WHOLE NO. 1082.

IT IS FINISHED.

THE DETROIT CONFERENCE ADJOURNED LATE LAST MONDAY NIGHT.

The Conference Largely Attended—The Appointments for Washtenaw—Vote to Admit Women 185 to 9—Dr. H. S. Copeland Chosen a Delegate to the General Conference—Rev. C. M. Coburn One of the Clerical Delegates—Will Meet Next Year in Flint.

At half-past eleven o'clock on Monday night the Detroit M. E. conference, which had been in session in the city during the past week, closed its deliberations, received the appointments for the coming year and adjourned sine die.

The appointments for this county were as follows: Ann Arbor—Dr. C. M. Coburn. Chelsea—Carlos L. Adams. Dexter—Thomas G. Potter. Dixboro—Eugene M. Moore. Manchester and Sharon—David H. Yokum.

Milan—H. F. Shier. Saline—Eugene Yager. Salem—William H. Benton. Stony Creek—Benoni Gibson. Willis—Reuben Emery. Whitmore Lake and Hamburg—H. W. Hicks.

Ypsilanti—E. W. Ryan. The appointments received an abnormal shaking up this year in all the districts. More than half the ministers were changed.

Monday's conference business was perhaps the most important of the session. The amendments relative to the admission of women to the general conference of the church were voted on, and the women won an easy, but none the less significant victory. The Baltimore-Colorado amendment, providing for the admission of women carried by the vote of 185 to 9. The ratio of the clerical representation in the general conference was reduced, from one for every forty-five preachers to one for every sixty-five.

It was unanimously voted not to divide the Detroit and Michigan conferences, and the adverse committee report was adopted.

The report of the statistical secretary was read on Monday, and showed that the number of members of the church in this conference had increased this year by 2,807, the total membership being 46,634. The collections for foreign missions have decreased during the year just closed by $1,377. However, most of the home collections have increased to a small extent. The ministers attribute the decrease in missionary monies to the hard times.

Sunday was a great day for the conference. Most of the pastors were glad enough to suit and listen in comfort to a sermon by some one else. Bishop Hurst preached a scholarly sermon in the Methodist church on "Christ—the Certainty of Faith." Before the sermon he ordained fourteen deacons to service in the church. The church was crowded to the outside doors and hundreds turned away. In the afternoon, the bishop ordained twelve elders.

Friday and Saturday were days of routine business in the conference.

The conference was said to be the most largely attended of any held for many years, and notwithstanding the crowd, the ministers united in praise of the comfortable manner in which they were taken care of.

Friday was especially notable for the meeting of the lay conference, which convened in the Presbyterian church. The principal business transacted was the election of George O. Robinson, of Detroit, and Dr. R. S. Copeland, of Ann Arbor, as delegates to the general conference of next year. The clerical delegates elected were Dr. J. F. Berry, of Chicago; Dr. C. M. Coburn, of this city; Dr. W. H. Shier, of Detroit; Dr. E. W. Ryan, of Ypsilanti; Rev. John Sweet, of Calumet; President Fiske, of Albion; and Rev. C. T. Allen, of Detroit.

The next session of the conference will be held in Flint.

After A New Factory

A meeting of citizen was held at the First National Bank last Thursday afternoon to consider the proposition made by the Hay and Todd people, of Ypsilanti. The latter promise to establish a branch factory here which will in the near future equal the one at Ypsilanti. The Ypsilanti factory now has a pay roll of over $1200 per week. The company will establish its branch here if the citizens will raise a bonus of $6,500. A committee has been appointed to solicit subscriptions.

J. D. Ryan went to Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday on business.

10 Mile Road Race.

The Wolverine Cycle Race yesterday afternoon was a great success. Fully 5000 people were out to witness the start and finish. There were 33 who completed the run. The best time was made by Percy Patterson, of Bay-City, in 28 minutes and 49 seconds and he received a National Racer worth $125. The 1st position prize was won by Paul Meyer, of Ann Arbor, who made the run in 29 minutes and 36 seconds. He received a Victor Bicycle worth $100. Everything was favorable to a good race and but few small accidents occurred.

PROFESSORS FOR A CENT.

ANN ARBOR POST OFFICE OFFICIALS MAKE A BLUNDER.

And Help Out The Cleveland Administration by Bleeding U of M Professors One Cent Each—The Professors Kick—But Are Obligated However to Whack Up the Copper—The Government Should Send Post Master Beakes, Who is a Printer, a Pair of Goggles to Enable Him to Distinguish Printing From Typewriting.

A Register reporter called at the School of Shorthand yesterday. He found Mr. O. E. Wagner, the principal in anything but a good humor. In plain English, he was mad, mad all over. He said that last week he had taken an order to print some mimeograph circular letters and blanks for a certain firm in this city. Mr. Wagner had assured the gentleman who wished the work done that such letters could be mailed as printed matter. The order was then left for Mr. Wagner to print the letters and mail some two hundred of them to certain University Professors. As the circular letter contained a request for certain favors which the gentleman was asking from the Professors, he was very anxious that no mistake should be made that would cause extra postage charges. Mr. Wagner assured him that he had made special inquiries at the post office in regard to just such matter and he was positive that there was no doubt that matter printed on the mimeograph was mailable as printed matter. You can imagine my utter disgust, said Mr. Wagner, when I learned yesterday that the mail carriers had been ordered to make every professor to whom those circulars were addressed whack up one cent each before those letters were delivered to them! I am wondering what the gentleman who left the work here will say when he returns and learns what has been done. I rather suspect that there will be some decidedly vigorous Anglo-Saxon language heard down in the vicinity of the Ann Arbor post office. I know, continued Mr. Wagner, that we do the best mimeographing and typewriting in the state and do a vast amount of it, but it never occurred to me that Mr. Beakes, who by the way is a printer, and who is supposed to know printing when he sees it, would make such a blunder and call our printed work typewriting. Hereafter I suppose that the only safe way for all who want imitation typewriter work done, although it cannot be done so good as we can do it, will be to have it printed at Mr. Beakes' office with the Argus imprint upon it and then there will be no mistake about it.

A DEAN AT LAST.

THE HOMEOPATH SCHOOL HAS SECURED A HEAD.

The Choice Fell Upon Dr. Wilbert B. Hinsdale—He is a Brother of Prof. B. A. Hinsdale of the Lit. Department.

Dr. Wilbert B. Hinsdale, who has been chosen as the professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in the homeopathic department of the University, and as dean of the department, was born in Wadsworth, Medina county, Ohio, in 1851. He is a brother of Dr. B. A. Hinsdale, of the department of Literature, Science and the Arts. He graduated at Hiram College, Ohio, in 1875, and spent several years in teaching in the common schools and high schools of Ohio. Later he studied medicine. He was registered in the office of Drs. Boynton & Schneider, Cleveland, at the time two of the best known Homeopathic physicians in the state. He graduated at the old Cleveland Homeopathic College, now the Cleveland University, and entered upon the practice of medicine and surgery, in which he has since been engaged. Several years ago he became a member of the faculty of the college in which he had received his professional education, and has become an increasingly prominent member of the faculty from the time of his election. For the last two or three years he has filled the chairs of materia medica and practice. At the time of his election to the position to which he was called he was the registrar of the institution, performing duties very similar to those that are attached to the dean's office in the Homeopathic Department of the University. Dr. Hinsdale has been eminently successful as a teacher of medical students, and possesses also the qualifications of a successful administrator. He comes to the University in the prime of life, and will devote all his energies to upbuilding the department.

The Postal Service

VERY few people in this country seem to appreciate, or are able to fully appreciate, the magnitude of the postal service and the vast amount of mail handled during the course of the year. The much larger amount of mail matter sent and received in this country per capita as compared with that of all the countries of Europe, and the comparative expense of handling the mail in this country and in Europe will interest all progressive Americans. The following, clipped from an exchange contains many interesting facts in regard to these matters:

"The population of Europe is 380,000,000, that of United States 70,000,000, and it appears that one American writes as many letters as five Europeans. The United States Post Office handles as many pieces of mail in the course of a year as do all the offices of Europe, the total for each being about 11,000,000,000 pieces. This is an average of 157 pieces for every person in the United States and 23 pieces for every European. This speaks well for our country. The better educated a people are, the more letters they write and the more perfect postal system they have. The only two countries of any considerable size or population now without the post office are China and Corea. In the former private mail companies carry letters and papers between large cities, and in the latter there is nothing resembling a post office. A few years ago an attempt was made to establish a post office in Corea, but the conservative inhabitants, alarmed at such an innovation, turned out and burned the postal building which had been erected, and the attempt was abandoned. The cost of the post office in the United States is about $85,000,000 annually. Europe spends $185,000,000 for the same purpose, just $100,000,000 more than our government. In but one respect is the European system superior to ours. There free delivery extends to the rural districts, while here it is only in the cities that the mail carrier is seen. In Europe the mail goes to the farmer; here the farmer drives to town for the mail."

Among other speakers on School Day at the county fair will be Supt. Whitney of the Ypsilanti High School.

G. A. R. CAPTURE LOUISVILLE Old Veterans Find a Welcome in Old Kaintuck—Encampment Doings.

The Grand Army of the Republic has invaded southern soil again and captured the city of Louisville, Ky. This city of the state noted for its pretty women, fine horses and whisky did everything in its power to make it pleasant for the boys in blue, and it is needless to say that the famed southern hospitality was fully exemplified.

The Women's Relief Corps tendered a reception to Commander-in-Chief Lawler and staff which was the social event of the encampment. Over 10,000 people passed through the Galt house parlors.

Of course the big event of the encampment was the parade of veterans, and it was a big parade too, at least 50,000 old soldiers being in line.

