The convention then took an informal ballot which resulted as follows: Hammond, 80; Van Buren, 67; scattering 4; total 151. The convention then proceeded to take a formal ballot resulting thus: Hammond, 81; Van Buren, 66; scattering, 1; total, 148. Mr. Hammond being called upon, made a pleasant speech accepting the tute that in consideration of services nomination, not forgetting to mention rendered by Prof. Greene to the city, he why he was especially fitted to fill the office for which he had been nominated.

Talked Of For Mayor.

As the spring elections approach, the question of city officers is beginning to attract attention. On the Republican side the following men have been mentioned as possible timber for the office of mayor. John Heinzeman, Eli W. Moore, Chas. E. Hiscock and W. B. Smith. Among the Democrats only 'two names are talked to any great extent. Those are Dr. Kapp and Michael Fritz, Which of the latter will be put up as a sacrifice is not yet certain. Of the Republicans mentioned, all are good men and any one of them could be elected by a handsome majority. For city clerk, Glen V. Mills will, without question, be the Republican nomi- products of the Organ Co.: nee. No one, so far, has been seriously talked by the Democrats. It matters city by at least one-hundred and fifty majority.

The Heinrich Concert.

The program began with a half dozen German songs by Schumann, which were rendered in Mr. Heinrich's inimitable style. The last six numbers were from Schubert, and were especially well rendered. The next concerts in Choral Union series are those making up the May faculty of the University: Festival, May 17 and 18.

Needs Fire Protection.

The question of fire protection to University buildings was one of the important matters before the regents last Wednesday. In the present condition of things it would be nearly, if not quite impossible, to save some of the buildings should a fire get well started before it was discovered. The placing of chemical extinguishers and hose about the campus was discussed but no definite action was taken. The regents should not allow the present condition of things to continue. There is altogther too much best of fire protection.

A CHAPTER OF THE DOINGS OF MICHIGANDERS.

Judge J. B. Moore, of Lapeer, Nominated by the Republican State Convention .-Prohibitionists Also Name Candidates.

Republican State Convention. The struggle for the nomination for justice of the supreme court of Michigan was the feature of the Republican state convention at the Auditorium. Detroit. The candidates were plenti-Detroit. The candidates were plenti-ful—Judge Joseph B. Moore. Lapeer; Phillip T. Van Zile, Charlotte; E. D. Kinne, Ann Arbor; George M. Buck, Kalamazoo; Edward Cahill, Lansing; H. W. Stevens, Port Huron; H. H. Hatch, Bay City; A. V. McAlvay, Manistee; Robert J. Kelly, Alpena; D. H. Ball, Marquette.

The convention was organized by making Hon. W. J. Cocker, of Adrian, temporary chairman, and D. E. Alvord, temporary secretary. After a characteristic Republican speech by Chairman Cocker, the committees were named and a recess taken.

Upon resuming, there being no contests, all delegates were declared seated. The temporary organization was made permanent and Gov. Rich was called upon for a speech. He responded briefly and was cheered when he finished. Nominations were then taken up, and after the 10 candidates' names had been presented balloting was declared in order. On the first ballot Judge Van Zile had the lead, with Judge Moore but 22 votes behind. On the third Moore took a strong lead, Upon resuming, there being no con-On the third Moore took a strong lead, which he maintained to the seventh when he lacked but a few of having the necessary number to secure the prize. nominated, and it was carried with a big rush.

Two regents of the University of Michigan were to be nominated also, and the names of Roger W. Butterfield, of Grand Rapids, (for re-nomination); Chas. H. Hackley, Muskegon; George Barnes, Howell, and Richard Mason, Gladstone, were presented. Mason, Gladstone, were presented. Mr. Butterfield had scarcely an opposing vote on the first ballot and his nomination was made unanimous. A motion was made for the same action on Mr. Hackley's name; the other names were with-drawn and it went through. The committee on resolutions' report was adopted and the convention adjourned. The resolutions congratulate the party on its victories of last November; charge the Democratic party with maladministration of national affairs, bankrupting the U. S. treasury; denounce Cleveland's Hawaiian policy; approve and reaffirm the Republican platform of 1894; indorse the action of Michigan Republicans in congress in voting against the change of the word "coin" to "gold" on the U. S. bonds: indorse the present state administration; deeply lament the death of Senator Stockbridge.

