A LONG JOURNEY THAT LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

Company A Starts Sunday Night for Chickamauga—All Anxious as to what the Future Will Bring—Thousands of Visitors at Camp Sunday—It was a Sad Day for All—When Will the Next Meeting Take Place?

The orders reported last week for the first regiment to move Sunday night for Chickamauga was no idle rumor. It meant business and, while welcomed by all, caused a gloom to settle down over the camp last Sunday which changed the day into one far different from the festive days of the previous Sundays since the boys have been at Island Lake. It was a day of final leavetaking, many of them realizing that it might be the last.

At the noon hour fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, assembled under some tree near the camp and ate perhaps their last dinner together. One thing noticeable was that the relatives of the soldiers were very gloomy. On other Sundays when they have visited camp they were bent on having a good time, but fun was cast aside today, and the more serious side of life presented itself. It was not an uncommon sight to see a mother hanging on her son's arm, talking through the camp and as she stalked to the boys tears would find their way in her eyes. It would be hard to imagine a more pathetic sight than when fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers bade their sons and brothers goodbye just before the excursion trains departed tonight. Mothers and sisters wept aloud and fathers and brothers shed their tears in secret, while those of the crowd that had no relatives departing for the south shed tears in sympathy with those who had. As soon as the excursion trains departed the enlisted men of the Thirty-first infantry built large bonfires in the regimental parade grounds, and from a distance the sight was an inspiring one to look at.

The sleeping cars which are carrying the troops one would never think were carrying soldiers to war, but would think that it was a millionaires' tourist party. It took 28 sleepers to carry the officers and men, and Gov. Pingree says that it is a great improvement over the way he went to war, when they were glad to get day coaches to ride in. Three men were assigned to each section, one to the upper berth and two to the lower, and they were situated more comfortably than they have been in camp.

The first battalion was heartily cheered when it left the regimental headquarters at 9:30 o'clock to board the cars. Col. Gardener made a short speech to the men, and told them to act like soldiers while they are on their journey. Gov. Pingree and his staff bid the boys good-by and wished them God speed. The first section is in command of Col. Gardener, the second Lieut.-Col. Shubel, and the third section Maj. Chas. H. Harrah. The first section, carrying companies D, E, F and H, departed at 11:55 o'clock, standard time. The second section, containing companies A, B, C and G, left at 12:21; the third section, companies L, I, K and M, Detroit, were put in coaches at 12:10 and left at 12:40.

LAW BUILDING FUNDS.

State Auditor Dix Calls a Halt—Refuses to Audit Bills—Regents Claim Law Was Observed—Compromise Sure To Be Effected.

The following from Lansing to the Detroit Tribune indicates that there is a clash between the Board of Regents and Auditor-General Dix on the question of funds for the construction of the new law building:

"The university regents are somewhat embarrassed about obtaining money with which to carry forward the work on the new law building, in process of construction, and during the past few days Regents Butterfield and Farr have been here consulting Auditor-General Dix about the matter.

"The law provides that before work shall be commenced on any building at any of the penal, reformatory, charitable or educational institutions of the state, the plans shall be submitted to the state board of corrections and charities, and no part of the appropriation shall be available until that board certifies that the building can be completed within the appropriation made by the legislature for the purpose.

"In this case the board was not consulted, and for this reason the auditor-general has declined to audit the vouchers presented. The regents claim that the provision mentioned has no application in their case inasmuch as the building is being constructed from the surplus of the proceeds of the one-sixth mill tax for the support of the university. They claim the provision applies only to appropriations for specific buildings mentioned in the appropriation act.

"Regent Farr wrestled with Auditor Dix for a long time today and the latter took the matter under advisement."

In an interview Regent H. S. Dean asserted that no law existed giving the state board of corrections and charities any say in the matter of buildings at the University and that the attitude of Auditor-General Dix could have no effect upon the erection of the law building.

WORSE THAN BULLETS.

Cuban Diseases Discussed by Dr. W. B. Hinsdale.

"Dangers from diseases to the army invading Cuba" was the subject of an address by Dr. W. B. Hinsdale, dean of the homeopathic department, Monday evening. He characterized the dangers from yellow fever, malaria and dysentery as the greatest the northern soldiers will have to encounter. Yellow fever, the least fatal of the three, is infectious in character. Those who are addicted to the alcoholic or cigarette habit will be especially susceptible. When at rest the clothing must be absolutely dry and all native fruits and cold drinks avoided if protection is in any degree desired. Malaria in its worst type will be found in the marshes and along the low coast. In fatality it will only be outranked by dysentery, which under the tropical sun will prove far more disastrous than in the civil war. It will appear in its ulcerous form, producing death by blood poison.

SECURED A $1,500 VERDICT.

Jury Gave Miss Virgie A. Comiske That Verdict Last Thursday.

Just about two years ago Miss Virgie Comiske, who formerly resided in this city, was injured by a fall caused by a defective sidewalk in Ypsilanti. Soon afterwards she brought suit against the city of Ypsilanti for damages. Failing to secure a verdict in the Circuit Court, her attorney appealed the case to the Supreme Court. This resulted in an order for a new trial which was finished, last Thursday night. The case lasted two days and was stubbornly fought by both sides. Lehman & Stivers represented the plaintiff. The city of Ypsilanti was defended by Lee N. Brown, city attorney, assisted by Judge Babbitt. The verdict of the jury was that Miss Comiske be paid fifteen hundred dollars. It is understood that the city will not appeal the case, but will pay the amount rather than continue expensive litigation.

HARD ON WATER PIPES.

Electrical Currents Seriously Affecting House Connections.

The Ann Arbor Water Company is not a little troubled over the effect of electrolysis in its water pipes. On exhibition at its office some specimens of pipe which have been entirely decomposed in certain spots by the effect of electrical currents. These effects are most noticeable along the lines of the street railway and motor line. One of the peculiar effects is that the pipes are affected only in spots. One of the specimens referred to above is perfectly sound at one point while only a few inches away the entire pipe is eaten away. Dr. Hale, the receiver of the company, has been making quite a study of the subject with the view of finding a remedy if possible. He believes that the current passes from the cars to the rails and from there reaches the main. This is too large to be affected. From the main the current passes to the house connections, which are usually inch pipes. Wherever on these it reaches the point of least resistance it passes off. It is at this point, the doctor believes, where the damage is done. The trouble is a serious one as is shown by the fact that pipes laid but a few years ago have been entirely ruined. Unless some remedy can be found a heavy expense must be met by the company in relaying thousands of house connections every few years along the lines of the street railway. Dr. Hale has a plan by means of which he hopes to overcome the difficulty. On account of the general use of electrical street cars this question of how to prevent electrolysis is becoming a serious one all over the country. It will be a great credit to the man who first discovers a means by which it can be prevented.

Many New Men.

At the Regents' meeting last Saturday a large number of new men were appointed as follows:

In Latin, J. C. Gnanrud, S. A. Jeffries, G. D. Hadzits of the Detroit high school, and J. W. Sturgis. In German, Dr. Edward Boucke; in physics, to take the place of Prof. Patterson, who has been granted leave of absence, Justus Trowbridge, P. K. D., of Berlin; in law, A. J. Farrar, to take the place of T. W. Hughes, who has accepted a professorship in the University of Illinois; assistant in general chemistry, Ralph Page; assistant in organic chemistry, W. H. Hess; assistant in theory and practice of medicine, Dr. C. D. Silver; as house surgeon, Dr. C. B. Gauss; assistant demonstrator in anatomy, N. D. Coons, H. M. Doolittle, L. M. Upjohn and Louise M. Ditheridge; assistant in dermatology, Dr. J. F. Breakey; assistant in obstetrics and gynecology, Dr. C. K. Labuis; assistant in hygiene, Dr. T. B. Cooley; and assistant in histology, Mrs. Lydia M. Dewitt.

Dr. C. B. Nanerode was granted a leave of absence to Oct. 1 to join the Third Michigan regiment as surgeon.

The state asylum superintendents were appointed special lecturers on "Mental Diseases," and Dr. Baker, secretary of the state board of health, on administration of health laws.

The degree of M. D. was granted Dr. S. D. Tobey of Oakland, Ia., who left the medical class of 1891 to go to the front.

Word was received from Secretary Alger and the surgeon-general accepting the hospitals in case of need.

Profs. Spalding, Zewitt and Mr. Meader were granted leave of absence for a year.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Curious View of the American People Expressed in a Chinese Publication.

A Chinese publication by the Tacoma News illustrates the fact that we are not alone in viewing with disfavor or amusement the habits, ideas and character of those whose civilization is unlike our own. The Chinese writer evidently has his doubts about the tales of our greatness. If foreign countries are as grand and rich as they are represented to be, why it is, he asks that there are so many foreigners looking for a living in China. And he knows our tricks and our ways, for he says: "They live months without eating a mouthful of rice; they eat bullocks and sheep in enormous quantities; they have to bathe frequently; they eat meat with knives and prongs; they take enormous quantities of whisky; they hurry with everything, instead of resting like civilized persons; they never enjoy themselves by sitting quietly on their ancestors' graves, but jump around and kick balls as if paid to do it; they take long trips into the country, waving sticks in the air, nobody knows why; they have no sense of dignity, for they may be found walking with women, and the latter are served first; on festive occasions the women are compelled to appear partly naked before every man who likes to look at them, and they are dragged around the room to the accompaniment of the most discordant music." These are the words of a careful observer, and who can deny their accuracy?—Ex.

Young Girls Fading Away.

Symptoms that seem like consumption; a lack of blood; friends feared one girl would fall dead on the street; restored to health by a sensible woman's suggestion.

Many girls of sixteen years seem to have consumption, although they have it not.

Their anxious parents and friends watch them slowly fade away.

A death-like pallor, transparent complexion and listlessness are signs of this condition.

The body lacks blood.

Mrs. John Tansey knows the meaning of these symptoms, and the cure.

She lives at 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich.

Her advice to mothers has been of great value to her neighbors. She tells the story to help others who are at a distance.

She said:

"When my daughter was sixteen years old she began to waste away.

"Had I not known there was no taint of consumption in the family I would have believed her lungs were affected.

"She grew thinner and thinner every day. She lacked only the hacking cough to show all the outward signs of consumption.

"Our doctor called the disease by an odd name, which I learned meant simply weak blood.

"No treatment seemed to do her any good.

"She was fading away before our eyes.

"I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and the change they made was almost magical.

"Before she had taken half a box there was a great improvement in her looks, appetite and weight.

"She gained strength rapidly. Soon she was in perfect health.

"Since then I have kept Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in the house always and have done much good with them.

"One example:

"There is a young girl friend of my daughter who seemed almost transparent.

"She was white and very thin. We were afraid she would fall dead in the street when she went out.

"I begged her to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and finally induced her to try them.

"They helped her wonderfully, probably saved her life and restored her to perfect health. Now she is recommending them to other young women.

"I earnestly advise mothers with growing daughters to keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always on hand as a household remedy.