Grand Army veterans and their friends to the number of 4,000 attended the grand camp fire at Music hall the same evening. Hon. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal then made the welcome address in behalf of the citizens, to which Commander-in-Chief Lawler responded.

The reports of the officers of the Women's Relief Corps showed a membership of 110,774, a gain of 35,696 for the year. The amount expended was $188,329 of which $64,659 was for relief.

A session of the Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R., another auxiliary to the veterans' organization, was also held and reports made showing an increase in membership.

THE REGISTER desires especially to invite every reader of this paper to attend the county fair next week. The presence of a large number of people is one of the great elements of success in a fair. Everything else has been provided to make this year's fair a success. Now let the people come out and a splendid fair is assured.

The best evidence of the stability of the Republic of Hawaii is furnished by the pardon of the deposed Queen and of the smaller fry that lately swaggered as rebels. The act is conclusive as to the belief of the government in the permanence of the republic, and of its reliance upon the affectionate support of the educated and moral part of the people.

Had events gone otherwise sequences would have gone otherwise. The half-hearted Queen would have granted us general amnesty had she been victorious over the patriotic revolutionists. The amnesty granted by the republic is a noble conclusion of a noble work. Hawaii has passed bloodlessly from a semi-barbarous monarchy to a republic based upon religion and learning. There are few more splendid passages in history than those that recorded the acts of the Hawaiian revolutionists, and few more disgraceful than those that record the unsuccessful intrigues of President Cleveland for the restoration of the unclean despotism of the Wanzakas.—Inter Ocean.

THE REGISTER is pleased to see the question of better postal facilities for Michigan taken up by the state banker's association. The U. S. Postal authorities have for many years rather side-tracked this state in the matter of eastern mails, always giving special attention to the equipment for the through mails between the East and Chicago, and the points reached from Chicago. We are glad to see so influential a body as the Michigan bankers taking the matter in hand. The following from The Detroit Journal upon this subject will be of interest:

"The movement inaugurated by the state bankers, and heartily supported by the people of this state, looking to the realization of better mail service in Detroit and all through Michigan, ought to be pushed with all vigor possible."

"The resolutions asking Postmaster General Wilson to give his personal attention to the protest against the rank discrimination against Michigan in this matter are timely and right to the point. There is no good reason why Michigan and Detroit should not be treated as fairly as Illinois and Chicago. All Michigan asks is a fair show with the rest and there will be a fight if she cannot get it."

"It is strange enough that past appeals to the postoffice department for decent service have been made in vain when the outrageous discrimination against Michigan is wholly the fault of the department."

"It is to be hoped now that the matter is to be presented in due form and with a popular backing behind it to compel at least some sort of recognition that the postoffice department, by order of Postmaster General Wilson, will make haste to give to Detroit and Michigan the equal rights they are entitled to."

"With the bankers' association's protest and appeal before them, and with such men as Hon. Don M. Dickinson and Hon. Peter White actively and earnestly pressing the matter, the postoffice authorities at Washington ought not to lose any time in coming to the conclusion that gross injustice has been done to Michigan. And when they shall expect them to cease discriminating against us."

The home market for American farmers exists wherever there is a factory or an employment which depends in any way upon manufacturing. The marvel of American industry has been the diversification of industry generally during the last third of a century—particularly toward and in the West. Take, for example, the prodigious manufacturing industries of Illinois, not to speak of Indiana and Ohio. Manufacturing industry has likewise, although a little later, been developed in the Southern States.

Even west of the Mississippi River vast manufacturing interests have been developed with unprecedented rapidity—down to the time when the Democratic party two years ago took hold of the government under pledge to revolutionize industry to the basis of "low Tariff or Free-Trade."—The Sioux City, Iowa Journal.

YOU LACK STRENGTH

Weak Nerves, Tired, Exhausted Bodies.

THE COMPLAINT OF THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS.

Health and Strength are Within Your Grasp.

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA MAKES YOU STRONG AND WELL.

It is The Great Restorative of Nerve and Body.

The world is filled with people who, while not exactly sick, yet lack strength. They are weak, tired, languid and nervous, especially at this season of the year, and have lost their old-time vigor and energy, and go about their work in a listless manner, without ambition, and feeling dull and dispirited.

In this connection we publish the cure of Mrs. B. B. Graves, of Middlefield, Mass., in the lady's own words:

"I have been a great sufferer during all that time. I was fearfully nervous, and could get but little sleep. I was constantly worrying about something. My head ached nearly all the time so that I could hardly endure it. My stomach was in a terrible condition, and I could eat but very little. I suffered awfully from the little food I did eat.

"I was frightfully weak and exhausted all the time, and could do almost no work at all. I was troubled with rheumatism. I was in a fearful condition from all these complaints, and thought I never should get well. I took medicines and employed doctors but got no better.

"Finally I began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and immediately there was an improvement. I gained rapidly in health and strength, and everyone of my troubles soon left me. I was entirely cured of them all by that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. There is no other medicine in the world that will do what that will. I advise everybody to use it."

Use it—it will make you strong and well—give you back your snap, energy and ambition to work.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of medicine.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a phosphate nerve and brain invigorating food without the heating properties of oatmeal, etc., requiring the life and strength of many pounds of choice wheat to obtain one package. Well people like it, and the sick can eat it when nothing else will agree with them. Saves labor, time and fuel. Drink Dr. Martin's Nervine Coffee. For sale by Stimson, State Street.

 The most incredulous are convinced of the virtues of Aunt Rachael's Malarial Peruvian Bark Bitters upon a trial of them. Their base is Spear's Port Wine, with herbs and roots so favorably known to the Medical Profession and the community at large as the best cure for Malaria. They are all that can be desired by the most feeble victims of Malaria. Physicians prescribe them.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

[OFFICIAL.] COUNCIL CHAMBER, Ann Arbor, September 16th, 1895. Regular session. Called to order by President Hiscock. Quorum present. Absent Ald. Koch, Laubengayer, Prettyman, Cady. The journal of the last regular session was upon motion approved. COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR. To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor: Gentlemen:—In accordance with a request of the Board of Regents of the University, I hereby appoint Hamilton Reeve as a special policeman, to act without compensation from the City; his post to be in and about University property in the City. W. E. WALKER, Mayor.

Received and placed on file. To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor: Gentlemen:—I desire to urge upon your honorable body the necessity of printing the ordinances now in force and in the hands of the compiler. Certainly time enough has elapsed for the completion of the work since it was begun. It is not fair to have ordinances with a penal section existing only in the original. The citizen has a right to know what the ordinances are, and not be left in the dark as he now is. I would advise that steps be taken by your honorable body to have the ordinances printed and placed in the hands of the people without further delay. I am now informed that even now some ordinances need amending, some need re-enacting, and that there is a number of other reasons existing why this work is not completed, and that further action is required by the Common Council thereon before they will be ready for the printer. Has the compiler presented the matter to you in proper form for action, if not, why not? What reason has been assigned for the delay? I desire to impress upon your honorable body the necessity of printing those ordinances at the earliest possible date. Warren E. Walker, Mayor.

Ald. Taylor moved to refer the communication to the Committee on Ordinances. Adopted.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor:

Gentlemen:—I note that there is considerable property which was originally laid out and platted by the proprietors of the City of Ann Arbor and dedicated as streets and alleys that is now held by private persons under claim of title. It seems that they gained possession by encroachment upon the street or by enclosing the same under no claim whatever. The charter provides in section 129 that no person shall be deemed to have gained any title against the City by lapse of time, to any street, lane or alley, common or public square heretofore laid out or platted by the proprietors of said City or any part thereof, by reason of encroachment or enclosure of the same. If this section means anything it means that private persons cannot gain title to streets or alleys by simply taking and holding possession for the statutory period. I would advise your honorable body to take such action as in your judgment you deem best, to open and take possession of all the streets and parts of streets of the City now closed to the public. Delay causes complications, and the sooner the City asserts its rights and settles this matter the better it will be for all concerned. Twelfth street north from Huron street, and State street north from Fuller street to Broadway at the river bridge, being of the greatest importance at this time, should demand your special attention. W. E. Walker, Mayor.

Ald. Brown moved that the communication be referred to the Street Committee and City Attorney. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS. A petition signed by Abraham Beck

A Good Appetite

Is essential to good health, and for restoring and sharpening the desire for food there is nothing equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For over five years I had dyspepsia, had no appetite and what I did eat was with no relish. I had headaches 3 or 4 days a week, and an awful Tired Feeling. When I went to bed I seldom had a good night's rest. But I am glad to say Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured all my ills. I rest well at night, have a hearty appetite and can perform my household duties easily. I am glad to report the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Elnora E. Thomas, Forestville, Md.

