TWELVE PAGES.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1895.

WHOLE NO. 1058

IT'S A VICTORY.

WITH ONE OR TWO EXCEPTIONS ALL GOES REPUBLICAN.

Row in Republican Ranks Loses the Mayor to the Democrats.

Monday started out with every aspect of being genuine democratic weather. It was cold and rainy and in the afternoon snow began to fall. However, a big vote was got out in every ward in the city. And the vote returned not a few surprises. Jacobs was turned down, he having run behind his ticket in every ward in the city. The run made by Hiscock and Mills was phenomenal. Taylor was swamped because of his attitude upon a number of questions on the council. Wessinger was unknown while Hiscock is liked by everybody. The following is the vote in every body:

For the High School Library.
A dramatic entertainment will be given in High School Hall next Monday night under the auspices of the Unity Club for the benefit of the High School Library. This is the entertainment that appears in the club program for April 20. The people who take part in the performance are well known in Ann Arbor, and all of them have had experience in such work. Two plays will be given, the first being a farce called "All on Account of a Bracelet," and the other "A Game of Cards." The latter is one of the pieces that helped give Rosina Vokes her great name, and this season it is doing the same thing for Mr. Felix Morris. The ladies and gentlemen who present the plays here have been hard at work for some time, and a good performance is promised. The casts of the two pieces will be filled by Mrs. E. A. Matteson, Miss Bessie Dunster, Miss Anna Dunster, Mr. Arthur Smith, Mr. Karl Harriman and Mr. James Handy. While the performance is for the benefit of the library, course tickets of the Unity Club will admit. The regular Unity Club prices will be charged all those not holding such tickets. Remember the date—next Monday night—at High School Hall.

Blue Ware Exhibit.
The Loan Exhibit of Old Blue Ware is to be held at Harris Hall, April 5th, instead of at President Angell's home, as at first announced. This change has been made to accommodate the large number who desire to attend, as well as to display the fine exhibit to better advantage. It is still intended to make the affair a society event. The hall will be handsomely decorated, an orchestra will furnish music, and light refreshments will be served. Mrs. Angell will receive, assisted by the wives of the deans of the different departments, and the society young ladies of Ann Arbor will serve as attendants. The exhibit itself will be a model of its kind and of the greatest interest to all lovers of the artistic and beautiful. Many rare and valuable pieces have been secured in Ann Arbor and elsewhere. Mrs. Babbitt, of Ypsilanti, has offered for exhibition her entire collection of 250 pieces. The catalogues are finished and will make very handsome souvenirs of the affair. All who desire can secure invitations by sending names to Warren H. Lewis, chairman of invitation committee.

Reflections of One of the Victors.

Isn't this glorious! Municipal Club knocked out! Banfield knocked out! The people on top again!

The idea of a few hair brained professors and clergymen attempting to dictate to the citizens of Ann Arbor what they should do and what they should not do!

They want "an honest and efficient non-partisan administration of the city government!" What fools! They prefer a good Democrat to a poor Republican as if any Republican whom the caucus might nominate was not far and away better than the best Democrat in the city.

What do they know about the administration of city government! All they have to do is to draw their salaries. They don't know that city officers must wink at one thing and shut their eyes to another to keep solid with the party.

They want "the enforcement of all laws, particularly those relating to the liquor traffic," as if a man hadn't a right to go and get something to drink whenever he is thirsty. They would turn him out of a saloon at 10 o'clock at night when he is just beginning to feel jolly. And then again on Sunday they would have him go to church or stay at home and get acquainted with his wife and children after having been hard at work all the week, why they wouldn't let him have any good time at all!

And there's Banfield, too, knocked clean out of the box! The idea of a cobbler knowing what the saloon men want! I don't believe he ever took a drink over the bar in his life! Did you ever see such a fool? Why he could have had all the drinks and cigars he could carry away by just taking what was given him! You wouldn't catch me letting such a chance as that go by! Well! They are all buried so deep Gabriel's trump will never resurrect 'em!

Chinese Missionary Talks.

The Rev. Yung Kiung Yen, M. A., a native missionary from China, will give an address in St. Andrew's church Friday, April 5th, at 4:30 p. m.

Rev. Mr. Yen is pastor of the church of our Saviour, a native Christian organization in Shanghai, and holds services at the hospitals for men and women, and at three outlying points. He also gives instruction in physiology to the medical students in St. John's college, Shanghai. He was invited last winter by the society for the suppression of opium traffic, to visit England, and was busily engaged there for some time, as a representative of all Chinese Christians, in protesting against the traffic in opium.

Mr. Yen was educated in America, and is now revisiting this country for the first time in thirty years. He is a graceful and earnest speaker, and will have much that is interesting to tell us about the mission work in his native land. No one can plead the cause of China more forcibly than he.

A Remarkable Singer.

Master Fred Ellis, whose portrait appears above and who made many admirers when here some weeks ago, will again sing at the meeting of the Young Men's Club of the Congregational church next Sunday night, April 7. Go and hear him. All are welcome.

The Inland League.

The address by Mr. J. E. Beal before the Inland League last Tuesday night was one of great interest. Mr. Beal spent a summer traveling in Russia and was able to relate some strange experiences that he had in what might be called that half-civilized country. His experience in being arrested, in taking a Russian bath, visiting one of their great annual fairs, in attempting to secure a meal "by signs", and his explanation of the uncertainties of railroad travel in that country, were highly enjoyed by all who heard the lecture. The next entertainment given by the League will be a musical evening by Mr. Krebbiel one week from next Tuesday night.

Charley Hiscock made an elegant run, and Glen Mills was a close second, being barely a "nose" behind as he came within eight votes of getting as many as Charley did.

Fruit Growers and Small Farmers.

Homes and Living for Thousands.

Read what western papers and fruit raisers say about a special number of the Great Northern Bulletin, devoted to the fruit business in the Pacific Northwest:

"Contains a multitude of interesting and valuable articles, notes and hints, presented by a close student and investigator."—Daily Spokesman-Review, Spokane, Wash.

"The best thing of the kind that has yet been published. * * * The future of the fruit business is brought out strongly without exaggeration."—Rural Northwest, Portland, Ore.

"The Fruit Bulletin is a storehouse of facts interesting to our growers. It is also calculated to show eastern people that the Pacific Northwest is 'strictly in it' as a producer of staple fruits."—J. B. Holt, Manager Snake River Fruit Association, Wawawai, Wash.

"Most artistically printed and contains more horticultural matter relating to the northwest than we have ever before seen in one publication."—Pacific Farmer, Portland, Ore.

"I am delighted with the Bulletin. I do not think I ever saw anything more comprehensive on the fruit business. My belief that the country out here is the best part of the Union for home-seekers is stronger than ever."—H. H. Spalding, Treasurer State Board of Horticulture, Alameda, Wash.

"Should be in the hands of every fruit raiser in the Pacific Northwest. * * * Shows in an interesting way just what our country offers to fruit growers and men who believe in small farms well tilled."—Northwest Horticulturist, Tacoma, Wash.

"There is not a topic likely to be of interest or value to the inquirer that is overlooked. * * * A most complete and attractive compendium of the horticultural interests of the West."—Daily Oregonian, Portland, Ore.

Special April, 26 and 27. MARTIN J. CAVANAUGH, Commissioner

If all wives and mothers could fully realize how apt each one is at all time to be benefitted by the protector and support of themselves and their children they would be more fully able to appreciate the real benefits of a life insurance policy. As an investment it is as safe and profitable as a saving's bank while in case of accident or fatal illness the return is much larger. Persuade your husband to lay by something in a life insurance policy and be protected in case of misfortune which sickness or accident may bring. A policy in the old reliable New York Life Insurance Company is unequalled for protection and investment.

MICHIGAN PEOPLE AND WHAT THEY ARE DOING.

State Conventions of the Grand Army of the Republic, Women's Relief Corps, Christian Endeavorers and the Epworth League—Brief Mentions.

Light Vote Polled.

The Republicans of Michigan elected their state ticket in the spring election—Judge Joseph B. Moore, of Lapeer, being chosen as justice of the state supreme court by a plurality of over 35,000. The vote throughout the state was very light, more so than usual in spring elections, in many sections less than half the normal vote being cast. The general apathy did not appear in any one vicinity or party, but was quite universal. The Republican candidates for regents of Michigan University—Messrs. Butterfield and Hackley—were elected by about the same pluralities as Judge Moore.

First returns on the salaries amendment were very meager and showed a close race between "yes" and "no." There were a number of special local contests in various cities and counties. In Wayne county the proposition to bond the county for $1,500,000 for the erection of a new county building met with evident favor with the voters. In Detroit over 15,000 electors out of the 23,000 voted; took enough interest in the project to vote upon it, and the proposition carried by a big majority, although the county vote was principally adverse.

The proposition to bond the city of Port Huron for a $30,000 electric light plant, was defeated by over 100.

Benzie county gives Frankfort the county seat, now at Benzonia, by about 300 majority.

Milnes Defeated Todd in the Third. Probably the contest in the third congressional district—to choose a successor to the chair in congress made vacant by sending Hon. J. C. Burrows to the senate—was the most intense of any in the state. Lieut-Gov. Milnes was the Republican candidate and his opponent was A. M. Todd, of Kalamazoo, the nominee of the Populists, Prohibitionists, Free Silverites and endorsed by the Democrats. Five counties—Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Hillsdale, Branch and Eaton—comprise the district and the Republican candidate was elected by 2,000 plurality.

State Senatorship in the Tenth. The fight in the Tenth senatorial district to see who should succeed the late Senator Waits proved an easy victory for Charles H. Smith, the Republican candidate.

Endeavorers at Bay City.

Bay Cityans had the honor of having about 1,000 live, active young people gather within the walls of their city as the ninth annual convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Michigan, and each and everyone of the 1,000 delegates was simply overflowing with enthusiasm. The convention went with a rush from the opening song to the closing benediction. The reports of officers showed the society in a flourishing condition. The secretary, Miss Luella E. Holland, of Saginaw, gave a detailed report of the work of the society during the year. The number of societies has increased from 610 last year, with a membership of 29,400, to 777 senior societies with 27,195 active, 11,655 associate members and 231 junior societies with 9,240 members, making a total of 49,090. The hope was expressed that this number would be increased to 50,000 before the national convention at Boston in July.

The officers chosen for the ensuing year were: President, W. H. Strong, Detroit; vice-president, George P. Cole, Ann Arbor; corresponding and statistical secretary, Miss Luella E. Holland, Saginaw; treasurer, H. O. Fanning, Grand Rapids; junior superintendent, Miss Mary G. Haskins, Detroit; missionary superintendent, B. R. Hoobler, Bay City. The convention of '96 was secured for Ionia.

With Rousing Amen.

With their pretty badges of white satin, with a scarlet thread and the Maltese cross bearing the motto, "Look up! Lift up!" the corps was emblem of the young people's society of the M. E. church—over 1,200 delegates to the fifth annual convention assembled in the Central M. E. church, Detroit. In the opening session particular interest was shown in the address of State President E. C. Pierce, of Saginaw, who said that with five years of the Epworth league in Michigan a membership of 30,000 was enrolled. Having secured the numbers he advised that now attention be turned to evangelization and reforms. The reports of the officers showed that there are now in Michigan 593 Epworth Leagues, with a membership of 35,418 of which 409 leagues, with a membership of 36,197, are seniors and 184, with 9,221 members, are juniors. These raised a total of $16,351.30 the past year. New leagues formed during the year, 38; gain of membership, 6,881. The election of officers resulted: President, F. K. McEldowney, Detroit; first vice, Rev. Wm. Puffer, Manistee; second, Miss Mary Ninde, Wyandotte; third, Prof. D. B. Waldo, Albion; fourth, Mrs. O. R. Lovejoy, Big Rapids; secretary, J. H. VanTassel, Ann Arbor; treasurer, Frank Morgan, Saginaw; superintendent of junior league work, Miss Nellie J. Chase, Grand Rapids. Ludington was decided upon as the place for holding the next convention.

The large barn of Mr. Tobias Boil, a farmer near Milford, burned, a quantity of grain, a horse, cow, calf and sheep were burned. The fire was caused by a spark from Mr. Boil's pipe lighting a stack of straw. Loss $2,500.

An interesting experiment is being made at Calumet by the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. It is a test of a newly-invented mechanical stoker, to see whether its work is equal to that of a human fireman. One boiler is being fed by the mechanical affair and another by men, and so far they have kept about even.

Mary, the 18-year-old daughter of Farmer Dado, near Battle Creek took a dose of paris green, and died in great agony. She wanted to go to a dance and her parents refused the request, and she took the poison just to frighten her people, not expecting that it would prove fatal.

STATE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Michigan Veterans "Fall in" at Mt. Clemens.—W. R. C. Also in Convention.

Mt. Clemens, "the city of mineral waters," entertained the encampment of Grand Army of the Republic, department of Michigan and the 12th annual convention of the Women's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R.

The veterans' opening session was called to order by Department Commander Kanitz, who in his annual report said that the department is in splendid condition. Five new posts have been added and seven surrendered their charters during the year. He said that last Memorial Day 12,303 graves were decorated; the W. R. C. had been of great help to every post; the V. should be encouraged; permanent headquarters at the Grand Rapids Soldiers' Home was recommended; politics in the G. A. R. are condemned.

The report of the assistant adjutant-general, John R. Bennett, showed that the membership of the department had dropped from 19,016 to 18,059 during the year, much less than was expected. The gain was 1,741 and the loss 2,698, making the net loss 957. There were 284 posts in the state at the beginning of the year. An amendment to the committee on legislation report was adopted to the effect that the board of managers of the Soldier's Home was to consist of six members in addition to the governor and that two of the members were to be women having, in all matters relating to the management of the home, exact equality with the male members of the board.