"Many women's lives are miserable because such symptoms as Mrs. Tansey's daughter showed were neglected while they were developing into womanhood. During that period of rapid development the blood needs the highest degree of strength to repair the tissues that are rapidly wasted.

"These needed elements are supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"The vegetable ingredients of these pills act like magic in restoring strength to the muscles and roses to the cheeks of growing girls or adults weakened by overwork.

"All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cost 50 cents a box; six boxes $2.50.

COMPASS IS ERRATIC.

In Russia the Magnetic Needle Often Plays Puzzling Tricks.

From the New York Times: One of Russia's innumerable mysteries is the erratic behavior of the magnetic needle in many parts of the great empire. The compass is freaky enough anywhere, but it seems to take a particular delight in refusing to point north for the subjects of the czar.

French and Russian scientists have recently been investigating this subject on the vast central plain between Moscow and Kharkov.

The greatest aberrations were found in the province of Kursk, the capital town of which is some 600 miles almost due south of Moscow.

In the northern part of the province, near Tim, the needle deflects 20 degrees; further south, in the province of Staroi Oskol, up to 30 degrees, while in the southeast of the province, about 150 miles south of Tim, the deflection is over 96 degrees, the needle standing almost perpendicular and pointing nearer east and west than north and south.

This reversal of the magnetic forces may have some curious effects.

A number of new railways are building in that region and the engineers are interested in finding out whether the durability of their lines will sustain the long accepted theory that those rails last best which are parallel with the magnetic meridians.

As these run east and west over a considerable part of Russia, it will be the north and south lines that first show signs of wear, whereas such lines in other countries are the more easily maintained in repair.

Count's Passion for Prison Life.

Of the many methods of achieving fame—or notoriety—that of Count Rocco Dianovitch is surely among the strangest.

The count has made the getting into prison the chief business of his life for thirty-four of the forty-seven years he has lived, for the purpose of gathering information for a book he is anxious to write on the subject.

At thirteen he left his home and went into Prussia, where he was arrested for trespassing, and sent to prison for three months, working at chair-making.

"From that time to this," he adds, "I have never been free from the desire." From thirteen until he was twenty-one he was in and out of more than twenty prisons in Belgium, Prussia, Poland and Russia.

His first experience of jail life in England was in Liverpool, which he says was one of the worst he ever was in, filled with drunken sailors from all over the world.

He stayed there six days, when he paid his fine and got out—the first time he failed to serve his sentence.

Then he went to Ireland, France, Spain, Italy, Greece and Turkey, then to Egypt, "where the jails are the worst in the world except Australia," and to India and Japan, and America, where he has been for more than a year, spending most of his time in jails and penitentiaries.

According to his views, the best jail in America is in Denver, and that in St. Louis, where he spent a week, is very bad, for "the prisoners run the place," and "it was impossible to find any peace or comfort in the place."

The count ought to give us "the book of the season."

Couldn't Beat Him.

A little boy from California who has been about a great deal is spending the holidays with his Washington cousins.

He has enjoyed the sights of the capital, but he hasn't permitted himself to be in the slightest degree overawed by anything he has seen.

His cousins took him—"carried" him, they said of themselves—to the National Museum one day, and called his attention to a great log of petrified wood lying just outside the door.

The little Californian had been a little depressed, but he brightened up at the sight. "I've seen a whole tree like that," he said.

The Washington cousins maintained their composure. "We've got a whole forest of trees like that out west," went on the young westerner.

Still the Washingtonians were not at all impressed. The California boy drew a long breath. "We've got a whole woods of petrified trees," he said.

"Yes, and they're petrified birds sitting on 'em, and—and," with one last effort to disturb the calm self-satisfaction of his companions, "they're singing petrified songs, too."—Washington Post.

Two Crowns of Iron.

The crown of Roumania is composed of gun metal—made, in fact, out of a bit of old cannon captured at Plevna; that of Portugal has gems in it which have caused it to be valued at $8,000,000.

The iron crown of Lombardy, which, by the by, is the oldest diadem in Europe, is only six inches in diameter.

The question usually asked by those who behold it for the first time is, Where is the iron? For to all appearances the crown consists of a broad circle of gold ornamented by an enameling of flowers.

This, however, is but the outward case—within the corner rests the iron itself. It is fashioned out of one of the nails by which Christ was fastened to the cross.

The crown now rests in the Cathedral of Monza, Italy, and is under the care of the monks of the establishment.

These holy men call attention to the fact that while no attempt has ever been made to clean the beset metal, still there is no sign of rust upon it—a fact which conclusively proves its sacred origin.

Turning the Tables.

In conversation with Lord Normanby, a French lady once made the oft-repeated assertion that her countrymen were the poltest people in Europe, and capped all her arguments by saying, "You admit it yourselves."

"Exactly," was his lordship's prompt reply, with a diplomatic bow, "that is our politeness."

MONEY FOR CHARITY.

Interesting Table Prepared by Rev. C. T. Ward of New York.

The Rev. C. T. Ward of the Sheltering Arms, New York, says the New York Times, has prepared comparative tables showing the amount of money left for charitable or benevolent purposes by testators throughout the United States during the last three years.

He finds that these bequests for 1897 are $1,000,000 in excess of those for 1896. In 1895 the bequests amounted to $9,401,500, in 1896 to $13,112,300, and in 1897 to $14,347,800.

Of the more than $14,000,000 bequeathed last year $3,204,600 was designated for charitable purposes, $2,878,000 for missionary purposes, and $5,292,200 for educational purposes.

The following table shows the amount to be devoted to church and missionary purposes, according to religious denomination:

Episcopal	$785,000	$777,200	$1,026,000
Congregational	247,500	284,500	481,800
Baptist	101,500	216,800	312,200
Presbyterian	83,700	183,400	295,100
Roman Catholic	25,000	220,000	214,200
Methodist	177,900	132,200	87,100
Reformed	30,000	67,500	77,000
Lutheran	18,700	17,200	72,500

Clever Siamese Girls.

The dancing girls of Siam are remarkable for the grace and agility of their movements.

The cup dance is the prettiest and most poetic of all. A row of young girls, with a tier of cups on their heads, take their places in the middle of the great hall.

A burst of joyous music follows. On hearing this they simultaneously, with military precision, kneel down, fold their hands, and bow their heads until their foreheads almost touch the polished marble floor, keeping the cups steadily on their heads by some marvelous jerk of the neck.

Then, suddenly springing to their feet, they describe a succession of rapid and intricate circles keeping time to the music with their arms, head and feet.

Next the music swells into rapturous tumult. The dancers raise their delicate feet, curve their arms and fingers into almost impossible flexures, sway to and fro like willows of willow, agitate all the muscles of the body like the flutter of leaves in the soft evening breeze, but still keep the cups on their heads.

The dancing girls of Bangkok are always exercising in the royal gymnasium. Their ages vary from 5 to 20 years.

The curious and subtle feat of picking up a bit of straw with the eyelids can be learned only by the youngest of them, who are made to practice it in order to render them flexible in every part of the body.

There are long rows of benches, one a little higher than the other. On the lower is a row of little girls, and on the upper bench are laid the polished bits of straw, which, with wonderful dexterity, they secure between the corners of their eyelids.—London Society.

Bridal Calls.

A very general inquiry is, on the part of young brides, how bridal calls should be returned.

One need only say the rules that apply to ordinary calling are equally in force on these occasions, and the bride should follow them as any other married lady would do.

It is quite an obsolete idea to suppose that a bride must remain at home day after day to receive those who may happen to call.

On the contrary, the up-to-date bride allows her acquaintances to take the chance of finding her at home or not, and returns the calls she has received in due course as quickly as may be.

She takes up the life she intends leading from the moment of her return, and does not give herself the penance of an enforced stay within doors during each afternoon of week following week until all possible callers have been duly received.

She does not wish to show her wedding presents, as the majority of her friends have already seen them, and she does not intend offering wedding cake to callers, as it is not the fashion to do so, and she prefers to make engagements for herself for each day.

Laconic Dr. Abernethy.

Dr. Abernethy was notoriously one of the most laconic of men. It is said that one day there was among his patients a woman who had burned her hand. Showing him the wound, she said, "A burn."

"A poultice," answered the doctor. Next day she called and said "Better."

"Repeat," said the doctor. In a week she made her last call, and her speech was lengthened to three words, "well; your fee?"

"Nothing," said the physician, "you are the most sensible woman I ever met."

No man can cure consumption. You can prevent it though. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma. Never fails.

A glance at these minute portrayals of America's Modern Sea Fighters and a perusal of the copious descriptions will fully acquaint you at once with their sanguinary and destructive character. The pictures of the officers and men in their various attitudes at work on the guns, firing at sea, bombarding forts, the marines at drill on shore and the hundreds of evolutions of the attendants on these colossal colossi of the ocean are things to be marveled at and remembered by the beholder for all time. These views are not to be obtained from any other source except at enormous cost. Send to-day as the number to be sold at the introductory price is limited both in time and number.

The aspiring monkey looked at his eldest born lying idly in the shade of a cocoa palm, and shook his head. "I have tried to make a man of you," he sighed, "but I suppose I am about 5,000,000 years too soon!"—Chicago Tribune.

WHAT CAUSES DEGENERACY?

This momentous question finds a ready answer in our manner of living, our habits, and strange to say, in what we drink.

The human race, unfortunately, are victims of narcotics taken in the shape of coffee.

Children early acquire the coffee habit, and before reaching maturity, are afflicted with dyspepsia, billiousness, liver trouble and even heart failure in many cases directly traceable to coffee drinking.

Coffee drinking must stop if we would regain the sturdy health of our forefathers.

"What shall we drink if not coffee?" The answer will one day make "the nation glad."

The grains of the field—wholesome, strengthening, nourishing, have been turned into a

"GOLDEN NECTAR" exactly like coffee in taste, exactly like coffee in flavor, exactly like coffee in color, in fact, a perfect substitute for the purest coffee.

"GOLDEN NECTAR" is being placed on the market at a price which will recommend it for economy, while its wonderful health properties recommend it for health.

CONCISE AND INTERESTING.

Thirty-first Michigan Volunteers Mustered into Uncle Sam's Service and Leave Camp Eaton for Chickamauga—Sad Double Fatality at Lapeer.

31st Michigan to Chickamauga.

Michigan's first volunteer troops have been sent to the front. The 31st Michigan Volunteer regiment, under command of Col. Gardener, bid adieu to Camp Eaton and boarded their train which was to carry them to the sunny southland, their immediate destination being Chickamauga. There was not the spirit of liveness manifested by the soldier boys and the thousands of visitors on the day of their departure as there had previously been. There was the sorrow of parting with parents, wives, sisters and sweethearts, but beneath that was the soldierly enthusiasm which made it a thrilling spectacle to see over 1,000 strapping young fellows bid their comrades good-bye, and make the final preparations to start for the front.

