LONG AND TEDIOUS.

SUCH HAS BEEN THE RICHARDS MURDER TRIAL.

THE PROSECUTION RESTED

Tuesday—What their Witnesses Provided—What the Defense is Doing.

From Tuesday October 20, until last Tuesday the prosecution in the Richards case brought up witness after witness to prove circumstances which would point to Lyons, Larkins and Jones as the murderers of James Richards. On the latter date the witnesses had all been examined and cross examined, the prosecution rested its case and witnesses for the defense were called.

The first witness called by the prosecution were the persons who arrived early on the scene of the murder. Among these were Henry Talbert, the colored man who discovered the crime. Dr. Jane Walker, who was called to look after the wounded man; John Shankland and Frank Dureess who were neighbors to Richards. These said that Richards was found on Sunday, January 31, lying on his bed shot through the body. He told them that robbers attacked him the previous night, shot him and stole some of his money though how much he did not tell. Three tracks were found; one of a felt boot, one of a rubber and one of a pointed shoe. Two bullets were found; one a 32 caliber, lodged in the door and the other, a 44 caliber, which had passed through the old man's body and lodged in the wall. Richards was taken to the home of Mr. Dureess where he died on the following morning. One of the tracks had a fan-shaped figure in the bottom and corresponded closely with a felt boot worn by one of the defendants.

During the cross examination, Shankland said he had heard who the parties were that robbed the old man several years ago but afterwards said one of them was dead and had confessed the crime when dying. Mr. Shankland was administrator of the Richards estate. When asked if he had petitioned to have himself appointed he said "no" but afterward admitted that he had done so. Dureess had asked for $500 in payment for the care of Richards on the night of his death and the trouble caused by his dying at Mr. Dureess' house. Only $200 was allowed. James Lovely, agent for a Detroit music house, testified that Larkins, last winter, bought a piano for $325, giving a chattel mortgage and saying that he would have $3,500 within six weeks.

Photographer Thompson of Northville, swore that Larkins called at his studio for pictures, shortly after the murder, and displayed $20 bills. A jeweler testified that Larkins had bought a $22 watch. John Ridout, a negro, said "I was in jail with these prisoners. One day Mrs. Larkins came and talked with her husband and said: 'You know you're guilty, and you'd better say so. I can help you get off easy.'" Ridout heard Jones say to Larkins: "I wouldn't live with such a woman. She would convict anybody." On cross-questioning, the witness admitted: "I've been in jail so many times I can't count them, for all the crimes I can think of." And in reply to Col. Atkinson's question, he said: "Yes, I'm a liar; a common liar like the rest of you."

The men when arrested stated that they went from Plymouth to Northville and then to Nori and Farmington on the night of the murder, stopping at hotels at these towns but not finding any of them open. Hotel keepers from those towns testified that their places were not closed at the time the men said and evidence was brought to show that the toll-gate through which the men claimed to pass was locked and no one passed through it.

JOHN J. ROBISON DEAD.

Was One of Washtenaw's Greatest Men.

John J. Robison, one of Washtenaw's most prominent men, died at six o'clock Tuesday morning at his home in Sharon township.

Mr. Robison was 74 years old and had for years been known as an active politician and a public spirited man.

He was born in Palmyra, New York, and came to Michigan with his father when 16 years old. His father was a republican but he was a democrat among democrats. He was a delegate to the convention that nominated Horace Greeley for president; was supervisor of his township several terms and served eight years as county clerk. Mr. Robison served one term as mayor of Ann Arbor and twice ran for congress but was unsuccessful each time.

He was a man of deep will, sterling integrity, and was firm in his convictions. More than once he ran against his father, a republican, for supervisor, and other incidents equally striking show his uncompromising loyalty to his party. Yet he had many firm friends in the republican ranks and was respected by friends and foes alike.

Mr. Robison had been suffering from neuralgia for several years. He leaves four children, George F. Robison, Jr., James A. Robison and Mrs. James T. Emmons, of Detroit, and Chas. C. Robison, of Sharon. Another son, J. Emme Robison, was a well known Detroit newspaper man, and died some years ago.

CONTRACTORS LOSE MONEY

On the University Hospital Improvements.

James Beswick and W. M. Doolittle of Owosso, who contracted with the regents to make extensive improvements on the University hospital, find that they have agreed to do the work at too low a figure.

Last Thursday both of them had disappeared and their bondsmen, who also live at Owosso, were notified at once that the men were gone.

They conferred at once with Beswick and Doolittle who decided to come back and resume the work.

Mr. Beswick was seen by the REGISTER and said: "My partner did the figuring and he made a mistake, taking the job too low. I shall keep on and finish the building though it will take all I have in the world, including my home, to make up the loss."

ART EXHIBIT.

At Prof. Pattison's Studio in the Winchell House.

At the studio of the Art School on North University-ave., an exhibition of pictures including work by the director, James William Pattison, and also by the students, mostly landscapes made from nature during the past summer will begin next Monday and is open for inspection to all. It is hoped that all will feel free to attend. The school has been moved from the downtown studio to the Winchell house. The lower floor of this quaint mansion, furnishing excellent quarters.

Mr. Pattison will also give a lecture to the Art League on the Paris Salon, on Thursday evening, 7.30 o'clock, in the home of Miss Douglas on E. Huron street. The membership of the league is already considerable and the members pay a fee of one dollar. There will be a series of art lectures of a simple, popular sort of interest to all. It is not alone for art workers but for anyone interested in a knowledge of modern artists. Mr. Pattison speaks from personal experience.

FARMS IN EVERY TOWNSHIP

COVERED BY A LEVY ON THE W. E. MORGAN ESTATE.

An Old Fight Resumed. Eames Tries to Collect $147,000. Probable Results.

The old law suit begun years ago by Wilfred Eames to secure a part of the E. W. Morgan estate has again been revived. Last summer Judge Bank of Kalamazoo, granted Eames a judgment of $146,000. The matter was carried to the Supreme court which sustained the decision and Eames returned to this city to levy on the Morgan property. On Saturday morning Sheriff Judson made the levy which covers fully $2,000,000 worth of property. Whole blocks in this city and farms in every township in Washtenaw county, in all over three hundred pieces of property are covered by the monster levy.

The suit began years ago when the Eames family alleged that the late E. W. Morgan misappropriated $47,000 of money which he received in trust from the sale of property owned by his sister, Mrs. Lucy Eames, and it is for this money, plus about $100,000 of interest for 33 years, that the judgment was rendered. The fight has been a hot one. Thousands of dollars have been spent and it has been tried in the courts of several states.

Mr. Eames says he does not want to injure anybody and that persons who can prove that they purchased land innocently and have good titles will not be disturbed. If not, he will expect back the original value of the land, without improvements. The present owners of the land have no idea that they will lose anything and say that the levy can not possibly succeed. One man said, "The property belonged to Mrs. Morgan and a judgment against the W. E. Morgan estate can not affect it at all." Another interested party said: "It's all nonsense; the property belonged not to E. W. Morgan, but to his wife. It is held she obtained it fraudulently from her husband. That will have to be proved, and it can't be done. The levy will be fought and defeated."

One of the incidents of the levy was the meeting of Eames and Capt. C. H. Manley, administrator of the estate. This occurred in the county treasurer's office, Saturday morning. After slurring remarks had been passed, Capt. Manley struck at his opponent who countered, blacking the Captain's eye and otherwise damaging his face.

Royal makes the too pure, wholesome and delicious.

ALUMNAE ARE COMING

ASSOCIATION OF INTER-COLLEGIATES WILL BE HERE OCT. 30.

NOW HAS 2000 MEMBERS.

A Sketch of the Organization and its Work.

Next Saturday promises to be a great day in this city for the association of Collegiate Alumnae which meets in Detroit Thursday and Friday will on that day visit the University of Michigan and the final session will be held here.

The Alumnae of this city are busy making arrangements. When the party arrives from Detroit, about ten o'clock, the members will go to Tappan hall. Here President Hutchins and Dr. Mosher will deliver addresses and one paper will be read.

Then the ladies will go to the gymnasium where they will take lunch. Following the luncheon comes the Woman's League reception which is held in the new Gym. Here Alice Freeman Palmer will be the Central figure and will give a short address.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae is an organization of 2,000 women, graduates from some one of the colleges or universities accepted in its institutional membership. The institutions thus far recognized are Boston University, Bryn Mawr, University of California, Cornell, Kansas, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of Michigan, Oberlin, Smith, Syracuse, Vassar, Wellesley, Wesleyan and Wisconsin University.

With this large membership it seems strange that the association has so few members in Ann Arbor for not more than a dozen of our resident Alumnae belong.

The organization began in November 1881 when seventeen women met in the rooms of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston. The question they asked was: "How can women make the best use of their higher education?" and it was to answer this that the association was formed. There are nearly two thousand women belonging to it through twenty branch associations in as many of the large cities of the country. In December, 1882, the Western Association of Collegiate Alumnae was organized in Chicago by Miss Jane M. Bancroft, at that time dean of the Woman's College of Northwestern University. The western association was vigorous in its growth, though never numbering so many members as the eastern association. The western started various plans, among which was the establishment of fellowships for advanced studies, and when it joined the eastern association it brought with it the noble record of having sustained two fellowships in the University of Michigan. Later, a European fellowship was founded, and from that time until the present the association of Collegiate Alumnae has had annually women who have been pursuing advanced studies in foreign universities.

This is but a part of what has been accomplished. From the outset the association has laid special stress on the necessity of a sound physical basis for mental growth. The first paper presented before it was on physical education, and it pursued extended inquiry to obtain statistics concerning the action of education on the health of women. Over 1350 circulars were distributed, whose results were tabulated by the Massachusetts bureau of statistics of labor, and the tendency of the discussion went to prove that systematic mental training helps, not hinders, bodily health. A long list of papers has been published since then, devoted to the special aspect of the general subject of health.

Much attention has also been given to study of the occupations and professions suitable for college-bred women, and the ideas presented, the result of opportunities and observation, have been embodied in a number of able papers published for general distribution.

