The Council Meets.

There was a full attendance at the City Council Monday night and lots of hard work to do, and some work which was unnecessarily made hard.-A communication from the mayor was read in which he did not approve the recommendation of the finance committee in regard to its treatment of Prof. Greene. The mayor said that the dismissal could not be made without cause. He said that the board of public works had full power to employ men and that the council could fix salaries only. As the whole matter in regard to Prof. Greene was that the maority of the council were shortsightedly economical, and wanted to get rid of Prof. Greene's salary rather than of the professor, the effect of the mayor's message amounted to saying-you cannot dismiss Prof. Greene, but you can cut down his salary to nothing if you wish-The clerk then read a communication from the board of public works explaining why it was that the work of constructing the main sewer had been so delayed. The failure to receive tile fast enough was the reason given. A petition from Mr. Nickels of State-st asking for permission to build a one story frame, with steel brick veneer, within the fire limits was then read. A motion to refer the petition to the fire committee with power to act was made. This stirred up Ald. Herz, who seemed to think that such a matter was of too ponderous a nature for a committee of that council to settle, that only the entire council in regular meeting assembled could properly deal with so important a question. A motion was then made to strike out the words " with power to act," which amendment carried as did also the original motion thus amended. It seemed to make no difference to the majority of the council whether Mr. Nickels was able to put up his building this year or next. Ald. Herz had objected to giving the committee power to act in this simple matter and that seemed sufficient in the eyes of the majority of the council. A petition for a sidewalk on E.Huron from Ingalls to 12th-sts was then read and referred to the sidewalk committee. A communication from H. C. Markham was then read asking that the council appoint a committee to act as "Fence Viewers." Just what that meant no one-seemed to know until city attorney Norris was; sent for and explained the matter, by stating that such a committee's duty would be to settle matters in regard to line fences. City Clerk Miller than reported that the Ann Arbor Savings Bank had filed a bond for $80,000.00 Ald. Taylor then read a report of the finance committee, including a long list of bills for the month to be allowed. After some discussion the report was accepted without modification and the bills allowed. The ordinance committee then gave the second reading to the to make certain extensions. The question of repassing the ordinance allowing the fuel gas company to contract a plant in the city was brought up and given its first reading. The sidewalk committee reported favorably on a number of new cross-walks and sidewalk extensions, which report was accepted and adopted. A resolution was then offered and passed that the bond for the Ann Arbor Savings Bank be accepted. The bid of the Savings Bank to take $5000 worth of the earliest maturing sewer bonds was not accepted. The immediate need of funds for the construction of the sewers so far as it could be built this fall was then provided for by the transfer from other funds of $5000 to the sewer fund. The report of the committee appointed to report on furnishing the new city offices precipitated a lively discussion, in which Ald. Herz took the most prominent part. The burden of his onset was that if the council could give Prof. Greene $1500 for doing nothing-absoalso afford to fit up its city offices decently! A number of others took part brilliancy and profound reasoning with the able alderman from the second ward. The result of the discussion was that the $1500 recommended by offices was allowed. The reports of the Kitson then moved that $75 be approhave City Clerk order made lithographic bonds to the amount of $25,000 in $500 denomination and to bear five per cent. interest. The matter was, however, posponed, for the time. On motion of Ald. Schairer the council ordered that the tar walk in front of S. Wood's property on S. Division-st be lowered to the present grade at the expense of the city. This question brought out some sharp criticisims on the city engineer's work.

Burglars Bargle.

Burglars got in some lively work last Sunday night, and it behooves everyone to look for other visits from these light fingered gentry.

Their first call, early in the evening, was at the residence of S. D. Allen, No-90 east Washington-st., where they crawled into a bedroom through a window that was open in the rear. They ransacked a bureau in the room of two lady students, taking a diamond ring, lady's gold watch chain, etc., and a pocket book containing $4. The things were in a plush box which they carried over to the out house of the residence of Fred McOmber, No. 12 S. Ingalls-st which adjoins Mr. Allen's lot in the rear. Here they rifled the box and took what they wanted and threw the balance away. They missed in the bureau drawer a purse containing about $20. From there they must have visited the clothing house of Wadhams, Ryan & Reule, on S. Main-st. An entrance was gained through the back door with the aid of a large flat file used to pry open the door. Mr. Ryan says he thinks they took an overcoat from the disorder of the overcoat pile. The fellows must have been particular as to the fit of the coat. There measure was about No. 40,

During the night the hardware store of Schumacher Bros, No. 68 S. Main-st. was entered and the safe opened and about $30 in money taken.-Times.

Evangelist B. Fay Mills.

Elaborate preparations are being made for a great revival here when the noted evangelist B. Fay Mills, is to be here in December. He will begin his meeting Dec. 4, and will continue at least a week, and possibly longer. The commitiee appointed to negotiate with Mr. Mills had a difficult time to secure him. Although but parely forty years old Mr. Mills has made himself famous as one of the most successful evangelists of modern times.

The work will be in charge of committees of students and citizens, who are already beginning lheir work. The following is the personnel of the committees: Committee on finance, W. J. ### Eighty-Nine Years Old.

Ex-Governor Alpehus Felch celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday last Thursday. For a man of such an advanced age Mr. Felch is exceedingly well preserved. He goes about the city as sprightly as most men thirty years younger. It would be difficult to find a man who is more generally loved and lucly nothing, - he thought it could honored by all who know him; we doubt if another could be found who has had even one-fourth the experience in the discussion but none compared in | in public life who has made less enemies. He was a member of the state legislature at the age of thirty-one, bank commissioner at thirty-four, auditor-general at thirty-eight, judge of the committee to furnish the new city | the supreme court at thirty-nine, and | track and jumped right among the governor of the state at forty-one. At various city offices were then read but | the age of forty-three he was elected | are too long for us to give. Alderman to the United States Senate. A Great Musician.

