VOL XXI NO. 6.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1895.

WHOLE NO. 1050

CITY CHARTER AGAIN.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO CHANGE IT.

The Council Holds a Long Session—New Professor for the Bible Chairs—A Citizen Kicks Because Vagrants Are Arrested—Washtenaw's Deputy Sheriff's Ward Causes—An Old Settler Gone—Don't Feed Tramps, etc., etc.

The Common Council.

Regular meeting held Monday night, Feb. 4th. The first thing that came up was the request that Mr. Hugh Johnson, colored, who keeps a restaurant on N. Fourth ave. be allowed to present a certain matter. Mr. Johnson began to recite that last Friday night certain patrolmen, mentioning Collins, Isbell, and Armbruster had come to his place of business at a late hour and proceeded to threaten and abuse him one of them even striking him. That he had tried to have a warrant issued but had been unable to do so, the justice refusing to issue it. The matter was referred to the Police Committee of the council.

The clerk then read a communication from the School Board declaring that they did not deem the construction of the 5th ward sewer as necessary so far as the 5th ward school building is concerned. This was referred to the sewer committee. The committee on finance then reported bills which were allowed as follows: Contingent Fund, $1304.59; Street Fund, $42.27; Sewer Fund, $142.97; Bridge, Culvert and Cross Walk Funds, $128.63; Fire Fund, $503.84; Police Fund, $289.35; Poor Fund, $255.70; Total amount allowed $2647.35; Alderman Bodmer then presented and was allowed $51.46 for lumber used in constructing the new city lock-up. The matter of adopting an ordinance relative to licensing of plumbers then came up. After a long discussion the ordinance was amended and adopted and ordered printed. Prof. Greene was then given the floor to explain his bill against the city for services as consulting engineer in the construction of the main sewer, which he proceeded to do. The sewer committee reported some slight changes in the new sewer specifications which were adopted. The committee then stated that the report for the fifth ward sewer had not been signed by the majority and hence was not given as a report. Special committee on construction of city offices asked and was given more time to report.

The city clerk read the report of the city officers, except that of treasurer Pond, who, on account of illness was unable to report. During January $312.87 were expended for the poor. In the police department there had been 21 arrests.

At this juncture Alderman Manly offered what amounted to a resolution firing the Board of Public Works in so far as appointing a street commissioner is concerned. Upon this the alderman from the 5th ward made a fiery speech. The result of the vote was in favor of advising the legislature to so change the charter as to allow the mayor to appoint a street commissioner. The legislature will, therefore, consider itself so advised. Alderman Manly then moved that the legislature be also advised that we want the charter changed so as to give the aldermen a fee of $100 per year. Motion carried. Ald. Wood moved that Rep. Kempf be asked to introduce a bill to change charter so as to have a new ward bounded as follows: North by Hill-st. and Geddes-ave.; East by city limits; South by city limits; and West by Main-st.—Motion carried. Also motion that the city be allowed to make a 5 year contract for lighting was carried. Ald. Prettyman then moved that Rep. Kempf be asked to introduce a bill to change our charter so as to place the police force wholly under the control of the mayor.—Carried. The recommendation that the term of office of the mayor and the president of the council shall serve for two years was also carried. Ald. Manly then moved that the council recommend that the Board of Public Works consist of the chairmen of the street, sidewalk and sewer committees of the council.—Motion carried. A few other minor recommendations in reference to change of charter were made.

Ald. Bodmer then moved that the council allow Prof. Greene the amount of his claim for services as consulting engineer. This at once aroused a lively debate and resulted in a tie vote. City clerk Miller then presented his resignation as clerk, he having been appointed one of the mail carriers in the postal service. This was accepted by a resolution complimenting Mr. Miller upon his efficient services. The resolution received the unanimous vote of the council. Mayor Darling then handed in the appointment of Mr. Glen V. Mills to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Miller. This appointment was unanimously confirmed. At this point, the hour of midnight having arrived, the council adjourned.

THE BIBLE CHAIRS.

Another Competent Instructor Engaged—Prof. Willett Continues His Teaching—Prof. G. P. Coler Will Give a Course of Lectures on The Philosophy of Religion.

The Christian Women's Board of Missions has been fortunate in securing the services of Prof. G. P. Coler as one of the instructors of the Bible Chairs in addition to the courses taught by Prof. H. L. Willett who meets his classes every Saturday at Newberry Hall. Prof. Coler will give a course of lectures on the Philosophy of Religion. Prof. Coler comes highly recommended both as a scholar and a true Christian gentleman. At the age of seventeen he began teaching school and at the age of twenty-three entered the Ohio State University at Athens, O. He took his A. B. degree in 1882. In 1883-4 he was principal of Mitchell's High School Toledo, Ohio. In 1884 he was a graduate student at Johns Hopkins University, after which he traveled in England, Germany, France and Switzerland studying industrial schools. During 1887-8 Prof. Coler preached for churches in Maryland and Delaware and returned to Europe in 1889 where he remained two years. While in the University of Leipzig he was for some time pastor of the American church. From 1891 to 1894 he was assistant professor of Philosophy in Ohio State University. He resigned his position in the State Normal school at Plattsville, Wisconsin where he was Professor of Pedagogy and Philosophy, Jan. 1st. Prof. Coler will organize his class which will meet in Newberry Hall at the beginning of the second semester. He will also preach in the Church of Christ in the absence of Rev. Mr. Young; who is at present pursuing some special studies in social science at the University of Chicago.

Who Will Answer?

To the Editor of THE REGISTER:—

In looking over the proceedings of our justice courts printed in our city papers I do not understand to whom justice is done. I see a number of cases of persons arrested as vagrants; these "vags" as they are called are given from one to fifteen days in jail. Now the question is does this pay the taxpayers of the city or county or does this make the vagrant any less a vagrant by these proceedings. The cause of these arrests seem to be a strife between the city police and the deputy sheriffs to which side will make the larger number of arrests. It seems to me that instead of increasing the taxes in this way during these so-called hard times it should be decreased.

It does not seem reasonable that the officers, such as the Justice of the Peace, police, or deputy sheriffs are doing their duty towards their electors by making these uncalled for arrests.

Will some one or more of our intelligent taxpayers answer the following questions:

1st. Does it pay to arrest a vagrant to be sent to jail for one day?

2nd. A vagrant pays no fines, who pays the costs?

3rd. If the above is true whose business is it to investigate?

"TAXPAYER."

The Complete List.

The following is the complete list of the deputy sheriffs appointed by Mr. Judson for the entire county. They ought to be able to keep the peace.

Ann Arbor—William Eldert, Zenas Sweet, Fred Huhn, Harrison Ball, Wm. E. Blackburn, Lester Canfield, J. M. Woods.

Augusta—Chas. H. Greenman, Chelsea—Jacob Staffan, John Gierbach.

Dexter—Byron McCauley, Thos. Bell, Freedom—Jacob Knapp, Milan—Archie W. Gauntlett, Herbert Taylor.

Manchester—Thos. J. Farrell, Salem—Frank Heywood, Saline—Sela Fitzgerald, Fred Jerry, Whitmore Lake—George McCormick.

Ypsilanti—Byron S. Day, Jos. V. Peck, Isaac Davis, George Brown, Staunton A. Ferguson, Chas. Warner.

Republican Ward Causes.

The Republican ward causes for this city to elect delegates to the county convention will be held on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the following places: First ward, O. M. Martin's store, E. Washington-st.; Second, John Heinemann's store, W. Washington-st.; Third, Court house basement; Fourth, Fireman's hall; Fifth, Engine House; Sixth, Engine House. The county convention will be held Tuesday next, Feb. 12.

Death of Harvey Cornwell.

Harvey Cornwell died Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock of heart failure. He was taken sick very suddenly and passed away before a physician could be called. The deceased leaves a wife and three children, Wirt Cornwell, of this city, Mrs. Ed. Darrow, and Mrs. Alfred Graber, of Finlay, O., who was here at the time of his death. Mr. Cornwell was born in East Haddam, Conn., Nov. 4, 1820. In 1836 he came to Michigan and with his parents located in Monroe county, where he followed the life of an agriculturalist until 1850, when he started a woolen mill with his brothers, and continued in that business until the mills were consumed by fire in 1880. He also spent two years of his life in California during the gold fever. In 1852 he located in Washtenaw and together with his two brothers, Cornelius, who died only about six weeks ago in Ypsilanti, and Henry, of this city, started a paper mill. Cornwell Bros. owned and operated several paper and pulp mills on the Huron and also a paper mill in Jackson. Although the deceased was never an aspiring politician he was always a strong Republican. For three years he held the position of vice president of the Farmers & Mechanics bank and was a heavy stockholder. Thus is Ann Arbor again called upon to mourn the death of an old pioneer and prominent business man. The funeral was held Tuesday at 10 a. m. from the house. The following were the pall bearers: A. Kearney, Moses Seabolt, Patrick O'Hearn, David Rinsey, Edward Duffy and H. W. Hayes.—Times.

Death of Mrs. Michael Staebler.

Mrs. Michael Staebler died last Friday afternoon after a lingering illness of some five months' duration. The cause of her death was heart trouble. The deceased leaves a husband and six children, Frederick, Robert, Alice, Edward, Herman and Walter, to mourn her loss. Mrs. Staebler was highly respected and an earnest Christian woman. Her death will be deeply regretted by all who know her. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, the Rev. J. Neuman officiating.

Don't Feed Tramps.

The Anti-Tramp Society of Ann Arbor has been in operation now for about four months, and is doing much both to help deserving workmen who are out of employment and to discourage professional tramps. The aim of the Society is to separate these two classes by offering a meal or night's lodging, or both, to all who are willing to earn it upon a sawbuck. The professional tramp hastens on when confronted with this instrument; the man who is really seeking work is glad to secure a hot meal or a clean bed by its aid.

Marshall Siple, who has immediate charge of the Society's work, has given out 92 meal or lodging tickets, each standing for at least an hour's hard work. These represent about 60 different men, nine-tenths of whom, in the marshal's opinion, were deserving workmen seeking employment. The real tramps will not work and are rapidly learning to avoid Ann Arbor as a barren field for their operations.

The Society earnestly requests citizens to give neither food nor clothing at their doors, but to send all applicants to the engine house of the corner of Fifth and Huron streets. Only in this way can the deserving be separated from the undeserving and the city made uncomfortable for professional idlers. All statements by tramps that they could not get work at the engine-house are false.

New Furniture Store.

The firm of Koch & Henne, which has been in the furniture business together for the past seven years, dissolved the partnership by mutual consent on Jan. 31. John Koch, the senior member of the firm, will continue the business in furniture, carpets and draperies, but not undertaking, at the old stand.

Wm. G. Henne, the junior member of the firm, has formed a co-partnership with Nathan Stanger and Samuel Henne under the firm name of Henne & Stanger, and will engage in the furniture, upholstery, undertaking and curtain business. For the present they have leased the double store of Nos. 9 and 11 W. Liberty st., known as the Walker carriage block, in which location they expect to get started not later than March 1st.

The new firm is composed of active, young men who will doubtless draw their share of patronage. Mr. Stanger has been engaged in the carpet and drapery business for 13 years and Samuel Henne is a practical upholsterer of 15 years' experience. William G. Henne is already well known to the people of Ann Arbor and vicinity from his connection with the firm of Koch & Henne.

About 330 People Drowned by the Sinking of the Steamer Elbe in a Collision with the Steamer Crathie in the North Sea—
Only About a Score Were Saved.

London: The North German Lloyd steamer Elbe, Capt. Von Gossel, from Bremen for New York, via Southampton, was sunk in a collision with the British steamer Crathie, in the North sea, 30 miles off the Hook van Holland. The Elbe had between 350 and 400 souls aboard, of whom but 24 were saved. Barely 20 minutes elapsed between the collision and the sinking of the Elbe, and all the passengers were asleep when the shock came.

Surviving officers report that the Elbe was proceeding along at her usual rate of speed and keeping the ordinary lookouts. The night was dark, there was a cold wind and a choppy sea, but no gale. Suddenly the forward lookout reported that the lights of a steamer were close aboard over the port bow. Before the course of the Elbe could be changed the steamer struck her just about the engine room, going through her plates as though they were pasteboard and striking her nose almost completely through the hull of the Elbe. The officer in charge of the ship at once saw that she was doomed and gave hurried orders to clear away the lifeboats for launching. Three of the lifeboats were cleared and lowered, but one of them capsized and all but one of the occupants were drowned. The first boat contained the third officers, chief engineer, purser and about 21 passengers. These were picked up by the fishing smack Wildflower and taken to Lowestoft.

Japs Capture Wei-Hai-Wei.

