HOW DEMOCRATS RECIPROCATE

ALL PRECEDENTS CAST TO THE WINDS FOR $250.

M. J. Cavanaugh Elected School Commissioner for Eight Weeks. A Big Surprise to the Few Liberal Democrats. The Democratic Politicians Want the Earth. The Motto "One Good Turn Deserves Another" Unknown to Them.

A good example of how the Democrats will, at every possible opportunity, gobble up everything in sight, was shown Tuesday forenoon. Mr. W. W. Wedemeyer, whose term as County School Commissioner did not expire until the first of July, found that his duties as Deputy State Railroad Commissioner required all his time. He, therefore, resigned the former office. In such cases the law requires that the office shall be filled by a man selected by the chairmen of the various township boards of school inspectors. For this purpose these men were summoned to meet here Tuesday to elect a successor to Mr. Wedemeyer. Prof. Lister had already been elected County School Commissioner to succeed Mr. Wedemeyer at the end of his term. It has always been the custom, in such cases, to select the officer elect to fill out the short vacancy. When it was considered that the best appointive office in the city had just been given to a Democrat by a Republican mayor and his confirmation had been made possible by the votes of the republican aldermen, it was supposed, of course, that there would be no question as to the election of Prof. Lister, for the eight weeks preceding the time when he will assume the duties of this office by virtue of his election a few weeks ago. But that cut no figure. It was all right for a Democrat to be appointed by the mayor, but to reciprocate—that was out of the question when there were two hundred and fifty dollars at stake! It is true that nobody had ever heard of this precedent being ignored, but then the Washtenaw County Democracy had never had an opportunity of the kind before. Just give them a chance, when there are a few dollars in sight, and at once the real nature of the species is shown. It is even said that there was a scramble as to who should be given the plum. It was finally decided that, for decency's sake, ex-Commissioner Cavanaugh should be the man, as he was familiar with the duties of the office, and he was therefore elected by a bare majority. Mr. Cavanaugh is, of course, thoroughly competent to attend to the duties of the office. Our only wonder is that those who were so anxious to secure this plum for the party should give it to Mr. Cavanaugh.

LAW MAKERS VISIT U. OF M.

House Committee on Ways & Means Look Over the University.

A legislative party consisting of representatives Smith, Bemis, Campbell, Donovan, Gillam, Kelley, Marsige, Stewart, and Phillips, with Messdames Kelley, Donovan and Gillam and Miss Gillam spent Monday afternoon in this city, the occasion being the visit of the ways and means committee to the University to look over the grounds with reference to reporting on the bill to appropriate money for an electric lighting plant and a law library.

The party spent the afternoon looking over the University and took dinner at the Cook house in the evening.

Members of the faculty are hopeful that the committee will report in favor of the appropriations. Some of the representatives were interviewed and while they were non committal their remarks were such as to indicate that they are favorably impressed with the bill.

One of them said to the REGISTER: "There is a belief among the people of the state that the University authorities promised to get along without special appropriations after the one-sixth mill tax was levied. The regents say though that they meant that tax to cover simply the running expenses of the institution and expected to ask for money for special improvements. The legislators are inclined to think the one-sixth mill tax is enough."

DOWN AND OUT.

Captain Ross Granger Resigns the Captaincy of Company A.

At the business meeting of the Light Infantry, held last Wednesday night, a surprise was sprung on the boys. It was the announcement by Capt. Ross Granger that he had forwarded to Gov. Pingree his resignation as captain of the company. Pressure of business is the cause assigned by Captain Granger for the course he took. Capt. Granger has made the Light Infantry one of the best companies in the state and it is generally regretted that he felt compelled to relinquish the work. Whoever is selected to succeed Mr. Granger will find it a difficult task to maintain the high standard which the company has maintained under Mr. Granger's captaincy. Among the names most prominently mentioned as likely to succeed Captain Granger are Messrs. Pack, Seabolt, Belser and Walter.

MAYOR HISCOCK VS. SALOONS

THE MAYOR'S RECOMMENDATION IGNORED.

The Majority of the Council in Favor of Long Hours for the Saloons—Given the Same Time as Before Mayor Walker Ordered the State Law Enforced.

Mayor Hiscock, in his message to the Council recommended that an ordinance be passed relative to hours for saloon opening and closing. The Mayor recommended that ten o'clock p. m. local time be settled upon as that would be most satisfactory to all parties concerned. This did not satisfy the saloon people who seem to have a firm hold upon a majority of the members of the council and an ordinance was passed giving them just what they wanted, utterly ignoring the recommendation of the Mayor. Ald. Brown, who is the representative of the saloon interests upon the council, was again successful in thwarting the Mayor and the anti-saloon people in their efforts to compel the saloons to close at an earlier hour than heretofore.

NEW HOTEL MEN.

Cook House Changes Hands—Lepper & Wilcox, of Detroit, Now in Charge.

Monday night the Cook House came into the possession of new managers, Messrs. Lepper and Wilcox, of Detroit, are the new proprietors. That they know how to run a hotel is proven by the fact they are also proprietors of the Hawkins House, of Ypsilanti, and are making that an exceedingly popular resort. These men are hustlers and propose to make the Cook House an equally popular hostelry. Besides running these two hotels they also have charge of the Ypsilanti Mineral Bath business and conduct one of the leading ticket brokers offices in Detroit. Mr. Lepper having been in that business for many years in the Cadillac Hotel. Mr. Wilcox will have the immediate charge of the Cook House, and will therefore spend most of his time in this city. THE REGISTER wishes the new proprietors the best of success in their new undertaking.

Oratorical Contest.

Once in seven years the contest of the Northern Oratorical League meets in Ann Arbor and this year that contest is looked forward to as one of the events of the University season. Each of the visiting colleges has made determined preparations to take the honor and break the proud record of the U. of M. Our home association is ambitious to make it the greatest contest in the history of the League, and has reduced the admission to 25 cents.

The contestants are: S. M. Figley, Northwestern; Wm. Lee Washington, Oberlin; Bayard H. Ames, Michigan; Robert Wild, Wisconsin; H. W. Hanson, Iowa College, and F. M. Gallagher of Chicago.

Oberlin men have great hopes of Washington. He is a colored man and is preparing for the ministry, intending to work among his own people in the South. He has a record of twelve contests and ten victories, and is said to be a very able orator.

After the contest a banquet will be given at Prettyman's. All the alternates will respond to toasts, as will the winner of the contest.

A. A. H. S. Oratorical Association.

Prof. Trueblood, of the University, addressed the students of the High School at chapel exercises, Tuesday, on the necessity of organizing an oratorical association in the High School. He offered to do all in his power to forward such an enterprise. In view of this fact, a meeting of all those students who are interested in oratory will be called for Wednesday, May 12, in the chapel, at which meeting Prof. Trueblood will be present to help the High School students organize an oratorical association.

FURIOUS COUNCILMEN

WERE SURE OF DEFEATING KEARNEY'S CONFIRMATION

But Failed at the Last Minute—Alderman Rhodes Roasted Unmercifully—Anti-Kearneyites Call Him A Traitor—'Tis Said He Promised to Vote Against Kearney but Betrayed His Friends.

The possibility that Mayor Hiscock's nominations would not all be confirmed Monday night drew a crowded house. Even before the meeting was called to order, there was standing room only. The aldermen who, for various reasons, were not satisfied with the Mayor's nomination of Mr. Kearney, felt confident that he would not be confirmed. Some two or three meetings had been held by those who were antagonistic to Mr. Kearney. At these meetings there were, besides other Republicans, aldermen Moore, Hamilton, Dell, Rhodes Soule, Danforth and Cady. It is claimed that every one of the seven pledged themselves not to vote for Mr. Kearney's confirmation. A committee from one of these meetings waited upon Mayor Hiscock and urged him not to recommend Mr. Kearney for the City Attorneyship. Ald. Rhodes was a member of this committee. It was confidently expected that, if all the aldermen mentioned above should vote as they had faithfully pledged themselves to do, there would be no confirmation. Had they held their forces together they would have had just enough votes to have hung up Mr. Kearney's nomination. When the matter came to a vote, however, there proved, so the other six men declare, to have been a traitor in the camp, Ald. Rhodes voting with the opposition. The way several of the Aldermen have delighted to roast Ald. Rhodes since his vote Monday night has not augured well for Mr. Rhodes' political future. Some of the Aldermen even go so far as to hint ugly things as possible reasons for Alderman Rhodes betraying his friends as they claim he did.

A TEST CASE.

Sewer District No. 3 the Cause of a Suit Against the City.

When the assessment was made for the construction of the third district lateral sewer, more commonly known as the Hill-st. district, and people came to realize how expensive it was, the property holders in the district began to protest and to protest vigorously. A considerable portion of the mains on this lateral runs through farm lands, property that is not likely to be utilized as residence lots for years to come. This portion of the district had a low valuation. The result was that property holders in the other portions found their assessments very high. The total expense of the sewer in this district amounted to over $31,000. It was claimed at the time and is still maintained that a large portion of this sewer was a continuation of the main sewer and that as a consequence the city as a whole should bear the expense. Quite a number in the district threatened not to pay the sewer tax, but finally did so, under protest. Last Thursday the matter was brought to a focus by a suit being started in the Circuit Court by Mr. Bryant Walker, the administrator for the estate of the late Dr. Corydon L. Ford. Five hundred dollars was the tax assessed against this estate. Mr. Walker proposes to test the authority of the council to construct this sewer at the expense of a few instead of all the taxpayers in the city. Although the bill of particulars filed by the plaintiff in the case sets numerous other reasons why the city as a whole should bear the expense of this particular sewer, the ground that it is an extension of the main sewer is the one on which the fight will hinge. In any event, whether the city wins or loses the case, it is sure to have an expensive law suit on its hands. The case cannot be tried before the fall term of court.

Notable Trustees and Singers.

(Concluded from last week.)

[A brief account of the trustees and the old choir of the First Congregational Church and Society of Ann Arbor, given at the Semi-Centennial banquet and celebration of the Society, held Saturday evening, March 27th, 1897, at the church, by Noah W. Cheever.]

Just after the war, yes even during it, the subject of a new church building began to be agitated. Of course the Trustees, like the Church itself, were divided upon the subject but our eager, enthusiastic pastor, Rev. A. E. Baldwin, gave much time and energy to the work of discussion and of preparing the way for the fruitful work of our later pastor, Rev. Henry E. Hubbel.

The Trustees showed great courage in undertaking to build a church that would cost over forty thousand dollars, with a preliminary subscription of only about twelve thousand dollars, but led by our brave pastor, Rev. H. L. Hubbel, the work was carried on successfully, and the new church which we now occupy was completed. Mr. Hubbel cheerfully sacrificed his health that this church might exist and do its work in this community and to him we render thanks.

And now as to the choirs of "ye olden time". I came to Ann Arbor in 1859; entered the choir in '60; was a member of it as leader a large portion of that time. But of the original, or Mills' choir, I wish first to speak. From the organization of the church in 1847 until about 1858 the choir service was in the main conducted by Deacon Lorin Mills and the members of his family. This choir consisted of Lorin Mills, tenor and leader; Mattie Mills; Mrs. Saunders and Maria Goodrich, sopranos; for a short time Mrs. Hobart, wife of the pastor, alto; Charles Mills, Addison Mills and no doubt others, bass. Miss Martha Hill, now Mrs. Taylor, and Miss Mattie Mills played the melodeon from 1847 until 1858. Addison Mills played the bass-viol and his brother Charles the flute. The melodeon used was a small, old fashioned instrument with folding legs so that it could be picked up and carried anywhere. The instrument cost seventy-five dollars and Mr. Addison Mills obtained subscriptions from the business men about town to raise the money to purchase it. It was a small instrument, but it filled a large space in the hearts of the old congregation, and accomplished its work as well as the larger instruments of the present time. During these early days Addison Mills sang bass and alto as the occasion required, and played the bass-viol and the melodeon, as circumstances demanded.

SCIENTISTS SAVED.

President Barnaby and Prof. Bowman of Hartsville College

Survive a Serious Illness Through the Aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People—These Eminent Men Give an Unqualified Endorsement to this Valuable Medicine.

From the Republican, Columbus, Ind.

One of the oldest institutions of learning in the West is the well-known Hartsville College, situated at Hartsville, Indiana. This college was founded years ago in the interest of the United Brethren Church, when the State was mostly a wilderness, and colleges were scarce, not only in Indiana, but all through the then almost unsettled central West. The college being an old institution is well known throughout the country, former students having gone into all parts of the world.

PROF. ALVIN P. BARNABY.

A reporter recently made a trip to this famous seat of learning, and was shown into the room of the President, Prof. Alvin P. Barnaby. When last seen by the reporter Prof. Barnaby was in very delicate health, and much indisposed and hardly able to attend to his duties. Today he was looking well and hearty, and was apparently in the best of health. In response to an inquiry the professor said:

"Oh, yes, I am much better, I assure you, than for some time. I am now in perfect health, and very much encouraged, and then my recovery was brought about in rather a peculiar way, after all."

"Tell me about it," said the reporter.

