A GREAT GAME.

MICHIGAN WINS WESTERN CHAM-PIONSBIP.

Happy Over the Result.

The result of the Thanksgiving game at Chicago is always looked forward to with the greatest interest by Western pearance and interesting to the casual football enthusiasts. Usually the re sult is not so pleasant to contemplate by U. of M. people. This year it is different and U. of M. football people have shouted themselves hoarse over the result of the game a week ago today when the Chicago team went down MICHIGAN STATE HORTICULFURbefore Michigan by a score of 11 to 12. Until these teams met last week neither one had thus far this fall met with defeat, so that the question of the Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting to be championship lay between the two teams. The U. of M. team this year was an especially strong one, as was also the Chicago eleven. The latter hoped, with the help of the wonderful kicking of Hershberger, to win an easy victory. But the kick of the great "Hersch." had lost its strength and cunning and Chicago went down. The grounds in Chicago had been put in ing is to be held in Ann Arbor in splendid shape and the entire game acceptance of an invitation tendered by was played before an audience of over the Regents of the University who deseven thousand people without an acci- sire to show Michigan horticulturists dent of any importance. #### A Useful Invention.

Professor Oscar LeSeure, who has been at Sternberg hospital, Chickamauga Park; as brigade surgeon, has resigned and will return to his work as a member of the homeopathic faculty of the University of Michigan. Being given his choice between promotion and going to Cuba, or resigning and returning to Ann Arbor, he preferred the latter.

While doing hospital duty Dr. Le-Seure devised an apparatus for reducing the temperature in typhold fever cases. It is an arrangement for giving Gunson, Michigan Agricultural Colan ice bath without removing the lege. patient from the bed or getting the Fruit Acids, Dr. Albert B. Prescott, attendant or bed clothing wet. The Michigan University. apparatus consists principally of a large frame, similar to a picture frame, made of a cloth bag, ten inches in diameter, stuffed with cotton. Besides the frame there is a large rubber blanket.

The device may be used anywhere, and the case and rapidity with which it may be applied make it of especiai value in the work of the field hospital.

Chicago University Not Taking All Illinois Students-Attendance From Illinois at the U. of M. Increasing.

When Chicago University was estabished and Rockefeller poured his millions into it and others gave as many more millions in order to make it if possible, the great University of the country, and especially of the middle west, friends of the U. of M. greatly feared that it would cut seriously into the attendance of Western students, the large majority of whom were then attending the University of Michigan. These fears, however, have not been realized. In fact the attendance at the U. of M. both from the state of Illinois and even right from the city of Chicago, has gradually increased for several years past. Here are the exact figures. They show that the fears that Chicago University would result in greatly decreasing the attendance of Western students at Ann Arbor were without

BOR THE JURY SYSTEM

H. H. Herbst Reads a Paper in Favor of it-Read Before the Business Men's Class in Congregational Sun-Some of the most eminent writers on the "Palladium of our Liberties" Disparaging statements, criticising the system are not infrequent. Many persons have even gone so far as to desire that the Jury should be altogether abolished. There are those again who believe that the jury is the most permanent rock upon which our liberties are built. Such being the situation regarding this subject, it is perhaps the most vital question for all men who love their firesides and liberties to familarize themselves with. The Christian world today who are the inheritors of the blessings conferred upon us by the Life of Christ can only realize its benefits to the fullest extent by being thrown into the chaos of existence in a world without Christianity. Likewise it is almost impossible for us to realize the boon of the jury, which we have enjoyed so long until we are deprived of its benefits. Habit and long use accustom us to our greatest blessings so that we rarely can appreciate them to their fullest extent. Surely, if liberty is aught to the Christian, the church has something to say upon this subject.

The jury is a body of laymen selected by lot to ascertain, under the guidance of a judge, the truth, in questions of fact, arising either in civil litigation or in criminal process. They are generally twelve in number and their verdict must be unanimous. They are restricted to questions of fact and must be guided by the evidence before them. They must submit to the directions of the judge as to any rules or principles of law applicable to the case.

The judge usually gives them the weight, value and materiality of the evidence of the case, which they need not necessarily follow.

