KICKED OUT.

PROF. MARK W. HARRINGTON
NO LONGER CHIEF OF THE WEATHER BUREAU.

President Cleveland in the Hands of Spoilsman—While There He Demands Prof. Harrington's Resignation—Trouble Between Sec. Morton and the Professor—The Latter Opposes the Spoils System—This Culminates in His Being Bounced By President Cleveland.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Reports were received from Washington yesterday morning announcing that Prof. Cleveland had removed Prof. Harrington from the head of the Weather Bureau. To those who had faith in President Cleveland's civil service reform ideas, this report came as a great surprise. It has been known, however, by many, that for some time the relations between the Chief of the Weather Bureau and Sec. Morton have been strained. In regard to his removal, Prof. Harrington said when interviewed by an Associated Press Reporter:

"The main reason, I think," he replied, "was the fact that I declined to permit the scientific corps of the bureau to be sacrificed for the benefit of the spoilsman. When a bureau of the sort over which I presided comes under the spoils system it is no longer a desirable billet for first-class men."

"Do you acknowledge that Secretary Morton attempted to fill your office with incompetent men?" was asked the professor.

"I do not care to discuss that question unless the necessity for it should arise," he answered. "You can, however, see," he continued, "that before the bureau was placed under the classified service a number of men unfit for the duties of the office might have received appointments and under the cloak of civil service hold them for a considerable time. This is what I objected to."

"What have you to say as to the charge of extravagant management?"

"Some days ago I had a statement prepared as to the relative cost of conducting the office during its four years as a civil bureau, compared with its cost for ten years as an adjunct to the military establishment. This was prepared because I knew that I was to be removed, as I desired to have the official figures to set against any reports of that kind."

"This statement shows that during the last ten years of the existence of the weather bureau as a branch of the War Department the average annual cost of maintenance was $924,660, while during the four years of civil administration the average cost has been only $849,522."

"Has the work of the office diminished in proportion to the decrease in cost?"

"On the contrary the exact reverse is true. In 1887 the total number of weather maps and crop bulletins issued was 181,500. This was increased to 1,237,000 in 1891, the last year of military supervision. In 1892, the first year of civil administration, we issued 1,860,000 maps and bulletins; this year the total up to last Sunday night was approximately 3,738,000."

ers. The entire county was for the time being at the mercy of outlaws and any marauding bands that might see fit to invade its precincts, as the entire force of deputy sheriffs from every corner of the county were congregated here. Likewise the business of the city was at a stand still, every city official and his professional deputy, if he could find one, being on deck thirsting for blood. The county officials, in their overconfidence, allowed the city to select an umpire. They are not yet through kicking themselves for this act of indecision. The game was called promptly at three p. m. with Condon as umpire. The make up of the two teams was as follows:

COUNTY.

Geo. Vinkle p, J. McCover c, C. Warner 1b, Fred Dansingburg 2b, Frank Leach ss, P. J. Lehman 3b, Ike Davis rf, Martin Wackenhuft cf, John Gerlach lf.

CITY.

Seymore p, Tob Green c, Doc Collins 1b, Lewis 2b, Ryan ss, Spencer 3b, Ferguson lf, Kline cf, Champion 1f.

The city had the first inning and led off with eight runs. They batted the ball all over the field and landed scores just about as they pleased, their antagonists, seeming to be decidedly rattled. The star act of this inning was the home run of Tobias Green, who has developed wonderful running ability in performing his duty as dog catcher. When the deputies for the County came to the bat they were promptly shut out without a single score. In the second inning for the city the tide turned and not a city official nor one of his deputies was allowed a smell of the home base and left the bat without a single score.

In the second inning for the county executives the tide went in their favor with a rush, they succeeding in piling up seven scores. The game now began to get intensely exciting and inning after inning was played with each side making but a score or two. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score stood 13 to 13. The boys had got warmed up to the business and it looked as if neither side would score again and the game would result in a tie. But the city had learned the tricks of the county pitcher and, so the county team claim, got him rattled by rank unpinning, and the game was lost, the city making two runs in this inning. The county officials take their defeat philosophically and are ready to furnish the supper, so they say, when the city officials are ready to show when the appointment of a certain deputy city attorney and city clerk was made and when and who signed the bonds of said deputies. On the other hand the city team declares that it had not been for "professional" deputy sheriffs, they would have whitewashed the county team. Anyhow it was a great game and the stories that will be related to the children of the present generation as to their children's children will be exciting accounts of a great struggle.

EXPENSIVE LAUNDRY BILL

sents a Bill for $1.68—He is Pitched Down Stairs—Sustains a Broken Arm

—Sues for $2,000 Damages—Hadden Spends a Night in Jail—Begins the Practice of Law Very Suddenly After Graduating.

Loses His Temper.

Emanuel Allmendinger does the collecting for the White Laundry on East Liberty st. Last Thursday afternoon he went to the Kappa Sigma fraternity house with a bill for $1.68 against Henry G. Hadden who had just graduated from the law department. The latter was sitting on the porch talking to some ladies. He asked Allmendinger up to his room. While there the two had some dispute which resulted in Hadden seizing the collector and pitching him down stairs. Allmendinger came out of the fracas with a broken arm. He at once swore out a warrant before Justice Gibson for assault and battery. Patrolman Colling was sent after his man and found Hadden out riding with some ladies. The ladies had the pleasure of a walk home and the accused was taken before the justice. His hearing was set for Saturday morning. About half past eleven bonds were secured and Hadden was given his liberty. The next morning Allmendinger instituted a suit for $2,000 damages and Hadden was again placed under arrest and compelled to give a $400 bond to appear and answer in the claim for damages. He did not secure this bond until Saturday morning and as a result spent Friday night behind the bars. Saturday morning he furnished a bond signed by Profs. Thompson, Mecham, Johnson, Bogie and Knowlton. Mr. Hadden jumped into some actual law practice much sooner than was expected. It was not, however, just the sort of practice he anticipated to start out with. The case for assault and battery has already been settled up, and it is more than likely that the claim for damages will also be adjusted and the case dropped.

"DONE UP."

By Only a Narrow Margin, However—An Exciting Game—Professionalism Rampant in the Game—At Least that is What Both Sides Accuse the Other of—The Umpire Scored By the Defeated Side.

Score Stood 13 to 15.

The fever of excitement that has prevailed in sporting circles in and about Ann Arbor for the past two weeks culminated in the great game of ball between the city and county officials on the athletic grounds last Monday afternoon. Soon after dinner, three hours before the game, people began to gather to secure favorable seats. As the hour approached the very atmosphere began to quiver with excitement. The members of the two teams were until the last minute in the hands of their train-

The Council Goes Through Lots of Routine Work Monday Night—A Hodge to Look After the Case of the City vs Michigan Central—$6,967.57 Worth of Bills Allowed—Police Force Allowed a Week's Rest With Pay—The Mayor Given No Such Privilege.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING.

The council was able to meet Monday night, notwithstanding the great struggle in the ball game during the afternoon. Every member except Ald. Prettyman was on hand. A number of petitions relative to various matters were read by the clerk and referred to the proper committees. Patrick O'Hearn was allowed $121.00 for assistance in making out sewer rolls for the Washington and Liberty-st. sewers. The bonds of John O'Brien, as plumber were accepted. A number of street and sidewalk resolutions relative to grades and repairs were passed. The monthly reports of the city officers for the month of June were read by the clerk. The city treasurer reported a balance at time of last report of $23,204.58 and a balance now on hand of $20,134.57. The city clerk's report agreed with that of the city treasurer to a cent. The report of the finance committee was a voluminous affair and showed bills allowed to the total amount of $6,967.57. The large total is due to the water bill which is for six months and amount to $2,865.00. The bills allowed were as follows from the various funds:

Contingent fund.....	$ 544.72
Sewer fund.....	230.19
Street fund.....	H16.92
Bridge, Culvert and Cross-walk fund.....	202.55
Fire fund.....	665.92
Police fund.....	267.00
Poor fund.....	88.76
Water fund.....	2865.00
Cemetery fund.....	3.00
Total	$6284.06

The lighting bill came in later and was allowed. It amounted to $662.51. This and the bill of $121 allowed P. O'Hearn swelled the total to $6,967.57.

