GREAT CONCOURSE OF PEOPLE PRESENT.

Prominent Catholics Here - The Knights of St. John Present-Numerons Excursions Came to Attend The Exercises-Many People Camea Long Distance - Everything Passed Off as

Sunday was a memorable day for the members of St. Thomas Catholic church and for catholics all over the state. The laying of the corner stone of the magnificent new church was made the occasion of elaborate ceremonies in the presence of an immense concourse of Four excursions were run into the city, three over the Ann Arbor railroad and one over the Michigan Central, while reduced rates were the means of attracting many persons from as far as Kalamazoo. The day opened rainy and this continued until the middle of the day, the result of which was to reduce the attendance of out-of-town visitors to less than one-half what it would otherwise have been. By noon the sky was almost clear and the sun shown brightly, making the remainder of the day very delightful. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Detroit delegation arrived, about 200 in number, together with Bishop Rademacher and his escort of forty uniformed Knights of St. John a squad picked from the several commanderies of the order in Detroit. The parade at once formed and, headed by a band marched up State to Huron, then west on Huron to Division and then north on Division to Kingsley then to the new building. In the parade were twenty-five uniformed Catholic Knights of America, trom Toledo, the uniformed Knights of St. John from Detroit, and the marching members of the Catholic Mutual Benefit associations from Toledo, Ypsilanti, Owosso, Detroit, Jackson, Monroe, Ann Arbor and other places, followed by the visiting church dignitaries in carriages.

The corner stone laying took place after the parade at the south front of the church. The stone with its accustomed contents was put in place by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Rademacher, of Fort Wayne, Ind., assisted by Fathers Sullivan and Coyle, of Detroit, both of whom are children of St. Thomas parish. Following the formal laying of the stone the Very Rev. Dr. A. Morrissey, president of the university of Notre Dame, preached a very able and eloquent sermon taking as his text the words of St. John, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, ver believed in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.' After the sermon an opportunity was given the great crowd to inspect the portion of the building so far completed.

All that is expected this season is to get the walls up and the roof on. Next summer, it is believed, the interior may be completed and the building be ready for dedication early in the fall.

YPSILANTI BICYCLE MEET.

June 10-11, 1897.

The Ypsilanti meet of the L. A. W. series of bicycle races is to take place June 10 and 11. The Maccabee band will furnish music for the two days.

Mr. F. Giddings, the famous trick rider, will give exhibitions of his skill. Such noted men as Fred Schrein, of Toledo, T. J. McIntyre, of Cleveland, W. H. Peltier, of Fort Wayne, and the American team, of Grand Rapids, including Tinkham, Thayer, Jacobs, and Keef will be on hand, and it is reasonably expected that the record of Ypsilanti track will be cut down to below two minutes. $200 in gold will be given to the professional events; $260 in diamonds to the amateur events and many handsome prizes, which have been donated by the Ypsilanti merchants, to the local events. Mr. Glen D. Stewart, Referee and Edward C. Tryon, Clerk of the Course, each professional men in his line, will have active management at this meeting, insuring fair dealing and courteous treatment to all who enter the track. The various committees of the Ypsilanti boys are donating their services, and the meeting will be carried on with as little expense as possible. It is hoped that with good weather there will be cleared from $250 to $300. Every penny of this money is to be used for constructing a cinder path between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

When once this path is completed from Ypsilanti and the path from Ann o'clock. Reports received from Washington last night appounce that the objection made by the Turkish Government to President Angell have all been explained away and that Dr. Angell will probably leave Saturday for his new post of Bicycle Path Airight.

Work on the bicycle path to Whitmore Lake shows that first-class work is being done by the contractor, under the supervision of ex-Mayor Walker. Already the grading is completed from the bridge to the top of the long hill and although the surface is not yet rolled thoroughly smooth the wheeling on the new track is fairly good. Even as it is now one may ascend the hill with comparative ease. Once the path is well beaten it will require scarcely any extra effort to make this part of the run to Whitmore, the portion which hibits sale of liquor to students," say A course of free lectures, similar to heretofore has kept many wheelman they never heard of any such law in from making the trip. When the entire path is finished and a coating of einder put upon the surface the run to Whitmore will certainly become a very popular one with wheelmen.

NEW LIGHTING PLANT.

Legislature Votes $20,000 for that Purpose-Plant Will be Installed this Summer.

The Senate Bill appropriating $20,-000 for an electric light plant for the University came up before the house at Lansing last Thursday. The bill was ably championed in that body by Representatives Sawyer, Lusk and Stoneman. All the opposition there was to the bill was based upon the hard times and the fact that the people of the state did not want additional taxation. Rep. Sawyer, however, showed that the passage of the bill would in a very few years enable the state to more than save the entire amount to be appropriated by the bill. When the final ballot was taken the vote stood 59 in favor of the appropriation to 34 against it. Secretary Wade says that work will be begun at once and the plant be ready for use when school opens in the President Augell at Home. President Angell arrived home from Washington early Sunday morning. He had been here but a few hours before newspaper reporters began to besiege him in regard to the rumor that the Turkish government had refused to receive him as an ambassador. President Angell, however, had nothing to say on the subject referring all interviewers to the State Department at Washington for imformation. It seems that Dr. Angell granted an interview to a party in Chatanooga while he was on his trip south, he having been led to believe that what he said would be held as strictly confidential. It turned out that the supposed friend was a newspaper man who did not treat the matter as confidential and published the interview. This placed Pres. Angell in a most embarrassing position, and it is believed was the cause of the Turkish government making the inquiries it did in reference to the attitude of Dr. Angell on certain important questions which were sure to come up in his capacity as Minister to that country. Pres. Angell does not propose to be caught again and hence does not have a word for a single one of the numerous reporters who call. As nearly as may be learned all reports that Mr. Angell will not go to Turkey are based upon the merest rumors which cannot be relied upon in the least.

They were making up the budget for the state taxes to be raised for that period will be $4,377,398, providing the governor signs all the appropriation bills. This is a saving of $705,059 over the taxes imposed on the state by the preceding legislature for the two years 1895 and 1896. To this saving may be added the estimated increase in returns from the railroads under the Merriam bill, $205,000; to this may also be added $38,431 increase in taxes from the Michigan Central railroad, and it gives a grand total of saving in taxes to the people of $948,490 over 1895-6. PHYSICIANS FAILED TO AGREE ON THE CASE.

After Years of Suffering the Patient Takes up His Own Case and a Cure is Effected in a few Weeks-This is a Wonderful Remedy.

A CASE CITED OF BLOOD STAGNATION.

From the Times, Vassar, Mich. Michigan has been the home of Arthur H. Thomas for twenty-six years, and he is known in Edmore, Bad Axe, Bay City and Vassar as an honest, pains-taking, conscientious workman. Since coming to Vassar, Mr. Thomas has been engaged in the making of boots and shoes, and has gained for himself an enviable place in the confidence of his employers and patrons, as is attested by his general popularity. Observing a most radical change in the personal appearance of Mr.

county.

From the Courier-Herald, Sugmaw, Mich.

Hearing that Mrs. C. Heath, of this city, had been greatly benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, a reporter of the Courier-Herald called at the residence of the lady, 127 South Sixth Street, for the purpose of inquiring and ascertaining the extent to which she had been benefited, so that the public might be informed of the case and others similarly affected might learn of a remedy which would relieve their sufferings, as this paper desires, when a remedy which does good to suffering humanity is discovered, to make the matter public, so that all may derive benefit if they desire to do so.

