The Common Council.

-George Richel.

The Thomas Concert Monday night was a strong attraction to a number of aldermen and, as a result, but a short session was held. In the absence of president Wines, Ald. Martin was called upon to preside. One of the first matters that came up was a petition from a large majority of the butch. ers in the city asking that no one be allowed to peddle meat in the city with. out first paying a license. The matter was referred to the ordinance committee. H. Cornwell was granted the privilege of laying a sewer from his residence to the main sewer at his own exand referred to the regular water committe of the council. Ald. Brown ofthorized and the mayor appointed J. Kirby, F. D. Horton and R. Leonard, special policemen for the Opera House. At this point Ald. Manly succeeded in getting action taken in regard to the fifth ward branch of the main sewer and bids will be advertised for at once. City Clerk Miller reported that he had disposed of 215 license tags to be worn by the city dogs. He was authorized to issue duplicates when one was lost upon the payment of 25 cents. At this point Pres. Wines who had came in a adjournment was taken instantly.

1 . Thomas Concert.

Between 2,000 and 2,500 people attended the Thomas Concert last Monday night. It was a splendid audience and the music rendered was all that could be asked. The appearance of Mr Thomas on the stage was greeted with hearty applause. Mr. Thomas and his whole company seemed to be at their best. It could not well be otherwise with such a leader as Theodore Thomas, with whom every thing always passes harmoniously. The program selected for Monday night was one especially suited to enable all parts of the Orchestra to appear to the best advantage and every part was rendered with almost absolute perfection. The program rendered was as follows:

Theme and Variations Op. 55. Tsuhaikowsky Overture—Tannhauser. Waldweben Ride of the Walkuries...

The Michigan Alumnus.

The second number of the Michigan Alumnus, enlarged and improved, has made its appearance. This new magazine seems to have struck a popular chord. To be able to enlarge the size and make other improvements is something unusual for the second number of a college publication. The last number contains several valuable articles. The football situation, by G. B. Dygart, University correspondence, E. J. Ottaway, University Musical Society; At the University, and the Annual Report of President Angell, are the principal articles in this issue. This magazine is one that should be supported by every former student of the Uni-

A Noted Lecturer.

The Inland League will have a noted ecturer to address it next Monday night. We refer to the Hon. Elia S. Yovtcheff, of Bulgaria, Mr. Yovtcheff is one of the most prominent men in his native country, having held high official position in the national government. As a keen statesman, a deep thinker, and a brilliant speaker, he has won a reputation second to none in his pense. The report of the special water native country. The attitude which the new Czar will take upon this important question is a world and makes this lecture an especially timely one. The League is to be congratulated upon its success in securing Mr. Yovtcheff and it should be rewarded with a crowded house. Remember the evening, Monday, Nov. 26. Admission, 25 cents.

Ready for Business.

Messrs. Greenwood and Gilmore, of the T., A. A. & N. M. R. R., have received from the shops at Owosso their fine tourist car. These gentlemen few minutes before invited the council had this car rebuilt especially for the to attend the Thomas concert and an use of parties who have occasion to hire a special private car for short of that sort which the patrons of the new trips or tours and who do not feel that they can afford to pay the fifty dollars per day charged by the Pullman have started in the shoe business to stay Company for such cars. This new car is named "The City of Ann Arbor" and here that shall be second to none, if is elegantly fitted up with a parlor fair dealing and courteous treatment with fine plate glass observation windows, a sleeping department with just they want at a moderate price will do as elegant and comfortable beds as may it, and they are confident that it will. be had in any sleeper, with special arrangements for dining tables on which meals can be served from the culinary department adjoining. The car has a lavatory with hot and cold water, wardrobe, lockers and, in fact, everything that a party of one or two dozen could Concert Company in the Inland League wish for in making a tour. The car will be let to parties for twenty dollars per day, the services of a porter being fur- prized by Herr Heberlein. These are nished without extra cost. Forest Fires Burn Mining Towns.

Dispatches from Boulder, Col., says:
A forest fire, which started from a camp fire, has been raging north of the mining camp of Gold Hill, a town of about 500 inhabitants, 15 miles northwest. The timber was as dry as powder, and it was not long before the town was burning. The miners and store keepers soon saw the futility of trying to save the buildings, and sent their wives and children to Boulder while they conveyed as much of their while they conveyed as much of their moveable property as possible into the mine tunnels. The flames utterly destroyed Gold Hill town, and threat-Ward, four miles west, Talcott, Copper Rock and Sunshine. Disastrous Storms in Great Britain.

