AMERICA'S GREATEST ORATOR.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW IS COMING TO ANN ARBOR.

He Will Be Here Next Thursday Afternoon—Will Deliver an Address in University Hall—Comes Upon the Invitation of the Oratorical Association—Admission 25 Cents—One-Half the Proceeds to go to the Co-ed Annex.

The following letters will explain the visit of Mr. Depew to this city:
Hon. Chauncey M. Depew,

New York, City:
Dear Sir.—The University Oratorical association learning that you are to be in Detroit the evening of May 2, desire to give you a public reception in University hall that afternoon or at your convenience. This association consists of 600 members and is the largest organization of its kind among the Universities.

We desire to honor you as the representative orator of the time, and we wish you to know that you are the first of the public speakers to be accorded this distinction. Signed,
UNIVERSITY ORATORICAL ASS.N.
B. F. DIEHL,
President.

To the Oratorical Association:

Answering yours of April 12th, I hope I may be able to make a brief visit to the University in response to your very kind invitation, arriving there as near 5 o'clock as possible on the afternoon of May 2. As I have to return to Detroit for a speech in the evening, I am necessarily much crowded for time. It will not be possible for me to deliver such an address as your society deserves or may expect. I can only give a short and rather desultory talk.

Yours very truly,
CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.
It will be a great treat to Ann Arbor people to hear so famous an orator, and the Oratorical Association is to be congratulated upon its success in inducing Mr. Depew to come to Ann Arbor and deliver an address. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. One-half of this will be given to the co-ed gym. fund and will, no doubt, prove no small addition to it. It has not been announced upon what subject Mr. Depew will speak, but whatever it may be, it will be interesting.

Death of Mrs. Frank H. Hess.

The large number of friends of Mrs. Frank Hess, nee Miss Georgia B. Hawes, were greatly shocked yesterday noon to learn of the death of Mrs. Hess. Mrs. Hess had been ill for nearly two weeks, but her physician and family had thought Tuesday that she was better and it was hoped that she would soon recover. Fate, however, willed otherwise and on Wednesday morning she grew rapidly worse and passed away at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon. As a young lady, Georgia had made many friends here in the city, her noble, womanly character being such that no one could know her without loving her. Hundreds of young people in Ann Arbor will miss, in the death of Mrs. Hess, a loving associate and friend. The deceased was twenty-two years and twenty-two days old. She was married to Mr. Frank Hess on the seventh of last July. Little did the many friends who on that occasion wished the happy young couple many years of joy suspect how soon the tie would be broken by death. The heart-broken husband and the grieving parents and brother of the deceased will have the genuine sympathy of a large circle of friends here and elsewhere. Funeral services will be held at the St. Andrew's church at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. Henry Tatlock will officiate.

Throw Away That Spear.

A bill passed the legislature last week that will make quite a difference with our fishermen. It don't propose that any fish shall be taken except by the old-fashioned way. Here are the main provisions of the law.

"It shall not be lawful for any person to take, catch or kill, or attempt to take, catch or kill, any fish in any of the inland lakes in this state with any kind of spear or grab hook, or by the use of jacks or artificial light of any kind, or by the use of set lines or night lines, or by the use of any single line or lines attached to any buoy or any kind of support, or by the use of any kind of net, or any kind of fire arms or explosive, or any other device whatsoever, except by hook and line held by the person fishing."

To be caught with tackle for taking fish in any of these prohibited ways shall be considered as evidence of violation of the law.

Mrs. Alice Cornwell, widow of Harvey Cornwell who died recently, passed away at her home last Sunday at 11 a. m. at the age of 62 years. Mrs. Cornwell had been in poor health for some time and died of a complication of several diseases. Funeral services were held at St. Thomas church, Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Believes it a Victory.

Dr. E. R. Eggleston, of the homeopathic school, is out in an open letter to the homeopaths of the state, calling their attention to what has been accomplished. He says:

To the homeopathic Profession of Michigan:

At last the Homeopathic Medical College of the University of Michigan is free. At the last meeting of the Board of Regents, April 17th, upon a proper and reasonable presentation of the matter, they fully and freely granted its independence, in the same sense and to the same extent that the Law department is independent of its associated departments. This was done by amendment of the resolutions of 1875, upon which the college will hereafter be governed by regulation distinctly its own. In addition to this, and in order that the school shall occupy an entirely untrammelled position, a new standing committee was organized, consisting of Regents Cook, Fletcher, Dean and Hebard, who will have entire charge of the affairs of this department. Thus at one sweep all causes for dissatisfaction and fear of domination and unfavorable discrimination disappears at once and forever. All honor to the regents who unhesitatingly placed themselves on record on the side of justice!

It is a great victory! And now what shall we do with it? There is but one thing to do, and that is to promptly and unanimously accept the new order of things and give it undivided support, which will inevitably result in an era of unprecedented success.

For the College,
E. R. EGGLESTON, M. D.
Ann Arbor, April 19th, 1895.

Special Council Meeting.

Mayor Walker called a special meeting of the council last Monday night to fix the amount of liquor dealer's and druggist's bonds, also to adopt new rules and fix salaries. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Hiscock. Ald. Prettyman moved that the liquor dealer's bonds be fixed at $3000.00 and druggist's bonds at $2000. Motion carried. This is the same as last year. Ald. Butterfield, chairman of committee on rules, reported the changes which the committee would recommend. Ald. Prettyman moved that the report of the committee be adopted. Ald. Taylor moved an amendment that instead of meeting at 7:30 all the year that between April and September the hour of meeting be fixed at 8 p. m. Instead of 7:30 as reported by the committee. The amendment carried. The original motion to adopt the committee's report on rules as amended was then carried unanimously.

Ald. Taylor then moved that the salaries of the clerk, city attorney, and all other city officers remain the same as last year. Motion carried unanimously. The council then adjourned to meet next Monday night to approve the bonds of the liquor dealers which must be approved before May first.

Death of Mrs. Ann K. Weller.

Mrs. Ann K. Weller died April 13, aged 78 years, in Cedar Springs, Mich., after many years of suffering.

Mrs. Weller was an old time resident of Ann Arbor. When the city was a mere hamlet she lived here with her sister, Mrs. Samuel R. Doty. She married Mr. John S. Weller, a well-known citizen of Northfield, and lived in that town a number of years. Later, her home was on Packard-st., in this city, and still later in Cedar Springs, Kent Co. She was a woman whose unselfishness of character made and kept many friends throughout her whole life.

The D. A. C. base ball team will play the Varsity boys on the athletic field next Saturday afternoon.

A Pleasant Affair.

The banquet to the sustaining members of the Y. M. C. A., that is all who contribute $5.00 or more a year to support the work, given by the ladies auxiliary last Thursday night was a success in every sense of the word. All the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., quarters were thrown into one and three long tables spread with good things for the physical man, and tastefully decorated, greeted all as they entered. A social time was enjoyed by those who came early. At a quarter past eight the invited guests were asked to be seated, after which they proceeded to vanquish the appetizing dishes set before them. Following this Pres. Wagner, who acted as toastmaster, called upon the following gentlemen who responded to the toasts as given below:

Ann Arbor's Wealth, Mr. Frank D. Taylor, of Detroit; Investments, Mr. E. W. Gibson, of Detroit; Citizenship, Mr. G. Frank Allmendinger, of Ann Arbor; Our Neighbors, Mr. H. M. Clark, of Detroit; Our Entertainers, Mr. H. G. Van Tuyl, of Detroit; The Work, Mr. J. A. C. Hildner, of Ann Arbor; Homes of Ann Arbor, Mr. Henry S. Dean, of Ann Arbor.

The responses by these gentlemen were enjoyed by all. Before the close of the banquet Dr. W. F. Breakey, J. E. Beal and Rev. J. M. Gelston were called upon, and made brief remarks. Dr. Breakey, as the president of the first Y. M. C. A. ever organized in the city told how some of the dangers that would trouble an organization of this sort might be successfully avoided. Mr. Gelston made a happy speech by saying simply, "Amen." The guests then sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and departed for their homes, everyone feeling that the Woman's Auxiliary knows how to arrange for a successful banquet, and all hope that each succeeding year may see just as successful a year's work as that just past.

High School Boys Defeated.

A lively game of ball was played last Saturday between the Detroit and Ann Arbor High Schools. All things considered both teams played well. Those who went out to see the game were mostly High School students who did all they could in the way of shouting and the blowing of fish horns to encourage their fellows, but it was all of no avail. The Detroit team went to the bat first and started in to make runs as if they meant to win the game. They soon had the advantage by some 8 or 10 runs when the Ann Arbor team began to brace up, but it was too late to save the game. Cullom pitched five innings and then Apel tried his hand but both were hit hard by the Detroit boys. Marker of the Detroit team did some good work for his team in a double play, catching a swift liner and reaching the base in time to put out his man. The best batting done by the home boys was done by Loudon. The Ann Arbor team declared that never again will they be caught napping. Had they suspected that there was any real danger that they would lose the game more time would have been spent in practice. As it was the team did well to come so near winning when they were nine runs behind in the early part of the game. The final score stood 18 to 17.

Will Give Two Joint Concerts.

Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti will soon have a musical treat. Director Oscar Gareissen, of the Ypsilanti orchestra, and Director L. M. Jones, of the Chequamegon, have decided to consolidate their aggregations for two nights. The orchestra of 50 men will give a concert in Ypsilanti one night under the leadership of Mr. Gareissen and in Ann Arbor L. M. Jones will act as director. This is quite an undertaking for the two directors, but no doubt their ability is equal to the occasion. Dates have not yet been fixed for either city.—Times.