The reporter was ushered into the house change in the personal appearance of Mr. Thomas since his residence here, a representative of the Times called on that gentleman who said in response to our inquiry:

"Your remark regarding my clear, smooth skin and general appearance calls to my mind vividily a very important circumstance in my life, which I think many of your readers will appreciate your philanthrophy in publishing. It's not a long story, but it means considerable to me, for it marks the dawn of a new life. I am now in my twenty-seventh year, and since about fifteen years of age I have been afflicted with what most of my attending physicians have called eczema—a skin disease, and a name which does not convey to the average person the true suffering it carries.

"My face first broke out in small sores, next my back, then my arms, until almost every part of my entire body was covered so thickly that you could scarcely place the point of a lead pencil upon my flesh without striking a sore spot. My sufferings gradually increased as the disease attained age, the tortures of which no tongue or pen could describe. First I consulted physicians of unquestioned repute at Edmore, and after following their instructions and taking their.

Mrs. Heath herself, who, in answer to his inquiries, said she had received benefit from the use of Pink Pills. She said, however, that her sister could tell the story better than could she, and called that lady, Miss Emma Gunner, for that purpose. Miss Gunner said that her sister, who was troubled with what the doctors said was stagnation of the blood, which would lead to paralysis, had been much benefited by the use of Pink Pills. She had been in an almost helpless condition, her right leg being so affected that she had no control over it at times. Frequently, when eating, her knife or fork would fall from her grasp on the table or floor. She began taking Pink Pills about five years ago, and was much benefited by the use of Pink Pills, she had been much benefited by the use of Pink Pills, she had been in an almost helpl describe. First I consulted physicians of unquestioned repute at Edmore, and after following their instructions and taking their medicines as directed, I gave it up, because I obtained no relief.

"I was next recommended to a practitioner in Bad Axe, for whom a friend claimed great success in skin diseases, and I resolved to seek his aid. He pronounced my case a most severe one, and prescribed for me, but after a long time failed to give relief. I was now undergoing most exerciating tortures; dry and parched apmy skin was, I could obtain no rest at night from the honrid plague, I tried blood medicines by the score, and as a last resort placed myself in charge of another physician at Bad Axe who disagreed with the others in pronouncing my case scrofula in its worst form.

"His treatment, however, did me no good, and after going to Bay City in charge of another physician who also failed to allay my sufferings, I took the advice of a Finconning friend whose wife had been greatly distressed from the same causes, and began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. When I reached Vassar I went to H. E. Harrison's drug store and there bought a box of the pills. The first box so thoroughly cleansed my system of its impurities that before I had taken all the pills I began to resume my natural sleep. Before completing the second box, my face and body became free from blotches, the sores disappeared and I was as well as I ever was. No, sir, I carant speak too highly of Pink Pills, and heartily recommend them to all afflicted as I was. They cured me when all other medicines and physicians failed."

Shall hearth corroborated the statements of blood medicine.

Mrs. Heath corroborated the statements of think the pills were a cure-all, she knew think the pills were a cure-all, she knew think the pills were a cure-all, she knew then sister, and added that while she did not think the pills were a cure-all, she had been pre-acted to terrible headaches, and been pre-acted the statements of think the pills were a cure-al

THE 55TH CONGRESS AT WORK

SENATE. -42d day. - The galleries were again crowded to hear the Cuban debate which was opened by Mr. Mason, of Illinois, in favor of the Morgan recognition resolution. He pictured in fervid terms the distress in Cuba, condition of 800 United States citizens, as reported by the President, and called upon the Senate to throw off its lethargy and pass the Morgan resolution. Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, in his usual calm and dignified style took occassion to deride buncombe appeals to constituents and braggadocio as to our national strength. Senators Gallinger and Hawley also spoke, the former for the resolution and the latter urging that the United States should not rush into war while our coast defenses are manifestly inadequate. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan was recognized for a speech, but postponed it for the day. House. - No session. SENATE.-43d day.-The Cuban debate was continued with a series of red-hot speeches by Senators Foraker, of Ohio; Cannon, of Utah; Lindsay, of Kentucky, and Hoar, of Massachusetts. It was the first speech of any length made by Mr. Foraker since he entered the Senate. He announced some startling facts regarding the past and present condition of affairs in Cuba which had been obtained from the heretofore secret archives of the state department. Especially interesting was the letter from Secretary Olney, in which this country offered mediation to Spain, and the refusal of that country to accept the proffered aid. number of consular reports told of such misdoings of the Spanish that it was feared that the consuls would be killed should it become known that they had given the information. Mr. Cannon was bitter in his denunciation of Spanish atrocity, characterizing the captain-general of Cuba as 'that mad dog Weyler." Mr. Lindsay declared that if the information furnished by the United States consuls was so shocking as to subject them to danger of assassination if their names were disclosed, it was time to send warships to Cuba and to terminate all diplomatic relations with that country. House .- No session.

SENATE-44th day-A brighter day is apparently dawning for Cuba. The Senate has ended the long and exciting debate and passed the Morgan resolution to recognize the belligerency of the Cuban patriots by the decisive vote of 41 to 14. The resolution as passed is as follows: Resolved, etc., That a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba, and that the United States of America shall maintain a strict neutrality between the contending parties, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States. The voting occurred after an exciting debate, participated in by Senators Thurston, Elkins, White, Fairbanks, Hale, Spooner and Gorman. Mr. Thurston, who presided over the Republican national convention at St. Louis, recalled the stirring scene when that convention enthusiastically inserted a Cuban plank in the platform, and declared that this resolution was in partial fulfillment of that pledge. Messrs. Elkins and White urged a conservative course, and an inquiry by a committee. Mr. Hale expressed the fear that war with Spain would result, and he and Mr. Spooner protested against the Democrats and Populists dictating the foreign policy of the administration. House - Cuban affairs furnished the House with a day of bitter partisan debate. The resolution appropriating $50,000 for the relief of American citizens was adopted without a dissenting vote, but the Democrats' endeavored to force consideration also of the Morgan resolution for recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents. They accused the Republicans of endeavoring to evade this issue, but that party, through its spokesman, Mr. Hitt, made the important statement that the Republicans desired not to embarrass negotiations which were being projected by President Mc-Kinley to secure the independence of Cuba, While Mr. Hitt disclaimed presidential authority for the statement it was well known that he had been in consultation with Mr. McKinley on the question, and knew whereof he spoke.

SENATE.-46th day .- The death of Senator Earle, of South Carolina, was referred to in eloquent terms in Chaplain Milburn's prayer. Following this Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, made formal announcement of Mr. Earle's death and offered a resolution expressing the profound sorrow of the Senate. As a further mark of respect the Senate adjourned. House.-Rep. McMillin, of Tennessee, introduced a resolution providing for the considera- Office, 30. E. Huron St.

tion of the Senate resolution recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban in surgents "from day to day until disposed of." The resolution was referred to the committee on rules, but it is not likely that the committee will consider it, as the Republican leaders will decide for themselves when it is proper to act on the Cuban matter. The dwelling particularly on the starving House adjourned without transacting any business, out of respect to Senator

SPECIAL MARKET LETTER

The following market letter is fur-

There have been encouraging signs ness on foreign exchanges, and in an improved demand for American secur-ities. The possibilities which the Cuban question presents tends to restrict any marked improvement, however, and retards the revival of an active domestic inquiry for stocks and bonds.

Our wheat market still rules active and irregular and is daily attracting the attention of a greater number of operators because of the possibilities that the situation presents. While the auspicious weather exerts a bearish in fluence and encourages free short sell-ing whenever there are any indications of weakness, the rapid depletion of stocks and the fear of the consequences of their reduction to the point of actual scarcity soon checks the selling on-slaughts and induces liberal buying for These estimates have inspired the bull contingent with fresh courage, and have embolished do not a few to add liberally to their holdings.