About 150 delegates attended the Prohibition state convention at Lan-sing. Temporary officers: Myron H. all at once. Walker, of Grand Rapids, chairman; and E. S. Palmiter, of Hart, secretary. Permanent officers: Prof. Samuel W, Dickie, of Albion, chairman; Wiley W. Mills, of Ann Arbor, secretary. A resolution calling for the election of an entirely new state central committee and complimenting the outgoing committee was unanimously adopted. Myron H. Walker, of Grand Rapids, for supreme Cheever, of Ypsilanti, for regents of the University. Two ladies were mentioned for regents, but there being a quest on as to their legal eligibility, they were assured that the convention believed in equal suffrage, and their names withdraw. Michael J. Fanning of Jackson was elected chair. D. B. Reed, of Hillsdale, and Noah W. Fanning of Jackson was elected chairman of the state central committee and his salary fixed at $1,800 per year. After re-affirming the Prohibition platform the convention adopted resolutions favoring the submission to the people in the spring of 1896, of a Prohibition amendment by the present legislature, deploring the death of Mary T. Lathrop, and emphasizing the allegiance of the party to the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Saginaw Valley Mills' Small Showing.

The effect of the general business depression last year was shared by the lumber industry of the Saginaw river. Many of the mills were only operated a portion of the season, and there was no attempt made to score big records. Still, under the circumstances, a fair output resulted. The 40 lumbering plants operated on this river in 1894 produced 481,244,000 feet of lumber, against 708,465,027 feet in 1892, and there remained on hand at the close of the season of 1894 283,330,024 feet. This does not include stocks in local yards operated independently of saw mills. The lumber output in 1894 was the smallest since 1868. The record of the Saginaw river mills is, however, unequaled by any manufacturing district of like area in the world.

Fatal Shooting at Union City.

Ed. Cosier, a village policeman, of Union City, was out walking with a Miss Davis, when her brother James came along and objected to her being on the street with the officer at that time of night, and told her to go home. This ruffled the officer, and he and Davis were soon at close quarters. During the row Cosier pulled a 32-cali-ber revolver and shot Davis, the ball entering just below the heart, passed upward and lodged under the left shoulder blade. It is a fatal wound.

Jas. Norn's saw mill in Standish, Arenac county, was wholly destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $15,000 with $5,000 insurance. This was the largest mill in the place. A number of cars on a side track were saved by the arrival of a track, which removed them to a place of safety.

Eight drug store proprietors in the north end of Berrien county were arrested during three days, and their clerks subpensed as witnesses. Most of the charges were for running drug stores without a registered pharmacist in charge, in direct violation of the state pharmacy laws. Excellent Out ook for Peaches.

Peach buds are now so mature that some idea of the coming crop may be gained. Many feared that the buds would be injured by the extremely cold weather in January, but as they were backward at the beginning of winter environments. winter, owing to the long drouth, fav-orable reports are now heard. There for Judge of Michigan Supreme Court only a few are blasted. The thousands of trees coming into bearing this year will far out-numbered those in de-cline. Farmers are all very hopeful. Raspberries, blackberries and straw berries are all right never better pro-tected than during this winter. Steady cold winters, with no severe frosts during the latter part of April or May are decide lly conducive of favorable results in fruit culture.

A BILL has been introduced in the state legislature relative to the sale of patent and proprietary medicines. While there are some good features about this bill, there are some things that ought to cause its sure defeat. Like most other businesses of the kind, it needs judicious regulating in order to prevent injurious nostrums being palmed off upon innocent people. But the purpose that is certainly back of this bill is such as will entirely kill the sale of such medicines in the state. This is going altogether too far and, unless changed, ought to cause the defeat of the bill.

THE democratic county convention held Tuesday was an exceedingly tame affair. It showed very plainly that the spirit of the party is broken and that the leaders of the former democratic hosts in old Washtenaw do not have much hope of ever regaining their loss ground. A remark by one of the delegates "We would have been very clear of giving the nomination to the Argus office one of the proprietors of which now has the fattest birth in the county: if we had believed fast as food is sucked out, and making it birth in the county: if we had believed impossible for nipple to collapse and that the nomination of school commis plainly indicates the feeling prevalent.

OBJECT LESSONS.