At Reggio six shocks were distinctly observed. Little damage was done in Reggio, the capital of the province, but there was great loss of life and much damage to property elsewhere in the province. The village of San Procopio, was almost entirely destroyed. Here 60 persons were killed. Forty-seven of these met their death in a church to of these met their death in a church to which they had fled for refuge. At Bagnara seven persons were killed. Eight lost their lives at Mamerliad while many others were injured. The inhabitants are obliged to camp in the open air. At Baguara many of the inhabitants were injured. The damage reported at Tacchini in several other places is very heavy.

Largest Oil Well in the World Just Struck. Kirkbridge Bros., of Toledo, can claim the two largest oil wells in the world. Their Meyers No. 3 is doing 100 barrels an hour, and their Jones No. 2, located four miles east, came in good for 300 barrels an hour. Such a gusher had not been expected and the tankage available was wholly inade-quate to take care of the well's output. As a result the ground around the well to a depth of four feet was covered with the oil. The well is in territory which has been drilled repeatedly without yielding any more than a 10-barrel well.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. Twenty-first Annual Convention Held at Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland, O., has had the honor of entertaining those bright women who are the leaders of the great "white ribbon" crusade—the twenty-first an-nual national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Miss Frances E. Willard called the convention to order in Music hall with over 500 delegates and thousands of spectators present. In her address Miss Willard referred to the overthrow London: A dispatch from Shanghai says Gen. Wei has been beheaded in consequence of the defeat the Chinese army suffered at Ping Yang.

From Tien Tsin: Chinese reports emanating from Port Arthur are to the effect that the Chinese still hold two forts at Talien Wan, and have repulsed the Japanese after desperate fighting. The Japanese are said to be closing gradually around the Chinese position. At Port Arthur every preparation has year were in excess of several previous years, and the dues showed an increase in paid-up membership over last year. Besides receipts shown by the treasurer's books, assets to the amount of $6,800 had been donated in interestbearing notes and stocks. The corresponding secretary's report was also very encouraging. She said: We have now a following of between 400,000 from Kinchow were mistaken for the enemy by the Chinese troops and were fired upon. Hundreds of them were killed. Col. The first item of new business was against the Tonghaks have joined the rebels, whose numbers are increasing daily. The country south of Seoul is in a state of great turmoil. Advices from Fusan, Korea, under date of November 16, state that a battle has been fought between Japanese troops and rebellious Tonghaks, in which the former were victorious.

The first item of new business was the adoption of an amendment to article 1, section 1, of the union by-laws, to read: To allow the president to appoint one of the state vice-president as vice-president at-large who may preside at union and executive committee meetings. The reports of the "Y"—young woman's—work was especially pleasing.

A new feature was the annual sermon, which has heretofore been delivered by women, but which this year was by President Bashford, of the Ohio Wesleyan university, who took the "Kingdom of Heaven on Earth" as his theme, and said it was the aim of the W. C. T. U. to bring it about by solving the problems which confront our civilization. After the sermon a rousing suffrage meeting was held, presided over by Susan B. Anthony.

In one of the meetings the fact that Mrs. Cleveland had christened the new ocean steamer St. Louis with champagne instead of water was spoken of, and that lady was criticised for not being courageous enough to stand by her convictions, she being a white ribboner.

General Assembly K. of L.

The general assembly of the Knights of Labor was held at New Orleans with one of the largest meetings of the order for several years. The sessions were held behind locked doors and only surmises could be made as to the character of the discussions. In his address General Master Workman Sovereign advised a co-alition with the A. R. U. and all labor organizations. His resume of the Pullman strike terminated in severe criticism of Maj.-Gen. Schofield and the recommenda-tions of that officer for an increase of the army. He urged that the assembly take strong grounds against an in-crease of the military force of the nation and that they "advocate a de-crease in the regular army and the abolition of the state militia, for from them are coming to the surface the sentiments of a military despotism." He also made a sharp criticism of the Coal Miner's Wages Reduced.

The operators in the Clearfield, Pa., coal district have taken the initiative in reducing the price of coal mining. The Bell, Lewis & Yates Mining company have posted a notice the rate in their mines would be reducted 5 per cent per ton to 35 cents. About 2,000 men are affected and there is talk of a strike. The Berwind-White Mining company in the same district, employ-ing 6,500 men, will probably follow this example of reduction and a gen-eral lowering of the scale rate in the districts will result. The operators in the Pittsburgh district have threatened to make reductions, and will now probably be forced to this end in order to compete with coal from the Clear-

Heartfelt Compliment from the Famous French Violinist.