The annual election of the S. L. A. will take place next Saturday. The third annual debate between the U. of M. and Northwestern will take place tomorrow evening. It is understood that vice-president Stevenson will preside.

LEAGUE BARS CLERGY.

Philadelphia Club Resents Ministerial Interference with Politicians. Philadelphia Special.—The board of managers of the Union League met and reconsidered privileges which for twenty-two years have been extended to clergymen. Political activity has debarred the gentlemen of the cloth from the clubhouse. During the late mayoralty campaign in Philadelphia the clergy of the city first attempted to arouse public sentiment against Senator Boies Penrose, a presumably slated republican candidate for first place in the quaker city. They intimated that personal character was at stake. Thus they greatly injured and ultimately gave the political leaders a chance to sidetrack Penrose, a prominent member of the league and friend of Quay. Not satisfied with this, however, the ministers engaged in united attacks upon City Solicitor Warwick, whom Quay's republican foes had nominated in Penrose's majority and elected mayor by a majority unprecedented. Warwick is also a member of the league. These attacks on the part of men who were using many of the privileges of the league gratis have been resented. The directors resolved that hereafter no clergymen shall enjoy the clubhouse bounty except upon petition of an active member, specially approved by the board.

N. E. A.

A eyes will soon be centered on Denver, Colo., as the time approaches for the meeting of the N. E. A., to be held in that city July 5th to 12th, 1895, and teachers and others who contemplate attending that meeting should see that their tickets read via the Union Pacific from the Missouri River. This line is always to the front for the accommodation of its patrons, and is the first to accede to the demands of the public. The advantages offered by it, are unequalled by any other, and its service, consisting of Pullman's finest sleeping and dining cars, cannot be excelled. Mr. E. L. Lomax, the General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Omaha, is always ready to furnish information in regard to this line. (61)

The Trouble Over.

A prominent man in town exclaimed the other day: "My wife has been wearing out her life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and indigestion. Keep your blood in a healthy condition by the use of this great vegetable compound. Call on John Moore, sole agent, and get a trial package free. Large size, 50c.

Teacher's Examinations.

The following is the teachers examinations as arranged by the county commissioner of schools.

CALENDAR OF EXAMINATIONS. Special April, 26 and 27. MARTIN J. CAVANAUGH, Commissioner

If all wives and mothers could fully realize how apt each one is at all times to be bereft of the protector and support of themselves and their children they would be more fully able to appreciate the real benefits of a life insurance policy. As an investment it is as safe and profitable as a savings bank while in case of accident or fatal illness the return is much larger. Persuade your husband to lay by something in a life insurance policy and be protected in case of misfortune which sickness or accident may bring. A policy in the old reliable New York Life Insurance Company is unequalled for protection and investment.

W. C. T. U.

For God, and Home and Native Land.

Edited by Mrs. A. E. Van Valkenburg. Press Superintendent.

This afternoon at three o'clock, the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at McMillan Hall. Reports of the county convention will be given, and Dr. Wood Allen will conduct a model "Mothers Meeting." A special invitation is hereby extended to all interested in the care and training of children to be present.

The Nineteenth Annual Convention of the W. C. T. U. of the Second District of Michigan will be held in the M. E. church, at Reading, May 8, 9 and 10, commencing Wednesday, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Louise S. Rounds, President Illinois State W. C. T. U. will speak on the evening of the 9th, giving her eloquent address on "Social Purity."

The World's W. C. T. U. so recently bereaved of its secretary, Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, has sustained the loss of another officer, Mrs. Ella F. M. Williams, treasurer, who died March 28, in Montreal, Canada. Mrs. Williams was also president of the Dominion W. C. T. U.

The death of W. Jennings Demorest, April 9, deprives the W. C. T. U. of a princely friend. His influence for temperance on the next generations, through the medal contest work inaugurated and supported by him, is inestimable.

"That hard-faced child" as Anna Gordon calls the beautiful bronze maiden which is the evolution of her own bright brain and the pluck and toil of the children of the World's Loyal Temperance Legion, is at last to be placed near the entrance to Willard Hall in Chicago. On Saturday, April 27, at 10:30 a. m. the exercises connected with the presentation will take place at Willard Hall. Mrs. Helen G. Rice, National L. T. L. superintendent, will be present as mistress of ceremonies, and will also make the address.

The W. C. T. U. have a department of "Instruction in Scientific Cookery" of which Mrs. Ole Bull of Cambridge, Massachusetts, is president. Mrs. Ellen Richards, of the Boston Institute of Technology, is associated with her. The New England Kitchens in Boston and New York are truly economic since the prepared foods furnish the greatest amount of nutriment obtainable from the material used. Studies in the chemistry of food are among the chief lines of work. The effort to counteract unnatural appetites by means of natural and reasonable diet lies at the centre of the practical considerations of the temperance reform. In local societies, such studies are being introduced, by means of leaflets prepared by experts, and otherwise. The responsibility of home makers for the physical and mental condition of the inmates of the home is a subject hardly to be excelled in interest, especially to women.

Mrs. Helen G. Rice, of Boston, Mass., National Superintendent of "Loyal Temperance Legions" says: "The work of the 'Loyal Temperance Legion' is applied scientific temperance truth. Through the wonderful accomplishments of the department of 'Scientific Temperance Instruction' the truth in regard to the effects of alcohol, tobacco and other brain poisons upon the human system has been made available to millions of children in the public schools. The most that we have a right to expect of the busy teachers of these schools is that they will impart this scientific truth earnestly and faithfully. But here comes in the need of applying the truth, so that our boys and girls may become not only intelligent total abstainers, but trained temperance workers. This the Loyal Temperance Legion aims to accomplish."

Civil Service Examination.

The regular semi-annual examination for the grades of clerk and carrier in the Ann Arbor post-office will be held on Saturday, June 1, 1895, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m.

Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations are as follows: For carrier, not under 21 nor over 40; for all other positions, not under 18 years. No application will be received for this examination unless filed with the undersigned in complete form, on proper blank, before the hour of closing business on May 13, 1895.

The Civil Service Commission takes this opportunity of saying that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens who may desire to enter the postal service, without regard to their political affiliations. All such citizens, whether democrats or republicans, or neither, are invited to apply. They will be examined, graded and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to their political views, or to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination. For application blanks, full instructions and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply at the post-office to ED. I. TAYLOR, Secy. Board of Examiners.

In More Trouble.

Rev. Isaac N. Aldrich, who formerly resided here, and who is now living at Wayne, is suing his wife for divorce. Last Thursday he obtained permission from Circuit Court Judge Hosmer and also from his wife's lawyer at Detroit, to go to his house in Wayne and take his books and other personal effects. It is alleged that he was roughly handled in trying to do so. When about half way to Detroit he was again surprised by a deputy sheriff, who arrested him on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Aldrich, charging him with assault and battery. Mr. Aldrich was taken back to Wayne where he gave bail for his appearance.

It seems rather strange that such a complaint should be made as Mr. Aldrich is a man of slight build while his wife is considerable of an Amazon.

The brain is not affected by the movements of the body, even though these are sometimes very violent, because it rests on a basis of soft cushions between the bones of the spine.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Robert Downing knows better than any star in America the value of constancy to one line of work. He has steadily adhered during his career to the purpose with which he started out to make himself-known as a tragedian. He has refused to listen to his managers, who have tried to persuade him that tragedy was not wanted by the people, and that the romantic drama, melodrama or comedy would pay better. To all these assertions he has interposed his objection that the people have shown no enul of his work, and that he could not afford to turn aside to temporary gains. The result is that he is not only the best known tragedian today, but also the foremost and most successful. Mr. Downing's repertoire this season includes "The Gladiator," "Damon and Pythias," "Ingomar," "Virginius," "Richard the Lion Hearted" and "Samson." Out of this magnificent list he has selected for his appearance as being the best. "The Gladiator," which he will present with the assistance of his powerful supporting company, among them that charming woman and finished actress, Eugenie Blair, this evening at the Grand Opera House.

Shore Acres.

"Shore Acres" is the best type of the New England play known to the stage. Its scenes are truthful, vivid and moving, while never overstepping the bounds of reason. Its story is entirely human and deeply interesting; its many character types are sharply differentiated, and its dialogue abounds in homely sayings and quaint humor. Mr. Horne has in "Shore Acres" furnished a play that is sure of a long and prosperous existence. In writing "Shore Acres" however, Mr. Horne avoided what so many actor-authors are inclined to do, that is, writing a one part play. He has aimed to present many different characters in a strong light, and has permitted them all to show their strong natures to the public. Their is no villain. Arrangements have been made to present "Shore Acres" at the Grand Opera House, Saturday evening, April 27th.

Sealed Proposals.

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Clerk until 6 o'clock p. m. Saturday, April 27th, 1895, for furnishing two car loads of white swamp oak plank according to specifications on file at this office.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. By order of the Board of Public Works. Dated, April 22d, 1895. GLEN V. MILLS, Clerk.

Probate Order.

State of Michigan, County of Washtenaw, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Friday, the 19th day of April, in the year one-thousand eight-hundred and ninety-five.

Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of Alfred C. Richards, deceased.

THE board of public works should lose no time in having new covers made and placed over the manholes along our sewers. It matters not who is to blame for the defect in the covers used, prompt action should be taken to remedy the defect before some serious accident occurs, and the city has a heavy damage suit on its hands.

