A CHAPTER OF THE DOINGS OF MICHIGANDERS.

Tramps Shot Marshal McIntyre in a Hot

Fight in Which 30 Shots Were Fired at Vassar-Detroit Young Lady Suicides

by Throwing Herself Before a Train.

Hot Battle With Tramps.

As the result of an attempt to arrest all time. a gang of seven tramps at Vassar four men were wounded. Marshal Arthur McIntyre, fatally; Deputy Marshal M. Krisler, severely; two tramps, names unknown.

While a special freight train on the M. C. R. R. was switching in the Vassar yards the trainmen discovered that three of their overcoats had been stolen from the way car, and notified Marshal McIntyre, who with Deputies Krisler and Burgess, went at once to the yards and found seven men barri-caded in a box car. Marshal McIntyre forced the door open and told the men to come out. One of them rushed to the door and kicked the marshal in the breast at the same time calling him vile names The other men in the car opened fire on the officers. They then opened the door on the other side of the car from the officers, and four of the hobos jumped out and ran around the end of the train and came up back of the officers and opened fire upon the officers with their revolvers, firing at every step. Fully 30 shots were exchanged. During the fight and while Marshal

Melntyre was trying to handcuff one of the desperadoes, another of his pals rushed up and placing the muzzle of his revolver within a few inches of the marshal's head pulled the trigger, the bullet entering the marshal's head at the left temple Deputy Krisler at the left temple. Deputy Krisler was badly cut across the face and chin, also on the back of the head and the left arm. The tramps then fled. The sound of the the melee brought a number of citizens to the spot and in a short time a well armed and deter-mined posse was in full pursuit. They captured four of the rascals, who gave their names as J. J. Hall, aged 26, Akron, Ohio; Charles Robinson, Syra-cuse, N. Y.; Frank Walton, aged 22, Buffalo, N. Y. and Ed. Marsh, aged 15, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Upper Penninsula Homestead Land Cases. Washington: The federal supreme court has decided the homestead cases in Michigan, the opinion being declared by Justice Brewer, all the other justices concurring. The decision is a victory for the homesteaders, and the effect is to confirm the title of upper peninsula settlers if the settle-ment was made prior to May 1, 1888. The decision covers three test cases. The principal one of the three is that of the Lake Superior Ship Canal, Railof the Lake Superior Ship Canal, Rail-road and iron company against Walter A. Cunningham, and is decided in his favor on the ground that the canal company took nothing by reason of its original selection. The original title of the canal company is held to be absolutely void, but as to all the lands within the railroad limit not covered by homestead settlement of May 1 by homestead settlement of May 1, 1888, its title is held to be confirmed by the act of March 2, 1889. Michigan's State Troops.

Adjt.-Gen. Eaton has submitted to Gov. Rich his report for the biennial period ending Sept. 30. He reports that the total strength of the Michigan National Guard is 2,896 there being 192 National Guard is 2,896 there being 192 commissioned officers and 2,704 enlisted men. This force is divided into five regiments and 40 companies. The opinion is expressed that no better brigade can be found in any of the states. Attention is called to the need for a full campaign equipment. The present practice of high living at en-campments is condemned. The report campments is condemned. The report concludes with the recommendation that an appropriation be made for the state naval brigade, which promises to prove a valuable acquisition to the military system.

Soldiers' Monument at Ypsilanti.

Ypsilanti will soon have a monument erected in memory of her fallen heroes. The matter started with the Woman's kelief Corps. Hearing of the proposed undertaking, Mrs. Mary A. President Angell, of the University of Michigan, in giving his opinion of football, says he heartily approves of the game, both because it tends to the development of courage and discip-line, and because it is conducive to the formation of regular habits, through its example exercising a salutary influence on the morals of the students.

A strong effort is now being made in West Bay City toward annexation to Bay City. The Tribune published the opinions of leading taxpayers on the subject, and they were almost all for consolidation. It is believed that a bill be introduced at the January matting of the lociclustry prints the meeting of the legislature uniting the two cities, and steps in that direction will be taken within a few weeks.

Grand Rapids has a practical shortage of $80,000 in her eity funds, although the new levy of taxes has just been collected. The city recently enlarged her limits greatly, and the increased cost was not made anywhere near even by the increased taxes col-lected. The legislature will be asked to raise the limit of taxation, and for an enabling act under which the city may borrow enough money on bonds.