Mr. Schmaal's friends in Ann Arbor will be pleased to learn of his great success in Hamburg, as appears by the following extracts. The "Hamburgischer Correspondent" in its issue of Sept. 12, 1893, says: "Mr. J. Erich Schmaal gave last evening in the Recital Hall of the Convent Garden a concert which was a brilliant success. His playing is sympathetic and his technique remarkable. He is an expert ensemble player." The "Nachrichten," of the same date: "In the smaller hall of the Convent Garden, a large and select audience gathered to here the concert given by Mr. J. Erich Schmaal, the pianist. He is a graduate of the Hamburg Conservatorium. He was well known as a promising pianist in his boyhood—last evening revealed him as the finished artist. He aroused a storm of enthusiasm by his interpretation of Beethoven's E flat Sonata, Op. 51, No. 3. In the Polonaise of Pade rewski he showed an extraordinary technique. The F major trio by Saint-Saens was finely performed by Mr. Schmaal with the assistance of A. Kuiss and H. Kugelberg," The critics of these papers are two of the severest in Germany.—Times.

Beath of a Former Ann Arborite.

Fred. S Anderson, the youngest son of L.S. Anderson of 36 S. Ingalls-st, died at his home at Midland, Mich., Tuesday evening Sept. 26, aged 38. Mr. Anderson was a dentist, and had a nice practice. He had lived in Midland since his marriage, in 1879, to Miss Addie Moore, a daughter of Mr. Geo. Moore, of 20 S. 5th-ave., this city. The deceased left a wife and five children, three girls and two boys, the youngest, a boy, being only eight weeks old. The remains were brought to Ann Arbor for interment in the family lot. Mr. Anderson and children will remain in the city a few days with her father before returning to Midland.

Postal Telegraph Company.

The Postal Telegraph Co.'s linemen have been at work in the city during the past week. The company is just completing a new line between Chicago and Toledo, which takes in Ann Arbor. The company now has the only direct line between here and Chicago. This comparatively young and enterprising company is rapidly forging to the front. It is doing this by giving good service and accommodations. Ann Arbor pecple are coming to know this and appreciate a thing of this sort.

Three Seriousty Injured.

I. PRELIMINARY.

No account of the origin and growth of our city can fairly be deemed worthy of the subject, unless it shall at least touch upon those events in war, politics, diplomacy and legislation which have made such a development possible. In a fair treatment of my theme, therefore, the first inquiry will naturally be :- How did that section of our country, first known in our history, as the Northwest Territory, and now forming five great states, become a possession of our original Confederation? If any shall object that this is giving too great latitude to our inquiries, it will suffice to reply that our little place has hitherto, to say the least, been the greatest scholastic centre of this extensive region, and that this was brought about by that congressional legislation which first provided a government for this region. It is here in place to inquire by what series of occurrences congress became invested with the right to legislate for this territory.

The old Northwest was by right of discovery a part of New France. Robert Cavalier, better known as Sieur de la Salle, the greatest of all explorers of the North American continent, traced the course of the Ohio river from near the heads of its upper tributaries in what is now Western New York to its confluence with the Mississippi, La Salle traveled about 20,000 miles, half the distance on foot. His exploration on the Ohio was begun in 1669; but it does not concern my purpose to say more of it than that he claimed for France the territory lying between this river and the older French possessions on the North, and that many settlements, all by French people, were established within these limits, the chief of which were Makinaw, Green Bay, Detroit, Vincennes, Kaskaskia and La Prairie du Rocher. This region remained a possession of France until ceded to Great Britain in 1763, as the final result of the victory achieved by Wolfe over Montcalm on the Heights of Abraham at Quebec in October, 1759.

The scatterd French settlers of the Northwest, separated by great stretches of wilderness from the British Colonies of the Atlantic coast, took no part in our Revolution; it was, therefore quite natural that Great Britain, a ter the war should claim this territory by the same title by which she held Cana-What claim, then, could the new confederation set up against that of Great Britain? Upon what ground the colonies of Virginia, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York made pretentions to any proprietorship in this territory, I shall not inquire; but they made such pretensions. Virginia's claim embraced the greatest part. In 1778, Patrick Henry, being then governor of that state, raised a small force for the military occupation of this territory, giving the command to George Rogers Clark, with a Lieutenant Colonel's commission. This was an enterprise of Virginia alone. The congress of the confederation and its commander-in-chief had nothing to do with it. The conquest was accomplished by Colonel Clark's remarkable diplomacy with the French settlers and the Indians, in combination with his tactics and pluck in the solution of the military problem. He won, indeed, by his conduct of this expedition, the nom de plume of the "Hannibal of the West." Detaits, could they be given, would be entrancing.

Let the following account suffice: This young officer of twenty-five years, by combined shrewdness and daring, captured Kaskaskia near the Mississippi. By his naive and homely way of stating the matter in dispute between the colonies and the mother-country, he won the Indians to his cause, as also Father Gibault, the Catholic missionary at Kaskaskia. This priest was so charmed with the Virginian's frankness and kindness of heart that he volunteered to go to Vincennes on the Wabash and induce the Garrison there to surrender to him without resistance. The Colonel there placed in the fort what was supposed to be a garrison of his own man. Colonel Hamilton, Lieutenant-Governor of Canada, came on from Detroit to retake the place, and finding his march obstructed by a cannon planted in his way, demanded a surrender. Captain Helm, $3.95. the commander of the Garrison, insisted upon honorable terms, and when bravely secured. An incident will set forth the selfpossession which ran through Colonel-(Continued on Fourth Page).

