FIVE STRONG MEN IN THE FIELD.

Convention May Last Through Today.

Early Tuesday morning the Jackson men put in their appearance some fifty strong, headed by such men as .Chas. H. Smith, James O'Donnell, Vic. Deland, Col. Withington and others of equal ability. They established headquarters in the Cook House parlors and at once began the hustle always characteristic of the Jackson politican. Later in the day the other candidates began to establish quarters and cultivate their booms. By six o'clock in the evening all of the five candidates were on the hour everything was bustle about the Cook House. Every one of the 106 delegates was carefully discussed and the weak spots, if there were weak spots, in a delegation were strengthened by the frieads or made weaker by the the other's sermon until it was opposition. Yesterday at half past twelve o'clock the convention was called to order by Hon. Harry Conant, of Monroe, chairman of the Congressional Committee. He called Mr. E. F. Johnson to the chair as temporary chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees the meeting adjourned until two p. m.

Prof. Thompson's Views.

Prof. B. M. Thompson, of the U. of M., was in town today wearing a yachting cap and looking like a scorcher. He is a veteran of the civil war and has pronounced views on the Cuban struggle. Some time ago he wrote an article showing that the United States should not invade Cuba. "They didn't take my advice," he says, "and they missed it, too. Now they've got the fever, and the folly of the invasion is evident. The Cargoes of Prizes.

In the British house of commons Mr. Curzon, on behalf of the foreign office. said that the government had not been informed of the intentions of the American government in regard to the prizes captured by American warships previous to the declaration of war. The British consuls, he said, would assist British subjects interested in the cargoes of the vessel, but such persons should be represented in the prize courts.

Used the Railroad Track.

Monday night between nine and ten P. M. Mr. Edward Dunn started to drive from Ypsilanty to Ann Arbor-He was driving a livery rig from Holmes stable. He had with him two young ladies. After passing the water works stand pipe near the Normal, Dunn made a mistake and turned onto the elictric car-line, thinking it was the railroads, electric cars or lights, water highway. Before he had reached the farther end of the short cut where the railroad track again comes into the public road the elictric motor came along. Strange as it may seem the buggy was badly smashed while none of the occupants of the buggy or the horse were injured in the least. Hereafter when Mr. Dunn goes out driving he will take especial panes to stick to the public highway

Pleasant Meeting of Packard Street Old Folks-Eight of Them Whose Ages Aggregate 582 Years-Talked Over Experiences of Half a Century Ago.

It has become a fad now-a-days for old people in a community to get to; gether and hold an old fashioned party such as they used to attend in their boyhood and girlhood days fifty years

Last Wednesday eight of the old resand Mrs. Ernest Eberbach, 1200 Packard street. It was Mrs. Eberbach's idea that such an old folks' reunion should be held. The list of invited guests was limited to the old timers on their street. It was indeed a jolly party that gathered at Mr. and Mrs. Eberbach's last Wednesday and talked over the happy times they used to enjoy together half a century ago, when such things as steel ranges, gas or gasoline stoves, railroads, electric cars or lights, water works, telephones, telegraphs, bicycles and Etchings... and a thousand other things which are now considered as absolute necessaries of life were never dreamed of. But they enjoyed life in those good old times fully as much as do the young people of today. In homespun gowns, gathered around the glowing fireplace, having come for miles through the woods either on horseback or on home made sleds, the jolly young people played the simple games of the time and enjoyed themselves far more than do our young people now-a-days at the stiff fashionable gatherings of today. Those who attended the party at Mrs Eberbach's last Wednesday were Mr. Christian Eberbach, aged 81 years; Mrs. Christian Eberbach, aged 7 years and six months; Mr. Samuel G Miller, aged 72 years; Mrs. Samuel G. Miller, aged 64 years and 1 month Mrs. Julia Rogers, aged 84 years and 3 months; Mrs. Regina Laubengayer, aged 79 years and 10 months; Mrs. E. Schryver, aged 63 years and 6 months: and Mrs. John G. Miller, aged 62 years and 9 months. The total ages of these eight people aggregate 582 years and 11 months. The average age of these eight pioneers is just a little less than 73 years. The pleasant reunion enjoyed by these old pioneers last Wednesday will be one long to be remembered by every member of the party.

Famine in Havana Tobacco Has at Last Become Reality.

The much-talked-of and long-expected tobacco famine is here. Before the war with Spain began the air was filled with prophecies of such a famine. The Cuban rebellion was on, but still there was genuine Cuban tobacco to be had. As the rebellion dragged along stories were heard about the price of obacco going up and the quality going down. But Havana tobacco was still to be had for a price. A New York correspondent of the Washington Star says the importers knew all about this some time ago, but it fell upon the smokers unawares. Woman's Mission.

