A PATHETIC CASE.

HIS CHILDREN SAY JONAS MARSH IS INSANE

BUT HE PROTESTS

And Says They Are Conspiring to Get His Property.

Jonas Marsh, a wealthy farmer of Scio township, was brought before Judge Newkirk, Tuesday on a petition signed by his sons asking that a guardian be appointed for the old man whom they claimed is incompetent. Marsh is well known both here and in Scio. He is eighty-six years old and quite wealthy.

The testimony given by his children was of a sensational character and tended to show that the old man is a victim of some strange form of insanity. Spells of frenzy would come over him years ago, they said, and in one of these he procured a rope, tied it around his neck and proceeded to hang himself, when the hired girl saved the old man's life the hired girl saved the old man's life At $6.95... swore that on another occasion, Marsh struck his wife over the head with a Cloak Department worth $35.00, shovel cutting open her scalp. The last freak which his children attribute to the old man is that he bad on his hands a love affair which threatened to cost him his whole property. The object of his affections was the Best 12tc Swansdown Outing, more or less notorious May Brown, who recently left town under instructions to never return. When this woman was arrested and jailed, her aged suitor is said to have cried pitifully at the door. Then he paid her fine and gave her 817 pairs Ladies' $3.50, $3.00 money to leave town.

Prevent Preumania

Prevention is always better than cure, even when cure is possible. But so many times pneumonia is not cured that prevention becomes the natural act of that instinct of selfpreservation which is "the first law of nature." Pneumonia can be prevented and is often cured by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Some years ago I had a severe cold and was threatened with pneumonia. I could neither eat nor sleep, and was in a wretched condition. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and took it according to the directions, and at the end of fifteen dayswas as well and sound as before the attack. I have recommended it in many cases of monia since, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure."

MEN WHO BREAK HEARTS.

Catarrh Can Be Permanently Cared. Some of the Things the Printers Have Done. The head writer on the St. Paul Pioneer Press the other night, says the Rochester Post-Express, wrote the top days at a time; tried various doctors line of a "slug head" this way: "Minwithout relief. Pe-ru-na cured him nesota a Sheep State." The woodenpermanently. Mrs. Thomas Walz, New headed murderer of common sense set Brighton, Pa., suffered with aggravated it up "Minnesota a Cheap Skate." This cure. Three bottles of Pe-ru-na cured "Gig" Martin on the old Omaha Herald her. Bernard King, National Military in 1886. One night "Gig" got hold of headed "Multum in Parvo," and he set it up "Mutton in Fargo." Once again Martin caught one of Frank's effusions bronchitis. A. F. Carlson, Lindstrom, about the worst break ever made on Minu, took a course of treatment with the old Herald was made by Billy Har-Pe-ru-na for catarrh dy, recently elected a constable in Omaha. The style of the Herald in those days was to hyphenate and abbreviate to beat the band. For instance Farnum street was styled "Farnumst.," and Capitol avenue as "Capitol-Hardy lifted a take of commernent; no symptoms cial review off the hook one night, and reappeared, he has it quoted Bradstreet as saying this and concluded that the that. Bill, ever mindful of the style and ignoring common sense, arranged the type to read "Brad-st predicts," Of course it was "marked" on him, but Bill wouldn't have it. He went down into the proofroom and kicked for a "ring," demanding an apology, and wanting to know "if they were going to change the d-d style every day." The London academy has an amusing collection of printers' errors, some of which are not new and some not true, but a few are new and apparently true. The funniest of these are examples of the superior discernment of the printers. They have zeal, although it is not according to knowl-William Black says that the printers in one instance insisted, after he had three times made the corrections, in killing off one of his heroines by "opinion" instead of "opium." Another compositor was much too clever to allow Shakespeare to talk of "Sermons in stones, books in the running brooks,' so he amended this into "Sermons in books, and stones in the running brooks." This put things where they belonged. To transform "Bring me my toga" into "Bring me my togs" sounds likely enough, but the wish must have been father to the deed when a wedding invitation ran not Your presence is requested," but Your presents is requested."

The Morgan Fortune.

