An Ordinance Relative to Sewers, Providing for the Construction of a System of Lateral and Connecting Sewers, in the City of Ann Arbor.

The Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor ordain:

Section One.—There shall be constructed within the City of Ann Arbor a system of lateral and connecting sewers, in conjunction with the main sewer already constructed, according to the plans and map thereof, made by Charles E. Green and modified by the common council, provided, however, that the common council shall have power and authority to change and modify the said plans, as the said common council shall or may seem prudent.

Section Two.—Lateral sewers shall be deemed to consist of the central sewer pipe and extensions thereof to the curb-stone on either side of the street, lane, alley or public place, through and along which the said lateral sewer may be constructed.

Sub-lateral sewers shall be considered and deemed to consist of laterals extending from the principal lateral to and into side or intersecting streets and to or near unto the center of the blocks fronting or abutting the streets in which the principal lateral is or may be constructed, and shall be deemed a part and parcel of the principal lateral.

Connecting sewers shall be deemed to consist of the sewer pipe and house connections from the building to the lateral at the curb stone.

Wherever the word street is used in this ordinance or in any resolution, order or direction for the construction of any lateral sewer, it shall be deemed and understood to embrace streets, avenues, alleys, parks, and other public grounds, the same as though named specially herein, or in any such order, resolution or direction.

Section Three.—All lateral sewers shall be designated by consecutive numbers in the order of the date of the passage of the resolution requiring construction.

Section Four.—The main lateral, sub-lateral and all public sewers shall be in the charge and under the control of the Board of Public Works to inspect, properly and suitably protect and maintain all of the public sewers now or hereafter constructed within the limits of the city, and no person, firm or corporation shall make connection with any of said sewers, except by leave of and under the supervision of the Board of Public Works, and the said Board of Public Works is hereby authorized to ordain and establish rules, orders and regulations for the reservation, construction and maintenance of the main, all lateral and connecting sewers and house connections therewith.

Section Five.—Whenever the common council shall deem it expedient to order the construction of any lateral sewer, they shall so declare by resolution, naming the street in and along which it is proposed to construct the same, whereupon it shall be the duty of the city engineer to cause all needful surveys and measurements to be made, and reporting to the common council the starting point or place, direction, and the place where any such lateral sewer will connect with the main sewer, the size and kinds of sewer pipe required, a full, complete, and detailed estimate thereof, showing the cost of the street crossing separately, together with a map of the route thereof, showing among other things all of the land, lots or parts of lots fronting on or adjacent to the same.

Section Six.—In estimating and fixing the cost of any such lateral sewer, sub-laterals and the street crossings thereof, the city engineer shall estimate the cost of street crossings at the cost and expense of the sewer pipe laid only and all man-holes and other extras, although the same shall or may be laid at the crossing of two or more streets shall nevertheless be deemed to be a charge on the special assessment district as a part of the principal and sub-lateral sewer.

Section Seven.—Every such resolution and report of the City Engineer shall be referred to a committee of the Common Council, who shall make due inquiry relating thereto, and after hearing all persons interested therein, appearing and desiring to be heard, shall make a report thereon to the Common Council and the Common Council shall, if the construction of any such lateral sewer is still deemed expedient, order and direct the Board of Public Works to cause any of such lateral sewers to be constructed and shall fix and determine the district to be assessed and charged with the cost and expense of the construction of the same, excepting street-crossings only, which shall be a charge on and against the general sewer fund, and which resolution of the Common Council shall be certified to the Board of Public Works and to the City Assessor respectively.

Section Eight.—That after the certification of any such resolution to the City Assessor, the City Assessor shall without delay, proceed to make, fill out and complete a special assessment roll, wherein and whereon he shall set down, alphabetically arranged, the names of all of the owners or occupants of the land contained within any such special assessment district and all of the lands situate therein well and sufficiently described, and shall estimate and determine the value of each parcel thereof, without considering any of the improvements enacted thereon; all of such land to be estimated at its true cash value; that after the completion of any such special assessment roll, the said City Assessor shall attach his certificate thereto and certify the said assessment roll to the Common Council, whereupon the Common Council shall fix and appoint a time, when sitting as a Board of Review; the said assessment roll will be reviewed and shall give at least five days notice thereof by publication in the official newspaper of the city. The Common Council on the day and at the time mentioned in any such notice shall meet at the Council Chamber, sitting as a Board of Review, and shall proceed without adjournment to review any such special assessment roll. The Common Council sitting as such Board of Review shall have power and authority to change any description of land contained therein and the estimate of value thereof, to add thereto lands omitted therefrom and place a just estimate upon the value of the same, and to do and perform any other act or thing whatever in and about any such special assessment roll to the end that every such special assessment roll shall be made just, true and fair; that any person interested therein may be heard in person or by his agent or attorney, and all matters of complaint shall be duly considered, and after any such special assessment roll shall have been duly considered, the Board of Review shall approve or reject the same and shall certify their determination to the Common Council and the Common Council at the then or the next session shall confirm any such special assessment roll so approved by the Board of Review, and shall order the sum or sums of money fixed and determined upon as the estimated cost of any such lateral sewer, street-crossings excepted to be assessed and spread upon any such special assessment roll and on and upon each and every of the regular annual assessment roll of the city for the year in and during which any such special assessment shall or may be payable and levied and assessed against the owners or occupants of the lands set down therein, and shall levy and assess the said sum or sums of money on, upon and against the lands so set down in and valued upon and such special assessment roll and shall certify the said special assessment roll and order and resolution of assessment to the City Assessor.

Section Nine.—After any such assessment roll and order of assessment shall have been certified to the city assessor, the city assessor shall without delay proceed to spread the sums of money mentioned in any such order of assessment and assess the same against the persons therein named and against the lands mentioned therein according to the estimated value thereof, as determined by the board of review, and after the said sum or sums of money shall have been so spread on and assessed upon any such assessment roll, the city assessor shall make a true copy thereof and certify the said assessment roll to the city treasurer, who shall have and retain custody of the same and the taxes so spread on and assessed upon any such assessment roll and levied against the lands described therein shall be and remain a valid tax and charge against the owner and against the lands mentioned therein until paid. The said taxes shall become due and be payable in four equal annual installments: the first installment in the month of July along with the other city taxes next after any such assessment roll shall have been confirmed and annually thereafter until fully paid. All of the said taxes shall draw interest from the date of the confirmation of any such assessment roll at the time of five per cent. per annum until paid. Any person against whom any such tax shall have been assessed shall have leave and be at liberty to pay the same at any one payment at any time after any such assessment roll shall have been certified to the city treasurer with interest from the date of confirmation only. And the said city assessor shall retain a copy of each assessment roll in his office.

Section Ten.—That on the third Monday in June of each and every year in which any such lateral sewer tax shall remain unpaid and be due and payable the city treasurer shall proceed to the city assessor's office and together with the city assessor shall stamp a mark paid on the copy of every such assessment roll all of the paid lateral sewer taxes due and payable in and during the then current year, and the said city treasurer shall make report of all of the unpaid lateral sewer tax then due and payable to the common council and the common council shall on the fourth Monday of June in each year certify along with the other city taxes to be assessed to the city assessor all of the unpaid and payable lateral sewer tax and all of the sum or sums of money required to be raised for the payment of all lateral sewers, for the then current year, together and in a general way a description of the lands by reference of the number of lateral sewer districts to be taxed therefor and the city assessor shall thereupon spread upon and place on the general city tax roll of that year, all such sum or sums of money so remained unpaid and payable and so required to be raised for the construction of any such lateral sewer. All such sewer taxes to be carried out and entered in a separate column on said general tax roll with the interest thereon as aforesaid. The tax in one column and the interest thereon in another column. The said general city tax roll to be properly ruled and printed for that purpose, and such columns to be entitled respectively, Lateral sewer tax and interest on lateral sewer tax. And the sum or sums of money so set down and spread upon any such general city tax roll, shall be, remain and continue a valid debt, demand and tax against the lands so assessed as aforesaid, until fully paid and shall be certified to the city treasurer and collected in the same manner in every particular as the other taxes set down and spread upon any such general tax roll or shall or may be collected.

Section Eleven.—All lands situate within any such special assessment district without regard to the purpose or use for which the same is, has been or may be devoted, excepting only lands belonging to the state, county or city and excepting also such lands as shall or may have been exempted from lateral sewer tax on account of the construction of the main sewer shall be and shall remain and be liable to be assessed and taxed for and shall contribute to the expense of the construction of lateral sewers.

Section Twelve.—After any such resolution of determination to construct any lateral sewer shall have been certified to the board of public works, the board of public works shall proceed without delay to obtain all necessary information, surveys, profiles, plans and specification for the construction of such lateral sewer and shall advertise for tenders for the construction thereof, and shall contract therefor with the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give reasonable security for the faithful performance of his contract; the contractor shall do all the work and furnish all the materials and all of such contracts shall contain provisions requiring such lateral sewers to be constructed of first-class materials and workmanship and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the board of public works and shall require all work to be completed at a specified time and without unreasonable delay. All of such contracts and bonds for the faithful performance thereof shall be reported to the common council for confirmation and approval.

Section Thirteen.—After the final determination of the common council to cause any such lateral sewer to be constructed and after the board of public works shall have concluded a contract for the construction thereof, the mayor and city clerk shall execute under their hands and seal of the city bonds of the City of Ann Arbor, payable to bearer in four equal annual installments, annually on the first day of March thereafter, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum in a sum or sums equal in amount to the estimated cost of the construction of any such lateral sewer, street-crossings excepted. All such bonds to be known as Lateral Sewer Bonds and to be issued in series, conforming to the numbers of the lateral sewer on account of which any such bonds shall be issued and shall deliver the same to the city treasurer, but no more than forty thousand dollars in amount of any such bonds shall be outstanding at any one time.

Section Fourteen.—Whenever any such bonds shall have been delivered to the city treasurer, he shall without delay proceed to sell the same for the best price obtainable, but none of said bonds shall be sold for less than the face value thereof.

Section Fifteen.—The city treasurer shall keep strict account of all the moneys so received on the sale of such bonds and each of the said lateral sewer shall in the treasurer's account the separate fund devoted thereto and all the money obtained on the sale of bonds shall be applied to the payment of the cost and expense of the construction of the particular lateral sewer for which the same was issued, and all taxes paid on account thereof shall be devoted and applied to the payment of such lateral sewer bonds, and if there shall be any surplus money arising on the construction of any such lateral sewer, the same shall be applied to the payment of such lateral sewer bond, and if there shall be a deficiency, that is to say, if the estimated cost shall prove to be less than the actual cost, then an additional assessment shall be levied and collected to make good and cover any such deficiencies.

