VOL XXI NO. 42. ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1895. WHOLE NO. 1086.

A BIG INCREASE.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE IN THE HISTORY OF THE U. OF M.

The Enrollment 160 Ahead of the Same Date Last Year—This Means a Total of at Least 3000—It May Run Up to 3100—Homeopathic Department Nearly Double What It Was Last Year.

All sorts of rumors have been floating about during the past two weeks concerning the attendance at the University this year. It was generally supposed that the enrollment would show a great falling off. The official figures given out Monday night by Sec. Wade puts a very decided quietus upon all such reports. It is now beyond all question that the attendance this year will be the largest in the history of the institution. At this date last year the enrollment was only 2548. This year it is 2708, showing a net gain of 160. After a corresponding date last year there were 349 who enrolled. This is about the usual number to enroll after this time of year. If a similar number enters this year as is almost certain to be the case, the enrollment this year will be fully 3050. The literary department has shown the least gain. We give below the numbers so far enrolled in the various departments.

Literary.....	1119
Engineering.....	305
Medical.....	401
Law.....	607
Dental.....	175
Pharmacy.....	76
Homeopathy.....	25

Total..... 2708
The Homeopathic school, which is under an entirely new management, with a new faculty and a new committee on the Board of Regents to manage the department, is showing signs of being able to get out of the woods. It shows the largest percentage of increase of any of the departments, the percent of increase over the attendance last year being 62 1/2 per cent.

CHORAL UNION CONCERT.

May Festival to Be a Greater Success Than Ever.

The Choral Union series of concerts this year cannot but score a big success. Some of the most famous musical artists are on the schedule and the concert promise to keep up the high standard already set by those in previous series. The dates in the series have been arranged as follows:

1. Theodore Thomas' Orchestra, Nov. 19.
2. Clementine De-Vere-Sapio, Song Recital, Dec. 2.
3. Elijah, Choral Union, Jan. 17.
4. Achille Rivarde, Violinist, Feb. 11.
5. Theodore Thomas' Orchestra, April 6.

This series will be followed by the May Festival, which Prof. Stanley prophesies will surpass last year's great success. It is too early to make any fixed announcements regarding this as almost all the dates are not yet definitely decided. There is a probability that Mme. Melba will be one of the soloists.

Tickets for the Choral Union series will be on sale next week. Place of sale and prices to be announced later.—U. of M. Daily.

Grand Opera House Oct. 18.

Otis Skinner's new play "Villon the Vagabond" which he will present at the Grand Opera house to-morrow evening is described as a romantic play, reminiscent of the sword-clashing, novels of Doyle and Weyman, dealing with an incident in the life of Francois Villon, the poet of the fifteenth century. The poems of Villon have of late been the object of much research by antiquarians and litterati, who have discovered among them passages of singular beauty. The personality of the old vagabond poet, now emerging from a long obscurity, should prove an interesting figure in the play, while the episodes of the court of old Charles VII. of France, are certainly fruitful in dramatic effect. The play is very carefully mounted and costumed and the company which supports Mr. Skinner is very large and well balanced.

The two scholarships established in the University last spring by Mrs. Clara Harrison Stranahan, of Brooklyn, N. Y. in the memory of her father, Seth Harrison, are now represented by two new students—Walter H. H. Ely, of Tarrytown, N. Y., and Miss Almira Lowell, of this city. The scholarships are worth $500 a year.

Quick Returns.

Readers of THE REGISTER will remember that about four weeks ago we made mention of the death of William O. Tubbs, of Delhi Mills. Mr. Tubbs had, some years ago, become a member of the Maccabees. In this organization he held an insurance policy for $2,000 in favor of his father, Samuel O. Tubbs. About two weeks after the death of William, proof of his decease was filed with the proper official of the Tent at Delhi. In just eleven days from the day the proof of death was mailed to the headquarters of the order at Port Huron a draft for $2,000 in favor of the beneficiary, Samuel O. Tubbs, was received by Mr. Frank Goodale, of Delhi, the record keeper, of the Tent at that place. This is certainly a very good record. We do not recall every hearing of any of the other fraternal orders showing such promptness in their business methods. The entire amount paid into the Delhi lodge by young Mr. Tubbs before his death was just $43.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

FORMER U. OF M. STUDENT IN TROUBLE.

C. W. Ricketts in Custody At Terra Haute, Ind.—Was in Trouble When a Student Here—Later Had Charges Made Against Him While a Student At the University of Chicago.

Many people in Ann Arbor remember C. W. Ricketts who a few years ago was one of the best known and popular students then in the University. He was a young man of good ability, fine address, and made friends easily. For nearly two years young Ricketts was an acknowledged leader in many university enterprises, and every body who knew the young man prophesied a brilliant future for him. Naturally people here were slow to take much stock in the rumor that pointed the finger of suspicion toward him when it became known that several hundred unauthorized season tickets of the lecture association had been sold. Later it became generally known that Ricketts had owned up and had hushed up the matter by refunding some $800 to the association. Soon after this he left Ann Arbor. Shortly after leaving here he was heard from at the University of Chicago where he soon became nearly if not quite as popular as he was here. His career at Chicago was even shorter than it was here. While there he entered into partnership with a young man by the name of Harris for the publication of a literary magazine. It was but a very short time before the partners disagreed, Harris having Ricketts arrested on the charge of raising a note given by Harris to Ricketts. This matter was settled up in some way by Ricketts' friends. This was about two years ago. Last Saturday Ricketts was again brought before the public notice by being arrested at Terra Haute, Indiana, on the charge of having raised a school trustee's warrant from $300 to $500 and attempting to pass it. Ricketts was acting as the agent of the Western Supply Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, and had received the warrant for supplies. Ricketts' friends are doing their utmost to settle up the matter and have strong hopes of doing so on account of the fact that at least one of the trustees of the school for which the supplies were ordered seems to be mixed up in the matter in some way.

U. OF M. LOSES A LEG.

BUT THIS DOES NOT NECESSITATE A CORK ONE.

A Peculiar Bequest—A Former Jackson Citizen Wills His Strangely Deformed Leg to The U. of M. Museum—But He Loses His Life in the Burning of the Gurney Hotel in Denver—Some Peculiar Legal Complications May Rise.

The following account of a rather peculiar incident will interest our readers. It is taken from one of last Saturday's Detroit dailies:

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 12.—A letter received by a student from Denver, Col., states that the late Robert C. Greiner made a curious bequest to the U. of M. Greiner is a native of Jackson, Mich., and was killed two months ago in the boiler explosion at the Gurney hotel. His wife died with him.

The will was written by Greiner himself. He gives everything to his wife, with reversion to his or her parents, should they survive, the final legatee being the sisters of mercy, who are to use the estate for orphans and poor children.

But the last clause concerns the U. of M. It directs that, after his death, his right foot shall be amputated above the ankle and presented to the Ann Arbor medical school. It is to be mounted as a skeleton preparation and labeled: "Bob's game foot."

Mr. Greiner had a peculiarly deformed ankle and dislocated toe, which had been a great source of trouble to him, but such a puzzle to physicians that he came to take great pride in it. Hence his desire to perpetuate the abnormality.

As the will is not witnessed, it is void and cannot be carried out, except in the disposal of his personal property. If the dead body is personal property, the toes go to Ann Arbor. If not, the U. of M. cannot receive her bequest.

His wife's heirs, who live in Jackson, Mich., have begun suit, claiming that he died first, so that his estate vested in her, and on her death in them. His heirs, who also live in Jackson, contest this; and as the estate, realty and all is probably worth much more than $100,000, there will be an interesting litigation.

University authorities have heard nothing of the peculiar bequest, and it is not known whether he ever was treated here for any of the difficulties arising from his deformity.

American Fast Railroad.

The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad management is justified in the satisfaction it is manifesting in the record breaking long distance run made by its special on September 11, already remarked upon in this column.

Aside from that actual beating of all other long distance train runs for speed (the average speed for the entire run of 436 1-2 miles being 64.26 100 miles an hour, including twenty-eight slow-downs, but excluding two stops of two minutes each for change of engines), the distinguishing feature of this trip was that it was made by a train twice as long and heavy as the English racing trains. This train was of four cars weighing 565,000 pounds, having a length of 337 feet, with a capacity for 218 passengers. It represented this road's regular fast long distant service, known as the Empire State Express, which has been maintained daily with great regularity for four years, and on May 10, 1893, made between Batavia and Buffalo, when filled with passengers, a mile in thirty two seconds, or the speed of 112 1-2 miles an hour, the fastest railroad time ever made.

All New Yorkers are proud of such achievements in the science of practical railroad engineering.—New York Evening Telegram.

On the motion of supervisor Childs, the representatives of the various newspapers in the county were invited to visit the county house today and eat dinner there with the board. They, the editors, will be perfectly at home.

It's a Grand Success.

The fact has been demonstrated by the thousands of testimonials the Mayers Drug Company, of Oakland, Md., has received since it has sent its famous Mayers Magnetic Catarrh Cure out to the sufferers of catarrh. No medicine has received such an endorsement from the people in so short a time as it did. The makers sell the medicine on business principles, and a patient is not required to buy the medicine by the dozen to get a cure. The Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure sells for $1 per bottle, one bottle to last for a three months treatment. Three bottles is the highest record ever required to complete a cure. General catarrh one bottle is guaranteed. No cure no pay.

This is an unequalled offer and if you are a sufferer from catarrh get a bottle from your druggist, if no benefit derived costs you nothing. A prominent R. R. conductor speaks:

Cumberland, Md., April 29th, 1893.

To The Mayers Drug Co.,

Gentlemen:—Yours to hand, in reply will say that I have the highest regard for your Catarrh Remedy, my trouble is in a chronic form and expected to use more than one bottle. I used one bottle which removed the trouble from the head in good shape and am on the second bottle for throat trouble, if I should succeed with the latter as I did in the former I shall write you again in the near future. Hoping it will do for the suffering humanity what it did for me, I remain

Yours truly,
G. J. Schmutz.