THE glass manufacturers of the United States, as well as the wage earners whom they employ, will learn with interest that we imported at New York, during the first half year's operation of the new tariff, 1,520,000 pounds more of C. C. and C. unpolished glass than in the corresponding months a year earlier, almost 1,000,000 square feet more of C. and C. polished, silvered glass, and over 1,000,000 square feet more of unsilvered plate glass.

JUDGING from the wool sales thus far this season the United States will be but about 70 per cent. of the normal. That doesn't look very much as if the Democrats had accomplished their expressed purpose of putting woolen garments on the backs of all the people. They might have succeeded better if they had not rendered it impossible for the people to buy any kind of garments.—The Cleveland Leader.

Washtenaw is by all odds the largest sheep and wool raising county in this state. In 1894 Washtenaw had 181,856 sheep and lambs and sheared 1,344,262 pounds of wool, about one-tenth the amount of wool grown in the state that year.

The above item is going the rounds of the press in this and adjoining counties. The fact that this county produces more wool than any other county in the state and gets about half what it has formerly received for its wool clip will explain why its democratic majority of about twelve hundred was changed last fall into a republican majority of at least eight hundred.

NOT a few people were surprised at the council's action last Monday night in deciding that the salaries of the city officers should remain the same as heretofore. The council had made a special effort to secure a charter change giving it the power to raise the salaries of such officials as it should decide deserved more pay for the work they are obliged to do. It was generally agreed by those members of the council who are familiar with the increased duties of the city clerk, that he should be paid a better salary. Then, too, the city attorney, it was thought, should have more pay. But right here is probably where the difficulty came in. It seems to be generally believed that the mayor will appoint a man to this position whom the majority of the council do not consider worth more to the city than the salary that has heretofore been paid. Therefore, in order to prevent said individual

A Startling Admission.

In New York City, for five consecutive years, the proportion of Deaths from Consumption has been three in every Twenty Persons.

Epidemics of Cholera, Yellow Fever and other diseases of similar character, so terrible in their results, occasion wide spread alarm and receive the most careful consideration for their prevention and cure, while consumption receives scarcely a thought, yet the number of their victims sinks into insignificance when compared with those of consumption. Comparatively few people know what to do for their loved ones when they see them gradually lose strength, lose color, manifest feeble vitality and emaciation, or develop a cough, with difficult breathing, or hemorrhage. Cod liver oil was for a long time given in all such cases, but the poor success attending its use coupled with its nauseating taste has led many practitioners, as well as the public at large, to place their main reliance in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It deserves early attention and will prove effective not in every case but in a large percentage of cases, and we believe that fully 95 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery." Dr. Pierce does not ask people to believe until they have investigated for themselves. A pamphlet has been published having the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies which will be mailed free to those sending for it with their name and address upon a postal card, or you can have a medical treatise, in book form of 160 pages, mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experiences.

from being paid more than he was worth, and believing that, if any of the other salaries were raised and that of the city attorney not being likewise increased, the mayor would veto it, the council decided to let the matter rest without making any change.

Our streets last week were so dusty that a single vehicle or the least breath of wind would raise a cloud of dust. Who was to blame that no streets were sprinkled? Not a few of our merchants complained because everything in their stores was gray with dust.

Strawberries were selling in Detroit last week for fifteen cents per box. The objection to buying was not so much with the price as was the neighborliness of the bottom with the top of the box. Possibly the boxes had been turned wrong side up when they were filled.

Last Wednesday night, at the residence of the bride's parents on E. University, Miss Jennie May Cook was married to Mr. Levi Nowland, of Plymouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Cobern, of the M. E. church, and was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends.

Spurious dog tags have been discovered in use by a few disreputable curs. The city dog catcher is on the lookout for any such that he can find. If you have been protecting your canine with a beer check, better visit the city clerk and buy a legitimate tag and save trouble.

Mrs. H. C. Eames, who has charge of two large boarding houses on N. State-st., was too much for the professors and students and others who took part in the "spelling skule" held in the M. E. church last Friday night. Mrs. Eames was an easy winner, many of the contestants going down on the most common words.

Alanson Moore left last Friday night for Indianapolis, Ind., where his son Fred Moore died of appendicitis. The deceased is a native of Ann Arbor and learned his business as a telegraph operator here. He was chief operator for the Western Union Co., at Indianapolis at the time of his death. A widow and two children survive him.

There is trouble with the covers used in the manholes in the sewers. A horse stepping upon them in a certain position will throw them out of place. This leaves the manholes open and is a great source of danger. The board of public works sent engineer Key to Ypsilanti last Saturday to secure if possible, covers for the manholes that will lie firmly in place.

James Robison has just bought a new "trap" for his livery stable. It is not a mouse "trap" or a bear "trap" but an elegant vehicle, known in England as a "trap." It has two seats with the rear one reversible. It was built by Walker and Co. and is the proper thing to use when you have friends here whom you wish to take for a drive about the city, for its English, "Dontcher naw."

The board of public works passed a notice at its meeting last Friday, ordering the street commissioner to employ a proper force of men and at once proceed to put in passable condition the streets occupied by the Washington-st. sewer system. The resolution declares that the contractor, Hutzel, has not complied with his contract. The expense of grading is to be charged up to Mr. Hutzel.

A slick scheme is being worked by a young fellow here in the city. He carries a saw and whenever he sees a pile of 4 ft. wood, he calls and solicits the job of sawing it. He makes a racket that is sure to secure the job and then asks that 20 cents be advanced to pay for filing his saw. He is usually accommodated, and can afford 4 more "beers." A number of people are still waiting for him to come and saw their wood.

In the early part of the winter of '93, the committee appointed to raise funds for the sufferers in the upper peninsula collected and sent $559 to Ironwood. Monday, H. J. Brown, who was the treasurer of the committee, received a check for $202, the whole amount of the fund received by the northern sufferers not being needed. The money will probably be given to the Charitable Union.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association held a meeting at Lansing Saturday. It arranged to have its first annual field day sports in Jackson, May 30 and 31. There are to be thirty-two gold and one diamond medal and a $25 cup for a ball prize. The association was organized at Lansing March 9 by members of the High Schools of Jackson (west side) Lansing, Battle Creek, Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids.

We publish in another column the official list of the liquor licenses paid to the county treasurer during 1894. The total number of persons who paid the tax was 85. Of these 41 are for saloons in Ann Arbor. There are four saloons within two of having half the saloons in Washtenaw. That and our big University ought to make Ann Arbor a business place. The total amount of tax paid last year was $36,900, of which Ann Arbor paid $16,700.

Last Saturday afternoon, parties rowing up the river near Foster's station, discovered the body of a drowned man which had drifted against a stump and was standing nearly upright with the head above the water. Coroner Ball took the body to O. M. Martin's undertaking rooms and held an inquest. Nothing about the body enabled the jury to identify it. The corpse had evidently lain in the water several months. It is supposed that some tramp had attempted to cross the river on the ice and had fallen into an airhole.

Rev. C. M. Cobern will begin a new series of evening lectures Sunday evening, May 4, his new subject being "In the Land of Philistia." Five years ago Dr. Cobern spent 11 months in foreign lands, and these lectures will contain personal reminiscences of his travels in the desert, among the ruined cities of Philistia, in Moslem villages and in Bedouin camps. Philistia although scarcely ever entered by the tourist, is part of that "Fifth Gospel," which so often assists to a better understanding of the Bible narrative.—Courier.

CANKER WORMS IN THE APPLE ORCHARD.

Bulletin of the Michigan Experiment Station.

The time for the orchard canker worm is near. The wingless female moths are now climbing the trees from their winter quarters in the ground to deposit their eggs, and the canker worms that hatch from them will soon appear. They are not a difficult pest to control if dealt with intelligently.

Some of the moths lay their eggs in the fall on the apple tree limbs, but more deposit them in the spring. The eggs hatch at the time the buds are swelling, and the young canker worms scatter over the trees and begin feeding at once on the tender foliage. By the time the leaves are partly open the worms are large enough to be easily seen. They are nearly half an inch long, a little larger around than a common pin and vary in color from a light brown, with darker stripes, to a chocolate brown. Annoy one of them and it will stand out like a dead twig, or start off at a looping gait. Jar or shake the limb and many of them will drop, and suspend themselves in mid air by a web which they spin as they fall.

It is while the canker worms are in this very young stage that the trees should be given a thorough spraying with Paris green or London purple at the rate of three ounces to forty gallons of water.

A quart or two of glucose or molasses, or a pound of freshly slacked lime (strained) added to each barrel of water, will help to retain the poison on the foliage. The lime will at the same time insure the leaves against injury from soluble arsenic.

Up to this time the canker worms have merely eaten a few holes in the leaves, but if they remain a week or two longer they will destroy every leaf on the trees, if as common as they were last spring. They grow very fast and soon are from an inch and a quarter to an inch and a half long and as large around as a small twig.

This is the time when people usually notice that something is eating the leaves in their orchard. Last spring letters came from all parts of the southern and central portions of the state, asking for help, but the calls were little that could be done, as there was little late; the canker worms were mostly grown and were leaving the trees.

These facts regarding the canker worms demonstrate the importance of early spraying. Heavy rains may prevent complete success and a second spraying may occasionally be necessary.

33 PER CT. DIFFERENCE. Royal Baking Powder

STRONGEST, PUREST, MOST ECONOMICAL.

As to whether any of the baking powders are equal to the "Royal," the official tests clearly determine. When samples of various baking powders were purchased from the grocers, and analyzed by the United States Government Chemists and the Chemists of State and City Boards of Health, the reports revealed the fact that the "Royal" contained from 28 per cent. to 60 per cent. more leavening strength than the others, and also that it was more perfectly combined, absolutely pure, and altogether wholesome.