Cheer Foo: After a severe bombardment the forts at Wei-Hai-Wei have capitulated and the Japanese are now masters of the situation. The Chinese fled when the actual assault was made, leaving 2,000 dead. Lui Kung Tau, an island near the city, on which are workshops and forts, held out for some time longer, but finally surrendered. During the fighting the Chinese men-of-war tried to escape from the harbor, but were driven back badly damaged.

Yokohama: Official advices from the seat of war are to the effect that the enemy's ships are still in the gulf. There has been severe fighting with heavy loss on both sides. At Shanghai it is reported that one of the Chinese warships was disabled and two torpedo boats sunk by the fort which had been captured by the Japanese.

China's Peace Envoys Sent Back Home.

Hiroshima, Japan: The envoys from China who were sent to negotiate for peace with Japan have returned to China. An examination of their credentials revealed the fact that the envoys did not have plenary power to treat for peace, and they were thereupon told that they had better return to their own country. Count Ito Hirobumi, president of the council of ministers, told them that Japan was willing to reopen negotiations with a properly empowered embassy.

Shanghai: It is stated on good authority that the British, French and Russian ministers at Tokio and at Peking have received instructions from their governments to advise Japan and China to arrange terms of peace.

Robbers Dynamite a Bank—Get $40,000.

About 4 a. m. a terrific explosion awakened the people of the village of Milan, O. The Lockwood bank building had been blown open, the safe cracked, and its contents, about $40,000, taken by five masked men, who in blowing open the safe had demolished the building. Among the many who started to investigate the explosion was L. L. Stoddard, cashier of the bank, and he was just in time to see the five men leave the building, jump into a carriage and drive away on a dead gallop. He fired several shots at them, but without effect, and the men disappeared in the direction of Sandusky.

Ex-Queen Lili Arrested as a Rebel.

Auckland, N. Z.: Advice received from Honolulu, announce that ex-Queen Lilioukalani has been arrested on the charge of complicity with the insurgents in the recent rebellion. In addition all the insurgent leaders have been taken into custody, and are being tried by court-martial. Three of the leaders pleaded guilty to treason. Martial law is maintained. Shortly after Queen Lilioukalani was arrested her house was searched and in it were stores of arms and dynamite bombs. The arrests have resulted in the restoration of order in Hawaii.

U. S. Warship Officers in Danger in China.

London: A dispatch from Shanghai says a telegram has been received there from Chin Kiang stating that a party of officers from the American warship Concord landed in Chin Kiang for the purpose of shooting game. They, by accident, shot a Chinaman. The populace became infuriated and attacked, seized and carried off the whole party. The commander of the Concord sent an armed force of blue jackets and marines to rescue them at all hazards.

Two Explosions—Score Injured.

Two explosions occurred at the Riverside furnace at Steubenville, O., injuring a large number of workmen, several of them fatally. The explosions were caused by stock in the furnace settling, and the accumulated gas between what had settled and what was hanging above blowing out tons of stock and brick. A score of men were burned or injured by flying missiles, at least two fatally.

Hundreds of carloads of provisions are awaiting distribution in Nebraska, while the destitute are starving and freezing.

"Green goods" dealers are flooding Illinois and Indiana with circulars telling how to secure $40,000 for $2,000. Mrs. Dold of Sellersburg, Ind., thought she heard burglars in the house, and was so frightened she died three hours later.

The Phoenix glass factory at Monaca, Pa., was burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $175,000.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS.

The Exchange hotel at St. Louis was destroyed by fire.

John Prenting, of Maple Grove, was killed by a falling pine stump.

Bernard Heschke, a Lowell farmer, was thrown from his cutter and instantly killed.

Hanse Lenarde, of Thompsonville, was struck on the head by a falling tree and cannot live.

Jay Morgan, aged 13, of Lowell, shot himself in the groin with a revolver. He will probably die.

The diphtheria epidemic has about ceased at Traverse City. Churches and schools have reopened.

A son of Berry Green was shot accidentally while handling a gun at Niles, killing him instantly.

W. Jennings' barn near Owosso, was destroyed and 20 sheep perished. Loss, $2,000, covered by insurance.

Cigarette smoking has become so prevalent among Bay City school boys that the parents have started a move to prosecute dealers.

A large limb in falling struck Herman Priehs, aged 22, who was chopping wood near Pontiac, killing him.

James A. Warner, a farmer who was beaten and robbed by burglars near Flat Rock recently, died of his injuries.

In response to a petition from 200 persons, the Eaton county supervisors have called a special election on the local option question for March 18.

The Union depot used by the F. & P. M., the T. & A. A. and the S. & C. C. railroads at Clare was entirely destroyed by fire. Loss about $5,000.

Kelley & Covell's boarding house at Slight's siding burned. Twenty-six shingle weavers escaped in scant attire. Four men were hurt in jumping. Loss $1,500.

Gov. Rich will not call a special election in the Third district to fill the Burrows vacancy. The election is called for April 1, with the regular spring election.

D. R. Cunningham and Engineer Granville, of Detroit, have submitted a proposition to build an electric road from Lawton to Paw Paw, if Paw Paw will pay $20,000.

Harry, the son of Jas. Abbott, was seriously, if not fatally, injured by riding on a toboggan, at Pontiac, the sled striking a post. Several others were slightly injured.

Thomas Swift, of Albion, was arraigned before Justice Dolan at Lansing on a charge of having forged the signature of a notary public to an assignment of a mortgage.

The old officers of Michigan Masonic home association at Grand Rapids were re-elected. The total receipts of the year were $7,100, and there is a surplus on hand of $1,200.

Chas. Kramer, aged 20, brooded over his disgrace at being in jail as drunk and disorderly and tried to kill himself by hanging, but was cut down by fellow prisoners. He may die.

The Christian Woman's Board of Missions has secured the services of Prof. G. P. Coler as one of the instructors of the Bible chairs recently established at the Michigan University.

Henry Hutton, of Dutton, was killed by a Michigan Central train near Grand Rapids. He was 30 years old and unmarried. Friends say he was the son of noble parents in Holland.

Ernest Williams, aged 16 years, of Juanita, was accidentally shot and killed while hunting rabbits. He was walking on a log when he slipped and fell, his gun was discharged, killing him.

Worthy Stewart, Fred and Wm. Hicks, aged 15 to 18, pupils of the Ravenna school were fined for assaulting their crippled teacher and, after thrashing him, throwing him into a snow drift.

With babe in arms, Alice Wesner, a girl of 14 appeared in Justice Southworth's court at Ovid, to give evidence against Wellington Stevens, a boy not much older, charging him with the paternity of her child.

Charges have been brought against Supt. F. D. Clarke, of the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint. It is claimed that he has fired competent teachers because they were not in sympathy with his rebel views of the civil war.

The Austin, Tomlinson & Webster Wagon company is moving its vast plant and machinery outside of the Jackson prison walls, where it has been located almost all the time since the prison was first located. The company has constructed new buildings just south of the prison, and will employ free men only in the future.

LATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.—Sixteenth day.—Owing to the death of Senator J. W. Watts, of Jackson, no business was transacted. Concurrent resolutions were adopted in eulogy of the deceased. Senator Brundage spoke at some length in words of appreciation and praise of the deceased. Senator Kilpatrick also spoke briefly, as did Senators Chapp and Laughlin. President Milnes, who has known the Senator throughout his legislative experience, also spoke in praise of his public services and private character. HOUSE.—A protest from the Trades Council of Detroit against the Thompson health board bill was referred. Petitions for the Commission of a prohibition amendment continued to pour in and Rep. Redfern says his bill for this purpose will pass the House by a vote of 5 to 1. Rep. Smiley would increase the M. N. G. to 44 companies and arm two companies with Gatling guns. A woman's department at the Agricultural college is being petitioned for. Rep. Graham has a bill to force plank road companies to keep their highways in good condition. They would also make the counties responsible for their insane sent to state institutions. The committee on ways and means favorably reported the bill to appropriate $20,000 for marking the positions of Union troops on the battlefields of Chikamauga and Chattanooga, an action which was afterward ratified in committee of the whole. Rep. Matthews' bill providing for probate record of persons becoming sane after being adjudged of unsound mind, was also agreed to in committee of the whole. Before the House adjourned, Rep. Saxton rising to a question of privilege, announced the death of Gen. J. W. Watts, of Senate, of whom he spoke in terms of eulogy. He moved that the House adjourn out of respect to a member of the Senate. There was no opposition. Bills introduced: Incorporating Village of Watervliet; appropriating $9,572 for Marquette prison improvements; prohibiting stock companies, except mining and rail roads, from articles or commencing business until all stock is paid in; to prohibit killing or sale of quail; fixing salary of prosecuting attorney of Washtenaw county at $4,000; allowing attorney fee in justice court cases; limiting appeals from justice courts; increasing civil jurisdiction of justice of the peace; fixing telephone rates (at $2.50 to $3 per month) for guarding holes cut in the ice; amending law relative to offenders; for normal school in upper peninsula; enacting term of office of members of the legislature; for constitutional amendment fixing salaries of members of the legislature at $700 per session.

Not What You Pay, But What It Pays You.

There are two values to every purchase. What it Costs you, and what it Pays you. Cork costs 8c. per pound, but its value to a drowning man is not a matter of dollars and cents.

Suppose you buy a piano. Dozens of dealers say, "buy our's," "we undersell all competitors," "our piano is the cheapest one," all of which is not worth one cent to you after you've paid your money.

When you have bought your piano the question, "how much did I pay," does not satisfy your desire for a good piano. It's what the Piano pays you in satisfaction, in tone, in durability, in musical quality that counts.

We sell

The Mehlin Piano

We do not claim it's the lowest priced nor to "undersell all competitors."

We claim though that in over two-hundred Mehlin Pianos sold by us—not one has ever proven unsatisfactory or given the purchaser a moment's uneasiness.

You can afford to pay a little more if you must do so to get what you want.

THE WOMAN

—who takes the surest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin will not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which soon injure the skin. Salow or wrinkled face, dull eyes and hollow cheeks, together with low spirits, follow the derangements, irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to the sex. All women require a tonic and nerve at some period of their lives. Whether suffering from nervousness, dizziness, faintness, displacement of womanly organs, catarrhal inflammation of the lining membranes, bearing-down sensations, or general debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription reaches the origin of the trouble and corrects it. It is the best medicine which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years in all cases of "female complaint," and those painful disorders that afflict womankind. If women are overworked, run-down, tired or sleepless, if they are irritable, morbid and suffer from back-ache, they should turn to the right means for a permanent cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription fits just such cases, for it regulates and strengthens the special functions, builds up and invigorates the entire female system.

DISEASE OF WOMEN.

Mrs. CORA S. WILSON, of Carleton, Sullivan Co., Ind., writes: "I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I feel it my duty to say to all women who are suffering from any disease of the uterus that it is the best medicine on earth for them to use; I cannot praise it too highly for the good it did me. If any one doubts this, give them my name and address."

Mrs. Wilson.

A pamphlet, containing a vast number of testimonials with reproduced photographs of those cured and giving full name and address of each, will be mailed to any address free; or, Dr. Pierce's large Treatise (168 pages) profusely illustrated with wood engravings and colored plates mailed post paid on receipt of 10 cents in stamps. By order of Committee.

THE death of senator John W. Watts, of this district, loses to this state a valuable representative. Mr. Watts had been in the legislature several times before the present term, and his sound judgement and long experience will be missed in the senate and in the councils of the committees upon which he had been appointed.

MAYOR Darling made a good appointment when he named Glen V. Mills as city clerk to fill out the vacancy caused by the resignation of Will Miller. Mr. Mills, we are certain, will prove entirely competent to attend to the duties at the office. The Republicans could not do better than to nominate Mr. Mills this spring for this office. He has certainly proven himself worthy of this position, and if hard work for the party counts for anything, he is entitled to the nomination. If nominated, as he very likely will be, he will carry the city by at least 200 majority.

THE present financial condition of the treasury has been foreseen for years and it must be a great disappointment of the President that his party in the present Congress has been either unable or willing to do anything to remedy the difficulty. If the present Congress does anything during the next month to assist the treasury in its difficulties it must be by the work of the Republicans in Congress assisted by the few Democrats there who care anything about the currency other than to transfer it to from the treasury to their own pockets. The Democratic majority in Congress is utterly helpless and totally incompetent to deal with the currency question. It presents a pitiable spectacle to the country—bankruptcy of the treasury staring them in the face, the great business interests of the country in peril, yet Congress doing nothing—its members hilarious and promptly drawing their pay. The like of the present Congress has not been seen since the first Congress met in New York. It is a national disgrace.

