The Hustlers on Washington Street Have A Scheme—Oh, No, We Never Heard of It, They All Say—Nevertheless There is Certainly Something in the Report—The Ground Being Cautiously Canvassed However—

Look Out For a Grand Coup-d'Etat. A Main-st. business man called THE REGISTER reporter back to his desk one day last week and revealed to him a scheme which, he said, certain property holders on Washington street were working on the quiet. It is nothing more or less than a deliberate plan to secure a removal of the Post Office to that street.

At the meeting of the Council on Monday night, the city clerk read a long claim against the city, handed in by Herman Hutzel. In this Mr. Hutzel goes on to recite that he was caused great loss while constructing the Washington street lateral sewer by the arbitrary way in which the board of public works ordered him to stop work several times without any cause therefor.

A GOOD IDEA.

SOMETHING FOR MICHIGAN PEOPLE TO THINK OF.

A Scheme Proposed by Governor Altgeld—Even Coming From Altgeld It is a Good One—Several Michigan Capitalists Are Said to Be Interested in a Similar Scheme—Just as Good as Scholarships.

Monday's Times-Herald contained the following editorial note: "The suggestion of Governor Altgeld that a trust fund be raised by the wealthy men of the state and placed in the hands of the board of trustees of the State University for the purpose of aiding poor young men in their education is a good one. The state does much in the way of giving an education to those who are unable to pay for it, but it cannot feed and clothe them. The object of the fund is to make, not a gratuity, but a loan to those who are worthy of assistance.

This is right along the same line of a plan that we are told is quietly being worked up among a number of wealthy men in this state. They propose, if the plan ever materializes, to raise a fund of several hundred thousand dollars. From this any young man, who is fitted to enter the University, and who can prove that he is perfectly reliable, but without means whereby to take a course, may secure a loan of $300 per year for four years at a moderate rate of interest, the amount to be paid back within a certain length of time after graduation.

Senation at Owosso. A horrible story has just been brought to light at Owosso in which a woman named Nellie Hayes is charged with cremating her new born babe. Mrs. Abram Truxax at whose house the woman was stopping, being the informer. She says that the Hayes woman was taken sick at her house last May, when birth was given to a child which she deliberately threw into the cook stove and watched it burn. She gives as her reason for not divulging it sooner that her husband, who was father to the babe, threatened her life if she did so. An investigation is being made. The Hayes woman is now serving a term in the Detroit house of correction. She denies the crime.

Nervous Prostration Cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve.

Prolonged derangement of the nervous system not only affects the brain and mental powers, but develops disease in some of the vital organs. The most dangerous of these indirect results is when the heart is affected. This was the case of the Rev. N. F. Surface, Fawn River, Mich., who writes under date of Feb. 14, 1895:

Mayor Starkweather, of West Superior, Wis., was impeached by the common council on a charge of extorting money from firemen and policemen. Mrs. Eliza O'Brien, aged 70, jumped from the Third street bridge into the river at Bay City. Jerry Timick, of Saginaw, jumped in and pulled her out. Emma Barley, aged 3 years, was run over by an electric car at Menominee, and both legs and arms were cut off and head crushed, death resulting. The Sylvan Beach resort, at Whitehall, has been purchased by Grand Rapids parties for $10,000. They will build a $4,000 hotel and improve the grounds. Minnie Abbott, aged 20, near Williamston, shot herself near the heart with a 32-caliber ball, which passed nearly through the body. No cause known. Bert Jackson, aged 18, borrowed 150 bushels of oats from a farmer near Owosso when the farmer was away. Bert sold the oats, pocketed the cash and skipped. Emancipation day was celebrated in splendid style by the colored people of the state. Battle Creek, Jackson, Grand Rapids and Saginaw were the principal points. The Millie Mining Co., at Iron Mountain, has announced a raise of wages of employees of from 10 to 25 per cent. Ore is being hauled from this range at a rapid rate. Wellington R. Grace, a well-to-do farmer, near Belleville, attempted suicide by taking a teaspoonful of Paris green. Prompt medical aid saved his life. Family trouble. W. C. Clark, publisher of the West Bay City Independent, has fallen heir to $50,000 by the death of his uncle in Scotland. He will establish a daily paper in West Bay City. The Babcock Lumber Co., of Manistee, cut wages 22 cents per day in its shingle mill. All the men struck. The company says they will get the timber saved at Stronach. The dead body of George Henwood was found under the rear platform of Brechensser's grocery at Dowagiac. He had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. No cause known. Port Austin boys stretched a wire across the street, throwing and seriously injuring two women. Geo. McKay, Roy McDonald and Alfred Brown may be sent to reform school. George Harmon, of Cheboygan, was found dead in jail where he was confined for drunkenness. He had lived on whisky for years and the sudden stopping of supplies killed him. While bathing in Flint river near Otter Lake John Crawford was seized with cramps. Herbert Smith jumped to the rescue and was drowned, but Crawford was helped out. Mrs. Smith saw her husband drown and his insane.

George Stortz' barn burned at Port Huron and a large iron acid cylinder exploded with terrific force, throwing pieces several hundred feet. One piece was blown through the house of Jacob Denler, and Mrs. John Hayes had a narrow escape from being killed. The explosion was heard all over the city. Loss $2,000. A peculiar and tedious method of ending life was adopted by Mrs. Jennie Garfield, of New Haven township, 15 miles northeast of Owosso, who, after several unsuccessful attempts at suicide, decided five weeks ago to quit eating and positively refused all nourishment from that time until her death. Family trouble. Williamsburg narrowly escaped destruction. A forest fire had been raging for several days and the blaze communicated to the outskirts of the village and threatened the entire place. The men fought the fire day and night. The depot was ablaze several times but prompt work saved it and the town. Much timber was destroyed. While D. J. Moreland, a blacksmith, was driving at Saginaw, his horse became frightened and ran away, throwing Moreland on the M. C. track directly in front of a train, which ran over him, severing both legs and mangled him fearfully. He died in two hours. A later dispatch says that the play is suspected as two men were seen riding with Moreland just before the accident and a sum of money was missing when he was found. The case of Henry Brassil against the "Soo" railway for damages resulting from injuries received through being thrown from a moving train, which has been twice tried in Schoolcraft county and as often sent back for retrial by the supreme court, and finally removed to Delta county upon a change of venue, was for the third time decided in Brassil's favor. The amount of damage awarded him was $5,653. The case will be again appealed. Somebody sent an infernal machine to D. W. H. Moreland, water board commissioner at Detroit, and general agent of the Northern Steamship Co. The package bore a suspicious appearance, and Mr. Moreland hesitated to open it. John Thackerbury, driver of a grocery wagon, volunteered to open the package for Mr. Moreland. He was allowed to do so, and the machine exploded with a loud noise, burning Thackerbury severely and setting his clothing on fire. No clue to the perpetrators, and no reason can be assigned. Over 6,000 peach trees were destroyed by forest fires near Alpena.

To the Common Council:

Your Committee on lighting to whom was referred the bids for lighting the City would report that the lowest bid for 265 nights from twilight to 12:30 is $60, per light per year a saving of $13, per light or $1248, per year being a total saving of $6240, during the term of five years or nearly the cost lighting the city during the last year.

Your Committee has also considered the bid of $80 for 265 nights all night and find that the same would cost $7680, per year an advance of $672 per annum. After considering the subject fully your Committee has considered, and so recommend to this Council, and it would be to the best interest of the City to accept the bid of the Michigan Electric Co. for lighting the City 265 nights from twilight to 12:30 at $60, per light of 2000 candle power and $31 for lights of 65 candle power, from January 1st, 1896.

Respectfully submitted, D. F. ALLMENDINGER, A. P. FERGUSON, C. H. CADY, Committee on Lighting.

ONE MAN'S SUFFERING. The Trials and Tribulations of a Battle Creek Citizen—How He Comes to Tell This Story.

Among the moulders at the works of the Michigan foundry company can be found Mr. Amos Maynard; he has lived in Battle Creek for over ten years, is honored and respected by all who know him; such is the man who makes this statement, he says: "I have had kidney trouble for years, and it has made my life miserable. The heavy lifting, necessary in my business, made me worse. I have been compelled to lie in bed in a helpless condition for as long as nine days at a time; the greatest pain was from my back, which sometimes felt as though a bayonet was being run through me in the region of my kidneys; many citizens of Battle Creek knew how bad I was. I could not move without the greatest caution, for as soon as I attempted to stoop over, bend to one side, or even turn in bed, the pain was simply unbearable. I wore porous plasters constantly for the little temporary relief they brought me. Whenever I caught the slightest cold it went straight to my kidneys and made me worse. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got some. I have taken in all four boxes of them, and I now feel as active as ever. A few months ago I would have ridiculed the idea of being cured so quickly, and being able to work as I can now. All the long-standing pains are gone, and the former traces of kidney disorders found in my urine have disappeared. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many friends who were troubled as I was, and in every case I have learned they proved as beneficial as with me. Doan's Kidney Pills would be cheap to me at almost any price."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

W. C. T. U.

For God, and Home and Native Land. Edited by Mrs. A. E. Van Valkenburg, Press Superintendent.