Successful competition in any field depends on physical health.

questions about woman's future constantly are asked. Shall women vote? Shall they practice law?

Shall they compete with men in every field? Whatever woman's mission may finally be declared to be, it is certain that something must be done for her physical health.

Ignorance, superstition and mystery surround woman's delicate organism. Heroic efforts to endure pain is part of woman's creed. Many women's lives are a constant struggle with lassitude; many are violently ill without apparent cause, and few indeed are in normal health.

This is all wrong and might be different if women would follow Dr. Hartman's advice. Perhaps the most practical printed talk to women to be found anywhere is in Dr. Hartman's book called "Health and Beauty," which the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O., will mail free to women only. It is certain that Dr. Hartman's Pe-ru-na has proved a perfect boon for women's diseases of the pelvic organs. It treats them scientifically and cures them permanently. All druggists sell it.

"I received your book and commenced the use of your medicine at once," writes Mrs. H. D. Amoss of Greensboro, Ga., to Dr. Hartman. "I took five bottles of Pe-ru-na and two of Man-a-lin. I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking Pe-ru-na I could hardly walk across my room; now I am doing my own work and can walk to church. I shall never cease to thank you for prescrib-ing for me. I had been under the treatment of two doctors but never received any benefit until I commenced taking your medicine. I wish every woman who was suffering as I was would send for one of your books. May God bless you and spare you many years to relieve women who are suffering as I was. you and spare you many years to relieve women who are suffering as I was."

Fifty thousand women will be counselled and prescribed for this year free of charge by Dr. Hartman, president of the Surgical Hotel, Columbus, O. All women suffering from any disease of the mucous membrane, or any of the peculiar ills of women, may write to him and the letters will receive his personal attention. SCARED BY WAR.

A Boy Solves the Mystery at the City of Washington.

Rumors of war are sometimes as terrifying as war itself and stories of the operations of spies do not have a reassuring effect upon nervous people. and was actually sometimes in doubt as There are, doubtless, no more spies in to whether he posse Washington than elsewhere, but the spy-story field has been worked there almost to the limit, plenty of people believing the most extravagant lie that fancy can devise. As a result, to act out of the ordinary or bear the slightest resemblance to a Spaniard is enough to throw one under suspicion, sometimes with amusing results. One night last week about midnight a welldressed man alighted from a 14th street car, leaving on the seat a package about six inches long and an inch and a half in diameter. The conductor was posted on the spy question and opened it with trembling hands. It contained a tin box, which in turn inclosed two sticks of dynamite. He showed them to the motorman, whose superior knowledge led him to sugges that they were arranged to be exploded by means of electric wires. Whereupon the two nearly expired of fright. After a hurried consultation they decided to go toward the city. Very slowly the motorman applied the current, fearing every instant that the dynamite might explode, while, to prevent all possible jarring and reduce the danger to a minimum, the conductor stood holding the deadly box. At Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue the conductor passed his awful burden and the story connected with it into the custody of a police officer, who at once abandoned his beat and hastened to the police station. The sergeant on duty had read how Spanish spies blew up powder mills, and handled the deathdealing box quite gingerly, passing it, after an inspection as hurried as his dignity would permit, to the night clerk, who watched it until morning, when not engaged in wiping cold, clammy sweat from his brow. The next day it was taken to the navy yard, where an expert classed it as something new in the infernal machine line, though doubtless none the less dangerous for that reason. He carried it to a secluded spot, made an electrical connection and pressed the button, while all present held their breath and ears. No explosion followed, and the current was turned on again, with more care this time, but without results. At the second failure a messenger boy looked over the shoulder of the serious-faced expert and cried: "Aw, g-way; I know wot dat is. It's one of dose t'ings they puts in de glims wot de fly cop carries on his bike and runs de 'lectric light.' With a look of disgust the boy walked away, arranging his messages, while the expert began to explain why the presence of spies rendered extra precautions necessary.

A thrilling story, associated with the assassination and Bonaparte's declaration, was told by the post Tennyson.

The poet's father, when a young man, visited St. Petersburg not long after the assassination, and dined one day with Lord St. Helens, the British minister. At the dinner table the young man, having in mind Bonaparte's attempt to make the English government responsible for the assassination, said to Lord St. Helens, speaking across a Russian guest: "It is perfectly well known in England who murdered the Emperor Paul; it was Count So-and-

A dead silence fell on the company. After dinner Lord St. Helens called young Tennyson aside and said, "Ride for your life from the city! The man across whom you spoke to me is the Count So-and-so, whom you accused of murdering Emperor Paul."