Among the women who will be present will be Miss Marion Talbot, dean of the Woman's College of Chicago university, Mrs. Bessie Bradwell Holmer, an able daughter of an able mother, edits with the father, Judge Bradwell, The Legal Review, one of the leading legal journals, especially influential in the western states. Miss S. E. Wentworth of Boston, is to give a paper on the subject, "Same Experiments in Dieting School Children." Miss Claghorn, a writer of a series of articles in The Outlook, which were published later in a volume entitled, "College Training for Women," is also to read a paper. This paper will be read in Tappan Hall on Saturday forenoon. The others will be given in the Detroit meetings.

TEN YEARS YOUNGER.

A Happy Husband's Story.

"My wife," writes a fond husband, "looks ten years younger since she began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura. She was in a terrible condition. She began to be nervous several years ago. I did not notice it at first, but she gradually grew worse. After a little she could not sleep. She lost her appetite. Then she became irritable and morose, and from the sweetest and best tempered woman in the world she became shrewish and hysterical. Finally she began to fade away. You know there is a difference between women who grow old naturally and women who fade out from the effects of disease. I think I am as devoted and patient as any husband, but I must confess that my wife's unfortunate condition was a sore trial. I do not know what would have become of us if things had gone on as they were. The change for the better came suddenly. There was a complete transformation within a few days. Sound sleep and a hearty appetite came as nervousness and irritability went. I did not know what the matter was until she told me that she had been impressed by the sincerity and common sense of Dr. Greene's advertisements, and had been taking his Nervura. From misery and despondency she is now the happiest person in the world, with the possible exception of myself."

Dr. Greene's Nervura, THE GREAT BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY,

Is the great health restorer. To suffering womankind it is a priceless blessing. How sad is the sight of a fading woman! Who has not seen the sparkling eyes lose their lustre, the roses and lilies fade from the cheeks, and elasticity of step and gracefulness of figure give way to repulsive haggishness! With departing beauty go sweetness of temper and charm of speech, and nothing is left of the sufferer but the ghastly contrast with her former self. The world would be gloomy indeed were there no light in this dark picture. Nature is forgiving. In Dr. Greene's Nervura she has found a means by which women may regain their lost health and beauty, and assume their rightful positions in the spheres in which they move, as both ornaments and inspirations.

Dr. Greene's Nervura acts directly upon the nerves and blood, which are the life. Exhaustion, irritability and moroseness are banished, and the circulation is strengthened and purified like a mountain stream. The office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., is open to you, and skilled physicians are at your service with consultation, examination and advice absolutely free, personally or by letter.

IMPORTANT AND INTERESTING MATTERS IN BRIEF.

Spain's Reply to the Offer of the United States to Act as Mediator in Cuban Matters is Almost an Insult and May Cause Serious Trouble.

Madrid cables state that Spain's reply to the note of the United States hinting at mediation in Cuba and requesting an answer before the end of October has been placed in the hands of Gen. Woodford, the American minister there. The communication is courteous in tone, but very determined in rejecting the purport of the American note.

Spain resolutely asserts her determination to settle the Cuban question herself without foreign assistance or interference of any kind. She declines to fix any date for the pacification of Cuba, which she proposes to bring about as she sees fit by force of arms and by political reforms culminating in autonomy combined. While regretting the losses and damages the insurrection has inflicted on foreigners Spain argues that this would not have happened if international law had been observed by the United States especially. The note dwells at length on filibustering and other material and moral assistance which has chiefly contributed to the rise and duration of the rebellion. It clearly intimates that Spain cannot continue the "forbearance shown by Senor Canovas del Castillo and the duke of Tetuan during the past two years," and that she now calls upon the American government to "fulfill more strictly in the future the rules and duties of international law," because "the success of the new home rule policy and the speedy pacification of Cuba chiefly depend upon the conduct of the United States."

The Spanish press unanimously supports the attitude of the government which it calls eminently sober and dignified, but the impression is that the controversy with the United States has reached a critical stage which may be the prelude to a rupture. The Spanish naval forces in the Caribbean sea will be strengthened on the pretext of a necessity for increased vigilance on the Cuban coast.

El Liberal thinks a rupture is possible as a result of the negotiations between Spain and the United States, and adds: "We ought to avoid this rupture, so far as duty and honor permit; but though the governments should act in a spirit of moderation, the nation will under no circumstances authorize the renunciation of Spanish rights." El Tiempo publishes the announcement that the reply of the Spanish government to the note of the United States declares that if the United States does not stop the sailing of filibustering expeditions from American ports Spain will re-establish the right to search vessels anchoring in Cuban waters.

London papers advise Spain to go slow and by all means avoid a rupture with the United States and say that it is an idle dream for Spain to hope for assistance from any European power.

Our Potato Crop a Failure.

Not since 1892 has the potato crop of the United States proved so nearly a failure, says the American Agriculturist, in its final report of the yield of 1897. Compared with the liberal crop of last year there is an apparent falling off of nearly 30 per cent in tonnage and the quality of the whole is greatly deficient. County and township returns from all over the leading potato growing states show the yield of potatoes to be 174,000,000 bushels, against 245,000,000 in 1896; 285,000,000 in 1895; 185,000,000 in 1894. The average rate of yield per acre is placed at 64 bushels, taking the country at large, against 86 bushels in 1896, 89 in 1895. The principal reason for disaster to the potato crop of 1897 are blight and rot, as a result of extremes of weather condition. The crop is best in the northwest. Such portions of Canada as make a specialty of potatoes, notably Ontario and the maritime provinces, show a general but not serious shortage.

Luetgert Jury Disagreed.

After being locked up in the court room for 66 hours—two nights and one day—the 12 jurors who listened to the testimony in the famous case of Adolph Luetgert, the Chicago sausagemaker charged with killing his wife and dissolving the body in a vat of acid, failed to agree upon a verdict. Nine of the jurors stood for the death penalty and three for acquittal. Judge Tutthill questioned each man separately how he stood. Finding that there was no possibility of an agreement he discharged them from further consideration of the case. Luetgert's wonderful nerve never deserted him during the final proceedings, and he heard the announcement of the disagreement with a smile on his lips. The state attorney said he would bring the accused before the court a second time. Counsel for the defense will make application for the admission of the prisoner to bail.

Japan will apply the gold standard to the currency of Formosa at once.

An article in an Italian magazine has caused a profound sensation in Germany. It advocates the formal withdrawal of Italy from the dreibund at the end of the present term of that compact and the forming of a new zweibund between Italy and Great Britain. The writer says that Italy's most vital political interests are in the Mediterranean and that only England can aid her there. It is believed in Berlin diplomatic circles that this expresses the convictions of Italian statesmen and that the withdrawal of Italy from the dreibund is a foregone conclusion.

OLD-TIME COOKERY.

Miss Margaret Hooker, author of a curious little book called "Ye Gentlewoman's Housewifery," gathered together recently, in a tour through old New England towns and farmhouses a number of receipts for cooking, cosmetics and simple household remedies, which were in use by our capable foremothers. The very names of some of the edibles are both tempting and historic. Election cake claims its proper page. There is Molly Stark's fruit cake—that Molly Stark who was not made a widow at Bennington—federal cake, general training cake, with its suggestion of gaping crowds, proud village captains, and the awkward squad on the training green; and finally, independence cake. Certainly, in the old days, housewives did their full share toward celebrating the "Fourth."

There is a dashing generosity about the receipt for independence cake that the modern housekeeper may admire, but would scarcely care to imitate. She would rather tolerate the noisiest of cannon crackers and topedoes than treat her small boys to such a festal indigestible compound, manufactured on such a scale. Here are the ingredients:

"Twenty pounds of flour, fifteen pounds of sugar, ten pounds of butter, four dozen eggs, one quart of wine, one quart of brandy, one ounce of nutmeg, cinnamon, cloves, currants, raisins, five pounds each; one quart of yeast. When baked frost with loaf sugar. Dress with box and gold leaf."

Experienced housewives may reckon for themselves for how many persons this monumental receipt would provide festive joy. Exclusive of the liquid elements, sixty-five pounds of raw material! Its consumption, however, was probably prolonged and gradual, for the spirituous ingredients indicate that it would keep indefinitely, like mince pies and wedding cake.

Many of the dishes mentioned are quite unknown to us to-day; others have become familiar through literature. Truffles, syllabubs and whips preceded the advent of ice cream, and were in constant use at routs and balls. We often find them mentioned in old diaries and letters. General Washington evidently missed them at a certain entertainment he attended in Virginia, which, on account of the unsuitable refreshment offered, he termed, "the bread-and-butter ball."

On the whole, a glance back at the compounds served up by our ancestors shows that cookery, like the other sciences, has made progress since their day.

But if we have most of us, at least, heard of these once popular delicacies, and if some of us have tasted them, how many know anything of the following viands: Turtulongs, loblolly, skirrits, cale-cannon, switchels, march-pane, tewahiddle and mutton kebobbod?

This Thief is Eccentric.

San Francisco has probably one of the most peculiar thieves in the country. He is William H. Kinney, a middle-aged Australian, who takes anything in sight when drunk and then when sober gives himself up to the police. Ten years of his life have been spent in jail for petty thefts, of which no one would have known but for his voluntary confession. Only a few days ago he was released from jail after serving six months, but yesterday he saw a nickel-in-the-slot machine in a saloon, and when the barkeeper's back was turned he stole it and pawned the machine for 75 cents.

WHAT IS RHEUMATISM?

MORE PREVALENT THAN FOR MANY YEARS.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF TEMPERATURE AN IMMEDIATE CAUSE.

A Dartmouth Professor Finds an Unfailing Cure for the Ailment.

Rheumatism is more prevalent in Ann Arbor than for many years.

When this disease fastens on an individual, he generally knows what is the trouble. The inflammation, soreness, and pain, in combination with chills, coated tongue, loss of appetite and swelling of the joints, tell plainly that this is rheumatism.

To quote the Medical World, "the patient becomes a pitiful object of suffering, helpless and incapable of movement; and possibly an eventual martyr to a chronic state of the disease, which will shatter his usefulness, though it spares his life. Perhaps, though, the heart and its belongings are fatally involved, as not infrequently happens."

But what is rheumatism? Physicians' opinions vary. Some say one thing and some another. Yet all agree that a poison gets into the system, and rheumatism results.

The immediate causes are cold and moisture, and sudden changes of temperature, acting upon those who are weak or specially disposed to the disease. It should be regarded as a warning indication of a low state of health, and the first twinge of pain or stiffness of the muscles ought to be placed carefully under treatment.