Commander-in-chief Thos. G. Lawler, who is on a tour of the various states complimented the Michigan department on her prosperity. He also made a strong arraignment of the pension department's attitude toward the old soldiers.

The parade of about 500 veterans and the election of officers concluded the formalities of the encampment. The election resulted as follows: Department Commander, S. B. Daboll, of St. Johns; Senior Vice-Commander, M. L. Skillman, of Mt. Clemens; Junior Vice-Commander, Norm. G. Cooper, of Sturgis; Medical Inspector, Dr. Oscar Palmer, of Grayling; Chaplain, Rev. Henry M. Conden, of Port Huron; Council of Administration, John R. Bennett, of Muskegon; M. C. Barney, of Flint; W. K. Childs, of Ann Arbor; Joseph Vanbuskirk, of Harrisville, and W. W. Cook, of Lansing. The contest for the next state encampment was won by Saginaw.

The Ladies' Department.

The Women's Relief Corps convention was a busy one, Mrs. Anna M. Barney, of Kalamazoo, department president, presiding. The report of the department secretary, Mrs. Anna L. Shakespeare, of Kalamazoo, showed that at the beginning of the year there were 234 corps, with a total membership of 7,151. During the year 12 corps were organized and 12 were disbanded. The membership now is 7,690. Assistance was given to 1,640 soldiers and their families and 1,045 members and their families. Relief to the amount of $2,564.18 in money and $4,056.56 in supplies was given. The corps which stood at the head in relief work in cash were: Detroit, No. 10, $203; Grayling, No. 162, $207.57. Petoskey was at the head for supplies other than cash. The various corps contributed to their respective posts a total of $1,884.88. The corps turning over the largest amount of money to its post was Kalkaska No. 92, the amount being $144. Adrian No. 72 reported the largest membership of any corps in the department, having 116.

Mrs. Emma R. Wallace, of Chicago, national president of the W. R. C., accompanied by National Secretary Miss Jennie Bros., were distinguished guests, and were accorded an enthusiastic welcome. Mrs. Wallace reported that the W. R. C. has at present 34 state departments and 52 detached corps in the territories, southwestern states and foreign countries. They boast 140,000 members and have expended in the 11 years of their history more than $1,000,000.

Beyond several very good addresses the election of officers filled the last day of the convention. The new officers are: President, Mrs. Emma E. Knapp, of Howell; Senior Vice-President, Mrs. G. S. Plummer, of Benton Harbor; Junior Vice-President, Mrs. F. Babbitt, of Ypsilanti; Treasurer, Mrs. Kate Collins, of Howell.

Neighbors Suspect Foul Play at Fenton.

Fenton and vicinity was considerably exercised over the burning of the residence of Frank Annis, a farmer living four miles north. His wife perished under some what peculiar circumstances. The blaze occurred at 4 o'clock a. m. A coroner's jury was summoned and the testimony of her daughter, aged 10, showed that she heard a sound as if a match was being scratched, then footsteps. Soon afterwards the smell of smoke awoke her. She discovered that her bed and her mother's was on fire. She tried to awaken her mother but was unable to do so. She and a younger sister then ran from the building. The husband and child testified that Mrs. Annis had been suffering from neuralgia and had been in the habit of taking morphine and chloroform to ease the pain. Annis went to Fenton at 3 a. m. after a physician. During his absence the fire occurred. She readily took out a policy in the Maccabees for $1,000.

While a gang of workmen were re-causing the scow Sleepy from Sterling's slip at Monroe they discovered the body of a woman. The body was taken to the morgue. The woman was 40 years old, of medium height, who would possibly weigh 130 pounds. The body was identified by W. F. Smith, of Toledo, as that of his wife who had wandered from home while temporarily insane last November.

The land office at Marquette has decided 50 of the 80 contests between the settlers and the Portage Lake Canal company, and all but two were decided in favor of the company. All are senses of the fact as to whether bona fide settlement was made prior to May, 1888. But the canal company will appeal to the general land office. All the cases decided against it were on the point as to what constitutes a bona fide settlement.

The W. C. Shipley Manufacturing company has located at Benton Harbor or the purpose of making Egyptian cement, muclage and glue.

The Hammock Invalid Folding Bed.

The hammock feature is one of the most valuable of the many good points of this bed, facilitating the change and stirring of bedding, giving the patient the relief of being lifted from a heated mattress to a cool and comfortable hammock, securing perfect ventilation of the body and preventing bed-sores. The circular opening in the hammock enables the use of a chamber without inconvenience. In fact this bed is a revelation to the weary invalid, being invaluable in the treatment of all acute and chronic Diseases, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Consumption, Continued Fevers, Heart Disease, Fractures and other severe injuries and surgical operations.

NEWS OF MANY KINDS

NEWS OF INTEREST AND MORE OR LESS IMPORTANCE.

An Armistice Declared by the Emperor of Japan, but Formosa is Excepted and Japs are Winning There.—Spain Promises to do the Right Thing.

Japs Victorious in Southern Formosa.

Hong Kong: The general commander of the Chinese forces on Pescadore islands, part of Formosa, telegraphed that he had sunk two Japanese vessels. Later he telegraphed that the Japanese had captured two forts. A Shanghai dispatch says that nine Japanese cruisers and two gunboats, the squadron being under the command of Admiral Ito, bombarded the east forts on Penghu island. One thousand troops were landed from five transports and an attack was made on the fort which dominated the others. The Chinese evacuated the position during the night and the Japanese entered on the morning of March 24. The Japanese then turned the guns on the other forts, which made no reply. The magazine of one of the western forts exploded before the position was evacuated by its defenders. Only 1,000 prisoners were taken, the other Chinese being allowed to escape to the junks off the shore. The Japanese loss was one killed and 27 wounded. The Japanese have now secured a southern base for their operations. The British consul has advised that all foreign women and children leave Formosa. A number have already gone to Amoy and Hong Kong.

Chang's Assailant in Prison for Life.

Shimonski: Kovana Rokunski, the young Japanese who attempted to assassinate Li Hung Chang, has been sentenced to work in the mines for life. The armistice established by the order of the mikado extends to April 20, but it will terminate if the peace negotiations are broken in the meantime. According to the terms of the armistice the movement of troops and the transportation of contraband of war by sea is forbidden. As the terms of the armistice do not embrace the Island of Formosa, the Japanese operations there will continue.

Spain Will Do the Proper Thing.

Washington: Reports that the Spanish government is taking steps to meet the requests of the United States in the Alliance affair, that the commander of the offending Spanish cruiser has been relieved from his ship and that orders have been sent to the other Spanish commanders in Cuban waters to observe the requirements of international law and refrain from improper interference with the ships of the United States or other foreign nations, has caused much gratification in official circles here. There is little doubt that the new Spanish minister, Senor De Lome, will go to Cuba before coming here.

Tampa, Fla: Puerto Principe has been declared in a state of rebellion by the Spanish government. This makes four out of five provinces of the island in a state of revolution. The manifesto issued by the rebels inviting Spaniards to espouse the Cuban cause has resulted in gaining valuable support from the insurgents. Reports show that the insurgents are daily gaining ground, but the Spanish government has issued orders for 7,000 troops to sail for Cuba at once.

Emperor of Japan Declares an Armistice.

Tokio: The emperor of Japan has declared an unconditional armistice. The decision of the emperor was greatly due to the extreme indignation aroused by the attack on the Chinese peace ambassador, Viceroy Li Hung Chang. There will be no withdrawal of Japanese troops from China until the peace treaty is complete. In the armistice the Island of Formosa is excepted.

The power of the Japanese government to execute the armistice will now be put to a critical test. The military power of Japan in the judgment of intelligent observers has almost outstripped the civil power during the war. This has caused serious concern, as it has been feared that the military element, backed by the war spirit among the people, would not submit to an armistice, even if the civil authorities ordered one.

Hong Kong: The Japanese are bombarding Tai Wan, the capital town of Formosa.

Four Young Men Fatally Injured.

A west-bound freight train was wrecked on the Panhandle near Newcomertown, O., and four young men of nearby towns were seriously if not fatally injured. The men all stood on the end sill of a car about midway of the train. As the train approached the siding to put in the engineer found he was running at a high rate of speed and made an emergency stop. The force broke a car-coupling just in front of the one men were on and they were allowed to drop into the jaws of death.

The old soldiers' colony, consisting of 14,000 heads of families representing 40,000 persons, will locate in southern Georgia.

While excavating for the new Presbyterian church, Port Huron workmen found a skeleton, apparently 30 years old, buried only a few inches beneath the surface. Nobody knows anything about it.

Deckerville will have a flax mill this spring operated by James Livingston & Co., of Baden, Pa., who own several mills in the eastern part of Michigan. Over 100 acres of land are being prepared for the crop.

The Minnesota senate passed a joint resolution looking to the annexation of that part of Wisconsin in which the city of Superior is located, to Minnesota, the object being to consolidate the cities of Duluth and Superior.

Mrs. Poppendeck, a widow near Paw Paw, rented her farm to W. S. Cole last year. This spring Cole rented another place and was removing his hay and had a load on the barn floor and went out for an errand, and when he returned Mrs. Poppendeck, it is alleged, was on the load of hay scattering paris green all over it. Cole caught her in the act. She was arrested.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS.

J. Todd, a deaf farmer aged 70, was instantly killed by a train near Paris.

The Weyers homestead at Port Huron was totally destroyed by fire. Loss $2,000.

The residence of George Raub burned at Greenville; loss $1,000; fully covered by insurance.

The Manistique street railway has notified its employes that they must swear off drinking or else quit their jobs.

Fowlerville citizens want the council to raise the bonds of saloonkeepers to $5,000 or else close up the saloons entirely.

The 47th anniversary of modern spiritualism was celebrated by the spiritualists of the Saginaw valley at Saginaw.

The Odd Fellows' hall in Haynes township, Alcona county, was destroyed by fire, together with the contents. Loss $1,500.

Wm. Jolly, a married man, aged 27, of Brockway, was arrested at Yale on a charge of assaulting the 13-year-old daughter of Ed. King.

The Centennial flouring mills at Lapeer for some time idle, will shortly resume again under the management of A. W. Kelly, of Detroit.

Gen. George A. Hart, of Manistee, has 200 vacant lots which he proposes to apportion out to poor families for potato raising, a la Pingree.

Fred Matthew, sent from Detroit for burglary, and Bruce Scofield, from Greenville, for forgery, both trustees, ran away from the Ionia prison.

Jackson county Sunday school people met at Jackson and elected E. A. Howell president. They reported 142 schools and 11,946 pupils in the county.

Mrs. Henry B. Ledyard, wife of the president of the Michigan Central railroad, dropped dead on Chene street, Detroit, without a moment's warning.

Fr. McNamara, one of the most eloquent priests in the Grand Rapids diocese, fell from a train at Lansing and suffered injuries that may prove serious.

Woodchucks are plenty around Middleville. Over 350 have been killed in Thornapple township during the past month. The treasurer of the township paid out $83.25 in bounties.

Another dividend of 6 per cent has been declared by Receiver Stone, of the Central Michigan Savings bank, Lansing, making a total of 50 per cent since the bank went under.

Otsego ladies were much horrified last week to see the "Spanish Student" performances illustrated in the Police Gazette. The pictures, were purely imaginary and unlike the reality, were far from modest.

Walter Thurlby, a young Birmingham blacksmith, charged with taking Fred Stephens' pocketbook containing $365, was honorably discharged. Friends gave him an ovation, and he is the hero of the hour.

A large eastern car manufacturing company is negotiating with Buchannan citizens in view of locating there. If the deal is consummated the factory will employ 1,000 men and use the entire power from the new dam.

Rev. John Hooper, the former Presbyterian minister at Cadillac, involved in a row that led to several lawsuits and to his retirement from the ministry, passed a creditable examination at Ionia and was admitted to the bar.

Miss Lucy Whitney, aged 19, Metamora, O., but attending school at Blissfield, left to attend teachers' examination at Adrian. Instead, she purchased a ticket for Detroit. Her father received a letter saying farewell forever, as she would never return home.

The case against Dr. Myron S. Brownson, of Kingsley, who is charged with causing the death of Hattie Belle Coe by a criminal operation, has created a sensation at Traverse City, at Kingsley and at Wexford, the home of the girl.

A bull that a farmer was bringing into Battle Creek broke loose on Maple street and ran amuck, causing a stampede among the people. He became perfectly infuriated and drove the people off the street. It was found necessary to shoot the animal.

Fire started in Fieckle's boat house at Wyandotte, and owing to a strong wind the flames spread rapidly. The new Wyandotte boat house, four smaller houses, Marx Bros.' and the Eureka ice houses were all destroyed. Loss $1,000, with no insurance.

Charles Cort tried to cross the track on his bicycle ahead of an approaching train at Royal Oak, but his wheel slipped and the train struck him. His left leg was cut off between the knee and ankle, and his right foot was taken off just above the ankle. He is about 24 years old. Later Cort died from his injuries.

Mrs. Wilbur Berry, a colored woman at Battle Creek shot her husband and herself. The woman is insane. She ordered her husband out of the house, and he started to leave when she shot him between the shoulders. The wound is not fatal. She shot herself under the chin, the ball passing up into her head. Her wound is considered fatal.

Oxford held an election last fall and voted in favor of a water works system, but the election was declared illegal, and a second one was held for the purpose of voting upon the proposition to bond the village for $25,000 for water works and an electric light system. There were 235 cast in favor of and 67 against the proposition. Both systems are to be completed by June 1.

Albert Legner, the 11-year-old son of Henry Legner, of Maple Ridge township, Alpena county, was killed in a strange manner. He and his father were felling a tree, which lodged in another. His father proceeded to dislodge it, and Albert stood over 100 feet away watching when the top broke, a large limb flying and striking the boy square on the forehead, completely severing his head.