Ald. Prettyman moved that the report be placed on the table until the next regular session. Adopted as follows: Yeas—Ald. Moore, Maynard, Allmendinger, Snyder, Brown, Ferguson, Taylor, Shadford, Prettyman, Coon, Butterfield, Pres. Hiscock—12. Nays—None.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Streets, upon whose recommendation a grade was adopted for South University Avenue, and the Board of Public Works directed to improve the street in accordance with such grade, beg leave to report that after the work of improving said street was in part completed, various and sundry protest came to the knowledge of your Committee from persons living in the vicinity who claim that a great and irreparable injury has been and was being perpetrated in and upon their private property. That your Committee promptly and courteously waited upon the aforesaid indignant persons; and bore their criticism, some of which were not a little unreasonable, like men of chivalry; that they found upon South University Avenue a mass of earth piled high in the middle of the street; and from 6 to 8 inches above the grade recommended by your committee, and adopted by the Council; that they were informed that the inhabitants living along the line of the street had been instructed by the members of the Board of Public Works, that the street committee, the humble body which now addresses you, was doing the work at that point, that it, your committee, was responsible for the whole matter including the grievances of which complaint was made, and that it was the inexcusable incompetence and blundering efforts of your committee which constituted the instrument of this monstrous persecution of the innocent. That all this they endure without finching, together with the irony, sarcasm, invective and even insult amounting to a literal threat of violence of a certain ex-official who occupied the position of mere spectator passing along the in road, treating the later however, with becoming disdain. Your committee would further report that they have since been informed by the City Engineer that the grade stakes for the improvement upon the western portion of said Avenue were by mistake set 6 inches too high thus accounting fully for the excess of earth that had been placed upon the street. Your committee would further report that no member heard any complaint in reference to this work until the same was almost completed, that the attention of certain members of the Board of Public Works, as your committee is informed, was called to, at a stage when it would appear to the most casual observer that something must be the matter, and that they, instead of notifying the Street Committee or investigating for themselves and comparing the work with the drawings on file in the office of the Engineer, from which it is perfectly apparent that an error has been made, simply informed the people, that the Street Committee had done the work and that the same was under the supervision of that organization. Your Committee would further report that it has made no mistake in relation to South University Avenue and has nothing for which to offer an apology and that it does not understand that any of the work upon the streets, is done under its supervision. That the Engineer admits that the error was his and that the great stakes have now been lowered to correspond with the grade as recommended by your committee in the first instance. Your committee would further report that the extra earth which now lies upon South University Avenue is all needed to perfect the parking along the center of the Avenue and they recommend that the same be moved off the street and placed upon said park at the expense of the Engineer. Respectfully submitted, W. L. Taylor, C. J. Snyder, A. P. Ferguson, D. F. Allmendinger, O. E. Butterfield, Geo. L. Moore, H. G. Prettyman, Committee on Streets.

During the discussion Ald. Maynard moved that the citizens present and interested be granted permission to address the Council. The report of the committee was adopted as follows: Yeas—Ald. Moore, Maynard, Allmendinger, Snyder, Brown, Ferguson, Taylor, Shadford, Prettyman, Coon, Butterfield, Pres. Hiscock—12. Nays—None.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Streets would recommend that the Board of Public Works be ordered to surface that portion of Packard street north-east of the street railway tracks between Monroe and Hill with broken rock 4 inches deep, using the broken rock now on hand. Respectfully submitted, W. L. Taylor, A. P. Ferguson, C. J. Snyder, D. F. Allmendinger, Geo. L. Moore, O. E. Butterfield, H. G. Prettyman, Committee on Street.

Adopted as follows: Yeas—Ald. Moore, Maynard, Allmendinger, Snyder, Brown, Ferguson, Taylor, Shadford, Prettyman, Coon, Butterfield, Pres. Hiscock—12. Nays—None. To the Common Council: Your Committee on Streets would recommend that $75 be appropriated from the Street Fund to cut and fill Tappan Street to the established grade and that the work be done immediately upon the completion of the sewer. Respectfully submitted, W. L. Taylor, A. P. Ferguson, C. J. Snyder, D. F. Allmendinger, Geo. L. Moore, O. E. Butterfield, H. G. Prettyman, Committee on Streets.

Adopted. To the Common Council: Your Committee on Streets would recommend that the question of tiling the creek on west Washington street be deferred until next year as in the opinion of the Committee, the present bridge should be replaced by a stone culvert instead of tile. Respectfully submitted, W. L. Taylor, A. P. Ferguson, C. J. Snyder, D. F. Allmendinger, Geo. L. Moore, O. E. Butterfield, H. G. Prettyman, Committee on Streets.

W. C. T. U.

For God, and Home and Native Land.

Edited by Mrs. A. E. Van Valkenburg. Press Superintendent.

This afternoon, at three o'clock, there will be a special meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. A full attendance is desired. Mrs. Lucy Parker will give a history of the department of "Scientific Temperance Instruction" of which she is president, and Miss Otis of the University Y's will give a five minute talk on the relation of the W. Y. C. T. U. to the W. C. T. U.

There will be no meeting of the W. C. T. U. next week on account of the fair. The society will account a lunch stand on the fair ground, under the charge of a committee, at which a good lunch may be obtained for a very small sum of money. A large amount of temperance literature will be distributed. Any farmer or farmer's wife who desires a copy of the "Fair Number" of the "Union Signal" can obtain one by asking for it at the W. C. T. U. stand. They are exceptionally fine and one should find its way into every farmer's home in the county.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

The annual meeting of the National W. C. T. U. will be held in Baltimore, Maryland, October 18 to 23, 1895.

The superintendent of the "Evangelistic" department gives the following call.

In view of the custom to hold a day convention and prayer previous to the convention, I hereby call upon all local unions to set apart Thursday, Oct. 3rd, for this purpose.

The recent convention of the World's W. C. T. U. in London, with three hundred delegates from every part of the world, has filled us with thanksgiving, increased our sense of personal responsibility in our great work, and a realization of our dependence upon God. Hence, let us as individuals, and as unions, draw near to Him for a fresh endowment of power.

ALCOHOLIC HEREDITY.

In addition to the well-known effects of alcoholic heredity, some new views of heredity of most startling significance have been recently accepted by these making the matter a special study. Dr. T. D. Cortners, says:

Many drinking ancestors send down to the next generation an unstable state of brain and nervous system, or, more accurately, a brain power that is dependent on the surroundings, lacking in independent vigor and assertive force. As a result the child is an inebriate from the contagion of surroundings, or an abstainer in the society of this class. He is always a victim of his surroundings. He may be a genius of a high order, but he is crippled by a hypersensitive brain. He is the creature of conditions, and moulded by them absolutely. The saloon and drinking companion are poisonous germs. Such persons need protection, and some one to lean on during life. They often appear in positions of great influence, and are always dependent on some one. An eastern clergyman of eminence, who came from an alcoholic family, was guided absolutely in all things by his wife. After her death he fell into disgrace and died a wreck. A most excellent lady who made a reputation in the literary world, lost her husband, and died a few years after, a miserable ruin, the victim of bad surroundings. She came from an alcoholic ancestry and was an illustration of this class.

An alcoholic ancestry does not always mean alcoholic descendants, but it does mean degeneration, with brain and nerve defect, less vitality, less power of endurance, diminished longevity, and all forms of complex brain and nerve diseases.

The close association of the drink disease with insanity, paralysis, heart disease, consumption, and many forms of pauperism and criminality, suggests some startling facts. While the drink disease may cause all these conditions or diseases, they alternate one with the other, as both cause and effect, and they may all date from alcoholic ancestry.

Dear Doctor—I am often troubled with a feeling of weight about the forehead, often severe headache, difficulty in breathing through the nose, also with fits of sneezing accompanied with a profuse watery discharge from the nostrils and eyes. I am always more or less feverish and extremely sensitive to cold. Will you please tell me a remedy for that?

You have catarrh of the head. We unhesitatingly recommend Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm and guarantee it to give more and quicker relief and it will effect a cure in less time than any compound known to the science of medicine. It is perfectly safe to use at all times, contains no mercury or other deleterious substances, I use the remedy constantly in my practice and do not believe there is any prescription that will equal it for promptness of action. Any druggist will supply it.

LILLIAN LEWIS IN CLEOPATRA.

Grand Opera House To-Night.

To-night at the Grand Opera House Lillian Lewis will appear in the famous drama, "Cleopatra."

The announcement of the production of Cleopatra by Miss Lillian Lewis is the most important of dramatic events. A characteristic novelty in this production is the Egyptian barefoot ballet introduced for the diversion of the queen. The corps de ballet dance in the Egyptian style or Persian medallions. The dance is a characteristic Egyptian ballet in bare feet and historically correct, for such was the custom of the royal dancers in the time of Cleopatra. The danseuses are young, beautiful and graceful and the coryphees were taught by Augustus Sohlke, a master-de Ballet who himself danced in Alexandria and Cairo. The ballet is danced under silk awnings held by attendants; these awnings are provided with curtains which at certain times unroll and cover the dancers so that the bare limbs and feet alone are seen. This ballet is of the most sensational nature, and Miss Lewis bought the sole rights to its production in this country. The spectacular effects which Miss Lillian Lewis has introduced into her production of Cleopatra have popularized that drama. Public sentiment regarding a play is best estimate by the box office receipts and Miss Lewis has drawn more money this season than 75 per cent. of the big operatic, spectacular or dramatic attractions on the road.

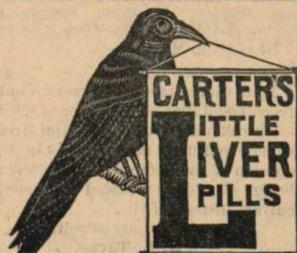

In Cleopatra Miss Lewis has Cleopatra's Barge under full sail, choruses, ballets, panoramic views of the battles between Antony and Caesar, the famous storm scene, orientally rich and voluptuous costumes, immense tableaux vivants, which have created a sensation, all the scenery used in the play, 16 calcium lights and a host of handsome women. It is giving a production which, above everything else, delights the eye and she artistic grace, that it is not too to say, that the part has never been more skilfully rendered. She is both sweet and winsome in the rendition, and at the same time reaches the grandness of the part in its truest light. In her rendition of Cleopatra, Lillian has outstripped her predecessors. The company includes Edmund Collier as Mark Antony—the best exponent of that character an American stage.

UNITED STATES HEALTH REPORTS

OFFICIAL ENDORSEMENT. JUNE 19, 1895, PAGE 10.

