afternoon all our readers know. At Paris nine-tenths of the visitors were carried by the little the visitors were carried by the little river boats.

(3) The drainage should be perfect. This will be the great danger at Chicago. Hundreds of cheap buildings have been erected with cheap plumbing and cess-pool reservoir. If typhoid fever does not result, it won't be the fault of the not result, it won't be the fault of the builders.

(4) There should be the quiet and the privacy of home. This is the objection to the turning of school-houses into dormitories. Sight-seeing is hard work, and when the day is done the visitor should have a room of his own to wash in and to rest in.

(5) The price should be reasonable.

(5) The price should be reasonable We are satisfied that the lowest rate at which it will be possible to obtain rooms that are at all suitable is one dollar a day.

"The Syracuse" combines all these advantages:

(1) It is on the Lake, fronting the shore, 300 feet from the water, where there are pavillions for bathing, boats, fishing, etc. The few rooms fronting the Lake will be as desirable as one could wish, and all will be comfortable.

(2) The steamboat pier is directly in front of the hotel. Besides, the hotel itself is only a mile from the grounds, which can thus be reached by easy walking. This will be a great consideration, for the electric display at night, for which a million dollars has been for which a million dollars has been appropriated, will be one of the important features of the fair. It is also two blocks from the electric cars, and three blocks from the station of the Illinois Central, and those wishing to go to the city will be much surer of a seat than from the fair grounds.

(3) The rooms are all lathed and plastered, and well furnished, with woven spring mattresses. When you lock the door you are in your own cas-tle, as much as at home. This is different enough from tents and dormitories. The dining-room is on the European plan and the rates will be reasonable TERMS.

The hotel accommodates only 400 persons, and the rooms we have selected and engaged as the best will accommodate only 200. Early application should therefore be made. If you know application with the commodate only 200 persons and the commodate only 200 persons and the commodate only 200 persons are commodated to the commodate only 200 persons and the commodates only 400 persons and the commodates only 400 persons, and the rooms we have selected and the commodates only 400 persons, and the rooms we have selected and engaged as the best will accommodate only 200. just when you will go, we can assign you a particular room, and give you a diagram of the hotel showing just where the room is located. If you are not ready to fix on a specific date, we can give you a contract to furnish you as good rooms as are vacant at the time you present yourself. It is better, however, to engage for a fixed date.

An Echo from the C. E. Convention. Great attention is centering about the religious work in life saving stations in the United States and British Provinces Meetings of the International Commit Meetings of the International Commit-tee, the Michigan member of which is C. L. Stevens, of Ypsilanti, were held during the Convention. Rev. S. Ed-ward Young, Chairman of the Commit-tee, and Pastor of the Westminster Church, Ashbury Park, New Jersey, de-livered an address at the Convention in which he said:

which he said: In twenty-five years the Life-Saving Crews of the world have saved one mil-tion human lives. Shall we not, in Jesus' name offer them eternal life? Life-savers are the bravest, the most neglected men on earth. In the United States and Canada they guard twenty thousand miles of lake and ocean coast. Thus are they through almost the entire year, and year after year, shut out from the preaching of the Gospel. When last year the International Committee of Christian Endeavor undertook to provide religious services in life saving stations, one universal expression of gratefulness came from all the stations. About one thousand ser-vices have been held already, and a host of men have been led to Christ, and churches have grown out of them. A little over a year ago, the chairman of this committee preached the first Pro testant sermon ever preached in Sandy Hook, New Jersey in the life saving station there, and last September he dedicated a new church in Sandy Hook —the result of the life-saving station

Letters Stamped by Electricity.

An electrically controlled machine which will effectively stamp 80,000 letters in an hour is one of the interesting inventions that has been adopted in the post office department. The letters are placed on their edges in a horizontal hopper, and an ingenious device carries one at a time between two feed rolls. In this way the first separation is effected. A second set of feeding rolls performs another part of the work. In a simple way the inking rollers are reached, when the envelopes are stamped and passed on one at a time to the stacking table. A register shows the number of envelopes canceled. The date and hour in the die must be changed by hand. The various rollers are run by belts, passing over different sized pulleys, which are in turn connected by gearing to the axle of the motor.—New York Telegram.

Sicilian Girls.