"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters in my family for two years. It is the best medicine I ever used. It cured me of erysipelas in very short time; also cured my son of scrofula after the doctors had failed." Louie S. Woodward, Laurel Hill, Fayette County, Pa.

The Chicago Shoe Store since moving to its new quarters has put in a still larger and finer stock of all sorts of fine shoes for both ladies and gentlemen at prices within the reach of everybody. There is no reason why any one should not be well shod. It is amazing at the volume of business done at this store as a result of the low rates made on fine foot wear. Go and look over their large stock when you want a pair of shoes. It will save you money. $5

Words Fail Right Here.

A young Illinois postmaster, formerly a St. Louisian, received a letter from the deadbeat concern threatening him with dire consequences if he did not at once settle one of the numerous bills he had left behind him in St. Louis. Greatly incensed, he sat down and wrote them a "scorcher." The letter was a gem of its kind, dashes predominating all through it. At the same time he wrote a letter to a young lady in the city, a very religious girl, by the way, to whom he was engaged. By some perversity of fate he exchanged envelopes and sent the "scorcher" to the young lady. It took three telegrams to get the matter straightened out in the St. Louis office so that the letter reached the proper destination.

THE BLOODY TURKS

CONTINUE THE SLAUGHTER OF ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS.

Demands of the Powers but Partially Complied With and Rioting Continues—Great Britain's Warships May Pass the Dardanelles to Enforce Demands

Constantinople: It is now stated upon good authority that the total number of killed, wounded and missing Armenians as a result of the recent rioting in this city, is over 700. The Armenians refugees who took refuge in their churches and who had persistently refused to leave those edifices ever since, have been persuaded to return to their homes. They evacuated the churches in the presence of the dragomans of the embassies of the different foreign powers, the government having promised that the refugees should not be molested. None of the Armenians were arrested. The dragomans received an ovation from the Armenian population. Sir Phillip Currie, the British ambassador, asked leave of the government to visit Armenians now in prison, but no answer was given him.

The representatives of the six powers sent a collective note to the Turkish government calling attention to the inadequate measures taken by the police authorities to maintain public tranquility in Constantinople and its suburbs and demanding the prompt institution of a rigorous inquiry into the recent rioting, bloodshed and wholesale imprisonment of Armenians here. In addition the powers demand the release of all prisoners who are innocent of wrong-doing, and the cessation of arrests. The Turkish government in reply to the collective note enumerated the measures taken to preserve order and declared that the Armenians were the aggressors and had killed inoffensive Mussulmen. It denies ordering that no food be supplied to the refugees in the churches, urges the ambassadors to assist in restoring order, and charges that the Armenians agitators are intriguing to cause fresh disturbances. The answer is not satisfactory to the ambassadors. In view of the continuing increasing gravity of the situation the British Mediterranean squadron remains at Lemnos (Stalmit), within a short steaming distance of the entrance of the dardanelles. The streets of Constantinople and suburbs are patrolled by troops, and it is understood that the torpedo boats sent to the Dardanelles have been or are being placed in position in the straits. Ammunition has also been sent to the forts, and from other military movements which are going on it would seem the Turks are preparing to defend the passage of the Dardanelles should Great Britain attempt a naval demonstration in these waters. The sultan has asked the British ambassador to recommend the withdrawal of the British warships from the vicinity of the entrance to Dardanelles. The ambassador has refused. The foreign men-of-war, which are acting as guardships, have been ordered to moor in the harbor for the winter in order to protect foreigners in case of need.

200 Armenians Killed in Trebizond. Trebizond, Armenia: Serious conflicts between Turks and Armenians occurred here. Many Armenians were killed. The Turks were armed and the number of troops here is few. No attempt was made to stop the massacre of the Armenians. In fact, it is even stated that the soldiers took part in the slaughter and in the pillage which accompanied it. Fully 200 were killed and wounded.

Constantinople: It is reported that serious disturbances between the Armenians and the Turks have broken out at Sivas, Van and Ritis, three of the leading cities of Armenia.

Washington: The United States warship Marblehead has been ordered to the gulf of Alexandretta for the protection of American missionaries in Turkey. Dispatches from Minister Terrell indicate that he has secured the compliance of the port with his demand that steps be taken to protect Americans in provinces distant from Constantinople without waiting until they actually have suffered outrage and assault.

Constantinople: The young Turkish party are manifesting a revolutionary spirit and posting placards demanding a constitution.

More Missionaries Slaughtered in China. Dispatches have been received reporting aggressions against Christians and foreigners in the central provinces of China. The mission stations at Nan Ching have been destroyed and some of the missionaries and converts killed and wounded. The Mohammedans of northern Shen Si have revolted. Advances from Shai say that Shouhan's infamous Hunan anti-foreign prints are being again distributed throughout the central provinces.

Shanghai: The Chinese authorities are contesting every point of the inquiry into the massacre of Christians at Ku Cheng. They maintain that the seven executions of natives that have already been made have amply avenged the murders of the missionaries and members of their families.

Queen of Korea Murdered. Yokohama: Count Komura has forwarded from Seoul, Korea, a report of the uprising there. The king's father, Tai-Ron-kin, at the head of the anti-reformers, invaded the palace, murdered the queen and imprisoned the king. The officials of the queen and king fled, many of them taking refuge in the United States legation. The king's father was declared dictator, but the Japanese troops arrived and dispersed the anti-reformers and restored order.

A woman known as Getana Stomoli was arrested at Catania, Sicily, for the wholesale poisoning of children with phosphorus. She administered the poison by mixing it with wine and prevailed upon the children to drink it. Her victims number 23.

Four men were killed and seven others probably fatally injured at the Cleveland, O., rolling mill. The furnaces were carrying heavy fires, and the casting department was working a full force. Without warning the casting house, the largest building of the plant, collapsed, burying many of the workmen in the debris.

Terrible Water Famine Along the Ohio.

For two months a severely felt drouth has reigned over western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, almost the entire state of Ohio and parts of Indiana. Since April 6, owing to shallow water in the Monongahela river, not a bushel of coal has passed Pittsburgh and 8,000 miners in the river pits are idle. All the boats are loaded and 20,000,000 bushels of coal are waiting. Railroads are forced to haul water for their engines. The Ohio river is so low at East Liverpool that the water pipes are almost empty. Nine-tenths of the small towns have strictly limited the consumption of water. A large number of towns have cut off shops and mills, forcing them to resort to artesian wells. In Lawrence, Mercer and adjoining Ohio counties farmers are selling their stock because of the difficulty in keeping cattle watered. In the oil fields surrounding Pittsburgh the work of drilling new wells has been so greatly interfered with as to cause a practically complete suspension of operations.

Steamer Africa Foundered—Crew Lost.

Reports indicate that the steamer Africa, of Owen Sound, Ont., is lost with all on board. The Africa and the schooner Severn, of Toronto, were on Lake Huron, bound up, with coal from Owen Sound. When 20 miles off Cove Island light both boats were making bad weather in a heavy northwester and steamer let go of her consort. When last seen the Africa was rolling heavily. The Severn ran ashore north of Loyal Island, where she pounded to pieces. The Severn's crew was saved by some fishermen after being in the rigging 24 hours. The Africa's life boats came ashore. Later the body of Engineer Forrest was picked up off Pike bay, Ont. The crew of the Africa was: Capt. H. P. Larsen, of Toronto; Wm. Anderson, mate, of Owen Sound; Chief Engineer Hay, of Toronto; Edward Forrest, second engineer, Toronto; Wm. Manna, wheelman, Toronto; John King, wheelman, Oakville; Miss Lee, cook, Toronto; two firemen and two deckhands, names unknown.

Five Men Killed in a Mine Explosion.

A party of engineers started to make a survey of a portion of the old abandoned workings of the Dorman mine which underlie Wilkesbarre, Pa. The party, which was in charge of Fire Boss David J. Davis, consisted of Wm. Jones, Wm. Cahill and Lewelyn Owens. They had been inside only 13 minutes when an explosion of gas occurred. The engineers were shut off from escape by fallen walls and timbers and they were burned beyond recognition. A number of workmen who were nearer the opening were badly burned. Michael Morris died soon after, and two more cannot recover.

Death and Desolation in a Hurricane.

A hurricane swept over La Paz, Mex., and destroyed 134 houses, killed 10 people and seriously wounded 20 more. Including the American schooner Cesar 19 craft were beached and a government cutter was sunk. Many residences of the American colony were destroyed and others badly damaged. The same storm wrecked the steamers Diego and Mazatlan with all on board, including a number of American miners, about 100 souls in all.

Two coaches of a mail train jumped the track on the Pennsylvania road at Manor, Pa. They crashed against a freight train and two people were killed while many were injured.

During a drunken quarrel Mrs. Mary Knight, aged 43, murdered her mother, Mrs. Catherine Hart, aged 64, at Dayton, by knocking her down with a piece of iron, then braining her with a chair.

P. J. Herlo, the professional bicyclist, made a new world's record for a mile, flying start, covering the distance in 1:46 4-5 at Hartford, Conn. The former record was 1:47 3-5, by Harry Tyler, at Manhattan Beach, this fall.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's says: Colder weather has stimulated a seasonable demand for staple dry goods, millinery and clothing, and jobbers in these lines in all parts of the country feel the improvement. Relatively most gain has been made at the south, where an improvement is reported in almost all lines. Interior merchants are placing more liberal orders than for several years and larger disturbing centers report sales of goods to the cotton belt and collections tardily but steadily. The more unfavorable features are found in disappointment at the moderation with which wheat is exported from week to week, the reported weakness in pig iron and steel billets and the competition suffered by domestic woolen manufacturers from abroad. But an examination of these conditions indicates that if reports of the size of the wheat crop and of wheat stocks carried over are accepted, average weekly exports from this country, if kept up to the end of the crop year, will exhaust the amount of wheat available for shipment abroad.