The young Englishman took horse and rode for weeks through Russia, till he came to the Crimea, where he fell ill. He became delirious, and remembered the wild people dancing round his bed with magical incantations. Once in every three months an English courier passed through the village, and as he passed he blew a horn. It all depended on the young man's hearing the horn whether he could escape from Russia, for he had no money. In his delirium he would start up agonized lest he had missed it.

At last the courier came, the horn was heard and the courier agreed to take the young Englishman with him. He was a drunken fellow and dropped all his dispatches on the road. His companion picked them up, but did not tell the courier, until the man, having become sober, was in despair. Then young Tennyson gave the dispatches to the courier, with a warning not to get drunk again.

At a frontier town they found the gates closed and barred, because it was late in the night. "The Duke of York!' shouted the courier. Immediately the gates were thrown open, and the sentinel sprang to attention and saluted the young Britisher, who, after many adventures, managed to reach England,

A Wire Answer

It takes but an ordinary man to return an angry answer to an insult. The extraordinary man is he who, under such circumstances, holds himself so well under control that he controls his adversary also. Persia once possessed such a man, and was clear-sighted enough to make him a judge. He was the chief judge of Bagdad in the reign of the Calif Hadce, and his name was Aboo Yusuph. It is related of him that on one occasion, after a patient investigation of facts, he deeided that he had not sufficient knowledge to pronounce on the case before him. There was in his presence a pert courtier, one of those men who take long to learn that wisdom and impudence are not closely related. "Pray do you expect that the calif is to pay you for your ignorance?" he asked, hoping to place the judge at a disadvantage. 'I do not," was the mild reply. "The calif pays me-and pays me well-for what I do know. Were he to attempt to pay me for what I do not know, the treasures of his empire would not suffice."

Largest Glacier in Europe.

The largest glacier in Europe is the Josledalsbroe in Norway. With its numerous ramifications it covers an area of 350 square miles, just half as big again as the county of Middlesex. This enormous field of ice sends its branches down the valleys in all directions, often coming into close proximity to the cornfields. One of the most accessible of its branches is the Brigsdalbroe. From a distance its effect is extremely grand, surrounded as it is with dark, bare mountains, fringed with birch trees-a perfect setting for the mighty mass of snow and ice. While standing close to the edge of the glacier one is struck by the fantastic shapes of the pinnacles of ice which rise from chasms of the deepest blue. The Glacier des Bois in the celebrated Swiss valley of Chamounix extends from the highest summit of Mont Blanc, 15,782 feet above the sealevel, and reaches a point 5,500 feet below the snow line, or limit of perpetual snow. Its length is fifteen miles, low the snow line, or fifteen miles, while its breadth is about three.

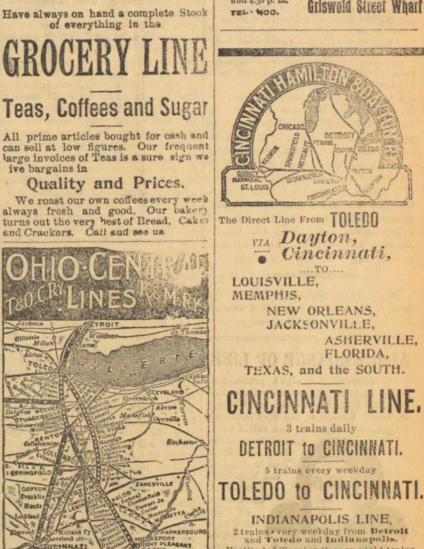

Their Woes.

"I am here, gentlemen," explained the pickpocket to his fellow-prisoners, "as the result of a moment of abstraction." "And I," said the incendiary, "because of an unfortunate habit of making light of things." "And I," chimed in the forger, "on account of a simple desire to make a name for myself." "And I," added the burglar, 'through nothing but taking advantage of an opening which offered in a large mercantile establishment in town." But here the warden separated them.

The statement that there is a cure for Rheumatism will be read with incredulity by the majority of people. However, it is a fact which we can prove. LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

For senator, Tenth District GEORGE S. WHEELER-Salem.

For Representative, First District FRANK P. GLAZIER-Sylvan.

For Representative, Second District A. J. WATERS-Manchester.

A BASE SLANDER.

Somebody who wanted to insinuate that Boss Judson did not own, in fee simple, absolutely anything in sight with a Republican label upon it, worked off the following in a recent issue of the Evening News:

F. P. Glazier, the Chelsea banker, is scheduled by Washtenaw Pingreeites to succeed Rep. A. J. Sawyer in the legislature., A man who is "next" says Sheriff Judson is to secure Glazier's nomination as one of the conditions of the treaty of peace recently signed between the two men by which the banker was allowed to unload his water works system on the village and get his postoffice candidate appointed, while the sheriff snatched Glazier out of the Sawyer-Moran ranks, solidified his own township and secured the Glazier support for L. C. Canfield, his candidate for sheriff.