THE following editorial from last Saturday's Deiroit Tribune upon the recent bond sale by the present administration is one that should interest every intelligent citizen. That President Cleveland must have known that there was millions in it for the syndicate to whom the bonds were sold seems to be beyond question. If he did not see what the outcome would be, he is certainly very shortsighted. If he did The Register $1.00, the Cosmosee it, he certainly was grossly recreant to the great trust the American people have confided in him:

This is object lesson No. 4.

But the bait did not take. The house repudiated it by a majority of 46, and the "parties abundantly able to fulfill t icir undertaking" got the $62,400,000 of thirty-year bonds at a rate of $104½—or 4½ per cent premium.

Do not miss the sensation of the year! The womans' enlarged issue of the Daily Courier comes out today, Feb. 22. Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor women unite in making this an interesting paper. It contains items that no one in the cities can afford to miss. It will be breezy, newsy!-Commercial.

Truly our friend of the Commercial is a prophet, or did he get a peep at the proof sheets in advance?

A big deal is reported in Chicago newspapers. The Chicago Herald and Post have both been purchased by James W. The paper states that many of the people in the city had never seen snow before and that it had fallen there but a few times in the history of the place.

And now the Ann Arbor Courier has made another mistake. It says that the legislative reception at the Normal gym, last Thursday evening was attended "by all the good-looking ladies of the city." If that were true the gym. could not have held them all. But had the Courier mentioned the ladies of this city who are not good looking, it would have made a greater mistake, for Ypsilanti has no such ladies. - Commercial.

Our down stream ladies must be almost as fine looking as those in Ann Arbor upon which we congratulate them.

The S. C. A. has organized a male choir of 20 voices.

The Beta Theta boys entertained Hon. J. J. Lentz while in the city. The vocal department in the School of Music is so crowded that an assistant has been employed. The Adelphi Literary Society will hold a joint meeting with the Crescent literary society of the Normal, at Ypsi, on Friday March 1. The orator is heard in the land. With the numerous oratorical contests now going on in the lit and law departments the very air is redolent with oratory.

Alpha Nu literary society will, on next Friday evening, give a ladies' program in its new hall. Among the ladies taking part will be Mrs. Prof. Trueblood.

At the regent's meeting last week 80 new lockers were ordered for the gym. The ladies are to have first chance, and whatever are remaining are to go to the boys.

The Washington's birthday oration delivered by Hon. J. J. Lentz, of Ohio, before the law students last Friday, is said to have been one of the finest addresses delivered in the city this year.

The Farrand and Votey Organ company, of Detroit, has placed University people under further obligations by placing a large reed organ in room 24 for the use of the proposed vesper choir.

At the state convention held Thurs day by the republicans, regent Butterfield was renominated and Chas. Hackley, of Muskegon, was put up in place of regent Hebard. Both candidates for regents were nominated by acclamation.

The Detroit branch of the Collegiate Alumnae Association held its regular meeting in Detroit last Saturday afternoon. Among other papers read were: "The System of Child Study at Clark University," by Mrs. Prof. Geo. W. Patterson, of Ann Arbor; "Children's Lies," by Mrs. Prof. Chas. H. Cooley, Ann Arbor; "The Feeling of Sex in Children," by Mrs. Prof. F. N. Scott,

The meeting of the Graduate club last Saturday evening at the home of Prof. Hinsdale was one of the most interesting that has ever been held. Dr. Vaughn's lecture on "Immunity from Infectious Diseases" was intensly interesting. By the use of charts he showed very vividly the growth of disease germs, and gave the history of research along these lines. He reviewed the recent diptheria innoculation theory, showing how the vaccine is made and how applied. The lecture was of a popular nature so that it was easily understood by all present.

One of the Detroit dailies reports that Dr. Gibbs is accused of refusing to pass a certain student because he was one of the leaders in getting up a petition asking that a certain course in the dical department be discontinued If the charge is true, it shows a deplorable state of affairs, but not so bad as that shown by the actions of a certain professor who refused to pass a certain student and thereby kept him from graduating with his class, "because," as the professor said, "he devoted part of his time while in college to earning his college expenses, and he proposed to sque'ch such things.'

From Saturday's Detroit Journal.— Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—Special.— The administration board of the university has been hard at work all week fixing up the "conditions" of students. A Queer Story.