The National Armenian union in session at Chicago passed resolutions denouncing U. S. Minister Terrell stationed at Constantinople and demanding his recall, claiming that he is acting cowardly regarding the Armenian massacres.

Cleveland officials discovered Carl Longowitz, wife and eight children, living in a filthy shed without furniture of any kind. Their babe had died of starvation and neglect and another 18-months-old boy was nearly dead. The officers had a hard fight to get the family out of the building. The father was arrested.

TOO MUCH WORK

For a Healthy Existence.—That's Why the Kidneys so often Fail.

Nature has provided a certain amount of work for every organ of the human body; overtax them and disease eventually follows. There is not one portion of our organism that is so overworked as the kidneys; on them is placed the important function of filtering the blood of the impurities which naturally form in the regular action of life and digestion. The kidneys are consequently termed the sewerage of the system; clog up this sewer, and the blood becomes tainted with poisonous uric acid, which brings on disease in many forms. The back is the first to show this stoppage. From there comes the warning note; it should be heeded, and the kidneys receive prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills will right the action of the kidneys quickly, relieve the back of pains and aches, and cure all troubles of kidneys and bladder. Read the following:

Mr. Wm. Nelson is a well-known business man of Kalamazoo, he resides at 822 Portage Street, and his business is that of a grain buyer. He says: "For five years I have suffered from an inability to urinate, which resulted from what was said to be stoppage of the bladder. During these years I have taken mineral and electric baths and used other means in expectancy of getting better, but they all proved unavailing. Some months ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I had heard highly recommended, and I can now say that the flattering reports were not greater than they deserved. I got better right along, and I am free from any trouble now. I feel better than I have for three years past. If Doan's Kidney Pills were well known all over they would do an immense amount of good."

ONE of the improvements that this city needs is better facilities for fire alarms. With our well equipped and well managed fire department we should have first-class facilities for sending in fire alarms promptly and accurately. There are two ways in which this may be done. One is to establish a thorough system of fire alarms throughout the city. The installment of such a system and the proper maintenance of it would involve an outlay of several thousand dollars to begin with and an annual expenditure each year thereafter of possibly $500. Another method is to locate in twenty or thirty, or more places, judiciously selected, telephones especially for fire alarm purposes. These would be sufficient to render to every portion of the city ample fire protection. There are a number of arguments in favor of such a method of fire alarms which seem to make it much more desirable than making use of expensive special electrical apparatus. It is true that it would require a few moments more time to get into a house, especially in case of a fire at night, and call up the fire department, than it would be to rush to some near by street corner and sound the alarm of an electric system. This, however, would be almost, if not entirely, offset in every instance by the fact that with the telephone the fire department could be notified as to the exact location of the fire, and would thus save more time in reaching it than would be lost by the time that would be required to send in the alarm by telephone as compared to an electric system. As to the matter of expense there can be no comparison. We understand that the telephone company is willing to furnish the city with telephones for this purpose at a very low rate. It is quite likely that this rate would be made so low that the entire expense would be met by the residents who would be willing to pay the small fee which would be asked by the telephone company for such telephones. If, as it has been hinted, such phones could be rented at from $10 to $12 per year there is no doubt that at least fifty could be located about the city where they would be the most convenient, and the entire expense met by the residents into whose houses the instruments were placed. We respectfully submit the suggestion to the common council believing that in this way the city can obtain an excellent fire alarm system at practically no expense to the corporation.

THE WALLER CASE.

CONSUL General Morss, in Chicago on his way from Paris to Kansas City, assured in an interview that Ambassador Eustis has conducted the American side of the Waller case successfully. The fact, he says, that Waller is a negro and Mr. Eustis a southerner only served to make the ambassador more vigorous and determined.

The facts, however, do not justify Mr. Morss in saying that the negotiations have "progressed satisfactorily." There is no ground known to the American people for thinking the Waller case has progressed at all. There will be no satisfactory progress until an American citizen lying in a French jail shall be discharged, for, up to the present time, there has been not a jot of proof proffered by the French government that it has a color of justice in keeping this black American citizen a prisoner.

It is earnestly to be hoped that when the correspondence is published it will appear that Ambassador Eustis was not derelict in respect of this victim of French conspiracy in Madagascar, for that is the proper name for the seizure and detention of Waller.

Secretary Vignaud went to Paris originally expecting to become the resident representative of the confederate states after Uncle Sam had been whipped by our then misguided southern brethren. Mr. Vignaud has felt called upon to say publicly that he also has done all in his power for Waller. It ought not to be necessary for either an American ambassador or the secretary of an American embassy to protest so much. All the American people want is not protests but performance. Waller is entitled to his liberty with ample damages, and President Cleveland should demand more energetic action in his behalf than has yet apparently been taken at Paris.—Times Herald.

PROGRESS IN A DAY.

THE boasted strength of opposition to a law prohibitory of prize fighting in Texas has collapsed. The enthusiastic toughs who rejoiced in the utter discomfiture of the Governor of Texas are, to quote themselves, "going it slow" today. The law is passed. Two years of imprisonment is the mildest punishment that can be meted to those who participate in prize fights in the Lone Star State. Governor Culberson is the most popular man in Texas. But one member of the Senate and but five members of the House of Representatives mustered in opposition to the bill that the Legislature specially was convened to pass, and none of these is likely to gain re-election.

The most pleasant reflection upon the legislation that has made an end of prize fighting in Texas is that it was thoroughly in accord with the temper of the people. The news of the passage of the bill was welcomed by bonfires and by other demonstrations in all parts of the State. Texas has made a hundred years of progress in a day.—Inter Ocean.

HOW SNAKE EATS FROG.

As Soon as Serpent Has Captured Hind Legs, Good-by Frog.

How a snake eats frogs is worth the telling. The writer distinctly remembers witnessing a dramatic meal of this kind, in which, of course, the snake came out the winner, getting his dinner in excellent style and completely vanishing the frog. Though a snake may seem at first sight an organism that is extraordinarily slow of comprehension, any well regulated ophidian knows, nevertheless, exactly how to satisfy the wants of nature in the most approved manner. A snake invariably grabs a frog by the hind legs. This preliminary struggle is one of the most impressive features of the combat. With a well-defined natural instinct the chief effort of the frog is to keep his other hind leg far away from the snake's mouth, in the hope that he may speedily exhaust his enemy's strength, and also because he feels that if his other hind leg is made captive he will have less power to fight. Once both hind legs are within the serpent's fangs the act of swallowing begins. Inch by inch the struggling frog is drawn further and further into the yawning orifice that expands at each gulp. The channel through which the frog has to pass is gradually enlarged by slow efforts on the snake's part, accompanied by fiercer and fiercer convulsions of the wretched wiggler. The gullet of the snake in its natural proportions is quite large enough to contain the limbs of the frog, but as by frequent gulps the body is drawn further and further into the gullet the difficulty of swallowing increases. Gradually the ophidian's throat is distended, gradually the frog is compressed and drawn out. Finally the latter is double his normal length and half his circumference. As the process of expansion on the one hand and contraction on the other goes on, the frog is worked down little by little, until he is in on his afternoon nap.

AN OFFENDED OSTRICH.

An Innocent Kitten Mistook His Legs for Saplings and Climbed Up.

(From the Philadelphia Press.)

The ostrich at the Zoological Garden stood in the long yard adjoining its cage in the deer house yesterday. It gazed contemplatively through the bars of the fence at the world beyond and shivered every once in a while as the cool breezes swept down upon it. It was thinking of the difference in climates and wondering whether if it buried one of its eggs as it used to do in the long grass during such weather the cool wave would hatch out an ice cream churn.

While it was revolving the question in its mind a playful kitten came through the fence into the yard. It was a pretty kitten—pure white, except for a few blotches that looked as if somebody had thrown an ink bottle at it, after carefully removing the cork. The kitten went running along the yard until it came to the ostrich. Thinking its long, thick legs were young saplings the playful kitten gave a run and quickly climbed up them and was soon on top of the ostrich's back.

The huge bird did not know what to make of it at first, and went cantering around the yard as though the plague were after it. Round and round it went until red in the face it came to a sudden stop. The kitten never moved. It had taken a firm hold of the ostrich and did not propose to be shaken.

"I stood the earthquake this morning," said the kitten; "I guess I can stand this."

Finding that the strange beast refused to be thus summarily disposed of the ostrich became less scared and more angry. It curled its neck and twisted its head so as to get a fair look at the kitten. The kitten never winced. It began to think it had barked up the wrong tree, but it was determined to see the matter out. The ostrich aimed a blow at the undesirable rider with its beak, but it dodged. It tried it again, but the result was the same. Again and again the agile head and long neck rained sledge-hammer blows at the tricky little kitten. It escaped them all, though some were too near for comfort.

Finally the kitten got scared. It ran out on the ostrich's neck to get out of the way. Then it smiled. The ostrich couldn't hit it there. Its smile did not last long, however. With a sudden movement the ostrich stretched its neck backward, encircled the kitten round the waist, and squeezed it until it was dead. Then it unwound itself and placidly looked at the dead animal. After a moment or two of contemplation it picked up its victim and flung it as far as it could. Then it calmly resumed the meditations that had been so ruthlessly interrupted.

STORY OF A VAGRANT.

He Came Back Home to Be Sent to the Penitentiary.

He was old and bent. His white hair and beard were matted. His clothing was in tatters. He carried a crooked cane which would be conspicuous in a gallery of antiques. The old man himself might not have been out of place in such an exhibition. He trudged through the streets of Hoboken, an object of curiosity and of pity. He stopped in front of the city hall a moment and then walked through the side entrance, where the sign "Recorder's Court" was displayed. The attendant at the door stopped him. "This is no place for you," he said.

"I want to see Recorder McDonough," said the old man. "He's a friend of mine." The attendant laughed. "He's a friend of mine," repeated the old man. "He was ten years ago when I was here."