The Morgan fortune was founded by J. S. Morgan, the father of J. Pierpont Morgan. Born in Massachusetts, a farmer boy first, then clerk in a bank, he was able out of his savings at the age of 38 to establish in Boston a commercial house which soon took the first place in the republic. At 43 years of age he visited London and there met George Peabody. The latter was so impressed by Morgan's ability that he offered him a partnership in his banking firm of George A. Peabody & Co., which, on the death of the great philanthropist, became the firm of J. S. Morgan & Co. Mr. Morgan lived some years in London and did so much to improve the credit of the United States that on his return to New York in 1877 a banquet was given him, at which the men present are said to have represented a total wealth of $1,000. 000,000. He died at Monte Carlo in 1890, and his son, Pierpont, inherited $10,000,000. At the time of his father's death, however, he was already a very rich man, and his wealth has since increased in leaps and bounds; he is now ranked as worth $70,000,000 to $80,000,000. Two of his former partners, Frank Drexel and Anthony Drexel, each left estates exceeding $25,000,-000, together giving the sum of $8,000,-000 to found charitable institutions in or near Philadelphia. J. S. Morgan, who was most charitable during his life, also left a large sum to a college at his death.

Mistaken.

"Look here, Bridget," said an indignant lady, "I have missed things ever since you came to live with me, and today I took the liberty of searching your room, and I found my lace handkerchief in your bureau drawer. "Luk at thot, now!' "Yes, and I found my lace jabot and one of my veils in your trunk." Did any one iver!" "And you had a pair of my gloves in your room." "Luk at that agin, now!" "I have taken all my things to my own room, and I want you to leave the house today." "Oh, but Ol'll lave fasht enough, for it's not Oi thot wants to wurruk for anny leddy that so far forgits hersilf as to go pryin' 'round in a girrul's room! Oi t'ot Oi was wurkin' for a leddy, but Oi've found out me mistake, an' Oi'll lave this minute!"

On the March to the Sea.

While Sherman was "out in the air" between Atlanta and the sea rations sometimes got a little short, but the men were good natured about it. One day an officer found a soldier eating a persimmon that he had picked up, and cried out to him: "Don't eat that; it's not good for you!" "I'm not eatin' t because it's good," was the reply. 'I'm tryin' to pucker up my stomach so as to fit the size of the rations U.nle Billy Sherman's a-givin' us."

"Henrietta," said Mr. Meekton, 'there is one thing that I wish to say to you frankly. So lar as the affairs of the family are concerned, you are to have you own way 'm every particuar. Then he stood back and waited for a smile of joy to brighten her face. But there was a frown. "Of course," she answered.. "That's just like a man. If anything goes wrong you want to be sure of having somebody to blame Atlanta, Ga. for it."-Was hington Star.

PRINTERS' ERRORS.

Some Very Funny Mistakes That Come from Wrong Punctuations.

Many of the humors of the compos ing room arise from mistakes in punctuation, says Macmillan's Magazine. For example ,the following was prefixed to a contribution in the poets' corner of a Cumberland journal: "These lines were written nearly fifty years ago, by a gentleman who has for several years lain in the grave for his own amusement." Another paper, in reporting a suicide, say: "Deceased blew out his brains after bidding his wife good-bye with a gun." After the last Egyptian campaign, a London evening paper printed the following paragraph, headed, "A Cabman's Generosity:" "To show the enthusiasm with which our troops have been received, we may mention that we have been told of several instances where cabmen have driven soldiers from Egypt to the barracks without charge. This was generous, no doubt, but the journey must have been hard upon the To a writer in one of the many ladies' journals we are indebted for the news that "it has become quite the fashion of late for ladies to take their tea in their hats and gloves." But the ladies suffered still more severely at the hands of a Washington reporter who, describing the costumes at the presidential reception, had intended to say that "Mrs. B. wore nothing in the nature of a dress that was remarkable." He left hurriedly for the west next day when he opened his paper and read: "Mrs. B. wore nothing in the nature of a dress. That was remarkable." A London paper reported on one occasion the capture in "mid-channel of a large man eating shark." A provincial journal, copying the paragraph, but less careful about the punctuation, gave a different version of the incident: "A large man, eating shark, was captured in mid channel." The omission of a comma once gave an awkward interpretation of a paragraph in a Dublin newspaper, which ran: "A very handsome memorial has been erected in St. Jerome's cemetery to the late Mr. John Phillips, accidentally shot as a mark of affection by his brother." In the following instance it was no doubt a bachelor compositor who, setting up the toast, "Woman, without her, man would be a savage! by a trifle transposition of the comma made the sentence read: "Woman, without her man, would be a savage! In a sermon on drunkenness, which appeared recently in a Dublin paper, the reverend gentleman was made to say: "It was only last Sunday that a young girl fell from one of the benches of this church, while I was preaching in a beastly state of intoxication." Mr. Herbert Spencer once wrote: "Whales are not fish because they possess fins and a fish-like tail;" but what the public read was: "Whales are not rish, because they possess fins and a fishlike tail," which truly is a most remarkable reason why whales are not fish. In Ireland there prevails among