Section Sixteen.—It shall be the duty of the owner of each and every inhabited house or building, situate on or within any such lateral sewer district in accordance with the rules, regulations and under the supervision of the board of public works, shall connect any such inhabited building with the sewer system, within four months from the date of the full completion of such lateral sewer in front of the lands upon which any such inhabited building shall be situate, and it shall be the like duty of the occupant of any such inhabited building in like manner to make, build and construct such sewer connections at the cost and expense of the owner within and during the period of one month as aforesaid and every such owner, who shall neglect or for any reason fail to make, build and construct any such sewer connection, shall forfeit the sum of and be liable to a penalty of one dollar for each and every day thereafter and during the continuance of such default, to be sued for and collected in like manner as other forfeitures and penalties are collected under and in pursuance of the charter of the City of Ann Arbor and laws of the State of Michigan.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the day of — A. D., 1894.
Passed in common council this day of — A. D., 1894.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Result of the Senate Committee's Work on the Measure.

The Alterations Made Are in the Nature of an Increase in Duties from Those Provided by the Wilson Measure.

REVISED THREE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—For the third time the senate committee on finance has revised the Wilson tariff bill. The latest changes in the measure are completed, and they are final so far as the committee is concerned. They include all the so-called "compromise" amendments which have been agreed upon. Most of them are in the nature of changes from ad valorem to specific duties.

This is a radical change of the provisions of the Wilson bill. That measure changed most of the duties from specific to ad valorem, the McKinley law being mainly specific duties throughout. The specific duties imposed by the amended bill range from 25 to 30 per cent, lower than the corresponding duties imposed by the McKinley law. The latest changes which have been agreed upon as a result of the compromise are generally in the direction of higher rates than were at first reported by the finance committee.

Sugar and Income Tax.

The provisions of the sugar schedule as agreed upon have already been printed. An ad valorem duty of 40 per cent. will be imposed upon raw sugar, and the refined article will be given an additional specific duty of one-eighth of a cent. All sugars which are imported from or are the product of any country which at the time the same are exported therefrom, directly or indirectly, a bounty on the export therefor, shall pay a duty of one-tenth of a cent per pound in addition to the foregoing rates. Provided that nothing contained in this bill shall be construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of the treaty of commercial reciprocity concluded between the United States and the king of the Hawaiian Islands on January 20, 1875.

The amendments to the income tax provision have been announced, and that feature of the bill is to last only five years. No change is made in the coal schedule from that already reported. There are several changes in the free list.

The following are the principal changes which will be included in the compromise bill:

Drugs and Perfumery. Alcoholic tinctures, including cologne water and other toilet waters and alcoholic compounds not specially provided for in this act, 25 per cent. and 50 per cent. ad valorem; essence and perfume, 25 per cent. ad valorem.

All coal tar colors or dyes by whatever name known and not specially provided for in this act, 25 per cent.; essence and perfume, 25 per cent. New paragraphs inserted are as follows: "Drugs, such as barks, beans, berries, balsams, buds, bulbs, bulbous roots, excrescences, fruits, flowers, dried fibers, dried insects, grains, gums and gum resin, herbs, leaves, lichens, mosses, nuts, roots and stems, spices, vegetables, seeds (aromatic), seeds of morbid growth, weeds and woods used expressly for dyeing, which are not edible, advanced in value or condition by refining or grinding or by other process of manufacture, and not specially provided for in this act, 10 per cent. ad valorem."

Spices. All spices, 10 per cent. ad valorem. Other changes are: Morphine or morphia salts thereof, 40 cents per ounce. Flaxseed and poppy oil 20 cents per gallon instead of 15 cents in former bills.

On olive oil for salad purposes the house rate of 25 cents per gallon is restored instead of the senate committee rate of 20 per cent. The Glass Schedule. A portion of the glass schedule is changed so as to read as follows: "Green and colored, molded or pressed, and flint and lime glass bottles holding more than 200 cubic centimeters and containing, covered or uncovered, and other molded or pressed green and colored and flint or lime glass bottles not specially provided for in this act, five-eighths of 1 cent per pound. Green and colored, molded or pressed and flint and lime glass bottles and vials holding not more than one pint and not less than one-quarter of a pint, three-fourths of a cent per pound; if holding less than one-fourth of a pint 35 cents per gross, whether filled or unfilled, whether their contents be dutiable or free."

The senate rate on the above is 40 per cent.; house rate, 20 per cent. Another change in glass is as follows: "Unpolished cylinder, crown and cotton window glass, not exceeding 10 by 15 inches square, 5 cents per pound; above that, and not exceeding 10 by 24 inches square, 1 1/4 cents per pound; above that, and not exceeding 14 by 20 inches square, 1 1/2 cents per pound; above that, and not exceeding 14 by 26 inches square, 1 3/4 cents per pound; above that, 1 1/2 cents per pound. Provided that unpolished cylinder, crown and common window glass imported in boxes shall contain 20 square feet as nearly as sizes will permit, and the duty shall be computed thereon according to the actual weight of the glass."

There is a change of sizes as well as of rates, and comparisons cannot be made. Plate glass, 24 by 36 inches, is taxed 23 cents per square foot; senate and house bills, 20 cents; all plate glass above these dimensions, 25 cents per square foot; senate and house bills, 30 cents. Looking glass plates are added to glasses, dutiable at 10 per cent. ad valorem, in addition to other rates chargeable thereon.

Changes in Iron Duties. The pig-iron paragraph is amended to read as follows: "Iron in pigs, iron Kettle, Spies, cast iron, ferro manganese, ferro silicon, wrought and cast scrap iron and scrap steel, 4 per ton; but nothing shall be deemed scrap iron or scrap steel except waste or refuse iron or steel, fit only to be manufactured."

"Beams, girders, joists, angles, channels, car-truck channels, T columns or posts, or parts or sections of columns or posts, deck and bulb beams and building forms, together with all other structural shapes of iron or steel, whether plain or punched or fitted for use, 6-10 of a cent a pound." Senate bill 35, house bill 30 per cent.

Railway bars, made of iron or steel or railway bars made in part of steel, "T" rails, and punched iron or steel flat rails, 7-30 of a cent a pound." Senate bill 25 cents a pound, restoring the house rate; senate bill 1 per cent.

Cutlery schedule. The cutlery schedule is changed to read as follows: "Penknives, pocketknives or erasers of all kinds, valued at not more than 30 cents per dozen, 25 per cent. ad valorem; valued at more than 30 cents per dozen and not exceeding 50 cents per dozen, 12 cents per dozen; valued at more than 50 cents per dozen and not exceeding $1 per dozen, 25 cents per dozen; valued at more than $1 per dozen, valued at more than $1.50 per dozen and not exceeding $3 per dozen, 75 cents a dozen; valued at more than $3 a dozen, 50 per cent. ad valorem, and in addition thereto, on all the above valued at more than 30 cents a dozen, 25 per cent. ad valorem; provided that blades, handles or any other parts of any or either of the articles named in this paragraph, imported in any other manner than assembled in penknives, pocketknives or erasers, shall be subject to no less duty than herein provided for penknives, pocketknives or erasers valued at more than 30 cents a dozen." The senate and house bills 15 cents.

Tobacco Schedule. The tobacco schedule is changed to read as follows: "Wrapper tobacco, unstemmed, imported in any bale, box or package, or in bulk, $1.50 per pound; if stemmed, $2.25 per pound." House and senate bills, $1 and $1.25 respectively on above articles.

Other tobacco, unstemmed, imported in any bale, box, package or in bulk, 35 cents per pound; if stemmed, 50 cents per pound; no change in rates.

"Stemmed and snuff flour manufactured of tobacco, ground, dry or damp and pickled, scented or otherwise, of all descriptions, 50 cents a pound;" senate and house bills, 40 cents.

A FLOOD OF HAIL.

Chunks of Ice Fall During a Storm in Iowa City.

Damage Estimated at $100,000 Done to Buildings—Exciting Scene in the Streets—Disastrous Storms in Other States.

A FURIOUS STORM.

IOWA CITY, Ia., May 8.—A deluge of rain fell for twenty minutes Saturday afternoon with a continuous pelting of hailstones, some 8 inches in circumference and the average 2 inches in circumference. In almost a flash every pane of glass in the city that faced west and many that faced south, including most of the big plate glass windows, were smashed. Every tin roof was perforated with holes through which the flood poured, running down upon the stocks of goods. As nearly every business house in the city has a tin roof the damage runs up to $100,000, if not more.

An Exciting Scene.

In the few minutes that the hail fell the excitement in the city was intense. Hundreds of carriages and wagons stood on the street. When the hailstones began to fall the horses broke loose and scores of vehicles went flying down the streets without drivers, and in nearly every case there was a smash-up. The people, almost panic-stricken, kept indoors, but so suddenly came the hail and flood that almost nothing could be done. Many persons got their teams unhitched from their carriages and wagons and housed them, but the vehicles left in the street were entirely riddled—tops, cushions, seats destroyed and the bottoms of the vehicles broken through by the great chunks of ice.

State Buildings Injured.

The buildings most seriously injured were those of the state university, the west sides of which were entirely riddled. Most of these buildings are covered with tin and the hail made sieves of every roof. Three of the largest university buildings are covered with slate and the roofs are nearly ruined. Every church in the city had the west windows shattered and the water poured in and did great damage. The photograph galleries and their stocks were ruined. The extensive greenhouses with their collection of plants are a total wreck.

Cyclone Sweeps Over Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 7.—A cyclone swept across the prairie and through the heavy timber near Royalton, Minn., about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The traditional black, funnel-shaped cloud was distinctly visible from the village, which was visited by a tearing wind, accompanied by a heavy hailstorm. Several buildings were unroofed in the village and few panes of glass left unbroken. People were terribly frightened, but no one was injured.

Furious Storm in Kansas.

WICHITA, Kan., May 7.—A terrific storm swept over this section of Kansas Friday night. Rain fell in torrents here from 7 in the evening to early morning. West Wichita had several houses struck by lightning and one man and his wife were knocked senseless by a bolt. Several houses in West Wichita were blown down and hardly an out-building is left standing. Plate glass windows in the Sunflower block were smashed like eggshells. The damage is considerable.

Two Hundred Starved.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 8.—A letter has been received here from A. P. Low, of the Canadian geographical survey, leader of the government exploring party that left Lake St. John in June last to endeavor to reach Ungava bay by traversing the entire Labrador peninsula from south to north. Mr. Low wrote from Hamilton inlet, where his party was forced to go because of the scarcity of provisions at Ungava bay. He reports that more than 200 Indians in the vicinity of Ungava bay had died of starvation during the winter.

Mrs. Lease for Congress.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 8.—There is talk here of putting Mrs. Lease in nomination for congressman at large, but the populist members do not want to turn down Congressman Harris. They are willing, however, to give her the nomination in the Seventh district should Jerry Simpson not make the race. Mrs. Lease is very much in earnest.

Three Drowned.

