

A PECULIAR BUSINESS.

SUCH IS THE BREEDING OF FANCY POULTRY.

The Largest Plant in Michigan is Located in this County.—A Few Feathers Worth Many Dollars.—Mr. Nissley Tells of the Work.

Mr. Geo. J. Nissley, of Saline, is conducting the largest poultry raising business in the state. His poultry houses cover a large amount of ground and he ships each year something like one thousand fancy birds.

The business has its points of interest that are unique. For instance, the recent hard times have made no difference in sales and the shipments are not at all localized but extend all over the United States. A trade is not worked up in one locality to last for several years, but men go into and out of the business so frequently that most of the orders are from new sections of country.

Mr. Nissley says the breeding of fancy poultry requires the greatest skill, for the least mistake in mating will mar the pure plumage of the fowls and this is disastrous as a shade or two difference in the color of a bird may make a difference of several dollars in its value.

"You see," he said, "the birds are graded on a scale of one hundred. Size, color of legs, color of comb, size of comb, and color of feathers all enter into the marking. A Plymouth Rock graded at ninety-two will bring five dollars; one graded at ninety-four is worth twenty, and one marked at ninety-five or six will sell readily for fifty dollars. It's only a difference of a few feathers or a little color but that counts everything with a poultry fancier.

"We sell but few to farmers; most of them go to men who have a fancy for fine fowls. Some people get a craze for them and we depend on this craze largely for our sales. We find the business pays and we ship to almost every state in the Union."

IN THE KLONDIKE

U. of M. Men Renew their Acquaintance.

Cameron C. Burns, the Detroit, recently returned from the Klondike. When he was coming over the Chilkoot pass he saw a familiar figure with a pack on its back and almost dropped his own pack with astonishment. Then he gave the Michigan University yell.

"U. of M., Rah! Rah! Rah!"

The other man, who was going into the Klondike over the pass, dropped his pack like a hot stove lid turned around and yelled!

"For God's sake, who are you?"

He was "Fatty" Smith, the old Ann Arbor University halfback, who was in the University when Burns was there.

Burns also met Slavin, the pugilist, before leaving the Klondike. Burns is now in Columbus, O. He has a claim of 500 feet at Dawson, located last year before the rush became so great that claims were limited to 100 feet, and he has struck it rich, as per evidence of hundreds of dollars worth of gold nuggets brought home with him.

"The mosquitoes are so thick up there," said Burns, speaking of that peculiarity of that country, "that they bite me through every needle hole taken in the stitching of my gloves. When a fellow takes off his trousers he has to hire a boy to wave feather dusters around him, if he doesn't want to be eaten alive."—Detroit Evening News.

SHADFORD WINS.

And Gets a $7,000 Verdict for Injuries on the Street Railway.

The case of John Shadford against the Street Railway went to the jury Thursday evening. In his closing plea Mr. Sawyer reviewed the unfortunate life of the young man who was a steady industrious lineman, with a wife and child. Two years ago he fell while working for the company. He was paralyzed and can not use either leg.

Suing the company, he was granted a judgment of $4,500. The case was appealed and a new trial ordered on the ground that no proof had been presented that the fault lay with the company. The evidence in the last case went to show that the trouble was due to a defective instrument furnished by the company, and the jury gave Shadford a judgment of $7,000, $2,500 more than he received before.

Michigan Man A Forger.

Chas. T. Beatty, who was sentenced to fifteen months in the Pennsylvania state prison a few days ago for forgery, graduated from the U. of M. in '75. For five years he was the principal of the high school at Coldwater, resigning to take up the practice of law. He gave this up to become principal of the Saginaw schools, which position he held until 1884. In the meantime he had become active in politics and next served as assistant prosecuting attorney of Saginaw county for four years.

Notice to Executors and Administrators.

As much trouble is caused in the settlement of estates, by executors and administrators forgetting or neglecting to pay the newspaper advertising before the final hearing, I have made an order that before any final account can be heard in Probate Court, a receipt in full of all advertising must be filed, and I ask the newspapers of the country to see that all advertising is paid for, before the affidavit or final account leaves the office.

Also, in the future, all administrators and executors, before their final account is allowed, must file receipts in full from every heir and legatee, for their distributive shares of the estate. The statement in the final account that all heirs have been paid, will not be sufficient.

H. WIRT NEWKIRK,
Probate Judge.

DESERVES HIS HONORS.

Milton W. Guy, the High School Orator.

The Detroit Evening News gave a picture of Milton W. Guy, the popular young colored orator of the high school class, and said, "Milton W. Guy, a young colored man, has been chosen orator of the senior class of the high school. Last year Guy won the debating championship. In 1895 he delivered the Emancipation day address at Jackson. He is also a brilliant amateur writer and won the prize for the best story offered by the Breeze.

Mr. Guy's father is a Methodist preacher in Missouri, where the young man lived until a few years ago, when he came north and kept books and did similar work to pay debts and defray school expenses.

As the senior class numbers nearly 100 students, Guy's selection is considered a great honor.

TOUGH TRAMPS

Resisted Brakeman at Milan and Went to Jail.

Last Sunday evening there was quite a hubbub raised in Milan, over a rumor that a Wabash freight had been held up by four tramps. It all simmered down to the fact that four negroes had attempted or did steal a ride out from Detroit on a freight train, and that when the brakeman ordered them off one drew a gun on him. The officers here arrested three of them—William Turner, James Smith and Sam Conley—but the fourth, who handled the gun, escaped. The three were arraigned before Judge Doyle Tuesday morning where they pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing a ride and were sentenced to pay a fine of $5 each and costs and 30 days in the county jail at Ann Arbor. They were taken to Ann Arbor Tuesday afternoon by local officers. J. B. Sallitt, Wabash detective, caused the arrest of the fellows by telegraph, and was here during the prosecution.—Milan Leader.

TROUBLE IN ATHLETICS.

One of Michigan's Football Men Not A Student.

A sensation occurred in University circles last week when it was discovered that one of the best members of the Michigan football team was never in college. This is one of the worst crimes against football ethics, as the intercollegiate rules forbid anyone but pure amateurs who are bona fide students to play.