The jury in the Burpee case at Corunna disagreed, and has been dis-charged after being out over thirty hours. The cost to the county will reach $1,500. Fifty years ago 13 people met in the city hall of Detroit and organized the First Congregational church of Detroit. Three of these same people sat on the platform of their new and beautiful church edifice at the corner of Wood-ward and Forest avenues at the golden anniversary and joined in the songs and prayers which helped to commemand prayers which hered to commen-orate the day. The others of the 13 have gone to their reward, but the little society which they helped to form half a century ago has grown to be one of the strongest church organizations in the city.

The United States and Japanese Treaty Ready for Ratification-Chicago Janitor Brutally Murdered-Two Tramps Killed in a Fight-Items.

Our Treaty With Japan.

Washington: The full text of the treaty of the United States with Japan, ecognizing the latter as a modern. enlightened nation, has been made public. Running throughout the new treaty are the concessions recognizing Japan's courts and laws as ample for Americans as well as natives. This is the chief feature of the treaty. The old consular courts in which the U. S. consuls tried cases at Japanese treaty ports, are abandoned. Instead of them all cases, civil and criminal, in which an American is concerned, will be tried by the native courts. The right of Japan to make her own tariff laws is also recognized. The United States secures many sub-stantial advantages. The missionaries, who make up such a very large class in Jaman are guaranteed freedom of in Japan, are guaranteed freedom of worship and protection in that wor-ship. The main concession, however, is that of Article 2, by which Japan is opened up to American commerce. Heretofore Americans have been restricted to a few treaty ports of Japan. They could not reside or carry on business or even travel in the interior. However, every corner of the country is opened to Americans. They can establish business and manufactures, lease lands, etc. It is the opening of the heart of Japan, hitherto inaccessible, to American enterprise and commerce. In giving the Japanese similar right to settle throughout the United States, care has been taken to provide that their coming must be subject to our alien labor and immigration laws. Without doubt the treaty will be ratified by the senate as soon as reached.

A Most Atrocious Murder.

The dead body of A. D. Barnes, jan-itor of the Hiawatha building at 258 Thirty-seventh street, Chicago, was although he fears for his life's safety. found jammed into a packing case that there was no spark-arrester on which had been thrust into a hole be-the tug. The case has been tried twice neath the sidewalk on Sonth Park ave-nue, between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets. The body bore over a score of ugly wounds, half of them sufficient to cause death. The wounds had evidently been inflicted with both the sufficient to cause death. The wounds had evidently been inflicted with both the cutting edge and the blunt side of an ax, and covered the body from the right temple down to the knees. In order to force the body in the legs had been bent under the trunk and the right leg had been broken above the knee in order to facilitate the packing operation. Within a few hours after the discovery of the body two men named Jordan and Jersey and a woman named Mahoney, with whom Barnes had been intimate, were under arrest and the woman promptly confessed that Jordan had killed the man; that she had helped remove the traces of the crime in the basement of the flats, and that Jordan and Jersey had disposed of the body. Jordan corrobor-ated the story, both seeming very in-different as to their position.

Two Killed in a Fight Between Tramps. In a fight between tramps in a box car on a B. & O. train near Fostoria, O., two were killed and another fatally injured. The murder was not discovered until the train reached the city. The injured man made the following statement: "My name is Henry Harris, marshal has tried to get the bumboat and my two companions are named Henry Reesh and Arthur E. Brown. boarded the freight to strike out and look for work. When we got to Desh-ler, about 25 miles west of Fostoria, four men hoarded survey of Fostoria, four men boarded our car and made a demand for our money. We had a fight and they commenced shooting. I think the men left the car at Deshler again. They got $12 in money from Free Silver Conference Slimly Attended. The free silver conference which was called to meet at Lansing was was called to meet at Lansing was somewhat of a failure. The call was issued by Thomas E. Barkworth, of Jackson, and others and cne of the absent patriots was Mr. Barkworth. Those who comprised the convention were: Congressman Whiting, St. Clair. Willard Stearns, Adrian; John B. W. OSOOTH, EZTA Dolige, ex-senator Champion and Harry Havens, Lansing, Geo. P. Hummer, called the meeting to order. Kyrn Dykema was placed in the chair. Willard Stearns was chosen secretary and then a committee on resolutions was appointed. During the accommittee scheme covered for the committee's absence several free silver speeches were made.