There is not much stealing going on in Ann Arbor, but when a thief does make a haul it is generally a good one. A few evenings ago, the Times reporter is informed, a costly upright piano in Monroe Co. was stolen from a residence in the east end of the city, and no trace of it can Cleary's College last week. be found. It appears that the woman from whom the piano was stolen had taken it on a debt for the rent of her house. The owner of the piano got out a writ of replevin for the instrument, and when he went after the piano he was informed that someone had wilfully and deliberately walked into the house while everyone was asleep and had picked up the piano and walked off with it. The lady of the house says the doors are left unlocked on account of the students, and that the night before her little daughter had dreamed of just such a thing happening.

This is certainly a very unfortunate state of affairs, one party is out the rent and the other the piano. The police should make a vigorous search for the guilty party who had the nerve to walk into a house in the night time and near the Ohio line. pocket a piano and say nothing about

SEWING MACHINES POPULAR? BECAUSE LADIES BUY THEM LIKE THEM

AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS. Many ladies have used our machines

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair. We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

George Howie, the American who had a scheme to blow up Japanese vessels with submarine infernal machines, has been detained aboard the Japanese flagship pending the decision of his fate. They are inclined to treat him severely, as he was let go on parole after his arrest aboard the steamer Sydney at Shanghai three months ago, yet lost no time in breaking his word and placing his services again at the disposal of the Chinese.

France Worrying Over Egypt.

Paris: Rumors of an unsatisfactory nature as to the condition of affairs in Egypt are causing uneasiness here. A dispatch from Cairo says that friendly natives assert that a rising will take place during the Ramadan, the great annual feast of the Mohammedans. This rising has been foretold in Mohammedan fanatical circles.
The Journal des Debats asserts that in the European chancelleries there is no readiness to admit the existence of a British protectorate in Egypt, and in-sists that the task of France is to rouse continental Europe so that it will give unmistakable evidence that its sympathy is with Egypt as against Great Britain.

Break in the A. P. A.

The dissension existing in the ranks of the American Protective association in Illinois, growing out of refusing to admit certain delegates in the last state convention at Chicago, and of a subsequent suit for damages against State President Clarence P. Johnson for $25,000 by Prof. Walter Sims, has resulted in the organization of an op-position society, known as the National Assembly Patriotic League. The de-clared object is "to promote American patriotism and independence in politics, reform all municipal, state and national governments, and maintain non-sectarian public schools and other

The Human Target Killed.

Wm. Haverley was shot and fatally injured at Engel's pavillion Chicago by "Prof." Rieckhoff, alleged "champion rifle shot of the world." The men were performing the human target act. Haverley, who was acting as Rieckhoff's assistant, had a steel plate over his breast. Rieckhoff fired 20 shots at the steel plate, "ringing the bell" 19 times. At the twentieth shot shots at the steel plate, Thighing the bell" 19 times. At the twentieth shot Haverley sank to the floor. One of the bullets had entered his stomach below the plate. At the hospital it was said that he could not live. Rieckhoff was arrested.

700 Killed in Portugese East Africa.

London: Capetown advices says a panic prevails at Lorenzo Marquez, East Africa, in consequence of a dis-aster to the Portugese forces. Kaffirs entered the Portugese camp at dawn, pretending that they were friends. Most of the soldiers were sleeping and the Kaffirs began killing them with assegais. Eventually the troops were formed to the law of the soldiers. got out, were formed in a hollow square, and, with the aid of the maxim guns, they repulsed the natives, killing 500. It is reported the 200 Portugese and their allies were killed and 60 wounded.

Thirty-Three Days to Chose a Senator.

The struggle for the election of a successor to J. N. Dolph in the United States senate, which was carried on in States senate, which was carried on in the legislature of Oregon for 33 days, finally came to a close by the election of George McBride, ex-secretary of state. The contest was a bitter one from beginning to end, and up to 30 minutes before the hour set for final adjournment it looked as though there would be no election. Both Dolph would be no election. Both Dolph and McBride are Republicans, the fight being on their standing on financial questions. McBride leans toward France Shuts Out American Cattle. Washington: Secretary of State Gresham has received from the U. S. charge at Paris a cablegram stating that the council has entered a decree prohibiting the importation until further orders of American cattle into France. Secretary Gresham has furnished a copy of the cablegram to the department of agriculture and has given it publicity in view of the great importance of this action to the great American cattle interests.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