Stuart, the man over whom the trouble occurs, came here this fall from Illinois. He signed the statement required of all athletes that he was a student in good standing, but he had not registered or paid his dues. The faculty failed to discover the matter until after Stuart had left college last week. His friends think Stuart was green and that having attended classes, he really thought he was in college. They claim that he went home because sick and that he intends to return after Christmas. The board of control will probably apologize to all the colleges played this fall.

IN HIS MEMORY.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICES ARE HELD IN MEMORY OF PROF. PERRY.

The Funeral Services Held Saturday. Prof. D'Ooge, Mr. Goddard, Judge Waples and Rev. Bradshaw Tell of his Life and Works.

From ten o'clock till twelve on Saturday, the remains of Professor Perry lay in state at the Congregational church while hundreds of students and citizens passed and repassed before the coffin to gaze for a last time on the form they knew and loved so well.

There were flowers without number. The Clenadis, the St. Thomas school, the school board and numerous citizens sent wreaths and bouquets. In the afternoon Rev. Bradshaw conducted the services and Judge Cheever read the memorial address.

Sunday morning services at the Congregational church were memorial of Prof. Perry. Prof. D'Ooge, who graduated in the same class with Mr. Perry, spoke of his work as a teacher. "His life," he said, "was an open book and all who read its pages felt that they were unshaded by any moral stain and illumined by deeds of unselfish and beautiful service. My acquaintance with Mr. Perry began in college days when for several months we met at the same table. There I learned to know the sterling worth and winsome traits of his character. I well remember how he was looked upon by his college associates, as a manly, earnest and devoted student whose influence was always on the right side. In him were combined in a remarkable degree, the qualities of a virile, manhood sweetened with benevolence in such a sort that a child would twice a trustful hand in his unasked and find comfort in his face."

Mr. E. C. Goddard described his first meeting with Prof. Perry when he came to this city to enter the high school and went to the superintendent for advice. He found the kindest interest manifested and his heart went out toward the great educator. The same kindly sympathy he found throughout his later acquaintance. "Mr. Perry," he said, "was always faithful to his religious duties. The last time he appeared at Sunday school he was breaking down. 'I am too weary to be here' he said, 'but I can't go home until we have talked about the beautiful things in this lesson.'"

In closing, Judge Waples, who spoke of Mr. Perry as a deacon in the church, said, "His success was in a large degree due to his having in himself, the mind that was in Christ. He speaks to you young man and tells you that what Prof. Perry was you may be also."

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted by the High School Alumni association and former teachers of the high school,

WHEREAS, in the ordering of an all-wise Providence, our beloved teacher, associate and friend, Prof. Walter S. Perry, has been taken from us by death, therefore,

Resolved, That we enter upon record the following minute as expressing in some degree our deep sense of personal bereavement and public loss:

Superintendent Perry has been at the head of the public schools of this city for a period of twenty-seven years, being at the time of his decease the oldest superintendent in the state.

During this period Mr. Perry has guided the affairs of the schools with great patience and wisdom, exhibiting in his intercourse with fellow-teachers and pupils alike a truly christian spirit of kindness and gentleness, and devoting himself unsparingly to the discharge of his duties and to the welfare of those under his influence.

We mourn in his departure the teacher who always held up before his pupils the ideals of a noble manhood and womanhood, the man of spotless and exemplary life who furnished a model of pure and beautiful character worthy of imitation, the friend, who stood ready at all times to assist us by his counsels and to aid us in every worthy endeavor: the public-spirited citizen, who took the side of every righteous cause and gave his help to every good work.

In his death we have lost a beloved friend and associate, and the community and the state have lost a man who was a blessed and potential force in promoting the interest of sound education and of the purest morality.

Resolved, That a copy of this minute be sent to the sorely bereaved family of Mr. Perry with the assurance of our sympathy with them in the great sorrow that has come upon them.

Catarrh to Consumption

Catarrh invariably leads to consumption. Growing worse and worse each winter, those who rely upon the usual treatment of sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures find that it is impossible to check the disease with these local applications which only reach the surface. The offensive discharge increases all the while, and gets deeper until it is only a question of a short time when the lungs are affected.

The importance of the proper treatment can therefore be readily appreciated. But no good whatever can be expected from local applications, as such treatment never did cure Catarrh, and never will. Being a blood disease of the most obstinate nature, Swift's Specific (S.S.S.) is the only remedy which can have the slightest effect upon Catarrh. It is the only blood remedy that goes down to the bottom of all stubborn diseases which other remedies
cannot reach.

Mrs. Josephine Polhill, of Due West,
S. C., writes:

"I had such a severe case of Catarrh that I lost my hearing in one ear, and part of the bone in my nose sloughed off. I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, but each winter the disease seemed to have a firmer hold on me. I had finally been declared incurable when I decided to try S. S. S. It seemed to get right at the seat of the disease, and cured me permanently, for I have had no touch of Catarrh for seven years."

The experience of Mr. Chas. A. Parr, of Athens, Ga., was like that of all others who vainly seek a cure in local treatment. He says:

"For years I suffered from a severe case of Catarrh, the many offensive symptoms being accompanied by severe pains in the head. I took several kinds of medicines recommended for Catarrh, and used various local applications, but they had no effect whatever. I was induced to take S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) and after four months I was perfectly well, and have never felt any effects of the disease since."

Those who have had the first touch of Catarrh will save endless suffering by taking the right remedy at the outset. Others who have for years sought relief and found only disappointment in local treatment will find it wise
to waste no further time on sprays, washes, inhaling mixtures, etc., which are only temporary, and cannot save them from dreaded Consumption. They should take a remedy which will cure them because it can reach their trouble. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which can reach Catarrh; it promptly
gets at the very bottom of the disease,
and cures it permanently.

S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) is a real blood remedy, and cures the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula
and Eczema, which other so-called blood remedies have no effect upon whatever.
S. S. S. is the only blood remedy guaranteed.

ROYAL MATCHMAKING.

The Remarkable Success in That Line of Queen Louise of Denmark.