The soldier boys of the 31st felt proud of being members of the first regiment sent out from Michigan. The first battalion was heartily cheered when it left the regimental headquarters to board the cars. Col. Gardener made a short speech to the men, and told them to act like soldiers while they were on their journey. Gov. Pingree and his staff bid the boys good-bye and wished them Godspeed. The first section was in command of Col. Gardener, the second Lieut. Col. Shubel, and the third section Maj. Charles H. Harrah. The first section, carrying companies D, E, F and H, (Jackson, Lansing and Mason) departed at 11:55 p. m. standard time. The second section, containing Cos. A, B, C and G, (Ann Arbor, Adrian, Tecumseh and Ypsilanti), left at 12:21 a. m., third section, Cos. I, K, L and M, (Detroit and Monroe), left at 12:40 a. m.

It was a scene to make the patriotic spirit rise to the highest point. Only two men were left behind by Col. Gardener. One was B. A. Sweet, of Carson City, member of Co. C, who had a hemorrhage while out drilling and he has been sent to Detroit for hospital treatment. The other secured a leave of absence, as his mother refused to allow him to go. Both will probably receive their discharges.

The companies of the Second Independent battalion (Detroit Light Guard), that were attached to the 31st regiment have had their letter changed. Co. A will now be known as I, Co. B as K, Co. C as L, and Co. G as M, of Monroe, as M. They were mustered in as follows: Co. I, (Detroit), Capt. Duncan Henderson; Co. K, (Detroit), Capt. W. H. Slink; Co. L, (Detroit), Capt. Chas. S. Baxter; Co. M, (Monroe), Capt. John M. Gutman.

Col. Gardener has appointed the following non-commissioned officers of the 31st: Hospital stewards, Allen McLean, of Detroit; Orin H. Fredland, of Mason, and W. G. Palmer, of Ann Arbor; sergeant-major, Sanford Hunt, of Jackson; quartermaster sergeant, Robert L. Scott, of Jackson. Col. Gardener has appointed Lieut. Fred A. Abel, of the old Fourth, adjutant of the new 31st. The colonel's choice for the place was Sergt.-Maj. Dugger, of the 19th infantry, and the latter insisted on Abel's appointment in obedience to the wishes of members of the old Fourth regiment.

Grand Council K. of P.

The 25th annual convention of the Michigan grand council Knights of Pythias opened at Port Huron with over 300 delegates in attendance, besides nearly 200 visiting members of the order. The grand chancellor's report showed the K. of P. in a very flourishing condition, the past year having been the most prosperous for a decade. The treasury of the grand lodge shows an increased cash balance on hand. The election of officers resulted: Past grand chancellor, Daniel P. McMullen, of Cheboygan; grand chancellor, Chas. H. Fisk, of Detroit; vice grand chancellor, A. W. Bennett, of Big Rapids; grand keeper of records and seals, Miles S. Curtis, of Battle Creek; grand master of the exchequer, J. B. Thorn, of Hudson. The next convention will be held at Grand Rapids. The Knights of Khorassan held high revel, giving an unique street parade and initiating a class of 40 members.

The Rathbone Sisters held their convention simultaneously with the K. of P. and elected the following officers: Grand chief, Fanny E. Tompkins, of Sturgis; grand senior, Mrs. Hall, of Hudson; grand junior, Lydia M. Peat, of Ithaca; grand mistress of records and seals, Adelaide Kern, of West Branch; grand mistress of finance, Clara Merrill, of Ithaca.

Capt. Edward M. Klein, a West Pointer, and Lieut. John M. Paine, both of Detroit, have recruited a troop of cavalry at Detroit for the Second regiment Illinois Cavalry. The troop will proceed to Springfield, Ill., and join the rest of the regiment of volunteers in command of John A. Logan, and it is expected that the entire regiment will move to the front almost immediately.

State Labor Commissioner Cox came to camp to take home his 18-year-old son, who has enlisted in the Second regiment, but the boy refused to resign. Capt. Fred M. Hodskin, Co. B (Manistee), Fifth M. N. G., has been appointed major to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Maj. Edward F. Douglass, of Houghton. On account of the expense involved no further attempts will be made to bring recruits from the upper peninsula, and the Fifth will be filled out by assignments of volunteers.

The 32d Michigan Volunteers Ready. Col. McGurrin, of the 32d Michigan Volunteer infantry, notified the war department that his command was ready to move as soon as orders arrived. The staff and field officers and captains of the 32d Michigan Volunteers are as follows:

Colonel, Wm. T. McGurrin, Grand Rapids; lieutenant-colonel, John J. Vos, Grand Rapids; majors, Thomas H. Reynolds, Detroit, Perley L. Abbey, Kalamazoo and Wm. B. Kalmback, Grand Rapids; adjutant, W. G. Hardy, Grand Rapids; quartermaster, W. S. Kinney, Grand Rapids; chaplain, Rev. Francis Kelly, Lapeer; major and surgeon, L. D. Knowles, Three Rivers; assistant surgeons, J. L. Burkhart, Grand Rapids, rank of captain, and John L. Chipman, Detroit, rank of lieutenant; sergeant major, Earl Stew art, Grand Rapids; quartermaster sergeant, Jas. M. Campbell, Grand Rapids; chief musician, F. Millard, Grand Rapids; principal musicians, M. M. Marrin and Fred Idema, Grand Rapids; hospital stewards, F. Kipp and George J. Sweetland, Grand Rapids, and W. D. Howland, Coldwater.

Co. A, Coldwater, Capt. Frank D. Newberry; Co. B, Grand Rapids, Capt. Fred W. Morrison; Co. C, Kalamazoo, Capt. J. B. Westledge; Co. D, Battle Creek, Capt. Wm. M. Hatch; Co. E, Grand Rapids, Capt. J. L. Boer; Co. F, Grand Haven, Capt. Edward H. Andres; Co. G, Grand Rapids, Capt. E. Berkeley Jones; Co. H, Grand Rapids, Capt. L. C. Covell; Co. I, Detroit, Capt. L. F. Hart; Co. K, Detroit, Capt. J. Edw. Dupont; Co. L, Detroit, Capt. H. B. Lothrop; Co. M, Detroit, Capt. J. Considine, Jr.

Two Prominent Lapeer Men Killed.

Two prominent Lapeer men killed. H. K. White and Phineas White, brothers, were killed by an eastbound Chicago & Grand Trunk express at Lapeer. The bodies are both badly mangled. H. K. White was president of the First National bank, and Phineas White was one of the trustees. Both of the unfortunate men were pioneers and prominent in business circles. They were on their way home to dinner in a buggy. The horse was killed and the buggy smashed.

This makes the third fatal accident at the same crossing. A creamery on one side and a high embankment on the other make it almost impossible to see the track.

War News From Camp Eaton.

There are sore hearts in the Third regiment. Of the line officers, First Lieut. W. T. Harms, of Co. E (Saginaw); First Lieut. Louis G. Heyer and Second Lieut. Zenas H. Ross, of Co. G (Owosso), failed to pass, while Co. A (Flint), lost 33 out of 65 men.

There is wailing and gnashing of teeth in the old Fifth regiment. Eight of Col. Peterman's captains went before the examining board and six were rejected. They are Falardeau, of Big Rapids; Whitney, of Muskegon; Cudlip, of Iron Mountain; Millar, of Houghton; Supe, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Bates, of Ironton. Only Hodskin, of Manistee, and Flieger, of Calumet passed. Col. Peterman is heartbroken, and will probably insist on having the men examined a second time. The methods of the board are openly denounced by some of the rejected.

Save Your Children.

Most every—if not every mother knows what it means when her little one cannot get to sleep, but cries out "Oh, Mamma, something is biting me." It is not piles that may be alleviated by a salve—no, it is the troublesome little pin worm that wriggles and twists, and irritates the child until it becomes nervous, fretful and peevish. The simplest remedy, harmless to the child but death to the pinworm, is Steketee's Pin Worm Destroyer. If you or any of your are annoyed by the little pests, pinworms, send 26 cents in postage stamps to Geo. G. Steketee, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and he will send you a box of destroyer post paid. UNDER BLACK WINGS. Neither Love Nor Duty Can Stay the Suicide's Hand.

Three Women, High in Washington Society, Kill Themselves Because They Believed Health was Gone From Them Forever.

"Opening his mouth wide, he brusquely thrust the pistol-barrel into the very bottom of his throat and pressed upon the trigger."

Of course the shot killed him. He had been challenged to a duel, and the fear of death drove him to suicide. Guy de Maupassant, the great French writer, tells the story. This is no mere fancy of a novelist. It is a dreadful, eternal truth. Men and women, living under the shadow of Death's black wings, are sometimes because they are tired of life, or because they are tired of the very enemy they dread. See the proofs of this in the matter-of-fact newspaper reports. Note that in a great city half-a-dozen persons will, in a single day, take their own lives. Why? Various motives are assigned, such as disappointed love, financial ruin, actual or impending disgrace and thwarted ambition. The most prevalent reason is not dwell upon, except in rare cases, because to the unthinking reader it is less impressive than the others. Yet the fact that sufferers from real or imaginary disease, despairing of a cure, take their own lives, is the most appalling of all the doleful facts connected with suicide. Within a few weeks three women, moving in the highest society in Washington, killed themselves because they saw the shadow of death upon their lives. They had struggled and hoped until struggle seemed vain and hope a mocking delusion. One day the shadow of the black wing was so near that it blotted out all the joy and sunshine that had been theirs. The next day's paper told of a historic family's awful affliction.

Aliments leading to self-murder are roughly divisible into two classes: those that are mostly fanciful and proceed from ill-regulated nerves, and those of which the symptoms are misunderstood by patients and physician. In the pitiless struggle for existence the sick are at an unfair disadvantage. They are trampled under foot like lame wolves in the rush of their strong and hungry fellows. Small wonder is it that the invalid, gloomily reflecting on what he believes to be his hopeless state, resorts to pistol or poison; to the rope or the river.

A few dry words from his doctor have fallen on his ear like a death-sentence. In some medical book the sufferer has read of deadly diseases with symptoms such as he noted in himself. He concludes he has some disease he has read about, an inference as natural as is unwarranted. Pride, duty and love are powerless to hold the suicide's hand.

Among the readers of this article may be some who have pondered long on the question whether a sick life is worth living, yet have not reached that pitch of despair when they would push themselves across the line between time and eternity. To them a few words of simple, temperate common sense. How do you know that you cannot be as well and strong as any of your neighbors?

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes: "I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different catarrhal remedies. In fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous."

"Finally, it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was unreasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I then decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, which has never done them any good, and take S. S. S., a remedy that can reach the disease and cure it."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

S. S. S. For the Blood is Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no dangerous minerals.

"I don't see anything remarkable about the man." "That is because you don't know him. I've been with him constantly for the past eight weeks and not once has he undertaken to explain to me the plain duty of the president and congress at this time."—Chicago Post.

Attractive Women.

Why is one woman attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called constitutional weakness. Those who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

They had struggled and hoped until struggle seemed vain and hope a mocking delusion. One day the shadow of the black wing was so near that it blotted out all the joy and sunshine that had been theirs. The next day's paper told of a historic family's awful affliction.