The low prices paid for wheat this fall have so disgusted a number of farmers that they are only sowing enough for their own use, and are substituting rye. ## NEARING A SOLUTION.

The Mysterious Disappearance of Pearl Butler.

LOUIS ARNO HELD FOR ABDUCTION.

He Admits to Justice Whelan That He Has Been a Procurer-Identified by Two Boys as the Man Who Had Inquired For the Missing Girl.

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—The mysterious disappearance of Pearl Butler, a young girl 13 years of age, was partially solved Tuesday when Louis F. Arno, the suspect, confessed to Justice Whelan that he was a procurer. Later it was learned that on Saturday, the day after Pearl Butler disappeared, Arno went to a woman up on Michigan avenue, whose name is withheld, and tried to induce her to let him take her little girl to New York with him. He was so voluble and so persistent that the woman had to drive him from the house. Yet she thought nothing of the circum stance until Arno was arrested.

Arno told the woman that he was wealthy New Yorker, that he had $15,-000. He described in his voluble and extravagant way the pleasures the little girl would have riding in carriages with fine dresses and all the rest. The woman thought perhaps the man was lonesome away from his family and excused his persistence, and thought him a good-natured, foolish old man.

Arno's manner, his petty cunning and his halting mental operations con-firm the story of the confession that he made Tuesday, and incidentally bring more closely about him the net of circumstances in which he has become

Two little boys, Anton Burkhardt of 567 St. Antoine street and Leonard Moeler of Benton street, called at the station and identified Arno as the man who had inquired of them for Pearl. Inspection of Child Labor.

KALAMAZOO, Oct. 4.—George E. Gunn Lansing, special inspector of the labor bureau, has finished a tour of inspection among the factories of this city. He inspected 36 factories and found two factories where children under 14 years of age were employed, five children in all. He said Kalamazoo was ahead of Jackson, Albion, Battle Creek and Marshall in regard to the nonemployment of child labor, protections against accidents and fire, and that the trade outlook was brighter here. STREET CAR FIGHT. Two White Men Stabbed by a Negro In Chicago. CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—A fight with knives in a crowded State street cable car badly frightened the passengers. The row was over the possession of an umbrella. P. E. Polzin struck a colored man named James Baker, and the lat-ter returned the blow. The two men clinched and Baker drew a knife.

Passengers stood up to see the fight. Baker sprang down on the footboard and made another effort to strike Polzin, but he lost his balance and fell to the pavement. He scrambled back on the car again. Several passengers at-tempted to reach Baker before he could use the knife, but they were not quick

Baker made a lunge at S. A. Polzin and stuck the knife in his left breast. P. E. Polzin struck him in the face again and seized his right arm, making at the same time an effort to push him off the car. But Baker proved to be the stronger and he forced Polzin down upon his wounded brother. The negro reached forward and struck him with the knife, inflicting a slight wound in the stomach. John Buckley, driver of fire truck No. 1, seized Baker just as the car was stopped and turned him over to an officer. Baker was locked up at the Twenty-second street station. S. A. A struggle ensued, during which the Greek tore and chewed up the money so successfully that by the time he was overpowered about $150 was destroyed beyond repair. About $400 can probably be redeemed. The man has lived here about sight years. Two years ago here about eight years. Two years ago he went to Athens for his sweetheart,

A LANSINGBURG MIRACLE.

(From Troy, N. Y., Times.) I am the most conservative reporter on the staff. I despise the chimerical, I court the real. I burrow in facts. l am from Lansingburg. We don't often get a good thing from there, but here is one. F.C. Kimball last night gave me the following: I am a plain straightforward man.

Rochester. There I was in the employ of the Erie Railroad as yard and freight superintendent. After a strain to my back, caused by heavy lifting three years ago, I developed so-called rheumatism. It was an increasing thing for two years,—at times worse, aga n better. I worked intermittently. It would shut my eyes I would fall down. My feet and legs soon lost feeling—were numb. This extended to my stomach and at times to my hands. Doctors Lee and Spencer of Rochester finally pronounced my case progressive ocomotor ataxia, and it was incurable and they could only ease my sufferings, and so I lay. Up to this time I had been sick nearly two years. Before this and for several months I was confined to my bed. Pins stuck into my limbs the full length gave me no felling what ever; my legs seemed wooden. To pound them gave off a noise like wood. so I say, as I lay there I was absolutely one-half dead - dead from the wais down. There was word writen in large characters all over that sick room— C L-A-Y. Life departed from my limbs, that word best expressed what was left. You, of course, nave read of John Marshall. The reporter in describing him, described me exactly. sent for the remedy which cured him, — for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, to schenectady, N. Y., and tried them. took them irregularly for two months. They didn't seem to help. All of a sudden one morning one of my legs began to prickle—seemed as though rubbed with nettles. Then, perhaps, you think I did not investigate that medicine. I began to mend fast; got some circulation, got control of my bowels and after a few weeks got out of bed and tried to stand. At last fetched it. Could walk-now can run and Pink Pills cured me. The doctors said I couldn't be cured, but I am. What I am now telling you is merely a reiteration of what I long ago wrote to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company at Schenectady, and my affidavit to the same is now in their hands. Here also is a letter which my mother wrote to them and to which she has made affidavit, as you see.'