Blackstone says, that jury trials have existed in England, "time out of mind and coeval with the first civil government." Some authors have attempted to trace the origin of juries as early as Besides this war material, biogra- the Briton themselves, They were in phies and cuts will appear of the late use among the earliest Saxon colonies. Special Fast Diamond Byes for Cotton

That will Not Wash Out in Soapsuds. It is absolutely impossible to get a fast and satisfactory color on cotton from the same dyes as are used for woolen goods, and for that reason Diamond Dyes have a specially prepared line of fast colors for cotton that will give perfect satisfaction. If you want give perfect satisfaction. If you want to color cotton or mixed goods be sure to get the fast Diamond Dies for cotton, as they will give colors that will not fade even by washing in strong soapsuds or exposure to sunlight. If any dealer trys to sell you the same dye to color cotton as he would sell you for coloring wool, do not accept it, as such dyes are unreliable, and in the majorof cases will ruin the material on which they are used.

There are fifty different kinds of Diamond Dyes, so that you can get any color that you wish. By using them in different strengths any desired shade can be made, and all the fashionable colors are readily gotten with these

To get a fast, rich, full black, use one of the Diamond Dye Fast Black. There are three different kinds, for wool, for cotton and mixed goods, and for slik and feathers. They color a rich, full black that cannot be distinguished from new goods. Diamond Dyes are prepared specially for home use, with very simple direc-tions, so that it is but little trouble or work to use them. A direction book will be sent free to any address. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

THEORIES AGAINST FACTS.

"Your theory does not accord with the facts," said a practical man to one of a speculative turn of mind.

"The worse for the facts, then," was the reply of the theorist; and in truth the failure of the theories and facts to coincide is the worse for the facts, though not in the way the above theo-

As an illustration: the general statement is made that cold water packs are beneficial in fevers, a theory which within certain limits is justified by the facts. The pack is beneficial during the height of fever, and while the aim is to reduce temperature; but the practitioner who packs a patient after the food properly, because they lack the crisis is passed runs the risk of inducing collapse, which may end in death. Worse, indeed, in that case will it be products; the most sensible remedy in for the facts, in that they do not agree all cases of indigestion, is to take after with such a broadly formulated theory.

Bathing promotes health when it does promote health, and not otherwise. And how shall this be known? If there is a perfect reaction after a bath, the probabilities are that it has been beneficial; but if there is any feeling of chilliness and languor, with pallor of the surface of the body, the bath has not promoted health. Indeed, when the immediate effects of the bath seem beneficial, an exhausted or irritated feeling the next day, or even within two or three days, may indicate that its ultimate effects are of doubtful efficacy. Gen. A. T. McReynolds was born in the town of Dungannon, County of Tyrone, Ireland, on Christmas day, 1808, his mother being a cousin of President Andrew Jackson. He came to this country in 1830 and in 1833 set-tled in Detroit. He served in the Mexcan war and was promoted to be major for bravery on the field. He responded to Lincoln's first call and as colonel led on the field the "Lincoln Cavalry." the first regiment of that arm of the service enlisted for the union. When, his term of service expired, he was honorably discharged a brigadier-general. Removing to Grand Rapids, he again entered upon the practice of law. No less in politics than in war has Gen. McReynolds taken a prominent part. He retired from active life at the age of 80.

Saved Her Life by a Kiss.

Christian Witt an impecunious, quarelsome German, of Lansing, terrorized his family, consisting of his wife and six children, for a number of years. He frequently abused his wife, and spent most of his earnings for drink. #### DONS TO LEAVE CUBA AT ONCE.

Exacuation Commissioner Butler Gives Some Important Information.

Gen. Butler, a member of the Cuban evacuation commission, has arrived at Washington, direct from Havana, in response to a telegraphic summons from President McKinley. He made an extended report of negotiations for the evacuation of Cuba and gave it as his opinion that all the Spanish troops will have departed 10 days before the date fixed in the agreement-Jan. 1.

Gen. Butler also gave to the President much information as to the general situation in Cuba. He is of the opinion that the military government of the island must be continued for some time, but that it should only be as vigorous as may be necessary to preserve order. He thinks the Cubans are ambitious for self-government and anxious to avoid friction with the American authorities. If military control is exercised with discretion he believes there will be little trouble.