This afternoon at three o'clock the local W. C. T. U. meet in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. Sunday evening, Aug. 18; Dr. Mary Wood-Allen, national superintendent of "Social Purity," will lecture in this city under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on some phase of her work. This lecture will be followed by a series of "Talks to Mothers," the time and place to be announced later.

Mrs. Jennie Vorohies, W. C. T. U. state treasurer, who has been attending the Hackley Park Assembly, and assisting in conducting the W. C. T. U. School Methods, writes: "We are having good meetings. This is a charming spot and sometime the crowds will turn this way." The Muskegon Daily Chronicle says: "The western Chautauqua that is now in full sway at Hackley Park is becoming a Mecca towards which many look for recreation and instruction. Both of these blessings can be obtained there in abundance for a pittance. Nature furnishes pure air, beautiful scenery, water and food and men and woman stand ready to instruct all comers. This wonderful place is becoming more popular each year. The present attendance is larger than any previous season, and the program is full of splendid things."

TOBACCO. Ohio Wesleyan University has declared against the use of tobacco. Beginning with the fall term all students will be asked to discontinue the use of tobacco, or, as President Bashford states it, "We will have to dissolve partnership necessarily."

The following is the result of an analysis of a cigarette, made recently by a physician. "The tobacco was found to be strongly impregnated with opium, while the wrapper, which was warranted to be rice paper, was proved to be the most ordinary quality of paper whitened with arsenic. The two poisons combined were present in sufficient quantities to create in the smoker a habit of using opium without his being aware of it, his craving for which can only be satisfied by an incessant consumption of cigarette." These facts would be enough to stop the manufacture of anything less insidious in its influence.

THE DRUNKARD DIGS HIS OWN GRAVE.

General Scott was in command at Rock Island when the cholera broke out there, and, after various injunctions in his order as to sobriety and cleanliness, he added this curious paragraph, which was recently printed in the "Magazine of American History." In addition to the foregoing, the senior surgeon present recommends the use of flannel underclothing, and woolen stockings; but the commanding general, who has seen much of disease, knows that it is intemperance which, in the present state of the atmosphere generates and spreads the calamity, and that when once spread, good and temperate men are likely to take infection. He therefore, peremptorily commands that every soldier or ranger who shall be found drunk, or sensibly intoxicated after the publication of this order be compelled, as soon as his strength will permit to dig a grave at a suitable burying place, large enough for his own reception, as such grave cannot fall soon to be wanted for the drunken man himself. This order is given as well to serve for the punishment of drunkenness as to spare good and temperate men the labor of digging graves for their worthless companions.

Examinations for Teachers.

Special examination for third grade, at Manchester, the third Friday of September 1895.

NEWS OF THE HAPPENINGS IN MICHIGAN.

Fire in Menominee Causes a $500,000 Loss—Babe Cremated in a Kitchen Stove at Owosso—Steamer Alva Sunk by a Whaleback at the "Soe."

Striking Miners Becoming Violent. The striking miners at Ishpeming and Negaunee have retained the sympathies of many people because they had been quiet and orderly, but as the strike progresses and there seems to be less light ahead for the strikers they are becoming restless, and seem to imagine that any criticism of their actions can only come from an enemy, and they are very easy to offend. Fred Britton, who is known as one of the "squareest" newspaper correspondents in the state, was sent to Ishpeming by the Detroit News to write up the strike. The men did not take kindly to his presence, and about midnight a mob of 500 surrounded the telegraph office where he was at work and ordered him to depart. Britton refused until the chief of police advised him to do so. He took his time about it, however. He went to Champlain and afterward to Marquette.

Many of the strikers were armed with clubs and cobblestones, and had it not been for the urgent solicitation of Rev. Wm. Coad, chairman of the union, that the men refrained from violence, it is certain that an open struggle and a lynching might have resulted. The disgraceful action of the strikers is attributed to the frequent visits which many of them made to the saloons after being paid off. An attempt was started to mob a local editor, but the mob thought better of it on consideration. Great indignation is expressed at the act of the mob, which is regarded in the light of a lawless and cowardly conspiracy, and a precedent that the authorities cannot ignore.

LATER.—Britton returned to Ishpeming being assured by Gov. Rich of full protection. The city authorities and county officials also gave their word that he should not be again molested. The strike leaders told Britton that the trouble would not occur again.

The Buffalo group is talking seriously of starting up its steam shovels. Should they decide to adopt that policy, matters will be brought speedily to a crisis. A union is being organized on the Menominee range and the men at the Dunn mine at Crystal Falls are on strike for an increase with prospects of the trouble spreading in that district.

$500,000 Conflagration at Menominee.

The most destructive fire which ever visited Menominee started in the slab piles of Spies' lumber yard. The wind was blowing very hard, and in 30 minutes the flames were beyond control and were threatening the entire city. The entire lumber yard of Spies, the Girard Lumber Co., and the Hay Shore Lumber Co. were burned. All the offices, barns and stables, oil houses, etc., were also consumed. The fire departments of Marine and Peshtigo, Wis., came to give assistance. It is estimated that at least 16,000,000 feet of lumber burned, also hundreds of thousands of shingles and lath. The sight was a grand one and thousands of people watched the progress of the flames, filled with dread of possible danger to their homes. Seven dwellings of State & Jenkins were totally burned and the Bay View house partially so. Clark's match factory stock is a complete loss. The total loss will reach $500,000. Four men were seriously injured. Chief Kratz of the fire department had his nose fractured but went back to the fire. He was carried out of a building insensible. But for the gallant work of the fire departments the city would probably have been swept away.

Two Balloonists Fatally Injured.

Two aeronauts were fatally injured in a balloon accident at Vandercook's Lake near Jackson. The balloon used was one of the largest of the hot air variety with double trapeze bars. It was successfully inflated and Ella Peake, a trapeze performer, took the upper bar, and Chas. Elliott the lower. At the moment the retaining ropes were cast off, a gust of wind caught the canvass and careened it to one side, and it took fire. It then shot into the air some distance. Then it collapsed and came crashing down. Miss Peake fell heavily, breaking both legs besides suffering internal injuries. Elliott struck on his shoulders and is badly crushed. His injuries are said to be fatal. The spectators quickly dragged the aeronauts from the burning balloon. Elliott has been in this business seven years. This is his first serious accident. Miss Peake is a niece of Prof. Hogan, who lost his life on Campbell's ship in the Atlantic ocean five years ago.

Steamer Alva Sunk in a Collision.

The steamer Alva was run into by the whaleback barge 117, in tow of the E. M. Peck, below the dyke at the "Soe." Both vessels were ore laden. The whaleback took a sudden sheer when near the Alva, which caused the collision. Her nose struck the Alva three feet below the main deck making a ragged hole alongside the engine-room. The Alva filled rapidly and soon went to the bottom. No one was injured. The stem of the whaleback was badly damaged, and her forward hold filled with water, but she was kept afloat with pumps. Both vessels are fully insured.

A new and dangerous enemy of the apple has been discovered in orchards about Kalamazoo. It consists of a grub, which hatches upon the outside of the fruit and gnaws inward. Late apples are the most affected. Specimens have been sent to the Agricultural college.

While builders were clearing away rubbish on the site of the new Cohen building at Alpena, they found a complete set of counterfeiters' tools for making silver dollars. This clears up a mystery in regard to a large number of counterfeit silver dollars which were in circulation there a few years ago.

CUBAN NEWS HARD TO GET.

The Spaniards Prohibit the Transmission of War News.—Private Information.

Key West, Fla.: Passengers by the steamer Mascotte state that the censorship over the press in Cuba is so strict that it is impossible to learn any news from the field. The government has prohibited the publication of all news of the revolution. By private letter it is learned a battle took place near Puerto Principe, between Maximo Gomez, insurgent, and Gen. Mello, in which the latter was killed and his troops badly defeated. Auero Y. Gero, one of the most prominent leaders in the last revolution, has joined the insurgents with a strong band, well equipped. Roloff, insurgent, who recently landed with supplies, blew up a railroad bridge near Placetas and captured a train loaded with troops bound from Cienfuegos to Placetas. It is stated that Martinez Campos is badly wounded, and has taken refuge on board the ship Villaverde at Guantanamo. A fight has occurred near Baracoa, in which Colonel Sanjovla, Spaniard, was wounded, and the insurgents have burned Jiguani and Baracoa.

According to a dispatch from Havana the government troops have defeated the insurgents near Mantanzas, and in addition, the insurgent forces commanded by Maceo have been defeated in the province of Santiago de Cuba.

Ohio Populist Convention.

Gen. Jacob S. Coxey, of Commonwealth fame, captured the Populist Ohio convention at Columbus and was nominated for governor. The other nominations were: Lieutenant-governor, John H. Crofton, Hamilton county; treasurer, George Harper, Greene county; attorney-general, William Baker, Licking; supreme judge, E. D. Stark, Cuyahoga; member of the board of public works, William A. Gloyd, Tuscarawas. George A. Groot, of Cleveland, was selected as candidate for United States senator. The platform indorses Coxey's good roads and non-interest bearing bond plans; favors abolition of national banks; asks a law making all contracts providing for payments in gold illegal; favors per diem pensions; demands the unlimited coinage of silver at the legal ratio regardless of any other nation and the issuance at once of sufficient greenbacks to make the volume of currency equal to $50 per capita.