As most of these powders are sold to consumers at the same price as the "Royal," by the use of the Royal Baking Powder there is an average saving of over one third, besides the advantage of assured purity and wholesomeness of food, and of bread, biscuit and cake made perfectly light, sweet, and palatable.

The official reports also reveal the presence, in other powders, of alum, lime or sulphuric acid, by which their use is made a matter of grave danger to the consumer.

Whenever a baking powder is sold, either wholesale or retail, at a lower price than the "Royal," it is made from inferior ingredients, probably from alum, and is to be avoided under all circumstances.

Spring Medicine

At this season, more emphatically than at any other, we should build for the future.

When Nature gives vitality to field and wood, there should be the harmony of renewed life and energy in our physical systems.

But, on the contrary, we find ourselves weak, dull, tired. This is because in the winter we have been housed-up in poorly ventilated offices, homes and shops, our blood has become thin and impure, and is unequal to the demand of the body for more life, more vigor, more energy, more strength.

Nature imperatively cries for help! Where is it to be found?

Logically enough, in a good Spring Medicine, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

This preparation has proven in many years of test that it supplies the demand as nothing else can.

So easy to take and so readily assimilated, the purifying, vitalizing and enriching elements of Hood's Sarsaparilla—combined from nature's own storehouse of vegetable remedies for human ills, pass into the stomach and are then silently but certainly taken up by the blood and sent to every organ and tissue of the body.

The effect is often magical.

The weakness is soon driven off, that tired feeling disappears, the nerves are built up, the stomach resumes its tasks even greedily, the appetite becomes as "sharp as a whetstone," and the whole man feel "as made anew." The wonderful cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and other dreadful diseases prove the great curative, blood purifying powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

You undoubtedly need a good Spring Medicine. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The statements in the testimonial below are familiar facts to the immediate friends of Mr. Geo. A. Zirkle, school teacher, of Mt. Horeb, Tenn., very well known throughout the county, where he was born and has always lived. It illustrates the wonderful power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. Read it: "I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla. I will tell you why. I have suffered from inherited scrofula from childhood. When 37 years of age my eyes became

Strangely Affected. I could not read after sunset, and when I would close my eyes I could not open them; but on whichever side I lay on that side I could open my eye. This condition continued about two years, and was succeeded by an intolerable itching all over my body and limbs. I had to have my little boys take shoe brushes and scratch me. It was dreadful. It continued a month and was followed immediately by a tumor in the right side of my neck as large as a small egg. I took physicians' prescriptions till I lost hope. In the meantime the tumor changed its place to the immediate front of my neck, suppurated and was followed by others, till six had formed and broken.

"Finally, three years ago, another large tumor seated itself on the point of my collar bone and in six months another half way back on the bone. Both of them soon began to discharge and continued to do so till about seven months ago. I tried everything, including prescriptions. I was often so weak that I could scarcely walk and my mind was so confused that I could scarcely attend to my business (school teaching). I was utterly discouraged. And now my story draws to a close. I began the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla a little less than a year ago, and took five bottles. When I began I had no faith in it. In less than 3 months

Both the Sores on my shoulder were healed; I was cured of a troublesome catarrh; and scrofulous habit has steadily grown less apparent. I weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in the best of health considering my constitution. Do you wonder that I believe in Hood's Sarsaparilla? I can do no less than recommend it everywhere." GEO. A. ZIRKLE, Mt. Horeb, Tenn.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for our little boy, who had a running sore on one of his limbs. He had suffered from it for one and a half years. He took seven bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the sore is all healed and he is now well. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleansed his blood and cured him." E. B. JOHNSON, Bridge-water, Iowa.

Scrofula Eradicated. "I am a great sufferer with blood trouble. I have taken several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it the best medicine I ever saw for scrofulous humors and blood poison. It strengthens the system and drives away that tired feeling. No one knows the good Hood Sarsaparilla will do until it has been faithfully tried." LAURA M. LAWTON, Spragueville, New York.

Sores On Neck and Arms. "Last spring I had sores come on my neck and arms, owing to bad blood and a run down system. My physician told me to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and take it to purify my blood. After taking three bottles I was cured. It is an excellent spring medicine." MRS. ANNA DITZLER, New Danville, Pennsylvania.

WHY "No. 9" WARE HEELER & WILSON'S No. 9 SEWING MACHINES

POPULAR?

BECAUSE LADIES

BUY THEM LIKE THEM

AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair. We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

Russia, Germany and France Protest Against the Japan-China Treaty.—Hawaiians Fear that Japan is After Them.—President of France in Danger.

Europe Don't Like China-Japan Treaty

Berlin: The Koelnische Zeitung says: Since it was apparent that Japan was not disposed to be moderate in making demands against China, a move was made to establish an understanding between the powers. A complete agreement was reached by Germany and Russia and the co-operation of France was secured. The three powers will now proceed to take joint steps in China to protect their interests. The object is to prevent Japan from entangling herself so tightly round China so as to be able, in case of need, to shut off the latter entirely from Europe.

St. Petersburg: A semi-official note has been issued to the newspapers here to the effect that the Russian government is in no wise satisfied with the China-Japanese treaty, and will act in concert with other powers in protecting the interests of Europe.

Paris: The Debats says: The Japanese occupation of Liao-Tong is a menace to both Peking and Korea. If Japan expects Russia to renounce her policy toward Korea, she probably has made a great mistake. Moreover, France will not leave Russia isolated in the east, and Germany is not disposed to regard indifferently Japan's encroachments. Japan's conditions of peace are immoderate. Her ambition ought to be brought down at once. England will incur a grave responsibility if she separate herself from the rest of Europe at this decisive moment.

Hawaii Feels Japan.

Correspondence from Honolulu says that Minister Thurston has arrived from the United States and states that there is no change whatever in his official relations with Secretary Gresham, contrary to newspaper talk.

Col. V. V. Ashford has been pardoned out of prison on condition that he leave the islands not to return.

It is positively known that public sentiment in Japan is strongly turned in the direction of taking Hawaii. While the native Hawaiians still constitute the largest nationality, 34,000 to the Japanese 25,000, the latter have the largest number of male adults, being 20,000 to the natives 16,000. There can be no doubt that a small Japanese squadron with 1,000 troops, co-operating with the resident Japanese, could easily overcome any resistance possible for all the rest of the population of Hawaii to make. The safety of this government against an early conquest by Japan must be in the protection of the United States. Falling in that, appeal must be made to British protection.

To Assassinate France's President.

Paris: The Petit Journal declares that the anarchists have arranged to make an attempt to assassinate President Faure. The paper asserts that 22 men are engaged in the conspiracy, and that one of the number, a deserter from the French army, of the type of Caserio Santo, the assassin of President Carnot, has left London for the purpose of carrying out the part assigned to him, that of the actual assassin.

It Don't Please Great Britain.

London: The Globe newspaper says that the answer of Nicaragua to the ultimatum of Great Britain regarding the expulsion of Minister Hatch, British consular agent, from Nicaraguan territory, is not acceptable to the British government and that steps to enforce the ultimatum will be taken immediately.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Dun's says: In every speculative department business is growing, but this is really the least satisfactory feature of the situation. Cotton, oil and wheat climb above export prices, so that the marketing of products abroad must be the money is absorbed which ought to be employed in productive industry and the distribution of products to consumers. Everybody knows that oil has not risen 300 per cent because it is intrinsically more valuable, nor is wheat actually worth more than it was two or three weeks ago, but the expansive and uplifting force has unfortunately taken to speculation rather than to production, and so we have higher prices in all speculative markets without a corresponding increase in the supply of goods. The rise in the price of beef, but which is largely due to the control of sources of supply by a few strong corporations. There ought to be, but apparently is not, sufficient power in the hands of the government to meet any such conspiracy against the public, and the proposal of Secretary Morton to admit Mexican cattle and cattle from Canada on easy terms for the benefit of consumers is heartily commended though it is not likely to have much influence. In iron and steel the situation is rather disappointing. The cotton mills are being supplied by a few strong corporations. There ought to be, but apparently is not, sufficient power in the hands of the government to meet any such conspiracy against the public, and the proposal of Secretary Morton to admit Mexican cattle and cattle from Canada on easy terms for the benefit of consumers is heartily commended though it is not likely to have much influence. MICHIGAN PEOPLE AND WHAT THEY ARE DOING.

Detroit Detectives Believe They Have About Unravelled the "Myrtle Cooke" Mystery.—Saginaw Sawyer Meets with a Frightful Death.—Other Occurrences.

That Detroit Mystery Cleared Up.

The mysterious "Myrtle Cooke" case, which has been the sensation of Detroit for over two weeks, has at last been cleared up, and the old adage, "murder will out," was again proven true. It will be remembered that the girl died at a lying-in hospital, Feb. 3, and two months later it was accidentally discovered that the body was being kept by an undertaker to experiment with a new embalming fluid. Mrs. Lane, who runs the hospital; Dr. Seaman, who attended the girl, did some tall lying, saying that they did not know where the girl came from, that they only knew her name was "Myrtle Cooke," and that she died from natural causes. Nothing could be proven, and it was thought the secret would never be solved, when a woman who had known the dead girl told a startling story to the police, which was soon corroborated. The name of the poor unfortunate girl was Emily Hall, aged 27. She had been ruined by Rev. J. Bell, of Birmingham, England, a well-known Church of England clergyman, with a wife and seven children. Bell had sent the girl to Detroit to have an operation performed, and this was done by Dr. Seaman, and she died as a result. The evidence being so strong, the Lane woman, her husband and Dr. Seaman were arrested.