One of the features of the situation is the sanitary condition of Havana. Gen. Butler describes the city now a pest hole, filled with unmentionable filth, squalor and destitution. He paints a dark picture of the destitution among the poorer classes and says it will probably be necessary for us to furnish some aid to the starving wretches. He paid a high tribute to the discipline and uncomplaining suffering of the Spanish troops. They endured hardships, he says, which would have caused American soldiers revolt. As an illustration of the admirable discipline of the Spanish soldiery he said She then broke away and ran that at one time there were 43,000 soldiers in Havana, yet he never saw or heard of an act of violence, nor did he hear or see a Spanish soldier intoxi-

England Protests to the Chinese.

1. The treaty powers will not recognize the restoration of the regency, on so flimsy a pretext as the ill-health of the emperor, which is not sufficient to justify a change in the sovereignty. 2. The work of the reform started by the emperor must not be suspended. not only in the interests of peace in the east, but for the sake also of the maintenance of the Chinese empire.

3. It is contrary to principles of humanity to visit capital punishment upon political antagonists, and this practice must be discontinued in the future.

4. That the Chinese government must take greater precautions to prevent assaults by natives on foreign residents in Pekin in broad daylight.

Bloody Race Fights Between Soldiers. Race feeling between the Third Alabama, colored, and the white troops at Anniston, Ala., has resulted in serious bloodshed. Negroes shot and seriously wounded two white soldiers from ambush. The provost guard attempted to quell a riotous gang in the Negro quarter and a fight ensued in which two colored soldiers were killed and two whites badly wounded. Reinforcements arrived and the blacks disappeared. Citizens broke into the local armories and appropriated every gun and cartridge, and have declared that another Negro disturance will result in a number of darkey funerals.

Mysterious Shooting at Port Huron.

A very strange case of murder or suicide is connected with the death of George King, of Port Huron, who died from wounds received two days before. During that time King was about town with a large gash on the right temple which exposed the skull and it was thought that this was the cause of death, but during the postmortem a bullet hole was found in the skull half an inch above the gash. The bullet had plowed through the right lobe of the brain and lodged against the top of the skull on the left side. Dr. Henderson stated that there is no doubt that King received the bullet wound along with the cut, but where and how he received the wounds is a mystery.

Who will Pingree appoint prison Warden? Judson! Who will Judson appoint for his deputy—? Rouse.—Saline Observer.

Rouse would make a good one, but how about Heywood of Salem, Todd of Northfield. Stocking of Lima, Dansingburg of Ann Arbor, and the man from Milan, and the fellow from Scio, and nobody knows just how many in Ypsilanti and other places who have also been promised the same job. As we understand it the law provides for only one deputy warden.

SAID O. E. Butterfield, of the firm of Lawrence & Butterfield,: "I do not know how much Mr. Doane paid Stockwell in settlement of the case. As soon as we learned what Mr. Doane had done we washed our hands entirely of and I know that the sheriff knew nothing about the settlement because he first learned of it in our office when it was told us after it had happened."-Times.

Has Mr. Butterfield visited the noted Palmist who is at present stoping in the city, and been studying his artso that he is enabled to "know" just when Judson first learned of the settlement with Stockwell? We cannot comprehend how else he could "know" anything about just what the sheriff "knew."