Denmark is a small country which does not have a large part in the world's affairs, but its court is an important one by reason of its marriage alliances and the personal influence of the king and queen, says the Youth's Companion. Whenever there is a court ball at Copenhagen one of the liveliest dancers is King Christian IX., who is still young at heart, although close to his eightieth year.

His wife, Queen Louise, is his senior by several months, and has ceased to dance in the royal quadrilles. She has been one of the most successful matchmakers in Europe, and still takes keen interest in this royal sport.

For her eldest son, the crown prince,
the queen found a suitable partner
nearly 30 years ago in Princess Louisa, daughter of the king of Sweden and Norway. Her eldest daughter became the princess of Wales, and her second daughter the wife of Alexander III., and mother of the present czar of Russia. Her second son, after his election as king of Greece, married a Russian grand duchess. With one grandson on the Russian throne and another the duke of York, destined to reign in England, and two other grandsons heirs to the crowns of Denmark and Greece, Queen Louise may be described as the grandmother of four emperors and kings. Two other marriages this adroit matchmaker has arranged. Her third son, Prince Wal-demar, married Princess Marie d'Or-leans, daughter of the Duc de Chartres, and her third daughter became the wife of the duke of Cumberland,
a great grandson of George III of England, who might have been king of England if Queen Victoria had died in her girlhood. These were marriages which brought great fortunes to the Danish family, for the Orleans princess was an heiress, and the duke of Cumberland was also rich. Queen Louise, having married off all her children
with marked success, has begun to arrange a new series of alliances for her grandchildren. Her theory has been that the reigning house of a feeble country like Denmark can be converted into a center of influence in Europe by discreet but ambitious marriages. She acted upon this principle when she advised her grandson, the crown prince of Greece, to marry a sister of the German emperor. The queen is not only a matchmaker, but also a woman of great force of character, and a good mind. Her influence has been felt in the family councils throughout Europe. The late czar and the present emperor of Russia have attached great weight to her advice.
Copenhagen has been the capital where
for two generations the Russian imperial family have been frequent visitors and have thrown off the cares of state. In September Queen Louise's 80th birthday was celebrated by a reunion of her descendants and relations in Copenhagen. It was a large family party from many courts of Europe, and she received the congratulations of nearly all the sovereigns on the continent.

EARLY ENGLISH WATCHMAKING

Mary Queen of Scots Had Two "Death's Head" Timepieces.

I am unable to trace any reliable evidence of English watches having been made until quite the end of the sixteenth century, although German and French productions were imported earlier, says Good Words. Derham, in the second edition of his "Artificial Clockmaker," published in 1700, mentions an eight-day watch which he was told belonged to Henry VIII., but the context clearly shows a weight time-piece is referred to. Among the possessions of Edward VI., as quoted by Wood from a royal household book, is
"one larum or watch of iron, the case
being likewise iron gilt with two plumettes of led." The first words of this description may seem to indicate a watch with a mainspring, but such an assumption is at once dispelled by the mention of the "plummettes of led."
That Elizabeth owned a large number of watches is certain. In 1571 the earl of Leicester gave to his royal mistress
"one armet or shakell of golde, all over finely garnished with rubies and diamonds, having in the closing thereof a clocke." From this it will be seen that the modern custom of wearing the watch in a wristlet is out a revival of sixteenth century fashion. It is said that Mary Queen of Scots had two "death's head" or skull watches, which she presented, one to each of two favorite maids of honor. Among others which tradition has assigned to the Scottish queen Octavius Morgan mentioned two which he considered to be of the period claimed for them. One was a ghastly memento mori watch in a case of crystal formed like a coffin, and the other an octagonal watch. The latter, it is asserted, was given by Mary to John Knox the reformer. The possession of many watches is ascribed to James I., but such as he did possess do not appear to have been utilized as timekeepers on every occasion, for in Savile's record of a stated journey to Theobald's in 1603 it is stated that the king stopped at the Bell at Edmonton, and, wishing to count the number of vehicles passing in a certain time,
he "called for an houre glass."

IRELAND AS A RESORT.

She Is Improving Her Hotel and Railway Accommodations.

The question is continually asked,
Why is Ireland, with its exquisite scenery and almost unrivaled beauty,
neglected by the peripatetic Saxon?
There are, or have been, invariably
two methods of solving the problem,
says the St. James Gazette. The Saxon has shrugged his shoulders and repeated for the thousandth time the old formula about the discomfort and the excessively high tariff of the Irish hotel. Or, on the other hand, he may have remarked on the dilatoriness of the Irish railway train. It is not for us to deny that, to a very considerable degree, complaints of this character have been more than justified; but a recent and rather extended experience of both these necessary adjuncts to the business of touring has revealed to us the fact that such grounds of dissatisfaction are being rapidly and certainly removed. Ireland has at last awakened to her possibilities as a tourist resort
which—whether it be in sea, mountain, lake or river scenery—rivals if it does not excel Scotland and Wales. She is accelerating and improving her railway service; she is opening up new and—for the tourist—virgin routes; her hotel proprietors are alive to the necessity for materially changing their methods;
and, given these conditions, there can be no possible reason in the world
why Ireland should not obtain a fair share of the holiday harvest which at present is bestowed with bounteous
hand upon the continent.

Wonders Never Cease.

No one need suffer the tortures of rheumatism, because that modern liniment, Salvation Oil, positively cures it.
"I was a great sufferer from sciatic

PENINSULA MATTERS

RELATED IN A BRIEF, CONCISE MANNER.

Alpena Man Fires Four Bullets into the Body of His Defenseless Wife—Collision Caused by an Engineer's Forgetfulness—Railroad Comes to Terms

Shot His Wife Four Times.

Maurice E. Casey went to the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Sheridan, at Alpena and shot his wife, four bullets taking effect. The first shot struck her just under the right eye, going back into the head. The woman turned and ran, but Casey fired again, breaking her left arm. She fell and crawled under a table, and he fired two more shots, both of which struck her in the hips. The murderer then went to his own home, left his overcoat, kissed his little boy and went toward the river, and it is believed he has committed suicide. Mrs. Casey cannot recover.