KEOKUK, Ia., May 4.—Richard Thompson, aged 28; Carrie McKibben, 26, and Hannah Peters, 20 years, went sailing Wednesday evening. About midnight screams were heard on the river, and soon afterwards their boat was found floating upside down. All three were drowned. Their bodies have not yet been recovered.

Aged Sprinters.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 8.—Hannibal Purcell, aged 82, and Benjamin Simons, aged 80, engaged in a half-mile foot race in this city yesterday for $100 and the championship of Indiana. The former won in 5 minutes and 55 seconds.

Paid the Penalty.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 5.—Jake Brown, alias John Coleman and a half dozen other names, was hanged in the jail here on Friday forenoon for the murder of Frank Macklin, a foreman in the penitentiary.

A Missouri Bank Closed.

SEDALIA, Mo., May 5.—The First national bank of this city, one of the oldest financial institutions in central Missouri, closed its doors yesterday. The bank had a capital of $250,000.

Died the Same Day.

VANDALIA, Ill., May 8.—Miles C. Mays and his wife died here yesterday within ten hours of each other. They had been married just one month, and both were taken sick a week ago on the same day.

Mrs. Dodson Dies, Aged 107 Years.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 5.—Mrs. Dodson (colored), familiarly known as "Aunt Dodson," died in this city, aged at least 107 years. There are records showing that she was 107 and probably older.

Fire Losses in April.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The fire loss in the United States and Canada for the month of April, as reported, amounted to $11,540,000, against $14,669,900 during the same period in 1893.

Hopkins Renominated.

AURORA, Ill., May 7.—The republican congressional convention was held at Geneva. Congressman A. J. Hopkins was renominated.

ARE HEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES POPULAR? BECAUSE LADIES BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair. We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

County Seat War in Court.

The county seat war in Montmorency county has finally reached the supreme court. That tribunal has granted an order requiring the board of supervisors of the county to show cause on June 5 why it should not reconvene and recanvas the vote cast upon the proposition to remove the county seat from Atlanta to Lewiston.

Served Nineteen Years in Prison. Conrict Ripley was released from prison at Jackson, having served nineteen years for assault. He had never seen a telephone, electric car nor brick pavement until he came out. The city, he said, seemed like fairyland to him, and the actions of people moving about the streets were like unto a picnic when he was a boy.

Funeral of Senator Stockbridge. The funeral of Senator Francis Stockbridge, who died suddenly in Chicago, took place at St. Luke's church in Kalamazoo, with Rev. R. R. Claiborne, the pastor officiating. The congressional delegation arrived at noon. The pallbearers were members of Orcutt post, G. A. R. The church was filled to its utmost capacity and the funeral procession was the largest ever seen there.

For the Forestry Exhibit. Gov. Rich has received from John Boyd Thacher, chairman of the executive committee on awards of the Columbian exposition, an official copy of Michigan's award. It is for the following things: Comprehensive display of rich forest resources of the state, accompanied by well compiled statistics, showing in graphic manner the wide adaptability of the woods of the state or utilization in the industrial and decorative arts; instructive display of insects injurious to commercial woods; artistic and attractive arrangement of the display in the form of panels, wainscoting, etc.

Health in Michigan. From various portions of the state the reports of sixty-three observers for the week ended April 28 show that erysipelas and diarrhea increased and pleuritis decreased in area of prevalence. Scarlet fever was reported at forty-five places, measles at forty-eight, diphtheria at thirty, typhoid fever at fifteen places and smallpox at Kalamazoo, Menominee, Marquette and Jackson.

An Old Resident. Without doubt the oldest continuous resident of Macomb county is William Moe, who lives a half mile north of Disco. Mr. Moe was born on the Weltz farm, near Mount Clemens, December 20, 1818, and has lived in the county ever since. He was in Romeo when the first cellar was dug there. Mr. Moe claims to be the first white boy born in the county.

Michigan Insurance Report. The report of Insurance Commissioner Geddings shows that the losses incurred by fire and marine insurance companies doing business in Michigan during 1893, together with the expenses of operating, amounted to $4,988,563. This is $242,735 more than the aggregate premiums received.

Aliens Could Not Vote. The last legislature passed a joint resolution submitting to the people a constitutional amendment extending the time in which foreigners may become voters after declaring their intention. It is just discovered that if ratified it will debar all future arrivals of aliens from voting.

Short But Newsy Items. The annual meeting of the State Bar association will be held at Lansing June 5 and 6. The horsehoers of Bay county have organized a union, with D. H. McLellan, of Bay City, as president.

Violsburg's council fixed the liquor bonds at $4,000, and the town has four saloons, same as last year. The common council of West Bay City adopted a resolution fixing the closing hour of saloons at 10 o'clock standard time, and the opening, 7 o'clock.

Marsh Loyd, bartender at the Hotel Bryant in Flint, pleaded guilty to selling liquor to minors and was sentenced to spend twenty days in the county jail. David W. Timms, of Howell, convicted of perjury, was sentenced to two years in the state house of correction.

John Haggerty, employed on the farm of Morris Green, in Holly township, Genesee county, was run over by a land roller and killed. On account of the high water in the river the channel at Ontonagon is constantly changing. A large sand bar has formed in the lake 300 feet from the piers.

William Massey was run over and killed by an electric car in West Bay City, while riding a bicycle. William C. Seymour, a private detective in the employ of Pat O'Neil, was arrested at Detroit with between $1,500 and $2,000 worth of plunder in his possession.

During a thunderstorm John W. Ferguson, a grocer of West Bay City, was struck by lightning and instantly killed and Mrs. Maggie Bennett was seriously injured. A stranger committed suicide in Shepherd by taking strychnine. In his pockets were found letters addressed to Samuel Patterson, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

The state board of agriculture is again seriously considering the restoration of the agricultural college land grant lands to the market. John Rule was killed in Oscoda by being struck by a skip while oiling rollers in a mine.

Healthy. "Darling," whispered the South Sea islander, as he bent low before his lady love, "I want this hand of thine." "My!" she exclaimed, with an amused smile, "what an appetite you have."

The public debt was increased $13,754,422 in March—the only Democratic report this week.—N. Y. Sun (Dem.)

The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of Samuel W. Beakes as postmaster of Ann Arbor. THE REGISTER extends congratulations.

The Democratic organs are breathing easier, that is to say, they have less to say.—Ex-President Harrison announces that he is not a candidate for the presidency.

J. J. HALL, H. E. Johnson and W. O. Thomas published a letter in the Times requesting Mayor Darling to appoint Tom Blackburn patrolman. If the colored people had made their request earlier, it would have been complied with.

The third congressional district of Ohio went Democratic last week by a plurality of about 1,500. In 1892 the Democratic candidate received a plurality of 4,316 in the same district, a Democratic loss of 2,800 votes. The Democratic organs had this result as a great Democratic victory.

It is reported from Washington that Representative Griffin, of Detroit, has been stricken with total deafness and has gone to New York in the hope that eminent specialists may overcome the sudden affliction. It is said to be the result of a severe cold. His misfortune is a serious blow to his many friends.

MICHIGAN, my Michigan. It is first in lumber, iron ore, salt, charcoal, iron, gypsum, yield of wheat, per acre, hardwood forests, furniture, fruit, peppermint-oil, extent of coast line, lake commerce, shipbuilding and inland fisheries. Michigan has 8,328,189 acres of improved farming lands and is third in the value of sheep and wool.

LITTLE GIRL: Papa, dear, where did you get that great big jug of whiskey, what smells so strong?

PAPA: You know, my dear, papa always keeps whiskey in the house in case of sickness. I did not get it in the saloon, but in the drug store.

LITTLE GIRL: Oh it is not a sin then to get whiskey in the drug store, but it is when you get it in the saloon, isn't it, papa?

THE "Politician" in the Detroit Tribune in one of his articles whooping-crier for Reuben Kempf for congress, says Washtenaw county is Democratic by 7000 majority. The Politician has overestimated the amount. THE REGISTER ventures the assertion that the Democratic majority in Washtenaw county at the coming election will not be 500 and that part of the Democratic ticket will be defeated.

HON. JAS. S. GORMAN has been kind enough to send us another copy of a speech which he delivered on the floor of the House. This is the only speech made by the gentleman since he has represented this district, and it never was delivered. He received privilege of the speaker to have it printed in the Congressional Record. Mr. Burrows called the able (?) Democratic congressman to task for it a few weeks ago. This is all Gorman has done for his district since he has been in congress. Recapitulation—what has Gorman done since he has been in congress? 00,000. Salary $20,000. Good enough!

THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER says only two republicans—Messrs. Sawyer and Jacobs—in Washtenaw are candidates for Congress. Why has the Register ignored Osband? Sentinel.

The Ypsilanti says it is not worth while for the press to trouble itself unduly about the second congressional district and who should represent it in congress, still that paper vents its rage and spite in an editorial half a column in length on THE REGISTER, about what we have seen fit to say. The trouble with our brother of the Ypsilanti is simply this: He is a candidate for congress himself, which we forgot to mention, so we will gladly mention it right here and now: Hon. W. M. Osband, of Ypsilanti, is a candidate for congress.

BOLD TOM BARKWORTH. Hon. T. E. Barkworth, the recognized leader of the Democratic party in the second congressional district, says in an interview in the Detroit Evening News that he is in favor of Justin R. Whiting for governor, that silver should be re-legalized and that "neither financial nor tariff legislation has done half as much to disorganize and dishearten the forces which gained the magnificent victory of 1862, as has the marked tendency toward feudalism and imperialism which has been displayed by the executive department. No former administration even offers opportunity for comparison. Clevelandism in 1894 stands unique and unapproachable. Vassalage is essential as a place-holder's qualification, while insult and contumely are officially declared the proper reward of self-sacrificing and effective party and public service if unaccompanied by cringing allegiance to cuckoo chieftains."

Bold Tom Barkworth is as bold as ever.

BUFFALO JIM.

Buffalo Jim is the logical Democratic candidate for congress and should be renominated. He is the ablest congressman (?) in the whole Michigan delegation from the fact that he has during his career in congress made something like 50 speeches (minus the 5) on the floor of the house. His next great speech, on Buffalo and its clearing house receipts, will be the effort of his life. The Argus will publish it in full. Buffalo Jim is one of the leaders of his party in the house (?), and his advice is sought (?) by party leaders before action on matters of importance to the nation is taken. Like Capt. Allen, Buffalo Jim also has had the distinction and the honor of having been called to the speaker's chair about 30 times (minus the 3) and has proved himself a great parliamentarian (?). Yes, Buffalo Jim is the logical candidate of the Democratic party and should be renominated. Referee Beakes says so and that ends it, gentlemen, yes, that ends it. Whoop-er-up for Buffalo Jim!

PATTON IS CHOSEN.