Turkey's Reply Not Satisfactory.

The reply of the Porte, of Turkey, to the demand of the powers for reforms in Armenia is conciliatory and on many points agrees with the powers' demands. It proposes to appoint Christian assessors to assist the Turkish provincial government and to admit a proportion of Christians among the minor officials, police and gendarmes. It also promises to restrain the Kurds from violence. As it also declares that some of the powers' demands are unacceptable, or impossible of execution, it is probable that the powers will not be satisfied with the reply.

The Anglo-Armenian association's advice from Constantinople says that Lord Salisbury has demanded the unconditional and immediate release of all Armenian political prisoners not convicted by a legally constituted tribunal.

Mrs. Dr. Talmage Dead.

Mrs. T. Dewitt Talmage died at Dansville, N. Y. Since the burning of the Brooklyn Tabernacle last year, Mrs. Talmage suffered from nervous prostration and she never fully recovered from the shock sustained then. The deceased was the second wife of Dr. Talmage. His first wife was drowned while boating in 1862, leaving a daughter, Miss Jessie, and a son, who has since died. Within two years after, he married Miss Susie Whittemore, of Brooklyn. She became the mother of five children, including Rev. Frank Dewitt Talmage.

Two Sad Deaths in a Well.

At Oliver Perry, O., Joseph Bingham and Oliver Benway, were digging a well. Bingham entered the well. Not hearing him at work, Benway called to him, but receiving no answer, had his wife and another woman lower him into the well, where he found Bingham had been killed by poisonous gases. Finding himself being overcome, he signalled the women to pull him up, but before reaching the top he fell from the bucket and was killed. Both have large families.

A Nail Driven Into His Abdomen.

A terrific explosion took place in the blacksmith department of the Johnson steel plant at Lorain, O. Gas accumulated in a forge, owing to an impact of cinders, which united with the hot air blast from the blower, causing an explosion that shook the entire plant. Four men were badly injured. A huge nail was driven into the abdomen of one of the blacksmiths, tearing out a portion of his entrails. He cannot recover.

Four Killed in a Wreck.

A freight train on the P., Ft. W. & C. railroad broke in two on a heavy grade near Canton, O. The rear end crashed into the first section and 10 cars were wrecked. A dozen tramps were riding in a furniture car, which was smashed to splinters. The tramps were horrified to see arms and legs of human beings sticking from all parts of the wreckage. Four tramps were taken out dead and six were badly injured.

10 Drowned—Town near Destruction.

At Covington, Neb., a town on the Missouri river, a number of houses and a strip of land along the river bank, several acres in extent, crumbled into the water. The occupants of the dwellings were thrown into the current. At least 10 persons were drowned. It is supposed the collapse was due to a deflection of the current, caused by government improvements.

The U. S. cruiser Columbia broke the Atlantic ocean record making it in less than seven days—or in 6 days, 7 1/4 hours.

Judge Gildersleeve, of New York City, approved the referee's finding in the Corbett divorce case. This gives Mrs. Corbett an absolute decree, with the right to resume her maiden name, Ollie Lake. She is to receive $5,200 a year alimony, payable semi-annually. She may marry again but the champion is forbidden to do so during the life of his wife.

Near the End.

There is no doubt about the great success of the carnival of The Detroit Railway at Boulevard Park, Detroit, where "Lalla Rookh" is on the last week of its presentation. The Detroit papers have been a unit in commending the performance in all ways and are unanimous in the opinion that it is the greatest thing of the kind ever seen within the confines of the Peninsular State. The Detroit people universally commend the liberality of Messrs. Everett & Pack for giving them an opportunity to see such a glorious exhibition. An incident which shows how these men are held by the people of Detroit occurred when the picture of Mr. Albert Pack loomed up in fire. The audience of 10,000 people seemed to go frantic with delight and cheers rung out from all over the grand stand while shouts of "Speech, speech" were heard everywhere. Many people who have seen the show badly claim that the fireworks exhibit is even ahead of that given by Pain at the World's Fair, and it is certainly very beautiful, according to all accounts. The crowds which have attended the performances night after night have taxed to the utmost the capacity of The Detroit Railway but with the addition of a half score of new cars the company is able to adequately accommodate its vast business. In addition to the spectacular and dramatic interest attendant upon the spectacle itself and the romantic feature of Moore's beautiful Oriental story, there is still another, and to some minds, greater drawing card in the fine specialty work which is a part of the performance. The acrobatic feats and tumbling of the three Herbert Brothers is a marvel of strength, grace and skill. They seem to defy the very laws of gravitation in their work. Their act is perhaps the most refined of its kind ever seen in Michigan and far surpasses the tumbling of the acrobats with largest-circuses. The grotesque dancing of Mons. Kiraly is another feature of great pleasure to the spectators while the contortion work of a little miss, who is extremely clever, is another pleasing feature. The high wire act, the double trapeze act of another pair of performers, the humorous march of a graded band, the beautiful reflection of the scenes on the stage shining on the lake in front are all extremely pleasing. The closing performances will be given Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, Aug. 6, 7, 8 and 10, the last performance being on the latter date.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within such a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year; ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 or $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested, on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

Write For Convincing Proofs, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. All Free. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Chinese Murder a Number of Missionaries, Outrage the Women and Burn the Homes—Serious Race Riot at Spring Valley, Ill.

Chinese Massacre 10 Missionaries.

A Shanghai dispatch says that the mission and sanitarium at Wha Sang, near Ku Cheng, province of Fokein, has been attacked, and ten British subjects killed. Rev. Mr. Stewart, wife and child, were burned in their house. The Misses Yellow and Marshall, two sisters named Saunders, two sisters named Gordon and Stevie Newcombe, were seriously wounded about the head, and the Stewards' eldest child had a kneecap badly injured, while the youngest had an eye gouged out. Rev. Mr. Phillips, with two Americans, Dr. Gregory and Miss Hartford, were both wounded, but arrived safely at Fu Chau Fu. The prefect of Cheng Fu, who was on the inquiry commission, is seriously implicated in the outrages. The news of the massacre was suppressed for three days by the Chinese officials. J. Courtney Hixon, the American consul at Fu Chau, with several volunteers, went to the scene in a steam launch and brought back the wounded. "Their experiences," he says, "were terrible, and death was the least part of the sufferings of the butchered women."

A Washington special says that later advices show that no Americans were injured. All those killed were British subjects, the women being attached to Zenana, Church of England, mission.

Fanatical Chinese Mob Missionaries.

Another anti-Christian riot has occurred at Ping Yang, a China inland mission station, 33 miles south of Wenchow. The affair had a strange origin. During the Dragon festival two boats ran a race. A Taoist priest told the defeated crew that Christians had gouged the eyes out of their idol. A band of roughs warned a prominent native Christian that if the boat was again defeated his house would be destroyed. The boat again failed to secure first place, and the razing of Christian houses commenced. For a week the work went on in a leisurely kind of fashion until 20 buildings were in ruins and ashes.

Several Negroes Fatally Injured.

Spring Valley, Ill., the mining town which was the scene of so much lawlessness during the miners' strike last year, has again come into notoriety. At the end of the strike last year a large number of Negroes were employed in the places of the strikers. Recently the Negroes have been committing depredations upon the whites, who are mostly Italians, and a few nights ago Barney Role, white, was shot by five Negroes and robbed of $100. When the whites heard of this they demanded that every colored man be discharged, but this being refused about 500 whites made a raid upon the "colored location." The mob ransacked the houses, breaking furniture and committing other depredations. Several dozen were caught and treated to most violent kicks; stones were hurled at them and shots fired. The boarding house for colored men was then attacked. All the inmates fled for their lives. Six men and two women were fatally injured. It is not likely that the colored men will return.

An Anarchist Blown up by His Own Bomb.

During the fetes in the mining district of Aniche, France, to celebrate the jubilee of M. Vuillemin, manager of the Aniche Colliery Co., an anarchist named Decoux in the crowd fired five revolver shots at M. Vuillemin. Three of them took effect. Directly afterwards a tremendous explosion was heard and Decoux's body was hurled several yards, while ten of the bystanders were thrown to the floor injured by the explosion. Decoux had been carrying a bomb beneath his coat which was prematurely exploded. Decoux was dismembered and terribly mutilated. He was dismissed from the colliery after a strike in 1893.

Church Struck by Lightning.

The Methodist church of Quakers-town, Pa., was struck by lightning and 20 persons were prostrated. Sexton Bauman had his coat torn from his back and one of his shoes was stripped as by a knife. Minnie France was in her pew when the bolt tore through the floor. Both shoes were torn from her feet, the crown of her hat was wrenched away and her watch chain was melted into liquid. James Hoff was prostrated in his pew, and most of his clothing was torn from his body. No one was killed. After the excitement had subsided it was found that the 600-pound bell in the cupola was hanging almost by a thread, while fully 100 persons were directly under it.