"He's out of town," said the attendant, "and you can't see him. Maybe Justice McColloch will do?" He led the old man up to the rail. The man said he wanted to go to the penitentiary. He was friendless and homeless. He said he was Frank H. Abry, and had lived in Hoboken forty years. His face was remembered by the justice. He had lost everything he had. His wife and family were dead. He had been incapacitated for work and had been in recent years a wanderer.

He had been absent nearly ten years and had come back to Hoboken accidentally in his wanderings. He wanted to be sent away to a place where he could rest. The justice made out a thirty-day commitment to the Snake Hill Penitentiary and handed it to him. The old man cried as he took it. The justice told him the van would be along pretty soon and he might ride to prison. "No," said the old man, "the walk will do me good," and as he started out of the station and up First street toward Snake Hill he looked ten years younger. His step was quicker, his back was straighter and his head was held higher.

A Trifle Mixed.

One of the most reverend ministers who is not away on a vacation went to call the other day on one of his most esteemed parishioners. The lady, who is a very devout person, has a little daughter of the lisping age, to whom she has patiently taught a number of pious little hymns. When the minister called Doty was in the nursery being beguiled by the nurse maid from a crying fit by the recital of "Mother Goose" melodies. Her mother sent for her, and when the child had been brought into the drawing room she was made to give her unwilling hand to the minister, and finally was coaxed to say some of her little hymns that mamma had taught her. Doty thought a moment and began:

Yentle Yethus,
Meet and mild—
Have you any wool?

The nurse caught it later on for filling the child's head with moonshine of the "B-a, b-a, black sheep" order.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Vermont's Great Statesman Recommends Dr. Greene's Nervura to All.

He Says Dr. Greene's Nervura is a Wonderful Medicine. It Surely Cures the Weak, Tired and Nervous.

HON. T. S. MCGINNIS.

Hon. T. S. McGinniss, of Jericho, Vt., the war horse of the Democratic party, is Vermont's silver-tongued orator, and always and ever commands the attention and respect of the people. He ran at the last election as the people's candidate for governor. Such is the high standing of the man, who out of his own experience, advises you to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to be cured.

"We have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in our family," he says, "and think highly of it. We could plainly see that it had the desired effect upon Mrs. McGinniss, and firmly believe that, could we have persuaded her to use the medicine, it would have cured her entirely from her extremely nervous condition, but she was greatly benefited as it was."

"We have used it in our family with good results, and have recommended it to our friends, and know of many who have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and Nerve remedy with the best results. I do not hesitate to recommend the medicine to all. It is a wonderful medicine."

It must indeed be a great and good medicine which can call out such strong words in its praise as this recommendation of this honored statesman, for all to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to be cured. But it is a fact that doctors, statesmen, scholars, preachers, druggists and the people everywhere, unite with one voice in pronouncing this grand medicine, the greatest curer of disease ever known. The weak, the feeble, the nervous, the run-down and debilitated, the sufferers from poor blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney and liver diseases, all are restored to health and strength by its marvelous curative powers.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world; and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

HE GOT A DIG AT HIM.

It Was in Kentucky and It Was His Rival Whom He Was Anxious to Worry.

From the New York Tribune: He and her father were great friends. As only four persons figure in this story, it is unnecessary to mention names.

He had a rival for her affections, and her father could never understand why she preferred the rival to him. One day when he sat on the porch chatting to her father, she called him into the parlor and told him frankly that she had promised to marry his rival. He did not plead or beg. He kissed her hand with a sort of reverence and then returned to his seat on the porch and renewed the conversation with her father. In those few moments everything seemed to have changed for him. The sun did not shine as brightly, the birds did not sing as they did before. Even the grass and trees seemed sordid and dead. He had expected what he just heard, but that did not seem to abate the shock. He was distraught and moody. Her father saw this and asked him the cause. He blurted out the whole miserable truth. Her father continued to polish his glasses carefully and then said:

"Wimmen folks is mighty onarting critters." Her father said nothing more, but nothing would change her mind. Gradually it came to be generally known that he had been rejected and that his rival was the fortunate wooer. They, he and his rival, were alumni of the same college. He was down for a speech at the alumni dinner. A month before he had attended her wedding. No one ever heard him complain, though all knew how he suffered. He was looked upon as the orator of his class, and a great speech was expected. When he arose a sinister glitter could be seen in his eye. He began to speak slowly. He took as his text "Acquired Tastes." He spoke at length. Finally he said:

"I called upon a dear friend some time ago who had just had a daughter married. He felt his loss very keenly. I tried to console him, telling him that while he had lost a daughter he had gained a son. He said slowly to me: 'Maybe I will come to like him after a while—like I do my cigar, but the first few puffs are making me mighty sick.'"

It was in Kentucky. Not a word was said then, but just as the sun peeped over the hills the next day two dark forms were seen silhouetted against the sky. There were two flashes, a combined, subdued report—and one fell, never to rise again. It was he.

Imaginative Animals.

The other week I spoke of the power of imagination. A friend tells me that dogs are as much under its influence as men, and he has, in consequence, discovered a method by which a tender-hearted man can bring up his pup in the way it should go without unnecessary suffering to either party. My friend's method is to keep in his yard a big butter-tub and a thick stick. When his dog has misbehaved he chains it up close to the tub, gives it a couple of cuts with the stick, scolds it energetically, and then sets to work to larrup the barrel. With every blow that falls upon the tub the dog howls and struggles. By the time my friend has worn himself out upon the barrel the dog has received all the moral good that could have been afforded him by a thundering good whipping, and is repentant and conscience-stricken for the next three days. In fact, the imaginative animal fancies that he really has had a beating, and is as sorry for himself as if he had been half-killed. My friend's motto is, "Spare the tub and spoil the dog." Being a kind man, he hated the severity that is necessary to the training of animals, and his discovery has removed a great burden from his mind. He can punish his dog and immediately after sit down and enjoy his dinner—a thing that, in the old days, could not be thought of. He tells me that he has never found the plan to miscarry, and he has tried it on dozens of dogs.—Jerome K. Jerome.

Determined on Revenge.

A Whitechapel coster having one day recently had a deal of trouble with his donkey, determined to have his revenge. On his way home he bought a large sackful of shavings and put them in the manger. He then purchased a very large pair of green spectacles and fixed them on the donkey's nose. Had that worthy animal's intelligence been equal to his contrariness he might have suspected something. But he did not and fell into the trap. Surprised at such an enormous feed he devoured the whole lot before he discovered it was not grass he had been eating.

Cheap Travelling.

The cheapest railway traveling in Europe is from Buda-Pesth to Cronstadt in Hungary, a distance of 457 miles, for which the fare, third class, is 6s 8d, or at the rate of six miles a penny. Cheap as this is, it is further liable to a reduction of one-half in the case of agricultural laborers journeying in parties of ten, or workmen of other kinds in groups of thirty.

The old story of Prometheus is a parable, an allegory. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of Mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined? Yes, and realized. Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then come the vultures. The sufferings from an outside, visible hurt, are a mere pin-scratch to the tortments of a diseased liver.

But, moderns are ahead of the ancients. There is a sequel to the old story. Dr. Pierce is the author. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. Every atom of the "Discovery" is an active agent against disease. It flies like a comet, wherever it is sent. It is as sure as the needle of the compass. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Mr. W. ROGERS, of 307 Grayson St., Louisville, Ky. has this to say for himself and the "Golden Medical Discovery": "I was a dyspeptic. I had not had a comfortable night in six years. I have taken three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I am now fifty years old. I feel thirty years younger." Yours truly, W. L. ROGERS.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and get Dr. Pierce's Medical Advertiser. It is a book of 108 pages, profusely illustrated. It will give you complete knowledge of the human system in plain words.

Disastrous Failures at Bay City.

The well-known lumber firm of Alfred Mosher & Son, of Bay City, have given mortgages covering their extensive business amounting to over $300,000, and their total liabilities are about $700,000. Their failure carried down Alvin Maltby, another lumberman, who has given mortgages amounting to about $65,000. The failures of these two concerns have made a decided sensation throughout the state. The Mosher have bought heavily during the past three years and with a heavy shrinkage of values have been unable to realize on investments. Heavy investments in Washington timber, where they are also interested in a fine lumber plant, have not proved profitable and this has helped to drag them down.

Presbyterian Synod of Michigan.

The Presbyterian synod of Michigan was held at Adrian with over 100 delegates present. A good deal of attention was given to Alma College and Tappan association at the University of Michigan. There are now 1,000 young peoples societies in Michigan Presbyterian churches, of which 250 are Presbyterian societies. Among the numerous addresses were several very strong ones on temperance lines and the fourth Sunday of November was set apart for temperance sermons throughout the state. Detroit was selected as the place for holding the synod in 1896.

The Japanese in Hawaii have maintained a hostile attitude toward the government and are said to be growing more aggressive. The Japanese regard Hawaii as a valuable strategic position for the gratification of their ambition to become a naval and commercial power.

If you have borrowed from health to satisfy the demands of business, if your blood is not getting that constant supply of fat from your food it should have, you must pay back from somewhere, and the somewhere will be from the fat stored up in the body.

The sign of this borrowing is thinness; the result, nerve-waste. You need fat to keep the blood in health unless you want to live with no reserve force—live from hand to mouth. SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil is more than a medicine. It is a food. The Hypophosphites make it a nerve food, too. It comes as near perfection as good things ever come in this world.

Be sure you get Scott's Emulsion when you want it and not a cheap substitute.

MICHIGAN MENTION.

BRIEF ITEMS ABOUT MICHIGAN PEOPLE AND THINGS.

Prize Drills of the Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F. were held at Ann Arbor—Michigan Crops for 1895 were Good—Order of the Eastern Star at Saginaw Michigan Odd Fellows in Convention.