The splendid residence of Hon. T. W. Palmer, on Woodward avenue, Detroit, narrowly escaped total destruction by fire. The burning of the south wing entailed a loss of $30,000.

THE REGISTER. PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY SELBY A. MORAN, ANN ARBOR, MICH. TERMS: One Dollar per Year in Advance. 1.50 if not paid until after one year.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1896. A BRADFORD England report of its wool trade, February 28, said that: "Manufacturers are better employed than they have been for a long time, mainly on account of the revival in the American trade, but merchants find that the competition with the American makers is so close that it is only the present very low prices which make it possible to carry on this business."

ONE of the most surprising things we have ever seen in the newspaper world, even in one of the Script's organs, was the boast in a recent issue of the Detroit Tribune that that paper had been chiefly instrumental in persuading the state legislature to reduce the age of consent from 17 to 16 years.

RICE AND FREE-TRADE. The duty on rice was reduced 15.82 per cent. by the Gorman Tariff. This was a slight reduction compared with many other products, but the result has been an increase of 19,770,635 pounds in our imports of foreign rice at New York since the Gorman Tariff became law, as compared with the imports of foreign rice during the corresponding five months a year earlier.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Pounds. 1894-1895 (Free-Trade) 25,979,950; 1893-1894 (Protection) 6,209,315; Increase under Free-Trade 19,770,635

WHERE BUSINESS IS BOOMING. A stroll through the wholesale dry goods district of New York City will convince the most skeptical that wholesale houses, large and small, are taking advantage of this era of Gorman Free-Trade to buy everything in their line anywhere but in the United States.

MOTHERS recovering from the illness attending child-birth, or who suffer from the effects of disorders, derangements and displacements of the womanly organs, will find relief and a permanent cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Taken during pregnancy, the "Prescription" MAKES CHILD-BIRTH EASY by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature and shortening "labor."

THE MARRIED WOMAN be delicate, run-down, or overworked, it worries her husband as well as herself. This is the proper time to build up her strength and cure those weaknesses, or ailments, which are the cause of her trouble.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder Awarded Gold Medal Midwinter Fair, San Francisco. bales throws a dampening shower on our own furnace fires, and that the prosperity is over the water and not here, the whole business assumes another aspect. An employee of the New York Custom House has stated that during his twenty years of service he has never before seen such a volume of imports as is now entering the country.

In discussing the election returns, the Detroit Journal says: "About all that went Democratic Monday was the weather. The Republicans carried nearly everything else. Considering the lightness of the vote polled in Detroit and throughout the state, the Republican plurality is much larger on the state ticket than the most sanguine Republicans had reason to expect."

Not the Republican party only but the state also is to be congratulated upon the triumphant election of Judge Moore for justice of the supreme court, and Robert W. Butterfield and Charles H. Hawkey for regents. No more worthy candidates have ever been chosen by the people of Michigan to fill these high and responsible positions.

W. C. T. U. For God, and Home and Native Land. Edited by Mrs. A. E. Van Valkenburg, Press Superintendent. At the annual meeting of the local society held last Thursday, a rising vote of thanks was extended to Mr. S. A. Moran, of THE REGISTER for his courtesy, and the donation of much valuable space, especially for his recent offer of part of a column regularly, for the advancement of the work.

The W. C. T. U. officers for the ensuing year are as follows: Mrs. Jennie Voorheis, president; Mrs. A. C. Clark, recording secretary; Mrs. Adda Warner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. J. Dygart, treasurer; Mrs. Hattie Doig, vice-president from Baptist church; Mrs. W. W. Wetmore from Presbyterian; Mrs. O. M. Martin, from Methodist; Mrs. A. L. Duncan, from Congregational; Mrs. E. L. Pardon, from Episcopal; Mrs. G. P. Coler, from Christian; Mrs. L. A. White, from Unitarian; and Mrs. E. W. Moore, from Second Baptist. The election of superintendents of departments was postponed until the next meeting.

Mrs. W. W. Wetmore, our recording secretary, in her annual report said: "Time flies so rapidly that it is hard to realize that another year's work of the Ann Arbor Woman's Christian Temperance Union has drawn to a close. With these fleeting hours, many words have been spoken, many suggestions, made many prayers offered—and with what result? One year ago, the officers and members of our Union were looking forward with anxious hearts, to the holding of the State Convention in our city. It came at the appointed time; was enjoyed by all, and profitably to many; leaving us with new ideas and filling us with inspiration, enthusiasm and renewed interest. Our Union now has ninety-three members, twenty-five of whom have united within the past few months. Regular meetings have been well sustained throughout the year, the largest attendance being December 29, when one hundred and fifty were present to hear Miss Mosher and Miss Kohn of Chicago on rescue mission work. Nine different departments of work have been carried on; Evangelistic, Literature, Scientific Instruction, Flower Mission, Press Work, social purity, jail work and franchise. The superintendents of each of these departments will report her own work. During the year, Mrs. Dunn, our efficient and faithful superintendent of literature, has moved from our city, severing her connection with us with deep regret. Five copies of the "Union Signal" are taken, and twenty-five of the "Michigan Union." Last April the 20th anniversary of the organization of this Union was observed in an appropriate manner; Neal Dow's birthday was observed, and an offering made; many families have been visited and helped; flowers have been sent to cheer the sick; a new interest among the colored has been awakened through the influence of this organization; and many a life has been cheered and brightened by the services in our county jail. God in his providence permitted the death Angel to remove from us one of our members, that faithful, devoted, loving, Christian, worker, Mrs. Amanda Butts, who for several years was our superintendent of scientific instruction. We submit also to the Divine will in removing from us as a local, state and national organization, our beloved state president, Mary T. Lathrop. How glad we are to know and feel that we as a local Union have the honor of entertaining the last convention at which she presided, and may we ever remember her closing words: "Pray God that all together this year we may make this work a power as never before. Be holy women, more given to God than ever before."

On account of the Washtenaw county convention which will be held at Ypsilanti, April 11 and 12, our next regular W. C. T. U. meeting will be held at McMillan Hall, Wednesday, April 10, at 3 o'clock.

SOCIAL PURITY. The department of "Social Purity" of the national W. C. T. U. has been receiving much attention during the past few years. Dr. Mary Wood Allen, now a resident of Ann Arbor, is the efficient national superintendent of this department, and, in addition to delivering many lectures, publishes monthly the "Mother's Friend" a magazine devoted entirely to "Purity" work. Some of the results in this department have been most encouraging. Many "Rescue Mission Homes" have been established in this and other countries, and through the influence of mother's meetings, and the distribution of a vast amount of literature, the absolute demand of religion and physiology for purity in word, thought, and deed, has been impressed upon the minds of men and women, youths and maidens. Through the efforts of our workers, legislation for the increased protection of the young, has been secured in some cases.

NARCOTICS. The aim of this department is to educate the people as to the effects of tobacco, opium and other narcotics upon the body and the brain, with a view to the extermination of the habit of using, and the traffic in the same.

Mrs. E. B. Ingalls, W. C. T. U. national superintendent of "Narcotics" says: "No cigarette that I ever heard of is free from opium. Beyond question the boy who smokes cigarettes stunts his growth, wrecks his nerves and weakens his heart and kidneys long before he reaches manhood."

The French government, recognizing the deteriorating influence of tobacco upon the young, has prohibited its use by students in the public schools. The Swiss government will not tolerate that tobacco be sold to juniors. Boys found smoking in the streets are now promptly arrested and punished. Punishment is also meted out to those who sell tobacco. Dr. Breemer, of St. Vincent institute for the insane, at St. Louis, has called attention to the fact that tobacco smoking by the young produces mental and moral deterioration, while in older persons it produces brain diseases and insanity.—Christian Statesman.

MEETING OF EDUCATORS. Dr. Angell was Elected President of the Association. The concluding session of "The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools," as its organizers decided to call the convention of educators at Evanston, was held Saturday. It was decided to hold the annual meetings of the association in November. The next meeting will be held at the University of Chicago. President Angell was elected president of the association and F. L. Bliss, principal of the Detroit high school, was made its secretary. G. N. Carmen, principal of Morgan Park Academy was elected treasurer. The vice-presidents will be a college president and a principal of an academy from each of the ten states represented in the association. An executive committee was elected composed of the president, secretary and treasurer of the association, and Prof. A. F. Nightingale, superintendent of Chicago schools; Dr. Charles Kendall Adams, C. A. Waldo, professor of mathematics at DePauw University, and Edward L. Harris, superintendent of Cleveland schools.—U. of M. Daily.

Campus. Dr. F. A. Spalding, of Detroit, a former professor in the medical department died on Monday of last week, of heart disease. The latest in reference to Beardley, the student who mysteriously disappeared from here last fall, is a dispatch from Elkhart, Ind., Mr. Beardley's home, to the effect that he is in California, and states that he left school because he became discouraged about his studies.

The annual convention of the Athletic Association, for election of officers and other business, will be held next Saturday afternoon. He was taken sick a short time afterwards and has been failing ever since, being confined to his bed most of the time. The deceased was about 24 years of age.—Times. As a progressive dealer I take pleasure in asking your attention to my stock of furniture, carpets and draperies. Spring time is about here and with it comes the furnishing of the home. As all house keepers are making preparations for spring cleaning, you will be looking for one or another piece needed in your home to make it comfortable or wish to have your furniture made over and covered, bear in mind I am able to take care of you and do justice to your wants. Respectfully, MARTIN HALLER.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Next Sunday evening there will be Full Choral Service in St. Andrew's church without a sermon. Mrs. T. C. Trueblood will give a dramatization of George Eliot's "Silas Marner" at the M. E. church one week from tonight. Joe T. Jacobs seems to be perfectly able to stand defeat. He was down bright and early Tuesday morning doing business as if nothing had happened.

The subject of the Rev. Henry Tattlock's sermon in St. Andrew's church next Sunday morning will be: "Can we in all cases love our neighbor as ourselves?" Will S. Cheever has gone to Bay City to engage in the hardware business with a Mr. Martin of that city. The name of the new firm is Martin & Cheever. "Joseph de Maistre and the Catholic Reaction in France" will be the subject of Prof. Walter's lecture before the University Bible Class of the M. E. church next Sunday at 12 a. m.

Dr. Cobern delivers the third of his course of Sunday evening lectures on "If you had your life to live over" next Sunday evening. He will close with a postlude on "Mr. Ingersoll's views of the Bible." How Walkins will wail and gnash his teeth next fall when the supervisors are in session and he cannot be here to manipulate schemes to increase the assessment rolls of Ann Arbor. It will be too bad. The Flower Mission Board has decided to hold the blue ware exhibit at Harris Hall instead of at Mrs. Angell's as has been announced. This change has been made to accommodate the great number who wish to attend.

At the Church of Christ next Sunday morning Prof. Coler's subject will be: What the Public Schools can do for the promotion of Christianity. In the evening his subject will be: The Permanent and the Transient in Religion. Chas. J. Fox was up before Justice Pond last Saturday on a charge of malicious destruction of property. It is claimed that he cut down a fence belonging to Daniel Tracy on Fuller-st. Examination will be held next Saturday. Clarence, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaible, of Ann Arbor town, died last Wednesday at the age of seven months. The funeral services were held at the house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Max Hein officiating.

Christian Cook, of the town of York, died very suddenly last Friday morning of heart disease. He was an old resident of that town, and well known throughout the southern portion of the county. His sudden death is a great shock to his large circle of acquaintances. Wm. R. Tuomey, an old and highly respected resident of this county, died at his home in Scio last Friday of general debility at the age of 82 years. The funeral services were held at St. Thomas' church, Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The remains were interred in St. Thomas' cemetery.

A union meeting of all the young people's societies of the city will be held in the auditorium of the M. E. church next Sunday evening at 6:15. The delegates to the state conventions of the Epworth League and Christian Endeavor which were held last week in Detroit and Bay City will give reports. Prof. H. L. Willett has just completed a very successful year's work of instruction in the Bible chair courses at Newberry Hall. This closes Prof. Willett's work in Ann Arbor, as he will hereafter devote his whole time to work at Chicago University. Prof. G. P. Coler will have charge of the work in Ann Arbor hereafter.

At 8 p. m. Saturday evening, April 6, Mr. J. E. Beal will deliver the third lecture in the Epworth League lecture course. His subject will be "Fording a Ford." Six years ago Mr. Beal in company with friends spent a very pleasant three weeks cycling across Norway and Sweden. His lecture will describe the fascinating trip.

Lost an arm. Ransom Wright, who resides at 15 Miller ave., met with a serious accident in the T. & A. A. yard last Friday evening about 8 o'clock, as a result of which he will journey through life with only one arm. While at the W. Huron street crossing, train No. 19 passed southward bound. He boarded the train with the intention of riding on it as far as the depot. He changed his mind, however, and at the Washington street crossing he jumped off and fell in such a manner that the wheels passed over his left arm, crushing it above the wrist. Drs. J. A. Wessinger and C. G. Darling were summoned and they amputated the arm below the elbow.—Times.

WEAK NERVES EPIDEMIC

Weak Nerves Will Surely Break You Down. NERVES ARE THE VERY FOUNDATION OF STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE. If Your Nerves are Weak, Lose no Time in Getting Them Strong.

You are growing older every day, and if you do not wish the unpropitious years as they roll on their relentless way, to rob you of your hopes and joy your pleasures, your ambitions, your very strength and energies, keep your nerves strong and vigorous. It is the nerves which soonest wear out. You thoughtlessly use them up in work, pleasure or dissipation, and suddenly wake to find yourself broken down—that only your body remains bereft of strength, energy and power.

