

HAS MADE ANOTHER BLUFF

Boss Judson's Libel Suit Thrown Out of Court--He Had Knowingly Violated the Law in Beginning it-- Now Tries Another Bluff

BY STARTING ANOTHER LIBEL SUIT

Says Register Has Injured His Character--Papers Were Served at a Late Hour Saturday Night--When it was Thought it Would be Too Late to Secure Bail--But in This They Were Mistaken.

When Boss Judson began, on April 1st, a libel suit against the editor of THE REGISTER, for the purpose of enabling him to pose as an injured innocent, he thought he could, in addition to the suit, help his case by a scheme to injure the editor of this paper. His plan was to violate what both he and his attorneys knew to be a plain provision of the law and arrest the editor and throw him into jail without giving him an opportunity to furnish bail. This high-handed piece of business aroused a storm of indignation all over the county. This course, on the part of the sheriff, in which he, as we are firmly convinced, intentionally violated the law in order to vent his spleen against the editor of this paper, has done more than any other one thing to weaken the little influence the Sheriff may still have in this county. It proved, also, that Boss Judson, who was supposed to be an astute politician, is, in some respects, at least, exceedingly stupid. The law states distinctly that in cases where the sheriff is a party to the case, the serving of the papers shall be done by the coroner. But Boss Judson evidently, in his blind rage, wanted to disgrace the editor of this paper and so took the law in his own hands and selected Deputy Canfield to do this dirty work. The Boss seemed to know that Canfield, either through too great fear of the Boss, or because he had no regard for the law itself, or both, was willing to do whatever was asked of him. The warrant served by Canfield on April 1 was not made returnable until May 2. Upon that day a motion was made in the Circuit Court to have the case thrown out on account of the gross irregularities which had occurred in the service of the papers. This motion was argued last Saturday morning. Upon hearing the arguments Judge Kinne promptly granted the motion, thus throwing the case out of court. There are two good and sufficient reasons why this step was taken.

First, it was desired that the proceedings be carried out in a regular and legal manner. It is foolish to go into a lawsuit and proceed to trial where it is so patent that gross irregularities have occurred and which may throw the case out of court before a verdict is reached.

In the second place we believed that we had a good case for damages for false imprisonment. We desired to strengthen such case by a decision of the Circuit Court which we were confident we could obtain, and which we have obtained in Judge Kinne's decision, throwing the case out of court. The statement that is being circulated that we were afraid to have the libel suit come to

GOES TO ILLINOIS.

Instructor T. W. Hughes of the Law Department, Has Resigned.

At the end of this year the law department will lose one of its best teachers. This is T. W. Hughes who has just resigned his position to accept a fine place in the University of Illinois. At the last meeting of the board of regents a resolution was adopted to the effect that no salaries be raised this year. This was adopted in the face of the influence of President Hutchins and some members of the board and the fact that no raise was in prospect is the chief reason for Mr. Hughes' leaving.

Soon after his coming here the University found that it had secured in Mr. Hughes a natural teacher. The students all liked him and spoke of him in the highest terms as a man who could present the most difficult subjects plainly and who could command the respect of every student. Both students and professors will feel his loss a personal one.

Mr. Hughes said: "I'm sure I shall like my new place. There is none of the scarcity of money that troubles us here for the state appropriates all that is necessary. The University buildings are fine and I consider President Draper an ideal president. I'm sure that under his very able management the institution will become the leading state university in the West."

The annual election of officers will take place Monday evening May 16th, beginning at 7:30. The earlier part of the evening will be given to committee reports and outlines of work which every member should hear. According to the Constitution, only regular active members who are not owing their dues, can vote or hold office. Look up your accounts and see where you stand.

It seems probable that Miss Taylor, of the International Committee, may be at our class exercises. At this time it is impossible to give the date.

The Anniversary meeting will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening, May 15th. Dr. McElroy will give the address. Prof. Stanley and the M. E. Choir are to furnish the music. Reports of the various departments of Association work will be given. All friends of the young women of Ann Arbor and all interested in social-christian work are urged to be present and learn of this Association work which is being carried on.

A USEFUL LIFE

WAS THAT OF JUDGE ELIHU B. POND WHO DIED RECENTLY.

An Old Acquaintance Tells of His Work and the Fine Qualities of His Mind.

Honorable Elihu B. Pond died in our city very suddenly on May 4th at about half past seven in the evening, while engaged in his favorite employment of attending to his flower garden. Mr. Pond was born in Wilmington, Essex County, N. Y., July 15, 1826 and was therefore about seventy-two years of age at the time of his decease. He came and settled in Southern Michigan with his parents about the year 1832, was educated at Albion College, having for his classmates ex-Secretary J. Sterling Morton, of Minnesota, and the late Gen. Clinton B. Fiske, the noted prohibitionist of New York city.

In 1849 he was married to Mary B. Allen and at his decease left her surviving him and also his three children, Miss Mary Louise, of this city, and Irving K. and Allen B. Pond, architects of Chicago, Ill.

In 1854 Mr. Pond moved to Ann Arbor, purchased the newspaper called the Michigan Argus, and was owner and editor of that paper for about 25 years. In 1859 he was elected senator from this district and served, I think, one term. He was a member of the school board of our High School, I believe, for twelve years or more. In 1883 he was appointed warden of the state's prison at Jackson and held this position two years. After he sold his interest in the Argus, he was elected justice of the peace in this city and has filled this position to the entire satisfaction of our citizens for about ten years past and at the time of his decease was serving his third term.

Mr. Pond was in character and talents one of the strongest men in this city, devoted to the development of character and intellect. He was in a marked degree evenly balanced in character, temperament and intellect. He stood squarely on the right side of all material issues, but was too judicial to be an extreme fanatic and too honest to be a bigot. By precept and example he did all he could to establish a high standard of purity and perfection in family, social, state and national life.

As an editor Mr. Pond left an impress for good upon all who were within the influence of his editorial articles. These articles were faultless in logic, persuasive, condensed to a degree and almost perfect specimens of that class of work. I once suggested to him that he ought to sell his interests here and take a position on one of the leading dailies of New York city, but he replied that while he would enjoy that kind of work, he greatly feared that he would not be able physically to endure the exacting requirements of such a position. He was certainly as well qualified in every respect to fill such a position as was Horace Greely or Mr. Dana.

Mr. Pond was by nature a lawyer. He possessed legal instincts and intuitions that permitted him to reach correct conclusions, without laboriously going over the preliminary processes necessary to most men. If he had commenced the study of law in his youth, and given his whole time and attention to that profession, I think he would have attained even a higher position than his eminent brother of Detroit, who stands among the leaders of the bar in this state.

As editor and member of our school board he did a grand work in the building up and development of the common schools and high schools in this state and of the University, which is the key stone of one of the most perfect and educational systems in this country. He undoubtedly had some defects in character and conduct, but they are buried so deep beneath the mountain of high aspirations, worthy purposes and noble conduct that they will never be thought of or remembered.

Very respectfully,
NOAH W. CHEEVER.

W. C. T. U.

Today at 3 p. m., in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held. The reports of the district conventions will be the chief feature.

In the near future there will be a program for the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union under the direction of the superintendent of that department.

The fund for the "Willard Temple" monument is steadily increasing. This is by far the most fitting monument for our worthy leader and it is greatly desired that all forces be united in securing this rather than part going to a marble monument somewhere.

Wm. Collum was arrested for being drunk and sent to jail. Monday he was taken with delirium tremens and died.

A School Girl's Nerves.

This record is of especial value to parents. It's a message from a loving mother dedicated to the mothers of growing girls. A truthful narrative of the utmost interest and import.

It is important that the nerves are carefully guarded. Mothers who have young daughters of school age should watch their health more carefully than their studies. The proper development of their bodies is of first importance.

After the confinement of the school room, plenty of out-door exercise should be taken. It is better that children never learn their a, b, c's, than that by over-study they lose their health.

All this is self-evident. Everyone admits it—everyone knows it, but everyone does not know how to build the health up when once broken down, even the best physicians failing at times.

The following method of Mrs. Stephen Barnes, whose post office address is Burney, Ind., if rightly applied, may save your daughter.

When her daughter Lucy was at that critical girlhood age of twelve years she grew weak and nervous.

"Previously she had been a bright, healthy young girl," says Mrs. Barnes, "She was diligent and progressive in her studies.

"It became necessary, however, for her to leave school.

"She was overtaxed mentally and physically.

"Her nerves were at such a tension that the least noise irritated her.

"She had continual twitching in the arms and lower limbs and symptoms of St. Vitus' dance.

"Her blood was out of order she was thin and pale, almost lifeless. In three months she lost twenty-three pounds "We did everything possible for her and she had the best of medical treatment.

"Several skilled physicians attended her, but no benefit was apparent.

"A family friend visiting us, told how her daughter had been similarly affected, but cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"She urged us to try the pills, and we finally consented.

"We have always rejoiced that we did.

"The pills helped Lucy at once, and after taking eight boxes she was entirely cured.

"She is now in perfect health, strong, weighs ten pounds more than ever before, and her cheeks are full of color.

"Two years of schooling were missed on account of ill health, but now she can gratify her ambition to study and become an educated woman."

The reason that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were helpful in the above case, is that they are composed of vegetable remedies which act directly on the impure blood, the foundation of disease.

As the blood rushes through all parts of the body, the conveyer of good or bad health, it is necessary that it should be pure, rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood by supplying its life giving elements which nourishes the various organs, stimulating them to activity in the performance of their functions and thus drives disease from the system.

The pills are in universal demand and sold by all druggists.

FRENCH AUTHORS.

Big Profits Made on the Works of the Most Famous.

The Paris correspondent of the London Daily News writes: The French author whose works brought in most money in his lifetime was Victor Hugo. His sale has been still greater since his death. In that time they have brought in £24,000. Louis Blanc sold the copyright of his "History of the Revolution" for £20,000. It is now read only in popular illustrated editions, and is sold chiefly to radical town councils for prizes at their communal schools. Thiers obtained the same price for the copyright of his "History of the Consulate and the Empire."

Chateaubriand received half as much for his memoirs. Victor Hugo was paid a royalty of 1 franc a volume for "Bug-Jargal," "Hans d'Islande" and "Notre Dame de Paris." This latter was, next to "Les Miserables," his most popular work of fiction. "Les Miserables" would never have been written had not Eugene Sue found telling subjects in the slaughterhouse men, seamstresses and concherges who figure in "Les Mysteres de Paris."

La Bruyere was godfather of his publisher's daughter, Mlle. Michallet. He gave her a characteristic gift of the copyright of "Les Characters." The work brought her £4,000. "Emile," a work that revolutionized education, brought Rousseau £240. Nobody reads it now, unless to pass an examination in the literature of the last century. Flaubert sold the copyright of "Madame Bovary" for £16 to Michael Levi, who made a fortune out of that book and Renan's works.

Renan signed an agreement, which he never sought to evade, when he was a mere essayist. He was to receive a fixed annuity from Levi in return for all he might write and he bound himself to furnish a certain number of books in a given time. The income seemed wealth to him when he signed the agreement, but the merest mess of pottage in after life. Old Dumas was paid a centime a letter for his feuilleton of "La San Felice." He had been paid by the line, but the lines were so short that the publisher felt that he did not receive full value. French literary rules favored Dumas.

French Revolutionary Calendar. The French Revolutionary Calendar, which was the work of Fabre d'Englantine and M. Romme, was divided into twelve months of thirty days each, and there were five complimentary days at the end of each year, called the Sans Culottides, which were devoted to the festivals of Genius, Labor, Actions, Rewards and Opinion; every fourth year contained a sixth of these, dedicated to the festival of the revolution. Year One of the Republic began at midnight on 22nd of September, 1792, and the 23rd of September of other nations was its 1st of Vendemiaire, or wine month. Following the wine month—on the 22nd of October—came the foggy month, Bumaire; then followed the last autumn month of Primaire, the frosty. All the autumn months thus ended in "aire," as the winter months did in "ose," the spring months in "al," and the summer months in "or."

Following the frosty month came the snowy, the rainy and the windy—Nivose, Pluviose and Ventose; then came the budding, the flowery and the meadow months—Germinal, Floreal, and Prairial; then the sowing month—Messidor, Thermidor and Fructidor. Each month was divided into decades, or ten-day weeks, each day, instead of being assigned to a saint, bore the name of some food product, or implement, or animal used in cultivating the earth. This highly utilitarian calendar remained in force during thirteen years, and just as folks were getting accustomed to it was abolished by Napoleon I., on January 1, 1806.