The policy pursued by the anti-Pingree republicans will be to keep still and knife both Glazier and Canfield at the polls. In speaking of the matter a republican worker in Ypsilanti said: "I can show you 100 republicans in this city who will vote against anybody Billy Judson supports. An equally large number of republi-cans with knives for Judson are claimed in other parts of the county. THE REGISTER would advise the News to employ the best detective in Detroit and send him to Washtenaw to see if he can find a single Republican in the county who is not complacently wearing the iron collar of the Boss which the latter has firmly rivited on. It is absurd to imagine for an instant that anybody would knife Judson's candidates. Why, the Boss has taken all their knives away from his former enemies and each one is now keeping perfect step to his knowing winks!

EVEN Democrats have been compelled to suffer from the heated term caused by the friction incident to the preparation for the political contest ward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. here this week.

EDITOR LISEMER, of The Times, is being talked of as a possible candidate for congress on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Lisemer is a hustler and should his friends land him into that position he would make a lively race. If we are to have a Democrat in congress from gists, Toledo, O. this district THE REGISTER does not know of a man whom it would rather see win the hohors than our genial friend of The Times.

WE understand that some of the men who are to be put on the Republican ticket by the Boss feel slightly offended because we published their names certainly want to be on the ticket and they just as certainly expect the support of Boss Judson to land them there. They certainly are aware that the Boss is the whole thing and his support is the only way a nomination can be secured and an election assured!

THE United States has fostered all its industries with the deplorable exception of its foreign shipping, but we pre. dict that after the war is ended Congress will be the means of a speedy revival of our merchant marine in the foreign trades. This country has added to its prestige by the daring and brilliant naval achievements in the present war, and with the battle ships and other naval vessels now under construction and those that have recently been sanctioned by Congress we will be well prepared to take care of whatever shipping we may place in the foreign trade. -"American Shipbuilder."

Yellow Fever Among American Troops The dreaded yellow fever has found a foothold among the United States forces before Santiago, and while the authorities at Washington and at the front are naturally alarmed they are taking every precaution to stamp i out and prevent its spread and express confidence in their ability to obviate a serious epidemic. The 14 cases which were first discovered in the field hos pital at Siboney were immediately isolated in a hospital which had been established by Dr. John Guiteras, the orator, Fred C. Britten, who will be of the commissioners final. Gen. Toral famous yellow fever expert, for just such an emergency. This hospital is in charge of immune surgeons and nurses The first 14 cases were all from the quartermaster's department-teamster; and others-but later cases have ap peared among the troops nearest the coast. All cases are mild, however. As a further precaution the little town of Juraguacito (Siboney), where the field hospital is located, was burned under the orders of the army health authorities. Almost every building of the 50 along the irregular bluff was set fire to during the day and the Cuban inhabitants fled to the caves in the overhanging hillside for shelter. The action was taken at the urgent request of the hospital corps, and served to rid the hospital camp of the unhealthy and dirty buildings and drive away scores of Cuban followers whose pres ence was a serious inconvenience to the hospital workers. There are several kinds of fevers in Cuba, all of which are classed generally as malaria unless the decided symptoms of yellow jack show themselves. Army medical officers say that in the Cuban climate yellow fever is not necessarily a deadly plague. Indeed they claim that typhoid and malarial fevers are worse; that with proper tents, nurses and medicines, soldiers will go through the fever with little if any loss. "Everything needed to bring that army through all right will be sent." said Secretary Alger. "Large, comfortable tents, plenty of cots, ample extra clothing, nurses, medicine and doctors will be taken down by special ship. Camps will be pitched for different ative commands upon the highest, airiest land to be reached. Patients will be segregated. And as fast as a command has been there a certain number of days without developing a case it will be taken off the island and transferred to a more salubrious climate in the United States, where the soldiers can soon recuperate from their terrible exertions. So far, cases among the troops have been very mild and they say that yellow fever often runs that way in Cuba. In fact the natives have very little fear of it. By the system pro posed by Secretary Alger, with perhaps further detention station at Dry Tortugas, it is expected that the volunteers will be withdrawn from Santingo without much if any loss and their places taken by the immune regiments.

SANTIAGO HAS SURRENDERED Old Glory Floats Over the City--

Our Terms Accepted.

EASTERN END OF CUBA IS OURS

The Spanish Surrendered with the Understanding that Their Troops be Sent Back to Spaln--Praise for Shafter from Miles.

Four different times the Americans under Gen. Shafter prepared for a final assault upon Santiago, but each time Gen. Toral sent out a flag of truce and quibbled over terms of surrender. Gen. Shafter's patience at last gave out and, on advices from Washington, he gave the Spanish 24 hours to come to his terms.