The resolutions submitted by the committee and adopted demanded the committee and adopted demanded the coinage of a dollar of 412½ grains; free coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1; that the Democratic state central committee reorganize the party upon these lines within 30 days and if this is not done that the arow and if this is not done that the execu-tive committee of this conference call a state convention or take some other action to effect the purposes of this conference.

A Witness' Strange Story of Abduction. Edward Bennett, witness in the sen-sational case of Montgomery, Chamsational case of Montgomery, Cham-pagne & Co. vs. The Muskegon Boom-ing company, told a remarkable story of having been spirited away in the in-terest of the defendants. The plaintiffs want $30,000 damages for lumber and docks all syed to have been set on fire by one of the booming company's tugs. Everything hinged on whether there was a spark arrester. Bennett declares that after he was subponaed, in March, 1893, H. O. Lange and Detective John F. Brakeman kept him in Chicago at F. Brakeman kept him in Chicago at good wages. He was recognized by Muskegon men and was again spirited away, this time to Nova Scotia. He was induced to burn some damaging letters and received, altogether, $1,160.

As Bad as An Eviction in Ireland A most 'high-handed proceeding, though strictly within the law, has developed at Orange, Ionia county. George Hinman had purchased the Benedict farm and was to pay for it in installments. Getting behind on pay-ments he notified Administrator Alvah Prosser that he would be obliged to lose all he had paid and get off the place in a few days. He didn't move fast enough to suit Mr. Prosser, who with a constable ejected Hinman from the house. Hinman's wife was sick. the house. Hinman's wife was sick. and a babe had to be taken from a cradle in order to get the household goods out of the house. Hinman's neighbors are very indignant.

There May be a Fire at Frankfort. Early this fall an old barge was towed into the harbor at Frankfort provided with a 12-foot cabin, anchored out in the bay and opened up in grand style as a floating palace. The pro-prietor, who has a government license, dispenses all kinds of drinks, and it is said there are seven women on board. A small ferry boat runs from the shore to the ark. The citizens of Frankfort marshal has tried to get the bumboat away, but he cannot arrest the pro-

THE matter of Street Commissioner seems suddenly to have leaped into a profound sleep. It should be borne in mind, however, that it is by no means dead, and is liable to be just as suddenly revived. We await with considerable interest its final settlement.

THE Chicago Mail, last week contained a two column write-up by its Washington correspondent, setting forth the reasons why Schuyler S Olds should, and probably would, be elected to the United States senate by the Michigan legislature next month The writer is one well posted in Michigan affairs and knew whereof he spoke. There can be no doubt that public sentiment in Michigan is turning in Mr. Olds' direction.

THE statement, given in another column of what the Reform League proposes to do in the way of working up a stronger temperance sentiment in the city, does not seem to us to be so radical or inopportune that any temperance people or christian people should have anything but words of encouragement for it. The Times to the contrary, we do not believe that any man really in favor of strictly temperate living would object to what this league proposes to do, so far at least, as . it is shown in this statement. Although THE REGISTER does not pretend to ad vocate prohibition, it does not believe that a movement which simply asks those who believe in a certain thing to openly pledge themselves to do that thing for the sake of the influence it will have upon others, should be called 'radical" or out of place.

THE work of the Humane Society, judging from the reports made last Sunday, an account of which is given in another column, shows that excellent work is being done. The abuses of horses, especially of livery teams by drivers, and the keeping of dogs for Tan and Freckle Wash 25c bot. fighting purposes has been almost entirely suppressed. There are, doubtless, many instances of daily occurrence where dumb animals are being abused, and of which the society knows nothing. It is the duty of every one knowing of such abuses to report them either to the President of the society, Mr. Goodyear. or to M. C. Peterson, the society's executive officer who will see that such abase is promptly stopped. Every citizen should feel a personal interest in ANN ARBOR, - MICH. the work of the society and give it his hearty co-operation and support.