I have met only a very few artists turned to her home in Ludington last like Herr Heberlein. He is one of the very best 'cellists I know and that ever came to America. It is to be wished that the attention of the musical world of this county will recognize his ability in full justice, as he is deserving HENRI MARTEAU.

Herman Heberlein.

[Translated from the German.]

It is a great pleasure for me to comply with the request of Herr Herman Heberlein (Solo 'Cellist of the Koenigsberg Grand Orchestra) to repeat to him in writing the compliment I paid him for his masterly performance in Koenigsberg, Prussia, a year ago. Herr Heberlein then played the difficult double concerto for violin, 'cello and orchestra, by J. Brahms, op. 102, under my personal direction. Herr Heber-lein acquitted himself bravely of the difficulties before him, exhibiting a technique and also a conception of the music seldon met with. In my opinion music seldon met with. In my opinion Her Heberlein may well claim a position where music of the highest order is performed. My best wishes for Herr Hebelein. Hans von Bulow. Koenigsberg, May 4, 1891.

Miss Katherine Ruth Heyman, Planiste.

Miss Katherine Heyman rendered the piano solo, "Tarantelle," by Liszt, in a style and finish scarcely expected from so young a lady. Her execution was brilliant, and her interpretation of the piece, together with her grace in performing, made this number one of of the finest of the evening.-Chicago

Customs Officer Fred A. Buzzell, at Port Huron, captured two alleged smugglers and seized about 1,500 pounds of celluloid, worth about $1,500, which was smuggled over the river to escape a duty of 50 cents per pound. Henry Cumphrey, a well-known diver, and Charles King, a drayman, are the parties under arrest. The celluloid is in six cases weighing about 250 pounds each. It was brought over in rowboats at night, but unfortunately one case foll overheard at tunately one case fell overboard at the dock, and it was while Cumphrey was getting this case out of the river that he was arrested. The five cases had been taken to the depot and were to be shipped to a firm in Chicago. It is thought that those arrested are members of a large gang of smugglers who have been successfully smuggling not only celluloid but opium. John Kerwin was later arrested as one of Escaping gas at the residence of William Hammond of Bay City, was the cause of the death of Kate Connors, aged 22, and the placing of Nina Hammond, aged 13, next to the grave. Both occupied the same room. A new coal stove was placed in the house and the pipe was put in by Hammond himself. It appears that he ran it so far into the chimney that there was no outlet for the gas. Miss Connors complained about the way the stove was acting before she went to stove was acting before she went to bed, but did not make an investigation. In the morning it was discovered that the house was full of gas and smoke, but it was not considered serious. The Free and Accepted Masons of Pontiac are seriously thinking of erecting a temple. If they conclude to build they will put up a building that will be an ornament to the city and costing about $25,000. They have a fund of $8,000 on hand now for building nurnoses.

A fire broke out in the Thomas A fire broke out in the Thomas block, in Burt & Moody's jewelry store, at Battle Creek, which was soon subdued by the fire department, but caused a heavy loss to that firm by smoke and to the stock of the Boston clothing store. The damage will amount to $10,000.

Warren Martin, Lou Smith and Will Hinckle recently stole a pair of old shoes worth about 75 cents at Union City. They were arrested, tried and found guilty. Smith and Hinckle got 60 days each in the Detroit House of Correction and Martin went to the county jail for 30 days. It cost the county about $250 in costs. A SHIP TO BE PROUD OF

The Mammoth American Liner St. Louis Launched-Christened by Mrs. Cleveland

The magnificent steamship St. Louis of the American line, was successfully launched at Cramps' shipyards at Philadelphia. The affair was witnessed by fully 50,000 people. Mrs. Cleveland broke the traditional bottle of champagne on the bow of the noble ship as it glided down the ways, at the same time saying: "I christen thee St. Louis." In this instance and for the first time since the ceremony was ob-served at Cramps' shipyard the cham-pagne was of American manufacture. After the launch the invited guests to the number of 400 were entertained at a lunch in the office of the superin-

a lunch in the office of the superintendent, where President Cleveland made a short address.