Roman Catholics a pious custom of inserting in the weekly religious journals advertisements asking for pravers for certain intentions. A lady sent the following to one of these newspapers: "A husband going to sea, cherish and keep you from yours affectionately Peter D" was the way another Irish paper rendered the concluding portion of a letter written by a soldier serving in the late Soudan campaign to his wife in Cork. But perhaps the most amusing instance of the ludicrous effects of wrong punctuation is afforded in the following description of the jubilee procession, which appeared in an East Anglican week!y paper: "Next came Lord Roberts riding. On a gray Arab steed wearing a splendid scarlet uniform, field marshal's hat with plumes in his hand, the baton of a field marshal on his rugged feature; a smile of pleasure as he acknowledged the thundering cheers of the crowd!"

Is a deep-seated blood disease which all the mineral mixtures in the world cannot cure. S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is a real blood remedy for blood diseases and has no equal. Mrs. Y. T. Buck, of Delaney, Ark., had one advised her to try S.S.S. and she very soon found that she had a real blood remedy at last. She says: "After taking one dozen bottles of S.S.S. I am perfectly well, my skin is clear and healthy and I would not be in my former condition for two thousand dellar." dollars. Instead of drying up the poison in my system, like the potash and arsenic, S.S.S. drove the disease out through the skin, and I was permanently rid of it."

LORD ROSEBERY ON DERBY.

Advises Men of Affairs to Keep Away from the Turf.

The earl of Rosebery has accomplished a unique feat. He has won the Epsom Derby during the period he held the highest office which a statesman may aspire to in this country, and in all human probability has achieved a triumph that will never be repeated, says the London Times. The clouds that lowered upon his racing fortunes some twenty years ago, and caused a temporary cessation of enthusiasm for the sport, have been gloriously lifted, and now he is enrolled among the most honorable and the most successful followers of the "great game." Hence his speech at the 131st annual dinner of the Gimcrack club, held recently, is of more than passing interest. He took for his subject his own turf career and its lessons. Truly pathetic was the picture he drew of his efforts to win the Derby; of his frequent misses, when he ran second, third or nowhere, and of his success with Ladas, followed by the vehement reproaches of many of the excellent people who were his political adherents. His advice to those who were inclined to spend time and money on the turf was Punch's advice to those about to marry-"Don't." The apprenticeship was exceedingly expensive, the pursuit too engrossing for any one who had anything else to do in life and the rewards, as compared to the disappointments, stood in the relation of, at the most, 1 per cent. He was attacked, when prime minister, because he won the Derby, and he and his colleagues were assailed at the last general election because they were said to be not sporting enough, but there were, he was sure, friendships formed, and a knowledge of the world gained on the turf which were invaluable to any man who wished to get on in

The Ruined California Grape Crop. this year caused by the heavy rains is estimated to exceed $1,000,000. Farmers and vineyards all over the northern part of the State have suffered, and shipments of the fruit to the East are proportionately small. At least one quarter of the crop is lost. While this is true, it is equally a fact that lost and failing strength may be restored to the weak and nervous by the persistent, systematic use of the great national onic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which renews the tone and harmonious activity of the stomach, liver and the bowels, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, and prevents malarial disorders. Convalescence, after exhausting diseases have run their course, is often timeous and tedious. Recovery is greatly accelerated by the use of the Bitters, which improves appetite and imparts re-newed vigor to debilitated physique. wineglassful before meals creates a hearty zest for food.