Rheumatism can be relieved by Paine's celery compound, a purely vegetable extract whose efficacy in rheumatism was discovered by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth. This compound strengthens the system, restores vigorous nerve power, and regulates the circulation, thus driving out the rheumatic poison.

The best proof of its value is the good it has done. Though known for a comparatively short time, there probably is not a city or town in this state where it has not effected a cure. That it is all that is claimed for it, is being daily demonstrated. Many have thrown away their crutches, and now walk briskly and erect, without pain or suffering, solely through the use of this celery compound.

All lovers of the good of humanity will rejoice that at last there is a positive and reliable way to cure rheumatism and relieve suffering.

What reason then has one for suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia, or allowing a friend to limp with pain?

Roller Steamer Launched.

The great roller steamer, of which so much has been written, a vessel which its inventor promises is to revolutionize ocean travel, do away with seasickness and make the voyage from New York to Queenstown in two days at the most, was launched at Polson's shipyard in Toronto Thursday. The shell is a tubular affair 100 feet long and 35 feet in diameter. It has been illustrated in the Blade.

An Old Settler.

An oak tree was cut down at Baraboo, Wis., recently, the trunk of which had nearly 400 rings, which according to the generally accepted rule that a new ring is formed each year, would indicate that the tree started on its earthly career after Columbus first sighted the new world. The Democratic members of the Board of Supervisors who control the action of that body, are furnishing the Republicans of this county some excellent campaign material for the spring campaign.

If Prosecuting Attorney Kirk expected to make a reputation for the democratic administration by his work in the Richards murder trial, we fail to see that he has made a success of it in any sense of the word.

The residents on and near the south end of East University avenue petitioned the council to have the sand on their end of that street scraped off and a coating of gravel put on the street. So far no action has been taken in the matter. The fine sand on the south end of E. University avenue makes the street almost impassible. It would be scarcely exaggerating to say that the sand is hub deep. Something should be done to this street before the ground freezes this fall.

PRESIDENT POTTER of the League of American Wheelmen has put himself on record as disapproving Sunday races. He says that if the league is to have the support of the people it must have the respect of the people, and that public sentiment, except, perhaps, in California, is "overwhelmingly against Sunday racing." He recommends wheelmen in all the states to fight strenuously for a Saturday half-holiday, on which all important cycling events may be raced for, and gives warning that the "religious" sentiment of the wheelmen and wheelwomen who are members of the league must be respected.

WILL somebody please explain where there is a particle of justice in the manner in which, the so called peddler's license is being enforced? If some poor man offers to sell within the city limits a bushel of potatoes he has not raised, he is at once arrested and made to pay a heavy fine. If a wealthy corporation sends an agent here and sells thousands of dollars worth of goods, every dollar's worth of which sale violates the ordinance just as much as does the man who sells the potatoes, not a thing is done. We think that it is high time some change is made. Either wipe out the ordinance or else enforce it on all who violate it.

"The Daily has received a postal from Oberlin saying that $200 would accompany the team, to be placed even. Here is a chance for some student of limited means to make a part of his school expenses."

The above local appeared in the U. of M. Daily Oct. 22. Is it possible that a publication issued in the interests of Michigan students, supposedly with the sanction of the faculty, and upholding in long editorials all steps for the purification of college athletics can preach such doctrines?

Surely it cannot be for the welfare of Michigan students to have gambling held up to them as a reputable way to make money. It cannot be to the interest of the University to have its patrons throughout the state led to believe that betting on games is upheld and encouraged by such an important organ as the college Daily. Above all, nothing is more in contrast with the doctrine of pure athletics than to uphold betting on games, for when the game ceases to be for pure sport and becomes a source of income to either the players or their supporters the spirit of professionalism is introduced and pure amateur sport is no more.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

NONE SO GOOD

A Piece of Parchment.

When unwritten on, is not more colorless than the cadaverous countenances of those unfortunate persons who are accustomed to call "confirmed invalids." What a misnomer! Implying, too, despair, a giving up for lost! As long as the vivifying power of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be felt, and that is possible so long as there is no absolute collapse of the faculties, fresh vitality can be infused into wasted, feeble frames; color and flesh can be brought back to wasted, pallid cheeks with this grand sheet anchor of the debilitated and the sickly. It is a tonic of the greatest potency and the utmost purity, and a remedy for, and preventive of dyspepsia, bilious malarious, rheumatic, nervous and kidney complaints. Appetite and sleep are greatly aided by it; it counteracts the effects of undue fatigue, or excitement, and nullifies the often pernicious consequences of exposure in inclement weather or damp clothing.

BECAUSE OF A WOMAN.

JAMES RICHARDS WAS A WISER AND A HERMIT.

A Letter From His Old Sweetheart. She Would Not Come With Him. But He Remembered Her.

Judge Newkirk recently received an affidavit from Temperance Broom, of England, which throws remarkable light on the life of hermit James Richards. An extract from the letter reads as follows:

"My father, Robert Board, was a blacksmith. James Richards was the son of a farmer of the same name. I knew him from childhood and when about 17 years old I kept company with him for 6 or 7 years. In the year 1849 I was delivered of a female child of which he was the father. Shortly after the birth of my child I went to live at the home of his father and mother. I remained there about one year and then he went abroad. After that he corresponded with me for several years and sent me money several times. He repeatedly asked me to come to him and be married but my parents were opposed to my going and I feared the voyage which prevented me from going to him."

Temperance Broom was formerly Temperance Board. She was James Richards' sweetheart and when he left her in England he seemed to leave all human ties and affections behind. He was fond of his daughter and while he was miserly toward all the rest of the world, even to starving himself on crackers and cheese, he was generous to her, repeatedly sending her money. On the week following his death he expected to come to Ann Arbor to send her $50. In his letters to his daughter he would ask if her mother was yet alive, showing that he still remembered tenderly the sweetheart of his boyhood, the woman whose absence made him a miser and a hermit.

STOLE THE SIGN.

SOME ONE MAKES A RAID ON THE ART SCHOOL.

Art Students Are Hard at Work. Explore the Old House for Recreation.

Students of the Ann Arbor Art School have now settled down to hard work, and are taking instruction in oil and water color painting, decorative designing, newspaper and book illustrating.

When tired of work they rest themselves by exploring the old house, and though they have not yet found a secret chamber, or a bloody hand print on the wall, they live in hopes that some future day will reveal something more agreeable than dusty furniture, and ink stains where some "frat" man threw his ink bottle in a moment of desperation over unpaid bills or flunks in algebra.

Although some freshman in search of tapistry for his room, eloped with the sign, the Art School still lives on in the "Old Winchell Building" and expects to live and grow till it occupies every one of the fifty rooms.

Nansen in the Frozen World.

Preceded by a Biography of the Great Explorer, and Copious Extracts from Nansen's "First Trip Across Greenland," also an Account, by Elvind Astrup, of "A Journey Across Northern Greenland" with Lieut. R. E. Perry, U. S. N., followed by a Brief History of the Principal "Earlier Polar Explorations," etc. Profusely Illustrated. A. J. Holman & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia, Pa.

As indicated on the title page, the volume opens with an appreciative and intensely interesting biography of Dr. Nansen, who, though less than thirty-six years of age, is universally recognized as by far the most successful Arctic Explorer the world has ever seen. His ancestry for almost three hundred years is traced. The boyhood of the now famous man is described in the most fascinating manner. Then we see him as a young man, foremost in all the sports requiring great physical exertion.

But the centre of interest is in the great "Fram" Expedition. Here the reader is told how this wonderful ship was built; of its voyage to the North; how it was frozen into the ice. Then came the great Sledge Expedition of Nansen and Johansen, which occupied fifteen months, and in which they reached a latitude of 86 degrees and 14 minutes—a point much farther North than had ever been reached by man. The return voyage of the "Fram" is also fully described.

In all parts of the civilized world Dr. Nansen is the hero of the hour. His wonderful success has brought him the fame it deserves. This volume not only tells what the masses of the people want to know about him, and what he has accomplished, but it also traces the history of the work in which he was so successful, from the earliest period of which there is either record or tradition down to the present hour, thus really forming a 'Cyclopedia of Arctic Exploration.'

This work contains over 500 pages. In one volume, and has more than 100 fine illustrations, is printed from clear and open type upon excellent paper, and is bound in durable and attractive styles. See the publishers' advertisement in another column. 92

HOW TO STUDY THE BIBLE.

Subject of Rev. C. A. Young's Institute.

The Bible Institute held by Rev. C. A. Young, of Chicago, has been a source of great benefit to all who have attended.

Bible study is neglected because so few know how to study it. It is Mr. Young's purpose to show the students a way so clear and straight that it may not be neglected any longer.

The opening lecture on the "Divinity of Christ" was given Sunday evening to a large audience in the Church of Christ. "The mythical theory of the origin of Christian history and doctrine" he said, "is no longer advanced."

In speaking of the miraculous birth of Christ, Mr. Young said, "The law of consistency is recognized throughout the scientific world. If a zoologist finds a large thigh bone of some extinct animal he knows the other bones must be large to correspond and he can describe the animal. The same law holds here. We see a man doing marvelous things. To be consistent, his life, his death, his birth, should be equally miraculous."

In his lecture on "The Apocalypse of St. John" he said, "Since this part of the Bible is the subject of so many misconceptions, we should therefore make a more careful study of it. Because it is mysterious or hard to understand is no reason why it should not be understood. There are mysteries in the natural world but we do not cease studying. It is an idle fable that a peculiar key belongs to it and that the key is lost."

Monday and Tuesday nights, lectures were given on the "Gospel of St. John" which gave the student a method to work by in his study of the Bible.

"In all the writings of John his strength is shown. He was not the weak, effeminate creature public opinion believes, but was strong and manly. His writings, burning with passion and indignation, show reason for his being called the 'Son of Thunder.' He had two faults—his ambition and his temper. His faults and blemishes grew out of his intense nature. He is the apostle of love, but the love of God is full of wrath and anger against sin and wrong."

TO MOTHERS OF LARGE FAMILIES

In this workaday world few women are so placed that physical exertion is not constantly demanded of them in their daily life.

Mrs. Pinkham makes a special appeal to mothers of large families whose work is never done, and many of whom suffer and suffer for lack of intelligent aid.

To women, young or old, rich or poor, Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., extends her invitation of free advice. Women do not let your lives be sacrificed when a word from Mrs. Pinkham, at the first approach of weakness, may fill your future years with healthy joy.