The grand encampment and patriarchs militant I. O. O. F. of Michigan met at Ann Arbor, with a large attendance. The grand encampment's forty-ninth annual communication was called to order by Grand Patriarch Josiah Dandy, of Grand Rapids. The reports presented were quite exhaustive and showed a prosperous year. The membership is 3,688 in 115 lodges. Officers chosen and installed were: Grand patriarch, Henry Lever, of Newaygo; grand high priest, Frank Shepherd, of Cheboygan; grand senior warden, Wm. Skimin, of St. Ignace; grand scribe, E. H. Whitney, of Lansing; grand treasurer, Andrew Harshaw, of Alpena; grand junior warden, Robt. Donagan, of Charlotte; grand marshal, N. A. Metz, of Marquette; grand inner sentinel, Dr. Earl Fairbanks, of Luther; grand outer sentinel, R. D. Harper, of Niles; representative of the sovereign grand lodge, Josiah Dandy, Grand Rapids. The next session of the grand encampment was allotted to Allegan. E. G. Turner, of Luther, exemplified the secret work of the order.

The exhibition drill of the patriarchs militant was participated in by three cantons, viz., Col. Fenton, No. 27, of Flint; Detroit, No. 1; Battle Creek, No. 19. They were awarded prizes in the order mentioned. The sword drill was participated in by 19 men, the four prizes being awarded to Capt. C. S. Martin, Lieut. Stannard, Lieut. Hall and Chevalier Hodge, all from Flint. The annual parade was an imposing affair, and the prize for the largest canton in line went to Flint.

Big Masonic Fair at Detroit.

Arrangements for the big Masonic fair which is to be held in the new temple in Detroit beginning November 25, are being rapidly completed and have already assumed such proportions that the greatest fair ever known in Detroit is assured. Every available inch of room in the seven stories of the immense structure will be utilized. The building committee is pushing forward the work of completion, with great speed, and promise a completed structure in time for the fair. Contributions are coming in from throughout the state and the display of fancy articles and novelties will exceed anything ever seen in Detroit. Col. Lou Burt, who is at head of the entertainment committee, has arranged for two performances per night in the Scottish Rite auditorium and two performances each Saturday matinee. The Michigan passenger agents at their coming meeting will adopt a schedule of reduced rates for excursions. The different nights on which the fair is to be held will be named, their being already selected German night for December 4, and Scottish night for December 5. A novelty will be introduced in this naming of the nights, as one of them is to be called American night. The music committee has already been volunteered the services of the best musicians in the city. The decorations of the interior of the building will be very elaborate.

Michigan's Crops for 1895.

Secretary of State Washington Gardner has issued the October crop report for Michigan which contains the following:

Reports at hand from the basis for the following statements: Acres of wheat harvested in 1895, 1,237,867; bushels, 48,782,071; average per acre, 39.43. The acres here given are as shown by the farm statistics of the state taken by supervisors last spring; the average per acre is taken from records kept by threshers, and the total yield is obtained by multiplying the number of acres in each county by the average per acre and footed the products. The total yield as estimated is 4,657,778 bushels less and the average per acre 3.86 bushels less, than the crop of 1894. Oats are estimated to yield 21 bushels per acre; barley 15.78, and corn 61 bu. of ears. Compared with average crops potatoes are estimated to yield 82 per cent, beans 78 per cent, winter apples 25 per cent, and late potatoes 51 per cent. Oats are estimated to yield 7 bushels less, corn 21 bushels more and potatoes 38 per cent more, than the crops of 1894.

GETTING HOT IN CUBA.

Uncle Sam May Take a Hand—May Recognize Cuba as a Belligerent.

Hon. Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan, who was postmaster-general during President Cleveland's first term and who has always been a close friend of the President has given some interesting information as to the administration's standing in regard to the Cuban revolution. He says in part: Among the first questions to be considered by President Cleveland and the cabinet is the proposed inquiry into the condition of affairs in Cuba. The case is urgent. While the general policy of the administration is to do nothing in the case till after Jan. 1, the President does not for a moment overlook the fact that a Republican congress will soon assemble and if by December the administration is unable to announce a Cuban policy there will be great danger that congress will take matters into its own hands in some form.

Madrid: It is stated on the best authority that the government of the United States has notified the Spanish minister at Washington, Senor Deputy de Lome, that there is a necessity that Spain should act promptly in her efforts to crush the insurrection in Cuba. The news has caused quite a sensation here. The government has decided to carry on a vigorous campaign in Cuba just as soon as the dry season commences. Whatever may have been the inspiring cause of recent Spanish activity against the insurgents it is now known officially that Spain is about to open a campaign of far greater energy than any thus far taken.

Spaniards Threaten to Invade Florida.

Havana: The excitement and bad feeling of the Spanish against the American government and people increases. It is reported that one high Spanish official said: "After we put down the Cuban insurrection we will invade Florida with 100,000 men, reconquer it and oblige Uncle Sam to pay us $500,000,000 for allowing filibustering expeditions to be fitted out against a peaceful and friendly nation like Spain." In case of a riot in this city, which is not considered far off, the Americans here would be first attacked.

OLD-FASHIONED AGUE

COMPARED WITH CHRONIC MALARIA.

The regular, old-timed, back-woods fever and ague also called chills and fever, was bad enough in its day, but a far worse disease to bear, somewhat like it, is known as chronic malaria. The regular fever and ague would produce a distinct chill, followed by fever and sweating. Then the victim would have a rest of one, two or three days to gain strength and regain courage.

But not so with chronic malaria. Every day, morning, noon and night, chronic malaria will tease and plague its victim with miserable, indescribable, creeping rigors; nasty exasperating cold sweats, bitter taste, coated tongue, salivary, dry skin, loss of appetite, confusion of senses, heavy, stupid listlessness, and a myriad of similar symptoms as infernal as they are persistent. Not a day's intermission nor an hour's cessation. Work becomes a wearisome worry, study sickening and senseless, and play a proxy impossibility.

The quinine treatment for chronic malaria is not of the least possible use. It will cure the majority of cases of acute malaria; but not the chronic. In fact, quinine seems to aggravate rather than relieve. Unless a thorough course of Pe-ru-na is taken the patient will seek in vain for relief. The effect of Pe-ru-na is pleasant, positive and permanent.

Send for a free book on malaria, published by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio.

PATTI A HEROINE.

The Prima Donna Once Saved the Life of a Little Playmate.

Few people have been more interviewed than Madame Adelina Patti, and yet here is a little story about her which, I think, has never seen the light of print before. It was one of those things which the interviewer misses through his victim's modesty. When Adelina Patti was a girl, she was as fond as a boy of running, jumping, swimming and climbing. She was not by any means a tom-boy, and everything she found to do she did with decorum and grace. Adelina Patti was short, and generally sturdy. Her powers of endurance were simply marvelous, and among her schoolfellows there were none with whom she could not hold her own. It was on a Saturday morning in October, and Adelina, with a bevy of schoolfellows, had strayed into the woods and discovered a wonderful rocky ravine called the "Devil's Glen." Overhead the great trees intertwined their branches so as to effectually exclude the sun at all times. And below, in the central chasm of the ravine, lay a pool forty feet deep. On three sides the rocks rose precipitous, and slippery with the moss of countless ages, sheer up from the inky surface. On the stepping stones above the fourth the party stood throwing stones into the stagnant waters, and awakening the ceaseless echoes of the rocks. Suddenly a shrill cry went up; one of the girls had slipped and fallen headforemost into the murky waters. Patti alone of the whole party retained her presence of mind. Shouting to some of the girls to run for help, she gathered up her skirts and leaped from rock to rock until she stood by the rippling, circling waters. Then, throwing off her hat and cloak, she plunged in to the rescue of the drowning girl. Seizing her by the hair, she dragged her through the water to a floating log, and, clinging on to this frail support, she rested and soothed the frightened child. Then, half swimming, half paddling, she urged the log to the lower end of the basin, there to wait in the water for more than half an hour, when, at last, help came. Throughout this terrible ordeal Patti's courage never failed once.

Heart Disease Cured

By Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

Fainting, Weak or Hungry Spells, Irregular or Intermittent Pulse, Fluttering or Palpitation, Choking Sensation, Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, are symptoms of a diseased or Weak Heart.

MRS. N. C. MILLER.

Of Fort Wayne, Ind., writes on Nov. 23, 1894: "I was afflicted for forty years with heart trouble and suffered untold agony. I had weak, hungry spells, and my heart would palpitate so hard, the pain would be so acute and torturing, that I became so weak and nervous I could not sleep. I was treated by several physicians without relief and gave up ever being well again. About two years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Remedies. One bottle of the Heart Cure stopped all heart troubles and the Restorative Nervine did the rest and now I sleep soundly and attend to my household and social duties without any trouble.

A HERD OF DRUNKEN STEERS.

Texas Longhorns Intoxicated by Rotten Apples.

Fort Scott special to St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A herd of Texas steers, literally intoxicated on the fermented juice of rotten apples, is an emergency not contemplated by the authors of the Kansas prohibition law, and its several amendments; yet such a spectacle was recently witnessed by the chief of the metropolitan police force of this city and the sheriff of Bourbon county, who have explicit instructions from the department of the state to rigidly suppress the use of intoxicating liquor by the people of their respective jurisdictions.

Patrick Gorman, an extensive stock feeder, a few days ago shipped to his ranch, ten miles northwest of this city, a herd of wild steers from the plains of Texas. During their first night on a Kansas ranch they stampeded through the line fence of the pasture into an apple orchard of the Alf Cleal farm. The prolific fruit season made it unprofitable for Mr. Cleal to gather but a small per cent of his early apples, and the burdened trees had dropped their ripened fruit to the ground full three layers deep. The apples had rotted and were in a state of fermentation that makes them a most intoxicating feast for cattle. Until the next morning the beasts glutted themselves, and were found in a condition of inebriety that caused them to conduct themselves with that boisterous hilarity in which man is wont to indulge when overcome by the effects of Kansas "applejack." The effect of the fermented apple juice was as varied in the cattle as it would have been in as many men. Some of them bellowed and contorted in drunken debauchery, others were on their muscle and dangerously vicious, while some of them laid helpless and harmless. Their demonstrations attracted the neighbors for miles about, and when the facts became known in town crowds of people drove out to witness the revelry of a "steer beer garden." They were rounded up and corralled with much difficulty by a score of experienced cattlemen. Not unlike human drunkards, the effects of the dissipation on some passed off soon, while others were in the "sobering up" process for two days.