Aliments leading to self-murder are roughly divisible into two classes: those that are mostly fanciful and proceed from ill-regulated nerves, and those of which the symptoms are misunderstood by patients and physician. In the pitiless struggle for existence the sick are at an unfair disadvantage. They are trampled under foot like lame wolves in the rush of their strong and hungry fellows. Small wonder is it that the invalid, gloomily reflecting on what he believes to be his hopeless state, resorts to pistol or poison; to the rope or the river.

A few dry words from his doctor have fallen on his ear like a death-sentence. In some medical book the sufferer has read of deadly diseases with symptoms such as he noted in himself. He concludes he has some disease he has read about, an inference as natural as is unwarranted. Pride, duty and love are powerless to hold the suicide's hand.

Among the readers of this article may be some who have pondered long on the question whether a sick life is worth living, yet have not reached that pitch of despair when they would push themselves across the line between time and eternity. To them a few words of simple, temperate common sense. How do you know that you cannot be as well and strong as any of your neighbors?

Baby Mine!

Every mother feels an indescribable dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger of the ordeal make its anticipation one of misery.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the remedy which relieves women of the great pain and suffering incident to maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is removed by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer dependent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are avoided, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. It is a blessing to woman.

Save Your Children.

Most every—if not every mother knows what it means when her little one cannot get to sleep, but cries out "Oh, Mamma, something is biting me." It is not piles that may be alleviated by a salve—no, it is the troublesome little pin worm that wriggles and twists, and irritates the child until it becomes nervous, fretful and peevish. The simplest remedy, harmless to the child but death to the pinworm, is Steketee's Pin Worm Destroyer. If you or any of your are annoyed by the little pests, pinworms, send 26 cents in postage stamps to Geo. G. Steketee, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and he will send you a box of destroyer post paid. Ask your druggist for Steketee's Worm Destroyer.

Second District Republican Congressional Convention.

A delegate convention of the Republican electors of the Second Congressional District of Michigan will be held at the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, Mich., on the 20th. day of July, 1898, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative in Congress for said second district and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The district is composed of the counties of Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw and ten townships in Wayne County, viz: Brownstown, Canton, Ecorse, Huron, Mongnagon, Plymouth, Romulus, Sumpter, Taylor and Van Buren and city of Wyandotte.

The number of delegates that each county is entitled to is as follows, viz: Jackson, 26; Lenawee, 27; Monroe, 17; Washtenaw, 23; that portion of Wayne included in the district, 11. Total, 104 delegates.

ADOLF WHEELER, Secretary,

ALBERT STILES,
J. M. COLLIER,
Committee.

It is said that excepting only 1894, when trade was paralyzed in anticipation of the removal of duties, British exports to the United States were never so low as for the first quarter of 1898. The American policy of Protection is to blame for it.

It is announced that the War Department is unable to get flags sufficient for the service. Since the destruction of the Maine, at least ten millions of flags have been sold. This has brought on a bunting famine and prices have advanced.

EVERY American soldier who goes to Cuba will wear an aluminum tag for identification, bearing his name, command and home address. This precaution is taken against the possibility of unmarked graves down there. The aluminum tag will also serve as a valuable memento of the war in Cuba.

THE Frenchmen are beginning to realize the advantages of the American Protective Tariff. The Paris "Journal" in a recent article on wages in the United States says that operatives in the Massachusetts shoe factories earn $15 a week, while those in Europe similarly employed earn only $4 a week and add: "The wool manufacturers of the United States underbid those of the old world, the woolen and cotton factories are infringing upon the products of European looms, and even the American bicycle is crowding out those of our own manufacture."

It is to the credit of the dominant party in Congress that they have not attempted to make a partisan use of the necessity for revenue legislation. Hence the bill is a revenue measure, pure and simple, and not a partisan Tariff bill. The bill is also free from any possible charge of class discrimination. There is no attempt to exempt the rich from their just share of the national burden, nor is there an effort to favor those of moderate means as against the wealthy. If the bill becomes a law, it will, no doubt, accomplish the purpose for which it was designed.

NOT only should the proposed tonnage tax be imposed for the revenue of the Government, in this emergency caused by our war with Spain, but, since foreign ships enjoy nine tenths of our foreign carrying, there is no reason why it should not be retained permanently, especially in view of the fact that it will only be approximately equal to the taxes imposed upon shipping by the leading European governments. It is time that European governments were taught a salutary lesson, and a blow struck at the vitals of the foreign shipping lobby in Washington.

SUPPOSE a disagreement should arise between the city and the Michigan Central railroad company or the city and the Ann Arbor Water Co. (and disputes and disagreements sometimes do arise between such good-natured people as the Railroad company or the Water company) in which the Council should feel that the city's rights were being disregarded or trampled upon and that an appeal to the courts was necessary? Would our present city attorney advise the city to begin suit when by so doing he would be obliged to resign the office for which he worked so hard?

WHILE Boss Judson is boasting that he got his man Butterfield, a corporation attorney, appointed city attorney, people are wondering how the Boss is going to harmonize his actions in this appointment with the ideas of Gov. Pingree, who believes that of all creatures who should be execrated it should, first of all, be the attorneys for corporations. But then, maybe the Boss thought Gov. Pingree would never learn that his Washtenaw lieutenant had actually labored early and late to advance the interests of an attorney for the Michigan Central railroad company in the latter's efforts to secure a public office.

IT PAID TO KICK.

WHEN Mayor Hiscock nominated Mr. O. E. Butterfield for City Attorney certain Democrats made a vigorous kick because, as they claimed, the Mayor had failed to keep his pledge to them. Others made protests because Mr. Butterfield was an attorney for both the Michigan Central railroad company and for the Ann Arbor Water company, with both of which companies the city was likely to have litigation. As a result the appointment was hung up for the time being. It then looked very much as if the appointment would not be confirmed at all. But Mr. Butterfield wasted that office and he wanted it badly. He at once set about making concessions on his own part and persuading the Michigan Central company to do the same thing. From all appearance he was perfectly willing to induce his client, the railroad company, to sacrifice its interests that his personal profit might be increased. To accomplish this he succeeded in inducing the railroad company to cancel a claim of some fourteen hundred dollars against the city for repairs on the Detroit street bridge which sum the railroad company has heretofore strenuously maintained the city should pay. Mr. Butterfield induced the railroad company to go even further and agree to keep the bridge in repair at its own expense hereafter. And then he went still further than this and personally agreed, at the council meeting Monday night, that if any litigation should

A mother pays a heavy price for the privilege of motherhood. The days of waiting and hoping and anxiety before the little one comes; the after years of care and solicitude, nursing the little life into physical completeness; guiding the little expanding mind—all this is part of the burden of motherhood. Yet an expectant mother is happy with it all in blissful anticipation of the dear, soft nestling little bit of humanity which is all her very own. If the mother is physically weak or ailing, the burden of motherhood is far heavier than it ought to be. The greatest lightener has ever discovered is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is devised by an expert specialist for the express object of strengthening and healing the organs which make motherhood possible. Taken before the baby comes, this wonderful "Prescription" relieves the ordeal of all danger and nearly all pain. It gives both mother and child a permanent increase of constitutional vigor. The properties and uses of this wonderful working "Prescription" are more fully described in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," which will be sent free, paper-bound, on receipt of twenty-one one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for thirty-one stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. W. Robinson, of Springhill, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, writes: "I feel that I cannot say enough about your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was confined on the 8th of April, and I was only sick about thirty minutes in all. I can truthfully say that your medicine worked wonders in my case. Although the physician was in the house I did not seem to require his aid."

It will go down to history as a secret cipher dispatch.

Recruiting Officers Reject 90 Per Cent of the Cigarette Smokers Who Apply for Enlistment.

Washington, May 18.—The large number of rejections of volunteers has caused much comment in the army medical corps. However, the physicians who have conducted the examinations say that, outside of the ranks of cigarette smokers, there are even fewer rejections than there were in the days of the civil war. Among habitual users of the cigarettes the rejections are about 90 per cent.

Dr. Benj. King, of Philadelphia, who acted as an examining physician during 1861-63 in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, says that the average rejections during those years did not exceed 13 per cent. He attributes the large increase almost entirely to the cigarette habit.

"I have been inspecting the papers in a number of cases under the present recruiting act," said Dr. King, "and I observe that most of the men who failed to pass the medical examination have weak hearts or lack the vitality necessary to make a good soldier."

"I had expected that the percentage of rejections would be greater now than in '61, but I did not dream that it would be almost three times as great. The examining physicians with whom I have talked have generally told me that the excess of rejections is due to the large number of young men applying for enlistment who have become victims of the cigarette habit."

arise between the city and either of the corporations which he represented, he would at once resign his position as City Attorney. In view of all these concessions, which covered part of the objections which had been raised against Mr. Butterfield, the council confirmed his nomination. Some of the members of the council think, therefore, that it paid to raise a kick at first against the confirmation.

Since the meeting Monday night some of the members of the council have been thinking the matter over more at length and have reached the point where they are beginning to wonder if the city can afford to trust its legal business in the hands of an attorney who will persuade his client to sacrifice thousands of dollars which that client and its other attorneys have always strenuously maintained it was legally entitled to, in order that Mr. Butterfield might further his own personal ambition for office and for the emoluments that go with it. If he is willing to advise the sacrifice of the interests of one client, the railroad company, what can the city expect when the city's interests happen to clash with Mr. Butterfield's personal interests in some other direction.

SHERIFF Judson and E. F. Johnson drove to Island Lake yesterday—Tuesday's Times.

Wise politicians wonder whether the Professor arranged this long drive with the Boss in order to have ample opportunity to deny or to make an attempt to justify the fact that he recently called and attended a meeting the purpose of which was, to devise plans to fire Boss Judson from the Republican Party. Or was it all understood between the two fellow-workers and congenial spirits that the Professor's efforts at "Boss firing" were only a pretense—just a scheme to win the confidence of a portion of the anti-Boss element so as to keep his chief posted as to the plans of the opposition, and this long drive was merely to give each an opportunity to congratulate the other upon their imagined success.

If that buggy whip could only talk what a tale it might unfold. But, alas!

AN OPEN LETTER

From Miss May Sachner, of Columbus, O., to Ailing Women.

To all women who are ill:
It affords me great pleasure to tell you of the benefit I have derived from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can hardly find words to express my gratitude for the boon given to suffering women in that excellent remedy.

Before taking the Compound I was thin, sallow, and nervous. I was troubled with leucorrhoea, and my menstrual periods were very irregular. I tried three physicians and gradually grew worse. About a year ago I was advised by a friend to try Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and Vegetable Compound, which I did. After using three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and one package of Sanative Wash, I am now enjoying better health than I ever did, and attribute the same to Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful remedies. I cannot find words to express what a Godsend they have been to me.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

The Webster Farmer's Club met at the residence of W. E. Boyden on Saturday, May 14, 1898. The day was pleasant and a goodly turnout from far and near was the result. About sixty-five sat down to dinner to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Boyden. Then the members of the Club and guests took pleasure in viewing the attractive premises of Mr. Boyden.