New York—Dun's weekly trade review says:
The surprising success of the new loan and the great confidence it has given to investors and business men here, encourage many to hope that it may be the beginning of a real recovery. Considering the power which control of these bonds gives to regular foreign exchanges and to prevent exports of gold, the transaction has indeed greatly changed the financial situation in spite of the fact that government revenues are still dedicient and that domestic trade shows scarcely any gain as yet. The industries are not enlarging production nor have prices of farm products improved, but a very important source of apprehension and hindrance has for the time at least been removed. Western receipts of wheat are nearly as large as last year and exports are a little larger than a year ago, but yet are not large. Cotton has refused to advance, though there has been much talk about curtailment of acreage this year and receipts have sharply decreased, apparently owing to the unprecedented weather at the south. Dealings in iron and its products are moderate in volume, with some discouragement in most branches. Textile products show few changes, but those downward. The failures for the past week were 302 in the United States against 328 last year, and in Canada 36 against 51 last year.

New York.—Bradstreet's trade review says: General trade during the past week was more irregular. The success of the latest emergency bond issue has revived confidence somewhat in the general financial situation. Iron and steel are no more active, recent advances being barely mantained. The outlook in the soft coal industry is more settled, owing to efforts to form a pool, and steadier prices and wages are expected. Prices have not reacted materially, concessions in quotations in cattle, lard and oats being the only losses of note: cotton goods have been barely steady, but hogs, pork. Sotton, iron and steel remain firm, while prices for wheat corn, coffee and refined sugar made fractional advances during the week. Prices of wool continue weak.

The legislature of Indiana passed a bill making it a crime to engage in or attend a prize fight.

A few weeks ago I read in your paper how Mr. Griffith made a great deal of money selling a new method of putting up fruit. Here is what I did with an Old Reliable Plater. The first three days that I had the Plater I plated 75 sets of knives, forks, spoons, etc., to which, when delivered, brought me in about $92.00; cost of metal about $3.75, leaving a gross profit of $88.25 for my time and trouble, and everyone was well pleased with the work, and I came home with double the amount of goods to be plated. I average about $150 per week. I have been a traveling salesman, but have given it up, the plating business suits me. Anyone can obtain an Old Reliable Plater by addressing W. P. Harrison & Co., Columbus, Ohio. Anyone out of work should take this opportunity to get employment and make money.

WORK VS. WUHHT. Why Mental Cares Break Down the Lives of the Strongest.

It is a well-understood fact that it is not work that kills, says the Massachusetts Medical Journal, but worry, and from this text some most sensible and profitable hygienic discourses have been preached during recent years. The conclusion of the whole matter is this: Brain work is conducive to health and longevity, while brain worry causes disease and shortens life. The truth of this statement, and its application to what we see around us, are evident enough; yet it is well that such sul jects should be continually discussed. A life of intellectual labor, although severe, like that performed by the judges of our highest courts, or by scholars and persons devoted to literary pursuits, if unmixed with excitement, and followed with regularity, is not only a happy life, but is seen also to promote bodily health and long life. On the other hand, mental cares, attended with suppressed emotions, and occupations which from their nature are subject to great vicissitudes of fortune and constant anxiety, break down the lives of the strongest. Every one has seen a class of men whose early mental training was deficient, and to whom the writing of memoranda was irksome, engaged in middle life in great undertakings, and taxing the memory with a mass of complicated business accounts, simply because they could more easily remember than write. Their power of memory for a certain kind of facts is often truly astonishing; but the strain is at last too much, and they die before their time. The brain worry of our school children might furnish useful illustrations of the truth of the

to Make Strong. The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way, all the weaken-ed parts, acts upon the blood as a puri-fier and vitalizer, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

A Legal Equivalent.

After their engagement had been broken off a Michigan man sued his quondam sweetheart for the recovery of certain jewelry which she refused to return. The judge in deciding the case asked the lover if he had ever kissed his intended bride. After he had admitted that he had done so, the judge dismissed the suit, holding that kisses and caresses were a legal equivalent for presents.

WAR REMINISCENCES.

LINCOLN IN WAR TIME.

Some Striking Incidents of His Presidential Career.