Mrs. A. C. BUEHLER, 1123 North Albany avenue, near Humboldt Park, Chicago, Ill., says: "I am fifty-one years old and have had twelve children, and my youngest is eight years old. I have been suffering for some time with a terrible weakness; that bearing-down feeling was dreadful, and I could not walk any distance. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash and they have cured me. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

Special Message to Men.

When the desolating fact of impaired vigor comes home to men the force of the blow is crushing. They know themselves inferior to their fellows; and they shrink from companionship, their ambition is gone and hope with it. When hope vanishes despair takes its place. All this is without warrant, for these men can be cured. Dr. Greene, the famous specialist in men's diseases, has found the remedies that restore vitality in men. These remedies build up and strengthen, and thousands of men walk the earth today who have been permanently restored to vigorous manhood by their use.

Weakness vanishes, hope and ambition return, and the patient is truly a new man. Dr. Greene's glorious discoveries are the safeguard of many thousands of homes today. His wonderful Nervura alone, has made him famous. Consultation and advice, personally or by letter, is absolutely free at the office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill. Write about your case and there will be absolutely no charge for consultation or advice in either case, whether you call or write. The system of treatment by mail is perfect, and is absolutely confidential.

SPECIAL MARKET LETTER

The following market letter is furnished us by McLain Bros. & Co., Commission Merchants, Rialto Building, Chicago:

The steady influx of gold has enabled the New York bank to materially increase their legal reserve fund, and as it promises to continue, the prospect of an easier money market is flattering. General business is still unfavorably affected by the yellow fever affliction and the absence of rain over a large area of the winter wheat territory, which renders merchants cautious purchasers of fall and winter goods. The drought which has practically been unbroken over a large territory east of the Missouri river is a serious menace not only to wheat growers, but to business of all kinds throughout the suffering area, and unless rain soon falls in abundance the baneful effects of the lack of moisture will be felt during the ensuing year.

Its absence is already manifest in the wheat market, which begins to show renewed strength and activity under the stimulus of dry weather reports and the gradual disclosing of the real strength of the situation abroad. Notwithstanding the free marketing of the last crop in all producing countries, which the relative position of spot and future deliveries encourages, the visible stocks are accumulating so slowly that the fear of inadequate future supplies is stimulating forward purchases, and the markets of the world are responding to the gravity of the situation.

English buyers are, however, procrastinating, and although their stocks need replenishing, are offering prices much below those current at Mediterranean ports. Continental Europe still keeps up its daily purchases in American markets, and as primary receipts are gradually diminishing, this buying, if continued, will compel the reluctant English to enter the market as active competitors, and thereby so greatly augment the demand that holders will more easily be able to dictate terms.

Later reports of foreign crops do not show any amelioration of conditions, and all authorities agree in their statements of a serious deficiency, though they disagree in their estimates of its seriousness. Europe's hope of obtaining adequate supplies at anywhere near present prices lies in the possibility of abundant southern hemisphere crops, which thus far are in the main promising. There have been contradictory reports from Argentina, and it is fair to presume from their import that while their crop is now doing fairly well, it will not fulfill its early promise.

Domestic advices indicate an unpromising outlook for our next winter wheat crop, the weather having been unpropitious enough to curtail the acreage and enfeeble the growing plant. Northwestern advices indicate an abatement of the movement from first hands in that section, and that the reserves there after the first marketings are over will be too meager to afford burdensome supplies during the remainder of the crop year.

An element of strength will doubtless develop ere long at the south, where the quarantine regulations have so seriously interfered with the flour trade. Consumption has steadily decreased stocks in that section, and by the time they can be freely replenished will be low enough to absorb the production of winter wheat mills for some time, thereby bringing the millers into the market again as liberal buyers.

Speculatively our market is in position to respond promptly to renewed general buying on a larger scale, the stock of contract wheat being so small that short sellers hesitate before putting out liberal lines, and confine their moderate operations to the May future, which affords a more promising field than the December option. Their experience in selling futures at a discount this year has been so disastrous that they have become cautious and would offer but slight resistance to anything in the nature of a sensationally strong market.

Our corn market is speculatively in a stronger position, a large long interest having been eliminated. The supply and demand relations are against any immediate sensational advance, but as the lower price is creating a better eastern demand, the market will probably moderately respond to any upturn in wheat. Exports are smaller and the weather is generally favorable for early cribbing.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada shows the following changes for the past week: Wheat increased 699,000 bu., corn increased 4,275,000 bu and oats increased 895,000 bu. With this issue our press letters for the present terminate; we, however, issue a private weekly market letter which we will, with pleasure, mail to anyone sufficiently interested to write us for it.

REVIEW OF TRADE. After the heaviest buying ever known in many branches during September and the first half of October, it was but natural and desirable that a more quiet period should give time for testing the size and temper of retail trade and for distributing part of the enormous quantities bought. As the buying for replenishment is partly satisfied and diminishes, there is some decrease in the volume of transactions, though at the same time the working force has further increased, the wages of labor have been in numerous cases advanced, and the foundation laid more broadly every week for larger buying hereafter. The iron industry waits, because possible production for the year has been practically ordered, while neither buyers nor sellers regard contracts at current prices for next year's business as quite safe. Wheat has advanced with little reason.

There is a Hereafter.

Here is a little pointer for those whose conduct conveys the impression that they think there is no hereafter. The late lamented Bill Nye once said: "Do not attempt to cheat an editor or of his year's subscription to his paper, or any other sum or recommend somebody else for an office that he is aspiring to. Cheat the minister, cheat anybody and everybody, but if you have any regard for future consequences, don't fool the editor. You will be put up for office sometime, or want some public favor for yourself or friends, and when your luck is a thing of beauty, a joy forever, the editor will open up on you, and knock your castles into a cocked hat at the first fire. He'll subdue you, and then you'll curse your stupidity for a driveling idiot; go hire some man to knock you down and kick you for falling."

The first Wesleyan Guild Lecture for the year will be given in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, Oct. 31st, by Dr. Charles S. Albertson, of Buffalo. The subject will be announced later.

The Bible institute to be given under the auspices of the Bible Chairs will begin next Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Church of Christ. The lectures will be given by Rev. Chas. A. Young, formerly of this city. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the work will continue in Newberry Hall.

The University lighting plant is still far from completed, and it looks as though darkness will continue to reign until December 1. This means a still longer delay in organizing gymnasium classes and in holding the freshman spread. The failure to get dynamo and engines in time causes the trouble.

At the September regents meeting it was decided to call the west seminary room the "Concert Room" and to place there letters and works of the Concord philosophers and poets given the University by Dr. Samuel Jones and others. Wednesday the board ordered the books placed in the fire proof vault until a more secure room can be prepared.

Frank Buck was in Ann Arbor Thursday on business.

The Saline Butter and Cheese Company is doing fine business under the management of Mr. Fargoburg, who is a man of many years' experience at butter and cheese making. The quantity of milk received daily is far ahead of what was expected, although a larger quantity is needed. The building makes a fine appearance as it is situated on the up-ground facing the Saline river. It is nicely painted and finished up in the best possible manner. On the inside everything is business. The large separator, the new Alexander, separated nearly 3000 pounds in one hour on the initial day, which is a strong proof, especially for new machinery. The company of whom the plant was purchased has turned it over to the Directors and it is now running under the able officers of the stock company.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His formulas are everywhere recognized as the most effective remedies in the world. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most perfect and scientific cure for constipation ever invented. They are not violent in their action, but perfectly sure, and at the same time comfortable. Their great reputation has called out a score of imitations, which druggists sometimes try to substitute, but there is nothing "just as good."

When your appetite or sleep is disturbed when the stomach and liver are not working properly, or the bowels are not in regular condition; you are losing vitality and strength; figures are going down on the wrong side of the ledger. Unless this is stopped and the other side of the account is built up, you'll soon be a physical bankrupt.

The most profitable account a sick man can open in his Ledger of Life is with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a wonderful and scientific tonic which imparts a direct and healthy stimulus to the entire nutritive organism. It strengthens the digestive fluids and the liver, and enables the blood-making organs to produce pure, red, highly-vitalized blood.

This play has been seen here before, but an entire new dress has been supplied it, and the author, Glen McDonough, proclaims that it is now a hundred per cent. funnier than it was last season.

The company management has brought together for its presentation is a good one; the scenery too has been brightened up and made to suit the other improvements. The management announces no advance in prices.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His formulas are everywhere recognized as the most effective remedies in the world. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most perfect and scientific cure for constipation ever invented. They are not violent in their action, but perfectly sure, and at the same time comfortable. Their great reputation has called out a score of imitations, which druggists sometimes try to substitute, but there is nothing "just as good."

It is not a mere temporary exhilarator. It feeds the constitution with genuine, permanent power. It writes big, round sums on the health side of the account, and wipes out the figures of weakness and disease. It animates the vital forces and builds up healthy flesh, muscular energy and nerve-force.

WITHIN OUR WALLS.

MERE MENTION OF MICHIGAN MATTERS.

Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows and State Assembly of Rebekahs at Lansing
 —Baptist Convention at Bay City
 —Another Disaster at Detroit.

L. O. O. F. and Rebekahs Meet.

Regular sessions of the grand lodge Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the state assembly of the Daughters of Rebekah at Lansing were preceded by special sessions at which the grand lodge degrees were conferred upon a large number of delegates. When the grand lodge session opened Secretary of State Gardner and Mayor Davis gave addresses of welcome and President Bailey and H. B. Hudson, of Mancelona, responded. The report of Grand Secretary Whitney, of the grand lodge, showed that the total Michigan membership at the beginning of the year was 23,507; at the close of year, 23,630. The total amount paid for relief was $37,105.50. Master Wiseloge, in his report, recommended that the schools of instruction be made a permanent feature and that an official instructor be appointed; also that steps be taken to change Odd Fellows' memorial day from the second Tuesday of July to May 30.