THE question of the attitude of the church toward card playing and church toward card playing and duty to the public, such as a postmas-dancing has brought out some peculiar ter, legislator, while the legislature is arguments by men who pretend to take practice. The Apostle Paul says that those who, after five years service are those who, after five years service are honorably discharged from such serisfied both juries were honest in their so doing. Card playing in itself, as and those who have served five years, and received an honorable discharge well as dancing, is perfectly harmless. also clergymen, practicing physicians But there are thousands of weak people and surgeons, supt. and conductors and they think they must dance or play eards once they have learned. Such people, if they cannot find good company in which to dance or play cards, mill do so with the very dreys of society and be dragged to their ruin. Paul would nave said in such a connection If dancing or card playing will make my brother to offend I will obstain teerefrom. Some of our christian people might learn a wholesome lesson from Paul's teaching. The same rule might be applied to drinking. There are many people who are able to make dence he intends to introduce. A certain professor believed it harmless to have liquor upon his table and always urged his guests to partake. He himself probably never felt any bad effects from this habit. But at one time he had at dinner with him one of the brightest students at the school where this professor taught. The young man did not have the courage to refuse his honored teacher though the boy knew that his father filled a drunkard's grave and that he had a weakness for drink. The result was that this brilliant young man went down and is today a drunken vagabond. Was it not the christian duty of that professor to Traces of juries may be found in the laws of all nations which adopted the feudal system, as in Germany, France, and Italy. That which comes nearest mal condition, hearing will be de stroyed forever; nine cases out of ten in time and character to trial by jury is the system of recognition by sworn inquest introduced into England by the suriages. Normans. "That inquest", says Mr. Stubbs, "Is directly derived from the Crank Capitularies, into which it may have been adopted from the fiscal regulations of the Theodosian Cede and thus own some distant relationship with the Roman Jurisprudence.

In criminal cases there appears to be a more complete approximation to the jury in Anglo Saxon times, in the Twelve Senior Thegns who, according to an ordinance of Aethelred II, were sworn in the county court that they spoke, and that every witness on his would accuse no innocent man and own side is a Paragon of Truth and Visite.

The twelve Thegas were a jury of presentment or accusation like the Grand Jury of ater times and the absolute guilt or innocence of the acquit no guilty one.

A coroner's jury, is one called for a preliminary hearing upon the death of a person, where violence is suspected. In a discussion limited to twenty minutes, much that one might wish to say to make his subject clear, interesting and instructive, must necessarily be omitted. I shall simply aim to give an outline so as to open a clear field for such suggestions as may be of practical value, and shall confine the subject strictly to Trial Juries.

In Justice Court practice, trials can be conducted with a jury of less than twelve. In the higher courts, civil causes are occasionally tried by a of thinking. less number than twelve in cases When a d where, during the trial, a juror becomes his interests, and Judson's interests incapacitated by illness or a vacancy were identical, but now it is different. Mr. Judson wants Stockwell to return, cause. In such cases the trial may proceed provided all the parties in interest consent.

In Criminal Cases the jury must always consist of twelve. There are many causes which disqualify or exempt persons from acting as jurors. Any person can be challenged for bias for or against either party: or, who has formed a prior opinion, which reasonable evidence cannot change.

In most states he must be a citizen of the United States and qualified voter of the state. Some of the state; require a qualification of Freehold or household, or that he shall be assessed for property of a certain amount. Juro s must be at least 21 years old.

Some of the exemptions from jury duty are first, where a person owes a the bible as their rule of faith ond ture, members of fire companies, and equally as strong against the accused, brother to offend he will abstain from vice, state militia men in active service who are so carried away with them that they think they must dance or play tors, lawyers and others which the statue of each state specifically exempts

In civil trials a jury is, ordinarily, easily procured, but'in criminal causes, especially where the death penalty is to be inflicted, it frequently takes days and weeks, and the examination of several hundred persons, before the jury is selected. It is a keen fight on the part of the lawyers to keep from the panel any man whom they may suspect to be inimical to the cause they represent. After the jury has been accepted and sworn the attorney for the witnesses are then sworn and examined. When the affirmative has closed the other side presents his case in the same manner, both lawyers fighting hard to prevent the other from introducing over the introduction of the evidence frequently taking more time than everything else combined and usually rules upon these objections and decides all points of law.

The twelve Thegas were a jury of presentment or accusation like the jury, giving the law which bears Grand Jury of ater timesand the absolute guilt or innocence of the accused was to be determined subsequently by compurgation or by ordeal.

At present, juries are divided into Grand, Petty, Special or Struck and Coroner Juries.