"In the interest of the masses, for whom these reports are compiled, the United States Health Reports have examined and investigated many preparations having for their object the cure of the tobacco habit, but among them all we have no hesitancy in giving the editorial and official endorsement of these Reports to the remedy known as "Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure," manufactured by the Keystone Remedy Company, at 218 La Salle Street, Chicago. We have demonstrated by this antidote that this antitobacco positively destroys the taste and desire for tobacco in ten days, leaving the system in a perfectly healthy condition, and the person using the same forever free from the habit.

"In the light of our examinations and tests of UNCLE SAM'S TOBACCO CURE," we are but performing a duty we owe the public when we endorse the same, and stamp it as the crowning achievement of the nineteenth century, in the way of destroying a habit as disgusting as it is common. WE KEEP THE CUP.

The Much Talked-of Yacht Races for the American Cup a Grand Fizzle.

The international races between the American yacht Defender and the British yacht Valkyrie III, the preliminaries of which have kept the lovers of the sport on the tip-toe of excitement and interest for many weeks, has proven a great flunk on the part of the British challenger, Lord Dunraven.

Will Dunraven Dare Accept This.

New York special says that in view of Lord Dunraven's kicking on the course and regulations of the American cup races the Atlantic Yacht club contemplates trying to arrange a race or a series, between the Defender and the Valkyrie III for a special cup to cost $2,000.

The entire business portion of Pierceton, Ind., was destroyed by fire.

REVIEW OF TRADE. Dun's says: A slight setback, which may mean much or nothing, according to the final outcome of the crops, is not unexpected at this season.

If the government crop reports were correct the situation would not be encouraging.

But not much confidence is placed in the estimate of corn, none at all in the estimate of wheat and even the most enthusiastic bulls do not think it worth while to quote the government report as to cotton.

The fact is we are beginning to market not far from 2,200,000 bushels of corn, though only about 200,000,000 bushels will be moved from the counties where it has grown; about 1,900,000,000 bushels of wheat, of which the farmers are wisely holding back a large proportion; and about 7,500,000 bales of cotton.

Prices have settled back during the past week notwithstanding the gloomy agricultural outlook. The wheat crop is evidently larger than the department has estimated and is coming forward with more encouraging rapidity.

The farmers have undoubtedly been keeping back wheat under an agreement among themselves, but it does not seem a profitable operation for them.

The price declined sharply with the indication of recovery. The price of corn has also yielded with a strong prospect of the largest crop ever grown, and a large proportion of the crop will be of little profit to the farmers.

The largest output of pig iron ever known is apparently supported by a reduction in stocks unsold. The market for finished products is a little weaker, with indications of hesitation on the part of buyers, although prices are on the whole fairly maintained.

CHRONIC MALARIA.

Three Forms of Chronic Malaria, But All Are Equally Difficult of Cure.

There are three kinds of chronic malaria, namely, that form which originally was contracted in a malaria district as simple chills and fever—acute malaria—and when the swamps were improved and the germs became nearly extinct the disease became chronic.

The second form is caused by continuing to live in malarial districts, in spite of the malaria, and acquiring the chronic form, although taking quinine all the time.

A medical book devoted exclusively to the treatment, causes and cure of this disease—chronic malaria—will be sent free to any address by The Pe-r-u-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

George R. Kelly sells Wood.

Referring to the little book on block signals, issued by the New York Central, the "Electrical Review," which is the recognized authority upon everything pertaining to electrical science, has this to say:

"In the 'Four-Track Series' No. 17, the passenger department of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad has published a most interesting story under the title of 'Block Signals on America's Greatest Railroad.'"

The letter press and illustrations in color are unusually fine. The technical description is by Mr. John P. O'Donnell, a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The New York Central has spent more than $1,000,000 in equipping its lines with the safest and most complete system of block signal devices for handling trains known to railway science.

The block signal system is a mystery to the average man, and we can imagine no more instructive or interesting pastime than to take a trip over the New York Central road, with a copy of this in hand, observe what is to be seen of the practical working of the block signal system."

A copy of the book will be sent free, postpaid to any address in the world, upon receipt of three two-cent stamps, by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Grand Central Station, New York.

WE WANT TO TELL YOU

Why Your Back is Lame—Why it Aches and Pains, and How to Cure it.

Do you know what it is to have a back that is never free from aches and constant pain, a lame back, a sore back, an aching back, in fact, a back that makes your life a burden?

And does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? Do you know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire.

Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause.

The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys, therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured.

Read the following from D. D. Cook, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and wish to say it is a truly great medicine. Thirty years ago I had nervous prostration while in the army, where I served for over four years. I think it was during this service that the seeds were sown which have caused all my trouble.

Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lamed me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion.

Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest, being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an almost lame man well.

I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since.

Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Thursday Sept. 26th, is to be Woman's day at the Washtenaw Co. fair. We learn that the program is to be in charge of Miss Emma E. Bower of the Democrat. That insures its excellence. If we visit that fair it will be on Thursday. That's when the fair, of Wash- tenaw, can be seen.—Adrain Press.

Miss Emma Bower has offered as sure- ties on her bond as treasurer of the Board of Education the following: Ol- zie B. Hall, Mrs. J. F. Nickels, Mrs. C. C. Warner, Lucy D. S. Parker, Ella R. Stafford, Elizabeth S. Pardon, Liz- zie Millen, Katherine T. Cramer, Frances J. Miner, Hentietta C. Penny.

Occasionally there's a man over in Washtenaw county who thinks the fair the last of this month won't amount to much, because of this thing and that thing not being to his taste. These fel- lows should remember that Michigan game laws permit the shooting of jack- snipes after Sept. 1st.—Adrain Press.

In the Ann Arbor Art school, Miss Hunt is announced to conduct classes in black and white, every Saturday morn- ing. Dr. Meade, of Detroit, who formerly lived at Ypsilanti sued Mrs. Katherine M. Sherman, of Ypsilanti, for $89, for professional services. After hearing the little evidence offered and the large amount of argument by the at- torneys the jury gave the doctor a ver- dict of $67.50.

Last Saturday between forty or fifty people, including a number from this city, attended a pleasant dinner party given by J. W. Wing, on his farm in Scio, in honor of his 75th birthday. The guests, who were principally old pioneers, were present from, Scio, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Dexter, Webster and Lima. The tables were heaped with good things to eat, and a glorious feast was enjoyed. Very few who do not know Mr. Wing's age would suspect that he had passed his 75th mile stone.

"Has Washtenaw coal?" queries the Argus. Certainly, down in Milan, Dexter and Ypsilanti, where they have the cash to get it. We have seen no ads showing much coal on hand in Ann Arbor. Ann Arbor people generally want to worry about coal for the future. They'll find it hot enough, and if there's a lack of coal, a supply of brimstone that is inexhaustible, is said to be available. Ez. Norris and Col. Dean please N. B.—Adrain Press.

If Ez. would only renew his subscrip- tion, and the Colonel would subscribe, for the Press, they might possibly have escaped this unkind cut.

The Adrain Press has not yet ceased to mourn over the fact that Washtenaw is forever lost to the democracy. Its last appeal is for help from the M. E. Conference which was held in this city last week. It says:

Now that the students are away, and the city is like a grave yard, we suggest that the conference mark its delibera- tions with a little of the old fashion- ed Methodistism, wherein the whole county of Washtenaw shall be aroused to a sense of its danger, and its old time democratic 1,200 majority shall be re- stored, and the fair be made a success.

Ladies of Ann Arbor who want help with serving or housework, who need a stewardess or table-waiter, whose chil- dren wish private tutoring, or who de- sire help of any kind which could be given by women in the university, will find it desirable to send their names to the employment bureau of the Students Christian Association. It is always safe, as a rule, to do your trading with people who think enough of your patronage to invite you through the columns of the newspapers. The liberal advertiser will always be found a liberal dealer, one who would rather sell many goods at a small profit than hold a few for big profits.

Worse Than Jail.

A slender little man with his hat pulled over his eyes and his hands buried in his trousers' pockets hovered uneasily about the door of the Southern police station yesterday. His dejected countenance and nervous manner attracted the sergeant's attention.

"Want to see any one?" inquired the officer. "No one in particular," and the little man glanced uneasily up and down the street.

"Well, what are you hanging around here for?"

"I thought maybe you could give me some information."

"Well, what is it?"

"Is it a crime to crawl in through a window and steal a watch?"

"Well, I should say so. That's burglary."

The little man's worst fears were confirmed.

"What is it—the state prison?"

"That's what. Was it in the day or night?" inquired the acute police officer.

"Night."

"That's burglary in the first degree."

"That's tough, but I guess I'll have to stand it," and the little man wiped the cold perspiration off his face.

"Have you been burgling?"

"What kind of beds do burglars get in here?"

"A blanket or two on the floor."

"Don't they get anything better when they surrender themselves and confess?"

"Yes; they might get another blanket."

"Well, take me in. It's tough, but I guess I'll have to stand it."

"You don't mean to say that you have committed burglary?"

"Yes; give me two blankets and lock me up."

"Tell me about it."

"Well, it was this way. I was strapped and the old lady wouldn't give me a cent out of the stocking that she keeps hid, and she said she'd break my neck if I soaked anything. After she got asleep last night I slipped outside, pried open the back window, crawled in and stole my watch and chain. Then I took it down on Third street, and soaked it for $3. Give me good, thick blankets will you, sergeant?"

"But a man has a right to break into his own house and steal his own watch."

"He has?" and the little man jumped up in the air and cracked his heels together. "That takes a load off my mind," and he seized the officer's hand.

"But your wife was up here and reported it awhile ago, and I'll have to tell her the truth."

"Lock me up, sergeant. I'll take only one blanket if you'll lock me up, now."