The Choral Union Concert.

The third concert in the Choral Union series, which occurred last Friday night, surpassed in brilliancy and popularity either of the preceding entertainments. The stage which had been much enlarged by the construction of a temporary addition, presented a beautiful spectacle. Directly in front of the great organ were massed the 300 members of the Choral Union, before whom were seated the two soloists of the evening, Mrs. Ginevra Johnstone Bishop, of Chicago, and Mr. Gardner S. Jamson, of Ann Arbor, while the extreme front of the stage was occupied by a full orchestra from Detroit. The program, which well satisfied the highly raised anticipations of those present, consisted of seven numbers as previously published. The Choral Union, under the direction of Prof. Stanley, has practically been in preparation for the concert of Friday night during the whole of the school year, and the more than satisfactory results of his efficient training was evident to all. The ladies, particularly, deserve praise in this regard, and their rendering of the "Ave Maria," of Marchetti, was warmly applauded.

Of Mrs. Bishop's singing it would be difficult to speak too highly. Her well come was such as she never fails to receive in Ann Arbor, and her solo renderings in "Ave Maria," "The Heart Parts," "Gallia," and the "Fair Ellen," were greatly enjoyed. Of Mr. Jamson, too, much might be said. He has already acquired great popularity among the music lovers of this city, as the generous encores accorded him sufficiently proves, and his singing last Friday night did much to increase this well deserved popularity. The orchestral part of the program was also well and capably sustained. The Choral Union is to be congratulated upon its connection with the concert of this series, and Prof. Stanley upon the success which has followed his efforts in this direction.—U. of M. Daily.

An Exciting Trial.

Last week the city marshal saw a man by the name of Koon fall upon the sidewalk at the northeast corner of the court house square. The marshal at once arrested the fellow as a drunkard and escorted him to the wretched pen constructed in one corner of the engine house and used as a city lock-up. It being too late to go before Justice Pond that day, the prisoner was left in the aforesaid pen to spend the night upon a bare board and without any covering. It was only down about zero and the miserable drunk had had no supper and wanted a drink of water, but that made no difference. It turned out a little later that the prisoner was not the common bum he had been taken for and he kicked at the idea of spending the night sleeping, hungry and thirsty and without cover, on the soft side of a bare plank over the excrement receptacle used by a score of drunks who had been lodged in the same pen before him. By vigorous banging upon the door, he succeeded in attracting the attention of some citizens to whom he made known his identity. Among other things he proved to be an odd-fellow and the members of this order did not propose to see one of their brothers kept in such a place over night, before he was proven guilty of any crime. It is putting it very mildly to say that the members of this order were indignant when they found out the true status of the affair and a number of them demanded of the marshal that the prisoner be given his liberty as they would agree to become responsible for his appearance before a justice next morning. Upon such assurance Mr. Koon was given his liberty. He did not at once skip the town—must have been too drunk, looking at it from the officer's stand-point. The fact is he was sober enough to attend a lodge meeting immediately after having been given his liberty. At the trial next day it developed that the defendant was in the city as an expert boiler inspector sent here by an insurance company to meet the company's agent to examine certain risks. It was while waiting for the agent to put in an appearance that Mr. Koon, as he admits, took one glass of beer just after dinner, and an other along about four o'clock, in the afternoon, and then was foolishly enough to venture out without rubbers upon his shoes, and slipped down upon one of Ann Arbor's icy sidewalks. The evidence against Mr. Koon, as adduced at the trial was the opinion of the marshal and two other officers who saw him sometime after he was arrested, that he was intoxicated. The city attorney thought this evidence in abundance to convict the fellow and labored long and assiduously to compass that end. A jury, however, had been demanded. It consisted of Ben Watts, Jim Harkins, Geo. Goodrich, Art Sweet, Vet. Armstrong and Geo. Miller, and it took them just about thirty seconds to cast a unanimous vote that the fellow was not necessarily drunk, simply because he had taken a "header" upon one of the glassy pavements that abound all over the city. As one of the jurymen expressed it, we thought that the evidence of a number of reputable citizens who had talked with the defendant, either a few minutes before his arrest or within a half hour afterwards, was sufficient proof that the man was perfectly sober, and that the officers and Mr. Corbin were looking for, rather than seeing, drunken men. But we do not wish to seem to be criticizing an officer for performing what he believes to be his duty. We do want to warn everybody in the city, even the most dignified that any one is liable to arrest and therefore it seems necessary that all should at once have heavy spurs fastened to their boot soles lest, when they venture out, the grip of their pedal phalanges upon the glassy hummocks may not be equal to the dangers that are sure to beset them during the present weather that is being sent out from Washington and the kind of pavements that result therefrom.

We wish at all times to sustain the offices of the law in doing their plain duty and hope, therefore, that sober citizens will manage to keep their under penning firmly anchored beneath them as we should dislike very much to be obliged to second the efforts of any officer in placing such people in the famous city lock-up simply because some of our pavements which at all times seem "greased for the occasion" should prove too much for their equilibrium.

[The above is inserted at the urgent request of a large number of respectable citizens who are firmly convinced that the Marshal made a mistake in arresting Mr. Koon, and made his mistake worse by not dropping the matter when he realized the true state of affairs. Wishing to give both sides an equal show, we publish below a communication from the marshal setting forth his version of the matter, he having been shown the above article in advance.—Ed.]

[To the Editor of THE REGISTER.]
An article in your paper under the title of "An exciting trial" contains so many highly colored misstatements and falsehoods as to demand a slight card of explanation.

While it contains insinuations against the judgement and sincerity of the officers of this city, in the exercise of their official duties, it also bears heavily upon the character of one of the most highly esteemed fraternal organizations of the city, and deserves the condemnation of all good citizens.

The police officers of the city meet with sufficient opposition from wilful violators of the laws, it would seem, without being held up public contumely while attempting to enforce the laws.

Now the evidence on the part of the city as produced before the jury was that of four police officers who had seen the man charged with having been intoxicated on the street, at the same time of the arrest and immediately afterwards and their evidence was positive and direct to the point that the man Koon was intoxicated. The members of the fraternal order who interviewed the man in jail did not see him until after the lapse of about an hour and a half from his arrest.

When their request was made to have the man turned over to them, he was immediately surrendered, but the statement that he was sufficiently sobered up to attend a meeting of the Oddfellows "immediately after having been giving his liberty" must be stamped as unqualifiedly false.

Mr. Editor, if the statement in the article referred to that you "do not wish to see to be criticising an officer for performing what he believes to be his duty" is, as it appears, an expression of your editorial desire, it strikes me that you might exercise some judgement in regard to the matter published as facts in your paper.

The slightest investigation would satisfy a thinking being that the article, contains no less than a dozen misrepresentations and false statements.

It cannot be possible that you believe that the effects of such an article as the one referred to will be to diminish open exhibitions of drunkenness upon the streets of our fair city, not to increase the efficiency of our police force.

Can it be possible that you would prefer to be confronted by such exhibitions of drunkenness that the columns of your paper might be illuminated with lurid articles on the grass immorality and open violation of laws existing in our college town. Yours respectfully,

PARRIS S. BANFIELD,
City Marshal.

Who May Vote.

The following extract from the opinion of Hon. Fred. A. Maynard, Atty. General of Michigan, is of general interest as it shows just how the amendment adopted last fall affects the foreign voter:

"There is but one question that has been presented in the many letters which I have received on this subject, and that is as to how this section of the constitution, as amended, affects male inhabitants of foreign birth in this State. The question is asked, 'must a foreigner become a full American citizen before he can vote in this State,' and second, if so, does this affect male inhabitants of foreign birth, who, before this section was amended, may have been electors?' In other words, are any foreigners by this section amended, disfranchised? My answer to this question is this: No male inhabitant of foreign birth now residing in this State, can vote to any election held in this State, until he shall become a citizen of the United States; and a male inhabitant of foreign birth, who may have been a qualified elector last November, cannot vote next spring, unless he shall be, by that time, a citizen of the United States: Provided, of course, that he does not come within the express constitutional exception, viz.: A residence of two years and six months prior to the 8th day of November, 1894, and his having made a declaration of his intention to become a citizen of the United States, two years and six months prior to said last named date. In such a case, of course, such an inhabitant of foreign birth can continue to vote.

Before this amendment all that was required of a foreigner, who came to this State, was a residence therein of two years and a half, and a declaration of his intention to become a citizen of the United States six months preceding the last general election, in November, and had declared his intention of becoming a citizen six months preceding said election, became thereby a qualified elector; but now, by reason of the amendment, all this is changed and such a person is no longer an elector—he can no longer vote, nor can any other foreigner vote in this State, who had not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, two years and six months preceding the 8th day of November, 1894. It by no means follows that he is permanently disfranchised; he simply must wait until he becomes a citizen of the United States, and then he can vote."

Terry's Silverware.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silverware, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the places of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silverware is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silverware with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our silverware sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silverware goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we will give you the Silver Spoons. Send at once as this offer is for 60 days only. Price of Silverware set $2.00.

DEPUTY MARSHAL WOOD.

A Man Everybody Knows Tells of His Wonderful Cure by Dr. Greene's Nervura. The Strongest Evidence Possible That This Great Medicine Will Cure You.

DEPUTY MARSHAL, A. B. WOOD.

When such a widely-known public man as A. B. Wood, Deputy Marshal of West Indianapolis, Ind., makes a statement, the world knows that it is true—that he means every word of it. Mr. Wood resides at 91 Marion Ave., West Indianapolis, Ind. He has been cured by the great medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, from utter nervous prostration and exhaustion. He deems the cure most wonderful, and the medicine which cured him a most wonderful remedy. He is anxious, therefore, to tell the world of his remarkable restoration to health, and to thus lead others to health by the use of the same grand remedy.

"I had been troubled," said Mr. Wood, "for twenty years with nervousness, heart disease and gastric catarrh of the stomach, ending two years ago with a complete prostration, and was taken to my bed.

"I was under the care of two eminent physicians. Finally through a friend I was induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"After taking one bottle I began to improve, and after using three bottles, my usual health was restored. I can now eat anything set before me. I have gained 30 pounds in flesh, now weighing 165 pounds.

"My wife is similarly diseased and is now taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, so far with beneficial results.

"Thus knowing by personal experience the great value of this grand medicine, I write this that others, who have similar troubles, may be induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and be cured." People who are sick or ailing in any way make a serious mistake if they delay a moment longer to use this, without doubt, greatest medical discovery ever made. Even if you have been disappointed because other medicines failed, we promise this remedy will cure.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

From the Adrian Press.

The new sheriff of Washtenaw, and his deputies look upon the Ann Arbor marshal and his deputies as the meanest, surliest gang of zoological specimens they ever met, and the marshal and his deputies look upon the sheriff and his deputies as a knock-kneed, milky-livered bugaten aggregation of official pestilence. This grows up out of a conflict of assumed rights. The sheriff actually snickers, because the marshal got stuck for arresting a sober man for a drunk.

FRATERNITY ARISTOCRACY.

HIGH SCHOOL FRATERNITIES MAKE CLASS DISTINCTIONS.

So Says Johnnie's Pa—He Thinks They are Inconsistent With the Spirit That Should Prevail in Our High School—The Action of the School Board, a Case of the Tail Wagging the Dog.

To the editor of THE REGISTER.

S. Really father, what objection have you to these high school secret societies?

F. I think there are quite a large number of very serious objections to them, and I will state a few. Our High School is a public school supported by taxation, and the school tax is nearly half of the tax paid by the people of Ann Arbor, and the poor people at least pay their full share. The school is intended to be and should be entirely democratic, so that all pupils may enjoy its privileges upon an equality. These societies are made up of clicks of a dozen or more of the sons and daughters of wealthy parents as a rule. They hang together, associate with one another, have meetings together and their social intercourse is almost wholly, if not entirely, within their own society. They become exclusive and aristocratic, and look down upon and snub the other pupils in the High School, who don't belong to their clicks or societies. This is very uncomfortable for the pupils who don't belong to these associations. Their entire school life is marred and spoiled in a great measure, by these institutions. Our public schools were not designed to develop and sustain such class distinctions. It is a perversion of their objects and aims, that will tend greatly to injure the school and injure society hereafter. These societies also necessarily lead to a serious neglect of study and earnest attention to and interest in other important school duties. Then again, these societies may be organized in the back yards of some of the parents' homes, but they cannot be kept there. Children of fifteen years of age cannot be allowed to do things, that may be very properly done by persons who are older. They have not yet developed judgment and self-control, and have not yet the experience that would lead them to avoid doing foolish and injurious acts. This is very conclusively shown by your account of the initiations of members into these societies. These initiations might have easily resulted in very serious injury to these parties engaged in them. And you admit that the boys did not properly attend to their school work for some time before and after these initiations. There are other very serious objections, but they may perhaps be boiled down under the general statement that boys and girls at the age of fifteen years, should not be turned loose to do as they please, as they almost invariably are inclined to please to do something they ought not to do. They begin innocently enough, but it does not take long to run into the excesses that you have enumerated, and in a very short time, some of them, and as they did once before, would blossom out into institutions, such as the place lately broken up by the police on E. Huron-st. They hardly promise sufficient mental, physical and moral benefit to the members, to warrant the school board in sustaining them, in face of the great danger that they would surely foster and develop to many, if not to all their members, and the class distinctions that are always the outcome of such clicks and societies.

