

KICKS ON ELOCUTION.

A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN CRITICIZES THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Thinks too High a Price is Paid—Does Not Take Much Stock in Elocution Anyway—Here is One Side of the Question—Who Will Take Up the Defense?

MR. EDITOR:—

The story, when first told, that the school board had hired at the rate of $2,750 a year a teacher of elocution for the High School could not at first command belief; it turns out, however, to be true, and further, that the board fearing lest the pupils might not appreciate instruction to be obtained at such cost, has made their attendance upon it obligatory. Is the board getting crazy? A year ago they severely censured their faculty for executing a law which they themselves had made. What would be done in case the pupils should violate this law and the teachers should use constraint?

But to the subject. What is this elocution that the teacher should be paid at the rate of $500 a year more for teaching it than the head of the school system of the city receives for his services? I remember that a revered professor in the college where I studied and who was afterwards its president, began some suggestions on the subject of elocution by remarking, "the first requisite of a good elocution is to have something to elocute." This is supposed to be supplied by other teachers than the one who has elocution in charge. What then has this teacher to do? I will answer this question by briefly indicating how the great men in public speaking have attained to their distinction.

It is said that the old Romans who desired that their sons should be good public speakers, would not permit that as infants they should have nurses who did not speak correctly the Latin language. This suggests the whole process. Children should from the cradle, if possible, hear good language and only such. They should be made to enunciate their words perfectly. This practice should be carried through every grade of our schools. A recitation on any subject should not be deemed perfect, though its import might be right, if the language was incorrect, or the enunciation imperfect.

I venture the assertion that the greatest public speakers have been those who, having good matter, utter it in the natural style of a conversation, differing therefrom only by giving the utterance a volume of voice corresponding with the space occupied by the audience. Any one who teaches a different system spoils his pupil.

Examples would best state the truth. I would insist upon the case of John Randolph, but for the reason that there is no one living who ever heard him. And yet we might take the opinion of Josiah Quincy, who makes Randolph the most perfect parliamentary orator of his time and makes his whole manner to have been a mere copy of an easy conversation. Gerit Smith was regarded as the most perfect public speaker of his day, and the trait which chiefly distinguished him was the perfect enunciation of every word, no one being run into another. The same is true of Wendall Phillips, whom great numbers in this city have heard, and of Charles H. Spurgeon, whom I think some of our people have heard. His distinction, besides the aptness and weight of his matter, was that he simply talked to 7,000 people, so that every person present who had ears heard every word of the discourse.

On the other hand, I may say that I have known a great many professional teachers of elocution, and have never known one who was a natural, or in any sense a good public speaker, or who made good ones of any whom he succeeded in getting to follow his rules. The true teachers of elocution, except as to the mere training of the voice, are those who help their pupils to the matter and the rhetoric and logic of their addresses. And this is done by requiring of pupils a correct language and a perfect enunciation of its words.

It would seem by the terms of the contract, and especially by the salary to be paid, that the new teacher was deemed to possess some witchery by which the pupils were to be so inflated that they could blow up at will a hurricane of eloquence which would carry everything before it. Of course, they know that their children are smart enough, and see no reason, except the want of right kind of teaching, why Patrick Henrys, Randolphs, Frances E. Willard and Spurgeons are not springing up every year.

It is to be hoped that the electors will as early as possible, relieve from duty those who have imposed upon them such an expense for that which is so near nothing.

If the board would make a law requiring every teacher to insist upon the use of a perfect English in all the recitations of his pupils, and a perfect enunciation of every word, they would be upon the right track for securing a good elocution. B.

Death of Mrs. Hangsterfer.

Mrs. Catherine Hangsterfer, an old and highly respected resident of Ann Arbor and one who was intimately connected with its business interests in years gone by, died at her home 31 E. University ave., yesterday morning at 6 o'clock after an illness of eight weeks, of inflammation of the bowels.

Mrs. Hangsterfer's maiden name was Barkley and she was born in Hesse Darmstadt, Germany, April 16, 1825. She came to this country with her parents and seven brothers and sisters in 1833, the family locating in Pennsylvania. She was married to Jacob Hangsterfer at Pittsburg, Pa., in 1843. They came to Ann Arbor in 1854, and started an ice cream, confectionery and catering business in a small frame house at the corner of S. Main and W. Washington-sts., where the large brick block which bears their name now stands. Frugal, industrious and persevering they worked up a good business and had accumulated a nice property when Mr. Hangsterfer died in 1873. Assisted by her sons and daughters Mrs. Hangsterfer still conducted the business until 1888, when she retired from active business pursuits.

Mrs. Hangsterfer was the mother of eight children, all of whom survive her except one son. They are: J. William Hangsterfer, of Detroit, Miss Lizzie Hangsterfer, who lived with her mother, Frank (who died in 1888), Mrs. Clara Luyckx, of Detroit, Mrs. Louis Limpert and Mrs. Ross Granger, of this city, Mrs. J. C. Stevens, of Detroit, and Ed. V. Hangsterfer, of this city.

The funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. R. M. Beach officiating. The remains will be interred in Forest Hill cemetery. The honorary pall bearers will be Philip Bach, L. Gruner, Moses Seabolt, W. D. Harriman, Chas. H. Worden and J. T. Jacobs. The active pall bearers will be her sons and sons-in-law, J. Wm. and Edward V. Hangsterfer, Louis Limpert, Ross Granger, J. C. Stevens and Mr. Luyckx, of Detroit.—Monday's Times.

Y. M. C. A. Night School.

The classes in the Y. M. C. A. night school are well attended. Interest is intense. The boys are working with a will. Young men are urged to visit these classes and see what is being done. Mr. Hildner's class in conversational German could accommodate a few more. The boys are getting along finely in bookkeeping under the instruction of Prof. Springer. Mr. Hughes is now giving lectures on contracts. His students complain about the hour being so short. The boys in mechanical drawing get so interested they work over time at every session. Mr. Seyler reports some very promising pupils in his penmanship class. The instructors are putting their best energies into the work and the character of the school is equal to that of the best business college. Young men are missing a rare opportunity who do not avail themselves of these educational advantages.

The class in civil government in the night school has been combined with that of practical business law, giving both studies for the price of one. The educational committee are also arranging for a mock city council to be held in the near future.

The business men of Ann Arbor should visit the Y. M. C. A. night school some evening and see what is being done for their employes. Classes on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30.—Times.

Mr. Whitford's Lecture.

Rev. J. B. Whitford, the Methodist minister stationed at Caro, Mich., gave a very interesting lecture at the Unitarian church, Monday evening, before the Unity Club, upon "Dante." He is an enthusiastic admirer and profound student of the great Italian poet. His analysis of the Divine Comedy was clear and masterly. Mr. Whitford has a sweet voice, graceful manners, and clear enunciation. His lecture was one of the most delightful ever given in the city. It was filled with poetic thought. Spleendid descriptions and moral reflections, liberal, generous and inspiring. It was fully up to the high standard of entertainments given in the Unity Club course.

Mr. John G. Gross died last Monday at No. 27 2nd st. from consumption. Deceased was 39 years of age.

Michigan Crop Report For October 1895.

Reports at hand form the basis for the following Statements:

Acres of wheat harvested in 1895..... 1,262,307 Bushels..... 16,782,637 Average yield per acre..... 13.30

The acres here given are as shown by the farm statistics of the State taken by supervisors last spring; the average per acre is taken from records kept by threshers, and the total yield is obtained by multiplying the number of acres in each county by the average per acre and footing the products.

The total yield as estimated is 4,665,778 bushels less, and the average per acre 3.56 less, than the crop of 1894. The total yield in 1894 as now compiled from supervisors returns was 179,234 bushels less, and the average per acre 7.100 bushels more, than estimated by this department in October of that year.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers since the September report was published is 1,095,469, and in the two months, August-September, 1,798,468. This is 677,606 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

Oats are estimated to yield 21 bushels per acre; barley, 15.78, and corn 61 bushels of ears. Compared with average crops potatoes are estimated to yield 82 per cent, beans 78 per cent, winter apples 25 per cent, and late peaches 83 per cent. Oats are estimated to yield 7 bushels less, corn 21 bushels more, and potatoes 38 per cent more, than the crops of 1894 as estimated in October 1894.

The mean temperature of the State for September was 64.2 degrees, and excess of 3.4 degrees compared with the normal, and of 1.5 degrees, compared with September, 1894. The mean temperature was above the normal in each of the four sections of the State as follows: Southern four tiers of counties, 4.8, central counties, 3.8, northern counties, 3.2, and upper peninsula, 2.7 degrees.

The average rainfall in the State in September was 2.82 inches, a deficiency of 0.18 inches compared with the normal. The rainfall in the southern four tiers of counties amounted to 1.58 inches which is 0.82 inches less than the normal for this section. There was, compared with the normal, an excess of rainfall in the central and northern counties and upper peninsula, as follows: Central counties, 0.79, northern counties, 0.78, and upper peninsula, 3.44 inches. The rainfall in the upper peninsula was excessive, amounting to 6.31 inches. Compared with the rainfall in September, 1894, there is a deficiency of 0.60 inches in the State, and of more than two inches in the southern four tiers of counties.

CONFLAGRATION AT ALGIERS, LA.