The last seen of the little man he was on his way to the wharf to drown himself.

Lassoing Life Snakes.

George W. Kingsbury, Jr., brought to the Argus-Leader office from Yankton a bull snake five and one-half feet long. The snake is extremely alive and will be taken from its box and exhibited to any who desire. The snake was captured in a peculiar way. The grain in that country is so thick that the snakes cannot crawl through. Mr. Kingsbury says that it is a matter of comparative ease to lasso them as they spurt about on top of the waving grain.

Singing for Soldiers.

General Pohlman De Saint Mars, commanding the French Twelfth army corps, has issued an order of the day regretting that the soldiers do not sing on the march, and suggesting to the regimental bandmasters that they train capable men in the ranks to sing national and warlike songs, sentimental and popular airs and lullabies to the accompaniment of mandolins, accordions or other instruments that can be easily played while marching.

A CITY OF SLEEPING CARS.

How the Visiting Knights Templar Will Be Housed While in Boston.

One of the unique features of the Knights Templar Conclave in Boston this month will be a city of sleeping cars, the like of which has probably never before been seen in this country. It will be made a feature of the triennial, and some of the finest entertainments of the visiting knights will be offered at the settlement, which will hold forth in glory for a week. The Boston and Maine road evolved the idea when it gave an official announcement that track room for 500 sleeping cars would be provided on the old McLean Asylum grounds, a park-like expanse used by one of the best-known sanitariums for years, until it gave way to the encroachment of business and the managers sold out at a big price to the railroad corporation. Day by day the magnificent stretch of green dotted with fine old trees is giving way to lines of steel gridironed with sleepers, but the park is so large that even though the work goes rapidly on it will be many weeks before it is completed, and the 25th of this month, when the first contingent of knights reaches Boston, will find plenty of pleasant room left for the accommodation of the "sleeper visitors." Probably only breakfasts will be regularly served in this car city, but booths will be arranged so that if any one is hungry, or if sick ones find it necessary to remain there all day, no one shall suffer for want of food. Nowhere about the city can a cooler place be found than in the asylum grounds, and it is not unlikely that in the steaming dog days not a few of the visitors, especially ladies, will find it very desirable to wander about the shaded park rather than travel in the dusty and heated city. For that reason, if for no other, the committee of arrangements desires to make the place fully as attractive as the city breathing places. Some of the visiting commanderies will invite the fraters whom they wish to entertain to that place, and evenings there will be a scene rivaling the most famous of Parisian boulevards.

We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn and unhappy faces of dyspepsia in every walk of life. It is our national disease and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done. Dyspepsia and pale thin people are literary starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and cure the disease. Do this with food. The Shaker Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

Four-Leaf Clover Party is the Latest. A four-leafed clover party is a pretty entertainment for a summer gathering, especially if the hostess has a country home or a clover field in her yard. The way to utilize the clover is to decorate the house with its blossoms, both red and white. The linen and china should also be ornamented with clover blossoms. In the hall there should be a little rattan table festooned with vines and clover blossoms, and covered with a green mat formed of ivy leaves. On this should stand a large glass punch bowl filled with iced lemonade, and surrounded by small glasses. A young girl in a dainty gown—it might be one of the new white delaines showing a clover leaf—should preside over the tempting beverage, as only a young girl can. At the close of the luncheon or tea the guests may be invited to hunt for four-leaf clovers, and those finding the largest number may be rewarded with pretty clover pins, while the unfortunate who finds the smallest number may be given a pair of eyeglasses to aid in some future search.—Jenness Miller Monthly.

Terry's Silvereen.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware. Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want everyone to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Silvereen Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons. Send at once as this offer is for 60 days only. the art of Pouring Tea.

Few hostesses understand the art of pouring tea and coffee, simple as it appears. As a rule the guest of honor is offered the first cup, which is the weakest, and the children, if served at all, are given the last and strongest. When it is desirable to have all the cups of uniform strength one should pour a little into each and then begin over again, reversing the order. In England this is so well understood that a pourer of tea does not begin to replenish the cups till all are before her.

A PAINFUL SITUATION.

And It Was Only Relieved by the Smart Action of the Lady Bather.

Cleveland World: There was an exceedingly thrilling scene at Boulevard bathing beach Thursday evening. It was yet daylight, and the weather being cool, many wandered about the beach or lounged on the pavilion, hesitating about taking a dip. There were two persons in the water, a young man and a young lady companion, and of course the watchers, having nothing else to do, kept them constantly in sight. What a good time those two young people had in the water! They acted as though they were sole proprietors of the whole chain of great lakes and everybody envied them. Suddenly the young man dropped into the water and called to his lady companion. The excitement in the pavilion was intense. Had he been seized with cramps? No, for the young lady, after a brief conference with her submerged male friend, ran to the shore, across the sand as fast as her bloomed legs could carry her, up the stairs and into her dressing room. The situation became absolutely painful, for only the young man's head could be seen peeping from the water depths, and he was evidently waiting. But for what? In another moment the young lady tripped down the steps, across the beach and into the water. She carried something bright red in her hands, waded over to the spot where the young man was quietly waiting, and handed it to him. "What was it?" everybody said.

The next move was the young lady's sudden disappearance from the billows, and as fast as she could she ran into her dressing room.

And the young man, where was he? In two minutes from the time of the girl's disappearance a male figure elegantly attired in a red undershirt cautiously emerged from the water, made a break across the sand, up the stairway into the dressing room, and was soon lost to view.

"Wonder what the trouble was?" everybody asked, and the curtain dropped.

Where Sea Serpents Had No Show. A Georgia drummer was talking to a crowd of the famous "blue snake" of Florida. The drummer said: "I was workin' in the field one day with a nigger, and niggers are scared to death of blue snakes, when he give a yell, 'Blue snake' and went flyin'. I didn't know which way the durn snake was comin', so I took after the nigger, and we went out of that field like two streaks of lightning, leavin' our hoes standin' up in the furrow. What became of the snake I don't know, and I didn't go back to see until the next mornin', and, by gum! what I found there surprised me about as much as anything I had met up with in Florida. The snake had hit my hoe handle plumb in the center, and it had swelled up so that I got a thousand shingles, 10,000 feet of weather boardin', four cords of firewood, 100 fence rails, enough floorin' for the Baptist church and 500 barrel staves out of it." The listeners expressed their belief vigorously. "And," concluded the drummer, when he could be heard, "that hoe-handle was still swellin' when we got it to the sawmill."

"Oh, my poor head," sighs many a weary mother, many a tired husband, many an overworked child, and relief seems far away. The severity and frequency of headache in many instances leads the sufferer to despair of ever obtaining freedom from the painful affliction. Remedy after remedy is tried in vain. Remedy for the malady "sticketh closer than a brother." There is, however, a specific for headache and neuralgia. It is Gessler's Magic Headache Wafers. Chronic headaches yield to them. Sold by John Moore.

Latest New York Slang.

"Een a meen-ute" is the latest slang phrase on Broadway, and it comes by way of Coney Island, says the Sun. There is a manager of the couchee-couchee show down there whose accent has interested West Brighton and made his oft-repeated "Een a meen-ute" a catch phrase. When his show place is filled with men who whoop it up and ask, "When is the dance coming?" his invariable reply is, "Een a meen-ute." This pleases the West Brighton men about-the-beach, and they ask each other questions to which the reply "Een a meen-ute" may be made. From this source it was brought to town, and now it rages.

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This column is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am entrusted with a certain amount to spend advertising these knives (the best value ever seen in America at One Dollar each). Now, the knife is its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained ivory handle—genuine African ivory manded with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamol leather case goes with each knife. Now, could it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement?

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is a good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives.

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith.

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44c., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

The deposit of 44 cents will be placed to your credit, and will be deducted from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and absolutely guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs the promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your sample, even if you should lose a sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper, who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this place in this paper for three years! The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a sample knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS, ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT, 138 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DEAR SIR,—I faithfully promise on my and honour to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-cutlery is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamol leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamps, which please hold for me until I send you an order at the dozen rate.

A ROGUE ELEPHANT.

He Had Been Guilty of Many Crimes and Was a Terror to Everybody.

From the Madras Standard. During a recent religious festival at Alvarthirunagari, on the banks of the Tambrani, a terribly tragedy was enacted by an elephant. Like most large temples this has its periodical festivals, one of which has just been celebrated. Certain elephants were brought down from Nanguneri and Tinnevely for the festivities of the occasion. All went smoothly till, unfortunately, the large elephant of Nanguneri, being in a rut, ran amuck. The mahout unwittingly took up a little child (son of the Temple Darma-Sartha) and placed it in front of him on the neck of the elephant. Alarmed at the state of the elephant, the mahout endeavored to quietly pass the child out of danger by handing it to somebody else. He was not quick enough to elude the sagacity of the elephant, which snatched up the child, put it into his mouth, and began munching it. The mahout, horrified at the sight, jumped down and tried to extricate the child, which he succeeded in doing, but not before the child was well nigh dead. Indeed, it only breathed for a few minutes afterward, and then expired. Enraged beyond all bounds, the animal became furious, and in its mad rage seized the mahout, dashed him to the ground, and then trampled out any little breath that might have still remained in the body. And here comes a strange and touching incident. Repenting seemingly of his awful misdeed, the elephant gathered up what was the moment before his master, proceeded to his (the mahout's) house, and, depositing his mournful burden at his door, passed on. The people generally, in great dread, closed their doors and windows. The elephant wildly rushed along the streets and came to the temple, the door of which, too, had been closed. It thereupon battered the door, and passing into the enclosure, furiously attacked the little elephant of Tinnevely, which it emerged with its tusks and soon killed. Emerging thence, the elephant rushed madly along the river close by, where it began throwing mud and sand all over itself. In the meantime, the police constables had got their muskets loaded, and, climbing out of danger, took positions at the furious animal, which they eventually succeeded in disabling and ultimately killing.