The fact that many mills in the winter wheat section have been closed because of the difficulty in procuring suitable wheat to grind indicates the paucity of sumplies in first hands and encity of city of supplies in first bands and en-courages the belief that but little of the new crop will reach our market for some time after its movement fairly

There has already been so much damage to winter wheat that the spring variety must mature with but little damage to insure an abundant total, and private advices of still further damage to the winter crop are becoming more numerous, the Hessian fly having become discouragingly active in many localities. Both bulls and bears realize that the weather in the near future is the most important market factor, and that any change that would cause further injury to the crop would be the signal for a rapid

It would seem that it might be a good thing to make one of the conditions of entrance to that department the fact that the applicant has had some little home training.

THE REGISTER desires to call the attention of tarmers to the article in another column regarding the necessity of wheat fields being cleaned of rye. A great many thousands of dollars will be lost to the farmers of this county this year unless this matter is attended to within a very few weeks. It would take but a short time for each farmer to go over his wheat fields and cut out the rye and it would mean many dollars to him when he comes to sell his wheat.

THREE are only two mistakes in the above. In the first place, Judge Newkirk is building a frame house and such houses do not last more than fifty years so that when Mr. Newkirk's Democratic successor is chosen there may not be any house to sell. Then, again, the Democrat who secures an election in Washtenaw county will nave to spend all his money in "getting there" and could not purchase even a very old house. Better try again, Mr. Stearns.

Quite a little excitement prevailed here when on Sunday morning our citizens were informed that George Stontz who lived three miles south of the village, had committed suicide by shooting himself through the temple causing instant death. The verdict declared by coroners was insanity. The young man's father met his death in the same manner a few years ago.

Sunday afternoon the body of a Ger man weaver, named Fluhm, was found in the river about three miles north-west of town, near the old Fellow's place. The old man had been missing for over a week. It is thought that in trying to cross the river late on Saturday night of the previous week he had missed the bridge and walked into the river and drowned.

Cases of Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Lumbago, Lame Back, Dropsy and Sciatica Cured by this Wonderful Medicine.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 2.-Here in this city of furniture, DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS have made themselves known and famed. Great comfidence is placed in their reliability and curative value by the people who have used them. Several patients have written signed statements describing their diseases, symptoms and their hopeless groping after remedies of efficacy and how they tried DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS, which effected complete cures in every instance. We print their testimonials herewith.

Here are cases of Diabetes, incipient Bright's Disease, Lumbago, Lame Back, Dropsy and Sciatica-all cured by DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. Let these names and statements bring hope to others sick and weary of Kidney

The crown sheet of the boiler on Hall's dredge No. 1, at Port Huron, blew out, severely scalding Fireman Joseph Ortney and Capt. Merriman, the government inspector. The dredge was at work in Black river, scooping out a channel for the grounded schooner Ed. Blake. The boiler was an old one, and the damage is slight. Maggie Valpey and Julia Empy, employed as cooks, were at work over the boiler. In their haste they fell down a hole into the escaping steam, but were not badly hurt. Ortney may die.

The following market letter is furnished us by McLAIN BROS. & Co., Commission Merchants, Rialto Building, Chicago:

General business throughout the country during the past week has been fair when compared with the volume of recent transactions, and there has been but little of a sensational character to record, the most important incident being a declaration by the Su-preme Court that the Inter-State Commerce Commission has not the power to fix maximum transportation rates for the railways of the country. The settling of this question has imparted a feeling of confidence to the stock market and caused an advance in the market and caused an advance in the securities of a number of the most monising roads.

The market, however, has experienced nothing like a revival of activity, and operators anticipate but little increase in the volume of business until the traff legislation is completed and the tariff legislation is completed, and the Cuban policy defined. Our wheat market has been influenced by conditions of a depressing nature, which were pronounced enough to discourage some of its staunchest supporters and to impel them to unload their holdings, which, in conjunction with the offerings of confident short sellers, caused a decline of longer duration, without a single day's reaction, than the market is often subjected to. The chief discouraging factors have been the continued roseate crop reports from the southwest and northwest, the sudden abatement of the milling de-mand in winter wheat sections, and the sharp break in prices for spot wheat in winter wheat markets. The falling off in this demand is doubtless due to the prospect of an early winter wheat harvest, and the belief that fresh sup-plies may be obtained at much lower prices than have for some time been current. A large number of mills are now idle awaiting the advent of the new crop, and there are prospects of an active demand as soon as it is avail-able. The closing of so many mills will cause a rapid decrease in stocks of flour in retailers' hands, and the close of the crop year will find them very low. Should anything occur to retard the marketing of the new grain the demand for flour would soon become urgent.

Foreign markets have responded to the influences which have depressed ours, being especially affected by the Thoman crop report, which, from its approximate accuracy for the past two years, has been accorded considerable credit abroad. This report places the prospective yield of winter wheat at 301,000,000 bu and of spring wheat 229,000,000 bu, a total of 530,000,000 bu, against 435,000,000 bu last year, and estimates the increase in spring wheat area at 19.4 per cent.

These bearish influences have, while discouraging bulls, reassured bears, and are rapidly creating an extensive short interest which will become an element of strength as soon as anything occurs to alarm the sellers. All the hopes of the bears now rest in the continuation of favorable weather for the maturing and early marketing of an abundant crop. Supplies of old wheat are too small to permit of any serious accident to the growing crop, or to any prolonged delay in placing it on the market. There are numerous reports of chinch bugs and Hessian flies in great numbers, which have as yet done but little damage because of the cool weather, but a change to hot and dry may yet make them important factors.

The coarse grains have ruled a little more active, with an increased volume of business. Receipts of both corn and onts have been steadily increasing, and the market has felt the weight of the additional supply. Crop reports all agree in estimates of an increase in corn and a decrease in oats acreage. Receipts of hogs are large enough to weaken provisions and but for the sup-port of packers the market would doubtless break sharply. The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada shows the following changes for the week: Wheat decreased 1,399,000 bu, corn increased 1,019,000 bu and oats increased 81,000

Gov. Pingree Asks Advice of the Law Professors.

Prof. Hutchins received the following request from Gov. Pingree Tuesday morning: "Will you kindly furnish me with the opinion of the law department of the university as to the constitutionality of the Merriman bill, so-called, a copy of which I enclose. I also inclose an opinion given me by the railroad commissioner of the state.

I make this request as governor, as I believe the university of the state can render no higher service than to aid, as far as possible, in the solution of questions of this kind. The question of taxation, as was said by Judge Cooley, is the most momentous of all the quest tions which affect our commonwealth. I understand it is the custom in many countries for those intrusted with the exercise of authority to counsel with and be guided largely by the wisdom and learning of the universities. I know of no more impartial tribunal to appeal to. I trust you may agree with me as to the propriety of rendering this service to the state.

I regret that I have to act upon this bill by 12 o'clock June 5, so I shall need your opinion before that time."

Later in the day the Governor himself came to town and had a long talk with the law faculty. The professors will take time to look the matter up and will send him their reply tomor-

Prof. Stanley presided at the Organ, and played several National Tunes on the great organ. The Hall was crowded with earnest patriotic citizens who had gathered to honor the memory of the fallen heroes. The rostrum and the railing of the gallery were profusely decorated with flags and bunting. On the rostrum sat commander Horace P. Danforth and those who participated in the exercises of the evening.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. W. L. Tedrow. The singing by Misses Campbell, and Jacobs, and Mr. R. G. George, was much appreciated by the audience and each singer was enthusiastically encored.