The Spanish general delayed his final action until within one hour of the time set by Gen. Shafter for beginning the assault upon Santiago and then he decided to surrender and sent a request for the appointment of commisioners to arrange for the capitulation of the city. The war department received the following dispatch from Gen. Shafter.

Have just returned from interview with Gen. Toral. He agrees to surren-der under the basis of being returned to Spain. This proposition embraces all of eastern cuba, from Acerraderos on the south to Sagua on the north, via Palma, with practically the Fourth army corps. Commissioners meet this afternoon to definitely arrange the terms.

A short time later a dispatch was received from Gen. Miles, evidently written before the final surrender, as follows:

Gen. Toral formally surrendered the troops of his army-troops and division of Santiago-on the terms and understanding that his troops shall be re-turned to Spain. Gen. Shafter will appoint commissioners to draw up the conditions of arrangement carrying out the terms of surrender. This is very gratifying and Gen. Shafter and the officers and men of this command are entitled to great credit for their sincerity and fortitude in overcoming the almost insuperable obstacles which they encountered. A portion of the army has been infected with yellow fever and efforts will be made to separate those who are infected and those who are free from it, and keep those who are on board ship separated from those on shore. Arrangements will be immediately made for carrying out further instructions of the President and yourself.

This was almost immediately followed by a cable saying, "Santiago surrendered at 3."

Later dispatches related the story of the surrender. It was within an hour of the time set for ending the truce when Gen. Total, acting on Capt.-Gen. Blanco's instructions, asked time to communicate by cable with Madrid, the surrender of Santiage being too important a step to be taken without oyal authority. In the meantime Gen. Blanco offered to appoint a joint commission to arrange terms. Gen. Miles and Gen. Shafter decided to call for a personal interview with Gen. Toral, his message being ambiguous. They rode out between the lines shortly before noon and met Gen. Toral, who said he had received, a few minutes be named Robert Mason, British consul Gen. Toral and his own (Toral's) chiefof-staff. Gen. Miles named Gen. Wheeler, Gen. Lawton and Capt. Miley, of Gen. Shafter's staff. The commission at once began work on the terms of the surrender. All was not clear sailing even after the commissioners had been appointed, for Gen. Toral at once raised some unexpected questions, and with true Spanish deceptiveness endeavored to make conditions productive of credit to himself. Most important of these was an insistence that the Spanish troops should retain their arms when they returned to Spain There was entire willingness on the part of Gen. foral to turn over the arms to Gen. Shafter at the time of the surrender, but with this was to be the understanding that the arms were to be returned to the Spanish troops when spanish soil was reached.

have surrendered to me. Obstruction are being removed from mouth of har bor. On coming into the city I discov ered a perfect entanglement of de fenses. Fighting as the Spaniards did the first day it would have cost 5,000 lives to have taken it. Bat talions of Spanish troops have been de positing arms since daylight in armory over which I have guard. Gen. Torn formally surrendered the plaza and al stores at 9 a. m. My ordnance officer report about 7,000 rifles turned in today and 600,000 cartridges. At the mouth of the harbor there are quite a number of fine, modern guns, about six-inch also two batteries of mountain guns together with a saluting battery of 1 old bronze guns. Disarming and turn ing in will go on tomorrow. List o prisoners not yet taken. The scene of the final act of surrender are described as very impressive Gen. Shafter and the American division and brigade commanders and their staffs were escorted by a troop of cavalry, and Gen. Toral and his staff by one hundred picked men. The Spanish troops marched out and laid down their arms. Trumpeters on both sides saluted with flour ishes. Gen. Shafter returned to Gen Toral the latter's sword after it had been handed to the American com mander. Our troops lined up at the trenches, were eye-witnesses of the ceremony. Gen. Shafter and his escort, accompanied by Gen. Toral, rode through the city taking formal posses sion. The city had been sacked before they arrived by the Spaniards. The first troops to enter the city were the men of the Ninth infantry. The position of honor was given them as a reward for their heroic assault on San Juan hill in the first day's fighting. As the Ninth entered the city the spec tacle was thrilling. Many in the crowds waved a welcome to our men. From none came threats or words of discontent: Even the Spanish soldiers took the arrival of the Americans calmly. Gens. Shafter, Wheeler, Kent, Lawton, Ames. Sumner and McKibbin rode straight to the captain-general's palace, where they met by the munici pal authorities, the archbishop of San tiago and the generals of the defeated Spanish army. Gens. Toral and Yscaric and their staffs received our generals with every possible courtesy. Gen. Toral apologized for the non-appear ance of Lieut.-Gen. Linares, who was prevented from being present by his wound.