S. Well father, a fellow can't study all the time, he must have a little recreation and fun.

F. Yes my son, children should have a great deal of recreation and fun, can hardly have too much, but there are plenty of amusements that may be indulged in and at all proper times, that will not tend at all to injure them or the feelings of their fellows.

S. Yes father, but the parents of these children, many of them seem willing and very anxious, that their children shall belong to these societies, and they object very strenuously, to the attempts of the school faculty, and the board of directors to suppress them.

F. Yes, that may be true, but these parents for the most part are persons of large means and possibly aristocratic tendencies, and they may enjoy seeing their children belong to an exclusive society or click. But the several hundred poor parents, whose children are not able to belong to these societies and clicks, don't enjoy the institution at all, and the few who come here to educate their children, because education costs almost nothing here, should not be allowed to compel the school board to sustain institutions in our public schools, that would in any measure tend to injure the children of the poor classes who, for the most part, support these schools. It is sometimes a serious question whether the tail should wag the dog or the dog wag the tail. In the late action of the school board, it would seem that the tail had the best of it, and such action will greatly injure if not destroy all respect for authority, and all good government in our public schools. If our public schools were organized and supported only to teach what is in books, such interference with school government by pupils and their parents might not do serious damage. But the children are there mainly to form and develop good character and principles, to learn to respect the rights and feelings of others, including the poor and lowly, and especially to give obedience and respect to the properly constituted authorities over them, and thus develop self control and a character that will make them law-abiding citizens, and supporters of all the institutions in civilized society, which together make up and constitute good government.

S. But father, it was hardly fair for the faculty of the High School, right in the midst of the term and without any previous notice, to suspend or dismiss from the school persons who belong to these societies.

F. Well, my son, it is perhaps but fair to concede, that the action taken was rather hasty, and perhaps not as well considered, as it might have been, but that the action was in every respect right and in accordance with their duty, no fair minded person can question. They were simply enforcing the rules and regulations established by the school board. They may perhaps be fairly criticised for delaying action too long. These experienced teachers well knew that these societies would in time attempt to run the entire school, including the High School faculty and the school board. But that these clicks and societies should not be permitted in our public schools is entirely apparent. They are accompanied with very little good, and almost invariably result in very great evil. If the High School board and faculty intend to put a stop to them, they should pass a resolution to that effect at the end of the year, publish the same in the city newspapers, and give the students and their parents full notice that no such societies will be hereafter permitted, and then direct the High School faculty to see that the regulation is enforced. Then if the parents who seem to appreciate the benefits of these societies so highly, care more for the secret societies than they do for a course in High School, they can take their children out and give them a course in secret societies, and there will then be more room for the poor children, who sadly need the benefits of a thorough education.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ing their husbands, sons and brothers to flock to other resorts to spend their evenings.

This paper is not, indeed, aimed against organized clubs; but rather at the habit of men and boys, organized or not, of seeking their society in club-rooms, shops and streets. And here I may perhaps be permitted to say that I have never in my life, fond as I am of society, gone, except on purely business errands, where my wife, sister or daughter might not have gone with me. The family alone, or this enlarged by callers, or swelled into the more formal party, or the grand reception, forms the basis of all good society. The family is its unit. There is peril in the habit of transgressing this limit.

Nor did I find it necessary to transgress this during a residence of five years in a German capital. I remember that we had in that city a society called "Die Gesellschaft der feumziger Familien"—"The society of the fifty families." As very few there had houses to entertain such a company, a hall was hired for the purpose; still the family was the unit of the body. Nor was it a beer-drinking assembly. Indeed, I can conceive no revolution in social life which would come so near my conception of an earthly paradise as one which should recognize the family as its centre. It might abolish the saloon without a battle. Just to think of the men of a community getting their wives and boys and girls all ready and marching off with them as whole families to the saloons!

Another story of this foreign residence is here ventured, perhaps with some risk to my reputation as the total abstainer that I am from the use of intoxicants. Typhoids fearfully and fatally prevailed in the city every year during the latter part of winter and early spring, attributed by some to bad water by others to the all-night balls and various exposures of the carnival season, both of which were doubtless responsible for their aggravation. Our German friends were greatly concerned for us that we did not drink beer. The first spring our two children came as near dying with the fever as they could and live. I asked our physician about the use of beer and he recommended it as rather required by the climate. But our children disliked it and we had to do a good deal of coaxing and some hiring to get them to drink each a half-glass daily, while many a brewer drank twenty to thirty quarts a day. This city is built on a gravel-bed of seventeen hundred feet in depth, brought from the Alps during unknown ages by the flow of the Isar. The water used by the people was from wells dug in this loose earth, through which it passed as through a sieve, losing none of the fifth which it had taken on from the vaults of the city. Many years later the city had water-works constructed by which the place was supplied from Starnberg Lake, twelve miles distant, and immediately became one of the healthiest cities of Europe. Not beer, but good water wrought the change. It has set me at attempting to conceive the revolution which a universal supply of pure water and a return to the natural home life of the family would effect in the world! I almost feel like regarding this as foreshadowed in the Apostle's picture of "a pure river of water of life" which he saw in the street of his New Jerusalem. We ought to attempt some approach to it here. I am in favor of trying it. Legislation alone cannot do it, but it may help.

But there is yet one danger to young people of both sexes which cannot be overlooked as connected with going into society of any kind during their school years, except that which is incidental to their studies. They can not go to social gatherings requiring preparation and thought without having these unfit them for study during the week preceding and those following the entertainment, and if they have such a one each week the disturbing influence runs through the whole time and they will fail or just barely slip through their examinations.

A. T. B.

Dated, Feb. 1st, 1895.

Take Care of the Boys.

[CONCLUSION.]

There must necessarily be occasions in business life when men shall be brought together with men alone and correspondingly will there be social relations between women alone, while their husbands and sons are engaged in their special vocations. But it may be doubted whether the separation of the sexes in social life further than this necessary one is ever morally wholesome. Women and girls would not, indeed, incur the same perils which beset men and boys. I am now looking after the risks of the boys.

It is difficult to conceive a motive for the clubbing together of men, or boys, to the exclusion of the other sex except the wish to do and say that which could only be done and said in such exclusive circles. It may be drinking and smoking; it may be the planning and of questionable sports and tricks; it may be loose and libidinous talking. My critical tastes may be at fault, but I always feel that something is wrong in the man or boy who withdraws from the companionship of the sexes mixed, and seeks only the conclave of his own sex. The natural places for them to spend their evenings are the families to which they belong. These and their callers should be their usual society, varied of course by their own calls on other families, where the mutual attractions and restraints of the two sexes operate to produce the true balance in social life. Those brought up in this way would never know any obscene stories to tell and if by chance they should hear one, they could not shape their mouths to repeat it. The society of men and boys wants it regulator, if the gentler sex is excluded; I donot, however, feel so certain that the women of a family may not often be chiefly blamable for causing their husbands, sons and brothers to flock to other resorts to spend their evenings.

This paper is not, indeed, aimed against organized clubs; but rather at the habit of men and boys, organized or not, of seeking their society in club-rooms, shops and streets. And here I may perhaps be permitted to say that I have never in my life, fond as I am of society, gone, except on purely business errands, where my wife, sister or daughter might not have gone with me. The family alone, or this enlarged by callers, or swelled into the more formal party, or the grand reception, forms the basis of all good society. The family is its unit. FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver, the product of American mines, at the old rate of 16 of silver to 1 of gold, is the only solution of and remedy for the disturbed and unsatisfactory condition of trade, manufacture and general business of the country. The surreptitious act of 1873, divorcing silver and gold in our monetary system, was a crime of untold magnitude. It was the rankest kind of class legislation in favor of the wealthy against the producers of wealth, and hostile to the prosperity of the United States. It was an act of treason because done at the instance of a European syndicate and for bribe money, "giving aid and comfort to our country's enemies." To shield the guilty parties, the well authenticated facts, often published, have been vigorously denied.

The Enquirer will continue to expose this unpardonable crime until right and justice are done the people by the full restoration of silver to its old companionship with gold. We need the assistance of the people in disseminating the truth, to which end we invite all in your selection of papers for the coming season to include the Enquirer, that costs only $1.00 a year. SEWING MACHINES

POPULAR?
BECAUSE LADIES
BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair.

We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

STATE NEWS NOTES.

A CHAPTER OF THE DOINGS OF MICHIGANDERS.

A Detroit Dentist Murdered by His Wife's Paramour—His Head Chopped Open with a Hatchet—Lovers Frozen to Death While Sleighting.

A Brutal Murder at Detroit.

Dr. H. E. Pope, a Detroit dentist, was murdered in his home by a barber named Wm. Brusseau, who had been engaged as a nurse for Mrs. Pope. The woman was addicted to liquor and narcotics and led her husband an awful life by her slovenly ways and she-devil temper. The murderer says he did the deed in self defense, during a fight. Pope's head was split open and chopped with a hatchet. The theory of the police is that Brusseau and Mrs. Pope had formed a conspiracy to murder the dentist while he was asleep to secure about $14,000 life insurance which they had persuaded him to take out. The woman was taken to Harper hospital under police surveillance, and she tried to escape. Brusseau admits that he borrowed money to pay Pope's insurance assessments. After three days' imprisonment Brusseau confessed that the murder was premeditated, and was for the purpose of securing the life insurance. He says he was strangely under the influence of Mrs. Pope and he cannot understand how he was induced to do the awful deed.

Religious Intolerance Downed at Bay City.

Six Catholic priests, 12 protestant ministers and 100 representative citizens sat on the platform at the Christian unity meeting at Bay City. There was an audience that filled the opera house. Hon. N. H. Bradler, president. He stated the purpose of the meeting was to see if there was not a common ground upon which Christians could meet in fellowship. The scene was inspiring, when all united in repeating the Lord's prayer. It was almost overwhelming when Rev. Fr. Schreimb, of St. Mary's Catholic church, led in singing "Nearer My God to Thee." The speakers were of various denominations. All cordially indorsed the movement, which they declared existed solely for the purpose of wiping out intolerance.

Maynard on Contract Convict Labor.

Attorney-General Maynard has an altogether different conception of his duty than that which marked the course of his predecessor, ex-Attorney-General Ellis. For this reason he has summoned E. S. Grece and J. L. Pettibone to show cause why the suit commenced Dec. 31, 1894, by Ellis against the state prison authorities should not be discontinued. Ellis filed a bill to enjoin the prison officials from carrying out a contract entered into last September with the Derby Cycle company of Chicago for the labor of 75 convicts for a period of five years, his claim being that the law of 1893 made no provision for contracting the labor of prisoners. Maynard says it is not his duty to attack the laws of the state, but to sustain them.

Lovers Frozen in Each Other's Arms.

A tragical story of the finding of a pair of lovers in a snow drift frozen to death comes from Shelby. They were locked in each other's arms and appeared to be asleep. A farmer in Benona was awakened early in the morning by a noise about the house. He found a horse just outside hitched to a part of a cutter. This caused a search to be made with the above result. The man was identified as a teacher of the Marshallville school and the lady, though unknown, was supposed to be his sweetheart who had come to visit him.

Benona and Marshalltown are 20 miles north of Muskegon on the lake shore of Oceana county.

Senator Watts, of Jackson, is Dead.

Senator John W. Watts, aged 57 years, died at his residence in Jackson, of pneumonia. Deceased had been ill but six days, the disease having been contracted while on the recent legislative trip to northern Michigan.

John W. Watts was born in Leoni township, Jackson county, Jan. 13, 1838, reared on a farm and educated in a common school and Leoni Academy. He has always been a farmer and real estate dealer and has accumulated a moderate fortune. He married Henrietta Hemans in 1866 and has three grown children. Watts has been a Republican since the organization of the party. He was town clerk seven years, supervisor six years and elected to the legislature in 1886, 1888 and 1890. He declined to run in 1892 and was elected a state senator from Jackson and Washtenaw last fall by nearly 4,000 majority.