During the session, Miss Carrie Ball read a paper on "making life pleasant on the farm." Afterwards a teacher from Hamburg read a paper on grading schools. Discussion of the subject followed. Then Mr. Ball made a happy hit when thoughts seemed to run ashore by saying that since they had been talking about fertilizing brains, they might now talk about fertilizing the farms and he suggested that we do not make use enough of our farms. After a crop is removed in the fall the ground should be plowed and rye sown. This will serve as a pasture till late in the spring when it can be plowed for corn.

Mr. Stark suggested that we invite the Salem Club up, since they were so kind as to invite us there last year, and action was taken, inviting said club to our meeting of September or October, as the case may be. The next meeting of the club is at Andrew Smith's.

BOSS JUDSON'S RECORD. BRIEF SUMMARY OF REGISTER CHARGES.

What Will Governor Pingree Say To It?—If He Will Look Into the Matter He Will Pitch Such an Unscrupulous Boss Overboard—Here is What The Register Shows.

1st. It shows how he plotted to overthrow one of the strongest Republican organizations in the state of Michigan and succeeded by the aid of base treachery on the part of his henchmen.

2nd. It shows how he owned the City Marshal and used said officer to regularly rob the city of fees which belong to it as appeared in our report of arrests for last December.

3rd. It shows that in the Stockwell case he practically "held up" a farmer boy and helped to bleed him to the extent of hundreds of dollars.

4th. It shows how through his attorney he worked enough members of former council to prevent an investigation of the marshal's conduct and thus shield himself.

5th. It shows how he ignored justice court and circuit court decisions by allowing men sentenced by both courts to confinement in jail for crimes to go and come as they please.

6th. It shows how he allowed convicts to go free and then be sentenced again to serve time in jail for other crimes before time of first sentence expired, thus drawing double pay from county for board of prisoners.

7th. It shows how Judson boasted that he manipulated ballots and thus could control elections.

8th. It shows that the pretended offer of $1,000 by the Boss as an evidence of his honesty was a ridiculous bluff.

9th. It shows how Judson controlled Marshal Sweet in the matter of fees for taking prisoners to the Detroit House of Correction.

10th. It shows that the Sheriff intentionally violated the law in the course he took in his suit for libel against the editor of THE REGISTER.

11th. It shows how he worked the county in the matter of fees for taking people to asylum at Pontiac.

12th. It shows how he managed to have the county help pay his campaign expenses in the fall of 1896.

13th. It shows how for several days, the Sheriff drew pay for attending court in Washtenaw county while doing political work in Lansing.

14th. It shows how in the month of January the Marshal was his tool in the matter of fees, the same as in the month of December, as shown in the case cited above.

15th. It shows how, by his overthrow of a Republican organization the Republicans failed to secure a majority of the board of supervisors, which otherwise they would certainly have done.

LET'S HAVE A CHANGE.

At the last meeting of the S. L. A. the constitution was amended in certain important particulars. These amendments were proposed by a committee of the faculty and were designed to prevent the recurrence of scandals in the financial management, by taking part of the business out of the hands of the students. But there are still other bad practices which a further amendment of the constitution would prevent. It would be difficult to devise a method of election which would admit of more sharp practice and dishonesty than the present one. The correction of this evil was wisely left to the students.

As the constitution and by-laws now stand, the officers and directors are elected by an electoral college. The members of this college are chosen by the several departments, each voting by itself. Each department is allowed one elector for each fifty ticket holders in the department and one extra elector for any fraction of fifty above twenty-five. The method of determining the number of ticket holders for each department is as follows:

Any one who does not deposit his ticket with the collector at the time of the last entertainment of the course has the privilege of depositing it with some authorized person the week following.

For each season ticket thus deposited a ticket is received which entitles the holder to vote in the departmental election. All of the season tickets which are deposited are counted and upon this count depends the representation of each department.

Now for the practical workings of this scheme. The chief contest is usually between the Lits and the Laws. It begins on the matter of representation. Each department wants to have as large a number of electors as possible. The more active hustlers—ordinarily men who want an office—canvass the student body for tickets and each canvasser turns in the tickets he collects to the credit of his own department. For instance, a certain '99 law obtained the tickets of ten ladies of the literary department through a lady friend of his. He then wrote "Law" on these tickets and turned them in, thus making them count for the wrong department. But they do not stop with the students. The citizens of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti are canvassed and their tickets are used in the same manner. Consequently the method of finding the number of ticket holders for each department does not accomplish its purpose.

The contest is then carried to the various department elections. Here is further opportunity for sharp practice. The voters' tickets are alike in all departments. This makes it possible to transfer votes from one department to another. For instance, in the last election a certain active worker had a large number of voters' tickets, commonly called "proxies". Now he could distribute these among friends in any department. Since his own department was reasonably sure, he decided to use the proxies in another department, and so, on the morning of the election he took a lot of proxies from any or all departments and from townspeople who had no right to vote at all and gave them to his friends in the doubtful departments. In this way the ticket holders of any of the smaller departments may be easily beaten by those holding proxies from other departments.

But the contest is not ended by the election. It is then that the real dirty work begins. Ordinarily all or nearly all of the electors are pledged to some candidate for the presidency. In case no candidate has a majority some of the doubtful electors must be induced "to come over." In case one man has a majority, the other faction does not fail to offer "inducements" to some of his men to desert him. But even with the presidency settled, the squabble goes on. Then comes the contest for the other positions on the Board, the electors of the victorious faction ordinarily dividing these among themselves. By this means unworthy men who are too well known to be elected by popular vote are enabled to sneak into office. In the beginning, they get hold of a lot of "proxies" and then offer to support one of the leading presidential candidates provided they be put on his electoral ticket. They then work for the presidential candidate, who is usually a good man, and seek support as his elector, keeping very quiet about their own private ambitions. After the election they are in a position to demand an office as the price of their support. Last year the two electors of the '99 law class refused to support the candidate to whom they were openly pledged, because they could not get an office out of it themselves. Other electors violated secret pledges. These instances are sufficient to illustrate the workings of the system.—Students Register.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE.

And what it led to.

It is not a common occurrence that a friendly word should be the means of giving nearly forty years of happiness and health to the person heeding the advice it carried. This was the case with Mary Lingard, at twenty-five she was dragging out her days in misery. At sixty-one she finds herself so active and strong she can do work that would shame many a younger woman, and looks back on thirty-six happy, healthful years of industry. But let her tell her story:

"Thirty-six years ago I had great trouble with my liver. The doctors allowed that there were tumors growing on it, and they blistered my side in an effort to give me relief. I was at that time earning my living as a tailress, but for five years, between the pain in my side and the blisters I was in constant misery, and work was a drag to me, with no prospect of relief; fortunately for me, however, a friend advised me to take Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and finally persuaded me to take a regular course of it. When I first commenced taking the Sarsaparilla my side was so painful that I could not fasten my dress, and for a time I did not get any relief, but my friend advised me to persevere and relief was sure to come, and come it did. This happened, as I say, thirty-six years ago. My liver has never troubled me since, and during these years I have passed through the most critical period of my woman's life, without any peculiar trouble, and to-day, at sixty-one years of age, I am active and strong, and able to do a day's work that would upset many a younger woman. Ever since my recovery I have taken a couple of bottles of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla each spring, and am quite satisfied that I owe my good health to this treatment. I give this testimonial purely in the hope that it may meet the eye of some poor sufferer."—MARY LINGARD, Woodstock, Ont.

Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has won its way to every corner of the world by the praise of its friends; those who have tried it and who know tell her story: There is nothing so strong as this personal testimony. It throws all theories and fancies to the winds and stands solidly upon the rock of experience, challenging every skeptic with a positive "I know." Ayer's Sarsaparilla with its purifying and vitalizing action on the blood is a radical remedy for every form of disease that begins in tainted or impure blood. Hence tumors, sores, ulcers, boils, eruptions and similar diseases yield promptly to this medicine. Some cases are more stubborn than others, but persistence with Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla usually results in a complete cure. Mary Lingard began with a bottle, and went on to a course of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When she was cured she realized that a medicine that could cure disease could also prevent it. So she took a couple of bottles each spring and kept in perfect health. There are thousands of similar cases on record. Some of these are gathered into Dr. Ayer's Cerebro, a little book of 100 pages which is sent free by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Write for it.

So we went to the city, and the head of the big wholesale house told us how, thirty years ago, he had sold our father a bill of Dry Goods which were loaded on nine teams and hauled sixty miles north to the old store. And then the buyer for one of the big departments came in and related how he and I used to drink sap out of the old troughs when we were eight years old.

Maybe we didn't get the best trade flyers there were in the house, but we think we think we did. We propose to emphasize the fact that

SAMPSON SHELLS SAN JUAN.

Fortifications Reduced by the American Warships.

THE SPANISH FLEET ARRIVES.

Only Required a Few Rounds from the United State Fleet to Place the City in a Defenceless Condition—Small Damage to Sampson's Fleet.

Port Au Prince, Haiti: The American fleet, under Rear Admiral Sampson, began the bombardment of San Juan de Puerto Rico at daylight with nine warships. The battleship Iowa fired the first shot which took effect. Then the battleship Indiana opened fire; in a few minutes Morro fort was reduced to a heap of ruins. The fort made little effort to respond and was silenced almost immediately.

The Iowa, Indiana, New York, Terror, Amphitrite and Detroit had steamed in before the Spanish forts and opened fire. Twenty or thirty guns replied. The fleet's first round was aimed too low and did little damage. In the second, however Sampson's ships got the proper elevation for their guns. This round silenced Morro fort and fired the town. The Spaniards in the fortifications were driven from their guns repeatedly before the works were finally reduced. The fire from the Detroit was excellent at all times and though she went closer to the forts than the other ships, not a shot hit her. During the bombardment the torpedo boat Porter, which had been on a scouting trip after the Spanish Cape Verde fleet, arrived and daringly steamed in close to the forts and poured in a terrible fire.

Admiral Sampson then directed the attention of the ships to the land batteries. Soon the postoffice and governor's palace were demolished and the guns in the forts dismantled, and fire from the small guns made it so hot that the Spaniards were forced to run or keep under cover. Gov.-Gen. Macris and his daughter Paulina refused to desert the city until the ruin was almost complete.

The forts fired hundreds of shots but only hit the New York once. That killed Seaman Frank Widemark, broke the leg of Samuel Felman and slightly injured three other seamen. The battleship Iowa was hit once and Marine M. G. Merkle, Seaman R. C. Hill and John Mitchell were slightly wounded. These were the only casualties on the ships of the American fleet.

The bombardment reduced the fortifications in three hours. Reports say that the bombardment created fearful havoc in the city. Many Spaniards were killed and wounded.

The Spanish steamer Rita was captured by the U. S. auxiliary cruiser Yale, which took her crew on board. Thousands of the population and the foreign consuls sought refuge in the interior of the island.