What use is there in eating when food does you no good—in fact, when it does you more harm than good, for such is the case if it is not digested.

If you have a loathing for food there is no use of forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested when an appetite will come, and with it a relish for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy, then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong. The Shaker Digestive Cordial as made by the Mount Lebanon Shakers contains food already digested and is a digester of food as well. Its action is prompt and its effects permanent.

Doctors prescribe Laxol because it has all the virtues of Castor Oil and is palatable.

DREW FAINT BY THE WAYSIDE

Car Horses Browse by Rails While Passengers Wait.

I heard a Western man say the other day that in "his part of the country" the smallest towns have electric lights and some idea of the fitness of things, while within forty miles of New York mine host will often light one to bed with a candle. It reminded me of something I saw in New Rochelle last week, something that would have been likely to cause a small riot in New York. A surface car, drawn by two wonderfully lean horses, was creeping out toward the Sound. It finally came to a dead stop.

The driver calmly alighted, unhitched one of the sorry nags and allowed him to browse for a few minutes by the wayside. In time a boy brought another horse and we proceeded. The hungry horse was not long for this life, and there was much comment, sympathetic and angry.

A Swedish sailor, bound for some yacht at anchor in the Sound, "sized up" the occurrence in a sentence:

"If that horse he was in New York he would have been arrested." He meant that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals would have carted the brute away, and he was right. But New Rochelle, even along Pelham avenue, is long suffering, and slow to anger.

Baroness Rothschild's Courtesy.

Baroness Rothschild is noted for her delicate courtesy. Recently she invited a famous prima donna to drive and after dinner asked her to try the tone of her piano. Not a sound came from her keys. "I had the instrument unstrung this morning, mademoiselle," said the baroness, "that you might see that the only pleasure that I promised myself from your presence was the presence of you."

Wine for the Communion Table.

EASY TO EAT FIRE.

Any One May Learn the Trick With Little Practice.

The so-called fire-eating magician have long plied their trade in defiance of all explanations of chemists and physicists. A clever prestidigitator, Mr. D Vere, described recently how the trick for such it is, is done. It is very simple of practice, but it necessitates an apparatus which must be very careful, and neatly constructed. The fire-eater usually gives their performance on a raised platform, which hides the source of the fire, while it seems only to lift the operator a trifle higher from the floor of the scene, and it is ordinarily covered with a handsome red carpet. It contains in the hollow space beneath it bags of rubber filled with ordinary illuminating gas and compressed by weights. The fire-eater has beneath the sole of his foot an ingenious apparatus ending in a tube, which fits exactly into another tube coming up through the platform from underneath and forming a tight connection when it steps upon it; very fine rubber tubes of the same color as the magician's dress, which is usually a diabolical scarlet red, run up along his body and along the arms to the furthest end of the index fingers; another tube runs around his neck and up under his chin which is usually covered by a false beard, ending at his nether lip. When entering upon the stage all the lights are usually turned down to heighten the effect of the performance; the operator steps upon the platform, makes his connection, and after a sign that he is ready the gas is turned on from beneath. When he feels that it is beginning to escape from the tube at the end of his finger he lights it by means of a little push button, which is conveniently located near by, and sometimes even within his clothes on the inside of the coat. The gas once burning he has it entirely under his control, to light or turn out any of the various jets he has previously arranged about his body. The jets on the fingers are controlled by pressure of the thumb upon the thin rubber tube, the gas jet on his lip is lighted by a motion of the hand, and he always turns up his face, opens his mouth, and pretends to blow the flame from his mouth. The appearance is very deceptive, indeed, as the breath blown from the lungs gives much life to the flame. As the scene is never light while the fire-eaters are at work, their secret has never before been discovered.

Refused to Accept the Apology.

The car was crowded, and when a passenger boarded it he was nearly upset by the sudden starting and tread on the toe of a man standing at the rear end.

"I beg your pardon," he said, very politely; but the man of the hurt toe scowled and in an undertone muttered curses.

The innocent offender again apologized. "Yes, but that doesn't help my toe any," and he growled some more in an undertone.

Nearly passengers began to smile. "I begged your pardon, didn't I?" said the other man.

"Yes, but my toe hurts just the same," was the reply in an ugly tone. Then the other man's dander rose, and in very forcible language he said: "Now, look here. I accidentally stepped on your foot and I apologize for it. If you say another word about it I will give you this instead of my foot (showing his doubled-up fist), and it will land 'right in your face."

This warning was not taken, for he continued to talk about the clumsiness of some people. Suddenly the passengers were electrified by seeing a fist shoot, and the growler lay in the street as the car passed on. Nobody said anything, but some thought it wasn't wise to talk too much.

Raising Wild Beasts.

A well-known English writer on zoology says the rapid opening of Africa means the destruction of many wild animals, and zoos will not be able to keep up their stock unless they act promptly in the matter. He recommends that wild beast farms be established in civilized countries to preserve desirable species.

That you are being imposed upon? That there is no such office as Government Chemist?

An Awful Ordeal.

"I have come this evening, Miss Mildred," began the youth, fingering his hat nervously and clearing his throat "to ask you—that is—"

He cleared his throat again, swallowed a lump that seemed to go down hard, and resumed:

"I came this evening to—tell you, Miss Mildred, that—h'm—that whether I—h'm—ever come again or not will depend on your reply to what I—to what I came to say this evening."

"Why, Mr. Spoonamore," said the young lady, "what can you mean?"

"I mean, Miss Billwink—Miss Mildred—that the time has come when I can no longer—h'm—can no longer pretend to hide from myself the knowledge that I—h'm—have become too deeply interested in you to endure the thought that some other man—h'm—ahem—some other man may win the prize on which I have set my heart."

His voice was growing more husky, but he went on:

"I feel that I am laboring under a disadvantage, Miss Mildred, and yet—h'm—if you knew the strength of the—h'm—of the feeling that moves me—that compels me, I might say, to run the risk of—h'm—of seeming to be in too big a hurry, you would understand why I have come to say—h'm—to say what I have come to say this evening. H'm."

"Don't you think, Mr. Spoonamore—" "Miss Mildred, a man in my condition doesn't think! He can't think. He can only—h'm—he can only feel. That is—h'm—what ails me. If you would—would only—h'm—help me out—"

An ingenious bride, so the story goes, has evolved a happy scheme for keeping her husband true to the protestations of his wooing. The engagement was a long one, love letters exchanged legion. This Calf's Tail is in Front. A Scarborough (Me.) man has a cow which recently brought an offspring into the world. The calf is said to be all right except as to the tail, and the tail is all right, only it is misplaced, being on the wrong end of the beast. It is said to grow from between the eyes. In fact, the animal looks more like a baby elephant than a cow. It was found that the calf was likely to starve to death from its inability to suck and wag its tail at the same time, so it was brought up by hand.

SIX O'CLOCK.

WEARY WOMEN WATCH FOR THAT BLESSED HOUR.

Help for Our Working-Girls and Women Near at Hand.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

IN the stroke of six ends the day's work at stores, offices, factories, mills, where women are employed. But their necessary work at home, sewing, mending, etc., must be done after that time, and "their work is never done." All women work; some for ambition, some for economy in the household, but the great mass of women work for their daily bread. All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties often quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, leucorrhoea, and perhaps irregular or suppressed "monthly periods," causing severe backache, loss of appetite, nervousness, irritability and weakness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and cures displacement. Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled. Write Mrs. Pinkham about your trouble.

You can tell the story of your pain to a woman, and get the help that only woman can give. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

In this city, unless such building or structure shall be constructed of stone or brick with party or fire walls of the same material: provided that the Board of Fire Commissioners may in its discretion grant permission for the erection within said limits of buildings veneered with brick or iron and for the erection of frame dwellings, barns and out-houses in and on all that part of the above described district lying north of Catherine street, west of Ashley street, south of Liberty street and on State street between Liberty and Huron streets.

SECTION 2. No person or persons, firm or corporation shall within the said fire limits erect, repair, or rebuild any wooden building which has been partially destroyed by fire or any other cause; nor elevate any building within the said fire limits; nor remove any building or any part thereof from one lot to another, or from one part of a lot to another part thereof, without first obtaining the permission of the Board of Fire Commissioners therefor. And for each and every week, during which any building or structure placed, erected, enlarged, repaired, removed, or elevated contrary to the provisions of this Ordinance shall be allowed to remain, the owner and every part owner of such building or structure may be complained of as for a distinct offence and punished as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 3. No person, firm or corporation shall erect or enlarge an attached or detached building within said fire limits without first making application in writing to the Board of Fire Commissioners for permission therefor. Such application shall set forth the location and dimensions of the proposed building, the purpose for which it is intended, and the time to be occupied in its construction, with approximate date of completion; and in such application the party making the same shall further agree to conform to all the regulations and ordinances of this city relative to fire protection. Upon receipt of such applications the said Board of Fire Commissioners shall, if they deem it proper so to do, issue a permit for the erection or enlargement of the said building. It shall be the duty of the said Board of Fire Commissioners to cause any building in course of erection or alteration under their permission to be inspected from time to time by the Chief of the Fire Department or some other competent person for the purpose of determining whether the regulations of this city with respect to fire protection are being satisfactorily observed. The said applicant shall, at the time of the filing of his application, pay to the City Clerk who is hereby authorized to receive the same and issue a receipt therefor in the name of the city, a fee to be determined in amount as follows: if the estimated cost of the building or alteration shall be less than one thousand dollars, one dollar; if more than one thousand dollars and less than five thousand dollars, two dollars; and for every additional thousand dollars above five thousand, fifty cents. And the said City Clerk shall report monthly to the Common Council all permits issued and shall pay all fees received under the provisions of this ordinance, into the city treasury.