In the appointment of John Patton, of Grand Rapids, to succeed the late Mr. Stockbridge in the United States senate, Governor Rich has made a wise one indeed. Mr. Patton is an able lawyer, a sterling Republican and a model citizen. He was born at Cowensville, Pa.,

JOHN PATTON, JR.

Oct. 30, 1850, and is the son of Congressman John Patton, who for years represented the Cowensville district in Congress. He prepared for college at Andover, Mass., and graduated at Yale with the class of '75. He afterward took a course at the Columbia law school, graduating in '77 and a year later went to Grand Rapids to practice. He married a daughter of ex-Congressman Wilder D. Foster, now deceased, and has since lived there. He has always taken an active interest in Republican politics and has been an earnest and influential worker for the party and an able party counselor. In 1884 he was a member of the state central committee, and upon several occasions has been urged to accept nomination and office, but steadfastly declined, satisfied to work in the ranks. He is a brilliant speaker, and in national and state campaigns is much demanded as a campaign orator. He has always been a student of politics and economic problems and his speeches are characterized by breadth of view, purity of diction, comprehensive knowledge of the subject and invincible logic. For two years he was president of the Michigan State Republican League and to his splendid executive ability that potent influence in state politics owes largely its success. His family consists of his wife and two bright children. A peculiar circumstance in Mr. Patton's life lies in the fact that the class of '75 in which he graduated from Yale contained also Senator Higgins of Delaware and Senator Dubois of Idaho, Emmons Blaine, son of ex-Secretary of State Blaine, and Judge Taft of the United States Court of Appeals, of Cincinnati, certainly a remarkable collection of ability.

Buffalo Jim.

"Since the postoffice deal, which was made at Buffalo between Gorman and Beakes," said a citizen to THE REGISTER yesterday, "Jim Gorman has been christened Buffalo Jim. This is a great country. We now have a Buffalo Bill and a Buffalo Jim. Hurrah for the Buffalos!"

XXXI. THE FIRST SCHOOLS.

It would almost seem, when one looks back at the first attempts to establish schools in Ann Arbor, and then considers the progress and final result, as if this had been the divinely predestined centre of a great scholastic system. I shall sketch in this paper its rude beginnings.

The corner of Main and Ann sts., the site of Duffy's store, was the place of the first school-house. It was a small hollow pile of logs, the window of each a single pane of glass of eight by nine inches, perhaps an intimation that the young scholastic eyes would not yet bear a stronger light. It was fitted out with rude benches for the pupils and a chair for the teacher. We could not err in assuming that the benches were of punch-ons, or planks, split from the trunk of a native tree, smoothed a little with an axe, each supported by two pegs driven into each of its ends. In regard to the chair the fancy might range through greater latitude. A not improbable suggestion would be that it was a cheap frame of turned rods, with slots instead of rods for the back, and bottomed with splints of black-ash from the swamp, or coarse grasses from the marsh. If such be the chair which our fancy shall supply, we shall still have to bear in mind that it was not made here but brought on by some settler. And now with the house, the benches and the chair present in thought, we are ready to complete the conception, by seating Miss Monroe, for the founily name is all we know about the first teacher here, in this chair and the urchins on the benches around her. A switch was at that time so universal an instrument in scholastic work that I think we should fall short of a complete picture if we did not place one in Miss Monroe's hand, or at her side.

Those who know ought of beginnings elsewhere can hardly err in conceiving how this school-house and school originated and how the school in its first stages was carried on. We have learned that nine log houses formed in 1825 what was to become the village of Ann Arbor. The men and boys of these nine houses, or if the school-house was one of the nine, then those of the eight houses, turning out and built the school-house and themselves manufactured all its furniture except the chair, and that either belonged to the school-mistress herself, or was a contribution of one of the matrons of the place. Perhaps before the house was begun Miss Monroe was hired at not more than $1.00 per week and her board to teach the school and became for the time the scholastic queen of the little community. Such was so nearly the uniform beginning of our school-work as to justify the assumption that it so began here, and the reader is quite safe in conceiving our whole vast system of public primary schools as as having been developed from just this kind of germs; this was as yet, however, but a private school.

It is suggested above that the teacher might have been hired at $1.00 per week; but as we are now considering the private schools which preceded the school-system, it may have been otherwise. I will state the systems of New York and Pennsylvania of the time, and the preponderance of New York people in the settlement would seem to render it probable that the practice of that state would form the model for beginnings here.

The New York law of 1820 provided for the payment from a certain state fund to each district in which a school should be kept up for a prescribed number of months of the year, an amount to be determined by the number of children between certain ages in the district. Nothing was paid to a district which had no school, so that they had to keep up a school in order to obtain the public money. But this paid only a part of the teacher's wages. The master or mistress kept, therefore, an account of the daily attendance and the families paid according to the number of days, or half-days that their children were in school. At the end of the term this account was handed over to the trustees for collection and they paid the teacher the stipulated monthly or weekly wages for the term's labor. In Pennsylvania there was no school law until more than a score of years later. Neighborhoods had usually a little school-house, but they had no provision for a school in it further than that any one who sought to teach their school might go around and see how many subscribers he could obtain for it at the rate per pupil he should choose to fix. The subscriber was obliged to pay the tuition of as many pupils as he had subscribed to send and also at the same rate for any he should send beyond the number subscribed. I have no doubt that the first schools here were a combination of the systems described above.

Ypsilanti's High School Destroyed by Fire.

Thursday afternoon fire broke out in the Union School building in Ypsilanti Children jumped out of windows and piled over each other in getting out. Olive Collins jumped from a second story window, injuring her spine, which will, it is reported, cripple her for life. Several were slightly injured and some fainted, while others are under the doctor's care with nervous prostration. No one was killed. The chief of the fire department was badly cut on the side of the head near the temple by a falling brick, but will recover. Ann Arbor's fire department went down and fought the fire. The loss is between $35,000 and $40,000. The insurance amounts to $34,650. It is said that our department made the trip to the scene of action in 38 minutes. The building will be repaired at once. It was built in 1878, to replace the old high school building which was destroyed by fire in that year. Order your ice cream at Russell's, 10 E. Huron-st. Made from pure Jersey cream at $1.00 per gallon or 30 cents per quart. (114)

"THE STROLLERS"

FOR CHARITY.

AMATEURS IN ORIGINAL COMEDY.

The days when amateur theatricals served only to amuse the performers and their friends have long since passed away. Amateur productions to-day will compare favorably in many cases to those to which professionals have devoted lots of time, unusual care, and plenty of money.

The reason is that the amateurs now go about their work with the same system employed by the regular paid actors and actresses. They give plenty of time to rehearsals which are directed by professional coaches; they study not alone their lines, but the lights and shades of their parts; they are costumed and bewigged by the same men who perform similar offices for professionals and the business managers of their entertainments see that they are provided with adequate scenery, good music, appropriate accessories, and every help needed to give their productions the same stamp of positive merit.

One of the amateur dramatic clubs which have brought about this reform in a much abused but very popular form of amusement is "The Strollers," an organization originally formed of students in Columbia College. The club was so successful that after the graduation of the principal members it was decided to maintain its organization. Since its production of "Pocahontas," John Broughman's brilliant extravaganza, at the Academy of Music in 1886, the Club each year has given a series of entertainments largely devoted to burlesque. Most of the performances of the Club have been given for charity, and now they are to come forward once again in the same cause.

Beginning April 30th they give their regular series of spring performances at the Berkeley Lyceum Theatre, in aid of the following charities: Post Graduate Training School for Nurses, Way side Day Nursery, Bates' Hospital, and the Fresh Air and convalescent Home at Summit, N. J. During the week's run several bills will be presented, including an arrangement of "The Belle's Stratagem," by Edward Fales Coward; "Bears are Trumps," an original comedy written by Mr. Coward; "Confusion," a farce comedy, which was presented by the club in years past with great success; "Rosberry Strub Sec," a character sketch by Frank C. Drake, and "His Better Half," a comedy-drama by Mrs. Burton N. Harrison.

The cast of the plays in line the following well known amateurs: Mrs. Blodgood, Mrs. Eugene Richards, Mrs. Sidney Harris, Jr., Miss Eytling, Miss Kenyon, Messrs. Lamb, Coward, Cook, Bennett, Hamlin, Hall, Fitzgerald, Wood, Nicholas, O'Sullivan, Preston and others. During the performances Messrs. Beldon, Drake and Fitzgerald will dance. Numbers of well known society women volunteered to be patronesses for the week's run. Following this the club has arranged a three weeks tour of the following cities: May 7th, Albany, New York, Harmanus Blecker Hall; May 8th, Troy, New York, Rand's Opera House; May 9th, Buffalo, New York, Star Theatre; May 10th, Syracuse, New York, Bastable Theatre; May 11, Rochester, New York, Lyceum Theatre; May 12th, Columbus, Ohio, Grand Opera House; May 14th, Pittsburg, Pa., Duquesne Theatre; May 15th, Cleveland, Ohio, Lyceum Theatre; May 16th, Detroit, Mich., Lyceum Theatre, May 17th, Ann Arbor, Mich., Opera House; May 18th, Cincinnati, Ohio, Walnut-st. Theatre; May 21st, Baltimore, Md., Lyceum Theatre; May 22d, Baltimore, Md., Lyceum Theatre; May 23d, Washington, D. C., Grand Op a House, and ending with three nights' engagement at the historic Walnut-st. Theatre in Philadelphia, May 24th, 25th and 26th.

This tour is the most ambitious effort ever made by this or any other amateur dramatic club. In every city visited, the club will play under the auspices of the leading society people, and for the benefit of some deserving charity. The program for this will consist of "Confusion," a laughable three act farce-comedy and "Rosberry Strub Sec." Special scenery will be carried and everything will be done that will insure the usual excellence of performances when given in New York. "The Strollers" appear at the Grand Opera House, May 17th, in aid of the Frieze Memorial Organ.

On the Campus.