The white house did not witness many brilliant festivities during the war, after that famous party which was given by the president and Mrs. Lincoln early in the first year of the Lincoln administration. But Mrs. Lincoln's afternoon receptions and the president's public levees were held regularly during the winter. Nothing could be more democratic than these gatherings of the people at the white house. They were usually held twice a week during the winter, those on Tuesday evenings being so-called dress receptions, and the Saturday levees being less formal in character. A majority of the visitors went in full dress; the ladies in laces, feathers, silks, and satins, without bonnets, and the gentlemen in evening dress. But sprinkled through the gayly attired crowds were hundreds of officers and private soldiers, the light-blue army overcoat of the period being a conspicuous feature of the moving panorama. Here and there a day-laborer, looking as though he had just left his work-bench, or a hard-working clerk with inkstained linen, added to the popular character of the assembly.

Usually the president stood in the famous blue room, or at the head of the east room; and those who wished to shake hands made their entrance, one by one, and were introduced by the functionary detailed for that occasion. So vast were the crowds, and so affectionate their greetings, that Mr. Lincoln's right hand was often swollen so that he would be unable to use it readily for hours afterward; and the white kid glove of his right hand, when the operation of handshaking was over, always looked as if it had been dragged through a dust bin. Much of the time, I think, the president never heard with his inner ear the names of persons presented to him by Secretary Nicolay, Commissioner French, or United States Marshal Lamon. His thoughts were apt to be far from the crowd of strangers that passed before him.

At a luncheon given by Gen. Sickles at his headquarters, among the ladies present was Princess Salm-Salm, whose husband was a staff officer in the army. This lady attracted much admiration by her graceful and dashing riding in the calvacade that attended the reviews. Before her marriage she was a Miss Leelere, of Philadelphia. It was this remarkable woman who astonished the president, on his entering Gen. Sickles' headquarters, by flying at him and imprinting a bouncing kiss on his surprised and not altogether attractive face. As soon as he could pull himself together and recover from his astonishment, the president thanked the lady, but with evident discomposure; whereupon some of the party made haste to explain that Princess Salm-Salm had laid a wager with one of the officers that she would kiss the president. Her audacious sally won her a box of

During the war the proportion of civilians to those who wore the trappings of the army and navy was so small that men felt it almost a distinction to wear the ordinary evening dress. An order from the war department forbidding military officers to come to Washington without leave did not by any means abate what was felt to be a great nuisance. Too many officers haunted the lobbies of the capitol Farm, Implement & Seed Store in search of political aid to secure them the promotion that they desired, or the passage of bills in which military or naval officers had special interest. I saw a curious example of military absenteeism one night at Ford's theater, where I had accompanied the

Traillent to see Edwin Booth in "The Merchant of Venice.'

The president had sent word late in the afternoon that he would like to have a box for himself and a friend; but when we arrived at the theater. going in by the stage entrance, we were met by the manager, who said that the boxes had all been taken before the president's message had been received, but he would use his efforts with a party of officers, as soon as they arrived, to induce them to give up the box which they had engaged. While he was speaking an usher came behind the scenes, and said that the officers had very willingly relinquished their box for the pleasure of the president. Between the acts the manager came to pay his respects to the president, and to inquire for his comfort, and Lincoln asked the names of the military gentlemen who had so kindly given up their evening's entertainment in his behalf. The manager replied that he did not know, but afterward quietly told me that he knew that onehalf of the number were officers absent from the army without leave, and that they considered it a good joke that they could escape the president's observation at the cost of relinquishing their box at the theater. The manager shrewdly guessed that the president had asked for their names in order to discover if they were in Wash-ington on leave; but that was not Lin-

AGUARANTEE

Many people who, having sought the photographer in his studio, gaze with complacency on the presentment of themselves that his art has evolved, are unconscious of the extent to which they are indebted to judicious "retouchings" for the effectiveness of the picture, and often the general rejuvenescence of the subject. In retouching a negative a pencil will only mark well when stippled. Many mechanical devices have been tried for giving this stippling motion to the pencil, but they are nearly all too heavy to be held in the hand. A little tool is now on the market which is said to be a marvel of lightness. Its operative power is a small electro-magnet, which vibrates a keeper, after the manner of the electric bell. This sets the peneil in rapid motion, and the retoucher is enabled to work miracles of transformation with ease and rapidity.

The Hair vs. Insanity.