No Hope For the Chicago.

Reports were sent out from Chicago and South Chicago that the hull of the lost steamer Chicago had been seen a few miles out in the lake with moving figures aboard. This information was telegraphed to the grieving friends at Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, and their hopes were raised to a high degree. But, sad to say, the report was not substantiated upon investigation. Two tugs from Chicago scoured the lower end of Lake Michigan and all they could discover which in any way resembled the hull of a ship was a line of dark icebergs, with a multitude of gulls flying about.

Ortonville Pioneer Suicides.

H. D. Phelps, one of the pioneers of Ortonville, hung himself in his barn. He fastened a rope to his hay fork rack in the corner of his barn, then got on a small scaffold, fastened the rope around his neck and jumped off, dropping about eight feet. Mr. Phelps was a man well liked by every one and leaves a large family and many friends to mourn his loss.

The state board of agriculture has re-elected Franklin Wells, of Constantine, president, and L. H. Butterfield, of the Agricultural college, secretary. W. E. Boyden, of Delhi Mills, was elected a member of the board, to succeed Edwin Phelps, of Pontiac, resigned.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff C. D. Wright, of Otsego Lake, started on foot to carry supplies from that place to his fishing shanty on Chubb Lake. He took the wrong road in the woods and froze to death, four miles from Otsego Lake, where he was found by the sheriff's searching party.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

SENATE—41st day.—The financial question was the cause of as stirring scenes as have been witnessed in the chamber for many days. Mr. Vest gave a personal turn to the debate by declaring that the President had declared war on the people. The Senator asserted with dramatic emphasis that he had thus far held his peace, but that there must now be a separating of the ways between him and the President. He did not believe the people favored a retirement of $400,000,000 of greenbacks and treasury notes and the substitution of no currency at all. He did not believe they favored gold obligations running 50 years, who interest aggregating $75,000,000 at the end of that time. It was a selfish suggestion that posterity should be left to pay this bad debt. Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, spoke for the first time since the new phases of the financial situation were presented. He said that he did not believe the country could stand the issue of free coinage of silver. And yet the Senate was being brought face to face with the alternative of taking free silver or nothing. If there was to be no separating of the ways between the two coin standards, then the Senator believed in taking the one which was recognized the world over as the best. But he did not believe such a course was inaugurated. He still believed that both metals could be used. "But I am bound to say," said Mr. Sherman, "that the finance committee is entirely helpless. We are equally divided. We are not able to report unless concessions are made to silver." The Japanese treaty was ratified in executive session. It was a bill was taken under consideration to fund the debt due the government from the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroads with 3 per cent 60-year bonds.

SENATE—42nd day.—A critical stage of the financial discussion was unexpectedly interrupted at a late hour. Interim reference had been made to the subject throughout the day, but it was without definite form or purpose, and the Senate finally lapsed into a discussion of the District of Columbia appropriation bill. But the financial question arose incidentally and Mr. Gorman launched a speech which proved to be one of the one of the most effective he has delivered in the present session of congress. He pointed out the gravity of the treasury situation, intimating that the facts were being held back and that an investigation would show startling deficiencies. He defended the Senate against charges of impotency and declared that he had perfect faith in this great body, and that he would do his full duty before it adjourned. He said a financial remedy would, if necessary, be added as a rider to an appropriation bill. Suddenly injected into the question, the Senate at once proceeded to consider and pass three important bills. The first was a bill for the relief of Mr. Gorman, for information concerning every detail bearing on revenues, reserves, deficiencies, etc. A warm party debate occurred over the passage of the bill. Mr. Gorman's speech was warmly applauded. Mr. Chandler, Mr. Platt and other Republican Senators asserted that the total appropriations for this Congress would reach $1,600,000,000, a million in excess of the billion appropriated by the Fifty-first Congress. The House devoted six hours to the debate on the Pacific railroad funding bill.

SENATE—43rd day.—The financial question again came before the Senate as an incident to the consideration of the pending District of Columbia appropriation bill, and Mr. Teller made an effective speech to give the suggestive warning that he would see to it that no such thing as a "penny" was passed. He was concerned there should be no hasty or weak legislation on the lines now proposed. In view of Mr. Teller's vigorous position, an authority among the element favorable to silver, the statement was regarded as having an important bearing on the situation. Mr. Teller said it would be about as effective as pouring water in a sieve. And these bonds are being put out when the treasury is empty. He said that the ample revenue for expenses, Mr. Teller added with great force. "The administration of our financial affairs has never before been in absolutely incompetent hands, but if the Senator from Maryland is right they are in such hands now." HOUSE.—A scene of the wildest and most intense excitement occurred at the conclusion of the debate on Mr. Hill's Hawaiian resolution growing out of a personal difficulty between friends interposed and the sergeant-at-arms arrested the two offenders and brought them to the bar of the House, when Mr. Breckinridge, in the course of an explanation, practically challenged Mr. Heard and demanded personal satisfaction. Later apologies were made and peace once more reigned. The House gave an hour to the debate on the Pacific railroad funding bill. A resolution was adopted calling on the President for all correspondence and information regarding the alleged aid furnished the rebels in Hawaii by representatives of the British government and the remainder of the day was consumed by the District of Columbia committee.

SENATE—44th day.—Senator Carlisle submitted the following: "In reply to the Senate resolution of January 28, 1895, that the secretary of the treasury be directed to inform the Senate what is the estimated deficiency in the revenues of the government to the current expenses between the 31st day of December, 1894, and the 31st day of December, 1895, and if the $133,337,579.99 cash balance in the treasury on the 31st day of December, 1894, will be sufficient to meet such deficiency. I have the honor to state that from estimates made upon the basis of laws now in force, it is believed that for the 12 months ending December 31, 1895, the revenues of the government from all sources will exceed ordinary expenditures by $25,000,000. Respectfully, JOHN C. CALISE, Secretary." The reading of the letter was closely followed by the Senators. Mr. Gorman promptly repeated the bill restricting the omnibus bill for payment of bills for supplies confiscated from loyal people in the south during the war, amounting to $718,000. It excited much opposition, especially from Pennsylvania members interested in Pennsylvania war claims, amounting to $1,000,000, and not included, and the measure was defeated 56 to 148. A rule was then adopted for the consideration of the currency bill for two days. The remainder of the day was consumed by the District of Columbia appropriation bill which was passed without amendment. The conference reports in the fortifications and army appropriations bill were adopted.

WASHINGTON.

President Cleveland is overwhelmed with telegrams indorsing the recommendations in his recent message to congress.

Commissioner Wright and representatives of the railroad organizations approve the labor arbitration bill as reported to the house.

Secretary Carlisle has recommended changes in the Chicago postoffice bill which contemplate a better building.

Congressman Breckinridge of Kentucky and Heard of Missouri called each other liars in the house Friday and were caused to apologize.

House adopted a resolution calling on the President for information concerning the action of British subjects during the recent rebellion in Hawaii.

Announcement that bonds will be issued has caused the New York bankers to return a great amount of gold to the treasury.

It is stated semi-officially that Secretary Carlisle will be appointed to the Supreme bench to succeed Justice Jackson.

Pacific railroad funding bill was discussed in the house Thursday and much opposition to the measure was developed.

Press comments from all portions of the country indorse the financial policy recommended by President Cleveland.

Gorman and Hill made strenuous efforts to have the senate take some immediate action on the pressing financial question.

A Girl Makes $212.16 in a Month.

I read in your valuable paper how one of your subscribers made money in the plating business, but I can beat that and I am only a girl. I sent and got the new Gray Plater and cleared $212.16 in one month. Can any of your readers beat this? You can get spoons, forks and jewelry to plate at every house. Some big articles I had sent and plated at the factory. There is plenty of work to do both in the city and country, and why should any person be poor and out of employment when such an opportunity is at hand. Anybody can get my plater by writing to Gray & Co. Plating Works, Columbus, Ohio. They do all kinds of plating and will teach the art. My plater has a lathe, wheels, tools and materials for polishing—a nice little workshop, I hope my experience will help others.

The Hausfreund-Post proposed the name of Sid Millard as city clerk in place of Mr. Miller. Must have forgotten that we have a republican mayor and a republican candidate for the office. Mr. Mills, who was appointed last Monday night will fill the office to the entire satisfaction of all.

Somebody is devoting a great deal of attention to poisoning dogs in Ann Arbor. If he would devote his attention to a lot of worthless curs that may be found in the city, but little complaint would be made. He is, however, killing some valuable animals, and is likely therefore to get into trouble.

Hon. Chas. R. Whitman has decided to give up his law practice here and open up an office in Detroit. He will continue to reside in Ann Arbor, at least for the present. His offices in Detroit are in the Buhl Block. THE REGISTER wishes Mr. Whitman success in his new and larger field of labor.

It is not yet known whether Governor Rich will call a special election to choose a successor to the late Senator Watts, who died suddenly of pneumonia, last Saturday. This district is too important a one to be left unrepresented and Governor Rich will make a mistake if he does not decide to order a special election at once.

The Hausfreund-Post recognizes the fitness of Mr. Wedemeyer as a candidate for the office of county school commissioner, and, although it is a democratic sheet, it says he is one of the ablest and most talented young men in the county. It would be difficult to find a man in the county who does not admit that Mr. Wedemeyer is the man to nominate.

Saturday's Evening News contained a sensational report from Ann Arbor about the city marshal prying into the doings at a number of fraternity houses at the U. of M. Fraternity men, of course, deny that there is anything wrong going on at their houses, and declared that they would make a vigorous kick if any spying is done about their premises.

The annual election of the Municipal Club, held last Wednesday night at McMillan Hall elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Prof. B. M. Voorheis, Miss Charlotte Walker, and Ray Willoughby.

Rev. Camedn M. Coburn will leave about the 15th inst. for St. Paul, where he will deliver a series of lectures during the week of Feb. 16-22, on Egyptology, dealing especially with the Egyptian monuments and the Bible. Saturday, Feb. 22, he will lecture before the state Epworth League convention of Wisconsin, meeting at Appleton, and on the following Sunday will preach before the same body. During the following week he will deliver his course of lectures on Egyptology at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis.

The Detroit Tribune, speaking of Francis Holderness, who will sing at the Congregational church next Sunday evening says:

"Francis Holderness is a small boy with a big voice. He looks somewhat like Little Lord Fauntleroy in his dark, double-breasted coat, with its wide collar and cuffs of lace, and short knee trousers. His hair is rather long and a bright yellow, and is a happy setting to his fair childish face, with its blue coloring and half merry, half serious blue eyes. His voice is a sweet soprano. It naturally and easily ranges from low G to C altissimo. His rendering of Gounod's 'Forever with the Lord,' is a perfect surprise.

YPSILANTI SENTINEL.

The Normal News for January contains a fine portrait of Prof. C. F. R. Bellows with a sketch of his professional career.

A registering thermometer on Normal hill gives 10 below as the coldest point reached Sunday night. The instrument of Chas. S. Woodward on the east side recorded 8 below.

Considerable has been said by citizens in the vicinity of the Normal school buildings, about the odor arising from the use of crude oil as fuel. At a meeting of the board of education, held Saturday, measures were taken to do away with it. It is certainly most disagreeable.

SALINE OBSERVER.

A little 8-months old son of Peter Weidmeyer, west of town, died of pneumonia, yesterday.

Shall we remain in the darkness forever, or shall we wake up and put in an electric light plant? The question is a good one and we submit it in this form for your consideration.

E. C. Young and wife, late of Waterville, Washington, arrived here last Thursday night. It has been eight long years since Ed. left here and he says things have changed to his then remembrance, a great deal. They will doubtless settle in Michigan in the spring as he thinks there is nothing in the far west at present to call anyone in that direction.

DEXTER LEADER.

Jacob Haas, of Lima, fell through a scaffold in the barn Tuesday and broke one of the bones of his right arm at the wrist. Dr. Chase reduced the fracture.

Geo. Benton, of Lima, remarks the singular circumstance of a visit to one of his apple trees last Monday morning of four robins, while the mercury stood two degrees above zero.

The announcement Tuesday morning that C. H. Stannard, proprietor of The Cash Shoe House, has made a voluntary assignment to his father, H. D. Stannard, created intense surprise. His obligations are not large and his failure is owing to dull times and slow collections. Affairs have not been sufficiently cleared up so that any statement has been given out. Mr. Stannard is one of our most upright business men and has the sympathy of the entire community.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

We understand that the solicitors of stock for the new canning factory are meeting with favorable success.

There are nearly 50 pianos owned by residents of this village. Who says that we are not a music-loving people?