A Horrible Sawmill Accident.

The sawmill of Wail & Webber at Saginaw was the scene of a frightful fatal accident. Frank Labelle, a circular sawyer, was warning a saw by holding a board against it while it rapidly revolved. In some manner he was drawn toward the saw. He put his right hand out to save himself. Four fingers were taken off; then he slipped, his head striking the saw. The top of his head was cut off on a line about an inch above his eyes. As he rolled off his left shoulder struck the saw and a gash eight inches was cut deep down into his lungs before the other workmen dragged him away. Although frightfully injured, Labelle lived an hour, retaining consciousness until a few minutes before his death. Labelle has been a circular sawyer about nine years, and was regarded as an expert. He was about 33 years old, and leaves a wife and six children.

State Council Royal Arcanum.

The grand council of the Royal Arcanum convened at Flint. The grand secretary's report for the year ending April 1, 1895, shows a net membership of 6,161 and the grand treasurer's report for the year shows the receipts to have been $19,133.23, and the disbursements $7,520.50, leaving a balance of $2,612.72. During the year there have been 50 deaths in the state. The new officers are: S. F. Woodcock, Niles, grand regent; vice-regent, L. Edenborough, Bay City; orator, A. G. Pitts, Detroit; chaplain, George Reynolds, Saginaw; guide, J. R. Johnson, Lapeer; warden, D. K. Crampton, Monroe; sentry, A. R. Histon, Flint; trustee, H. B. Baxter, Grand Rapids.

Fanny Fox's Sad Death.

Fanny Fox, aged 18, daughter of W. H. Fox, of Rives Junction, died at the Good Samaritan home, Jackson, one hour after giving premature birth to a child. Sheriff Peck, acting under instructions from the prosecuting attorney, went to Rives Junction and arrested Curtis Harwood, aged 24, who says he is a cousin of the dead girl, on the charge of murder. Dr. J. D. North, one of the oldest and most efficient physicians of Jackson, was taken into custody by the sheriff on the same charge, on the statement of Harwood to prosecutor Blair that Dr. North had performed the operation which caused the girl's death.

Murder and Suicide at Jackson.

Eljah Stewart, aged 29, colored, of Jackson, shot his wife three times with a 32-caliber revolver, placed the muzzle of the gun in his own mouth and fired a bullet into his brain. Of the three bullets fired at the woman, one entered the head, just back of the left ear, taking a downward course; another struck the frontal bone and glanced off, after making a flesh wound, and the other cut a furrow in the side of the neck. The cause of the shooting was jealousy. The Stewarts have been married 11 years and have a son 10 years old. Later in the day Brown died, but his wife may recover.

Small Boy Fatally Burned.

Ralph Ploughman, aged 5 years, fell into a bonfire at Muskegon, and was terribly if not fatally burned, his abdomen being literally cooked. He walked to his home a block distant with his clothes aflame. His mother became helpless with fright, and the boy was only saved by the thoughtfulness of a 7-year-old brother, who wrapped a blanket about him and smothered the flames.

Wonderful Babylon.

Ancient Babylon may perhaps be called the most wonderful city of the world. No less remarkable were the hanging gardens referred to in the Old Testament and described by some of the early profane writers. The city itself was fifty miles in circumference, its walls being 350 feet high and 87 feet thick. The city was built in the center of a vast plain. The wife of the king came from a mountainous region, and did not like its barrenness. Hence the famous hanging gardens. They were suspended over 400 feet in the air and planted with trees, fruits and flowers. No less than 200,000 slaves were employed in their construction. All this to please his wife.

A Window Desk.

One of the most conventional and altogether satisfactory contrivances quite in the power of a young woman to manipulate is a window desk. Take a board about fifteen inches wide and saw it the length of the window sill, so that it can hang down against the under wall when desirable. Take a narrow strip of wood under the board near the front edge. Resting on the floor and wedged under this cleat there is a prop of planed wood, slender and neat looking. You can put a beading around with small braids and stain it all cherry or some other color. The sill holds pens, pencils and inkstands, and a large blotter laid on the board is a most desirable writing pad. This idea comes from an art student in Paris, who dotes on her window desk.

is not a large difference between a cheap piano and a good one. It may seem large at first, but figure a little. The average life of a piano is twenty-five years. If you pay $100 more for a good piano than for a cheap one, you pay $4 a year for the satisfaction of having a thoroughly reliable musical instrument. This is about

ONE AND ONE-TENTH CENTS PER DAY.

It will cost more than $4 additional, each year to keep a cheap piano in tune to say nothing of the increased satisfaction of owning and using a good instrument.

The Clifford Piano

It is built by a man who knows how to make pianos and also how a good piano should be made. The Clifford can be bought for from $375 to $425. This is but little more than is charged every day for instruments not worth as much. Think this over, and examine the Clifford before you buy.

NEGROES LYNCHED

SUMMARY PUNISHMENT OF FIVE PERSONS.

Three Men and Two Women Hanged Near Greenville, Ala.—Another Lynching Narrowly Averted by the Bravery of Two Men.

Montgomery, Ala., April 23.—A man who arrived here at 9 o'clock last night from Greenville, Ala., forty miles south of here, reports that five negroes were lynched near there Saturday night. Just before the train left Greenville the sheriff of the county came into town and reported that in passing the Buck-alow plantation, three miles from town, he had found the five negroes, three men and two women, hanging by their necks to some trees. Their bodies were cold, and they evidently had been dead some hours. The news Saturday night reached Greenville of the brutal murder near Butler, in that county, of Watts Murphy, a popular young white man. Murphy was a young farmer, a nephew of the late Gov. Watts of this city. After murdering him the negroes placed his body on a brush heap and burned the heap. The debris was examined and the heart and liver of the victim were found. The rest of the body had been consumed. An investigation was instituted. Three negroes were arrested finally. One of the negroes gave way and confessed the crime, implicating two other negro men and two women. The officers secured them and were closely guarding the prisoners when last heard of. The report does not give the details of how the mob secured the murderers. A telegram from Greenville confirms the story.

PREVENT A LYNCHING.

Two Men Guard a Negro Prisoner and Defy a Mob.

Frederick, Md., April 23.—Mrs. Butts, a farmer's wife at Broad Run, fifteen miles from here, was assaulted yesterday morning by Frank Winterchief, an 18-year-old negro, who works on the farm of Columbus O'Donnell, near Petersburg. Mrs. Butts attended mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church four miles from her home and, when returning, was followed by the negro. He overtook her on the road and, armed with a club, attacked her. Frightened before accomplishing his purpose he finally fled. Peter Hemp and David Majaha, who heard the woman's screams, saw the negro running and started in pursuit. After a chase of four miles the negro halted and surrendered. On their return with the negro his captors were met by a mob who demanded the surrender of the man that they might take him to the woods and hang him. Hemp and Majaha refused to give him up, and at the point of their revolvers brought Winterchief safely to this city.

CAUSED BY THE RAIN.

Disaster in Moody's Church at Fort Worth, Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 23.—During a storm last night a portion of the roof of the tabernacle gave way and fell on part of an audience of 10,000 listening to Evangelist Dwight Moody. Panic ensued and many who were not hurt by falling timbers suffered from being jostled and crushed. Following is the list of the injured: J. V. Ingram, cut on head and chest, arm hurt, internal injuries; will die. Will J. Paisley, left leg crushed, back injured; seriously hurt. Mrs. Mary Murphy, cut on head and left arm. Miss Scrason, of Weatherford, cut on face and right arm. Miss Lulu Haley, cut on head. J. W. Manchester, prominent G. A. R. man, cut on shoulder and left arm. Mrs. Morton Logan, wife of city treasurer, cut on shoulder.

Texas has long needed rain, so yesterday Evangelist Moody called upon his audience of 8,000 Christians to pray fervently that the floodgates might be opened. This was at 5 p. m. yesterday. At night when the tabernacle was crowded by 10,000 people from Fort Worth and surrounding cities Mr. Moody announced that word had come from several points that rain had fallen. A few minutes later the storm burst on Fort Worth and torrents of rain fell. Then Mr. Moody gave thanks to God and called upon the congregation to join in singing "Coronation," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name, Let Angels Prostrate Fall."

The song had surged forth from 10,000 voices when a cracking noise was heard, and then the roof sank and the rafters gave way, and the heavy timbers and boards, covered with tar and gravel, came down on a portion of the congregation. There was a panic. Scores upon scores of women fainted; some men lost their heads and piled pell mell over those near them. Mr. Moody then moved to the middle of the platform and lifted both hands to heaven, moving his arms slowly to and fro. His attitude and coolness stopped the panic and men began to go to work to rescue those in danger. A drenching rain was falling, but they worked hard and the wounded were soon taken out and carried to their homes or to the houses near by.

A New Mile Record.

San Jose, Cal., April 23.—Edward C. Bald, of the Press Cycling club of Buffalo, is the sensation of the day in the cycling world. He started in a mile race with Burke, Foster, Osen, Terrill and Coulter. Bald got away first and crossed the tape a wheel's length ahead of Coulter, who was lapped by Foster. When the time, 2:04, was announced, the record for one mile, there came a tremendous wave of applause which lasted several minutes.

Found Dead on the Wharf.

Duluth, Minn., April 23.—Patrick Cosgrove of Chicago, first porter of the Jay Gould, was found dead on the wharf yesterday morning about 11. Coroner Eklund says the death resulted from heart disease. The body will be shipped to Chicago.