acute party manager, a splendid judge of men, and one , who has not allowed himself to fall out with the people who each in his own district, have to do with the selection of senators and the with the selection of senators and the making of great men. It is not at all strange that, after having been under study so long, Mr. Olds should aspire to play a star part. He will need no pri-vate secretary to steer him if he is chosen any more than Burrows will if he is chosen. He has more of that sympathetic spirit that men like than has any of his competitors. If oratori-cal ability is to determine the senator-ship, the choice will lie between Patton ship, the choice will lie between Patton and Barrows; but if acquaintance with the divigations of political work are to settle the controversy, the plum will drop into the lap of Mr. Olds. He is a broader man than either of his competitors, but having been a humbler worker in the party's service than either of them, is apt te lose credit on that ac-

The lectures given before Unity Club last Monday and Tuesday nights by James Kay Applebee upon Othello and Hamlet were listened to by all who attended with the greatest interest and pleasure. Mr. Applebee is certainly one of the greatest Shakeperean scholars in this country today. It is unfortunate that there has been so much going on that many who would have been glad to hear these lectures have not been able to do so.

The action of President Angell in taking his place on the jury benches last week and neither offering excuses or asking to be relieved from the service is an example to be commended to the consideration of all good citizens.— Argus.

Yes, that is true, but suppose Pres. Angell were obliged to lose the twenty dollars per day that he draws from the state, while drawing his $2.00 per day, may be the president might have-well, felt that it was a hardship sometimes to be patriotic.

Next Monday night the Inland League will give a social to its members and their friends and any others who may wish to attend. Several special features are being arranged. One is a lawn tennis drill by a number of young ladies. There will also be an art loan and an old curiosity shop. Special effort is being made to make all of these of more than usual interest. Refreshments will also be served. If you want to enjoy a pleasant and entertaining evening, go to this social next Monday night and you will not be disappointed. Admission free.

Dr. Cobern has been requested to write an article on the poet, Whittier, for the March number of the Methodist Review. He is at present collecting material for it. If any of the readers of THE REGISTER have private letters from the poet, they would confer a favor on Dr. Cobern by allowing him to use them. Mr. Charles D. Hale, of Salem, O, has already sent the following letter which was written by Mr. Whittier in reply to the question whether or not he was a Unitarian. "Neither Unitarian nor Calvinist, but simply a Quaker of the old school who has no quarrel with either." This letter will be reproduced in fac simile in Dr. Cobern's article.

The Inland League entertainment last Monday night was an especially good one. Although the League was disappointed in the enforced absence of Mrs. Angell caused by the death of Pres. Angell's mother and by the unexpected illness of Miss Leibig, all who braved the miserable weather were more than pleased with the other parts of the program. Mrs. Elsie Jones Cooley read a delighful story founded upon some experiences while in Italy. This was followed by an exceedingly interesting talk by Mrs. J. N. Martin who told of her trip to the Pacific coast last summer. The singing by Miss Volland, who took Miss Leibig's place on but a few hours notice was certainly creditable to her, as was also the piano playing by Miss Minnie Davis and the violin by Mr. Bendinger.

New Barber Shop.

The building formerly occupied by V. Hangsterfer as an ice cream parlor and ice office has been opened up as one of the most elegant barber shops in the city. Mr. E. A. Cadieux, who is well known in the city will manage the business and is prepared to give the very best of satisfaction. The store has been elegantly painted and decorated, three new revolving chairs have been put in, and an elegant finished carved mirror case with seventeen French plate mirrows, are some of the most noticeable features that go to fur-nish what is sure to become one of the finest tonsorial parlors in the city. Mr. Cadieux has secured the services of W. A. Donnell, who comes from the Cadillac Hotel shop, one of the finest shops in Detroit. If you want anything in the line of smooth shaves, shaves that are a real pleasure to get, or a sham-poon that will make you feel the better for it long after you have forgotten the ordinary shampoon, or if you want your hair singed in the very latest style, Cadieux is the man who will be glad to accomodate you. Ladies will find this the leading place in the city for ladies hair dressing and shampooning. Everything is strictly first-class in every re-spect. The proprietor would be very glad to have you call upon him, even if you do not want his service. Call anyway and see one of the finest tonsoria parlors in town. Mr. Cadieux keeps nis place open during the usual hours. Don't be afraid to go in if the chairs are full. If they are you will find an elegant reading room with plenty of first-class reading matter to interest you during the short time only that you will have to wait.