Ald. Taylor offered the following resolution:

"In view of the present condition of street fund be it resolved that the board of public works is hereby instructed to do no more general street work unless ordered by the council, excepting such as is absolutely needed for public safety."

This resolution was unanimously adopted, and now the weeds may grow as high as one head on our side streets and in the gutter and no one will molest them. Ald. Maynard offered a resolution that the members of the police force be granted a week's vacation with pay. The resolution was adopted.

International Epworth League Convention at Chattanooga, Tenn., Attracts a Big Attendance—A Sunrise Prayer Service on Historic Lookout Mountain.

Epworth Leaguers at Chattanooga. The second international convention of the Epworth League was held at Chattanooga, Tenn., and was a monster religious demonstration. The conference formally opened in the big tent, which had been dedicated for the purpose, and which had a seating capacity of 10,000; chairs, revisions for 1,000; reserved seats for 500 guests and seats for 100 representatives of the press. The huge tent was crowded at the opening service. Bishop Galloway delivered the conference sermon. A feature never before seen in a meeting of this size was the administration of the Lord's supper to fully 10,000 people. Undoubtedly the most inspiring as well as unique feature of the entire convention was a sunrise prayer service on the top of historic Lookout mountain. About 2,500 enthusiastic young people started for this service at 2 o'clock in the morning and as they moved up the side of the mountain singing and shouting every soul felt the inspiration of the occasion. Great clouds of mist hung over the city and the valley as the pilgrims, representing almost every state of the union and Canada, began their devotions. Rev. George R. Stuart, the celebrated evangelist who assists Sam Jones led the meeting. As he stood and talked of the love of God and of the peace of the gospel of Jesus Christ, every mind ran back to that noted meeting of nearly 1,300 ago. The sermon on the mount was in the hearts of all present. In little time there was a change. The great clouds of mist rolled back, and the gray is turning into the rosy tints of the morn. The worshipers stand as if lost in devotion and adoration. Their hearts are brought close to the God of nature, who is so beautifully and majestically revealing his power to them. They stand silent, and then as there peeps over the distant horizon the first beams of the great king of day, they all, as if moved by a common spirit, break forth with the long meter doxology. "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow." They could stand it no longer. Their pent up feelings became exuberant and old shouts were given and hand shakings were exchanged on all sides. It was a scene never to be forgotten. Every meeting of the convention was crowded through the entire session and it is estimated that fully 15,000 people were in attendance.

Russia and Japan May go to War.

Tacoma, Wash.: If the signs are sure the prospects for another Oriental war are excellent. Capt. Sanderson of the Norwegian steamer Oscar II, which arrived from Vladivostock, Siberia, says that Russia has massed 80,000 men and her Pacific naval squadron at that point, and it is believed there that preparations are being made for an advance on Japan. Russia has been secretly, but actively, at work, and in the event of trouble with Japan is preparing to hurl a formidable naval and land force into the coveted territory which Japan has wrested from China.

The Oscar II carried to Vladivostock a cargo of cement used in constructing the trans-Siberian railroad. Capt. Sanderson says the construction of this road is being rapidly pushed, the czar of Russia having given orders to finish it as quickly as possible. As soon as this line is finished the Russian government intends extending it from Vladivostock south through Manchuria and Korea to an open port on the Yellow sea.

THE farmers of America, who were defeated in 1890 and 1892 by the Free-Trader's cry, "Liverpool fixes the price of wheat," now have painful leisure in which to discern that Liverpool fixes the price in accord with the American demand.

When our factories are running full time and when wages are high the price of wheat is high in Chicago and consequently in Liverpool.

When our factories are not busy and when wages are low the price of wheat is low in Chicago, and consequently in Liverpool.

"The buyer fixes the price" is the rule of trade. No one can sell at a higher price than another is able to give. Chicago is the greatest wheat buyer. It buys for 65,000,000 American people. Liverpool is lesser buyer; it buys for 35,000,000 of Englishmen. Therefore Liverpool does not fix the price. The price is determined in the greater market. Protection makes the greater market brisk; low Tariff makes it dull.—Inter-Ocean.

WE wish to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column concerning opportunities for investment in the famous Pecos Valley in New Mexico. Eastern capitalists have had enough faith in the future of this valley to already invested over $4,000,000 in construction of the greatest reservoirs in the world to supply water for irrigation. The land is very fertile while the climate cannot be surpassed. The water supply is inexhaustable and the cost merely nominal. Then, too, the water supply is wholly under control, something Michigan farmers can especially appreciate. The railroad facilities are unexcelled. This valley is 1200 miles nearer the eastern market than is California. The price of land, now low, will certainly advance in the very near future to many times what it now costs. Similar land in California commands from $100 to $300 per acre. There are thousands of dollars locked up in Ann Arbor bringing but little income. If it were invested in land in the Pecos Valley it would double in a few years. The fact that shrewd capitalists have invested millions there is a pretty sure indication that the place has a great future before it.

SOME people, most all in fact, seem to be obliged to indulge in some sort of dissipation. The habit of smoking is by no means one of the worst. To some people, however, it is offensive. There who are delicate, run-down, or overworked, and those who suffer from backache, headache, dragging-down sensations in the abdomen, and many other symptoms of derangement of the female functions can find renewed strength and health by taking Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription. For the pains and aches, the periods of melancholy and sleeplessness—nothing can do you so much permanent good as this vegetable compound. You save the doctor's fee, as well as your modesty, by purchasing this "Prescription" of Dr. R. E. Price (the consulting physician and specialist to the Imperial Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.) made a specialty of the diseases of women, and from his large experience he was able to compound a "Prescription" which acted directly upon the special internal parts of women. When in doubt as to your ailment write him, it will cost you nothing. A Book, on "Woman and Her Diseases," published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., is of interest to all women. It will be sent for ten cents in stamp.

When women are afflicted with nervousness, irritability, nervous prostration or exhaustion and sleeplessness, in nine cases out of ten the source of the trouble is some displacement, irregularity or derangement of the special internal parts. Dr. Price's Prescription cures permanently such cases as well as that distressing internal discharge from the mucous membrane, inflammation and ulceration.

Brooklyn, Jackson Co., Mich.
Gentlemen—I am more than willing to say your special valuable medicine has cured me of female troubles, and a number of others, from the sensitive membranes of the special parts. I suffered for years with pain in my back, never a night was I free. At your request I commend myself with Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription. I could not afford a man's price, so though it would kill me, still taking the medicine I can sleep anywhere. Since taking the prescription for any money. Gratefully yours.

"Does his celestial majesty want something written about the settlement of the war with Japan?" asked the Chinese poet laureate.

"No," said Li Hung Chang, thoughtfully. "I'm sorry to cut you out of a job, but I wouldn't suggest it. Put them among the currants."

For example," continued his employer, "when you pick the flies out of the sugar, don't throw them away. Put them among the currants."

Importance for Ladies.

Free Hats and Bonnets July 5 to 15.

No Hat or Bonnet sent out untrimmed.

25 cents for trimming. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hendricks, 50 S. Main-st., successors to C. Kingsley.

The five million Christian voters in the United States, only two per cent vote against the liquor traffic. The other eighty-eight per cent vote the same ticket the saloon keeper does, or put their hands on their mouths and vote silence, which means the same. All the saloon keeper asks is to be let alone is no gentleman who smokes but who realizes this, and who will not therefore indulge his love for the weed in the presence of those who do not use it. Nor will a gentleman go so far even as to ask the permission of ladies to smoke in their presence, and thus, in a measure, compel them to acquiesce rather than seem inconsiderate, even when smoking is decidedly disagreeable to them. Not a few people were deeply chagrined at the conduct of a large number of those who attended the banquet of the Alumni association last week. What lady was willing to rise in her place on that occasion and enter a protest against smoking there when it had been proposed by such a man as ex-senator Thomas Palmer, even if the senator in doing so did sacrifice his self respect? People naturally expect at a gathering of university graduates that besides brilliancy in speech making some of the simplest rules of polite society will be observed. Unfortunately such was not the case on this occasion. Be it said to the credit of the society, however, that, after having time to come to its senses, it adopted by a good majority, a resolution not to allow smoking at the future banquets of the association. We are indeed glad that on such occasions in the future the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan will be free from such scenes, even if it is necessary to pass resolutions to compel some of our great men to act the part of gentlemen.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

The Michigan Central railroad had a serious freight wreck at Dexter last Saturday night. A long freight from Chelsea broke in two and separated just west of Dexter. When the first section stopped at Dexter, the rear portion, due to the down grade, smashed into the first part and badly wrecked thirteen cars. The loss will amount to at least $10,000.