Mrs. Yokam received word this morning of the death of her mother, who resides in Canada. She will attend the funeral, which takes place on Saturday.

C. E. Weidlich, of Cincinnati, the fountain pen manufacturer, was in town this week and secured the services of W. H. Starks to take charge of his works after the 1st of April.

Six of our village sports went to Wampler's lake yesterday to fish through the ice and caught some bass and perch—mostly perch and hard colds. They returned with frosted ears and a sensation of icebergs sliding down the spinal column.

A Deep-Laid Scheme.

"Yours is a perplexing case," said the oculist. "You call red 'purple' and referred to Nile green as 'Turkey red'."

"Yes," replied the visitor, with a contented smile. "I guess I was born that way."

"It's the most aggravated case of color-blindness I ever encountered in my professional experience."

"That's it. I want you to write me out a statement to that effect. Never mind what the fee is. You see, my wife has a lot of samples she wants matched, and she'll ask me to take the job some time next week, sure."

And then the oculist had his suspicions.—Washington Star.

BIG ARMIES IN BATTLE.

Greatest Number Engaged in Modern Times Was at Leipsic in 1813.

Without doubt, of all the battles recorded in modern history, the longest and sternest, as well as the one in which most men were engaged, was the memorable battle of Leipsic. October 16, 18, 19, 1813, called by the Germans the battle of the nations. The number of troops engaged is variously stated by different writers at from 130,000 to 190,000 on the side of Napoleon I, and from 230,000 to 290,000 on that of the allies under Prince Schwartzburg, Blucher and Bernadotte. In this awful battle the slain on both sides amounted to 50,000, and thousands of the wounded lay for days around the city. In the battle of Koniggratz, or Sadova, July 3, 1866, fought during the "Seven weeks' war," the allied Austrian and Saxon troops engaged amounted to about 200,000 men, while the Prussians, under their king mounted in round numbers 250,000 combatants. The total loss of the Austrians, etc., amounted to about 40,000 men while that of the Prussians was 10,000. If we go back to the melee of ancient days, we find it stated that at the one fought at Tours in 732 between the Franks and the Saracens, from 350,000 to 375,000 men were killed on the field. This would, of course, mean that many more men were engaged than at Leipsic. In a battle mentioned in Chronicles II, between Asa, king of Judah, and Rehah, king of Ethiopia, we are told that the former had an army of a thousand thousand, or 1,000,000. Canon Rawlinson observes that this statement does not exceed the numbers of other oriental armies. Darius Codomannus brought into the field a force of 1,040,000 men near Arbela, where he was finally defeated by Alexander the Great 331 B. C. Xerxes, too, Professor Rawlinson says, crossed into Greece with certainly above 1,000,000 combatants, and Artaxerxes Mnemon collected 1,360,000 men to meet the attack of the younger Cyrus.

GUARD AND CONDUCTOR.

Difference Between Boxes of English and American Railroad Trains.

The guard is found on the station platforms, where he looks at your ticket, opens and closes the door of the compartment, will try to see you well placed according to your class, then hops into his van and goes with the train on your journey. He is by no means the important person that the conductor is in the United States, says Colonel H. G. Prout in Scribner's Magazine, for he has no opportunity to sit with the passengers, to talk politics, or horses, or railroads. He never rises to the rank of captain, as all conductors do in our Southern states. He may become a Knight Templar for all I know, but I never saw him with his waistcoat ablaze with the symbols of that order which so often decorate our own conductors. Doubtless in private life he is a man of influence in his neighborhood, but on duty he is a quiet servant, and his relations with the public are purely those of business.

He is a tidy man in blue cloth uniform with white metal buttons, and often wears a broad patent-leather strap over one shoulder with white buckle and ornaments. He sometimes carries a small bag, presumably for such papers as he needs to have, and is provided with a green flag to wave to the engineer as a signal to start the train. Altogether he is a simple, efficient and civil official, and just here is a striking contrast between the men of the two countries. On the English railroads one never sees the conductor or ticket seller who scorns you if you ask a question, and gives the minimum of information with the maximum of brusqueness; and one never sees the usher who stands in the gateway and bellows in inarticulate pride, then turns a quid in his cheek and squirts tobacco juice into a corner.

Assist Gently.

No harm can result from the use of Dr. Kermott's Mandrake Pills. Their action is mild and gentle, assisting and stimulating nature, not forcing it; consequently, they cause no pain, no griping; never cause hemorrhoids or piles, but give tone and vitality to the digestive organs. She Did Worry.

The lawyer, who had been married for only a year, sent word to his wife that he had been suddenly called to Milwaukee. "I will be back to-morrow," he wrote. "Don't worry. My stenographer goes with me."

But did she worry. When he reached home next evening her eyes were red from weeping, and as soon as she saw him she broke down again. "Oh, how could you?" she sobbed. "What's the matter?" he demanded. "Your stenographer—" she began, and again she sobbed.

"What's the matter with him?"

"Him. Was it a man?"

"Why, yes; I fired that girl a month ago."

"Oh, dearest, I never believed it for a moment, anyway."—Chicago Record.

A Poor German's Lucky Discovery—Gets $1,000,000 for a Rheumatic Cure.

CHICAGO, May 2.—(Special).—Less than one year ago Frank Schrage did not possess a dollar in the world outside of the income derived from a small drug business, and only a few years ago he was a poor German immigrant without a home. To-day Mr. Schrage can be called a millionaire, as a result of a discovery of a sure cure for rheumatism. A syndicate to-day paid him $100,000 cash for his discovery and arranged to pay him $100,000 a year until he has received $1,000,000 in all.—Philadelphia Press.

A HALT ON PICKLES.

Boston Schoolgirls to Be Deprived of Their Favorite Luncheon.

Considerable interest is being manifested in regard to the luncheons provided at recess for the boys and girls in the high schools. At almost every high school in the city the majority of the pupils buy their luncheons from the lunch counter kept by the janitor, says the Boston Transcript, and the food so provided consists largely of pies and cakes—"bakehouse stuff," as some people call it—and pickles. The janitor keeps that kind of food because the pupils will buy it in preference to any more wholesome kinds, and also because there is probably more profit in it.

Nevertheless, the parents of the pupils are anxious that some different system may be adopted in the matter of furnishing luncheons. They think it high time that something was done about it, for in schools where there are no lunch counters, peddlers of cheap candy, coconut cake and other unwholesome compounds make their appearance at recess, and are generally well patronized by the hungry boys and girls.

The first official step toward bettering this state of things was taken when an order was passed by the school board providing that all luncheons sold in the public schools should be such as are approved by the committee on hygiene and physical training. Moreover, the committee was instructed to report at the next meeting of the board a plan for providing suitable luncheons at proper places for the high school pupils.

Just what the committee intends to do is hard to say, but several persons interested are hoping that it will be able to make some arrangements with the New England kitchen whereby soups, sandwiches, milk and other wholesome articles of food may be furnished directly to the pupils at moderate prices. The kitchen has its main station on Pleasant street, and another station at the North End. It is thought that soups might be carried from the kitchen to the schools in tanks, just as coffee is sometimes transported, and in that way might be served hot. Such a system of providing luncheons would be more favorable to the health of the pupils, and therefore more acceptable to the parents. As for the old system, the janitors are not thought to merit any blame, for they simply provided what the pupils buy; but now that the committee has taken the matter in hand, it is likely that most pupils will give up the practice of making a luncheon on an éclair, a piece of pie or a pickle.

In Vino Veritas.

It was a convivial party, and it had reached that stage where the "invisible spirit of wine" makes itself decidedly visible. One of the party was of the kind that carry well a heavy load, and even when fully clogged present but few evidences to the eye of such a condition. Another was of exactly the opposite nature, one of those individuals who when in their cups look it, smell it, and are otherwise noisy laughing and crying, aggressive and affectionate. The quieter looked the noisier over while the latter was making an unpleasant exhibition of himself and remarked to a neighbor: "How—hic—how much a drunken drunkard disgusts a sober drunkard!"

A Private Opinion.

A smart young officer thinking to make himself popular, a la Napoleon, had a way of promising things to the private soldiers under him. One day he met a regular old warhorse. "I say, Harris," he said to him, "you're a mighty good soldier." "Thank you, sir," replied Harris, stiffly. "How would you like to have me recommend your promotion? Give you something above the grade of private, for instance?"

"Well, sir," responded the old soldier. "I'll be glad of that after a while, but just now, sir, there are so many officers that it is a good deal more exclusive to be a private, and I'd sooner remain where I am."

CARRIES A TORCH.

A Deep Sea Fish Which Can Turn on the Light at Pleasure.

Scientists have recently introduced a novelty in the finny world in the shape of the liophryne lucifer, but it is a deal easier to call it by its every day name—the torchfish. He is a deep sea fish, carrying on his nose an organ which he can illuminate with a phosphorescent light or extinguish it at pleasure. He does not use his lantern to guide him on his pathless course in the dark depths of ocean or enable him to look around him, but when meal time comes he lights up to attract smaller fishes, which, mistaking the lantern for a phosphorescent insect, dart straight for it, only to find their way into the capacious jaws of liophryne lucifer. The mode in which the lantern is lighted and extinguished is not yet clearly understood. Nikola Tesla, the eminent electrician, is of the opinion that if such a fish exists, and if it has the attributes credited to it, it is very strange that neither Lord Rayleigh nor Professor S. P. Langley had made any mention of it in their researches. Mr. Tesla is of the opinion that if the phosphorescent does exist it is not of an electrical origin.

G. Brown Goode, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian institution, writes of the torch-fish. "It is not positively known that the organ on the nasal filament of liophryne is luminous, although it appears probable. The idea that the fish has the power of illuminating it at pleasure is, so far as I know, purely conjectural, the idea having been suggested by Dr. Gunther, of the British museum. I think no one has seriously supposed that the phosphorescence is due to an electrical source."

A Hans in Luck.

A modern Hans in Luck lives in the town of Washburn, Me. He started in business a while ago with an old brass watch. This he traded for an old horse, which he treated to the luxury of three square meals. He then traded the horse for a violin, which he changed for a patent knitting machine. Finding the market overstocked with socks and mitts, he traded the machine the other day for a goat. This is as far as the correspondent has followed him, but ere this he probably has changed his goat for a rooster, to help him crow over his financial achievements.

THAT'S QUEER!

You say a collar and cuff that are waterproof?

Yes. And perspiration will not affect them?

Yes. And when dirty you need only wipe them off with a wet cloth or sponge?

Yes. Wonderful! How are they made?

A linen collar covered on both sides with waterproof "CELLULOID." Looks exactly like a linen collar.

Is it the only waterproof collar and cuff made?

No, but it is the only one made with the linen interlining and consequently the only one that can give entire satisfaction, because it is the best.

How can I know that I get the right kind?

Because every piece is stamped as follows:

Inquire for that and refuse anything else, or you will be disappointed.

Suppose my dealer does not have them?

He probably has, but if not, send direct to us, enclosing amount. Collars 25c., Cuffs 50c. State size, and whether collar wanted is stand-up or turned-down.

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This column is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIMMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent. I am entrusted with a certain amount to spend advertising these knives (the best value ever seen in America at One Dollar each). Now, the knife is its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained ivory handle—genuine African ivory and with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife. Now, would it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement.

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44c., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

The deposit of 44 cents will be placed to your credit, and will be deducted from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and I absolutely guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs the promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your sample, even if you should lose a sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this place in this paper for three years! The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44c., and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS,

ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 138 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DEAR SIR,—I faithfully promise on my honor and to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-cutlery is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamois leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamps, which please hold for me until I send you an order at the dozen rate.

COQUETRY DID NOT GO.

The Widow Knew the Game, But the Old Man Had Experience.

Just where Robbins lane shoots into Lucas street is to be found a settlement of negroes, says the St. Louis Republic. All the residents of this part of the narrow thoroughfare known as Lucas avenue, from Robbins lane east several squares, are Afro-Americans. Numerous little stables are used as "coal yards" by several negroes, who sell ice and coal in small quantities to colored residents. One day while the miners' strike was on coal had jumped to a high price during the night before. A buxom young colored woman walked into the miniature coal yards one morning to purchase a basketful for the day. When informed by the old black giant, who was proprietor, that coal had "done gone up purty high las' night," the buxom young colored woman was sorely troubled.

"Now, see hyar, Uncle Sam, you's not gwine ter chawge me dat outrajis price?" queried the young colored woman, in an imploring manner.

"Well, now, I's tellin' ye how 'tis," replied Uncle Sam. "Coal done jumped twenty cents las' night. I have to go to de freight cyars an' fork dis coal, an' den load it in de wagon an' haul it hyar, an' den unload it. You see, I done handle dis hyar coal t'ree times, an' I ain't making but a measly two cents profit on dis hyar basketful. I cain't fo'd to sell it any cheaper."