Bloomers Disrupt a Family.

Mrs. John Quill and her husband quarreled at Eaton, O., over the question whether or not their daughter should wear bloomers. The Quills are old people, wealthy, and have a large family of grown-up children. Quill is 75 years old and very feeble, but he advocated bloomers. They quarreled viciously, and finally Mrs. Quill attempted to pull out her husband's whiskers. Not succeeding, she cut them off. The fight was so bitter that both the old people are under a physician's care, and it is feared Mrs. Quill will become insane.

Six acres were burned over at Berlin, Md. The total number of houses burned were about 75, the loss $200,000 and the insurance about $25,000.

James O'Brien, aged 70, a hermit living in the wilds of Mount Logan, O., was found in an unconscious state near his yard with his head beaten to a jelly and his body showing the marks of many kicks. He regained consciousness long enough to accuse Jim Seamour of the assault for robbery.

Complete returns from the recent election in England show the division of the parties in parliament as follows: Conservatives, 341; Liberal Unionists, 70; Governmental total, 471. Liberals, 174; McCarthyites, 70; Parnellites, 13; labor, 2; total opposition, 259. Government majority 152. Conservative majority over all, 12.

MANY KILLED BY CLOUDBURST

Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming Towns Swept by Destructive Waters.

A freight train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad was caught in a landslide and derailed near Adelaide, Colo. A succession of cloudbursts occurred at the head of Eight Mile Creek, north of Adelaide. Engineer Grove and Fireman Lyons saw the water coming down the creek in a wall ten feet high. Lyons climbed up the side of the mountain, but Grove was drowned. Brakeman Dolan lost his life also. At Adelaide the hotel was swept away, and Mrs. Carr, Lee Tracey and A. Watson were drowned. Six others were drowned and two are missing. The railroad for 10 miles was being washed away. The damage is estimated at $100,000. More destruction is reported at Camp McCourt.

A disastrous cloudburst occurred at the head of Garden Creek, near Casper, Wyo. The water came down the valley in a solid wall ten feet high. Huge boulders and logs were torn from their fastenings and carried along with the torrent, dealing death and destruction. A freighter and family named Newby were camped on the creek. Mrs. Newby and her child were drowned. Sam Parsons camp was also caught, and his two children were carried away in the torrent.

At Socorro, N. M., a flood came down upon the town suddenly and many lives were lost. The names of the recovered dead are: Lemar, Cells, Thomas and J. B. Durane and two others of the same family and an infant child of H. Baca. Many other people are missing. Many homes were destroyed and poor people lost all they had in the world. No estimate of the loss can be made, but it is more than $1,000,000. Hundreds of farmers have lost their houses, crops, fences and stock, and in many cases the farms have been rendered unfit for cultivation.

A Desperate Fight with Robbers.

Two men made a bold attempt to rob the safe of the Bartholemew Brewing Co. at Cleveland. One engaged the bookkeeper while the other slipped into a rear office and was working at the safe when discovered. An alarm was raised and both of the thieves started down the street and a crowd after them yelling "stop thief!" A policeman caught one who pulled a revolver and broke away with a pair of handcuffs dangling to one wrist. The fellow ran a short distance and turned and fired several shots. The officer returned the fire but nobody was hurt. The thief then dashed into a building and up to the fourth floor where he was cornered. The fellow was desperate and knocked down several men and threw three out of a window. Luckily all alighted on a roof one story below. A policeman arrived and laid the fellow low with a blow of his fist. The handcuffs were snapped into place and the prisoner taken to the station. The other thief escaped in the excitement.

"Steeple Jack" Fell to His Death.

William Spencer, of Detroit, one of the most daring chimney and spire climbers of his time, known the country over as "Steeple Jack," was killed in New Brunswick, N. J., by a fall from an aerial perch sixty feet above the ground. His neck was broken, and he died almost instantly. His fearlessness in attempting hazardous tasks engendered a degree of carelessness that ultimately brought him to his end. He was painting a tall stack and used a wire too light to hold his weight.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Dun's says: There is a perceptible halt which may deceive if attributed to wrong causes. Trade two months late in spring pushed forward into July a large share of business belonging to April or May. Seeing a rush of orders out of time, many imagined it would continue and hurried to give orders. The jam of two months' business into one has occurred. But the midsummer halt was inevitable and it is yet somewhat uncertain how much improvement will appear after it. The general advance in many products also causes reluctance to purchase, and the distribution of the past half year has been in part to make up for stocks and individual supplies depleted during two years of economy. On the other hand, there has been enormous increase in wages paid which enables people to buy more freely. Strikes of some importance appear, but do not threaten to last long, though a strike of coal miners may for a time affect business somewhat extensively. The crop of corn promises to be the largest ever grown and is almost out of harm's way. The crop of wheat appears from later accounts perhaps 20,000,000 bu. smaller than was expected a month ago, and had the best hopes been realized it would have been 100,000,000 bu. short of a full crop. Cotton has lost a little. Larger stocks than were immediately wanted have been taken by traders as prices were advancing and these tend to limit future orders. For the first time since the rise in prices of iron products began there have been some concessions to retain business, and efforts of new works to get orders tend to check the advance.

Mrs. Alex Campbell, of Montague, P. E. I., gave birth to five daughters at one confinement. Her husband is 84 years of age.

New York brewers are preparing to oppose the proposed movement to have congress increase the internal revenue tax on beer by adding $1 per barrel.

Omaha is in the midst of great excitement over the probability of having two opposing police forces fighting for supremacy. The state legislature authorized the appointment of a new police commission, but the old officers say it was illegal and they will not give in without a struggle.

Farmers who were in the village Saturday, after the glorious rain, looked and talked more cheerful than for months, as a fair crop of beans, a good crop of late potatoes and a fine yield of corn are confidently expected, and the parched pastures will soon show the value of a plentiful supply of water for fall feed.

W. D. Koch, of Union City, Ind., left Jackson about ten days ago for Ann Arbor. Since that time no word has been received from him, and his friends are much concerned over the affair.

SALINE OBSERVER.

Another narrow escape occurred here Tuesday. A man with his son, a lad about fourteen, from Plymouth stopped at the Harmon house for dinner. While there the boy slipped away and down to the depot where the work train was in operation. A train of flats was nearly loaded with dirt, the boy stood a little past the rear of the car when the engine was told to back down to the bridge to unload. As the train started the boy jumped and caught the hand rail of the last car, but missed the step, and as the train was then under good speed he dare not jump, and could not get on, and thus he hung. Before the trestle was reached, one hand became numb and loose, with the other he clung tight until about the center of the bridge, when just as he was about to drop, one of the trainmen saw and caught him, saving his life as the fall would certainly have been fatal.

A NEW ENGLISH PARTY.

Liberal Party Threatened with a Third Movement.

Not since the chartist agitation collapsed nearly fifty years ago, has the Liberal party in England been threatened with a third-party movement which has caused the whips of the liberal party anything like the uneasiness they are now feeling in connection with the independent labor party. This organization has now nineteen candidates in the field at work, in view of the dissolution, and it threatens that every one of them shall go to the poll. It is led by Keir Hardie, already in the House of Commons, as the representative of one of the outlying working-class constituencies of London. The new party holds that the English working classes must look to themselves for a solution of the problems in which labor is interested, and to this end its speakers, wherever they can get a hearing, urge the working classes to put themselves outside both the existing political parties, and to aim at holding the balance of power in the constituencies and in the House of Commons. As a national organization the independent labor party has now been in existence for about three years. Summed up briefly, the new party is in politics for national manhood and womanhood suffrage, payment of members of parliament and of all members of public bodies, and the general democratization of the whole system of municipal and national government. It also demands a legal eight-hour day, the compulsory abolition of overtime and piece work, the prohibition of the employment of children under 14 years of age, provision outside the workhouses for the sick, disabled, and aged out of the taxes on unearned incomes, state pensions for all over 50 years of age, fee and unsectarian education, primary, secondary, and university, remunerative work for the unemployed, and the substitution of arbitration for war. These are the planks of the platform upon which the independent labor party candidates will stand at the general election. The nineteen candidates who are now in the field are all assigned to industrial constituencies in which but for their presence liberal and radical candidates would have good chances of election. Many of the seats to be contested by the party, as in the case of John Morley's at Newcastle, have long been held by Liberals, whose return would otherwise be as certain as anything can be in English politics. The liberal party has now given up any idea of compromise with the independent labor men. Their only hope is that the majority of the candidates will not be able to find the sum of £200 or £300 which it costs to contest a parliamentary constituency. From any point of view the new party introduces a great element of uncertainty into the approaching election.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up a constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. For list of testimonials, Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. A Hero of Chitral.

An Indian hero, whose identity people are never tired of discussing, is the officer, who, being refused leave to go with the Chitral expedition, obtained five days' leave to go shooting. He entrusted to a point as near the operations as the railway would carry him, and then, being unable to obtain a horse, set out to march. Equipped with a bottle of gin and a huge sausage as his only rations, he plodded the weary miles over rough ground cheerfully. He reached the head of the column just as the charge was about to be made on the Malakand pass. He was in time to join the head of the storming column, and was in the first three on the summit. When the battle was over he had to eschew the camp, and the rest awaited the fighting line, and had to make his way back as best as he might to a point where the railway would take him up. I heard Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood say that this officer is a full colonel. He went into action as a common soldier, tearing the straps of his Kharka uniform that his rank might not be discovered. For, as Sir Evelyn remarked, with a humorous twinkle in his eye, if he had been discovered he would have been put under arrest.—Tit-Bits.