SENATE. - Third day. - The vice-president laid before the Senate the resolution of Mr. SENATE. - Third any. - The wee-president laid before the Senate the resolution of Mr. Lodge calling for information as to the execu-tion of two Japanese students by the Chinese authorities, while the students were under the protection of the United States. Mr. Lodge said he appreciated the delicacy of the ques-tion. He reviewed the hideous crueities to which the Japanese students were subjected while under the protection of this country, and said if the facts were as had been published, homeone was very much to blame. If they were not, this government should be vindicated from the charge. The resolution was referred. Mr. Perfe (Pop, Ks.) read a long and care-fully prepared speech, which referred to his resolution calling upon the judiciary commi-tee to inquire into the action of the secretary of the treasury in issuing bonds and arraigned public officials for perfldy and usurpation of authority. The resolution was adopted with out division. Another resolution by Mr. Peffer for information from the President as to the use of United States troops at Chicago during the Pullman strike brought out considerable debate and was finally referred. Mr. Vest (Dem., Mo.) then addressed the Senate on the need of a change of the Senate rules. He said he had formeriv opposed cloture, but he was now convinced that cloture was inevitable, and that it should be effected as soon as pos-sibic. One section of the bill requires annual reports from ratiroads, including answers to all questions asked by the commission, with fluess for default. Mr. Patterson (Dern., Tenn.,) who was in charge of the bill, explained it in an elaborate speech. He dwelt at length on the oppressiveness of llegal rate cutting for the benefit of large shippers, ciling as an example the Armour Beef Packing Co., of Chicago. That combine, he said, handled in dollars more beef than the entire cotton crop of the United States amounted to. The rates made for this corporation practically drove small competitors from the fields and fixed the price of every bullock on every farm in the south and west. Under the present law, he said, it was impossi-ble to secure convictions for violation of the anti-pooling section because both parties to the cut rate were equally guilty before the law and one could not be made to testify against the other. The pending bill would competi-testimony. Upon the conclusion of Mr Patter-son's remarks the House adjourned. SENATE.—Fourth day.—Mr. Turpie (Dem., ditions and

Those Armeniaus Were Brigands.

Wa a n and an regard to the al leged massacre of Armenians by Kurds received a communication which gives some light on the subject. It says: "Toward the end of July last, and under the instigation of an Armenian named Hampartzoum, the men of 10 villages near Mouch formed separate bands, and armed with guns, daggers. hatchets and other instruments, at-tacked the tribe of Delikan, killed a few men of that tribe and afterwards fell on the tribes of Bekiran and Badikan. These bands burned alive one of the chiefs of the Bekiran tribe, and not only outraged Musselman women of the village of Kulliguzat, but also put them to death in an atrocious manner. Men were also tortured in a ferocious way. Not satisfied with all these lawless and criminal proceedings, the same bands burned also a few villages inhabited by Musselmans." Then followed the fighting in which the ban lits were overcome, the most of them being killed. "The statement often published in some European newspapers that some of the regular troops fired on defenseless men and women is utterly untrue. No individual carrying no arms was killed Twenty insurgents, having surren-dered, were treated with all possible consideration, and after their deposi-tions before the legal authorities of Mouch were taken they were given their freedom.'

William Addressed the Reichstag. The new session of the German reichstag was formally opened by Emperor William at Rittersaal of the castle. His majesty demanded that the agrarian troubles which promote continued discontent and disturb the the executive power in the fulfillment of its duty. The penal provisions of the common law are to be extended in the protection of the weak. The emperor expressed great satisfaction at the continuation of peace throughout Europe and expressed regret at the death of the czar of Russia. His majesty alterwards went to the new reichstag building, just completed, and formally dedicated the building.

"I was in my office one afternoon, when my friend B. came in, and after the exchange of the compliments of the day he remarked:

"Judge, I've bought me a new home out on West One Hundred and Twenty-third street.'

... That's good,' I replied, 'Did you got a bargain?'

· Oh, pretty fair! At least I thought I had; but I'm not sure now. I can't get in at the front door.'What do you mean?'