"Well, to begin at the beginning," said the professor, "I was about as stout a lad for my age as any of the boys. I put in my time studiously at school, endeavoring to educate myself for the professions. After completing the common course I came here, and graduated from the theological course. I then entered the ministry, and accepted the charge of a United Brethren Church at a small place in Kent County, Mich. Being of an ambitious nature, I was a constant student, and applied myself very diligently to my work and studies. In time I began to notice that my health was failing, and after awhile it began to interfere with my duties. My first trouble noticeable, was indigestion of the stomach, and this with other troubles also brought on nervousness."

"I kept on with my studies and work, until it was too plainly noticeable that I was fast going down. My physician, whom I had consulted, prescribed for me for some time, and he advised me to take a change of climate, as it was my only remedy. I finally did as he requested, and my health was some improved. Soon after this I was offered a chair in the Hartsville College and came here. I was professor in physics and chemistry and later on was financial agent of the college. The change seemed to agree with me, and for awhile my health was much better, but my duties were heavy, and again I found that my trouble was returning. This time it was more severe than before. In the winter time I became completely prostrated, and had to give up my position. This was two years ago last winter. I began treatment from the first, trying various medicines and different physicians, who were skilled in the treatment of such diseases. This trouble was preceded, however, by an attack of the grip. Finally, after some considerable time, I was able to return to my duties. Last spring I was elected president of the college. Again, of course, I had considerable work on my hands, and the trouble, which at no time had been entirely cured, began to again affect me more than ever before, and last fall I collapsed. For quite awhile I battled with the trouble, but it seemed as if it was bound to get the better of me. I had different doctors, and none of them did me any good. Professor Bowman, who is professor of natural science, told me of his experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and urged me to give them a trial, because they had done him so much good in a similar case, I finally concluded to try them.

The first box of pills, to my astonishment, helped me, and the second box gave me great relief, such as I had never experienced from the treatment of any physician. After using some half dozen boxes of the medicine I was entirely cured. I continued the treatment with the result that to-day I am perfectly well. I feel better and stronger than for the last eight years, and much more than I ever did in my life and am steadily gaining. During my illness I fell off from 130 pounds to 118, but now I have more than regained my former weight. I think now that I tip the scales at about 150 pounds. "I am now doing as much work in the college as before, and am doing considerable studying and reading without the least difficulty. My nervous system is perfectly strong, and I have no signs whatever of indigestion."

"I can most certainly recommend this medicine to any who suffer from like troubles." To allay all doubt to strangers as to the truth of his story, Prof. Barnaby cheerfully made an affidavit before

LYMAN J. SCUDDER, Notary Public. The reporter decided to interview Prof. Bowman in regard to his case, which had been mentioned by President Barnaby.

Prof. Bowman, on being asked regarding his illness and cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, said that he was pleased to say that it was so, and was just as President Barnaby had said.

Prof. Bowman is also a minister of the gospel, and for a number of years was pastor of the United Brethren Church at Charlotte, Mich., before coming to Hartsville. His sickness is best told in his own words.

"A year ago last fall," continued the professor, "I broke down with nervous exhaustion, and for some time I was unable to properly attend to my duties. I tried different physicians but with no relief, and also used many different proprietary medicines. I then succumbed to a siege of the grip in the middle of winter, and was left in a much worse condition. My kidneys were fearfully disordered, and my digestion became very poor. I was indeed becoming in a bad condition. A minister in conference learning of my condition advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard much about the wonderful curative powers of this medicine, but it was with reluctance that I was finally persuaded to try it, as it seemed that nothing could do me any good. However, I procured three boxes of pills. I used the entire three boxes of pills, taking them strictly according to directions, and by the time the last dose was used, I was almost completely cured, and in better health than for years before. I kept on taking them awhile longer, and now I am entirely cured, with no signs, whatever, of my returning trouble. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Such was Professor Bowman's wonderful story which was further endorsed by an affidavit before

LYMAN J. SCUDDER, Notary Public. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now given to the public as an unfailing blood purifier and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

PENINSULA MATTERS

RELATED IN A BRIEF, CONCISE MANNER.

Important Changes to be Made in the State's Financial System—Joseph L. Cox, of Battle Creek, the Newly Appointed Labor Commissioner.

To Reform State Finance System.

Senators Lawrence, Jibb and Holmes are now pushing a plan of reform in the handling of state finances. At present the boards of the various state institutions and departments drawn the money appropriated for them in quarterly installments, often months in advance of the time when it is needed. There has been cases where the state has been compelled to borrow money and pay interest upon it in order to live up to the law which allow the boards to get their money in advance. There is no way of knowing whether the state gets interest on the various deposits or not. The bill proposed is intended to provide that all state funds are to be kept in the state treasury, the money to be taken therefrom by a system of checks, to be passed through the office of the auditor-general and then paid from the state treasury. By this system the state would get all the interest, and there would be some means of knowing just how the various institutions spend their money.

It is understood that there is room for reform in connection with the finances of state departments, also. One of the most prominent officials of the state, who handles about $30,000 a year, does not have to give one dollar in bonds and another spends his money without having to account to the state board of auditors or any one else.

Two Children Burned to Death.

A two-story frame building at 838 Chene street, Detroit, was destroyed by fire and two children perished in the flames. The lower floor was occupied by E. H. Heide's bakery and the upper floor by Nicholas Sinig, his wife and four children. The father was at work when the fire occurred at 4:30 p. m. and the mother and two children, Lena, aged 18, and Nicholas, aged 9, escaped with slight burns, but Lizzie, aged 20, and Anthony, aged 5, were overcome and lost their lives.

Joseph L. Cox for Labor Commissioner.

Gov. Pingree sent to the senate of the legislature the following nominations: Labor commissioner, Joseph L. Cox, of Battle Creek. Member of the Ionia reformatory board, Jerome H. Bishop, of Wyandotte. State board of health, Frank Wells, of Lansing. Mackinac island park board, Albert Pack, of Detroit. State board of pharmacy, L. F. Reynolds. Michigan state prison board, T. C. Brooks, of Jackson. Kalamazoo asylum board, Sam Post, of Ypsilanti.

Minden City Badly Scorched.

The business part of Minden City was nearly wiped out of existence by fire. Two entire blocks burned. The loss is over $50,000, and insurance only $2,500. The fire started in a vacant building and burned the following stores: Marks & Volz, general store; D. Leach, hardware; Dr. Nelson's office; I. Shulman, general store; Hurd house, hotel and barns; C. H. McGinley's law office; opera house; L. O. T. M. and I. O. F. hall; McNair's furniture store.

THE TWO PENINSULAS.

Valentine Diehl, an old citizen of Davison, died of lockjaw.

Holland has asked Uncle Sam for free mail delivery in that city.

The Winthrop mine at Ishpeming, of which Mark Hanna is half owner, has started up with 100 men.

A syndicate of Kalamazoo celery growers are prospecting for a big celery farm in Gladwin county.

Gladwin's anti-saloon league has prevented liquor men from getting bondsmen and the town is dry.

A gasoline stove explosion burned the grocery store and home of A. M. Copeland at Benton Harbor. Loss $2,000.

Miss L. A. Sloan, lady principal of Hillsdale college, has been elected preceptress of the normal school at Mt. Pleasant.

T. M. Shepherd's sawmill burned at Shepherd. Loss about $2,000; no insurance. The mill had not been run for six months.

The blacksmith shop and the wagon factory of Mr. Kleinschmidt, at Cady Corners, Macomb county, burned, causing a loss of $3,000.

John Merritt, a young man who lives near Vermontville, shot himself dead, the ball entering the mouth and passing through the head.

Notwithstanding the increased use of bicycles Pontiac's carriage factories are rushed with orders and several contemplate enlarging plants.

It is said that thousands of bushels of potatoes still lie in the pits unsold about Sherman. Some farmers are feeding them to their cows.

Later reports from the Oceana fruit belt refute the stories of great damage by severe weather and show that the prospects are for unusually heavy crops.

Levi O. Mann, aged 62, of Blackman, died in his wagon at a farmer's near Michigan Center. He was driving to Norvell, and lost control of his horses, which turned into a farmer's barn. There he was found by the farmer. Mann complained of his head, and died in a few minutes.

The supreme court has reserved Judge Chapin's decision granting Harry Dale, of Detroit a new trial, and ordered that Dale serve out his life sentence for criminal assault upon little Maggie Leonard. Harry Dale's only hope for liberty now rests with the pardon board and governor.

Lansing starts the fiscal year with eight less saloons than last year. Saloonkeepers attribute the falling off in a large measure to the spread of the bicycle craze.

William S. Higgins, a veteran soldier aged 62, was found dead in the Aekley hotel, at Grand Rapids. A package containing morphine was found, indicating suicide.

The village council, Maple Rapids, refused to approve the bonds of saloonkeepers, and the next morning bits of of craps were found attached to hitching posts and door knobs.

The weekly weather crop bulletin says vegetation continues backward, but drying winds and weather helped plowing and seeding by taking up considerable surface moisture.

A severe storm did much damage in Ross and Bedford townships, Calhoun county, blowing down orchards and fences. George Brown's barn was demolished and 16 blooded sheep killed.

The Burr Oak council has refused to approve the bonds of saloonkeepers and druggists and as a consequence the town will remain dry. The fronts of both saloons were draped in mourning the next morning.

Charles H. Frisbee, of Jackson, proposes to build a steel dam across the Kalamazoo river south of Allegan and furnish what he considers to be the best water power in the state. He has secured options on 1,000 acres at $30 per acre.

The specific charge on which ex-Controller Waite, of Port Huron, has been convicted was embezzling $580, which amount Waite drew from the bank the day of his disappearance. Sentence was deferred and Waite was released on $2,000 bonds.

Mrs. Celia Larkins, a colored woman, who was serving a life sentence at the Detroit house of correction for aiding her husband in the murder of her stepmother, at Monroe, in November, 1894, died of consumption. Her husband is serving a life sentence at Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Richards, of Exeter, near Monroe, were surprised by a visit of nearly 50 of their descendants, who assembled to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, but found they had made a mistake of a year. They will celebrate next year.

Lamberton creek, running through the Soldiers' home grounds, near Grand Rapids, broke through the upper dam, took away the railroad dam and covered the road bridge and deer park with sand and debris. The water works and electric light plant were flooded. Total damage $2,000.

William Kane, an old soldier, and his wife died at St. Clair, from drinking wood alcohol. Mrs. Con Burk, who also drank the stuff with them, was made very sick, but will probably recover. It is supposed that they had been drinking and other liquor being exhausted, they took the wood alcohol as a substitute.

Fred Hendricks, son of Postmaster Hendricks, of Stanton, was found in an unconscious condition near his home late at night. He was taken into the house and upon examination was found to be pounded and cut with a knife in a frightful manner, one stab of the knife going into the mouth and coming out through the cheek.

Capt. Porter of the U. S. secret service captured a complete counterfeit outfit in the basement of A. Farley's house at Benton Harbor. It has been in operation for three years, and the most dangerous counterfeit dollar of 1881 has been made by Farley. Capt. Porter says the government has spent $5,000 in searching for the outfit. Farley has not been captured.

Mrs. H. M. Lewis, wife of a prominent grocer, at Ionia was found dead on Rich street, about 10 o'clock at night. She was subject to attacks of heart disease, and at such times had to have fresh air. She had evidently gone out to walk an attack off, became bewildered and fainted. She took her shawl off, made a pillow of it, unconsciously her dress and corsets, and lay down on the walk and died.

The suspicion has arisen, at Attica, that William Hodgson who was found hanging did not suicide, but was killed and then strung up to hide the crime. Hodgson had made grave charges against a number of married ladies even making affidavits, and refused to retract, and it is alleged that certain persons were looking for him the night of his death; also that they met and quarreled. The face of the dead man was not the least distorted nor discolored, as is the case of death by hanging. These facts have led to a demand for an investigation, which has been started by the authorities.

Fire broke out at the wharf at Newport News, Va., and destroyed two coastwise merchandise piers, with their contents, three vessels, and one tug boat, entailing a total loss of about $2,500,000. A number of persons were injured, and it was feared that several lives were lost.

The gates of the Tennessee centennial exposition at Nashville are open and the machinery was set in motion by President McKinley touching an electric button at Washington. The opening ceremonies at Nashville were simple but impressive and were witnessed by a large assemblage.

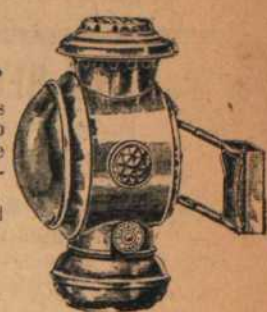

A second boat from the French brigantine Vaillant, which was sunk in a collision with an iceberg off Newfoundland, has been picked up with four men. These four were the only survivors of a lifeboat load of 21 men, 17 having perished from exposure and were thrown overboard. They were with out oars or provisions of any kind and drifted about for six days and nights. The four kept themselves alive by drinking the blood and eating the flesh of a dog. As a result of frost bites two of the survivors will lose all of their limbs and the other two will lose their feet.

WHAT has become of the great army of the unemployed? At their parade in Detroit recently there were scarcely enough of the unemployed, if there are many such, to make a corporal's guard.

JUDGING from the amount of city improvements ordered by the common council last Monday night, we shall have a higher tax rate for the next year if this pace is kept up. THE REGISTER desires to warn the council to be a little careful in the matter of ordering many public improvements. Although the times are slowly improving, we have not yet reached a stage where we can afford to be very liberal. Better go slow.