HER FACE AN INSPIRATION.

Not for its Particular Beauty, but because It Looks So Bright. New York Herald: There is a face which I meet frequently on the street. It is not so bright and so happy that the atmosphere always seems clearer after it has passed. Its owner is evidently a working girl, for each morning she takes a car at a certain corner, and she carries a lunch. And I feel like congratulating the firm which has captured that ray of sunshine to light up some dingy office or beam across some dreary goods counter at the impatient customers. I am sure she is worth her weight in gold to her employer. Her face but puts in contrast the multitude of gloomy, weary, worried, sorrow-stricken countenances one sees passing up and down the city streets, and leads one to wonder why there are not more of these exceptions. If it is possible to cultivate such a disposition as shines out through that pair of laughing eyes, there's a deal of blame attached to those people whose faces have the effect of an August thunder cloud on the community.

His Historical Knowledge. One day recently in a Dundee school the teacher was examining the class in history, and asked one of the boys: "How did Charles I. die?"

The boy paused for a moment, and one of the other lads, by way of prompting him, put his arm up to his collar to signify decapitation. Boy No. 1 grasped, as he thought, his friend's meaning, and exclaimed, to the great amusement of the class: "Please, sir, he died of cholera."

A CINCINNATI BELLE.

Margaret Rives Nichols to Mary a Margais.

The midsummer death of news in Cincinnati has been profoundly stirred by the announcement of the engagement of Miss Margaret Rives Nichols, daughter of Mrs. Bellamy Storer, and the Marquis Pierre de Chambrun, of the French Embassy at Washington. This engagement has more than once been rumored and as often denied, but now that it is authoritatively announced, friends on both sides are delighted and congratulations are pouring in. In his fiancée the Marquis has the hand of the fair descendant of one of Cincinnati's oldest and most aristocratic families. The name of her grandfather, Joseph Longworth, is intimately connected with the earlier history of the city; her father, George Ward Nichols, the first president of the College of Music, was one of the foremost figures of Cincinnati in his day, and her mother, Joseph Longworth's daughter, and now the wife of Bellamy Storer, the ex-Congressman, will always be remembered for the impetus she gave to art in founding the famous Rookwood pottery. With such an ancestry it is no wonder that Miss Nichols is a brilliant and intellectual girl. She has been carefully educated, has traveled extensively, and is accustomed to life in diplomatic circles both at home and abroad. While not a beauty in the strict sense of the word, she is a fine-looking and attractive girl, of medium height and well-rounded figure, brunette complexion and dark hair and eyes. Her manners are unaffected, and she has always been a great favorite and much sought after. The unusually fortunate man is a grand-nephew of Lafayette, and is about thirty years of age, courtly and refined in bearing. It is said by friends on both sides that the match is a love affair, and it is known that the families are well pleased. The marriage will probably take place in the autumn at the beautiful suburban home of the Stors, on the Grandin road.—Town Topics.

POOR, BUT HONEST.

Bishop Potter So Declares Himself a Society Matron. Last year Bishop Potter went out to Tuxedo to confirm a class of young people in the new church there. A young matron who had been a member of the congregation of Grace Church while the Bishop was its rector, and had herself been confirmed and married by him, wrote and insisted that he should stop with her during his stay at Tuxedo. He accepted. As a particular honor she adorned his room with an elaborate toilet set of solid silver that included more than a dozen pieces. The Bishop came, confirmed the candidates and went away. But the silver toilet set could not be found. It was not on the dressing table nor in the bathroom, and the matron's astonishment was great. Her annoyance was almost as great, and for two days she wondered what could have become of the set, and whether the Bishop had supposed it was a present. On the third day she summoned up courage enough to write and ask him if by mistake his man or one of the servants had packed up the silver toilet set with his luggage, and it had been overlooked in unpacking, etc. The Bishop answered promptly, for the next day she received this telegram: "Am poor, but honest. Look in the table drawer." The young woman did look, and the toilet set was found there.

Photographing the Baby.

"Good heavens," roared the policeman, springing up stairs three steps at a jump and dashing with uplifted truncheon into the photographer's studio, "what are you fighting about up here? Are you all in this row?"

Grandpa and Uncle John and Aunt Sarah and pa and me and Cousin Bessie and young Mr. Thinkers, her young man and the two cousins from Birmingham and Uncle Charlie and grandma all looked kind of silly and were quiet, and the photographer said:

"Oh, that's all right, officer; there's no row; we're just trying to keep the baby quiet while we take its picture, bless it."

TYPE-SETTING MACHINES.

How They Are Worked to Utilize in the London Times Office.

In typesetting machinery the application of mechanics to the art of printing is reaching a culmination. It is stated that during the last twenty years upward of $9,000,000 has been expended in bringing the art of setting type by machinery up to its present state. Now, for all plain work, typesetting machines are available. In the London Times office a curious arrangement has been adopted for the composition of the stenographic notes of the parliamentary reports in the house of commons, in which typesetting machines play an important part. The stenographic notes are read to the operators of the machines, instead of being transcribed, as was formerly the case. Men at telephones at the house of commons read these notes to men stationed at receivers in the Times composing room, who in turn read them to the typesetters. In this way these notes can be set up in type almost as rapidly as they could be transcribed by an expert typewriter, and it is said that the number of errors that creep in are not so numerous as to make the work of correcting proof much greater than by the old system, while a considerable saving in time and expense is effected.

"I suppose," he began, as he entered a railroad ticket office—"I suppose you sell tickets to New York?"

"Certainly, sir," was the reply. "You have a direct line?"

"We have, sir."

"Is it the only direct line?"

"It is."

"Is it down on the map as the only direct line?"

"As you see, sir," replied the agent, as he opened a folder.

"Y-e-s, I see. You land passengers in New York ahead of all competing lines, of course?"

"Of course."

"Luxurious coaches—no dust—finest dining cars—scenery unexcelled?"

"Yes, sir."

"By taking your line I avoid delays and reduce the chances of accident to the minimum?"

"Yes, sir, you do. Have a ticket to New York over our line, sir?"

"Can't say yet. I'm going to see five other agents, each with the shortest and most direct line, and if I can find a liar among the six I'll take his road!"

MAN AND THE CHAFING DISH.

He Can Cook Better Than His Wife, Because More Confident.

Octave Thanet says that men use a chafing dish better than women. Perhaps it is because there is a gaudy triumph about chafing dish processes which there is not in other cooking exploits. Men never like to work behind a crowd. They enjoy the tumult and the sizzle and the cheering when they strike a telling blow. A woman is nervous to see a dozen eyes on her. Her ears tingle at the good-natured comments. She is frightened, she loses confidence in herself. She looks furtively across the table at the man for whom she cares for more than all the rest, and he is telling the lady who gives such charming dinners that he must send his wife over to her for a series of lessons—and it is all over for the poor creature at the alcohol lamp. If she be wise she will tip the lamp over and cover her retreat.

A man's self-confidence is of stouter fibre. He isn't looking at his wife, he is looking at his dish; if any ingredient is missing to call loud and spare not—for that was voice given; naturally he gets everything, whether he has forgotten anything or no, and the entire service of the meal stops until he has had his will. A man will have two maids and a large stately butler running about the waiting room on his preparation of terrapin à la Maryland, or lobster à la Newberg; and he will be no whit embarrassed. A woman is scared to interrupt the feast by withdrawing one servant. And the man is right and the woman is wrong; for people can wait for their wine or their saucers, but an alcohol flame waits on no man. But the difference between man and woman as cooks is too near other burning questions for one to discuss with the thermometer at 90.

Why Don't Men Propose? Many New York women can sympathize with this wail from across the water! "I wonder how many little tragedies there are scattered about the town at the end of a London season. I believe the whole modern system of society life in London is, to say the least of it, most galling and trying to girls. Of course there are many brilliant exceptions. But for the average well-born, well-educated society daughter the present state of the 'marriage market' cannot be said to be satisfactory, and it never will be till the word itself is obsolete in the speech of mankind."

NOT ALL KILLED BY SHOT.

Splinters Were More Destructive Than Missiles in the Eastern War.

The recent war between Japan and China has taught the officers of the American navy at least one new thing in the construction of vessels. There will be scarcely any woodwork in the Oregon, that is rapidly nearing completion at the Union Iron works. This is due to the fact that there were more people killed and injured in the naval battles in the orient by flying wooden splinters than by the bullets or exploding shells. Most of the cruisers and battle ships that took part in the war were constructed with steel hulls, and all of them were more or less protected with heavy armor plates. The interior fittings and furnishings of the quarters and the deck coverings, however, were of wood. When a shot pierced the hull of a vessel and tore through the wood in the interior of the ship splinters were sent flying in all directions. In most cases the shot passed through the vessel without injuring any of the crew, but the shower of wooden splinters filled the sick bay and kept the sailmaker sewing up the dead in canvas sacks for burial. On the battleship Oregon practically no wood will be used. All the bulkheads and partitions dividing the rooms in the officers' quarters are to be of iron. No wood will be used on the decks, but instead linoleum will be cemented to the iron deck to prevent slipping. All the doors will be of iron, and all those leading to the decks will be made watertight.

The interior fittings and furnishings of the quarters and the deck coverings, however, were of wood. When a shot pierced the hull of a vessel and tore through the wood in the interior of the ship splinters were sent flying in all directions. AMERICA'S GREAT SCHEME.