The ceremony of hoisting the stars and stripes was worth all the blood and treasure it cost. A vast concourse of 10,000 people witnessed the stirring and thrilling scene that will live for ever in the minds of all the Americans present. A finer stage setting for a dramatic episode it would be difficult to imagine. The palace, a picturesque old dwelling in the Moorish style of architecture, faces the Plaza de la Reina, the principal public square. Across the Plaza was drawn up the Ninth infantry, headed by the Sixth cavalry band. In the street facing the palace stood a picket troop of the Second cavalry, with drawn sabres, under command of Capt. Brett. Massed on the stone flagging between the band and the line of horsemen were the brigade and division commanders of Gen. Shafter's corps, with their staffs. On the red tiled roof of the palace stood Capt. McKittrick, Capt. Miley and Gen. Wheeler. All about, pressing against the veranda rails, er ding dows and doors and lining the roofs, were the people of the town, principally women and non-combatants. As the chimes of the old cathedral across the plaza rang out the hour of 12 the infantry and cavalry presented arms. Every American uncovered, and Capt. McKittrick hoisted the stars and stripes. As the brilliant folds unfurled in a gentle breeze against a fleckless sky, the cavalry band broke into the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," making the American heart thrill with joy. At the same instant the sound of the booming of Capt. Capron's battery, firing a salute of 21 guns, drifted in, and from all along the American line came floating across the plaza the strains of the regimental bands and the cheers of our troops. Gen. McKibbin called for three cheers for Gen. Shafter, which were given with great enthusiasm, the band playing Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." The ceremony over, Gen. Shafter and his staff returned to the American lines, leaving the city in the posession of the municipial authorities, subject to control of Brig. Gen. Chambers McKibbin who had been appointed temporary military governor.

wrecked homes philosophically as th fortune of war. Admiral Sampson last bombardment of Santiago wrecke 57 homes in the city, causing heav damage.

The first chapter in the land cam paign of the United States agains Spain closed when the Spanish color. gave place over Santiago to the Amer ican flag. Next will follow the trans portation of the Spanish troops bacl to their native land and the capture o the island of Porto Rico, unless peace soon intervenes. The seige of Santiage had lasted two weeks and was remark able in many respects, and in none more than the heavy percentage of los: through death and sickness of soldier: and sailors engaged on both sides Looking back over the record of these two weeks it is seen that a great iron clad Spanish squadron has been de stroyed, that nearly 1,000 Spanish sail ors have been drowned or killed by shell and flame, and that an untolo number of Spanish soldiers have died in the trenches of Santiago. On the other hand about 250 American soldiers have been killed, and, in round num bers, 2,000 more have been sent to the hospitals from wounds, fevers and other ailments. Our fleet had a remarkable exemption from disaster in the many engagements it has had with the forts at the entrance of the harbor and with the Spanish squadron.

The territory surrendered to us by Gen. Toral makes about 5,000 square miles. The Spanish soldiers to be sen! to Spain is estimated at 15,000 men The statement that the Spanish prop osition embraces all eastern Cub: from Acerraderos to Sagua is important in that it shows the surrender to em brace all the harbor and contiguous territory of Santiago. It does not include Holguin and Manzanillo, where the Spaniards are reported to have considerable bodies of soldiers, as these places are to the west of the surren dered zone. The territory includes a population exceeding 125,000 when the country is in its normal state. It includes the important cities of Santiage de Cuba, Guantanamo, Sagua de Panama, and Baracoa. It is exceedingly rich in minerals, sugar and cof-The large iron and copper mines fee. at Juragua. Baiquiri and vicinity are owned by American companies. IL the Guantanamo district are extensive plantations. Baracoa carried on an extensive fruit trade with the United States. The line begins at Acerra deros, about 15 miles west of Santiage harbor, and then runs due north about 25 miles to Palma Sorians. Had the line continued due north it would have passed west of Holguin, thus taking the Spanish garrison at that point. Evidently Gen. Toral wishes to avoid the inclusion of Holguin so the line turns to the northeast of Palma and runs to the coast town of Boca del Sagua. The extreme length of this surrendered tract is about 110, extreme width about 50 miles, and is a rugged mountainous country. Santiago, with its fine harbor, is the main point, while Guantanamo is second in importance.