THERE was introduced into the council last Monday night an ordinance relative to the renumbering of the houses in the city. The proposed plan is what is known as the "hundred system"—the allowance of 100 numbers for every block. Such a change would be a great convenience after the people once become accustomed to the change. The ordinance was prepared by City Clerk Mills who has given the subject much thought. It is proposed to make the change during the coming summer while the students are out of the city.

THE new law requiring railroads in Michigan to carry wheels as baggage has a fatal defect. It provides that if the railroad companies have hooks upon which to suspend wheels, or racks in which to place them, the railroads shall not be held for any damage to wheels in transit. As baggage men dislike to handle wheels and the railroad men do not care to carry them, the chances are that most wheels carried will have mysterious bruises and breaks when delivered at the end of the trip. We predict that this will prevail to such an extent that wheelmen will not often ship their wheels even when it can be done without cost.

As a result of the location in this city of a new telephone company, we are guaranteed a much lower rate on phones. A drop of 33 per cent. on the rate for business phones and 40 per cent on those used in residences will be fully appreciated by all telephone users. The saving resulting from a lower rate will not be the only advantage which will be gained by telephone users. The lower rate will cause a great many more people to put in telephones and the more phones we have the more useful will be the system to each telephone subscriber. We believe too, that the telephone companies will not lose much if anything at all on account of making the reduction, as it will not be long before enough new subscribers will be secured to more than make up the loss caused by the reduction in rates.

OCCASIONALLY we hear of somebody kicking because a few bicyclists use the sidewalks when our streets are impassable for wheelmen—and often times almost so for a stout team of horses—and the officers are urged to rigidly enforce the ordinance against wheelmen riding on the walks. Such kickers should remember that there are two ways of interpreting the bicycle ordinance now in force in this city. One is to take it according to the strict letter of the law and arrest everybody who rides a foot upon the walk. No officer has ever attempted or thought of such a thing. Another way of looking at the matter is to consider the purpose of the ordinance. Its aim, pure and simple, is to protect pedestrians upon the walks from being endangered by wheelmen. This being clearly the purpose of the framers of the ordinance and of the council in passing it, the officers are justified in not arresting those who use the walks in bad weather and who do not at any time endanger pedestrians by reckless riding. The officers seem to be disposed to look at the matter in this light, which, it seems to us is the proper one. They should and no doubt will at once prosecute any wheelman who, by reckless riding breaks the real spirit of the ordinance. Such people should be prosecuted vigorously, and when convicted, fined to the fullest extent of the law. If a few people who scorch upon the sidewalks were treated in this wholesome manner, there would be little complaint in the future about pedestrians being endangered by wheelmen occasionally using the walks while our streets are in the awful condition in which they sometimes get.

Notable Teachers and Teachers.

ed. This old choir of about twelve members held its choir meetings usually on Saturday evenings at the residence of some member of the congregation. For about two years after its organization the church held its religious services in the old Court House. The judge's desk was used for the pulpit and the jury chairs for the choir. To Deacon Lorin Mills and his family, the church was greatly indebted during its early life for music and musical instruments purchased without depleting the small treasury of the church. For many years this family freely sustained the praise service of the church, and gave it acceptable music, vocal and instrumental, "without money and without price." Indeed, this custom was followed in the "good old way," save by the organist, till we went from "the old house into the new." Here let me turn aside to say that about the year 1824 Lorin Mills and his brother and their children organized the first choir ever known in Ann Arbor in the old Presbyterian Church, a wooden building located on the same corner as the present Presbyterian Church.

During the winter of '59 and '60, Dr. Hewitt organized an old fashioned singing school in the church for the purpose of preparing singers for a large chorus choir and I think it was in the winter of '60 and '61, that Charles H. Dennison of the class of '61 in the University organized such a choir. This choir was the largest if not the most noted choir ever organized in this church. This old choir was so large and so largely endowed with physical as well as mental power that it used to roar until it startled the congregation and fairly made the windows of the old church rattle. I cannot recall the names of all of the members of this choir but will give you the names of those that I do remember and of some who followed later. Some of the basses that made the most noise were as follows: C. K. Adams, Professor of History in the University of Michigan, afterwards President of Cornell University and now President of University of Wisconsin; Martin L. D'Ooge, Professor of Greek in the University of Michigan; Sedgwick Dean, one of the ablest business men and financiers in our midst; Mr. Baker, Aaron Henion, Hudson, Wood, now Professor in Hoboken School of Technology; B. W. Cheever and N. W. Cheever. The tenors were Charles H. Dennison, Warren I. Hicks and other students whose names I do not now recall. The sopranos were Mrs. Cochran, wife of the Pastor; Marian Bliss, Candace Carpenter, Sarah North, Fanny Maynard, Lillia Norwick, Jennie Pease, Adelia C. Noble, Ella F. Nye, Kate Sibley, Miss Von Braun, etc. Miss Francis Bliss and Nellie Maynard supplied the alto for some time, then the latter took that part alone. The choir used to meet for practice every Saturday evening in the vestibule, or hall, of the old church and the "boys" took turns in cold weather, in going to build a fire in the box stove situated in the center of the hall. But there was greater labor than that in store for some one every time. The old cabinet organ was an instrument of ordinary size and of course was located in the gallery above the hall. From hall to gallery were winding stairs, but no matter, the organ must be used at every choir meeting and the choir meeting must be held where there was a stove, so the organ must be carried down and up those winding stairs every Saturday evening. To do this with comparative ease, my brother, B. W. Cheever, placed two handles on each end of the instrument. He also made us a high hardwood stool, which answered our purpose much better than the old chair filled with a pile of slippery books.

The players of this organ never received more than one dollar per Sunday. As far as I can ascertain they were, while we worshiped in the old church, Miss Mattie Mills, who died young while giving her services; Miss Martha Hill, now Mrs. Taylor; Miss Sarah Mead, Miss Martha Woodruff, Miss Candace Carpenter, Mr. Barnes, Miss Sarah Beckwith, Miss Clara Gower, Mr. A. E. Dolbear, Mrs. Stark and Miss Levan. The leaders of the choir, during these early years, of whom I can learn, were Deacon Lorin Mills, Charles H. Dennison, Alvin Wilsey, E. L. Walter and N. W. Cheever.

But I wish now to make especial mention of two players of the organ. Prof. E. L. Walter and Prof. A. E. Dolbear, both of whom played our little instrument for the meagre one dollar per Sunday.

Prof. Edward L. Walter is professor of Romance Languages and Literatures in our University. He is a very able teacher and is so well known here that it is not necessary to give any extended account of his very successful work in the University.

Amos E. Dolbear came to Michigan University from Ohio in 1867 to take some advanced work in the sciences. He was an orphan without friends in this section of the country, and was in moderate circumstances financially, so that it was necessary for him to earn money to pay his way while here in the University. He was employed to play the organ in the old church at a dollar a Sunday, and with the aid of some members of the church obtained a class to instruct in instrumental music, and also was appointed assistant in the Chemical Laboratory of the University at a very moderate salary. I think he remained with us about two years. When he left he was obliged to borrow money to go to Kentucky and teach in some school there. He taught in Kentucky one year, then two years in West Virginia, then in 1874, was called to Tufts College to teach physics and astronomy where he has remained since that time. Prof. Dolbear is the inventor of some important parts of the Bell telephone that is used all over this country, and received for this invention quite a large sum of money. He has also invented an instrument for telegraphing from moving trains and an instrument to telegraph maps, etc. He is also the inventor of numerous mechanical devices that have proved to be of practical benefit to scientific and business men and to the world in general. He is one of our leading American scientists, whose articles are often seen in our prominent Scientific Journals.

It is sometimes claimed that our state ought not to assist in the education of students from other states. Prof. Dolbear, without the aid of the old Congregational church and of our liberal State University, could not well have obtained the scientific instruction that fitted him to perform the great and useful work as a teacher and an inventor that he has performed since he left our University. It has sometimes been insisted that the state should not make education cheap, and especially that our state should not bear any portion of the burden of educating students from other states. The history of this one student, Prof. A. E. Dolbear, demonstrates that even to this state it is a paying investment to educate promising students from other states who have not sufficient means of their own for that purpose. The inventions of this one man have paid back to the citizens of this state many times more than they have expended upon foreign students since the organization of the University. The old Congregational church may well be proud even of the moderate part it has taken in this good work, and the people of the state ought to be encouraged to deal even more generously than they have done with needy students from other states who are earnestly and honestly endeavoring to fit themselves to be worthy and useful citizens in our great commonwealth.

This church and society has always stood for freedom of conscience, freedom of speech and freedom of the African slave. It has stood for intellectual integrity first, and always, and does not care to build except upon this sure foundation. It is tolerant to a degree, and in a broad and catholic spirit, strives to make man better here and now. It believes that our Christian civilization should be improved and purified, so that it may build up and improve, and not destroy the heathen to whom it is sent. This church has always sought to develop the divinity in man, and to lead him, by broad culture and earnest every day efforts, to supplement, complete and perfect the works of the Creator on this earth, and make man's life here purer, happier, better and much nearer the evident design of his creation.

ROOM FOR TENNIS.

Dual Meet With Chicago.

At the meeting of the athletic board Wednesday night it was decided that a team of four men shall be sent to Chicago to compete in the Western Intercollegiate tennis contests.

The board also voted to hold a dual tennis meet with Chicago. This will be held in Ann Arbor, probably about the last of May.

The men who represent Michigan will be chosen in the spring tournament that will be held in about three weeks. The winner of first class singles will also have his name inscribed on a silver cup which Smith & Sturgeon, of Detroit, have kindly presented to the athletic association.

This cup will be kept in the trophy room of the Gym, and the names of tennis champions will from year to year be engraved thereon.

Among the most promising candidates are W. D. Herrick, Robert Danforth, Butler Lamb, L. M. Harvey, Herman Russell and Mr. Ripley and there is no doubt that Michigan can put a strong team in the field.

Some of the men will engage in the state tournament which is held at Detroit this spring.

BERTHALD.

One of the men who will materially aid in making the May Festival next week a success is Barron Berthald. As a tenor he is one of the finest in the country. The St. Louis Republic speaks thus of him: "Few people at Music Hall last night recognized in Barron Berthald, the Siegmund of the performance, a tenor who sang a variety of parts out at Whrig's Cave two summers ago. There was nothing in his work last evening in common with his performances of that time. With the confidence that comes with position, surrounding, and support, the genuine artist ought to change. Mr. Berthald seems to be made of the real material, for his Siegmund last night was a broad full performance. It merited the four recalls at the close of the first act, when after sixty-five minutes of uninterrupted singing and acting, the tenor developed the closing number triumphantly. It would be a pleasure to hear Mr. Berthald's Lohengrin. One may feel with confidence that this young artist has qualities that ought to insure a continuance of his present flattering encouragement."

Some Resolutions.

Resolved, That the city tax on baby carriages in the city.

Resolved, That all vehicles, drawn by horses, mules or oxen, and making use of our streets, be taxed by the city.

Resolved, That every man caught running a wheelbarrow within the city limits, if he does not pay taxes upon any other property, be taxed upon his wheelbarrow.

Resolved, That, inasmuch as many people who do not pay any city taxes, ride wheels upon our streets, the city should therefore tax all wheels, the said taxes to be used for permanent street improvements.

Resolved, That all bicycle dealers and proprietors of bicycle repair shops be made to pay a tax on all wheels sold or repaired by them.

Resolved, That a special policeman be employed for each public highway entering the city, to be stationed on such highway at the city limits, to secure the name and address of every wheelman who may enter the city so that he may be properly taxed.

Resolved, That all aldermen may be compelled to pay a double tax if he rides a wheel and does not support each and every one of the above resolutions, the fund derived from the collection of such tax to be used to macadam all the streets in the city.

People who read these resolutions will smile at the absurdity of each one of them, yet it is a fact that one of the above resolutions was actually introduced at the council meeting last Monday night.

NEILL OF ARKANSAS.

Another U. S. Congressman Indorsed Paine's Celery Compound.

Within the past year, among the thousands of hearty testimonials to the wonderful curative powers of Paine's celery compound that have been received by Wells, Richardson & Company—among the thousands of grateful letters received from every state and town in the country, there have come no less than six hearty indorsements from members of the national house of representatives.

All were willing that their experience should be published, believing rightly that they might thus do good to others. In these columns have already been published, the letters received from Congressmen Meredith, Bell, Grout and Powers.

Now comes a letter from Congressman Robert Neill, of Arkansas, as follows:

"My home is at Batesville, Ark. During the last spring and summer my eldest daughter, then 17 years of age, was in very poor health, suffering from general debility, nervous prostration and frequent slight fevers. She had the best medical attention, but apparently with little benefit. In the latter part of September last, while still feeble she began the use of Paine's celery compound, and improved in health continuously. In three months she had fully recovered, and is now in perfect health. I am bound to think the remedy is an excellent one, and do not hesitate to recommend it to the suffering."

To postpone at such a vital time as this regulating the nerves and purifying the blood is a serious mistake. Men and women distressed by nervous troubles or the effects of impure blood cannot afford now to lose a day before taking advantage of Paine's celery compound.