The recitation entitled, "Good-by Jim," by Carl Harriman. was received with much favor and called forth a hearty encore. He responded with Riley's poem, "I want to hear the old Band." The reading of Lincoln's Speech at Gettysburg by comrade W. K. Childs, received the earnest atten-

The address of the evening was made by Miss M. Adella Hazlett. She spoke in an earnest patriotic manner. Her speech was replete with historical facts and reminiscences. By means of her elegant rhetoric and pleasing mauner, she carried her enthusiastic audience with her as she carefully reviewed the great struggle between slavery and freedom. Dwelling long and earnestly at the great battle fields of the Rebelwith her as she carefully reviewed the Ambrose Pack has been elected to at the great battle fields of the Rebelfill the vacancy caused by the resigna- lion, she showed what important results were at stake at the battles of Antietam and Gettysburg. She said in part: "Tonight we are not Republicans, we are not Democrats, we are American citizens who have assembled here to call back the memories of the dead. Today the Conservatory has been robbed, the green houses have been impoverished that their bounty of beautiful flowers might be placed in oving memory on the soldiers graves.'

She than traced the successive stages of our National life from the time when the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth until Lee surrendered to Grant at Appomattox. She spoke at length and with much force on the spread of Republican principles and she considered the time not far distant when Republican government will take the place of the monarchies of the old world. The speaker asked, "why not send a word of cheer to poor struggling Cuba? thus showing her that we are in sympathy with her struggles for freedom." Miss Hazlett mentioned Queen Victoria's kindly feeling toward us but considered her as not a true exponent of England's feeling toward us. She then dwelt on the fact that the English constitutional writers have invarably predicted our down-fall but she considered that we shall not perish as a Nation because God has ordained otherwise. Concluding, the speaker said, 'We want on this continent one Nation, one people, with one language, undivided by social distinction, race or color."

The congregation sang the Doxology and the exercises of the evening were closed with the benediction by the Rev. J. T. Sunderland.

residences of all the young women who have bowed fealty to Dame Fashion. There are few exercises which more thoroughly develop the muscles of the body than fencing. In Germany, where the women fence as much as they ride bicycles over here, feminine strength and health and grace are generally enjoyed, although with us they are not to be found as often as is desired. This is an era of the practical in society and it is likely in this fact will be found the reason for the general spread of this new fad. Instead of arraying herself in fine clothes and undergoing for two hours a sort of social martyrdom under the guise of an afternoon tea the girl of the period receives a half dozen of her friends in her fencing room and there many a pleasant half hour is spent in discussing and demonstrating the latest forms of fence, guard, parry and attack. One has to see the society woman handle the foils to appreciate the change which a few months' or even a few weeks' work in fencing can accomplish. The costumes worn by ladies when fencing are much more attractive than the ordinary bicycle suits now so common upon the streets, and there is practically no limit to the fanciful dethe fitting up of these private fencing rooms. Many of them are fitted up in the style of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. Some of the enthusiasts are not content with a simple fencing room, but have in addition a small room adjoining fitted with everything essential to feminine comfort after the exertion of a half hour's active work with the foils. Here the houtess and her fencing friends may chart among themselves to their hearts' content without the presence of men, who must be talked to and kept in good humor. Men are not wanted there. Rencing puts muscles of steel into the daintiest and slenderest of wrists and whitest of hands, trains the eye and gives a physical dexterity far beyond what one would imagine until seen in a ctual practice. Whatever may be said of fads in general, the present one has the effect of giving healthful amusement to a class of women who otherwise would never take needed exercise. This fa-

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Blair Hinkley and Henrietta Hinkley, his wife, to Joseph T. Shaw, dated the 1st day of April, 1893, and recorded in the Register's office, of Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the 1st day of April, 1893, at 5 o'clock and twenty-five minutes p. m., which mortgage was duly assigned by said Joseph T. Shaw to Adah Z. Treadwell by deeds of assignment dated the 5th day of April, 1893, which said assignment is record. 1893, which said assignment is recorded in Liber 11, assignments of mortgages on page 368, in the Register's of-fice of Washtenaw County on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Thirteen Hundred Forty-Six Dollars and Nine Cents ($1346.-09) principal and interest (the undersigned electing to consider the whole amount of the principal of said mortgage as due for the non-payment of interest and installments of principal as provided therein) and no proceedings in law or equity having been instituted to recover the amount of said mortgage or any portion thereof:

Now therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided notice is hereby given, that on Saturday, the 14th day of August, 1897, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, that being the building in which Circuit Court of said county is held, there will be sold at public auc-tion to the highest bidder the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage and the expenses of this foreclosure. The premises to be sold are described as follows: The east eighty and thirty-three one-hundredth acres off from the east side of the south-east quarters of Section fourteen in the Township of Scio, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

Dated, May 19, 1893.

A GREAT CURSE.

PROTECTION PAMPERS AND ENERVATES INDUSTRY.

The Whole System Severely Arraigned by Franklin Pierce-With Free Raw Materials Our Machine Made Goods Would Soon Capture the World.

The principal speaker at the annual dinner of the New England Free Trade league, held on May 8, was Mr. Franklin Pierce of New York. handled his subject without gloves. He said in part as follows:

Not only are the farmers beginning to appreciate the truth that protection robs them and their families, but our manufacturers, as the products of their looms exceed the demand of the home market, are understanding that a protective tariff, especially upon their raw material, is against their interests.

"The present population of the world is about 1,400,000,000, and only 400,000,000 use machinery at all. The rest do their work by rude tools guided by the hands, and we, the Yankee nation, who have revolutionized the world by our inventions, who machinery to a greater extent than any other people, we refuse to allow the raw material which these 1,000,000,000 of non-machine using people create, to enter our ports in exchange for machine made products, except upon the payment of excessive duties, while the more intelligent of our manufacturers are clamoring for free raw material and saying: 'Give us free raw material, and we will conquer the markets of the world."

"Instead of seeking the markets of the world, employing millions of men now lying idle, making the margin of profits less but the output several times greater than at present, getting thereby a steady market and continued service for our laboring classes, our trusts and combinations are hiring their competitors to close their factories and throw tens of thousands of laboring men out of employ-trade and we can capture the markets of the world in many lines. What the Englishman is to the German the American is to the Englishman, and just as the German is crying out against competition with the machine made good s and high priced labor of England, just so would England cry out again st competition with the machine ma de goods and the high priced. labor of America, were duties upon all raw mad erials removed.

"We. Americans walk faster, talk faster, work faster, do everything faster than any other people on the face, of the earth. A people of the greater t natural vigor and the greaterat enterprise in the world, we have pampered our life and emasculated our strength and largely impaired the virility of our national life by a protective tariff. Manliness asserts its mastery in the same way in maufacturing as it does in every walk of life. The men in professions who ask no favors, but get out upon the dusty arena and fight for a lead, are the men who gain strength by every effort. Give us ten years of free trade, and we would capture from England onefourth of her vast trade. Give us twenty years of free trade and we will lead the world as exporters.

"The protective system has debauched public men and corrupted public life. Give any body of men, however pure, the power to take $100,-000,000 from the pockets of the millions and transfer it to the pockets of a few men through an act of legislation, and you have created a corrupting power which will destroy the virtue and the patriotism of that body of

and at the very time when we were going to the great expense of establishing our government, the cost of government was only $18.68 per capita for the ten years. From 151 to 1860 inclusive, under a tariff for revenue only, the cost of government was only $21.88 per capita for the ten years. From 1871 to 1880 inclusive the actual running expenses of government had risen to $136.41 per capita, more than six times the amount required under a tariff for revenue only, and during the last ten years the cost of government has been steadily increasing.

"As a nation we can stand this lavish expenditure of the people's money, but we can never stand the luxuries, the iniquities, the lack of patriotism which great wealth, quickly acquired, is sure to bring.