186 Second Ave., LANSINGBURG, N. Y Dear Sirs:—My son Fred has just writ-ten you a letter concerning himself to which I desire to add a few words in entire corrobation of all he has said. He has told you of his agony and his cure. The remembrance of the whole thing makes me shudder as I think of it. It is all too wonderful for me. I was resigned to his fate. Now as I look at him walking about and feeling well, with his old health and ambition returned, it does seem that he has been born again and rescued from death for a fact. Could I, therefore, say too much to you of thanks in the fullness of my gratitude? Can I well cease lessing you? Yet the intensity of my feelings make my words of thanksgiv mg to you seem but empty indeed; for the lost is found, and he that was dead is alive again. Yours, HARRIET J. KIMBALL. Sworn and subscribed before me this 5th d y of April, 1893. M. L. FANCHER, Mrs. Kimball said: "While I believe in answers to prayer and prayed earn-estly for his recovery, for I am a Christian woman, and believe my prayers were answered, I do think Pink Pills were the means the Lord used to effect my son's cure. I want you to meet my daughter, Mrs. G. H. Morrison, with whom we are living here, and the kev. George Fairlee, pastor of West minister church, who lives with us and hear what they have to say." So Mrs. Kimball brought them in, and while the story as told was most com-plete and could be added to by nothing they might say, yet the reporter heard from the lips of the sister and their pastor, corroborative words of all that has been said. The reporter also ran across the son-in-law, Mr. G. H. Morrison, cashier of the National Bank of Troy, and spoke to him of Mr. Kimball He is a busy man and though he could only be detained for a moment, he said: "I know nothing of the case technically. He says he was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I think that is about the size of it."

Mr. William H. Flandreau, the druggist at 814 River St., Troy, said: "It is the most wonderful cure from loco-motor ataxia—a so-called incurable dis-Mr. Kimball tells me he owes his recovery to Pink Pills entirely and I have reason to believe him."

Puk Pills restore pale people and sallow complexions to the glow of health, and are a specific for all the the troubles peculiar to the female sex, while in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature."

The Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address.

American Levity.

Singularly enough it appears that Poe, the only absolutely distinct genius our country has yet produced, was incapable of humor and that even his levity was artificial. Hawthorne, next to Poe in originality and far above him in style, was but meagerly equipped with smile provoking material. Bryant, our greatest poet, maintained a lofty seriousness throughout his work.

It may be sacrilege to say so, but the truth is Lowell was the founder of our levity. He never could be quite a reliably serious thinker, but could at any moment break off into funmaking. Humor is good in a fresh and natural state, but so is a peach. Cut and dry either, and you have a poor article for a regular diet. We Americans have fed upon laughable things until our faces show the wrinkles of a grin even when in solemnest repose.

We are never sure of one another, but must wait awhile after each communication to find out whether or not it is a joke. The effect of highest sincerity cannot be reached in the midst of all this hurly burly of chaffing voices. How can one be serious while everybody else is grimacing?-Chautauquan.

Fortunes From Rags.

It is astonishing what immense sums ragpickers receive in the course of the day. The combings of women's hair sell at 80 cents a pound. This means $300 to the knights of the hook. "Merinos," as they are called, are another source of profit. These are the scraps of tailors and dressmakers and bring about $36,000

The old bones are another source of profit and bring about $100,000 a year. The papers, corks and crusts of bread all go to different industries and bring a not less fabulous sum.

SILVER PURCHASE BILL.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama Offers an Amendment.

REVIVES THE COINAGE ACT OF 1337.

Senator Dolph of Oregon Continues His Speech In Favor of the Repeal Bill-In the House Debate Continued on the Washington, Oct. 4.-The senate was found to be Tuesday morning in its chronic no quorum condition. After the routine morning business an amendment to the silver purchase bill was offered by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.). It revives the coinage act of 1837 and provides for the remission of 20 per cent of import dues on goods imported from countries that admit standard dollars of present weight and fineness as legal tender for all debts public and private. tender for all debts public and private. The question as to the printed extract from the Bankers' Magazine of August, 1873, to which Mr. Sherman had called attention to Monday was again revived by Mr. White (Dem., Cal.), in whose speech it had appeared, and Mr. White referred to a speech made some years ago by a member of congress, that is, he had found the extract as he had quoted it. quoted it.

quoted it.

He had, however, examined the Bankers' Magazine of August. 1873, and found that it did not contain the extract. Mr. Sherman repeated the statement which he made that he imputed no blame to the senator from California, and he stated, as a remarkable thing, that in the first quotation of Senator Beck of Kentucky of Mr. Hooper's speech in reference to Mr. Seyd, the words "who is now here" did not appear. So that that interpolation, as well as the fabrication of the Bankers' Magazine article, had been made since 1878. The repeal bill was taken up at 11 and Mr. Dolph (Rep., Or.) continued his speech of Monday afternoon in favor of its passage.

In the House.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The call of the committees in the house was unproductive of results and the debate on the federal election bill was resumed. Mr. Northway (Rep., O.) in speaking against the measure said it was a peculiarity of his to help the under dog in a fight and in this he took some pleasure in defending that under dog. He then entered upon an argument to prove that the laws were perfectly constitutional. Mr. Kyle (Dem., Miss.) spoke in opposition to the federal election laws. The minority report of the committee on the election of the president and vice president had never been equalled for injustice by any report WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 .- The call of the equalled for injustice by any report that he had ever read, and he denounced the statement made in that report that Mississippi had the most perfectly operating system for fraud yet devised in the south.