THE DENVER TIMES SPEAKS OF THE GREAT PECOS VALLEY.

Thinks it the Greatest Scheme of the Age—Making the Desert Blossom as the Rose—What Pluck Will do—Something of Interest to the People With Capital—An Opportunity to Double an Investment.

The Denver Times of recent date sent a special correspondent to the famous Pecos Valley to prepare an article for that paper upon the wonderful growth of this great enterprise. The substance of the article is as follows: "Seven years ago R. W. Tansill, whose name of cigars are known the world over, was obliged to give up his business, on account of overwork, and go west. He first went to Colorado. Among the numerous subjects which here claimed his interest, the first and most important place was given to that vast reclamation enterprise which during late years has made the Pecos Valley known throughout the United States and in many parts of the old world. Visiting southeastern New Mexico in the fall of 1888, and traveling hundreds of miles by wagon through the valley where as yet were only the beginnings of development, he was fascinated by the possibilities which lay in those vast stretches of fertile land and in the abundant supplies of water for its irrigation then flowing unused to the sea. From that time till the present day his interest in the Pecos Valley has been an active and aggressive one. These seven years have sufficed to establish in this valley—through the splendid leadership of Mr. J. J. Hagerman, who early became interested in the undertaking, and has since been at its head—the largest irrigation enterprise in America, and one of the greatest in the world. Upward of $4,000,000 have been expended in vast irrigation works, with reservoirs impounding a total of 50,000,000 gallons of water and a network of main canals and laterals aggregating 1,200 miles in length; in 164 miles of standard-gauge railway extending through the valley's entire length; in the establishment of numerous towns and villages; in the setting in motion of the multitude of forces and agencies there are engaged in bringing civilization into the desert. Here 400,000 acres of land will ultimately be reclaimed, and 10,000 families will be provided with homes and an opportunity to achieve industrial independence. Fully 80,000 acres have already been settled upon, and the settlers are profitably engaged in raising the standard crops of the temperate and semi-tropical zones, together with fruits which are disputing for the pre-eminence with those grown in the most favored sections of our land. The valley, which seven years ago was an unbroken, barren plain, practically uninhabited, is to-day dotted with farms, orchards and vineyards, while towns and villages are springing up in many places, in which, the foundations of prosperous communities are being securely laid. The Pecos Valley is likewise destined to become one of the most prominent sanitarium centers of the Rocky Mountain region, for it combines pre-eminently favorable climatic conditions with opportunities for profitable occupation not elsewhere to be found.

But Mr. Tansill's active business habits forbade his being a mere on-looker, however interested a one, in this great work of development. Among his extensive holdings in the valley was a tract of 640 acres of land in a solid body, and about four years ago he entered upon the improvement of this property with the sole object of demonstrating what could be accomplished in farming and stock raising in the Pecos Valley by the use of the most approved methods.

A brief description of the model stock farm, for such it is, will be of interest. It is situated near the center of the Pecos Valley. The altitude of this part of the valley is 3,200 feet, an altitude which, combined with its southern latitude, gives it a most delightful all-year-round climate, adapted to the cure or alleviation of a wide range of chronic ills, particularly of that dread foe of the human race, consumption. The land lies beautifully for irrigation and is all under cultivation. About 400 acres are in alfalfa, of which from five to six tons per acre are raised yearly and which can be put in stock at a cost of $1.00 per ton. Twenty acres are in orchard, set principally to apples, which are a superb crop in the valley and five acres are in vineyard, the remainder being in general crops, principally corn. In this arrangement of products, as well as in the planning of the entire establishment, the main purpose of the farm is had in view, which is the raising of cattle, horses and hogs. Hog raising is a very profitable industry in the Pecos Valley, and the Tansill farm is fully equipped to conduct it on an extensive scale. With the abundant alfalfa and cheap corn of the Pecos Valley hogs can be raised and fattened at a cost not to exceed 1 1/2 cents per pound. Since cholera is unknown the stock raiser does not need to be assured that hogs are a highly profitable crop in the valley. The water system of the farm is worthy of extended notice. From a well 165 feet deep is obtained an inexhaustible supply of most excellent water. This is pumped by a fourteen foot windmill to a large tank in a tower, whence it is piped to all the buildings, pens and corrals. In addition there has recently been completed a 200-barrel cistern, to which pipes extended from the barr roof, so that the farm need never be without an ample supply of pure rainwater.

I have dwelt at length upon this Pecos Valley farm because it has seemed well worthy of careful description. It is a notable piece of work, a worthy achievement of a man with whom success has become a habit. Unless I greatly mistake, this model stock farm, while an inspiration and an example to the Valley farmers, will bring its owner ample material returns for his labor and investment, as it has already brought to him the blessing of restored health.

CHASED BY A RATTLER.

Ranchman Has a Narrow Escape from Being Bitten by an Angry Reptile.

San Francisco Examiner: S. P. Paxton, of Ukiah, had an engagement with a huge rattlesnake recently, from the effects of which he is not as yet out of danger. Paxton was on his way to a ranch which he owns about five miles from this city. Always on the watch for something to add to his already large collection of nests, birds and animals, he discovered what he supposed to be a huge bird's nest. Dismounting, he crawled on his hands and knees through the chapparal, and was about to reach for the supposed nest when the thing, giving no warning but a hiss, struck at Mr. Paxton, but fell short. Paxton turned and made his way out of the chapparal as fast as possible, with the snake after him. On emerging from the chapparal Paxton started on a run for his horse, secured his rifle and shot the snake. It was a long time before the gentleman could calm himself so that he could take measurements. The snake was five feet four inches in length, and was as large as a man's leg. It had eighteen rattlers and a button, and is the largest that has been killed in the valley. Considering that Mr. Paxton has only one arm to battle with, it is marvelous that he escaped as well as he did. He is still quite prostrated, and will be more careful in the future.

College for Housewives.

There is a college for housewives at Walthamstan, England, where young women may learn all the branches of domestic work, including cooking, needlework, laundry work, and household superintendence. The name of the college is, appropriately, St. Martha's. Only ten pupils are received at a time, in order that each may serve her turn as housekeeper, chambermaid, laundress, etc. As the course of instruction includes every household function, from building fires and cleaning lamps to giving dinner parties, the graduate is equally fitted for a housemaid or a house mistress.

Bird of Brilliant Plumage.

There are few birds whose plumage is so variable as the ptarmigan. Three times in the year its plumage changes; it has separate coats for spring, autumn and winter. At the beginning of November it puts on the last costume of the season. Its spring brown and summer gray serve well to hide it among the scanty herbage of its haunts from the keen eye of the soaring falcon.

A Disastrous Kentucky Duel.

The Chino-Japanese war has produced something like a camphor famine, for the substance now costs from 17 to 18 a hundredweight, and the Celestial finds it dearer than the Londoner. It is reassuring to know that Izal is even more effective than camphor in arresting and preventing disease, and that, at present quotations, it is much cheaper.

A Loaded Pistol Pocket.

It's a Grand Success.

The fact has been demonstrated by the thousands of testimonials the Mayers Drug Company, of Oakland, Md., has received since it has sent its famous Mayers Magnetic Catarrh Cure out to the sufferers of catarrh. No medicine has received such an endorsement from the people in so short a time as it did. The makers sell the medicine on business principles, and a patient is not required to buy the medicine by the dozen to get a cure. The Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure sells for $1 per bottle, one bottle to last for a three months treatment. Three bottles is the highest word ever required to complete a cure. General catarrh one bottle is guaranteed. No cure no pay.

This is an unequalled offer and if you are a sufferer from catarrh get a bottle from your druggist, if no benefit derived costs you nothing. A prominent R. R. conductor speaks:

Cumberland, Md., April 29th, 1893. To The Mayers Drug Co. Gentlemen:—Yours to hand, in reply will say that I have the highest regard for your Catarrh Remedy, my trouble is in a chronic form and expected to use more than one bottle. I used one bottle which removed the trouble from the head in good shape and am on the second bottle for throat trouble, I'd should succeed with the latter as I did in the former I shall write you again in the near future. Hoping it will do for the suffering humanity what it did for me, I remain Yours truly, G. J. Schmutz.

The Dean's Prayers and the Weather.

A South of England dean can testify, from personal experience, to the efficacy of prayer. During the serious drought of 1893, when the country was crying out in its thirst, and the crops were being threatened, he publicly prayed in his cathedral that rain might be permitted to descend from heaven. The rain came—on the day of the very reverend gentleman's garden party. His guests were disposed to complain, but the dean declared that he always preferred rain at a garden party; it made the grass and the flowers and the trees look so beautifully fresh. This year there has also been a drought, and the dean has had a garden party. In deference to the whims of the invited company he abstained from praying for weather of any sort. The day arrived, and from early morning until long after sunset the rain continued to fall in a drenching downpour. In the diocese a fear has arisen that the dean may perhaps have prayed too much, and it is suggested that a fine weather archdeacon should be held in reserve as a pleader for the readjustment of the elements.—Daily Telegraph.

The Deepest Mine.

It has been the undisputed claim of Austria that she possesses the deepest metal mine in the world, 3,675 feet below the surface at the time of the great fire in 1892. It has now been surpassed says The Engineering and Mining Journal, by the No. 3 shaft of the Tamarack Copper Mining Company, in Michigan, which on December 1 was 3,640 feet deep, and is now more than 3,700 feet deep, the average rate of sinking being about 75 feet a month. This makes it beyond question the deepest metal mine in existence, and only one other shaft has reached a greater depth, that of a coal mine in Belgium, for which 3,900 feet are claimed. The Adelbert shaft in Germany reached a depth of 3,281 feet.

"Heads I Win, Tails You Lose."