Casey was about 40 years of age and his wife 30. He is a teacher of boxing and formerly kept a saloon. The couple have not lived happily for years, and Mrs. Casey recently secured a legal separation, each being given the custody of one child. Casey seemed to think a good deal of his wife and has brooded over the separation, and, it is thought, was out of his mind.

Later—Casey was caught at the farm of Coon Ribble, five miles from Alpena. After Casey had been there all night he told Ribble what he had done. The latter would not believe the story, but he induced Casey to give up his revolver and then went to Alpena and told the officers where Casey was hiding and he was easily captured. He claims not to remember the incidents of the tragedy and raves about his poor wife, asks how she is; if she is dead, etc. He raves, cries, and is morose by turns.

Mrs. Casey is still alive and the doctors have some hope for her recovery.

Gov. Pingree's Asphalt Deal Falls.

News has been received from Caracas, Venezuela, that the deal for the sale of the Pedernales asphalt mine, near the mouth of the Orinoco river, to Gov. Pingree, of Michigan, has fallen through. Gov. Pingree was in high feather when he secured an option on the asphalt mine and he soon formed a syndicate on his return home. Col. Eli R. Sutton, of Detroit, a Milwaukee banker and two engineers went to Caracas with letters of credit and full power to close the deal immediately. They were stupefied when they were told that the shareholders of the asphalt mine demanded $160,000 for the property instead of $80,000 stipulated in the option sold to Gov. Pingree. Protests were of no avail and the party had to return home without making the deal.

Knights of the Grip Victorious.

The traveling men of Michigan through their organization, the Knights of the Grip, have won a victory in the fight they have been pursuing for three years for a satisfactory interchangeable mileage book, and the Michigan roads almost as an entirety have decided to issue the book they have been demanding. The new mileage book will be issued about Jan. 1. It will be a 1,000-mile book sold for $30 with a $10 rebate on return of the cover if the book has been properly used. It will be good only for the purchaser, will be accepted for passage by train conductors and will permit of the checking of baggage through junction points.

Extensive Prospecting for Coal.

The J. H. Somers Fuel Co., of Cleveland, has secured coal leases on an additional 1,000 acres of land in Kawawita township, Bay Co., Mich., and are sinking test holes in search of coal. Zaglemyer Bros. have also closed an agreement with the owners of 1,000 acres in the same township for the right to prospect for coal for the United Alkali Co., of Liverpool, Eng. The terms of the contract require the Zaglemyers to make tests to their satisfaction within two years, and to sink a shaft for mining before three years, the owners to receive seven cents a ton royalty. There are half a dozen parties owning the land, and they have formed a pool by which they all receive their share for the coal taken out, no matter on whose land mining is started.

Munising Waterworks Reservoir Burst.

The waterworks reservoir at Munising, Mich., gave way with a noise like the roar of Niagara. It had just been completed by the Shaw-Kimball Engineering Co., of Toledo, and the council had appointed a committee to inspect the job. The reservoir is 317 feet above the level of the streets and supplied the water mains of the village. The break was caused by frost cracking the cement and the water working a way through the loose dirt. The amount of damage has not been estimated. The village is not without fire protection, however, for the mains can be fed by direct pressure from the bay by means of the new water works power house.

Iron ore in large quantities have been discovered near Munising.

A bonus of $3,000 is being raised at Monroe to secure a flax and excelsior mill.

The fifth annual meeting of the association of the judges of Michigan will be held at Lansing commencing Dec. 28.

Saginaw and Bay City are receiving many inquiries from factories seeking locations, since the recent discovery of coal in that district.

Electrical Works Burn at Port Huron.

The Excelsior electric works at Port Huron, burned at an estimated loss of $150,000. The fire started in the boiler room, and a heavy draught swept through the structure, causing the flames spread with such rapidity that the building was totally destroyed before the firemen could gain control. The city electric railway is paralyzed, as its motive power was furnished by the electric light plant. The four generators belonging to the street car company were ruined. Many business places using electricity generated by the Excelsior works will have to burn gas.

W. F. Davidson, manager of the Excelsior Electric Light Co., had started for Detroit, and at Lenox was notified by telegraph of the burning of the plant. He at once telegraphed from Lenox to Chicago for steel for a new building. He also ordered brick for a new building, by telegraph, and closed a contract for its erection. This feat was accomplished before Mr. Davidson had seen the ruins and before the flames were extinguished.

Engineer Forgot His Orders.

A west bound passenger train and an extra freight, consisting of 10 cars and a caboose, collided near Wilderville station on the Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee railroad. Both engines were ruined and the freight cars piled up almost as high as a telegraph pole. Five men were injured, but no one killed. All will probably recover.

The extra freight was made up at Marshall and was to meet the passenger at Wilderville. Engineer Ben Cofer forgot his orders, and when he passed by the stopping place, Conductor Scully says he made a frantic attempt to stop the train by applying the caboose brakes. The following is a list of the injured: Engineer Webb Lott of the passenger, left leg broken; Brakeman E. B. Williams, Baggage-man Albert Arner, Line Repairman McNeill, of Tecumseh, and Frank Butler, passenger fireman. The crews of both engines jumped and their injuries were received in this way. None of the passengers were injured.

Fred Muntz, aged 26, employed by the Michigan Wood Pulp Co., at Niles, met death while oiling a paper machine. When in front of some gearing he slipped and fell, his left leg being caught in the rapidly revolving wheels. The member was terribly crushed and doctors amputated the leg, but the young man died.

Theron F. Giddings, of Kalamazoo county, is slated for the U. S. marshalship of the western district of Michigan if he wants it, so it is said. There are four other candidates for this important office, including Frank Watkins, of Hopkings; Wm. Mears, of Boyne Falls; J. D. S. Hanson, of Hart, and Frank Wait, of Sturgis.

Benj. Frankenstein, of Hillsdale, is a young Jew, who has repeatedly been in trouble for crooked work, was arrested at Saginaw for having obtained money by fraudulent means at Flint and Lapeer where he gave his name as Stein and professed to be a converted Jew collecting for a Jewish Christian band at Cleveland. He acknowledged his guilt, and was sent up for 90 days.