It was formerly supposed that people of pale complexion, especially if the hair was a pronounced blonde, fine and thin, were specially liable to men-tal excitement and brain disorder. Statistics which have recently been compiled prove this to be another of the grave errors of the old-time "specialist." At the Kirkbridge, England, asylum out of a total of 265 patients only one has red hair, and only three either light hair or fair complexion. In the New York, London and Paris hospitals for the insane the same proportion holds good. Exactly why dark-haired persons are more liable to mental diseases than those of other shades of color has not yet been explained .- St. Louis Republic.

About

Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This sloumn is placed in this paper to advertige the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. Tidmarsh's Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I an enrusted with a certain amount to soon advertising these knives (500 best value ever seen in America 24 One Dollar each). Now, the kallo it its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (31 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained vory handle—genuine African ivory and with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife. Now would it not be easy world. knife Now, would it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store. Is not this knife its own best adver

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straigtforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this pace in this paper for three years! The first one answer-ing this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

ROMANCE OF THE WAR. Story of How John Roberts Met and Won His Wife.

Living near Paola, Kan., in seclusion and quiet, are John Roberts and his There is nothing strange about the quiet and lonely life these old people are leading, but there is a romance connected with their lives which dates back to the war of the rebellion. As the story goes, in the year of 1861 a young Illinois volunteer came to Lexington, Mo., with Marshall's cavalry regiment. A few days thereafter he was captured by Gen. Price-the entire command of Mulligan was capturedbut almost as speedily paroled. If he regarded his parole then and there administered it is probable that he did more than ninety-nine out of every one hundred of Mulligau's men did.

Two years after Lexington, in 1863, the young Illinois soldier was wounded and captured in a skirmish in Arkansas. Taken to the house of a neighboring planter he was cared for, nursed, cured and pronounced by the confederate surgeon in attendance as "fit for prison." But in war, as in everything else, the thing called fate, fortune or the purchase or renting of a in the same fight as was the Illinois soldier, and nursed in the same house, was the son of the confederate planter who had proved himself so hospitable. The gray and blue uniforms were hung up in the same room together, and from one bed of suffering to another the soldiers talked and grew intimate.

The Illinois soldier had a sister, as many of the soldiers had, no doubt, and what was more, he had her photograph with him. This he showed one day to the Arkansan, and the Arkansan's fate was sealed. He went into raptures over it, dreamed of the fair original, no doubt, and begged so hard for it that the brother was forced to yield it up.

When the federal had entirely recovered and was beginning to think of getting ready for his prison life in Texas a parole was sent him signed by "Jo O. Shelby, major general commanding." How it was obtained it is not necessary to tell. All of Shelby's military career was crowned with just such acts of generosity.

The Arkansan brought it; gave the Illinoisan money, a horse, and, as the lieutenant of the escort, saw him safely through the lines. What messages he sent to his sister, and what burning words of love, no one knows, but from that time till the close of the war they did not meet.

In the autumn of 1868 the father of the Illinois soldier, himself a widower, removed to Kansas City with his son and daughter, still unmarried. A Traveled St. Bernard.

A St. Bernard dog whose acquaint-ance any one might be proud to make has lately given evidence of unusual canine intelligence. Once or twice he has accompanied his master to Newtonville, the latter riding out on his wheel, and both returning by rail and getting off at the Huntington avenue station. The other day the dog in some way missed his master in the park and proceeded on to Newtonville as had been his wont. Whether he did not enjoy his call, or perhaps, felt anxious about the one who always looked to his welfare, is uncertain, on the first inward train that stopped. and when it reached Huntington avenue got off and went home like other folks. The only thing about the performance that reflects discredit on his dogship is that he didn't buy a ticket, but just "hooked" his ride.-N. Y.

VALUABLE WOODS.

To Be Found in Great Profusion in Central and South America.