Railways in England. John Macaulay, traffic manager of the Mersey railway, has announced that he is in favor of the nationalization of the railways of the United Kingdom, and declares that the question is rapidly becoming one of practical politics. He says that "railroads, like all other roads, should be under public authority, and wisely used, with business-like interest of adequately satisfying needs of the nation, with the least possible waste and duplication of useless work."

Mr. Macaulay estimates that at least 20 to 24 per cent. of the total working cost of the railways would be saved by the mere act of consolidation. One of the advantages he notes would be that railways could be constructed and worked at a loss where advisable in those parts of the nation where companies would not build because it "would not pay." Thus many industries and localities now undeveloped would receive new life, and it would pay the country to lose money on the railways for years.

Denmark's Queen. Queen Louise of Denmark is the oldest occupant of a throne, with the single exception of the Grand Duke of Luxemburg, who is her senior by some six weeks. These are the only two octogenarian sovereigns. Next in age, after Queen Louise, comes her husband, who is seven months younger; and then the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar and Queen Victoria.

He's Alive at Least. Carl Hansen, a deserter from the Maine, is now in New York jail charged with stealing Millionaire Burden's jewelry. He would doubtless rather be there than at the bottom of Havana harbor.

BEATEN BY A HAIR.

The Man Couldn't Get Over What He Considered an Insult.

When Hannibal Hamlin was speaker of the Maine House of Representatives, away back in the forties, there was in that body a certain gentleman of faultless attire, pleasing manners, good address and some reputation, but he had one foible, says "Lives of Twelve Illustrious Men." His hair was very thin and he was highly sensitive in regard to it. To hide his approaching baldness he had a habit of carefully stroking with bandoline or other preparation each particular hair in its place. One day, while in the chair as speaker, Mr. Hamlin, in the innocence of a good and joke loving nature, sent for this gentleman, and, looking fixedly at his smooth and polished pate, said, with a chuckle: "Blank, old fellow, I just wanted to tell you that you've got one of the hairs of your head crossed over the other."

"You insult me, sir! You insult me!" replied the member, with unexpected and altogether unnecessary indignation, and then, refusing to listen either to reason or explanation, he left the speaker's desk and returned to his seat. When Mr. Hamlin became a candidate for the United States Senate this gentleman was a member of the upper house of the Maine Legislature. Although a member of the same party, and only one more vote was needed to secure Mr. Hamlin's election, he positively refused to vote for the man by whom he had been insulted. He was defeated for a seat in the Senate—by a hair, but when the next vacancy occurred he was elected.

A Faulty Diagnosis. The students of a certain big medical college of this city are enjoying a good joke at the expense of one of their professors. The professor in question is a physician of experience and acknowledged ability, but he made a diagnosis which was decidedly faulty in the case of a young man, a sufferer from nervous trouble, who was introduced to the clinic. In some diseases of the nervous system there is an interference of the blood supply to the smaller blood-vessels of the skin, which show a congestion of the venous blood. A common symptom, for instance, is a blue color in the fingers. The subject before the clinic on this occasion seemed to the physician to afford an excellent illustration of this condition. "Look at this man's hands," said he; "do you notice anything strange about them?"

A number of the students gathered round to investigate, but they declared that they saw nothing unusual. "What?" declared the professor. "Can't you see the condition of the subject's blood indicated there in the blue color of his hands. That proves—"

But here the patient's mother, who was sitting near by, interrupted. "Why, doctor," said she, "that blue is dye. He works in a tannery." The students laughed heartily, and the professor promptly dismissed the patient.—Philadelphia Record.

Market for Unskilled Labor. The monthly journal published by the labor bureau of the British Board of Trade contains reports each month from the great labor centers of the world on the condition of the labor market. It is to be noted that nowhere is there any demand for unskilled labor, and, in fact, the unskilled laborer is warned to keep away from most of the countries or colonies mentioned. Nor for that matter can the demand for skilled labor be said to be good, for while occasionally there is an opening, as in New South Wales, "if they can afford to wait a little," usually every country has more than it needs. Even Natal, from which the report is, "There is no demand for more mechanics or other laborers. * * * Many persons have been unable to find employment."

Safest Lightning Rods. Electricians have lately been experimenting on the efficacy of lightning-rods, there being a difference of opinion whether a thin or a thick lightning rod should be employed. But according to actual observations made on rods during the heavy storms, a stout rod, one having a large diameter of metal, is considered to be the safer. MM. Milde and Grenet, in watching a rod attached to the Tour St. Jacques, in Paris, saw it made red hot for a space of 18 inches by the electrical discharge passing down it. If, then, a rod is thin it may be fused by the current, and leave the building at the mercy of the lightning.

Woes of a Tennessee Editor. Any one who believes running a newspaper is all ease, comfort and profit will have his illusions dispelled by the following from a Tennessee paper, which caps the climax: "We are mad! Darn the people! How can they expect us, out here, twelve miles from a railroad, twenty-five miles from a river, millions of miles from heaven, about two miles from the devil and about 200 yards from a whiskey shop, to get out a lively newspaper!"

Not According to Lindley Murray. "Sammy Snaggs," asked the teacher, "what part of speech is the word 'malediction'?" "Noun," replied Sammy. "What gender?" "Masculine gender." "Indeed?" "Yes'm. If it was feminine it would be 'femalediction.'"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Surprised. "Begorra," said Bridget, as she opened a bottle of champagne for the first time, "the fool that filled this quart bottle must 'a' put two quarts in instid av wan!"

An Unthinking Mother.

In a dry goods store a little boy yet in dresses disturbed the peace of hundreds of shoppers, mainly, though, because there seemed to be nothing they could do for him. His mother, a well meaning woman of small judgment and experience, was buying a hat. Suddenly the lad by her side began to shriek as if in severe pain or fright. The woman tried to soothe him, but he screamed more fiercely, upon which she spanked him. A crowd gathered and an attendant picked up the then thoroughly unnerved youngster and carried him kicking and yelling into an anteroom. There he struggled and gasped until a woman put some pink candy in his hands. For a moment it attracted him. Then he crumbled it fiercely and cried hysterically again. A peppermint from a third woman impressed him slightly, but he did not gain self control until his mother asked him if he wanted to go out of doors. Like a stifling animal he shrieked. "Yes!" The woman told me that she could not understand it at all. He never had such an attack before. Not by way of explanation, but incidentally, she added that she and the boy had just landed from the Teutonic the day before. He had been sick in his berth for six days. Poor child! Poorer mother! Not to see any connection between six days of sickness in a closed cabin and a nervous fit in a close store on the seventh! She never knew, she said, he had such a temper.—Grace E. Drew in New York Press.

Broke the Rule. "This coffee, my dear," said Kiekles, "reminds me of what mother used to make." "Does it, really?" exclaimed his wife, a pleased look coming onto her face. "Yes; and she used to make about the worst coffee I ever drank."—Boston Traveler.

What She Uses. "What yeast does your wife use to make her bread rise?" asked one young married man of another. "Why, I don't think she uses any kind of yeast," was the reply. "I think she uses an alarm clock."—Yonkers Statesman.

Mystery Explained.

The following incident is related by an English journal, but it might have happened almost anywhere: A lady who kept poultry had, among others, some Andalusian fowls. One day she had one killed for dinner, which proved to be very tough. "Rachel," she said to her servant, an elderly woman who had been with her for some time, "what fowl is this? It seems to be a very old one." "Well, mum," replied she, "it's one of them there antediluvians."

Will it cure you? It has cured thousands like you. Why not you?

MICHIGAN NEWS SUMMARY.

Doings of the Week Recorded in a Brief Style.

CONCISE AND INTERESTING.

Michigan National Guard Officers Find Physical Examinations Very Severe—New Officers for the First Regiment—Eight New Companies Ordered.

Many M. N. G. Officers Fail to Pass. The physical examination of officers and surgeons of the Michigan National Guard at Camp Eaton is very severe and many fail to pass.

The first pay day in Camp Eaton saw $60,000 distributed among the boys. The Agricultural college boys failed to turn out a full company for the volunteers, only 46 responding to the call for enlistment.

Schremser's famous Fourth regiment and, of Detroit, was mustered out of service owing to the division of the old Fourth regiment. There was much sorrow among both band men and soldiers as the musicians left the camp.

The officers of the First regiment were the next to come under fire and it proved disastrous to their hopes. Col. Tyrrell and Maj. Howell were the first to fall; then Capt. Snook, Co. F; Capt. Frank J. McNulty, Co. D; First Lieut. Burton C. Hinckley, Co. D; Second Lieut. Chas. M. Frost, Co. D, were all rejected.

Gov. Pingree poured balm into the wounds of Col. Tyrrell and Maj. Howell by giving the former a commission as major, and giving him charge of organizing the recruits of the eight new companies gathered in various parts of the state.

The next regimental officer turned down was Lieut.-Col. Vos, of the Second, who was rejected because of slight physical ailment. He took the result in a manly way and in a speech to his men he told them that it was their first duty to be soldiers and not to allow the absence of their old officers to deter them from enlisting.

The examination of the officers of the Second Independent battalion (Cos. A, B and F, Detroit Light Guard and Co. G, of Monroe) was not as disastrous as to the officers of the old First regiment. Second Lieut. Fred W. Reising, of Co. G (Monroe), failed to pass on account of defective hearing, he being the only officer that failed to qualify.

The result of the physical examinations somewhat surprised the members of the First regiment. The twelve companies were examined and out of 1,071 men, 230 failed to pass. Several of the companies lost over 20 men.

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not get ready for it, there is no telling what may happen.

Nature is not given proper assistance. Mother's Friend is the best help you can use at this time. It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes, it makes the advent easy and nearly painless.

Mother's Friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain. One dollar per bottle at all drug stores, or sent by express on receipt of price.

each, while only nine were plucked out of the Lansing company. Nearly all of the men who failed were sent home, and there is a general hustle for recruits.

Organization of Eight New Companies.

The state military board has decided to allow the following towns to raise the additional eight companies necessary to fill out Michigan's quota of volunteers: Benton Harbor, Traverse City, Ionia, Mt. Clemens, Three Rivers and Allegan, one company; Sons of Veterans, two companies, and the Detroit Light Guard an additional company.

Webb Gets an Appointment.

Ex-Lieut.-Col. Merrell E. Webb, of the old Fourth infantry, of Detroit, who made such a hard fight against Capt. Lathrop to be elected colonel of the Fourth infantry, has been commissioned major in the recruiting service. When Gov. Pingree disorganized the Fourth infantry, Lieut.-Col. Webb joined Co. G, of Monroe, as a private, and a few weeks later he was promoted to first sergeant.

The Agricultural college boys failed to turn out a full company for the volunteers, only 46 responding to the call for enlistment. That settled the chance of the college being represented.

Schremser's famous Fourth regiment and, of Detroit, was mustered out of service owing to the division of the old Fourth regiment. There was much sorrow among both band men and soldiers as the musicians left the camp.

Michigan's First Regiment.

Adjt.-Gen. Irish has issued a special order consolidating the Second Independent battalion, which is composed of Cos. A, B and F, Detroit Light Guard and Co. G of Monroe, with the First regiment, Michigan National Guard, making it 12 companies, forming the First Michigan Volunteers. Capt. Gardner has been commissioned colonel. Lieut.-Col. Fred Shubel, Jr., of Lansing, will be retained as lieutenant colonel and as the regiment is entitled to three majors the order commissions Maj. Henry L. Hunt, of Jackson, major first battalion; Capt. Chas. W. Harrah, of Detroit, major second battalion and Capt. John P. Kirk, of Ypsilanti, major third battalion.

The promotion of the line officers to field officers left a good many vacancies in some of the companies which were filled by election.

It is announced that the troops will leave Camp Eaton as soon as the regiments are mustered and equipped. They will probably go to Chickamauga where they will rendezvous, and other regiments will follow as rapidly as possible.

Co. A (Ann Arbor), First infantry, Capt. Ross Granger, had the honor of being the first company mustered in, and the soldier boys were given a rousing reception as they lined up to take the oath of allegiance to their country. Co. B (Adrian), Capt. James M. Holloway, was next mustered in and then followed Co. C (Tecumseh), Capt. Thos. R. Kyle; Co. D (Jackson), Capt. Cyrus F. Smith; Co. E (Lansing), Capt. Robt. J. Craig; Co. F (Mason), Capt. George P. Griffin; Co. G (Ypsilanti), Capt. Frank B. McKeand; Co. H (Jackson), Capt. Benj. O. Newell.