Grand Master Wiseloge's action in instituting a new lodge at Howell against the protest of Livingston lodge was sustained after a strong fight.
 The grand lodge officers were elected and installed as follows: Grand master, Eber S. Andrews, of Williamston; deputy grand, E. H. Sellers, of Detroit; secretary, E. H. Whitney, of Lansing;
 treasurer, B. D. Pritchard, of Allegan; representatives to the sovereign grand lodge, H. W. Wilder, of Grand Rapids, and W. F. Wiseloge, of Muskegon;
 warden, F. E. Andrews, of Adrian;
 marshal, A. J. Stroud, of Sutton's Bay;
 conductor, C. E. Williamson, of Tecumseh; guardian, Chas. Geiger, of Calumet; chaplain, D. H. Reiter, of Vicksburg. The annual dues in subordinate lodges was reduced to $2 per year.

The Rebekah assembly devoted an afternoon session to hearing official reports. The number of Rebekah lodges holding charters at the beginning of the year was 265, with a total membership of 11,164. At the close of the year the membership had increased to 13,871. The receipts by subordinate Rebekah lodges were $12,- 931.25, and the expenses, $12,153.48.
 The Rebekah degree staff from Charlotte exemplified the work before a large audience in Representative hall.
 The following Rebekah officers were elected and installed: President, Lydia M. Peet, of Ithaca; vice-president, Ein-ma M. Hastings, of Jackson; warden, Clara E. Stoner, of Grandville; secretary, Ida M. Davis, of Lansing; treasurer, Mary Martin, of Flint.

Cantons of Patriarchs Militant from Flint and Owosso gave exhibition drills on capitol square, making a fine showing. There are now 27 cantons in the state, with a membership of about 750, and delegates from each body held a business meeting.

Baptists of the State at Bay City.

The sixty-second annual convention of the Baptists of Michigan began in the First Baptist church at Bay City.
 Reports showed that there are 440 associated churches in the state and seven unassociated churches, a gain of 18 over last year. From all of these churches are reported a total of 2,581 baptisms. In the associated churches are 43,678 members, and in the unassociated churches 610, a total of 44,288.
 Attention was called to the fact that although there were 2,526 baptisms there was net gain of only 559, and there is no record of the 2,000 who have disappeared. Oct. 1 there were about 76 pastorless churches, and perhaps 53 of these will need outside aid.

The Baptist Young People's Union reported marked success for the past year and elected the following officers:
 President, C. A. Johnson, of Ovid; vice-presidents, G. Jay Vinton, of Detroit, and F. E. Hixson, of Portland; secretary-treasurer, N. B. Ackley, of Detroit; junior leader, Lou E. La Tourette, of Fenton; transportation leader, E. E.
 Huntley, of Grand Rapids.
 The women's missionary societies held meetings at the same time. The Home Mission society reported that $2,942.06 had been received and distributed. Mrs. Wm. A. Moore was elected president. The Foreign Mission society elected Mrs. Caleb Van Husan, of Detroit, president. The two societies then held joint conference meetings.

Fatal Boiler Explosion at Detroit.

The boiler in the factory of the Detroit Cabinet Co., corner Biopelle street and Hancock avenue, exploded at 7:30
 a. m. almost instantly killing Laurent Tunney, foreman, and fatally injuring Moses Peltier, engineer, and Herman Kreinbring. Eight other men were seriously hurt. There were 50 men at work in the building at the time and the reason that no more were hurt is because they were at work in the end of the building opposite to the boiler room. The loss is about $10,000 with no insurance, but the factory will be rebuilt at once.

George Young, a farmer near Blue Earth City, Minn., shot and killed his wife, two boys, aged 2 and 4 years, and himself. All were found weltering in blood when the hired man, the only other person on the place, came in.
 Business and domestic troubles.

Wm. Phipps, aged 50, was arrested on the charge of raping a 7-year-old daughter of James Perry, a wealthy farmer of Groveland, Oakland county.
 He was caught almost in the act and there was talk of a lynching, but he was finally locked up in jail at Holly.
 The child's condition is critical.

REASONS FOR USING Walter Baker & Co.'s Breakfast Cocoa.

1. Because it is absolutely pure.
2. Because it is not made by the so-called Dutch Process in which chemicals are used.
3. Because beans of the finest quality are used.
4. Because it is made by a method which preserves unimpaired the exquisite natural flavor and odor of the beans.
5. Because it is the most economical, costing less than one cent a cup.

EAT, DRINK, AND BE MERRY.

For Tomorrow Ye Die.

A wise old proverb gotten up in all probability by some merry old wit, who knew that long pouring over his coffee, meant early demise. Generations of people have perished by the coffee route since the above was written; but the worst is over.

GOLDEN NECTAR—
 A perfect substitute for coffee, is being used by thousands of families

 fies the oldest coffee drinker.

GOLDEN NECTAR—
 Is the product of the American

To Remove Tan and Freckles.

Soap will not remove tan or freckles.
 Bathe the face in warm water, and dry very carefully with a soft towel. Do not use soap on the face unless absolutely necessary. Never use face powder of any sort; it spoils the skin by closing the pores. If your child suffers from sunburn, moisten the face at night with cucumber juice; cut cucumber lengthwise and rub it on the face, allowing the juice to remain until it dries off; or use a mild solution of baking soda.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer in Ladies' Home Journal.

Prosperity in Michigan.

Labor Commissioner Cox recently made written inquiry of the village clerks of the incorporated villages of the state as to the average wages paid to laborers and mechanics, whether work is plentiful, if many men are idle and if any new enterprises have been started. Reports were received from 216 villages which indicate that in the smaller towns of the state business is reviving and but few men are idle.
 The average wages paid for unskilled labor is reported in four towns at 75 cents per day, in one town at 90 cents, in 90 towns at $1.00, in 97 towns at $1.25 and in 17 at $1.50 or upwards. In the 216 towns, 63 new enterprises are reported, including sawmills, brick and tile factories, stove mills, cheese factories, planing mills, shingle mills, banks, stove factories, grist mills and business houses of all kinds.

A few applications of Salvation Oil will readily cure sprains and bruises, and heal cuts, burns and scalds. It is undoubtedly the best pain-cure on the market, and should be, ready for use, in every home in the land. Mr. Frank Stubenaver 1337 Elm St., Dubuque, Iowa, states: "I used Salvation Oil on a sprained elbow, which threatened to prevent me from working, and after several thorough rubbings, I awoke the very next morning much relieved and able to go to work. Had I not used Salvation Oil I certainly would have lost a week's work, which would have amounted to many times the cost of a bottle of Oil. Everybody should keep Salvation Oil in the house." It is sold everywhere for only 25 cents.

INCOMES THAT SEEM LARGE.

It is always assumed that great painters make fortunes almost with a turn of the hand. That, at all events, is not the experience of M. Puvis de Chavannes, the most celebrated painter in France at the present time, who has been working for thirty-seven years, estimates that the total amount he has been able to earn by his pictures in that time has amounted to scarcely $16,000. In other words, his income has averaged only about $430 a year.

This even does not represent profit, for naturally his expenses in hiring models and in purchasing materials would have to be deducted from this very modest sum.

Similar abnormal figures between position and income are occasionally met with in other professions, although as a rule men do not like to proclaim the fact that they have not been great money-makers.

One of the most remarkable examples of this fact was the case of a famous oculist living in Harley street. He was the senior surgeon of one of the most celebrated ophthalmic hospitals in London, and held one of the highest positions in the professional world as a consultant.

In speaking of the subject of earnings to a professional friend one day, he jokingly asked:

"What would you think has been the most I have ever earned in a year out of the practice of my profession?"

The friend looked up not knowing what to answer, whereupon the old oculist went on: "Well, you would perhaps be surprised if I told you that I have never earned $100 in twelve months."

Reckless Voyagers.

A New York exchange says that during a gale which ravaged the Atlantic coast, the Short Beach life-saving station on Long Island was aroused to rescue four men in a small sloop about half a mile from shore. After a tedious and perilous trip, the surf boat reached the sloop, and the crew found on board four men benumbed with cold, and half starved. When brought to a place of safety and thawed out they told their story. They had been out on a gunning trip on the Sound, and when overtaken by the storm had taken refuge in a deserted shanty. Their provisions were soon exhausted, and also their fuel, and although perfectly aware of their peril, they set sail again, in hopes of bringing up at some place where they could get provisions. As a consequence of such rashness they came near losing their lives. The captain of the life savers remarked afterward that it was a pity to risk the lives of good men to save the lives of confirmed idiots.

Decline of Drinking at Harvard.

Thomas Wentworth Higginson is one of those who declare that there has been a great decline in drinking at Harvard university. In his younger days he used to see students reeling down North avenue, in Cambridge, from Porte's tavern, when they had indulged in the potent "flip," which nowhere else was made so strong, and instances of intoxicated students careering through the college yard were not uncommon. "Nowadays," says the colonel, "I am sure no student would willingly be seen staggering across Harvard square. It would be considered poor form and any man who would do such a thing would lose caste."—Exchange.

RUSSIA'S DESIRE.

Hawaii and the Changing Front of the World.

Russia has been striving for centuries to reach the open sea, says the Forum. The dream of Peter the Great has become crystallized into a national aspiration. Gibraltar, Malta, the Suez canal, and the preponderating strength of the British navy make the Mediterranean an English lake, even should Russia pass the Bosphorus. The entrance to Russia's Baltic ports is blocked by ice for a great part of the year. Thwarted on the west and south, ice-bound on the north, this great mysterious, seemingly irresistible power extends her dominion steadily until she reaches the Sea of Japan on the east; acquiring, by bold and skillful diplomacy, the Amur country, equal in area to France. For the purpose of uniting her vast dominions, Russia is pushing to speedy completion her great Siberian railway, from the Ural mountains to her Asian seaport fortress. The names around this eastern fortress indicate Russian aspirations: Vladivostok means "Ruler of the East;" the harbor is called the "Golden Horn;" the passage to the sea, the "Eastern Bosphorus;" and the bay, the "Gulf of Peter the Great." If not in Europe, yet in Asia, after centuries of patient striving, will Russian dreams of becoming a sea power at last be realized. The presence of Russia in the far east and the possibility of a combination between Russia and China followed by the awakening of China from her sleep of centuries; the extension of French dominion in Indo-China, Siam and Madagascar; the partitioning of Africa and the islands of the Pacific among European powers; the industrial growth of Japan and her entrance into the family of nations as a great naval and military power; the completion of the great military highways from Halifax to Vancouver, and from St. Petersburg to Vladivostok; the rapid peopling of British Columbia and our North Pacific states and of the Amur and Manchuria districts—all tend to change the front of the world and to transfer to the placid Pacific the national activities which for three centuries past, have rendered the Atlantic the theater of stirring events. We must expect points of vantage in the Pacific to be occupied. There is a vast area of the Pacific ocean with one, and only one, great land-locked harbor, easily defended—Pearl harbor, in the Hawaiian islands.