House of Hapsburg.

There is a curious custom among the daughters of the House of Hapsburg, whose bridal trains, instead of finishing an honorable career in the ballroom, are bestowed after the ceremony on the church whose sacred floor they have swept. Only a short time ago, during the centenary celebration at Rennweg, the altar floor was covered with a sheen of satin and silver, mellowed by the breath of age, that had once formed part of Marie Antoinette's wedding garment.

"Nothing Venture, Nothing Have." Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mon., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement. "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Poole, Pastor Central Presbyterian Church, Helena, Mon.

TWO BEGGARS OF PARIS.

An Old Woman Who Died of Starvation Had Over 30,000 Francs.

People in Paris have been deceived recently by two remarkable beggars. One was an old widow of over 80. She had been living in a house in the Rue du Texel, upon the charity of the other lodgers. She was an object of pity, this distressed, yet ladylike and gentle old woman, and the little purse made up for her each week was contributed to gladly by those who were under the same roof with her. Her room remained locked for over forty-eight hours and the police were called in. The old woman lay upon her bed. A doctor was called. He said she was dead, and an examination indicated that the cause was starvation. There seemed to be nothing worth making an inventory of, but the police investigated forerfully and under a heap of rubbish they found 3,500 francs in large bank notes. A more careful search revealed in the straw of her bed a heap of bonds and other securities to the value of 30,000 francs. The "poor" old woman's heirs are being sought for, but there is not the faintest clue to them.

A clever swindler presented himself in Paris under the guise of a deaf mute. He was first noticed by the police while conducting an energetic begging campaign from house to house. Upon being arrested he went into an energetic pantomime, to which the officers paid little attention. In the police station he suddenly lost his infirmity and uttered a torrent of invective against the police. It was afterwards found out that, speaking five languages, he had plied his trade in all the countries of Europe and with remarkable success. His method of operation was to visit only the houses of the wealthy and to strike for large sums. In Paris his operations netted him not less than fifty francs a day. He would first write to the families he intended to visit. They were always of the foreign colony. The letters would detail his pitiable state. They were well written and seemed to have the impress of truth upon them. A few days later he would call, and, contriving to be seen by master or mistress, would show a host of certificates of physicians, mayors of cities and commissaries of police in proof of what he had written. The interviews with these wealthy people were naturally had upon paper, and the answers to the questions put to him would be so beautifully and carefully written that they would seldom fall to win the sum sought. This young man—Gustav Remshager—is now held by the police, and his conviction is practically assured.

THE SUMMER GIRL.

"A Little Tan, a Callous Heart, New Slang," is What She Shows.

It is safe to allege that the average summer girl in this country has been doing all she ought to do in the way of dancing, prancing, gadding, going, working, and generally spending her vital powers in the autumn, winter and spring immediately preceding, and consequently when summer comes needs, quite as much as her parents, physical, mental and moral ozone.

But what does she prefer to do? Whether she is bent on leading her father by the nose with the assistance of her mother? To various places, according to her special predilection, and the farthest limit of the parental purse. If possible, to one of the gayest watering places, where she hopes to bathe, play tennis, walk, talk and drive during the day; paddle, stroll or sit out during the evening and dance until 12 o'clock at night two or three times a week. Else to some much advertised mountain catarract or lake resort, to lead a stagnant hotel corridor and piazza life, in the fond hope of seeing the vividly imagined Him alight from the stage coach some Saturday night. Meanwhile she is one of three-score forlorn girls who haunt the office and make eyes at the hotel clerk. The summer girl has a mania for the summer hotel. It seems to open to her radiant possibilities. She kindles at the mention of a hop in August, and if she is musical the tinkle of her piano-playing reverberates through the house all day until the other boarders are driven nearly crazy.

And so it goes all summer. When autumn comes and the leaf is about to fall and Dorothy returns to town, what has she to show for it? A little tan and callous heart, a promised winter correspondence with the hotel clerk, new slang, some knack at banjo-playing, and considerable uncertainty in her mind as to whom she is engaged to, or whether she is engaged at all.

A HEROINE.

Three Persons Saved from Drowning by an English College Girl.

The plucky conduct of an English girl a fortnight ago is of the sort that makes the whole world kin. Miss Marie Louise Evans belongs as much to America as to England, and as much to South Africa as to both. It was on Sunday and at Southampton that Miss Evans and a friend were walking on Hythe Pier after church. As they approached one of the landing places they noticed a boat holding one man and two girls nearing the stairs. They had been out for a row, and were evidently all inexperienced water travelers, for as the boat came alongside the three stood upon one side, and naturally the craft promptly tipped over, and in less time than the writing of it the three were struggling in the water. Instantly Miss Evans threw down the prayer book she was carrying, and pulling off one glove as she went, ran down the stairs, and leaning over, pulled in one of the women, who was near. The other was clinging to the man and struggling desperately thus preventing him, although a good swimmer, from rescuing her, and both were being rapidly carried away on a strong tide. Seeing the crisis, Miss Evans hesitated not a moment, but jumped in and swam rapidly to the aid of the pair. The girl was nearly insensible when she reached her, and, seizing her with one hand, she swam back to the pier. "Not for an instant," writes a correspondent, describing the scene, "did Miss Evans lose her head, and yet there were some twenty men looking on, who did absolutely nothing, with one exception. An old gentleman threw a rope and, after the rescue, rushed off for brandy for the girl who had been in the water longest. Miss Evans went in with all her clothes on, removing only one glove, and she laughingly told me she did exactly what she would have done if she had had years to contemplate the action, except that she should have worn a bathing dress for her exploit."

The young heroine in only 20, and is the daughter of an enthusiastic yachtsman, an Irish gentleman of high social position. She was graduated from Oriel College, Belfast, and is evidently one of the new women the world wants, for she is as feminine as she is plucky and as modest as she is brave.

Climbing Mont Blanc.

It is an expensive as well as a very tiresome undertaking to ascend Mont Blanc. It costs at least $50 per person, for by the law of the Commune of Chamouni each stranger is obliged to have two guides and a porter. So far as the danger is concerned, it is now reduced to a minimum, but almost every year the mountain claims a victim. Bad weather is the chief thing feared by the guides, and so swiftly does it come that a cloudless sky may in fifteen minutes turn to a blinding snow-storm which beats you to the ground. Thus it was that some years ago a party of eleven persons perished. Five were found frozen stiff in the snow; the other six still lie buried in the Glacier des Boissons. Forty years is the time allowed for the glacier to yield them up in the valley below.

"Oh, my poor head," sighs many a weary mother, many a tired husband, many an overworked child,—and relief seems far away. The severity and frequency of headache in many instances leads the sufferer to despair of ever obtaining freedom from the painful affliction. Remedy after remedy is tried in vain, for still the malady "sticketh closer than a brother." There is, however, a specific for headache and neuralgia. It is Gessler's Magic Headache Wafers. Chronic headaches yield to them. Sold by John Moore.

A Game with Strong Features.

The onion sociable is the latest innovation in sociables. It is played as follows: The young ladies stand in a row; one of them bites a piece out of an onion and the men pay 10 cents for the privilege of guessing who the biter is. The successful guesser kisses the other girls, and those who are unsuccessful kiss the girl who bit the onion. The game is said to be a catchy one and is not without its strong features.

Speaking lately of her year's administration of affairs she said: "When I took office, besides our debt of $5,000, the town had a current debt of between £700 and £800. I not only paid off the whole of our current liabilities, but paid £200 into the sinking fund in reduction of our main debt."

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This column is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade can be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am entrusted with a certain amount to spend advertising these knives (the best value ever seen in America at One Dollar each). Now, the knife is its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained very handle—genuine African ivory mand with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife. Now, could it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement. You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is a good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $5 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44c., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

The deposit of 44 cents will be placed to your credit, and will be deducted from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and absolutely guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs the promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your sample, even if you should lose a sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper, who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this place in this paper for three years! The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS, ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 138 FLEET STREET, LONDON. DEAR SIR,—I faithfully promise on my and honour to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-knife is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamois leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamps, which please hold for me until I send you an order at the dozen rate. Name..... Address..... Address all letters to F. W. SEARS, Wholesale Knife Advertising Dept., 138 FLEET ST. LONDON ENG.

BEATING THEIR WAY.

Three Syracuse Men, Having Expended Every Means of Having a Good Time, Took It Into Their Heads to Take a Trip to Utica at 4 o'clock one morning of the past week.