Mr. Bowers (Rep., Cal.), in speaking against the bill, denominated the election laws as frightful, and then went on to ridicule the house. After expressing his opposition to the pending bill he went into a dissertation upon the rights of settlers on Southern Pa cific railroad lands: and this consumed cific railroad lands; and this consumed the most of his time. Mr. DeForrest (Dem., Coun.) followed with an argument in favor of the bill. Then Mr. Dunphy (Deni., N. Y.) asked for the consideration of the New York and New Jersey bridge bill. Mr. Warner (Dem., N. Y.) said that he would not interpose an objection, though he would vote against it. He was not satisfied with the man who asked for the charter, Vote on the repeal resulted 14-14, and Mr. Warner raised the point of no quorum. The house at 5:45 adjourned.

It shows the number of invalid claims rejected during the same period. of 1890. It shows the number of invalid claims rejected during the same period, giving the law under which they were rejected. THE action of the council last Monday night in appropriating $1500 for furniture and office fixtures for the new city offices savors very strongly of extravagance. With the exception of one or two of the banks, the amount $500, proposed by Ald. Wagner, would fit up the offices much finer than that of, any business man in this city, especially better than the office of any member of the council. This city has always had a reputation for low taxes, but a few such measures as that passed last Monday night to fit up extravagantly furnished offices would soon lose us any such creditable name. It is not too late to reconsider this and we trust it. will be done.

MR. HOKE SMITH now explains that the abrupt suspension pension order was made without his knowledge or consent, and he protests against being held responsible for that which he did not do. It is boyish and absurd for Secretary Smith to make such an excuse. He knows that he is directly responsible for the management of his office and for the official acts of the persons whom he has selected to assist him. What the Secretary did not know, however, was not as to the terms of the pension suspension order, but as to the reception it would receive from the people of the northern states; and he suspended it not because he did not approve of it but because he dared not enforce it .- Ex.

Clark's action and imparted itself to all concerned. The people of La Prairie du Rocher got up a ball in his honor. The party danced till midnight when a raport came that Colonel Hamilton was within three miles of Kaskaskia, with 800 men. He had never, he said, seen such confusion as reigned in this little company. All looked to him to decide what was to be done. His mind was made up at once. He ordered the horses for himself and his officers. He told the party not to let the news spoil their diversion Quieted by his coolness, they continued the dance until the officers' horses came and many of the young men of the place, mounted their horses and the whole French population with him. Colonel Clark was determined to recapture Vincennes. For this purpose he set out in February, 1779, with 210 men, two four pounders and four swivels. The artillery and forty-six men were to ascend the Wabash in a batteau, himself and the remaining force were to go on foot, though not properly by land, since the whole region from the mouth of the White river, fifteen to twenty miles below Vincennes, was inundated. "Not less than two miles,"the Colonel says,"were less than three to four feet under water." The commander led the march and indicated the way. All carried their guns and powder over their heads to keep them dry. Their provisions were exhausted, and they were nearly starved. The weather, too, was growing very cold and ice was forming; but the force reached Vincennes. It was the 23d of February, at evening. The people of the place knew this officer through Father Gibault; he had there-fore only to request them to keep in fore only to request them to keep in their houses and fear nothing. Then, without waiting for the arrival of his artillery, he demanded the surrender of the garrison. This being refused, he opened fire upon the fort. His dermination, and his appearance there when nation, and his appearance there when the country was under water, made Hamilton's heart give way, the demand seemed to him a summons from another word, and he surrendered and was sent a prisoner to Virginia, where he was kept in irons and on bread and water as a punishment for cruelty. After a grave contest it was saved from the conspiracy of General Wilkinson and others with Spain. Otherwise the United States, had there been such country, would have seen been such country would have em-braced only the narrow strip between

But for the success of Colonel Clark's ex-pedition, the region known as the Old Northwest would have been a A "COLD IN THE HEAD" is quickly cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh all Headache, and every trouble caused by Catarrh. Old Northwest would have been a British province. The ground on which our city is built might have been occupied by a Canadian hamlet or small village, and it might still have been but farms and forests. As to where and what we, the individual citizens, should have been, or whether we should have been at all, I shall not speculate, but shall leave all such speculation to those who have lesiure and taste for it.

LITERARY NOTES.

One of the features of the October Harper's Magazine will be an amusing sketch of "Undergraduate Life at Oxford," by Richard Harding Davis, with illustrations by W. Hatherell. In the same number Edwin Lord Weeks, the painter, will begin his account of the journey across Persia, in which Theodore Child lost his life. The illustrations for this article are from sketches made along the way, and are unusually spirited and interesting.-Harper & Bros., New York, N. Y.

Harper's Weekly for September 30th opened with a page cartoon by W. A. Rogers on Boss Rule in New York and Brooklyn. Miss Murfree's story of "The Moonshiners of Hoho-Hebee Falls" is concluded. The opening of the Cherokee Strip is described and illustrated, and there is a page of illustrations of the Hoosier Harvest Festival. In contrast to these pictures there is a page of sketches of Newport, with an article on the life there.-Harper & Bros., New Scribner's Magazine for October has a notable list of contributors, including W.D. Howells, Robert Louis Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, H. C. Bunner, Harold Frederick, and Will H. Low. The contribution of Mr. Howells is a remarkable one. Under the title "The Man of Letters as a Man of Business,' he discusses with perfect frankness the whole relation of literature to business especially the relations of the writer with the editor and the publisher. Another article of unusual interest, is Robert Stevenson's journal of the voyage made by Sir Walter Scott in 1814 around Scotland in the lighthouse yacht.-Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, N. Y.