Secretary Gresham Goes to Gotham.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary of State Gresham left Washington yesterday for New York city. It is said that he goes on personal business, and the trip will be a brief one.

MINERS TO BE TAXED.

Not Exempt Under the Decision of the Supreme Court.

Washington, April 23.—The commissioner of internal revenue has made his first important ruling as to the effect of the decision of the United States Supreme matter of rentals under the income tax law. The coal miners of Pennsylvania and other states, as well as the producers of oil, have claimed that they are exempt from the operations of the income tax for the reason that their product is the product of the soil and comes within the definition of the Supreme court as to rentals. The commissioner of internal revenue having decided that the profits from coal mining are taxable, he will also by the same reasoning be compelled to rule adversely upon the claim of the Standard Oil company is exempt from paying any income on the product of the soil. The Standard Oil company is understood to have indicated that it will refuse to pay an income on its oil products, and will contest the payment in the courts. This decision of the commissioner of internal revenue will undoubtedly result in protracted and extensive litigation. Mr. Choate, who was connected with the case in the Supreme court, predicts that the income litigation will last for twenty-five years.

WOMEN IN THE PULPIT.

Unique Ending of the Y. W. C. A. Convention in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 23.—The international convention of the Y. W. C. A. closed yesterday. Twenty-seven of the most prominent delegates occupied the pulpits of fashionable churches in the evening. A novel feature was presented at the Presbyterian, Reformed Presbyterian, German Lutheran, and Protestant Episcopal churches. These denominations do not allow women to preach from their pulpits. To get around the church law and extend the courtesies of their pulpits to the distinguished ladies visiting, some of the congregations had platforms erected in front of the pulpits, and from these platforms the ladies addressed large audiences.

NICARAGUA OFFERS TERRITORY

Unable to Pay Indemnity to England in Any Other Way.

Managua, Nicaragua, April 23.—At a cabinet meeting it was proposed to cede to Great Britain Corn Island in the Atlantic, as an equivalent for her claim for indemnity. This proposition met with strong opposition from President Zelega and another proposition was made to pay the indemnity by means of a forced loan. Matters remain in statu quo, however. Nicaragua is helpless and looks to the United States for support. If she does not get it she may ultimately be compelled to surrender part of her territory to England in spite of the Monroe doctrine.

Weavers Threaten to Strike.

Providence, R. I., April 23.—The weavers of the Providence and National Worsted Mills have requested permission to strike and the district council is now considering the request, but hesitates about granting it, as it may cause a general shutdown of all the mills at Olneyville. The Providence and National Mills, which are under one management, employ 2,500 operatives. The employees say they will strike unless their wages are increased. Charles Fletcher, one of the owners of the mills, is one of the leading members of the Manufacturers' club, which recently decided to close every mill in Olneyville should a strike be ordered in any one of them, thereby throwing 9,000 operatives out of work.

Ellwanger's Corpse Found.

Crown Point, Ind., April 23.—The bloated and swollen corpse of Barney Ellwanger, the supposed murderer of his wife, Pauline Ellwanger, was found in the Lemont woods a small but deep little body of water in the wood a mile and a half northeast of Cedar Lake, the scene of the tragedy of thirteen days ago. He had been murdered. The general theory now prevailing is that Ellwanger was killed the same night his wife met death, and was afterwards cast into this small lake in the woods. The corpse was dressed in pants, coat and shoes. The overshirt and socks had been removed, and it will be remembered that these articles were found in Ellwanger's house the morning after the murder with blood spots upon them.

Sheriff Mullin Held for Trial.

Omaha, Neb., April 23.—John H. Mullin, sheriff of Thurston county, has been bound over to await the action of the United States grand jury. The suit was brought against Mullin for his action Friday in attempting to arrest the Indian police, who are under the charge of the Indian agent, Capt. W. H. Beck, and were evicting settlers under the order of the United States court. The case is one of national interest. The excitement has died down considerably. The refusal of Attorney General Churchill to interfere on behalf of the Flournoy company being a crushing blow to the white squatters.

Cox Is Captured at Marengo.

Vinton, Iowa, April 23.—James Cox, who shot Marshal Gerhart of Blairstown was captured at Marengo yesterday and was brought to this city by Sheriff Metcalf and placed in jail. Cox claims that the marshal shot first. People from Blairstown tried to intercept the sheriff with intentions evidently of lynching the prisoner, but the sheriff outdrove them. He does not anticipate trouble here.

Wisconsin Legislature Adjourns.

Madison, Wis., April 23.—The forty-second regular session of the Wisconsin legislature adjourned sine die at noon Saturday. At 11:15 o'clock the list of bills signed was sent to the senate and assembly. The committee reported that the governor had no further communications to make, both houses were declared adjourned, and the session was over.

Fatal Quarrel Among Farmers.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 23.—Jerry N. Friel, aged 25, shot and killed J. N. Shotts on a farm five miles east of here last evening. Friel claims the shooting was in self defense and came to this city and gave himself up to the officers. Friel says Shotts struck him with a club. Both men were farmers and had been enemies for some time.

THE LESSEPS CANAL.

That Name Should Have Been Restored on It Long Ago.

M. Guichard's suggestion that the Suez canal should bear the name of Lesseps is the subject of negotiations and is likely to be speedily realized, says a Paris correspondent of the London Times. Surprise has indeed been felt for years that this has not been done before, and but for the lamentable Panama affair M. de Lesseps would probably have had the satisfaction, while still in full enjoyment of his faculties, of seeing his name indelibly linked with his work. It is strange that while Said Pasha has given his name to Port Said, Ismail Pasha to Suez, and Tewfik Pasha to Port Tewfik, nothing in Egypt bears the name of Lesseps. At the opening of the canal in 1869 in the presence of the Empress Eugenie everybody expected that some distinction would be conferred on him, the general opinion being that he would be created Duc de Suez. The empress was believed to have taken the decree for this purpose with her and astonishment was felt at his being merely nominated grand cross of the Legion of Honor. The omission is still unexplained. Some think that, as M. de Lesseps had then no property, it stood in the way of his receiving a dukedom. Provision for himself and his heirs would have been necessary and the parliamentary opposition was already too vigilant and powerful for this to be ventured upon. Others think that, though the emperor had sent the empress to open the canal, its success was still too doubtful for a dukedom to be attached to it. However this may be, twenty-five years have elapsed and though the great waterway which M. de Lesseps created would doubtless long in common parlance bear the name by which it is at present known, it would only be a just tribute to the memory of "le grand Francelin" to call it officially the Lesseps canal.

CHICKENS ON WEATHER.

Their Actions Show When a Windstorm Is Coming Up.

A grizzled and gray Montgomery county farmer formed one of a group of men who were discussing weather signs in the Terminal market yesterday. "I always know when there is to be a windstorm," he said, "by watching the turkeys and chickens go to roost each night. In calm weather the fowls always roost on their poles with their heads alternating each way—that is, one faces east, the next west, and so on. But when there is going to be a high wind, they always roost with their heads toward the direction from which it is coming. There are reasons for these different ways of roosting I take it. When there is no wind to guard against they can see other danger reactions; but when wind is to arise they face it because they can hold their positions better. But the part I can't understand," he concluded, "is how the critics know that the wind is going to rise when we mortals lack all intimation of it." Philadelphia Paper.

Tornado, Cyclone and Wind-Storm Insurance.

Anybody is likely to have his house or barn destroyed by a cyclone, wind-storm or tornado. It cost but a mere pittance to be insured against danger from these sources. Call upon W. K. Childs, in the County Court House for rates. 20 cents on a thousand dollars per year is certainly low enough. You can afford to pay this merely for the satisfaction of being insured. 60c

Wooden Clock's Long Run.

Nathan Allgood, of Roswell, Ga., has a clock which has been running and keeping correct time for 120 years, and has never been out of repair but once. During the war a Yankee soldier broke a cog out of one of its wheels, which gave it a year's rest. Mr. Allgood had it repaired, and it is now doing full duty. The running gear is all of wood.

SHENANDOAH.

A Story of Sheridan's Great Ride.

This is one of the most fascinating stories ever emanating from the pen of an American author. It is rapidly becoming very popular and is creating a furore wherever introduced. It is a love story pure and simple—founded on the great achievements of Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley during the late civil war, and the descriptions of the Battle of Winchester and of Sheridan's Great Ride are here given as seen by an eye-witness. Published by the Novelist Publishing Co., 61 Beekman St., New York City, and sold throughout the United States and Canada for the low price of 25 cents.

A Good Idea.

Mayor Jewett of Buffalo, N. Y., suggests the utilization of the trolley railways for carrying all street garbage out of the city from collecting stations established at convenient places along the railway routes.

TOO MUCH WORK

For a Healthy Existence.—That's Why the Kidneys so often Fail.