SECTION 4. No person, firm or corporation shall use or occupy any building within the limits of this city for the manufacture of turpentine, camphene, fireworks, nitro-glycerine, or any other dangerous or easily inflammable or explosive substance, nor for the storage of gun-powder in large quantities than twenty-five pounds, unless the said gun-powder shall be stored in a vault especially constructed for the purpose in a location to be approved by the Board of Fire Commissioners. The quantity of gun-powder, twenty-five pounds, permitted to be stored under this section shall be kept in metal canisters of a capacity not to exceed seven pounds each, with metal stoppers or covers. Nor shall any naphtha, benzene, gasoline, kerosene or other like inflammable goods to an amount to exceed five gallons be kept within the limits of this city except in such place of places as may be approved by the Board of Fire Commissioners and their permit issued therefor; and all such goods shall be kept in metallic vessels, securely closed, and away from matches, fire, or any artificial light.

SECTION 5. No lighted candle or lamp shall be used about or carried into any stable, building or other place where hay, straw, hemp, cotton, flax, rushes, shavings, gun-powder, or other extra combustible, or any explosive material is stored or lodged, unless the same is well secured in a lantern: Nor shall any match be struck or lighted or be carried burning into or about any such place, nor shall artificial light be used in or about vaults used for the storage of gun-powder in larger quantities than twenty-five pounds, or in or about buildings used for the storage of naphtha, benzene, gasoline, kerosene or other such highly inflammable goods, in larger quantities than five gallons.

SECTION 6. No person shall carry any fire in or through any public streets, lanes, alleys, or other public places of this city, or in or through any private lot or premises, unless the said fire shall be placed in a securely closed pan or vessel, but it is hereby permitted that any owner or occupant of residence or business premises in this city may collect leaves, rubbish, paper, paste-board boxes, or store sweepings into small heaps in or near the gutter of any street adjacent to the premises owned or occupied by them, and may destroy the said articles by burning; providing that no such fire shall be started or permitted to burn before sunrise nor after twelve M. upon any day, nor shall be so placed as to endanger any shade or ornamental tree standing in any street, or other public place, or as to obstruct, hinder or prevent public travel; and provided also that the permission herein granted for the building of fires in the public streets shall not in any way operate to relieve or discharge any person or persons from any liability to actions for damages or of any other kind which may accrue or be brought against him or them on account of the negligence or evil intent of the said person or persons. And after any fire shall have been built in the street the person or persons having the care of or responsible for the same shall closely watch and guard the same and shall cause the same to be promptly extinguished at 12 M. and all ashes resulting from the same together with all incumbrances articles or substances remaining there after to be promptly removed from the street. No fire shall be built under the permission herein granted, nor in any lot or private enclosure for similar purposes, unless the same shall be in charge of a person of mature years and discretion.

SECTION 7. Tanners, plumbers, or other mechanics whenever it may be necessary in the pursuit of their regular business, and for the construction or repair of houses, sidewalks, drains, sewers, pipe connections or other necessary repairs, alterations or improvements, are hereby permitted to make or kindle in any street, alley, lane or other public place in this city, or on any lot with the permission of the owner or occupant thereof, any fire necessary for the purposes of the said business. But the permission herein granted shall not operate to relieve or discharge any person from any liability he might otherwise incur from any negligence or evil intent in the care or control of the said fire, and any such person building any fire in any street, lane, alley or public place in this city shall use all reasonable precautions to prevent any property from being endangered thereby.

SECTION 8. No ashes shall be kept or deposited within twenty feet of any building in any part of this city, unless the same be kept or deposited in a close iron, tin or earthen vessel, or brick or stone ash house thoroughly secured.

SECTION 9. Every public building or business block, more than one story in height, shall have a scuttle through the roof and a convenient stairway or permanent ladder leading thereto.

SECTION 10. Every chimney hereafter erected within the limits of this city shall have a flue at least eight inches square and be so constructed as to admit of being scraped, brushed or cleaned.

SECTION 11. No pipe of any stove, chimney or fire place shall be put up or used, unless the same be conducted in to a chimney of stone or brick; and in all cases where a stove pipe passes through the wood work of a building, it shall be separated from such wood work, at least two inches, by a metal thimble with proper air passages.

SECTION 12. The Chief of the Fire Department, and the members of the Board of Fire Commissioners are hereby severally given authority and it shall be their duty whenever they shall have good reason to believe that it is desirable so to do, to enter any building or enclosure in this city for the purpose of inspecting the same as to whether there exists any danger of fire; provided that the officer desiring to make the inspection shall first secure the permission of the owner or occupant of the premises therefor. And it shall be the duty of the said Chief of the Fire Department or members of the said Board of Fire Commissioners to inspect the said premises immediately, and any person who shall refuse to permit such an inspection by the proper officer upon request or who shall hinder or prevent such inspection shall be punished as hereinafter provided. A report in writing shall be made by the inspecting officer and signed by him, accompanied by any recommendations he may deem proper and filled with the City Clerk. Whenever as the result of any such inspection the Board of Fire Commissioners shall deem it necessary that changes or repairs be made upon the said premises in order that the city shall be adequately protected from fire, they shall serve notice in writing upon the owner or occupant thereof, setting forth in the said notice the particular conditions upon the said premises regarded as the source of danger, and making such recommendations as they shall deem advisable as to the changes or repairs to be made. The said notice shall also prescribe the time after service within which the said premises shall be made safe, or the said changes or repairs completed, provided that no time thus prescribed shall be less than twenty-four hours or more than thirty days. The said owner or occupant shall make the changes or repairs prescribed in the said notice, or such other alterations or improvements in the said premises as shall be satisfactory to the said Board of Fire Commissioners, within the prescribed time, on penalty of five dollars for each and every day that shall elapse after the expiration of the said time, and before the completion of the said changes or repairs, provided that no such penalty shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars. The Chief of the Fire Department is hereby given authority and it shall be his duty to see that all chimneys, hearths, fire-places, fire-alarms, furnaces, ovens, stove-pipes, boilers, steam engines, gas and gasoline engines, or any other structure or apparatus that may be dangerous in causing or promoting fires, are constructed, placed or protected in such a manner as to secure the greatest possible safety. He may require the owner or occupant of any blacksmith shop, furnace, foundry or other manufactory, to erect alter or reconstruct his smokestack or chimney so as to prevent the escape of sparks into the open air, and the said owner or occupant when so required either by the Chief of the Fire Department or by the Board of Fire Commissioners shall proceed within forty-eight hours to make the said alteration or reconstruction.

SECTION 13. The Board of Fire Commissioners are hereby given authority to cause any steam boiler set up and used in this city to be examined by a competent inspector, who shall receive a fee of not more than three dollars for each such inspection. The examination shall be in regard to the material and construction of the boiler and of the pipes, flues, tubes, valves and all attachments thereto and the workmanship thereof, and in regard to the settings in which the said boiler is placed. A report in writing shall be made of each such inspection signed by the person making the same, and filed with the City Clerk. The said report shall set forth the particular boiler inspected, and any defects whether of material, workmanship, construction or setting, found to exist in the said boiler, together with any recommendations that the said inspector may desire to make in the case. Whenever in the opinion of the inspector or of the Board of Fire Commissioners any boiler is found to be so defective in any respect as to be in danger of exploding or of causing fires, the said Board of Fire Commissioners shall cause a notice of that fact to be served upon the owner of the said boiler and also upon the person using the same or having the care, management or control thereof, and after such notice the said owner or other person in charge of the said boiler shall not operate or use the same until it shall have been properly repaired, and a certificate to that effect issued by the said Board of Fire Commissioners.

SECTION 14. The Board of Fire Commissioners are hereby given authority to order the moving or removal of any electric light, telegraph or telephone wires or any other wires strung in or about this city and the streets thereof, when ever it shall appear to them that the said wires are so placed as to be liable to cause fires, or seriously to interfere with the proper protection of this city or any part thereof against fire. The owners of any such wires shall move or remove the same to conform to the orders of the said Board of Fire Commissioners within twenty-four hours after notice in writing shall have been served upon the said owner, unless a longer time shall be prescribed in the said notice.

SECTION 15. It shall be the duty of the Chief of the Fire Department to inspect from time to time during the progress of the work, all buildings which shall hereafter be constructed or repaired within fire limits, and whenever the work upon any such building shall be completed, he is hereby authorized to issue to the owner or occupant of the premises, or to the person in charge of the said work of construction or repair, upon request, a certificate that the said building conforms to all of the requirements of this city in regard to fire protection. It is also hereby made the duty of the Chief of the Fire Department to report promptly to the Board of Fire Commissioners any and all violations of this ordinance that may come to his knowledge and the said Board of Fire Commissioners shall report the same to the Common Council.

SECTION 16. No person shall wilfully or knowingly raise or circulate a false alarm of fire, and no person shall refuse the right of way or in any manner interfere with or obstruct any fire apparatus on its way to a fire, nor cross or run over any hose with any vehicle while the said hose shall be in use anywhere in this city by the fire department. No person shall wantonly or wilfully injure any house or building used as a place of deposit for any fire apparatus belonging to this city, or any apparatus therein contained.

SECTION 17. The Chief of the fire Department is hereby authorized to call upon any person to assist him in getting the apparatus of the department to any fire in this city, and to procure the use of other teams, and wagons, and of other appliances than those belonging to the city, if necessary, for the said purpose. And the said Chief of the Fire Department may, during the existence of any fire in this city, call upon bystanders to assist him in the labor of putting out the same, and may detail persons to guard property that may require care and protection, and any person who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any reasonable request, or to obey any reasonable order or demand of the said Chief of the Fire Department made under the authority herein granted and conferred shall be punished as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 18. Any violation of or failure to comply with any of the provisions or requirements of this ordinance, or with any direction, notice, order or requirement given or made by the Chief of the Fire Department, or Board of Fire Commissioners under the authority of, or necessary to the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this ordinance, or the charter of this city shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the Washtenaw county jail, City Lock-up or in the Detroit House of Correction for a term not exceeding ninety days, or both in the discretion of the court; and if only a fine and costs be imposed, the court may sentence the offender to imprisonment in said jail until the payment thereof, but for a term not exceeding ninety days.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force ten days after legal publication. Passed in the Common Council this 7th day of August A. D. 1895.