"Oh, sudden thrills of fire and frost The world is bright while ye remain And dark and dead when ye are lost. Health, hope, happiness—everything is dependent upon strong and vigorous nerves. It is weak nerves which give to the young, fits, convulsions, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance, and the myriad nervous affections of youth. It is weak nerves which make women constantly tired, irritable, nervous, dispirited, dragged-out and miserable. It is weak nerves which conquer men in their struggle for mastery in the world which render them nerveless, strengthless, powerless, with dull-feeling, head-shaking, shattered and unsteady nerves without appetite or good digestion, enfeebled from sleepless nights and wretched and discouraged from trying days. It is weak nerves which make age a curse instead of a blessing—a body, a casket from which every power and energy has fled, leaving only weakness, despair and utter weariness.

If there is any advice, which above another, should sink into the heart, it is the admonition to keep your nerves strong. Hence, the words of Mrs. Eliza E. Clements, of 126 Bright St., Indianapolis, Ind., should have weight with everyone. "I was afflicted for six years with nervous debility. I could not sleep nights, and I was in a terrible condition. I had heart trouble, and it beat so hard I thought I should die. I was in constant misery and could do no work. "I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine.

"It has made me sound and well. can work all day and not get tired. My heart disease is entirely cured, and my nerves are strong and under perfect control. "I feel it my duty to tell suffering humanity what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and what it will surely do for them. I am thankful that Dr. Greene has given such a valuable medicine to a suffering world. "If you would be well and strong, with vigorous nerves full of the vim and energy of youth, use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. At this season of the year you should take it, by all means, as it is the best spring tonic and invigorator you can possibly use. It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

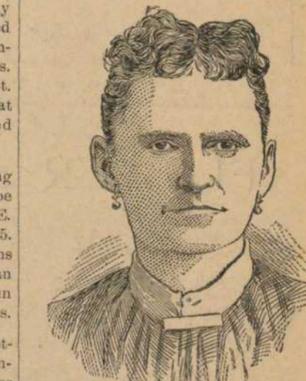

"I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine.

Rhea.

The sale of seats opens this morning for Rhea, who will be seen at Grand Opera House next Monday, April 8, in The New Magdaline.

Mlle. Rhea is so well known in this city that little need be said of her charms as an actress and her grace as a woman. The play of her repertoire this season is a piece from the hand of the master dramatist Victorien Sardou. The title of this little play is "The Parisians." It deals with the life and manners of the Parisians of the present day. It requires a large cast, and the ladies will have many opportunities of displaying their beautiful dresses.

Rhea herself is well known as being one of the most beautifully gowned of our actresses.

The play is said to abound in life-like conversation, flashes of wit, constantly varying scenes and a deeply interesting plot. The comedy is in four acts.

LATEST COUNTY NEWS.

WHITMORE LAKE.

Miss Foster, of Ann Arbor, is the guest of Mrs. F. Shuart.

A party of young folks from here attended the Epworth League Saturday.

Miss Mary Leonard has again taken up her abode for the summer at the residence of Frank Barker.

Joseph Pray who was a while ago given up as incurable is today by his indomitable will and grit looking hale and hearty.

Joseph Mead son of Andrew Mead died yesterday of blood poisoning. He was a very estimable young man who leaves scores of friends to mourn.

The hotels at this place are out doing all their previous efforts in renovating and making their hotels attractive this spring in anticipation of a large run of tourists.

M. Stevens, of the Lake House, has just completed one of the best proportioned and handsomest and "Al." claims the fleetest sailboat that ever graced Whitmore Lake.

The peace of our beautiful summer resort is assured as we have in the village two strong healthy robust constables and not far away lives our popular deputy sheriff G. W. McCormick.

The queerest thing in politics occurred yesterday, John Todd ran for constable on both the Democrat and Republican tickets he was defeated by 4 on the Republican ticket and elected by 10 on the Democratic ticket.

The I. O. G. T.'s are again to the front with their entertainment, bills posted in every hole and corner, and they expect and richly deserve a good audience. Everybody come, it will only cost you a dime for a dollars worth of fun.

We were pleased to see Mr. Jeremiah Jacobs one of Whitmore Lake's old pioneers and the builder of the M. E. church, on the streets again. Mr. Jacobs is 84 years old and has been confined to the house for nearly a year.

Mrs. F. M. Lumbard's father came from Milford on Saturday to make a short visit, on Sunday he began to complain of pains in the head but kept around. He went to bed Sunday night and at 3 a. m. was dead from heart failure. He was 85 years of age.

Our old merchant W. B. Rane having disposed of his store building and residence has until May 1st to dispose of his stock of goods. Mr. Rane has not decided where he will locate but as he has one son a student John and another, Frank, Professor in the Agricultural College at Morgantown Va. it is most likely they will move there.

Sad indeed are we to have to chronicle the continued illness of our beloved townsman Tobias Holmes. About a year ago Mr. Holmes fell from the loft of his barn to the floor striking his knee on a basket and breaking one of the small bones. He never fully recovered and steady pain from that knee is a severe strain on his constitution and he is gradually growing worse.

Monday's election was one of the closest and hottest contested of any that has occurred here in years. With two of the strongest and most popular men in Northfield, at the head of the tickets viz., Phillip Duffy on the Democrat and Emery Leland on the Citizens. Mr. Leland was elected supervisor by 14 majority and clerk by 3 majority, the balance of ticket went Democratic by majorities ranging from 6 to 75.

SALEM TOWN

Dr. A. L. Walker is reported very sick with rheumatism of the lungs.

Rev. Benton attended the Epworth League convention at Detroit last week.

Tom Kane was called to Canada Friday by a telegram stating the severe illness of his father.

Died, at his home in Van Buren Township Wayne Co., Friday evening, March 29th, Flavins J. Comstock, aged 42 years. Mr. Comstock was married to Miss Altha Potter fourteen years ago, and brought his young wife to a home in Salem where they resided until a year ago, when they rented their farm here and went to Van Buren to take charge of a farm belonging to Mrs. Comstock's aged father. Mr. Comstock was a man of noble character beloved and respected by all. He was an earnest Christian man having experienced religion eleven years ago and afterwards where although having gone from the neighborhood he was still a member. The sorrow of the lovely wife can only be measured by those who have passed through like affliction. But she is not alone in her grief for beside other relatives, he leaves a large circle of friends, both here and in the neighborhood where he has lately resided, to mourn with her. Rev. Benton, pastor of the Salem Methodist church conducted the funeral services at the home Sunday afternoon, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Ypsilanti.

Spring Medicine

At this season, more emphatically than at any other, we should build for the future.

When Nature gives vitality to field and wood, there should be the harmony of renewed life and energy in our physical systems.

But, on the contrary, we find ourselves weak, dull, tired. This is because in the winter we have been housed-up in poorly ventilated offices, homes and shops, our blood has become thin and impure, and is unequal to the demand of the body for more life, more vigor, more energy, more strength.

Nature imperatively cries for help! Where is it to be found? Logically enough, in a good Spring Medicine, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

This preparation has proven in many years of test that it supplies the demand as nothing else can

So easy to take and so readily assimilated, the purifying, vitalizing and enriching elements of Hood's Sarsaparilla—combined from nature's own storehouse of vegetable remedies for human ills, pass into the stomach and are then silently but certainly taken up by the blood and sent to every organ and tissue of the body.

The effect is often magical.

The weakness is soon driven off, that tired feeling disappears, the nerves are built up, the stomach resumes its tasks even greedily, the appetite becomes as "sharp as a whetstone," and the whole man feel "as made anew."

The wonderful cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and other dreadful diseases prove the great curative, blood purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

You undoubtedly need a good Spring Medicine. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The statements in the testimonial below are familiar facts to the immediate friends of Mr. Geo. A. Zirkle, school teacher, of Mt. Horeb, Tenn., very well known throughout the county, where he was born and has always lived. It illustrates the wonderful power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. Read it:

"I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla. I will tell you why. I have suffered from inherited scrofula from childhood. When 37 years of age my eyes became Strangely Affected.

I could not read after sunset, and when I would close my eyes I could not open them; but on whichever side I lay on that side I could open my eye. This condition continued about two years, and was succeeded by an intolerable itching all over my body and limbs. I had to have my little boys take shoe brushes and scratch me. It was dreadful. It continued a month and was followed immediately by a tumor in the right side of my neck as large as a small egg. I took physicians' prescriptions till I lost hope. In the meantime the tumor changed its place to the immediate front of my neck, suppurated and was followed by others, till six had formed and broken.

"Finally, three years ago, another large tumor seated itself on the point of my collar bone and in six months another half way back on the bone. Both of them soon began to discharge and continued to do so till about seven months ago. I tried everything, including prescriptions. I was often so weak that I could scarcely walk and my mind was so confused that I could scarcely attend to my business (school teaching). I was utterly discouraged. And now my story draws to a close. I began the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla a little less than a year ago, and took five bottles. When I began I had no faith in it. In less than 3 months on my shoulder were healed; I was cured of a troublesome catarrh; and scrofulous habit has steadily grown less apparent. I weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in the best of health considering my constitution. Do you wonder that I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla? I can do no less than recommend it everywhere."

Both the Sores

Geo. A. ZIRKLE, Mt. Horeb, Tenn.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for our little boy, who had a running sore on one of his limbs. He had suffered from it for one and a half years. He took seven bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the sore is all healed and he is now well. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleansed his blood and cured him." E. B. JOHNSON, Bridge-water, Iowa.

Scrofula Eradicated.

"I am a great sufferer with blood trouble. I have taken several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it the best medicine I ever saw for scrofulous humors and blood poison. It strengthens the system and drives away that tired feeling. No one knows the good Hood Sarsaparilla will do until it has been faithfully tried." LAURA M. LAWTON, Spragueville, New York.

Sores On Neck and Arms.

"Last spring I had sores come on my neck and arms, owing to bad blood and a run down system. My physician told me to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and take it to purify my blood. After taking three bottles I was cured. It is an excellent spring medicine." MRS. ANNA DITZLER, New Danville, Pennsylvania.

Makes Pure Blood

Remember, It is Not What We Say, but What Hood's Sarsaparilla Does that Tells the Story. HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES.

On Wednesday, March 27, 1895, the wedding of Miss Jennie Latson, of Webster and Mr. Wm. Grosbie, of Howell, took place at the bride's parents. Only relatives of either party were present, and the families of Latson, Grosbie and McCall. About the room they gathered while Miss Stella Grosbie played the march. Rev. Mr. Service, of Howell, performed the ceremony, after the couple had entered and amidst the soothing presence of artificial light. The bride was dressed in cream, some roses adorned her, but no veil was worn. Soon afterwards about 3 p. m., supper was given. Then the bride and groom in due season were transported to Delhi enroute for Jackson. May their lives be as cheerful as was symbolized in the beautiful day, is the wish of all Webstersites. Many gifts of fabrics and silverware were expressions of good will.

Fred Judson, of Ann Arbor, is spending the week with his parents.

Allie Shuart returned to her school at Carpenters Corners Monday.

In the near future, Will Martin and wife will go to live on the Crippen farm.

The Misses Wright and Judson spent Saturday and Sunday at Whitmore Lake.

Fred Clements and wife of Whitmore Lake spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bush.

Monday's election of township officers for Superior resulted in a Democratic victory with but one exception, that of highway commissioner.

Two removals from Dixboro in one week. Mr. Freeman Shuart to Whitmore Lake and Mr. Squires to the Deppow farm. This leaves three empty houses in town something unknown for a long time.

DELIHI HILLS.

The spring term of school commenced Monday, April 1st, with fifteen scholars, and Miss Mary Polhemus of Ann Arbor teacher.

The mill firm are rushing business now, not any of the men in the mill or cooper shop either could be spared to go and vote.

The Delhi Sunday School had their concert Sunday as previously announced. Everything went off very nicely. The school voted at the close to observe "Easter" with appropriate exercises. Everybody is invited to come, and encourage the children in their efforts to entertain.

New Store.

One of the neatest little stores in the city is that just opened on the North Side by Mr. Henry G. Lodholz at No. 9 Broadway. The store has heretofore been used by Mr. W. F. Lodholz as a stock room. Henry has had the room entirely refurnished upon the inside, has put in new shelving, show cases and furniture and a brand new line of candies, nuts, cigars, tobacco and pipes and fruit on one side and a well selected line of stationery, blank books, writing pads, pens, ink and pencils on the opposite side and is now prepared to supply everything one may need in these lines. People of the North Side and farmers coming into the city by any of the roads leading to the North Side bridge will find it convenient to do their trading in these lines with Mr. Lodholz. Mr. Lodholz will make every effort to keep just what the people want in the special lines of goods he handles. If you want a good cigar, some fine fruit, a pound of delicious fresh candy, or anything in the line of fine stationery go to No. 6 Broadway and Mr. Lodholz will be glad to serve you. Mr. Lodholz especially invites all of his old friends to give him a share of their patronage.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE—50th day.—Bills passed: To prevent the transportation of corpses on highways as well as railroads which death has resulted from communicable disease; for examination of witnesses in open court in cases of conspiracy; for appointment of chancery commissioners; for appointment of assessors to prevent fraud in assessments; Soldiers Home appropriation bill; rising from Nov. 1 to an open season for deer in both peninsulas. The event of the senate session was the discussion of the bill to raise the age of consent which was finally passed by a vote of 14 to 12. The normal school committee recommended the passage of the following appropriations for that institution: $30,000 for the year 1895-6, $30,000 for 1896-7, to be available for library purposes, $5,000 for a practice and training school, and for a permanent tax of one-tenth of a mill for normal current expenses. HOUSE.—Bills passed were mostly local. The one of general importance provides for a physical and military examination of state board of persons elected or recommended for appointment as officers in the National Guard below the rank of major. The law of the last year fixing the normal school as a thing could and still not give up the ghost. There was a hard fight by its friends to save it. All the old arguments were brought forward, and when the House, in committee of the whole, came to vote on the motion to strike out all after the enacting clause it was carried—42 to 39. But when the committee reported the House refused to concur by a vote of 41 to 43, and the thing was given a new lease of life—but eventually a short one—by being laid upon the table. The bill authorizing the use of the Myers and Abbott voting machine was reported with recommendation and laid on the table. The committee of the whole struck all after the enacting clause out of the bill providing for formalities should not effect the legit of tax proceedings. The opinion was entertained that it might be of advantage to tax shareholders and some loss of life. Very little definite information can be secured. Eight miles from Bowling Green, Ky., the homes of Otis Smith, James Waters and Henry Filer were burned. A 500 acres of timber were swept away. The families mounted horses and escaped. Henry Filer was badly burned that he died and a Negro farm hand perished. At Annetta and Blount large tracts of timber were burned. William Edwards, colored, was burned to death while fighting the fire. Since the turning of James V. Penny's house in Indiana his wife has been missing and is now believed to have perished in the woods while trying to escape. In Clark county, Ind., the farms of Bates and Weber were burned over, causing a loss of $20,000. Prof. Chas. Bruner was burned to death in the woods near Victory, Ky.