Three newspaper men, having expended every means of having a good time, took it into their heads to take a trip to Utica at 4 o'clock one morning of the past week. They first realized that they had no money, so they parted to borrow all they could, and to meet again at the first train. When they met again one turned in $2.00, the second $2, and the third nothing. They had borrowed it piecemeal, says the Syracuse Post. They got to Utica by the skin of their teeth in a palace car without paying for their seats. It was a case of save money. The first man had to shave, so he frequented the barber who had just opened his shop a $2 note in payment for a shave. The till was empty of change and the shave cost nothing. The second man found 25 cents in the toilet room of a hotel and lost an hour carefully searching for a crumpled and cranny for another. Just this luck attended the trip throughout the day. The men met an old friend who early in the morning began to treat and who roped in more friends to do the same thing. More money was saved. When it reached dinner hour one of the party "jollied" a restaurant keeper out of three dinners. To end the day the men were told a story by an accommodating friend that more than paid for their railroad expenses when sold to the press. They returned to Syracuse the same afternoon with $11 between them. They had started with $10.50.

The Poor Bishop.

A well-known bishop, who takes a prominent interest in everything affecting the working classes, wishing to judge for himself what a journey in a workman's carriage was like, took a ticket and joined the miscellaneous crowd who fill these trains on the Great Eastern Railway, says a London paper. After a most undignified struggle for a seat he found himself jammed in between a navy, smoking a strong black pipe, on his right, and an artist in house painting, smelling strongly of his craft, and carefully balancing a can of green paint, on his left hand. In addition to apprehensions for the safe balance of this can and the very unpleasant odors arising, the good bishop was much shocked by the bad language which garnished the conversation of his neighbors. After a particularly strong expression from the navy, the bishop, touching him gently, inquired: "My good man, please tell me where you learn the language you have just made use of?"

The navy replied, with a suspicion of pride in his tone: "Learn it, guv'nor! You can't learn it. It's a gift—'Shall's wot it is!"

NUMBERING OF HOUSES.

Berlin Began It Just One Hundred Years Ago.

At present there is some talk in Berlin of celebrating a somewhat singular anniversary—that of the origin of the numbering of houses. According to a German contemporary this convenient method of indication was quite unknown, even in London or Paris, until a century ago. In 1875 the practice of numbering private houses was begun in Berlin. The method employed, however, was then exceedingly imperfect. The Brandenburg Gate was taken as the point of departure, and the numbers went on successively throughout the whole town, without any distinction as regards streets. Even to-day the system of numbering generally employed in the German capital leaves much to be desired, as the numbers run consecutively up one side of the street and back again on the other. Vienna claims the honor of having inaugurated in 1855 the method of placing the odd numbers on one side of the street and the even ones on the other.

Horse-Box for One.

A well-known and popular Irish owner of race-horses once occasioned a rather ludicrous incident. Some few days prior to the Grand National he wired to the captain of one of the boats plying between Dublin and Liverpool thus: "Send a berth for Lady Temper." The captain, upon receipt of the telegram, put into a state of consternation, all the berths having been previously engaged. With true gallantry, however, the officer gave up his own cabin, which he ordered to be put into the best possible condition for her ladyship. The gallant captain's surgeon and his attendant can be better imagined than described when Lady Temper (the celebrated steeplechaser) arrived!

His Strong Regret.

The tendency to remarry is very general among the Boers in the Free State and Transvaal, as the following story will show:

"A farmer had the misfortune to lose his fourth wife and wrote to his brother who lived some distance from him, informing him of the sad occurrence, also requesting his presence at the funeral. The funeral duly took place, and, on leaving the grave-side, the bereaved widower was accompanied by his sympathizing brother, who suddenly burst into heartrending tears and could not be comforted, whereupon the widower, touching him on the shoulder, cried: 'My dear fellow, don't weep! Be comforted in this my hour of trial. I have buried four wives, and they were all very good women; and I live in hopes to marry the fifth, who will no doubt be as good as the others.' 'Look here,' sobbed the brother; 'don't think for one moment that I am crying over your lonely state. You're all right.' 'Then why your great distress' asked the widower. 'Well, you see, it's like this: You've buried four, and have already arranged for the fifth, while I'm still bound to the old original, whom I married twenty-five years ago!'—Pearson's Weekly.

"I was completely covered with sores. Every muscle in my body ached. Had been sick for five years. Doctor's could do me no good. Most of my time was spent in bed; was a complete wreck. Burdock Blood Bitters have completely cured me in three months." Mrs. Annie Zoepfen, Crookstown, Minn.

A STRANGE FAMILY.

A Hen Adopts a Litter of Pups and Keeps Charge of Them.

A hen with a family of ducks is not an uncommon sight, but a hen with a family of pups is a sight rarely witnessed. Such a sight, however, can be seen any day at the farm of John Leyda, Marion Township, a few miles east of Beaver Dam, Pa. Three weeks ago a Scotch collie dog belonging to Mr. Leyda gave birth to a litter of seven pups. During the day the dog left the barn and her family and went to the house for something to eat. In the barn near the pups was an old hen on a nest full of eggs. During the absence of the mother dog the pups began to whine. Straightway the old hen left her nest, went to the pups, and began gathering them under her ample wings as well as she was able, and soon licked them to sleep. When the collie returned she made no objection to the arrangement, but laid down with them, and from that day to this the old hen has had charge of the little animals.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

WHAT IS LOVE?

H. H. Boyesen, Analyzes It from His Own Point of View.

Love is, to my mind, nothing but an enthusiastic congeniality of soul. It is a profound sense of a pervasive harmony of being, writes H. H. Boyesen. Its first symptoms is not a physical attraction, but a delicious realization, on the part of each, of a strange consonance of nature. More than half its joy consists in the feeling of being completely understood in one's noblest potentialities. The lover is for the time what his beloved believes him to be; and she is what he believes her to be. What happy audacity of speech, what glorious heights of feeling, what rare flashes of insight, as the two chords go sounding together, in melodious embrace, reveling in each other's eloquence, charm, and beauty! To be thus tuned up an octave above one's ordinary self, to feel the resonance of one's speech in a noble woman's soul, to receive one's thought back enriched and beautified by having passed through her mind, is about the highest beatitude which earth has to offer. And the chances of it will be infinitely multiplied when mind and character, in the more exclusive sense, shall not be the rare attributes of a few exceptional women. A soul-relation can exist only where souls exist and have shed their embryonic swathings, having assumed their permanent type and quality. That by no means precludes growth, but rather insures it, and in a way points its direction.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality?

LIVELY BUNCH OF BANANAS.

A Three-Foot Snake Was Discovered in It and Quickly Dispatched.

Tillisch & Co. received a consignment of bananas Wednesday, which were taken out of the shipping cases and hung up, says a Watertown (S. D.) paper. Some little time afterwards a lady was looking them over and discovered a snake coiled around the stem of one of the bunches in such a way as to be entirely concealed by the overhanging fruit. She was greatly startled and called the attention of Mr. Porter, the clerk, to the fact that a snake was there, and he immediately got a pitch fork and proceeded to investigate further. At the first jab of the fork the snake ran a hasty survey of its surroundings, seeming to be somewhat irritated at having been disturbed. Mr. Kean, who was standing near, hit it on the head with a stick he happened to have in his hand and partially stunned it, and it was afterwards dispatched without ceremony.

It measured 3 feet and 1 inch in length, its color a brownish yellow, with irregular spots of a darker hue on its back and sides. It is not known definitely what species of snake it is, but that it came from the tropics and is of a venomous character there is no doubt. It is claimed by some that it is a spotted adder, but we have not yet met any one competent to vouch for its identity. It is on exhibition in Duffner Bros.' window, being in a glass jar filled with alcohol, and attracts a great deal of attention. Mr. Porter certainly had a narrow escape from being bitten, as in taking out the bunches and hanging them up he is certain he must have touched it with his hands without knowing it. He is quite certain on one point, however, that hereafter bananas will be handled in that store with gloves.

BIG VESSELS FOR THE LAKES.

They Will, Ere Long, Do the Great Bulk of the Carrying Trade.

Plans already formed settle the question whether lake steamships 400 feet long or upward, with a capacity of carrying 6,000 tons of freight at a load, will be common after the opening of the channels twenty feet deep through all the shallows between Duluth and Chicago, and the ports of Lake Erie. There is no longer a doubt that such monster vessels will rapidly multiply within the next few years, and they are certain to do a great part of the carrying trade of the lakes, perhaps most of it, before the end of the century. The steamships already contracted for and those which are certain to be built before next spring will undoubtedly so far surpass all vessels now in use in ability to make money at low rates for freight that other vessel owners will be forced to follow the pioneers in this latest step forward in the construction of splendid lake carriers. Even an over-supply of tonnage such as is very likely to be the result, will not prevent the work of replacing small craft with steamers of the largest size from going on steadily. In one sense it will hasten the change, says Cleveland Leader. Only the biggest vessels can make money in such seasons of general over-competition for cargoes, and in order to continue the business the owners of old boats must let them go and put in commission steamships equal to any on the great lakes.

TRIED TO KILL VICTORIA.

Six Attempts Have Been Made on the British Queen's Life.