The appearance of the full piano score of a set of original waltzes, by Eduard Strauss, the famous waltz composer and Conductor of the Court Balls of Vienna, is one of the many striking features of the October Ladies' Home Journal. This set of waltes is called "The Dancing Waves Waltzes," and will be found quite as melodious as any of its predecessors. "The Study of the Voice," by Christine Nilsson, is a valuable contribution, which is supplemented by an interesting sketch of the home life and personality of Madame Nilsson, written by the late Lucy Hamilton Hooper. "Josiah Allen's Wife" is at her best in a delightful little story, "Trying the Rose Act."-Curtis Pub. Co., Philadel-

The second edition of the Cosmopoliton for September brought the total edition up to 211,000 copies, without doubt the largest edition of any magazine in the world for this month. It remained for The Cosmopolitan to have the World's Fair treated in a single number by twelve different writers. As the exposition of 1893 must remain one of the leading events in the history of the United States, the most distinguished men were asked to prepare this maga zine volume, which is destined to become valuable as one of the most perfect descriptions of the World's Fair. Besides the usual fiction, The Cosmopolitan contains nearly one hundred illustrations devoted to the World's Fair, including eleven full pages. It is pronounced one of the most remarkable of

Think of such a question from such a source to the general of the army, especially when that general's name was Lee. "Yes, my boy," the stately officer kind-y answered; "I have to put you in again. But what is your name? Your face seems familiar somehow."

of graceful walking might be numbered among the lost sciences, so few women master the accomplishment or even acquire any approach to perfection in this exercise, which is the foundation of all others. #### MY NEIGHBOR'S BOY.

He seems to be several boys in one,
So much is he constantly everywhere!
And the mischlevous things that boy has done
No mind can remember nor mouth*declare.
He fills the whole of his share of space
With his strong, straight form and his merry

He is very cowardly, very brave;
He is kind and cruel, good and bad,
A brute and a hero! Who will save
The best from the worst of my neighbor's

The mean and the noble strive today; Which of the powers will have its way?

The world is needing his strength and skill. He will make hearts happy or make them ache.

What power is in him for good or ill?

Which of life's paths will his swift feet take?

Will he rise and draw others up to him,

Or the light that is in him burn low and dim?

But what is my neighbor's boy to me
More than a nuisance? My neighbor's boy, Though I have some fears for what he may be,
Is a source of solicitude, hope and joy
And a constant pleasure, because I pray
That the best that is in him may rule some

He passes me with a smile and a nod He knows I have hope of him, guesses, too,
That I whisper his name when I ask of God
That men may be righteous, his will to do.
And I think that many would have more joy
If they loved and prayed for a neighbor's boy!

In Big Basin, Santa Cruz county, Cal., there are thousands of giant redwoods that will measure from 10 to 23 feet in diameter. But the Titan of them all is a giant known far and near as "the Goliath of Big Basin." This menstrous vegetable growth is 23 feet in diameter at the ground and is perfectly solid, a fact noted as a rarity in these colossi of the forest. Goliath is a fraction over 200 feet in height, the lower 100 feet of the trunk being free from branches or unsightly excrescences. Experienced woodmen declare that the tree would weigh more than 100,000 tons and that it would "cut" 1,500,000 feet of clear board measure lumber, besides 100 cords of wood that could be gotten out of the limbs and waste.-St. Louis Republic.

Astounding Memories.

Horace Vernet is the best example of visual memory. He could paint a strik-ing portrait of a man, life size, after having once looked at his model. Mozart had a great musical memory. Having heard twice the "Miserere" in the Sistine chapel, he wrote down the full score of it. There are soloists who during 24 hours can play the composition of other masters without ever skipping a note.— M. Binet in Revue des Deux Mondes.

The Fountain Head of Strength.

When we recollect that the stomach is the grand laboratory in which food is transformed into the secretions which furnish vigor to the system after enter-ing and enriching the blood; that it is in short, the fountain head of strength, it is essential to keep the important supplying machine in order, and to restore it to activity when it becomes inactive. This Hestetter's Stomach Bitters does most effectually, seasonably, regulating and reinforcing digestion, remoting due action of the liver and lowels. There is a gallant congressman who once had the reputation of sowing wild oats broadcast. When he was first run ning for congress, many breezy stories were told about him. At last he gave it out in the heat of his campaign that he would speak shortly in defense of his morals. It was a Populist district, and he had a big audience. The speech every one liked, but until the last sentence not a word was spoken about the advertised subject. At the last the candidate stuck his hand under his desk and pulled out several boxes of imported cigars.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous littile branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize, the importance of this fact, but treat the organitself instead of the cause of the trouble
The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success incuring these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It

STORM IN THE SOUTH.

Most Destructive In Twenty Years.

NO LOSS OF LIFE YET REPORTED.

Trees Uprooted, Fences Broken and Buildings Unroofed-Buildings Blown Into the Bay-Several Vessels Blown on the PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 4.—The most destructive storm that Pensacola has experienced in 20 years began at 6 o'clock Monday morning and raged with increased fury until a late hour in the afternoon. The nearest approach to Monday's gale was the storm of The storm had been brewing since Saturday. Hard rains fell Saturday afternoon and Sunday, but a storm of such great intensity was not experienced by any one. At 4 a. m. the wind freshened and the rain increased in force. By 5 a.m. a terrific southeast gale was blowing, which con-southeast gale was blowing, which continued at the rate of 55 miles an hour until noon, when the wind shifted to the south and increased to 60 miles.