THREE FATAL JUMPS.

Women Leap From a Car Going Down a Mountain a Mile a Minute. Three persons were instantly killed, two probably fatally injured and ten others slightly hurt on the Lehigh Traction Company's railroad by jumping from a runaway trolley car on the mountain near Jeannette, Pa. As the car passed out on the grade leading down the mountain, Grippman Seitz applied the brake, but the safety chain snapped. He then threw the safety lever. This refused to work, and the terrified motorman sprang to the reverse brake, hoping to control the car by the current. The actions of the motorman and the speed of the car had by this time alarmed the passengers. Failing to control the car, Seitz shouted to Conductor Soeks to apply the rear brake. The motorman's shouts caused a panic in the car, and the passengers made a rush for the platform and crowded the conductor so he could do nothing. The car was going down the mountain at a mile a minute. Several passengers jumped and were dashed to death on the rocks. The car left the track and was badly wrecked.

Fearful Forest Fires.

Reports from southern Indiana and Kentucky say that forest fires are causing great damage to property and some loss of life. Very little definite information can be secured. Eight miles from Bowling Green, Ky., the homes of Otis Smith, James Waters and Henry Filer were burned. A 500 acres of timber were swept away. The families mounted horses and escaped. Henry Filer was badly burned that he died and a Negro farm hand perished. At Annetta and Blount large tracts of timber were burned. William Edwards, colored, was burned to death while fighting the fire. Since the turning of James V. Penny's house in Indiana his wife has been missing and is now believed to have perished in the woods while trying to escape. Three Train Robbers Killed.

One of the most daring and at the same time most unsuccessful attempts at train robbery occurred in the southern portion of Kentucky, when six men undertook to rob the southbound train No. 3 on the Queen & Crescent line. One of the six was killed outright, another died two hours later, a third giving the name of Miller, died later in the day, and the other three have not been heard from. The train was delayed not more than ten minutes, and reached Chattanooga on time. The express company has adopted the plan of a secret service to protect its property against robbers. This is the first result of the new method. While it is costly, it is infinitely more effective than any amount of lynx-eyed detective business employed to arrest and punish robbers.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

NEW YORK.—Dun's weekly review of trade says: Signs of improvement are all the more satisfactory because neither accompanied or apparently produced by a speculative craze. Dealings in stocks, cotton and wheat are not diverting all the interest and capital from productive industries and legitimate trade, though these products are all a shade stronger. But railroad earnings, bank clearings and industrial indications are more encouraging than the previous week. It is a remarkable feature that the lifting this year begins at the bottom so to speak; raw materials are raised before there is any larger demand for their finished products, a thing not often done with success. In all these cases it is reasoned that the larger demand for consumption, though yet wanting, must come when it is seen that prices are going up. So far there is no answering increase in demand or in price for manufactured products, and on the whole the range is slightly lower than a week ago. The figures for the past week were 24 in the United States against 23 last year.

Big Fire at Milwaukee.

Lower Grand avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., where the heart of the wholesale and retail commerce of the west side is situated, was the scene of one of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city. Several leading mercantile institutions are in ruins. The fire was the most disastrous since the big conflagration of October 28, 1892, and the loss will exceed $1,000,000. It furnished a magnificent spectacle for the thousands that filled the avenue and watched it from surrounding buildings. There were, however, luckily no fatalities.

NO CRITICISM ALLOWED.

A Youth Who Thought Lady Churchill's Music Lacked Soul.

Lord Randolph Churchill, when in his best health and busy, used to astonish most other Englishmen by his indifference to "sport" as a means of getting rid of his occasional lapses of leisure. He once said that he knew of two ways of spending a holiday infinitely preferable to going off to Scotland for the shooting; one was to go to Paris and stay a month or so on the boulevards; the other was to run down to Brighton and stay in bed twenty hours out of the twenty-four. His ideal of a happy life, said a writer in Kate Field's Washington, was to go to bed in a quiet room, stay there during the day reading and dozing, dine in slippers and dressing gown in the evening, and as soon as convenient thereafter go back to bed. Such liking as he had for society was of the unconventional sort. He never took a keen artistic delight in his wife's musical accomplishments, but he was unwilling that any one else should speak disparagingly of them. At an entertainment once, where she had consented to execute a brilliant dash on the piano, a tall youth with bangs and a monocle was observed paying a languid and rather insolent attention to the performer to hear his comments easily overheard by her. "Lord Randy" was close at hand, too, and presently heard the rapid youth remark: "Deuced fine music, you know, but it lacks weal soul—it lacks weal soul." To the critic's astonishment a muscular young man with a big mustache, whom he had not noticed before, whispered in his ear: "For a shilling I'd wallop the life out of you." He hastened to withdraw, without discovering the identity of the author of the menace. The next day, to his delight, he received an invitation to the Churchills' home. Of course he accepted with avidity. On entering the house he was met by his threatening neighbor of the night before, who, he at once discerned, must be Lord Randolph. He proceeded no further than the entrance hall, for Churchill beckoned in the direction of the drawing-room and out floated Lady Churchill. "This fellow has come to apologize to you for his remarks of last night," hissed Lord Randolph. "Now," to the stranger, "down on your knees!" Down went the fandy, liping out the most abject plea for forgiveness. Then he was turned over to a footman to be put ignominiously out of the door, while the host followed his retreating figure with a car of derisive laughter.

$2,000 SAVED IN LANSING.

LANSING, MICH., DEC. 3, 1894. "I have been greatly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for a long time and during the past ten or fifteen years have expended a great deal of money for medicine, visited Mount Clemens and other health resorts, but received no satisfaction from the treatment. Last spring, hearing of SCHRAGER'S $1,000-000 RHEUMATIC CURE, I commenced using it and with two bottles I feel perfectly cured; not an ache or pain since. I can recommend it to be all that is claimed for it and know of many others who have been using it the same with best results. It saved me over $2,000. is not a large difference between a cheap piano and a good one. It may seem large at first, but figure a little. The average life of a piano is twenty-five years. If you pay $100 more for a good piano than for a cheap one, you pay $4 a year for the satisfaction of having a thoroughly reliable musical instrument. This is about

ONE AND ONE-TENTH CENTS PER DAY.

It will cost more than $4 additional, each year to keep a cheap piano in tune to say nothing of the increased satisfaction of owning and using a good instrument.

This is but little more than is charged every day for instruments not worth as much. Think this over, and examine the Clifford before you buy

RUINS OF YUCATAN.

PROF. W. H. HOLMES TELLS OF EXPLORATIONS THERE.

With a Party of Americans He Visits Old Aztec Temples and Sees Many Things of Great Archeological Interest.

Prof. W. H. Holmes, curator of anthropology in the Columbian museum, returned recently from his voyage of archeological discovery to Mexico with Allison V. Armour and other friends in Mr. Armour's steam yacht Ituna, says the New York Tribune. It sailed from New York Dec. 16, with Mr. Armour, Prof. Marquand of Princeton, and Norman Williams of Chicago. It reached Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 20 and took on Prof. Holmes and Prof. C. F. Millspaugh, curator of botany in the museum. It anchored Dec. 24 at Havana, from which point Mr. Williams returned to Chicago. From Havana Dec. 26, the company sailed direct to Progreso, the port of Yucatan, on the northernmost point of the peninsula. There they were joined by ex-United States consul E. H. Thompson, who owns a hacienda in the vicinity, and who has been for ten years a student of Yucatan archeology. The departure from Progreso, with the party complete, was the commencement of the scientific expedition. "Our first trip," said Prof. Holmes, "was to what are called the eastern islands of Cozumel, Muceres, and Contoy, lying along the eastern coast of the peninsula. We were attracted to the locality by the fact that travelers had never visited it before. These islands are dotted with the ruins of temples and temple accessories. These were occupied when the Spaniards came, and the natives possess records of the conquest. The inscriptions, which are numerous, were made by the priests, and have never been deciphered. We came in sight of Tulcan, an immense fortress on the mainland, but were not permitted to land. Returning to Progreso we journeyed southward to Merida and visited three great ruined cities within seventy-five miles of it. These were Uxmal and Chichenitza, the ruined temples of which were reproduced at the World's Fair by ex-consul Thompson and I. Here we carried our explorations and studies perhaps farther than any other travelers that ever visited the country. The extent of the ruins is something wonderful. They were found in a luxuriant tropical forest, and consisted largely of stone pillars two feet in diameter and probably eight feet high. Sometimes we saw five rows of them together. We made a great number of photographs and sketches. This country is watered entirely by wells which connect with subterranean rivers. The country, though beautiful, is rocky and barren, and it is a question how the population of these immense ruined cities subsisted. Having returned to Progreso we coasted southwestward along the west coast of Yucatan to the adjoining state of Campeche and to its port Laguna. We ascended the river Usamacinta fifty miles in a river steamer, the shallow water not admitting our yacht, but took our steam launch along. Reaching the state of Tabasco we ascended a tributary of the river as far as our launch could carry us, and some miles further in canoes. Then we took horses and traveled thirty-five miles farther, to the base of the mountains forming the boundary between Mexico and Guatemala. The object was to visit the great ruined city near Palenque, in the midst of a dense forest in the state of Chiapas. The ruins were all temples and their associate buildings and were bas relief sculptures. The place has been visited by travelers before, but was unknown to the Spaniards of the conquest. Those ruins must be 1,000 years old and they contain many features of beauty. While we were on this journey our botanist met with an accident and returned to this country. Returning to Laguna we sailed south and west toward Coutzag, from which point we intended to cross the isthmus by rail to Tehntepec. But in three hours we got caught in a northerly wind which was said to be the fiercest ever seen in those seas. It was the same storm that gave New Orleans ten inches of snow. It lasted for three days, during which we did not have our boats off. The waves swept over the deck and down into the cabin, and everything we had was wet. The yarmards were constantly dipping into the water on each side. This storm caused us to abandon our Tehantepec trip, and sail for Vera Cruz. On anchoring in that port we went by rail to Puebla, and by the Mexican Central to Oaxaca. In this neighborhood we visited the ruins of Mitla, one of the chief cities of the Zapotecs. The distinguishing feature of these ruins is the great size of the blocks of stone used. They were 18x33 feet in size, were quarried with stone picks, and brought many miles without beasts of burden.

INCREASING LENGTH OF LIFE.

Modern Heroes Are Much Longer Lived Than Jane Austen's Were.

Is the human race becoming longer-lived despite the fret and fever of modern civilization? It is an interesting question, and it may very probably be answered some day by science in the affirmative. The longevity of professional men is now generally considered to be greater than that of farmers or mechanics. In other words, intellectual activity, although in many respects more exhausting than physical, has in the main a salutary effect upon the human frame. It may be the nerves rather than the muscles upon which we mainly depend, after all. It is a commonplace of observation that the big, hearty men are constantly dropping out of the world, while those of far more fragile organizations, apparently, live on to a ripe old age.

As to the increasing longevity of the race generally, there is no little incidental testimony on this head to be gathered from various sources. Some of the early heroes and heroines of romance are old before they reach what we should call middle life. And at the beginning of our own century Jane Austen, whose testimony is always unimpeachable, speaks of 40 as having a good prospect of twenty years of life yet. Twenty years! What woman of to-day, asks the Providence Journal, thinks of herself as falling into decrepitude at 60? Elsewhere in Miss Austen's pages we run across people who are old with the passage of half a century of life. But now we have Gladstones at 80 and over, and think nothing of it.

Embarrassingly Amalgams.

"There was quite a fight in front of the store to-day," said a Rockland man at the supper table. "Two men got into a row, one struck the other, and then the crowd gathered. The man who was struck ran and grabbed a cart-stake and rushed back, his eyes blazing. I thought sure he'd knock the other man's brains out, and I stepped right in between them." The young heir had given over eating his tart as the narrative proceeded and his eyes leaned right out of his head. He was proud of his father's valor and he cried: "You could not knock any brains out of he, could he, father?" The old man looked long and curiously at the heir, but the lad's countenance was frank and innocent and open. When it closed with the tart on the inside the father gasped slightly and resumed his supper.—Rockland Tribune.

London Weather Cranks.

Given a hundred Englishmen, one will preach, ten will abuse Mr. Gladstone, and the remainder will discuss the weather. That popular picture, "Who Says Rats," represents a sick terrier bounding up at the mention of rats. A companion picture might be painted representing a dying Britton starting up at the word "weather." The exceptionally severe frost has, of course, made even the most unconvivial Londoner communicative. Business is at a standstill, racing is postponed, and they even neglect to slather each other. For a full week I have not heard one Englishman say to another that he is "no gentleman." If the weather continues the character of our countrymen and countrywomen will be in serious danger of being altered.