"Aw! go long now, Uncle Sam, you ain't gwine to chawge a good-lookin' culled widdler like me dat price?" said the young colored woman evidently applying the art of coquetry to bring down the price of coal.

"Are you married, Uncle Sam?" queried the young colored widow.

"No, I's not married now," replied Uncle Sam. "But I done buried t'ree women an' I'm tellin' yo' right now, I's not gwine ter bury de fo'th."

Uncle Sam spoke in an emphatic tone, which told plainly that he was not in the coal business for love. The young colored widow paid the high price for the basketful of coal and departed. Her coquetry had availed nothing.

Hope Crushed to Earth.

Will rise again in the bosom of a dyspeptic wise enough to substitute for the pseudotonics, which have bamboozled him out of his belief in the possibility of cure, the real invigorant and stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The bilious, the nervous, the dyspeptic, the rheumatic alike derive speedy benefit from this helpful botanic medicine. Persons suffering from indigestion will gain no positive permanent good from the fiery, unmediated stimulants of commerce, too often used recklessly. The Bitters is immeasurably to be preferred to these as a tonic, since its pure basis is fortified by the conjunction with it of vegetable ingredients of the highest remedial excellence. Malaria is prevented and remedied by it, and it infuses vigor into the weak and sickly. A wine glass full three times a day is the average dose.

Blaine's Good Humor.

On one occasion, a decision which Blaine made as speaker of the house greatly enraged a new member, who waited on Pennsylvania avenue after the house adjourned with some friends, declaring that he would "have it out or fight." "You can't," said one of his friends; "nothing you can say will get the better of Blaine's good humor and politeness." "We'll see!" said the enraged man as he caught sight of the stately form of the speaker coming slowly toward him. He stepped forward quickly and stood across his path. "Mr. Blaine," he said loudly, "I don't know you. But I take the liberty of telling you, sir, that you are a fool and a jackass!" "Indeed!" said Blaine, mildly; "now I wonder," regarding him thoughtfully, "what kind of a liberty you would have taken if I had been one of your intimate friends?" and, bowing courteously, he passed on while the companions of the congressman burst into a shout of laughter. — Aronaut.

Wines for Debilitated Females.

Physicians have used Speer's wine, and having applied to it the strictest test known to chemistry, they do not hesitate to pronounce it a pure wine of medium strength, and recommend it to be of great advantage to the aged and infirm, also low and typhoid fevers. Speer's wine will be found very superior.

Curlett's Heave Remedy is a sure cure for Heaves in the earlier stages, and warranted to relieve in advanced stages. Guaranteed to cure Coughs and Colds.

Chas. Dwyer, ex-Sheriff of Washtenaw Co., Mich., says, "I cured two different horses two different years of Heaves in early stages by use of Curlett's Heave Remedy."

J. M. Allen, proprietor of the Dexter Leader says, "I have used Curlett's Thrush Remedy with perfect satisfaction, having permanently cured a very bad case of that disease with his Thrush Remedy."

Curlett's Thrush Remedy is a sure cure for Thrush and all rotting away diseases of the feet of stock. One application cures ringworm on man or beast and removes lameness of calked or cracked hoofs. Applied once a day grows them out.

Curlett's Pinworm Remedy, for a man or beast, is a compound that effectually removes these troublesome parasites, which are such a great annoyance to stock. If bowels are bound up, one or two doses will put them in proper condition.

She Didn't Take With the Gentlemen.

She was refined, intelligent, and not bad looking, but somehow she never seemed to take with the gentlemen. They didn't like her listless ways; they said she hadn't any "snap" about her. Poor girl! she was suffering from functional irregularities, and it was actually impossible for her to take much interest in anything. But a change came. One day she heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She procured a bottle, and she had not taken half its contents when she felt like another woman. Now she is in the enjoyment of perfect health, and has suitors by the score. No woman need suffer from functional irregularities and weaknesses. The "Favorite Prescription" is a safe and certain cure for all the weaknesses to which women are peculiarly subject.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion and headache. One a dose.

AT THE DENTIST'S.

The Forceps-Wielder Is Told a Rather Unpleasant Thing.

A well-known Chicago dentist tells an excellent story on himself that will bear the light of day. The gentleman is the owner, among other possessions, of a cottage on Congress street and, as with most old-fashioned buildings of the kind, it has an out-house and other primitive conveniences in the rear of the premises. A new tenant of the cottage made it a sine qua non that before he signed the lease the service of a scavenger should be engaged and accordingly one of those useful but extremely malodorous functionaries was engaged.

About a week after this a well-dressed man called at the doctor's office at the corner of Madison and Ashland boulevard with a bill. It was the scavenger. The doctor promptly paid the bill, remarking that the work had been well done. The man lingered around a few moments and finally said:

"Doctor, you're a dentist, ain't you?"

"Yes."

"You have to pull and fill teeth?"

"Certainly; have you anything you wish attended to?"

"Now," drawled the scavenger, "but I couldn't help thinking you must be in an extremely unpleasant business."

"I could have stood this from pretty nearly anybody but a scavenger," declared the doctor.

Sacred Cattle.

The sacred cattle of India take more readily to American ways than do the people of that land, according to the caretakers of the national quarantine for cattle at Garfield, N. J., where there is a small herd of the animals, imported for Oliver H. P. Belmont. Said one of these men: "Mr. Belmont sent over for the cattle some of the native food. It is a grain or berry, which, when ground up, resembles ground chicory. The cattle ate it all right, but after a few days here they became sickly. The superintendent gave them some Yankee feed, on which they immediately began to thrive, and now they won't touch the feed sent over with them."

"A friend in need, is a friend indeed."

A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh. It is a most valuable remedy.—Joseph Steward, 624 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

My son was afflicted with catarrh, I induced him to try Ely's Cream Balm and the disagreeable catarrhal smell all left him. He appears as well as any one.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola, Ill.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

Told of Professor Swing.

One winter morning, the late Professor Swing was sauntering slowly along near his home in Chicago. The stone pavements were coated with ice, and a woman who lived in the neighborhood was cautiously picking her way along. Suddenly her feet flew out and she came down hard upon the sidewalk. Professor Swing paused to satisfy himself that she was not seriously injured. Then he dryly remarked: "Mrs. S., in my opinion you are a good woman." Piqued at his remark, and at the same time at her predicament, she retorted: "I don't know why you think so. What do you mean?" "Scripture has it," gravely replied Professor Swing, "that the wicked stand in slippery places." You seem to be sitting down."

Eczema Cured.

DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 19, 1895.—For the last three years I have been troubled very severely with eczema. The doctors said they could do no more for me and I tried various remedies without benefit. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has cured me and I cannot speak too highly of this medicine as I never expected to get well after so many other medicines had failed. J. H. Tourge, 105 Franklin St.

BOY-GIRLS.

One of the Strange Phases of Life in Old Mexico.

The recent discovery that it was a 16-year old boy, Henry Graeme, that had been impersonating a girl, Etta, the servant in a Brooklyn house finds its counterpart occasionally among the Mexican households in the Spanish-American regions of the United States. Cases in these regions are not infrequent of persons, male by sex, who all their lives have chosen to wear woman's clothes and to labor at those household vocations reckoned distinctly as woman's.

Such a case is thus described by a visitor to New Mexico: "Stopping to dine at a little plaza about twenty miles south of Santa Fe, my driver, an old-timer, called my attention to what seemed a strapping woman working among the female servants of the wealthy old Mexican don's household across the way. This slab-sided, rather ungainly person, with coarse features and a chin that suggested the razor, was attired in a calico gown, wore gold ear-rings and had the hair braided behind. 'It's a man, such as it is!' said the driver. All he has to say about his wearing of woman's togs is that when a boy his mother always dressed him in girl's clothes, and he never learned to dress differently."

"As he grew up he was set to work about the house with the women, where he is now treated with about the same sort of forbearance and contempt a 'squaw man' receives among the Indians. As I put it up, it was to get rid of being set to the hard, dangerous work of herding cattle and sheep when the Indians were bad in the territory that cowardly boys, growing up to be peons, virtually slaves to the wealthy Mexicans, chose to be squaws and work with the women. You'll find such cases now here and there in the Mexican towns and among the Indian pueblos."

Preserved Grape Communion Wine.

The Grape Crop of A. Speer's Vineyards in New Jersey, promises this year to be larger than any previous year. His Vineyards in New Jersey and the products from the grapes he purchases, have enabled him to keep a stock four years ahead. His Unfermented Grape Juice has become a popular evening wine among the best families in New York, and for communion purposes.

Lightning Makes a Ban of Iron.

A remarkable discovery was recently made while workmen were tearing down a building at Pesth, Hungary. When they removed the lightning rod, which had been erected some fifteen years previous, a large mass of pure iron was found firmly attached to the lower end. The lump was porous as a sponge, but pure and very heavy, the piece, which was not more than twice as large as the average man's head, weighing forty-six pounds. There is but one way of accounting for the peculiar position of this ball of iron—it had been brought together and shaped by the action of lightning on the iron particles in the clay.

Mystery of the Oyster Bed.

One of the greatest natural curiosities in the world is the Texas oyster bed. This bed extends across the entire state from south to north, and has lain long enough to become stratified. The shells are soft when first taken out, but harden upon exposure to the atmosphere. At Henrietta, in the Panhandle, a number of beautiful buildings have been constructed of this material. At Weatherford and San Antonio shell roads have been made. The oysters embrace several species long since extinct, and while geologists agree that Texas must at one time have been at the bottom of the gulf of Mexico, they are at a loss to account for the presence of that oyster bank, there being none found east or west of the strata.

The Hair vs. Insanity.

It was formerly supposed that people of pale complexion, especially if the hair was a pronounced blonde, fine and thin, were specially liable to mental excitement and brain disorder. Statistics which have recently been compiled prove this to be another of the grave errors of the old-time "specialist." At the Kirkbridge, England, asylum out of a total of 265 patients only one has red hair, and only three either light hair or fair complexion. In the New York, London and Paris hospitals for the insane the same proportion holds good. Exactly why dark-haired persons are more liable to mental diseases than those of other shades of color has not yet been explained.—St. Louis Republic.

LITERARY NOTES.

Volume XXVIII. of Harpers Bazar opens brilliantly in January with the beginning of Maarten Maarten's striking and finely illustrated novel, "My Lady Nobody," a story which has Holland for its background, and some charmingly real people for its dramatic personae. Marion Harland will contribute a characteristic short story, entitled "A Fin de Siecle Prodigal," and Harriet Prescott Spofford a piquant tale, with a whimsical New England heroine.—Harper and Brothers, Publishers, New York.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge contributes to Harper's Magazine for January a vigorous article, entitled "Shakespeare's Americanisms," which contains reassuring and comforting doctrine for those who employ colloquial forms of speech. Among them are examples of the use of "guess" and "fire out" and others.—Harper and Bros., New York.

Colonel A. B. Ellis's paper, On the Origin of Weeks and Sabbaths, shows that while weeks of various lengths have existed among different peoples they have all been intended as subdivisions of the lunar month. Among moon-worshipping tribes, sabbaths at first occurred monthly. The Jews did not have a weekly sabbath until after their captivity at Babylon. Prof. James Sully takes up in his Studies of Childhood the idea of self, of the past, of God, and others that young philosophers puzzle over. H. C. B. Cowell writes in School Ethics, pointing out ways in which practical teaching of this subject could be added to the theoretical.—New York: D. Appleton & Company.

The Janurary Arena is especially interesting to women who have the cause of Woman's Progress at heart—and the Woman's cause is the cause of the whole race and the progress of civilization itself—on account of the remarkable Symposium Discussing The Age of Consent laws in the different States of the Union, in which eight of the most prominent advocates of social purity take part. Among those who contribute to the discussion are Aaron M. Powell, editor of the Philanthropist; Frances E. Willard, president of the White Ribbon movement; Helen H. Gardner, author of "Pray You, Sir, Whose Daughter?"; and the Editor of the Arena and others. All friends of higher morality will find this number of the Arena invaluable.—Arena Pub. Co. Boston, Mass.