The St. Louis is chiefly remarkable in that she is the first modern merchant-marine structure of anything appreaching her dimensions built in the United States. She will also be the pioneer in what promises to become in time a spirited coutest between the present English built ocean greyhounds and those which will be turned out from American shippards. When completed she will take her place among the vessels owned by the International Navigation company, which include the Paris, New York and St. Paul. More than 6,000 tons of steel have already been worked into the mammoth steamer, which, when completed, will exceed in length and tonnage both the New York and Paris and equal that of the other great transatlantic liners. Her length over all is 554 feet; length between perpendiculars, 535 feet; extreme breadth, 63 feet; depth molded, 42 feet; number of decks, 5; depth of water bottom, 4 feet; number of principal watertight compartments, 17; distance of collision bulkheads abatt of stem, 33 feet.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

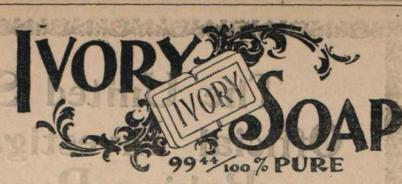

New York: Dun's weekly trade review says: In nearly all branches of business a gradual improvement appears and the hopeful feeling continues. It will take time to lift business out of its depression, and the progress made, if less than the sanguine expected, is at least encouraging. The decision to offer $50,000,000 bonds for replenishment of the treasury reserve was, by bankers, generally approved. It is generally assumed that the bonds will be taken at once. The effect is less easy to anticipate, for the formal announcement that after a general reconstruction of revenue laws, it is still found necessary to borrow largely tends to raise doubt about financial provisions for the future. Manufactures of woolens have good orders for this time of the year. The cotton industry shows more improvement than any other, but no increase in demand for goods. Speculative markets have been stimulated in part by the call for bonds; wheat, corn and oats have advanced. The failures of last week were 270 in the United States against 23 last year, and 38 in Canada against 36 last year.

NEW YORK: Bradstreet's trade review says: Perhaps the most conspicuous favorable feature of the general trade situation is found in numerous reports from merchants and manufacturers throughout the country of a disposition to regard the business outlook more encouagingly and with increased confidence in an early improvement in trade. Even in many portions of the south and southwest, advices from the interior are that the country merchant is doing an increased volume of business, based on favorable weather and large crops. This is the more striking in view of the continued reports of the unfavorable effect on trade in the south and the low price of cotton. The favorable change in the movement of prices continues with higher quotations on staples. The leaders in the wool trade say prices have reached the lowest figure and the increased demand points to an advance, although the competition with Australia is felt.

THE MURDER MANIA

IT SOME TIMES SEIZES THE HUMAN FORCES.

THE STORY OF JOHN PARKER'S CRIMINAL DEEDS.

He Could Not Resist the Temptation to Use His Knife-A Tragic Scene En-Trial.

murder some times takes possession of individual human forces, is proved by the case of a St. Louis eriminal whose career is recited by the pen of Charles P. Johnson, ex-governor of Missouri, as follows:

John Parker was a local politician of considerable influence as a ward organizer. I first defended him in 1878. About 12 o'clock one night he was in a saloon on Cherry street not far from the river. He was drunk and got into his wife and foreshadowing what he George F. Rohr, formerly mayor of Arthe most trivial quarrel with a friend. The friend left. Parker left a few minutes later. It was not long before the man came running in, crying that he had been cut. The evidence went to show that Parker had followed him, and in the shadows of a building had stealthily crept up behind, driven a knife in the man and then had run away. The man lived nearly a year and Parker's influence prevented prosecution, but after his death Parker was indicted for murder. His father was a man of considerable prominence and employed me in the defense and the long time intervening between the cutting and the death, coupled with the fact that the cutting was done with an ordinary pocket knife, brought about an acquittal.

In preparing the case for trial I became cognizant of the characteristics and peculiarities of my client and became impressed with the idea that Parker's mind was affected. My opinion was that the man was afinclined to attack men without proviand had acceptably filled numerous positions about the city hall, no one agreed with me in my analysis. After the trial he married a very pretty girl, one of the most devoted wives I ever knew. Parker worshiped her, though his political affiliations caused him to have dissipated habits.