The Campbell family, and there is a number of them in this county, met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lambie, at Ypsilanti, last Saturday night to celebrate the 70th birthday of Mrs. Lambie. She is the oldest sister of the Campbell brothers and came to this country from Scotland over 50 years ago. A bountiful repast was served and a very enjoyable time was had.

Some months ago a dental student by the name of Repsing had several hundred dollars worth of instruments stolen. Later, suspicion seemed to point towards another dental student by the name of Burkall. The former swore out a search warrant and had Burkall's room searched but nothing was found. Now Burkall brings suit against Repsing and Marshall Peterson for $10,000 damages.

The following honorary degrees were granted by the University last Thursday: Master of Laws, R. H. McDermid, '80 president of the Chicago Alumni Association; Master of Arts, Major W. C. The 692 degrees conferred last Thursday were divided among the different departments as follows: Bachelor of Letters 43, Bachelor of Science, Biology 7, Chemistry 4, Electrical Engineering 16, Mechanical Engineering 11, Civil Engineering 20, Science 17, Bachelor of Philosophy 53, Bachelor of Arts, 63, Electrical Engineering 1, Master of Letters 3, Master of Science 8, Master of Philosophy 3, Master of Arts 6 Doctor of Philosophy 1. Doctor of Medicine 64, Bachelor of Laws 296, Master of Laws 9, Homeopathic College—Doctor of Medicine 1, Doctor of Dental Surgery 45, Doctor of Dental Science 2, Pharmaceutical Chemistry, 19.

S. M. Darling, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who last week completed a course in Shorthand at the Stenographic Institute, received a dispatch from Chicago the day he completed his work to come at once to take a position. Mr. Darling began the course about the middle of January and thoroughly fitted himself for stenographic work. He is to receive $50.00 the first month while he is familiarizing himself with the business. After that he is to receive a substantial raise. Thus far during the past year the calls upon this school for first-class stenographers to fill good positions has been much larger than the school has been able to supply.

Looking After the Trifles.

"It is only by looking closely after the trifles that a profit can be made in these days of close competition," said the grocer to his new assistant.

"Yes, sir, I understand," replied the boy.

W. C. T. U.

For God, and Home and Native Land.
Edited by Mrs. A. E. Van Valkenburg, Press Superintendent.

W. C. T. U. meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at McMillan Hall.

John G. Worthley is to speak at the great Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Boston, July 10 to 14, 1895. Mr. Worthley's meeting is to be held in "Tent Endeavor," on Boston common, July 11, at 7:30 p.m., subject "Christian Endeavor versus Saloons." "Tent Endeavor" holds ten thousand people. All temperance workers who may attend this great convention should be present at this meeting, and thus rally to the support of "Our Champion" for right against wrong—"The Church against the Saloon."

EFFECT OF "TEMPERANCE DRINKS"

A gentleman who had a good deal of night work to do was in the habit of taking various bottled "temperance" drinks with his lunch. His wife noticed that in the morning he would be cross and petulant with the children, but supposed it was caused by tired and over-wrought nerves, until one night she said to her, "Don't give me any more of those bottled drinks! Why," she exclaimed, a new case has just been sent home! What shall we do with it if you are not going to drink any more?" "Throw it all away," he replied, "and don't let the children have any, for I find that they have a bad effect on me. They rouse a thirst for something stronger, and I have formed a habit of following them up with larger beer. This makes me nervous and cross, and I expect I will be crosser than ever in the morning, but my eyes are open, and I will not take that that injures my nerves and weakens my system."

WORLD'S W. C. T. U.

The third biennial convention of the World's Christian Temperance Union opened in Queen's Hall, in London, at 9:30 a.m., June 19, with a prayer meeting led by Mrs. Charles Archibald, president of the Maritime Provinces W. C. T. U. of Canada.

At 10 a.m. the convention was called to order by the president, Miss Frances Willard. The roll-call of official members followed, and then came the appointment of committees on credentials, courtesies, finance and resolutions. Then followed the report of the executive committee, the address of welcome by Lady Henry Somerset, president of the British Woman's Temperance Association, and the singing of "These are bands of ribbon white" by the white-ribbon choir of five hundred voices.

Miss Frances E. Willard then addressed the meeting.

The reports of the different superintendents were delivered, and at midday there were prayers led by Mrs. Elizabeth Selmer, president of the Denmark W. C. T. U. of Copenhagen. The prayers were followed by a memorial service in honor of "Our Promoted Comrades," the memorial address being delivered by Miss Frances Willard.

Later, the report of Miss Alice Gulick, of San Sebastian, Spain, was presented. A cable dispatch from London, reports over two hundred pupils of the great metropolis filled by white-ribboners June 16th, and engagements for over three hundred for June 23rd.

Michigan has 419 W. C. T. U. local unions with a membership of 7217; 314 Y's and 176 Loyal Temperance Legions with a membership of 3493.

Michigan has passed a law fixing a heavy penalty upon railroad companies for the employment of persons addicted to the use of intoxicants.

The amount of New England rum sent from the port of Boston to Africa has decreased in two years from 1,025,226 gallons to 561,265.

the corner stone of Lathrop Chapel, a part of Fisk Memorial Hall, was laid with appropriate ceremonies June 22, at Hixson, Tenn., in connection with the commencement exercises of the American Temperance University.

A friend of purity warns against the wandering phonograph operator who has cylinders containing obscene stories and songs which are ground out into the ears of our boys when occasion of such corrupting entertainment is offered.

In a recent table made from personal investigation it was found that fifty-five per cent of boys between the ages of ten and twenty-one used tobacco, thirty per cent used liquor and forty-three per cent used profane, vulgar or indecent language.

The watchman, of Boston, merits great praise for its enterprise in securing the advance sheets of Miss Willard's address at the London Convention. Such interest on the part of other religious weeklies in spreading temperance news would be an inestimable benefit to this reform of reforms.

Count Goetzen, who led a German expedition in 1893 across Equatorial Africa, testifies that, "Owing to strict temperance and a regular mode of living, the health of Europeans who took part in the expedition was from beginning to end excellent."

Of the five million Christian voters in the United States, only two per cent vote against the liquor traffic. The other eighty-eight per cent vote the same ticket the saloon keeper does, or put their hands on their mouths and vote silence, which means the same. All the saloon keeper asks is to be let alone

J. G. NORLLEY.

J. G. Norlley, a young man of our acquaintance passed through many temptations in town and city, in college and university, and never formed the drinking habit. The secret of his safety lay in the fact that he was taught from his earliest years, not only temperance principles, but to hate liquor in every shape. The power of early education is great, and is an important factor in the temperance reform.

The subject of alcoholism received considerable discussion this year at the meeting of the Indiana Medical Association in the reports of the committee appointed last year to investigate the effects of alcohol on the body in health and disease. Drs. Fletcher, Fairfield, Stemen, Symthe and Hall expressed the belief that "The State owes it to her citizens to place all intoxicating beverages beyond the reach of the multitude by abolishing saloons and whisky drug stores."

LAWN FESTIVAL.

Today the members of the W. C. T. U. hope to see a large number of their friend at the lawn festival which they give at the home of their president Mrs. Jennie Vorhees, 38 S. Division-st. corner of Williams. Refreshments will be served from six to ten o'clock. The object of this festival is to raise some much needed funds with which to carry on some lines of temperance work in our city, especially among the children. This is a department of W. C. T. U. work from which most hopeful results have been realized in many places, and which appeals strongly to the hearts of intelligent lovers of the temperance cause. The society urgently invite you to be present at this festival and thus celebrate your nation's anniversary in a most fitting manner.