Italian Fruit Vendor Charged with Starting the Blaze and Threatened with Lynching—Pennsylvania Village Wiped Out by Flames.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 22.—Algiers, on the opposite side of the river, was visited by a terrible conflagration at an early hour yesterday morning. The fire started in a fruit vendor's establishment, and before the flames were controlled, nine blocks of buildings were in ruins and hundreds of families were rendered homeless. The territory burned was bounded by Morgan, Alox, Lavergne and Bonny streets. Many persons were asleep when the flames reached their residences, so rapid was the progress of the fire, and barely escaped with their lives. The loss will foot up over $500,000, with only partial insurance. Among the most prominent places consumed was the police station, the upper portion of which was used as the third city court, and the fifth recorders court, together with all the records; engine house, of Brooklyn, No. 17, and the handsome residence of State Senator Thomas F. Turnbull and Councilman Barras. Paul Bonifla, an Italian, the owner of the place where the fire originated, was arrested on the charge of setting the building on fire to obtain $600 insurance. The police claim to have strong evidence against him. As there were threats of lynching, he was brought over to this side for safe keeping.

Mining Village Wiped Out by Fire.
 Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 22.—The mining village, No. 8 Stockton, was practically wiped out by fire early yesterday morning. Shortly after midnight flames were discovered in the house of Mrs. Michael McGlory. There was a high wind blowing at the time, and before the fire was under control twelve dwellings had been destroyed. The properties were owned by the Stockton Coal Company and occupied by these families: Thomas Burgess, Patrick Somers, Samuel McVey, John Taylor, John Mulhern, Thomas Miller, G. W. Miller, Jacob Bowman, Adam Kluck, Patrick Conagan and Mrs. McGlory. The loss is $18,000.

Indiana Village Scorched.
 Columbus, Ind., Oct. 22.—Fire at New Belleville destroyed the general store of J. B. Cook, the postoffice and four dwellings. Loss, $15,000; no insurance.

BLEW UP THE BANK VAULT.
 Burglars Make an Unsuccessful Foray at Butte, Mont.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 22.—A desperate but unsuccessful attempt was made to rob Hoge, Daly & Co.'s bank at Anaconda shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning by blowing it up. Two watchmen, Thomas Hammerle and E. L. Kunkle, were asleep in the bank at the time and were awakened by noise coming as they thought from within the vault.

They left the building to investigate and just as they got on the outside a terrific explosion occurred, shattering the plate-glass front and ripping out the whole iron front of the vault and scattering bank books and papers all over the street. The cash apartment of the vault remained intact. One of the robbers was caught and identified as A. L. Firpo, a young mechanic who has lived in Anaconda for several years and was well known. There were several hundred thousand dollars in the bank at the time of the attempted robbery. The damage to the building amounts to about $2,000.

Bank Driven to the Wall.
 Duluth, Minn., Oct. 22.—Another bank has gone under. This time it is the State bank, of which Charles Stuckey, who fled last week with $15,000, was the cashier. This action was decided upon when the other banks refused to furnish any money, and today an assignment will be made to C. Davidson, of Little Falls, who owns a majority of the stock. There is considerable county and state money in the bank and a large amount in individual deposits, but the directors say that every dollar will be paid. It is intimated that Stuckey is not the only man who got the bank's money.

Echoes of the Omaha Fight.
 Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22.—Some peculiar litigation has been provoked by the recent A. P. A. excitement in Omaha growing out of the police muddle. The mayor appointed seventy-five special officers to maintain order in anticipation of the threatened trouble. They were on duty several days and nights. The A. P. A. influence in the council prevented the men being paid. The men now sue and the same influence has declared that each case shall be tried separately.

Hilton's Case Being Argued.
 Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 22.—In the district court Saturday Judge Holmes listened to arguments on the demurrer in the case of the state against ex-Oil Inspector Frank Hilton and his bondsmen. His Narrow Escape From Death From Chronic Malaria.
 That Pe-ru-na cures chronic malaria needs no farther proof than the thousands of testimonials of grateful patients. The Rev. Gibbons' testimonial given below, is a fair sample of what is daily received:
 Having been snatched from the grave, as it were, by the use of Pe-ru-na, I can not refrain longer from writing to you. I am a minister of the Gospel and pastor of St. Paul Church of this place. Last spring I was taken down with malaria fever after a severe attack of la grippe. Many of the friends and members of my church gave me up as hopeless. I had got down to a skeleton, and for weeks lay in bed, thinking to myself that I would never more be well; thank God, I began using your Pe-ru-na, and to-day I can truthfully say that there is no medicine like Pe-ru-na. I will answer any inquiring letters and inform the writer that Pe-ru-na is the medicine that saved my life. It is the best medicine in the world.
 Rev. J. T. Gibbons, Oakland, Tex.
 The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio, will send a book on malaria free to any one who writes for it. Ask your druggist for the 1896 Pe-ru-na Almanac.

No need to fear the approach of cramp if you have Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Never was a case that it wouldn't cure if used at the outset.

It's a GRAND SUCCESS.
 The fact has been demonstrated by the thousands of testimonials the Mayers Drug Company, of Oakland, Md., has received since it has sent its famous Mayers Magnetic Catarrh Cure out to the sufferers of catarrh. No medicine has received such an endorsement from the people in so short a time as it did. The makers sell the medicine on business principles, and a patient is not required to buy the medicine by the dozen to get a cure. The Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure sells for $1 per bottle, one bottle to last for a three months treatment. Three bottles is the highest record ever required to complete a cure. General catarrh one bottle is guaranteed. No cure no pay.

This is an unequalled offer and if you are a sufferer from catarrh get a bottle from your druggist, if no benefit derived costs you nothing. A prominent R. R. conductor speaks:

Cumberland, Md., April 29th, 1893.
 To The Mayers Drug Co.,
 Gentlemen:—Yours to hand, in reply will say that I have the highest regard for your Catarrh Remedy, my trouble is in a chronic form and expected to use more than one bottle. I used one bottle which removed the trouble from the head in good shape and am on the second bottle for throat trouble, I did in the former I shall write you again in the near future. Hoping it will do for the suffering humanity what it did for me, I remain
 Yours truly,

BRIEF ITEMS ABOUT MICHIGAN PEOPLE AND THINGS.

Fine Masonic Temple Dedicated at Grand Rapids.—I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge and Daughters of Rebekah Convention at Saginaw.—Brief Mention.

Grand Rapids Masons Dedicate a Temple

With a fine autumn day, and a large number of visitors and the city most gorgeously decorated the Masons of Grand Rapids were very happy on the day of the dedication of their new seven-story temple. There were Masons from all parts of the state, but of course the star attraction of the big parade was the attraction of the Grand Rapids Masonic Temple, which occupied the position of honor in the parade, which was one of the finest ever witnessed in that city. The objective point of the parade was the Masonic temple. The ceremonies of the day were performed in the magnificent blue lodge room, and were conducted by Grand Master E. L. Bowring, assisted by the other grand officers. Only members of the fraternity were allowed within the lodge room. The exercises closed with brief addresses by Grand Master Bowring, Deputy Grand Master J. J. Carson, Grand Secretary J. S. Conover, Grand Warden Lou B. Winsor and Past Grand Commanders Judge John W. McGrath, Judge John W. Champlin, Judge George H. Durand, Hon. Hugh McCurdy, A. M. Clark and others.

The reception in the evening was a brilliant social function and the attendance reached several thousands. The Masonic temple was elaborately illuminated, both within and without. Music was discoursed during the evening by the Grand Rapids and Fourth Regiment bands, and in the banquet halls refreshments were served. The reception was not confined to the fraternity alone, but many prominent invited guests were present.

I. O. O. F. Grand Officers.

Grand officers elected by the Michigan grand lodge I. O. O. F. at Lansing were: Grand master, Henry N. Wilder, of Grand Rapids; deputy master William F. Wisniewski, of Muskegon; warden, Eber S. Andrews, of Williamston; secretary, Edwin H. Whitney, of Lansing; treasurer, Benjamin D. Pritchard, of Allegan; representative to grand lodge, Marvin R. Salter, of Ithaca; chaplain, Rev. T. G. Smith, of Grand Rapids; marshal, E. H. Sellers, of Detroit; conductor, F. E. Andrews, of Adrian; guardian, A. J. Stroud, of Hortons Bay; herald, John L. Preston, of Columbiaville. Resolutions were passed to take steps toward establishing an Odd Fellows home, and providing that no saloonkeeper, bartender or gambler can become an Odd Fellow. The Daughters of Rebekah elected: President, Mrs. Ada Carpenter, of Grand Rapids; vice-president, Mrs. Ida M. Bailey, of Rockford; secretary, Mrs. Ida M. Davis, of Lansing; treasurer, Mrs. Mattie K. Bromeling, of Charlot; chaplain, Mrs. Hattie Chamberlain, of Grand Lodge; marshal, Mrs. Effie Pitts, of St. Johns; conductor, Mrs. Fanny L. Chafee, of Lansing; inside guard, Mrs. Lillian Gay, of Tecumseh; outside guard, Mrs. Lottie Benson.

Baptist State Convention.