In order to avoid disappointment accept nothing but Paine's celery compound. A clerk who tries to sell something else than what people ask for is evidently not disinterested. He has an eye to profits more than to the good of customers.

There can be no substitute for Paine's celery compound.

This has been shown time and time again in cases where persons, too easily led, have carried home something besides Paine's celery compound, and have failed to get the decided benefit they had hoped for.

The strongest indorsement ever received for this great spring remedy—and no remedy ever compared with Paine's celery compound in the character and the number of the witnesses to its efficiency—the strongest indorsement it ever received did not overestimate or exaggerate in the least its unrivalled power of making people well.

Track Men at Work.

The prospects for turning out a cracker-jack track team this year are fine. The boys are coming out well and though this is only the first week of pleasant weather about fifty have already been out to practice. The track has been graded and is rolled daily so that it is in excellent shape. Dr. Rabethge is at the track daily and coaches each man individually. The best of care is taken of all the men.

The team trains every day from 3:30 to 5:30 P. M. The base ball also being there at the same time, the athletic track presents quite a lively appearance.

Manager Hill promises some good meets this year though it is disappointing that the dual meet with Chicago will not be held here. The first meet of the year is the Freshman-Sophomore meet on Saturday, May 8th. The Freshmen confidently expect to win this, so do the Sophomores. The Varsity will send six men to the Coliseum meet at Chicago, May 14th. Four of them will form the relay team which will race Chicago. The other two will be entered in the single events. None of these men have yet been definitely chosen. The Varsity field day will be May 22nd. This will undoubtedly be the best field day Michigan has ever had. One week later the dual meet with Chicago will be held at Detroit. There will be a base ball game there on the same day between Michigan and Chicago. On the following Saturday occurs the great Western Inter-Collegiate Meet at Chicago which Michigan stands a very good show of winning.

It would be impossible to give the names of all those who come out. But those who have been out the longest and the events for which they are training are as follows:

For the 100 yards dash, Elbel, Thomas and Auer. They are all doing good work. Thomas has been troubled by a sprained ankle, but is now at work.

In the 220 yds. dash, there will be Cobb, Heald, Webster, Batterman, King, and Case. Except Heald all these men are Freshmen and all were doing it in 25 seconds this week.

Webster also does the high and low hurdles and the quarter mile. He has won several championships before coming here this year.

The others in the hurdles are Ayers, Chubb and McLean. The latter is a new man and is showing up in fine form. The other two represented us last year, so are of course O. K.

ACTING PRESIDENT HUTCHINS

Will Also Remain as Dean of the Law School.

At a special meeting of the Regents held in Detroit, yesterday, Prof. H. B. Hutchins was chosen, and accepted the position as acting President of the University during the absence of President Angell. He is to receive a salary of $3,000 and may occupy the president's residence on the campus. The appointment is for only a year.

Judging from the reports from Detroit yesterday it seems that Prof. Levi T. Griffin will be dropped from the Law Faculty at the end of the year, and that a well-known Detroit lawyer will succeed him.

Nature's Detectives.

When a crime is committed, no matter in what corner of the earth the criminal tries to hide, he knows that probably somewhere or other on the look-out is a detective waiting to get his hand on him.

When any disease attacks mankind and hides itself in the human system, no matter how obscure or complicated the disease may be, Nature among her great force of detective remedies, eventually hunt down and arrest that particular disease.

Lung and bronchial diseases are among the most baffling complaints which doctors have to deal with; because it isn't the lungs or bronchial tubes alone which are affected, but every corner of the system furnishes a lurking place for these elusive maladies.

They change and reappear and dodge about the system under numberless disguises. They are almost always complicated with liver or stomach troubles, nervousness, neuritis, or "general debility."

The best detective remedy which Nature has provided to search out and arrest these perplexing ailments is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It lays an arresting hand directly upon the poison, purging elements hiding in the liver and digestive organs.

It gives the blood-making glands power to manufacture an abundant supply of pure, red, highly vitalized blood which reinforces the lungs with healthy tissue, feeds the solid muscular flesh and active energy.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, nasal catarrh, bronchitis, severe coughs, asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it promptly cures the severest cough it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

CARAMEL CEREAL

This great Health Beverage, prepared by the Battle Creek Sanitarium Health Food Company, has been demonstrated to be the only scientifically prepared substitute for Coffee, by receiving the FIRST AWARD at the GREAT ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

An eminent Washington attorney wrote the manufacturers: "I find Caramel-Cereal nourishing as well as refreshing, and always take a cup when I return home at night after a hard day's work."

Caramel-Cereal possesses the advantage, that while palatable and refreshing it is free from deleterious properties, and hence may be freely taken by children and invalids. It ought to displace Tea and Coffee everywhere, and in doing so would save an enormous amount of sickness and suffering. Persons suffering from Sick Headache are Generally Cured by substituting Caramel-Cereal for Tea or Coffee.

MICHIGAN'S LEGISLATORS.

The Anderson bill requiring railroads to carry bicycles as baggage was passed by the Senate. This measure has now passed both houses and been given immediate effect. The Senate also passed bills to designate the apple blossom as the state flower; providing that graduates of Detroit College of Law may be admitted to practice without further examination; for the care of young children by women while being transferred from the Coldwater public school to homes provided for them. Rep. Eikhoff succeeded in getting his bill through the House to prohibit corporations paying its labor in any other manner than by money, check or draft. This is principally to prevent the store order system. The House also passed a bill to enforce making of factory improvements ordered by factory inspectors, by fixing the responsibility upon the owner of the building unless a contract makes the tenant responsible, but in case the owner lives in another state, the tenant is to make the charges and deduct the cost from the amount of his rent. The Senate committee on finance cut $20,750 from the mining school appropriation, making it $115,000. The public health committee of the Senate opposed the House amendment to the anti-cigarette bill, placing the age of persons to whom the sale of cigarettes and tobacco are prohibited under 21, and the committee cut off four years. Gov. Pingree's latest appointments received more respectful treatment from the Senate than previous ones. Joseph L. Cox, of Battle Creek, was confirmed as state labor commissioner without his appointment being referred to a committee. A batch of minor selections went to the committee on executive business. Prize fights and glove contests are to be prohibited, in all forms, in the state by a bill passed by the Senate by a vote of 17 to 9. Senator Warner offered a concurrent resolution to bring express companies to time in the matter of taxes. It directs the attorney-general to collect from the express companies a one per cent upon the gross moneys collected by them in the state instead of collecting one per cent upon the gross earnings within the state. The Senate also passed the bill to pension Detroit firemen totally disabled while on duty at the rate of $72 per month. It provides that those totally disabled previous to the passage of the bill are entitled to a pension. The anti-cigarette bill was passed by the Senate as were the following measures: Prohibiting the killing of prairie chickens for five years; to prevent the forfeiture of fire insurance policies by the violation of any condition of the policy when such violation has been without prejudice to the insurer; providing that the bodies of the paupers of the Saginaw valley be sent to the Saginaw Medical college. The House helped Gov. Pingree by killing the bill which provides that the governor must make appointments to all official vacancies that exist during the legislative sessions. Game laws were altered considerably by the House in committee of the whole, the principal changes being: To prohibit hunting of quail with dogs; making the open season for deer Nov. 8 to 30; permitting any one hunter to kill only four deer in a season; prohibiting hunting of deer with dogs and making presence of hounds in woods, lumber camp or club house prima facie evidence against the owners of violation of the law; open season for bird game Oct. 1 to Dec. 1; including squirrel as game and making a closed season. The House passed a bill to allow $10 per day for actual service as members of the state crossing board rendered by the secretary of state, the attorney-general and clerk of the board.

The house has voted to adjourn sine die at noon on May 31. The appropriation of $7,500 for a Michigan exhibit at the Tennessee exposition after being turned down in both the Senate and House was resurrected in the form of a concurrent resolution and pushed through the House after a hard struggle. The curfew bill which both houses passed has been vetoed by Gov. Pingree who says he is opposed to interference on the part of the state in matters of purely domestic concern, or the interposition of police for parental authority. He opposes the idea of arresting children, and says the arrest of a boy or girl for being out at night may put a blot upon an entire life. It not only tends to disgrace one in the eyes of others, but to destroy self-respect. The House passed bills appropriating $81,913 for special improvements of the Newberry insane asylum, and $3,000 for maintaining the U. of M. hospital during the summer months. The House concurred to the Senate amendments to the anti-cigarette bill and it now goes to the governor. Senator Robinson made a hard fight to carry the bill making the railroad passenger fare for the upper peninsula three cents per mile, but it was defeated by a margin of two votes. He secured a reconsideration, however, and the bill was tabled. The bill to prevent the spread of the San Jose scale in peach trees was passed by the Senate. The rumors that an attempt had been made to push the medical league bill through the House by the use of boodle caused nearly a whole day to be consumed over medical legislation. The medical league bill had already passed the Senate and upon reaching the House was referred to the committee on public health of which Rep. Edgar is chairman. The committee gave a lengthy hearing on the bill and then reported out a substitute for it. Medical league lobbyists then began to hustle and an attempt was made to force the committee to report the original bill. Rep. Edgar made the assertion that boodle was back of the bill, but the House finally discharged the committee from further consideration of the bill and set May 3 apart for action upon it by the House.

ELECTRIC LIGHT THE BEST

Some of the Advantages of Electric Light.

	Cubic feet of air vitiated.	Cubic feet of carbonic acid produced.	Heat produced in 1 lb Watts raised 1° Fahrenheit.
12 c. p. Incandescent Lamp.	None.	None.	13.8
12 c. p. Gas Light.	345.25	3.21	278.6
12 c. p. Kerosene Lamp.	376.30	3.54	223.9

Some of the Disadvantages of Gas.

Air consumed.	Carbonic Acid thrown off.
Heat.	Unsteadiness of Light.
Freezing Pipes.	Danger of Suffocation.
Humidity.	Danger from the use of Matches.
Ceilings Blackened	Water and air in Pipes
Sulphur thrown off	Metals and Gildings Tarnished
Ammonia thrown off	Sulphuretted Hydrogen thrown off
Gas cannot be inverted to throw light down.

None of these Disadvantages Accompany Electric Lighting.

In general the Incandescent Electric Light is much healthier and much more convenient to use than any other method of lighting, and is more economical for amount of light furnished than gas.

Fountain, the third of the accused, whose only guilt was his presence when the crime was committed was sentenced to Ionia for one year.

W. C. T. U.

The extra meeting of the W. C. T. U. was made particularly interesting by reading of papers on the "danger in the use of tobacco." How amazed the young men would be over their prospects, if they but realized the results coming from such constant companionship with the pipe or cigarette—shattered nerves, muddled brain, cancer or the asylum. One or more of these they will certainly find resulting from it.

Part with the pipe now while you can; do not wait until one of these troubles is upon you, it will be too late then.

We are glad to learn there are three less places of temptation and ruin for our boys than last year. At this rate ten years will find us among the number of saloonless college towns. Can we not work more rapidly than that?

Our Governor is reported as refusing to sign—and thus cause to become a law—anything which will cause the arrest and punishment of children. Cannot he then contrive some other means of helping mothers and teachers to prevent the use of tobacco by our boys?

School records show the best students to be those who do not use tobacco in any form. How many very moderate students there must be now-a-days, judging from the number of pipes we meet on the streets!

Why are not our laws prohibiting the use by boys under seventeen, enforced?

Y. W. C. A.

The meetings were well attended, both Sunday afternoon and evening.

A very pleasant company spent Monday evening at the rooms with Miss Seavers, who has made many friends during her short stay in the city. She has been of great assistance to the association by her practical suggestions drawn from an extensive knowledge of Y. W. C. A. work and methods.

The nominating committee has Miss Alice Porter for its chairman. Nominations may be given to them until May 9. The annual election will be held May 28.

And now the next interest is the entertainment by the elocution classes next Friday evening at High School hall. This is their last public entertainment for this year, and it is hoped that the proceeds will be enough to meet the $25.00 which is still unpaid on rent of the rooms.

Following is the program for the Y. W. C. A. entertainment for benefit of Y. W. C. A. at High School Hall on Friday evening, May 7th, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Mac Monagle.

COMPLIMENTS U. OF M. MEN.

Chicago Times-Herald Speaks in Flattering Terms of Our Debaters.
The Chicago Times-Herald in speaking of the debate between the U. of M. men and the representatives of Chicago University has this to say of our men: "The University of Michigan was represented by men well seasoned in many a forensic tussle. W. M. Chandler, who carried off the highest individual honors, will graduate from the law school this summer, and he received good training in the last campaign for the part he took last night."

His oratorical effort was probably the most impressive ever heard on the campus, and his delivery was without a fault. W. M. Chandler closed for the negative in a way that almost stamped the Michigan delegation. He occupied only a few minutes in answering his opponent's points and then launched out in an oration of wide dimensions that fairly shook the rafters of the hall. He quoted history and said he could foresee nothing but danger and a final despotism for a people governed by a cabinet executive."

The Line to the "Land of the Sky."