my mind, when I picked up a newspaper one morning in the summer of 1882 and read of another tragic crime that Parker had committed. The night | wife on one side of him and his sister before he had been drinking with a on the other. I directed Mr. Jones to stranger in a saloon. The barkeeper take the name of the new witness and heard some words exchanged, but send out a subpœna. Jones reached could not distinguish whether friendly over the table to get a pen, and at the or otherwise. Parker ran out of the same instant I noticed Parker's sister back door and the man with whom he make a movement under her shawl. had been drinking groaned and fell to the floor. There was a fearful gash in just stepped over the threshold, when his side. He died in a few hours. As I was startled by a shot. father came to me and beseeched me to defend the murderer. I refused to do so. In the first place, they were unable to pay a satisfactory fee and, it being a second offense, I realized that great difficulties stood in the way. The with horror, his finger convulsively wife would not accept my refusal. with horror, his finger convulsively pressed the trigger. There was anwife would not accept my refusal. On investigation, I found that the incidents attending the tragedy were almost identical with the one of a few years before, with even stronger proofs of homicidal mania. However, the facts were hardly sufficient to warrant making such a defense, a defense that is always difficult to present, and I determined that the best I could expect to do was to try and save him from the gallows. This decision I kept to myself. Parker never once thought his case hopeless. Like most men of his class he was of a very sanguine temperament and the ease with which I procured his acquittal in the other case led him to presume that he would again be set free.

During my consultations with him I became more convinced than ever of his affliction and I even warned the guards at the jail to keep a close watch over him. I was afraid he might do riolence to other prisoners. His wife continued her devotion, visiting the jail on visiting days, through rain and shine, frequently coming to my house to see what encouragement I could give her and rendering me every possible assistance in gathering testimony.

In fact, the interest I took in the was aroused by her trust in him and her belief that if released from prison her influence could control him.

The case was set for trial in the January term of 1883. The day it was called one important witness was absent and the case was laid over until the next day. Parker's wife was in court with her baby in her arms and his sister was there also. Parker was suffering and weak from illness. He asked me to let the deputy sheriff give acted in Court on the Day of His him a drink of whisky, which, with permission of the court, was done, the prisoner going into a little ante room adjoining the court room to drink it. I HAT MANIA FOR had no idea at the time what the man was meditating, but am fully con-vinced now that his reason for going into the little room was to see its interior arrangements and to shape his plans for the tragedy that followed. On his return to jail that afternoon Parker handed a letter to some one to deliver to his sister, and in that letter stated that a brother of the man he the final tragedy. had killed was in attendance at court and was liable to do him injury. He requested his sister to bring a loaded revolver to court the next day in order A School Teacher Kills a Farmer in that he might be prepared to defend himself. bewitching incongruities, are the order of the day. Filmy chiffon and spidery lace in conjunction with heavy furs and velvets, gleaming passementeries against somber cloths and all sorts of odd combinations are popular.

A gown which unites about as many of the fashionable elements as possible was shown in an uptown establishment the other day. It was an imported frock, and in spite of the new tariff it bore a price mark which put it beyond the ordinary woman's hope of possession. It was of cheviot. The material was of two shades of brown-tobacco leaf and a somewhat lighter shade, sprinkled with pin dots in turquoise blue. The bodice was of brown velvet, made with a very full, overhanging vest. The under sleeves were of cheviot and the upper ones of velvet. Bands and lines of jet gleamed about the bodice. Epaulettes of heavy cream lace gave a finishing touch of contrast to the frock.

The Hair vs. Insanity.

It was formerly supposed that people of pale complexion, especially if the hair was a pronounced blonde, fine and thin, were specially liable to mental excitement and brain disorder. Statistics which have recently been compiled prove this to be another of the grave errors of the old-time "specialist" At the Kirkbridge, England, asvlum out of a total of 265 patients only one has red hair, and only three either light hair or fair complexion. In the New York, London and Paris hospitals for the insane the same proportion holds good. Exactly why dark-haired persons are more liable to mental diseases than those of other shades of color has not yet been explained .- St. Louis Republic.

Haunted!

A haunted house in these practical and unromantic days is something of a rarity, but an individual haunted with the idea that his ailment is incurable is a personage frequently met with. Disbelief in the ability of medicine to Admiral Drake, when a lad, at the beginning of his first engagement cure is only a mild form of monomania, was observed to shake and tremble although in some cases repeated failvery much, and being rallied upon it, ures to obtain relief from many difvery much, and being rallied upon it, ferent sources would almost seem to justify the doubt. Hostetter's Stomach observed, with a presence of mind (or, at all events, of humor) in which even Nelson was lacking: "My flesh Bitters has demonstrated its ability to overcome dyspepsia, constipation, liver many and great dangers into which my resolute and undaunted head will achievements in the curative line ought at least to warrant its trial by any one troubled with either of the above ailments, even although his previous efforts to obtain remedial aid have been fruitless. Used with per-sistence, the Bitters will conquer the when the most strict advocates of temperance are obliged to use some sort of most obstinate cases.