The Baptists of Michigan held their sixtieth annual convention at Marquette. The reports showed that the increase in membership during the past year, while not so great as in the year preceding was greater than in any other year. The total number of churches is 420, a gain of 10, and the total number of members 42,356. The receipts of the home and foreign mission board from all sources were $9,441.30, and its disbursements were $10,725.39. Officers elected: President, J. C. Gates, of Ypsilanti; vice-presidents, W. L. Munger, W. E. Feeman, C. W. Barber, A. J. Fox and J. B. Banker; secretary, Rev. H. E. Cochran; treasurer, W. W. Beman; auditor, T. T. Leete. The women's home and foreign societies also held meetings. The former elected Mrs. W. A. Moore, of Detroit, president, while Mrs. E. C. Van Husan, of Detroit, is at the head of the foreign society.

Mysterious Murder of a Child.

Much excitement has been occasioned at Ishpeming, due to the finding of the remains of Little Eva Lafreniere, who mysteriously disappeared June 24. The clue to the discovery was a pair of shoes found by the mother of the child among a bundle of carpet rags passed by Mrs. C. L. Wendel, a neighbor, to Mrs. Lafreniere. The shoes were identified as those last worn by the missing child, and were at once turned over to the authorities. Marshal Carlson and Assistant Marshal Nolan entered Mrs. Wendel's house with a search warrant, and proceeded without ceremony to the attic, where they found the child's body concealed behind a chimney. The body had reached an advanced stage of decomposition. The left hand was gone, the head was severed from the trunk and the skull was crushed in.

Miraculous Escape of the Tug Petrel.

The fishing tug Petrel, of Oscoda, which was reported lost with all hands, while fishing in Saginaw bay, reached Kincardine, Ont., after five days, with the crew all safe. The tug was engaged in lifting the fish nets when the boiler gave out, and the tug was soon rolling helplessly in the trough of the sea. The Petrel's provisions ran short, as the boat had only been stocked for the day, but for five days the tug drifted before the storm. The men were nearly starved when they finally reached shore. With the exception of her boiler the tug had not been damaged by her rough experience in drifting clear across Lake Huron. The tug was kept up to the wind by trailing the fish nets.

Dissipation and family quarrels led Cyrus Hinckley to take a dose of poison near Memphis, from the effects of which he died.

The large untenanted house of Mrs. Chicton Delavan, of Chicago, was burned at Jonesville. The fire was of incendiary origin.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weller died at Grand Rapids of black diphtheria, and it is feared that a general outbreak may occur.

ENGLISH OPINION.

Comments of the Press on the Venezuelan Question.

London, Oct. 22.—The Standard, conservative, has an editorial on the Venezuelan question, in which it says: "The Venezuelan ultimatum is unlikely to lead to prolonged or doubtful complications. The convention of 1859 has been repeatedly infringed by the Venezuelans in encroaching upon soil indisputably British. These galling and high-handed acts might have been overlooked had not the outrages by the Venezuelan authorities reached lengths no longer endurable. If such an aggression as the Urman affair is to be ignored we might as well abandon British Guiana. We shall be surprised if the responsible diplomats of the United States persist in maintaining that the Monroe doctrine has any bearing on the present case." The Times and the Chronicle print articles explaining in detail the position of the Venezuelan matter, the latter paper especially as regards the American point of view, as indicated by the official reports issued from Washington. "There is no doubt," the Chronicle continues, "that the United States is determined to bring about an early settlement of the dispute. No answer to Mr. Bayard's dispatch to Lord Salisbury has yet been received at the embassy."

STRONG AGAINST DURRANT.

Emmanuel Church Has Been the Scene of Many Orges.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 22.—The prosecution in the trial of W. H. T. Durrant has found a witness who will testify that everything was not right in Emmanuel church prior to the murder of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams. This witness is a colored boot-black named "Budd" Wilson. Last night when he was served with a subpoena he told this story:

"I know King and Durrant so well that they talked freely with me. I was surprised that such religious young men should be carrying on so, but I concluded they were about the same as others. I learned from those two boys themselves that they were taking girls to the church every night. I often heard them tell of the fun they had and of the different girls who accompanied them. I know myself of five girls who used to go there with them. The people in the mission would be surprised if they knew who the girls were. They all belong to respectable families, and the worst of it all is that their parents never dreamed that such things were going on."

HAUGHEY ACQUITTED.

Jury at Indianapolis Finds Him Not Guilty.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—The jury in the case of Schuyler Haughey, charged with aiding his father, president of the Indianapolis bank, in wrecking that institution, was declared a free man by the jury in the United States district court yesterday morning, and a most affecting scene followed. Young Haughey's wife and mother hugged the attorneys for the defense in their joy. This closes the prosecutions connected with the great failure in July of 1893, when over $700,000 was wiped out. The government proved that about $450,000 of this shortage had gone into the hands of the Indianapolis Cabinet Works, presided over by Francis A. Coffin, and the other $250,000 had been dumped into the Indianapolis glue works and curled hair works, of which Schuyler Haughey was the nominal head. As the result of the prosecutions, Theodore P. Haughey, president of the defunct bank, is serving a six years' term in prison, and F. A. Coffin is serving one of ten years.

Unitarians at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The sixteenth meeting of the national conference of the Unitarian and other Christian churches will begin here today, and judging from the number of delegates, clergymen and others who have already arrived and those who are expected, the present conference promises to be one of the most important ever held by the Unitarians. The meetings will continue until Thursday night. Several sessions are to be held each day, at which subjects of vital importance to Unitarians will be discussed. Representative men and women from nearly every state in the Union are among the prominent speakers announced.

Y. M. C. A. Convention Closes.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The feature of the last day of the Y. M. C. A. convention, which closed at Evanston yesterday, was the announcement that William Deering, the wealthy Evanston philanthropist, had pledged himself for a gift of $15,000 toward a building for the association at Evanston. The convention just closed has been the largest in the history of the state association, 510 delegates having been registered. The largest attendance at any previous convention was 325, which was the number registered at Springfield last year. The convention closed last evening at 9:30 o'clock with a farewell meeting.

Will Not Make Terms.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—Senator Canovas De Castillo, minister of foreign affairs, is quoted as saying that it is impossible that Spain should come to terms with the Cuban insurgents. Advice received here from Cuba say that Gen. Oliver's column defeated 600 insurgents in the district of Los Remedios, and thirty of the insurgents were killed.

Lutheran Young People to Meet.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—The national convention of Lutheran Young People's societies will meet Oct. 30, and 31 in this city. The convention will be a representative body gathered from about 2,600,000 young Lutherans in the United States and Canada. Several hundred delegates will be in attendance.

A GRAND TRIUMPH.

Baffled Many Times but Success Comes at Last.

(From the Grand Rapids Press.)

The following incident would be hard to believe if it had not occurred right here in Grand Rapids, and investigation by our representative has placed it beyond the reach of doubt. These are the facts in detail; Mr. J. H. White of No. 25 Hailley Place, has been an instructor in penmanship in different business colleges for the past fourteen years. He says: "Last October I was suddenly taken ill. I consulted a physician, who said the pain was from 'gravel' stones; gradually grew worse; the pain was in my back and side. My back swelled up in a great ridge, and I finally grew so bad that I was taken to bed, as helpless as a child. I passed blood, and when the pain was at its worst I was like one crazy. The doctor injected morphine to give me relief, but further than that he said he was powerless, and nothing would do me any good but a surgical operation. I believe my flesh was literally cooked in the attempts to relieve my agony, everything was used, mustard plasters, turpentine, hot cloths and all such things. I was in this condition, given up by the doctor, and almost out of my mind with suffering. I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and really I felt easier in 20 minutes. After about two hours I had a passage of urine, and passed blood and some 'gravel' stones which greatly relieved me. I rapidly improved. I took in all six boxes, and I feel to-day entirely well. Mine has been a wonderful case. I feel that I cannot say anything strong enough for Doan's Kidney Pills. My great wish is that they may become well known. They will prove a boon to mankind.

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Sealed Proposals

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the City Clerk until Wednesday, October 30 at 12 m., for removing the ground on the north side of Washington street along Felch Park the same to be used in filling the street and sidewalk on the south side of such street.

Glen V. Mills,
City Clerk.

THE New York authorities, in view of the great demand for asphalt roadways are perplexed as to what disposition to make of the basalt blocks now in use. The solution is very easy. If the present Wilson-Gorman Democratic Tariff should long continue at the present increasing magnitude of the imports and the decreasing rate of exports they can be used for ballast for steamers going to Europe.—Sing Sing Republican.

IN spite of the fact that the duties on window glass have been reduced nearly one-half by the provisions of the new Tariff, the manufacturers have formed a trust. The trust has already advanced prices nearly 18 per cent. And another advance of 5 per cent. is likely to follow. What becomes of the argument that a Protective Tariff fosters trusts, and that a revision of duties according to Democratic ideas would be a death blow to such combinations?—Troy Daily Times.

POLITICAL affairs in Detroit have a decided Pingree hue. He captured the Republican convention without any opposition to speak of, while the Free Press, the Democratic organ of the state, is so disgruntled at the Democratic nominee for mayor that it practically advises the opposition to Pingree not to go to the polls on election day, but to "take to the woods." This means that Pingree will have at least ten or fifteen thousand majority this fall.