The senior hop last Friday night at Waterman gymnasium was a success in every particular. About 200 couples were present. A very peculiar skin disease of one of the patients at the University Hospital caused a report to be spread about that it was leprosy. A careful diagnosis proved it to be sarcoma. Judge Cooley addressed nearly 1,000 students in the law lecture room Thursday afternoon on "The condition of the United States at the present time." The lecture was delivered at the special request of the 600 law students, and the aged jurist was received with storms of applause. The university authorities have announced that all foot ball and base ball practice on the campus must stop, and that the students must find some other place to play ball. Inquiry shows that because the assembled crowd of students make such a noise with tin horns and by shouting, that the recitations in the medical and chemical buildings were seriously disturbed. President Angell says that the number of schools which are being examined to be placed on the approved list of the U. of M. this year is larger than ever before. At present there are 128 schools on the approved list. Those in the state more recently approved are: Benton Harbor, Howell, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Ishpeming, Ironwood, Champion, Petoskey, Romeo, Birmingham, Ypsilanti, Constantine, Cassopolis, Negaunee, Houghton, and Hancock. For the third time since the Oratorical league has been formed, Michigan carried off the first place Friday night. In '91 the contest was held at Ann Arbor with a Michigan man, A. C. Gormely, the winner; in '92, at Northwestern with R. L. Roberts, Michigan, fairly entitled to second, but given third after the decision had been made; in '93, at Oberlin, with L. G. Long, Michigan, the victor; and Friday night at Wisconsin, with F. P. Sadler, Michigan, first place. Mr. Schmaal will be absent next year from the University School of Music. His place will be taken by Albert Jonas, a noted Spanish pianist. Jonas comes highly recommended and has received very flattering notices from the Berlin Zeitung, Berlin Courier, Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung and National Zeitung of Germany. He was born in Madrid of German parents, and has given concerts in England, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany, Russia, Mexico and this country. A mystery hang over the disappearance of the fraternity freshman toastmaster Friday night. As near as the facts can be learned, they are as follows: At about 7:30 Mr. Maher left the Beta Theta house to go to the house of a friend where he was to dress. From that time nothing is known of his whereabouts until he was found by the returning freshmen in an unconscious state on the steps of Beta Theta house at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Maher shows marks of rough usage.

He will have nothing to say and utterly refuses to disclose the names of his abductors. This is probably the culmination of the plan which Thursday night was disclosed in the scooping in of a number of the freshmen by a party of sophomores and upperclassmen. They were taken to a deserted house about four miles from here, toward Ypsilanti, and forced to give their toasts for the amusement of the crowd.—Saturday's U. of M. Daily.

Council Proceedings.

A communication from the mayor was read nominating the following gentlemen subject to the approval of the city council: City treasurer, Geo. H. Pond; city attorney, T. A. Bogle; city marshal, Parris Banfield; patrolmen, David Collins and Reuben Armbruster; member of the board of fire commissioners, Michael Grossman; on the board of health, Henry B. Dodsley and Eli Moore. The mayor's nominations were confirmed without a dissenting vote. Two petitions, signed by residents on State-st., asking that a patrolman be appointed for said street, were read. One petition asked for the appointment of N. C. Tice and the other recommended William Eldert. Bids of the banks were as follows: Ann Arbor Savings Bank pay 4.52 per cent interest and charge 5 per cent interest on overdrafts; Farmers & Mechanics Bank offered 4.12 per cent interest and would charge the same amount on overdrafts. State Savings Bank offered 4 per cent interest and would charge 6 per cent on overdrafts. Ald. Prettyman moved that the bids be referred to a committee. Ald. Wood moved as a substitute that the bid of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank be accepted. Passed. The finance committee reported bills against the different funds as follows: Contingent $1,049.89, sewer $407.67, street $474.58, bridge, culvert and crosswalk $562.88, fire $484.25, police $166, poor $225.88, cemetery $13.56, total $3,384.65. Ald. Prettyman then gave the ordinance governing the construction of laterals its first and second readings. Seven-five dollars was appropriated for a hardwood floor in the Sixth ward engine house. The report of the city treasurer showed that the city had its credit in the Ann Arbor Savings Bank $17,666.63. Fred Siple, superintendent of the poor, reported the following expenditures for April: First ward, $17.90; Second, $17.89, Third, $66.04; Fourth, $65.45; Fifth, $69.60; Sixth, $5.15.

The Ann Arbor postoffice contest has closed. Mr. Pond's name has been withdrawn by the president and that of S. W. Beakes substituted. But it can hardly be said that the white winged angel of peace is hovering over the contending factions.

Apparently the congressional situation in the Second District, so far as Washtenaw is concerned, is narrowed down to a contest between Captain Al. ten and J. T. Jacobs. As a matter of fact, however, another and very strong candidate in the person of ex-State Senator Reuben Kempf, the rich Ann Arbor banker, is likely to shy his castor into the ring.

The Chelsea statesman, who now misrepresents the Second congressional district of Michigan in the national house of representatives, will find the sledding awfully poor should he attempt to drive over the course again this fall. Washtenaw county has given him majorities that the western part of Wayne, and even Democratic Monroe, would not, but he has thrust a stick into the hive of his best working swarm by compassing the defeat of Maj. Pond for postmaster at the University City; and all for the peanut reason that the major did not take off his Prince Albert two years ago and whoop-up for Gorman. The fact that Editor Beakes is a well equipped man for the place is no balm for the sores of the friends of Mr. Pond.—Detroit Journal.

Residents of Ann Arbor near the boulevard say that they go down-town now when they want to spend a quiet evening, that the yells of the students sound like sweet zephyrs to their ears compared to the awful racket that the flocks of rooks make that go to roost in the trees just below the boulevard near the river.—Detroit Free Press.

Judge Cooley, of Ann Arbor, was recently asked how the withdrawal of "Postmaster" Pond's name would affect the backbone of the democracy and his reply was to the effect that that part of the democratic anatomy now seemed to be in the hands of the Coxeyites. The aged jurist has been charged with being a Democrat or, what is infinitely worse, a mugwump, but I am now inclined to think its a base slander. He is not nearly so decrepit as Gorman and Beakes and their friends would have the public believe.—"The Politician" in Detroit Tribune.

Had the last Republican legislature that sat in this state risen to a true sense of its responsibility and duty, one of the earliest acts it would have done would have been to destroy the infamous Democratic gerrymander under which it has been made possible for the people of a Republican county like Lenawee to be misrepresented in the lower house of congress by a mere mediocrity like the member from Chelsea, Mr. James S. Gorman—a man who is absolutely swallowed out of sight when in his seat at the national capitol, and who is never heard of at home except in connection with some petty rumpus over the distribution of party spoils, like the wretched row that is now being raised over the postoffice appointment at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor's new mayor recommends an eight o'clock curfew. The same idea would be a good one for Ypsilanti to adopt.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

Adrian people complain because the street cars do not run on schedule time. Ann Arbor's street cars are "out of sight."—Manchester Enterprise.

A man who goes to see a girl twice a week and takes her to entertainments, is legally engaged to her, according to a recent decision, whether he says anything to her about marriage or not, and she could recover her suit for breach of promise. It is to be hoped that the girls will take advantage of this decision and bring the young men to time. Young men have a habit of loafing about a girl's house for years, and then drifting off without saying a word about marriage. While a young man is paying attention to a young lady he is probably keeping some one away who would talk business.—Howell Democrat.

It is reported that the descendants of William Hyde, of Connecticut, will meet in Ypsilanti, June 27, and that many prominent men will be there.—THE REGISTER.

Miss Harriet Hyde, secretary of the New Hyde Association, received a beautiful photo this week of the talented and cultured Mrs. Emma Etheridge Barlow, of Coldwater, whose parents, Burt Etheridge and Amy Cleveland Etheridge, were own cousins and both heirs in the Hyde estate in England. The Cleveland genealogy joins the Hyde genealogy in 1772. Mrs. Barlow was a member of the New York Hyde Association of 1880, and has traveled extensively, visiting Palestine and Egypt.—Ypsilanti Commercial.

The suicide of Miss Janes at the University is not the first instance, and will not be the last. The fact is that the female constitution is not fitted for the "co-education," that is offered in colleges and universities worth the name. A great majority of girls entering may live to get through, but those who fall by the way, are the choicest of the whole who enter.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a writ of fieri facias, issued out of the Circuit Court for the county of Washtenaw, in favor of Charles F. Kayser, against the goods and chattels and real estate of Adolph Hoffstetter, in said county to me directed and delivered, I did, on the 23d day of April 1894 levy upon and take all the right title and interest of the said Adolph Hoffstetter in and to the following described real estate, that is to say: That certain piece or parcel of land situate and being on section twenty-nine (29), in township two (2), south of range six (6) east, State of Michigan, known, bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning in the center of the highway leading westerly, out of the city of Ann Arbor, known as the Eber White road, three and one-half rods (3 1/2) westerly from the south-east corner of six acres, sold by John Allen and wife to James Kingsley, on the first day of February 1836, and running thence westerly, along said road four rods; thence north one degree and fifteen minutes, east six chains and forty-five links; thence north seventy-five (75) degrees east, parallel to the road thirty-three (33) links or so far that a course north two chains and eighty (80) links, will strike the land formerly owned by Jacob Kempf, one chain and one link westerly of the north-west corner of land formerly owned by George Granville; thence easterly parallel to the road to said Granville corner; thence south three (3) chains to another corner of the said land formerly owned by said Granville; thence westerly parallel to the road about thirty-six (36) links, thence south two (2) degrees and thirty (30) minutes west, six (6) chains and twenty-five links to the place of beginning, being the same land conveyed to Daniel Murray by Charles Bleicher by deed of conveyance, dated the 8th day of January, 1852 and recorded in the office of the register of deeds, for the county of Washtenaw, in Liber 32, on page 790. Also that certain piece or parcel of land situate and being on section twenty-nine (29) in township two (2) south of range six (6) east, State of Michigan, known and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning in the center of the highway leading westerly out of the city of Ann Arbor, known as the Eber White road, one chain and eighty-seven and one-half (87 1/2) links westerly, along the center of said road from the south-east corner of six acres sold by John Allen and wife to James Kingsley, on February 1st, 1836, and running thence westerly along said road four rods; thence north parallel to the east line of Kingsley's purchase six chains and fifty-five (55) links; thence easterly parallel with the White road sixty-two and one-half (62 1/2) links; thence north two chains and sixty (60) links; thence easterly parallel with the White road, one chain and one link, or half way to George Granville's corner; thence south parallel to the east link of Kingsley's purchase two chains and eighty (80) links; thence westerly parallel to the White road thirty-three (33) links or so far that a course south, one degree and fifteen (15) minutes west will strike the place of beginning, and from thence south one degree and fifteen (15) minutes west, six chains and forty-five (45) links to the place of beginning.

All of which I shall expose for sale at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder at the south front door of the court house in Ann Arbor in said county on the twenty-third day of June next at nine o'clock in the forenoon. Dated this 24th day of April 1894.

The princess had indeed pulled in sail. Her son had seemed to her, during the few past minutes, like a rock against which she would only waste her strength in vain. Besides, she was immeasurably proud of his kingship, and would have suffered untold regret if the emperor had presumed to attempt his deposition. It was all quite clear to her mind in this brief interval; she had gone too far. She might have known that the lion in him would suddenly turn on her like this. He would keep the very letter of his menace, too, unless her tactics were changed forthwith. Revolting in their democracy though she held his views to be, hereafter she must conform to them or leave these lovely Saltravian hills. And surely she was quartered here in a most magnificent way. Her two or three Italian palaces were nothing to this, in which so lordly a suite of chambers had been allowed her. And then this enchanting valley, so radiantly improved in spite of all her grumblings to the contrary! And the waters, too; she had no idea of the wondrous good they would do her rheumatism. It might all get stupid in the winter, but the winter was still a good distance off. Time enough to slip off to Rome or Naples again by the end of November. And then there was Bianca d'Este. The girl's love for her son was now almost a madness. For that most seemly of unions there was yet a hope. Yes, a hope—why not? "School yourself," darted through the princess' mind, "to a self-effacement difficult yet not impossible. In the end he may yield, and marry her. Then your turn will come in real earnest, for if once there is a queen, if once there are little princes and princesses, he will grow more conservative. Men always do. That possible horror of his marrying the American girl (God knows there's nothing rash he would not do, just now) must be met by subtlety, since high-handed measures have become mere blows in the air."