Admiral Sampson sent word in advance that he intended to bombard the fortifications, in order to give the men, women and non-combatants time to get away.

San Juan Capitulated.
 Washington: President McKinley received a dispatch from Haiti, announcing the complete capitulation of the city and forts of San Juan de Puerto Rico. Gov. Macris pulling down the Spanish flag himself. It is said that terrible damage was done to the town by the guns of the American fleet, and that the loss of life on the Spanish side was very large.

Dewey's Latest Capture.
 Dispatches from Manila, via Hong Kong, say the Spanish gunboat Callao steamed into the bay from the southern islands of the Philippine archipelago. Her commander, Lieut. Francisco Pou, did not know that war had been declared and had heard nothing on his way about the battle of Manila. He steamed straight for Cavite, expecting to find the Spanish fleet anchored there. He arrived off Cavite at 7 in the morning with the Spanish flag flying and signals for the admiral up. Dewey's flagship the Olympia opened fire. The Spanish commander supposed the shots were for target practice and turned to get out of range, but continued on. The Boston and Raleigh joined the Olympia, and shots were throwing spray on the Spaniard's deck, when her commander began to realize that it was no joke and pulled down his flag and hove to with a white flag on his foremast and the Raleigh steamed out to intercept him and the situation was explained to him. Then he surrendered peacefully and the Callao was brought to an anchorage near the flagship.

She was an iron gunboat of 208 tons, equipped with four modern guns and carrying a crew of 35. The ship was spick and span for the admiral's inspection on arrival. The American flag was promptly hoisted on the Callao, and she was added to Admiral Dewey's fleet.

Springfield, Ill.—Reports from crop correspondents all over the state, received at the Illinois department of agricultural under date of May 1, are much more encouraging as regards the wheat crop than in 1897.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—During the celebration of confederate Decoration day many United States army officers at Wood with uncovered heads during the exercises.

The acreage in winter wheat is 5.7 per cent greater than the acreage last year, the comparison being, not with the acreage harvested in 1897, but with that sown in the fall of 1896.

SPAIN'S FLEET ARRIVES.

The Cape Verde Squadron Reported off the Island of Martinique. St. Pierre, Martinique, via Hayti: The Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Furor arrived at this point late at night, but immediately put to sea. Her arrival caused great excitement. The next afternoon the Spanish destroyer Terror arrived. As this dispatch is sent five Spanish war vessels are in sight, bound northward, apparently in the direction of Cuba. St. Pierre is 400 miles from Porto Rico.

Madrid: Admiral Bermejo has admitted that the Cape Verde squadron was at Fort de France. The government has received information that Admiral Cervera's voyage to Martinique was uneventful. The route to be taken to Porto Rico is not known here, but it was embodied in Admiral Cervera's secret instructions. He was instructed to coal at a neutral port, and probably selected Fort de France for that purpose.

The fleet that left Cape Verde consisted of the first-class cruisers Vizcaya, Almirante Oquendo, Infanta Maria Teresa and Cristobal Colon and three torpedo boat destroyers—Terror, Furor and Pluton. The distance from Cape Verde to Porto Rico is approximately 2,486 miles, and, according to the above dispatches, the squadron proceeded across the Atlantic at the rate of about 14 knots an hour.

Martinique is one of the French West India islands, of which Fort de France is the capital and St. Pierre the principal town. The latter is on the northwest coast of the island.

There was much resentment aroused against France when it became known that the French officers at St. Pierre had delayed for 24 hours an official telegram from the U. S. consul to Washington notifying the government of the arrival of the fleet. There was a better feeling later, however, when the French authorities granted the U. S. cruiser Harvard seven days in harbor at Martinique while making repairs, as there were Spanish vessels waiting outside to capture the Harvard, which under ordinary circumstances could not remain in a neutral harbor over 24 hours. Spain made a protest, but to no avail, and then the fast Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror entered the harbor under an excuse of being in need of repairs. It was believed that she was merely watching the Harvard and the French officers notified the Terror that if the Harvard left first the Terror could not leave for 24 hours thereafter. This insured the safety of the Harvard if there were no other Spanish warships about as she is very fast.

By the time the news of the presence of the Spanish fleet at Martinique had been published in the United States the fleet had again sailed and was next heard from off the island of Curacao, off Venezuela. This information was regarded as of vital importance at Washington, as it not only fixed the position of the enemy, but disclosed the purpose of the Spanish admiral to elude Admiral Sampson's fleet and make his way through the Caribbean sea, probably to Cuba. The Spanish admiral's course was influenced by the fact that the French cable, starting from Curacao, Venezuela, touches at the island of Curacao, then proceeds northward through the Caribbean to Haiti, with spurs running east and west to Porto Rico and Cuba respectively. He is thus enabled to get in touch with Curacao with the Spanish authorities in Cuba and Porto Rico, and through them directly with the Spanish admiralty at Madrid.

The island of Curacao was originally Spanish and is peopled mainly by descendants of Spaniards, though it is now one of the Dutch possessions.

Reports from Willemsted, Curacao, states that after taking a small quantity of coal, provisions and medicines the Spanish fleet sailed, the destination being unknown, of course. Their departure was due to the Holland government's requesting them to leave as provided in the decree of neutrality.

Flying Squadron Sails for Cuba.
 The news of the presence of the Spanish fleet in West Indies waters caused Secretary of the Navy Long to order the flying squadron under Commander Schley, at Hampton Roads, Va., to sail at once. As soon as possible five vessels, led by the flagship Brooklyn, steamed out of Hampton Roads and took a southerly course, going, it is said, to augment Admiral Sampson's fleet. The vessels which sailed were the Brooklyn, the battleships Massachusetts and Texas, dispatch boat Scorpion and collier Sterling. A few hours later the cruiser Minneapolis pulled out at full steam to overtake the squadron, and was soon followed by the cruisers St. Paul (Capt. Sigsbee) and New Orleans.

The four vessels of war comprising the major portion of the flying squadron under Commodore Schley, anchored off Charleston, S. C., for orders having been at sea two days and with no sign of Spanish cruisers or torpedo boats said to have been in that locality. Orders were received to proceed to Key West and the squadron again sailed southward.

The first pay day in Camp Eaton saw $300,000 distributed among the boys.

Under the naval bounty law the men of the fleet under Admiral Dewey will be entitled to about $187,000 for the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila. This will be divided about as follows: Olympia, $45,000; Baltimore, $40,000; Boston, $35,000; Raleigh, $22,000; Concord, $20,000; Petrel, $12,000; McCulloch, $9,000. To the commander of each single vessel there will go one-tenth of the amount assigned to be distributed to that vessel and the remainder is distributed among the other officers and men in proportion to their rates of pay on the day upon which the engagement was fought.

A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says that in anticipation of an invasion the Spanish troops have been concentrated in the larger seaports of Cuba, mostly at Havana, and have abandoned the interior to the insurgents, after burning many towns and country places.

Hon. Teddy Roosevelt has formally resigned the assistant secretaryship of the navy and goes to San Antonio, Tex., to serve as lieutenant-colonel of the cowboy, rough-riding cavalry regiment recruited on the western plains by Col. Wood.

GARDENAS AND CIENFUEGOS.

The Fortifications at Those Cuban Ports Shelled.

WINSLOW'S DEAD AVENGED.

The Wilmington Did Terrible Execution—Cable Cut, Batteries Silenced and Part of the Town of Cienfuegos Burned—Heavy Spanish Losses.

Naval Battle at Cienfuegos. The U. S. warships Nashville, Marblehead, Montgomery and Windom were sent to Cienfuegos to cut the Spanish cable there. As the cruisers approached the bay, the new fort at the entrance opened fire. The Windom replied and soon the fortifications were a mass of ruins. The Nashville and Marblehead, meantime, had endeavored to draw the fire of the masked batteries. The Spaniards refused to unmask, however, and under cover of announcing the Nashville and Marblehead launched their boats and the crews pulled into shore where the cable landed, cut the cable and started back. Then the masked batteries on either side of the harbor opened a merciless fire of shrapnel. The boats were riddled and the occupants thrown struggling in the water. This was quickly atoned for. The guns of the Nashville and the Marblehead rained shot and shell on the masked batteries. Every shot went true and earthworks, guns and Spaniards were seen flying in the air, as each shell burst. The Marblehead lowered boats and picked up the men struggling in the water. Six of them were wounded. Two bodies were also recovered.

The ships then bombarded the city and created fearful havoc. Capt. Maynard, of the Nashville, barely escaped a solid shot, but the missile glanced and inflicted only a slight wound. Eight Americans were wounded in the engagement, two of whom died. The Cienfuegos lighthouse was destroyed, one fort was leveled, the arsenal was blown up, and the town set on fire. The Spanish loss was over 400.

FIVE AMERICANS KILLED.

Hot Fight at Cardenas, Cuba, in Which We Suffered Our First Loss.
 An engagement in which the first Americans victims of the war fell took place inside the harbor at Cardenas, about 75 miles east of Havana. The U. S. gunboats Wilmington and Hudson and the torpedo boat Winslow, entered the harbor for the purpose of reconnoitering to determine the position of masked batteries known to have been recently constructed and to sink three Spanish gunboats which had attacked the Winslow a few days before. The Spaniards permitted the Winslow to get within 700 yards of the shore and the gunboats within 2,500 yards before firing. The land batteries of Cardenas supported the fire of the Spanish gunboats, and there was a very hot engagement for nearly two hours. Many of the American shells dropped in the city and a number of buildings burned. The Spanish gunboat Lopez was sunk and the Lijeria burned. Shots from the shore batteries fell all around the American ships, and one shell burst directly over the Winslow, after she had been disabled by a shot which went through her boilers. The Winslow was apparently the center of the Spaniards' fire, and had it not been for the courageous work of the Hudson in rushing into the thickest of the fire and towing her out of range the torpedo boat would have been sunk. As it was the Winslow was badly riddled and five of her crew killed. The dead: Ensign Worth Bagley; John Varvoris, oiler; Elijah B. Tunnett, cabin cook; George B. Meekes, fireman, and John Denfee, fireman.

The American vessels drew off after the disaster to the Winslow. Five men were quite badly injured besides the killed. They were taken to Key West by the Hudson.

The Winslow and Her Dead Avenged.
 The gunboat Wilmington returned to Cardenas and terribly avenged the destruction of the torpedo boat Winslow and the killing of five Americans, by attacking the masked batteries of the Spaniards. In 55 minutes the batteries were silenced and a portion of the town burned and when a landing party explored the shore the mangled bodies of nearly 120 Spaniards were found, and it is thought that at least 300 were killed in the town. All the damage the Spaniards inflicted upon the Wilmington in return was to make two slight dents in her side. The lighthouse and the signal station on Bana Cay were destroyed, the station being burned by a landing party from the Machias. The Wilmington entered the harbor of Cardenas and steamed to and fro slowly, and fired shot into the town as fast as the men could handle the guns. Every time she turned she let the Spaniards have an entire broadside. Many of the Wilmington's shells went over the land defenses and ripped their way into the town. Fires started in many parts of the city and for half the night the flames reddened the sky. The men of the Wilmington examined the entrance to Cardenas harbor for evidence of sunken mines, but found that the only submarine defenses were two schooners sunk in the channel.