Luxury in Central Africa.

We learn from a London interviewer that Zomba, the capital of British Central Africa, is quite a civilized place, in which the visitor may require a dress coat. "If the commissioner asks you to dine, you will find that he lives in a luxurious mansion built high up on the shoulder of a lofty mountain. Your dinner will be cooked by a Hindoo chef of exquisite cunning, you will be waited upon by deft servants as black as night, the table will be decorated with flowers such as no British duchess could buy, the view from the windows will delight your eye. After dinner you will step out into the veranda, perhaps, and smoke your cigar with the roar of the cascading river in your ears, or fall into a luxurious chair and read the last novel from Mudie's or the last batch of papers which the postman has just delivered. Then early to bed and early to rise, your bath, your coffee, and a little fruit perhaps, a stroll in the delightful garden, full of fruits and flowers, a peep at the commissioner's private menagerie, then dejeuner."—London Star.

He Stacked.

A traveling man just home from a far western trip has brought with him something new in linguistic novelties. "I was eating dinner in a restaurant way out west," he said, "and as I finished the bustling waiter girl scorched up to me and asked in a fast express sort of tone, 'Do you want any dessert?' 'Yes, I will take some,' I answered. 'Well, then stack!' she demanded in an imperative tone. 'Stack!' I repeated, thinking it was something new to eat, 'what's that?' 'Why, pile your dinner dishes up,' she impatiently explained. So I 'stacked' all the little dishes on my plate and she scorched off with them and brought me three kinds of pie, two kinds of pudding and some frozen custard."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Chimay and the Sultan.

La Patrie, a French paper, says that the Sultan of Turkey has invited Princess Chimay to give in his private theater at the Yildiz Kiosk the performance which the Paris police recently refused to allow at the Folies Bergeres. It appears that the sultan has conceived a violent admiration for the eloping companion of Rigo, the Hungarian Tzigane, his attention having been called to several photographs of the lady posing in the drapery of living pictures.

Self Diagnosis.

Mrs. Blinks (meaningly)—I asked Dr. Aquapura if whiskey was good for colds, and he said "no." Mr. Blinks—Well, I don't believe I've got a cold, anyhow. It's something else. Did the doctor mention what diseases whiskey was good for?

A New Meaning.

Grover Walton—The bass that got away was at least three feet long. You may think I'm crazy, but—(interrupting)—Oh, I don't think that—I think you're only an angler-maniac.

In the Vernacular.

"And you want to marry my daughter, do you?" said Mr. Stockbroker.
"Well, not right away, sir," said the timid youth; "but I'd like to have an option on her."

Gave Back My Health.

There is no reason for being despondent and considering diseases of the blood incurable, simply because the treatment of physicians and many so-called blood remedies fail to effect a cure. Though it is naturally disheartening to the sufferer who faithfully takes the prescribed treatment of the physicians, often at the expense of hundreds of dollars, to find himself, no better as time goes by, still a cure will result from the right remedy, S.S.S., no matter what other treatment has failed.

The reason that S.S.S. (Swift's Specific) has so successfully cured even the worst cases after other treatment had been tried in vain is that it is the only remedy which forces the poison from the blood and permanently eliminates it from the system, which is the only correct principle of curing the disease. Mercurial remedies bottle up the poison and tear down the system, while S.S.S. forces out the poison and builds up and adds strength and vigor to the entire system. It is nature's remedy, and contains no harmful ingredient.

Mr. Charles Glenn, of 1563 Dudley St., Cincinnati, is one of the many who constantly praise S.S.S. for giving him back his health. He says: "From childhood I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, and have taken almost every blood remedy on the market, but my case was despaired, and one by one they failed. The large, red blotches increased in size and number, and soon covered my entire body. 'My parents had me treated by a number of physicians, but the disease was too much for them, and after their temporary relief was over, I found myself growing steadily worse. Thus I grew into manhood, handicapped by a terrible disease, and having tried so many remedies without relief, when a friend urged me to take S.S.S. I had little faith in any medicine. I was happy to find, however, that I had at last gotten the right remedy, for one bottle of S.S.S. did me so much good that I soon had hopes of being cured. I continued the remedy, and was cured completely, the unsightly spots soon disappeared, leaving my skin perfectly clear. My general health was also built up, and I am robust and strong. I believe S.S.S. will cure the worst case of blood poison in the world.' S.S.S. is a real blood remedy, and will cure the most obstinate cases of Cancer, Eczema, Catarrh, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, old sores, or any disease caused by impure blood. It is and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain not a particle of mercury, potash, arsenic or other mineral. S.S.S. is sold by all druggists.

Valuable books and on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

It is a source of great regret to many members of the Ann Arbor Union that the difference of opinion between Lady Henry Sumner and other officers of the W. C. T. U. should cause so much disturbance as it has. That they should differ in their methods is not strange, for we cannot all see things in the same light. With all her time spent for so many years in the temperance cause, certainly she must have a good reason for thinking as she does, and if her results are good why quarrel over the methods.

The subject for the next meeting of our W. C. T. U. Thursday next, will be "The World's Convention."

"Away With Melancholy, And bid dull care avaunt," sounds very well in verse, but if you have a case of the "blues" caused by indigestion, with biliousness added on as an extra horror, you cannot say hey! presto! and thus insure the departure of those abominable twins. The "proper caper" when thus troubled, is to seek the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Thereafter you will speedily digest with ease and eat with appetite, and your liver will reassert its right to regularity. Not only this, you can retire without a horrible dread that the Washington monument will—in dreams—impose itself upon the pit of your stomach. If you feel promontory symptoms of chills and fever, kidney trouble, or rheumatism, summon the Bitters to the rescue without delay, "lest a worse thing befall you." A feeble condition of the system is more speedily changed to a vigorous one by this fine tonic than by any other medicinal agent in existence. A wine-glassful three times a day.

M. C. Peterson, who caused the arrest of the prisoners, swore that when the arrest was made the men told contradictory stories but when the matter was sifted, the only difference proved to be a slight one relative to their purpose in making the trip, two saying that they went to have a drunk while the other claimed that they went for a music stand.

One piece of evidence which promised to be sensational was a letter to Judge Nowlark from an English officer saying that John Bristow, formerly of Superior township, knew all about the murder of Richards and might be the guilty man. Walter Ely came up later, however, and swore that Bristow left for England, November 29.

Miss Lizzie Finch swore that she was at the Larkins household on the night of the murder and that the men came home drunk about three o'clock. She knew Larkins did not have his 44 calibre revolver with him.

The defense opened its case Thursday afternoon. Deputies Eldert and Ball and Marshal Sweet told of their investigations in the case.

Charles Merritt, George Hunter and Wm. G. Allen testified to the general good character of the defendants. Charles Van Valkenburg, Bert McComb and Edward Holmes testified to having at several different times driven through the toll gate between Novi and Farmington late at night when it was wide open.

Fred Simons swore that he was driving over the road which the prisoners claimed to travel on the night of the murder. He was in a buggy and met three men in a swellbox cutter. This was strong evidence as the men, from the first, claimed to have met a buggy, noticeable on account of the good sleighing.

Harold Tubbs, of Northville, the night watch, saw three men in a cutter with a dark horse, enter the town as if coming from Plymouth, and passing the hotel at the corner, drive to the gymnasium. The hotel was apparently closed at that hour, about 11 o'clock.

William Nowland, night watch at Plymouth, saw the defendants before they started for Northville. About 2 o'clock that night he saw three young men in a cutter whom he supposed at the time to be the defendants returning to Plymouth by the Farmington road.

John McKenzie testified to having lived by the side of the road entering Plymouth from Farmington at the time of the murder. He happened to get up at 2:20 a. m., and saw three young men in a cutter with a dark horse pass the house on the way into town. He saw them by the light of a street lamp.

Miss Leavington, Lyons' sweetheart, was the first witness at the evening session. She said the defendant had given her several presents, including a $20 bill on the night of his arrest. This last she used partly to pay up some of his bills.

Irving Lake swore that he had driven from Farmington to Novi on the night of the murder. He found the toll gate open and passed through it about 11 o'clock. He met a cutter with three young men in it in a hollow east of the toll gate. Wright, of the livery stable, told how the three young men had brought the rig back about 2:30 a. m.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

The Grass Lake News says Jacob Gunner's Luckberry marsh yielded 100 bushels this year.

Saeak thieves have been "doing" Dexter. Last week they entered the residences of Albert Lathrop, Alonzo Davis, Dr. S. L. Jenney and G. W. Pratt but stole no very valuable goods.

Ypsilanti's greatest society event was the wedding of Miss Caroline Sanders of Ypsilanti and Mr. Edwin Conklin Wilkinson of Marquette, at St. Luke's church, Thursday evening, October 14, 1897.

Dr. Sheeder was called Friday to the home of Geo. Avery south of town, to hold a post-mortem over the 14-year old daughter of Mr. Avery, which proved the case to be a very serious one of appendicitis.—Saline Observer.

The Saline Butter and Cheese Co., is now a legally organized body, doing business every day with new plant and new buildings. Under the superintendence of a competent man, Mr. Fargerberg, the company ought to survive and be an ornament to the county.

The Ypsilantian says: E. E. Osband is mourning the loss of $25 worth of carpenter's tools which were stolen from his chest Monday night. He was working on a house in Normal Park, and left his chest there locked, but it was pried open. He has no clue to the thieves.

Peter Krell, one of our best citizens, came home from Mason, Wednesday and was taken from the train in an insensible condition owing to congestion of the brain. He was conveyed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leroy Brower, and is recovering.—Grass Lake News.

Fire broke out in C. E. King's barn Saturday night about 11 o'clock. Mr. King saw it in time to rescue the horses and wagons, but most of the smaller tools were burned. The loss is covered by insurance. Mr. King has no idea of how it started as it caught in the hay loft.—Ypsilantian.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Jos. Alger last Friday night. The thieves cut out a pane of glass and pried up the window, enabling them to gain entrance into the room. Nothing was taken so far as has been ascertained. Mr. Alger had had his pocket picked while in Chicago the day previous.—Dexter Leader.