Natural Mistake.

Defective vision, a "mannish" costume and an ambiguous name-these were the elements of a recent bit of social comedy. "Mr. Brownsonby," said the host at an evening reception, presenting to the principal guest a rather strong-minded young woman who wore a collar, necktie and shirtfront of decidedly masculine appearance, "let me introduce Miss Terhune." Mr. Brownsonby, who was somewhat near-sighted, turned to acknowledge the introduction. "Ah, Mr. Hune." he said, extending his hand cordially. 'Glad to see you, sir."

Offended Chivalry.

A tramp accested a woman, who was shoveling snow off her sidewalk the other day, for something to eat. 'Shovel the snow off," she said, "and I'll give you a dinner. Gov. Pingree Wins His Suit to Compe. Railroads to Sell Family Mileage Rallroad Fatality at Saginaw.

Pingree Wins a Notable Victory.

Gov. Pingree has won the first round Railroad Co. on the question of $20 mileage books, good for the family of the purchaser. In the governor's suit to compel the company to sell such books, Judge Donovan, of the Wayne circuit court, confirms the position taken by Gov. Pingree and grants a mandamus to compel the railroads to comply with the mileage law of the legislature.

In his decision Judge Donovan discusses the case at length. In answer to the company by the charter, he indorses the contention of the complainaut that the charter only gave the right to fix rates by bylaws, and that such bylaws must come under the police power, as with hackmen, millers, liquor dealers and others doing public

By the word of the highest court in like cases in Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan, the conclusion is irresistable that only such charges can be collected as are allowed by the laws of

A Similar Case Against the Railroad.

Grove Wolcott, a prominent lawyer of Jackson sought to purchase a 1,000mile ticket at the Jackson ticket office, good for himself and wife, he tendering $20 in payment. He was informed that no such tickets were for sale. Mr. Wolcott then bought and paid full price for a regular ticket to Roscommon, and on his return brought suit against the Michigan Central railroad to test the state law. The case was tried before Justice Woods and has resulted in a verdict for Wolcott, who was awarded $2,55, the difference in the cost of the ticket he purchased and the rate at 2 cents a mile. The Michigan Central will appeal.

Three Killed by a Train at Saginaw.

Three persons met a sudden and violent death and a fourth was seriously injured while crossing the Michigan Central railroad tracks in a sleigh at Sheridan avenue, Saginaw. The dead are: Thomas M. Stewart, a groceryman; Mrs. Elizabeth Mossner, aged 70, of Frankenmuth; Barbara Mossner, aged 25, of Frankenmuth. The fourth oc-cupant of the sleigh, Mrs. Elizabeth Mahneke, also a daughter of Mrs. Mossner, had her right leg broken in three places, and probably received internal injuries.

A passenger train from the east, running at a rapid speed, struck the sleigh as it was fairly on the tracks, cutting it loose from the horse, leaving the jured. The sleigh was broken into kindling wood.

Stewart was on his way to his store from delivering goods, and the three women had seated themselves in the sleigh for a ride towards home, not over 50 feet from the scene of the accident. Two boys stood near by and saw the rig slowly approaching the tracks and the rapidly moving train bearing down upon it. They shouted several times but the driver did not eatch the warnings. The four were laughing as the sleigh and its occupants were sent whirling through the air.

Gov. Pingree Jollies the Dairymen. Gov. Pingree addressed the annual convention of the Michigan Dairymen's association at Ypsilanti. The Cleary college students were present in force and listened to the speech when they were not yelling, and the governor gave them several good points to vell about. He bore down in his characteristic style upon railroads and monopolies and seemed to take particular occasion to get in a number of roasts on Senator Campbell, the state senator of the Ypsi district, who was sitting directly in front of the governor taking

The dairymen discussed matters of interest and importance to themselves and elected officers: President, E. A. Haven, of Bloomingdale; secretary and treasurer, S. J. Wilson, of Flint.

Bay City's New Industries.

Hundreds of men are applying to the United Alkali Co. at Bay City for work. Every applicant has to furnish recommendations from prominent men, when, if satisfactory he is placed on the waiting roll. Married men are given preference, and no boys will be hired. The survey for the main building shows that it is to be 650 by 185 feet, two stories high. There will be several other large buildings erected later.