Since her Majesty came to the throne she has been the subject of six attacks, but only three of them can be described as attempts on her life. The first attack on the Queen occurred on Constitution Hill, on June 10, 1840, soon after her marriage, the assailant being a pot boy named Edward Oxford. Two years later, on May 30, 1842, John Francis fired at the Queen when within a few feet of her carriage. This outrage also took place on Constitution Hill. In July of the same year a crack-brained lad named Bean leveled a loaded pistol at her Majesty, who was driving from Buckingham Castle to the Chapel Royal, St. James, but the weapon missed fire. In May, 1850, Robert Pate, an ex-lieutenant in the Hussars, as the royal carriage was emerging from the Duke of Cambridge's gate, struck the Queen with a stick, leaving a mark on her cheek and crushing her bonnet. In February, 1872, a youth named Arthur O'Connor presented an old and unloaded pistol at her Majesty as she was entering Buckingham Palace, and on March 2, 1882, a man named Roderick Maclean deliberately fired at the Queen as she was driving from Windsor Station to the castle, but no damage was done.

A BOTTOMLESS PIT.

A French Pit Among the Most Remarkable Wonders of Nature.

Among the most remarkable of nature's wonders the subterranean pit at Jean Nouveau, near Vancluse, France, which reaches a depth of 540 feet, while nowhere more than 12 feet wide, has only recently been explored. The French Society of Speleology (cave study) erected a derrick at the mouth of the pit, which begins with a funnel 15 feet wide at the top and narrows down to 3 feet at a depth of about 20 feet. From here down the crevice in the rock, for such it is, extends vertically, getting wider as it gets deeper, until at a depth of about 475 feet it is 12 feet wide. At this point the shaft opens into a roomy cave in which just beneath the opening of the vertical pit a thick layer of clay, containing remains of bones, both human and animal, were found. The explorers found no evidence that the place had ever been visited by man, but tradition has it that criminals were thrown into the "bottomless pit," as it was popularly called in the neighborhood, and the remains in the cave just beneath the shaft tend to corroborate this belief.

The descent into the shaft was exceedingly difficult; it established the fact that there must be a further cave below the one now known, but the crevice through which it is accessible is choked up with debris and boulders so that it will be a very difficult matter to penetrate further into the cave than has been done. The deepest point reached in this crevice is 593 feet underground. Great quantities of water rush through the shaft every time there is a storm, still no trace of water was found in the cave explored, which proves that some other subterranean exit must exist.

FAURE'S EQUIPAGE.

It is a Gorgeous Turnout Which Serves to Astonish the Parisians.

Writing recently a Paris correspondent says: "The president's equipage when he drove to the course at Longchamps, was an object of general curiosity," which was shown in a friendly manner. It was preceded by the outrider Montjarret, whom M. Casimir-Perier engaged, but did not venture to employ, the public thinking this kind of servant smacked too much of the Second Empire. M. Casimir-Perier was a colliery king, and was thought to be strongly reactionist, but M. Faure, being self-made, is looked upon as the people's president, and in so he chooses. The landau in which the president and Mme. Faure went to the races is elegantly built. Two servants in tri-colored livery sat on the high rumble. The team of four bays was driven by postillions. Montjarret, whose business was to keep the way open for the presidential equipage, wore a blue frock coat, bordered with gold face and faced with red, white doeskin breeches, top boots, and a hat with a gold band and tri-colored cockade. In all but the color of the coat the suit was exactly like that of the emperor's outriders. Two men on horseback usually preceded the imperial equipage, but Montjarret served alone to-day. He had attached to his leather girdle a formidable-looking knife or cut-throat. The daughters of M. Faure, a lady friend of theirs, and M. De Gall, the private secretary, followed in the second carriage. The under secretaries were in the third.

The "Twenty-one" Problem.

Here is a table of figures. The problem is to add any six of these figures to gether and make 21. For a correct solution a "sure thing" Chicago weekly offers a prize of several thousand dollars. All answers are accompanied by a dollar for a year's subscription:

Table with 2 columns: numbers 1-21 and their corresponding values.

As a matter of fact, the solution is impossible. Any two odd numbers added together make an even number, and six odd numbers are merely three sets of twos. In other words, one odd number added to a second odd number makes an even, a third odd added makes an odd, a fourth added makes an even, a fifth odd added makes an odd and a sixth odd added makes an even. Therefore neither 21 nor any other odd number can be obtained by adding together six odd numbers.

"HELP!"

A WOMAN'S DESPAIRING CRY.

It is Heard. A Prominent Actress Escapes Great Danger.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

How startling is a woman's cry for help! "What can I do? Where shall I go?" She cries from every city, town, and hamlet in this country.

It comes from women who are suffering tortures of body and mind from some form of female complaint. Many, through natural modesty, do not consult physicians, for many dread their examinations. They know not where to seek for help.

This alarming condition of things is simply wrong. The peculiar ailments of women are curable, and in most cases very speedily. Lydia E. Pinkham's genius and liberality have given to every woman a sure and consistent means of relief.

No woman should suffer when she can obtain free advice. She can state her case fully to Mrs. Pinkham, woman to woman, without reserve, and the answer will come from one of her own sex. Be one of the vast army of women who write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and preserve your health. "Only a woman can understand a woman's ills."

A prominent actress, in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:—

"... You cannot imagine the fearful condition I was in when I first wrote to you. I was in pain of no use to myself or any one else. I had worked hard, and my nervous system was shattered from worry and trouble and vomiting. I ran the gauntlet of doctors' theories, till my health and money were rapidly vanishing. I'm all right now, and am gaining flesh daily. I follow your advice faithfully in everything. Thank you ten thousand times for what your knowledge and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me."

THE RAILROAD HOG.

There Are Six Varieties of Him and All Are Nuisances.

"The car hog is more and more in evidence every day," said a car conductor the other day to a World man. "The warm weather develops traits that have been dormant with the winter. I have counted six different varieties of the breed in a week. I used to be a raiser of stock in more prosperous days and I'm a good judge. The most common sort is that of the fellow who occupies more room than he needs; never sees that he could make room for anybody and is evidently the same when he is at home. I'll bet he's the man who gets the morning paper first, reads it to himself, gives no one else a chance and carries it downtown in his pocket. "Then there's the fellow who crosses his legs and when any one seeks to pass simply turns his foot sideways, so that twice as much dirt is rubbed off on a woman's dress and he gets half a shine for nothing. If a bigger man stands still and glares at him he will unfold his legs, but only then. This is the same animal who likes to stretch out in cross seats on the "L," and clean his boots on the edge of the seat. "The third of the species is less bold than his brothers. He is the chap who, when some one gets up, leaving a seat vacant, although there's a tired woman maybe next to him, plumps into the vacant spot, for she has had her back turned and the opportunity was—and always is—in fact, never neglected by him. "The fourth sort is the rooster who reads another man's paper over his shoulder. I saw one the other day who was so interested in one article that he didn't see that the man who held the paper was furtively and artlessly regarding him. The fact was brought to his attention, however, by the paper being pushed in front of his face and then withdrawn, and when he looked up a dozen smiling faces made his face turn fairly yellow. "The fifth is really only a pig. He's not grown, but thinks he is. His nose—that's not the word, but it will do—is retreating, and the little bristles under it are carefully cared for. He likes to crowd close to a pretty girl and stare at her with such a yearning look. If he sits opposite her his eyes rarely wander from hers. I saw one young woman stare at the feet of one of that sort for five minutes. He pulled them back and fidgeted them about, finally resting on his toes. She kept right on staring and he became very uncomfortable. I'm told that's a sure remedy. He finally got out on the platform. "The last of the railroad hogs I know, although there may be others, is the one who opens his newspaper so as to shut out the view of those on either side of him. If he'd fold it down the center of the page—but, pshaw! he won't."—New York World.

CRIME.

An unknown man hanged himself at Lake, Wis. Miss Elizabeth Allen, a public school teacher, committed suicide at Milwaukee while despondent. Mrs. Hoolley, 60 years old, of South Rockford, Ill., jumped into a well. She was rescued and though injured will probably recover. An unknown man waded out into the lake near Ludington, Mich., and shot himself dead. He was well dressed, though there is nothing to indicate his identity. Riley Watson, who murdered Albert McComas in Lincoln County, W. Va., and a desperate character, was captured at Gallipolis, O. Mrs. Mabel Ish was held at Omaha for the murder of W. H. Chapple. She pleaded not guilty. Two masked men attempted to rob Nick Whalen at Emporia, Kan. He ran and escaped, but was slightly wounded by a pistol shot. Irene Salor, 15, shot herself in her room at No. 6 Fletcher avenue, Indianapolis. She will die. L. H. Farmer and his wife will die at Mridlan, Miss., from injuries received from two negroes. Thomas Norville, colored, was hanged in jail at Mobile, Ala., for murdering Louis Coleman last summer. John Case, an ex-convict, living seventeen miles east of Riddles, Ore., was arrested charged with robbing the Oregon express Monday night. Case has been positively identified by the train hands. Frederick Hellman, a brick mason, of Chicago, shot his wife and four children in a room with himself and turned on the gas. All were dead when found. He is thought to have been insane. In a fight at a Fourth of July picnic at Siberia, Ind., three men were killed and many persons injured, some of whom will die. The fight began between Catholics and anti-Catholics. A quarrel over a woman in a beer garden at Lewiston, Ill., resulted in a free fight with knives and guns, in which many persons were hurt. Two local toughs at Burlington, Iowa, resisted arrest. In the fight that ensued one of them was shot fatally. The $1,700 in notes and papers stolen from W. A. Pratt at Trout Park, near Elgin, Ill., by pickpockets June 9 were found there, evidently where the thief threw them. James Parsons, of Rockford, Ill., aged 21, disappeared two weeks ago and his relatives fear he has either ended his life or been foully dealt with. He left his watch, chain and money at home before starting and was out of work. A white man named Jackson shot and killed his wife and himself at Benton, Ark.