The above is the popular title given the beautiful country in Western North Carolina where Asheville and Hot Springs are located. These famous resorts are reached over the Queen and Crescent and Southern Railway Systems. This greatest Southern Railway System operates through Pullman Sleeping cars from Cincinnati to Jacksonville, Fla., over the Queen & Crescent to Chattanooga, thence via the Southern Railway. Also from Louisville and Cincinnati via Asheville to Jacksonville. In making a trip to Georgia, the Carolinas or Florida, it will be well to use the through car line of the Southern Railway. AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

YPSILANTI COMMERCIAL.

Frank Martin, of River street, has resigned his position as conductor on the electric railway. Charles Disbrow, who has been night conductor, takes his place, and H. J. Moran will succeed Disbrow.

Last night, at his home on East Cross street, occurred the death of J. Harvey Davis, after a brief illness. Mr. Davis has been in the watch repairing business in this city over a quarter of a century. He leaves four children to mourn his loss.

Early yesterday morning at his home on Catherine street occurred the death of Edwin Simons, who has been a life-long resident of this city. Mr. Simons has been a great sufferer from cancer for two years. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

YPSILANTI SENTINEL.

Mrs. R. W. Van Kirk received news, Wednesday, of the death of her father, who lives near Boston, and left the same day to attend the funeral.

The First National Bank received word last week that among the effects of a former named Sanford, with thirty or more aliases, had been found a draft for $484, made by the bank upon its New York correspondent. Investigation proved it to be one drawn for $4, and raised by the forger to the larger amount, but evidently never cashed. Diligent search failed to find any other unpaid paper, or any record of other paper sold to the crook under any of the assumed names reported.

SALINE OBSERVER.

S. T. Fairbank is shipping today a car of potatoes to the oil fields of Ohio.

One of the scholars of the school went home the other day and told his mother that his teacher had told them that the strange noise heard in the air Monday was the result of an air ship that was sent out from Detroit, which by its rapid transit through the air caused a continuous combustible sound.—?

THE YPSILANTI.

The marriage of Miss Jane Farnham, of this city to Dr. George A. Geist, of Atlanta, Ga., is announced for May 12.

D. M. Richardson & Son, the new proprietors of the Occidental Hotel are already on the ground, and active in preparing for the opening of the hotel May 1.

Gov. Pingree has appointed Hon. Sam Post of this city a member of the Kalamazoo Asylum board, to succeed W. J. Stuart.

The Dramatic Reading of "Julius Caesar," by Prof. T. C. Trueblood, which was announced in the Normal Oratorical course for April 30 has been postponed until Tuesday, May 11.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burtless were in Jackson last evening when her brother Spencer Carr, died. Mr. Burtless returned home this morning. The remains will be brought here Saturday for interment in the family lot at Oak Grove.

Pat McMahon informs us that his brother Joe, who was recently shot at Wichita, killed him $2,000. He also says that Joe killed $10,000 which is to be invested in government bonds and the interest on the same is to be given to his two children until they are 18 years of age, when they receive $10,000 each. Mrs. McMahon gets the balance of his property.

DEXTER LEADER.

The next meeting of the Webster Farmer's Club will be held at the residence of Hon. William Ball on Saturday May 8th.

E. S. Rogers, representing the new State Telephone Company of Detroit, is in town, talking with the leading spirits in regard to the new company extending their lines into Dexter. We understand that the new company has nearly 6,000 subscribers in Detroit, and one of the most finely equipped plants in the country. They propose to construct a metallic long distance toll line to every town in Michigan and to give a rate so reasonable that everybody can afford to use their lines. The new company will make a 10 cent rate to any point in Washtenaw county and charge 15 cents to Detroit. This seems to us like a more reasonable price for telephone service and we feel confident that the company will receive a hearty welcome from our citizens.

CHELSEA STANDARD.

Archie W. Wilkinson is making a "plug" for the appointment of deputy oil inspector for this district. This is as good as saying that he has received the appointment, for Arch always lands what he goes after.

A man drove down to the railroad Monday and wishing to come up town for something, tied his horse to the freight car. After he had been away some time, a locomotive came along and was hitched to the car and started to draw it away. A man who happened to be passing at the time chanced to see the predicament the team was in and untied it just in time to save it from making the fastest time on record.

CHELSEA HERALD.

On Wednesday, April 28, 1897, Mr. and Mrs. John McKone celebrated their silver jubilee of marriage. A large number of relatives and friends assembled at their home, where an elegant and substantial dinner was served, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The esteemed couple were the recipients of a fine silver set given by Mr. and Mrs. Timothy McKone, and other beautiful gifts from dear friends. Dr. Reilly made an eloquent presentation address, which greatly pleased those present. Mr. and Mrs. McKone are among the most respected residents of Lyndon, and have hosts of friends who rejoice with them on their happy anniversary.

Japanese Excited About Hawaii.

The Japanese government is aroused over the refusal of the Hawaiian government to permit Shinshin Maru immigrants to land there and has ordered warships to Honolulu to enforce what the Japanese immigrants consider their rights. Grave complications have arisen, according to Japanese official newspapers, over the action of the United States government in sending the cruiser Philadelphia to Honolulu. The Japanese claim the cruiser has been sent as a menace to their government and is significant in that it foretells annexation of the islands to the United States. Japanese official newspapers are full of war talk.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and been able to cure in all its stages and been able to cure in all its stages. The only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity, Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials. Address F. J. Kentucky Legislature Names a Senator.

State Senator Deboe, Republican, was elected United States senator by the Kentucky legislature to succeed Senator Blackburn, Democrat. The fight which culminated in Deboe's choice was one of the bitterest political contests in Kentucky's history. Several prominent politicians have been indicted on bribery charges. What made the fight especially bitter was the factional war in the Republican party, led by Gov. Bradley, a half-avowed candidate, and Dr. Hunter, one of the men now under indictment. The struggle just ended, lasted through two legislative sessions, through 112 ballots, and at a cost to the state of more than $100,000. Tremendous excitement followed the end of the contest.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers, for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

SERPENT ON A FLORIDA KEY.

One Man Has Started Out to Capture It.

Black Point key, Florida, is now known as Snake key from the fact that a huge Brazilian boa has had control of the island, much to the terror of the guides who go there and the few inhabitants of the close-by islands, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The story is that several years ago a steamer with a circus on board foundered off the island. The snake was then possibly 10 feet long, but reliable persons state that it is now 30 feet long and of generous proportions otherwise. Indian guides are afraid to go there since last fall, when two of their number were killed by some mysterious thing, and the snake was blamed for it. Several other persons who ventured to land have disappeared and tourists now cannot get guides to go there to explore the island, which is about fifty acres in extent and thickly grown with low shrubs. W. Ralston, agent for the Smithsonian Institution snake department, has undertaken for the East Coast Railway Company to capture the "serpent." He states that he has no fear of his ability to catch it. He has reliable reports of its existence and thinks it is there sure enough. He says that he will prepare a huge canvas bag, 4 by 7 by 50 feet, and will manage with bait to attract the serpent in. When once it begins to crawl in it will continue going. "After I get him once headed for the bag he's my meat," said Mr. Ralston confidently. Ralston is an expert with serpents, handling all kinds with utter fearlessness.

Ministers Should Use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

THERE IS NO PROFESSION, whose labors so severely tax the nervous system, as that of the ministry. The derangement of the nerve centers of the brain by over work, frequently brings on attacks of heart trouble, and nervous prostration. Rev. J. P. Kester, M. D., Pastor U. B. Church, London Mills, Ill., himself a physician, writes Feb. 25, 1895: "Heart affection and nervous prostration had become so serious last fall that a little over work in the pulpit would so completely prostrate me that it seemed certain I must relinquish the work of the ministry entirely. Heart palpitation became so bad that my auditor would ask me if I did not have heart disease. Last November I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure alternately with Dr. Miles' Nerve and derived the greatest possible benefit. I have just closed revival work of 10 weeks, preaching nearly every night and twice on the Sabbath. I can speak for hours without suffering as I formerly did. Hard working ministers should keep Dr. Miles' grand remedies on hand." Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee, first bottle will benefit or money refunded.

He Got His Match.

One cold and stormy evening last winter a prosperous-looking business man stopped in the vestibule of a large office building, on his way out, and attempted to light a cigar. An urchin with an armful of papers also stood within the arch, stamping his feet on the stone step to warm them, as he lustily cried his wares.

The wind blew out the last match which the fur-coated broker had about his person, and he turned to the boy and said:

"Here, boy, give me a match."

The lad eyed the gentleman furtively as he inquired: "Say, mister, is that a demand or a request?"

Instead of being angry at this reproach the gentleman—for he was such—replied kindly:

"A request, my boy, a humble request; and I'll take a couple of evening papers, too, I guess," he added, as he received the match from the youngster's hand and passed him a quarter, "and you may keep the change."

"That man's got manners if he's a mind to take the time to use 'em," said the boy, as his patron boarded a car.

"That boy won't always have to sell papers if he practices what he preaches," thought the broker, as he sat down to read the news.—Youth's Companion.

A Russian Telephone.

According to L'Electicien, of Paris, a Russian scientist has invented a telephone far superior to anything hitherto used. With it a man may talk to more than one of his friends at a time, provided they are all in the same room, for it is not necessary to stand near the receiver in order to hear the sound. The voice issues from a metallic funnel, and may be heard at some distance. The new telephone has other advantages. Sounds transmitted through it lose very little of their intensity by reason of distance. In experiments made between Moscow and Rostoff, a distance of eight hundred and seventy miles, speech, songs and music could be clearly heard. A large number of official people were present at the experiments, and the official report was full of praise of the new telephone.

HOW TO FIND OUT

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's wa-m-root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention THE REGISTER and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

COURSING LIZARDS.

The Amusement of a Tame Eagle in the Arizona Desert.

In the April St. Nicholas, Wolcott Le Clear Beard writes of "Moses: a Tame Eagle," which was one of his pets while he was engaged in engineering in southern Arizona. Mr. Beard says: He was very fond of the lizards with which these plains abounded, and one large variety, called "swifts" from their remarkable speed in running, seemed to be specially coveted. Whenever one of these was caught, which was not often, Moses would be brought out, and after the swift had taken ten feet start, would be set free. The lizard would promptly resolve itself into a white streak across the desert, and screaming with excitement, half running, half flying, Moses would pursue, followed by the laughing crowd, of which only those on horseback had much chance of keeping up. It was in no sense a cruel sport; it amused Moses and us, and didn't hurt the swift, for he got away every time, and if the feelings of our pet were a trifle injured, as he returned, perched on some one's wrist or saddle-horn, from his fruitless hunt, these were speedily soothed by the prompt gift of a nice bit of fresh beef, so no one was the worse. The lizards, however, he seemed to view as a sort of dessert, and, as he could absorb an unlimited quantity, they were always in demand. A certain stick kept on the veranda of our office was generally under his eye; and when any one picked this up and started for a walk across the desert, Moses would hop gravely along behind, sure that some of his favorite dainties would soon be forthcoming. Of course, Moses was perfectly well able to catch the smaller kinds of lizards for himself, but there was less exertion in allowing some one else to do it for him; and exertion, at this period of his life, was a thing to which Moses was violently opposed. These occasions were almost the only ones when he would be silent for any length of time; for he seemed to understand perfectly that at the first note of his voice every lizard within hearing would run for its life to the nearest refuge; and only when a blow of the stick failed for the second or third time to reach its mark would he give utterance to his deep disgust at such clumsiness.

A Man Who is Tired

All the time, owing to impoverished blood, should take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify and enrich his blood and give him vitality and vigor.

This condition of weakness and lack of energy is a natural consequence of the coming warmer weather, which finds the system debilitated and the blood impure.

A good spring medicine is a necessity with almost everyone. Hood's Sarsaparilla is what the millions take in the spring. It's a great power to purify and enrich the blood and build up health is one of the facts of common experience.

Witty and Good.

The second wife of Dr. Edward Hodges, long the organist of Trinity Church, New York, was a Miss Moore, of New York, a woman of fine mind and fascinating conversation. Like many a devoted wife, she had to remember that before her marriage she had laughed a little at the man who was to be her husband. She was at once attracted by his appearance and his dress, and yet her first comment upon him was a ruthless one. She had met him at the gate of her cousin, Dr. Clement Moore.

"Who is he?" she asked, going in. "Why, Sarah," said her cousin, "that is the great Doctor Hodges!"

"Dear me!" returned she, "I thought it was an old Scotch peddler!" And when she was married to him, she ventured to pun upon his profession and called him her "old English peddler." Another title given him by her ever-ready tongue was "the ineffable Hodges," because she loved "Hodges in F" more than any other service he ever used. Their marriage was one of the greatest happiness, for clever as she was in the intellectual side of life, her character shone brightest in the daily walks of home. She was one of those who are always giving without stopping to think whether they receive, and her reward was the constant tribute of daily love.

The neglect of a cold is often fatal. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the soothing virtues of the pine. Never fails to cure.

A Wonderful Sign

A writer signs, in regard to the Prussia of fifty years ago, that it had a state lottery, and in every town, large or small, was a collector, appointed to sell the tickets. One day a servant-girl came to the collector in Hagen, and asked if she could buy No. 23. He did not have it in his possession, but as the girl seemed very much in earnest and refused to be put off with any other number, he tried to obtain it from some of the other collectors in town, and finally succeeded. The drawing took place, and Hagen rose to a state of feverish excitement when it was known that this girl had become a winner of a large sum of money. She found herself, for a time, the chief object of interest in the town. She was, of course, asked how she came to fix upon No. 23. Thereupon she gave this simple and lucid explanation: "I dreamed one night No. 7, and a second night I dreamed No. 7, and a third night again. So I thought, 'Three times seven makes twenty-three,' and I bought that number!"