In some parts of the island of Sicily the advent of a baby girl is looked upon as such a misfortune that a small black flag is hung out of the window to pro claim the sad event. The reason is not far to seek. Having to be maintained by the household as long as they are unmarried, and having to dower their bridegrooms with a "dot," girls are unprofitable. Boys, on the other hand, are soon self supporting, and they increase the family wealth when the time comes to bring home a wife by the amount of the young lady's fortune. Nevertheless the girls, although kept in such strict seclusion that one hardly ever meets them walking about, are said to be kindly treated. At the age of 15 or 16 they are disposed of in marriage according to an arrangement, purely financial, between the families concerned.—National Re-

A trembing hand, an uncertain step, fidgetiness, indicated by restless shifting from one place or posture to another, usually mental annoyance at unex-pected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These seem trifling, but the health of men and women in this condition is "decid elly shaky." liable to be overthrown disastrous y by causes which the vigorous might defy. To fortify the nervous system, goneral vigor must, through the medium of reinforced digestion, and a renewal of an impaired power of sleep ing at night, be raised to a healthful standard. A guarantee of this is Hostetter's StomachBitters, which re-establish es digestion, bile secretion and the habit of body on a permanently regular basis, thus renewing that bodily equilib rium, which is followed by a grain of strength and nerve tranquillity. # THE TROLL'S DAUGHTER

Cold and death reign in the extreme regions of the north; the sun there struggles in vain for six long months against eternal snow, and the stars and the aurora borealis casts but a pale light without one particle of heat through the nocturnal glooms. There neither the heart of men bests, nor does any sward grow green or any flower open its fresh chalice to the sun. Only from time to time the huge, shapeless whale rears his vast form above the waves and the white bear issues with heavy and mysterious steps from his icy cavern.

Well, it was the end of March in the year 1795. The winter was celebrating the last days of its reign by incredible rigors. The heavens were dark and stormy, the cold as hard and sharp as flint, and the wind soughed in icy gusts through the naked firs. All nature frowned, and both men and animals fled in consternation to their subterranean homes.

All at once there appeared on the plain of Karesuando three sledges which seemed to be straying at random, so completely had the snow effaced every sign of a road or of human habitation. The horses were reeling with fatigue, and it was in vain that their drivers strove to revive them and urge them onward with their hoarse-cries and re-echoing whips.

The caravan halted.

"Perkele!" [name of the devil in Finnish] exclaimed the driver of the first sledge, a sort of deformed dwarf wrapped in a filthy sheepskin horrible to behold. "Perkele!" he repeated, clambering out of a deep hole into which he had just been pitched headlong.

The rest ran to his assistance, but had great difficulty in setting the poor wretch on his feet again and in adjusting his sledge, as the tongue of it was broken and the horse lamed.

"A cursed country this! Monseigneur, we are lost!" grumbled an individual in the second sledge.

"Hush, Francois," replied the person who had been addressed as monseigneur; "instead of swearing find out whether we cannot procure shelter somewhere in this neighborhood."

This last phrase was communicated to one of the drivers in Finnish by a third person who seemed to be the interpreter of the troop.

The driver addressed pressed down his cap over his left eye, wiped his nose once, as the northern usages permit in such a scene, on the sleeve of his mantle, took his horse by the bridle, and after all these acts of preparation at length replied in'a tone of perfect tranquillity: . Chero is not a house in the neighborhood where shelter can be had."

This distressing announcement threw the travelers into consternation.

"Cursed country, cursed country!" repeated the man in the second sledge, with increasing ill humor.

To add to their trouble the two first equipages upset, and their fall was so terrible that they were unfit for further service when once more raised.

Yet the darkness increased, the cold grew more and more biting, and the tempest whirling the snow along before it shook the fir trees in the forest and even the loose rocks on the mountains.

"We are lost, we are lost!" cried the whole troop in despair.

But look! Yonder appears in the distance a specter of indistinct, wavering outline, eyes that gleam like two live beckon the strangers toward it. Was this not one of those dwarfs so famous in the northern Sagas, who entice strayed travelers into their caves that they may immolate them there to the somber deities they worship?

"Francois," said the youngest of the troop, leaping from his sledge, "you see that they are making signs to us there.

"Oh, monseigneur, can you think of do-

"What! Are you afraid?" Francois did not dare to reply. The way was rough and bestrewn with fragments of rock, trunks of trees and snowdrifts. The young man advanced bravely. Francois followed him, muttering oaths and growling between his

"Cursed country, cursed country!"