Last Wednesday morning the dress of Miss Emma Schollemler, who works for Adam Eppler, caught fire from the stove. She rushed out into the hall where B. B. Turnbull and his father came to her assistance and succeeded in smothering the flames. She was quite badly burned about the arms and side. B. B. Turnbull also had his hands badly burned.—Chelsea Herald.

Last Saturday forenoon about 10:30 Willis Taylor was at work repairing a gasoline tank in the alley back of O. A. Kelley's hardware store; he threw about half a gallon of settlings out onto the ground near his fire-pot when there occurred a collision of fire and gasoline. A. E. Gardner's storehouse was quite badly charred, but no further damage was done, as the blaze was immediately extinguished. The fire department was on the way to the fire, but their services were not required.—Milan Leader.

There is no word so full of meaning and about which such tender and holy recollections cluster as that of "MOTHER"—she who watched over our helpless infancy and guided our first tottering step. Yet the life of every Expectant Mother is beset with danger and all effort should be made to avoid it, so assists nature in the change taking place that the Expectant Mother is enabled to look forward without dread, suffering or gloomy forebodings, to the hour when she experiences the joy of Motherhood. Its use insures safety to the lives of both Mother and Child, and she is found stronger after than before confinement—in short, it "makes Childbirth natural and easy," as so many have said. The South American Cowboy.

The life of the gaucho, or South American cowboy, is spent on horseback, riding over the endless stretches of plains, corralling his cattle and branding them, and occasionally hunting wild game. His saddle is the most uncomfortable seat in the world, but he bestrides it with the ease and grace of an Indian, and is not to be dislodged by any trick of man or beast. He never carries any firearms. His weapons are the lasso, or horse hair rope, the bolas and the knife. The latter is the weapon of defense when fighting with human enemies, and the first two are his weapons of offence when chasing the wild horse, steers, guanacos, ostriches, panthers, and even birds. The bolas is a weapon peculiar to these South American cowboys, and through long years of constant practice, is really a deadly instrument. It consists of two or three small iron balls, one and a half inches in diameter, attached to pieces of stout cord three feet long. The other ends of these cords are gathered together in a big knot, which gives the cowboy a firm purchase. He swings it over his head once or twice to give it force, and then with a twist of his wrist, hurls it with unerring aim at the object. Within a range of thirty or sixty yards the man can bring down any small game, and even at eighty to one hundred yards he has been known to hit panthers and rabbits. The two or three balls swing wide apart in their flight, and thus there is a range of six feet in which to hit the target. The lasso is thrown with the same skill as the bolas, and it never fails to settle over the head of the steer selected.

Money to Spare.

In a mining country it is more than usually unsafe to judge of a man's financial condition by his outward appearance. Here is an instance: A miner from the northern part of the state, having sold his claim for a round sum, came down to Spokane for a kind of celebration. In appearance he was rather rusty, and when he went into an up-town restaurant the single waiter was in no haste to serve him. To and fro he went in an officious manner, waiting upon a party at the next table, but quite ignoring the presence of the new comer. "See here, kid!" called that worthy, when his patience gave out. "Do I eat?" "Sorry I can't wait on you now," was the answer, "but the gentleman there has just ordered a $50 dinner." "Fifty-dollar dinner be hanged!" said the miner. "Bring me a hundred dollars' worth of ham and eggs, and be quick about it!" And he was waited upon promptly.—Spokane Review.

I had run down in flesh to mere skin and bone. I could not sleep lying down for smothering spells; frequent sharp darting pains and palpitation caused a constant fear of sudden death, nothing could induce me to remain away from home over night. My local physician prescribed Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and in a few days I was able to sleep well and the pains gradually lessened, and finally ceased. I reduced the doses, having gained fifteen pounds, and am now feeling better in every way than I have for years."

An Elephant's Foot.

Any one who has even glanced at the foot of an elephant must be aware that it is a ponderous piece of anatomy, but its actual size is best illustrated by an anecdote. Two men in the Central Park Zoo were speaking on this subject, and one of them thought the circumference of the foot must measure at least four feet.

His friend laughed at this, but the younger man, after a second time gauging the size, insisted that his guess was correct. Nonsense—quite impossible! exclaimed his friend. And then, as the younger man still claimed that he was right, they laid a wager and referred the matter to the keeper.

"What is the circumference of the fore foot of that big elephant?" they asked. "The circumference of an elephant's foot is nearly half the animal's height," replied the keeper. "Will you be so good as to measure it?" asked the amazed visitor.

And the keeper got a long cord and went in beside the monster, Bazzie, who stands eight feet five inches in height. "Of course I measure when the animal is standing squarely on all fours," he said. "If I were to take the foot up from the floor, it would not be quite so large; a small part of that size is caused by the spreading out of the soft matter of the foot by the pressure of the animal's own weight."

He drew the cord around the monster's foot, held it up, and measured it with a tape line. The figures showed four feet two inches. The man who had lost the bet paid it with the remark that he did not think he was paying too dearly for that curious bit of knowledge.

28 HURLED TO DEATH.

New York Central Train Plunges into the Hudson River.

Buffalo and New York special No. 46, on the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, due to arrive in New York City at 7:30 a. m. was thrown from the track into the Hudson river, one and a half miles below Garrisons Station. Twenty-eight lives were lost. The train left Buffalo at 7:30 p. m. and had gone over nearly nine-tenths of the distance towards its destination when the engine plunged into the depths of the Hudson river. With his hand upon the throttle, the engineer sank with his engine to the bottom of the stream and the fireman, too, was at his post. Behind the engine was the express car, the combination car and the sleepers and these piled on top of the engine. It is known that it was a trifle foggy and that the track was not visible, but if there was any break in the lines of the steel it must have been of very recent happening, for only half an hour before there had passed over it a heavily loaded passenger train. The section of road was supposed to be the very best on the entire division. There was a great heavy retaining wall all along the bank and while the tide was high the previous day it was not unprecedented. What seems to have happened was that underneath the tracks and ties the heavy wall had given away and when the great weight of the engine struck the unsupported tracks it went crashing through the rest of the wall and toppled over into the river. As the train plunged over the embankment the coupling that held the last three of the six sleepers broke and they miraculously remained on the broken track. In that way about 65 lives were saved. Later reports from Garrisons say that 19 bodies have been recovered. A large number of passengers are as yet unaccounted for, but it is generally believed that many of them escaped from the cars before they sank and were given refuge in the three sleepers which remained on the track and were taken to New York before a complete list of the rescued could be secured. All of the sunken cars have been raised and burned.

World's W. C. T. U. Convention.

The World's Women's Christian Temperance Union held the biennial convention at Toronto. Great interest in the work was manifested on all sides. Miss Frances E. Willard presided and read her annual address. Canada, she said, leads the world in the great prohibition struggle, and the prospects of success are cheering. The address covered a wide scope. The banner offered by Miss Willard to the colony reporting the greatest increase in membership was won by Queensland. The United States is the largest auxiliary, having enrolled 15,888 new members. The executive committee authorized the celebration of Neal Dow's birthday, March 20, as a national temperance day.

At the meeting of executive board the officers were all re-elected, as follows: President, Miss Frances E. Willard, of Evanston, Ill.; vice-president-at-large, Lady Henry Somerset, of England; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, of Boston; Miss Jennie A. Ackerman, of Chicago; Rev. Alice R. Palmer, of Wayzata, Minn.; "Mother" Stewart, of Springfield, O.; secretary, Miss Agnes E. Slack, of England; assistant secretary, Miss Anna A. Gordon, of Evanston, Ill.; treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Sanderson, of Danville, One.

NOT FOR EVERYTHING

But if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble you will find Swamp-Root just the remedy you need. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are 'not quite well' or 'half sick' have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness?

It is easy to toll by setting aside your urine for twenty-four hour hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder need doctoring.

There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms bladder and urinary troubles. Not only does Swamp-Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire constitution. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar, or by mentioning THE REGISTER and sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. you have a sample bottle of this great discovery sent to you free by mail.

The Mosque of Omar.

The site of the Mosque of Omar, or Dome of the Rock, in Jerusalem, is unquestionably that on which stood the temple of Solomon. This site occupies one-fifth of the whole city, and when we see how small a part of the huge marble platform is occupied by the Dome of the Rock, and its adjacent Mosque of El Aksa we gather some faint idea of the area of that temple, which was the grandest pile ever reared to the glory of Jehovah. Very lovely and very noble is the Moslem memorial erected above the original site of Ornan's threshing floor, and very probably that of Mount Moriah the scene of Abraham's intended sacrifice. An appreciative traveler says: "Such a blaze and glory of color, subdued and tempered into exquisite harmony, such fineness and intricacy in arabesques and mosaics, such richness of stained glass windows, combined to make one splendid and satisfying whole, I remember nowhere else. Your gaze loses itself in the glories of the dome, where the colors play into each other like the hues on a peacock's neck, and you feel as if you could study for ever the perfect proportions of arches and clerestory. In the center of this perfect shrine, guarded by a railing richly gilt, is the Holy Rock itself." This mosque is the most sacred place the Mohammedan knows outside of Mecca.

Value and Uses of Cotton-Seed Waste.

"Cotton-seed waste, which a generation ago accumulated at the gin-houses, filled up the streams, rotted in the fields, and became an irritating nuisance, is now worth about thirty million dollars a year," writes William George Jordan on "Wonders of the World's Waste," in the Ladies' Home Journal. "Every bale of cotton leaves a legacy of half a ton of seed, which, it is said, brings the planter nearly as much as his cotton. The oil is used for finer grades of soap, as a substitute for lard, and is so near olive oil that an expert can hardly detect the difference. The hulls are fed to cattle, make an excellent fuel, are valuable as paper stock, and when burned the ashes make a fertilizer which is most efficacious. It has recently been discovered that cotton-seed oil, with the addition of eighteen per cent of crude India rubber, makes an imitation which cannot be distinguished from genuine rubber."

Followed Their Advice.

"I broke out with great blotches on my face, and friends told me my blood was out of order and that I ought to take a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I followed their advice and from that time to this I have not had any eruptions on my face. I know Hood's is a good medicine." Mrs. A. E. Radkey, St. Louis, Michigan.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All druggists. 25c.