ONE MAN'S SUFFERING.

The Trials and Tribulations of a Battle Creek Citizen—How He Comes to Tell This Story.

(From the Battle Creek Moon.)

Among the moulders at the works of the Michigan foundry company can be found Mr. Amos Maynard; he has lived in Battle Creek for over ten years, is honored and respected by all who know him; such is the man who makes this statement, he says: "I have had kidney trouble for years, and it has made my life miserable. The heavy lifting, necessary in my business, made me worse. I have been compelled to lie in bed in a helpless condition for as long as nine days at a time; the greatest pain was from my back, which sometimes felt as though a bayonet was being run through me in the region of my kidneys; many citizens of Battle Creek knew how bad I was. I could not move without the greatest caution, for as soon as I attempted to stoop over, bend to one side, or even turn in bed, the pain was simply unbearable. I wore porous plaster constantly for the little temporary relief they brought me. Whenever I caught the slightest cold it went straight to my kidneys and made me worse. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got some. I have taken in all four boxes of them, and I now feel as active as ever. A few months ago I would have ridiculed the idea of being cured so quickly, and being able to work as I can now. All the long-standing pains are gone, and the former traces of kidney disorders found in my urine have disappeared. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many friends who were troubled as I was, and in every case I have learned they proved as beneficial as with me. Doan's Kidney Pills would be cheap to me at almost any price." For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

European Degeneracy.

Statisticians of Europe view with increasing alarm the sociological fact of the steady decrease of the number of births in all the European nations. This fact, while little known, is very remarkable, because it is one of the symptoms of "degeneration," that bugaboo of modern physiologists, who declare that a constant decrease of population of all the civilized nations may confidently be expected.

The figures given below are obtained from the most reliable authorities in each country and compare the birth rates of 1876 with those of 1896 per thousand of the population:

	1876.	1896.	De-crease.
Hungary	45.8	42.5	3.3
Germany	40.9	36.7	4.2
Austria	40.0	36.2	3.8
Italy	39.2	36.6	2.6
Netherlands	37.1	33.8	3.3
England and Wales	36.3	30.8	5.5
Scotland	35.0	31.0	4.0
United Kingdom	34.8	30.8	4.0
Belgium	33.2	29.5	3.7
Switzerland	32.8	28.5	4.3
Sweden	30.8	27.0	3.8

How She Knew.

A Memphis woman observed that her husband, when questioned, always promptly replied that he had mailed her letters and it occurred to her that he remembered too promptly. In order, therefore, to test his veracity, she asked him a few days ago: "Did you mail my letter, Jim?"

"Oh, yes," he answered at once, without taking his eye from the paper he was reading.

"You are sure you mailed it?" she said, smiling rather curiously at him. "Of course I did," he answered, looking up.

"Oh, no, you didn't," said she. "I know you didn't."

"I'd like to know how you can tell whether I did or not," he said.

"Easy enough," she replied, with a triumphant smile. "I never gave you any letter to mail."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

In spite of moderate improvement in most of the great industries, business is disappointing. Expectations of the speedy end of the war in Europe through Turkish victory have helped to depress grain. Demands of Austria and China have caused exports of $2,500,000 gold, merchandise imports are greatly increased, and final action of congress on the revenue question seems more remote. The exports of gold would not have much influence if there were not an extraordinary increase in merchandise imports and some decrease in exports from New York, large for the past week and a per cent for April. Imports have increased about 60 per cent over last year for the week and for the past four weeks have been 30 per cent greater. The thought that this abnormal increase may continue as long as action on the tariff bill is deferred affects exchange.

WHIPPING POST IN BOSTON.

Even Women Were Not Spared Public Chastisement.

Alice Morse Earle, in an article on "Punishments of Bygone Days," in the Chap-Book, after giving John Taylor the Water Poet's rhymed description of corporal punishment in London, explains how rapidly flogging came into use in Boston. The whipping post was speedily in full force in Boston. At the session of the court held Nov. 30, 1630, one man was sentenced to be whipped for stealing a loaf of bread, another for shooting fowl on the Sabbath, another for swearing, another for leaving a boat "without a pilot." Then we read of John Pease that for "stryking his mother and deryding her he shalbe whipt." Lying, swearing, taking false toll, perjury, selling rum to the Indians—all were punished by whipping. Pious regard for the Sabbath was fiercely upheld by the support of the whipping post. In 1643 Roger Scott, for "repeated sleeping on the Lord's day" and for striking the person who waked him from his godless slumber, was sentenced to be severely whipped. Women were not spared public chastisement. "The gift of prophecy" was at once subdued in Boston by lashes, as was unwomanly carriage.

THE SECRET.

How Doctors Protect Themselves From Contagious Diseases.

Doctors rarely catch contagious diseases. Almost everybody knows this, but few know how they escape. Many believe that the doctor has some charm or antiseptic which protects him. Dr. Hartman lately made the truth of this matter public, that all might realize its benefit.

Contagious diseases are conveyed by minute organisms known as disease germs. These germs find their entrance into the system through the mucous membrane. If the mucous membrane is healthy they can not get into the system. If the mucous membrane is affected by catarrh the germs find easy access. Catarrhal secretions furnish exactly the material upon which they thrive and multiply. To get rid of the catarrh, and thus preserve the mucous membrane healthy, is the only way to be safe from contagious diseases. This explains why it is that some people catch diseases easier than others. Every one is exposed just the same. Not every one, however, falls a victim to contagious diseases. A disease germ can not enter the system through a perfectly healthy mucous membrane. Doctors know this, and therefore guard against it. This is all the secret there is about it.

The best cure or preventive known to the medical profession up-to-date for catarrh in all its conditions is Pe-runa. During the uncertain weather of spring time it is an unnecessary hazard for any one to neglect to guard himself from taking disease, by taking Pe-runa.

Send for free catarrh book. Address: The Pe-runa Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio.

No Kissing in Japan.

No kissing ever occurs in Japan, even between husband and wife—and even between a mother and child; no shaking of hands in salutation. If one were to offer a kiss to a Japanese maiden, she would probably think she was going to be bitten.

Dinners at the White House.

Ex-President Harrison asserts that state dinners cannot be wholly divested of the repression and stiffness which are the accompaniments of all state affairs. "There is no opportunity for general conversation," he writes in the Ladies' Home Journal, "and the chef and your neighbor at table have your fate in their hands. But there are many other dinners and luncheons to which the elect and the congruous come; and twenty such, seated about the round table in the private dining-room, make a goodly and a heartsome company. These are the dinners that ensure the supreme test—you think well, of your host and of the company when you wake up."

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION.

Circumstances That Kept Cleveland from Hendricks' Funeral.

Behind the law of Presidential succession is a curious chapter of unwritten history. It was told today by a Missourian, who has been for many years a trusted official of the United States senate. He explains fully an incident, almost forgotten now, but once the cause of much criticism of President Cleveland. Until ten years ago the law was that the President pro tempore of the senate succeeded to the Presidential office in the event of the death or incapacity of both President and Vice-President. In the absence of a President pro tempore, the succession devolved upon the speaker. But either of these officers only acted as President until congress could be convened on twenty days' notice and a special election could be held. Early in the first term of Mr. Cleveland, Vice-President Hendricks died at his home in Indianapolis. A situation which was without precedent existed. Up to the time of his sickness Mr. Hendricks had prevented the senate from electing a President pro tempore. He had been able to do this by declining to vacate the chair and to recognize that privilege. The senate was Republican by a narrow majority. The Vice-President, having some political advantage in mind by so doing, steadfastly refused to let the Republicans organize. When he died there was no President pro tempore. The death occurred between the dissolution of one congress and the regular session of the next congress. There was no speaker. At the White House President Cleveland was completing his preparations to go to Indianapolis to attend the funeral. Senator Edmunds was at the capital, busy in his committee room. The suggestion came to his mind: What would happen if the President should be killed or be rendered unfit for duty by an accident on this contemplated journey to Indianapolis?

"Senator Edmunds," said the Missourian, "was much disturbed. The more he thought of the peculiar possibilities the graver the situation seemed to him. He asked me to find some other senators and send them to him. Only two were about the capital. They were soon closeted with Mr. Edmunds. He told them his opinion of the situation. He said that if anything should happen to Mr. Cleveland the country would be without a head. There would be no one with even the temporary authority to call an extraordinary session of congress. It would be impossible to take any step. No special election could be ordered. There would be no relief from the confusion until the regular date for the assembling of congress came round in December. Until the senate chose a President pro tempore and the house elected a speaker, nobody could perform any of the duties of President."

"The law then relating to Presidential succession was laid before the other senators. The anomalous condition had not occurred to them. They agreed at once that Senator Edmunds was right. When he suggested that under the circumstances the President ought to be specially careful they approved the suggestion. As the result of the conference Senator Edmunds came out and asked me to get a carriage for him. He rode direct to the White House and told Mr. Cleveland he must not go to Indianapolis. He went over the ground, showing the President that if an accident happened to him the country would be left without an executive for months, until December came. The President was astonished. He had not had the slightest realization of how much depended on his life at that time. He acknowledged the force of Senator Edmunds' argument, immediately cancelled the orders for transportation and remained in Washington."

There was much criticism over the failure of Mr. Cleveland to be present at the Hendricks obsequies. The newspapers couldn't understand the apparent lack of consideration. The President said nothing. This is the first time the circumstances of the senatorial conference and of Senator Edmunds' hurried visit to the White House have been told. As soon as congress convened after Mr. Hendricks' death Senator Edmunds fathered and pushed to enactment a bill which made impossible the repetition of such a crisis. The law of succession now is such that a vacancy in the office of President of the United States is beyond all probability. If the President dies the Vice-President takes the office and holds it to the end of the term. If both the President and the Vice-President die, the Secretary of State succeeds. Succession falls in turn upon the members of the cabinet, including the Secretary of Agriculture.

Thrifty to the Last.

An old Lancashire miller, noted for his keenness in matters financial, was once in a boat trying his best to get across the stream which drove the mill. The stream was flooded, and he was taken past the point at which he was waited to land; while, farther on, misfortune still further overtook him, to the extent that the boat got upset. His wife, realizing the danger he was in, ran frantically along the side of the stream, crying for help in a pitiful voice; when, to her sheer amazement, she was suddenly brought to a standstill by her husband yelling out: "If I'm drowned, Polly, don't forget that flour is gone up 2 shillin' a sack!"

TIRED SALESWOMEN.

Employers Should Be More Considerate of Their Health.

Interesting Statement by a Young Lady in Brooklyn.

In the vast retail establishments of large cities, many women are employed as saleswomen.

Men formerly held the positions that women now hold, and while women's organization is less strong than men's they are expected to do the same work. Their duties compel them to be on their feet from morning to night, and many of them, in a short time, contract these distressing complaints called "female diseases."

Then occur irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhoea, general debility and nervous prostration.

They are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness.

In such cases there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following is a sample:

"My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—After writing you, and before your answer came, I was too miserable to go to the store, and so lost my position. That was five weeks ago. I am now back again in my old place, and never felt so well in all my life. The bearing-down pains and whites have left me, and I am not a bit nervous or blue. Life looks brighter to me. I don't get tired, my temper is real sweet, and I could scream right out sometimes for joy. Your Vegetable Compound is my stand-by. You don't know how thankful I am to you for saving me from suffering. Every woman in my position should know of your wonderful remedy. I never saw you, but I love you for being so good to me."—E. W. DRUNK FROM LOSS OF SLEEP.

Results of a Scientific Test Upon Subjects Kept Awake Ninety Hours.

Experiments to test the effect of continued sleeplessness is the latest exploit of science, says the New York Journal. Prof. H. C. Warren of Princeton university in a paper describes the findings of Prof. Patrick and Dr. Gilbert of the university of Iowa on the effects of the loss of sleep. Those who have missed their normal rest for several nights in succession feel a lassitude and a sort of depressing interest in life. They behave queerly and seem to lose an equitable judgment of things. Events seem out of proportion and often ordinary occurrences appear to go zigzag. This is the sleepless "jag," and its hallucinations are as marked as those of a man carrying an overload of liquor. Three normal subjects composed of instructors and hence men not easily susceptible to influence were tested by Prof. Patrick and Dr. Gilbert. They were kept awake for a period of ninety hours without resort to stimulants or other physiological means. During the four days and three nights of the test they were engaged, as far as possible, in their usual occupations. Their meals were at the usual hours. After the second night the first subject suffered curious visual phantasies. He complained that the floor was covered with a greasy looking, molecular layer of rapidly moving particles. They worried him almost to desperation. Often this layer seemed to him a foot above the floor and parallel with it and it caused him tremendous trouble, as he stumbled about and tried to step on it. He staggered and tumbled, but he couldn't get a sure footstep. He would try to walk on space, thinking the floor was a foot above where it was, and when his efforts met disaster he seemed sorely distressed. Later the air was full of these dancing particles, which developed into swarms of little bodies like knots but colored red, purple or black. They gyrated, it seemed to the subject, in great glee, and he frequently climbed upon a chair to brush them from about the gas jet. This amused him greatly. Especially was he entertained by the various colors in which he saw the little troopers as they drove about him in countless hordes.