Literature of the Day.

Rosewater and romance are generilly supposed to be already pretty plosely related, but an ingenious mind has contrived to unite them in yet another bond which is as novel as it is audacious. Italian literateurs were recently invited by a German perfumer, who does a large business in Italy, to supply him with a number of short stories, the most important condition being that the writers should introduce, "in the most delicate man-ner possible," the essential merits of the German perfumes. Over a thousand manuscripts have been sent in, and some of them are reported to be from the pens of well-known literary men, such as Signor Mantegazzs

For Sweet Charity.

The income of merely the principal charitable institutions having their headquarters in London amounts to over £7,000,000 per annum, or $35,-000,000. That represents a sum equal to half the whole capital invested in the bank of England. It exceeded the total revenues of all the British colonies together in 1884, and it is as much as the present total annual revenues of all the British colonies, excluding New South Wales, Victoria and Canada. If there is added to this sum the income of the smaller charities the total benevolence paid voluntarily in the metropolis does not fall far short of £10,000,000, or $50,000, -

Once used, Dr. Pierce's Pellets are altion, having permanently cured a very bad case of that disease with his Thrush tion, pills, billiousness, and headache.

The powerful action of this medicine upon the blood expels every impurity, and by so doing cures catarrh and gives health to the entire organism.

THIS IS IN ENGLAND. Where a Man Isn't Allowed to Put Flowers on His Mother's Grave.

The other day an Anglican clergyman prosecuted a young woman for trespassing on "his" churchyard and damaging "his" hay growing therein by visiting her sister's grave Howling Caper, Doncherknow-Wit, and placing flowers thereon. Commenting on this incident London Truth says: "By two sentimental fictions the churchyard is God's acre and the church the national or the people's church. But in dry law God's acre is the incumbent's freehold, and ITH HER PUTTER the only right of the people in the 'national' churchyards is the right to be buried there. Next to the right of a vicar to the grass growing on a grave I think the most obnoxious privilege to the beneficed clergy is their right to levy toll on monuments in churchyards. The other day a gentleman desired to place a stone

Their Occupation Gone.

A class of men afflicted by the hard times in London and Paris is the army of professional promoters. The hotels where Americans most do congregate are thronged with these men, who in other days have been prosperous and cut a dash socially, politically or in a business way, but who now have a difficulty in making both ends meet. These men, some bravely keeping up appearances, but others reduced to the shabby-genteel stage, eagerly scan the passenger lists of arriving steamers from America and descend upon the acquaintance and associates of former days, anxious to offer their services in return for anything from a loan of £10 to a good square meal.

"But evil is wrought by want of thought.

As well as want of heart." By want of thought mothers allow daughters to become frail and puny. Over-study in girls induces aterine disorders and weaknesses, and blights their future happiness as wives and mothers. Joined to proper hygienic care, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a priceless remedy in such ailments, its value becoming even more apparent every year. Using it, the apparent every year. Using it, the flesh and spirits, loosing those deathly he daches, tormenting backaches, lan guor, dejection, and other symptoms of unctional irregularities and nervous debility. It never harms the most delicate girl.

THE POMPANO.

He Is a Frisky Jumper as Well as Delicious Food Fish.

One of the most delicious food fisnes of the semi-tropics is the pompano, says the New York Sun. In size and shape he is not unlike the flounder, he swims edgewise instead of flat on his belly. In color his scales are gray, white, grayish blue and golden yellow. and when he leaps from the water, as he frequently does, the glinting of the golden scales in the sunlight forms a beautiful sight. A traveler just re-turned from lake Worth, on the lower coast of Florida, writes: "As we approached the mouth of the canal the fish appeared to be more numerous, and they made long jumps into the air all about us. They were chiefly mullet and pompano, and once I counted five in the air at the same time.

"Before we reached the dredgeboat, six miles from the foot of the lake, we had four pompano, all of which had jumped from the water and landed accidentally in the bottom of our boat. One of them struck our boatman, Ben Able, in the breast, and the blow was of sufficient force to nearly wind him for a minute. Since ice factories have been established along the Indian river and on lake Worth pompano are shipped to the Northern markets in large quantities. They 'run' throughout the year, but make the best eating during the winter months."