THE wheat crop of 1895, as given by Dornbusch's list, was 395,795,000 quarters. This is less than 5,000,000 quarters larger than the world's wheat crop of 1892. On July 1, 1892, the price of wheat in New York was 89 1/4 cents but on July 1, 1895, the price was only 73 3/4 cents, a decrease of 15 1/2 cents a bushel. Does the increase of 1 3/4 per cent. in the world's wheat crop between the two periods account for the decrease of 18 per cent. in the value of wheat within the same period?

AMERICAN fleece wools declined from 7 1/2 cents to 15 cents per pound and American scoured wools from 15 to 27 1/2 cents per pound between October 1, 1891, and October 1, 1895. Foreign wools, on the other hand, were higher October 1, 1895 than they were on October 1, 1891, notwithstanding that the Free-Traders prophesied that Free-Trade in wool would advance the price of wool in this country. Protectionists said it would cheapen wool here and advance it abroad. The Protectionists were right.

AMERICAN sheep are still going to market in vast numbers. August, 1894, was known as virtually a panic month, so great was the rush of sheep into the Chicago market; yet the report for August, 1895, shows an increase of 40,000 head over that of the corresponding month the preceding year, while an excess of 3,000 for the first week in September indicates that the haste to sell is still an uppermost feature. Under these conditions many Western sheep men have sold out almost every one, two or three year old sheep in their flocks, so that now their stock is at the point of certain deterioration.—Breeder's Gazette.

THE President and officers of the Grand Trunk Railway, at Port Huron the other day, informed the Common Council of that city that their road was not run to build up or to especially accommodate towns along its lines. It is this selfish policy that has brought so many railroad corporations under the bon of public opinion. The great Canadian Pacific Railway has never pursued this narrow and illiberal policy. It uses every reasonable means to aid and build up towns along its line, and accommodate the public whom it serves and from whom it draws its income and support. As a result it has had a phenomenal growth and prosperity. In less than twenty years it has built and secured control of between six and seven thousand miles of track and now has the longest continuous line in the world. Within the memories of men now living there was not a mile of railroad track in the country and within twenty years the Canadian Pacific alone has built enough to reach one quarter of the way around the globe. The trains of this immense corporation, moving from Halifax on the Atlantic, to Vancouver on the Pacific, whether they are running through the cities and thickly populated districts of the east, or the lonely forests of unsettled Canada, the vast open plains of the Great North-west, or the tremendous gorges of the Rocky mountain and Selkirk ranges, all move with the precision of clock work. No very serious accidents have occurred on this line. The management is as nearly perfect as railroad management can ever be. As an instance, we left Detroit the other day and from that point to the termination of one of its branch lines at Newport, in Vermont, the train was exactly on time at every station but one, and there it was but three minutes late! It hardly seems possible that such a feat could be done over such a long line of road passing across great rivers through populous cities like Toronto and Montreal and meeting and passing innumerable trains, by the way! Of all the routes from the west to north-east and eastern New England, the Canadian Pacific is by all odds the shortest and most comfortable, besides it has the further advantage of passing all the way through a finely cultivated region to Newport, the curious narrow farms of the Canadian French, the populous Americanized city of Toronto and the quaintly built French city of Montreal. On our way we passed many places of great historical interest. We crossed the spot where the poet Moore resided when in Canada, and where he wrote the celebrated "Canadian Boatman's Song." At Montreal our train took us into the magnificent Canadian Pacific depot, with the single exception of the Union depot at St. Louis, the finest railroad depot on the continent. From Montreal we crossed the St. Lawrence the only great river in the world whose waters are always fresh, cool and clear, over an iron bridge so delicate beautiful that it seems in the distance as if it floated in the air. Soon after crossing the St. Lawrence the whole city of Montreal comes into view, its steeples so numerous that it seems to be a city of churches all over topped by the mighty roof and lofty square towers of the great Roman Catholic Cathedral of Notre Dame, the largest church edifice in North America. In three hours after leaving Montreal we first catch a glimpse through the trees of Lake Memphremagog classic in the traditions and legends of New England, nestling like a jewel among the hills. As our train moves along the shore of this charming lake we recall the lines in whittier's "Snow Bound."

Our Father rode against his side
By Memphremagog's woody side,
Sat down again to moose and sump
In hunter's hut or Indian Camp.

At Newport, the popular and delightful summer resort at the south end of the lake, the Canadian Pacific connects with the "Boston and Maine," the two roads running in friendly and close connection. A few miles south of Newport, at St. Johnsbury, a road runs to the left and carries you through the heart of the White Mountains by Falyan's and through the famous and thrilling Crawford notch to Portland and Boston. Thirty miles below at St. Johnsbury at Wells river, you may again turn off to the left and reach Boston via the Franconian mountains in full sight of the lordly Moose Hill and along the shores of the beautiful lake Winnepesaukee. A few miles below Wells river you may turn to the left a third time and reach Boston via Concord, the capitol of New Hampshire, and the manufacturing towns of Nashua, Manchester and Lowell. These three roads take one through the finest scenery of New England, showing the traveler its loftiest mountains, its most beautiful lakes, some of its finest rural villages and every presenting landscapes of marvelous beauty.

A trip to New England by way of the Canadian Pacific railway to Newport and thence by either of the above three routes to Boston reveals a panorama which by an intelligent traveler will never be forgotten. The west owes a debt of gratitude to the Canadian Pacific railroad that it has enabled us to enjoy such a trip, so quickly, so comfortably, so safely, and with so much restful satisfaction and delight.

Press Superintendent

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms over the post-office. One week from today a special meeting has been arranged for the purpose of listening to a report of the National W. C. T. U. convention which convened in Baltimore from Oct. 18 to 23. Dr. Mary Wood-Allen and Mrs. Jennie Voorheis attended the convention, and Mrs. Voorheis has consented to make a report especially aiming to bring to the workers methods of carrying on the various lines of work as shall be the means of producing more intelligent efforts in the future. The place of this meeting will be announced later.

LOYAL TEMPERANCE LEGION.
For several months the W. C. T. U. have been making arrangements to organize a Local Temperance Legion in the city this fall. Miss Anna Richards for several years president of the University Y's will be the leader of the Legion, and her assistants will be chosen from the young women in the University who are members of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The W. C. T. U. feel to congratulate themselves upon having secured a young woman of such marked talents, and experience in various lines of temperance work to devote herself to this most hopeful department, and trust that the efforts which she and her associates shall put forth to train the boys and girls in the principles of total abstinence and purity, may not only result in enlisting the children to lend a hand in every effort to help others and to overthrow the liquor traffic, but may rebound in blessings upon their own branch of the organization and their labors for temperance in the University.

The meeting for the purpose of organizing the Loyal Temperance Legion will be held Saturday Oct. 26, at two o'clock. Every boy and girl in the city between the ages of five and sixteen years, of every race and creed and station is cordially invited to be present at this meeting and to join the Legion.

WANTED.

A cabinet organ for the use of the W. C. T. U. during the coming year. Has not some one just the organ they would like to have used to help swell the strains of these inspiring temperance songs found in the "White Ribbon Hymnal"? If so, kindly drop a line to Mrs. W. W. Wetmore, 84 W. Huron street.

BEER.

Not long since, one of the wealthiest wholesale liquor dealers in eastern Indiana arranged with a prominent life insurance company to take out a policy for two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, partly for the benefit of an institution he wished to endow at his death. The papers were made out, but on going to be examined as to his physical condition, he was unable to pass, the examining surgeon announcing that he had heart disease, and his life was very uncertain. Frightened, as well as indignant, he went to the board of examiners in New York, which also announced to him that he had organic disease of the heart to that extent that its action might cease at any time. They pronounced the real cause of the trouble to be the fact that he had been the habit of drinking beer. Of course the life insurance company would take no risk where there was such an uncertain tenure of existence.

Actual fact proved by the light of science, shows that lager beer is not food; for there are no nutritive elements in it. Instead of being the sustainer of life, it saps at the foundation of all vital force. Instead of promoting heat in the human body, it lowers the temperature of its victims until they are far more susceptible to cold, even to death, than healthy bodies free from all alcoholic taint. Instead of imparting strength, it simply produces a temporary fictitious vigor by spurring the heart and nervous system to unusual effort, which is invariably followed by proportionate exhaustion that weakens those functions to a degree that will produce premature decay and death. Thus giving neither heat, force or sustenance to the human system, lager beer is shown by science to be a "living" beer in every claim it makes to this effect.

Some of the creditors of the defunct Michigan Mortgage Co., of St Johns, which company was wrecked by S. S. Walker, have brought suit to recover upon a mortgage which it is claimed was paid twice. Suit is now brought against all the stockholders in the company which includes Prof. A. H. Pattengill, H. M. DOoge, and Wm. H. Pettee.

Doctor D. A. Mac Lachlan has consented to write a treatise on The Eye for a Chicago publishing house. His being so long connected with the University, besides being first vice president elect of the American Institute of Homoeopathy, president of the Michigan State Homoeopathic Society; honorary member of the New York State Homoeopathic Society and editor of the Medical Councillor has made the doctor so well known that his book will have a wide circulation. He has found it necessary to remove to Detroit to secure leisure for his literary work.

PAULINE HALL.

MISS HALL SAYS DR. GREENE'S NERVURA SURELY CURES.