Traveling in America.

The London newspapers, since the Seaford disaster, have actually discovered that some sort of traveling in America is superior to the medieval devices employed in England. Says one of them lately: "The night boats by Calais are wholly and gratuitously abominable. Why does the British public stand it? The American who travels by short boat routes insists upon a 'floating palace,' and he gets it. How long are we to wait for like improvements in the Channel crossing? Surely it is not more difficult or less necessary to be comfortable between England and France than between New York and Boston."

The Incomparable Chicago & Alton

In these United States of America at least, and it is highly probable that throughout the entire world, the official record for the safety and welfare of its passengers made and maintained by the Chicago & Alton Railroad cannot be surpassed in fact or indeed it can be equalled. Over its completely rock-balanced, dustless roadway between Chicago and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis and St. Louis and Kansas City, eighteen magnificently appointed express trains are run on uniformly fast time every day. But in spite of this heavy passenger traffic the official records show that from December 4, 1879 to December 4, 1890, eleven years, there was no passenger, who was in place as a passenger, killed on Chicago & Alton trains. Moreover there was not a passenger seriously injured, to the extent of losing a limb, an eye or a member of any kind during that time.

During the entire period of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, when it was not an uncommon thing to find the usual passenger traffic of the road increased two, three and four-fold, and special excursion trains were very many, there was not an accident of any kind—a most remarkable record.

Besides being America's most popular railroad, the Chicago & Alton is the Pioneer Dining Car Line, the Pioneer Pullman Sleeping Car Line and the Pioneer Palace Reclining Chair Car Line.

Be sure that your ticket reads over the Chicago & Alton Railroad, when its matchless and direct lines can form the whole, or even a part of your journey. JAMES CHARLTON, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Ill.

WHY "No. 9"
ARE HEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES
POPULAR?
BECAUSE LADIES
BUY THEM LIKE THEM AND TELL THEIR FRIENDS.

Many ladies have used our machines twenty to thirty years in their family work, and are still using the original machines we furnished them a generation ago. Many of our machines have run more than twenty years without repairs, other than needles. With proper care they never wear out, and seldom need repair. We have built sewing machines for more than forty years and have constantly improved them. We build our machines on honor, and they are recognized everywhere as the most accurately fitted and finely finished sewing machines in the world. Our latest, the "No. 9," is the result of our long experience. In competition with the leading machines of the world, it received the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition of 1889, as the best, other machines receiving only complimentary medals of gold, silver and bronze. The Grand Prize was what all sought for, and our machine was awarded it.

LITERARY NOTES.

Lincoln's apprehensive distrust of marriage is revealed in some extremely interesting letters from the great President in the October Ladies' Home Journal, in which John Gilmer Speed discusses "Lincoln's Hesitant to Marry." Edward S. Martin presents a review of the various theories advanced by scientists in the effort to definitely locate the Garden of Eden site, and shows how far from solution is the problem. Edward W. Bok editorially discusses "Where American Life Really Exists," and outlines those communities where its best and purest phases are found. Robert J. Burdette contributes "The Strike in the Choir," a humorous article in his brightest vein. "Early Autumn Costumes" are described by Isabel A. Mallon, and "Novelties in Dress Designs," by Emma M. Hooper, Miss Underwood illustrating both. In the same issue are suggestions for evening parties and church festivals, helpful, practicable papers, a guide to scrap-book making, etc. The best works of such artists as W. L. Taylor, B. West, Clinedinst, Frank O. Small, Alice Barber Stephens, Abby E. Underwood and F. Schuyler Mathews are shown in the current issue.—The Curtis Publishing Company, Nos. 421-427 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

The October Atlantic Monthly is rich in good fiction. Mrs. Ward's powerful serial, A Singular Life, is concluded. Further chapters of Charles Egbert Craddock's Mystery of Witch-Face Mountain appear. Bradford Torrey's paper on Lookout Mountain is of peculiar interest in view of the memorable gathering there this summer. The book reviews, which constitute so important a part of every issue of the Atlantic, treat of a group of six stories much read and discussed at present.—The Atlantic Monthly Boston Mass..

The frontispiece of the October number of the New England Magazine is a fine portrait of Francis Parkman which has never before been published. The opening article in the number is on "Boston Light and the Brewsters," by R. G. F. Candage, a most interesting history and description of the famous light and group of islands at the entrance of Boston harbor. Another Boston article of importance to everybody in this day of rapid transit problems is that by Mr. Frank Foxcroft on "The Boston Subway and Others." "New England in New York" is the subject of a valuable study by E. P. Powell, detailing the incidents of an early chapter in the emigration of New England to the West which has been largely forgotten. Mr. Raymond L. Bridgman contributes an able article "The Foolish Fear of Paternalism," showing how large an extent socialistic principles are already embodied in our legislation, and how beneficent the process is proving. Mrs. Kate Gannett Wells tells the story of "Deborah Sampson," a Heroine of the American Revolution, "a venturesome young woman who put herself into trousers and entered the army where she passed through experiences well worth reading about. There are short stories by Dora Read Goodale and Miss Edith Elmer Wood, and there are several devoted poems. The Editor's Table is graced to Senator Hoar's recent letter upon the A. P. A. movement and to the centennial of the founding of the Western Reserve.—Warren F. Kellogg, 5 Park Square, Boston, Mass.

LOST FOR AGES.
Discovery of a Buried City in Turkestan by a Party of Russians.
Information: In Turkestan, on the right bank of the Amou Diara, in a chain of rocky hills, near the Bokharan town of Karaki, are a number of large caves which, upon examination, were found to lead to an underground city, built apparently long before the Christian era. According to effigies, inscriptions and designs upon the gold and silver money unearthed from among the ruins, the existence of the town dates back to some two centuries before the birth of Christ.
The underground Bokharan city is about two versts long and is composed of an enormous labyrinth of corridors, streets and squares, surrounded by houses and other buildings two or three stories high. The edifices contain all kinds of domestic utensils, pots, urns, vases and so forth. In some of the streets falls of earth and rock have obstructed the passages, but generally the visitor can walk about freely without lowering his head. The high degree of civilization attained by the inhabitants of the city is shown by the fact that they built in several stories, by the symmetry of the streets and square, and by the beauty of the clay and metal utensils and of the ornaments and coins.

THE PIPE OF PEACE.

A Mail-Carrier Has a Rather Hard Experience With a Bad Indian.
In July, 1892, Peter Schneider, who is now a policeman in Cincinnati, met with an adventure which he will not soon forget. The Second United States cavalry, to which he then belonged, were in camp at the big bend of Milk river. Schneider had been detailed mail carrier between the camp and Fort Assinibone. On the way coming he met an Indian at Clear Creek. They exchanged the courtesies of the day, and the redskin, with treachery in his heart, offered the soldier the pipe of peace. They smoked in silence on the roadway for a short time. The Indian always carried a half pound plug, and pulled it out of his pocket. The Indian took his knife and cut off a small piece from the corner, returning to Schneider, not the large plug, but the small piece which he had taken. The soldier wouldn't have it that way, and compelled him to make the exchange. They were still on apparently friendly terms, however, and there was no occasion for any exchange of hostilities. Schneider asked the Indian for a nearer trail to the fort than the one he had been traveling, and the Indian with whom he had smoked the pipe of peace showed him the way. They separated, and when Schneider had gone about fifty yards something impelled him to look about him. He saw the Indian in the act of drawing a bead on him. Schneider protected himself by dodging behind the horse, slung his weapon from his shoulder and returned the fire of the savage. The latter fled, but turned twice to fire.
Schneider also shot at him, and suddenly the Indian and his horse disappeared from sight as though the earth had swallowed them. Schneider followed, and stood horrified at the brink of a precipice over 200 feet in depth. At the bottom lay the Indian and his pony, both dead. The treacherous savage, in his hurried attack, had forgotten about the cliff, and in his flight went to destruction. Schneider took his saddle and gun and reported the matter to his superior officers. He has the saddle to-day, one of the trophies of his sojourn among "the oneriest dogs on God's green footstool."

A Cow in a Well.
A cow story comes from East Wallingford, Conn. The cow belongs to George Francis. Tuesday morning the animal jumped over the fence and alighted on a lot of boards that had been laid down to cover an old well. The weight of the animal smashed the boards and the cow went plunging down to the bottom of the well, a distance of thirty-seven feet. The owner supposed the animal had been killed or at least had its legs broken. A tackle was rigged up and let down and secured around the cow's horns. After much difficulty and with the aid of several men, the beast was dragged out of the well. To the surprise of all the animal was alive. For a short time the cow seemed adived, but gradually improved and is now reported as being none the worse for her fall.

Equal to the Occasion.
Mrs. Bland always has something pleasant to say to everybody. She puts all her friends in better humor with themselves. She met the ugliest man in town the other day. He is really a curiosity he is so ugly, and when she saw him he was worse than ever, for he had a boil on his nose. She couldn't say he was looking well. He couldn't say he had a sweet voice, for he notoriously hasn't. It looked for a moment as if she were bowled out, but she wasn't. She rallied gallantly. With her sweetest smile she grasped the man's hand. "Oh, Mr. S—," said she, "how do you do? You—you always do wear such immaculate linen."

"Oh, my poor head," sighs many a weary mother, many a tired husband, many an overworked child, and relief seems far away. The severity and frequency of headache in many instances leads the sufferer to despair of ever obtaining freedom from the painful affliction. Remedy after remedy is tried in vain, for still the malady "sticketh closer than a brother." There is, however, a specific for headache and neuralgia. It is Gessler's Magic Headache Wafers. Chronic headaches yield to them. Sold by John Moore.