FOOLED BY A BAD EYE. The Battered Man Bothered the Doctor

Considerably. A man with one glass eye and the other eye badly battered caused Dr. Simpson no small amount of trouble at the San Francisco receiving hospital.

He ente red the hospital to have the battered eye trea ted, and after the doctor had lanced it and done the other things necessary in order to reduce the swelling he carefully tied it up in half a yard of bandages. Then "Now, I guess that will turn out all right, but you want to be mighty careful of it. You can go home now."

The man thanked the doctor for his kindness, but made no effort to move, so Dr. Simpson again said: "I'm through with you. Why don't you go home?" "I can 't move," the man replied.

"Can't move? What's the matter with you? Are you drunk?"

"No; I can't see." "You are not blind, are you?"

"Nope." "Then what is the matter?"

"The other eye is glass." Dr. Simpson made no further inquiries, but quietly led the man into a ward and put him to bed.

Mechanical Progress

In the year 1883, when the first contract was signed for the increase of the United States navy, there was not a single mill in the country that had ever made plates required in the specifications; there was no foundry suitable to turn out the work, no forges for the same, and no plant that could make the armor plates. Since that time there have been brought forward shops and yards that can produce any quantity and of the highest quality, any work in steel, or brass or iron that the new navy demands. -Hardware.

Europe Dotted with His Magnificent Castles-The Twentieth Century Castle W. S. MOORE. at Eichorn-Chateau in France and Mansion in Hungary. REMOVED.

ESIDES BEING one of the greatest gener financiers, ous philanthropists and richest men of all Europe, Baron Hirsch possesses an additional qualifi acquaintances, namely, that of being the very perfection of a host and successful entertainer. His shooting parties at his Moravian place, the twelfth century castle at Eichorn; his modern country seat of St. Johann, in Hungary; his chateau of Beauregard, in France; his mansion in Rue de l'Elysee, at Paris, and his town house in London are famed throughout the length and breadth of Europe for the perfection of their organization, the abundance of the sport and for the lavish hospitality of the baron. It is generally in the early part of August that the baron arrives at Eichorn for the autumn, and as soon as the shooting season opens there is a constant succession of guests from every part of the world. Just at the present moment he has with him the duke and duchess of Devonshire, the peculiar. He evidently kept fish on earl of Dudley, Lord de Grey and a number of other personages of light occasions, the gentleman says, comand leading. Eichorn is perched on a rocky crag commanding a glorious panorama of the surrounding country.

BARON HIRSCH.

Baron Hirsch, who is but little over 60 years of age and wonderfully well preserved, rises early in the morning, while the majority of his guests are still sound asleep, and spends an hour in exercising with Indian clubs, dumbbells and aerostats before bathing and dressing. He then drinks a cup of black coffee and eats a slice of dry which he can see the sun rise in all its splendor across the low lying plain at they bought it so the foot of the mountain. At 6 o'clock generously is that in the morning he receives his secretary, M. Furth, and before the general on the receipts and breakfast bell sounds has got through has staid there formidable batch of correspondence. Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific interviewed his house steward and setinterviewed his house steward and setcise locality of the day's sport.

Dressed, as usual, with scrupulous care, his costume is essentially English and exceedingly quiet. The baroness and her two adopted sons usually join the shooting party for luncheon in the middle of the day, wherever it may happen to be in the forest, and the sportsmen do not return home until 6 in the evening. After tea and a short siesta they sit down at 8 to a dinner cooked by the baron's famous chef. who enjoys a European celebrity and accompanies the baron everywhere. In striking contrast with the medieval castle of Eichorn is the baron's modern mansion of St. Johann, in the heart of Hungary, about half way between Vienna and Pesth, whither the after a couple of months spent in Moravia. On alighting at the station the guests find typical Hungarian carriages, with servants arrayed in Magyar costume, awaiting them, and drive along a magnificent ten mile road constructed over a sandy stretch of country and passing over no fewer than thirty-six bridges to the village of St. Johann. This road was constructed by the baron and has naturally caused him to be looked upon in the district as a national benefactor.