". The man I bought from refuses to give me the key to the front door and I can't get in and out only by the back way.

"What reason does he give for acting in that manner?"

... He says I didn't buy the front of the house and he is not going to let me in that way.'

...Have you got your deed all right?' I asked.

". Oh, yes. That's all right. "Well, you bring it down to-morrow and let me look it over.'

"The next morning B. appeared with the deed, which, in a casual glance, appeared to be in correct form, But, on examining the description of the property by metes put on all the airs of master of the house, while B. could only sneak in through the back door.

"Whether the omission was intentional or not was impossible to find out. But it was quickly made plain that the technical owner of the front stoop meant to profit by the accident, if accident it was. On interviewing him he calmly remarked that the frontage was his and he meant to claim it. Being threatened with a suit and the assurance that a court of equity would compel the correction of the deed, he replied: 'Fire away!'

"Finally, rather than to have the property tied up in the courts possibly for two years, I advised B. to compromise the matter if he could, and by the payment of $500 he acquired undoubted right to the latch key of his own front door."

The "a" and "p" in Surnames.

The small letters a and ap as they appear between the Christian and surnames, as in Thomas a Kempis and William ap Hugh, are abbreviations of Latin prepositions meaning "of," "at" or "from." They generally rethe case of the first mentioned person above, the famous author of "Imitation of Christ," the a denotes "from." His real name was Thomas Hammerkin, but he was born in the town of Kempen, near Cologne, and on that account was known during his school days, and always after, as Thomas a Kempis, which was equivalent to "Thomas from Kempen." In modern times these prepositions have been almost entirely eliminated from our nomenclature, and are now only found in the contracted forms as in "Pugh," a surname which was formerly "ap Hugh."

Mechanical Progress

In the year 1883, when the first contract was signed for the increase of the United States navy, there was not a single mill in the country that had ever made plates required in the specifications: there was no foundry suitable to thrn out the work, no forges for the same, and no plant that could make the armor plates. Since that time there have been brought forward shops and yards that can produce any quantity and of the highest quality, any work in steel, or brass or iron that the new navy demands .--- Hardware.

A WEDDING TRIP.

The Newly Made Husband Not Yet Accustomed to Think for Two.

The wife of a well-known New Yorker told a Tribune man about an incident of her wedding trip the other evening as illustrating the forgetfulness of a man who has only recently abandoned selfish bachelorship. They had only just begun their bridal journey. On that afternoon the train left the track and began to bump along the ties. It happened that the newly made husband was walking down the aisle of the car away from the seat terrified at having the train leave the track there, for they were upon a bend house. on a steep and lofty embankment. With a thought of nothing but the peril which threatened the train he dashed madly for the door. He was waving, and in another instant he would have leaped, when, unconsciously looking back at the danger he was leaving, he saw his wife. Instantly he turned and dashed back into the car. He was just in the nick of time to reach his wife, for already at the reduced price, as it was much the car was tottering. "Hold on for your life!" he cried to her. "We are going headlong over papers and claim the reward. And now it is said City Clerk McKinstry will not resign when he takes his county office. There is no actual nec-He had fallen in the aisle at her side and, clinging to the seat, he held his wife. "Hold on for your life!" he cried again, "for we are going over!"

And they did go over several times, and though the bridal couple were cut and bruised terribly, they were more fortunate than many others, for the death list after that wreck was a long of the products known to farming

"But my husband," she said in telling the story, "could not seem to for-give himself for having forgotten me for a second, while I could understand it perfectly. He wasn't used to looking after a wife, and if you want to know the truth," she added with a smile. "I was glad that it all hap-pened as it did, for I don't believe that any man who was caught in danger with his wife would desert her. but it takes a brave man who has got out of danger to go deliberately back into it. He knew that danger better than anyone else in the car, I suppose, and he must have felt that we were both lost. Yet he came back to me. and that was how I learned, on our wedding day, that my husband, if he was forgetful, was also brave.'

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This Bloumn is placed in this paper to adveri to the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it books well. If blades are not the best looks well. Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am en-trusted with a certain amount to spend advertising these knives (the best value ever seen in America at One Dollar each). Now, the knife is its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (31 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained ory handle-genuine African ivory and with two blades of the very best vory Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterl-ing silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife Now, would it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement.