Many of the finest woods in existence are yet unknown, or only slightly known, to the manufacturers of wood in the civilized world. The woods of Central and South America are, perhaps, the most remarkable as well as the least known. In the yet untouched forests of this continent are many woods far finer than any of those now in use. These woods range from pure white to jet black in color, and many of them are most beautifully marked and veined. Some of them are so hard that they turn the edges of axes, chisels and other tools, while the band saw cuts them only slowly. In the Columpian exposition there were many displays of little known woods, and the finest of them were those from Argentine Republic, Brazil and other South American countries. Some of these southern woods yielded to the teeth of the band saw, not the ordinary sawdust, but fine powder, fine as the finest flour, so hard were the woods. Some of them burnt but slowly. Others possess qualities that keep them free from insects. Some of them seem to be practically indestructible by air and water. All along the eastern slopes of the Andes, up to the snow line on those great elevations, throughout all the great river valleys, and in some of the wide areas of level country in South America are great forests of fine woods that are specially fit for the finest cabinet and furniture work, and also for shipbuilding, carpentry and other industrial arts in which wood is the "raw material." The great forests are now an unknown quantity in the commercial world, but they will come rapidly into the knowledge of men and into industrial use when once the railroad has reached them. Before many years, it is safe to predict, the South American and Central American re-publics will be threaded by railroads, and then those wonderful woods will be drawn upon to supply the demand for new and fine woods in all the civilized countries. -Lumber World.

Building Bridges Electrically. There is now little work that electric motors have not been tried on, but electric bridge building is a novelty. Over the canal at Kiel, Germany, an arch bridge of 540 feet span and 145 feet height is being conscructed. Four cranes. two of the locomotive type and two of the pivoting, are employed instead of ordinary apparatus, and all are worked by electricity. Loads of ten tons are raised in twenty minutes, and smaller loads much faster. In order to work the cranes, which have a dead weight of their own of thirty-three tons, at a speed of 6 inches per second a current of about eleven electrical horse-power is required. As the con-sumption of power by the cranes is necessarily of a very variable character, resistances on slabs of slate are used to take up and dissipate the superfluous current automatically. The circuits are about three-quarters of a mile long, and the whole arrangement is extremely convenient and flexible.

How Negro Bables Change Color. At birth a negro child is of a reddish nut-brown color, which turns to a slaty-gray in the first week of the child's existence. The black color is not fully developed for a period varying from one to three years, according to the nature of the locality and the influences of climate. Darwin says that the children of Australians, immediate ly after birth, are yellowish brown, and become dark at a later age. Those of the Guaranys of Paraguay are whitish yellow, but they acquire in the course of a few weeks the yellowish brown tint of their parents. It is curious to notice that the eyes of a negro child are blue at birth, and his hair of a dark chestnut color, being curled at the ends.

MAKING COLORED GLASS. A New German Process Which Is Giving

Excellent Results. One of the methods resorted to in making colored glass objects is to take a mass of white glass from the meltingpot, on the end of a blowpipe, and then immerse it in another pot containing molten glass of the desired hue. The latter then constitutes a mere film on the outside of the globe, dish, lantern or other article which the blower is about to make. Other plans are also in use. A new one is reported as having been tried in Germany, and as giving very satisfactory results.

The blower has a piece of apparatus of this description: An upright sheetiron cylinder twenty inches in diameter is surmounted by a horizontal one. The former is so arranged that an iron ladle may be inserted in it, near the bottom. The upper cylinder has doors at its ends, one of them allowing the operator to introduce his work and support his blowpipe on a crotch. This device is placed inside a furnace, and when the workman is reheating an article for the last time, an attendant puts a spoonful of certain chemicals in the ladle, and places the latter in the lower cylinder. Fumes then rise, and in these the object is rapidly turned over and over, while at a red-heat. A beautiful tint and luster are thus imparted. The chemical mixtures employed in this work are not described, and possibly are trade secrets.

free Coinage of SILVER.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver, the product of American mines, at the old ratio of 16 of silver to 1 of gold, is the only solution of and remedy for the disturbed and unsatisfactory condition of trade, manufacture and general business of the country. The surreptitious act of 1873, divorcing silver and gold in our monetary system, was a crime of untold magnitude. It was the rankest kind of class legislation in favor of the wealthy against the producers of wealth, and hostile to the prosperity of the United States. It was an act of treason because done at the instance of a European syndicate and for bribe money, "giving aid and comfort to our country's enemies." To shield the guilty parties, the well authenticated facts, often published, have been vigorously denied.

The Enquirer will continue to expose this unpardonable crime until right and justice are done the people by the full restoration of silver to its old companionship with gold. We disseminating the truth, to which end we invite all in your selection of papers for the coming season to include the Enquirer, that costs only $1.00 a year. (Issued twice a week.)