A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says that in anticipation of an invasion the Spanish troops have been concentrated in the larger seaports of Cuba, mostly at Havana, and have abandoned the interior to the insurgents, after burning many towns and country places.

Hon. Teddy Roosevelt has formally resigned the assistant secretaryship of the navy and goes to San Antonio, Tex., to serve as lieutenant-colonel of the cowboy, rough-riding cavalry regiment recruited on the western plains by Col. Wood.

The vessels which sailed were the Brooklyn, the battleships Massachusetts and Texas, dispatch boat Scorpion and collier Sterling. A few hours later the cruiser Minneapolis pulled out at full steam to overtake the squadron, and was soon followed by the cruisers St. Paul (Capt. Sigsbee) and New Orleans.

The four vessels of war comprising the major portion of the flying squadron under Commodore Schley, anchored off Charleston, S. C., for orders having been at sea two days and with no sign of Spanish cruisers or torpedo boats said to have been in that locality. Orders were received to proceed to Key West and the squadron again sailed southward.

The first pay day in Camp Eaton saw $300,000 distributed among the boys.

Under the naval bounty law the men of the fleet under Admiral Dewey will be entitled to about $187,000 for the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila. This will be divided about as follows: Olympia, $45,000; Baltimore, $40,000; Boston, $35,000; Raleigh, $22,000; Concord, $20,000; Petrel, $12,000; McCulloch, $9,000. To the commander of each single vessel there will go one-tenth of the amount assigned to be distributed to that vessel and the remainder is distributed among the other officers and men in proportion to their rates of pay on the day upon which the engagement was fought.

A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says that in anticipation of an invasion the Spanish troops have been concentrated in the larger seaports of Cuba, mostly at Havana, and have abandoned the interior to the insurgents, after burning many towns and country places.

Hon. Teddy Roosevelt has formally resigned the assistant secretaryship of the navy and goes to San Antonio, Tex., to serve as lieutenant-colonel of the cowboy, rough-riding cavalry regiment recruited on the western plains by Col. Wood.

Bad Blood is a Good Thing to be rid of, because bad blood is the breeding place of disfiguring and dangerous diseases. Is your blood bad? It is if you are plagued by pimples or bothered by boils, if your skin is blotched by eruptions or your body eaten by sores and ulcers. You can have good blood, which is pure blood, if you want it. You can be rid of pimples, boils, blotches, sores and ulcers. How? By the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

It is the radical remedy for all diseases originating in the blood. Read the evidence:

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me by my physician as a blood purifier. When I began taking it I had boils all over my body. One bottle cured me."—BONNER CRAFT, Wesson, Miss.
 "After six years' suffering from blood poison, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and although I have used only three bottles of this great medicine, the sores have nearly all disappeared."—A. A. MANNING, Houston, Texas.

SUPPLIES AND TROOPS

Sent to Help Admiral Establish a Government in the Philippines. Troops and supplies will be sent at once to assist acting Rear Admiral Dewey in holding the Philippines. The volunteers to be sent will include two regiments of infantry and two batteries of heavy artillery from California, one regiment of infantry from Oregon, one from Washington, and one battalion of infantry and Senator Shoup's troop of riflemen from Idaho. From Wyoming, one battalion of infantry; Colorado, one regiment; Kansas, one regiment; Montana, one regiment; Nebraska, one regiment; Utah, two light batteries and one troop of cavalry; North Dakota, two battalions of infantry; Idaho, two battalions. In addition to these volunteers the war department has about 5,000 available regulars on the coast which will also be sent. The California naval militia is anxious to go and will probably be accepted.

The navy department hurried together an exceptionally large stock of ammunition to go forward to replenish the ammunition of Dewey's fleet. The quartermaster general of California promptly engaged the necessary transports for 10,000 men and the supplies, all the splendid fast vessels of the Panama and Pacific mail ship lines having been placed at the disposal of the United States.

The cruiser Charleston has a crew of 287 men and can accommodate the marines which are to be sent to reinforce Dewey's naval force. Orders were given for the Charleston at Mare island to rush her stores and provisions on board and have her ready to proceed to Manila as a convoy for the transports.

Later.—The Charleston sailed from San Francisco ahead of the transports, but as the latter are the faster they will overtake the cruiser. The Charleston will carry supplies of provisions and at least 150 tons of ammunition, including 500 rounds of 8-inch shells for the big guns of the Olympia, 20,000 6-inch and 10,000 5-inch shells for the rifles of smaller cruisers, and an enormous quantity of powder, estimated at 170,000 pounds.

The President has appointed Gen. Wesley Merritt of the regular army to the command of the volunteers for the Pacific coast. Gen. Merritt will rank as brigadier-general and will lead the invasion of the infantry upon the Philippines. He will be proclaimed governor-general of the Philippines and as soon as possible will establish his position as such at the capital at Manila.

The First Troops Sent to Cuba.
 The first U. S. regulars to land on Cuban soil sailed from Tampa, Fla., on the steamer Gussie. They were Cos. E and G of the First infantry, Maj. Gandy of the First, two hospital stewards and four hospital attendants. A small party of Cuban veterans went along. The expedition was in charge of Capt. Dorst, who had just returned from a conference with Gen. Gomez. The Gussie carried arms, ammunition and supplies for Gen. Gomez's army; four field guns, with cartridges, 10,000 Springfield rifles, cartridges, powder, etc., 30 days' rations for the U. S. regulars, some medicine stores and supplies and 80 pack mules and trappings. Dr. Gandy and his hospital staff are to be conducted to Gen. Gomez. The Cuban veterans will handle the pack train and the necessary guard is to be furnished by the insurgents at the landing place.

Landing of Troops in Cuba Delayed.
 Washington: A complete change has taken place in the offensive plans of the government. The presence of the Spanish fleet in the vicinity of Cuba has caused a delay in the departure of the army of Cuban invasion until Admiral Sampson and Commander Schley have met and crushed the Spanish fleet or driven it from West Indian waters.

Revolutionary outbreaks and bread riots in Spain have caused eight provinces besides Madrid to be placed under martial law.

A RAT ELECTROCUTED.

Mr. Rodent Bit a Live Wire and It Did the Rest.

A quick-witted attache of a well-known hotel has solved the problem of the quick disposition of rats. A night or two ago a member of the rodent tribe made his way into a trap which had been set for his species, says the Washington Post. The trap was one of the wire cage variety, and when the man whose duty it is to take care of it came around in the morning he found his quarry was a squirrel or a medium sized gray dog. No such rat, as far as size went, had ever been seen by him. He carried the cage out into the daylight and whistled for a dog. Several came, but none of them would tackle the rat. It was too big. Then some cats were called, but they only took one look before scurrying away. The matter was becoming serious, when the house electrician came along. "I'll fix him," was the electrician's solitary ejaculation. Then he disappeared, to return a minute or two later with a battery from which projected a piece of wire. "Just turn this crank a bit," he said to a bystander. The latter did as directed, and the electrician shoved the wire into the trap. The big rat glanced at it, and then grabbed it viciously with his teeth. Presto! As quick as a flash all was over. The rodent had gone to that bourne, etc. "Just a matter of 1,000 volts or so," sententiously remarked the electrician, picking up his battery and walking away. The rat was pitched into the garbage barrel, and now cats and dogs are at a discount at that hotel, while electricity is away above par.

Not the Same Marbles.

The fine spring-like weather of Sunday prompted the average small boy to listen to the tempter's voice and bag Sunday school to engage in outdoor games. The three young sons of William Horn of Manayunk are generally very good Sunday school boys, but they fell from grace. Their father sent them off, as usual, in the straight and narrow path, but later, when Mr. Horn went out for a stroll, he espied his boys engaged in an exciting game of marbles. Mr. Horn was very angry, but, instead of giving the boys a sound strapping, he sent them home with their marbles. "Take them home and come back to me," he said. The boys came back very promptly, and the father rewarded them with a penny apiece. "Now, be good boys," said he, "and promise me not to play with those marbles again." The boys promised, and Mr. Horn continued his stroll. Returning home an hour later he was shocked to find the youngsters playing marbles again. His ire arose at the sight, and, catching the eldest by the back of the neck, he exclaimed, "Didn't I tell you not to play with those marbles again today?" "We ain't, papa," cried all three in chorus. "What! what!" sputtered the father. "No, we ain't," continued the boys; "those ain't the same. We bought these with the pennies you gave us."—Philadelphia Record.

The Tipping Nuisance.

To "tip" or not to "tip," that is the question, and like a good many more of the public, I have been somewhat startled by the announcement that the waiter of today is dead against the practice. It appears that he is more in favor of a regular wage, which would render him free of the caprice or meanness of those upon whom he has to wait. But, as far as can be gathered, this is a view which does not commend itself to the employer, because in the event of his being called upon to pay regular wages he will be compelled to demand higher prices for his dinners. I suspect that, whichever way the question is eventually settled, it will be the public who will have to pay the piper. Many years ago "attendance" was not charged in the hotel bills, but travelers objected to being laid in wait for on departure by waiter, chambermaid, boots, etc., and the system of making a charge for servants was adopted, with the result that nowadays one first pays the proprietor for the use of his servants and then tips these expectant individuals themselves.—London Truth.

Pretty Pen Wiper.

A pretty little pen wiper is made of old-blue kid or fine leather, seven and a half inches long by three and one-half inches wide, pinked out all around the edge. Underneath this should be placed two pieces of chamolis, seven by three inches; these should also be pinked out about the edges. These should be fastened together by means of a pretty bit of Dresden ribbon, half an inch wide, by tying across the center so that it looks like a butterfly.

The report comes from Detroit that the Michigan Central railroad company will very shortly begin a first-class suburban service between Ann Arbor and Detroit. Wm. Johnson, who is employed as janitor of the School of Music, has queer tastes. He was married a week ago Sunday in London, England.

Mulholland, third vice president; Miss Jeanette Storms, fourth vice president; Miss Nellie Wilcox, secretary; Clarence W. Noble, treasurer.

The grocery store conducted by ex-alderman C. A. Maynard was closed last Thursday on a Chattel mortgage held by the Farmers & Mechanics bank. The cause of the failure was due to the recent death of Mr. Maynard's father-in-law, who was an endorser for Mr. Maynard and who, had not his unexpected death taken place, would have purchased a half interest in the business the first of last January and thus averted the unfortunate termination of Mr. Maynard's business.

Leonidas Hubbard, who has been a reporter on The Register for a long time, has accepted a position on the staff of the Detroit Evening News.—Argus.

Well, well, time must hang heavily on Bro. Migay's hands. It's only just a few days over ten months since Mr. Hubbard first began to shove the quill for The Register. It's true that Mr. Hubbard has made a record for himself such as would ordinarily require a "long time" and he did it in a remarkably short time. It's seldom that a man is able to obtain a position on a large city daily with less than a year's experience on a weekly newspaper, which shows that Mr. Hubbard was able to make rapid progress. We expect to hear from him in the great newspaper world in the near future.