They crossed a river and arrived near a lofty mountain, whose crown of birches and firs added yet deeper shadows to the gloom that already surrounded them. Francois was almost beside himself with fatigue and terror.

"For God's sake, monseigneur, not another step! This is the end of the world, and that sign that leads us is the sign of hell!"

The young man stopped. The scene was truly so wild, so savage, that he hesitated to go any farther. However, he again took courage and advanced yet a few steps. The specter rose to its full height before him, and then plunging, as it were, in the snow revealed to the travelers the traces of a subterranean habitation. This was no new thing to them, as at Tornea and Muonioniska they had already met with those deep hovels of which the door is so low that you are compelled to go upon all fours in order to enter them. But the one they now beheld was more like the den of a bear than a human abode. "What is to be done should this prove nothing else than a cave of bandits to which I have been decoyed for murderous purposes?" Such were the reflections passing through the young traveler's mind, and he was already preparing to call his companions, when, from the depths of the cavity, a woman's voice, sweet and pure, was suddenly heard pronouncing these words: "Citizen Louis Philippe of Orleans, enter without fear!"

M. Francois Etienne Colin Guillemot, valet de chambre to his royal highness the Duke of Orleans, flung himself down in the snow, and embracing his master's knees, "Ah! monseigneur," said he, 'you have often enough scolded me for disbelieving in divinity and devil. I now see that one must come into this world of spirits to comprehend how things are. Was it not the evil one who just articulated your name?"

The prince leaned over toward the cavern, as if to catch another sound of the voice that had struck his ears.

The voice recommenced, "M. Louis Philippe of Orleans, enter without fear!" This second invitation made the two travelers start. "Well, let us enter," said the prince, "for I must learn whose voice it is that speaks the French language thus purely in this distant corner of the earth. I must see this woman, who appears to be so familiar with the titles of my blood!

The specter rose to its full height before

And the Duke of Orleans, followed by Francois, slipped into the subterranean hovel, which was not more than 5 feet in height and about 12 feet square. It was paved with an immense slab of granite, whereof one corner served for a hearthstone, on which a pine log was blazing. The smoke, driven back by the wind which was howling outside, whirled about in stormy volumes and filled the place with a dense cloud of mingled sparks and flame. At moments it resembled the breath of the pit. Two beds, a bench, a chair and a table composed all the furniture of this retreat, but it was kept with scrupulous neatness.

The duke's earnest anxiety was to discover the mysterious stranger whose voice had impressed him so powerfully. But at first he perceived only the specter whose hand had guided him to the spot, and who turned out to be an old man of from 70 to 80 years of age, thin and bent, but with a look of inspiration that revealed one of the northern trolls. Francois took him to be the devil. At his feet a cat and a bear were playing amicably The old man, without taking the slightest notice of the stranger's presence, began to strike a succession of quick, light taps on a bench, pronounced a few unintelligible words and then lighted a long pipe, whose smoke soon disagreeably surorised the nostrile of our French travel-

"There! Didn't I tell you that we were in the presence of Beelzebub?" murmured M. Guillemot. "This abominable smoke is a more than sufficient proof against the accursed heathen."

"My friend," said the duke to the old man, fixing his keen, scrutinizing eye upon him, "since the language I speak is as familiar to you as my name, will you have the kindness to inform me to whom I am indebted for this hospitality, since most assuredly you are not what your mode of life and the poverty of your abode would betoken."

The old man shook his head and again pronounced a few words which no one

"I never heard," observed Guillemot, "that it was the devil's custom to have a representative of himself upon the But certainly this creature is fully worthy to play second to Lucifer, or at least to be his vicar general. Come, you old clown, open your mouth and tell us who you are, so that we may know whether or not we have any reason to congratulate ourselves on having made your acquaintance."

"My father, Tuisko, is only a poor inhabitant of Karesnando. He humbly prays his royal highness the Duke of Orleans to consider himself welcome in his cabin," said the sweet voice which had so gracefully and cordially invited the strangers to enter.

The duke turned quickly in the direction whence this voice proceeded. Judge his surprise when he discovered in the depth of an alcove the white and pure countenance of a young girl far surpass-ing in loveliness anything he had ever seen in the sumptuous salons of the Tuil eries or under the fresh shades of Versailles. She was clad in a gown of Finland wool, with blue and red stripes, her chestnut tresses floated in long and silky curls over her shoulders, her blue eyes sparkled with intelligence, an indescribable charm of youth surrounded and filled her whole person, and yet from her mel-ancholy and tender expression it was plainly perceptible that the flowers of her life had been mingled with many thorns, but this only rendered her more beautiful and seductive.