Essexville, a suburb of Bay City, was visited by a destructive fire which originated in the general store of John Tennant and spread rapidly. The residences of Mrs. Margaret Wynn and Malcolm Doubles and the town clerk's office were also destroyed. The loss will reach $10,000. A strong wind prevailed and the residents were terror-stricken for fear the whole town would be burned.

Hon. Spencer O. Fisher is in dead earnest in his efforts to secure the new government armor plate plant for Bay City. #### The annual meeting of the various state stock breeders' associations was held at Lansing. About 300 representative breeders from all sections of Michigan, and a few from other states and Canada were present. # NO FAITH CURE

ABOUT STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS.

They Cure Stomach Troubles and Indigestion Anyway, Whether You Have Faith in Them or Not.

All physicians agree that the element of faith has a great deal to do in the cure of disease.

Firm belief and confidence in a family physician or the same confidence and faith in a patent medicine, have produced remarkable cures in all ages.

This is especially true in nervous troubles and no field offers so prolific a harvest for the quack and charlatan, as the diseases arising from a weak or run down nervous system.

Nevertheless, the most common of all diseases, indigestion and stomach troubles, which in turn causes nervous diseases, heart troubles, consumption and loss of flesh, requires something besides faith to cure.

More faith will not digest your food for you, will not give you an appetite, will not increase your flesh and strengthen your nerves and heart, but Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do these things, because they are composed of the element of digestion, they contain the juices, acid and peptones necessary to the digestion and assimilation of all wholesome food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest food if placed in a jar or bottle in water heated to 98 degrees, and they will do it much more effectively when taken into the stomach after meals' whether you have faith that they will or not.

They invigorate the stomach, make pure blood and strong nerves, in the only way that nature can do it, and that is, from plenty of wholesome food well digested. It is not what we eat, but what digest that does us good.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for full sized package.

Little book on cause and cure of stomach troubles mailed free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "dar wouldn't be so much objection to a man habbin' his own opinion of he didn't persist in goin' aroun' an' tryin' ter gib eberybody else a clear title to it."—Washington Star.

A MOHAMMEDAN FUNERAL.

When the life of a Mohammedan is ebbing away a distinguished reader of the Koran is summoned to recite aloud its chapters on the Resurrection, so that the spirit of the person on hearing it may have an easy death. The watchers at the bedside also read some passages, and then the drink of sherbet is given to the patient to lessen the pangs of death.

As soon as the spark of life has fled, the two great toes are tied together with a thin strip of cloth, his mouth is closed, and incense is burned near the body. The interment follows a few hours after death. The "washers" are men and women who wash and shroud the body, and dig a hole in the earth to hold the water, so that it cannot spread very much, as it is considered unlucky to tread on this water. The washing is a great ceremony, and when finished the body is shrouded with even more ceremony. If there is a widow of the deceased she returns the dowry her husband had given her. If the deceased's mother is present she says: "The milk with which I suckled thee I freely bestow upon thee."

Thus she resigns the debt of the deceased to her. When flowers have been placed on the body it is carried to the grave on a bier, or if the relatives can afford it, in a coffin. At the grave four creeds are recited, and the body, with the head to the north and the face looking towards Mecca, is laid on its back in the tomb. The grave is about seven feet long for both sexes, but the depth for a man is measured by the distance between his feet and chest; for a woman between her feet and waist.

If the body is too long for the grave it is believed that the deceased must have been a great sinner. Before the body is covered the Mohammedan takes a little earth, and throwing it into the grave, says: "We created you of earth, and we return you to the earth, and we shall raise you out of the earth on the day of resurrection." Then a mound is built to keep the earth in the grave from crushing the body, and water is sprinkled on it in three lines. Special prayers for the safe voyage of the deceased are offered after the burial.

Making Humor.

"The rules for the manufacture of humor," said the professor, "are very simple—that is, of course, some kinds of humor. Ordinary comic paper humor may be made by taking a plain statement of fact or a plain statement of something that isn't fact—in fact, any old statement—and misspelling it. It's the simplest thing in the world. If you refer to the man in the moon, and spell it that way, it is plain, ordinary dull prose, but if you make it read 'the mann in the mune,' it is nothing less than bright, scintillating wit." Shortly thereafter the professor was promoted to the department of magazine humor, where nothing but age counts.—Chicago Post.

Antiquity of the Saw.

Pliny says that the saw was first invented by Daedalus, but according to Apollodorus, it was the invention of Talus, who used the jawbone of a crocodile to cut through a piece of wood, and then made an iron instrument in imitation of it. The saw is represented on monuments of Egypt, from 2500 to 3000 years B. C. As early as A. D. 1327 sawmills driven by water power were in operation at Augsburg, and it is believed before this that they were in operation in Paris, driven by the current of the Seine. The first sawmill erected in the Norway pineries was in 1539. Sawmills were numerous in Italy in the sixteenth century. They were not introduced into England until 1663, when a native of Holland built one, but was compelled to abandon it by the opposition of the populace, carpenters and other artisans, who saw no good in such a new-fangled contrivance.—Journal of Building.

WANT BRIC-A-BRAC.

EUROPEAN POWERS GRABBING CHOICE BITS OF CHINA.

Germany's Occupation of Kiao-Chau the Beginning of the Partition of China Which Has Been Talked of for Many Years in Diplomatic Circles.

Following the occupation of Kiao-Chau and the surrounding Chinese territory by Germany comes the announcement that Russia has taken possession of Port Arthur, and now it is said that Great Britain's Asiatic squadron has sailed to make a grab of Quelpaert island, which is 60 miles south of Korea and in the entrance to the Yellow sea. The French government has dispatched the cruiser Jean Bart to Chinese waters and evidently intends to be prepared for a chance at a part of the prize.

The London and continental papers are busily discussing the "partition of China" which shows that all of these moves are generally regarded as of great importance, and in this connection it is said that discussion of the Russian occupation of Port Arthur took up the whole time of a recent meeting of the British cabinet.