The companies of the Second Independent battalion (Detroit Light Guard), that were attached to the First regiment have had their letter changed. Co. A will now be known as I, Co. B as K, Co. C as L, and Co. G, of Monroe, as M. They were mustered in as follows: Co. I, (Detroit), Capt. Duncan Henderson; Co. K (Detroit), Capt. W. H. Sink; Co. L (Detroit), Capt. Chas. S. Baxter; Co. M (Monroe), Capt. John M. Gutman.

Michigan's Second Regiment.

Gen. Irish issued a formal order attaching the First Independent battalion (Cos. C, D, E and H of the old Fourth M. N. G.) to the Second regiment M. N. G., thus forming the Second Michigan Volunteer regiment. The officers of the Second regiment are: Col. William T. McGarrin, Grand Rapids; Maj. T. H. Reynolds, Detroit; Maj. B. L. Abbey, Kalamazoo; Maj. W. B. Kalmbach, Grand Rapids; Maj. L. D. Knowles, surgeon, Three Rivers; Capt. John L. Burkhardt, assistant surgeon, Grand Rapids.

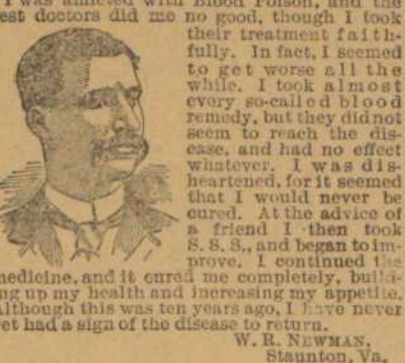

This makes Maj. Reynolds, of Detroit, the senior major, and he will be entitled to the right of the line. The line officers of the regiment went before the examining board and four failed to pass. They are Capt. Wm. M. Hatch, Company D, (Battle Creek), whose vision is very poor; Capt. Joseph J. Nolan, Company C (Kalamazoo), Capt. Ed. Rode and First Lieut. Max. A. Kean, Co. C, (Scott Guards of Detroit). The latter is minus several front teeth, which was marked against him, but as he passed an otherwise excellent examination, his case may be reconsidered. Capt. Rode had rheumatism and is over the weight limit.

Grand Rapids gave the Michigan commandery of the Loyal Legion a patriotic reception and the sessions were thoroughly enjoyed. The annual banquet was largely attended and the hall was elaborately decorated with patriotic emblems. Col. Henry M. Duffield, the retiring commander, presided. Offi-

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury; besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

MICHIGAN NEWS ITEMS.

Gov. Pingree received a telegram from Alger requesting that two regiments be mustered in as soon as possible and sent to Chickamauga.

Lieut. Albert G. Winterhalter, who served on board the U. S. cruiser Baltimore under Commodore Dewey's squadron, in the engagement with the Spanish fleet at Manila is a native of Detroit, and when off duty resides in Detroit.

Gov. Pingree has appointed Dr. C. B. Nanerene, dean of the medical faculty of the University of Michigan as surgeon of the Third infantry with the rank of major. Dr. J. A. King, of Manistee, has been decided on as a surgeon and rank as major of the Fifth Infantry, and Dr. Robb, of Calumet, will be assistant surgeon of the Fifth and rank as lieutenant.

The annual convention of the Michigan Equal Suffrage association was held at Bay City. The program was interesting and enjoyable. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary S. Knaggs, of Bay City; vice-president, Mrs. Perline Sizer Davis, of Detroit; recording secretary, Miss Edith F. Hall, of Flat Rock; treasurer, Mrs. Emily B. Ketcham, of Grand Rapids; auditors, Mrs. Lois Avery, of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Lila E. Bliss, of Coleman.

If Hope and Faith Were Gone.

James Martineau: There are those who please themselves with the idea that the world will outgrow its habits of worship; that the newspaper will supersede the preacher and the prophet; that the apprehension of scientific laws will replace the fervor of moral inspirations; that this sphere of being will then be perfectly administered when no reference to another attracts attention. But, for my own part, I am persuaded that life would soon become intolerable on earth were it copied from nothing in the heavens; that its deeper affections would pine away, and its lights of purest thought grow pale, if it lay shrouded in no holy spirit, but only in the wilderness of space. The most sagacious secular voice leaves, after all, a chord untouched in the human heart, listening too long to its didactic monotone, we begin to sigh for the rich music of hope and faith. The dry glare of noonday knowledge hurts the eye by plying it for use and denying it beauty; and we long to be screened behind a cloud or two of moisture and of mystery that shall mellow the glory and cool the air.

Save Your Children.

Most every—if not every mother knows what it means when her little one cannot get to sleep, but cries out "Oh, Mamma, something is biting me." It is not piles that may be alleviated by a salve—no, it is the troublesome little pin worm that wriggles and twists, and irritates the child until it becomes nervous, fretful and peevish. The simplest remedy, harmless to the child but death to the pinworm, is Sketete's Pin Worm Destroyer. If you or any of yours are annoyed by the little pests, pinworms, send 26 cents in postage stamps to Geo. G. Sketete, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and he will send you a box of destroyer post paid. Ask your druggist for Sketete's Worm Destroyer.

TO TAKE PORTO RICO.

Sampson's Largest Vessels Sail for That Purpose.

Spain's Atlantic fleet is not to be allowed to reach Porto Rico or to approach the coast of the United States. Rear Admiral Sampson has perfected plans for meeting the enemy on the high seas and giving battle at a time and place of his own choosing. The large fighters of Sampson's squadron, the New York, Indiana, Iowa, Puritan and Mayflower were withdrawn from the Cuban blockading fleet and coaled heavily at Key West, after which they sailed eastward at full speed, apparently for Porto Rico, either to destroy or to occupy the coaling station as a naval base before the Spanish squadron arrives, and then put to sea and try to engage the Cape Verde fleet.

Meanwhile the smaller vessels of the North Atlantic squadron are ample to maintain the blockade. Capt. Converse of the Montgomery will direct them.

Sampson's warships sailed prepared for an unusually long cruise. Their magazines are overflowing with ammunition. They will be in fit condition to round up the Cape Verde fleet next week if it be that the Spanish warships are coming to Porto Rico at all. It is reported that on the way to Porto Rico Admiral Sampson will stop Matanzas and Santiago de Cuba. It is believed that any repairs to the fortifications at Matanzas which the Spaniards have made since the recent bombardment will be knocked to pieces. Then the fleet may go around to Santiago on the outskirts of which Garcia is pressing, and destroyed the fortifications there. After that the warships are expected to pick up the Oregon, the Marietta and the Nichtheroy (now named Buffalo), which are on their way from Rio Janeiro, and go back to Porto Rico, the taking of which is now considered a military necessity.

Miles Commands Insurgent Army.

It is asserted that Gen. Miles is now practically in command of the insurgent army in Cuba. The Washington government is now in close touch with and has established communication with three army corps commanders of the insurgent forces. Every move made by Gens. Gomez, Garcia and Rodriguez is on the advice of Gen. Miles. Through war maps of Cuba our own commanders know the whole of Cuba better than any officers in Blanco's army. There has been a concentration of troops in accordance with orders from Gen. Miles. The Cuban army is divided into three divisions—the army of the east, under Garcia; the army of the west, under Rodriguez, and the army of the center, under Gomez. Garcia and Rodriguez have the largest number of men. Gomez is near the coast, cutting off food supplies of the Spaniards and rousing up cattle for the U. S. He has named his landing on the land and the gunboats will attend to it on the sea. The men who know where that landing will be made are Gens. Miles, Shafter and Nunez, in addition to Gomez and the authorities at Washington. Two depots of supply will perhaps be established, one for the purpose of arming the Cubans, the other for a base of supplies for the United States troops. One landing may serve for both. Arms for the Cubans will also go to Garcia. He is in the far east, keeping Santiago de Cuba in terror.

NOTES ON THE WAR SITUATION

Wm. Astor Chanler, the well-known millionaire, has departed from New York with three companions with the avowed intention of joining the forces of Gen. Gomez and fighting Spaniards.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Porto Rico, and it is being enforced in a tyrannical manner. Crowds of people are leaving for the interior, and the capital is almost deserted by the civilian population. The military authorities are most actively engaged in preparing for the defense of the island. Americans are without protection and in danger. Food prices are rising fast.

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines" "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, firm, healthy flesh can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers" and "nerve tonic" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences pure pepsin, golden seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and these tablets taken after meals assist digestion wonderfully because they it digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and sour, and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon becomes strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50c. per package. Write A. F. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. for book on stomach diseases, mailed free.

JAMES BURNS. Ex-Collector of the Port of Kansas City.

Of the men who have occupied positions of public trust in Kansas City, either by gift of the people or by appointment; none had a more enviable reputation for ability, honesty and efficiency than James Burns, Collector of the Port of Kansas City under Grover Cleveland. He lived to the respect of everyone in the community—Democrats and Republicans alike.

James Burns has used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and he does not hesitate to say they have accomplished wonders.

"I suffered with dyspepsia for twenty years," said Mr. Burns yesterday. "Never knew what it was to enjoy life—in fact living seemed a burden, as it does to all who suffer severely with dyspepsia. A few months ago I began taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the first I felt relief, and now, although I am still taking them, I feel entirely cured. For the first time in twenty years I can eat anything I want and suffer no ill effects from it. You can't imagine the pleasure of this unless you have been a dyspepsia sufferer."

"I never gave a testimonial for any medicine before, but I feel as if every body of this remedy, and while it is personally distasteful to me to appear in print in this connection, I feel as if I had no right to shirk the opportunity to perhaps help some other sufferers from dyspepsia. I have been recommending the Tablets to all my friends. Only recently I took James H. Lillis, the father of Father Lillis, down to get some, and I understand he also is being wonderfully benefited. I can't recommend it too highly."

PIT AND PENDULUM.

A Prisoner Waiting to be Hacked by Time's Scythe.

Thousands Whose Situations Are Scarcely Less Terrible May Easily and Readily Find Help.

A man lies flat on his back, bound so that he cannot move an inch. He is in a dungeon, at first dark as a well, but in a few minutes a light in the ceiling, far up, shows a mechanical figure of Time with his scythe. The figure descends slowly, the scythe swings, and the prisoner realizes that unless some unexpected help should come, he will be slowly cut to pieces. What followed is told by Edgar Allen Poe in the fantastic story called "The Pit and the Pendulum."

The man awaiting the approach of a dreadful death is a type of a large class of unfortunate ones, entangled in the strangling coils of an octopus, have lost all hope of freedom. This monster is Morphine. Perhaps the victim is yet reveling in that glorious state of exhilaration which follows the first use of the drug. If so, like the man in Poe's story, he has not noticed the light in the ceiling and is unaware of his danger. Maybe the disease has progressed so far that the sufferer notices a weakness of the heart's action, that the general health is feeble, the body poorly nourished, the sight double. This is soon followed by a peculiar twitching of the muscles, a numbness of the hands and feet, and the utter collapse of the nervous system. The victim now becomes restless and uneasy. A feeling of despondency seizes him. This mental depression increases as one course of treatment after another fails utterly. The future is dark and filled with gloom. Days of wretchedness follow nights of horror in endless procession. His utter helplessness to rid himself of the incubus adds to his misery. The terrible effects of the deadly drug become more and more apparent. Deeper and deeper he sinks into the mire of despair, until all hope of ever being anything but a slave in bondage is abandoned. Remorse and apprehension take possession of his mind, and the temptation to end his miserable existence becomes almost overpowering. But there are few situations completely hopeless. Poe's prisoner was rescued when the swinging scythe was close to his breast, and the victims of the Morphine habit and their shattered nerves are restored to the enjoyment of life by a system of treatment which has been perfected by R. A. Gunn, M. D., 41 East 21st street, New York City, and which has yet to record its first failure. It is not a "tapering off" or substitution process. It is as harmless as it is painless. It does away with all desire for the drug, and quickly restores the shattered nervous system to its normal condition. It treats the condition as a disease and not as a habit. It is scientific and successful. For full particulars address as above.

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1898.

SENATOR Chandler has introduced a bill providing for a popular loan through postal savings banks, which offers a practical solution of providing any additional amount of revenue that may be needed for a successful prosecution of the war, which if a bond issue is to be resorted to, Congress should adopt.

The bill provides for the insurance of postal savings notes of $50 and $100, payable to bearer, bearing 3 percent interest.

THE REGISTER believes that the government is not pursuing the wisest policy by delaying the invasion of Cuba. With the help which the natives could afford it would require but a small army to capture and control every foot of the Spanish possessions in the West Indies. Every day's delay is costing the lives of large numbers of natives who are literally starving to death. It is very doubtful if Spain will be able to make more than a nominal resistance in Cuba. She seems to be having all she can attend to at home just now.