Between 2 and 3 p. m. it began to shift to the southwest, and at 2:45 p. m. the storm had reached its climax, the wind at this time reached a velocity of 66 miles an hour. The rain fell in torrents and was swept in blinding sheets through the streets. At the bay front people stood in a drenching rain people stood in a drenching rain watching the elements on their work of destruction. No loss of life has been reported, but upon every street uprooted trees, broken fences and roofless buildings testify to the storm's force. On Baylen street wharf the large building used by Warren & Company for smoking fish was blown into the bay. It was stored with cured fish and the loss was stored with cured usu and the loss will be great. On another wharf a dwelling and its contents was lifted from its foundation and dropped into the bay. The greater damage was on the bay, the Portuguese barge Josephine and the Norwegian bark Wilhelmina were blown on the beach and are in a danger-one position. The fishing space learning the state of th ous position. The fishing smack Isabella is also on the beach. Before the storm reached its height several steamships that were taking on cargoes raised steam and ran down to the lower bay, where they had plenty of sea room. Every stick of fimber in the bay was cast adrift, and is now strewn along the beach for miles. Railroad communication is cut off.

communication is cut off.

The mail train on the Pensacola and Atlantic road, which left here for Jacksonville at 6:30 a.m., could get no further than Bohemia, on the bay shore, and was compelled to return. The 1:35 p. m. train on the Louisville and Nashville also encountered washouts and was compelled to return to the city. The only train reaching the city during the day was from the north at 4:35. All telegraph communication was 4:35. All telegraph communication was cut off before 10 o'clock, wires being down in every direction.

BADLY DAMAGED.

The Loss by Storm In New Orleans Will Be Over $100,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—The storm has passed, and though the wires are still down, news is trickling into the city from the surrounding country, but it is not possible to give a fairly accurate estimate of the damage wrought by the fury of the elements on Sunday, Sunday night and Monday morning. The damage done in this city and in the harbor will run considerably over $100,000. The extremes of conservative estimates and opinions are so wide apart that it is difficult to approximate the loss in the country, the major por-tion of which is confined to the parishes of Jefferson and Plainville, and more of Jefferson and Plainville, and more particularly the latter. The upper limit of the storm was not a dozen miles from the city, and in the city the storm was not as severe as that of 1888. Here this year the principal sufferers were the shipp ng interests.

Electric wire poles were toppled over, sheds unroofed and all electric wires in the city suffered great damage. At the city suffered great damage. At West End the revetment levees and railroad tracks were greatly damaged. Bohemia and Prescott, small towns in Plaquemine parish, felt the brunt of the storm. Several houses were blown down and there was much terror felt by the storm had spent its fury. The loss there will be heavy. Mrs. LaFrance and her babe were both killed in escapand her babe were both killed in escaping from their home, which was shivered by the storm. At the Empire mill, near Pointe a la Hanche, a young mulatto woman was killed by falling timbers. Many persons were bruised, but the dead list is confined, as far as known, to the three mentioned. Most of the plantation houses, barns, sheds and fences suffered and many thousands of dollars will have to be spent in repairing them.

News reached here from Port Eads that the winds blew 80 miles an hour there Sunday night, that at the mouth of the river John Casey, the night-watchman of the Jetty company, was drowned while attempting to cross the pass. It is thought that his boat was shattered by the Morgan steamer Eleid, which was going to sea. The poor fellow's cries were heard, but it was impossible to send a boat to him. The steamer Elcid went to sea in the teeth of the gale. The signal service station and apparatus were blown down, but the wind instrument of the United States engineers weathered the storm.

AT MOBILE.

The City Wrecked by the Storm's Visit. Nearly $1,000,000 Loss.

Mobile, Oct. 4.—The storm which visited the city Monday left it a perfect wreck. At this time the damage can only be conjectured, but it is safe to estimate at nearly $1,000,000. So far several deaths are reported. In the gardeners' district across the river dwelt 23 families, whose homes can be seen from any eminence in the city.

dwelt 23 families, whose homes can be seen from any eminence in the city. Only one of these homes can be seen standing and as no news has as yet been received it is considered that many lives have been lost.

It has been learned that the home of Stephen Walter was swept away and the entire family, consisting of himself, his wife and his niece, Miss Carrie Wise, were drowned. There is only one wire out of the city and no streetcars are running.

are running.

At Grand Bay, on the lower coast, four churches were destroyed, while at Scranton five churches suffered a like fate. Homes have been scattered, crop runed and desolation appears on every

THE LEGEND OF EVIL

This is the sorrowful story Told when the twilight fails, And the monkers walk together Helding each other's tails;

"Our fathers lived in the forest: Foolish people were they. They went down to the cornland

To teach the farmers to play. "Our fathers frisked in the millet,

Our fathers skipped in the wheat, Our fathers hung in the branches, Our fathers danced in the street. "Then came the terrible farmers.

Nothing of play they knew.
Only they caught our fathers
And set them to labor too! "Set them to work in the cornland, With plows and sickles and flatls; Put them in raudwalled prisons And cut off their beautiful talls!

"Now we can watch our fathers, Sullen and bowed and old, Stooping over the millet, Stirring the silly mold.

"Driving a foolish furrow, Mending a muddy yoke, Sleeping in mudwalled prisons, Steeping their food in smoke.