The young nobleman saluted her with the same respect that he would have shown to a princess of the blood.

"Monseigneur," she continued, "we have been waiting for you a long time. Yesterday when you were quitting Mu-onioniska my father was grieved at your having horses hitched to your sledges. Horses are not adapted to these regions, as they require beaten tracks and sure relays. You have not yet tried our reindeer, monseigneur. You know not how delicious it is to glide along with the rapidity of lightning over the glistening plains by the glow of the aurora borealis and the great stars of these latitudes. Tomorrow it will be too late. The thaw has begun, the broad levels will become impassable and the rivers swell to torrents. Oh, what a pity it is that you have missed such a pleasure!"

"The pleasure of breaking one's neck at the heels of a wild animal." murmured Francois Guillemot.

"Then your father knew the hours and minutes of my trip yesterday?" asked the prince.

"Yesterday evening at three-quarters past 8 o'clock my father said to me: 'I will go to meet this illustrious stranger, for the tongue of his sledge is broken, and the impending tempest might prove fatal to him. That would be a great misfortune, Toini, to the land of thy mother." "Truly, young maiden, your words fill me with astonishment. But they remind me of my companions whom I left close by—ah, they would be very happy to share your delightful hospitality beside this warm fire."

'My father has gone to lead them hither, monseigneur.

"But can you tell me what they have been doing-you who have knowledge of so many things?"

"Toini knows nothing. Toini is but a poor and simple girl. She only repeats what her father tells her, and her father dictates nothing that his haltia [familiar spirit of the Finnish wizards] does not inspire.

Your father cultivates the supernatural sciences then?" 'My father is a sage."

"Why do you look at me with that air of distrust? Is it dishonorable in your country to cultivate wisdom?"

"No, sir; we love and esteem wisdom. Our ancient sages call it the especial gift of the gods, the only one indeed worth the penalty of life."

"Nevertheless your father has ene-

"One only, monseigneur-one only, for everybody venerates and fears him. That enemy is the black priest Snontekis. From time to time he makes his appear ance in this neighborhood and drags us from our home to make us accompany him to Rowaniemi; besides he threaten us with imprisonment and death-all this because my father is a troll, a tietaja."

"What is a tietaja, pretty child?"
"I will tell you. A tietaja is a sage, a man of power who possesses the words of life and knows how to apply them; a tietaja is the friend of the great spirits who dwell in the depths of the sea, on the wings of the clouds, and even among the peaks of the loftiest mountains; a tietaja is one who understands the mystery of ecstasies, and to whom the haltia, the spirit of succor, discloses every thing; a tietaja can make men good or bad cure diseases, avert pestilences, predict the future and tell where lost treasures may be found. A tietaja is a great man, monseigneur.'

"Then your father knows and can do everything?"

'Yes, monseigneur. You do not believe me, I know, for all men are incredulous all men are scoffers and atheists. But what I have said is true. My father knows more than Matti Kallanvaera (a celebrated Finnish sorcerer], whose name made such a stir last year at Kemi; my father cannot be deceived like him; my father does not, like him, require brandy to unite him with his familiar spirit, and then he does not take pay for his ecstasies God himself inspires him, and he can with a whiff of his breath disperse all the demons of the earth; he can wind around his little finger all the spirits of

'If you could only understand him, prince, you would be transported with dmiration. Yesterday, before setting out to meet you, he said such magnificent words to me, such astonishing words, that will never pass from my memory. He, too, when I repeated them to him, after his trance, was stupefied for he never recollects anything that his spirit has said to him.

"Your father is truly an extraordinary man, but what appears to me the most remarkable thing about him is that he should be your father."

'Toini is not the daughter of Tuisko.' "My presentiment told me as much So beauteous a flower could not have been born in this horrible desert."

"Prince, insult not the desert. The solitary mountains, the silent woods have their own charm. Know you that during three months in the year we can read at night without artificial aid? Then the sun does not sink into the bosom of the earth. He gently touches it with a kiss and again mounts glorious upon the horizon. We would not change the aurorse of our winters for the leaden glooms of your Decembers. I know your France, monseigneur, for it was once also my France.