Even roughly to put in words the lightning-like reflections of Clarimond's mother makes them seem deliberative, not intuitive, as they surely were. When she again confronted her son, after the departure of the footmen, it was to show, both in speech and mien, a meekness and complaisance that she had never remotely hinted until now. "Henceforth you shall have no further cause for complaint," she said; "I shall abet you in all your plans and purposes. Try me, and you shall not be disappointed. I admit myself thoroughly vanquished. Your will is my law."

She bowed her head, and Clarimond, who knew her better than she knew herself, smelt deceit as if it were some odor that suddenly had freighted the air. At the same time his native generosity and fair-mindedness made him hope this abrupt conversion meant more than its first blush would imply. "Agreed, then," he said, with a reserve that expressed patience and sadness interblent. "But pray bear in mind one matter. If the emperor should have the presumption, which I greatly doubt, to concern himself in any of my personal affairs, however important or however trivial, I should as promptly resent such meddling as though it were the work of an officious subject. Though my answer should cost me my scepter, slight a one as it is, be assured that I should not hesitate to make it, and make it firmly. I am not so enamored of reigning that the emperor's frowns or smiles can appeal to me as such mighty forces of my own destiny, nor shall you ever find me in the mood to regard him as if he were a schoolmaster with a birchen rod. And now," he proceeded, "I shall ask you kindly to send me the list of those whom you have already invited to the state ball. Such a course on your part will enable me to avoid errors which might otherwise occur, since I wish to make out a list of my own, and desire that it should not clash with yours."

"It shall be sent you to-night," was the reply, "or to-morrow, if you prefer."

"To-morrow will be quite early enough," answered Clarimond, and with a bow he quitted the great, bright-lit vacant apartment, ending an interview which was least agreeable of the many which he had held with his mother, and which had perhaps caused him more secret pain than any which he at all had held since his accession to the Saltravian throne.

CHAPTER XI.

The court was already furnished with rich material for busiest gossip; but a few more morrows were destined to cast in shade even so pregnant a topic as Clarimond's cogent reprimand of Prince Philibert. The king had been seen publicly strolling through his own grounds with Kathleen; he now as publicly visited her at the hotel, spending hours each day in the pretty sitting-room which Mrs. Kennaird at once secured for his own and her daughter's comfort, as downstairs they would almost have been mobbed by gaping foreigners. The mental condition of Mrs. Kennaird, at this particular time, was one of hysteria, narrowly verging upon dementia. The king's open admiration for her child filled her with a feeling toward him which might have given her, if she could have looked upon herself just as she now was, and looked from normal eyes, many shivers of shame. She had impulses to fling herself on her knees before Clarimond, and press her lips to his hand, telling him that he was the most godlike being the world had ever seen, and that his goodness in giving heed to Kathleen roused her deathless maternal gratitude.

The American snob, who is apt to be the most mettlesome and affirmative of all snobs yet recorded, had risen rampant in Kathleen's mother. She could not sleep; she could scarcely eat a morsel, and then did not know of what food she partook. At first she had ideas of sending to Paris for a robe in which to array her child at the state ball. Then, after this plan had been vetoed by Kathleen, she grew reconciled to the idea that the girl might create a more striking effect if clad with the utmost simplicity. After all, let her be attired in the plainest of white frocks. What other beauty in all Saltravia could stand so trying a test?

"Yes, it is wiser," she said, excitedly, to Kathleen. (Of late she had done and said everything excitedly, yet with her effort to appear self-repressed hardly better concealed than that of the fugitive ostrich.) "My dear, you are quite right. People will look at you more, and in so doing they will see you as you really are. Besides, it's in far nicer taste."

"Oh," said Kathleen, shrugging her shoulders, "I should like a handsome gown; what girl in the circumstances wouldn't? But to telegraph to Worth or Felix, and to send either of them money we could so ill afford—why, the very thought of it is pure nonsense, mamma, as you must be aware."

"I wasn't thinking of the expense," replied Mrs. Kennaird, with a little irrepressible catching of the breath. "There are certain things one always can afford."

Kathleen laughed and shrugged her shoulders. "You mean, I suppose, that we could go back to Dresden and economize more severely than we've yet done."

"Oh, no; I didn't mean that. I—I didn't mean that in the least," said her mother.

Kathleen gave no answer, divining what had really been meant. If her mother only knew the actual substance of her late conversations with the king! They had principally talked of her past engagement to Alonzo Lispenard. She had been very frank; she had told Clarimond everything and had found in him a most gracious and friendly listener. He had asked her many questions, to all of which she had replied with thorough candor. As regarded the impression that she had made upon him, she could not doubt that it had been one of strong fascination. This in itself was nothing new; most men, under a certain age, had shown her but one sort of homage. To have a king show it was entirely novel, and not a little dizzying. Moreover such a king as he, filled to his finger-tips with all the graces that please women, handsome, courtly, amusing, in countless ways, the choicest of male companions!

For three afternoons he dropped in upon her, and in each time her mother received him in her blindest fashion, contriving soon to slip from the apartment and leave them together. Mrs. Kennaird had no fear of the faintest imprudence on Kathleen's part. If she had thought at all on this subject it would have been to decide that her daughter's American blood would save her from even a dream of folly. Besides had she not already learned that Clarimond was the most honorable man in his own kingdom? Let people chatter, as they undoubtedly were chattering. Among the hotel-residents it was jealousy, pure and simple. What chiefly concerned this very agitated lady was the question of how Alonzo had thus far acted and of how at any moment he might take it into his head to act. Here he was, returned to Saltravia, the bosom friend of the king's bosom friend. He must have heard that Clarimond was intensely captivated with Kathleen. Everybody was talking of the affair. Stories had got afloat that the princess of Brindisi had already pleaded by letter the intervention of the emperor.

"You are so reticent, my dear," she said to Kathleen one evening at the end of the king's third visit. "You never will tell me what he says about Alonzo to you. Does he not mention him?"

"Rarely, mamma, and then always with kindness."

"Kindness, m—yes." Mrs. Kennaird pursed her lips a little. "They're still—friends, then?"

"Friends? Oh, yes."

"I suppose Alonzo hasn't dared to say a word against you, Kathleen. Otherwise he'd certainly have relieved himself of untold spleen, my dear."

"He never carried grudges," the girl said, as if her own thought was her sole auditor.

"Well, even if he didn't! Heaven knows he had a monopoly of most other faults!" At this particular time any praise of Alonzo was for some reason specially nauseous to Mrs. Kennaird. "And as for keeping silent about us to the king, why, there isn't the least doubt that he'll do so. How would he dare do otherwise, now that Clarimond has become your actual slave?"

"Mamma! Mamma!" exclaimed Kathleen. "You will make me so ridiculous if anyone by chance overhears you in these moods."

"Moods?" bristled her mother. "What moods? I'm excessively reticent! You are so droll at times, Kathleen! As if any mother could bear more calmly than I do the splendid, the unparalleled honor which overhangs you."

Kathleen looked fixedly at the speaker, with her eyes moistening a little and her under lip trembling. "I—I wish you would not speak like this," she faltered. "It distresses me so."

Her mother continued, however, stating that she had not the vaguest doubt Clarimond would soon startle his court more keenly than he had dreamed of startling it before; that Kathleen had only to wait a little while longer and the stars would drop ripe and shining in her lap; that all past annoyance, mortification, defeat was to end gloriously in unique triumph.

Kathleen listened, and then slipped, as soon as she could, into the privacy of her own chamber. The king had said that he would revisit her to-day. There was only an hour yet before the time of his coming. She did not want to see him again, and yet she did want to see him again. What was it? Did it mean that he might bring her certain tidings of Alonzo? Did it mean this? Did it really mean this? Or was she infected with the fever of her mother's over-leaping ambition? Her mother! The sense of that personality, that companionship, so tremendous, so drastic in its influence, its domination, terrified her. She looked into her own brain, as it were, and found there nothing but a depressing tumult. How would she act if action should indeed be required of her? No, no; the need of such action would not, could not, come. He, a king! It was fatuity to dream of what her mother had so boldly prophesied. Her hands were at intervals very tremulous while she dealt with her toilet; and once or twice she felt as if she must desist from it and seek the one sort of aid that just then would have been least to her taste.

The colored man named Wm. Martin, who was charged with a criminal assault on Mrs. Snoward, of Saline, was discharged by the prosecuting attorney. Attorney Arthur Brown appeared for the defendant.

The May term of the Circuit court opened Monday. Four of the criminal cases on the docket were quickly disposed of, the prisoners pleading guilty and receiving their sentence: Robert Taylor, burglary, 5 years at Jackson; Andrew Smith, adultery, 2 years at Ionia; Mary Jane Gross, adultery, 6 months in jail; James McCormick, larceny, 2 years at Ionia.

Huron street business men say that people from the country frequently come into their stores and ask for a drink of water. Why would it not be a good thing for the new council to place a fountain on the court house lawn where thirsty mortals could procure a drink of water? Ypsilanti has one. Ypsi is more accommodating to the human family in supplying drinking water than other little cities we know of.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Phelps, of Dexter, were feeding a tramp, when he began to abuse them and order them about. Miss Edith Bross, a neighbor, hearing the row, procured a revolver and dropped in on the tramp. Her order to him to retire was responded to with abuse, when she fired at him. Nothing more was necessary, as the wanderer fled at once. Mrs. Bross is now quite a heroine.

The ordinance relative to sewers, which we publish in full in today's REGISTER, is the work of Ex-City Attorney E. B. Norris. It is certainly an able document, and conclusively proves that the gentlemen is a wise lawyer as well as an able lawyer. Mr. Norris has certainly done his duty as an officer of the people during the time he has been city attorney, and has been the means of saving the city considerable money. It is the opinion of many citizens, who take an interest in municipal affairs, that E. B. Norris has made the best city attorney Ann Arbor has ever had.

Wednesday evening May 2d, a bicycle was stolen from Dr. D. F. Lyons, a medical student. He visited a friend and left the wheel at the front gate, but when he returned he could not find it. He notified the officers, and deputy sheriff Peterson and McCabe noticed a bicycle at the T. and A. depot checked for Mt. Pleasant. They took charge of it, and afterward arrested Irving W. Hicks, a junior pharmacist, who admitted having checked the wheel but claimed having done it for a friend named Muir. His examination was held on Friday before Justice Bennett and he was bound over to the Circuit Court for trial. In default of bail, he went to jail.