WHAT THE MINE BOSS KNOWS.

Nowadays a Colliery Manager Must Have a Smattering of the Sciences.

The subjects, in addition to the three R's, which intending colliery managers should endeavor to get a thorough knowledge of, says Science and Art in Training, are as follows: 1. Geology, which gives them a knowledge of the rocks forming the earth and the formations in which coal is found; also of the faults, dikes, washouts, etc., which interrupt the continuation of coal seams. 2. Boring and sinking, a knowledge of which is required in opening new royalties and in searching for coal seams that have been disclosed by faults, etc. 3. The practical working of mines, which enables them to lay out a mine on the most advantageous systems of working, hauling and drainage. 4. Principles of mechanics, which enables them to know the strength of beams, girders, ropes and chains required for different kinds of work; also the horse power of engines required for winding, hauling and pumping certain quantities of water. 5. Steam, compressed air by electricity; the properties of steam and the principles of the steam engine enable them to use steam economically and to the best advantage and to superintend the erection of engines and be a help to them in purchasing new engines; compressed air, which enables them to know the advantage of it over steam for driving, drilling and coal-cutting machines; electricity, so that they may know something of the advantages of electric signaling and lighting and of the transmission of power for long distances. 6. Mine ventilation, gases, coal dust, lighting of mines, explosives and blasting; a thorough knowledge of these, if properly carried out, insures the safe working of a mine and will considerably reduce the causes of explosions. 7. Surveying, because the manager is responsible for the plans to be produced to the inspector and for his workings trespassing into other royalties and for leaving sufficient coal under surface erections, etc. 8. The coal mines regulation act, which should be well understood to comply with the act in all its details for safety. 9. And last, but not least, he must study mankind, so as to be able to deal properly with and manage men of all shades of opinion.

CLOUDBURST IN OKLAHOMA.

Awful Devastation and Nearly 100 Dead at Guthrie and El Reno.

Following quickly upon a storm of cyclonic proportions, a mighty wall of water six feet high and a mile wide, caused by a cloudburst, rushed upon West Guthrie, Okla., with a frightful roar, sweeping all before it with a fury that was resistless. Death rode rampant on the wave and scores of people were whirled away by the merciless flood. The number who lost their lives will not be known for weeks but it is thought that over 60 people were drowned.

Every movable thing was swept before the deluge which passed on into the valley with resistless force, wreaking terrible destruction to life and property wherever it reached. Hundreds of houses were wrecked; for miles farms were completely ruined, bridges and tracks were washed out, and railway traffic in every direction brought to a standstill.

It is believed that great loss of life has also occurred south of Guthrie, along the Cottonwood river. Many farm houses in that district are reported to have been swept away.

At El Reno the death list is not large, but a great amount of property was destroyed.

"That will do."

"All right. Fond of flowers, eh?"

Smiles Irradiate the Countenance.

When those atrocious bodily troubles, chills and fever, dyspepsia, kidney or rheumatic disorders, yield, as they invariably do, to the benign action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a remedy of comprehensive use, pure in composition, unobjectionable to a delicate palate, and thorough in effects. Sick headache, loss of appetite, flesh and sleep, nausea, heartburn, are among the physical annoyances obviated by the Bitters. They are in the nature of signals of distress displayed by a disordered stomach, liver and bowels, and disappear with the cause that produced them. But these signals should be heeded at once. Then the woe begone look of chronic ill health will speedily disappear, and vigor and comfort restore a cheerful aspect to the face. That faithful index to the condition of the system never fails to wear a look of sunshine when the Bitters is used to dispel the cloud.

Confessions of the theft of hams, chickens, etc., have been lively and still the good work goes on.

The Riceville valley in the state of S. Luis Potosi, Mexico, was visited by a terrific hail storm, which not only ruined the growing crops, but caused great loss of life. Reports have been received of the killing of 41 persons by hailstones. On one hacienda alone 12 farm hands were killed. Some of the hailstones weighed over three pounds.

DIGNITY OF DINING.

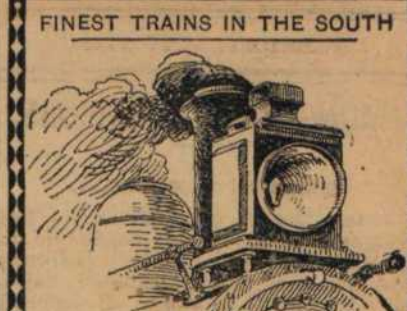

Some 200 or 300 years ago Italy led in cooking and France laughed and mocked at the Italian devotion to the science of the kitchen. Then came days in France when masters of the art of cooking, such as Bechameil, serving Louis the Magnificent, and Vatel, the famous steward of the prince de Conde, ruled over the dinner table, and great ladies thought it no indignity to prepare a favorite dish.

The princess of Soubise invented the soup now called after her, while the princess of Conde gave her name to a particular mode of serving a breast of mutton. The duchess of Mailly, vying with her, invented a special way of dressing a leg of the animal. Louise de la Valliere was skilled in the culinary art.

Mme. de Maintenon became so alarmed at the delight of Louis XIV. over the breast of mutton a la Conde that she called in Pere La Chaise and Pere Duillet, and the trio evolved the duck au Douillet; this dish is famous in history as the means of weaning the susceptible monarch from the princess de Conde to the triumphant Maintenon.

Moderation in manner of eating and choice of food has not always characterized men of history. Both Napoleon I. and Carlyle are said to have ruined their digestions and tempers by rapid eating. On the other hand, the care with which Gladstone partakes of the viands set before him has been acknowledged over and over again as one of the greatest factors which has worked to prolong his life.

Probate Register. 69

Rep. Chamberlain's bill was agreed to in the House committee of the whole, to prohibit prize fights, glove contests, sparring matches, or any form of pugilistic encounter or exhibition; also the reproduction of the same by the biograph, vitascope, kinetoscope or any kindred device or machine. An attempt was made by the opponents of the bill to include foot ball games in the bill but this was knocked out as was a move to prohibit newspapers publishing accounts of prize fights. The Williams election bill, providing that persons who cannot read the English language may select any elector to aid them in casting their vote, instead of being guided by election inspectors, as at present, was killed in the House committee of the whole. Another bill which was "laid out" in the House was the one appropriating $11,000 for farmers' institutes, and the farmer members themselves did the killing. It will probably be reconsidered. The Senate passed the following bills: Appropriating $115,000 for the Michigan college of mines; to permit sureties on bonds given by executors, administrators, guardians or trustees, to appear in probate court in opposition to the allowance of accounts of such executors, guardians, etc.; requiring judges of probate to give notice to foreign consuls of an application for administration of the estate of deceased persons; for the appointment of guardians of persons who are habitually addicted to the use of narcotic or noxious drugs, and for habitual drunkards; providing that when factory inspectors order improvements to factories the expense of the same shall be borne by the owner and not the tenant; permitting telephone stock to be issued in $10 shares; providing an automatic bell signal at railroad crossings; appropriating $7,500 for improvements at the Ionia asylum. The House resolution to adjourn May 31 did not meet the approval of the Senate and was tabled.

The House killed the Clute local option bill for the reorganization of township road districts, and providing rates of taxation and methods of collection for township highway purposes. In committee of the whole the House agreed to the bill providing for the interchange of the products of various institutions, benevolent, penal and reformatory, to be managed by a commission to be comprised of one member from each institution's board of control. Rep. Lee's bill to amend the general election law so as to provide for canvassing the vote for presidential electors, which was unaccountably omitted from the law of two years ago, was agreed to, but the Shisler bill to change the present system of taxing dogs to a license system was killed. Edgar's bill to emasculate third term convicts and inmates of the home of the feeble-minded and epileptic, was made a special order for May 12, and tax lien bills for May 13. The Clark-Fuller bill protecting primary elections by subjecting any person to a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both, who votes at a primary election when he is not an elector, was discussed by the House and then referred to the committee on elections. The Senate adopted resolutions of sympathy and condolence for Senator H. B. Coleman, of Kalamazoo, in the loss of his little son, and then adjourned.

There is a Class of People
Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRANO made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost $\frac{1}{2}$ as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c and 25 cents per package. Try it. Ask for GRANO.

Had Her Fixed.
Dobkins—You don't seem to be in any hurry about going home to-night, old boy. Fogg—No; the fact is I shall find my wife in angelic temper, no matter how late it is. She was going to a fortune-teller this afternoon. Dobkins—Yes? Fogg—Don't you see? I went there before and gave the fortune-teller a five. Of course Mrs. F. will ask about me and of course I shall get my $5's worth. See?—Boston Transcript.

Chancery Notice.
STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.
COUNTY OF WASHTENAW.
In the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw.
Maty E. Lapham, vs.
Henry Forshee, Harrison Forshee, Harmon Forshee, Elmer Forshee, Addie Forshee Elwood, Orson Forshee, Thomas Forshee, Charles Forshee, William A. Forshee, Sarah Rider, Ellen Woodard, Ellsworth Packard, Laury Ledyard, Eloise Forshee and Carrie Forshee.
Upon due proof by affidavit that Sarah Rider, one of the above named defendants resides out of the State of Michigan and is a resident of Champaign County, Illinois, and that said defendants, William A. Forshee and Charles Forshee, have each departed from their last known places of residence and their residences can not now be ascertained.
On motion of C. C. Yerkes, solicitor for complainant, ordered that said defendants, Sarah Rider, William A. Forshee and Charles Forshee do each of them appear and answer the bill of complaint filed in this cause within five months from the date of this order confessed and that this order be published within twenty days from its date in THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Washtenaw and be published therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.
Dated, April 28, 1897.

Solicitor for Complainant. (72)

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and potash remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break forth in a more virulent form, resulting in a total wreck of the system.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, a prominent jeweler at 926 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., says: "I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars. My mouth was filled with eating sores; my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly. I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles, I was cured and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. Books on the disease sent free, by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

The English Idea.
The late Henry O. Houghton, the publisher, said that when in England he was asked where he lived, "Near Boston," he replied, "Ah! you probably know some friends of mine who live near Boston." "Where do they live?" "In Atlanta," was the reply.

A Scientific Boon.
Doctor—Just place this thermometer under your tongue, Mrs. Henpeck, and keep your lips closed tightly.

Fixing Cellars for Winter.
Most country cellars require special attention before very cold weather appears. All outside windows and doors will let in frost if they are not covered carefully. These openings can be completely shut, as entrance can be obtained from the inside. American Agriculturist tells that one of the best ways to close the openings is to fill them full of straw tightly packed down. When all has been crowded into the windows that the opening will hold, secure it in place by stakes driven so that the tops touch the wall. After the stakes are in place push straw under them until no more can be crowded in. Straw packed tightly between the inner and outer doors will prevent freezing from this source. Have everything in readiness, but do not stop up windows and doors until it is absolutely necessary. The temperature of the room should be kept near the freezing point, but must not reach it, else some of the canned fruits or tender vegetables will be nipped.

Seven Murderers Lynched on One Tree.
Near Sunnyside, Tex., the home of Henry Daniels, a highly respected Negro farmer, 69 years of age, was found destroyed by fire, and in the smoldering ruins, were the bodies of Daniels, his daughter Mary, aged 17, and his son's little girl, aged 9. It was very evident that they were murdered, and bloodhounds were brought into use and led to a house occupied by a family named Thomas. Fear of the boys were arrested. They were soon induced to confess that they had assaulted the two girls and then murdered the three and burned the house. They implicated Fayette Rhoads, Will Gates and Will Williams who were also arrested. That night a mob overpowered the guards and dragged out the seven murderers, none of whom was over 21 years of age. They were all strung up to one tree and their bodies riddled with bullets.

Burdock Blood Bitters is nature's true remedy for constipation and kindred ills. It acts directly on the bowels, the liver, the skin, and while cleansing the blood imparts strength to the digestive organs.

Good Words for Washington.
Gen. H. V. Boynton, the veteran Washington correspondent, has been for more than thirty years collecting news and writing letters. Few men know so thoroughly as he the inside history of the capital, the white house, and the departments. Being asked what he considered the most important deduction from his experience at Washington, he answered:
The marvelous improvement in the moral atmosphere, and the general tone and honesty of the government. We, the people of the United States, have the most honest government in the world. It is and has been for many years more honest than ever before, and is to-day more honestly and efficiently administered than any private business that I have ever examined. I mean that there is less waste and less defalcation.
Look at the great postal service, for instance. Where in the world will you find any private agency which does so much and does it so well, and at so little cost? And change of parties makes no difference. Thorough honesty is the rule.
The atmosphere of the white house is pure beyond that of any royal residence, and this is the most moral and peaceable city in the United States, if not in the world. It makes me laugh when those good people come from New York and Cincinnati and away out west to help reform Washington.

WHEN TO OPEN THE SILO.