Telegrams from all the continental capitals show that Russia's step at Port Arthur is regarded as tantamount to a permanent occupation and a reply to Germany's action. Japan is of course deeply interested as she abandoned Port Arthur principally to please Russia. Previous to the war between China and Japan, Port Arthur was the largest naval station possessed by the Chinese, and was strongly fortified. Japan was very anxious to hold Port Arthur permanently, but Russia objected very strongly, and threatened to back up her objection by force. Russia's great anxiety to possess Port Arthur is due to the fact that the harbor is free from ice all the winter, which is not the case with Vladivostok, the present headquarters of the Russian fleet in the far east. It is proposed to connect Port Arthur with the Russian railroad now being built through Manchuria, which will in turn connect with the great Trans-Siberia railroad. The general belief that Japan will be greatly provoked and popular indignation aroused by this action of Russia is borne out by the report that the Japanese squadron has sailed from Nagasaki for the Chinese coast.

The comment of the European press on the state of affairs is of great interest. The Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg pretends that Japan has no cause for complaint, "since China is only giving the same shelter to Russian ships as Japan had hitherto so kindly afforded." This view is not held in Berlin, where the papers are already talking of the possibility of Prince Henry, of Prussia, who has command of the German squadron just sent to Chinese waters, having to shake his mailed fist at Japan, which is supposed to be secretly backed up by England. Some of the Berlin papers express anxiety, but most of them welcome the news from Port Arthur as justifying the German position at Kiao-Chau, if not as actual evidence that Russia and Germany are acting together.

The Parisian papers, without pretending to be deceived by Russia's innocent explanations, are pleased with the action of the ally of France.

The burden of Viennese comment is, what will England do?

The London Globe says: "Russia and Germany now have the two most important strategic positions in northern China, and Great Britain, whose commercial interests there are 10 times greater, must be content with the crumbs from the St. Petersburg and Berlin tables." The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Of course, the partition of the coast, which is bound to come, will not be confined to Russia and Germany. Every naval state in the world is actively concerned in the disturbance of the equilibrium in the far east, Great Britain, France and Japan especially. The tame acquiescence with these seizures is not worthy of our past and is fatal to our future. We may remark that we shall not be without sympathizers, as the Japanese will most joyfully back any scheme to redress the bitter humiliation they have suffered at the hands of Russia." The Standard, the Daily Telegraph and other London papers strongly urge the government to protect England's interests in China.

It is said that high officials in the Chinese court have advised the emperor, in view of further complications, to remove the court to Nankin, the "southern capital." It is also reported that overtures have been made to England to exercise protection over the Yang Tse valley and the West river, and that numerous rumors are current regarding the activity of the British squadron in Chinese waters.

An unconfirmed report is current that part of the British far eastern squadron will be stationed at Wei-Hai-Wei this winter, which indicates that Great Britain is working in harmony with Japan. The latter still holds Wei-Hai-Wei, pending the payment of the war indemnity due from China.

Caro has a co-operative butter factory. While piloting a heavy train up the Merchants' bridge incline at St. Louis, Mo., an engine of the Terminal railroad jumped the track and plunged to the ground below. Fireman Al Pensing was crushed to a pulp, and Engineer McCullough and another railroad man were seriously injured.

The British ship Roby arrived at San Diego, Cal., with five sailors and the captain of the sloop Ranger, who had been drifting about for seven days in an open boat without food, drink or shelter, their vessel having been wrecked in a storm. They were nearly dead when the Roby picked them up.

Only 68 Lives Lost on the Lakes in '97

In navigating the Great lakes during the season just closed only 68 sailors lost their lives. The only disaster was the loss of the Idaho on Lake Erie, when 10 lives were sacrificed. The remainder of the 68 were lost one at a time, either from falling overboard or from accidents on shipboard. Not a single passenger was lost during the season on lake steamers, but one jumped overboard. The season was chiefly remarkable for the large number of narrow escapes of crews from wrecked vessels. In this respect the work of the life-saving service was extremely good.

A New Gun Boat for the Lakes.

Senator McMillan's bill to place a modern gunboat on the Great lakes instead of the antiquated Michigan, has been referred by the Senate committee on naval affairs to the senator himself to draft a favorable report. This report will be speedily prepared, and the measure will then be reported to the Senate and placed on the calendar. There it will remain until the naval appropriation bill comes over from the House when it will be offered as an amendment, and undoubtedly adopted. The navy department is heartily in favor of the new gunboat.

Germany to Devour China "Bit by Bit."

Germany's designs on China are outlined by a significant utterance of Emperor William while at Hamburg. When dining with Admiral Von Knorr he said that "China is like an artichoke—it has to be eaten bit by bit." Speaking of the navy, he said he hoped the time was not far distant when Germany would have fine warships afloat in every sea.

Latest Alarm Clock.

A new kind of alarm clock is to be seen at Tiffany's in New York. It is a beautiful gilt phonograph clock, in the style of Louis XV. When the hour for which it is set arrives, a little door opens and the notes of the familiar reveille bugle call are heard; then a voice follows with this greeting: "Good morning. I present my compliments and respects, and hope you are enjoying good health. Good day." The articulation is very distinct, but the voice has a decided Parisian twang, which reveals the nationality of the speaker.

The Birds' Balance of Power.

In a recent lecture Prof. Wilmer Stone of Philadelphia cited many facts to show that birds are nature's great check on the excess of insects, and that they keep the balance between plants and insect life. Ten thousand caterpillars, it has been estimated, could destroy every blade of grass on an acre of cultivated ground. In thirty days from the time it is hatched an ordinary caterpillar increases 10,000 times in bulk, and the food it lives and grows on is vegetable. The insect population of a single cherry tree infested with aphids was calculated by a prominent entomologist at no less than 12,000,000! The bird population of cultivated districts has been estimated at from 700 to 1,000 per square mile. This is small compared with the number of insects, yet as each bird consumes hundreds of insects every day the latter are prevented from becoming the scourge they would be but for their feathered enemies.

An Odd Fish.

In the Pacific ocean, among the islands of Santa Barbara and in the seas of California, a queer fish spends a lazy life, floating on the surface for the most of the time, and basking in the sunshine, with part of his body out of the water. It is called the "mola-mola" by the natives, and the "mole" or "moon" fish by the whites. Unlike other fish, it has no tail in the proper sense of the word, only a kind of fringe acting as a rudder. It is sometimes over ten feet across the fins, and round as a bladder. Strange to say, it serves as a floating island for large numbers of sea-birds, especially gulls and cormorants, to rest upon and preen their plumage. When chased, the indolent moon-fish dives like a duck, to reappear at a distance. Nevertheless, it would be easily caught, were the fish good to eat, but its toughness renders it only fit to dry in the sun as a substitute for India-rubber balls.