Thursday morning a tramp with a wooden leg stole several parcels from a wagon of Jacob Koch, of Scio, which was standing on Washington street. Koch gave chase but the peg-leg was to swift and succeeded in making his escape. Deputy McCabe found the thief sitting on the porch of Alderman Peterson's house and arrested him. He was taken before Justice Pond, who sentenced him to the Detroit house of correction for sixty days. The thief prior to his arrest had been in the city about a week and was constantly full of budge. He insulted nearly every one he met. He had several dozen silk handkerchiefs on his person, which he tried to dispose of at ten cents a piece. If a woman refused to purchase he insulted her, if a man refused to buy he offered to fight. His crippled condition saved him from a good thrashing.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

THE YPSILANTIAN. Walter Stuck, a resident of this city, had his left hand severely injured on a saw at Nowlin's mill near Dearborn last week.

Three buildings have burned on the present site, the first in March, 1857, the second in December, 1877, and the last, May 3, 1894.

CHelsea HERALD. One of our contractors informs us that there will be as many as nine new dwelling houses erected in Chelsea this summer.

The wheat fields in this section of the country are looking well, and if farmers were sure of getting $1 per bushel for their grain this fall they would feel as if it would pay to stay on the farm after all.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE. The council seems determined to get possession of that part of Liberty street that runs through the old Granger's grove property, lately bought by Kimble & Schmid and B. G. Lovejoy.

At a meeting of the town board last week, Ed. Fitzsimons was appointed census enumerator and Frank Buchanan assistant. Ed. will take the census of the village and Frank the remainder of the township.

Ed. French, one of our extensive fruit growers, says that indications point to a large yield of strawberries in his patch. A good many of his raspberries, however, were injured by the late freeze.

YPSILANTI SENTINEL. A prominent man in this city, whose business is in Detroit, and who is in the habit of returning each evening on the 6 o'clock train, returned Saturday afternoon at 2, and going home used the lawn mower a few minutes. When the approaching storm darkened the skies to some extent, he went to the barn, fed the horses, and going to the house asked his wife if supper was ready, to be informed that it was only three o'clock. The story leaked out, and he is now quietly passing around the cigars.

YPSILANTI COMMERCIAL. One of the cars on the motor line has been partitioned into two compartments, one of which will be used as a smoking car, and the other is fitted with a safe, etc., and is used for the express business of the United States Express Company. Fred. Huntoon, formerly agent for that company here, has taken charge of the business in Ann Arbor, and is succeeded here by V. M. Daley of Toledo. Ann Arbor business men are much pleased to have a competing express line in their city and they will find it a financial saving as well as a convenience.

CHelsea STANDARD. The market continues dull and lifeless and business light. Wheat brings 54cts. and rye 45cts., oats 35cts., barley nominal and none offered, beans have advanced and bring $1.50 for choice stock, potatoes 40cts, eggs 9cts, butter 15cts. Business will be light till after corn planting when another movement of wheat will come in regardless of price. Wool comes in slowly at 10cts. for unwashed and 4cts. for tags.

Through the natural cussedness of a couple of boys, Arthur Congdon sustained the loss of a fine cow last Friday. The animal was tied to a stake and the boys thought that it would be great sport to stone the poor thing, which they did, making her run in a circle. At last the cow stumbled and in falling, broke her neck. Much regret has been expressed that it was not the boys instead of the cow that was lost.

Invitation and Toothache. "Did you find out what that woman was hollerin' about?" said Farmer Cornstossel's wife, when the old gentleman returned to their room in the hotel. "I asked the clerk," he replied. "What did he say?" "He said it was 'n' Ignorance. I didn't like to show my Ignorance by askin' more questions. But I reckon maybe it's ther sussiety name fur toothache."—Washington Star.

Mistook His Sex. Haverly—Cholly Chumpleigh says that New York is the most polite city in the world. Austen—What has given him that idea?

Haverly—Cholly got on a Broadway car the other day when it was pretty crowded and a short-sighted old gentleman got up and offered him his seat.—Town Topics.

Manifestly Mendacious. "Cholly is becoming untruthful," said one young woman to another. "You don't mean it?" "Yes. I asked him if he intended to go to the Van Twiggins, and he said he did not know." "I'm sure that was candid." "Yes. But he went on to say he was thinking about it."—Washington Star.

Modern Heroism. Weary Watkins—Say, dey ain't no real heroes nowadays. Hungry Higgins—Dey ain't, eh? W'y, right here in de paper is a feller advertising dat he ain't afraid of work.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Flight of Time. 'Twere vain to ask a woman's age, They never tell the truth, Except when at that short-lived stage Of life's charm-killing pilgrimage—The heyday of their youth.—N. Y. World.

A Still Hunt. Nervous Wife—I hear a burglar. Nervous Husband—Woo! I'll crawl under the bed and see if he is there.—N. Y. Weekly.

ALREADY BESPOKEN.

Lady of the House—I am a poor, lone widow, sir; and— Ragged Haggard—I'd like to accommodate you, ma'am; but I am already betrothed.—Puck.

A Philosopher. Col. Hahdupp—What are you laughing at, uncle? Uncle Mose—I see laffin' t' tink I hain't got no job, sah. Col. Hahdupp—I don't see the point. Uncle Mose—De pint am jes heah, sah. Ef I had a job I'd eeder be gittin' fired or expectin' t' be gittin' fired, or gittin mah pay rejuiced, an' I'd be perfectly misabul.—Judge.

Man's Inhumanity to Himself. The most inhuman outrages, outrages which would disgrace the savage man perpetrates upon his own system by swallowing drastic purgatives which convulse his stomach, agonize his intestines and weaken his system. Many people constantly do this under the impression that medicaments only which are violent in their action, and particularly cathartics, are of any avail. Irreparable injury to health is wrought under this mistaken idea. The laxative which most nearly approaches the beneficial action of nature is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is painless but thorough, and invigorates the intestinal canal instead of weakening and irritating it. The liver and the stomach share in the benign discipline instituted by this comprehensive medicine, whose healthful influence is felt throughout the system. Malarious, rheumatic, kidney and nervous complaints succumb to it.

An Important Afterthought. He—And what would you do if I kissed you? She (with dignity)—I'd call mamma. (After a pause) But mamma's out this evening.—Life.

The Father. Of all diseases is impure blood, when loaded with foul humor. How important, then, that the blood should be pure, rich, and strong, without which there can be no health. To purify the blood Sulphur Bitters is incomparably the best medicine that it is possible to obtain.—The Editor.

PYRAMID PILE CURE.

A NEW REMEDY BUT THE BEST IN THE WORLD—ABSOLUTELY SAFE AND CERTAIN—CURES HOPELESS CASES.

Physicians Recommend It, Druggists Sell It, Everybody Praises It.

If we could sell one package of Pyramid Pile Cure to every person in America who is troubled with piles and who would gladly give the dollar to be rid of piles, we would have about ten million dollars. The only reason that we don't sell that many packages this year is that we will not be able to get ten million people to try it. Just one application will prove its merit and amply repay the cost of a whole box.

The effect is immediate. Comfort comes at once and continued treatment will cure any case, no matter how bad.

Pyramid Pile Cure soothes the inflamed surface the instant it touches it, heals it, reduces the swelling and puts the parts into a healthy, active condition. There is no substitute for it. Nothing compares with it.

We have never heard of a single case that it failed to cure; we have heard of thousands that it has cured quickly and completely.

Here are a couple of letters recently received:

From Geo. C. Geick, Owens Mill, Mo.: Some time ago I bought a package of Pyramid Pile Cure for my wife who had suffered very much. The first trial did her more good than anything she has ever tried. It is just what is claimed for it.

From Richard Loan, Whipple, Ohio: I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and am entirely pleased and satisfied with results. It does the work and no mistake.

The proprietors of the Pyramid Pile Cure could publish columns of similar letters, but these are enough to show what it will do in different cases.

All druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you. It is one dollar per package and made only by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich.

Second Gentleman (sternly)—I did, sir. First Gentleman—And I told you that I had just been married and I did not care to risk my life at any hazard.

Second Gentleman (haughtily)—I remember, sir. First Gentleman (bitterly)—Well, my feelings have changed; any time you want to fight let me know.—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

Goldstein—Haven't you vun about $40,000?—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

I have not used all of one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget, I procured a bottle, and since the first day's use have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

PERFECT HEALTH HOW IT WAS OBTAINED. ACROSS THE PLAINS IN '52. A GOLD MINER DISCOVERS SOMETHING MORE PRECIOUS THAN GOLD.

A REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLE WHICH WORKED WONDERS, AFTER EVERY OTHER REMEDY, INCLUDING A "SWEAT" TREATMENT WITH THE INDIANS FOR A YEAR, HAD FAILED TO RELIEVE.

A STATEMENT OF THE CASE. CROOK CITY, S. D., Jan. 22, 1892.

The Owen Electric Belt and Appliance Co., Chicago, Ill. GENTLEMEN—I have been for some time considering the propriety of writing to you a few lines, relative to my experience with the Owen Electric Belt and Appliance obtained from you about eighteen (18) months ago.

I am a gold miner by occupation, and have been for many years. I crossed the plains to California in 1853, and since then have been in most of the prominent mining camps in the then territories of Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, and at present in Dakota. Leading the rough and exposed life incidental to my occupation, caused me to fall a victim to rheumatism which finally utterly prostrated me in Helena, Mont., in '65. I was under the best medical treatment obtainable in Montana for one year, with but slight improvement, and was finally advised to live among the Indians, and subject myself to their "sweat" treatment.

Since that time I have been a chronic sufferer—suffering pain and torture indescribable almost continually. It would be useless to attempt to describe my sufferings. It must be sufficient to state that I suffered from rheumatism in its worst form. I had spent large sums of money, changed climate, visited Hot Springs, lived alternately in high and low altitudes, and employed the best medical advice obtainable, hoping to alleviate, if not cure my complaint. It was all to no purpose, and I had about despaired of ever recovering fully my shattered health, when my attention was called to the Owen Electric Belt by a fellow miner, Mr. J. C. Johnson, of Crook City, who was also suffering from rheumatism, and who claimed to have derived great benefit from a belt obtained from you. I had tried so many remedies that I was fairly discouraged and skeptical about obtaining relief from any source, but finally determined it was my duty to give your appliance a trial.

At last I sent for one of your belts, and applied it carefully, according to the printed directions accompanying the same, and can now truthfully say, as I now do to you, that I am no longer troubled with my kidneys, that I am entirely free from rheumatism, and I consider my health as perfect. All this I consider is owing to your valuable and priceless Owen Electric Belt, and I feel I am only performing a duty and paying a deserved tribute to Dr. Owen in sending this unsolicited statement of my case for his information.