ROMANTIC BOCA DEL TORO.

Legend of Morgan, the Buccaneer, and His Buried Treasure.

One of the most romantic spots to be found around the Caribbean coast is the location of the town of Boca del Toro, on the isthmus in the extreme northern limit of the United States of Colombia, says the St. Louis Republic. According to the description given by Colonel Devine, the town is situated on a small island or key, as it is called there, in the beautiful Chiriqui lagoon. This lagoon is about twenty-five miles square and is dotted with small keys, which are covered with luxuriant tropical vegetation. The trees are brightened with the plumage of beautiful birds, that lend a wonderful effect of bright colors. The air is laden with the sweet perfume of growing spices. The lagoon is a portion of the Caribbean sea and, in fact, is itself nothing more than a small sea of salt water. An interesting legend of the ancient buccaneers has been handed down from generation to generation among the natives, who are of negro extraction, and in all its details it rivals the famous treasure trove of Captain Kidd. During the fifteenth century all this country was under the Spanish rule, but the whole section was overrun by the ancient bands of buccaneers under the able leadership of Morgan. History records that Morgan's depot was at Port Royal, in Jamaica, but the natives who live on the islands of this lagoon at Boca del Toro say that the secret base of Morgan's operations was on Water key in the lagoon. A row of islands along the mouth of the lagoon are so thick that only three passages are available for ships. The story is that while Morgan's band of buccaneers ostensibly worked from Port Royal, Jamaica, yet their real headquarters were on Water key, whence they could sail forth to prey upon the West Indies and all the Caribbean coast. Morgan is known to have made one expedition up the San Juan river and sacked the town of Grenada, one of the wealthiest centers of trade in Nicaragua, and to have looted the public treasury of $10,000,000 of gold. Here this money was hidden has ever since remained a mystery. But the legend among the natives at Boca del Toro is that Morgan buried the vast treasure on the sandy beach of Water key, in the Chiriqui lagoon. The natives tell a story of an olive tree which stood for over 200 years on this key, and which bore a Latin inscription cut in the bark, giving the location of the spot where the $10,000,000 of gold was buried. The olive tree has long since disappeared, and no white man has ever made an attempt to find this treasure.

GRAND CENTRAL ST. N. Y.

The Center of the City of New York.

Another evidence of the commanding position of the Grand Central Station occupies, is to be found in the effort of all classes of business men to locate as near 42d Street, as possible. The completion of a cross town street-car line on 34th street, connecting all the north and south surface lines and the decision of Mr. Astor to build, on the corner of Fifth Avenue and 34th Street, another hotel a order than the Waldorf, and which is understood to be under the same management, eventually certain that 34th street will evitably rival 14th and 23rd streets as a business center. It is stated that a number of retail houses will, in the near future, locate on 34th street; 42d street is devoted to business, practically, its entire length, from the East river to the Hudson river; ago being rapidly turned into business houses. Spalding Brothers are, in the spring, to erect a six story business house, on the site of two fine old residences adjoining the West Presbyterian church opposite Bryant Park, but the latest, and one of the most important moves in the direction of centralizing business around Grand Central Station, is the decision of Messrs. Hawk and Wetherbee, proprietors of the Windsor Hotel, to build a fourteen story hotel, on the site of the present hotel Wellington, on the corner of Madison Avenue and 42d street, only one block from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad.

Judges Quarterly

for April will present a very unique and graphic bird's eye view of the commanding position of the Grand Station and its contiguity to the principal hotels, parks and places of amusement in the Metropolis. All Michigan Central through eastern passenger trains, via Niagara Falls, run into the Grand Central Station. (59)

AN ACCIDENT.

Mr. Quintus Hummel, of 118 Michigan Ave., Detroit, tells a War Story of his own Experience, and the Result.

(From Detroit News.) Our representative called at 118 Michigan Avenue, the residence of Mr. Quintus Hummel. Mr. Hummel is a veteran of the late war, and received, in the campaign, an injury which has given him much pain and suffering since. He belonged to a Michigan cavalry regiment and his horse becoming frightened one day reared up, throwing him backward. In falling he struck his spine on a sharp stone, inflicting a deep cut over five inches long. The injury affected the kidneys. About two years ago the left kidney started to bleed, and has been doing so ever since. Mr. Hummel, in a few pointed sentences, gave our representative the following account:

"The accident of my 'war days' left me in bad shape; pain in my back and spine rendered me almost useless, and I was compelled to give up work entirely. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. I have spent hundreds of dollars in various ways trying to find relief. Physicians have told me my spine was honey-combed for 13 inches. I had given up in despair, never hoping for relief, when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have done me a world of good. The pains have disappeared from my back, and the bleeding of my kidney has almost entirely stopped. I know I can never be entirely cured, as I would have to be a new man, but Doan's Kidney Pills have done more to make me feel like a new man than all the other things I have tried during past years. I have not had any recurrence of the pain or bleeding since taking them."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, by mail, from Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

INTERESTING FACTS.

Here are some facts that will prove interesting to our readers: An ingenious Scotchman has devised a thread-spinning apparatus that is operated by two trained mice. In driving the little mill with their paws the animals daily perform work equivalent to traveling ten and one-half miles. When a prince of the Austrian royal family dies his horse follows the funeral covered with a black cloth, and lame in one hoof. The lameness is produced by driving a nail through the horeshoe. This is the sign of the deepest possible mourning.

In London alone there are upward of 174 pianoforte factories. Over 1,300 are devoted to the supplying of musical goods of all sorts. Throughout the provinces there are 3,000 musical establishments of various kinds. The Arizona Indians have a peculiar and effective way of branding animals. The brand is made of steel, with a knife edge. It is fixed on the head of an arrow, and shot with a bow at the animal, to be branded with such force that it cuts the mark in the hide.

The keys that are used the most for musical composition are C major, G major, containing one sharp, and F major, containing one flat, the reasons being that these keys are easier to play on keyed instruments, such as piano organ, and because keys with few sharps or flats are better adapted for instruments in stra.

GRAND CENTRAL ST. N. Y.

Another evidence of the commanding position of the Grand Central Station occupies, is to be found in the effort of all classes of business men to locate as near 42d Street, as possible. The completion of a cross town street-car line on 34th street, connecting all the north and south surface lines and the decision of Mr. Astor to build, on the corner of Fifth Avenue and 34th Street, another hotel a order than the Waldorf, and which is understood to be under the same management, eventually certain that 34th street will evitably rival 14th and 23rd streets as a business center. It is stated that a number of retail houses will, in the near future, locate on 34th street; 42d street is devoted to business, practically, its entire length, from the East river to the Hudson river; ago being rapidly turned into business houses. Spalding Brothers are, in the spring, to erect a six story business house, on the site of two fine old residences adjoining the West Presbyterian church opposite Bryant Park, but the latest, and one of the most important moves in the direction of centralizing business around Grand Central Station, is the decision of Messrs. Hawk and Wetherbee, proprietors of the Windsor Hotel, to build a fourteen story hotel, on the site of the present hotel Wellington, on the corner of Madison Avenue and 42d street, only one block from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad.

Judges Quarterly

for April will present a very unique and graphic bird's eye view of the commanding position of the Grand Station and its contiguity to the principal hotels, parks and places of amusement in the Metropolis. All Michigan Central through eastern passenger trains, via Niagara Falls, run into the Grand Central Station. (59)

Tuesday morning Henry Gilbert thought he would try his hand at splitting some wood. An innocent clothes line was hanging just over his head, and when the ax was raised for a mighty blow it caught and rebounded striking Mr. Gilbert on the scalp, making a long gash in his head, and making him think that he had discovered a number of planets that the astronomers had missed. Mr. Gilbert is able to be about and attend to business.

A DETERMINED DOG.

He Was Bound to Have the Rabbit He Had Killed.

One day, when a lad, I was walking with my father, accompanied by a strong, smooth-haired retriever called Turk. We were joined by the bailiff of the farm, and in the course of our walk Turk suddenly discovered the presence of a rabbit concealed in what is Scotland is called a "dry-stane dike." After a little trouble in removing some stones, poor bunny was caught and slaughtered, being handed to the bailiff, who put it in his coat pocket. Shortly afterward we separated, the bailiff going to his home in one direction, and we to ours in an opposite one. Before we reached home we noticed that Turk was no longer with us, at which we were rather surprised, as he was a very faithful follower. Some time after we got home, perhaps an hour, I chanced to see a strange object on the public road, which puzzled me as to what it was. It raised a cloud of dust as it came along, which partly obscured the vision. What was my surprise when I found it to be Turk, dragging a man's shooting jacket, which proved to be the bailiff's, with the rabbit still in the pocket.

We afterward learned that the dog, to the surprise of the bailiff, quietly followed him home, and lay down near him. Presently the man took off his coat and laid it on a chair. Instantly Turk pounced upon it, says a writer in the Spectator, and dashed to the door with it in his mouth. He was pursued, but in vain, and succeeded in dragging the coat from the one house to the other, a distance of one mile and three-quarters. It was evident that the dog had a strong sense of the rights of property. He believed the rabbit belonged to his master, so he set himself to recover what he thought were stolen goods.

This Duke Made Himself Useful.

The lately deceased Duke of Somerset devoted his whole life practically to driving. At one time he used to drive a stage coach from London to Oxford, direct at the Mitre, and then drive the night mail back to London, which left only two hours out of the twenty-four for sleep. Of late years he kept the horse bazaar at Plymouth, letting out teams to officers and teaching them how to drive.

Everybody Talking About It.

Everybody is talking about the great free offer of Dr. Greene's, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and who discovered that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He makes a speciality of treating patients through letter correspondence, and all who accept his offer are astonished at the marvelous success of this method. His office is at 35 West 14th St., New York City, where he receives and carefully examines ever letter sent to him by persons describing their cases and telling him their symptoms. After thoroughly studying each case he answers the letter, explaining the cause of each symptom and telling a sure way to get well and strong. He makes the patients understand exactly what ails them and tells them about their complaint, and all this is entirely free of charge. They save the expense of a trip to the city, have no fee to pay, and have the benefit of the best medical advice and consultation. Here is an opportunity for you to get well, reader, you can either accept or reject it. What will you do?

A Wooden-Legged Dog.

A dog with a wooden leg is one of the curiosities of Waverly, Md. It is a pug dog belonging to John Eccleson, of Brady avenue. The dog lost part of his fore leg while investigating the mysteries of an electric car. Mr. Eccleson measured carefully the length of the dog's leg and made a stick to fit the stump. The dog has become accustomed to the strange appendage, and runs about as easily and as naturally as his more fortunate canine friends.

The municipal technical school committee of Manchester, which is one of the best in England, has decided to establish a testing house, to test samples of raw and manufactured goods.

Now--The Time to Make Money.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $175.46; the month before, $149.93, and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and no experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap Dish Washer was never before placed on the market. With the climax, which sells at $5, you can wash and dry dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water; as soon as people see the Washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars, address the Climax Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location, can make from $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a Dish Washer. Try it, and publish your experience for the benefit of others.

An Italian "Wake."

A curious and impressive custom of southern Italy is the lament which takes place at the death of a person, and while the body lies awaiting burial. The corpse is fully dressed and laid upon the bed, with the head and shoulders raised. Lighted candelabra are placed at the sides. A young girl is generally dressed in white and adorned with flowers. The relatives and friends gather and sit in an irregular semicircle about the foot of the bed. At intervals they join in a weird monotonous wail that is distinctly oriental and resembles nothing European. Perhaps a near relative will approach the bed, and with wild actions, clasping her head and tearing her hair, will describe the illness and sufferings of the departed one, the good qualities, and the mournfulness of those left behind, the mournful cry being finally taken up by the others. One who has lost a parent will sometimes keep up this awful death cry for over twenty-four hours. But though the lamentations are so violent the grief of these people seems to be soon assuaged, and after a day or two they appear to be fully reconciled to circumstances, and mention the lamented ones in quite a light and airy manner.—Harper's Bazar.

George Vanderbilt's Hens.

There doubtless are people in the world who would envy the hens on George Vanderbilt's estate at Bar Harbor this winter. These aristocratic biddies live in a palatial residence heated with hot water. Their floor is washed once a week. They have the choicest grains for food, and lettuce is grown in a hothouse for their especial delectation. They have responded with a liberal supply of eggs all winter, and the incubators are turning out the broilers that will be found very satisfying to the Vanderbilt appetite this spring.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

"Yield Not to Misfortune."

I was afflicted with catarrh last autumn. During the month of October I could neither taste or smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus Geo. Shantz, Rahway, N. J.

I suffered from catarrh the worst kind ever since I was a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill. Cream Balm is agreeable.

PARROTS ROBBED COLUMBUS

These Birds Play a Part in Shaping the Destiny of Birds, America.

A flight of birds, coupled with a sailor's superstition, robbed Columbus of the honor of discovering the continent. It is a curious but historical fact. When Columbus sailed westward over the unknown Atlantic he expected to reach Zipangu (Japan). After several days' sail from Gomeira, one of the Canary islands, he became uneasy at not discovering Zipangu, which, according to his reckoning, should have been 218 nautical miles more to the east. After a long discussion he yielded to the opinion of Martin Alonso Pinzon, the commander of the Pinta, and steered to the southwest. Pinzon was guided in his opinion solely by a flight of parrots, which took wing in that direction. It was good luck to follow in the wake of a flight of birds when engaged upon a voyage of discovery—a widespread superstition among Spanish seamen of that day; and this chance in the great navigator's course curiously exemplifies the influence of small and apparently trivial events in the world's history. If Columbus had held to his course he would have entered the gulf stream, have reached Florida, and then probably have been carried to Cape Hatteras and Virginia. The result would probably have given the present United States a Roman Catholic Spanish population instead of a Protestant English one, a circumstance of immeasurable importance. "Never," wrote Humboldt, "had the flight of birds more important consequences."

Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This column is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how looking knife. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am trusted with a certain amount of advertising these knives (value ever seen in America $3.00 Dollar each). Now, the knives own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained ivory handle—genuine African ivory made with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamamois leather case goes with each knife. Now, could it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement?

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to every twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44c., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

The deposit of 44 cents will be deducted to your credit, and will be placed from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and I absolutely guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs this promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your sample, even if you should lose sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this pace in this paper for three years! The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

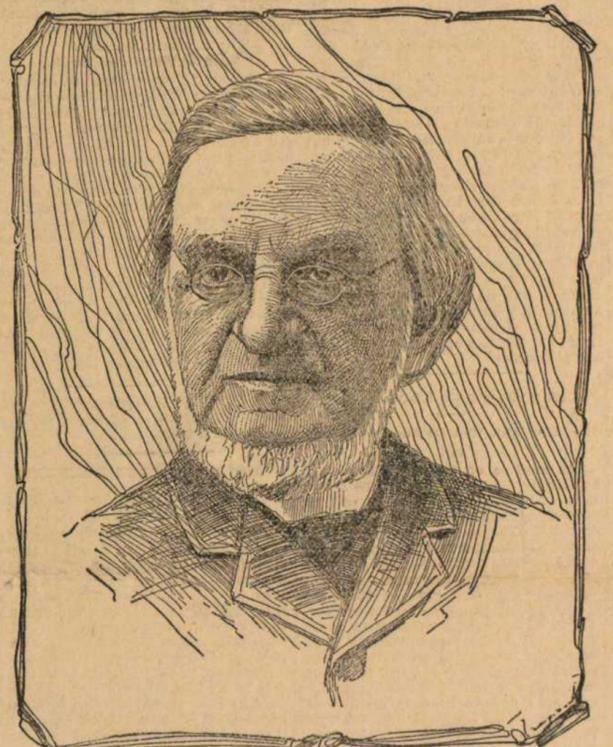

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS, ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 135 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DEAR SIR,—I faithfully promise on my life and honour to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-cutlery is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamamois leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamp which please hold for me until I send you an order at the dozen rate.

"To Benefit the Unfortunate Thousands Who are Suffering So Keenly."

Rev. A. H. LONG, D. D., Mount Joy, Penn.

Benevolent

Unselfishness is always ready to help others. The eagerness shown by hundreds of grateful, unselfish people to give their unsolicited testimonials to the value of Dr. Miles' remedies is not at all astonishing:

Dear Sirs:—Seventeen years ago while engaged in writing a sermon, I had an attack of congestion of the brain, which incapacitated me for nearly two years. I then resumed the duties of my profession, but not without more or less nerve trouble. Five months since my nervous prostration became so severe and violent that at times I fell suddenly and unconsciously on the floor or ground. Preaching, reading and writing, became impossible. I was confined to my room, and my weight was reduced twenty-four pounds. I expected to die in a very short time. Providentially, as I firmly believe, I was induced to give Dr. Miles' nerve remedies a full and fair trial. Two bottles of "The Restorative Nervine," and one bottle of "The Restorative Tonic," together with one box of "The Nerve and Liver Pills," made a perfect cure. All nervousness is gone. I can eat, sleep, read, write and preach. In short, I could not wish to enjoy better health than that which I now enjoy. My youth is renewed like the eagle's. I regard it as my imperative duty, dear sirs, to send you this testimonial, though unsolicited on your part, for the benefit of the unfortunate thousands who are suffering so keenly. And moreover, I should be glad if you could arrange to have the same published. Very truly, A. H. LONG.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is effective because it quickly replaces the waste of the hard-worked nerve and brain tissues, and furnishes, direct, appropriate, and sufficient food for the nerve tissues all over the body.

Dr. Miles' Remedies are the result of twenty years of study and investigation by the great specialist in Nervous Diseases, Dr. Franklin Miles, and are sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell them at $1, 6 bottles, $5.00, Pills, 25c., or sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

CAN NEVER BE ONE PEOPLE.

The Inhabitants of India Divided by the Iron Lines of Caste.

That the 280,000,000 inhabitants of the continent of India ever become one nation is so wild an improbability, and, even if possible, a matter of so many centuries, that its assumed realization cannot be made the basis of practical politics, says the National Review. England and Ireland are an example of the slowness of growth of a common natural sentiment in closely allied peoples forming one state, and the national unification of medieval Europe would have been a problem analogous to that of India today. For Latin then, as English now, in India was a common tongue for the educated classes, yet the former did not supplant, as the latter is not now destroying, the popular languages. And the ideal of a temporal head of Christendom in the holy Roman emperor, with its attendant aspirations, was a sentiment counteracting local or tribal feeling stronger than any that has yet arisen in India from the superimposed authority of the queen's government, while there is nothing in India to correspond with the religious unity of Europe under the popes. For Hinduism and Islam show no signs of decay, and the antagonism between their followers is on the increase. In the traditions of history one of the most powerful elements of national sentiment, the pride of the one is the shame of the other. The Mussulman glories in Aurangzeb; the followers of Gobind Singh and Sivaji detest his memory. Inter-marriage is impossible, and is a sin even among the myriad castes of Hindoos. There is no historic example of such a miracle as the amalgamation into one nation of such a multitude of diverse elements, and if it is to be effected the first steps have yet to be taken.

Poor Indeed!

The prospect of relief from drastic cathartics for persons troubled with constipation is poor indeed. True they act upon the bowels, but this they do with violence, and their operation tends to weaken the intestines, and is prejudicial to the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effectual laxative, but it neither gripes nor enfeebls. Furthermore, it promotes digestion and a regular action of the liver and the kidneys. It is an efficient barrier against and remedy for malarial complaints and rheumatism, and is of great benefit to the weak, nervous and aged. As a medicinal stimulant it cannot be surpassed. Physicians cordially recommend it, and its professional endorsement is fully borne out by popular experience. Appetite and sleep are both improved by this agreeable invigorant and alterative.

IN THE YEAR 1,000,000.

The Last Man Will Be Smaller Than a Fly.

The surface of the earth is slowly but surely diminishing, says the scientists. All the landed portion will be submerged. The sea is gradually accumulating at the North Pole and slowly melting away at the South. Eventually the earth's centre of gravity will be crushed by the rush of movables that will quickly glide over its surface. There is a retarding medium in space causing a gradual loss in velocity in all of the planets. The earth, when her revolutions finally cease, will be drawn nearer and nearer to the sun until the last man will be literally roasted off the face of the earth. Beginning with the year 3000 A. D. humanity will commence to retrograde and by the end of the year 1,000,000 man will be no larger and have no more intelligence than a plant louse. In that event there will be no "last man," remarks the St. Louis Republic. The sun's fires will gradually burn out and the temperature cool; in consequence the earth's glacial zones will enlarge, driving shivering humanity toward the equator. At least the habitable space will lessen to nothing and overworked humanity will be frozen in a heap.

No need to suffer with rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, cramps or colic. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil cures all such troubles, and does it quickly.

A physician in Switzerland undertook to count by means of a pedometer the number of steps taken by him in a year. He averaged daily 26,740 steps, or 9,760,000 for the entire year. He took 700,000 steps in walking up or down stairs. Figuring a step at two feet, the doctor walked nine and one-half miles a day during the entire year.

John P. Bauer, traveling salesman for Gem City Stove Co., Dayton, Ohio, says: "I will continue to recommend Adironda, Wheeler's Heart and Nerve Cure, for I know it will do all that is claimed for it. Sold by druggists."

Wines for Debilitated Females.

Physicians have used Spear's wine, and having applied to it the strictest test known to chemistry, they do not hesitate to pronounce it a pure wine of medium strength, and recommend it to be of great advantage to the aged and infirm, also low and typhoid fevers. Spear's wine will be found very superior.

MONEY A TOOL OF TRADE.

How 94 Per Cent of the Currency of This Country is Made Up.

Money is one of the tools of trade, but in all banking transactions, for instance, in the United States, metallic and paper money are used only to the extent of about 6 per cent of the whole. How is the place of money taken as to the other 94 per cent? It is made up of checks on banks, bank drafts and other like instruments of exchange. The business of the United States, then, is done to this great percentage by bank machinery, which has grown to its present perfection as a result of the operations and development of commerce through the ages. The bank is as much the machinery of trade as money is its tool. If this machinery did not exist it would make necessary the use of actual money in every transaction. This great business is done with immense economy by banks, safely, smoothly and in fabulous amounts says a writer in the Forum. Actual coin is used to an extent of about 1 1/2 per cent, paper money to about 4 1/2 per cent, but the other 94 per cent is just as much in effect money as if it were actually coin. Let us call it check money, if you please. The check money, then, is used for the larger transactions, and paper money and coin for the smaller. What is the difference between check money and bank notes? The first is an order of the depositor on the bank to pay a larger sum, the second is an order of the bank itself to pay a smaller sum. In effect there is no difference. One is payable to order, the other to bearer; one is as safe as the other, as convenient and as justifiable. Commerce is to-day using check money to an extent of 94 per cent, out of 100 per cent, of its transactions. Is there any objection to giving it the privilege of using 4 1/2 per cent more and furnishing, through perfect bank machinery adapted for the purpose by the experience of all time, all the paper money needed?

AIR A STORAGE BATTERY.

A Theory That It Can Be Tapped for All the Electricity Needed.

Elias B. Dunn, the weather observer at New York, has been studying atmospheric electricity for two years, says the Boston Transcript. The sergeant, as they used to call him; the farmer, as they call him now, said the other day that he will live to see the day when electricity collected from the atmosphere and stored by some means which an Edison or a Tesla will have to devise, will revolutionize the world. The prophet expects that cities will be lighted and heated by atmospheric electricity; that every train and car will be run lighted and heated by it; that coal will become a curiosity; that steam heating will be a granny talk to the children of the next generation; that the telegraph and telephone companies will lose their monopolies; that war will become a farce because a touch of electricity will make the British Grenadiers or the German Thians or the Scotch Highlanders sit down on the cold ground powerless. Even the dreams of communication with the inhabitants of Mars will become realities, and a man will be able to strike up electricity as he does a parlor match. There will be no more trolley strikes, because there will be no more trolleys. Mankind will tap the atmosphere for almost any convenience except food and clothing, and even the clothing will be woven and the food cooked by atmospheric electricity; street cleaning will be as easy as the magician's "Presto! change!" and everybody will live comparatively happier ever after. Mr. Dunn is sure that his ideas are practical and probable. The atmosphere is his constant study, and, having introduced general humidity to the public as the principal element in uncomfortable days, he has determined that the potent element for good in the air we breathe shall no longer be wasted. Why, he said, the whole atmosphere is soaked with electricity.

SHIRKED A MIRACLE.

Brigham Young's Fertility of Resource. When Brigham Young was directing the theocratic government of Utah, the Mormon missionaries in England converted a one-legged man. This man conceived the idea that the prophet in Salt Lake City might effect a miraculous restoration of the leg which he had lost in an accident. So a month later he presented himself, weary and travel-stained, but full of cheerful hope, before the head of the Mormon church, and told his desires. The prophet said he would willingly get him a new leg, but begged him first to consider the matter fully. This life, he told him, according to the San Francisco Argonaut, is but a vale of tears, and as nothing compared to eternity. He was making the choice of going through life with one leg and having two after the resurrection, or of having two legs through life and three after. The man found the prospect of being a human tripod through all eternity so uncomical that he accepted with resignation his present lot and excused the prophet from performing the miracle.

Samples Are Expensive.

"We cut up $95 worth of goods for samples yesterday in one department alone," said a salesman in a retail store and the man at the silk counter added, "Our expenditures for samples was greater than that. If I had all the money that has been put into samples of silk by this store for the last ten years I should be a rich man." The carpet and curtain dealers have a like story to tell. The waste is enormous in retail samples, and there is in all considerable stores an annual sale of the larger samples, of course at a sacrifice. Wide-awake women buy them for pillow and pin cushion covers and the like.—New York Sun.

Right Arm Paralyzed! Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."

FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver, the product of American mines, at the old ratio of 16 of silver to 1 of gold, is the only solution of and remedy for the disturbed and unsatisfactory condition of trade, manufacture and general business of the country. The surreptitious act of 1873, divorcing silver and gold in our monetary system, was a crime of untold magnitude. It was the rankest kind of class legislation in favor of the wealthy against the producers of wealth, and hostile to the prosperity of the United States. It was an act of treason because done at the instance of a European syndicate and for bribe money, "giving aid and comfort to our country's enemies." To shield the guilty parties, the well authenticated facts, often published, have been vigorously denied. The Enquirer will continue to expose this unpardonable crime until right and justice are done the people by the full restoration of silver to its old companionship with gold. We need the assistance of the people in disseminating the truth, to which end we invite all in your selection of papers for the coming season to include the Enquirer, that costs only $1.00 a year. (Issued twice a week.) Liberal commissions and cash rewards given to club raisers. Sample copies free. ENQUIRER COMPANY, Cincinnati, O.

MONTELBANO'S MINT

A MYSTERIOUS WORKSHOP IN THE MOUNTAINS.

The Pacific Coast Furnishes More Counterfeiters Than Any Other Section of the Country—Under the Sod He Made Spurious Coins.

The Pacific coast is the home of counterfeiters. In the past ten years more cunning bands of manufacturers of spurious coins have been arrested here than in all other parts of the union combined. These manufacturers of the "queer" hide in rugged mountains, do their work in lonely forests or secret caves in regions seldom visited by human beings.

The most mysterious hiding-place of counterfeiters ever discovered by the government officers was unearthed by Assistant Secret Service Agent Harris, who explored it and found many coins and the ingenious instruments used in their production.