Great attention will now be given to the care of our sick and fever-stricken soldiers on the island. In the opinion of the army surgeons the sick can be best treated by removal to the high ground back of the southern coast, where the heat is less severe and where recovery could proceed without fear of municating disease to the rest of the army. Secretary Alger is anxious to bring the entire army back as soon as it can be done with safety to the men themselves without jeopardy to other troops in Florida and to the public. The active preparations made to deal with the emergency are such that it is felt the question of disease can be coped with successfully, now that the military situation has been simplified. The plan of the war department for returning the surrendered army of Gen. Toral to Spain will not necessitate the use of American vessels. It is the purpose of the department to ask for proposals from all steamship companies which desire to compete for transporting the Spanish troops to Spain, and the most advantageous bid will be accepted. The advices of Gen. Shafter state that the number of Spanish prisoners to be between 12,000 and 15,000. Secretary of War Alger says that the Porto Rican expedition would go forward immediately. It will comprise new men entirely. The warriors in the trenches before Santiago have distinguished themselves, and it is not deemed prudent to bring them in unnecessary contact with new troops in view of the danger of spreading contagion. The sick soldiers will be nursed back to health and brought to the United States as soon as they can be safely moved. Immune regiments will be ordered to Santiago to garrison the town, and two of these regiments are already under orders to proceed. The Porto Rican expedition will be commanded by Gen. Miles in person, though Gen. Brooke, now in command at Camp Thomas, is expected to be in his main dependence. The size of the expedition will depend upon Gen. Miles' wishes, although it believed that 25,000 men will be suffiicient for the purpose. At San Juan the navy will be of greater assistance than it was at Santiago, owing to the possibility of approaching the town more closely without risking contact with mines. The experience gained in dispatching Shafter's expedition, it is expected, will aid the officials in their determination to make short work of the Porto Rican affair. There will be plenty of transports available for the expedition. Porto Rico is not expected to offer a very formidable resistance. It is believed that the moral effect of the surrender at Santiago will be to discourage the defenders at San Juan. There is however, always the prospect that peace may ensue before hostilities have progressed against Spain's easternmost

Wrote Home to Mother.

In a letter written just before Admiral Dewey's fleet ran the batteries at the mouth of Manila bay Sailor Murphy, of the Baltimore, who claims residence in Chicago, says that when the lights of the Spanish forts were sighted the admiral ordered every man in the fleet to write a letter home. "Write to some one," he directed. "If you have no family, write to a friend. We are going to have a fight and some one will be killed, and the best way to get ready is to write home." So every man off duty in the little fleet, Murphy wrote, took pen and paper and sat down to obey, and before the last clumsy seadog had finished the Spanish guns had challenged the Olympia.

When this trouble was communicated to Washington by Gen. Shafter the President called a council of war at which a decision was reached that there should be no further parley with Gen. Toral. The next move would have to be a surrender upon the terms which the United States government proposed or an attack upon the Spanish forces by the army and navy.

Gen. Toral found difficulty in surrendering that part of the force under his command which was not in the city of Santiago. Gen. Shafter estimates that there are from 13,000 to 15,000 men in Santiago and nearly as many more in the province outside the city The delay in the negotiations was made necessary in order to secure the surrender of the ontlying garrisons, some of which questioned Toral's authority to surrender them, without definite instructions to that effect from Madrid.

The firm demands of the American government brought the Spaniards to time, finally, and Gen. Shafter was enabled to send the following dispatch, dated Santiago, July 17:

I have the honor to announce that the American flag was at 12 o'clock noon, hoisted over the house of the civil government in the city of Santiago. An immense concourse of people present. A squad of cavalry and a regiment of infantry presenting arms and band playing national airs. Light and band playing national airs. Light battery fired salute, 21 guns. Perfect order is being maintained by municipal government. Distress is very great, but little sickness in town. Scarcely any yellow fever. A small gunboat and about 200 seamen left by Cervera

What will be done with Gen. Shafter's force is not yet fully decided. The physicians declare that the army, owing to hardships and the fever, will not be fit for active duty for some time to come, and Gen. Miles is believed to be seriously considering the proposition to leave only immune regiments to hold the conquered province and return the body of the corps to the United States and send other immunes to reinforce the Santiago detachment if necessary. Many of the troops are eager to participate in the Porto Rico campaign, but this is strongly opposed by the surgeons.

As soon as the surrender had been completed a heavy stream of refugees began pouring into the city, some naked, and all hungry, skeletons and foot-sore. Many had fallen by the wayside. The town of Santiago presents a dismal appearance. Most of the houses have been sacked and the stores have all been looted, and nothing to eat could be had for love or money. In the city, at the intrenchments, at the breastworks and at every 100 feet or so of the barbed wire fences, were the living skeletons of Spanish soldiers. Over 20,000 refugees are quartered at El Caney, 5,000 at Firmza and 5,000 at Boniato and San Vincente, where they have been living since the city was first bombarded.

The entrance of the refugees was quiet and peaceful, they viewing their | West Indian island.