She Recommends Dr. Greene's Nervura for the Weak, Tired, Nervous and Debilitated. Says it is the Best of All Medicines.

MISS PAULINE HALL.

Pauline Hall, the empress of song, is celebrated the world over as the Representative American Beauty. who has in the presentation of the new operatic comedy, "Dorcas," achieved the success of her eventful life. In a conversation with the representative of this paper she stated:

"I have in my professional experience essayed a number of roles that have been more or less trying upon the physical and nervous system, but in none that I have attempted have I ever experienced the terrific strain that the various characters which I assume in my new operatic comedy, 'Dorcas,' have subjected me to. The assumption of one character in a presentation is generally conceded to be a sufficient undertaking for any one person, but in 'Dorcas' I assume three, all different, and I might say diametrically opposite to each other.

"The terrific strain naturally resulting from such difficult work, which is a new and direct departure from anything I have ever presented to the public before, naturally had a very distressing effect upon me, and I was constrained to seek some relief from the mental and physical exhaustion from my labors. After trying several remedies that were commended to me as being exceptionally good for the nervous exhaustion which I was subject to, I was eventually induced to make a trial of Dr. Greene's celebrated Nervura, and the great relief which it afforded me was almost instantaneous in its effect, and I have no hesitation in unqualifiedly endorsing Dr. Greene's Nervura as the best tonic and restorer of a nervous and debilitated system of any remedy that I have ever tested. It is remarkable for the rapidity with which its restorative qualities assert themselves. It is absolutely harmless, and the instantaneous relief which it affords to the nervous and tired system is grateful in the extreme. I can readily understand why it is that so many hearty recommendations are given by people of prominence, especially those in our profession, for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and my own experience justifies me in recommending it as absolutely the best remedy which I ever used."

Campus.

The U. of M. granted 707 degrees last year. The entries have been numerous for field day this fall. The game with Harvard will be played at Boston on Nov. 9. The regents have ordered 150 new lockers for the Gymnasium. The Oracle offers $75 in prizes for contributions to that publication. Senator D. B. Hill lectures before the S. L. A. in University Hall tomorrow night. The sale of tickets for the S. L. A. course this year has been very large already. Law students are kicking about the short hours during which the law library is open. The Dental Society held an election of officers last Wednesday, C. F. Fitch, '96, is president. The freshman co-ed spread will be held one week from tomorrow night in the gymnasium. Adelbert was very thoroughly white-washed by our team last Saturday. The score stood 64 to 0. The fund for the women's annex to the Waterman Gym. is not making very rapid progress. W. H. Compton has been elected treasurer of the S. L. A. in place of Stanley Farnum, resigned. The regents have appointed a committee to look into the matter of a fire escape for the law building. Dr. Fitzgerald, director of the Waterman Gymnasium, has been promoted to the rank of junior professor. The regents have ordered that no class political meetings be held in University lecture rooms at night. The U. of M. freshman football team defeated the High School team last Wednesday by a score of 12 to 0. The various football teams are doing a great deal of practice and are developing some first-class players. Sheehan & Co. headed the subscription list for the benefit of the Athletic Association with a $25 subscription. The athletic board sat for a group picture last week. A half tone of the same is to appear in the Inlander, soon. The authorities in the Homeopathic department are confident that the attendance will reach at least 30 this year. A fine plaster bust of the late Prof. Wells, of the law department, has been presented to the University. It will be hung in the law library. Auditor-General Turner is willing to allow the University 7 per cent. on the government land grant if he can be persuaded that it is legal. The loss of the Athletic Association by the burning of the grand stand and some athletic material which was in the basement will amount to about $300. President Angell, in his annual report to the regents, rather favors giving the Homeopathic school a trial under its new management before any steps are taken to move it to Detroit. The senior dents have not allowed much politics to enter into their class election this fall as they have already elected class officers. J. W. Lyon is president; Miss Jessie E. Castle, vice-pres.; C. S. Sherwood, sec., and J. N. Clarke, treas. Adelbert college gave Cornell a hard rub a few weeks ago. Last Saturday the U. of M. team literary wiped the earth with Adelbert. Most people think that this indication shows pretty plainly how the U. of M.-Cornell game will go. The S. C. A. made an important move last week when they decided to reduce the membership fee from two to one dollar. This will mean a great many more members, and consequently a much larger field of work for the association. President Angell some weeks ago wrote to the Field Columbian Museum asking for two of the large oil paintings which were mounted on the wall just inside the entrance to the manufacturer's building at the World's Fair. The request has been granted and the pictures will be hung in University Hall. They are 15x30 feet in size.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? But there is a cause. It is to be found by the intelligent physician in some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs of generation. The woman who half understands herself, feels that she cannot always be complaining; she cannot always have the doctor in the house. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. The trouble usually comes so gradually it is attributed to some outside cause. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. All these symptoms are simply protests of the silent, long-suffering nerves. The trouble shows in dark circles below the eyes, a downward curve of the mouth, a sallow, brownish-yellow neck. Unregarded, the trouble grows. A few years of tortured invalidism, probably insanity, before merciful death comes. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the fruit of years of study. It is the product of an investigating mind united with a generous nature. When an intelligent person gives years of study to a subject there must be some good result. The "Favorite Prescription" is a compound of extracts of herbs that makes a strengthening, soothing medicine. It acts directly upon the distinctly feminine organs. It stops drains from lining membranes by healing diseased parts, thereby curing also the inflammation that is always present.

"I was in a critical condition. Often I was in despair. I experienced a great improvement by taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken six bottles, and I am sure that it will not only cure ulceration but all diseases of females." Yours truly, (Mrs.) R. J. Rudd, Newport, Virginia.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Friday Night, October 25.

"A Bowery Girl."

Before the production there was considerable talk of litigation over the title, now much in demand for a play, "A Bowery Girl." The story of its evolution is interesting, for it shows how, from a small beginning, a fad may run into popularity along a greased groove if it starts right. Charles H. Hoyt, the dramatist, was coming from Brooklyn one night, and, looking out of a window of a Third Avenue elevated car, conceived the notion of writing the song "The Bowery," afterward sung by Henry Connor in "A Trip to Chinatown." Some months after this Andrew Hack, the vocalist, wrote (William Jerome composing the music), "My Pearl's a Bowery Girl." These are the words of the chorus: My pearl's a Bowery girl, She's all the world to me; She's in it with any of the girl round the town. And a corker good looking you, see? At Walhalla Hall, why she kills them all, As waltzing together we twirl; She sets them all crazy, a speller, a daisy, For my pearl's a Bowery girl.

The Campher Hospital of 1785.

Before the French Revolution a learned French savant and physician, Dr. Thielman, started for a time what was known as the "campher craze." The doctor lectured before the institute on the wonderful curative properties of campher and held that this one medicine, properly applied, would cure all ills of the body. He established a hospital, which was soon crowded, and he performed some really wonderful cures. The French Revolution came on soon after and swept the institution out of existence, but campher is still "the great healer." The ordinary campher is soft and healing, and if applied to a burn or sore will relieve the pain and subdue the inflammation. In the liquid campher it is the alcohol that smart. A bright chemist of Dayton, Ohio, has compounded a balm that contains not only the ordinary campher, but rare and costly camphors in addition, that are known to but few chemists. This compound is known as Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, and can be had at any drug store, and is widely known as the only remedy that can be relied upon to allay the inflammation of the nasal passages. It relieves the inflammation instantly and heals the diseased membranes. It is a "Catarrh healer." It can confidently be relied upon at all times. Everybody now-a-days uses "Pretzinger's." A small sample can be had by sending a two-cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio.

MY WIFE'S FRIEND.

Grand Opera House, Friday Night, October 26th.

The London Ont. Advertiser, Monday, Oct. 14th, says:

"As a laugh producer, 'My Wife's Friend' met with instantaneous success at the Grand on Saturday night, and the play bids fair to establish a niche for itself alongside of the several phenomenal successes of a similar nature already on the road. The action is lively, the dialogue bright and free from vulgarity and suggestion, and the situations are both ludicrous and mirth provoking, affording ample scope for the display of talent so necessary for the success of light comedy. The plot of the play hinges upon the efforts of the two leading characters to successfully deceive one another and the world as well. The fun increases as the play progresses. Wm. C. Andrews, in the title role of Jack Luster, had a part eminently suited to him, and filled it well. The work of H. Eves Davis, as Jackson Luster, a stormy, eccentric, and funny old man was exceptionally good.

Bloody Double Murder at Hancock, Mich.
Fred Kramer, aged 57 and his wife aged 52, were murdered at Hancock by robbers. Kramer and his wife lived opposite the cemetery west of the city, and were reputed to keep considerable money in the house. Kramer was blind and his wife sold beer without a license. At 9 a. m. Kramer's brother, who lives at Lake Linden, called at the house. The front door opened, but the shutters were closed. He called several times, but getting no answer grew alarmed and went in search of neighbors. A search of the house revealed a big pool of blood upon the floor of the main room, and in the cellar at the foot of the short stairways were found the bodies of Kramer and his wife. Kramer's throat was cut on the right side, while Mrs. Kramer's throat was cut from ear to and the left side of her face and forehead was pounded to a pulp, the skull fractured, the jaw broken and an eye beaten from the socket. The hammer, clotted with blood and hair with which Mrs. Kramer's skull was fractured, was found. The old-fashioned trunk in the bedroom, which was reputed to contain money, had been roughly forced open and ransacked. Otherwise the house was undisturbed. The murder was clearly for purposes of robbery, and was apparently done in cold blood.