THE question of a successor to the late Justice Pond is agitating the minds of those interested in justice of the peace affairs. Some oppose the calling of a special election on account of the expense. A special election will cost the city not less than $350. The matter of justice should not be interfered with for so small an amount. Unless a special election is called we would be obliged to get along with one justice until next November. Whether it would be best to do this or call a special election is a matter for the council to decide.

THE way Commodore Dewey sailed into the harbor of Manila and threw shot into the Spanish fleet and batteries without being hit, leads one to believe Prof. Wenley is not joking when he said: "The Spaniards can't manage their ships and are more apt to let them founder than get any good out of them. They can't shoot either. They aim the guns as we do a rifle and shoot only on a perfectly flat trajectory, consequently they can't hit anything at any range above a mile or two." The professor saw their work in Scotland where most of the Spanish ships were built.

MAYOR HISCOCK WITH THE REGISTER that the article in our last week's issue reflecting upon the sheriff's and marshal's force was unjust. He states that he was responsible for the dismissal of the six young men arrested on the North Side a week ago last Saturday and that he believes it was, under the circumstances, the proper thing to do. Doubtless the Mayor is convinced that he did right. THE REGISTER believes that the Mayor did not at the time, and does not yet, understand all the facts in the case, or he would be very clear of so readily assuming responsibility for all that was done.

GOES TO DETROIT.

MR. L. HUBBARD, JR., who for the past year has been local editor of THE REGISTER, has accepted a call to a position on the staff of the Evening News. He leaves next Monday to begin his work in Detroit. Mr. Hubbard has, during his newspaper career in this city, proved himself a hustler. He is sure to make his mark in his chosen profession. THE REGISTER is sorry to lose him. At the same time it wishes him the great success he deserves in his new field of labor.

OUT IN THE COLD.

BEGINNING with next Monday a change will be effected in the personnel of THE REGISTER. Alvinck Pearson, who has charge of the local department, will take Geo. H. Pond's position on THE COURIER, while Seward Cramer, who has conducted THE Ypsilanti department of THE TIMES, will be transferred to Ann Arbor and assume charge of the local while Geo. H. Hal-trial is without a particle of foundation. We shall gladly prove every statement we have made, and more too, when the new suit for libel, which the boss has just started, comes up for hearing.

This latter suit, we should add, was begun last Saturday, the papers being served late at six o'clock last Saturday night when it was supposed it would be too late to secure bail, but in this the boss was mistaken, it taking but a very few minutes for the editor of THE REGISTER to secure a sufficient bond.

PRELIMINARY SKIRMISH.

Some weeks ago THE REGISTER gave account of a suit begun in the Circuit Court by Howard Stockwell, of Salem, against Wm. Judson, Lester Canfield and others for damages for false imprisonment and for the return of money claimed to have been extorted from Stockwell by Judson and the other defendants in the case. The case was placed upon the docket for the present term of court. On the day court opened a motion was made before Judge Kinne asking that a change of venue be had in the case. The attorneys for Stockwell set up the claim that inasmuch as the defendant in the case was the sheriff of the county, his relations with the jury would work to the injury of the plaintiff, Stockwell. Judge Kinne promptly denied the motion. Messrs. Sawyer and Crane, the latter an attorney from Saginaw, the two representing Mr. Stockwell, at once made application to the Supreme Court for a mandamus compelling Judge Kinne to grant the change of venue asked for. The main arguments set up in the application for a mandamus are, in brief, as follows:

First.—That the regular panel of jurors for this term of court consists of thirty men.

Second.—That already five of these have been excused for the term by Judge Kinne, thus leaving only twenty-five of the regular panel.

Third.—That twelve of these twenty-five remaining of the regular panel were practically certain to be preparing their decision upon the case which immediately precedes the calling of the Stockwell case, thus leaving only thirteen of the original panel when the Stockwell case is called.

Fourth.—That Judson's attorneys as well as the plaintiff's have, according to law, the right to four peremptory challenges. This, if Judson should exercise his right as he no doubt would, would reduce the list of the regular panel available to try the case, to nine, supposing that the plaintiff should make no challenges.

Fifth.—That according to law Judson would then have it entirely within his control to select talesmen to make up this deficiency and any others that might occur by the excusing of any jurors for cause by either one side or the other.

Sixth.—That the notoriety which has already been given the case would make it impossible that several of the regular panel should not have already formed definite opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants and that, therefore such person would necessarily have to be excused.

Seventh.—That as a result, Judson, as sheriff, would be able to so fix the jury if he so desired that it would be absolutely impossible to secure a verdict against himself as defendant in this case, no difference what the evidence might be.

The Supreme Court, upon hearing the arguments set up in the application for a mandamus, at once granted a stay in the proceedings and ordered Judge Kinne to show cause on or before May 17, why an order should not issue from the Supreme Court compelling him to grant the change of venue asked for. The plaintiff asked that the case be tried either in Jackson, Livingston, or Oakland counties.

ler, Jr. will take Cramer's position. It appears that the proprietor of THE TIMES, L. J. Lisemer, has an aversion for married men and women whom he does not employ on his paper, as the whole Times force are individuals who believe that single blessedness is the ideal state. THE TIMES ought to move to the Klondike.

HISTORY HAS NO PARALLEL.

It is perhaps not strange, but it is nevertheless startling to think that the young giant of the west has shaken off the shackles of provincialism and signalized its entry into the family of great nations by performing the greatest naval feat in history. One may look through the records from Marathon to Trafalgar and never find anything like it.—Washington Times.

News from the Philippines has come at last. And such news. It ranks with Caesar's dispatch from Pontus and Perry's from Lake Erie. In some respects as we shall see, it surpasses even them and sets a record for which we shall have to scan the world's history more carefully to find a parallel. The message has the simplicity and directness of a classic.—New York Press.

There is no exact parallel of the Manila fight in naval warfare. No other naval commander ever fought under exactly the same conditions, wherein the enemy's fleet had the protection of both submarine and land fortifications.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Never before was there a fight, on land or sea, like the fight of Dewey at Manila. It was the Balaklava of the ocean, and it was successful.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

SAYS THEY CAN'T FIGHT.

THAT'S WHAT PROF. WENLEY THINKS OF THE SPANISH NAVIES.

He Has Seen Their Work in British Waters and Says They Can't Handle Ships Nor Use Guns.

Prof. Wenley has some very interesting knowledge of Spain's War ships. "Most of them were built in Scotland, on the Clyde," said he, "and I have seen them and know how they are operated. The Spaniards are no good at all as sailors or fighters. Their engineers can't get speed out of a vessel and can't manage one with skill enough to make it safe.

Their marksmanship is worse still. They have to shoot on a flat trajectory and can't hit anything at any range. That is shown when they let Commodore Dewey, with a few old unarmored tubs, enter Manila Harbor and take the city. I have no doubt that if the Oregon is attacked by the Spanish fleet she will come out victorious and the Spaniards would have to have five times as much force in the Atlantic to be nearly equal to our Atlantic fleets."

Prof. Wenley thinks an Anglo-American alliance would be a good thing and says there is no danger of European intervention between us and Spain as England will not consent to it.

ATTACKED BY AN ELEPHANT

Explorer Cavendish's Thrilling Escape From Death in Africa.

From the London News: H. S. H. Cavendish gave an interesting account of his recent trip to Africa before the Royal Geographical society. Among the incidents he related was the following account of a fight with a wounded elephant, in which he narrowly escaped death: "I tried to dodge him, but he was too quick for me, and as I neared the thin mimosa bush I saw him just over me with his trunk in the air, so I threw myself to the left on my face and kept still, thinking that the elephant might go on. He however stopped immediately, and spinning around, knelt down behind me, with his head right over me, and took a drive at me with his tusks, which I luckily avoided by rolling in closer under his chest. He then pushed me under him with his trunk and tried to pound me with his knees, but, as luck would have it, I was just out of his reach. I kept dodging his legs as they came down. This continued, my boys said, for half an hour, but he was very much occupied watching my gun-bearers, who were shooting and shouting from some distance off. At one moment he lay on me and I expected every moment to hear the bones crack, but suddenly his weight was shifted, off me and I pretended I was dead, and not wishing to see the coup de grace coming, closed my eyes and remained quite still. The boys told me that he got up and backed off a log and knocked his leg against a body of wood lying close behind. Mistaking the log for me, he vented his rage upon it. He must have been badly wounded. After a time I heard the boys coming closer, and, waiting until they were fairly near, in case the elephant might not have gone far, I looked carefully round and saw him standing some 170 yards off. I got on my legs as fast as my bruises would let me and staggered toward my pony. The boys, on seeing me get up, were dumbfounded, and my groom, who was a great, hulking fellow, wanted to carry me, thinking I must have some bones broken; but, although my leg was seriously bruised, and my scalp damaged, I was in other respects unhurt."

CROPS NOT INJURED.

And Wheat and Fruit Promise to Yield Well.

The first week in April was exceedingly cold, the average temperature ranging from 1 to 14 degrees below the normal, while in the second week directly opposite temperature conditions prevailed, the mean being about 8 degrees above the normal. There was practically no rainfall either week and consequently crops made little growth. Weather conditions the latter half of the month were more favorable but not warm enough to insure best results. Temperature was nearly normal and rain fell in amount and very well distributed.

The average condition of wheat is as follows: Southern counties, 92; central, 96; northern, 98, and state, 94 per cent, comparison being with yield and growth of average years. The average for the state is 12 per cent higher than in 1897, 2 higher than in 1896, and 14 higher than in 1895. Less than 1 per cent of the area seeded will be plowed up because winter-killed or otherwise destroyed.

The amount of wheat reported marketed by farmers in April is 1,088,514 bushels, and in the nine months, August-April, 14,015,846 bushels, which is 5,651,517 bushels more than reported marketed in the same months last year. A report of the average amount of wheat usually sowed per acre was requested of correspondents this month. The returns indicate that the average in the state and northern counties is 1.66 bushels. It is 1.64 in the southern section and 1.70 in the central.

The winter and spring have been favorable for meadows and pastures. Estimates indicate that only 6 per cent of the area in the southern counties and 4 per cent in the state will be plowed up because winter-killed or otherwise destroyed. The average condition in the state is 92; southern counties, 91; central, 93, and northern, 96.

The outlook for fruit of all kinds is generally promising throughout the state. The average percentage for apples is, for the State, 91, and for peaches 94. The sectional averages range from 90 upward. The letters from fruit specialists confirm the high averages here given.

BOSS JUDSON'S RECORD.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF REGISTER CHARGES.

What Will Governor Pingree Say To It—If He Will Look Into the Matter He Will Pitch Such an Unscrupulous Boss Overboard—Here is What The Register Shows.

1st. It shows how he plotted to overthrow one of the strongest Republican organizations in the state of Michigan and succeeded by the aid of base treachery on the part of his henchmen.

2nd. It shows how he owned the City Marshal and used said officer to regularly rob the city of fees which belong to it as appeared in our report of arrests last December.

3rd. It shows that in the Stockwell case he practically "held up" a farmer boy and help to bleed him to the extent of hundreds of dollars.

4th. It shows how through his attorney he worked enough members of former council to prevent an investigation of the marshal's conduct and thus shield himself.

5th. It shows how he ignored justice court and circuit court decisions by allowing men sentenced by both courts to confinement in jail for crimes to go and come as they please.

6th. It shows how he allowed convicts to go free and then he sentenced again to serve time in jail for other crimes before time of first sentence expired, thus drawing double pay from county for board of prisoners.

7th. It shows how Judson boasted that he manipulated ballots and thus could control elections.

8th. It shows that the pretended offer of $1,000 by the Boss as an evidence of his honesty was a ridiculous bluff.

9th. It shows how Judson controlled Marshal Sweet in the matter of fees for taking prisoners to the Detroit House of Correction.

10th. It shows that the Sheriff intentionally violated the law in the course he took in his suit for libel against the editor of THE REGISTER.

11th. It shows how he worked the county in the matter of fees for taking people to asylum at Pontiac.

12th. It shows how he managed to have the county help pay his campaign expenses in the fall of 1896.

13th. It shows how for several days, the Sheriff drew pay for attending court in Washtenaw county while doing political work in Lansing.

14th. It shows how in the month of January the Marshal was his tool in the matter of fees, the same as in the month of December, as shown in the case cited above.