Adrian Press Clippings.

James L. Gilbert, Chelsea, is happy in his appointment as deputy oil inspector.

Snatching. Dr. Merrick, of this city, now old and full of days and well up to the "90" mark, but still as supple of limb as a kid, was a passenger on the first train that ever pulled over the road. The city of classics and abolished degrees may exhibit its tyrotoxicon, its nucleone and the stone surgical instruments of its still mere savage age, but needn't expect to down Adrian in the matter of that old railroad. Martin Clark, sit down!

George Meyers, a Pittsfield man, has just undertaken the toughest kind of a contract. He has given $200 bond to keep the peace for a year. If he can do it he is a remarkable Pittsfielder.

The fellow called Smith who worked the forged check racket, has bought a hat "to surprise his sister" in nearly all the millinery stores in Southern Michigan. He reached Ann Arbor and did a fine business last week. It might not surprise his "sister" if he should get into jail some day, on her account.

Medicines are poor crutches. The only safety is to use food and drink that the Creator intended for man, and when this is done the sick spells gradually disappear.

Common sense is quite uncommon, except with those who give themselves a shaking now and then and look plainly at what they are doing. If a person knows coffee don't hurt him, let him stick to it until it does, that such people thoroughly appreciate Postum Cereal. Grocers and druggists testify to large sales and the steady use of those who once try it, is evidence of its taking ways.

COMMON PLAIN FOOD.

IT IS BEST FOR CHILDREN OR ADULTS.

Natural grains, meat and fruit will make good blood if the digestive machinery of the body is not interfered with.

The blood when first made goes into arteries and is of a bright red color. After it has been used some in supplying the body, it is carried into the veins and is there a dark red or purple color. Blood contains the elements to nourish and build up the body, such as soda, lime, albumen etc., etc.

When the powers of the stomach and the bowels are reduced by lack of vitality or by putting coffee and tea into the stomach the processes which nature goes through with to change the food into rich, red blood are seriously interfered with.

If a man could see what a "wet blanket" he put over his hard working friend, the stomach, by putting in coffee, whisky or tobacco, when it was honestly toiling away to do its work well, he would never repeat the outrage and injustice.

It is like striking your friend a vicious blow when he is delving away for you with might and main. Don't do it. One feels more respect for himself when he acts the man and permits no form of abuse to strangle and spoil the beautiful work being done for him in the human body. No sort of fun on earth is equal to the fun of being perfectly well.

If one wants a pungent, piquant, hot drink for breakfast, lunch or dinner, it can be had in Postum Cereal, the food drink. It is made wholly of grains. It can be truly said, "It makes red blood." It brews the deep seal brown color of Mocha; it creams to the rich golden brown of Java, and has an aroma and taste that makes a man thankful that someone has at last made a combination of the grains that gives such a delicious hot drink that one can readily leave off the coffee which has been hurting more than one likes to think of.

Medicines are poor crutches. The only safety is to use food and drink that the Creator intended for man, and when this is done the sick spells gradually disappear.

Common sense is quite uncommon, except with those who give themselves a shaking now and then and look plainly at what they are doing. IF THE LEGISLATURE WILL NOT WE WILL DO IT ANYHOW

The Legislature Would Not Help a Hospital for Consumptives—However, It Will Be a Go—At Least That is the Purport of a Recently Issued Circular—It Has Been Scattered Broadcast Over the State—It Reads As Follows:

"Ann Arbor, as a prominent educational and medical centre, has long felt the need of a modern Sanitarium for the scientific treatment of such acute and chronic diseases as require special appliances not easily obtainable in a private home. To meet this need, it has been decided to open such an establishment at Ann Arbor, Michigan, October the first, eighteen hundred and ninety-five. A separate home for the treatment of persons suffering from pulmonary consumption and other forms of tuberculous disease, under the care and control of Prof. V. C. Vaughan, of the University of Michigan, will be an important feature of the enterprise. A student's department will receive special attention. Here the young man or woman far from friends and home, suffering from sickness or exhaustion, may find kindness and sympathy; the best medical advice, and skillful nursing. A liberal menu of the best variety and quality will be provided the cuisine to be directed by the medical faculty, and where advisable a carefully prepared diet card will be issued with explicit directions as to what should be eaten."

"We are receiving enthusiastic encouragement from many sources. We hope to reach every man, woman, and child in the State of Michigan, and many more in the sister states, and interest them in the work."

"We appeal to every student in our great and world renowned University of Michigan to aid us in this worthy enterprise. The ladies of Ann Arbor are responding nobly in the way of furnishing the home, by contributions of souvenirs."

"While you are enjoying your vacation please give our enterprise a dollar's worth of effort, and when you come back in the fall gladden our hearts with the fruits of that effort."

"Constitute yourself an agent in this good work by asking a few friends to contribute ten cents or more if they feel so inclined. Ask your lady friends for souvenirs, anything that will be useful or ornamental in the home. Ask the little children to give you a nickel and their photographs or autographs, which we will place in our picture gallery as memorials of infantile generosity."

SIX FIREMEN KILLED.

Walls of a Large Burning Building Fall Upon Them—Property Loss $200,000.

The most disastrous fire which ever visited Minneapolis accomplished its work of destruction and death. Within an hour after the alarm rang six firemen gave their lives for their faithfulness in trying to save the property of others. Several others were seriously injured. They were caught under falling walls. The property loss consisted of the entire demolition of the building occupied by McDonald Bros., dealers in crockery, chinaware, glassware, silverware and gas fixtures. The building was of four stories, brick walls and wood interior frame work, and was well stocked. The total loss will aggregate about $200,000.

Prof. Huxley Dead.

Prof. Thomas Huxley, the eminent scientist, died at his home in London.

Prof. Thomas Henry Huxley was born at Ealing, Middlesex, England, in 1825, studied medicine at the Charing Cross Hospital, and in 1846 entered the navy as surgeon. In 1851 he was elected to the Royal Society, and in the next year received one of the two gold medals annually bestowed by the society for distinguished scientific achievements. Since then every year has seen valuable contributions to the literature of science from his pen; he held important lectureships, and had given many public lectures throughout the world over. Among the offices that he has held are those of professor in the royal school of mines, where he delivered, beside the ordinary series of scientific lectures, a practical and popular series of lectures to workingmen; member of the London school board for many years; professor of anatomy to the royal college of surgeons; and in 1871 lord rector of Aberdeen university.

Ex-Peixoto is Dead.

Ex-President Peixoto of the republic of Brazil died at Rio de Janeiro.

General Floriano Peixoto was born on April 29, 1849, in the state of Alagoas, Brazil. He was chiefly distinguished for the suppression of the revolution which broke out in Brazil in the summer of 1889. Upon the return of Admiral De Mello and Admiral De Guia from the naval review at New York, 1889, he formed a breakaway from the party of Peixoto and indirectly uniting with the insurgents in the province of Rio Grande do Sul, succeeded in organizing a rebellion formidable in its aspects. After a number of sharp contests in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro, General Peixoto and his forces were victorious, and by stamping out the revolt, through desultory fighting has been kept up on both sides ever since. Peixoto was succeeded in office by Senor Prudente de Moraes. Since the election of President Moraes, ill-health has prevented ex-President Peixoto, who declined renomination from taking an active part in political and military affairs.

Her cost will be about $225,000. In her construction 2,000 tons of steel were used and in all about 700,000 rivets were driven. REVIEW OF TRADE.

Dun's says: Business is better, although the crop outlook affecting prospects beyond the near future, is a little less distinct. There are more grounds for doubt about winter wheat and cotton than winter grain, and the receipts are comparatively low, though the prospects for spring wheat are exceedingly good. The price is beyond mistake too low, though the latest impressions of injury to winter wheat are removed. The decline in pork is steady. Cotton has fallen in spite of exports of serious injury by rains in Texas and Louisiana. A little buying by northern spinners surprises the market, for their takings have been more than enough to meet the year's consumption and returns show a great increase in the imports of cotton goods. Speculation has even spread to the wool market, and with an advance of about one cent in prices. A growing belief that the domestic clip is short and an idea that the Latin American supply will show higher prices have been much potent factors in the manufacturing demands and the price has risen at all markets. Failures the past week were 2 1/2% in the United States against 2 1/2% the same week last year.