It was the workshop of Giovanni Montelbano. He has made and circulated more dangerous counterfeiters of silver dollars, dimes, and quarters in the past five years than any other ten operators combined. His output was very large, and the coins were so well made and polished as to require the most careful examination to detect their character. Their ring was almost perfect; and even banks have been known to take them.

Montelbano's mint was in a cave four miles from Fairfield, in Salona county, a lonely spot in the rugged foothills, the entrance to which was so cunningly closed by the sod that there was no external evidences of its existence.

Within that odd subterranean chamber it was his habit to work industriously at night, the cavern walls being thickly studded with tallow candles, by the flickering rays of which he made the false coins. The only ears save his own which ever heard the strange sounds he made in their manufacture were those of the coyote and other wild animals which infest these lonely regions.

Removing his shoes before entering or leaving his strange workshop, the thrifty manufacturer never left any tell-tale footprints. For practical purposes he was as isolated as was Robinson Crusoe on his island. The ashes from his furnace were always carried miles away, and secretly buried. It was a mere accident by which his hiding-place and workshop were discovered, even after his arrest at Vallejo for passing the bad coin.

A hunter once fired a shot in the vicinity of Montelbano's mountain hiding-place, and it so startled the counterfeiters that he suddenly came forth as if from the bowels of the earth.

The hunter took flight and ran away with the utmost speed, thinking that the strange-looking being thus suddenly emerging from the earth was a maniac or a wild man.

The hunter told of this incident after Montelbano's arrest, whereupon Officer Harris, using the points obtained from the hunter, explored the rugged region until he came upon the mysterious retreat. His account of the strange place and of the way Montelbano was able to baffle the authorities for years, is as follows:

"This cave is the oddest thing ever unearthed by the agents of the government. It is situated about three and a half miles from Fairfield, in a side hill, and is so located that one might pass by it and never suspect its existence. I learned that hunters recently set their traps for wild animals within a few feet of the entrance to this strange working place, never dreaming that it was even the temporary abiding place of a human being. In order to enter it, I had to lift up some sod, after which I stepped down about four feet, being invisible except above the waist. I then crawled in about ten feet and came down to a second bench, which was the entrance to the manufacturer's den proper. I had to bend over to get into the second bench and crawl some distance, after which I was in this infernal chamber so narrow and cramped that a man of ordinary height could not stand erect therein. It was filled with candles and plaster of paris. The candles were skillfully arranged in the wall, and when they were lit the stalactites around them glistened, and the appearance everywhere was wild and uncanny. The tallow had run down in streams in various parts of the cave, showing that hundreds of candles had been used during the process of his work.

"His furnace was made out of an empty powder can, one part of which had been cut away, and his chimney or flue was a long piece of well tubing, which, after running to the top of the hill through the earth, terminated some distance away in a heap of brush, so far distant from the opening that no passer-by could have seen the smoke.

"There was a bench, and around it many ladders, crucibles, pincers, and reeding machines were to be seen. There were also broken molds and several sacks filled with unfinished dimes, quarters, and dollars. There were also a splendid emery wheel and a complete polishing outfit. Here and there were strewn large supplies of antimony, block tin, bismuth, and isinglass. His money was made of these metals—the isinglass being used for the purpose of giving the coin the proper ring. After carefully molding his money, he polished the dollars with emery powder and washed them in a silver bath.

"It was Montelbano's habit to work in the cave during the night time and to sleep in his house, a rude hut nearly two miles away. Not far from his house was a very common shed or barn in which I discovered several sacks of plaster of paris secreted beneath the hay.

"I found about 70 silver dollars in the cave. A large part of the coin had not been fully worked up, many of the quarter-dollar pieces being polished on but one side. There were numerous bags of completed counterfeiters secreted about the cave, and some were found in the barn as well as in the house."

LITERARY NOTES.

Some Curiosities of Thinking will be described by Dr. M. Allen Starr, of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, in The Popular Science Monthly for April. His cases include those of persons with very strange hallucinations, with a defect in one part of the brain only, and some with powers beyond the normal for calculation or music.—D. Appleton & Co., N. Y.

Among all the features announced for early publication in the magazines, none is awaited with a livelier curiosity than the Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, of which the first instalment will appear in the April Number of HARPER'S. The only story of a noble life which comes to us under oath, the only one which comes to us from the witness-stand, Jeanne's biography—although it deals with a flawless character—is not regarded to be as fiction? It is history in the main; and, as for the piquant details that have been added by one who is feigned to have been "her page and secretary," these particulars are from the hand of "the most popular of living American magazine writers"—whoever he or she may be.—Harper & Bros., N. Y.

During a March series of articles, dealing with subjects that primarily concern the people of California, but that are destined to arouse interest throughout the country at large, will be published in HARPER'S WEEKLY. The first of these articles is entitled California's Great Grievance; the second is devoted to the subject of reform in San Francisco, and a third to the production of gold. Their author is Julian Ralph, the famous correspondent, whose investigations have been conducted at the request of the Weekly. Another series of the first importance, the publication of which has just commenced, will contain the instructive results of a tour of the world, undertaken by the Transportation Commission of the Field Columbian Museum, for the purpose of collecting information, and, as far as possible, exhibits.—Harper & Bros., N. Y.

The Austrian School of Political Economists have had a most important influence on the ideas and methods of the rising generation of American economists.

The one book which presents clearly and fully the fundamental ideas which the different members of the school hold in common is Professor Wieser's "Natural Value." Dr. D. I. Green has written a careful review of that work, criticizing and explaining at the same time the Austrian theory of value. This essay has been published by the American Academy of Political and Social Science in its series of Publications and should prove very interesting and useful to students of economics.—American Academy of Political and Social Science, Philadelphia, Pa.

Order for Appearance.
STATE OF MICHIGAN.
The twenty-second judicial circuit in chancery.

Suit pending in the circuit court for the County of Washtenaw in Chancery, at Ann Arbor, on the 1st day of March, A. D. 1895, wherein John S. Orr, Emma J. Orr and Ruana R. Hulbert are complainants, and Augustus L. Webster, trustee, and Walter Hulbert, Bessie Hulbert, Earnest Hulbert, James Hulbert and Frankie Hulbert are defendants.

In this cause, it appearing from the return of the deputy sheriff of said County of Washtenaw, and from affidavit on file, that said defendant, Frankie Hulbert, is not a resident of said State of Michigan, but is a resident of Cleveland, in the State of Ohio. Therefore, on motion of Noah W. Cheever, solicitor for complainants, it is ordered that said defendant, Frankie Hulbert, enter his appearance in said cause on or before four months from the date of this order and that within twenty days the complainants cause this order to be published in THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, said publication to be continued once in each week for six weeks in succession.

THE SNAP SHOTS.

Interesting Incident in the Temperance Work of a Railroad. Although railroad corporations have no souls themselves they take a great deal of pains and spend considerable money in looking after the souls of their employes. The motive is purely, coldly practical, but the result is not the less moral. They require that the people in their employ shall walk soberly, although as to whether the righteousness implied shall extend any further they are probably indifferent.

All the roads have a detective system for keeping watch of the men in their service who frequent saloons, and the man whose name appears often on this secret record is very liable to lose his position some day, just when—as the Poor Relation remarks about the missing button on the little boy's trousers—he needs it most. Of all the roads the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, under the management of Mr. St. John, was the most vigilant in this respect.

"We don't say you shall not drink," said one of the officials who is prominently connected with the temperance department of the Rock Island to a man who had been summoned before him for the first time, "but we do say that no man who drinks habitually shall work for this company." The machinery for the surveillance of the men on this road is so thorough that its operation is sometimes almost dramatic. It is easy to understand that the person of convivial tastes could be successfully watched in the smaller cities where divisions terminate, but it seems a rather difficult task to keep track of the goings and comings of a man in the wilderness and the legion of alley entrances in Chicago. That this is done, however, a freight conductor on the road had convincing evidence only a short time ago. He was a capable man, but he drank. He received one or two intimations that he was running the risk of losing his job every time he took a drink, but like other fatuous mortals he refused to profit by the experience of others. One day the superintendent of his division sent for him.

"Jim," said he, "have you been drinking lately?" "No, sir; not a drop, sir." "No whisky?" "No, sir." "Nor beer?" "No, sir." "What were you doing in Dunn's saloon at Ninety-first and State streets the other day?" Jim was confused for a moment, and then he said: "I went in there to collect a little bill a man owed me." "Didn't drink anything?" "No, sir; with some show of rising indignation at this inquisition.

"Do you recognize that?" inquired the superintendent, drawing a small photograph from his desk. Jim turned very red, stammered, and admitted it was a fairly good likeness of himself. It was a snap shot and represented a man in the act of raising a foaming schooner to his lips. Jim was told to go and sin—once more—if he wished to lose his job. Six months later he slipped again, and on the next run out another man was in charge of his train.

CATCHING A WILD HEIFER. She Charges a Skillful Man and is Thrown Over in a Jiffy.

In Washington county, Maine, between New Stream and the East Machias river, the townsmen of Northfield and Whitteville have had considerable fun since October chasing a wild heifer, which strayed from Bartlett Albee's farm in Northfield some time last summer. She displayed all the alertness and sagacity of game animals in eluding capture. Dogs were put on her in November, but instead of circling as deer do when pursued by hounds, she put straight away like a caribou, to remain for weeks away from her accustomed localities. Saturday a week ago there was a heavy snow storm in that part of the country, and report having come to Whitteville that the heifer, a shadow of her former self, had been sighted in the woods near the confluence of Old and New streams, which empty into the Machias east of Northfield, Thomas Hennessey and Jim Healey, accompanied by some boys, started out to capture her.

Hunger had driven the animal from the woods to the clearings, but nothing could induce her to come near a human being. When sighted, Hennessey and Healey gave chase on snowshoes, the deep snow making rapid progress for the heifer out of the question. She ran, however, till her pursuers were close on her quarters, when she suddenly, says the New York Sun, turned to give battle. Her howlings were terrific and she looked so frightful when she turned that Hennessey and the boys gave way. Healey was game. Two years ago a she bear is said to have treed him, and he has been the victim of more or less gaying ever since. He is a powerful young fellow and knows how to handle cattle.

When the heifer turned he planted himself squarely in front of her. She hesitated, eyed him furiously for a moment, and charged. When she lowered her head to give him the toss, Healey grasped both of her horns, threw all the weight of his body on his left hand, bearing the heifer's head into the snow, at the same time pushing up and over on the left horn. It's a trick that has to be done on the instant, and when it is worked as Healey worked it, down goes the animal, as did the heifer. Healey held her head in the snow while Hennessey and the boys procured ropes with which to tie her legs together. This being done, she was bundled into a sled and taken to Northfield, where she is now putting on fat and getting used to her earlier surroundings.

PREACHED IN EVENING DRESS.

A California Minister Who Practices and Defends the Custom.

The Rev. Edwards Davis, the actor-preacher, of Oakland, Cal., changed his tactics tonight, says a San Francisco Examiner correspondent. He did not clutch his hair and offer his kingdom for a horse and then sink upon the stage to show the end of intrigue and ambition. Nor did he shuffle a pack of cards and declare for bean poker or dance in the pulpit to glorify the waltz and prove its inherent innocence. The Rev. Mr. Davis has succeeded in getting public attention focused upon him. What is more, he has succeeded in getting people to go to hear him. But the young preacher is a man of his day and generation, and is disposed to change his stock of ideas to suit the season. There has been considerable criticism of his methods of proclaiming the gospel. "My mission in preaching," said the preacher today, "is to save sinners. But why should it be thought necessary to wear a long face and a vinegary aspect in telling of the Lamb that taketh away the sins of the world?" "Now, considering my appearance tonight in evening dress in the pulpit, let me say that I believe God is no respecter of garb, and that an evening dress would not preclude a preacher's entrance into the kingdom of heaven. "But inasmuch as it was announced that I would appear in evening dress it is my opinion that such an apparel is more proper in the pulpit when discussing popular themes than the conventional Prince Albert.

"But the question of broadcloth or rags or tights is so trivial that I hardly see the sense of such things being mentioned." The purpose of the young preacher's efforts tonight was to show Oakland his ability as a word painter. Rev. Mr. Davis' ambition is to be able to thrill great audiences with copious and fervid oratory.

FLOGGING IN RUSSIA.

Its Abolition Refers to the Use of the Plet, and Not the Knout.

The St. Petersburg dispatch to the effect that an Imperial edict has been issued abolishing the flogging of criminals apparently refers to the use of the plet, or plet, and not to the knout, as was first supposed. Punishment with the knout, or more correctly called the knut, was abolished by Emperor Nicholas I. more than forty years ago. The lash of the knout was composed of broad leather thongs, prepared to a metallic hardness, and often intertwined with wire. A sentence of from 10 to 200 blows was considered equivalent to death. When the knout was done away with the plet, a simple lash, was substituted for it. This was considered a much milder form of punishment, but the prison officials found ways of increasing its efficacy, and George Kennan in his recent book on Siberia says that he was informed by Russian officers that death might be caused by 100 blows of the plet. Flogging has always been a favorite mode of Russian expression of dissatisfaction. An invaluable wedding gift from the friends of the bride to the groom is a rawhide, and one of the first duties of the newly wed Russian peasant, if he wishes to retain his self-respect is to beat his wife. The story is told of a German resident of Russia who married a native wife. All went joyously for three weeks. One day the husband found his wife in tears. "You do not love me," was the best information he could get. In vain he protested and caressed her. Day after day saw the same weeping, protesting condition. At last the wife in a burst of despair made the full charge: "You do not love me, else you would beat me as other men beat their wives.

The woman's doubts were set at rest and by judicious clappings the German was enabled to live happily and unerringly ever afterward.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