Mr. Hackley's previous gifts to Muskegon exceed $300,000—a library, soldiers' monument and park and two school buildings. He said that he had the gift enrolled in his will, but thought it might as well be made now.

Present, Pres. Clark, Bullis, Absent, Mr. Ross.
Mr. Bullis moved that the following report of the Inspector of cross-walks be received and spread upon the records.
October 16th, 1895.

To the Board of Public Works:
I herewith submit detailed statement of the cost of construction of seven brick cross-walks built under my direction.
In making the concrete foundation of the cross-walk across Ashley street, at Huron and that across Ann street at Fourth Avenue Portland cement was used, adding considerably to their cost. The crosswalks across Kingsley at Main was laid on a foundation of broken stone and gravel, the other walks were laid on concrete made with Akron cement which makes a foundation of sufficient firmness and strength, much cheaper than the same could be made with Portland cement.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Your special committee appointed to take suitable action in regard to the changing and the name of the Toledo Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railway beg leave to report the following: Whereas, the directors of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, recognizing the importance of our city, its world wide reputation, together with the appropriate beauty of its name, have adopted the name of our city as the corporate name of said railroad, and Whereas, even though many changes have taken place and obstacles have arisen tending to and work hardships upon the company, it has at all times given to our City such prominence in its management and advertising that it was unnecessary to couple with Ann Arbor the name of any other of her sister cities in adopting a name for said railroad.

Therefore be it resolved, That the Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor, on behalf of the citizens of said City do hereby gratefully acknowledge the courtesy of the said Board of Directors, and trust that the cordial and mutually advantageous relations of the past may be continued in the future in an ever increasing ratio.

To the Honorable Common Council: Gentlemen:—In the matter of the claim of Chauncey Orcutt, for damages securing by reason of the construction of the main sewer; through his premises.

I have the honor to report that so far as the liability of the city is concerned, depends entirely upon the facts, and as they were represented to me, together with the agreement entered into, I am of the opinion that the facts warrant the City in paying the amount recommended by the Committee, as there does not seem to be any question of law involved in the controversy.

Great Britain is Trying to Crowd Little Venezuela, but the Little Republic Stands Her Ground—Uncle Sam Will See that There is Fair Play.

Quite the most interesting as well as sensational phase of the Venezuelan boundary dispute with Great Britain has been developed by the ultimatum which the British government is said to have sent to Venezuela, growing out of the arrest last year of Sergt. Behren's and two assistants of the British police force, by the Venezuelan authorities at Uruan. The St. James Gazette of London, has published statements to the effect that Hon. Jos. Chamberlain, British secretary of state, had cabled instructions to Sir Chas. Cameron Lees, governor of British Guiana, to provide Maxim guns to control the Venezuelan border to prevent the crossing of soldiers. Also urging the cutting of a military road through the disputed territory between British Guiana and Venezuela, as well as increasing the military force and erecting barracks on the frontier. The ultimatum which Great Britain has sent to Venezuela is to the effect that reparation must be made for the arrest of the police inspectors at Uruan, and that no more Venezuelan soldiers cross the border of the disputed territory. If this is not done the threat is made that force will be used.

The answer of little Venezuela makes is a rejection of the demands and a re-statement of her claims. The British protest was made against soldiers crossing the border on the fact that some Venezuelan soldiers had crossed the River Cuyuni near the British station. They did not interfere with the British and merely went to celebrate the national holiday with some friends. The British insisted that Venezuela should give assurances that no more soldiers should cross. The Venezuelan government could not accede, however, because such an assurance would be a tacit admission of the British claims on the territory. Hence the refusal. The official statement from the Venezuelan foreign office covers also the policy of Venezuela in case the British attempt to build the military road recommended by British Minister Chamberlain. The Venezuelan statement closes with the significant sentence that on the question of building this road, the course of Venezuela has been such that the "invading neighbors" cannot make another step further on the Venezuelan side of the line "without at once provoking a collision." The government of Venezuela is providing itself with modern armament and among other supplies has ordered 10 improved Maxim guns. At the same time the syndicate of United States capitalists which has secured concessions on the Venezuelan gold lands claimed by Great Britain is preparing to send a large force of prospectors, miners and workmen into the field and should trouble occur there is no doubt that the United States should protect the American interests. Indeed it is expected that the United States will see to it that Great Britain does not intimidate Venezuela, and it is a fact a large number of the U. S. warships are now in the immediate vicinity of the probable scene of trouble to be ready to enforce the Monroe doctrine.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c. per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. at Druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount. ELY BROTHERS, 55 Warren St., New York.

Nervous Prostration

Cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Prolonged derangement of the nervous system not only affects the brain and mental powers, but develops disease in some of the vital organs. The most dangerous of these indirect results is when the heart is affected. This was the case of the Rev. N. F. Surface, Flava River, Mich., who writes under date of Feb. 14, 1895:

"Fourteen years ago I had a slight stroke of paralysis. Overwork brought on nervous prostration. I was exceedingly nervous and the exertion of public speaking caused heart palpitation that threatened my life. I used two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure for my heart trouble, and two of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for my nervousness and feel better than I ever expected to feel again. I can speak for hours without tiring or having my heart flutter as it formerly did, and I have you to thank that I am alive today."

Apples have been shipped here from Coldwater, to be squeezed into cider. C. B. Carr says that he has never known the demand for cider to be so great as it is this year.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used. Except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally and acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and make in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c, per bottle.

THE HATPIN.

It Has Many Uses in the Hands of a Woman.

The idea of making the hat pin a weapon of defense first dawned upon me when I was in the east, saw a bright eyed dame, who is always watching for a chance to exploit California, climate, morals and all. "Of course you all know that a woman can't go about alone with any degree of comfort when she gets away from western chivalry. Well, as I wanted to study art in New York while I visited my brother in Newark, I was obliged to use the suburban trains almost every day. I had a bookful of unpleasant experiences before I learned the magic power of that simple little hat pin.

"Finally a man who was packed beside me in a car became simply unendurable. I squeezed myself meekly up against the window, giving mine enemy three-fourths of the seat. Gazing out into the darkness I became positively depressed and felt like offering an apology to somebody for presuming to encroach still further upon my territory.

"It was too much. My wrath blazed up and I drew my hat pin. I said not a word and did nothing to attract attention. Nevertheless that man was glad to vacate my full share of that seat, and perhaps a little more. I held my weapon in a position which indicated to him the boundary line and I assure you that he understood the insinuation and left me in peace. Ever since that day I have been as independent and self-respecting as a Spanish senorita with a dagger in her honi side."

This fiery little anecdote, told over the tea-cups, was followed by a perfect chorus of stories of the uses of the hat pin. The picking of locks, the office of can-opener, paper-cutter, insect destroyer, these were among the lesser things. A tale of the repairing of a broken harness at a critical juncture vied for second honors with the history of the timely mending of a torn sail. First place was given, without a dissenting voice to the story of the hatpin as a modern and always available weapon of defense.—San Francisco Chronicle.

When a person begins to grow thin there is something wrong. The waste is greater than the supply and it is only a question of time when the end must come. In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the digestive organs. If you can restore them to a healthy condition you will stop the waste, put on new flesh and cause them to feel better in every way. The food they eat will be digested and appropriated to the needs of the system, and a normal appetite will appear.

Consumption frequently follows a wasting of bodily tissue because nearly all consumptives have indigestion. The Shaker Digestive Cordial will restore the stomach to a healthy condition in a vast majority of cases. Get one of their bottles from your druggist and learn about this new and valuable remedy.

Rust on the Wires of a Piano.

The appearance of rust on the tuning-pins and the steel wires of a piano is a sure indication that the piano has been exposed to moisture or dampness. The time of year or the age or quality of the piano has nothing to do with it, as rust may appear in a night. The fact that the room is heated by a stove just outside of it will probably account for the rust, as the chances are that after the usual cooling of a fire over night its heating in the morning would be likely to cause condensation on the metal, and rust would immediately appear. Do not use oil or any greasy substance to remove it. It will probably not do any harm unless it causes the strings to break, in which case they will have to be replaced. Most pianos require tuning twice a year. The only important care to be given a piano is to keep it in an even, dry temperature.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Things of the past with many happy mortals are the tortures of Headache and Neuralgia which in some instances have been endured since childhood. Their better state, their rescue from affliction is due entirely to the curative powers of Gessler's Magie Headache Wafers. The record of this great remedy is unsurpassed. They are a specific for all headaches and neuralgia. The wisest physicians use and prescribe them. The remedy is backed up by guarantees as to its wholesomeness and its positive healing efficiency. They are guaranteed by John Moore.

Her Natural Inference.

Young Wife—I want to buy a cheap cap for my husband. Hatter—What size does he wear? Young Wife—I declare I forgot to find out! I know the size of his collar but I don't know his hat size. Good Food is the Only Way.