Contracts have been let for the beet sugar factory at Bay City. It is to be 274 feet long, 118 feet wide and three stories high.

The G. R. & I. railroad earned $17,-626 more last mouth than in January

The Wheeler & Co. shipyard at Bay City has started up again. A few nonunion men were put to work riveting. The striking riveters will stay out.

County Supervisors Want Some Reforms

Delegates from 16 counties gathered at Lansing in response to a call by the Ingham county supervisors for a convention to consider the advisability of Doings of the Week Recorded in a taking concerted action toward securing the revision or repeal of certain laws, the provisions of which are the cause of needless expense to taxpayers. A large range of subjects was discussed. Ex-Mayor Lawton T. The legislative committee was inof his fight with the Michigan Central structed to endeavor to secure the following reforms from the next legislature: Taxation of property of railroads and other corporations the same as other property; repeal of law for collection of farm statistics; that supervisors pay expert witnesses in indigent insane cases in lieu of statuatory witness fees; that mileage of officials be reduced from 10 to 6 cents a mile; reduction of number of justice and constables in Emmons had a narrow escape. cities and that salaries be paid instead of fees; salaries for county officers, all fees to the plea of the railroad company to go into county treasury; that threein civil cases: making road commissioners subject to direction of supervisors as to the expenditure of money, the roads to be repaired and the material used; also that the property adjacent to roads improved be required to pay a portion of the expenses on the basis of benefits received; repeal of sparrow bounty law; that circuit court jurors be summoned by registered letters to save mileage of deputy sheriffs; repeal of law allowing extra pay to prosecuting attorneys in drain eases; that the tax law be amended so as to make it compulsory for assessors to swear each property owner as to his possessions. A permanent organization was effected to be known as the State Association of Supervisors. The principal objects are the discussion of matters relating to charges and expenses, and securing a uniform practice of assessment. Each county board may send two or more delegates to the annual meetings. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John W. Ewing, Grand Ledge; vicepresidents, Emmett L. Beach, of Saginaw, and W. H. Smith, of Grass Lake; secretary, Frank L. Dodge, Lansing; treasurer, Asa I. Barber, Mason.

Sugar Beets a Success in Michigan.

A bulletin giving the results of experiments in the raising of sugar beets Michigan has been prepared by Profs. Kedzie and Smith of the Michigan Agricultural college. Seed was listricuted in 68 counties and samples of beets have been received from 64. The average per cent of sugar in beets with proper soil and seed, is 16,40. The range of yields per acre last year was from 12 to 18 tons. The professors ay that the results show that the clinatic and soil conditions in Michigan are full of promise. The labor cost of growing an acre of sugar beets on the college farm, under adverse conditions was $29.40. The average yield per acre at the college farm was 10 tons and 328

THE action of the council in decidin to publish the names of all persons re ceiving aid from the city is getting plenty of criticism. There are deserving as well as undeserving poor and it seems harsh in the extreme to publish the names of the former and let the public know of their condition simply to keep the undeserving from asking help. There ought to be some way of determining who deserve assistance and then aid should be given them in a way to cause as little humiliation as

The work of the chorus was the best in years. The strength and precision in the attack was unusually fine. But one thing could be criticized, and that was the weakness of the tenors. Apt Quotation. There is sometimes more wit in the application to the business in hand of words already chosen for another purpose, than in the invention of an appropriate phrase. Bishop Whippleaccording to the Church News-loved to tell this story: A devout colored preacher, whose heart was aglow with missionary zeal, gave notice to his congregation that in the evening an offertory would be taken for missions, and askel for liberal gifts. A selfish, wellto-do man in his congregation said to him before the service: "Yer gwine to kill dis church ef yer goes on saying give! give! No church can stan' it. Yer gwine to kill it." After the sermon the colored minister said to the people: "Brother Jones told me I was gwine to kill dis here church ef I kep' a-asking yer to give, but my brethren, churches doesn't die dat way. Ef anybody knows of a church dat died 'cause it's been givin' too much to de Lord, I'll be very much obliged ef my brother will tell me whar dat church is, for I'se gwine to visit it, and I'll climb on the walls of dat church, under de light of de moon, and cry-Blessed am de dead dat die in de Lord."