"We can be robbed by a protective tariff and still live, but when the robber takes the money and buys special legislation and turns it over to campaign committees to buy votes with, the very life of free government is assailed. Nations do not go down to death in the momentous sweep of battle. They rather die from the poison which the lobbyist and the vote buyer infuse into the body politic.

"The mad riot of protection will soon be over. The evidences of the revolution which shall destroy it are upon every hand. Its growth has been an evidence of what self interest and audacity and effrontery can accomplish as against the people not united by any bonds save those of the public welfare.

The New Sugar Scandal.

Is the country to be afflicted with a second sugar scandal? Are the "senators from Havemeyer" ex-officio members of the finance committee, and are they to be permitted to dictate the important sugar schedule?-Chicago Evening Post (Ind. Rep.).

The senate committee's bill, whether designed to do so or not, will give the trust a great advantage should it become law. For that reason the country is bitterly opposed to the senate sugar schedule, and if the senate will heed the voice of the people that schedule will not be embraced in the new tariff.-Indianapolis Journal (Rep.).

The storm over the sugar schedule is steadily increasing. All the examinations which have been made since its report, instead of clearing it up, only make it look the blacker. It has apparently been made of a very complicated character to baffle analysis and to disguise a job, but, intricate as it is, it does not conceal the fact that it embraces a very large differential for the benefit of the trust. This conviction is universal, and it is agravated by the stories of personal profit in connection with it.—Philadelphia Press (Rep.).

The specific charge by a responsible newspaper in Chicago that three members of the senate speculated in the secrets of the committee room after the sugar schedule on the senate tariff bill had been framed, and profited $30,000 by the transaction, is altogether too serious to be treated by the senate with contempt and indifference.

The peculiar influence which the magnates of the sugar trust have exerted in the framing of the new sugar schedule has already created suspipap. I think it's about time to take the cions as to the integrity of the framers of the bill. If the charge against the alleged speculators shall not be investigated it will serve to strengthen, if not confirm, this suspicion.-Philadelphia Bulletin (Rep.).

Pettigrew's Amendment.

Senator Pettigrew has introduced an amendment to the Dingley bill which provides for the admission free of duty of articles controlled by trusts. Should it become law and be carried out honestly, how much revenue would the bill yield? There are trusts in sugar, coal, window and plate glass, lumber, pottery, wall paper, rubber, cutlery and in nearly all kinds of hardware. There is no trust in tea, but that is probably because there has been no duty to encourage it. There are also trusts in the woolen and cotton industries. Revenue will be scarce if such a law should be enforced. But will those elected by trust funds destroy the system which fosters They may pass some such law, as they did the Sherman antitrust law in 1899, but it will be only another dummy.

This cartoon is from the New entirely this practace of allowing the Press, one of the most partisan of Repub lican newspapers, which always advoca ites protection to any and every industry. Like hundreds of other Retions, form trusts and rob our peopl ie publican papers, its disgust at the action of Aldrich in writing the sugar schedule at the dictation of the trust is so great that it is daily denouncing Every man has a right to know exact- the sugar schedule and the senate com-

MICHIGAN'S LEGISLATORS.

Just 89 members of the House voted to adopt the conference committee re-port on the Merriam railroad specific tax bill and only one-Rep. Clute-voted against the report. Rep. Chamberlain, who was chairman of the conference committee, and Rep. Atkinson. who has all along fought tooth and nail for a much higher tax than the report contemplates, had one of the hottest debates of the session, but finally the Pingreeites agreed to accept the conference figures and when it came to a vote the report was adopted by the vote above stated-89 to 1. As passed the bill will increase the specific taxes on railroads and depot companies $205,000 over the present law. It requires only the governor's signa ture to become a law. Gov. Pingree says he will not decide upon his course in the matter until he sees how the people take it. The Lusk home rule bill, permitting cities and villages by popular vote to amend their charters emept in the matter of increasing representation, raising the limit of taxation, borrowing money or extending limits, passed the House by a vote of 54 to 13. The anti-trust bill was killed, owing to Rep. Adams, who contended that the bill was a dangerous one. The House also passed the following: Increasing the franchise fee of corporations from 1/2 to 11/2 mills on the dollar, and making the minimum fee $20 instead of $5; appropriating $12,000 for the state factory inspectors, an increase of $4,000 over old appropriation; preventing appeals from jus-tice courts in cases involving less than $25. The House concurred in the Senate amendments to the Gra-ham uniform text book bill, and all it needs now is the signature of the governor to make it a law. The Senate passed the following bills: Providing half-pay pension for disabled and retired Detroit police, providing it never exceeds $50 per month; amending the divorce law so as to protect the interests of minor children; providing that the reserve funds of mutual and co-operative benefit associations shall be deposited in the state treasury; changing the time for the sale of delinquent tax lands from December to May. Senator Blakeslee's hanging bill was favorably reported by the Senate committee on state affairs. Gov. Pingree again "stirred up the animals" by sending a message to both the House and the Senate calling attention to the numerous bills of greatest important which are being allowed to die in each of the houses without any effort being made to act upon them. He also objected to the passing of large appropriation bills which were not brought in until within a few days of the time set for adjournment, thus preventing proper and intelligent investigation of them. The governor, therefore, asked that the session be extended at least two weeks that the bills mentioned might be disposed of and the appropriations investigated. When the message was received the Senate and House each had a bitter fight over it. The House passed a resolution making the day of adjournment June 14. The Senate refused to concur. The House then appointed a conference committee. The special investigation committee on the soldiers' home reported to the Senate, condemning the management as extravagant. Then, upon the report being adopted, the Senate passed the Jibh bill providing that no member of the board of control of the soldiers' home shall be eligible to reappointment or to hold the office of commandant or secretary of the board for a period of two years after the expiration of their term of office. The Robinson bill, for a threecent passenger fare in the upper peninsula, was killed in the Senate by a vote of 19 to 12. The Adams general insolvency bill has been hung up in the Senate. The following bills have passed the Senate: Raising the price of license for hunting deer from 50 to 75 cents-50 cents of the license to go to the state; for the garnishment of municipalities authorizing township boards to establish a closed season on forest and prairie fires, during which fires cannot be set without 24 hours' notification to neighbors; for the branding of imitations of leather; restricting the printing of state documents to $10,000 annually; providing that husband wife may testify against one access of bigamy; providing that constitutional amendments be printed on separate ballots; requiring notice to be given to recover damages on account of death and personal injuries; to have trespass agents adjust and collect all trespasses committed on state tax lands; to incorporate societies for the study of literature; appropriating $5,000 for the erection of a physician's residence and dining hall and $23,000 for a hospital building at the Kalamazoo asylum, $58,700 for the Newberry asylum, and $2,000 for the promotion of hor ticultural interests. The Blakeslee hanging bill was lost in the Senate by one vote, but was reconsidered and tabled. The House had a fight lasting nearly three hours over the fish commission appropriation, which was finally cut from $50,000 to $10,000, and its expendture confined to inland lakes and streams. The Eikhoff bill to permit liquor dealers to keep their saloons open on New Year's, Labor day and Fourth of July was buried in the House. The House passed the following bills: Authorizing the Detroit board of public works to make a fiveyear contract for repairing pavements, also to do $100,000 of paving or repairing without contracting for the same; to prevent the reproduction of prize fights by any photographic machine; appropriating $9,500 for the state house of correction.