It's a man's bad habits that hurt him more than overwork. The little habits of coffee and tobacco hurt worse than some of the big ones, because they are continued more steadily than the greater habits. Many a man is simply poisoned to death by the alkaloids of coffee and tobacco and never will believe what is hurting them. Let him quit tobacco and use Postum Cereal, the food-drink, in place of coffee and very soon he finds that nature, the great restorer, is at work. No medicine is needed, simple quit doing those things which poison and waste the energy, and let nature build in body and brain from good food. Postum Cereal is made entirely of grains and is nourishing and fattening. Use plain, common food and the food drink (it looks like coffee but is not). Health will come and be of much more solid character than when patched up with drugs.

BREAKING A MIRROR.

Its Significance to the Girl with a Superstitious Turn.

"There!" said the girl who was getting ready to go out. I've broken my hand mirror! What does that mean? "Seven years of sorrow," said her friend; "it also betokens that you will quarrel with your dearest friend." "Charlie? That would be too dreadful!" "Charlie? I thought you always counted me your dearest friend! So you have let the cat out of the bag. That pudding-headed Charlie Strong! Before I'd—" "You needn't say anything more, Sue Garland. I hate you! And as for Charlie, you know you would have given your eyes to have caught him!" "Pooh! I refused him half a dozen times before he ever looked at you. I wish you good afternoon and a better temper, my dear," and the friend slammed the door behind her.

There were several other girls left, and they one and all began to condole with the girl who had broken her hand mirror. But she was inconsolable.

"You see how it has acted already, and if there are to be seven years of it, I shall die, I know I shall! There, I've quarrelled with Sue, the dearest girl in the world, and that's only the beginning!"

"Let me see where it's broken," said one of her chums as she picked up the cause of the trouble.

"There's a fracture right through the length of the glass, but I don't know how it came there. I didn't drop it or strike it against anything. Seven years? Ain't it just awful!"

"Seven grandmothers!" exclaimed the other girl; "that isn't a fracture; it's nothing but a streak of moist air. Look. I can wipe it off with my handkerchief!"

"So it is. Oh, you dear thing, run right after Sue and bring her back. Tell her the glass wasn't broken, and we haven't quarrelled after all! And the seven years are up already, and 'ain't I just thankful!"

No More "Bad Men."

"In the evolution of modern civilization, the bad man, namely, the desperado and tough, who gloats over killing his fellow man, disappears," said Col. F. B. Jenkins, of California. "A few years ago we heard a great deal of characters like Sam Bass, Jesse James, Ben Thompson and Rube Burrows, but today there is not in the United States a single individual with a national reputation for wickedness and dare-devilry such as any of these acquired. There are a few men left who have records for desperate courage and nerve in trying emergencies, men of the Bat Masterson order, but they can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Masterson never figured as a bandit or reckless taker of human life. He is a peaceable man, and if left alone will harm no one. In Denver and all over the West and South he has a host of friends. The day of the desperado is ended, and monstrosities like Thompson, who boasted when in his cups of the number of victims he had slain, will henceforth cease to afflict humanity."—Washington Post.

Oxen form the circulating medium among the Zulus and Kaffirs.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always sees the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism. It is an invigorating tonic and is specific for neural weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements of woman. Careless, easy-going doctors frequently treat their young patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

DEATH OF THE BIRDS.

The Fearful Effect of the February Cold Snap in the South.

The readers of "Our Boys and Girls" have been told of the great damage done to the orange-groves and the fig trees of the south by the cold "snap" of last February, but there is another loss that we who live there have suffered, about which very little has been said. The severe weather not only killed our trees but the thousands of bright-plumed birds that have heretofore enlivened our forests and groves with their beautiful coats and their sweet songs.

The bluebird, that harbinger of the early spring, did not give us his merry greeting this year. His bright blue jacket and brown-red breast were missed by everybody. Seven little blue forms, dried and decayed, were found in one old post on our place, where the poor creatures had fled in vain for shelter.

The blue jay still struts about with his usual dignity, but only here and there, showing that his tribe has suffered fearful losses. The peculiarly sad note of the turtle-dove this year seems to mourn for the death of all her family.

The effects upon the several tribes of theorio seem to be the most curious. They evidently look upon man as the worker of all the evil they have suffered. Formerly it was an easy matter to find their swinging nests near to almost any country house, and they appeared not to be afraid of men. Now they have hidden their nests far out in the forests and they are shy even in the breeze as it rocks the cradle of their young. Even the few humming birds that are left will not come to suck the pot plant as was once their daily habit. The woodpecker, though only a summer visitor, is spending his vacation at other resorts this season. His lazy call and his constant drumming upon some dead tree, so common in summer before, are conspicuously absent this year. But the fell destroyer was no respecter of persons or rank; the royal family succumbed as well as the peasantry. The mocking-bird, the queen of the bird race by virtue of her genius and inheritance, is almost destroyed, except along the Mexican Gulf. A hundred miles back it is hard to find one. The gum-tree and its berries, which have been held as her home, and her feeding ground as far back as bird history runs, is now the feeding ground of her commonest subjects, the sap-sucker and the yellow-hammer. I have heard but two singers this year within a scope where in former years I have heard 200.

In losing a crop of oranges, figs and vegetables, we lose dollars and a few luxuries whose place may be supplied by the other sweets. The trees will grow again after a few years, but it will be many years before our groves and forests are full of birds again.

Just a War Yarn.

Here is a reminiscence of war time from the Seattle Intelligencer: A strange story in which Seattle has an interest has come to light in connection with the battle of the Wilderness, through the desire of a small boy to get hold of a bird's nest. Henry F. Lowpenny, a corporal in the Thirty-second Indiana Volunteers, lost his right arm at the elbow during the battle by the explosion of a shell. Since then Lowpenny has died, but his widow resides in this city with a married daughter, Bradley Johnson, a cousin of Lowpenny, and also ex-State Chancellor of Missouri, now resides on the scene of the battle, and a few weeks ago his little son, while bird's nesting, discovered a nest built in a skeleton hand in the fork of a large maple tree. On one of the bony fingers was found a seal ring which was recognized by Mr. Jamison as having belonged to Lowpenny.

About Knives.

A cheap Pocket-knife can be bought at every Store, but it is not the kind you want.

One dollar is the lowest price that a really good knife can be sold for. This column is placed in this paper to advertise the very best Pocket-knife ever sold. It is J. C. TIDMARSH'S Sheffield Steel Knife.

Never buy a knife only because it looks well. If blades are not the best Sheffield steel they will soon bend, no matter how they will look. Still, you want a fine-looking knife.

The United States law provides that only samples to agents and to the trade will be admitted free of duty. You can, therefore, see the advantage that I have in sending samples to agents over those who deal in Sheffield goods in America.

I am an advertising agent! I am entrusted with a certain amount to spend advertising these knives (the best value ever seen in America at One Dollar each). Now, the knife is its own best advertisement.

Imagine a Pocket-knife (3 1/2 inches long) with the most beautifully-grained very handle—genuine African ivory sheath with two blades of the very best Sheffield steel that will last a lifetime and cut like a razor. The tips of the handles are heavily plated with sterling silver. And then a very nice chamois leather case goes with each knife. Now, would it not be easy work selling this knife at One Dollar each? I know it would, for it looks as if it were worth two dollars.

And so it is if you compare it with the value offered in the ordinary Store.

Is not this knife its own best advertisement?

You can make $4 per day selling these knives. This is a genuine and straightforward statement. This is counting that you show it to only twelve buyers every day. And every one that sees it will say it is a good value for $1. The knives are sold to you at $8 per dozen; you sell them at $1 each.

I determined to use large sum of advertising money entrusted to me in sending out free samples to those who promise to act as agents for the sale of these knives

I will send you a free sample, but you must sign the promise at the foot of this column, and make a deposit to show that in asking for the knife you are acting in good faith

The deposit that I ask of you is 44 cents about half the wholesale cost of the knife, and less than one-third what you would have to pay for a knife like it, if you bought one.

Send the money by a Postal Order or one-cent stamps for 44c., and put a five-cent stamp on the letter, which must not weigh more than one-half ounce.

Your deposit of 44 cents will be placed to your credit, and will be deducted from your first order at the dozen rate.

I am an advertising agent, contractor and publisher with one of the largest Advertising businesses in the world, and advertising guarantee to send, postage paid and duty free, the knife described above free to anyone who signs the promise below, and sends it with the deposit as stated.

Let me advise you not to part with your $1, even if you should lose a sale at $1 by refusing, as it will take time to replace it. I could not send you another even if you sent the full $1. After the sample they can only be supplied to you by the dozen as there is duty on them to be paid.

Any English Banker can give you information about my high standing, or write to the publisher of this paper, who knows that I do a large and straightforward advertising business, and that I do exactly as I say.

I have taken this pace in this paper for three years! The first one answering this advertisement after this number of the paper has come out will, if he likes, have his name printed in this space as agent for these knives.

The Editor of the Springfield (Ohio) New Era writes, in his paper of June 29, 1894:—"I have received a very nice knife from Mr. Sears, and am very much pleased with it. He is the owner of a very large advertising business in London, and is, I believe, perfectly responsible and straightforward."

Sign your name and address to the following, cut it out and send it with Postal Order or stamps for 44 cents, and you will receive by return of post the beautiful knife as described above.