She Knew What She Wanted.

Women always get what they want, no matter how difficult it may be to make their wants known. A sweet young person of the feminine persuasion addressed a masculine store clerk in these words: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages capable of being contracted and expanded by means of oscillating burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds, and which are utilized for keeping in position the habiliment of the lower extremities which innate delicacy forbids me to mention." The maiden got what she desired, but the clerk had scarcely enough strength to take her money .-

This is the most salient fact in all Polish history. The political constitution of Poland was the most faulty in Christendom, probably in the world; and precisely beis that of an almost continual civil war -a condition of things which in any other land would bave rendered foreign invasion synonymous with national ruin. But, so long as the religious tie remained, Poland could have 100,-000 masters in the persons of her fractious nobles; the entire people could be serfs; and there would be but one law and one country for every Polander. For many centuries the battle hymn of this warlike race was a beautiful

THE ICELAND PONY.

Without Him the Country Would Re Impossible to Live In.

While there are camels in the desert, llamas in Peru, reindeer in Lapland, dogs in Greenland, and calques among the Eskimos, Iceland will have Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Vandawarker its ponies, who on those "pampas of the north" will still perform the services done by the mustangs of the plains of Mexico, the horses of the Tartars, Guachos, and even more than is performed by any animal thi the world, says the Saturday Review. Without the ponies Iceland would be impossible to live in, and when the last expires the Icelanders have two alternatives-either to emigrate en masse or to construct a system of highways for bicycles, an undertaking compared to which all undertaken by the Romans and the Incas of Peru in the same sphere would be as nothing. No Icelander will walk a step if he can help it; when he dismounts he waddles like an alligator on land, a Texan cowboy or a Guacho left "afoot," or like the Medes whom Plutarch represents as tottering on their toes when they dismounted from their saddles and essayed to walk. Ponies are carts, are sledges, carriages, trains, in short, are locomotion and the only means of transport; bales of salt fish, packages of goods, timber projecting yards above their heads and trailing on the ground naw. He reports his company has done behind, like Indian lodge poles, they a splendid business during the past convey across the rocky lava tracks. The farmer and his wife, his children, servants, the priest, the doctor, "Syseiman" all ride, cross rivers on the pon-27 ies' backs, plunge through the snow, 24 slide on the icy "jokull" paths, and 22 when the lonely dwelling of some up-21 land dale expires his pony bears his 22 body in its coffin tied to its back to 19 the next consecrated ground.

THE MAN WHO LIVED.

He should have been dead. But he wasn't, because—

"There's nothing succeeds like success."
There is no withstanding the living argument of the man who should be dead, who isn't dead, but who would be dead, but for a preserving medicine. That's about the way it seemed to strike Editor Lawrence, of the Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio. He was afflicted with one of those colds that have, thousands of times over, culminated in consumption, when not promptly cured. In this condition he met a friend, a consumptive, whom he had not expected to see alive. The consumptive friend recommended Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for the editor's cold, on the ground that it had "helped him wonderfully," It helped the editor just as wonderfully, giving "almost instant relief." But read his letter:

"About two months ago, I was afflicted with a bad cold, and, meeting a friend, he advised the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral which, he claimed, had helped him wonderfully. As he was a consumptive, whom I had not expected to see alive for several years, I concluded there must be merit in this preparation. I accordingly bought a couple of bottles, one of which I keep on my desk all the time. This is certainly the best remedy."—W. H. Lawrence, Editor, The Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio.