The Senate absolutely refused to confer with the House on the question of extending the time of adjournment. until June 14. The House was induced to be more generous with the for 1897-8 and the bill passed. Senator Moore made two unsuccessful attempts to force the Senate railroad committee to report the Widoe 500-mile book bill and Donovan interchangeable mileage book bill. The House passed the Senate bill appropriating $20,000 for an electric lighting plant at the U. of M.; also the following bills: Providing that money from deer licenses shall be used for protection of fish and game, and to prevent use of licenses by more than one person, and raising fee for resident hunters from 25 to 75 cents; appropriating $2,508,951.21 for general expenses of the state for 1897-8; providing that no person shall be admitted to insane asylums or poor houses who shall not have been a resident of the state. county or city for one year prior to his application for help. Capt. Joe Nicholson, of the Detroit house of correction, saw the bill, to extend his contract to care for U. S. prisoners two years basely slaughtered, as was Eikhoff's bill to permit saloons to keep open on New Years, Labor day and Fourth of July. The Senate also did some killing and the Wagner capital punishment bill was one of the bills to come under the ax. The bill to place a tax of one cent on every gallon of beer made in the state met a like fate. The following bills were passed: Amending factory inspection law by providing that owners of buildings shall be liable for fire escapes and hatchways; making it mandatory for manufacturing institutions to file reports with the state authorities; appropriating $9,200 for the Ionia reformaatory; for the punishment of incorrigible truants; providing that the mayor of Detroit shall sign resolutions before they become operative; providing that the 70-cent fee in case of delinquent tax land sales be liens on such description of lands; making oral threats actionable as offenses against persons and property; to prohibit the use of indecent or insulting language in the presence of women; for the protection of the interests of the state in escheated estates; appropriating $31,500 for state fish commission; appropriating $2,508,951.21 for general expenses of the government for the next two The Senate also passed the years. Mackinac island appropriation bill providing for $5,000 improvements, over the governor's veto, there being but six negative votes.

The closing scenes of the Michigan legislature of 1897 were noisy and almost disgraceful. During the day the House voted to sustain the governor's veto of the Mackinac island improvement appropriation. A message was received from the governor appealing to the legislators to give further consideration to the Merriam bill. He called attention to the fact that there is serious objection to the Merriman bill from a legal standpoint. The only action taken on the request was an order given by each house to have the message printed. The principal bills passed were of only local importance, the principal measures passed by the Senate being: For reciprocal exchange of products of the state institutions-being Rep. Mohster's bill to reduce competition of prison labor with free labor; for the incorporation of companies for the manufacture of flax fibre; for the incorporation of commercial reporting agencies; for appointment of commissioners for the destruction of noxious weeds; deficiency appropriation of $5,000 for the state fish ommission. The Senate refused to pass a bill to tax bieyeles for the purpose of building side paths. House passed the following bills: Appropriation of $1,000 for printing world's fair commissioners' report; authorizing the bank commissioner to make more than one examination of banks per year at his discretion; amending libel law, so as to give opportunity for retraction; providing for incorporation of companies making flax fiber; for surgical care of crippled poor children at U. of M.; the Mason tax title bill, providing that the tax title buyer shall give pers onal notice to parties interested in the property of intention to apply to court's for absolute title, the tax title men to rest content with 100 per cent prot it in case the owners redeem the proper ty within six months, owner to pay a :$5 advertising fee and a $3 service fee in addition; to permit electric light companies to furnish gas. An attempt was made in the House to pass the anti-c igarette bill over the governor's veto, but it failed. The evening session of both Senate and House was devoted almost entirely to horse-play, songs were sung, to lish speeches were made for and agranst more foolish fake bills, and the Representatives finally broke up the session by throwing books, papers, files of legislative journals, etc., at each other. They then went over to the Senate and assisted that body in indulging in a similar boyish fracas. The only gentlemanly proceeding of the closing hours was the presentation of a silver water set to Speaker Gordon by the Representatives, and engrossed resolutions of esteem to President Dunstan by the Senators.

The Mountain Parrot of New Zealand. The Kea, or mountain parrot of New Zealand, is a very funny little beast. When he meets tourists on the tramp, he at once falls in solemnly, with his family and chums, all waddling in Indian file. Here is a scene described by a traveler who recently made the scent of the Fox glacier: The keas having settled on the ice began to follow in a long straggling line, about 15 of them. Then have a preternaturally solemn walk, but when in a hurry they hop along on both feet looking very eager and very much in earnest. To see these fifteen birds hopping along behind in a string as if their very lives depended on keeping me in sight was ridiculously comic. The ice was undulating, with little valleys and hummocks, and the birds would now, for a second or two, disappear into a hollow and now show up on a hummock, pause a moment, and then hop down again out of sight into the next shadow. To judge by their expressions and manner, they were in a great state of anxiety on emerging from a hollow on to a hummock, as to whether I was still there. Now and then the one in front would appear, craning his neck, and on seeing me still ahead, would turn round and shriek "K-e-e-a," as much as to say, "It's all right, boys, come along." And the others, putting their heads down, would set their teeth and travel "all they knew," a fat one in the rear evidently making very heavy weather

GRAPES AND THE APPENDIX. A Mistake That Has Long Been Popu-

Things have been said about the baneful and delicious juice of the grape ever since the olden time when Noah found out about it and came thereby to grief; but even before that men ate grapes, and only within the last decade have they been talked to about that, says the Washington Times. It is only since surgeons began to make money hunting for grape seeds in the vermiform appendix that people have been afraid to eat grapes, to eat them straight. It now appears that in all the thousands of cases famous, in which this new-fashioned surgical operation has been performed there is not one case in which a grape seed or any other little bullet-shaped thing has been found in the vermiform appendix. The whole interior of the appendix is only big enough to admit a medium-sized darning needle. Nobody knows what it is there for, but it must have been useful at some time. It is a case of the survival of the unfit, like the wisdom teeth, which are of so little use to most people, and the tonsils, which cause so much trouble now and then. The tonsils and the appendix are both unused parts of the body, and peculiarly liable to disease because they are not strengthened by use. If inflammation attacks them they are unable to resist. Thus many diseases which have been ascribed to peritonitis, or colic, or a mysterious providence of some kind have been due to the diseased condition of this little useless organ of the human system, and if the trouble had been discovered in time the appendix could have been removed and all would have been well. The remedy, therefore is not in avoiding grape seeds, which do not cause the trouble, but in keeping as well and strong as possible and in case of sudden illness calling a reliable doctor, who will know what the matter is. Somebody once said that most people use a doctor to enable them to sin against the laws of nature with impunity. But that is a bad use

A Bond street jeweler was telling me some weeks ago of the new rage for pearls and the consequent rise in price. A tiny pearl which cost two shillings two years ago would now cost ten shillings. About two years ago the left kidney started to bleed and has been doing so ever since. Hummel, in a few pointed sentences, gave our representative the following account

The accident of my 'war days' left me in bad shape; pain in my back and spine rendered me almost useless, and I was compelled to give up work entirel I could not turn over in bed without assis ance. I have spent hundreds of dollars various ways trying to find relief. Physi cians have told me my spine was honey-combed for 13 inches. I had given up in despair, never hoping for relief, when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have done me a world of good. The pains have disappeared from my and the bleeding of my kidney has almost entirely stopped. I know I can never be entirely cured, as I would have to be 'a new man,' but Doan's Kidney Pills have done more to make me feel like 'a new man' than all the other things I have tried during past years. I have not had any recurrence of the pain or bleeding since taking them.