HAVE YOU A Few Hundred Dollars To Invest. Do you want to DOUBLE IT IN THREE YEARS Or Even Better.

THE ONE PLACE TO DO IT

Is in the

FAIRMOS PECOS VALLEY IN NEW MEXICO.

Four years ago a company was formed to construct dams to hold water for use in irrigating the land along the Pecos Valley. This company has the LARGEST RESERVOIRS IN THE WORLD.

The land along the valley, with plenty of water for irrigation, is the richest land in the country. For the purpose of raising Peaches, Pears, Apples, Grapes, Plums, Apricots, it is equal to any section in California. The cost of land is Surprisingly Low, while the water tax is merely nominal. There can be no question that in the next three or four years land in this valley will increase, from three to five times what it can now be secured for. The company that has constructed these great reservoirs are anxious to place the land with actual settlers and are using every legitimate means to induce farmers to remove to so inviting a field. Great numbers have already gone. Thousands more will be sure to follow soon. This place has

A WONDERFUL FUTURE

And will make fortunes to those who will take the trouble to look into the matter and make an investment now while the land is cheap.

"Amateur musicians often are somewhat embarrassed by the unexpected query as to what key a piece of music is in when playing in company," remarked a well-known music theorist. "They can tell on a little reflection, but an array of four or five sharps or flats is apt to temporarily confuse the best of them.

"Here is a simple little guide or reminder, which, if rehearsed a few times, will always keep them right and ready to make a quick response to such a question:

"In sharps just dot down this sentence, the capital letter beginning each word representing an additional sharp, from one to six: 'God Deluged All Earth By Flood.' In flats the same rule obtains in connection with this amusing line: 'Fanny Baker Eats Apple Dumplings Greedily.'

Wine Jelly is a Moth-Ball.

Now that the lingering smell of the resurrected moth-ball is abroad in the land again, you will appreciate this little tale of misfortune. A girl I know and another girl whom I have met gave a luncheon not long ago. They are really marvels when it comes to cooking, and they prepared every dish themselves. Among other things they had wine jelly, and, as everybody knows, wine jelly is best when strained through flannel. They strained theirs through flannel—a piece of flannel they found in a chest of winter clothing. The luncheon began auspiciously and proceeded triumphantly till the jelly came on. One girl tasted it. Then she looked at the other girl and a look of horror crossed their faces. The jelly tasted of moth-balls. I don't believe those girls will make jelly again if they live forever.

Fate of the Man Elocutionist.

The college men who are paying so much attention to oratorical associations are making a mistake. Oratory is simply elocution, and elocution has ruined many a man who might have made an honest living. As soon as a man learns to recite pieces at amateur entertainments it is about as good as settled that he will become a reformer or a walking delegate or something else worthless. Elocution leads to public speaking and as a rule public speaking leads to anarchy, loafing and ruin.

DR. HARTMAN'S TREATMENT.

HOW IT HAPPENS THAT EVERY WOMAN IN THE UNITED STATES CAN OBTAIN TREATMENT FREE.

The question is often asked, How can Dr. Hartman afford to direct the treatment of so many women without charging anything? As was announced two months ago, the Doctor proposes to direct the treatment (absolutely free) of all women afflicted with any kind of female derangement who apply to him by letter. The question is, How can such a renowned physician and surgeon afford to do this?

This is the way it is done: The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company is the sole manufacturers of Dr. Hartman's famous remedies, extensively used in all parts of the United States. This Company receives thousands of letters from women who are using these remedies, asking for some detail of treatment. Many of these questions are such that only Dr. Hartman could answer them. They therefore conclude to secure Dr. Hartman to direct the treatment of these patients. This brings the personal advice of Dr. Hartman within the reach of every afflicted woman in the United States, free. As the Company manufactures Dr. Hartman's remedies, they are thus able to bear the enormous expense of providing every woman with free advice. Send address, age, symptoms, duration of sickness to Dr. Hartman, and a prompt answer will be given. A valuable pamphlet devoted to diseases of the female sex is now being sent free to any address by the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio.

RISKED LIFE AND MONEY.

THRILLING STORY OF FEAR AND TREPIDATION.

A little dried-up man, whose nationality was imprinted plainly on his face, walked into the First National bank the other day, gazed furtively about, hesitated in his every movement, says the Chicago Tribune. Then he as quickly and unostentatiously left the great room, his hand shoved deep into his trousers pocket. A few minutes later he reappeared, determination written in every deepline of his rugged face, though his manner did not lack hesitation. He stared about him until he espied a line of patrons making deposits at the receiving teller's window, and at the foot of the line he took his place. As one after another of the customers made his deposit the little old fellow drew nearer and nearer to the window and at each advance his uneasiness increased and his courage departed. When almost to the goal he turned abruptly, wagged his head in a depreciatory sort of way and again took a place at the tail end of the line he had climbed up so patiently. A second time he approached the window by slow degrees and a second time he turned away when his hopes were about to be realized. The third time he tolled up that ever-varying line and now it was apparent that this time he would do or die. Only two men stood between him and the teller and he shifted restlessly from one foot to another. Only one man now kept him from the counter and his agitation increased. That one man turned away. The little old man's time had come at last! He jerked his hand from his pocket and with it a huge roll of greasy and oft-fingered bills. He dashed the money down in front of the puzzled teller and in a voice husky with emotion, excitement, and suppressed nervousness exclaimed loud enough to be heard 100 feet away: "I want t' jine the bank!"

He wanted to open an account, and one interposed an objection.

THINGS OF THE PAST WITH MANY HAPPY MORTALS ARE THE TORTURES OF HEADACHES AND NEURALGIA WHICH IN SOME INSTANCES HAVE ENDURED SINCE CHILDHOOD.

Their better state, their rescue from affliction is due entirely to the curative powers of Gessler's Magic Headache Wafers. The record of this great remedy is unsurpassed. They are a specific for all headaches and neuralgia. The wisest physicians use and prescribe them. The remedy is built up by guarantees as to its wholesomeness and its positive healing efficiency. They are guaranteed by John Moore.

TRY SOMETHING ELSE BEIDES PEANUTS NEXT TIME YOU GO TO THE CIRCUS.

If there is anything in the world that an elephant loves better than a peanut it is an orange, and if any boy who reads this wishes, when he goes to the circus, to give the massive creature an especial treat, instead of paying 5 cents for a bag of peanuts to put in the elephant's trunk, let him purchase for the same money one good-sized orange and present it to the small-eyed, flat-eared monster. A number of years ago, in a book which was called "Leaves from the Life of a Special Correspondent," Mr. O'Shea, the author of the book, gave the following description of an adventure he had with a herd of elephants. He said: "A young friend asked me once to show him some elephants, and I took him along with me, having first borrowed an apron filled with oranges. This he was to carry while accompanying me in the stable, but the moment we reached the door the herd set up such a trumpeting—they had scented the fruit—that he dropped the apron and its contents and scuttled off like a scared rabbit. There were eight elephants, and when I picked up the oranges I found I had twenty-five. I walked deliberately along the line, giving one to each. When I got to the extremity of the narrow stable I turned and was about to begin distribution again, when I suddenly reflected that if elephant No. 7 in the row saw me give two oranges in succession to No. 8 he might imagine he was being cheated and give

WON A WIFE BY BRAVERY.

Romantic Adventure in Japan of a San Francisco Sailor.

Charles Litner is one of the luckiest sailors that ever sailed out of this port on a sealing schooner. He is going to be married to one of the prettiest girls in Japan. Not only is she very pretty, but her parents are very wealthy, according to the story told by C. Burdell, says the San Francisco Examiner. Burdell came up on the steamer Coptic last week. Speaking of young Litner, he said: "Charlie is the son of Sebastian Litner, laborer, who lives out on Nineteenth avenue. He is an athletic young fellow and has always had an ambition to see the world. That's why he shipped on the schooner Jane Grey and went roving over the seas in search of seals and adventure. While at Hakodote, Japan, a few months ago Litner happened to be on one of the chief thoroughfares one afternoon when a spirited pony ran away with a Japanese girl, Miss Siena Kato. Litner saved the girl's life by springing in front of the runaway and striking the pony a stunning blow on the head with a club. The act was regarded as one of rare bravery, and before we left Japan it was announced that Litner was engaged to marry Miss Kato. He was hurt in the accident and was first taken to a hospital, but was afterward removed to the young lady's residence at the request of her parents. The marriage ceremony was to have taken place two weeks after we sailed. They are probably married by this time."