A Progressive Ohio Farmer's Opinions on This Subject of General Interest.
John Gould of Ohio, in a letter to Rural New Yorker, writes on a subject of widespread interest. He expresses himself as follows:
In a general way the answer might be, "Whenever one needs the ensilage to feed." I do not know that there is anything like common agreement in the time of opening silos. If the term may be used, there is a great deal of individuality about silos and their behavior. That they are hot or cold at the time they are opened makes no difference so far as I can see. Sometimes the ensilage, when the pit is opened, is quite cold and another year it will be quite hot. It is simply a matter of the condition of the ferment at that time. So far as the ensilage is concerned the opening makes no difference with the contents three inches below the surface, as the air cannot affect that which is slightly below the immediate surface. I have no "signs" indicating when the ensilage is ready to feed.

When the usual amount of roughage about the farm is fed out in the late fall, I commence at once on the ensilage, uncover the whole pit and feed from the entire surface. A year ago I commenced to feed ensilage Nov. 30, and the year previous nearly three weeks earlier. Some of my neighbors commence feeding the very day that they finish filling the pits, and I cannot see but they have as fine ensilage as do those who cover the ensilage and let it sweat from three to six weeks. Some ensilage will remain hot all winter and some will take on hardy heat enough to make the mass settle as solidly as it should. The truth is I have never seen any ensilage so "young" or so "old" but it could be fed with perfect safety and satisfaction.

The most perfect cover—next to none at all—I have ever had on my silos is this year. After the corn was all in the pits the litter about the machine was run up the carrier and scattered evenly over the surface, well trodden down and this repeated for three or four days or until it had become quite moldy. Then we loosened it up, tread it down, working in a half bushel of oat screenings, distributed a barrel of water evenly over the ensilage and gave it one more treading. The result is that the surface is covered with this decayed ensilage and over it is a fine growth of oats, the roots of which have bound the cover into a regular fiber blanket. If covers are needed—which I still doubt—this one is far in the lead of any I have ever had in my ten years of silo experience.

Keeping Corn in Crib.
During an ordinary season corn can be safely kept in almost any kind of a crib that will prevent the ears touching the ground and keep off the rain. Last year, however, was an exception, and much corn was damaged in pens during the winter and spring. Many ears were found to be rotted by July, and others were soft and unfit for market. To prevent a recurrence of this trouble the Orange Judd Farmer advises as follows:
The pens should this season be built in a dry place. All damaged ears should be thrown in the back end of the wagon bed when husking and picked out before unloading. If allowed to remain, they will not only injure surrounding ears, but may start the entire crib to rotting. If taken out now, they can be used as feed for cattle, and thus be of some value. When husking is completed, cover the rail cribs without delay and see that the cover turns water. If heavy rains should come this fall before the cribs are covered, much injury might result. Only a part of the average corn crop is kept in rail cribs, but this year it will take much extra room, which, in most places, can be easily supplied by the use of fence rails.

Grasses in Prairie Sections.
In prairie sections, and more especially where the summer rainfall is deficient, the most suitable places for permanent pastures of a mixed character are the sloughs and valleys. Blue grass and white clover make these on the higher lands where a variety will not grow so well. Our permanent pastures in the Mississippi valley and westward toward the Rockies should embrace only a few varieties, and they should be made in the lower and moister lands. They may oftentimes include alsike and blue grass. In some instances orchard grass may profitably be added and in others medium red clover, which, however, is soon likely to disappear, since it is short lived. The following proportions may be used per acre, but there may be excellent reasons for varying them:

	Pounds.
Medium red clover	2
Alsike	2
White	1
Timothy	1
Orchard grass	4
Redtop	2

A Great Book Free! When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., published the first edition of his great work, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now giving away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him, at above address, twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent postpaid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Contains 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. The Free Edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.50 except only that the books are in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away.

Dinners That Cost Money. Lucius Lucullus, the Roman general, once gave a dinner at which wine was served costing $20 an ounce. The young pigs eaten were roasted over a fire burning on raisins. Among the select dishes were peacock's tongues, live fish from distant seas, oysters from Britain and fruits from Arabia. The cost of the feast was about $100,000. Caligula also gave a dinner which is said to have cost $500,000. Vitellius, the Roman emperor, gave a dinner costing $200,000. Another dinner by Aulus Verus, a Roman noble, cost $250,000 and Elagabalus one at which a single dish cost $200,000. When George Nevil was installed archbishop of York, in 1470, he gave a feast that cost $150,000. The guests during the day and night of the festival consumed 80 oxen, 300 hogs, 10,000 sheep, 2,000 chickens, 4,000 ducks, 4,000 bucks, does and roebucks, 200 tons of ale, 104 tons of wine and other things in proportion.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Highly Probable. Two Irishmen who had been hearing a talk on Abraham Lincoln at a club to which they had been invited by a prosperous friend, discussed the subject on their homeward way. "It was pretty hard for that woman—that Mrs. Surratt—to have such a sinner passed and executed on herself," said one of them. "It was that," assented the other. "But ye see, there was another President in the chair at the time. If Lincoln himself had been living, ye may take my word for it, not one of them four would have suffered; but it's seldom ye'll find a man with a heart like old Abraham Lincoln's, Pat, and that's the honest truth!"

70 Drowned—Terrible Suffering of Four. The French fishing vessel Valiant, Capt. Pierre, bound from St. Malo for Miquelon, struck an iceberg on the grand banks off Newfoundland, and almost immediately foundered. She had 74 fishermen on board and all took to the boats, but only one of these boats has thus far been heard from. When it left the vessel its complement was seven men. Three of them perished from exposure and hunger. The bodies of the first two were thrown overboard, but the survivors, in their desperation, were driven to cannibalism and ate the third before they were picked up. The survivors are in a shocking condition and so badly frost-bitten that their arms must be amputated.

METEOROLOGY IN INDIA.

Why the Natives Destroyed the Survey Pillars.

Letters which have reached us from Bushire, on the Persian gulf, dated Jan. 9 and containing news which has not yet reached the London Press, show that the Persians are not at all disposed to lay all the blame of the drought on Providence, says the London Standard. Their want of fatalistic consideration has almost created an international incident. The agricultural population of the Bushire district, annoyed at the want of rain, turned their wrath upon the European telegraph department, and especially upon some landmarks which had been erected by Lieut. Cunningham, R. E., about two years ago, on account of the Meteorological survey of India. To these obnoxious landmarks the deficient rainfall was ascribed. The superintendent of telegraphs, besieged in his office by a threatening mob, at once wired to the president that affairs were critical, and H. W. S. Sphinx and the steamer Lawrence were ordered at once to Bushire. Stimulated by this apparition, the governor dispatched troops with a gun against the rioters, but too late, alas! to save from destruction the casus belli, the survey pillars, the erection of which had so exasperated the heavenly powers. Strange to say, heavy rains fell in Bushire and the neighboring districts on Jan. 6, so the people are convinced of the correctness of their superstitions and their action. The ringleaders are less certain, for about twenty of them were soundly bastinadoed by the governor to impress upon them the fact that there is no advantage in propitiating the heavenly authorities unless the earthly powers have been also effectively "squared."

THE 55TH CONGRESS AT WORK

SENATE—33d day—The "free homestead" bill was taken up and caused a warm tilt between Senators Tillman, of South Carolina, and Morgan, of Alabama. The bill releases settlers on public lands acquired from Indians from the payments now required by law, and also gives free homesteads on such lands not now occupied. An amendment was offered by Mr. Morgan giving all public lands, not taken up by homestead entry on Jan. 1, 1900, to the several states and territories for educational purposes. Mr. Tillman insisted that the Morgan proposition meant that one class of states was to gobble up all the lands. The Morgan resolution was later withdrawn. Mr. Morgan also endeavored to secure a vote on the Cuban resolution but it was allowed to go over at the request of Mr. Hale, of Maine. The executive session was devoted largely to the consideration of the Anglo-American arbitration treaty, it being brought up by Senator Morgan who again announced his opposition to the agreement. He spoke at length, maintaining that it was a mistake for this country to enter into such an alliance with Great Britain as was involved in the ratification of the treaty, even in its amended form. HOUSE—Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, made another attack upon Speaker Reed because of the latter's policy of postponing the appointment of committees. Mr. Bailey, Democrat, of Texas, denounced the attacks and Mr. Dingley, Republican, of Maine, tried to cut the Kansas man off in his fiery speech, but the latter continued and Mr. Reed finally challenged Mr. Simpson to propose a resolution instructing the speaker to appoint the committees. The Kansas evaded this challenge, but Mr. Lewis, a Democratic member from Washington, took up the gauntlet and moved the adoption of such a resolution. When the vote was taken the speaker was sustained by practically the solid vote of his party, assisted by 33 Democrats under the leadership of Mr. Bailey. The resolution was defeated, yeas 52, nays 124, present and not voting 13.

CASTORIA. The famous signature of J. H. Hutchins is on every wrapper. BECOMING POPULAR IN EUROPE Demand for American Hardwoods Steadily Growing on the Continent. A significant fact in the industrial world of Europe is the steadily increasing demand for hard woods that are indigenous to the soil of America. As may be supposed, oak leads the foreign shipments, although tulip, poplar, ash, gum and black walnut, whenever a good quality can be secured, are in some demand. European consumers like the quality of American oak, and since it is known to be plentiful here, it will probably be in increasing demand. Cottonwood has been shipped to Germany in considerable quantities, where cheap wood is required for furniture and other uses. Much of this lumber is forwarded from New Orleans, and since a great part of the oak, ash, poplar, cottonwood and other timbers demanded by the foreign market is in the southern states, it is not improbable that lumber for foreign markets will be largely shipped in future from the gulf ports. In speaking of this matter the North-western Lumberman says that the European market requires lumber cut of exact thickness, and of accurate length, trimmed so as to have the butts square and true. Space for piling in the yards of the old world is an object, so that random, uneven lengths are objectionable, and since the foreign buyer insists that he shall have just what he bargains for, quality should be strictly attended to.

Experience proves the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures all forms of blood diseases, tones the stomach, builds up the nerves.

This Bear Moved Mutton. Love of mutton has just proved deadly to a bear down in Williamsport, Pa. Bruin caught sight of a butcher's wagon belonging to William Delong of Cammell. He followed the wagon and presently caught sight of a leg of mutton hanging on the inside. The rear door of the covered wagon was open, and Bruin calmly raised himself into the vehicle and set to work to devour the mutton. Presently, however, one of his great paws struck the lever that closes the door of the wagon and in a second he was a prisoner. Between the seat of the driver of the wagon and the interior of the vehicle is heavy glass. The bear set to work to demolish this and partially succeeded, for he made a hole big enough to stick his head out. He could get no farther, and Delong succeeded in driving four miles to Cammell. When the destination was reached the bear was shot. He weighed 300 pounds.—Detroit Free Press.

Hints to Young Authors. There is but one way for an author to get his wares before the editors, and that is to send his manuscript to the periodical to which he believes it to be best suited. If he deals with the principal publications he can always feel certain of courteous treatment and honest dealings. Prices vary and depend entirely on the value of the material to the periodical. Editors are always glad to examine manuscripts sent to them, and all talk to the contrary notwithstanding, are anxious to discover unknown talent.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Cascarets stimulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Never sickens, weakens, or gripes.

A Strong Skirt Saved Her. A horse dashed down the bridge path in Central park Saturday afternoon, while its rider, a young woman, hung by her skirt from the saddle. Mounted Policeman Ferguson saw the runaway approaching and got his own horse going. As the runaway was opposite him Ferguson rode close in, seized the bride rein and forced the horse toward a rocky wall which skirts the road, stopping him. He then dismounted and lifted the young woman back into her saddle. She said they had been riding with an escort down the path and when opposite Seventy-sixth street a piece of paper blown across the path frightened her horse and it stopped suddenly, unseating her. She dropped the bride reins and would have fallen but her skirt caught on the pommel and held fast. Her horse, which was a nervous animal, commenced to run and her escort was left behind. The young woman was unhurt, but very much frightened. She refused to ride the horse home and a policeman took charge of it. The young persons called a carriage and left the park.—New York Herald.

THE NERVE SYSTEM Is the most delicate and important structure in the human body. It is the seat of our intellect. Strengthens and restores the nerves and disease has lost its most powerful and pernicious ally.

Mayon's Spinal, Blood and Nerve Remedy is prepared especially for the Nerve.

Instantly relieves and permanently cures torturing pains in the head, body or limbs. SLEEPLESSNESS, NERVOUSNESS, LOSS OF NERVE POWER, DIZZINESS, CONFUSION OF THE MIND, etc. Delay is dangerous. Send for valuable treatise

Mrs. M. Quinlan, No. 2720 W. Walnut Street, Louisville, Ky., writes: I think I must have sent your remedy to me. I was bed-ridden with a complication of diseases which finally resulted in complete nerve exhaustion and severe sinking spells, when I first commenced using it. I began improving at once, have used 10 bottles and am now assisting in the care of my home, something I have not done for years. It certainly has helped me when everything else failed.

One agent at Indianapolis, Ind., says: A young man who had been down for three winter months with Rheumatism got so bad last fall that they made his bed in a wagon and brought him to me. He was not able to raise up. After using 5 bottles of your Remedy he is all right again and says, he feels as if he had never been bothered with Rheumatism.

PURE GUARANTEED. Send for circular.