The carriages halt beneath the pillared portico of a huge structure in the rococo style of architecture, and the guests find themselves surrounded by infinitely greater degree of luxury and brilliancy than when at the more somber castle of Eichorn. The pict-

lutely priceless "Holy Family" by Van Dyk hanging in the library

The baron's chateau of Beauregard, near Paris, is likewise somewhat rococo in style, and dates from the reign of Louis XIV. King Louis XV was very fond of staying there and it is on record that on one occasion while in pursuit of a stag he rode through the grand salon on horseback.

In 1849 Napoleon, at that time president of the French republic, purchased it from Gen. le Marquis de Galliffet and presented it to that Miss Howard who was not only his Egeria but also his financial backer until he became emperor. On marrying Eugenie de Montijo, Napoleon made this chateau the cause for conferring upon his belle amie the title of Comtesse de Beauregard. On her death Miss Howard bequeathed the place to her son by the emperor, who bore the title of Comte de Rechevet, and the latter sold it in 1879 to the eccentric Duchesse de Beauffremont.

STORED HIS GAME.

An Indian Hunter Who Placed Five Deer in His Cold Storage Vault.

A gentleman who was at work at the Howard slate quarry in Willimantic, or "No. 8," as it was then called, twenty-five years ago, says deer were as plenty then in the woods north of Sebec lake as any one could ask for. The slate company had a large numbor of men employed and boarded them in camps, the same as lumbermen board their crews in the woods. To keep the camps supplied with fish and meat they kept a hunter employed every day. The supply never ran short, but some of his methods were call in the winter season. On several pany came in from Bangor unexpectedyl late in the evening. But they had only to say trout to Stone, the hunter, and he would start off into the woods to return in fifteen minutes with a handsome string of fish, apparently just taken from the water.

He would bring in deer in the winter in much the same way. His manner of doing this the gentleman explains, for he went with him once and learned the secret. He took the deer sled out to bring in game, and the workman went along to help haul it. They did not go very far into the forest, when they came to a lot of evergreen boughs heaped upon the snow. Here Stone stopped. Lifting the boughs, he tipped the pile over, and the looker on, who wondered what he was up to, was scared nearly out of his senses when a big buck bounded up out of the hole and fell flat on his side. His feet were tethered so he could not stand. Stone had caught him, tethered him and buried him alive under the brush and snow against future emergencies, This was his system of cold storage.

Blanche Willis Howard.

Blanche Willis Howard has written n all nine books since she stepped before the public as a story maker, some of them stronger and more elaborate than her first, but none probably quite so affectionately welcomed and delightedly read as that same initial one
-"One Summer." She wrote it to earn bread in a small turret veranda, from money to go abroad, and the only reason her American readers are sorry > generously is that she did go abroad pretty much all the time since. She has lived for years at Stuttgart, where she edits a magazine, writes books, and, being now a married woman, BLANCHE HOWARD. conducts the education of several pupils at her home. Miss Howard has written some verse, not much, however, as she has wisely recognized that her prose faculty is many times greater than her metrical powers.

Prices in Prayers.

A gentleman in Piscataquis county who likes a joke, although he has no purpose of making light of serious things, tells a story of an odd character in his neighborhood who mixed up eccentricity, religious fervor and profanity after a most singular fashion. One fall, when the snow was too thin for snowshoeing, the "character" got very uneasy, as he was anxious to go a hunting. He fussed about for several days and at last fell to praying fervent-"Snow, Lord send snow! Send $5 worth," was the burden of his supplication. That very night the storm struck a regular blizzard, and before it was over the snow lay three feet deep everywhere. As it was as light as feathers, it was no better for snowshoeing than when there was none, and the disgusted hunter looked out of doors ruefully. "II I had blamed stuff was so thunderin' cheap," blamed stuff was so thunderin' cheap," "I he exclaimed in his vexation, wouldn't have prayed for more than a dollar's worth."—Lewiston Journal.

A Clerical War Story.

Dr. Jesse Bowman Young, editor of the Central Christian Advocate, has written a book on what he saw as a boy in the army. Dr. Young tells the story of his war days under the pretense of narrating the adventure of a certain fictitious person, Jack San-derson by name, who was too young to enlist in 1861, but who went off to the battlefields with his uncle, who was an officer in the Union army. While with his uncle Dr. Young witnessed many thrilling episodes which did not frighten him, but, on the contrary, were spurs which goaded him to enlist in a Pennsylvania regiment before he was 18 years old, the required age of recruits. Dr. Young served with distinction to the close of the war, and he had an officer's commission when he returned to private life.