NEW LAW FOR BUTCHERS.

It Prohibits the Exposure of Meat or Poultry Outside Their Shops. There is little in the outward appearance of a New York butcher shop nowadays to indicate the nature of the business carried on within, says the World. This is in consequence of the rigid enforcement by the police of a law passed during the late session of the Legislature, prohibiting, under a severe penalty of from $100 to $500, the exposure in front or within a store of fish, game and poultry. Strictly construed, this would require all meats and provisions to be kept in the ice boxes and only brought out as called for. The police are under instructions, however, to permit a reasonable exposure of goods within the store, but the lavish decoration of the exterior with quarters of beef, carcasses of sheep, lambs, calves and pigs and long lines of chickens and turkeys, so large a feature of Second, Third, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth avenue markets, is a thing of the past. A thousand dollar's worth of stock on the outside was not an uncommon thing. Many butchers kept the show unimpaired until the meat and poultry were nearly in the condition that called for condemnation and confiscation. The health authorities were behind the passage of the new law. Its enforcement meets with no opposition from the better class of butchers, who only insist upon its being impartially observed. With housewives it is an especially popular measure.

FOREIGN.

The relations between France and Brazil are severely strained. It is feared war will result. There is a report that the seal fishing on the Labrador coast last spring was almost a complete failure. It is alleged that ex-United States Consul Waller, arrested in Madagascar and taken to France, is ill in prison and denied proper medical treatment. The Russo-Chinese loan is said to be signed. The fishing smack Rambler, belonging in Yarmouth, England, has been sunk in the north sea and five of her crew drowned. The director of the Manora observatory announces an inflexion near the south cusp of Venus, visible since June 9, which disappears daily at 4 o'clock. A large military balloon burst on the grounds of the baloon department of the German army at Berlin, seriously injuring five persons. The cause of the break is not known. Prince Bismarck is very ill at Friedrichsruhe. Members of his family have been summoned. The viceroys of the Chinese provinces of Szechuan is blamed for the murder of foreign missionaries and the destruction of their property. The abolition of the house of lords is to be an issue in the coming political campaign in England, according to Lord Rosebery.

Colossal Children. The quaint little town of St. Nicholas, in East Flanders, boasts the possession of two children of such extraordinary abnormal growth as to put completely in the shade all similar infant prodigies of the past or present. These veritable Brobdignagian youngsters are boy and girl. The elder, Master Clement Smedst, is 15 years of age and weighs no less than 420 pounds (39 stone); the circumference of his body is 6 feet 6 inches; he measures 36 inches around the leg and 28 inches around the arm. His sister Bertha, is 8 years old, and turns the scale at 224 pounds (16 stone). In spite of their enormous dimensions their activity is remarkable, for they trip and skip about with all the agility of other children of their age. It is an astonishing sight to see these infant mountains of humanity romping about in country lanes with other children of the village. One would imagine them to be the offspring of a race of giants, so high do they tower over the heads of their little playfellows. Their appearance is decidedly interesting, both having extremely handsome and regular features. Bertha, like other girls of tender years, delights in nursing a doll, which seems ludicrously out of place and proportion in the arms of the young giantess. The couple are attracting the attention of the country around, and on fine days crowds of people flock into the quiet little town in order to catch a glimpse of these colossal children. Mrs. Bruce Watson, Cedar Springs, Mich., says: "Whenever I am real tired and nervous I take about seven drops of "Adironda" and I always obtain instant relief." Sold by all druggists.

Antiquitie hath held that certain women of Scythia, being provoked and vexed against some men, had the power to kill them only with their looks. The Fortissos and Estriges hatch their eggs with their looks only, a sign that they have some ejaculatory vertue. And concerning witches, they are said to have offensive and harme-working Eies.

CASUALTIES. Burling W. Grault and M. Roy, prominent in New Orleans society, were drowned there. Grault fell overboard and Roy tried to save him. Six persons were drowned at Lake Geneva, Wis., by the capsizing of a pleasure boat. The village of Canton, Kas., was almost totally destroyed by a cyclone. Twenty-five persons were hurt, many it is thought fatally. Five sailors were drowned in Lake Michigan, off Chicago, in Sunday's storm. The furniture store of E. C. Eckhart, 3739 Cottage Grove avenue, Chicago, was damaged by fire. The loss is estimated at 2,000. Fire partially destroyed the new pavilion at Lake Park, Milwaukee. Fire at Scotia, Cal., destroyed the Pacific Lumber Company's plant. Loss, $250,000. The Morgan Lumber Company's yards and buildings at Reedsburg, Wis., were burned. Loss, $12,000; insurance, $4,000. The town of Loreville, Ont., was almost destroyed, twenty-five dwellings being burned. Loss, $30,000, with very little insurance. A farmer named Lyle, of Madison, Wis., was robbed of $400. M. Dolan, a street car conductor, was robbed and murdered on a lonely street in Spokane. SCARING A DOG.

But the Experiment Can Hardly Be Called a Great Success. Bill Jones, of Happy Valley, came into the office the other day and said he had found out a good way to scare a dog, says the Fairhaven News. He said he didn't see any sense in wanting to shoot a dog or be cruel to dumb brutes by poisoning 'em when there were ways enough to just scare 'em and in that keep 'em from bitin' you. He said, just to show his good faith before we printed the recipe in the News, we might go down street past Oldfeller's place and try his dog once. So we started out with him. Jones took his umbrella and as we walked along he showed us how the old thing worked. He asked us to walk just ahead and he played we were in the position of the dog and wanted us to growl. When we made a noise he rushed at us with the umbrella, opening and shutting it in rather a startling manner. By and by we reached Oldfeller's place, but didn't see the dog. Then Jones growled like and shouted, "Sic 'em, Towser!" In about a second and a half Towser came flying around the fence corner and Jones just had time to lower his umbrella when the charge was made. Towser made a rush like a trolley car a half block ahead of you. Jones parried and worked the slide on the umbrella handle. The next instant the dog had a mouthful of a four-dollar umbrella cover and two ribs out of the same. Jones expectorated a mouthful of tobacco juice in Towser's eye and then told him he could have the remainder of the water cover, his remarks all prefaced with adjectives never used in prayers. We didn't return to the office together and Jones said if we ever printed the recipe or made any mention of the experiment the A. O. U. W.'s would lose a couple of thousand on us and have a day off for a funeral.

CASUALTIES.

Collected for Both. Here is a somewhat new story of the Niagara Falls hackman: Two tourists, a lady and a gentleman, stopped off at the Falls between trains. A hackman engaged them for a brief tour of sight-seeing. The time actually consumed was fifty-five minutes. The hackman said he must have $10. The gentleman remarked that it was an outrage. The driver explained that he had been of great assistance in pointing out the places of interest and stood firm. The gentleman prepared to pay under protest. Unfortunately for himself, he handed the man a $20 bill. "Do you pay for the lady also?" asked the hackman, promptly. "Do I pay for the lady?" repeated the fare, in astonishment. "Of course I do. What do you mean?" "Then there will be no change," replied the hackman. "My charge of $10 is for one person; $20 for two persons. The amount you have handed me is exactly correct. Thank you, sir."—Buffalo Express.

The Nursery Tricycle. The nursery tricycle has appeared in London. It contains two seats, one for the mistress and one for the maid and her charge, and has two pairs of pedals. The Incomparable Chicago & Alton. In these United States of America at least, it is highly probable that throughout the entire world, the official record for the safety and welfare of its passengers made and maintained by the Chicago & Alton Railroad cannot be surpassed if indeed it can be equalled. Over its completely rock-balled, dustless roadway between Chicago and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis and St. Louis and Kansas City, eighteen magnificently appointed express trains are run on uniformly fast time every day. But in spite of this heavy passenger traffic the official records show that from December 4, 1879 to December 4, 1890, eleven years, there was no passenger killed on Chicago & Alton trains. Moreover there was not a passenger seriously injured, to the extent of losing a limb, an eye or a member of any kind during that time. During the entire period of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, when it was not an uncommon thing to find the usual passenger traffic of the road increased two, three and four-fold, and special excursion trains were very many, there was not an accident of any kind—a most remarkable record. Besides being America's most popular railroad, the Chicago & Alton is the Pioneer Dining Car Line, the Pioneer Pullman Sleeping Car Line and the Pioneer Palace Reclining Chair Car Line. Be sure that your ticket reads over the Chicago & Alton Railroad, when its matchless and direct lines can form the whole, or even a part of your journey.