15th. It shows how, by his overthrow of a Republican organization the Republicans failed to secure a majority of the board of supervisors, which otherwise they would certainly have done.

GIRLS IN STORES.

When the first symptoms present themselves, such as backache, pains in groins, headache, dizziness, faintness, swelled feet, blues, etc., they should at once write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., stating symptoms. She will tell them exactly what to do.

GRACE B. STANBURY, Pratt, Kansas, says:—"I suffered from intense pains in the womb and ovaries, and the backache was dreadful. I had leucorrhoea in its worst form. Thus I dragged along. At last I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her answer came promptly. I read carefully her letter, and concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I felt much better; but after using six bottles I was cured."

There is a popular misconception to the effect that corpulent people are healthy people. In a large percentage of cases this is a mistake. Corpulent people suffer from ill-health just as much, and sometimes more than thin people. Like thin people they suffer from illnesses and disorders that are caused by indigestion and torpidity of the liver. There is a sure and speedy remedy for all of this description. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands of corpulent people who need this medicine have failed to take it because of its world-wide reputation as a blood-maker and flesh-builder. They imagine because it has an established reputation for building up the flesh and strengthening emaciated people, that it will make corpulent people more corpulent. This is a misconception. The "Golden Medical Discovery" builds firm, healthy flesh but does not raise the weight above a natural normal figure. Unlike cod liver oil, it does not make soft, flabby flesh. It builds solid, healthy flesh but tears down and excretes the weak, half-dead tissues that constitute corpulency. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and the nerves steady. It cures all blood and skin diseases. An honest dealer will not offer a worthless substitute for the sake of extra profit.

"I got a cancer on my tongue and had it cut out," writes Peter J. Kroecker, of Manchester, N. H., "I consulted fifteen different physicians without deriving any benefit. At last I turned to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I persisted in its use and my health is better than ever before. Formerly every accidental wound I received would fester and would not heal. Now, such lacerations heal themselves." Cure—always. Grippe—never. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for constipation and biliousness. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. In obstinate cases use the "Discovery" in connection with the "Pellets." Druggists sell them.

Oh, My! What an awful RACKET 202 E. Washington St.

We have been on a buying trip. Too many people were asking for something we did not have. So we went to the city, and the head of the big wholesale house told us how, thirty years ago, he had sold our father a bill of Goods which were loaded on nine teams and hauled sixty miles north to the old store. And then the buyer for one of the big departments came in and related how he and I used to drink sap out of the old troughs when we were eight years old.

Maybe we didn't get the best trade flyers there were in the house, but we think we think we did. We propose to emphasize the fact that

RACKET PRICES

REINIKABOO, THE NEW WORD.

Washington is its Birthplace; Newspaperdom its Stronghold.

"Reinikaboo" is entitled to a place in the next revision of the dictionary. It has grown into the degree of usage which warrants formal recognition in the language. Reinikaboo is a noun, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The derivation may be a matter of some doubt. The definition is clear. A reinikaboo is a newspaper publication of a certain character that can be best illustrated by something that gained currency recently. The statement was sent out that Secretary Gage had tendered his resignation. It was not true, and yet it could not be classed as a fake pure and simple. The fake is a publication of what purports to be news, but which is wholly fiction. The reinikaboo is not a fake. The secretary of the treasury, when some of the pronounced bimetalists of the Republican party were criticizing his financial views as not being in accord with the administration, said to the president he hoped he would not let his position embarrass him. If the president had been offended with the secretary's course and had been looking for an opportunity to tell him that his resignation was desired, the secretary's remark would have opened the way. But he wasn't, and he promptly told the secretary that he was not embarrassed in the slightest degree.

On this trifling incident was built the dispatch that the secretary had tendered his resignation. It was a reinikaboo—a statement of news out of all proportion and almost out of relation to the facts, and yet having a certain origin and shadowy foundation. No other word than reinikaboo quite describes the publication. Just why reinikaboo does so would be difficult to tell. As a word reinikaboo exists, and applies by common usage. In the classification of the Washington newspaper man there are fakes, reinikabos and real news. The paper which indulges too often becomes a reinikaboo newspaper.

Judgment Rendered

Ex-Judge Comstock of Detroit Gives to the People His Opinion—Satisfied Only with Hood's.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla come from people in all ranks of life. Its great power to enrich and purify the blood is recognized by physicians, clergymen, teachers, lawyers and judges, who, owing to sedentary habits and severe nervous strain, often need its vitalizing and nerve-strengthening influence. Ex-Judge Comstock of Detroit says:

"I am a busy man and have little time for recreation, and I find my system sometimes needs toning up. At such times I take two or three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and then I feel all right. I have sometimes been persuaded to try other and cheaper kinds, but I have never been satisfied with anything but Hood's Sarsaparilla." Ex-JUDGE A. G. COMSTOCK, 573 Cass Ave., Detroit, Michigan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. It is prompt, efficient and easy in effect. 25 cents.

LAKE SUPERIOR.

Interesting Facts About the Largest Body of Fresh Water in the World.

"The Great Lakes" is the title of an article in St. Nicholas, written by W. S. Harwood. Concerning Lake Superior, Mr. Harwood says: It is, to begin with, the largest body of fresh water in the world. It is water of wonderful purity which it holds, too; and some time—and in the not very distant future, either—the people who live in the large cities to the west and south will come to this lake to get the water for their homes. It will not be so remarkable an engineering feat to pipe the water of this lake, pure and sparkling and fresh from its cold depths, to these cities which are now struggling with the question of their water-supply, and meeting all sorts of difficulties in their efforts to get water fit to drink. All down through this thousand feet of blue there is a peculiar coldness. At the very most, the temperature varies through winter and summer not more than six degrees. Winter and summer this great lake never changes to any appreciable extent, so that if you dip your finger-tips in the blue surface on a day in July, or if you test it some day in early winter when you have been out on some belated, ice-mailed fishing-smack, or when you have gone out to watch the fishermen spearing their supplies through the thick ice in mid-January, you will find but a trifling difference in the temperature. Away down at the bottom, too, there is but little variation in the temperature, for it stands at nearly forty degrees Fahrenheit at the bottom, and varies from forty to forty-six degrees, winter and summer, at the surface. The other lakes, though cold, are not in this respect like Superior.

The whole bottom of the lake is believed to be a strong rock basin, though it would seem that there must be great springs at the bottom to help keep up the enormous volume of water. From the north there is a large amount of water pouring into the lake year in and year out; the swift-rushing, narrow-banked Nipigon and other streams furnishing no small part of the supply. These streams in a large measure make up the loss from the surface. One of the old lake captains, a bronzed, kindly-faced man who had been for thirty-five years on the lakes, and had faced death many a time in the frightful storms which sometimes sweep across these beautiful bodies of water, told me, as we were passing along one day near the north coast of Superior, with the headlands and inlets and glossy green bluffs of that most picturesque shore in full view, that the theory that the lake was slowly going down in size was true. He maintained that he could tell from certain landmarks along the shores, with which he is as familiar as he would be with the streets of his old Scottish birthplace, that the lake was slowly—very slowly—but surely receding. However, it will be some centuries yet before there will be any appreciable lessening of the Great Lakes, so that we need not be concerned. Strange as it may seem, the lake has tides, too, well-defined tides, discovered in 1860. It is what is called a self-registering tide, with a regular flux and reflux wave, caused, so the scientific men say, by the sun and moon. The average rise and fall every twenty-four hours is one fourteenth-hundredth of a foot; the maximum tide at new and full moon is one twenty-eight-hundredth of a foot.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

NORSE INVASION AGAIN. British Mercant Marine Slowly Being Possessed by the Scandinavians. From the New York Sun: England is trembling before a second invasion of the Norsemen. The bold sea rovers of the Scandinavian peninsula are not coming down this time with battle axes. They are going in to knock out the modern Briton in a peaceful, commercial way. They are taking possession of his merchant marine, insidiously and slowly, but, as some of the British marine papers declare, surely. The Germans are next in numbers to the Scandinavians among the invaders. According to recent statistics more than 9,000 Norwegians and Swedes are on the sea-going vessels of Commodore John Bull. Many of these are petty officers, and some are commanders. What the British marine papers do not like about the matter is that the proportion of boys and young sailors recruited among the natives is decreasing. In 1891 there were 6,688 British boys and 10,949 British young sailors in the merchant marine; in 1896 there were 4,616 boys and 9,242 young sailors. The number of boys of foreign birth, mostly Scandinavian, increased from 3,807 in 1891 to 4,214 in 1896. After lamenting the situation the London Shipping World suggests a remedy to make the merchant marine more attractive to boys. It says: "We must make it easy for decent lads to become, and worth their while to remain, seafarers. Some inducement must be offered to owners and managers to cumber their ships with them and some inducement must be offered to the lads to brave the disagreeableness of life on a 'tramp.' It must be seriously faced, and without delay, whether the state will not pay their apprenticeship premiums and give them some preliminary training, so that they may not really be incumbances; and, if so, the state will have the right to see that they are properly fed, clad and treated and that their life is not one dreary round of deck-scrubbing." It seems unlikely that any remedy can be devised which will prevent the British ship-owner and the shipping master representing him from getting the best sailors, young and old, for the least money. The Scandinavian is a cheap, obedient and clever seaman, and he will continue to help man the ships of Great Britain as long as her shipowners want good profits and are forced to compete with ships of other nationalities that have cheap crews. The Wily Chinese. A very curious kind of money is largely manufactured and sold in China. This is prepared for the special purpose of burning at the graves of deceased relatives, as an offering to the dead. The denizens of the other world are supposed to require, and to be capable of receiving money in this way; but the Chinaman is far too practical a person to part in such a fashion with the currency of the empire. Instead he buys for a few "cash" a large supply of silvered and gilded pieces of paper, or of imitation coins bloeked out of cardboard. Although these have no purchasing power on earth, they are supposed to count for much in the transactions of the spirit world. Do you want to buy a home that will give you a good income? If so, enquire of A. M. Clark, 439 S. Division-st. 22

"It takes money to win battles these days." "Yes, I understand that even the enemy can no longer be charged." —Indianapolis Journal.

Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. is the name to remember when buying Sarsaparilla. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been curing people right along for nearly 50 years. That is why it is acknowledged to be the sovereign Sarsaparilla. It is the original and the standard. The record of the remedy is without a rival,—a record that is written in the blood of thousands, purified by its power. "I nursed a lady who was suffering from blood poisoning and must have contracted the disease from her; for I had four large sores, or ulcers, break out on my person. I doctored for a long time, both by external application and with various blood medicines; but in spite of all that I could do, the sores would not heal. At last I purchased six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, thinking I would give it a thorough trial. Before the six bottles had been taken, the ulcers were healed, the skin sound and natural, and my health better than it had been for years. I have been well ever since. I had rather have one bottle of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind."—Mrs. A. F. TAYLOR, Englevalle, N. Dak. Get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

DEWEY'S GLORIOUS VICTORY

Reports that He Utterly Destroyed Spain's Philippine Fleet.

HAS MANILA IN HIS POWER.

None of the U. S. Warships Badly Damaged not an American Sailor Killed and Only Eight Slightly Wounded—Manila is at His Mercy.

Just one week from the day the great battle at Manila bay was fought the first official report of the glorious American victory was received from the Commodore Dewey, the latest naval hero.

Manila: Squadron arrived at Manila at daybreak. Immediately engaged the enemy and destroyed the following Spanish vessels: Reina Christina, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Luzon, Isla de Cuba, General Lezo, Marquis de Duero, Correo, Velasco, Isla de Mindano, a transport, and a water battery at Cavite.

A second report given is out is as follows: Cavite: I have taken possession of the naval station at Cavite, Philippine Islands, and destroyed its fortifications. Have destroyed fortifications at the bay entrance (Corregidore islands), paroling the garrison. I control the bay completely and can take the city at any time.

These reports, although brief and lacking in details, caused the most intense enthusiasm in government circles at Washington. The destruction of ten warships, and the silencing of a score of shore batteries without the loss of a ship or a man, is a feat so stupendous that the most experienced naval officers could hardly believe their eyes when they read Dewey's terse and graphic message.

The Spanish surrendered everything they had left to surrender outside of Manila. Admiral Montefio fled to Manila with all of his staff and such officers as had not been killed.

Commodore Dewey's orders were to capture or destroy the Spanish fleet and never were instructions executed in so complete a fashion. At the end of seven hours there was absolutely nothing left of the Spanish fleet but a few relics.

The terms of capitulation were still unsettled when the McCulloch left Manila, and it was said that Commodore Dewey feared rioting upon the part of the insurgents if he attempted a bombardment of the remaining fortifications at Manila.