ESCAPED A RUNAWAY.

A Good Joke That is Told On a Professor.

A good joke is being told about a narrow escape which a certain professor recently had. As the story goes the dignified Prof. had been in the habit of driving a horse which was very much afraid of the electric cars. In order to avoid a runaway the man of books made it a point to always turn off into a side street when he happened to be out driving and was about to meet a street car. He had been obliged to do this quite frequently of late. Recently he had decided to try the wheel.

For some weeks past he has devoted considerable time to mastering his new steed and has been unusually successful. However, he has not yet become so thoroughly at ease while riding that he does not at times become just a little rattled. Last Sunday affords an instance which illustrates this fact. The professor was out for a short spin on his wheel. While following the track of the street railway he suddenly heard the sound of an approaching car just around the corner a block away. He was seen to at once bend his entire energies to urging his wheel forward at the greatest speed possible. He reached the nearest crossing about half a minute ahead of the approaching car when he suddenly turned off and, after riding a few rods dismounted. A friend who happened along just then, seeing the professor's great agitation asked him what the trouble was. "Ah," he gasped, "my horse is terribly afraid of cars and I just succeeded in reaching the crossing and turning off in time to prevent a runaway."

What Shall Be Done

FOR THE DELICATE GIRL

You have tried iron and other tonics. But she keeps pale and thin. Her sallow complexion worries you. Perhaps she has a little hacking cough also. Her head aches; and she cannot study. Give her

Scott's Emulsion

The oil will feed her wasting body; the glycerine will soothe her cough, and the hypophosphites will give new power and vigor to her nerves and brain. Never say you "cannot take cod-liver oil" until you have tried Scott's Emulsion. You will be obliged to change your opinion at once. Children especially become very fond of it; and infants do not know when it is added to their food.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

VALUABLE EXHIBIT.

The Standard Oil Company Gives One to the University.

Through the courtesy of the Standard Oil Company of Cleveland, O., the Chemical Museum has recently come into possession of an interesting and valuable exhibit. The collection comprises one hundred bottles of liquid products and a dozen cans of grease and solid lubricants, all manufactured by the Standard Oil Company. There is also an attractive display of paraffine candles of all sizes and grades, and of paraffine Easter eggs. In addition to the samples composing the exhibit, the company was kind enough to send a full set of duplicates, which can be used for demonstration and analysis. The museum is already in possession of a fine collection of petroleum from all parts of the world, the gift mainly of Mr. S. P. Peckham, of Ann Arbor. The addition of the Standard Oil Company's exhibit renders this feature of the museum unusually complete.

COX TURNED DOWN.

Disappeared Because of Sickness and the Angry Track Authorities Let Him Go.

Tom Cox is no longer trainer of the track team. At Philadelphia he disappeared and telegrams from the track manager brought no reply till at last Cox came back saying he had been sick. The management was disappointed in his failure to be on hand to prepare men for the handicap meet and so turned him down. From now on Dr. Rabathage will have charge of the men and Tom Cox will train Detroit bicyclists.

MICHIGAN LOSES.

CHICAGO WON THE GAME ON MICHIGAN'S ERRORS.

They Played an Even Game up to the Fifth Inning.

Michigan lost the second of the series with Chicago Wednesday. The loss of the game can only be attributed to errors which came in the fifth inning. Up to this point they played an even game with no scores on either side.

Miller pitched an excellent game and was nobly supported by Lunn. Miller struck out eight men and only four hits were accorded to the Maroons off his delivery. Michigan men played faster than in the Illinois game and great improvement was shown in their batting.

Chicago piled up three runs in the sixth through errors and added one in the ninth.

Lunn made a fine two bagger in the seventh and scored on an error made by Merrifield. In the ninth Michigan was given a base on balls and scored by hits from Wolf and McGinnis. The final score was 4 to 2.

Table with columns: MICHIGAN, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Rows include Cooley, Gilbert, Lunn, Condon, Butler, Wolf, McGinnis, Matteson, Miller, and Totals.

Table with columns: CHICAGO, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Rows include Merrifield, Herschberger, Gardner, Clark, Sawyer, Vernon, Kennedy, Smith, Southard, and Totals.

Three-base hit—Kennedy. Two-base hits—Lunn, Kennedy. Stolen bases—Michigan 1, Chicago 2. Bases on balls—Off Miller 3, off Smith 2. Struck out—By Miller 8, by Smith 3. Time of game—Two hours. Umpire—Tyndall.

Next Saturday Michigan will meet the strong team from Dixon.

Accused of Plagiarism.

The following appeared in Thursday's Detroit Journal under an Ann Arbor heading:

Northwestern's representative in the Northern oratorical league contest, which Michigan won at Evanston last Friday, has been charged with plagiarism, and the matter is causing considerable comment in oratorical circles here. His subject was "Macco," and it was found that his closing words were almost exactly a paraphrase of the peroration of Wendell Phillips' famous oration "Toussaint L'Ouverture." Northwestern defends her representative by saying that parallelism is not enough to warrant a charge of plagiarism, but he has come in for much adverse criticism.

Professor F. W. Kelsey has gone to New York for an absence of ten days on business relating to the translation of Professor Mau's book on Pompeii soon to be issued by Macmillan and Company. The drawings for this book have occupied artists two years, and many of them are of objects which never before have been reproduced.

The Costa Rican Counterfeiters.

For many months the Costa Rican counterfeiters have been issuing bogus notes of the government of the island until the amount, it is said, has reached $1,000,000. Inspectors of the secret service bureau were chiefly instrumental in bringing the malefactors to justice. The efficiency of the secret service is undoubted, but it is by no means a secret, but a patent fact, that the service that Hoffstetter's Stomach Bitters does the weak, nervous and dyspeptic is of genuine value. There have been from time to time counterfeiters of it, as there are of the genuine Costa Rican notes, but the miniature note of hand on the label and the vignette of St. George and the Dragon, coupled with the exquisitely finished typographical work, are not successfully imitable. Any one who has used the bitters knows its admirable qualities and the features of the exterior of the bottles. This agreeable tonic absolutely prevents and remedies malaria, rheumatism, liver complaint, kidney trouble and dyspepsia.

THE misery of sleeplessness can only be realized by those who have experienced it. Nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, neuralgia and that miserable feeling of unrest, can surely be cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. So certain is Dr. Miles of this fact that all druggists are authorized to refund price paid for the first bottle tried, providing it does not benefit.

Mrs. Henry Bruns, wife of the well known blacksmith at Grand Junction, Iowa, says: "I was troubled with sleeplessness, nervousness, headache and irregular menstruation; suffering untold misery for years. I used various advertised remedies for female complaints besides being under the care of local physicians, without help. I noticed in Dr. Miles' advertisement the testimonial of a lady cured of ailments similar to mine, and I shall never cease to thank that lady. Her testimonial induced me to use Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills, which restored me to health. I cannot say enough for Dr. Miles' Remedies."

YPSILANTI SENTINEL.

Mr. Oscar Gareissen, so long and so favorably known in Ypsilanti's musical world, whose phenomenal voice has almost without money and without price been enjoyed by us all countless times, for he has ever been ready and most generous to contribute his musical services to individuals, and, we may say, to every interest in this community, is about to leave us. Before he goes he will give Ypsilanti a farewell concert, and knowing the needs of the Ladies' Library, he has kindly arranged to bestow the entire proceeds of this entertainment upon that institution. Aside from this feature, let Gareissen turn en masse to give Prof. Gareissen such a rousing and energetic farewell as he can never forget. In the larger field to which he is called he will but win fresh laurels. We shall, however, always proudly claim him as belonging to us, and we do not want him to forget us.

This concert will be given Friday, May 20, at the Opera House. Tickets will be on sale at Rogers', and the public will be waited on by the ladies. Admission 25 cents. No extra charge for reserved seats. Chart open at Rogers' Thursday, May 19, at 9 a. m.

YPSILANTI COMMERCIAL.

Ten of the boys at Island lake refused to volunteer into the regular service last week.

T. L. Ingraham will not leave the Normal as stated in some of the papers. He has been re-elected by the board, and will fill the same position next year that he has so acceptably filled this.

The new power house of the Detroit, Ypsilanti & Ann Arbor electric road, and the power house equipment, are nearly completed. The equipment is more extensive than the people expected and will be of great benefit to the city. Any who have not inspected the plant should do so and then they can better judge as to its size.

The Independent military company organized last week by electing the following officers: President, B. H. Comstock; vice-president, Don Lawrence; secretary, D. C. Phillips; treasurer, F. L. Gallup. Mr. Gallup was also elected captain without a dissenting voice. The captain then took the company to the drill hall and put them through. This organization was thought necessary on account of the Light Guards being dissolved when mustered into service. The move will still give Ypsilanti the cherished Light Guards.

DEXTER LEADER.

An attempt is being made to organize a military company in Lima township.

H. VanFleet and family of Detroit, visited Dexter relatives during the past week.

Mrs. Jacob Jedele has returned to her home in Lodi, having completely recovered from a surgical operation recently performed in Ann Arbor.

A card from Gordon Stannard received Monday states that he and Bert Miles, in company with forty others, left Atabaska landing and started down the McKenzie river May 2d.

Are our farmer friends aware that the law allows them to pay one-fourth of their highway taxes by putting out trees in front of their property "and that 25 cents will be allowed on highway taxes for each tree so planted." If one-fourth the tax can be so paid each year, in a few years every roadside will be shaded. The law requires that they be planted six feet apart and the commissioner may require that 50 trees be planted in each road district each year.

YPSILANTI.

A flag-staff has been set up on the top of the water tower and Old Glory floats from the highest point in the city.

The regiments of volunteers will be numbered where the numbers stopped in the civil war. The first regiment therefore becomes the thirty-first, and our boys now belong to Co. G, 31st Regiment. Mail should be so directed.

The Detroit Soap Co., owned by Samuel Post and sons of Ypsilanti, lost its plant by fire, last Friday. The loss is over $100,000 with $62,000 insurance. The firm is to rebuild at once and has begun work in a rented building.

The D. Y. & A. A. road has reached the city. Congress street east of the bridge is being graded and the planks of the bridge are up. The men are strengthening the bridge with iron girders.

The marriage of Miss Josephine Hemphill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hemphill, to Wilford D. Crocker, of the Ypsilanti Commercial, was celebrated Wednesday at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Wm. Gardham performing the ceremony according to the Episcopal ritual. The attendants were Miss Alice Babbitt of Hartford as maid-of-honor, and Percy K. Crocker as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker avoided the usual demonstration at the train by driving to Belleville, whence they started on the wedding journey, probably to Chicago. Among the guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames S. M. Catebeon, Charles Moore, and Edwin Armstrong of Detroit, Hon. E. F. Uhl, Mrs. Lucy Thompson and Mrs. Frances Crocker of Chicago.