A Grand jury is a body of men, 12 to 23 in number returned in pursuance of the control of the present to a private mitted throughout the entire land and the present to present the pursuance of the present to present the jury, giving the law which bears separating the chaff from the wheat of evidence introduced and usually, admonishing them not to place to much stress upon all of the oratorical flights of the eloquent law-yers, who in their fault-findings of juries. The jury then proceed to a private room, under the charge of a sworn officer, having been, first, admonished to have no intercourse directly or ladi rectly with the outside world until dis-history speaks, if the case is clear they immediately proceed to ballot and readily reach a verdict. But most cases are not clear neither are the jury always the twelve tried and true. I sometimes happens that one of the twelve has been TRIED and with the required pressure has been found TRUE to the one who brought the pressure. In such an event if the other eleven happen to be of a different mind there will be either a disagreement or the one uror must reform the eleven to his way

When a disagreement is inevitable and the prospect of several days seige before being discharged on account of such disagreement seems certain, the jury frequently abandon themselves to fate and resolve to have a jolly time. Where the rules of the Court allows they send for cigars and such comforts for the inner man as their pockets may permit and pass the nights and days in such a manner as their temperaments may suggest. Frequently the fate of the accused, or in a civil case the bank account involved, depends upon the toss of a penny or some other test of chance, or perhaps and more frequently some equitable compromise as averaging the account, or splitting the differences. But such resorts to reach a verdict are less frequent than is, generally, supposed.

I have listened to men in their criticism of the Jury, decrying the injustice of the discharge of some accused person whom they deemed guilty. I have known these very men who thus criti-cised, themselves to act as jurymen on other occasions, and try men accused conclusions. When we make due allowance for the honest errors of frail mortals; when we take into consideration the complicated way that evidence is allowed to be introduced; the natural inclination of every witness to favor, intuitively and oft unintentionally, the side he tes-tifies for, we shall find that the jury is not often blameworthy for the miscarriage of Justice. So long as men will be contentious; so long as evil prevails and the brotherhood of man is not recognized, so long will differences have to be righted and crime punished. History too vividly records the terrible wrongs and crimes committed during the intervals when the jury system was trodden under foot, by spotic English monarchs aided by their pliant tools the judges. Life and property had no value, then. It was only when the people rose in their might and by pouring out their life's blood as a sacrifice for their posterity wrenched from these despots MAGNA CHARTA and the priceless boon of trial by jury so that no person's life or property should be in jeopardy without a fair trial by their peers, that liberty may be said to have been secured. Let tnese lessons be ever vivid before our minds when an attempt is made to trifle with this sacred inheritance. With all its errors and all its weak points it is still the best safeguard for the protection of liberty, person and property. It would be unsafe to rely upon the court or even twelve judges for decisions and verdicts upon questions of fact, especially in criminal cases. It is true that litigant often allow the judge to decide questions of fact in civil cases, by consent or stipu-lation, and their decisions are generally satisfactory, but there is a marked difference between assenting to have causes thus decided, in particular to the side of the other eleven. cases, and that of having no alternative in the matter, but that life, property and all should be in the hands of special persons, frequently men taken from the ranks of society having no sym-pathy for, if not averse, to many of a thought is narrowed by a continuous reliance on these precedents and they are not as safe arbitrators upon pracical questions as are the every day, practical laymen. Blackstone eulogizes the jury in the following language: "It is the glory of the English law, the most transcendent privilege which any subject can enjoy or wish for, protecting him in his life, liberty and person and there from a celebrated French writer who concludes that because Rome, Sparta and Carthage have lost their liberties therefore those of England in time must perish, should have recalled that Rome, Carthage and Sparts, at the time when their liberties were lost, were strangers to the trial by jury. What changes can be suggested which shall make the jury not only the guardians of our lives and liberty, but which shall make it an institution worthy of our admiration as well as respect in its practical workings.

First: If reputable and well qualified citizens and business men would consider it a sacred duty to serve as consider it a sacred duty to serve as jurors, whenever called upon instead of a disagreeable nuisance to be avoided, there would be less cause for complaint. It is these very men who shirk their duty as citizens and plead lies with a view of evading their privilege and responsibility who are loudest in their fault-findings of juries.

mitted throughout the entire land and is commented upon by every intelligent person, to expect to obtain an intelligent number of men who have never heard of the matter or who have never charged by the Court. In many cases they are kept in close confinement upon bread and water until they have reached a verdict. The folly of this regions treatment has been in recent to act as a juror, that the opinion have never the flatter of who have never expressed an opinion on a notorious crime or murder, is impossible. The only disqualification should be as reached a verdict of the flatter of who have never expressed an opinion on a notorious crime or murder, is impossible. The only disqualification should be as years, greatly modified to the credit of decency and common sense.