The Eclectic Magazine enters the fifty-second year of its existence with the usual carefully chosen variety of articles "Christian Socialism"—a leading article by the Duke of Argyll—discusses the socialistic qualities of the Christian religion. The second part of Sir Evelyn Wood's "Crimes" is no less than the former installment. A timely interview treats of the "Chino-Japanese Conflict—And After." Perhaps the most forceful essay in the number is Max Muller's fine statement, "Why I am not an Agnostic." There are seventeen articles, all by the best writers, selected from the January number of the ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—Published by E. R. PELTON, 144 Eighth Street, New York.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for January, is really a holiday number, with regard to both to the character of its reading matter and its richness in illustration. The leading article, "St. Andrews and Andrew Lang," by Mrs. Leicester Addis, is a charming account of the University career and literary life of this versatile author. In the way of picturesque travel and exploration, there are "America's Egypt" (Yucatan), by Mme. LePlongeon; "Finland and the Finns," by Herman Montague Donner; and "A Dash into Pineapple Land," which is southeastern Florida.

Littell's Living Age For 1895. The success of this sterling periodical is owing to the fact that it enables one, with a small outlay of time and money, to keep pace with the best thought and literature of the day. Hence its importance to every American reader.

It has always stood at the head of its class, both in the quality and quantity of the reading furnished; and in fact it affords, of itself, so thorough and complete a compendium of what is of immediate interest or permanent value in the literary world as to render it an invaluable economizer of time, labor and money. In the multitude of periodicals of the present time,—quarterlies, monthlies and weeklies,—such a publication has become almost a necessity to every person or family desiring to keep well informed in the best literature of the day.

For 1895, an extraordinary offer is made to all new subscribers; and reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are also given by which a subscriber may at remarkably small cost obtain the cream of both home and foreign literature.—Littell & Co., Boston publishers.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The Great Specialist in Diseases of Brain, Heart and Nerves.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, M. D., LL. B., Chicago, Ill.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, of Chicago, subject of the above sketch is one of the best known specialists in the U. S. in diseases of the brain, heart and nerves. He spent twelve years in study at the following institutions: Phillips Academy, Mass.; Williston Seminary, Mass.; Sheffield Scientific School, New Haven; Yale College, Conn.; Columbia College, New York City; Medical Department Michigan University; Rush Medical College, Chicago; Chicago Medical College, and Illinois State Eye and Ear Infirmary, and is author of a treatise on "Nervous Diseases," "The Permanent Cure of Headache without Change of Occupation," "Heart Disease," "Weak Eyes a Nervous Disease," "Headache and Other Nervous Diseases," "The Use of Spectacles in the Treatment of Affections of the Brain and Nerves," etc.

DR. MILES has spent nearly 20 years since he completed his education in study and investigation of the nervous system. He has made some startling and wonderful discoveries in the relation of the eye to the heart, brain and nervous system. The greatest of his achievements and those that have made him famous are his discovery of the great nerve tonic called DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVE and the wonderful cure for heart disease, DR. MILES' NEW CURE FOR THE HEART—These discoveries were not luck nor accident but the result of a series of investigations carried on patiently, carefully and systematically through years of practice. They are not cures, but intended for specific purposes. The Heart Cure is the best and safest heart tonic. It tones the heart by its action directly on the heart, as well as upon the sympathetic nerve centers. The Restorative Nerve soothes, quiets and restores the nerves and their centers to their normal condition, and is a sure specific for sleeplessness, nervousness, dizziness, hysteria, etc. These remedies have cured thousands and may cure you. Write DR. MILES' MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., for their book on diseases of the nerves and heart. Dr. Miles' remedies contain no opiates or other dangerous drugs, and taken according to directions are positively harmless. Sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. Should it not you may return it and obtain your money. This allows you to give it a fair trial without risk. This proves our confidence in the medicine. This proves that it is made to cure and not alone for the profit there is in it. This proves the merit of the remedy, if it was an ordinary medicine this unparalleled offer could not be made. All druggists sell them at $1, six bottles $5, Pills 25 cents.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
COUNTY OF WASHTENAW.
At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the 31st day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, J. WILLARD BABBITT, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Edward Treadwell, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Adah Z. Treadwell praying that a certain instrument now on file in this Court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be admitted to probate and that administration of said estate may be granted to David Rinsley the executor, in said will named or to some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the 11th day of February next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the devisees, and heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR REGISTER, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

THOMAS SPEECHLY,
East Liberty, Near State.

A MODERN PIRATE

THINK, friends," exclaimed Patrick Cassidy, the most prominent of the passengers assembled in the fore-cabin of the Silver Dream—"I think, friends, that assortment should last us the voyage;" and he indicated a large box which each had contributed toward filling with jams, sardines, and other preserves not supplied by the ship.

A hearty assent greeted the remark, but as loud cheering indicated the ship's departure, the box was locked, the key being handed to the speaker, and all hastened to bid farewell to friends they might never again behold. A brisk fair wind soon carried the Silver Dream clear of land, and all sought relief in the generous pastime of "feeding the fishes."

Here again Patrick Cassidy became prominent.

With hands clasping that part of his frame lying beneath his heart and with the glow of health replaced by tints of a decided green, he presently ceased the disinterested toil and sank on a seat.

"What is the matter?" I inquired.

"Sure, I think it's the measles," he replied, faintly; "for 'twas bad in Macroom when I left. An—an hour ago I was as hearty as yourself, this minute; but now my little stummick is like a chair at Tim Dooley's auction—'tis goin', goin', and will soon be gone entirely. What will I take for it?"

"I would not buy, nor have it as a gift."

"Och, I didn't mean that, but something to ease the earthquake inside o' me," said he dolefully.

"Try a fat mutton chop," I said.

He suddenly bent double. A violent inward commotion was accompanied by an Irish fantasia on howls, and imploring the steward's assistance, he rushed to the lee-rail.

For the space of a week all were in like condition, and then they met at the breakfast table, eager to enjoy the fruits of their forethought.

With a flourish of the key Cassidy opened the box that contained the longed-for delicacies, and, behold! it was as void as a newly dug grave.

Indeed, it proved the tomb of many a keen regret, since the vanished contents were never recovered.

That breakfast was a dismal failure. Poor Pat was horror-stricken, and vehemently declared his innocence, and suspicious glances were leveled upon the one whom all had so trusted, until, in a fit of desperation, he declared that the vital fluid of those who even thought him guilty would adorn "the lid of the ship."

The robbery was instantly reported, but all efforts to recover the property proved useless; and, indeed, the incident was soon forgotten in the anxiety of much greater losses.

One morning young O'Grady rushed from his room, and declared that a fine revolver had disappeared during the night. Simultaneously, the charming Miss Magrath reported the loss of her diamond earrings and gold brooch, while a third victim was minus a valuable gold watch and chain.

It was clear that an expert thief was on board, since even the saloon

"WHAT WERE YOU DOING DOWN BELOW?" had been visited, and one family in the steerage reported the loss of some $80.

A secret watch was kept upon the movements of the sailors; but just before crossing the line the third robbery was effected, and this time in the very fok'sle itself.

"I say, Bill, you been to my chest last watch?" a shellback inquired of his chum.

"No, Jack; lost anything?"

"Two pounds o' 'baccy," was the answer, and the man heaved a deep sigh, attesting the greatness of the calamity.

Sailor Bill at once overhauled his own clothes-chest, and a torrent of strong language indicated that his tobacco was also gone.

In short, every mother's son in the fok'sle had just the same ditty to sing, and who the thief could be seemed past discovering.

No part of the ship appeared safe from the mysterious thief, for the people were soon again thrown into a state of excitement when the purser reported the loss of wine, beer and spirits from the store-room.

Thus matters stood, none knowing when or where the next theft might occur, until one night I was aroused by a blow delivered through the open window beside my bunk.

Hurrying on deck to ascertain the cause, I found one of the ship's boys in the clutches of Patrick Cassidy. "What were you doing down below?" the latter inquired, sharply. "Wat yer mean?" demanded the youth.

"You have been down there," the other returned, and pointed to a large iron ventilator, in which a rope was hanging, that would give to a nimble burglar easy access to the lower decks. "You have been down there and have stolen something."

"Search me," cried the boy, who turned out his pockets as a proof of his innocence.

"It was you who put the rope there," he added, emphatically; "I saw you."

For a space the accused stood rigid, a look of mingled passion and alarm overspreading his countenance. Then, by a swift, yet stinging slap upon the ear, he sent the youth staggering across the deck.

"Take that, you rascal!" he said.

But the boy still maintained the truth of his assertion, and furthermore stated that Cassidy had thrown something into my bunk.

Upon searching the bed a canvas bag was found, and I knew instinctively that a clew to the robberies had been obtained.

I sent for the mate and in his presence the contents were turned out, and the brooch and diamond earrings, the money stolen from the steerage, with the gold watch and chain, and the trinkets missed from the saloon, lay before us.

The revolver, tobacco and spirits shared the fate of the missing preserves, as they were never recovered.

Next morning the property was returned to the rightful owners, but a searching examination of both prisoners failed to detect the criminal, since both stoutly asserted their innocence, and witnesses were not obtainable.

But the sailors speedily settled the matter to their own satisfaction. Rightly or wrongly, they declared the boy was guilty, since Cassidy had never been known to enter the fok'sle. They seized the youth, and, to an accompaniment of fast-falling ropes' ends, he was waltzed fore and aft.

He was expelled from the fok'sle, and during the remainder of the voyage boarded and lodged beneath one of the long boats.

Cassidy had to leave the fore-cabin, and took up his quarters in the steerage.

Who committed the crimes no one could say, but from that day forth the ship was relieved from further anxiety.

In due course the Silver Dream dropped anchor in the spacious Moreton bay, Queensland. The last batch of passengers had passed into the steamer that would bear them up the beautiful river that led toward Brisbane. Amid ringing cheers the boat moved slowly away, when the boy suddenly mounted our rail and leaped upon her paddle-box.

"Come back!" I shouted.

"Never. I have been disgraced," he answered, and stood defiantly shaking his small fist as if desiring to annihilate the whole ship's company.

Shortly before our departure the boy was captured red-handed in robbing an up-town store, and, wishing to ascertain what part he had played in robbing the ship, I obtained leave to enter the jail and see him.

"Is Cassidy guilty or innocent?" I inquired, and wishing to close the interview as speedily as possible.

"Innocent," said he, recklessly.

"He saw me getting out at the ventilator, and knowing that I was discovered, I snatched up the bag, which had previously been concealed behind some rocks close by, and dashed round the deck-house. Thinking that you were on deck I threw the bag into the bunk, hoping to recover it when the row was over."

"Stay!" I said, scarcely able to restrain my anger. "I shall take your confession in writing, and you can sign it."

That he suddenly agreed to do, and after a time proceeded with his recital.

"I will teach him not to interfere again," he added. "But now I am here, I don't mind telling you."

"You have almost ruined the man," I said. "What became of the spirits, tobacco and preserves?"

"I sold 'em to the steerage," he replied, knowingly. "The shooter fetched ten dollars."

The character of Pat Cassidy was cleared by the signed confession I bore from the jail, and his gratitude for my exertions was as honest as himself.

Of the boy I never again heard, but subsequent inquiries proved that he had several times been charged with robbery in San Francisco, and had finally been sent from a reformatory school to our ship, in hope of giving him a new start in life.

Cassidy married the charming Miss Magrath, and became a successful trader in his new home; thus happily ending the mysterious incidents which so nearly proved his ruin on board the Silver Dream.

A Motorman's Feelings.

"I have been all through the war," said a grim-visaged old motorman the other day, "but sure as I live my feelings on going into a battle were pleasure as compared to the dread of killing somebody which fills me the moment I grab the brake handle of this car every morning. I can't explain why, for I haven't had an accident of any kind since I took the job; but it may be due to the fact that we are so strongly warned to be careful, and, in case we do run down some unfortunate, to get the names of as many witnesses as we can. I would sooner hold the reins of my old pair of nags at less money than be a trolley motorman," concluded the serious-faced veteran as he suddenly applied the brake to allow a party of school children to cross the street in safety.

AS A FAMILY PAPER IS NOT EXCELLED BY ANY.

It has something of interest to each member of the family. ITS YOUTH'S DEPARTMENT is the very best of its kind. ITS LITERARY FEATURES are unequalled.

POLITICALLY IT IS REPUBLICAN, and gives its readers the benefit of the ablest discussions on all live political topics. It also gives them THE NEWS OF THE WORLD.

IT IS A TWELVE-PAGE PAPER.

THE INTER OCEAN is PUBLISHED IN CHICAGO, THE NEWS AND COMMERCIAL CENTER OF ALL WEST OF THE ALLEGHANY MOUNTAINS, and IS BETTER ADAPTED TO THE NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE OF THAT SECTION THAN ANY PAPER FARTHER EAST.

It is in accord with the people of the West both in Politics and Literature. Please remember that the price of The Weekly Inter Ocean is ONLY ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR. Address THE INTER OCEAN, Chicago.