In speaking of the Chelsea Company which is now fitting out for the Klondike the Herald says: "Upon interviewing the officers of the Chelsea Gold Mining Company, we learn that they propose equipping their boat with a good hose, two centrifugal pumps for prospecting and working the river bottoms, a sawing outfit and a small dynamo for lighting purposes besides their other machinery tools, clothing, and provisions. We cannot see how such an outfit guided by fifteen good practical men can help making big money for all interested. Their outfit alone would be worth many times what it cost them as soon as they reach the upper Yukon river. They say they only need six more to go. This looks like business and we wish the company every success."

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

Dexter has a new fire engine. It is proposed that the line will strike Dansville, Plainfield, Pickney, Birkett, Dexter and Ann Arbor, where it will connect with the Detroit motor line.—Dexter Leader.

It was decided at a meeting held recently to hold a farmer's institute at Chelsea, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 11 and 12. The program committee is hard at work arranging a suitable program.—Dexter Leader.

It is expected that the re will be incorporated at Lansing this week, a company whose object is to build and operate an electric railway, for the purpose of carrying both passengers and light freight between Lansing and Ann Arbor.

Arch Miles, for the past two years, clerk for Ed. Croarkin, has accepted a situation in the wholesale clothing house of Rosenwald & Weil, of Chicago, and will begin his new duties about January 1.—Dexter Leader.

The Saline Observer:—Something our village sadly needs—a humane society. There are too many horses left standing on our streets from morning until night and many times much longer, without food, shelter or drink, stormy and cold days not excepted.

Monday evening while on the way home from Tompkins, W. H. McKitchin's horse suddenly reared up and fell over upon the ground dead. The event took place this side of Leoni. The animal was highly valued by its owner. Heart disease was the supposed cause of his death.—Grass Lake News.

One of Manchester's most enterprising farmers has looked up his assessment in the Southern Washtenaw Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., and says that he had averaged a little more than $2.50 on his $4,000 stock, or about 63c. on each $1,000. As he was one of the first members, this covers a period of 26 years.—Manchester Enterprise.

Daniel Davis, an aged colored man, was severely injured last Friday. Davis is a cripple, having lost a foot and walked upon a wooden peg. He was engaged in hauling rubbish from the water works grounds for Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, when his horse kicked him upon the crippled limb, fracturing a bone. On account of the man's age, it is doubtful if he can ever recover sufficiently to get about without crutches.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

The Bridgewater correspondent for the Manchester Enterprise says: "A great many from here went to Clinton last Sunday to hear Judge C. B. Grant. It will be remembered by some that his brother, James Grant, taught the center school here about 38 years ago, the judge being then a student at Ann Arbor. We were informed by Judge Grant that James died about a year ago on the old farm in Maine, where both were born."

Arthur Miles found a vacancy in his cider barrel that he suspected was on the increase from mysterious nocturnal visitations of which he entertained superstitious conceptions. He shrewdly tied a string to his cellar door and carrying the end up to his bedroom in the second story, attached it to a bell. In a short time he had a nibble. Creeping down to where the apple nectar was deposited he found three juvenile French gentlemen guzzling the same. He offered to settle for $5.00, spot cash, but the young men were out of coin. Now, Mr. Miles says he must have more—that justice demands it!—Grass Lake News.

"We've got to economize," said Mr. Gargoyle to his wife. "Very well, dear," replied the good woman, cheerfully. "You shave yourself and I'll cut you hair."—Harlem Life.

Wasting in Children

can be overcome in almost all cases by the use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil and the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. While it is a scientific fact that cod-liver oil is the most digestible oil in existence, in it is not only palatable, but it is already digested and made ready for immediate absorption by the system. It is also combined with the hypophosphites, which supply a food not only for the tissues of the body, but for the bones and nerves, and will build up the child when its ordinary food does not supply proper nourishment.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Be sure you get SCOTT'S. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper. All druggists; 50c. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

A ROMANCE OF LONG AGO.

Peggy Hutchinson's Admirer of Noble Birth Whom Her Father Turned Away. Boston Special to New York Sun: Among the thousands of documents stored in the state house are three letters and part of a journal that outlines a romance of the days when Massachusetts was a province governed by Thomas Hutchinson. It is a story that has not been known to the world and not even to the personal friends of those interested. The characters in this romance are a titled lover, a father who refused his sanction to a proposed marriage, and a New England maiden who died in ignorance of both the love and the lover's vain plea. Some letters are missing. The first document in the story is a letter to Gov. Hutchinson, dated April 6, 1771. The writer was William, son of Lord Fitzwilliam, and in this letter he recites his love for the governor's daughter, telling his story with old-time courtesy. He says: "I have had the honor of seeing Miss Hutchinson, but have never spoken to her. I need not tell you I admire her when I say that I wish to call her mine." The lover pleads for the father's consent to visit the daughter, "as the most honorable method of proceeding to getting acquainted with her." Gov. Hutchinson's methodical reply in duplicate, in his own cramped handwriting, is preserved. In it he says: "In my station I should, from respect to my Lord Fitzwilliam, think it my duty to do all in my power to discourage his son from so unequal a match with any person in the province, and I should most certainly be highly criminal if I should countenance or encourage a match with my own daughter. I trust you will think this a sufficient reason for my not acceding to your proposal, and I sincerely wish you happy in a person more suited to your birth and rank, and who may be approved of by your honorable parent." At this point there is a gap in the story. The young man evidently wrote a second time, but neither the second letter nor the governor's reply is in the archives. It is certain, though, that the governor did not relent, and in a third letter the young man craved a personal interview, as the ship to which he was attached, the Boston, was to sail that day, not, as he says, "that I shall desire you to give me the least encouragement with regard to my former letter, but as I think it necessary to wait on you." There is no record of the interview, but it must have been a sad one if held, for the governor was a kind-hearted man and a devoted husband, who never forgot to celebrate as the happiest day of his life the anniversary of his wedding. The beautiful Miss Hutchinson, for whose hand the young man was suing, was the governor's second daughter, Margaret, of whom the father always speaks in his letters and journal as "Peggy." PEGGY was but 17 years old when the letters were written, and she died of consumption at Chelsea, England, when she was 23. The delicate beauty which young William admired so much arose partly from her consumptive tendencies. For several years the family was in England. According to the father's journal he called upon the queen on Aug. 28, 1777. "The queen asked where I had been," he writes, "and I told her I had been six months in the country with my sick daughter. The queen expressed the hope that she would soon recover." But Peggy died on the 21st of the following month. Almost on that same date her father wrote in his diary that her Majesty's ship the Boston was again on the Massachusetts coast. There is nothing in any of the Governor's journals to show that Peggy was ever told of young Fitzwilliam's love for her, and nothing to show that the young man ever saw the girl of his early love after the father had crushed hope out of his heart.