The proceedings in a jury room are other words, if a reputable citizen can The proceedings in a jury room are other words, if a reputable citizen can supposed to be a closed book to the supposed to be a closed book to the lowever, have a read all about the case and had formed public. Most of us, however, have a good inkling of what transpires in there. Assuming that the jury are the twelve "Tried and True" of which that he could listen to the testimony and give an howest and conscientions. opinion so formed is not so strong but and sleep like a top. For Grain-O does that he could listen to the testimony not stimulate; it nourishes, cheers and and give an honest and conscientious verdict in conformity with the testi-mony the court or triers should be privileged to decide from his manner and statements made, whether he is qualified or not. This rule prevails, I think, in some states

Third: There should be a change in the rules of evidence so as to give witnesses greater latitude in presenting their evidence. The present strict rules of evidence were introduced to keep witnesses to the point, prevent rambling over unnecessary subjects, avoid the introduction of irrelevant matter, and save time. In theory it may be allright, but if the object of courts is to reach the truth, it is hard to do so when the opposing attorney hokes the witness off with an object tion the moment he wishes to tell the trath. Sharp practice on the part of lawyers makes it possible too, to discomfit timid witnesses to the injury of

Instead of saving time by these rules of evidence there is more often a loss of ten fold the time by the continuous wrangling over insignificant objections many of them made to prevent the opposing side from giving the facts to

Fourth: Jurymen, while on duty, should be treated with due regard and respect. To be a juror should be considered an honor and privilege, and not as if the juror was a criminal needing careful watching, to be kept under lock and key and fed on bread and water to force him to give a true ver dict. Some reform has already been made in this direction which should be agreeable. Lastly: The system should be changed so as to make three-fourths or a number less than unanimity sufficient, in civil cases, to carry a verdict.

In 1889 while a resident of St. Paul, Minnesota, a bill was introduced in the Legislature of that state to amend the constitution having that change in view. The reasons given by me at that time for advocating the measure were among others:

First: It would make the tampering | church. with the jury more difficult. It oc casionally happens that there is a weak minded or unprincipled man who gets upon the panel. A corrupt litigant or unprincipled lawyer might make overtures to buy up this man and hang the jury, as it is called. Such an effort may succeed where one juryman would be sufficient to do this, but would hardly be attempted where it is neces sary to procure three to accomplish

Second: A three - fourth verdict would be fully as satisfactory to the successful litigant as a unanimous one, and the defeated party is rarely jubil-lant over the result but might find some comfort in the fact that two or three were with him.

Third: The greatest events of state and society, including the election of the President of the U.S. are decided by a majority of votes; why should the distinction be made in favor of litigation in matters involving, at times, only a few dollars and never more portant than those matters where but a majority is required? This position seems to be unanswerable.

Fourth: It would expedite the business of the courts. Under such a change most cases could be settled by a jury within an hour. All the time be-yond that is usually taken up in an attempt to bring over the twelfth man

Fifth: It would be a saving to the county and state. These were some of my views in 1889 for the change re-quired to render a verdict. I still maintain the same views upon the sub-prejudice, if not ill will.

Justice Miller, one of the most eminent of the late judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, a few years ago. expressed himself in one of the law Journals to the office of the law Journals to the law Journals t

A NEW DISCOVERY WHICH IS WORTH TRAT MUCE.

To Anyone Afflicted With Piles.

The Poramid Pile Cure, the new, painless remedy which has been so remarkably successful in curing exery form of piles and rectal diseases, has recently been placed on sale at drug-gists and it is safe to ay that when its extraordinary merit becomes fully known, there will be no such thing as Glen V. Mills, surgical operations for the cure of this obstinute and sommon trouble.

Mrs. M. C. Ilinkly of 601 Mississipp St., Indianapolis, Ind., says! I had been a terrible sufferer from piles for until I saw an advertisement of the M. V. Witter, aged 70, fell from a Pyramid Pile Cure; I got also a pack tree while picking apples on his farm age, of Pyramid Pills and used both according to directions. I was asten ished at the immediate relief obtained and now I honestly believe the Pyra mid to be the only certain cure fo piles.