THE KEYSTONE OF THE ARCH.

In the edifice of health is vigor, which means not merely muscular energy, but an active discharge of the various functions of the body, such as digestion, secretion of the bile, the action of the bowels, the circulation of the blood.

Nothing more actively and thoroughly contributes to the united performance of these functions than the renowned tonic and regulator, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The result of its use is a speedy gain in strength, together with the agreeable consciousness that the tenure of life is being strengthened—that one is laying up a store of vitality against the unavoidable draughts which old age makes upon the system.

The fortifying influence of the Bitters constitute it a reliable safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble. Appetite and sleep improve through its use, and it protects the system from the effects of cold and damp.

PUT SCIENCE TO NEW USE.

Erudite Commission Now Selecting a Site for Rio Janeiro.

Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Brazil, has a notoriously bad climate. It is a fastness of yellow fever and subtle tropical ailments, and the death rate is so alarmingly high as to seriously affect the commercial prosperity of the city.

Some time ago the Brazilian government took in hand the question of removing their capital and appointed a scientific commission to fix a site, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The commission have selected a plateau which should be a real land of promise to the transmigrants from the coast.

The spot is between the parallels of 15 degrees 40 minutes and 16 degrees 8 seconds south, and the meridians of 49 degrees 30 minutes and 51 degrees west.

It is over 4,000 feet above the level of the sea and its temperature resembles that of middle France. There is plenty of water for agriculture and no yellow fever.

The journey by railway from the coast is a matter of some eighteen hours. This is believed to be the first occasion on record in which science has been called in to choose the site of a capital.

WASHINGTON.

Short Sketch About the Father of the Republic.

It fell to Washington to establish precedents for the social procedure of his successors as president, which he did, in the main wisely, simply, and well. He resolved, and so announced, that the president ought not to be expected to make or return social calls. Instead, he established the custom of a public reception. This was given every Tuesday afternoon. Washington wore on these occasions "his hair powdered, gathered behind in a silk bag." His coat and breeches were of plain black velvet. He wore a white or pearl-colored vest and yellow gloves, and had a cocked hat in his hand. He had silver knee and shoe buckles, and a long sword with a finely wrought and glistening steel hilt.

Washington never shook hands with his guests, as is the rule nowadays, but bowed to them with dignity. Dignity was, indeed, the rule of the day. The senate sat always behind closed doors. Both senators and representatives were richly dressed and wore powdered hair, and every reception was as picturesque as the very best modern "bal poudre" ever seen.

Mrs. Washington's receptions were held on Friday evenings, and at these the president appeared without hat or sword, and comported himself simply as one of his wife's guests with less formality of manner than at the official reception. The Friday receptions were held in the evening, but did not last until a late hour. If guests remained past the hour Mrs. Washington would remind them that "the general retires at 9, and I usually precede him." The Friday evening guests were seated and tea and coffee were handed round with plain and plum cake.

At the public dinners, given weekly, there was no ostentation of rich fare. One such meal is described as "boiled leg of mutton, with a few vegetables. After a simple dessert one glass of wine was offered each guest."

COLORS AMONG FLOWERS.

Botanists Say All Flowers Were Once Yellow.

Yellow and white. Botanists are agreed that the earliest petals were yellow, and that, originally, all flowers were of that color. The order of development of color in flowers appears to be yellow, pink, red, purple, lilac, up to deep blue—probably the highest level—while white may occur in any normally colored flower, just as albinos are found among animals. As flowers become more specialized they become more dependent upon the visits of special insects, purple and blue flowers, for instance, benefitting most from and being most preferred by bees and butterflies. A French authority states that about 4,200 species of plants are utilized for various purposes in Europe. Of these only about one-tenth have an agreeable perfume, the others being either inodorous or having an unpleasant smell. White flowers are the most numerous. One thousand one hundred and twenty-four species out of 4,200 are white, and 187 of these have a scent; 931 (77 perfumed) are yellow; next in order comes red, with 823, of which 84 give forth perfume; then blue, 594 (34 scented), and violet, 308, only 13 of which have any perfume. The remaining 400 kinds are of various shades of color, and only 28 of them have a pleasant smell.—Boston Standard.

The blow gun is one of the most remarkable savage devices in which compressed air is used as a motive force. The blow gun is a simple tube of cane, smoothly cleared of the joint partitions, through which light darts, feathered with a tuft of down or pieces of pitch, are propelled by the breath. The blow gun is used for killing birds and small animals. Frequently the arrows are poisoned, rendering the light dart effective on larger game. The chief merit of the blow gun is its accuracy and the silence with which it may be employed. The penetration of the blow gun dart is greater than would be imagined. At the distance of fifty feet I have driven a blunt dart one-quarter of an inch into a pine plank. It is stated that the range of the blow gun among some tribes is from eighty to 100 yards. The blow gun is a tropical device and may be looked for in regions where bamboo or cane grows. Nevertheless, these tubes are often made of hard wood, single or of two pieces hollowed out and joined together. Frequently one tube is thrust inside another to secure rigidity. The combination of many of these blow guns creates a great respect for the ingenuity and mechanical skill of the workers. The North American specimens are from the Chetimachas of Louisiana, who frequently combine the tubes in series, forming a compound blow gun, and the Cherokees of the Carolinas. From Central America, the Indians of Honduras and Costa Rica; from South America, several Amazon tribes from Ecuador east and from British Guiana employ the blow gun.

THE CODLISH SENT TO THE REAR.

The historic codlith was distinctly snubbed Monday. Mr. Irwin of Northampton raised a point of order that the house having ordered the emblem of the codlith to be placed over the speaker's chair the order of Mr. Roe of Worcester to provide for its being placed in the rear of the hall was out of order.

The speaker ruled that the point was not well taken, inasmuch as the hall had a just right to order changes in such matters as frequently as it saw fit. Mr. Roe said that it is intended to place a painting in the panel over the speaker's chair and that the codlith, if hung as originally intended, would be incongruous and out of place. The order was almost unanimously adopted, and the fish will now be hung in the rear of the hall—unless the house changes its mind again.

BUTLER FULL OF WAR.

Says He Would Like to Lead an Army Against Canada.

Before departing for his southern home and while talking to a group of reporters Senator M. C. Butler of South Carolina, in a manner deeply impressive, while discussing the relations between the United States and Great Britain with reference to the Corinto affair, said: "I have no criticism to put upon our government in that affair. It was the advice of Washington that we have no entangling alliances. But I tell you what I would like to have seen. Just as the British were sailing into that harbor I should like to have seen some of our fine warships hovering along that coast. Those things happen, don't you know, and you can't tell just how. But three or four fine ships happening along there about that time—well, of course they would naturally be interested in seeing what the Britishers were up to in landing marines, and maybe there would have been a little pleasure party of American marines sent ashore to get a fresh supply of fruits. England does not want to have a war with us. We are too valuable to her commercially. And yet in her eagerness and greed she may get into it. I would not want anything better than to lead 10,000 men into Canada. It would please my old heart unmeasurably to assist in snatching that country from Great Britain and attach it to ours. We may do it, too. Who knows?"

LITERARY NOTES.

The June Arena comes as usual full of piquant discussion of alive and up-to-date questions of interest. A very forcible and striking paper, raising a somewhat peculiar question, is B. O. Flower's trenchant criticism of certain features of the marriage laws, which he claims foster prostitution within the marriage relation. Emil Richter considers certain phases of the industrial problem presented in the Brooklyn trolley strike. Prof. Frank Parsons of the Boston University Law School contributes a very valuable study of the lighting of cities, called "The People's Lamps," in which he makes a strong argument for municipalization of the electric light service on the grounds of economy. "An American Girl," who says she has studied art for two years in Paris, asks the question, "Shall Our Young Men Study in Paris," and concludes that the moral atmosphere of Parisian studios is bad for them.—Arena Pub. Co., Boston, Mass.