Sandwich, Mass., offered a bounty of 25 cents for a muskrat's head, and the town of Bourne 25 cents for a muskrat's tail. The boys hunters sold the head at Sandwich, paid 5 cents care fare and sold the tail at Bourne. Each town changed its offer at the same time, and the boys cheerfully sold the muskrat's tail at Sandwich and the head at Bourne. Now the town fathers will meet and agree to pay for either the muskrat's head or tail.

Ten Hours.

A French geographical society proposes to divide the face of the clock into ten hours of ten minutes and a hundred seconds each. This is to make time uniform with the decimal system or count by tens. The count by twelves which now shows on the face of the clock survives from the earliest times—probably from long before the invention of letters.

The Incomparable Chicago & Alton In these United States of America at least, and it is highly probable that throughout the entire world, the official record for the safety and welfare of its passengers made and maintained by the Chicago & Alton Railroad cannot be surpassed if indeed it can be equalled. Over its completely rock-ballasted, dustless roadway between Chicago and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis and St. Louis and Kansas City, eighteen magnificently appointed express trains are run on uniformly fast time every day. But in spite of this heavy passenger traffic the official records show that from December 4, 1879 to December 4, 1890, eleven years, there was no passenger, who was in place as a passenger, killed on Chicago & Alton trains. Moreover there was not a passenger seriously injured, to the extent of losing a limb, an eye or a member of any kind during that time.

During the entire period of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, when it was not an uncommon thing to find the usual passenger traffic of the road increased two, three and four-fold, and special excursion trains were very many, there was not an accident of any kind—a most remarkable record.

Besides being America's most popular railroad, the Chicago & Alton is the Pioneer Dining Car Line, the Pioneer Pullman Sleeping Car Line and the Pioneer Palace Reclining Chair Car Line.

Be sure that your ticket reads over the Chicago & Alton Railroad, when its matchless and direct lines can form the whole, or even a part of your journey.

ARE WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES POPULAR?
BECAUSE LADIES BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair.

We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

LITERARY NOTES.

Josiah Flynt, who has had extended experience as an amateur tramp in this country, England, and Germany, writes a paper for the October Century on "How Men Become Tramps." He gives as the principal causes or sources of vagabondage: The love of liquor; Wanderlust, or love of wandering; the county jail, owing to the promiscuous herding of boys and homeless wanderers with criminals; the tough and rough element in villages and towns, and the comparatively innocent but misguided pupils of the reform school.—The Century Co., New York City, N. Y.

Fiction and travel are the strong points of the September Cosmopolitan. Conan Doyle, H. H. Boyesen, and Clark Russell are among the story-tellers. A well-known New York lawyer relates the story of "A Famous Crime"—the murder of Doctor Parkman by Professor Webster. An Article on Cuba is timely. Thomas Moran again contributes a series of the most exquisite landscapes of western scenery, twelve in number, illustrating an article by Col. John A. Cockerill, on "Modern Utah." And it may be said that no more beautifully illustrated number of The Cosmopolitan has ever been given to the public.—The Cosmopolitan, N. Y. City, N. Y.

Since the Pratt Institute was founded in Brooklyn, the Drexel Institute has been founded in Philadelphia, and the Armour Institute in Chicago, upon substantially the same lines. But at the time of its establishment the Pratt Institute was a pioneer; and the latter institutions have not distanced it in popularity or in excellence. In the September number of the New England Magazine there appears the best popular account of the Pratt Institute which has ever found its way to the magazines. It is by Mr. J. Frederick Hopkins, one of the Institute instructors, and is fully illustrated. It will have wide reading in our educational circles.—Warren F. Kellogg, 5 Park Square, Boston, Mass.

Outing for September is a superbly illustrated number and full of breezy, reasonable sketches of forest, flood and field. The contents are as follows:—"The Seigneur's Shooting Party," by Gertrude Cundill; "Fox Hunting by Moonlight," by Mary G. Humphreys; "The One Thing Lacking," by Claude S. Coles; "On and in the Ottawa," by William Thomson; "Paw Ducket's Coon-Hunt," by Ed. W. Sandys; "Cycling on the Palisades of Hudson," by Ernest Ingersoll; "A Mountain Vigil," by Arthur P. Stone; "Rocky Mountain Echoes," by Robt. S. Hill; "International Athletes of 1895"; "True Canoeing," by R. B. Burchard; "Lenz's World Tour A-wheel"; "Polo in the West," by J. B. MacMahon; "Family Camping," by Emily H. Palmer; "The Cup Champions and their Crews," by R. B. Burchard; "A Small-Class International Race"; and the usual editorials, poems, records, etc.—Outing Pub. Co., 239 5th Ave. N. Y. City, N. Y.

The September Arena opens up with a vivid description of the wordy battle now being waged in the legislatures over the agitation for raising the age of consent. The facts are marshalled in order by Helen H. Gardener, the well-known and popular novelist, and deal this month with the arguments, pro and con on the recent legislation in Nebraska, Colorado and Missouri, where the age has been materially raised. Prof. Joseph Rodes Buchanan, contributes a striking and valuable article on "The Marvels of Electricity."

In his paper called "After Sixty Years," Mr. B. O. Flower, editor of the Arena, touches upon the disillusion of the career of the reformer, and tells of the career of one who in a lifetime of sixty years' service has not lost faith in humanity. Henry Wood writes on "Omnipresent Divinity." Prof. Frank Parsons, Law Lecturer at the Boston University, contributes his second study of the "Economy of Municipal Electric Lighting." A symposium of clergymen and other writers deals with Prof. George D. Herron and his work. Dr. Herron has created a great stir by his teaching in the west, and he has been bitterly assailed for some of his views of social Christianity. The Hon. John Davis writes on the career of Napoleon Bonaparte from the psychological point of view, and condemns him as simply a criminal genius, utterly worthless to humanity. The Books of the Day, World of Books and Practical Progress Notes complete an excellent and well-balanced budget of good reading.—Arena Pub. Co., Boston, Mass.

He Was Both.
"Is Mr. Hunter in?" inquired a stranger, as he entered the store of Hunter & Fisher, grocers.
"No, sir; he's gone out fishing."
"Well, perhaps I could see Mr. Fisher?"
"No; he is hunting in Marin county."
"Hunter is fishing and Fisher is hunting, eh?"
"Yes, sir."
"Hunter is a fisher and Fisher is a hunter, eh?"
"Yes, sir."
"And I'm hunting for Mr. Fisher and fishing for Mr. Hunter?"
"Yes, sir; I suppose so."
"Then I'm a hunter and a fisher too?"
"Yes, sir; they'll not be back to-day."
"I'm both, and they ain't but one apiece, eh?"
"I guess so, sir," and the clerk commenced to eye the stranger suspiciously.
"Of course I'm both," and he handed out his card. Upon it was engraved: "Fisher Hunter."

THE CIGARETTE HABIT.

How He Stopped It When His Friends Gave Him the Cold Shoulder.
"Did I ever tell you how I managed to cure myself of the cigarette habit?" asked a cholly the other day. I told him he had never explained the mystery to me, and that I had spent many sleepless nights in consequence. "Now, you are joking," he said, with his neat little lip, "but really, on the extremely deceased, I have stopped it entirely, and it was the easiest thing in the world. I used to smoke from four to five packages a day, and sometimes more. One day I made up my mind that I would quit. I do not mean that I would quit smoking, but I meant that I would stop buying them. I smoked those of my friends, and they sometimes said they didn't have them. Thus, my charity smokes gradually became quite seldom. Finally there was not a young fellow who knew me who would give me a cigarette. By that time I had about gotten rid of the habit. One day I felt like I would enjoy one, and I bought a package before I thought, lit one, and it actually tasted so badly that I threw it and the package away. Since then I have never smoked. I do not use tobacco in any form. You may give this receipt to your friends if you desire. It cured me, and did the job quickly and effectively."

Keep All Food Covered.

Every article of food should be kept covered until it appears on the table. Milk and butter should be kept in airtight covered vessels. They take up every odor flying in the air, and are positively harmful to the stomach after standing uncovered for an hour or two. Not only odors, but the malarial that fill the air are attracted to milk and butter. Uncovered jelly is a menace to family health, yet in two-thirds of the pantries in the city will be found half-used dishes of jelly standing uncovered.

MONSTER SNAKE.
With a Body as Big Around as a Water Pail.
The people of this neighborhood are very much alarmed over the fact that a monster snake has been seen at large on the outskirts of the town for a number of days, and it is feared that somebody will be attacked by the serpent before it is killed or captured.
The monster was first seen about three weeks ago by Justice Veltor. Since then it has been seen at intervals by I. W. Valentine, superintendent of the Baptist Union Sunday School, and by Dr. Oliver Jones. The latter chased the snake into the woods in an effort to capture it, but was unsuccessful.
All agreed that the snake is about fourteen feet in length, with a body as big around as a pail. Its head is diamond-shaped, and the top is surmounted by a crest that is shaped like a crown.
Some time ago, Dr. Wood, a resident of this place, died, but before his death he liberated a number of large snakes which he held captive. The snake which has been seen is believed to be one of them. The monster is referred to by the people hereabouts as the "King of Snakes."

New Zealand's Woman Mayor.

Onehunga, New Zealand, a town of about 3,000 population, has had a woman mayor for a year. Mrs. Yates is her name, and she is a middle-aged lady of education and refinement. She was elected to continue the work of her husband, who died while holding the office. Speaking lately of her year's administration of affairs she said: "When I took office, besides our debt of $5,000, the town had a current debt of between $700 and $800. I not only paid off the whole of our current liabilities, but said $200 into the sinking fund in reduction of our main debt."