The entrance of the bay were dismantled after they had surrendered. It is said the American commodore ordered the cable to be cut because the Spaniards refused to permit him to use it pending the complete surrender of the city.

The National's Gratitude to Dewey. The reply sent by Secretary of the Navy Long to Commodore Dewey was as follows:

Dewey, Manila.—The President, in the name of the American people, thanks you and your officers and men for your splendid achievement and overwhelming victory. In recognition he has appointed you acting admiral, and will recommend a vote of thanks to you by congress.

Upon hearing of the Spanish loss at Manila the pope was almost overcome and said he wished he could have died before this war began.

Secretary Long says that Dewey will be made an acting admiral at once and later his nomination to be rear admiral will be sent to the Senate.

63,000 TROOPS FOR CUBA.

Washington: Gen. Miles says positively that he will have 66,000 troops in Cuba within 10 days. This army of invasion will consist of 16,000 soldiers of the regular U. S. army and 50,000 of the volunteers being mustered in from the several states.

President McKinley, Secretaries Alger and Long and their advisers have become convinced that this nation must now take aggressive action all along the line. The big bear of the yellow fever scourge is to be ignored and the Spaniards are to be ejected from Cuba before midsummer, if American soldiers can drive them out.

The first division of regulars, agree 15,000 men, and a regiment of Cuban which has been organized, armed and drilled at Key West, will be landed in Cuba as speedily as they can be transported to a point within 300 miles of the gulf coast cities.

Within 10 days after the first landing it is expected that the transports will complete a third round trip, and the volunteer division, which has in the meantime held the base, will evacuate it on the arrival of the relief, and advance in support of the first regular division.

The volunteer regiments to compose the force will be selected from among those most prompt to muster. State organizations which are earliest accepted by the United States will be rewarded with the most active duty, except in a few instances.

Major-Gen. Shafter will command the regulars and Major-Gen. Lee and Wade will lead the two divisions of volunteers. It is believed this force will insure the speedy downfall of Havana and assure the complete surrender of Spanish rule in the island before the rainy season fully sets in.

TO HOLD THE PHILIPPINES. Uncle Sam Will Send 5,000 Troops and Plenty of Supplies at Once.

Washington: The cabinet has decided to send to Commodore Dewey the number of troops he deems necessary to enforce our control of the Philippines. The administration has practically decided to occupy the Philippines with a strong military force as soon as possible.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles telegraphed orders to Brig-Gen. Merriam to at once get the troops in his command ready for transportation to the Philippines, it having been decided that the Fifth and Seventh cavalry and Fourteenth and Fifteenth infantry shall be drawn upon to form a nucleus of the invading force.

There does not seem to be any doubt as to government's purpose to hold these islands pending a final settlement with Spain, when they will be used as a collateral to secure the payment to the United States of a war indemnity.

Chickamauga and Washington have been decided on as volunteer army concentration points. At least one other point will be chosen, probably either in New York or Pennsylvania.

Santiago de Cuba is in a terrible state of panic and riot. Over 5,000 citizens fled to the country within a week. The Spanish troops are committing all kinds of excesses and threaten to kill every Cuban man and outrage every Cuban woman and girl if the American fleet attempts to take the city.

IT IS A TOTTERING THRONE.

The Reigning Spanish Dynasty Apparently Doomed.

REVOLUTION IS THREATENED.

Martial Law Proclaimed in Madrid—Sensational Utterances in the Cortes—Riots in the Provinces—Queen Regent May Abdicate to Save the Throne.

All Spain is in an uproar and revolution is in the air. The people are defying the troops and the royal family is on the point of flight. The mobs cry "Down with Moret and Bermejo." The Weylerite leaders are discussing ways and means for bringing the Cuban butcher into power.

In the Spanish parliament the wildest excitement of 20 years reigned. There were scandalous scenes while Premier Sagasta was speaking, the Republicans and Carlists hurling insulting and abominable epithets at him.

Rioting and bloodshed are reported at Seville, Barcelona and Valencia. There is the most intense excitement throughout the kingdom and a revolution is imminent. Madrid is an armed camp and the queen regent and the boy king have completed all preparations for flight.

The outbreaks in the provinces are assuming alarming proportions. Especially in the province of Gijon, on the Bay of Biscay, where troops have been compelled to fire on the rioters "in self-defense," the artillery has been ordered out and a state of siege declared.

The government is aware that it cannot rely upon the army. It is known that a secret society has been formed within its ranks to put an end to the humiliations Spain has suffered at the hands of her incompetent ministers.

A special dispatch from Brussels says a high Spanish diplomat there declares that Spain is practically in a state of revolution. The end of the regency has begun.

THE NEWS CONDENSED. Buffalo Bill (Wm. F. Cody) is organizing a regiment of rough riders from the western plains to go to Cuba.

Later, but unconfirmed, reports state that the Spanish have evacuated Manila and that Dewey has taken possession. The Spanish troops carried away all their arms, ammunition and stores.

The gunboat Wilmington and the torpedo boat Ericsson were cruising near the shore a few miles west of Havana to take a look at the Cojima battery when a force of cavalry galloped down to the beach and fired their rifles at the Ericsson which was very near the shore.

The monitor Puritan had a narrow escape from being sent to the bottom by treacherous off Matanzas. A warring turret boy discovered a man boring a hole in the bulkhead of the magazine.

He had a bundle of waste saturated with turpentine which he intended to ignite and throw into the magazine. The boy gave the alarm and the villain was captured red-handed and was hurriedly placed in double irons and locked up, before the rest of the crew learned of the attempt to blow them up.

DEGENERATION OF NEGROES. Medical Opinion as to the Falling Off of the Black Race.

From the Medical Record: The race problem in the south seems destined to be settled according to natural laws, unless something is done, and done soon, to save the negro from the results of his own vices and neglect of elementary hygienic laws.

The testimony of those who have studied this subject is all but unanimous and it has received additional confirmation through the investigation of Dr. R. H. Johnson, of Brunswick, Ga., himself a colored physician. The figures he has gathered from a study of the vital statistics of nearly 300 towns in the southern states show that the death rate of negroes is double that of whites in the same communities, and not only this, but the birth rate is also smaller among the colored than among the white population.

Furthermore, the day of the stalwart negro is passing, is not already gone, and the members of the younger generation of the race make a good showing as regards their size and physical constitution when compared with their grandfathers and grandmothers.

Dr. Johnson attributes this degeneracy of his race—rightly, we believe, to the carelessness, want of forethought and dissipation so unfortunately characteristic of a large portion of the colored population in the south since the civil war. "In antebellum days," says Dr. Johnson, "the negro seemed to be an immune to consumption, and many great medical writers and teachers boast of never having seen such among the negroes. Enforced temperate living and sanitary precautions made the black man a physical giant, but the giants are disappearing and in their places is coming a race of smaller stature and decreased vitality."

Mortgage Sale. Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage upon the premises hereinafter described, executed by Joseph Baumgartner and Mary Baumgartner, his wife, and Solomon Baumgartner to Edward Trendwell, now deceased, and Noah W. Cheever, executor of the will of Hiram Arnold, deceased, bearing date November 1st, A. D. 1887, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, November 1st, A. D. 1887 in Liber 9 of Mortgages on page 122, by which default the power of sale contained in said mortgage became operative and in full force and effect in law and equity, and the undersigned is authorized to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, and the sum of one thousand five hundred and twenty-six dollars and eighty-seven cents ($1,526.87) being now claimed to be due upon said mortgage. And, whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain other mortgage upon the premises hereinafter described, executed by Mary A. Baumgartner to Edward Trendwell, now deceased, and Noah W. Cheever, executor of the will of Hiram Arnold, deceased, bearing date August 16th, A. D. 1884, and recorded in said Register's office August 20th, A. D. 1884, in Liber 82 of Mortgages on page 114, by which default the power of sale contained in said mortgage became operative and in full force and effect in law and equity, and the undersigned is authorized to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, and the sum of five hundred and thirty-five dollars and thirty-two cents ($535.32) being now claimed to be due upon said mortgage, and therefore upon both of said mortgages there is now claimed to be due the sum of two thousand and sixty-two dollars and nineteen cents ($2,067.19). Notice is therefore hereby given that the aforesaid two mortgages will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises therein described or some part thereof, to-wit: All of the following described land situated in the city of Ann Arbor in the county of Washtenaw, to-wit: A certain lot of land beginning at the south-west corner of block No. three (3) south of Huron street in range No. three (3) east; thence east on the south line of said block three (3) rods; thence north on said block three (3) rods to the west line of said block three (3) rods; thence south on the west line of said block three (3) rods to the place of beginning, at public vendue, on Friday, the 15th day of June, A. D. 1898, ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, in said county, that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county. Dated, March 15, A. D. 1898. NOAH W. CHEEVER, Surviving executor of the will of Hiram Arnold, deceased.

WHAT A MOTHER SAYS. Of Dr. Hartman's Famous Family Remedy and Sprig Tonic. Mrs. Hannah Lind, 1132 East Long street, Columbus, Ohio, is one of the many enthusiastic advocates of Pe-ru-na. She says: "For many years I was subject to nervousness, despondency and neuralgia, for which doctors and remedies seemed of no use. At last I was persuaded to try Pe-ru-na. I found it to be exactly the remedy I had been so long in search of. It relieves the tired, depressed feeling felt in spring-time at once. It never fails to restore to me natural appetite and the best of sleep. It has cured permanently my old despondency and neuralgia, and I wonder why so many people continue to suffer through spring and early summer when Pe-ru-na is such a prompt and perfect relief. As a family medicine I believe Pe-ru-na to have no equal." It relieves at once cramps, colic, prostration from heat, the ill effects of sudden checking of the perspiration, and all other bad effects of hot weather. As a remedy for nervous prostration it has no equal, and the thousands of men and women of this generation who "have nerves" find it a priceless remedy. Every family should have a copy of "Facts and Faces." Finely illustrated. One of the best books of testimonials ever published. Sent free. MATCH BOX INGENUITY. Thirty-Two Hundred of Them Used to Make a Piano. Some time ago a Birmingham firm of matchmakers offered prizes for the most striking novelties made out of not less than 1,000 of "our match boxes." Competent judges—architects chiefly—were appointed. The instrument awarded first prize was a wonderful piano, made by G. W. Roberts. He used upward of 3,200 ordinary match boxes and 576 boxes that contained small wax vestas. The only other thing he used was five pounds of glue. Originality seems to run in the Roberts family, for a marvelous model of the great Laxey wheel, in the Isle of Man, was made by Miss L. W. Roberts, sister to the designer of the piano. "The Laxey wheel," writes Mr. Roberts, "was six feet in length and four feet high. It took a little less than six months to make it, and used up about 3,000 match boxes." In some cases more than one competitor took the same original for his model. For instance, the Laxey wheel was also adopted by Mr. James Shaw, of No. 56 Dickinson street, Nottingham. Mr. Shaw's model, which won the second prize, was no less than six feet seven and one-quarter inches in height, two feet in depth and eight feet in length. It contained 45,000 boxes and took five months to complete. The wheel itself was five feet six inches in diameter and went by clockwork. Mr. F. Marshall, of Nottingham, gained a prize in the second competition with a faithful reproduction of the Forth bridge. He also constructed an Eiffel bicycle. When complete this model was in full working order. It contains 1,100 match boxes and stands a little more than six feet in height. The diamond stays are two boxes thick. The driving chain is nine feet long, and was made from the sides of the match-box drawers, glued on to tape. The wheels are twenty-four inches in diameter. Another model of Mr. Marshall's was a reproduction of the lighthouse near New Brighton. This model was fitted with a revolving lantern, and the whole contained 2,900 match boxes.—London Strand.

The Ruined Neck. Woman's neck is almost ruined. The high, stiff linen collar has done it. Surely these observers who discovered that everything good has its evil must be fashion writers in their day. The high collar is extremely stylish, is comfortable, notwithstanding contrary appearances, and it affords an easy, neat way of dressing the neck; but at the same time it plays havoc with what the poets call the slender, marble column of milky whiteness, and so on. One has only to look carefully at the necks of the women at the opera, at a ball, at a reception, to see that they aren't what they used to be. The high collar has left its mark. To look well it has to be worn tight enough to hinder perfect circulation, and that causes the neck to lose its plumpness, the skin to lose its fine, soft texture and purity of color. The neck of the average woman when bared nowadays instinctively makes the average man think of the acre and yellow leaf. He has no idea what has done it, but he knows that the women's necks and shoulders aren't so pretty as they used to be.—New York Sun.