"When a girl at school, in Reading, Ohio, I had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair immediately began to grow, and I now have as heavy and fine a head of hair as one could ight for being charged however from blonde to dark wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."-Mrs. J. JOHN WALLET. of Jefferson Wis., than whom none is more highly steemed or widely known, writes. "In 1890 I had a severe attack of LaGripp and at the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing could do, my lings heart and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was despaired of, my friends giving me up. I could only sleep by the use of opiatos. My lungs and heart pained me terribly and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure and I be-gan taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and contin-uing persistently I took about a dozen bot-tles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all." Dr. Miles' Remedies

THE FORCE OF WAR.

UNCLE SAM SHOWS A MIGHTY POWER IN CONFLICT WITH SPAIN.

In this war with Spain the United States shows a power and energy that surprises the old world. The weapons employed are the best made. The fight has been pushed from the start. In the future every means will be used to subdue and overcome all attack-ing forces. If people fought the great deadly plague of mankind —consump-tion— in this way, it would not degreat tion—in this way, it would not destroy a great host yearly. Dr King's New Discovery is the right weapon with which to attack this monster. When we say this grand remedy can and does cure consumption we are supported by the testimonials of many thankful peo-ple whom it has cured. It has been doing this good work for twenty-five years. If the disease has not run too long this supreme medicine will cure it. If the case is one of long standing is will relieve the unio and misser and Do you want a high grade bicycle one of a well-known make, brand new, right from the factory, '98 model, list $60? Wherever we go and among all classes we find ch'idren suffering from week kidneys. The intelligent mother knows that this is not a habit and searches for a remedy. It is something very hard to relieve and the family physician tells her that the child will grow out of it in time. Sometimes they do and some-times they do not. Population of British India.

The population of British India-mat s, of the territories under direct Britsh government-was 198,860,606 in 1881, and had increased to 221,172,952 when the last census was taken in 1891, The population of the states which are governed by native rulers under the ye of the British representatives inreased in those ten years from 54,-32,008 to 66,050,479. The figures for 1891 show that of the total population 146,727,296 were males, and only 140,-196,135 were females. British India overs 964,993 square miles and the naive states 595,167; but in the former he average number of persons living on every square mile is 229 and in the native states it is only 111. The highst average is 471 per square mile in Bengal, and the next is 436 in the northwest provinces and Oude; whilst the ower average in British India is 35 Upper Burmah-the native state of ashmere falling still lower, to 31 per quare mile. England had in the same ear 540 people to the square mile, and cotland 134. The next census, in 1901, will doubtless show that India's populaion continues to rapidly increase. The great famine of 1897 has not been allowed to have the fatal results of previous times of scarcity; and the plague, though terribly fatal where it raged, Recklossness of a Gay Irishman Named Edward O'Donovan. The war correspondents of the days of the Carlist insurrection in Spain were as dare-devil a crew as ever lived, says an exchange. This is the story of the first meeting between two of them, Leader and Edward O'Donovan, another Irishman, as gay and reckless as himself. Leader was in command of a small fort in the north of Spain during the height of the insurrection, when one day he espied a strange figure clad in a long, dilapidated overcoat approaching the walls. The Spanish sentries yelled to the suspicious visitor to halt; and as he took no notice of them they fired on him, and the bullets kicked up the dust all around the stranger. The result, however, was that he increased his pace and came on at the double, until he reached the walls of the fort amid a rain of bullets. "Cease firing, ye blackguards!" he shouted in the simplest dialect of southern Cork. "I'm Edward O'Donovan, and how the blazes can I get in unless you open the gate!" Thus it was that Edward O'Donovan, who was attached to the government troops, walked alone into the enemy's fortress. This story is vouched for by Mr. C. S.

"It's curious," said Mr. Biffleton, "how we've lost sight of the Klondike, or lost interest in it, in the face of the vastly more interesting war news. After all there's one thing we like more than we do gold, and that's life, and that makes one think and say that the poorest man alive has, in more existence, the greatest of all treasures. Make no mistake about that, and let us be correspondingly grateful for it. But what I had in mind to say was that this war news fascinates us, aside from the final meaning of it all, because it has to do with life and death. It brings that vital subject close to view and thrills you as it does to stand in the presence of an epidemic when you know that death, terrible always, has gone blind and reckless. Dear me! that makes us forget gold! And then as to the meaning of it. It seems as though about once in so often we forget our selfishness and greed and are swayed by other feelings. Our good impulses and right motives, that we have drawn on but lightly, perhaps, in all these pitched it out of the window. Some years, and that so have accumulated and gained great strength, touched finwas extinguished before the fire boys ally by the right spark, come rushing forth and insist on being heard. They sway us and dominate us and exalt us and make us for a time forget gold and make us instruments of good in the world, and for this we should be grateful, too."-Ex.