Nature has provided a certain amount of work for every organ of the human body; overtax them and disease eventually follows. There is not one portion of our organism that is so overworked as the kidneys; on them is placed the important function of filtering the blood of the impurities which naturally form in the regular action of life and digestion. The kidneys are consequently termed the sewerage of the system; clog up this sewer, and the blood becomes tainted with poisonous uric acid, which brings on disease in many forms. The back is the first to show this stoppage. From there comes the warning note; it should be heeded, and the kidneys receive prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills will right the action of the kidneys quickly, relieve the back of pains and aches, and cure all troubles of kidneys and bladder. Read the following: Mr. Wm. Nelson is a well-known business man of Kalamazoo, he resides at 823 Portage Street, and his business is that of a grain buyer. He says:

"For five years I have suffered from an inability to urinate, which resulted from what was said to be a stoppage of the bladder. During these years I have taken mineral and electric baths and used other means in expectancy of getting better, but they all proved unavailing. Some months ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I had heard highly recommended, and I can now say that the flattering reports were not greater than they deserved. I got better right along, and I am free from any trouble now. I feel better than I have done for three years past. If Doan's Kidney Pills were well known all over they would do an immense amount of good." Sold by all dealers—price, 50 cents. Made by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Mrs. H. T. Nichols narrowly escaped what might have proven a very severe and possibly fatal accident, last Sunday. During the middle part of the day she was alone, Howard and Zoia having gone up town, and was busy doing her work, when she smelled an odor of burning cotton, she made a little search, but finding nothing concluded it to have come from some dirt she had put in the stove. The fire grew stronger and she began to think something was wrong, just at that moment she turned her head to one side to discover flames creeping up her back. Her clothing behind was a burning flame and her condition for a time seemed very critical. She possessed great presence of mind and acted wisely, grabbing an old overcoat that hung near by she wrapped herself closely drawing it tight around the neck, thus smothering the flames and extinguishing the fire. It was a narrow escape, and she was more than fortunate in escaping as she did.

"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

The Moon's Light.

The moon's light has been found to be about 300,000 times less than that of the sun and, according to Prof. Young, a sky completely covered with full moons would give only one-eighth of the light of the sun. It thus seems improbable that the moon has any appreciable meteorological influence.

Bread Cooked in a Stovepipe.

Some cooks are making crusty bread in sections of stovepipe. These utensils are cut in the required length at the flue-mouth and the edges turned over so the hands will not be injured. The dough, made into a loaf somewhat shorter than the pipe, is placed in it. From this apparently crude affair comes crusty bread of excellent quality if the cook knows her business.—Hardware.

Plain Literary Women.

I heard it asserted the other day by a literary man that all clever women, at least women who had distinguished themselves above the common herd of their sisters, were plain-featured, unattractive, if not positively ugly. "This true, and pity 'tis 'tis true, that almost all the great women of letters, Mme. de Staël, Mme. Sand, George Elliot, Charlotte Brontë, Mrs. Browning, and Miss Austen were plain women. The question then arises, is this the fault of nature, whose niggard hand will not deal out simultaneously beauty of feature and power of brain or is it the fault of women who are content to accept the appendage of beauty as a kingdom and power in itself, and seek no more so long as there are slaves ready and willing to be attached to their car? or is it that the plain woman, handicapped in the race of life with her beautiful sisters, has accepted out a new career and a new triumph for herself? Prof. Lombroso, no doubt, has a ready answer for the problem. Meanwhile the new woman might refute the assertion triumphantly by growing beautiful as well as clever. Poetesses, at least, ought to be lovely, with the example of Byron, Keats, Shelley, Schiller and Goethe, Alfred de Musset and Tennyson before them. Nature, so generous to male poets, cannot surely refuse to women the privileges she lavishes on the sterner sex.—Graphic.

HIS DEBUT ON THE STUMP DESCRIBED BY A WITNESS.

It Was the Sixth of July, 1860—He Found a Quotation from the Scriptures for His Text—Was a Brilliant Speech.

"Yes; Ephraim is a cake turned, and I propose to turn him!" The speaker was young James G. Blaine, and as he spoke a roar of laughter, followed by wild and long continued applause, greeted him from the large audience, such as had not been heard in that Town Hall since the days of the Fremont and Dayton campaign. This was nearly one-third of a century ago, in the memorable Lincoln and Hamlin canvass of 1860. It was Blaine's first regular campaign speech. Blaine was only thirty years old. He was not well known even in Maine, and was unknown in other States. He had won some distinction as editor of the Kennebec Journal, as a rising and smart young politician, and as a delegate in 1856 to the Fremont convention which nominated the first republican national ticket; while in the state work of September following, this resulted in electing United States Senator Hannibal Hamlin for governor by over 20,000 majority, he had become potential in the councils of party chiefs, doing yeoman service for the new party; but none of his warmest admirers for a moment dreamed that this young journalist, speaker and ex-school teacher, who only this year had come from Pennsylvania to Maine to make it his home, was predestined to national and even world wide fame.

In calling this effort his first regular campaign speech I use the term advisedly. It is true that in the Fremont campaign and in the legislature, where he had now served two years, his voice was often heard, but that up to this very "Wide Awake" campaign of '60 Mr. Blaine had spoken in public anything which served to give him special prestige outside his immediate region I cannot believe, hence this particular address, which I heard him deliver in the Bridgeton Town House on the evening of July 6, 1860, marked an epoch in the career of the great Republican chief, which also furnishes an interesting personal and political reminiscence.

I went to the meeting with only languid curiosity, heard, with rapt interest, the whole of the remarkable speech, and like all the rest of the audience, I was spellbound by the speaker. My hands and feet helped swell the demonstrations of approval which at frequent intervals interrupted the current of his eloquence.

In this State campaign of 1860, as in 1856, the eyes of the nation were focused upon Maine, as the "Star in the East," whose September verdict was likely to indicate correctly the general political drift. The Republican candidate for Governor was Hon. Israel Washburn, Jr., one of the famous trinity of brothers who won great distinction as public men. His opponent was Hon. Ephraim K. Smart, Democrat. As a sideshow the "Straight Whigs" nominated Phineas Barnes, who, however, received only 1,735 votes in a total of 124,135, Washburn receiving a little over 70,000 to Smart's 52,350. Unlike several of the preceding Democratic nominees for the Governorship, Mr. Smart was a lightweight as a man, and decidedly weak as a candidate.

Blaine was thoroughly posted as to Smart's weak points, and he made the most of them. This was how his speech opened: "Mr. President and Fellow Citizens: It gives me great pleasure to see so great a gathering of the people here to-night; so many earnest, freedom loving, loyal Republicans; an omen of Republican success so pronounced and so inspiring as to thrill with joy and hope the whole Republican host throughout the length and breadth of our mighty land—from the rock bound bay of Madawaska to the Golden Gate of San Francisco; from the wood fringed shores of Lake Superior to the sun-baked coast of the Gulf of Mexico! (Great applause.)

"My remarks this evening will be devoted principally to a discussion of national and state issues in general, and to the life and sufferings of the Democratic figurehead, Mr. Ephraim K. Smart, in particular. (Laughter.) Now, fellow citizens, I trust that I shall not be deemed sacrilegious—for no sacrifice is intended—if I selection as a basis of my remarks, as a foundation for my humble political sermon, a passage from Holy Writ. The words of my text you will find in Hosea vii., 8, and are as follows: "Ephraim, he hath mixed himself among the people; Ephraim is a cake not turned."

"Yes, fellow citizens, Ephraim is a cake not turned, but I now propose to turn him!" And such a turning! Point after point, saying after saying, deed after deed, marking the ignoble political career of Ephraim K. Smart was taken up by "Preacher" Blaine, dissected by "Doctor" Blaine and satirized by "Speaker" Blaine. And at the end of an hour or more, as an old gray haired "Wide Awake" afterward remarked: "Blaine hadn't left enough of Smart to carry out on a dust pan."

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want. One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This ploum is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am trusted with a certain amount of money advertising these knives (each of value ever seen in America at 10 Dollar each). Now, the knives are own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained ivory handle--genuine African ivory mand with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife. Now, would it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement?

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a tree sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44cts., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

The deposit of 44 cents will be placed to your credit, and will be deducted from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and I absolutely guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs the promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your sample, even if you should lose sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper, who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this place in this paper for three years. The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894: "I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS, ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 138 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DEAR SIR,--I faithfully promise on my and honour to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-cutlery is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamois leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamp which please hold for me until I see you, an order at the dozen rate.

LITERARY NOTES.

Sportsmen will find many seasonable sketches in Outing for April. "A Tiger Hunt," by J. H. Porter; "A Mexican Bullfight," by Phillip W. Avirett; "Ducks shooting in a Crater," by H. D. Couzens; "Rigging and Sails," by Captain Kenealy; "How Greyhounds Hunt," by A. H. Powers; Excellent complete stories, travel sketches, and valuable illustrated editorial and record departments, complete an unusually attractive number.—Oating Publishing Co., N. Y. City.

At a time when there is such general interest in all matters pertaining to the stage, the article on Joseph Jefferson in the April New England Magazine will have a charm few can withstand. Mr. Jefferson himself, his family, his home and his art are treated in a most vivid way by one who speaks with authority, the author, Mr. William E. Bryant of the Boston Journal, being a personal friend of the favorite actor. The illustrations enhance the value of the sketch, many of them being from late photographs, while reproductions of paintings from the actor's own brush are among the number. Warren F. Kellogg, 5 Park Square, Boston, Mass.

The April number of the Overland Monthly is its Spring number, and there are light articles, sketches, and stories in abundance. "Baboos' Pirates," from the hand of the editor, Rouseville Wildman, whose style in these sketches is becoming too well known to need commendation. Verner Z. Reed contributes "Lo-To-Kah and the Golden Woman," another of his close studies of the better side of Indian nature. The more solid articles of the number are "The Jew in San Francisco" by Rabbi G. A. Danziger, from the Hebrew's point of view, and by Mrs. K. M. Nesfield, from the Gentile standpoint.—Overland Pub. Co., San Francisco.

In the immediate future HARPER'S BAZAR will publish elegant dinner gowns from Paris, drawn by SANDOZ, and beautiful wraps will be given to suit the opening of the spring season. Also papers on house-furnishing, from standpoints both artistic and economical; a short series on charities in general, and the favorite charities of certain well-known society women. A few very practical talks on laundry-work may be expected, and one or two articles on gardening.—Harper and Bros., Publishers, New York.