The June Atlantic containing installments of the two leading serials by Mrs. Ward and Gilbert Parker, also a short story of frontier garrison life, by Ellen Mackubin entitled Rosita. Another bit of fiction of unusual character and interest is, Through the Windows: Two Glimpses of a Man's Life. Other excellent articles, poems, book reviews, and the usual departments complete the issue.—Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston, Mass.

The current number of the Eclectic Magazine presents a great variety of papers, opening with a discussion of "The Relation of Language to Thought," by Mr. C. N. Barham. A most practical and interesting article by Lady Priestly follows on the "Penalties of Ignorance," which it would be well to put in the hands of every housekeeper in the land. Another domestically inclined number is "The Home Life," treated by Phyllis Browne—in "The Committee of the Whole House." Of interest to good citizens in any country is the article on "Glasgow—A Model Municipality," showing excellent ideas and their practical use in the government of this Scottish town. Miss Balfour's pictures of travel in roughest Africa, entitled "Twelve Hundred Miles in a Wagon," are more than interesting.—Published by E. R. Peiton, 144 Eighth Streets, New York. Terms, $5 per year.

William Deau Howells gives his experiences with the begging fraternity in two papers written for The Century, the first of which will appear in the June number. Mr. Howells discusses the question of charity to street mendicants from a new point and with great frankness.—Century, New York.

The West may well be proud of so sterling and wide awake an organ as the Overland Monthly and our sister Republic of Hawaii may well rejoice at so generous a hearing as is given in the current June number nearly every Hawaiian topic of interest is most ably treated matter. All of the leading men of the islands being represented. Among the notable articles and writers are: Kalakaua's Trip Around the World; Wm. H. Armstrong, Ex-Minister to King Kalakaua. Hawaiian Climate, Curtis F. Lyons. Hawaiian Educational Standard; Hon. W. R. Castle, Pres't Board of Education. Hawaiian Commercial Development, Thos. G. Thurman, State Statistician. Practical and Legal Aspects of Annexation, Chas. F. Swift, Esq. Will it Pay the United States, Hon. Peter C. Jones. How Has Hawaii Become Americanized? Rev. Sereno E. Bishop. The Sugar Industries of the Hawaiian Islands. Coffee Culture in Hawaii. The Hawaiian Cab'e. Then and Now, etc.—Overland Pub. Co., San Francisco, Cal.

LIGHTING A PIPE IN A WIND.
A Sportsman's Device When Match Failed to Do Their Work.

"Paddling up Sebec Lake last summer in a birch-bark canoe," said a New York sportsman to a Sun writer, "the breeze blew so hard and constantly that, try as I might, I could not keep a match ablaze long enough to light my pipe. After half a dozen matches had flared out in the lighting of them, I made some forcible remarks apropos of my failure. 'Let me show you how to do it,' said my companion, an old Californian, who was handling the bow paddle. 'Hand me a bit of that newspaper sticking out of your pocket.'

"He took the piece of paper and crumpled it up into a wad, which he retained in the palm of his hand. Then striking a match, he closed both hands about it to shield it from the wind, after the traditional manner of the railroad navy in lighting his pipe. The flame instantly set the paper smouldering on the top without its breaking into a blaze. He passed the burning wad to me, and it served as a pipe lighter equal to a live coal, the high breeze fanning instead of extinguishing it. It was the simple invention of a practical mind, which served my turn then and afterward, and I commend the device to sportsmen needing tinder for a pipe light or to start a camp fire."

AN OLD GAME.A Seedy-Looking Fellow Tries the Ancient Glove Racket.

"Say, Buffalo must be about twenty years behind the times, ain't it?" said a drummer at the Tift house yesterday. "I saw a man try to work the old glove racket in front of the hotel today. I had gotten the idea that the glove game was too old to be worked by any one. The Buffalo man was too cute to be caught, though, so perhaps the only antiquity in the town was the man that resurrected the old game to raise a dollar."

"Did you ever see it worked? No? You ought to have been here a couple of hours ago. A well-dressed gentleman was walking down the street when a seedy-looking individual who was standing in the doorway suddenly stepped out behind the gentleman and dropped a glove at his heels without the man seeing him.

"Then he tapped him on the shoulder.

"Say, mister, is that your glove?"

"The gentleman answered in the negative and was about to walk away when the tramp stooped and picked up the glove. Fumbling it over he soon pulled out a ring from one of the fingers. It looked like a genuine diamond ring, too.

"Of course the tramp had a surprised look on his face. He said to the gentleman:

"Say, mister, I'm a poor man and can't afford to keep anything like this, but it was a pretty lucky find, wasn't it? What'll you give me for the ring?"

"The gentleman looked the ring over carefully and then handed it back to the tramp with a laugh.

"I guess I don't want that thing—not just now, anyway," and he walked away.

"There was a time when the police found it necessary to arrest men for working that dodge," continued the drummer, "but I guess they have forgotten their last 'catch' by this time."

MOUNTED POLICEMAN'S FEAT.Since the Philadelphia Officers Work on Wheels, They Do Queer Things.

Officer Hancock, of the twenty-eighth police district, was patrolling his beat the other day on his bicycle when he espied a crowd of small boys on a huge pile of new lumber. The alarm was given that a "cop" was coming, and the boys made a general rush to get away. The movement upset the lumber pile, and the long timbers slid down toward the center of the street. They made a natural gangway up to the top, and Hancock, who had a good gait on, rode his way clear to the top. He landed in the soft clay on the other side, never losing his seat. The affrighted boys scattered in all directions, completely dumfounded by the policeman's remarkable feat. They keep away from that section now, for they say Hancock has wings on his "bike."—Philadelphia Examiner.

Fretting Under the Law.

There is said to be a law in Massachusetts making it an offense to give away any object or thing as an inducement to purchase other things; for example, to give away a picture with every certain amount of other things purchased. There was once a law which made it an offense for a man to kiss his wife on Sunday, but was strangely silent about kissing some other man's wife.

Many a man still living can remember when it was not permissible to open the theaters in Boston on Saturday evenings, and there was a law to punish any dissipated individual found smoking on the street. Some of these fantastic old legal freaks have been done away with, but there are some communities which, like some individuals, require quite an unconscionable time to get wide awake.—Boston Traveller.

FLIES HATE LAVENDER.Sprayed About the House, It Keeps Out the Summer Pests.

"I never use window screens," said a wise housekeeper the other day, "because I have a fancy that they shut out all the air in hot weather, and, besides they serve to keep the flies in the house equally as well as out."

"But I never see a fly in your house," said her friend. "How do you manage it? For my part, I must confess that screens or no screens, my summer means to me one long battle with the little pests."

"My remedy is a simple one," said the good housekeeper, "and I learned it years ago from my grandmother, when I used to sit and watch her putting bunches of lavender flowers around to keep the flies away. My method is simpler. I buy 5 cents' worth of oil of lavender at the drug store and mix it with the same quantity of water. Then I put it in a common glass atomizer and spray it around the rooms wherever flies are apt to congregate, especially in the dining-room, where I sprinkle it plentifully over the table linen. The odor is especially disagreeable to flies and they will never venture in the neighborhood, though to most people it has a peculiarly fresh and grateful smell."

MOCKING BIRD FOOD.It Made a Decided Sensation in a Chicago Street Car.

A north side cable car the other day was the scene of most comical incident. It was about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the car was comfortably filled with ladies returning from their shopping tour, says Chicago Tribune. Sitting between two ladies was an old gentleman of patriarchal appearance. Suddenly both the ladies uttered a shriek and jumped from their seats. The conductor rushed forward, and on his inquiry what was the matter the agitated ladies pointed to the old man. "See! See!" they cried, "look at the worms." And sure enough on the old man's overcoat and trousers crawled about half a dozen fat, yellow worms about an inch long. When the old man found out what was the matter, he slapped his hand on his knee and commenced to laugh. "Well! Well! Don't be scared, ladies," he said; "they are only flour worms for my mocking birds. I can't understand how the pesky critters got out of the box," and the old man hauled a round paper box, with a hole in the cover, from out of one of his pockets. "I got a couple of hundred in here," he said. The worms were gathered together, the ladies quieted down, and the old man amused the passengers with a description of his beautiful mocking birds. The car had by this time approached Lincoln park, when a lady sitting third from the old man made a sudden grab at her dress somewhere about the knees. "Oh, my! I must have some of them!" she exclaimed, to the amusement of the other passengers, and an expression of agony swept over her face. She looked helplessly round at the passengers, and finally signaled to the conductor to stop the car, jumped out in a hurry, and disappeared among the trees in the park.