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straigtforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of ad-vertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those whe promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit te show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44cts., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter; which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

Last Thursday morning Mrs John D. Van Duyn, who has been living with her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Watkins, was found to be missing from the house, and while the family was quietly searching for her a report came from Mr. Silkworth's that at an early hour a woman's voice was heard calling for It took some time to locate the sound which came from the river near the old burying ground, when the searchers were astonished to find a woman standing in the water nearly to her neck. A boat was procured, the ice to give forth that melody. There are eight bells broken and the poor, half-frozen crea-ture was taken from the water and con-veyed to Mr. Silkworth's where prompt Chiming is hard work. Charley Jewell has been chiming for ten years: his father has chimed for thirty-five, and his grandfather has a record of fifty. They're a family of chimers.

I saw Charley Jewell chime the Old North bells at sunset on the Fourth, and up in that old belfry I wondered if anybody who heard the bells knew or cared how much energy it cost him

There are eight bells in the old church, and each of them has a rope attached to it. The ropes come down through two stories, and in the chimers room are fastened to a frame. When the bells are tuned the frame shows eight tight ropes, each the size of a clothes line, and all about the same distance apart. That is the chimer's keyboard.

He pulls the ropes as an archer would pull a big bow, but the chimer has to hustle over the ropes just as a harpist does. That is where the work comes in. It takes force to make the bells sound, and one rope has to be caught almost before the other is dropped.

On a warm day that isn't pleasant. But chiming is not pealing, and the bells on the Old North are also pealed. It takes six or eight men to peal the bells, and that, too, is warm work. When they are chimed the bells are stationary; when pealed, they swing around and the tongues strike while the mouths are up.

Pealing is English, you know, and the majority of the Old North's pealers are Englishmen. They stand round in a circle; each man has a rope and they pull one after another. They reach high, but the big ropes go through their hands. They catch them again in time, and keep up that program for half an hour. It's great exercise.

South American Fishing.

In South American waters mullet are taken in enormous quantities by boats which go out with wire baskets at the bows filled with blazing pitchpine. For the purpose in view, the craft is so loaded as to bring the gunwale on one side down nearly to a level with the water, and the fish, attracted b= the light, jump on board by hundreds.

The Grain Habit.

"Billy, what became of these samples?"

"They ate 'em up sir."

"Is that so? I'll have to put a sign on these sacks and warn people that this isn't a feed barn."

This dialogue took place over in one corner of the board of trade where the tables are laden with paper sacks containing samples of grain. The favorite pastime of the expert is to grab a handful of wheat, blow away the dust and chaff, and then, after a careful examination, fill his mouth with the grain. Some of the traders seem actually addicted to the "grain habit," and that is why the samples disappear so quickly .- Chicago Record.

Tasso was crazy a large part of his life, and was repeatedly locked up as a mad man.

Socrates imagined that he had a familiar spirit or guardian angel that conversed with him.

Lucretius, the Latin poet, is said to have become insane, and during his madness he committed suicide.

Auguste Comet spent a considerable part of his time at one period of his life in an asylum for the insane.

Mozart's early death was due to brain disease. He had morbid delusions, fainting fits and convulsions.

Joan of Arc was undoubtedly the victim of insane hallucinations. Her "voices" were to her the most absolute realities.

Cooper's madness is well known. Once he tried to hang himself and at another time endeavored to commit suicide by drowning himself.

Both Charles and Mary Lamb were dwellers in the borderland of madness. The latter was frequently placed in an asylum, the former but once.

Schumann, the composer, was long the victim of melancholy hallucinations and finally became hopelessly insane. Before his confinement in an asylum he tried to drown himself in the Rhine.

Dante, like many other men of high poetic temperament, was subject to fits of melancholia, alternating with wild spells of amatory passion. By many of his contemporaries he was regarded as insane.

In 1736, when he was 69 years old, Dean Swift was disabled by frequent attacks of deafness and vertigo. His infirmities rapidly increased, and in 1740 oft-repeated fits of passion ended in violent mania. This continued for two years, when it left him, and the last three years of his life were spent in speechless torpor.