CHINESE SOLDIERS. Military Service Very Remunerative to the Officers. A young man from my native town entered the army and, by dint of hard fighting and real merit, rose to the rank tate. This suit is for the 6 per cent of brigadier general, but with him, at every promotion, rose his brother, whom I will call X., who had not met him for years, and who was peacefully occupied as cook in a distant opium den, says the Fortnightly Review. This is how it was done. The soldier, after each engagement in which he distin: guished himself, reported imaginary deeds of valor performed by his brother, and his word was taken. One day the cook in the opium den, who had never even seen a battle, read his name in the Gazette, and found, to his surprise, that he had attained the rank of colonel in the imperial forces. Military service is, in many ways, very remunerative to the officers. They enroll any men they like, and they always draw pay for many more men than are actually in the army. About 70 per cent of the full number of men nominally serving and for whom pay is drawn is the average strength of the forces, even under Li Hung Chang's comparatively honest officers, while elsewhere 100 men on paper usually means but forty or fifty in the flesh. On review days the officers engage a sufficient number of soldiers by the day to make the army look all right. But there are other sources of profit besides dealing in dummy soldiers. The live ones have to wear uniforms and to eat, and both food and lothes are supplied at extortionate prices by the officers, so that of the five tael per month paid by the government for each soldier about one-fifth or less reaches the pockets of the men. All this refers to the "braves" who are only engaged during war time and are disbanded the moment the fighting is over wherever they may happen to be, and nearly always without the means of reurning to their homes, thus keeping up the supply of armed nobbers all over the empire. As to the soldiers of the standing army in times of peace, they are, with the exception of the Manchu garrison, so wretchedly paid that its trength exists or ly on paper. The men enlist and regularly draw their paythree shillings per month-and have scarcely any further connection with the military service. The few that go on duty in the city gates live entirely on bribes. The Marichu force under the Tartar general, on the other hand, is well paid; but these soldiers do no fighting; they are only engaged in

They live in a separate quarter in they often make unprovoked atacks. Thus fights between the Chinese and the Tartar soldiers are of common occurrence, and as these Tartar soldiers are not under the jurisdiction of the civil law their outrages invariably go unpunished. Naturally there is no love lost between the city guards and the native Chinese.

HAPPY REUNION.

A Touching Scene and Story in Paris. France.

A most touching scene was witnessed in the streets of Paris recently, says an exchange. A little girl about 5 years of age was rolling her hoop; the hoop rolled up against a gentleman sitting on a bench and the child, going up to him to get it, looked at him involuntarily and siddenly cried out, "Oh, if there isn't the gentleman of mamma's minia-This exclamation of course, attracted the attention of passers-by and of a young woman, who immediately came up to the child and, giving a glance at the gentleman, fainted away. He appeared stupefied and stared from the child to her mother as if he was losing his senses, but when he saw the latter fainting on the ground he caught her up, clasped her in his arms and covered her with kisses. She soon regained her senses and fell weeping on the gentleman's bosom. An officer, coming up, led them off with the little girl and, calling a carriage, put them in; but the bystanders had already learned their history from their different exclamations. Five years before they were married, with every prospect of happiness before them, but the hushand, being young, was led astray by dissipated associates, and becoming jealous of his wife treated her so unkindly that she finally left him and took a humble lodging in a different quarter of the city, where she soon after gave birth to a little daughter and since that time had supported herself and child by her needle. The husband had sought his wife in vain and had at last come to the sad conclusion that she had put an end to her existence. This thought had such an effect upon his mind as to cure him not only of his jealousy but of his vices, and he had since been living a most exemplary life, consecrating all his thoughts to the memory of his lost wife.

You may never have been, but if you cross the Atlantic, no matter how smooth the watery expanse, without sea sickness you are—well, a lucky voyager, that is all. Old tars who have spent their lives on the ocean waves, who were almost born, so to speak, with their "sea legs on," suffer now and then from sea sickness in very tempestuous weather. The following anecdote, communicated by Mr. R. Ball to the author of Thomson's Irish Birds, is a curious illustration of the remarkable sagacity of the raven. A tame raven, kept by schoolboys, was very attentive in watching their cribs or bird traps, and when a bird was taken, the raven endeavored to catch it by turning back top of the trap with its beak, but in so doing the bird always escaped, as the raven could not let go the crib in time to seize. After several vain attempts of this kind the raven, seeing another bird caught, instead of going at once to the trap, went to another tame raven and induced it to accompany him. When the second raven lifted up the crib, the other bore the poor captive off in triumph.

JULES VERNE.

Very Different from the Man One's Imagination Would Picture.

If, meeting him without knowing who he was, I had been asked to divine his profession, I would have said he was a retired army general or a professor of physics and mathematics or a cabinet officer-never an artist, says a writer in the Chautauquan, in speaking of Jules Verne. He does not show the burden of his almost 80 years, he has somewhat of Verdi's build, with a serious, kindly face, no artist-like vivacity in look or word, very simple manners, the imprint of great sincerity in every fleeting manifestation of feeling and thought, the language, the bearing, the manner of dress of a man who considers appearances of absolutely no account. My first sensation after the pleasure of seeing him was one of stupefaction. Apart from the friendly look and the affable demeanor I could recognize nothing in common with the Verne who stood before me and the one that had a place in my imagination. My wonder even increased when, induced to speak about his works, he spoke of them with an abstracted air, as he would have done of some one else's writings, or, rather, of things in which entered no merit of his-as he would have spoken of a collection of and with which he occupied himself Regulate the Bowels. THE NEW WOMAN VERY OLD. Mrs. Mary Astell Flourished 1709.

When our new woman is not proposing to herself and her readers a reversion to the ancient system of polyandry (on which consult McLennan, Westermarck, Morgan and Bachofen) she is apt to disdain and shrink from the atrocious and oppressive male sex, says the North American Review. She is not so new but that Mrs. Mary Astell was before her, in 1709. Mrs. Mary "proposed a sort of female college, in which ladies nauseating the parade of the world might find a happy retirement." Queen Anne meant endow this establishment, but Bishop Burnet persuaded her that it savored of popery. Sir Walter Scott (who had nothing new in him) speaks of Mrs. Mary as a Precieuse, who is anxious to confound the boundaries which nature has fixed for the employments and studies of the two sexes. Swift laughed at Mrs. Mary in The Tatler (No. 32). But the new woman who sprns the degrading coarseness of matrimony has closer patterns of Moliere's Cathos and Madelon ("Les Precieuses Ridicules," 1659). These ladies express themselves with such virtuous freedom that l could not quote them unless I were a new lady novelist, writing in a new Keyhole Series. The student is, therefore, blushingly referred to the original drama by the unprincipled Poquelin. For Moliere, too, had nothing new about him; he laughed at these original delicacies of sentiment. The new young lady in society is remarked for the generous breadth of her language and the large frolic of her wit. But, alas! even this is not so very new. In the correspondence of Lady Suffolk (1714-1760) we find the maids of honor led by the oldest and most prudish Miss Meadows, larking about on a winter night, outside Kensington palace, knocking on the panes and throwing open the windows of the inmates. Nothing can be more in the modern taste. I read in a periodical devoted to the intellectual needs of women. The Lady's Realm, that the most popular and most justly popular lady in England excels in the confection of "apple-pie beds." /I don't believe it, of course, but this news is of the kind that women love.

Shoes in Japan.

One of the most striking sights that takes the attention of the traveler in Japan is that of the wooden sandals worn by the 35,000,000 of people. These sandals have a separate compartment for the great toe and make a clanking noise on the street. Straw slippers are also worn, and a traveler starting out on a journey will strap a supply of them on his back, that he may put on a new pair when the old is worn out. They cost but a cent and a half a pair. They are rights and lefts and leave the foot free to the air. We never see those deformities of the foot in Japan which are so frequent in this country. HYSTERICS.

Women Should Understand This Strange Nervous Derangement.

Symptom of Something Far More Serious-Mrs. Barris, of Beaver Springs, Relates Her Experience.

The spasm at top of wind-pipe, or in bronchial tubes, the "ball rising in the throat," violent beating of the heart; laughing and crying by turns; muscular spasms; throwing the arms about, etc., tell of a derangement of the female system. Any female complaint may produce hysteries, which must be regarded as a 6 symptom The only. cause, whatever it may be, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It acts at once upon the organ affected, and the nerve centers; removes the cause, and dispels effectually the symptoms.