The old man, unconscious of the new trouble his worms had caused, was talking to a lady on the other side about his mocking birds, when he was told of what had happened by one of the ladies. He looked a little regretfully on the box of worms and said: "Why didn't she tell me? Why, they are absolutely harmless. I wonder how many she got away with?"

IT DID LOOK SUSPICIOUS.Nevertheless the Overcoat Transaction Was Perfectly Legitimate.

A robust young man, wearing a thick terra cotta overcoat, and a somewhat consumptive-looking companion, minus an overcoat, left a well-known Chestnut street cafe together at a late hour on Saturday night, says the Philadelphia Record. The former generously tendered his warm outer garment to his shivering companion, who gratefully accepted it for the walk home. On turning the corner of Sixteenth and Locust streets the pair were closely scrutinized by a big policeman. Arrived at his home, the thin man returned the coat to his stout friend and the latter started back toward his hotel on Broad street. When he reached the corner of Sixteenth street the policeman grabbed him. "Pretty slick guy, you are!" he exclaimed, "but I'm on to that little overcoat racket. I guess you got it pocketbook too."

"What do you mean, sir?" demanded the indignant citizen. "You just take a ride to the station-house," mildly urged the cop, "and tell the sergeant how you managed to get into that other man's overcoat."

Protestations were in vain. The mad man, with the terra cotta overcoat, had to submit, and only the presence of his thin friend, whom he promptly sent for, saved him from a cell.

OF BENEFIT AT LAST.Republican Gains from the Six New Northwestern States.

The admission of six new states in the early years of President Harrison's administration was intended by the Republicans to strengthen the party in the northwest for the contest of 1892, and to make certain the control of the United States senate by the Republicans. As is often the case in politics, the plans arranged by the Republicans for strengthening themselves failed. Idaho one of the new states, was carried by the Populists. North Dakota scattered its electoral vote among the three candidates. The admission of the northwestern states gave an impetus to the free silver movement which cost the Republicans the electoral votes of Kansas, Colorado and Nevada, and the changes in the United States senate consequent upon this free silver defection put the Democrats in control of it. But in the last two years the political pendulum has swung back again and the Republicans are now about to get, tardily, it is true, some of the benefits of their legislation of six years ago.

The next United States senate will contain twelve members from the newly admitted northwestern states. Of these, ten are straight out Republicans, one a Populist, and one, Roach of North Dakota, a Democrat. This gives the Republicans a lead of eight over the Democrats and Populists combined.

Without the representatives of the six new northwestern states, the next United States senate would consist of thirty-seven Democrats, thirty-four Republicans, and four Populists, with Delaware not included in the count. The Republicans would only have thirty-four senators in a total of seventy-six, and Mr. Cleveland would have for the next two years a Democratic instead of a Republican senate on his hands to confirm or reject his nominations.

The habit of using tobacco grows on a man until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer of the mouth and stomach; dyspepsia; loss of memory; nervous affections; congestion of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; mighty suffocation; dull pain in region of the heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, resulting in fatal heart disease. It also causes loss of vitality.

BECAUSE LADIES BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair.

We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

ASLEEP AS SHE WALKS.

An Unusually Pronounced Case of Somnambulism in Denver.

Anna Rossman, a beautiful woman about 22 years old, was found walking the streets of Denver in a somnambulistic condition on a recent afternoon, says the Rocky Mountain News. An Italian fruit vendor noticed the strange conduct of the young lady near the corner of 15th and Arapahoe streets. She walked into the drug store at the mining exchange, the police were notified and the patient was taken to her home. The case is a very peculiar one, and has before been brought to the attention of the police department during the past two months. On account of the family, all mention of the matter has, until this time, been suppressed. It is evident, however, that the somnambulistic tendencies of the unfortunate woman have become chronic and the peculiar features of the attack are attracting the attention of physicians. Miss Rossman formerly lived in Pueblo. There she attracted attention by her strange performances, walking about the streets apparently awake, but really asleep and totally unconscious of where she was going. Removing to Denver, the same conduct was continued, and the family then went to Cheyenne. They again came to this city and settled at the place where they now reside. It is claimed by the friends of the afflicted woman that she is possessed of supernatural powers, is gifted with second sight, and that other strange phenomena are within her control. In these spells she would attract but little attention were it not for the fact that she is utterly oblivious of passing objects and walks before carriages, street cars and other vehicles with recklessness. Otherwise her appearance is that of a person in possession of her normal senses. A little over a month ago she was found at the union depot, and Yardmaster Pierce discovered that she was not aware of where she was. A carriage was called, she was taken to the police station, and afterward to her home. Again on the 7th of March she was found in a similar condition at the Union hotel. One day when Dr. Johnson, the police surgeon, was in a restaurant, Miss Rossman walked in and the waiter thought that she was intoxicated. Grasping the situation, Dr. Johnson left his meal, took the patient's arm, and quietly walked with her to her home. Miss Rossman being all the while utterly oblivious of the notice she was occasioning from bystanders. The young lady had come from Cheyenne just before her latest sleep-walking experience, and walked from the depot to the place where it was found that she was still asleep. No information could be gained as to what she had been doing at Cheyenne or whether she had made that trip in a somnambulistic state. When the ambulance came to the mining exchange Miss Rossman was taken quietly to the conveyance and realized nothing of the situation until her home was reached. She then awakened out of the deep sleep, but gave no particulars as to her sudden visit north. She is a beautiful blonde, has the sympathy of all who know her in the unusual affliction which has befallen a woman who is said to be possessed of a bright mind. When these fits have passed away she knows nothing of what has transpired.

The Cost of the Postal Service

The normal increase in the earnings of the postoffice department is eight per cent a year. When the panic of two years ago occurred, with its consequent business depression, the postmaster-general estimated the increase of revenue for the following year at only three per cent. But he overestimated. There was in fact no increase, but a decrease of one per cent in postal revenues in the fiscal year 1894 compared with the fiscal year 1893. The reports of postmasters for the first and second quarters of the fiscal year 1895 (the last two quarters of the calendar year 1894) have reached the sixth auditor, and they show that the revenue for the fiscal year 1895 will be probably seven or eight per cent greater than the revenue for the year 1894. Unless the increase should prove to be more than this though, a year has been lost in the progress of the postal service toward the condition of self-support. Only a few years ago the postmaster-general believed that the day when postal revenues would equal postal expenditures was near at hand. Mr. Wanamaker, who was then at the head of the postoffice department, even considered seriously the possibility of increasing expenditures, on the theory that the postal service should not be self-supporting; for Mr. Wanamaker held that the carrying of the mail was a great public good, to which the tax-payer should contribute, says Harper's Weekly. Mr. Wanamaker's successor, Mr. Bissell, held a different opinion. In his last annual report to congress he expressed the belief that "the best condition of the postal business—the condition from which the greatest general benefit to the country is derivable—is that in which there shall be enough revenue to provide for thorough and efficient administration without any charge whatever to the public treasury."

The Lawyer, who had been married for only a year, sent word to his wife that he had been suddenly called to Milwaukee. "I will be back to-morrow," he wrote. "Don't worry. My stenographer goes with me."

But did she worry. When he reached home next evening her eyes were red from weeping, and as soon as she saw him she broke down again.

"Oh, how could you?" she sobbed.

"What's the matter?" he demanded.

"Your stenographer—" she began and again she sobbed.

"What's the matter with him?"

"Him. Was it a man?"

"Why, yes; I fired that girl a month ago."

"Oh, dearest, I never believed it for a moment, anyway."—Chicago Record.