The April number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly contains a beautifully illustrated article, replete with personal interest and of real practical value, entitled "How to Become a Prima Donna." This paper written by W. de Wagstaffe, embodies actual talks with four of the reigning operatic stars of the present season. Other pictorial and literary features of this number are: a biographical sketch of Count Yamagata, the contemporary Japanese Von Moltke, by Teiichi Yamagata, a near relative of the great Field Marshal; "The World Awheel," being a chapter on the evolution of the bicycle and the Rino Bicycle, by Henry Tyrrell; "New York Newsboys," by Kathleen Mathew; and "Taxidermy as an Art," with illustrations by W. H. Drake, written by Frank A. Chapman, of the American Museum of Natural History. There are also a number of good short stories and poems by distinctively popular writers.—Frank Leslie's Publishing House (Department B), 42-44 Bond St., N. Y. City.

The April Century will contain an authoritative article describing the most recent inventions and discoveries of the distinguished electrician, Nikola Tesla. While the magazine is in press Mr. Tesla's laboratory was completely destroyed by fire. The illustrations of this article in The Century made from photographs taken by Mr. Tesla's permission, are now the sole tangible record, thus providentially made, of the more notable of Mr. Tesla's recent achievements. No account of the most important of these inventions has ever before been printed.—The Century Co., New York.

"The Break-up of the English Party System" is the subject of a paper recently issued by the American Academy of Political and Social Science in its series of Publications.

The author is Edward Porritt, formerly an English Journalist and author of "The Englishman at Home." In the present paper, Mr. Porritt discusses one of the most interesting and significant of the features which have developed in English politics since 1885.

One of the results of this development, according to Mr. Porritt, will be that what is known as the Liberal party will cease to be a legislative power. No person interested in politics should fail to read Mr. Porritt's very interesting paper.—American Academy of Political and Social Science, Philadelphia.

Probably no two words in the English language are more misused and abused than "lady" and "woman" and there is much wisdom, therefore, in a popular discussion of the proper usage of the words, such as is given in the April Ladies' Home Journal, by Margaret Sarah Orne Jewett. "The Burning Question of Domestic Service" it treated intelligently and interestingly by the Countess of Aberdeen. Jessie Bartlett Davis, the well-known contralto of the "Bostonians," contributes a valuable article on the "Uses of a Contralto Voice" and Mrs. Burton Harrison speaks of the department of "The Well-Bred Girl Abroad," and her travel requirements; John Kenarick Bangs is irresistibly funny in "The Paradise Club," and Josiah Allen's Wife is pathetically humorous in her new two-part story called "The Earthquake of Eighteen Eighty-Three." This ideal magazine is sold for ten cents a number and one dollar a year by The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia.

THEY WERE FORTUNATE.

Those Who Witnessed the Second Inaugural of Lincoln.

The day of Lincoln's second inauguration, March 4, 1865, was as dark and drizzly as the November day of his second election. When the hour of noon arrived, great crowds of men and women streamed around the capitol building in most wretched plight. The mud in the city of Washington on that day certainly excelled all the other varieties I have ever seen before or since, writes Noah Brooks in the Century, and the greatest test of feminine heroism—the spoiling of their clothes—was amply to the credit of the women who were so bedraggled and drenched on that memorable day. The only entrance to the senate wing, where the preliminary ceremonies were held was by the main or eastern portico, the other entrances being used only by privileged persons.

Col. Forney, the secretary of the senate, read the proclamation of the President convoking an extra session, and called the names of the members elect. Thereupon the newly chosen senators were sworn in, and the procession for the inauguration platform, which had been built on the east front of the capitol as far as the eye could reach, and breaking in waves along its outer edges among the budding foliage of the grounds beyond. When the President and the procession of notables appeared, a tremendous shout, prolonged and loud, arose from the surging ocean of humanity around the capitol building. Then the sergeant-at-arms of the senate, the historic Brown, arose and bowed, with his shining black hat in hand, in dumb-show before the crowd, which thereupon became still, and Abraham Lincoln, rising tall and gaunt among the groups about him, stepped forward and read his inaugural address, which was printed in two broad columns upon a single page of large paper. As he advanced from his seat a roar of applause shook the air, and, again and again repeated, finally died far away in the outer fringe of the throng, like a sweeping wave upon the shore. Just at that moment, the sun which had been obscured all day, burst forth in its unclouded meridian splendor, and flooded the spectacle with glory and with light. Every heart beat quicker at the unexpected omen, and doubtless not a few mentally prayed that so might the darkness which had obscured the past four years be now dissipated by the sun of prosperity.

Till danger's troubled night depart
And the star of peace return.

The inaugural address was received with almost profound silence. Every word was clear and audible as the somewhat shrill and ringing tones of Lincoln's voice sounded over the vast concourse. There was applause, however, at the words, "both parties deprecated war, but one of them would make war rather than let the nation survive, and the other would accept war rather than let it perish;" and the cheer that followed these words lasted long enough to make a considerable pause before he added sentimentally, "and the war came." There were occasionally spurts of applause, too, at other points along this wonderful address.

Looking down into the faces of the people, illuminated by the bright rays of the sun, one could see moist eyes and even tearful cheeks as the good President pronounced these noble words, "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations." Among the memories of a lifetime, doubtless there are none more fondly cherished by those who were so fortunate as to stand near Lincoln at that historic moment than the recollection of the beautiful solemnity, the tender sympathy, of these inspired utterances, and the rapt silence of the thronging multitude.

The Grass Widow.
(From the San Francisco Call.)
According to recent researches the phrase "grass widow" is a corruption of "grace widow," which is a term for one who becomes a widow by grace or favor, not of necessity, as by death. It originated in the earlier days of European civilization, when divorces were but seldom granted, and then only by authority of the church. When such a decree was granted to a woman the rescript stated: "Vidua de gratia," which interpreted is, "widow of grace." A woman receiving such a divorce was commonly called a "grace widow," and the transition to grass widow was easy. This latter term in the United States is applied to a woman whose husband has been away from her for considerable length of time, or who has deserted her. In England it is applied to an unmarried woman who has borne a child.

Bullets in Flight.
In a lecture on the effects of rifles Prof. Horsley of London, having showed some photographs of bullets in flight, demonstrated that in front of every bullet is a parabolic curve of compressed air, while behind it there are a series of little eddies of air rushing into the vacuum created by the flight of the missile.

UGLY ELEPHANTS.

Experience of One Show Manager With the Slate-Colored Pachyderms.

Manager Harris of Nickle Plate show fame, is not one of the circus men who swallow whole the artless tales of the elephant's amiability and docility, of which our juvenile literature is full. "I have been in the circus business since 1853," said the veteran manager the other day, "and in that time I have owned five elephants. It may be that I am free to confess that I have no use for the big, slate-colored pachyderms. My experience with the big elephant I was obliged to have killed in Merrianna last year, was one of my expensive experiences in that direction. I bought the big brute—and it was the largest one in the country—at Springfield, Mo., where he had been kept in a public park for years, petted by the public ridden every day by children, and with a reputation for docility and meekness way up yonder. Nevertheless, that elephant carried about in his unwieldy carcass the avenging spirit of a demon. He had made me trouble from the start and the moment he was landed from the steamer at New Orleans, he started on a jaunt up the street, overturning horse cars, killing horses and demolishing shops. That day's work cost me $800. We hobbled him—hobbled him with big log chains—a 'bracelet' between his fore legs and another on his hind legs. Then we strung another chain between his legs on either side, and completed the job by criss-crossing more chains cornerwise, on him. The next time we took him out of his car was at Pass Christian. The first thing he saw was the tents. That was enough. He made a mad rush, snapping his chains like pipe stems and plunged through the tents, carrying the seats and all before him.

"Well, the end came at Marianna. Scott took him out, and the moment he saw the tents away he went. I made up my mind then to turn my $2,500 elephant into meat. We managed to get him tied up to a tree and shot him. This took place inside the corporate limits, and I didn't know what to do with the carcass. Finally I had a happy thought. I told the sheriff and county clerk that if they would bury the meat they could have the ivory. They jumped at the offer, but I guess it was pretty dear ivory. They kept every dinky in town hard at it until they threw up the job in disgust. Then the two county officials had a happy thought themselves. They had a story to be circulated that the elephant was a ferocious man-eater, who had killed his keeper and swallowed him, with all his belongings, including a gold watch and chain. Then the negroes literally fell pieces. Of course, they found nothing."

Pat Agreed.
A story is told by one of Lord Zetland's party, who were making inquiries into the condition of a distressed district. They were crossing a lake; a gale was blowing and waves were dashing over the boat. The gentleman referred to had been assured that an Irish peasant, if treated well, would always agree with what is said to him rather than appear disagreeable. It struck the gentleman that here was a good chance to put the assertion to his proof. "There is very little wind, Pat," he said to one of the boatmen. "The answer came through the howling of the elements. 'Very little, indeed, yer honor, but thwat there is is mighty strong!'"

Biggest, Best and Wisest.
In speaking of progress in astronomy Prof. J. Norman Lockyer of London said the other day: "I am sorry to say that in this work the center of gravity of the activity has left our country and has gone out west. We have to look to our American cousins for a great deal, that we want to know in these matters, for the reason that now they have not only the biggest telescopes and most skilled observers, but also they have been wiser than we—they have occupied high points on the earth's surface, and thus got rid of the atmospheric difficulties under which we suffer in England, and especially in London."