Mrs. Barris relates her experience for the benefit of others. "I had been sick with ulceration of the womb, causing all kinds of disagreeable experiences, such as irritability, sleeplessness, faintness, and at times hysterics. My physician said it was the worst case he ever had. My back ached, leucorrhœa very profuse, and I had a severe bearing-down pain. The physicians thought I should never recover, and as the last remedy, they procured your Vegetable Compound. I had not taken more than one-fourth of a bottle, before I was more comfortable. I continued its use, also the Sanative Wash, and Liver Pills. After using four bottles, I was able to be out, and do almost all my work. I think the Vegetable Compound is the only medicine that will cure female complaints, and it will reach the worst cases in a very short time. I know it saved my life."-Mrs. M. POOR YOUNG MEN.

How Mammas of Eligible Daughters Should Regard Them.

"My daughter shall never marry a poor man," declared a determined-looking little lady, according to the New York Tribune. "How do you propose to manage matters so that she will not?" queried her friend. "Oh, I have taken care, in the first place, that every man that is an habitue of our house is eligible," answered the up-to-date mother, "and, secondly, she has been too well brought up to fall in love with any one who cannot give her the cakes and ale of existence." But la mere propose et la fille dispose. The irony of fate generally upsets the most carefully arranged plans. Besides, it is generally the case that those who marry for money, or at least with the expectation of possessing that desirable article, are apt, in this country, to be sadly disappointed. It is very seldom in this land of ups and downs, that riches remain long in one family, and young people with great expectations generally find when they are middleaged that they have neither the substance nor even the shadow remaining, their only inheritance being expensive tastes and a disinclination or want of will power to work. It would be far better if calculating mammas would consult the statistics in this respect and would realize what is really true, that a poor young man who has chosen his career, and who is industrious, has a far greater chance for future prosperity than the idle rich, the butterflies of the day, the majority of whom will end their days in comparative poverty.

AN HONEST MAN.

District Attorney Backus Tells a Humorous Story at His Own Expense. This is one on District Attorney Backus of Kings county. He himself tells it and it was brought out curiously a day or two ago, says the New York Herald. "Mr. Backus in?" a visitor to the district attorney's office asked. "Yes," an attendant said. "You've just time to catch him before he goes away for the day."

The visitor entered, passed Mr. Backus' desk-and Mr. Backus at it-and followed the attendant into an inner room. He was informed that he had passed Mr. Backus and returned, to find that gentleman smiling to discover that all the world did not know him at sight.

"This is a case of arguing myself unknown," the visitor said, apologetical-

"It reminds me of a story," said Mr. Backus. "I went to Poughkeepsie once with another lawyer and a detective in plain clothes, who was escorting a prisoner who was to be resentenced there. The prisoner was shackled to the detective. They sat in the seat ahead of that occupied by the other lawyer and mysel. The train stopped fifteen minutes at Poughkeepsie for lunch, and in order not to expose the manacled prisoner to a curious crowd I suggested that we sit in the car for a few minutes after the train was stopped, allow the passengers to alight and go to the lunch room and then go quietly to a carriage which awaited us. The others agreed and we still. A nervous passenger who had ridden in the same car with us from New York and who did not know that one of us was a condemned criminal, wished to get out for lunch and thought it advisable to ask some one to keep an eye on his hand baggage in his absence. He hesitated until he saw only four of us left. Then he approached and looked keenly at each of us in turn. After a close scrutiny of our countenances he leaned over, tapped the prisoner on the shoulder and said: 'Will you be good enough, sir, to keep an eye on my baggage while I get a bite to eat?"

SIMPLY BE AGREEABLE.

That Is All That Society Asks of

You. 'Of course I know that I am poor,' said a very popular although an impecunious society woman, relates the New York Tribune, "but some way or other I cannot feel poor." "That is the reason you are such a success," commented her friend. "Mrs. Multimillions said the other day that you were the only woman she knew who did not bore her with your troubles, and that was the reason she liked you so much." Those who are not well off, as a rule, make their straightened circumstances too obvious, and people who have lost money retire from the world when there is really no reason why they should do so. They take a back seat, and of course are not urged to come forward; but if they had remained in the front no one would have questioned their right to be there. It is not necessary to spend much or entertain in order to maintain a position once you have acquired it. All you have to do is to be agreeable and not let society see that you are worried. Society is good-natured if you do not exact sympathy, and is disposed to be friendly to its members who have lost money if they are plucky and cheerful about it and continue to go about. Of course, if people are morbid and avoid their former associates the latter cannot be expected to hunt them up; but if they lose their friends it is, in nine cases out of ten, more the fault of the people themselves than of their former associates. Vanity Fair has no time to look after those who fall by the wayside, but people make a mistake in thinking that she ostracizes her citizens simply because they are poor. It is the concomitants HIDES, IRON, BONES. of poverty that she objects to-the shabbiness, the low spirits, and, above all, the pride which apes humility, which is more boring than anything real happiness comes. The care and Negro Woman Said He Had the Left anxiety count for nothing against the Hind Leg of a Black Cat. Hind Leg of a Black Cat.

> This case will be tried in a few days. she sadly replied that this was another and different kind of warrant. She said that she had discovered that her husband was a witch, and she wanted him tried on that charge. The woman's name is Viney Mobley. She lives at Thomasville, about three miles from this city, and her husband is 'Abe" Mobley, who is in the employ of the city. She said that she had been noticing the queer actions of "Abe" for some time, and was at a loss to account for them. At times he would be sad then morose, and again he would brighten up and talk like other men. Sometimes he would leave the house and stay away until late at night. On these nights he would come home with a mysterious air, and would never tell her where he had been. Viney has two little pickaninnies, and it was through the agency of the eldest of these that she made the awful discovery which has been weighing on her mind for several days. One day "Abe" left his coat hanging on a nail in the house and the child took it down and began to go through the pockets. In one of the pockets she found a bone, which she showed to her mother, and then the terrible truth began to dawn on the stricken woman. She told her child to run and bring the house cat, while she stayed and watched the bone to see that it did not escape. Now there had been an old black cat in the neighborhood for some time which was always said to be an agent of the evil one. This cat had suddenly disappeared, and at the same time many of the dogs, chickens and hogs in Thomasville had died. When these died all the negroes knew that the cat had been a witch in disguise, but no one had dared to speak of it. When the house cat was brought it was found that the bone fitted exactly and all doubt was then dispelled. The bone which was found in the pocket of Abe Mobley was the left hind leg of the old black cat, and with it he had been conjuring the entire settlement. He had worked the spell on his wife and on his family. Viney talked with the neighbors about the matter, and they told her that if she would swear out a warrant for the arrest of her husband and charge him openly with witchery and if she would tie up the bone in a sack and put it under the front doorstep of her house the spell would be broken. Viney has done all of these things except to swear out the warrant, and it is not likely that she will do that. She was told that there is no such offense in the Georgia law, and she went her way sorely troubled about the matter.

Spanish Fire on a British Vessel. After being twice chased by Spanish ganboats and passing through a perfect storm of shot, which splashed in the water across the vessel's bows, the British fruit steamer Ethelred arrived at Philadephia after a five days run from Port Antonio, Jamaica. The Ethelred was chased on both the outgoing and inbound trips while just off Cape Maisi by a Spanish gunboat, notwithstanding the fact that the British flag was raised. For two hours the chase was kept up, enlivened now and then by a solid shot throwing up a sheet of white spray just ahead of the vessel's bows, but the Ethelred was too swift for the Spaniard.