Skeep a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral the closest at home, and you will have at hand a remedy that is capable at any time of saving you suffering, money, and even life. There is no malady so prolific of evil results as a neglected cold. There is no malecine so promptly effective in curing a cold and absolutely eradicating its effects, as Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Every traveller should carry it. Every traveller should carry it. Every traveller should carry it. Every traveller should keep it. It cures every variety of cough, and all forms of lung and throat trouble. Asthma, bronchitis, croup, and whooping cough, are promptly cured by it, and it has in many cases overtome pulmonary diseases in aggravated forms, when all other remedy. The book contains to pages, and is sent relief, and the J. C. Ayer Co

The New England States Suffer Severely from Winter Storms-20 Lives Lost and $200,000 Damage to Property-Lake Shore Absorbed by N. Y. Central

Winter Storms Bring Great Havoc

The blizzards which have raged throughout the northern states, causing serious blockading of railway truffic in Michigan and other states, were particularly severe in eastern New York and New England. Boston probably got the worst dose, as the storm completely paralyzed all branches of business and street car and tram railway traffic and for a time shut off the city from communication by wire with all places outside the limits of Boston. The storm was the most severe Boston had experienced in 25 years and caused the loss of several lives, besides causing hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to property. The snow clung to the poles and wires and, aided by a wind blowing at the rate of 50 miles an hour, prostrated all telephone and telegraph lines about the city. More than half the electric lights of the city went out and in suburban towns the fire alarm service was crippled. In Newton broken wires started a fire in the elegant residence of Chas. J. Travelli, the wealthy Pittsburg steel manufacturer, and it was desroyed, the family escaping in their night clothes without saving anything. The loss

The most violent storm known at Gloucester, Mass., since 1851 swept the shores of Cape Ann, causing heavy loss of life and about $200,000 damage. More than a dozen vessels went ashore and at least four more are lost, and many others damaged. The water front of Gloucester harbor and along the cape is dotted with wrecks and wreckage, schooners, sloops and other ressels having been driven ashore by the fierce gale. Ten lives are known to be lost and the damage to shipping will exceed $200,000.

Later reports show that at least a core of persons were drowned and 32,000,000 loss inflicted by the storm that swept over Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Wreckage is strewn up and down the coast from Cape Ann to Cape Cod. Thirty schooners were wrecked in Massachusetts bay. land the loss by the storm seems to have been confined entirely to property. Twenty-four hours elapsed before direet telegraphic communication was restored between Boston and the rest of the world.

Double Murder at Skaguay.

A double murder occurred at Skaguay, Alaska. Deputy U. S. Marshal I. M. Bowen, formerly city marshal of Mount Vernon, Wash., and Andrew McGrath, of Concord, Ont., were shot and killed in Jake Rice's variety theater y Ed Fay, a bartender. Fay will be tried by a committee of 12 persons and there is no doubt that if found guilty Fay will be hanged. The theater has been closed by the citizens. The murder had a sad sequel in the death of Rowen's wife and child, which was born a short time previous to the murder of its father. Rowen was on his way to obtain medical assestance for his wife when the shooting occurred.

He says: The patient was a man who nad suffered to my knowledge for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create acid and gases in the stomach; he had pains like his barn, hacking his neck to strings rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and The war rumors of the far east are blood remedies, but to no purpose. As being kept alive by the maneuvering of an experiment I finally bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a dvertised and sold in drug stores yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but vegetable and fruit ssences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal. Without any question they are the

In one of the main streets of Shelbyville, Ind.

In one of the main streets of Shelbyville, Indiana, resides Mrs. Emily Edwards and her seventeen year old daughter, Cora. The young lady is one of the charming misses of the city, she being known for her beauty, and perfect health.

"Although enjoying good health now," said her mother to a reporter recently, "she has not always been so fortunate. I suppose Cora, until two years ago last March, was as healthy and strong as any girl of her age. She was attending school and was studying hard. Perhaps she was too studious, for we noticed that the healthy color in her cheek was rapidly disappearing, and she was becoming pale and sallow. Dark, swollen circles began to appear under her eyes, and she rapidly became worse. We were living in Franklin, Indiana, at the time, and Cora would have gradnated that Spring. She stopped attending school and endeavored to get a rest, but her health kept failing. Her blood was color-less and impure. She would also have sick headache, could scarcely eat or sleep, and was almost continually in pain. Nothing which we did for her seemed to do any good. "Different physicians treated and prescribed for her, but she kept getting worse. She had formerly weighed 109 pounds, but during her illness her weight had dwindled down to 79 pounds. We began to think there was ever a pale person it was certainly Cora, so I decided to buy a box of the pills and let her try them. This uncertainty as to the law is manifested in a practical way in case of loans now maturing and which the borrowers cannot repay. One eastern mortgage company holds mortgages to the amount of a couple of hundred thousand dollars on some of the best residence and business property in the city. Many of these loans are now maturing and the company naturally wants the notes of the mortgagors renewed so as to be negotiable. In some cases extension contracts are being made, which is only a makeshift and unsatisfactory, and in other cases new notes and mortgages are being executed embodying a waiver of the objectionable features of the new law. These are all right, if the waiver is binding; if not, few new mortgages will be made before another legislature meets and modifies the existing law. Another result will be the foreclosure of that. But what'll you live on?" many mortgages now maturing. Here is what the president of this company writes: 'If the 80 per cent appraisement clause of the new law should hold good as to mortgages we would never extend a mortgage nor renew one, but would foreclose every piece of property unless principal and interest are paid. This 80 per cent clause is practically confiscation of the property, or, in other words, compels the mortgagee to walk in and purchase the property of the mortgagor for any amount above the mortgage that his friends, the appraisers, would agree upon."