Persons making inquiries from the writers of testimonials will please inclose self-addressed, stamped envelope to insure a prompt reply.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus' dance, and as positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nerveine she now weighs 110 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus' dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has regained complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nerveine has brought her. When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. B. E. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

What She Thought. The teacher had told the small girl with the old woman's ways, the story of George Washington and his little hatchet. "And did he really tell his papa that he done it with his little hatchet?" she asked. "Yes." "Boys is just like men," she said with a wise shake of her head. This was a bit too deep for the teacher. "What do you mean by that?" she inquired. The child seemed surprised at the teacher's ignorance. "W'y," she replied, "always trying to blame it on somebody else. The little hatchet couldn't help itself."—Detroit Free Press.

For the Multitude. Many good blessings of the world can only be had by the few, but here is one for the benefit of all, and absolutely free of charge. Nothing is of more importance to us than our health. It has, until recently, been impossible for the poor, or those living far from large cities, to obtain the best medical advice except at great expense. But now comes forward one of our greatest and most successful specialists in curing nervous and chronic diseases and offers to every one, far and near, the privilege of consulting him by letter, without charge. This is none other than the well-known Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th-st., New York; the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. You who have sought in vain to learn what you are suffering from, or to obtain help, write him a description of your complaint, and he will return you a letter stating exactly what your disease is, and thoroughly describing each symptom, so that you can clearly understand just what ails you. And all this is entirely free of expense to you. The doctor gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, and is having most wonderful success in treating disease through his system of letter correspondence, using as he does nothing but harmless vegetable remedies in his practice. Write the doctor at once all about your complaint. It is the surest way to regain your health.

A LOGICAL CONCLUSION.

One of Them—There goes young Jack D'Or. They say his income is so large he can't get rid of it. The Other One—Oh, so he's a single man, then?—Truth.

A Gigantic Task. Physician—Madam, your husband is suffering from a severe attack of nervous prostration. He must have been laboring under a terrible mental and physical strain of late. Mrs. Woody—For the past four weeks he has been engaged in at last consenting, at the earnest solicitation of his many friends, to permit his name to be used as a candidate for the legislature.—Puck.

Col. Clark, U. S. Army, writes: For the last two years, my health has been excellent; this, I think, is due to my using Sulphur Bitters, as formerly my health was miserable, owing to the frequent changes of climate, etc. so incident to a soldier's life.

Male Vanity. It was at a ball and the subject under discussion was vanity. A lady maintained that men were also given somewhat to vanity. "The men are ten times more vain than the ladies," she remarked. "That's impossible," said several gentlemen. The subject changed and a few minutes later the lady remarked: "The handsomest man in the room has a spot on his white vest," whereupon every gentleman within hearing glanced down with a scared expression of countenance at his vest.—Tammany Times.

The Way of the World. "Yes," said Mrs. Fiveo'clock, "the family are most interesting. John dances divinely, Tom sings like an angel, David is a famous football player, and Susanne paints beautifully and belongs to the reading club." "And Henry?" "Oh, Henry! Well, he's rather dull, you know. He only works and supports the others."—Judge.

Medicinal Item. Jones—Dr. Blow told me yesterday that during the past month he cured fifteen cases of grip. Smith—That's strange! He told me he cured thirty cases last month. Jones—He did, eh? Well, that shows that he thinks you are twice as big a fool as I am.—Texas Siftings.

Not at All Politic. Pills—That young Dr. Sagely is a queer person. Squills—How so? Pills—Mrs. Hyswelle called him in to prescribe for one of her indispositions and he told her there was nothing the matter with her and proved it. And yet he wonders why he doesn't get on better with his rich patients.—Chicago Record.

TALK OF THE TOUT.

PECULIAR EXPRESSIONS USED ON THE RACE TRACKS.

While Mystifying to the Uninitiated, They Are Easily Understood When Once Explained—Some of the Phrases Are Very "Catchy"—Mostly of English Origin.

Race track phrases as intricate to the uninitiated as a Fiji islander's love song are fast creeping into all walks of life, and the slang which makes up the vocabulary of the turfman is liable to be heard in the social small talk of the day, in the rigid business house and frequently in the clubs. Where some of the terms originated is a mystery, but the genuine "tout" speaks nothing else, and his jargon is at once interesting and novel. Nearly all of the expressions, like the thieves' lore, probably came from the English courses, and the English race going people are more familiar with the words of the stable boy or lower class than the American patrons of this sport of the kings. The running track has loaned some of its choice ones to the trotters, and the mixture at the tracks where the long tailed light harness performers win stakes and purses is a combination of later years.

The modern "tout," this genius being one who almost sleeps on tracks and imparts his early morning information to you when half of the winnings of your bet are promised him, can spin it off by the yard, and some of his expressions are indeed unique.

"There she goes all to pieces," he will exclaim as the filly he has picked to win suddenly wavers and begins to fall to the rear. He may say something about her "shutting up like a jack-knife" as she drops into the "ruck," which name is applied to the tail end of the procession. Should she go out of her proper course in running, he will inform you that she has "bolted," and he will call her a "bore" if she happens to swerve against another horse, impeding his progress. If she should have been pulled for some reason he had not learned, he may call her a "dead un," meaning that she was not intended to win, but if he applies the word "duffer" to her that means she couldn't beat anything.

On the turf the term "deadbeat" has two meanings. It is sometimes applied to a horse completely exhausted and is always applied to any man who fails to pay his debts. In the latter sense the term is no different from any other place.

"Why, he'll lead from end to end" would signify that the animal in question will be in front of the others from the start to the finish. Should another horse come up suddenly and dispute every inch of the way, the newcomer is said to "challenge" the other, and when he arrives alongside of him and there is no difference between their noses from the stand the two are racing "head and head." It might seem to be a breach of etiquette to hear a man say that some old horse is the "swellest maiden" on the track. This would indicate that the horse is the best one that has never won a race.

Should a track follower tell you that he saw a certain horse out for a "pipe opener" in the morning, but he didn't "negotiate" well, he is intending to convey the information that in the morning exercise the horse would not jump or run well.

The betting terms on the track are quite amusing, and some of the expressions for amounts of money are on a par with the "super," "benny," "mush" and other common terms among the light fingered gentry. "I run a pony into a century and then dropped the whole thing trying to run it into a monkey." The pony is $25, the century $100 and the monkey $500. Should he have won the last bet, and the book-maker, taking time by the forelock and his cashbox by the handle, disappeared without paying off, the dishonest gentleman would have carried the name "welcher" around with him the rest of his life. The words "cinch," "moral," "lead pipe" and a few others not unlike them are used to indicate that a horse cannot lose unless he should fall down.

To win "hands down" is to reach the wire first without effort or "in a bloody canter," as a track follower might observe in his philosophical way. And when they say a bookmaker—the man who lays odds against your judgment—is "rounding" up his book they mean he is trying to get money on some horses which have not been heavily backed, so that no matter who wins his percentage is there just the same.

"Come" means a horse which is catching the leaders very rapidly and "coming again" means one that has done this, then fallen back and suddenly gaining courage and speed makes another dash for the front. Should he jump on to the hind legs of one in the lead he will be said to have "cut him down," and should horse or jockey fall just as they are in sight of the money somebody will probably say, "He came down a cropper."

The vocabulary of the follower of the track is quite extensive and very catching, for the pleasant little dinners that are likely to have lots of such expressions mixed in the idle prattle while the viands are being discussed.—Exchange.

A Remarkable Sight.

There is a natural gas spring in Idaho that is one of the most remarkable sights ever witnessed. It is about 100 miles from Boise City and is at the bottom of a canyon. The rock there seems to be of a porous nature, and there are innumerable small holes and fissures. These are lighted by tourists, who drop matches into them until a space of about an acre in extent is sending forth bright blue flames.—New York Post.

Catarrh AND COLD IN THE HEAD relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder

REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes: "Gentlemen:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering." M. E. FENIMORE, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes: "Gentlemen:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past, and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. I have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 15 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve." PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter. A MISER WORTH $50,000.

The Brooklyn Police Take Steps to Have Bertha May Cared For. A policeman on duty in Lafayette avenue, near Franklin avenue, in Brooklyn, early on Friday morning met an old woman apparently in pitiable destitution.

He was about to take her to the police station to give her shelter when she told him that she was looking for a Mrs. Townsend, who lived in the neighborhood. The policeman found Mrs. Townsend, and the latter said she would take care of the woman, with whom she was well acquainted.

Mr. Townsend escorted the aged recluse to her home yesterday morning and then went around to the Clermont Avenue police station and called the attention of Captain Hardy to the wretched condition of the woman and the necessity of providing for her.

So miserly is the old woman that she will not even buy the food she needs and would starve to death did not a benevolent family in the neighborhood supply her daily with bread and coffee.

A ROMANCE ON WHEELS.

Two Young People Make Love on Bicycles and Are Married in Road Costumes.

It is not often that a bride and bridegroom appear at the altar clad in bicycle costumes to be united for life. That was the case on Tuesday night in Newark, however, when Charles Bader, a well known bicycle rider of that city, and Miss Violet Hervey of Ringoes were married.

Mr. Bader last summer spent most of his idle hours on his wheel, and when he had the time took long jaunts through the country. One of his trips led him to Ringoes, a little village back in the country.

While in the village he staid at the farm of Mr. Hervey. During his visit he became acquainted with the farmer's daughter, Miss Violet, and fell in love with her. Needless to say, it was not long before his wheel bore him toward Ringoes again.

Tuesday night the young couple wheeled to Newark. The Rev. Mr. Haywood, the pastor of Calvary church, had been engaged to perform the ceremony and was waiting when the couple dismounted in front of the church door.

Count Tolstoi and the Americans. Count Tolstoi is lamenting the growth of vicious tendencies in society and in-bred sin in all countries.

"At any rate, not the Americans. To their credit must be put the immense national self love, which cannot exist in an abnormal people. I one day wrote an article on America and the Americans, in which I did not particularly overload the latter with flattery.

My catarrh was very bad. For thirty years I have been troubled with it—tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist advised Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and can say I feel like a new man.

HIS APOLOGY FOR CROSS WORDS.

It Was a Wildcat Scheme, but the Nevada Cowboy Protopiated the Lady. "On my overland trip to San Francisco I was treated to the exhibition of a rough ranchman put very much on his good behavior," said a New York lady.

"Imagine my astonishment at such a summons, which I made no doubt was addressed to me. But I was too much intimidated to be indignant and hastily handed him not only the butter, but everything else within my reach.

"I thanked him and said I would be very glad to see it, as I had never seen one. After dinner, having still 10 minutes to spare, we went to see the wildcat. It was in a rough wooden box with wooden bars, crumpling as far back as it could get, with its eyes gleaming like coals of fire.