"We may not speak to our fathers, For if the farmers knew They would come up to the forest And set us to labor too!"

This is the horrible story Told as the twilight fails, As the monkeys walk together Holding each other's tails.
—Rudyard Kipling.

MISSILES FROM THE HEAVENS.

fillions of Them Fall, but Comparatively Few Reach the Earth.

"It is a mistake to suppose that meteerites burst in the proper sense of the word," said a scientist to a writer. "But it often happens that they are broken to pieces on striking the atmosphere of the earth. This may seem surprising, but let me call your attention to an analogy. Strike the surface of water with your fist, and, though a fluid, the resistance it opposes to the blow seems almost as strong as if it were solid. Now, the meteorite is moving at a tremendous rate of speed. If small, it is set on fire in an instant by the friction of the air, and after glowing for a moment brightly is consumed.

"On any night in summer you will see 'shooting stars' now and then. They are meteorites, which on coming into contact with the earth's atmosphere are set afire. This is not surprising, inasmuch as they approach the planet on which we live at a speed which often attains 44 miles a second. By causing the destruction of meteorites the atmosphere serves as a protection for people on the globe, who would otherwise be pelted by such missiles to a dangerous extent. It is estimated that not less than 10,000,-000 of them, big enough to be visible to the naked eye, strike the earth every 24

"By contact with this planet the meteorites are raised to a temperature which reaches from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 degrees-high enough to consume the hardest known substance almost instantly. Thus only those of large size reach the earth before being entirely burned up. The greatest number of such bodies can be seen just before daybreak, because by that time we are on the front side of the globe as it moves through space. The elevation at which most of them are visible has been found to be between 45 and 80 miles, very few being seen at a greater height than 100 miles.

"It is believed by most astronomers that some very large meteors have entered our atmosphere and have passed out into space again, their great momentum being sufficient to take them away from the earth's attraction. What these flying bodies are is a question that has been much disputed, but it is considered most likely that they are the debris of broken up comets. In one recent instance the correctness of this theory has found striking proof. That was the case of the comet of Biela. It was discovered in 1826 and was again observed in 1832, 1845 and 1852. In 1845 it had split into two parts, and in 1872 it failed to appear when and where it should have done. Evidently it had been smashed up, and prediction was made that there would be a great meteoric shower composed of the remains of the lost comet. This prediction was fulfilled "Certain groups of meteors move in elliptical orbits around the sun. Occasionally the earth passes through their clusters, producing what are known as meteoric showers. Such showers occur annually from the 9th to the 12th of August, and there is a similar display ir November once every 33 years. The stream of the August meteors is estimated to be from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 miles thick. The earth, though traveling with the velocity of 2,000,000 miles a day, is immersed in it for several days.

"The fall of meteorites to the earth is sometimes accompanied by a great dis-play of light, occasionally illuminating an area of many thousand square miles. When such an event occurs at night, and with loud detonations, so great in some instances as to shake houses and fright en men and animals, the explosions are caused by the breaking up of the me-teor. Ordinarily you will find that such meteoric bodies are coated on the outside with a black substance, which is the effect merely of fusion of the superficial material by great heat. A piece of Biela's comet was actually picked up in Mexico in 1872 at the time of the shower of its remains. Naturally it is considered interesting. "Such great interest is taken in meteorites that all of those collected have been carefully catalogued. They are mostly composed of iron, with usually a percentage of nickel and cobalt and sometimes copper and tin. It is customary to saw them into slices, which is a laborious process, for sale or for exchange among museums. Sometimes the slices are prettily polished, or the cut surfaces are etched with acid so as to expose the crystalline structure. This structure is in no two such bodies exacty the same, and the differences are thought well worth studying. Attempts have been made to counterfeit meteorites because they are so valuable, but without success "-Washington Star.

The October term of the supreme court convened today with a docket of 280 cases. The following are from Washtenaw: The superintendents of the poor of Washtenaw county vs. Mary Rabbitt, Jacob Schaible vs. Mary A. Ardner. Louis J. Lisemer vs. John Burg, (two cases.) Matthew Jenson vs. the Michigan Central railroad. Charles Farmer, administrator, vs. the Michigan Central railroad company. Andrew J. Sawyer, who is sick, is attorney in four of these cases. This will, in all probability, necessitate an adjournment of the same to the next term of court.

THE REGISTER is always glad to have people hand in items of news. It fully appreciates the kindness of those who take the trouble to favor it in this way. We must, however, insist upon two things. First, that all matter must be in at least by Wednesday noon, if it is desired to go in that week's issue; second, that persons sending items by mail, as is frequently done, should let us know who it is that sends the item. It is not for the purpose of publishing your name, that we require this, but simply that we may know the source from which we obtain everything we print.

"Finnigan's Ball."

"Finnigan's Ball," the play that Murray and Mack used a vehicle to wheel themselves into the hearts of the audince, is a cleverly constructed comedy of the farce order, but much superior to what we have heretofore known as "farce comedy," and if we had more of this kind of plays we would predict a long life for the much abused farcical productions.
Of the supporting company nothing

Of the supporting company nothing but praise can be said, as we could not see where any of the characters could be in better hands. The specialties were excellent, especially the extreme-ly funny "knock about" act by Murray and Mack. The earnestness with which Murray went at Mack, and in re-turn the bland expression on Mack's face during the entire scene, almost face during the entire scene, almost convulsed the audience with laughter. At the close of the piece the whole company introduced a new and novel gem, entitled the "Dublin Kiss Dance," which was a good climax to such a pleasing performance.