F. W. SEARS,

ADVERTISING AGENT AND CONTRACTOR, WHOLESALE KNIFE AND CUTLERY DEPARTMENT, 135 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DEAR SIR,—I faithfully promise on my and honor to show the Sample Knife you have promised to send me to one or more of my friends, thereby constituting myself an agent. This will make me "in the trade" as far as Pocket-cutlery is concerned. By this promise I am entitled to a sample of your beautiful Dollar Pocket-knife with chamois leather case, to be sent me post-paid and duty free. I also enclose 44 cents Postal Order or stamps, which please hold for me until I send you an order at the dozen rate.

CANADA MUST WAIT.

She Must Bide England's Pleasure in Most Humiliating Fashion.

The people of Canada are finding to their cost what an anomalous position they occupy among the nations of the earth when it comes to looking to Great Britain to press their claims upon foreign powers with which she dare not prefer not to quarrel, says a Quebec special.

He quoted from the report of the Russian commissioners appointed to investigate the seizures, which found that the seizure of the Carmelite was legal, though in his (Mr. Davies') opinion there was no evidence of illegal sailing—only surmises and suspicions. Canada's claim in regard to that vessel was, he contended, a perfectly good one.

Walker to Alexis Packard on the 13th day of April 1871 and recorded in Liber 3 of assignments of mortgages page 90, and assigned by Israel D. Packard administrator of the estate of Alexis Packard to Prudence Packard by deed of assignment, dated April 28, 1871 and recorded in Liber 6 of assignments on page 241, and afterwards assigned by Israel D. The Incomparable Chicago & Alton

In these United States of America at least, and it is highly probable that throughout the entire world, the official record for the safety and welfare of its passengers made and maintained by the Chicago & Alton Railroad cannot be surpassed if indeed it can be equalled. Over its completely rock-ballasted, dustless roadways between Chicago and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis magnificent appointed express trains are run on uniformly fast time every day. But in spite of this heavy passenger traffic the official records show that from December 4, 1879 to December 4, 1890, eleven years, there was no passenger, who was in place as a passenger, killed on Chicago & Alton trains. Moreover there was not a passenger seriously injured, to the extent of losing a limb, an eye or a member of any kind during that time.

During the entire period of the World's "olumbian Exposition in Chicago, when it was not an uncommon thing to find the usual passenger traffic of the road increased two, three and four-fold, and special excursion trains were very many, there was not an accident of any kind—a most remarkable record. Besides being America's most popular railroad, the Chicago & Alton is the Pioneer Dining Car Line, the Pioneer Pullman Sleeping Car Line and the Pioneer Palace Reclining Chair Car Line. Be sure that your ticket reads over the Chicago & Alton Railroad, when its matchless and direct lines can form the whole, or even a part of your journey. LITERARY NOTES. The following are a few of the special features of the October Harpers' Magalazine: Hindoo and Moslem, (fourteen illustrations by the author), by Edwin Lord Weeks; At the Sign of the Balsam Bough, (illustrated), by Henry Van Dyke; Queen Victoria's Highland Home, (illustrated), by J. R. Hunter; Three Gringos in Central America, (illustrated), by Richard Harding Davis; The Future in Relation to American Naval Power, (illustrated), by Capt. A. T. Mahan, U. S. N.; The German Struggle for Liberty—Part IV, (illustrated), by Poulton Bigelow.—Harper and Bros., N. Y. City, N. Y.

Harper's Bazar for October 12th is distinguished by a varied array of autumn gowns and wraps. The season invites to so much out-door life, and the tidal flow from country to town brings so much gaiety with it, that a journal of fashion finds opportunity for displaying costumes of elegance and taste for all wearers. A practical paper entitled "The Small Dinner," by Anne Wentworth Sears, describes minutely a form of hospitality open to people with limited purses. No detail is omitted which can make the article really helpful.

An illustrated article on Justice in Municipal Courts, contrasting the results under Tammany and reform administrations, will be a valuable and timely feature of Harper's Weekly for October 26th. The same issue will contain a double-page portrait of Gladstone, the first article of F. W. Hewes's series on the Public Schools of the United States, and the first installment of a serial story of Mexican life entitled, "Cension," by a new writer.—Harper and Bros., N. Y. City, N. Y.

The editorial articles in The Century for October deal very clearly with the question of Money and Debts, call attention to certain characteristics of Professor Sloane's Napoleon, and discuss the Proper Use of College Degrees. Professor Frothingham of Princeton writes about the American School in Rome, which is about to be opened, and Professor Trope of the University of Pennsylvania on a Suffrage Qualification. An article by Robert Sheerin on "Dixie and Its Author" contains a facsimile of the original song in autograph, published by arrangement with the author. There is the usual variety of poetry both in the body of the magazine and in Lighter Vein.—The Century Co. N. Y. City, N. Y.

The editor of the Review of Reviews finds several incidents in this fall's political situation on which to comment with effect in "The Progress of the World" for October; the part played by the liquor question in the New York campaign is very clearly described. The present difficulties of the U. S. Treasury and the bearings thereof on national politics are discussed. The opening of the Atlanta Exposition and the recent patriotic gatherings at Louisville and Chickamauga. Lord Wolseley's appointment as Commander-in-Chief of the British Army, are among the topics in the month's survey. The Madagascar campaign, the massacre of missionaries in China, the American question and progress in South Africa under Cecil Rhodes (whose portrait serves as the frontispiece of this number of the Review) are matters of international interest which also pass under editorial review.—Review of Reviews, N. Y. City, N. Y.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for October is an exceptionally beautiful number pictorially, without any sacrifice of that quality of timeliness which makes it unique amongst illustrated magazines. The opening article is an idyllic description, by Mrs. Leicester-Addis, of a Summer holiday visit to old England's loveliest county, Surrey. Apropos of this year's tercentennial Tasso celebration, there is a sympathetic and elaborate illustrated paper on "The Last Days of Torquato Tasso," by Marie Wash. Another Italian contribution of rare artistic interest is Miss E. C. Vansittart's description of Monte Oliveto Maggiore. Other picturesque features are: "Women as Athletes," by W. de Wagstaffe; "Burmese Women," by H. Fielding; "Light-Givers," by Mary Titcomb; "Town and Cloth Halls of Flanders," by Alexander Ansted; "Widowed Sovereigns," by A. Oakley Hall; and "Alpine Soldiers," by Henry Tyrrell. This number also contains some unusually interesting short stories and poems.—Frank Leslie's Publishing House, N. Y. City, N. Y.

Gentlemen—I must say Castoria is really a "great" thing. We commenced giving our boy (Sanford) Castoria when two weeks old; he is now eleven months, weighs 26 lbs., walked to-day alone, has no trouble teething, never had the colic. He is the picture of health itself, all owing to Castoria. Respectfully, Mrs. S. Alfred, 1708 West 14th-st.

SERVED HIM RIGHT. He Was Piggish, But He Was Outwitted by a Gentleman. Here is a story from life, told in a Western paper: A man took a seat in a railroad car, and piled the seat at his side with bags and parcels. The car became crowded, and a gentleman asked the person in this seat if the other half of it was occupied.

"Yes," said the other; "those things belong to a man who has just gone into the smoking car, and he'll be back presently." The gentleman had reason to suspect the truth of this statement. "All right," he said; "I will sit in this seat until the man comes back."

He proceeded to remove the bags and bundles, placing them on the floor or in the rack. The other man glared, but could say nothing. As a matter of fact, the "man in the smoking car" was an invention. By and by the owner of the bundles arrived at his destination. He began to gather up his effects. "Excuse me," said the gentleman, "but you said these bundles belonged to a man who had gone into the smoking car. I shall consider it my duty to prevent you from taking them, since by your own statement they don't belong to you."

The man became violent and abusive, but dared not lay his hands on the bundles. The conductor was called in. He listened to the statements of both men, and said: "Well, I will take charge of the bundles myself, and take them to the station in the city and if no one else claims them meanwhile, you"—indicating the man who had once repudiated their ownership—"may have them."

Amid the laughter and applause of the passengers the man got off at the station, just as the train was pulling out, without his baggage. He obtained the next day, but was well punished for the lie he had told for the sake of monopolizing a seat that did not belong to him.

THE EGG DANCE. A Beautiful Feat Performed by Hindoo Juggling Girls. One of the most wonderful of the many feats performed by Hindoo jugglers is the egg dance. Usually it is executed by a girl, fantastically dressed. She makes use of the willow wheel, around which at equal distances, are threads, and at the end of each thread there is a noose, held open by a hand. This wheel the girl places on her head, while she carries a basket of eggs on her arm. When the music strikes up she begins to dance and the wheel begins to spin around. She then takes an egg from the basket, places it in one of the thread nooses, and throws it from her with sufficient force to draw the knot tight. The spinning of the wheel keeps the thread stretched, with the egg at the end of it. She then takes another egg from the basket, places it in another noose, and repeats this until there is an egg in every noose. Her fantastic costume, her perfect motion, and all the eggs swinging on the stretched threads at once, present a very pretty sight indeed. It requires much art to execute the dance, for at one false step the eggs would be dashed together, the dance spoiled, and the dancer thereby disgraced. After dancing for a time with all the eggs swinging around her head, she takes them out of the noose one by one, all the time keeping the wheel balanced and in motion, and again places them in the basket on her arm. When the dance is finished the spectators are allowed to examine the eggs to see that they are real.