That you may realize how bad I was, I will say that I was confined to my bed auspicious events in the history of and went before the college physicians here who said my case was a new one to The U. of M. minstrels is the latest them and wanted seven or eight hundred dollars to undertake a cure; the great pain had brought on a rupture, and I knew an operation would be death to me on account of blood poisoning. Nearly everyone here knows of my terrible suffering from piles and I feel that I cannot praise the Pyramid Pile Cure enough, and the Pyramid Pills also. My husband will join me in highly recommending the Pyramid, my daughter was cured by one box only. For several years I weighed but about 90 pounds, now I weigh 150 and feel in perfect health.

This seems to be the universal testimony of every sufferer from piles who have ever tried the Pyramid; it is the safest, most painless pile cure yet discovered; contains no opiate, morphine, ocaine or any poisonous ingredient whatever, has a soothing, healing effect from the first application, and the moderate price places it within the reach of everyone needing treatment. The Pyramld Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per package and the Pyramid Pills at 25 cents per box.

o' Ye of Little Faith.

But when an honest man 65 years of age and who has lived in our city for thirty years and owns his own pro-perty, speaks we must give ear to his words and have faith in what he recommends. For that reason we publish for the benefit of Ann Arbor people the statement of A. W. West, 211 North St. Saginaw, Mich., as follows: "I have suffered very much from kidney complaint for five years past. My back was very lame; was quite nervous at times and my general health was seriously impaired. Some time ago I was induced impaired. Some time ago I was induced to try Morrow's Kid-ne-oidy of which I had heard a great deal, and I procured the remedy. I had not much faith in it, as I had previously tried a large number of kidney pills and kidney remedies without any particular benefit, but I want to say that I got simply wonderful relief within two days after commencing the use of Kidney and that I am now entirely large and that I am now entirely large as and that I am now entirely large as and that I am now entirely large as significant in the order of notification thereof to the city.

The city should be careful to discriminate between assignments and orders. Among all the papers submitted to me I find but one assignment is from Sharp & Schultz of any portion of said balance due in the order of notification thereof to the city.

A Mayor's Act.

AN EFFORT IN THE CAUSE OF SUFFERING HUMANITY.

The Successful Method of Mayor Weltner in Accomplishing a Praiseworthy Undertaking-Many People will be Benefited.

From the Optic-News, Wellsville, Mo.

The Hon. C. H. Weltner, mayor of Wellsville, Mo., has lately accomplished something of which he might justly be proud. It is an effort in the cause of suffering humanity and one which, for nearly ten years, he has been quietly trying to carry out.

Everyone in and around Wellsville knows Mayor Weltner, and of his progressive business ability, which has made him a leader in various enterprises. It is this fact which inspires confidence and the hearty support of citizens in his undertakings.

About ten years ago he appealed to the best local physiciaus, as well us to a number of specialists, for relief from the dread disease—catarrh, but his appeals were in vain; the doctors' efforts were fruitless. The disease, all the while, was fastening its clutches firmer upon him and he was about to despair of ever obtaining relief when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended and as a last resort he began their use, the happy sequel of which is that he now feels like a new man.

"I became aware about ten years ago," he says, "of the fact that some disease was preying upon me. The physiciau whom I consulted diagnosed my case as 'pharyngeal catarrh' and prescribed for it.

"Instead of getting relief the disease had a deeper hold upon my system.

"I sought other physicians, but their treatment was unavailing. I tried a number of catarrh remedies, but without obtaining any relief to speak of, and had come to the conclusion that my ease was incurable. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to me, and I concluded to give them a trial.

Why do women wear 3s and 4s at twenty, and 5s or 6s at thirty?

Because the feet bave been improperly trained. The shoes have pinched and bruised the joints causing permanent enlargement and in many instances allowed the instep to drop and the foot to lose that arch, which is so attractive.

SOROSIS shoes are are so constructed, that the arch of the instep is always supported and the weight properly distributed. Those who wear SOROSIS are noticed for their easy, graceful carriage in walk-