But it was awfully good! Must have been, doncherknow, because it was in Punch. Lord Salks—Ya-as, must have been. Why, I can laugh just as though I'd seen it! Haw, haw, haw!

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Could Not Weaken Such Testimony As This.

(From the Kalamazoo Telegraph.)
The following statement is one of great interest to many a citizen of Kalamazoo, and a man as well known as Mr. Wallace should carry more than ordinary weight with our readers. Here it is as taken down by our representative:
"My name is John A. Wallace. I am a member of the firm of J. A. Wallace & Co., doing business as tinners, etc., at 105 Eleanor Street, Kalamazoo, in which city I also reside. For the past nine or ten months I have been having attacks of kidney complaint, the pain in my back over my hips was very severe at times; my urinary system was also in a bad state of derangement, sometimes the urine was scanty and then again the amount would be excessive, and a difficulty of passage always existed. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills at a time when I felt that I was going to be sick, but their use warded off an attack, and I am now feeling very much better; the urinary organism has regained a normal condition, and the terrific pain in my back is much reduced in severity, while it is now fast going away altogether. I am continuing the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, with positive feeling that they will effect on me a permanent and speedy cure. I have unbounded confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy for all kidney ailments; have good reason to be, as they have done so much for me."
Can you ask any more than this? Doan's Kidney Pills are relieving more backs of the burdens they have been forced to bear through the kidneys than all other means devised, and, better still, they are doing this right here in Michigan. Ask any one who has ever taken them and see what they will say.
Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

A Camel's Vengeance.
Camels have a great share of intelligence, and the Arabs assert that they are so extremely sensible of injustice and ill-treatment that, when this is carried too far, the infuriated will not find it easy to escape their vengeance, and that they will retain the remembrance of an injury till an opportunity offers for gratifying their revenge. Egeor, however, to express their resentment, they no longer retain any rancor when once they are satisfied; and it is even sufficient for them to believe they have satisfied their vengeance. Accordingly, when an Arab has excited the rage of a camel, he throws down his garments in some place near which the animal is to pass, and disposes them in such a manner that they appear to cover a man sleeping under them. The animal recognizes the clothes, seizes them in his teeth, snatches them with violence, and tramples on them in a rage. When his anger is appeased he leaves them, and then the owner of the garments may make his appearance, and without any fear may load and guide him as he pleases.

We live in a country of which the principal scourge is stomach trouble. It is more wide-spread than any other disease, and, very nearly, more dangerous.
One thing that makes it so dangerous is that it is so little understood. If it were better understood, it would be more feared, more easily cured, less universal than it is now.
So, those who wish to be cured, take Shaker Digestive Cordial, because it goes to the root of the trouble, as no other medicine does. The pure, harmless, curative herbs and plants, of which it is composed, are what render it so certain and, at the same time, so gentle a cure.
It helps and strengthens the stomach purifies and tones up the system.
Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.
Boston papers say that men have now gone out of service as telephone operators in that city, and thereby one occupation is claimed exclusively by women.

NOT GHOSTS.

How Strange Figures Occur on Photograph Negatives.

Some unexplained mysteries of photography, most of which seem to depend on some previous exposure of a plate, without the owner's knowledge, either to light or to some form of chemically active dark radiations, are thus described in the American Journal of Photography:
"It is no uncommon experience to find upon new plates certain images of which there seems to be no possible explanation, their startling and unaccountable appearance being 'wrought in mistry,' causing astonishment not unmingled with uncanny feelings. A gentleman made an exposure upon the interior of a friend's house; he was doubtful of the time, and proceeded to develop for under-exposure; to his great surprise the plate developed quickly and to his greater surprise the image was an interior quite different from that upon which he had exposed. The plate was from a fresh box and could not possibly have had a previous exposure.
"Another instance of this kind, having quite a sensational and tragic ending, is on record. An exposure was made upon a view having a river in the foreground. The photographer, while developing this peculiar plate, was perfectly astounded by an appearance which he had not seen while taking the photograph and for which he could in no way account. On completing the development there was plainly revealed, in the foreground of the picture, the figure of a woman, apparently floating upright in the water. Not many weeks after, to complete the mystery, the body of a woman was found in the river at the exact spot where the photograph had been taken. Again, not long since, the daily papers were agitated over the account of a traveling photographer who, upon making an exposure upon the exterior of a reputed haunted house, discovered at one of the windows a portrait of the murdered man through whom the house had gained its evil name. In another case three distinct images, having no connection one with the other, were impressed upon a single film. The plate was exposed upon a garden in the evening—nothing remarkable being seen—but when placed in the developer a man's hat of old-fashioned shape, a child's dress and a dog were distributed over the image of the garden. Such mysterious images were more common in the days of wet plates than now.

"A few years back Prof. Burton investigated the matter. Upon tracing back the history of the glass he found that it had been used for other aims, and that the images which appeared undoubtedly arose from the remains of previous images. The old glass was thus proved to be the source of the ghosts; it only deepened the scientific mystery, while it cleared away the supernatural. The glass traced by Burton had been washed for some weeks, immersed in strong nitric acid, and every means taken to insure chemical cleanliness, yet, in spite of all this, enough energy remained latent to form a developable image upon the new film, whether by chemical or physical force remains to be discovered.

There is always room for a new application of an old principle, even so old a one as that of the division of labor. Millicent—How long did your Easter trip to Rome occupy? Madeline—Oh, a week altogether—there and back. Millicent—And you saw everything? Madeline—Oh, yes; you were there three of us. Mother went to the picture-galleries, I examined the monuments, and father studied local color in the cafes.—Roseleaf.

A Klondyke Struck Convict.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:
J. B. Johnson, the desperate convict who fired the prison and led the revolt in '83, by which $300,000 worth of property was destroyed, and who has since made several murderous assaults on officers, is suffering with a severe attack of Klondyke gold fever. He has written a letter to State Auditor Jas. M. Selbert, one of the prison inspectors, that he is very anxious to try his luck in Alaska, make a fortune, become a good citizen and retrieve his good name. He wants Auditor Selbert to intercede for him with Gov. Stephens and secure him a pardon. He points out in forceful language that, if he is kept in prison until the expiration of his sentence, in 1912, the gold field will be overcrowded, and his chances of striking a rich lead will be greatly diminished.

Jury Duty a Social Function.
There is nothing quite so delightful as a woman's idea of courts and law and judicial procedure generally. The papers have been full of accounts of those three women chosen as jurors in the District Court at Fort Scott. One of them is Miss Cora Wheeler. Last Monday the sheriff served her with the usual summons to be and appear at court on the day set. She said: "Oh, thank you so much. Please tell the dear, kind judge that I will surely accept his invitation or send a substitute. Isn't it funny?"—Kansas City Journal.

A Broken Spirit.
Fuddy—"What a pusillanimous chap Toggler is! He's the worst henpecked man in town, and to see how even his children ride rough-shod over him is really disgraceful." Duddy—"Toggler? Oh, yes, the base ball umpire; yes, he is a little easy when he's off duty."—Boston Transcript.

Moon's Phases.
A man named Moon was presented with a daughter by his wife recently; that was a new Moon. The old man was so overcome with joy that he got drunk; that was a full Moon. When he got sober he had but twenty-five cents left; that was the last quarter of the full Moon. But when the old lady met him with the rolling pin there was a total eclipse of the Moon, with myriads of stars in the scenery.

Hartland, Mich., Sept. 22, 1897.—I have suffered a great deal with liver and kidney troubles. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills were recommended to me as good medicine, and I began taking them. They have done me so much good that I can speak highly of them for these complaints. I am a veteran of the late war and have been in poor health since the battle of Stone River. Alonzo Goss.

Hood's Pills cure sick headache, indigestion, biliousness.

Had to Remain All Night.
From Harper's Bazar: A young man, living within a thousand miles of Boston, recently called to spend the evening with his lady-love. Before the hour of departure came it began to rain furiously. His prospective mother-in-law took pity upon him and invited him to remain all night, and so save going home in the wet and perhaps contracting pneumonia, or at least rheumatism. Her kind invitation was accepted with alacrity and gratitude.
When the considerate hostess came down stairs in the morning she noticed the young man's overcoat hanging in the hall, and, to her surprise, it was thoroughly soaked, and had evidently seen wet weather very recently. What could it mean? Her curiosity could not be controlled, and at the breakfast table she said to her promising son-in-law:

"Willie, I notice that your overcoat is very wet. How did it happen?"
"Why," he meekly replied, "before I went to bed I went home to tell mother and to get my night-gown."

One application gives relief—35 cents. For sale by H. J. Brown and J. J. Goodyear.

A Colored Economist.
"John," said a Georgia farmer to one of his field hands, "you ought to be laying up something now. I pay you 50 cents a day."
"Yes, suh."
"Well, how much do you save out of it?"
"Forty-five cents, suh."

Without a Peer.—Works Miracles.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is without a peer. This great remedy relieves instantly the most aggravated and distressing forms of heart disease. It is the surest and quickest acting formula for heart trouble known to medical science, and thousands of times has the hand of the grim destroyer been stayed by its use. If there is Palpitation, Shortness of Breath, Pain in Left Side, Smothering Sensations, don't delay, or you may be counted in the long list of those who have gone over to the great majority, because the best remedy in the world today was not promptly used. For sale by H. J. Brown and J. J. Goodyear. 17

Fulsome.
"Why does the average clergyman think himself bound to indulge in such fulsome praise over a man's coffin?"
"Search me."
"Were you at Jinks' funeral? No. Well, the minister actually got up and said that Jinks rode the best wheel that ever was built. Faugh!"—Detroit Journal.

Painless and Believable Catarrhal Remedy.
Is the good word which John MacInnes, Waltham Bridge, N. J., has to say of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, after having suffered from Catarrhal Deafness for years. In 10 minutes from the first application he had relief, and after using but one bottle, his hearing was restored in all its natural acuteness. Not an excuse for despairing of a cure with such a remedy within reach of you. For sale by H. J. Brown and J. J. Goodyear. 18

Blue Blood.
First Mosquito—Why are you looking so blue? Second Mosquito—I'm just after dining on that English court who's stopping at the Hilltop House.

Troubled For Three Years.
"Having been troubled more or less for the past three years with kidney difficulties, Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me. I began taking it and after using three bottles I was completely cured. I gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to anyone." Alex. M. Agens, Ludington, Michigan.