Mortgage Sale. Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made in interest, due on a certain mortgage, made on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1886, by G. Lincoln McGuire, of the City of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, mortgagee, to Mary Furnum, of the same place, mortgagee, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1886, in Liber 79 of Mortgages, on page 230; and whereas, such default has continued for more than thirty days, and the mortgagee has power and authority to elect and declare, and hath elected and declared, to have the whole of the principal sum of money, and interest thereon, secured by said mortgage to be now due and payable, which said default has continued after such election, and due notice thereof, whereby the power of sale in said mortgage contained has become operative; and whereas, by reason of said default, and the continuance thereof for more than thirty days, and such election by said mortgagee, and due notice thereof to said mortgagee, there is now claimed to be due and payable, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest the sum of eight hundred and eighty-seven dollars and fifty-six cents, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to collect the said sum of money, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale in said mortgage contained, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, on the 25th day of May, A. D. 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the south front door of the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, that being the building where in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held, the undersigned will sell public auction to the highest bidder, the lands, tenements and premises, described in and conveyed by said mortgage, to satisfy the claim for the sum of money secured by said mortgage, and so elected and declared to be due and payable as aforesaid, and the costs and expenses of these proceedings, including an attorney's fee of fifty-five dollars, as provided in said mortgage. The lands and tenements in said mortgage mentioned, and then and there to be sold, are described as follows, to-wit: The following described lands and premises, situate in the City of Ann Arbor, County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, viz: Commencing at the north-east corner of Block number three north of Huron street, range thirteen east, thence west parallel with Catherine street two hundred and seventy-five feet, thence south parallel with Thirteenth street ninety-nine feet, thence east parallel with Catherine street one hundred and forty-three feet, thence north parallel with Thirteenth street sixty-nine feet, thence east parallel with Catherine street one hundred and thirty-two feet, thence north parallel with Thirteenth street, thirty feet to the place of beginning; Subject to a right of way, twelve feet wide, running north and south across said land, one hundred and thirty-two feet west from Thirteenth street. Dated Ann Arbor, Michigan, February 28th A. D. 1898. MARY FURNUM, Mortgagee. ANDREW E. GIBSON, Atty. for Mortgagee.

SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. The statement that there is a cure for Rheumatism will be read with incredulity by the majority of people. However, it is a fact which we can prove. Rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and until that is thoroughly cleansed no one can be cured. The remedy we offer is not a new discovery, but it has never been placed on the market in medicinal form. We know from personal observation that it has effected a permanent cure whenever tried and this is what suggested the idea of offering it to sufferers from rheumatism. The Sure Cure Rheumatic Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. They are warranted to cure the worst cases of rheumatism. Price, 50 cents a box. "A HORRIBLE LEGACY. To be left without money is a hard piece of fortune. To be bereft of friends is not a pleasant anticipation; but fancy the misfortune of being left a legacy of disease, and yet we are luring disease and decay as our forefathers did before us, unmindful of the awful consequences to ourselves and to posterity. Coffee is responsible for a goodly share of this trouble. Coffee undermines the system. Coffee shatters the nerves, dries up the blood and stunts the growth. Coffee causes the heart to imperfectly perform its functions. Look about you for results of coffee drinking. You, who are slaves to coffee, can still drink coffee, but it must be coffee made from the healthful grains of the fields. Such a coffee is "Golden Nectar," a beverage which delights the taste, as does coffee. A beverage which looks like coffee, and has the odor of coffee; but what a difference in its action upon the system. GOLDEN NECTAR makes, bone and sinew, assists drooping nature to cast off disease, enriches the blood, puts fire in the eye and gives the heart a strong, healthy action. "He's a cool 'un." is the way the soldiers in a certain English regiment describe one of their officers, a young man whose self-possession in a time of danger saved his men from defeat, and probably from death. The circumstance which gave this officer his reputation is related by Rudyard Kipling in the Westminster Magazine. He writes: A very young officer, who had gone almost straight from school to the army and thence to India, was leading his company through a rocky pass, on returning from a scouting expedition. They were beset by the enemy, who fired at them from behind the rocks, and the men were growing very unsteady. Those in the rear began to be impatient, and shouted to the men in front, "Hurry up! What are you waiting for there?" The young officer answered quite coolly: "Hold on a minute! I'm lighting my pipe!" And he struck a match and lit it. There was a roar of laughter, and a soldier called out, "Well, since you're so pressin', I think I'll have a pipe myself." And he, too, struck a match and began to smoke. This bit of fun steadied the men, and they came through in good order.

Character in Footgear. "Shoes," said the aggressive philosopher to the meek-looking woman, "always acquire the traits of their wearer. The old proverb about 'wear at the toe, spend as you go,' etc., is only a tenth part of what a worn shoe can tell of its owner's disposition. Now, look at mine! Like me, ain't they?" They were. Stubby, square, thick, self-opinionated-looking boots, they seemed to breathe aggressiveness from every seam. "Now, let's see yours!" The demure-looking woman poked out one shoe timidly. It was long and narrow, with a very pointed toe. It was a stiff, slim, unbending sort of shoe. The reader of character in footgear looked dubious. "Hem! Perhaps you are not like your shoe," he said, evasively. "But I believe in the science, and so I don't think it would be safe for me to tell you what I read in the indications. We—we might both regret it. Good morning!"—New York Advertiser.

Effective Tip. "Yes, sah." "You've got his order, have you?" "Well, now, I'll give you a tip also—which is this: Bring me exactly the same order, served in exactly the same style as his, and with the same promptness, or I'll report you. Do you get the idea, young fellow?" "Yes, sah." The two dinners were served at the same time, and were precisely alike.

The U. of M. base ball team was defeated Saturday by the Illinois nine. The score was 3 to 0.

The total enrollment in the University this year is 3232. Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio lead.

The student who fired on the sopomores last week, was a dent and the dental faculty has suspended him.

The feature of the concert this afternoon will be the symphonic poem "Attis," written by Prof. A. A. Stanley.

Aaron Conine will be tried in the next term of court. He is charged with putting rails on the electric railroad.

Twenty percent of the militia men at Island Lake failed to pass the examination. Eyesight was one of the principle weaknesses.

The Fruit and Flower mission cleared $100 from the dance given last Saturday night. Another will be given in the near future.

The reserve militia company now drilling is getting into fine shape and will be ready for the front whenever the call it made.

Prof. H. M. Slauson, the newly elected superintendent of schools is in this city looking over the ground before beginning his work.

There is considerable probability that Company A will be sent with the invading forces to Cuba in the course of the next ten days.

Miss Cora Johnson, daughter of D. H. Johnson, of North Main-st., fell from her horse one day last week and was painfully injured.

The Normal base ball team is all right. Last Saturday it defeated the Olivet team which gave the 'Varsity such a fight two weeks ago.

Among those who have enlisted and been mustered into the regular volunteer service are J. B. Hillman and Attorney C. Lincoln McGillre.

Willie Maubetsch was taken to the reform school at Lansing, Tuesday. He has repeatedly played truant and is sent to Lansing on this account.

Jimmie Blitheman, the notorious boy rascal who has several times been in trouble here, was arrested a few days ago for stealing a suit of clothes.

Hugh Johnson is not satisfied with the decision recently rendered by Justice Duffy by which he gets six cents from Landlord Lepper and has appealed the case.

The annual address before the G. A. R. post, Sons of Veterans and Relief Corps will be delivered on Sunday, May 29, by Rev. T. W. Young, of the Baptist church.

Miss Berta Sherrod, who was formerly well known here, is musical and society editor of the Detroit Journal. She will be in this city this week to cover the May Festival.

"My Visit to Cuba" will be Rev. Sunderland's subject next Sunday evening at the Unitarian church. The lecture will be illustrated with about forty stereopticon views.

Marshal Sweet has ordered a new wheel, an "American," and expects to begin riding as soon as he recovers from the few bruises which, as a beginner, he will naturally receive.

The student who got shot in the freshman-sophomore scrap last week was called before the faculty Saturday and suspended from college for one year. Two others were put on probation.

Miss Lizzie Treat, who recently graduated from the Stenographic Institute of this city, has secured a good position as stenographer with Geo. Hilsendegen, manufacturer and jobber of bicycles, Detroit, Mich.

Three volunteers from each camp, of sons of veterans, have been asked to make up the desired two companies from the State. Harry Saunders, Charles Campion and John Stark have gone from the J. T. Jacobs camp.

Charles Simons, who represented the University in the recent contest at Evanston, Ill., won the championship. This is the seventh victory for Michigan in eight years. Mr. Simons is a senior and his home is in Detroit.

Captain John P. Kirk, until recently prosecutor for Washtenaw county, who is now with his company at Island Lake has been promoted to major. Friends in Ypsilanti made a purse lately to purchase a fine horse for him to ride.

When John Armbruster died he left about $7,000 worth of property to his second wife. Children tried to break the will and the case has been before the circuit court. Tuesday a decision was reached and the will is sustained.

Nearly 3000 tickets have been sold for the May Festival. About 2000 are held by Ann Arbor people and the rest are scattered all over the state, with a number in Ohio and Illinois. The management will clear money on the festival.

Miss Clara Anderson, of Ann Arbor, a most estimable lady and an efficient teacher, has severed her connection with the girl's reformatory at Indianapolis, returning home last week. The Indianapolis institution is the loser.—Adrian Press.

The principle feature in the decoration of Prettyman's dining rooms for the engineers banquet last Friday night, was a large picture of Prof. Cooley who is now on board the Yosemite. A Cuban flag also occupied a prominent place.

Those having control of the physical examinations at Island Lake say that 90 per cent of the failures to pass were due to cigarette smoking. This helps confirm some body's statement that "cigarettes were invented by the Spaniards and approved by the devil."

The Light Infantry is nearly $100 behind in hall rent and other expenses and an attempt will be made to raise money and pay this off. Prof. Worcester gave a very interesting lecture last night on the Philippine Islands, and the proceeds will go into the fund.

The following persons failed to pass the recent physical examination given to Company A: Sergeant Rombert Jones, Corporal Charles Petrie and Privates Edward Grau, Henry Hitchcock, B. B. Johnson, W. A. Rayer, Clarence Tico, Joseph H. Ball, B. J. Barrows, E. Wurster, Charles Dibble, H. Duncan and George H. Fischer.

Edgar Bates who graduated in the University last year and is now working at Ft. St. Phillip, says that 46 mines have been placed in the Mississippi near the fort and they recently captured and imprisoned a man whom they took for a Spanish spy. Mr. Bates also tells a fish story and says that he speared an alligator weighing 28 pounds. It pulled him into the water and the soldiers had to fish him out.

Col. Eli R. Sutton, of Gov. Pligree's staff was in town Tuesday to recruit a company of students and take them to Island Lake. He opened a station in the Army but only fifteen men offered and he went away declaring that the boys don't want to go to war but are simply bluffing. Officers of the U. of M. battalion say Colonel Sutton did not set about it right, that few students saw his notices and that if he had gone to the campus he could have got plenty of men.

Sergeant Cooper, of Company A, has troubles of his own which are not strictly Spanish in character. The sergeant is built upon the lines of our fast cruisers, long keel and narrow beam, and his present difficulty lies in deciding whether out of Uncle Sam's munificence he shall select a uniform which will properly encase the extreme length of his person and wait for army fare to develop his lateral expansion to fill unoccupied territory, or take garments which will gracefully drape the present willowy curves of his extended form and piece out the abbreviated sleeves and trousers with lace ruffles and leggings. Some means should be taken to suitably clothe men who have reached the eminence of Sergeant Cooper.—Times.

Judge Newkirk, of Ann Arbor, always sings: "Only a Pansy Blossom," before breakfast, and last week devoted his energies during moments when not officially engaged, in preparing a bed, and planting a fine lot of pansies, from which he hoped to be able to realize pretty pansy poses. The next morning when he went out to pluck a flower he was shocked into an angry mood by finding that some vandal had pulled up the plants and scattered them along the sidewalk. The judge measured the tracks left, and they were too small to throw suspicion on Mart Halter, Col. Dean or Mayor Hiscock, none being over 14 inches long. Suspicion points to one of the newspaper offices. The Courier says, "If there's anything meaner than such an act, we should like to know what it is." Why, we can tell you. It is to despoil two beds instead of one.—Adrian Press.