Humors of Shortnand.

The Weapon Small,- but None More Certain or Effective.

In these times when backs are lame, when almost every other one we meet has now and then, or all the time, a back that aches or pains—"a weak back," "a bad back," a back that makes their life a misery to bear—and still they go on day by day in pain and suffering. Now 'tis the easiest thing in the world to give this played out back "a blow" that will settle tt, and put in its place a new one equal to my. It's just like this: hit at the cause; most backaches come from kidney discrders. Reach the kidneys, start their clogged-up fibres in operation; when this is done you can say good-bye to backache. Here is a case from Battle Creek: Mr. Josiah M. Shoup lives at 51 Broad Street, he was a member of the Battle Creek politic for member of the Battle Creek politic for members.

lice force for many years. As a member of the force he served the city well, but the rough weather he was often subjected to laid the foundation of kidney disorder, which has troubled him very much. Here is what he says about it:

"About three years ago, while on the colice force, I contracted from exposure a sidney trouble, which has since given me no end of trouble. The pain was right through my kidneys and across the small of my back; if sitting down and I wanted of my back; if sitting down and I wanted to stand up, I had to arise very slowly and gently to avoid increasing the pain; I had such tired-out feelings all the time, and I was steadily getting worse. About two months ago, hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. Their action and effect was most complete, they removed the old aching pains for good. I can now get around as quickly as anybody. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly as represented."

A runaway which resulted in severe injury to a member of Trelegan's excelsior stars and the loss of a good D. C. horse from Chas Kulenkamp's barn, occurred on our streets Saturday afternoon. Ed Gould and Wm. Malbourne drove to the depot about 3:30 o'clock and while there the horse evidently became excited or frightened and over-turned the cutter, throwing the two young men out. Mr. Gould was picked up unconscious and taken to the Free-man house, where he lay until about 6 o'clock before regaining consciousness. The horse then dashed off a bridge and was killed.—Manchester Enterprise.

One of the best equipped systems of railway in the United States is the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road, popularly known as the "C. H. & D." "This line seems to be enjoying the lion's share of Army and Navy travel. They have recently put on a through train between Washington and Chicago, their principal train leaving Washington at 11.45 a. m. and arriving in Chicago the following day at noon. They use the Baltimore & Ohio system from Washington to Cincinnati, where they connect with their own system to Chicago. Some time ago they reduced their time of running trains between Chicago and Cincinnati to eight hours, which is one of the fastest trips made in this country. Their night express between Chicago and Cincinnati is equipped with compartment cars that are models of elegance and beauty. This road caters to Army patronage and always extends every accomodation possible to officers travel-Ing over their line and it is no wonder that they get the service patronage. They offer to their patrons the best line between Washington and Chicago, via Cincinnati, and especially between and Chicago, Toledo or Detroit. Mr. D. G. Edwards, passenger traffic manager of the road, at Cincinnati, Ohio. will be very glad to give any additional information concerning the "C. H. & D. Route" to all who will address him." BLADDER TROUBLES.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases. SAMPLE SENT FREE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kid-neys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root fulfills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles. It corrects frequent calls, inability to hold urine and scalding or stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that un-pleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distress ing cases. If you need a medicine you should take the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mall. Mention the REGISTER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.