"Land of flowers and verdure, of perfume and sunshine! And yet would you persuade me that its laughing skies o'erhang the ideal perfection of love and of happiness? I will tell you what they cover-moral hatred and black perfidy, infidelity and faithlessness aye, faithless, ness. Ah, rather a thousand times the wilderness and the eternal ice! The wilderness, it is sublime; it is full of soft-

"Strange girl, tell me who you are!" "How can it interest you to know?" "I beg you to tell me."

"My father is the Wandering Jew. He has already lived 2,000 years, but I have only completed three centuries." The duke gazed attentively at the young woman thus strangely addressing

"Is she sane?" he asked himself.

But Guillemot, coming up closer to him, whispered in his ear, "We would do well, my prince, to retire as soon as possible from this diabolical den." You are jesting. See, there comes our host with the rest of our party." Just then the aged Tuisko re-entered the cabin, followed by the Count de Montjoie and other travelers who had accompanied the Duke of Orleans.

"Good evening to you, count," said the prince. "You did not expect to find me, I think, near an excellent fire, chatting with a sorceress-with a fairy who speaks French better than any one of ourselves. What good fortune to have a little poetry come thus to brighten this dull page of our journey! But what have you been doing since we parted?"

While the Count de Montjoie was narrating his adventures Toini served up the supper. It consisted of a piece of smoked reindeer, some dried fish and some curdled milk. The last article men tioned by no means awakened the enthu siasm of M. Guillemot, who, however had to remain content with this-to his idea-barbarous fare, since he had left his stock of wine and brandy in the "Beautiful Toini," said the duke when he had finished his repast, "next to the recital of your own history I can imagine nothing that would interest me more than to see your father in one of his ecstasies. When in that state, he can no doubt read the past and the future both, and I have some questions to ask relating to them." "I will communicate your desire to him," replied Toini, "but cannot promise that he will gratify it. Ah, gentlemen, it is no light matter to die out of this visible world, to mount, disengaged from the clogging bonds of the flesh, into those sublime regions where the voice of the spirit reveals the mystery of things. No, it is not a mere comedy of the French stage, be assured, sir."

"Would this persuade your father to satisfy us?" said the Count de Montjoie, producing his purse. "Keep your gold, str count; my father needs it not." A long colloquy ensued between the young woman and her father. The old man seemed to resist the entreaties of the girl obstinately. At length, however, Toini prevailed. Thereupon the aged troll was seen advancing majestically into the middle of the chamber, and with a solemn geeture signed the strangers to place themselves on the bench along the wall. "Gentlemen," said Toini, "my father requires you first to lay aside any articles of iron or steel that you may have about your persons." "By heavens! Separate us from our arms!" said Guillemot in a fright. "Ridiculous coward?" rejoined the duke. "what have we to fear from this Pro BE CONTINUED. 1

Pienie at Ann Arbor.

The 15th annual harvest festival and basket picnic of Washtenaw, Wayne, Oakland, and Livingston Counties will be held on the fair grounds at Ann Arbor on Wednesday, Aug. 16, '93. Gen. Jas. B. Weaver will deliver an address on the "Economic Questions of In a land of plenty we've got a money famine; our law-makers seem to be powerless to devise ways and means to stop the famine. So let us meet together at Ann Arbor, the 16th of August, and see if we can agree on some plan that will drive this curse of a want of a medium of exchange, with which to do our business, in a nation where it only costs Uncle Sam, (the peo-ple), two mills (2) and three-tenths of a nill (3-10) to make a one dollar full le gal tender treasury note. Is it right, is it just, that the people should suffer for the want of this tool (money) to do our business with? We ask the business men to meet with us, and we will council together—our interests are identical. Perhaps you think when the farmers remaps you think when the farmers take our wheat, wool, etc., to market and are compelled, on account of the money famine, to sell our products from thirty-five to fifty per cent. less than the cost of production, its a huge joke on us farmers. Tais is a serious problem with you business men, as well as it is to us farmers. So to speak we are the geese that lay the golden eggs that you in your business gather in from day to day. You financially kill us and soon the seiff will have a notice on your houses of business, closed on execution, assignee sale, etc. We ask the business men on that day to meet with us farmers, and we'll unite on some plan that by force of numbers and power of public opinion we may drive this curse of a money famine from this once happy people. This is not poli-tics but patriotism, love of country and its free institutions, and should be endorsed by all American citizens. So all come and hear this grand old man, Gen. Jas. B.