While in the country last Sunday the editor saw a black snake try to capture a lizard for its dinner. The lizard had the better of the snake in the contest, which took place in a cluster of saplings. The lizard would run up a sapling clear to the top and patiently wait until the snake would slowly wind its way about half way up the sapling, when the lizard would fling itself from the tree, both striking the ground about the same time, but before the snake could get itself straightened out the lizard, which did not have to uncoil would scale up another sapling, when the snake would repeat its effort to procure a dinner. The snake, not being the ready climber the lizard was, was at a great disadvantage in the contest, and, after many efforts, apparently gave it up as a fruitless job.—Greenup (Ky.) Gazette.

The Athletic Association has issued a circular asking for money from Alumni and others to fit out a trophy room in the gymnasium. Foot balls, base prize cups and other trophies have been collected and the regents have appropriated a room. Now $300 is needed to fit this room up with glass cases and cabinets.

The first regiment, now at Island Lake, has been notified that in a few days field rations will arrive and that at the earliest possible hour the organization will be expected to leave for Tampa. The men have not yet been supplied with good guns but it is thought these will arrive in time for the boys to get away by Saturday.

Last summer G. A. Watkins, of Detroit, was sued by J. L. Skinner, of this place, for a large insurance premium, Skinner claiming that he had written a policy and Watkins holding that he promised Skinner's commission to some one else. Watkins won and Skinner appealed but last week Watkins settled it by paying Skinner a good lot of cash.

British Postal Reforms.

Numerous reductions of charges and extensions were made by the British postoffice during 1897. Postage on domestic letters was made one penny (2 cents) for four ounces, with an additional half-penny for every two ounces. Thus in Great Britain it costs only 3 cents to send a letter weighing six ounces, while in the United States it would cost twice as much. Merchants are allowed to inclose bills with goods sent by parcel post. Most important was the completion of the transfer of the trunk telephone system of the United Kingdom to the postoffice department. During the year the deposits in the postal savings banks increased about $35,000,000.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

A few days ago a little son of Erastus S. Cooper, of Sylvan, was severely hurt. He was with his father who was unloading fence posts, and having his hand on one of the wheels a post came down upon it bruising it severely. It was thought the hand would be saved with the loss of one finger.—Grass Lake News.

Sunday two of the Italians employed on the D. Y. & A. A. got into a dispute over some money one claimed that the other owed him. The debtor refused to pay and the creditor struck him a frightful blow on the side of the head with a heavy stick. The injured man was sent to Detroit for repairs and the other fellow skipped out.—Ypsilanti.

Wm. Gray, of Sharon, was in town Tuesday and when asked why he did such a disgraceful act as to set fire to his buildings and try to kill himself, replied, "Do you think a man in his right mind would do such a thing?" He thinks that he is all right now and would like to have the insurance paid so he can build another barn and go on doing business as though nothing had happened.—Manchester Enterprise.

Sam Webster some time ago was hit over the head with a sand-bag. Last night he saw in the semi-darkness a man going along acting rather suspiciously and in his hand was something looking like a knock-out bag. Sam mistrusted that the fellow was the same one that had tuckered him over the head and went after him, only to discover that it was one of the new deputy marshals who had already assumed his duty.—Times, Ypsilanti.

A couple of war scenes are reported to have taken place in Ypsilanti last week. One was at the M. C. R. R. depot, where a Light Guard heard a man say something in favor of Spain and detrimental to Uncle Sam. It just took the Light Guard about one minute to show the fellow what we intend doing with Spain. The other scene had for its actors three boys about ten years of age—one a Spaniard, one a Cuban and one an American. The Spaniard was in the mud with the blood flowing freely from his nose, while the American was sitting on his chest pounding away until the Spaniard would yell "enough." The Cuban stood by urging the American to give it to him.—Commercial.

NO FALSE RETURNS.

Here Are Plain Facts Endorsed by An Ann Arbor Citizen Who Resides on Second Street.

Few men will admit failure while there is a chance for argument. Many people claim success when no one rises to dispute it. What we want to do is to place our claims where doubt is out of the question. We are doing this every day and Ann Arbor people are beginning to appreciate it. Now, to get down to the point, everybody knows that there is many an aching back, many a lame and painful one, the suffering from which makes life a burden, but having tried so many remedies, the sufferer not finding success, looks upon all those who profess to have a cure with all the skepticism of a skeptic; and yet one more struggle with the right ally and the back is free. Others have done it right here in Ann Arbor, why not you? Read what

Mrs. Jos. Buechler, of No. 414 Second street, says: "From the result of a severe fall I had in autumn, 1897, I have been troubled ever since with pains through my back and kidneys. I could not lie or rest comfortably in bed and in the mornings felt unrefreshed and tired. The kidney secretions became affected, unnatural and distressing. I doctored a great deal but met with little or no success. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended I thought they would help me. I went to Eberbach & Son's drug store, procured a box and began to use them. Before I had taken many doses I began to feel better; in a short time I was entirely rid of the trouble and felt as well as ever. I certainly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly to anyone needing such a remedy."

BLADDER TROUBLES.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

SAMPLE SENT FREE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root fulfills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles. It corrects frequent calls, inability to hold urine and scalding or stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should take the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention the REGISTER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.

WEAK, NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

250,000 CURED IN 20 YEARS.

CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY!

$1000 IN GOLD FOR A CASE WE CANNOT CURE OF SELF-ABUSE, EMISSIONS, VARICOCELE, CONCEALED DRAINS, STRICTURE GLEET, SYPHILIS, STUNTED PARTS, LOST MANHOOD, IMPOTENCY, NERVOUS DEBILITY, UNNATURAL DISCHARGES, ETC.

The New Method Treatment is the Greatest Discovery of the Age FOR CURING THESE DISEASES

A NERVOUS WRECK.

Thousands of young and middle aged men are annually swept to a premature grave through EARLY INDISCRETIONS, EXCESSES, AND BLOOD DISEASES. If you have any of the following symptoms consult us before it is too late. Are you nervous and weak, dependent and gloomy, specks before the eyes with dark circles under them, weak back, kidneys irritable, palpitation of the heart, hazy, dreams and losses, sediment in urine, pimples on the face, eyes sunken, hollow cheeks, careworn expression, poor memory, lifeless, distrustful, lack energy and strength, tired mornings, restless nights, changeable moods, weak manhood, stunted organs and premature decay, bone pains, hair loose, sore throat etc.

YOU HAVE SEMINAL WEAKNESS!

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT alone can cure you, and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't lose quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard earned dollars. We will cure you or no pay.

HAS YOUR BLOOD BEEN DISEASED?

SYPHILIS is the most prevalent and most serious BLOOD disease. It saps the very life blood of the victim and unless entirely eradicated from the system will affect the offspring. Beware of Mercury. It only suppresses the symptoms—our NEW METHOD positively cures it for ever.

YOUNG OR MIDDLE-AGED MAN—You've led a gay life, or indulged in the follies of youth. Self-abuse or later excesses have broken down your system. You feel the symptoms stealing over you. Mentally, physically and sexually you are not the man you used to be or should be. Lushful practices reap rich harvests. Will you heed the danger signals.

READER! Are you a victim? Have you lost hope? Are you contemplating marriage? Has your blood been diseased? Have you any weakness? Our New Method Treatment will cure you. What it has done for others it will do for you. Consultation Free. No matter who has treated you, write for an honest opinion Free of Charge. Charges reasonable. Books Free.—"The Golden Monitor" (Illustrated), on Diseases of Men. Includes postage, 3 cents. Sealed. Book on "Diseases of Women" Free.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. PRIVATE. No medicine sent C. O. D. No names on boxes or envelopes. Everything confidential. Question list and cost of Treatment, FREE.

SOPH-FRESHMAN SPORT

HAIR CLIPPING WAS THE ORDER OF THE PAST WEEK.

IT WAS ALL IN FUN

But One Man Got Shot in the Arm by A Freshman Who Could Not See the Joke.

The approach of the freshman banquet which was held last Friday night was as usual the signal for a hair cutting campaign to begin.

It all began in fun and was conducted in fun and some amusing incidents occurred. A young orator from the Ish-crumming high school had attended the inter-scholastic contest, had won, and was spending a few days in this city.

A good story is told on Prof. DePout and he does not deny it. Sophs lay for a freshman in front of his house and the professor was mistaken for the man and seized.

Wednesday night the fun took a serious turn. The boys had all looked up on it as sport and had enjoyed it, but on that night some sophomores got after a man who became frightened and turning round shot one of his pursuers through the arm.

ANOTHER VALUABLE GIFT.

Park, Davis & Company Establish A $500 Fellowship.

President Hutchins and Prof. Freer were in Detroit, Thursday and returned to announce that Park, Davis & Company will give $500 a year commencing next year for a fellowship in chemistry.

Campus.

Arrangements have been completed for a dual tennis meet with Chicago, to be held here June 10. Last year the score was a tie and this year an attempt will be made to even it up.

The punting contest for the Carrow cup ended Wednesday, Hannan getting first, Calley, second, and Smith third. Hannan's average punt was 14 1/2 feet and his average drop kick 137 feet.

The inter-scholastic track and field meet will be held here May 27 and 28. It is thought this will bring a large number of high school students to the University each year and eventually lead to their becoming students of the U. of M.

Are You Easily Tired?

Just remember that all your strength must come from your food. Did you ever think of that?

Perhaps your muscles need more strength, or your nerves; or perhaps your stomach is weak and cannot digest what you eat.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. The oil is the most easily changed of all foods into strength; and the hypophosphites are the best tonics for the nerves.

The Varsity whist club gave a banquet Thursday night. The members with about 30 guests from Toledo, Detroit, Jackson, and Ypsilanti met first in Nickels Hall, on State street and after the tournament repaired to Hangsterfer's where a fine banquet was held.

CONCERNING SLEEP WALKERS

Some Narrow Escapes and Some Effective Cures Are Known. From the Hartford Courant: The mention of a sleep walker standing upon the street railway track the other night and barely escaping being run down has brought to the minds of many people incidents in this line that have come under their observation, and it is simply astonishing how general is this habit.

In spanning the fence he made a misstep and fell. This awakened him and while he was in the first act of collecting his thoughts he saw in the darkness the young men who were watching him. Just at that time their appearance so startled him that he fled like a deer.

When the night's somnambulist tour culminated that left a lasting impression on his mind, as well as his body, he was near those barrels and it seemed had been struggling to get through between them when he must surely have been killed by falling down the stairs.

RODE AN ANGRY BULL.

This Picture and That. THE STAGE.

Mistress—We have met with reversions, Mary, and can no longer afford to keep a servant. You have served us faithfully many years and it cuts me to the heart to say the words, but we shall have to learn to do without you. Mary—You can't ma'am, and what's more, you shan't try! Who says that I want wages or anything else except my mouthful of victuals and a board to lay my head on when those that's mor'n flesh and blood to me are in trouble? Don't say no more about it, for it can't be done!

"Biddy, your master is bent, and I'm afraid you will have to look out for another situation." Biddy—Then it's a mill's worth, or a month's wages as I'll be takin', mem, beside the fifteen shillin' ye owes me for back arrears.—Pick-Me-Up.

A Fascinating Island.

Of all fascinating places under the sun, according to a recent traveler, the islands of Tahiti, in the Society Islands, is the most fascinating. In that country, a little earth lost in a vast ocean, nature has done everything to make idleness souls happy.

The Costa Rican counterfeits have been issuing bogus notes of the government of the island until the amount, it is said, has reached $1,000,000. Inspectors of the secret service bureau were chiefly instrumental in bringing the malefactors to justice.

Not Always.—The Nurse—"Oh! talk is cheap." The Policeman—"Oh! I don't know. I know a cop who was fined three days' pay for spending ten minutes talking to a girl here."

Coughs and colds, down to the very borderland of consumption, yield to the soothing, healing influences of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Friend—"Why do you wear those fearfully old-fashioned collars?" Winkler (a man of affairs)—"Because, when the washerwoman sends them to anybody else, they always return them."

Cosmo Butter Milk Toilet Soap makes the skin soft, white and healthy. Sold everywhere.

Doctor—"You must give up drinking and—" Mr. Sickly—"I never touch a drop." Doctor—"And stop smoking." "I don't smoke." Doctor—"Humph! that's bad; if you haven't anything to give up I'm afraid I can't do much for you.—Tit-Bits.

From Extreme Nervousness.

THAT no one remedy can contain the elements necessary to cure all diseases, is a fact well known to everyone. Dr. Miles' System of Restorative Remedies consists of seven distinctively different preparations, each for its own purpose. Mrs. L. C. Branch, 37 Henry St., St. Catharines, Ontario, writes: "For years I suffered from extreme nervousness and annoying constipation, developing into palpitation and weakness of the heart."