Familiarity Breeds Contempt. The Buffalo Express says: "It is true in some quarters that the continual display of the American flag on schoolhouses and other public buildings has had an effect exactly the reverse of that hoped for. The intent was to make children love the flag more, to increase their patriotism. In certain school districts of Buffalo, where faded, tattered flags fly, the children appear to have less respect for their nation's emblem than ever before. Familiarity breeds contempt."

Holiday Rates—1897-98. All agents of the C. H. & D. Railway will sell tickets for the Holidays at one fare and a third for the round trip, to all points on the C. The Wrong Thing. To do the right thing at the wrong time is as bad as to do the wrong thing at any time. How often have we blundered just at this point! If we review the past we will see that in many cases we have brought trouble upon ourselves, not because we did a wrong thing, but because we did just the right thing to be done, but we did it at the wrong time. We need great caution and care. Guard well this point.

"Saved Her Life." MRS. JOHN WALLET, of Jefferson, Wis., than whom none is more highly esteemed or widely known, writes: "In 1890 I had a severe attack of LaGrippe and at the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing could do, my lungs heart and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was despaired of, my friends giving me up. I could only sleep by the use of opiates. My lungs and heart pained me terribly and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure and I began taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and continuing persistently I took about a dozen bottles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all."

One of the best equipped systems of railway in the United States is the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road, popularly known as the "C. H. & D." "This line seems to be enjoying the lion's share of Army and Navy travel. They have recently put on a through train between Washington and Chicago, their principal train leaving Washington at 11.45 a. m. and arriving in Chicago the following day at noon. They use the Baltimore & Ohio system from Washington to Cincinnati, where they connect with their own system to Chicago. Some time ago they reduced their time of running trains between Chicago and Cincinnati to eight hours, which is one of the fastest trips made in this country. Their night express between Chicago and Cincinnati is equipped with compartment cars that are models of elegance and beauty. This road caters to Army patronage and always extends every accommodation possible to officers traveling over their line and it is no wonder that they get the service patronage. They offer to their patrons the best line between Washington and Chicago, via Cincinnati, and especially between the cities of Cincinnati and Louisville and Chicago, Toledo or Detroit. Mr. D. G. Edwards, passenger traffic manager of the road, at Cincinnati, Ohio, will be very glad to give any additional information concerning the "C. H. & D. Route" to all who will address him."—Army and Navy Register, Washington, D. C.

ONE MAN'S SUFFERING.

The Trials and Tribulations of a Battle Creek Citizen—How He Comes to Tell This Story.

(From the Battle Creek Moon.)

Among the moulders at the works of the Michigan foundry company can be found Mr. Amos Maynard; he has lived in Battle Creek for over ten years, is honored and respected by all who know him; such is the man who makes this statement, he says: "I have had kidney trouble for years, and it has made my life miserable. The heavy lifting, necessary in my business, made me worse. I have been compelled to lie in bed in a helpless condition for as long as nine days at a time; the greatest pain was from my back, which sometimes felt as though a bayonet was being run through me in the region of my kidneys; many citizens of Battle Creek know how bad I was. I could not move without the greatest caution, for as soon as I attempted to stoop over, bend to one side, or even turn in bed, the pain was simply unbearable. I wore porous plasters constantly for the little temporary relief they brought me. Whenever I caught the slightest cold it went straight to my kidneys and made me worse. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got some. I have taken in all four boxes of them, and I now feel as active as ever. A few months ago I would have ridiculed the idea of being cured so quickly, and being able to work as I can now. All the long-standing pains are gone, and the former traces of kidney disorders found in my urine have disappeared. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many friends who were troubled as I was, and in every case I have learned they proved as beneficial as with me. Doan's Kidney Pills would be cheap to me at almost any price."

For sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

WHAT YOU CAN DO, IF YOU WILL.

Blind to the cause of his physical ills, man (and woman too) persist day after day in pouring into the protesting stomach a liquid drug called coffee, known by all chemists and physicians to contain the same poisonous alkaloids as found in strychnine, morphine, whiskey and tobacco, and to require a powerful constitution to withstand.

The weak ones sink under the insidious drug daily administered, and seldom know enough to spot their enemy. Coffee is an enemy to mankind, and you drink that enemy, possibly because you know of nothing that will take its place.

After many years of experimenting, looking towards the production of a healthy food coffee, the Michigan Pure Food company perfected "Golden Nectar," and now offer it to the public with a guarantee that it is absolutely free from any deleterious drugs, and is made from the healthful grains of the field. "Golden Nectar" with cream and sugar added is so nearly like coffee in taste, color and aroma as to deceive almost anyone. It is a highly nutritious food beverage, makes bone and blood. Drink it instead of coffee. It will make a new person of you. Ask your grocer for it.

BLADDER TROUBLES.
 The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

SAMPLE SENT FREE.
 Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root fills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles. It corrects frequent calls, inability to hold urine and scalding or stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists 50c and $1.00. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always sees the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers, bodily and mentally, in silence. There is undue weariness, unexplained pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription exerts a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism. It is an invigorating tonic and is specific for the peculiar weakness, irregularities and painful derangements of woman. Careless, easy-going doctors frequently treat their young patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
